20 And I will remoue farre off from you the Northren armie, and I will driue him into a land barren and desolate, with his face towards the East sea, and his hinder partes towardes the vttermost sea: and his stinch shal arise, and his corruption shall ascend, because he hath exalted himselfe to doe this.

21 Feare not, O thou land, be glad and reioyce: for the Lord wil doe great things.

22 Be not afraid ye beasts of the field, for the fruitefull places of the desert are greene: for the tree beareth her fruit, the figge tree and the vine yelde their strength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Sion, and reioyce in the Lord your God: for he ‖ hath giuen you moderate * rayne, and he will send downe for you the rayne, euen the first rayne, and the latter rayne, and in the first moneth.

‖ Or, he hath giuen you the teacher of righteousnesse.

* At the first beginning belonging to sunning, and in the first beginning belonging to corning or hardening of corne, that there be no hinderance for lacke of necessary raine.

24 And the barnes shalbe filled with corne, and the presses shall ouerflow with wine and oyle.

25 And I will restore to you the yeres which the Grashopper, the Cankerworme, the Locust, and the Caterpiller haue deuoured, my great armie which I sent amongst you.

26 And you shall eate in plentie, and bee satisfied, and shall praise the name of the Lorde your God, which hath dealt wonderously with you, and my people shall not be ashamed any more.

27 And you shall knowe that I am in the middle of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none but I: and my people shall neuer be ashamed.

28 *And it shall come to passe after this, I will powre out my spirite vpon al flesh, and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophecie, your olde men shall dreame dreames, your young men shall see visions.

Esa.44.1. acts.2.17.

29 Also in those dayes vpon the seruants, and vpon the handmaidens will I powre out my spirite:

30 And I will shewe wonders in heauen and in earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 *The Sunne shal be turned into darkenes, and the Moone into blood, before that great and terrible day of the Lorde come.

Joel.3.15. mat.24.29. luke 21.25.

32 *But whosoeuer shall cal on the name of the Lord shalbe saued: for there shalbe deliuerance in mount Sion, and in Hierusalem, as the Lord hath promised, and also in the remnant whom the Lord shall call.

The iii. Chapter.

Of the iudgement of God against the enemies of his people.

1 FOr behold, in thoſe dayes and in that time when I ſhall bring againe the captiuitie of Iuda and Hieruſalem, 2 I wil alſo gather all the Gentiles, and cauſe them to come into the valley of a Iehoſaphat, and I will plead with thē there for my people and heritage Iſrael, which they haue ſcattered amongſt the nations, and haue parted my land.
3 And they haue caſt lots for my people, and changed the boy for an b harlot, and ſolde the girle for wine, that they might drinke.
4 And what haue ye to doe with mee, O
Tyre and Sidon, and all the coaſt of Paleſtine? will ye render me recompēce? & if you recompence me, I ſhal ſwiftly and ſpeedily returne your recompence vpon your owne heads.
5 For ye haue taken my ſiluer and my golde, my pleaſant and precious things, and haue caried the into your temples.
6 You haue ſold alſo the children of Iu-da, and the children of Hieruſalem to the Grecians, that you might ſend the farre from their owne country.
7 Beholde, I will raiſe them out of that place whither you haue ſold them, and wil returne your recompence vpon your owne heades.
8 And I will ſell your ſonnes and your daughters into the hands of the children of Iuda, and they ſhall ſell them vnto ꝑ Sabeans, to a nation that dwelleth farre off: for the Lord hath ſpoken it.
9 Publiſh this thing among the Gētiles, proclaime warre, wake vp the mighty men, let al the men of warre draw nere, and come vp.
10 Breake your plough ſhares into ſwordes, & your ſithes into ſpeares, let ꝑ weake ſay, I am ſtrong.
11 Aſſemble your ſelues, and come al you heathen, and gather your ſelues together round about, there ſhall the Lorde cauſe downe thy mightie men.
12 Let the heathen ariſe, and come vp to the valley of Iehoſaphat: for there wil I ſit to iudge all nations round about.
13 *Put in your ſithes, for the harueſt is ripe, come ye and deſcend, for the c wine preſſe is full, yea the preſſes ouerflow: for their wickednes is multiplied.
14 O people, people, come into the valley of final ‖iudgement: for the day of the Lord is at hand in the valley of finall iudge-ment.
15 *The ſunne and the moone ſhalbe darkened, and the ſtarres ſhall withdraw their light.
16 *The Lord alſo ſhall roare out of Sion, and out of Hieruſalem ſhal hee giue his voice, the heauens and the earth ſhall ſhake: but the Lorde will bee the hope of his people, and the ſtrength of ꝑ children of Iſrael.
17 So ſhal ye knowe that I am the Lorde your God, dwelling in Sion my holy mountaine: then ſhall Hieruſalem bee holy, and there ſhall no ſtrangers paſſe thorow her any more.
18 *And in that day ſhall the mountaines drop downe ſweete wine, and the hils ſhall flow with milke, and al the riuers of Iuda ſhal runne with water, and a fountaine ſhal come out of the houſe of ꝑ
Lord, & ſhal water the valley of Sittim.
19 Egypt ſhalbe waſte, and Edom ſhal-be a deſolate wildernes: for the iniuries done to ꝑ children of Iuda, becauſe they haue ſhed innocent blood in their lande.
20 But Iuda ſhal dwel for euermore, &
Hieruſalem frō generation to generatiō.
21 I wil alſo cleanſe the blood of them that I haue not cleanſed, and the Lord dwelleth in Sion.

Or, Accaron.

Or, transgressions

b For Esau (of whome came the Edomites) & Iacob were brethren.

10 Therefore will I send a fire vpon the wall of Tyre, and it shal consume the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saieth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Edom, and for foure, I will not spare him: because hee pursued his brother with the sword, and did ‡ cast off all pitie, and in his anger spoiled him continually, and his indignation he kept alwayes.

12 Therefore will I send a fire into Theman, which shal deuoure the pallaces of Bozra.

13 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I wil not spare them: because they haue ript vp the women with childe of Gilead, that they might enlarge their borders.

c He noteth the great cruelties of Ammonites, that spared not the women with childe.

14 Therefore will I kindle a fire in the walles of Rabbath, that shall consume her palaces, with a great cry in the day of battel, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlewinde.

15 And their king shall goe into captiuitie, he and his princes together, saith the Lord.

The ii. Chapter.

He prophecieth against Moab, Iuda and Israel.

1 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of Moab, and for foure I will not ‖spare him: because hee burnt the bones of the king of Edom into [a] lime.

Or, turne to him.

a That is, into ashes.

2 Therefore will I send a fire into Moab, which shall consume the palaces of Carioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sounde of the trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the iudge out of the mids thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of Iuda, and for foure I will not spare him: because they haue cast away the law of the Lorde, and haue not kept his ordinances, and their lies caused them to erre, after which their fathers walked.

5 Therefore will I send a fire into Iuda, which shall consume the palaces of Hierusalem.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three wickednesses of Israel, and for foure I will not spare him: because they solde the righteous for siluer, and the poore for a paire of shoes.

7 They ‖gape for breath ouer the head of the poore in the dust of the earth, and peruert the way of the ‖meeke: A man and his father will go into one maide, to dishonour my holy name.

‖ Or, preasse vpon the head, or treade vpon the head. ‖ Or, wretched. ‖ Or, young woman.

‖ Or, sit downe. ‖ Or, of such as they haue fined or mulcted.

9 *Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the Cedar trees, and hee was strong as the okes: notwithstanding, I destroyed his fruite from aboue, and his roote from beneath.

*Num. 21. 25, exod. 14. 6.

10 *Also I brought you vp from the lande of Egypt, and led you fourtie yeeres thorowe the wildernesse, to possesse the land of the Amorites.

*Exod. 14. 6.

11 And I raised vp of your sonnes for Prophets, and of your young men for ‖Nazarites: Is it not euen thus, O yee children of Israel, saith the Lorde?

‖ Or, abstayners.

12 But yee gaue the Nazarites wine to drinke, and commanded the Prophets, saying, Prophecie not.

‖ Or, swift by flight shall not escape.

15 Nor hee that handleth the bowe, shall stand, nor he that is swift of foote shall escape, neyther shall he that rydeth the horse saue his life.

16 And hee that is of mightie courage among the strong men, shall flee away naked in that day, saith the Lord.

The iii. Chapter.

1 He reproueth the house of Israel of ingratitude, foreshewing Gods most iust punishment for the same. 9 Strangers are called to see the equitie of Gods iudgement against Israel.

Heare the worde that the Lord pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, euen against the whole familie which I brought vp from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 You only haue I knowen of all the families of the earth, therefore I will visite you for all your iniquities.

5 Can a birde fall in a snare vpon the earth where no fowler is? or will he take vp the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

6 Or shall a trumpet bee blowen in the citie, and the people be not afraide? or shal there be euil in a citie, and the Lord hath not done it?

7 ‖Surely the Lord God will doe nothing, but hee reuealeth his secret vnto his seruants the Prophets.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An aduersarie shall come euen round about the countrey, and shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoyled.

12 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepheard taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs or a piece of an eare: so shal the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bedde, and in Damascus as in a couche.

13 Heare and testifie in the house of Iacob, saith the Lord God, the God of hostes:

The iiii. Chapter.

Vnder the name of fat kine of Bashan, he inueieth against the gouernours of Samaria, and foresheweth their punishment.

1 HEare this word, ye kine of Bashan, that are in the mountaine of Samaria, which oppresse the poore, and destroy the needie, which say to their a masters, Bring, and let vs drinke.

a That is, to the creditors, to whome the poore are indebted.

2 The Lord God hath sworne by his holines, that loe, the dayes shall come vpon you, that he will take you away with b thornes, and your posteritie with fishhookes.

b He alludeth to fishers, which catch fish by hookes and thornes.

3 And ye shall goe out at the breaches, euery cowe forwarde, and ye shall ‖ cast your selues out of the palace, saith the Lord.

‖Or, cast downe the palace.

4 Come to Bethel, and ‖ transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiplie transgression: and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your tithes after three yeres.

‖Or, commit wickednes.

5 And offer a thanksgiuing of leauen, publish and proclaime the free offerings: for this liketh you, O yee children of Israel, saith the Lord God.

6 Therefore haue I giuen you c cleannesse of teeth in all your cities, and scarcenesse of bread in all your places: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

c That is, lacke of bread and meate.

7 And also I haue withholden the rayne from you when there were yet three moneths to the haruest, and I caused it to raine vpon one citie, and haue not caused it to raine vpon another citie: one piece was rayned vpon, and the piece whereupon it rayned not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered vnto one citie to drinke water, but they were not satisfied: yet haue yee not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

9 I haue smitten you with blasting and mildewe, your great gardens, and your vineyards, and your figge trees, & your olive trees did the ‖ palmer worme deuoure: yet haue yee not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

10 Pestilence haue I sent among you after the maner of Egypt: your yong men haue I slaine with the sworde, and haue taken away your horses, and I haue made the stinke of your tentes to come euen vp to your nostrils: yet haue yee not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

11 *I haue ouerthrowen ‖ you, as God ouerthrew Sodoma and Gomorrha: and ye were as a firebrand pluckt out of the burning: yet haue ye not returned vnto mee, saieth the Lord.

Gen.19.24. Esa.13.19.

‖Or, among you, meaning some part of their countrey to haue ben ouerthrowen.

12 Therefore thus will I doe vnto thee, O Israel, and because I will doe this vnto thee, d prepare to meete thy GOD, O Israel.

d Turne to him by repentance.

13 For loe, hee that fourmeth the mountaines, and createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought, which maketh the ‖ morning darkenesse, and walketh vpon the high places of the earth, the Lorde GOD of hostes is his name.

‖Or, morning and darkenesse.

The v. Chapter.

1 The prophet lamenteth the captiuitie of Sion. 4 He calleth to repentance. 8 He describeth the power of God.

1 HEare yee this worde which I lift vp vpon you, euen a lamentation ‖ of the house of Israel.

‖Or, O ye house.

2 The virgine Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise, shee is left vpon her lande, and there is none to raise her vp.

3 For thus saith the Lorde God, The citie which went out by a thousand, shall leaue an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leaue tenne to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye mee, and ye shall liue.

5 But seeke not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and go not to Beer-seba: for Gilgal shall goe into captiuitie, and Bethel shal come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lord, and ye shall liue: least he breake out like fire in the house of Ioseph, and deuoure it, and there be none to quenche it in Bethel.

7 They turne iudgement to wormewood, and forsake righteousnesse in the earth.

8 He maketh the seuen starres and Orion, and he turneth the a shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark: as night: *hee calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lord is his name.

a That is, the thickest darkenesse into the morning light.

Amos.9.6.

9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mightie, and the destroyer shall ‖ come against the fortresse.

‖Or, assault.

10 They hate him that rebuketh b in the gate, and they abhorre him that speaketh vprightly.

c Ye take both his money and also his foode wherewith he should liue.

12 For I know your ‖manifold transgressions, and your mightie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewards, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

‖Or, great wickednesse.

13 Therefore the wise shall keepe silence in that time: for it is an euill time.

14 Seeke good, and not euill, that ye may liue: and so the Lord God of hostes shall be with you, as you haue spoken.

15 * Hate the euill, and loue the good, and stablish iudgement in the gate: it may be, that the Lord God of hostes will be mercifull vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

17 And in all the vines shall be lamentation: for I will passe thorow thee, saith the Lord.

18 * Woe vnto you that desire the day of the Lorde, what haue ye to doe with it? the day of the Lord is darkenesse, and not light.

*Iere. 30. 7. Ioel. 2. 11. Soph. 1. 13.

19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a beare meete him, & went into the house, and leaned his hand vnto the wall, and a serpent bite him:

‖Or, shine.

21 * I hate, I abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not d smell in your solemne assemblies.

*Esai. 1. 11.

d That is, I will not delight in the smell of your incense.

22 Though ye offer mee whole burnt offrings, and meate offerings, I will not accept them, neither will I regard the peace offering of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from mee the multitude of thy songs, for I will not heare the melodie of thy vials.

24 And ‖let iudgement run downe as water, & righteousnesse as a mightie riuer.

25 Haue ye offered vnto mee sacrifices and offerings in the wildernesse fourtie yeeres, O house of Israel?

26 But yee haue borne e Siccuth your king, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your gods, which yee made to your selues.

e That idole which ye esteemed as your king, and caried about as ye did Chiun: in the which images ye thought y there was a certaine diuinitie.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captiuitie beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, whose name is the God of hostes.

The vi. Chapter.

2 Goe you vnto Calneh, and see, and frō thence go you to Hemath the great, then goe downe to Gath of the Philistines: be they better then these kingdomes? or the border of their land greater then your border?

a If God haue destroyed these excellent cities in three diuers kingdomes, as in Babylon, Syria, and of the Philistines, and hath brought their wide borders into a greater straightnes then yours are, thinke ye to be better, or to escape?

3 Ye that put farre away the euill day, and ‖ approch to the seate of iniquitie.

‖Or, bring vpon you.

4 They lie vpon beds of Iuorie, & stretch themselues vpon their couches, and eate the lambes out of the flocke, & the calues out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sound of the viall, and inuent to themselues instruments of musike, like Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, and anoint themselues with these ointments: but no man is sory for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therefore nowe shall they goe captiue with the first that goe captiue, and ‖ the sorrowe of them that stretched themselues is at hand.

‖Or, the ioy of them that stretched themselues shall depart. Iere. 52. 14.

8 * The Lorde God hath swoorne by himselfe, saieth the Lord God of hostes, I abhorre the ‖ excellencie of Iacob, and hate his palaces, therefore will I deliuer vp the citie, with all that is therein.

‖Or, magnificency, that is, churches and pompe.

9 And if there remaine tenne men in one house, they shall die.

10 And his vncle shall take him vp, and burne him, to carry out the bones out of the house, and shall say to him that is by the b sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shall say, None. Then shal he say, Hold thy tongue: for we may not remember the name of the Lord.

b That is, to some neighbour that dwelleth neere about.

11 For behold, the Lord commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the litle houses with clefts.

12 Shall horses runne vpon the c rocke? or will one plowe there with Oxen? for ye haue turned iudgement into gall, and the fruite of righteousnesse into wormewood.

c He compareth them to barren rockes, whereupon it is in vaine to bestowe labour, shewing that Gods benefites can haue no place among them.

13 Ye reioyce in a thing of nought, yee say, Haue not wee gotten vs hornes by our owne strength?

14 But behold, I will raise vp against you a nation, O house of Israel, saieth the Lord God of hostes, and they shal afflict you from the entring of Hemath, vnto the riuer of the wildernesse.

The vii. Chapter.

1 God sheweth certaine visions, whereby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel.

1 THus hath the Lord God shewed vnto mee, and beholde, hee fourmed a Grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of the latter grouth, and loe, it was in the latter grouth, after the a kings mowing.

a After the publique commandement for mowing was giuen, or as some reade, after the kings sheepe were shorne.

2 And when they had made an ende of eating the grasse of the land, then I said, O Lord God, spare, I beseech thee: Who shall raise vp Iacob? for he is small.

b That is, stayed this plague at my prayer.

3 So the Lorde b repented for this: It shall shall not be, saieth the Lord.

4 Thus also hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and beholde, the Lord God called to iudgement by fire, and it deuoured the great deepe, & did eate vp ‖ a part.

‖ Or, the possession, meaning the whole fielde.

5 Then saide I, O Lord God, ceasse I beseeche thee: Who shal raise vp Jacob? for he is small.

6 So the Lord repented for this: This also shal not be, saith the Lord God.

7 Thus againe he shewed me, and behold, p Lorde stoode vpon a wall made by line, c with a line in his hand.

c Signifying that this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would deferre his iudgement no longer.

8 And the Lorde saide vnto mee, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A line. Then saide the Lord, Beholde, I will set a line in the midst of my people Jsrael, and wil passe by them no more.

9 And the high places of Jsahac shalbee desolate, and the ‖ temples of Jsrael shalbe destroyed, and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sworde.

‖ Or, sanctuaries, or hy places.

10 Then Amazia the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Jsrael, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the middest of the house of Jsrael: the land is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos saieth, Jeroboam shall die by the sworde, and Jsrael shalbe ledde awap captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also Amazia said to Amos, O thou the Seer, goe, flee thou awap into the lande of Juda, and there eate thy bread, and prophecie there.

13 But prophecie no more at Bethel: for it is the kings Chappel, and it is the kings Court.

14 Then answered Amos, and saide vnto Amazia, I was no Prophet, neither was I a Prophets sonne: but I was an heardman, and a gatherer of wilde figges.

15 And the Lorde tooke mée as I followed the flocke, and the Lord said vnto me, Goe, prophecie vnto my people Jsrael.

16 Nowe therefore heare thou the worde of the Lorde: Thou sayest, Prophecie not against Jsrael, and speake nothing against the house of Jsahac.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Thy wife shalbe an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sworde, and thy land shalbe deuided by line, and thou shalt die in a polluted lãd, and Jsrael shall surely goe into captiuitie forth of his land.

The viii. Chapter.

By a vision of a Basket of Sommer fruite, the ende of the kingdome of Israel is shewed.

1 THus hath the Lord God shewed vnto me: and beholde, a Basket of Sõmer fruite.

a Which signified the ripenesse of their sinnes, and the readines of Gods iudgements.

2 And hee saide, Amos, what seest thou? And I saide, A Basket of Sommer a fruite. Then saide the Lorde vnto mee, the ende is come vpon my people of Jsrael, I wil passe by them no more.

3 And the songs of the temple shalbe howlinges in that day, saith the Lorde God: many dead bodies shalbe in euery place, they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 Heare this, O yee that swallowe vp the poore, that ye may make the needie of þ lande to faile.

5 Saying, When will the newe moneth be gone, that we may sel corne? and the Sabboth, that we may set forth Wheat, and make the b Ephah smal, and the sicle great, and falsifie the weightes by deceite?

b That is, the measure small, and the price great.

6 That we may buy the poore for siluer, and the needie for shoes, yea, and sel the refuse of the Wheate?

7 The Lorde hath swoorne by the excellencie of Jacob, Surely I will neuer forget any of their workes.

8 Shal not the land tremble for this, and euery one mourne that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise by whole as a flood, and it shalbe cast out, and c drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.

c That is, the inhabitants of the land shalbe drowned, as Nilus drowneth many when it ouerfloweth.

9 And in that day, saith the Lorde God, I will euen cause the d Sunne to go down at noone, and I wil darken the earth in the cleare day.

d In the midst of their prosperitie, I will send great affliction. Tob. 2.6. 1. mac. 1.41.

10 *And I will turne your feastes into mourning, and al your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackecloth vpon all lopnes, and baldenes vpon euery head, and I will make it as þ mourning of an only sonne, and the ende thereof as a bitter day.

11 Beholde, the dayes come, saieth the Lord God, that I wil send a famine in þ lande, not a famine of bread, nor thirst for water, but of hearing the word of the Lorde.

12 And they shal wander from sea to sea, and from the North euen vnto the East shal they runne to and fro, to seeke the worde of the Lord, and shal not finde it.

e For the idolaters did vse to sweare by their idoles, which here he calleth their sinne.

13 In that day shal the faire virgins, and the young men perish for thirst.

14 They that sweare by the e sinne of Samaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, liueth, and the f maner of Beer-seba liueth, euen they shal fal, and neuer rise vp againe.

f That is, the common maner of worshipping, and the seruice or religion there vsed.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Threatnings against the temple. 5 The subuersion of the people.

1 I Sawe the Lorde standing vpon þ a altar, and he said, Smite the lintel of the dooze, that the postes may shake, and cast them in pieces, euen the b heades of them all, and I wil slay the last of them with the sworde: hee that fleeth of them, shal not flee awap, and he that escapeth of them shal not be deliuered.

a Which was at Hierusalem.

‖ Or, wound them in the head, euen all.

b Both the chiefe of them, and also the commõ people. Psal. 138.8.

2 *Though they dig into hel, thence shall my hande take them, though they clime vp to heauen, thence wil I bring them downe.

3 And though they hide themselues in the toppe of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence: and though they be-hid from my ſight in the bottome of the ſea, thence wil I commaund the ſerpent, and he ſhall bite them.

e That is, the Whale, or ſome other huge beaſt of the ſea.

4 And though they goe into captiuitie before their enemies, thence will I commaund the ſword, and it ſhall ſlay them, *and I will ſet mine eyes vpon them for euill, and not for good.

Amos. 5, 8.

5 And the Lorde God of hoſtes ſhal touche the land, and it ſhall melt away: and all that dwel therein ſhall mourne, and it ſhall riſe vp whole like a flood, and ſhalbe drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buildeth his ſpheres in the heauen, & hath laide the foundation of his globe of elements on the earth: *he calleth the waters of the ſea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lorde is his name.

Iere. 44. 11.

d That is, am I more bound vnto you, then to the Ethiopians, or blacke Mores? yet haue I beſtowed vpon you greater benefites, 7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians vnto me, O children of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord? haue not I brought vp Iſrael out of the lande of Egypt? and the Philiſtines from Cappadocia, and the Syrians from Cyrene?

8 Beholde, the eyes of the Lorde God are vpon the ſinfull kingdome, and I wil deſtroy it cleane out of the earth: neuertheleſſe, I will not vtterly deſtroy the houſe of Iacob, ſaieth the Lord.

9 For loe, I will commande, and I will ſift the houſe of Iſrael among all nations, like as corne is ſifted in a ſiue: yet ſhall not the * leaſt ſtone fall vpon the earth.

e Meaning, that none of his ſhould periſh in his wrath.

Act. 15. 16.

10 But all the ſinners of my people ſhall die by the ſworde, which ſay, The euill ſhall not come, nor haſten for vs.

11 *In that day will I raiſe vp the tabernacle of Dauid that is fallen downe, and cloſe vp the breaches thereof, and I will raiſe vp his ruines, and I wil build it as in the dayes of olde:

12 That they may poſſeſſe the remnant of Edom, and of all the Heathen, ‖ becauſe my name is called vpon them, ſaieth the Lord that doeth this.

‖ Or, vpon whome my name is called.

13 Beholde, the dayes come, ſaieth the Lorde, that the ploweman ſhall f touche the mower, and the treader of grapes him that ſoweth ſeede, & the mountaines ſhall drop ſweete wine, and all the hilles ſhal melt.

f Signifying, that there ſhal be great plentie of all things, ſo that when one kinde of fruite is ripe, another ſhould follow, and euery one in courſe, Leui. 26.

14 And I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people of Iſrael, and they ſhall builde the waſte cities, and inhabite thē: and they ſhall plant vineyardes, and drinke the wine thereof, they ſhall alſo make gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

15 And I will plant them vpon their land, and they ſhall no more bee pulled vp againe out of their land which I haue giuen them, ſaith the Lord thy God.

3 The pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee, thou that dwelleſt in the clefts of the rockes, whoſe habitation is high, that ſaieth in his heart, Who ſhall bring mee downe to the ground?

6 How are the things of Eſau ſought vp, and his treaſures ſearched?

7 All the men of thy confederacie haue driuen thee to the borders, the men that were at peace with thee haue deceiued thee, and preuailed againſt thee, they that eate thy breade haue laide a wounde vnder thee, there is none vnderſtanding in him.

8 *Shal not I in that day, ſaith the Lord, euen deſtroy the wiſe men out of Edom, and vnderſtanding from the mount of Eſau?

12 But thou ſhouldeſt not haue beholden the day of thy brother in the day that hee was made a ſtranger, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue reioyced ouer the children of Iuda in the day of their deſtructiō, thou ſhouldeſt not haue ſpoken proudly in the day of affliction:

13 Thou ſhouldeſt not haue entred into the gate of my people in the day of their deſtruction, neither ſhouldeſt thou haue once

14 Neither shouldest thou haue stande in the crosse wayes to cut off them that shoulde escape, neither shouldest thou haue shut vp the remnant thereof in the day of affliction.

15 For the day of the Lorde is neere vpon all the Heathen: as thou hast done, it shal be done to thee, thy reward shall returne vpon thine head.

16 For as yee haue [a] drunke vpon mine holy mountaine, so shall all the heathen drinke continually: yea, they shal drinke and swallow vp, and they shall be as though they [b] had not bene.

17 But vpon mount Sion shall be deliuerance, and it shalbe holy, and the house of Iacob shall possesse their possessions.

18 And the house of Iacob shalbe a fire, & the house of Ioseph a flame, & the house of Esau as stubble, and they shall kindle in them and deuoure them, and there shalbe no remnant of the house of Esau: for the Lord hath spoken it.

20 And the captiuitie of his host of þ children of Israel, which were among the Chananites, shall possesse vnto Sarephath, and the captiuitie of Hierusalem which is in Sepharad, shall possesse the cities of the South.

The ende of the Prophet Abdias.

The Booke of the Prophet Ionas.

The first Chapter.

3 Ionas fled when he was sent to preach. 4 A tempest ariseth, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

1 THe worde of the Lorde came vnto [a] Ionas the sonne of Amittai, saying,

2 Arise, and go to [b] Nineue the great citie, and crie against it: for their wickednesse is come vp before me.

3 And Ionas rose vp to flee into Tharsis from the presence of the Lord, and went downe to [c] Ioppa, and found a ship going to [d] Tharsis: so he payed his fare, and went downe into it, that hee might goe with them vnto Tharsis from the [e] presence of the Lord.

4 But the Lord sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mightie tempest in the sea, so that the ship was in danger of splitting in sunder.

5 Then the mariners were afraide, and cried euery man vnto his god, and cast the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them: but Ionas was gone downe into the sides of the shippe, and he lay downe sleeping.

6 And the shipmaster came vnto him, and said, What meanest thou sleeper? Vp, and call vpon thy God, if so be that God will [f] shine vnto vs, that we perish not.

7 And they said euery one vnto his fellow, Come, let vs cast lots, þ we may knowe for whose cause this euill is on vs. And they cast lots: and the lot fell on Ionas.

8 Then said they vnto him, Tell vs, for whose cause is this euill come vpon vs? what is thine occupation? whence camest thou? what countrey man art thou? and of what nation?

9 And he answered them, I am an Hebrue, and I feare the Lorde God of heauen, which hath made the sea and the dry land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said vnto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled frō the presence of the Lord, because hee had told them.)

11 And they said vnto him, What shall we doe vnto thee, that the sea may bee calme vnto vs? for the sea wrought, and was troublous.

12 And he said vnto them, Take mee, and cast me into the sea, and the sea shall bee calme vnto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Neuertheless, the men assayed with rowing to bring the ship to land, but they could not, because the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried vnto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lorde, we beseech thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, and lay not to our charge innocent blood: for thou, O Lorde, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they tooke vp Ionas, and cast him into the sea, and the sea left raging.

16 And the men feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice vnto the Lorde, and made [f] vowes.

17 And the Lorde prepared a great fish to swallow vp Ionas: and Ionas was in the belly of the fish three dayes and three nights.

a He prophecied vnder Ieroboam the second, 2. King. 14.

The ii. Chapter.

1 Jonas is in the fishes belly. 2 His prayer. 10 He is deliuered.

1 AND Jonas prayed vnto the Lorde his God out of the fishes bellie.
2 And saide, In affliction I cryed vnto the Lord, and he heard me: out of the bellie of hell cried I, & thou heardest my voyce.
3 Thou hadst cast mee downe into the deepe, into the middest of the sea, and the floods compassed me about: all thy billowes and waues passed ouer me.
4 And I saide, * I am cast away out of thy sight, yet will I looke againe toward thine holy temple.
5 * The waters compassed me euen vnto the soule, the depth closed me on euerie side, and the weedes were wrapt about my head.
6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaines, the earth with her barres was about mee for euer: yet hast thou brought vp my life from corruption, O Lord my God.
7 When my soule fainted within me, I remembred the Lorde, and my prayer came in vnto thee into thy holy temple.
8 They that hold vpon [b] lying vanitie, forsake ‖ his mercie.
9 But I will sacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thanksgiuing, and will pay that that I haue vowed: for saluation is of the Lorde.
10 And the Lord spake vnto the fish, and it cast out Jonas vpon the drie [c] land.

a He afterward calleth it hell, and the word is taken often for the graue. Being come to himselfe, he in great affliction called vpon the Lord. Psal. 120. 1.

The iii. Chapter.

2 Jonas is sent againe to Ninive. 3 The repentance of the king of Nineue.

1 AND the word of the Lord came vnto Jonas the seconde time, saying,
2 Arise, & goe to Ninive that great citie, and preach against it the preaching which I speake vnto thee.
3 So Jonas arose, and went to Ninive, according to the word of the Lord: (Ninive was a great citie, and [a] excellent, of three dayes iourney.)
4 And Jonas began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, & he cried, and saide, Yet fourtie dayes, and Ninive shall be destroyed.
5 * And the men of Ninive beleeued God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them, to the least of them.
6 And word came vnto the king of Ninive: which arose from his throne, and put off his robe, and couered himselfe with sackcloth, and sate downe in ashes.
7 And he caused a crier to crie, & say throughout the citie by the counsell of the king and his nobles, Let neither man nor beast, bullocke, nor sheepe taste ought at all, neither feede nor drinke water.
8 And let both man & beast put on sackcloth, and crie mightily vnto God: yea let euery man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednesse that is in his handes.
9 Who can tell whether God will turne and bee moued with [b] repentance, and turne from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?
10 And God sawe their workes that they turned from their euill wayes, and he repented of the [c] euill that he said he would doe vnto them, and did it not.

a In the Hebrue it is, A great citie to God: but so the Hebrues call great and excellent thinges. So the hill of God, the Cedar of God, for a great hill & high Cedar. Mat. 12. 41. Luke 11. 32.

b God is said to repent, when he doeth those things that men doe repenting.
c Of the euill, that is, of the plague which is euil to our selfe, although not in his owne nature.

The iiii. Chapter.

The great goodnes of God towarde his creatures.

1 AND this displeased Jonas greatly, and he was [a] angry within himselfe.
2 And he prayed vnto the Lord, and saide, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying when I was yet in my countrey? therefore I ‖ hasted to flee vnto Tharsis: * For I knewe that thou art a gracious God, and mercifull, long suffering, and of great kindnesse, and repentest thee of euill.
3 And nowe, O Lord, take I beseech thee, my life from me: for it is better for mee to die then to liue.
4 Then said the Lord, Doest thou well to be angry?
5 And Jonas went out of the citie, and sate him downe on the East side thereof, and there made him a boothe, and sate vnder it in the shadow, till hee might see what should be done in the citie.
6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it spring vp ouer Jonas, that it might be a shadowe ouer his head, to deliuer him from his griefe: So Jonas was exceeding glad of the gourd.
7 But God prepared a worme, when the morning rose the next day, which smote the gourd, that it withered.
8 And when the Sunne rose, God prepared a feruent East wind, & the Sunne beate vpon the head of Jonas that hee fainted, and wished vnto his soule that he might die, and said, It is better for me to die, then to liue.
9 And the Lord said vnto Jonas, Doest thou well to be so angrie within thy selfe for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry, euen vnto death.
10 Then saide the Lorde, Thou hast had compassion on the gourd, about the which thou bestowedst no labour, neither madest it grow, which came vp in a night, and perished in a night:
11 And shal not I spare Ninive that great citie, in the which are more then sixe score thousand persons that knowe not their right hand and their left, and also much cattell?

a Because hereby he should be taken as a false propher, and so the name of God which he preached, should be blaspheemed. ‖ Or, preuented. Psal. 86. 5. Ioel 2. 13.

The Booke of the Prophet Micheas.

The first chapter.

Of the destruction of Samaria, because of their idolatrie.

1 THe word of þ Lord came vnto Micheas the Morasthite, in the dayes of Iotham, Ahas, & Ezecias, kings of Iuda, which he sawe cõcerning Samaria, & Hierusalem.

Deut.32.1. Esa.1.2.

2 *Heare all ye people, marke this well, O earth, and all that therein is, yea, let the Lord God himselfe bee witnesse against you, euen the Lord from his holy reple.

Esa.26.21.

3 *For behold, the Lord shal come out of his holy place, and come down, & treade vpon the high things of the earth.

4 The mountaines shal melt vnder him, and the valleyes shal cleaue asunder, like as wax melteth before the fire, and as the waters runne downeward.

5 And all this shalbe for the wickednesse of Iacob, and the sinnes of the house of Israel: but what is the wickednes of Iacob? is not a Samaria? Which are the high places of Iuda? is not Hierusalem?

a Samaria and Hierusalem were the chiefe cities of the two kingdomes: idolatrie vsed in them sheweth a generall corruption through al.

6 Therefore I will make Samaria an heape of the fielde meete for the planting of a vineyard: her stones will I rumble down into the valley, and discouer her foundations.

7 All her images shall be broken downe, and all her‖ garmentes shalbe burnt in the fire, yea, all her idoles will I destroy: for they are gathered out of the hire of an b harlot, and into an harlots hire shal they be turned againe.

‖Or, gifts.

b Euill gotten, euill spent.

8 Wherefore I will mourne & make lamentation, bare and naked will I goe: I will mourne like the Dragons, & take losow as the Estriches.

9 For their wound is past remedie, it is come into Iuda, and hath touched the gate of my people at Hierusalē already.

10 Declare it not at Gath, neither weepe ye: for the house of Aphra roule thy selfe in the dust.

c Names of cities that should be first annoyed by the enemies.

11 Thou that dwellest in Saphir get thee hence naked with shame: she that dwelleth at c Taanan, shall not come forth in the mourning of Bethezel: þ enemy shal receiue of you for his d standing.

d The long continuance of an armie in one place is hurtfull.

12 For þ inhabitants of Maroth waited for good, but þ plague shall come frō the Lord, euen vnto the gates of Hierusalē.

e It appeareth that this citie was one of the first which receiued the worshipping of the golden Calues, set vp by Ieroboā.

13 O thou e inhabitant of Lachis, bind the charet to the swiftest f beast, she is the beginning of the sinne of the daughter of Sion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

f Make haste to flee away.

14 Therefore shalt thou bring presents to g Morasheth Gath: þ houses of Achzib shalbe as a lie to the kings of Israel.

g A citie so named.

15 And as for thee, O thou that dwellest at Maresa, I will bring a possessioner vpon thee, he shall come to Adullam, the glorie of Israel.

16 Make thee balde, h and shane thee, because of thy tender children: make thee cleane balde as an Eagle, for they shalbe carried away captiue from thee.

h Shauing and plucking off heare, was vsed in time of mourning.

The ii. Chapter.

Threatnings against the sinfull people. 6 They would reache the Prophets to preach.

1 WOe vnto them that imagine iniquitie, and worke wickednesse vpon their beds: when the morning is light they practise it, because their hand hath power.

2 And they couet fieldes, and take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, euen man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Behold, against this houshold haue I deuised a plague, whereout yee shall not plucke your neckes: yee shall no more goe so proudely, for it will be a perilous time.

‖Or, wasted.

4 In that day shall this parable be vsed, and a mourning shalbe made ouer you on this maner: We be vtterly ‖ desolate, the portion of my people is changed: (Or, howe shall he take our land to restore it vnto me (seeing the enemie hath deuided it?) howe will ‖ he part vnto the land that he hath taken from vs?

5 Therefore there shall bee no man to diuide thee thy portion in the congregation of the Lord.

6 Ye shall not a prophecie say they to the that prophecie: b they shall not prophecie to these, neither shall they take shame.

a The people tooke vpon them to forbid the Prophets to preach and rebuke sinne.

b God threatneth he wil send no mo Prophets to preach vnto them, which is the greatest plague that can come to a nation.

7 O thou that art named þ house of Iacob, is the spirit of þ Lord shortened? are these his workes? are not my wordes good vnto him that walketh vpright?

‖Or, my glorie.

8 But he that was yesterday my people, is risen vp on the other side as against an enemy: they spoyle the beautifull garmēt frō them þ passe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue ye thrust out from their pleasant houses, and taken away ‖ mine excellent gifts from their children.

c Taking vpon them the office of a prophet, & pretending that he is directed by the spirite of God.

10 Vp, get you hence, for here shal ye haue no rest: because the land is defiled, it shal destroy you with vtter destruction.

11 If a man c walke in the spirit, & would lie falsely saying, I will prophecie to thee of d wine and strong drinke: that were a Prophet for this people.

d Flattering them by promising plentie, and not reproouing their sinnes.

12 I will surely gather e thee wholy, O Iacob, I will surely gather the remnant of Israel, I will put them together as the sheepe of f Bozra, as the flocke in þ midst of their folde, they shal make great noyse by reason of the multitude of men.

e To make an vniuersall destruction.

f Where was great plentie of sheepe, by reason of the good pastures.

13 The breaker shall come vp before them, they shall breake out, & passe by the gate, and and goe out by it: and their king ſ shall goe before them, and the Lord ſhalbe vpon t their heads.

The iii. Chapter.

Againſt the tyrannie of princes and falſe prophets.

1 AND I ſaide, Heare, I pray you, O heads of Iacob, and ye princes of the houſe of Iſrael, ſhould not yee know iudgement?

2 But they hate the good, & loue the euill, they plucke off their ſkinnes from them, and their fleſh from their bones.

3 And they eate alſo the fleſh of my people, and flap off their ſkinne from them: and they breake their bones, and chop them in pieces as for the pot, & as fleſh within the cauldron.

4 Then ſhall they crie vnto the Lord, but he will not heare them: he will euen hide his face from them at that time, becauſe they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus ſaieth the Lorde concerning the prophets that deceiue my people, u and bite them with their teeth, & crie peace: but if a man put not into their mouths, they prepare warre againſt him.

6 Therefore x night ſhalbe vnto you for a viſion, and darkeneſſe ſhall be vnto you for a diuination: and the ſunne ſhall goe downe ouer the Prophets, and the day ſhalbe darke ouer them.

7 Then ſhall the ſeers be aſhamed, and the ſoothſlayers confounded: yea, y they ſhall all couer their lippes, for they haue no anſwere of God.

8 Yet notwithſtanding, I am full of power by the ſpirit of the Lorde, & of iudgement, and of ſtrength, to declare vnto Iacob his tranſgreſſion, and to Iſrael his ſinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, yee heades of the houſe of Iacob, and princes of the houſe of Iſrael: they abhorre iudgemẽt, and peruert all equitie.

10 z They build vp Sion with blood, and Hieruſalem with iniquitie.

11 *(The heads therof iudge for rewards, and the prieſts thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof prophecie for money: yet will they leane vpon the Lorde, and ſay, Is not the Lord among vs? no euill can come vpon vs.)

12 * Therefore ſhall Sion for your ſake be plowed as a fielde, and Hieruſalem ſhall be an heape, and the mountaine of the houſe as the high places of the foreſt.

The iiii. Chapter.

The calling of the Gentiles, and conuerſion of the Iewes.

1 BVt * in the a latter daies it will come to paſſe, that the hill of the Lordes houſe ſhall be prepared in the top of the mountaines, and ſhalbe let vp higher then any mountaines or hilles, and people ſhall preſſe vnto it.

2 Yea the multitude of the Gentiles ſhal haſte them thither, ſaying, Come, let vs goe vp to the hill of the Lorde, and to the houſe of the God of Iacob, and he ſhall teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes, for the lawe ſhal come out of Sion, & the worde of God from Hieruſalem.

3 And he ſhall iudge many people, and rebuke mightie nations of farre countreis: ſo that of their ſwordes they ſhall make plowſhares, and ſithes of their ſpeares: one people ſhall not lift vp a ſworde againſt another, yea they ſhall no more learne to fight.

4 But euery man ſhall ſit vnder his vine-yarde, and vnder his figge tree, & no man ſhall make them afraide: for the mouth of the Lord of hoſtes hath ſpoken it.

5 Therefore all people will walke euery man in the name of his God: & we will walke in the name of our Lord God for euer and euer.

6 At the ſame time, ſaieth the Lorde, will I gather vp the lame & the outcaſt, and ſuch as I haue chaſtened,

7 * And will giue a remnant vnto Blame, and make of the outcaſt a mighty people: * and the Lord him ſelfe ſhalbe their king vpon the mount Sion, from this time forth for euermore.

8 And vnto thee, O thou towre of the flocke, thou ſtrong holde of the daughter Sion, vnto thee ſhall it come, euen the lordſhip and kingdome to the daughter Hieruſalem.

9 Why then doeſt thou crie and lament? is there no king in thee? are thy counſellours periſhed, that thou art ſo pained as a woman in her trauaile?

10 And now, O thou daughter Sion, ſorowe and lament as a woman in her trauaile: for nowe muſt thou get thee out of the citie, and dwell vpon the plaine field: yea, vnto Babylon ſhalt thou goe, but there ſhalt thou be deliuered, and there the Lord ſhall redeeme thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 Nowe alſo are there many people gathered together againſt thee, ſaying, Sion ſhall be condemned, and our eye ſhall looke vpon Sion.

12 But they knowe not the thoughtes of the Lord, they vnderſtand not his counſell: for hee ſhall gather them together as the ſheaues in the barne.

13 Therefore get thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, and threſh out the corne: for I will make thy horne yron, & thy bones braſſe, that thou mayeſt breake in pieces many people: their goods ſhalt thou conſecrate vnto the Lord, and their ſubſtãce vnto the ruler of the whole world.

The v. Chapter.

Of the deſtruction of Hieruſalem.

1 NOw ‖ ſhalt thou be robbed thy ſelf, O thou robbers daughter: they ſhall lay ſiege againſt vs, & ſmite ‖ the iudge of Iſrael vpon the cheeke.

2 * And thou Bethlehem Ephrata art little among the thouſands of Iuda, out of thee ſhall hee come forth vnto me which ſhall be the gouernour in Iſrael, whoſe outgoing hath bene from the beginning, and from euerlaſting.

nant of his brethren be conuerted vnto
the children of Israel.
4 He shall stand fast, and giue foode in the strength of the Lorde, and in the maiestie of the name of the Lord his God: & when they be conuerted, hee shalbe magnified vnto the farthest partes of the world.
5 And he shalbe our peace: when the Assyrians shall come into our land, when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seuen shepheards, and eight principall men.
6 These shall subdue the lande of Assur with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their naked weapons: thus shall he deliuer vs from the Assyrian when hee commeth within our land, & setteth his foote within our borders.
7 And the remnant of Jacob shall bee among the multitude of people as the deawe of the Lord, and as the drops vp-on the grasse, that tarieth for no man, and waiteth on no bodie.
8 Yea, the residue of Jacob shalbe among the Gentiles, and the multitude of people, as the Lion among the beastes of the wood, and as the Lions whelpe among the flockes of sheepe, which when hee goeth through, treadeth downe, teareth in pieces, and there is no man that can deliuer.
9 Thine hande shalbe lift vp vpon thine enemies, and all thine aduersaries shall perish.
10 And it shall come to passe in that day, saieth the Lorde, that I will take thine horses from thee, and destroy thy char-rets.
11 I will breake downe the cities of thy land, & ouerthrow all thy strong holds.
12 All witchcraftes will I roote out of thine hande, there shall no more soothsayings be within thee.
13 Thine idoles and thine images will I destroy out of thee, so that thou shalt no more bowe thy selfe vnto the workes of thine owne handes.
14 Thy groues will I pluche vp by the rootes, and breake downe thy cities.
15 And I will execute a vengeance in my wrath, and indignation vpon the heathen, such as they haue not heard.

The vi. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to heare the iudgement against Israel being vnkind. 3 What maner of sacrifices do please God.

1 HEarken yee nowe what the Lorde saieth, Arise thou, and contend with the mountaines, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.
2 Heare, O ye mountaines, the Lordes quarell, and mightie foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarel against his people, and will pleade with Israel.
3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I grieued thee?
giue me answere.
4 I haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt, & deliuered thee out of the house of bondage, and I made Moses, Aaron, and Miriam to leade thee. Exod. 15. 16.
5 Remember, O my people, * what Ba-lac the king of Moab hath deuised against thee, and what answere that Balaam the sonne of Beor gaue him, from Sethim vnto Galgal, that ye may know the righteousnes of the Lord. Num 22. 5. and 23. 7.
6 Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, & bow my selfe to the high God?
Shal I come before him with burnt offerings, and with calues of a yeere olde?
7 Hath the Lord a pleasure in many thousands of rams, or innumerable streames of oyle? shall I giue my first borne for mine offences, and the fruit of my bodie for the sinne of my soule?
8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lorde requireth of thee, namely, to doe iustly, to loue mercie, & to humble thy selfe to walke with thy God.
9 The Lordes voyce crieth vnto the citie, and the man that shal be saued consider-eth thy name: hearken what is your rod, and beate him that warneth you.
10 Are not yet the treasures of wickednes in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure, which is abominable?
11 Should I iustifie the false ballances, & the bagge of deceitfull weights?
12 For the rich men thereof are full of cru-eltie, and the inhabitants thereof haue spoken lies, and haue deceitfull tongues in their mouthes.
13 Therefore I will take in hande to punish thee, and to make thee ‖ desolate because of thy sinnes. ‖ Or, sicke.
14 Thou shalt eate, and not haue ynough, yea, thou shalt dying thy selfe downe in the mids of thee, thou ‖ shalt flee, but not escape, and those that thou wouldst saue, will I deliuer to the sworde. ‖ Or, the women shall conceiue, but not bring forth, and whom they bring forth, wil I deliuer to the sword.
15 * Thou shalt sowe, but not reape, thou shalt presse out Oliues, but oyle shalt thou not haue, to anoynt thy selfe with oyle: thou shalt treade out sweete Must, Deut. 28. 38. agge. 1. 6.
but thou shalt drinke no wine.
16 Ye keepe the ordinances of Amri, and all the customes of the house of Ahab, ye walke in their counsailes: therefore will I make thee waste, and cause thy inha-biters to bee hissed at, and ye shall beare the reproch of my people.

The vii. Chapter.

1 A complaint of the little number of the righteous. 5 Against the vnruth ought we not to holde with our greatest frendes. 14 The prosperitie of the Church.

1 WOe is me, I am become as the Sommer gatherings, and as the grapes of the vintage: there are no more grapes to eate, yet would I faine with all my heart haue of the best fruite.
2 There is not a godly man vpon earth, there is not one righteous among men, they all lie in waite for blood, and euery

man huteth his neighbour as with a net.

3 To make good the euill of their hands, the prince and the iudge a asketh a reward, therefore the great man speaketh out of the corruption of his soule, and so they wrappe it vp.

4 The best of them is as a brier, the most righteous of them is sharper then a thorne hedge: the day of thy watchmen and of thy visitation commeth: then shal be their confusion.

5 Let no man beleeue his friend, nor put his confidence in his brother: keepe the doore of thy mouth from her that lyeth in thy bosome.

6 For the sonne dishonoureth his father, the daughter riseth against her mother, the daughter in lawe against her mother in law: *and a mans foes are euen they of his owne houshold.

7 Neuertheles, I will looke vp vnto the Lord, I will patiently abide God my sauiour: my God shall heare me.

8 O thou enemie of mine, reioyce not at my fall, for I shall rise againe: & though I sit in darkenesse, yet the Lorde is my light.

9 I will beare the wrath of the Lord, for I haue offended him, till he sit in iudgement vpo my cause, and see that I haue right: then will he bring me forth to the light, and I shall see his righteousnesse, 10 Shee that is mine enemie, shall looke vpon it, and bee confounded, which nowe sayeth, Where is the Lorde thy God? mine eyes shall beholde her when she shall be troden downe as the myre in the streetes.

11 This is the day that thy walles shall be built, this day shall driue farre away the b decree.

12 And at that time shall they come vnto thee from Assur, from the strong cities, and from the strong holdes, euen vnto the riuer: from the one sea to the other, and from mountaine to mountaine.

13 Notwithstanding, the lande must bee wasted, because of them that dwel therein and for the fruites of their owne imaginations.

14 Therefore feede thy people with thy rod, the flocke of thine heritage (which dwelt desolate in the wood) let them feed vpon the mount of Carmel: in Basan, and Gilead, as afore time.

15 Marueilous things will I shew thee, euen as when thou camest out of the land of Egypt.

16 This shal the Heathen see, and be ashamed for all their power: so that they shall lay their hand vpon their mouth, and their eares shalbe deafe.

17 They shall licke the dust like a serpent, and as the wormes of the earth that tremble in their holes: they shall bee afraid of the Lord our God, and they shall feare thee.

18 *Who is such a God as thou, that pardonest wickednesse, and forgiuest the offences of the remnant of thine heritage? He keepeth not his wrath for euer: for his delite is to haue compassion.

19 He shall turne againe, and be merciful to vs, he shall put downe our wickednesses, and cast all our sinnes into the bottoms of the sea.

20 Thou shalt performe to Iacob thy truth, and thy mercy to Abraham, like as thou hast swome vnto our fathers in olde time.

a Both the prince and iudges for gaine peruert iustice, and so the mightie and the rich escape vnpunished, though they commit grieuous crimes. ‖Or, an elder.

*Mic. 10.36.

b Thou shalt no more be subiect to the forraine tyrannie of the Babylonians.

c That the people may returne out of the captiuitie of Babylon, and enioy the land of promise, as they did before.

*Acts 10.43.

The ende of the Prophecie of Micheas.

The Booke of the Prophet Nahum.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliuerance of Israel.

a The Niniuites were spared, because they repented at the preaching of Ionas: but afterwardes they returned to their former wickednes, therefore God threatneth them by this Prophet.

1 The burden of a Nimue: the booke of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2 God is iealous, and the Lorde auengeth, the Lorde auengeth & hath wrath in store: the Lorde taketh vengeance of his aduersaries, and keepeth wrath in store for his enemies.

3 The Lorde is slowe to anger, and also of great power, and in no case will acquite the wicked, the Lordes dealing is with blustering tempest, and whirlewinde, and the cloudes are the dust of his feete.

4 He rebuketh the sea, and dryeth it vp, al the riuers also hee maketh drie: Basan and Carmell are destroyed, the lyking also of Libanus is destroyed.

5 The mountaines quake ‖at his power, and the hilles are resolued: the earth also burneth at his countenance, the worlde, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can stande before his wrath? or who can rise vp before the anger of his countenance? his fiercenesse is powred out like fire, yea, the rockes cleaue in pieces at his might.

7 The Lord is gracious, a strong hold in the day of trouble, and knoweth them that trust in him.

8 But with an ouerrunning flood he will destroy her place, and will pursue his enemies with darkenesse.

9 What imagine b ye against the Lorde? he maketh an vtter destruction: ye shall not be troubled twise.

10 For though they be as thornes folden one in another, & as drunkards in their banket,

‖Or, for him.

b Meaning Niniue, and the Assyrians.

banket, yet shall they be deuoured vp as very dry stubble.

11 There came out of thee such as thought euil against þ Lord, such as gaue wicked counsell.

12 Thus saith the Lord, Though they bee in concorde, and also many, yet shall they be cut downe, and passe: and though I haue afflicted thee, yet will I trouble thee no more.

13 And nowe I will breake off his yoke from thee, and I will breake thy bondes in sunder.

14 The Lord also hath giuen a commandement touching thee, that there shall be no more of sprying of thy name: from the house of thy God I will cut off the carued and moulten image, I will make it thy graue, for thou art vile.

Esa.52.7. rom.10.15. 15 *Beholde vpon the mountaines the feete of him that bringeth good tidings, that preacheth peace: keepe thy festiual dayes, O Iuda, pay thy vowes: for the wicked shal hereafter passe no more thorowe thee, he is vtterly cut off.

The ii. Chapter.

He describeth the victories of the Chaldeans against the Assyrians.

1 THe destroier is come vp before thy face, keepe thy fort, see to thy way, strengthen thy loynes, encrease thy strength mightily:

2 For the Lord restoreth againe the glorious estate of Iacob, as also the glorious estate of Israel: for spoylers haue spoyled thē, & haue wasted their braches.

3 The shield of his valiant souldiers is dyed red, his captains of warre are clad with skarlet: the charet is compassed with flaming torches in the day of his expedition, and the fyrre staues are drenched in poyson.

4 The charets shall rage in the streetes, they shall make a terrible noyse in the broad wayes, to looke to like flaming creffets, shooting as lightning.

5 Hee shall remember his notable souldiers, they shall stumble in going, they shall haste to the wall, the couering fence is prepared.

6 The riuer gates are opened, and the palace dissolued.

a The name of the queene of the Assyrians, so called, because she stoode by her husband the king. 7 aHuzab is brought forth captiue, made to ascende into the charets, her handmaydens also leading one another as in the voyce of doues, knocking vpon their breastes.

8 Yea, many a day Niniue was as a pōd full of water, yet nowe they flee: Stande ye, stand ye, and no man looketh backe.

9 Take yoūr spoyle of siluer, take yoūr spoyle of gold: for there is no ende of riches, & her treasure passing all treasure.

10 Sacking, relacking, rasing, a dissolued heart, and collision of knees, sorowe in all loynes also, and the faces of them all as blacke as a potte.

Esa.13.7. 11 *Where is the abiding place of Lions, and the feeding plot of Lions whelpes, whither the yong & olde Lion had their resort? there dwelt the Lion, and there was no man to put him in feare.

12 The Lion made his pray abundantly for his whelpes, & strangled for his Lyons, & hath filled his dennes with pray, and his abiding places with spoyle.

13 Behold me against thee, saith the Lord of hostes, and I will burne in smoke her charets, and the sword shall deuoure thy Lions, I will rote out also frō the earth thy spoyling, and the voyce of thy messengers shalbe heard no more.

The iii. Chapter.

1 Of the fall of Niniue. 8 No power can escape the hand of God.

1 O Bloody citie, stuffed thorowout with falshoode, with ‡extreme dealing, nor will be brought from spoyling. Eze.24.9. habac.2.12. ‡Robberie.

2 The noyse of the whippe, the noyse of ratling of wheeles, the prancing of horses, and the iumping of charets:

3 The horsemā lifting vp both the glistering blade of the sword, and also the shining speare, many wounded, many corpses, and no ende of carkeises, they shall stumble at dead bodies.

4 Because of the manifold fornication of the beautifull harlot, full of charmes, that selleth nations by the meanes of her whoredome, and the people through her charmings.

Esa.47.3. 5 *Loe, I against thee, saith the Lorde of hostes, and will turne vp thy skirts ouer thy face, and will shew the Gentiles thy filth, and kingdomes thy shame:

6 And will cast vpon thee abominable filth, and will bring thee downe, and wil make thee as vile as doung.

7 And it shall come to passe, that all that shall behold thee, shall flee from thee, and shall say, Niniue is destroyed, and who is grieued therewith? from whence shal I seeke out comforters for thee?

8 Wilt thou count thy selfe better then Alexandria the great, that was situate among the riuers, compassed round about with water, whose fortresse was the sea, and had her wall from the sea?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were thy strēgth, and there was none ende of ayde: Phut & Lubim were thy helpers.

10 Notwithstanding, thee passed away, she went into captiuitie, her children also were dashed in pieces in the toppe of all the streetes: for her honourable men they cast lottes, and all her great states they chayned in fetters.

11 And thou also shalt bee dronken with trouble, thou shalt be hid: thou also shalt seeke after strength against thine enemy. ‖Or, euermore.

12 All thy strong aydes are as figge trees with the first ripe figges: if they be stirred, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold, thy men are as barren women in the midst of thee, the gates of thy land shall be set wyde open to thine enemies, fire hath deuoured thy barres.

14 Drawe thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortes, go into the clay, treade & mouter, make strong the bricke worke.

15 There

15 There the fire shall deuoure thee, the sword shall cut thee off, it shall deuoure as the locust, though thou be multiplied as the locust, & though thou be as many as the grashopper.
16 Thou hast encreased thy marchantes as the starres of heaue, the locust spoy-leth and fleeth away.
17 Thy Princes are as Grashoppers, and thy rulers as great locustes, they swarme in hedges in colde weather, the sunne ariseth, and they flee, and the place where they were is not knowen.
18 Thy shepheards, O king of Assur, sluber, thy noble men shall dwell in death, thy people is scattered vpon the moun-taines, and there is none to gather them together.
19 Thy wound shall not bee healed, thy plague is great, all that heare of thee, clap their handes: for vpon whom hath not thy euill dealing passed continually?

The ende of the prophecie of Nahum.

The booke of the Prophet Habacuc.

The first Chapter.

A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

a That is, the great calamitie which he prophecied to come on Iuda, as a most grieuous burden, which they were not able to beare.

1 The burden which Habacuc the Prophet did see.
2 O Lord how long shall I crye, & thou wilt not heare? euē crye out vnto thee for violence, & thou wilt not helpe?
3 Why doest thou shewe me iniquitie, & cause me to beholde sorowe? for spoyling & violence are before me, and there are that raise vp strife and contention.

‖Or, weakened.

4 Therefore the lawe is ‖ dissolued, and iudgement doeth neuer goe forth: for the wicked doeth compasse about the righteous, therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

Act. 13, 41.

5 * Beholde among the heathen, and re-garde, and wonder, and marueile: for I will worke a worke in your dayes, yee will not beleeue it, though it be told you.
6 For loe, I raise vp the Chaldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shall ‖ goe vpon the breadth of the lande, to possesse the dwelling places that are not theirs.

‖Or, passe thorowe.

b That is, they themselues shall be your iudges in this cause, & none shall haue authoritie ouer them to controll them.

7 They are terrible and fearefull: b their iudgement and their dignitie shall pro-ceede of themselues.
8 Their horses also are swifter then the Leopardes, and are more fierce then the Wolues in the euening, and their horsemen are maup, & shall come from farre:
they shal flee as þ eagle hasting to meat.
9 They come all to spoyle: before their faces shalbe c an East winde, and they shall gather the captiuitie as the sande.

c For the Iewes most feared this winde, because it destroied their fruites.

10 And they shall mocke the kings, & the princes shall be a scorne vnto them: they shall deride euery strong holde, for they shall gather d dust, and take it.

d They shall cast vp mountaines against it.

11 Then shall they ‡ take a courage, and transgresse, and doe wickedly, imputing this their power vnto their God.

‡ change their sprite.

12 Art not thou of olde, O Lorde my God, my holy one? we shall not die, O Lorde, thou hast ordeined them for iudgement, and O God, thou hast established them for correction.
13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canst not see euill, thou canst not beholde wickednesse: wherefore then doest thou looke vpon the transgressors, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked deuoureth the man that is more righteous then he, 14 And makest men as the e fish of the sea, and as the creeping things that haue no rule ouer them?
15 They take vp all with the angle, they catche it in their nette, and gather it in their yarne, wherefore they reioyce, and are glad.
16 Therefore they sacrifice vnto their f net, and burne incense vnto their yarne: because by them their portion is fatte, and their meate ‖ plenteous.
17 Shall they therefore ‖ stretch out their nette, and not spare continually to slay the g nations?

e That is, the great deuoure the small.

f Meaning, that the enemies flatter themselues and glory in their owne force, power, wit, and practise.

‖Or, daintie.

‖Or, empte.

g Meaning, that they should not.

The ii. Chapter.

A vision against pride, couetousnesse, drunkennesse, and idolatrie.

1 I Will stande vpon my watch, and set me vpon the towre, and will looke and see what he will say vnto mee, & what I shall answere ‖ to him þ rebuketh me.

‖Or, concerning my rebuke or checke, meaning such rebuke as the wicked obiected vnto him.

2 And the Lord answered mee, and saide, Write the vision, and make it plaine vp-on tables, that he may runne that a rea-deth it.
3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the last it shall speake, and not lye: though it tarie, wayte: for it shall surely come, and shall not stay.

a Write it in great letters, that he that runneth may reade it.

4 Beholde, b he that lifteth ‖ vp himself, his minde is not vpright in him: but the iust shall liue by his faith.

b To trust in himselfe, or in any worldly thing, is neuer to be quiet: for the onely rest is to stay vpon God by faith, Ro. 10. Gal. 3 Heb. 10.

‖Or, forsaketh himselfe as vn a strong holde.

5 Yea, iii verily the proude man is as he that transgresseth by wine, therefore shall he ‖ not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hel, and is as death, and can not be satisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapeth vnto him all people.

‖Or, heare not rest.

6 Shall not all these take vp a parable against him? and a taunting prouerbe against him, and say, Woe to him that encreaseth that which is not his? How long?

long? and hée that ladeth himselfe with thicke clay.

7 Shall they not rise vp suddenly that shall byte thée? and awake, that shall skyre thee, and thou shalt be their praie?

‖Or, troden vnder their feete.

8 Because thou hast spoyled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoyle thée, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the lande, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

‖Or, woe vnto him that coueteth euill gaine.

9 ‖Woe to him that coueteth an euill couetousnesse to his house, that he may set his nest on high, to escape frō the power of ‖ euill.

‖Or, gaine.

10 Thou hast consulted shame to thine owne house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine owne soule.

11 For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beame out of the timber shal answere it.

c He sheweth what the stone shall cry, and what the wood shall answere.

12 c Woe vnto him that buildeth a towne with blood, & ‖ erecteth a citie by iniquitie

‖Or, stablisheth.

13 Behold, is it not of the Lorde of hostes, that the people shall ‖ labour in the very d fire? the people shal euen weary themselues for very vanitie.

‖Or, for the fire.

14 For the earth e shalbe filled with the knowledge of the glorie of ꝑ Lord, as the waters couer the sea.

d That is, God will destroy all their labours, as though they were consumed with fire.

15 Woe vnto him that giueth his neighbour drinke: thou inforcest thy ‖ rage, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest see their priuities.

e In the destruction of the Babylonians his glory shall appeare thorowe all the world.

16 Thou art filled with shame for glorie, drinke thou also, ‖ and be made naked: the cup of the Lordes right hande shalbe turned vnto thee, and shamefull spuyng shalbe for thy glorie.

‖Or, thy botsell.

17 For the crueltie of f Libanus shall couer thee: so shall the spoyle of the beastes ‖ which he made afraide, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the lande, in the citie, and vnto all that dwell therein.

‖Or, till thou slumber withall.

f By Libanus & ꝑ beasts therof, he meaneth the land and ꝑ people of Iurie.

18 What profiteth the image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image and a teacher of lyes, though hee that made it, trust therein, when hee maketh dumbe idoles.

A prayer for the faithfull.

1 A Prayer of Habacuc the Prophet for the ignorances.

a That is, the people of Israel.

2 O Lorde, I haue heard thy voyce, and was afrayde, O Lorde reuiue thy b worke in the middes of the yeeres, in the middes of the yeres make it knowen, in wrath remember mercie.

b That is, the state of thy Church, which is nowe ready to perish before it come to halfe a perfect age, which should be vnder Christ.

3 God commeth from Theman, and the holy one from mount Paran, Selah. his glorie covereth the heauens, and the earth is full of his praise.

4 And his brightnesse was as the light: he had hornes comming out of his handes, and there was the hyding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coales went forth before his feete.

6 He stoode and measured the earth, hee beheld, and dissolued the nations, and the everlasting mountaines were broken, and the anncient hilles did bowe, his wayes are everlasting.

7 For iniquitie I saw the tentes of Chusan, and the c curtaines of the lande of Madian did tremble.

c That is, the tentes.

8 Was the Lorde angry against the d riuers? or was thine anger against the floods? or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou diddest ryde e vpō thy horses? thy charets brought saluation.

d Meaning, that God was not angrie with the waters, but by this meanes he would destroy his enemies, and deliuer his Church.

9 Thy f bowe was manifestly reuealed, and the g othes of the tribes were a sure word. Selah. thou diddest cleaue the earth with riuers.

e And so diddest vse all the elements as instruments for the destruction of thine enemies

10 The mountaines saw thee, and they trembled, the streame of the water h passed by, the deepe made a noyse, and lift vp his hands on high.

f That is, thy power.

11 The Sunne and Moone stoode still in their habitation, i at the light of thine arrowes they went, and at the bright shining of thy speares.

g For he had not onely made a couenant with Abraham, but renewed it with his posteritie.

12 Thou ‖ trodest downe the land in anger: and diddest threth the heathen in displeasure.

h He alludeth to the red sea and Iordane, which gaue passage to Gods people, and shewed signes of their obedience, as it were by lifting vp of their heads.

13 Thou wentest forth for the saluation of thy people, euen for saluation with thine k anoynted: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, & discouerdst the fundations vnto the ‖ necke. Selah.

14 Thou diddest strike thorowe with his owne staues the heads of his villages, they came out as a whirlewinde to scatter mee: their reioycing was as to deuoure the poore secretly.

i According to Gods commandement the sunne was directed by the weapons of Gods people, which fought in his cause, as though it durst not goe forward, whose weapons are here called the arrowes and speares of God.

15 Thou diddest walke in the sea with thine horses vpon the heape of great waters.

16 When I heard, my belly trembled, my lippes shooke at the voyce, rottennesse entred into my bones, and I trembled in my selfe, that I might rest in the day of trouble: for when he commeth vp vnto the people, he shall destroy them.

‖Or, diddest walke vpon.

17 For the figge tree shall not flourish, neyther shall fruite be in the vines: the labour of the olive shal faple, and the fields shall yelde no meate: the sheepe shalbe cut off from the fold, and there shall be no bullocke in the stalles.

18 But I will reioyce in the Lorde, I will ioy in the God of my saluation.

19 The Lorde God is my strength, he will make my feete like hindes feete, & he will make mee to walke vpon my high places. To the chiefe singer on Negmothai, or vpon the instruments of musike.

k Signifying, that there is no saluation but by Christ. ‖ From the top to the toe thou hast destroyed the enemies.

The first Chapter.

Threatning against Iuda & Hierusalem, because of their idolatrie.

1 THe woꝛde of the Loꝛde which came vnto Sophoni the sonne of Chusi, the sonne of Gedaliah, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezecias, in ꝓ time of Iosia the sonne of Amon king of Iuda.

2 I will surely destroy all things in the land, saꝑth the Loꝛd.

3 I will destroy man and beast, I will destroy the foules in the ayre, and the fish in the sea, and great ruine shall fall on the wicked, and I will vtterly destroy the men out of the lande, saith the Loꝛd.

4 I will stretch out mine hand vpon Iuda, and vpon all such as dwell at Hierusalem: thus will I roote out the remnant of Baal from this place, and the names of the Remurims and priestes:

5 Yea, and such as vpon their house tops woꝛship and bowe themselues vnto the hoste of heauen, which sweare by the Loꝛde, and by their a Malchom also.

a That is, the idole Moloch, & mixing idolatrie with true religion.

6 Which start backe from the Loꝛde, and neither seeke after the Loꝛde, noꝛ regard him.

7 Be stil at the ꝓsence of the Loꝛd God, foꝛ the day of the Loꝛde is at hand: yea, the Loꝛde hath prepared a sacrifice, and called his ghests thereto.

8 And thus shall it happen, In the day of the Loꝛds sacrifice I will visite the ꝓinces and the kings children, and all such as weare strange clothing.

9 In the same day also will I visite all those that leape ouer the thresheld so prondeip, which fill their loꝛdes house with robberie and falsehood.

10 At the same time, saꝑth the Loꝛde, there shalbe heard a great crye from the fish poꝛt, and an howling from the second poꝛt, and a great destruction from the hilles.

11 Howle ye that dwell in the lowe places, foꝛ all the marchant people are destroyed, and all they that were laden with siluer, are rooted out.

12 At the same time will I searche Hierusalem with lanternes, and visite them that continue in their dregges, and saꝑ in their hearts, Tush, the Loꝛd will do neither good noꝛ euill.

13 * Therefoꝛe their goods shalbe spoyled, and their houses layd waste: they shall buylde houses, and not dwell in them, they shal plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof. Amos. 5.11.

14 Foꝛ the great day of ꝓ Loꝛd is at hand, it is hard by, and commeth on apace, euen the bitter voyce of the Loꝛdes day, then shall the strong man cry out.

15 * That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and heauinesse, a day of vtter destruction and misery, a darke and glomming day, a cloudie and stormie day, Ioel. 2.11. Amos. 5.18.

16 A day of the Trumpet and alarum against the strong cities and high towres.

17 I will bring the people into such vexation, that they shall goe about like blinde men, because they haue sinned against the Loꝛde, their blood shalbe powred out as dust, and their bodies as the myre.

18 * Neyther their siluer noꝛ their golde shalbe able to deliuer the in that wrathfull day of the Loꝛde, * but the whole land shalbe consumed through the fire of his iealousie: foꝛ hee shall soone make cleane riddance of all them that dwell in the land. Ezech. 7.19. Sopha. 3.8.

3 Seeke the Loꝛde all yee meeke hearted vpon earth, ye ꝓ woꝛke after his iudgement: seeke righteousnesse, seeke lowlinesse, that yee may bee ‖ defended in the wrathfull day of the Loꝛd: ‖ Or, hidden

4 Foꝛ Gaza shalbe destroyed, and Ascalon shal be layde waste, they shal cast out Asdod at the noone day, and Accaron shalbe rooted vp.

5 Woe vnto you that dwell vpon the sea coast, the nations of the Cherethims: the woꝛde of the Loꝛde shall come vpon you, O Chanaan thou land of ꝓ Philistines, I will destroy thee, so that there shall no man dwell in thee any moꝛe.

6 And as foꝛ the sea coast, it shalbe heardmens cotages, and sheepefoldes.

7 Yea, it shalbe a portion foꝛ such as remayne of the house of Iuda, to feede thereupon, in the houses of Ascalon shall they rest toward night: foꝛ the Loꝛd their God shall visite them, and turne away their captiuitie.

8 I haue heard the despite of Moab, and the blasphemies of the children of Ammon, how they haue shamefully intreated my people, & magnified themselues within the borders of their land.

9 Therefoꝛe, as I liue, saꝑth the Loꝛd of hostes the God of Israel, Moab shall bee as Sodoma, and Ammon as Gomoꝛra, euen the breeding of nettles, & salt pittes, and a perpetuall wildernesse: the residue of my folke shall spoyle them, the remnant of my people shall haue them in possession.

Here endeth the prophecie of Sophonia.

The Booke of the Prophet Aggeus. or Haggai.

The first Chapter.

1 The time of the prophecie of Aggeus. 3 An exhortation to buylde the temple againe.

1 In the seconde yeere of kyng Darius, in the sixt moneth, the first day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lorde by the ministerie of the Prophet Aggeus [a] vnto Zorobabel [b] the sonne of Salathiel, a Prince of Iuda, and to Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lorde of hostes, saying, This people saieth, The time is not yet come for the Lordes house to be buylded.

3 Then came the worde of the Lorde by the ministerie of the Prophet Aggeus, saying,

4 Is it time for you your selues to dwel in sieled houses, and this house lye waste?

5 Nowe thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

6 Ye haue [d] sowen much, but ye bring little in: ye eate, but ye haue not ynough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: yee clothe you, but ye be not warme: and hee that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

8 Get you vp into the mountaine, and fetche wood, and buylde this house, and I will take pleasure in it, and I will bee glorified, saith the Lorde.

9 Ye looked for much, and loe, it came to litle, and when ye brought it home, I did blowe vpon it: and why, saith the Lord of hostes? because of my house that is waste, and you runne euery man into his owne house.

10 Therfore vpon you the heauen is stayed from deawe, and the earth is stayed from yeelding her increase.

11 And I haue called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, and vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, and vpon all that the ground bringeth forth, vpon men, and vpon cattel, and vpon all the labour of [h] handes.

12 Then Zorobabell the sonne of Salathiel, and Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, with all the [e] remnant of the people, heard the voyce of the Lorde their God, and the [f] words of the Prophet Aggeus, as the Lord their God had sent him, then the people did feare before the Lorde.

13 Then Aggeus the Lordes messenger sayd in the Lords message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, sayth the Lord.

14 And the Lorde stirred vp the spirite of Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, a prince of Iuda, and the spirite of Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, & the spirit of al the people: and they came and did the worke in the house of [h] Lord of hostes their God.

The ii. Chapter.

He sheweth that the glorie of the latter temple shall exceede the first.

1 In the [a] twentie and fourth day of the sixth moneth, in the seconde yeere of King Darius,

2 In the [b] seuenth moneth, in the twentie and one day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Aggeus, saying,

3 Say nowe to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prince of Iuda, and to Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, & to the rest of the people, saying,

4 Who is among you left, which saw this house in her first glory, and howe doe ye see it nowe? Is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet now be of good cheare, O Zorobabel, saith the Lord, and be of good cõfort, O Iosua thou high Priest sonne of Iosedech, and be strong all ye people of the land, saith the Lorde, and worke: for I am with you saith the Lorde of hostes, 6 According to the [c] worde that I couenanted with you, when yee came out of Egypt: and my [d] spirite shall remaine with you, feare ye not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, [*] Yet a litle while, and I will shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land:

8 And I will moue al nations, and the desire of al nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, sayth the Lord of hostes.

9 The siluer is mine, and the gold is mine, sayth the Lord of hostes.

10 The glory of the latter house, shalbe greater then the glory of the first, saieth the Lord of hostes: and in this place will I giue peace, saith the Lorde of hostes.

11 In the twentie and fourth day of the ninth moneth, in the seconde yeere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Aggeus, saying.

12 Thus saith the Lorde God of hostes, a Though the people transgresse, yet the prophet is sent to the Prince & Priest, whose negligence oftentimes is the cause of the peoples sinne.

b Zorobabel was the sonne of Phadaia, as 1. Chron. 3. 18. his fathers name is left out, and his grandfathers name supplyed, because it was not so obscure as was the other.

c And yet there were now seuenteene yeeres past since Cyrus had graunted them liberty to builde.

d God is the giuer of encrease, neither may any thing prosper without his blessing.

e For the greater part taryed in Babylon, and would not take the libertie which Cyrus had giuen them.

f Here is no difference made betweene the worde of the Prophet and the worde of God, to shewe that the Prophet must so speake, and the people so heare them as the wordes of God.

a They had but three weekes & three dayes to heare the prophet, and to prepare their tooles for their worke, so diligent were they after the preaching of the Prophet.

b They had nowe not wrought a full moneth yet they waxed wearie, and therefore had neede to be set on afresh by the Prophet, who was therefore nowe sent vnto thē againe.

c God made many promises to his people after their departure out of Egypt: but inasmuch as he goeth about to speake of Christ in this place, it may well be thought that he meaneth here the promise made, Deut. 18. and repeated, Act. 7.

d Before he confirmed his promise made of Christ, nowe he promiseth his spirite: therefore there is no cause of feare. e There passed 519. yeeres after this prophecie, before Christ came. Hab. 2. 3. 26.

Like

Aske now the priests concerning the law, saying,
13 If one beare holy flesh in the skirt of his coate, and with his skirt doe touch the bread, pottage, wine, oyle, or any other meate, shall it be holy? And the priestes answered, and sayd, No.
14 And Aggeus sayde, If a polluted person touche any of these, shall he not bee polluted? And the priestes answered, and sayd, He shall be polluted.
15 Then Aggeus answered, and sayd, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, sayth the Lorde, and so is all the worke of their handes: and that which they offer there is uncleane.
16 And now consider, I pray you, in your mindes, from this day and vpwarde, before there was layde one stone vpon another in the house of the Lorde,
17 Before these things were done, when one came to a heape of twentie measures, there were but ten: so who came to the wine presse for to drawe out fiftie vessels of wine out of the presse, there were but twentie.
18 I smote you with blasting, and with mildewe, and with haile in all the worke of your handes, and you turned not vnto me, sayth the Lord.
19 Consider nowe in your mindes from this day, and afore, from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the foundation of the Lordes temple was layde, consider it in your mindes:
20 Is the seede yet in the barnes? as yet the vines, and the figge tree, & the pomegranate, & the olive tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I bleſſe you.
21 And f againe the worde of the Lorde came vnto Aggeus in the foure & twentieth day of the moneth, saying,
22 Speake to Zorobabel the prince of Juda, and say, I will shake the heauens and the earth:
23 And I will ouerthrowe the ‖ throne of kingdomes, & I will destroy the strength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthrowe the charets and the sitters thereon, and the horse and the riders shall fall downe euery one by the sworde of his brother.
24 * In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, will I take thee Zorobabel my seruant, sonne of Salathiel, sayth the Lorde, and will make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord of hostes.

f He is sent twise in one day to prophecie vnto the people.

The ende of the prophecie of Aggeus.

The Booke of the Prophet Zacharias.

The first Chapter.

1 He moueth the people to returne to the Lorde, and eschewe the wickednesse of their fathers. 36 He prefigureth Christ and his Apostles.

1 IN the eight moneth of the second yeere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophet, saying,
2 The Lord hath bene sore displeased with your forefathers.
3 And say thou vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, * Turne you vnto me, saith the Lord of hostes, and I will turne vnto you, sayth the Lord of hostes.
4 Be ye not like your forefathers, vnto whome the Prophets cryed, saying, * Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Turne you from your euill wayes, and from your wicked imaginations: but they would not heare nor regarde me, sayth the Lorde.
5 What is nowe become of your forefathers? and do the prophets liue for euer?
6 But did not my wordes and statutes which I commanded by my seruants the Prophets take holde of your forefathers? and they returned, and sayd, Like as the Lorde of hostes determined to doe vnto vs according to our owne wayes and imaginations, euen so hath he dealt with vs.
7 Vpon the twentie and fourth day of the eleuenth moneth (which is the moneth Sebah) in the second yeere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophet, saying,
8 I sawe by night, and behold, there sate one vpon a red horse, & stoode still among ‖ Myrthe trees that were in a bottome: and behind him were there red, speckled, and white horses.
9 Then sayde I, O my Lorde, what are these? And the angell that talked with me, said vnto me, I will shew thee what these be.
10 And the man that stoode among the Myrthe trees answered, and sayd, These are they whom the Lord hath sent to goe thorowe the worlde.
11 And they answered the angell of the Lorde that stoode among the Myrthe trees, and sayd, We haue gone thorowe the world, and behold, all the worlde sitteth still, and is careleſſe.
12 Then the Lordes Angell gaue answere, and sayde, O Lorde of hostes, howe long wilt thou be vnmercifull vnto Hierusalem, & to the cities of Juda, with whome thou hast bene displeased now these three score and ten yeres?
13 So the Lord gaue a louing and a comfortable answere vnto the Angel that talked with me.

14 And the Angel that communed with me, ſaid vnto me, * Cry thou, and ſpeake, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, I am exceeding ielous ouer Hieruſalem and Sion, 15 And ſore diſpleaſed at the careleſſe heathen: for whereas I was but a litle angrie, they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde, I will returne vnto Hieruſalem in tender mercie, ſo that my houſe ſhall bee buylded in it, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes: yea, and the a line ſhalbe ſtretched vpon Hieruſalem.

a Such as Maſons & Carpenters vſe in building.

17 Cry alſo and ſpeake, Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, My cities through proſperitie ſhall be ſpread abroade, the Lord ſhall yet comfort Sion, and chooſe Hieruſalem.

18 Then lift I vp mine eyes and ſaw, and behold, foure hornes.

19 And I ſaid vnto the Angel that talked with mee, What be theſe? He anſwered mee, Theſe are the hornes which haue ſcattered Iuda, Iſrael, and Hieruſalem.

20 And the Lorde ſhewed mee foure Carpenters.

21 Then ſayd I, What will theſe doe? He anſwered, and ſaid, Theſe are the hornes which haue ſcattered Iuda, ſo that no man durſt lift vp his head: but theſe are come to fray them away, and to caſt out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the lande of Iuda, to ſcatter it abroade.

The ii. Chapter.

The renewing of Hieruſalem and Iuda.

1 I Lift vp mine eyes againe and looked: and beholde, a man with a meaſure line in his hande.

2 Then ſaid I, Whither goeſt thou? And he ſaid vnto mee, To meaſure Hieruſalem, that I may ſee howe long and how broade it is.

3 And behold, the Angel that talked with me, went his way forth: then went there out another Angel to meete him,

4 And ſaid vnto him, Runne, ſpeake to this yong man, and ſay, Hieruſalem ſhal bee inhabited without any wall, for the very multitude of people and cattell that ſhalbe therein.

5 For I my ſelfe, ſayth the Lorde, will bee vnto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the middeſt of her.

6 O get you forth, O flee from the land of the North, ſayth the Lorde: for I haue ſcattered you into the foure windes of the heauen, ſayth the Lorde.

7 Saue thy ſelfe, O Sion, thou that dwelleſt with the daughter of Babylon:

8 For thus ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes, After this glory hath he ſent mee out to the heathen which ſpoyled you: for who ſo toucheth you, ſhall touche the apple of his owne eye.

9 Beholde, I will lift vp mine hand ouer them, ſo that they ſhalbe ſpoyled of thoſe which afore ſerued them: and ye ſhall knowe þ the Lord of hoſtes hath ſent me.

10 Be glad and reioyce, O daughter Sion: for lo, I am come to dwell in the middeſt of thee, ſayth the Lord.

11 At the ſame time there ſhall many heathen cleaue to the Lorde, and ſhalbe my people: thus will I dwell in the middeſt of thee, and thou ſhalt know that the Lord of hoſtes hath ſent me vnto thee.

12 The Lord ſhall haue Iuda in poſſeſſion for his part in the holy land, and ſhall chooſe Hieruſalem yet againe.

13 Let all fleſh be ſtill before the Lorde: for he is rayſed vp out of his holy place.

The iii. Chapter.

3 Of the lowe and high eſtate of Chriſt, vnder the figure of Joſua the high Prieſt. 8 A prophecie of Chriſt.

1 AND he ſhewed mee Joſua the high Prieſt ſtanding before the angell of the Lorde, and Satan ſtoode at his right hand to reſiſt him.

2 And the Lord ſayde vnto Satan, The Lord rebuke thee thou Satan, yea, the Lorde that hath choſen Hieruſalem rebuke thee: is not this a brand taken out of the fire?

3 Nowe Joſua was clothed in vncleane rayment, and ſtood before the angel.

4 And he anſwered, and ſayde vnto thoſe that ſtoode before him, Take away the foule clothes from him. And vnto him he ſaid, Beholde, I haue taken away thy ſinne from thee, and I will cloth thee with change of rayment.

5 And I ſayd, Let them ſet a fayre myter vpon his head. So they ſet a fayre myter vpon his head, and put on clothes vpon him, and the angel of the Lord ſtood there.

6 Then the angel of the Lord teſtified vnto ‖ Joſua, and ſpake, ‖ Or, Joſua.

7 Thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, If thou wilt walke in my wayes, and keepe my watch, thou ſhalt iudge my houſe, and keepe my courts, and I will giue thee place among theſe that ſtand here.

8 Heare, O Joſua thou high Prieſt, thou and thy fellowes that ſit before thee, for they are monſtruous perſons: behold, * I will bring forth the branch my ſeruant.

Luke. 1. 78.

9 For loe, the ſtone that I haue layde before Joſua, vpon one ſtone ſhall be ſeuen eyes: behold, I will cut out the graueing thereof, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, & I will take away the ſinne of the lande in one day.

10 In that day ſhall euery man call his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the figge tree, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes.

The iiii. Chapter.

The viſion of the golden candleſticke, and the expoſition thereof.

1 AND the angel that talked with mee, came againe, and waked me, as a man that is rayſed out of his ſleepe,

2 And ſaid vnto mee, What ſeeſt thou? And I ſaid, I haue looked, and beholde, a candleſticke all of gold, with a bowle vpon it, and his ſeuen lamps therein, and vpon euery lampe ſeuen pipes,

3 And

3 And two Oliue trées therby: one vpon þ right ſide of the bowle, and the other vpon the left ſide.
4 So I anſwered and ſpake to the angel that talked with me, ſaying, O my Lord, what are theſe?
5 The angel that talked with me, anſwered and ſayde vnto mee, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſayd, No, my Lord.
6 He anſwered and ſayde vnto mee, This is the worde of the Lorde vnto Zorobabel, ſaying, Neither through an hoſt of men, nor through ſtrength: but through my ſpirite, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes.
7 What art thou great mountaine before Zorobabel? thou muſt be made euen, & he ſhal bring forth the head ſtone thereof, with ſhoutings, crying, Grace, grace vnto it.
8 Moreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,
9 The handes of Zorobabel haue laide the foundation of this houſe, his hands ſhall alſo finiſh it: and thou ſhalt knowe that the Lorde of hoſts hath ſent mee vnto you:
10 For who hath deſpiſed the day of ſmal things? they ſhal reioyce, and ſhal ſee the ſtone of a time in the hand of Zorobabel: theſe ſeuē are the eyes of the Lord, which goe throughout the whole worlde.
11 Then anſwered I, and ſayde vnto him, What are theſe two Oliue trees vpon the right and left ſide of the candleſticke?
12 I ſpake moreouer, and ſayd vnto him, What bee theſe two Oliue branches, which through the two golden pypes emptie themſelues into the golde?
13 He anſwered mee, and ſayde, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſaid, No, my Lorde.
14 Then ſaid he, Theſe are the two Oliue branches that ſtand with the ruler of the whole earth.

a A plummet of tinne, as nowe men vſe plummets of lead.

The v. Chapter.

1 The viſion of the flying booke, ſignifying the curſe of thieues, and ſuch as abuſe the name of God. 6 By the viſion of the meaſure, is ſignified the bringing of Iuda to Babylon.

1 SO I turned me, lifting vp mine eyes, & looked, and behold, a flying booke.
2 And hee ſaide vnto mee, What ſeeſt thou? I anſwered, I ſée a flying booke of twentie cubites long, and ten cubites broade.
3 Then ſaide hee vnto mee, This is the curſe that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for al thieues ſhalbe iudged after this booke, and al periured perſons ſhalbe iudged according to the ſame.
4 And I wil bring it forth, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, ſo that it ſhall enter into the houſe of the theefe, and into the houſe of him that falſly ſweareth by my name, & ſhal remaine in the middeſt of his houſe, and conſume it, with the timber & ſtones thereof.
5 Then the angel that talked with mee, went forth, and ſayde vnto mée, Lift vp thine eyes, and ſee what is this that goeth forth.
6 And I ſaid, What is it? Hee anſwered, This is a meaſure going out. Hee ſayde moreouer, Euen thus are they that dwel vpon the whole earth to looke vpon.
7 And behold, there was lift vp a talent of lead: and loe, a woman ſate in the middeſt of the meaſure.
8 And he ſaid, This is vngodlineſſe: ſo hée caſt her into the middeſt of the meaſure, and threwe the lumpe of leade into the mouth of the meaſure.
9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, there came out two women, and the winde was in their wings: for they had wings, like the wings of a Stroke, and they lift vp the meaſure betwixt the earth and the heauen.
10 Then ſpake I to the angel that talked with mee, Whither will theſe beare the meaſure?
11 And he ſaid vnto me, Into the lande of Shinaar to build it an houſe, and it ſhalbe eſtabliſhed, & ſet there vpon her owne place.

The vi. Chapter.

1 By the foure charets he deſcribeth the proſperitie of foure kingdomes.

1 MOreouer I turned mee, lifting vp mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came foure charets out from betwixt two hils, which hils were of braſſe.
2 In the firſt charet were red horſes, in the ſecond charet were blacke horſes,
3 In the third charet were white horſes, in the fourth charet were horſes of diuers colours, and ſtrong.
4 Then ſpake I, and ſaide vnto the angel that talked with mee, O my Lord, what are theſe?
5 The angel anſwered, and ſaide vnto me, Theſe are the foure ſpirits of the heauē, which be come forth to ſtande before the ruler of al the earth.
6 That with the blacke horſe went forth into the land of the North, and the white folowed them, and the ſpeckled horſes went forth toward the South.
7 And the ſtrong horſes went out, and required to goe and take their iourney ouer the whole earth: and he ſaide, Get you hence, and goe throughout the worlde: ſo they went throughout the worlde.
8 Then cryed he vpō me, & ſpake vnto me, ſaying, Behold, theſe that goe towards the North, ſhal ſtil my wrath in þ North countrey.
9 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,
10 Take of the priſoners that are come from captiuitie, namely, Heldai, Tobiah, and Idaia, which came from Babylon: & come thou the ſame day, & go into þ houſe of Ioſiah þ ſonne of Sophonia.
11 Then take golde and ſiluer, and make crownes thereof, and ſet them vpon the head of Iohua the ſonne of Iozedech the high Prieſt.

Or, the ſpeckled.

Or, cut off (as is written) on the one ſide: and all periured perſons ſhall be cut off, as on the other ſide.

12 And speake vnto him, Thus saith the Luke 1.78. Lord of hostes, *Behold the man whose name is the Branch, and hee shall grow vp out of his place, and he shal builde vp the Temple of the Lorde, 13 Yea, euen he shal builde vp the Temple of the Lorde, and hee shall beare the ||Or, his. prayse: he shal sit vpon ||the Lords throne and haue the dominion: a Priest shal he be also vpon his throne, and a peaceable counsell shall bee betwixt thē both.
14 And the crowne shall be to Helem, and to Tobiah, and to Idaia, and to Hen the sonne of Zophoni, for a memoriall in the Temple of the Lord.
15 And such as be farre off shall come and builde in the temple of the Lord, that ye may know how that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me vnto you: ❧ this shal come to passe, if ye will hearken diligently vnto the voyce of the Lord your God.

The vii. Chapter.

5 The true fasting. 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

1 AND the fourth yere of king Darius, the word of the Lord came vnto Zacharia, in the fourth day of the ninth moneth, which is called Casleu,
2 What time as Sarasar and Rogom-melech, and the men that were with thē, sent vnto the house of God for to pray before the Lord:
3 And that they should speake vnto the Priestes which were in the house of the Lord of hostes, and to the Prophets, saying, Should I weepe in ye fifth moneth, and absteme as I haue done nowe these so many yeeres?
4 Then came the word of the Lord of hosts
vnto me, saying,
5 Speake vnto al the people of the lande, Esay. 58.5. and to the Priestes, and say, *When yee fasted and mourned in the fifth and seuenth moneth nowe this threescore and ten yeres, did ye fast vnto me?
6 When yee did also eate and drinke, did yee not eate and drinke for your owne selues?
7 Are not these ye wordes which the Lord spake by his Prophets aforetime, when Hierusalem was yet inhabited & weathie, she and the cities round about her, when there dwelt men both towarde the South & in the plaine countreis?
8 And the word of ye Lord came vnto Zacharie, saying,
9 Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes, Execute true iudgement, shewe mercie and louing kindnesse euery man to his brother.
Exod. 22.22. esay. 1.23. iere. 6.28. 10 *Do the widow, the fatherles, ye strangers and poore no wrong, and let no man imagine euil against his brother in his heart.
||Or, shoulders. 11 Neuertheless, they would not take heede, but turned their ||backes, and stopped their eares: that they should not heare.
12 Yea they made their heartes as an Adamant stone, least they should heare the lawe and wordes which the Lord of hosts sent in his holy spirit by the Prophets aforetime: wherefore the Lorde of hostes was very wroth at them.
13 And thus is it come to passe, that like as he cried, and they would not heare:
euen so they cried, & I would not heare, saith the Lord God of hostes, 14 But scattered them among all the nations whome they knewe not: thus the lande was made so desolate after them, that there trauailed no man in it, neither to nor fro: for that pleasant land was deterly laide waste.

The viii. Chapter.

2 Of the returne of the people vnto Hierusalem, and of the mercie of God toward them. 16 Of good works. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 SO the word of the Lord of hostes came
vnto me, saying,
2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I was in great iealousie for Sion, yea, I haue bene very iealous for her great wrath.
3 Thus saith the Lord, I will returne vnto Sion, and will dwell in the middest of Hierusalem: so that Hierusalem shal be called, A faithfull and true citie, the hill of the Lorde of hostes, an holy hill.
4 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, There shall yet olde men and olde women dwel againe in the streetes of Hierusalem: yea, and such as goe with staues in their hands for very age.
5 The streetes of the citie also shalbe full of pong bopes and damsels, playing in the streetes thereof.
6 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, If the residue of this people think it to be impossible in their eyes in these dayes: should it therefore be impossible in my sight, saith the Lord of hostes?
7 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Behold,
I wil deliuer my people from the coun-treis of the East and West, 8 And wil bring them againe, that they may dwel in the middest of Hierusalem:
they shall be my people, and I will bee their God in trueth and righteousnesse.
9 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Let your handes be strong, ye that nowe heare these wordes by the mouth of the Prophetes which are in these dayes, that the foundation of the house of the Lorde of hostes is layde, that the Temple may be builded.
10 For before these daies neither men nor cattel coulde winne any a thing, neither might any man come in and out in rest for trouble: but I let euery man goe against his neighbour.
11 Neuertheless, I wil nowe intreate the residue of this people no more as afore-time, saith the Lord of hostes.
12 For the seed shal prosper, the vine shall giue her fruite, the ground shall giue her encrease, and the heauens shal giue their dewe, and I shall cause the remnant of this people to haue all these in possession:

a They laboured and toyled themselues and their cattell without encrease, because they cared not for Gods glory in reedifying of the Temple, but went about their priuate gaine.

13 And

13 And it shall come to passe, that like as ye were a curse among the Heathen, O ye house of Juda and ye house of Israel, euen so will I deliuer you, that ye shall be a blessing: feare not, but let your handes be strong.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, Like as I thought to punish you, what time as your fathers prouoked mee vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hostes, and spared not:

15 Euen so am I determined now in these dayes for to do well vnto the house of Juda and Hierusalem: therefore feare ye not.

16 Now the things that ye shall doe, are these, *Speake euery man the truth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgement truly and peaceably within your portes.

*Ephes. 4. 25.

17 And let none of you imagine euil in his heart against his neighbour, and loue no false othes: for all these are the things that I hate, saith the Lord.

18 And the worde of the Lorde of hostes came vnto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The fast of the fourth moneth, the fast of the fifth, the fast of the seuenth, and the fast of the tenth, shalbe ioy & gladnesse, and prosperous high feasts vnto the house of Juda: onely loue the truth and peace.

20 Thus saieth the Lorde of hostes, There shall yet come people, and the inhabiters of many cities:

21 And they that dwel in one citie shall go to another, saying, Vp, let vs go & pray before the Lord, let vs seeke the Lorde of hostes: I will go with you.

22 Yea much people and mighty nations shall come to seeke the Lorde of hostes at Hierusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, In that time shal ten men (out of all maner of language of the Gentiles) take one Iew by the hemme of his garment, and say, We will go with you: for we haue heard that God is among you.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The threatening of the Gentiles. 9 The comming of Christ sitting on an Asse.

1 THe burden of the word of the Lord in the land of Hadrach: and Damascus shall be his rest, when the eyes of men, euen of all the tribes of Israel shall be towards the Lord.

2 The borders of Hemath shall bee hard thereby, Tyrus also and Sidon, for they are verie wise.

3 Tyrus shall make her selfe strong, heape vp siluer as the sand, & golde as the clay of the streetes.

4 Behold, the Lord shal spoile her, he shal smite downe her power in the sea, and she shall be consumed with fire.

5 This shall Ascalon see, and be afraide: Gaza shall be very sore, so shal Accaron also, because her hope is come to confusion: For the king of Gaza shall perish, and at Ascalon shall no man dwell.

6 Strangers shal dwell at Asdod, and as for the pride of the Philistines I shall roote it out.

7 Their blood will I take away from their mouth, and their abominations from betweene their teeth: Thus they that shall be left shall be for our God, hee shalbe as a prince in Juda, and Accaron like as a Jebusite.

8 And I will pitch a campe about mine house against the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressour shall come vpon them any more: for now I haue seene with mine eyes.

a God is strong ynough to defend his church against all his aduersaries.

9 Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion, be glad, O daughter Hierusalem: for loe, thy king commeth vnto thee, euen the righteous and sauiour, lowly and simple is he, he rideth vpon an Asse, and vpon the foale of an Asse.

Esai. 62. 11. matth. 21. 5.

10 I will roote out the charrets from Ephraim, and the horse from Hierusalem, the battell bowes shal bee destroyed, hee shall giue the doctrine of peace vnto the heathen: and his dominion shalbe from the one sea to the other, and from the riuer to the ende of the world.

11 Thou also shalt bee saued through the blood of thy couenant: I haue loosed thy prisoners out of the pitte wherein is no water.

12 Turne ye now to the strong holde yee that be in prison and long for to be deliuered: euen this day I bring thee word, that I will reward thee double againe.

13 For Juda haue I bent as a bowe for me, Ephraim his hand haue I filled, and thy sonnes, O Sion, will I raise vp against the Grecians, and make thee as a Giants sword.

14 The Lord God shalbe seene aboue them, and his darts shall go forth as the lightning; the Lord God shal blow the trumpet, and shall come forth as a storme out of the South.

15 The Lorde of hostes shall defend them, they shall consume and deuoure, & subdue them with sling stones, they shall drinke & rage as it were through wine, they shalbe filled like the basons, and as the hornes of the altar.

16 The Lord their God shall deliuer them in that day, as the flocke of his people: for as precious stones of a Diademe they shalbe set vp ouer his land.

17 O how great is his goodnes, and how excellent is his beautie? For corne shal make the young men chearefull, and the new wine the maidens.

The x. Chapter.

1 The people is moued to require the doctrine of the trueth of the Lord. 3 The Lord promiseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

1 PRay the Lorde then betimes to giue the latter raine, so shall the Lorde make bright cloudes, and giue you raine ynough, and to euery one grasse in the fielde.

2 For vaine is the answere of idoles, the soothsayers see lyes, and the dreamers tell tell but vaine things, the esfoyt that they gine is nothing worth: therefore they went away like a flocke of sheepe, & were troubled because they had no shepheard.

3 My wrathful displeasure was mooned against the shepheards, and I will visite the Goates: for the Lorde of hostes will visite his flocke the house of Juda, and will make them as a goodly faire horse in the battell.

4 Out of Iuda shall come the corner, the naile, the battell bowe, and the appointer of tribute also.

5 They shall bee as giants which in the battell tread downe their enemies in the mire of the streetes: they shal fight, for the Lord shal be with them, and the horsmen shalbe confounded.

6 I will comfort the house of Juda, and preserue the house of Joseph, I wil bring them againe, for I pitie them, and they shalbe like as they were when I had not cast them off: for I the Lorde am their God, and will heare them.

7 Ephraim shalbe as a Giant, and their heart shalbe chearefull as though wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad, and their heart shall reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will hisse for them, and gather them together, for I will redeeme them, they shall encrease, as they encreased afore.

9 I will sow them among the people, that they may thinke vpon me in farre countreys, they shall liue with their children, and turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe also from the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria: I wil carry them into the land of Gilead, and to Libanus, and a place shal not be found for them.

a The multitude shall be so great.

11 And affliction shal passe ouer vnto the sea, and smite the sea waues, so that all the deepe floods shall be dried vp, the pryde of Assur shalbe cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shalbe taken away.

12 I will comfort them in the Lorde, that they may walke in his name, saieth the Lorde.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithfull is committed to Christ by the father. 7 A grieuous vision against Hierusalem and Iuda.

OPen thy doores, O Libanus, that the fire may consume thy Cedar trées.

2 Howle ye firre trées, for the Cedar is fallen, yea, all the proude are wasted away: Howle, O yée Oke trées of Basan, for the mightie strong wood is cut downe.

3 Men may heare the shepheards mourne, for their glorie is destroyed, men may heare the Lions whelpes roare, for the pryde of Iordane is wasted away.

4 Thus saieth the Lorde my God, Féede the sheepe of the slaughter, 5 Which haue bene slaine of those that possessed them, yet they tooke it for no sinne, but they that sold them, sayde, The Lord be thanked, for I am rich, yea, their owne shepheards spare them not.

6 Therefore will I no more spare those that dwell in the land, saieth the Lorde: but loe, I will deliuer the people, euery man into his neighbours hand, and into the hande of his king, that they may smite the land, and out of their handes I will not deliuer them.

7 I my selfe fed the slaughter sheepe, a poore flocke verily, and tooke vnto mee two staues, the one called Beautie, the other called Bands: & so fed the sheepe.

8 Three shepheardes I put out of office in one moneth, for I might not away with them: neither had they any delight in me.

9 *Then sayde I, I will féede you no more: the thing that dieth, let it die: and that that will perish, let it perish: and let the remnant eat euery one the flesh of his neighbour. *Iere.15.2.

10 I tooke also my staffe, euen Beautie, and brake it, that I might disanull the couenant which I made with all people.

11 And so it was broken in that day: then the poore simple sheepe that had a respect vnto me, knewe thereby that it was the worde of the Lorde.

12 And I saide vnto them, If ye thinke it good, bring hither my wages, if no, then leaue. *So they weyed downe thirtie siluer pence. *Mat.27.9.

13 And the Lord said vnto me, Cast it vnto the potter, a goodly price for me to be valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie siluer pence, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lorde.

14 The brake I my other staffe also, namely Bandes, that I might loose the brotherhood betwixt Juda and Israel.

15 And the Lord said vnto me, Take thee also the instaffe of a foolish shepheard. ‖Or, instrument.

16 For lo, I will raise vp a shepheard in the land, which shall not seeke after þ things that be lost, nor seeke the tender lambes, he shall not heale the wounded, he shall not nourish the things that are whole: but he shal eat the flesh of such as be fat, and teare their clawes in pieces.

17 O idole shepheard that leaueth the flocke, the sworde shall come vpon his arme, and vpon his right eye: his arme shalbe cleane dried vp, and his right eye shalbe sore blinded.

The xii. Chapter.

Of the destruction, & building againe of Hierusalem.

THe heauie burden which the Lorde hath deuised for Israel. Thus saieth the Lord which spred the heauens abroade, laid the foundation of the earth, and gaue man the breath of life.

2 Behold, I will make Hierusalem a cup of ‖ surfet vnto all the people that are round about her: yea, Juda himselfe also shalbe in the siege against Hierusalem. ‖Or, poyson.

3 At the same time will I make Hierusalem an heauie stone for all people, so that all such as lift it vp shal be torne & rent, and all the people of the earth shalbe gathered together against it.

4 In that daye, saieth the Lorde, I will make all horses astonied, and those that ride vpon them to bee out of their wits: I will open mine eyes vpon the house of Iuda, and smite all the horses of the people with blindnesse.

5 And the princes of Iuda shall saye in their hearts, The inhabiters of Hierusalem shall giue mee consolation in the Lord of hostes their God.

6 In that time will I make the princes of Iuda like an hot burning ouen with woode, and like a firedzand among the strawe, so that they shall consume all the people round about them, both vpō the right hand, & vpon the left: Hierusalem also shalbe inhabited againe, namely in the same place where Hierusalem standeth.

Or, sheaf.

7 The Lorde shall preserue the tentes of Iuda as afore time, so that the glorie of the house of Dauid, and the glorie of the citizens of Hierusalem, shall not be exalted against Iuda.

8 In that day shall the Lord defende the citizens of Hierusalem, so that the weakest then among them shalbe as Dauid, & ꝑ house of Dauid shalbe as Gods house, and as the Angel of the Lord before thē.

9 At the same time will I goe about to destroy all such people as goe against Hierusalem.

10 Moreouer, vpon the house of Dauid, & vpon the citizens of Hierusalem will I powre out the spirite of grace and compassion, * so that they shall looke vpō me whom they haue pearced, & they shall lament for him, as men mourne for their only begotten sonne: yea, & be sory for him as men are sory for their first childe.

Ioh.19.37.

11 Then shall there bee a great mourning at Hierusalē, like as the lamentation at Adadzemmon in the field of Mageddon.

2.Chron.35,22.

12 And the land shall bewaile, euery kinred by themselues alone: the kinred of the house of Dauid by themselues, and their wiues by themselues: the kinred of the house of Nathan themselues, & their wiues by themselues:

13 The kinred of ꝑ house of Leui themselues alone, and their wiues by themselues: the kinred of the house of Semei themselues alone, and their wiues by themselues.

14 In like maner, all the other generatiōs euery one by themselues alone, & their wiues by themselues.

The .xiii. Chapter.

1 Of the well of grace and trueth. 2 Of the cleane riddance of idolatrie, and of false prophets.

1 IN that time shall the house of Dauid and the citizens of Hierusalem haue an open well to wash off sinne and vncleannesse.

2 *And then saith the Lorde of hostes, I will destroy the names of the idoles out of the land, so that they shall no more be put in remembrance: as for the false prophets also, and the vncleane spirits, I will take them out of the land.

Exo.23.13.

3 So that if any of them prophecie any more, his owne father and mother that begate him, shall saye vnto him, Thou shalt not line, for thou speakest lies vnder the name of the Lord: yea, his owne father and mother that begate him shall wounde him when he prophecieth.

4 And then shall those prophets bee confounded, euery one of his vision when he prophecieth: neither shall they weare heare cloth any more to deceiue mē thal.

5 But he shalbe faine to say, I am no prophet, I am a husbandman: for so am I taught by man from my youth vp.

6 And if it be said vnto him, How came these woundes then in thine handes? He shall answere, Thus was I wounded in the house of mine owne friendes.

7 Arise, O thou swoorde, vpon my shepheard, and vpon the man that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hostes: * smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shalbe scattered abroade, and so will I turne my hand to the litle ones.

Mat.26,31. mark.14.27.

8 And it shall come to passe, saieth the Lord, that in all the land two partes shal be rooted out and dye, but the third part shall remaine therein.

9 And the same third part will I bring thorow the fire, and will cleanse them as the siluer is cleansed, yea and try them like as gold is tried: then shall they call vpon my name, and I will heare them: I will saye, It is my people, and they shall say, Lord my God.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The wasting of the Church vnder the figure of Hierusalem. 9 Of the kingdome of the Lord.

1 BEholde, the day of the Lord cōmeth, and thy spoyle shalbe deuided in the middest of thee.

2 For I will gather together all the heathen to fight against Hierusalem, so that the citie shall be wonne, the houses spoiled, and the women defiled: the halfe of the citie shall goe away into captiuitie, and the residue of the people ‡ shal not be carried out of the citie.

3 After that, the Lorde shall goe forth to fight against those heathen, as men vse to fight in the day of battell.

4 Then shall his féete stande vpon the mount Oliuete that lieth vpon ꝑ East side of Hierusalem, & the mount Oliuete shal cleane in two, Eastward & Westwarde, so that there shalbe a great valley: & the halfe mount shall remoue towarde the North, & the other toward the South.

5 And ye shall flée vnto the valley of my hilles, for the valley of ꝑ hilles shal reach vnto Azal: yea, flée shall ye like as ye fled for the earthquake * in ꝑ dayes of Oziah king of Iuda: & the Lord my God shall come, and all the saintes with him.

Amos.1.1.

6 In that daye shall there bee no cleare light, but darke.

7 This shalbe that speciall day which is knowen vnto the Lorde, neither day nor night: but about the euening time it shalbe light.

8 In that time ſhall there waters of life runne out from Hieruſalem: the halfe part of them towarde the Eaſt ſea, and the other halfe towarde the vttermoſt ſea, and ſhall continue both ſommer and winter.

9 And the Lorde him ſelfe ſhall bee king ouer all the earth: At that time ſhall there be one Lorde onely, and his name ſhalbe but one.

10 All the lande ſhalbe turned as a plaine from Gibea to Remmon towardes the South of Hieruſalem: She ſhall bee ſet vp, and inhabited in her place, frō Beniamins port, vnto the place of the firſt port, and vnto the corner port, and from the towre of Hananeel vnto the kings wine preſſes.

11 There ſhall men dwell, and there ſhalbe no more deſtructiō, but Hieruſalem ſhall be ſafe inhabited.

12 This ſhall bee the plague wherewith the Lord will ſmite all people that haue fought againſt Hieruſalem, their fleſh ſhall conſume away, though they ſtand vpon their feete, their eyes ſhalbe corrupt in their holes, and their tongue ſhall conſume in their mouth.

13 In that day ſhall þ Lord make a great ſedition amōg them: ſo that one mā ſhal take another by the hande, and lape his hands vpō the hands of his neighbour.

14 Iuda ſhall fight againſt Hieruſalem, & the armies of all þ heathen ſhalbe gathered together rounde about with gold & ſiluer, and a very great multitude of apparel.

15 And this plague ſhall goe ouer horſes, mules, camels, aſſes, and all the beaſtes that ſhall be in the hoſte, like as ponder plague was.

16 Euery one that remaineth then of all the people which came againſt Hieruſalem, ſhall goe vp yeere by yeere to worſhip the king euen the Lord of hoſtes, and to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles.

17 And looke what generation vpon the earth goeth not to Hieruſalē for to worſhip the king the Lord of hoſts, vpon the ſame ſhall come no rame.

18 If the kinred of Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it ſhall not rayne vpon them: This ſhall be the plague wherewith the Lorde will ſmite all the heathen that come not vp to keepe the feaſt of Tabernacles.

19 Yea this ſhall be the plague of Egypt, and the plague of all people that goe not vp to keepe the feaſt of Tabernacles.

20 At that time ſhall the riding geare of the horſes be holy vnto the Lord: the ketties in the Lordes houſe ſhalbe like the baſons before the altar.

21 Yea, all the kettles in Hieruſalem and Iuda ſhalbe holy vnto þ Lord of hoſtes: and all they that ſlay offerings, ſhall come and take of them, and ſeeth therein: And at that time there ſhall bee no more Chanaanites in the houſe of of the Lorde of hoſtes.

The ende of the prophecie of Zacharias.

The booke of the Prophet Malachias.

The firſt Chapter.

A complaint againſt Iſrael, and chiefly the Prieſts.

a That is, the grieuous and threatning prophecie.

1 The a burden of the word of the Lord to Iſrael, by the miniſterie of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you, ſaieth the Lord: yet yee ſaye, Wherein haſt þ loued vs? Was not Eſau Iacobs brother, ſaith the Lord? yet haue I loued Iacob, b In our election is Gods great loue to vs ward declared. Rom. 9 13.

3 And I hated Eſau, and made his mountaines waſte, and his heritage a wilderues for dragons.

4 Though Edom ſay, We are impouerriſhed, but we will returne and build the deſolate places: yet ſaieth the Lorde of hoſtes, They ſhall builde, but I will deſtroy: and they ſhall cal them, The border of wickednes, and the people with whom the Lord is angry for euer.

5 And your eyes ſhall ſee: and you ſhall ſay, the Lord will be magnified vpon the borders of Iſrael.

6 A ſonne honoureth his father, and a ſeruant his maſter: If then I bee a father, where is mine honour? If I be a maſter, where is my feare, ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes to you, O ye Prieſtes that deſpiſe my name? and ye ſay, Wherein haue we deſpiſed thy name?

c Vnpure ſacrifices: for by bread in ſcripture, are ſignified all things that nouriſh.

7 Ye offer vpon mine altar c vncleane bread, and ſay, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that yee ſaye, The table of the Lord is not to be regarded.

d Thou offereſt that to me, which thou art aſhamed to giue to a mortall man, ſo greatly doeſt thou contemne my lawe.

8 When ye bring the blinde for ſacrifice, you ſay it is not euil: and when ye bring the laime and ſicke, you ſay it is not euil: offer it nowe d to thy prince, will he bee content with thee, or accept thy perſon, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes?

9 And nowe I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercy vpon vs (this euill hath bene done by your meanes) will he regarde your perſons, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes?

e Againſt all thoſe that followe religion for lucres ſake.

10 Who is there euen among you that would ſhut the doores, and kindle not fire on mine altar in vaine? e I haue no pleaſure in you, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, neither will I accept an offering at your hande.

11 From the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in euery place f incense shalbe offred to my name, and a pure offering: for my name is great among the very heathen, saieth the Lord of hostes.

12 But ye haue spolluted it, in that ye say, The table of the Lorde is polluted, and the ‖fruit thereof, euen his meate is not to be regarded.

13 And ye said, Behold, it is a wearinesse, and you haue snuffed at it, saith the Lord of hostes, and ye haue offered the stolne, and the lame, and the sicke, ye haue offered an offering, shoulde I accept this of your handes, saieth the Lord?

14 Cursed bee the deceitfull which hath in his flocke a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth a corrupt thing to the Lorde: because I am a great king, saith the Lorde of hostes, and my name is fearefull among the heathen.

The ii. Chapter.

Threatnings against the priests, being seducers of the people.

1 AND now, O ye priests, this commandement is for you.

Leui.26.14. deu. 28.15. *If ye will not heare it, nor regard it, to giue the glorie to my name, saieth the Lord of hosts, I will send a curse vpon you, & will curse your blessings, yea, I haue cursed them alreadie, because ye doe not consider it in your heart.

a God is the authour of scarcitie, lest they should impute it to any other cause, 3 Behold, I will corrupt your seede, and cast a doung on your faces, euen the doung of your solemne feasts, and you shalbe like vnto it.

b I will bring you to confusiō and shame,

4 And you shall knowe that I haue sent this commandement vnto you, that my couenant which I haue made with Leui might stand, saith the Lord of hostes.

5 My couenant was with him of life and peace, and I gaue them him for the feare wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before my name.

c To walke with God, is to walke according to his will.

6 The law of trueth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie found in his lips. he c walked with me d in peace and in e equitie, and bee turned many from their iniquitie.

d Towards God and towards men.

7 f For the Priestes lippes shall keepe knowledge, and they shall seeke the lawe at his mouth: because he is the messenger of the Lord of hostes.

e All peace is not commended, but that which is in equitie: the consent of the wicked is to be auoyded, because it is not in trueth.

8 But ye haue gone out of the way, ye haue caused many to fall by the lawe, ye haue corrupted the couenant of Leui, saith the Lord of hostes.

f The Priest therefore must be learned in the lawe, otherwise the people seeke an answere at his mouth in vaine. Ephe.4.6.

9 Therefore haue I also made you despised and vile before all the people, because you kept not my wayes, but haue bene partiall in the law.

10 *Haue we not all one father? hath not God made vs all? why then is euerie one decepued of his brother, to violate the couenant of our fathers?

11 Iuda hath offended, and abomination is committed in Israel and in Hierusalem: for Iuda hath defiled the holines of the Lord which he loued, & hath maried the daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lorde will destroy the man that doeth this, both the ‖traiter vp, and the answerer out of the tabernacle of Iacob, and him that offereth an offering vnto the Lord of hostes.

‖Or, the quaffion mouer.

13 g And this againe haue yee done in couering the altar of the Lord with teares, with weeping and mourning, and there-fore there is no more respect to the offering, neither acceptable receiuing of it at your handes.

g Not contented with one wickednesse, you wilfully fall into another.

14 Yet ye say, Wherein? Because h Lord hath bene witnes betweene thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed, yet is shee thine owne companion, & the wife of thy couenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had hee abundance of spirit: And wherefore one? because he sought a godly seede: therefore keepe your selues in your spirit, and let none transgresse against the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, put her away, saieth the Lord God of Israel: yet he couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, saith the Lord of hosts, and be ye kept in your spirit, and transgresse not.

17 Ye haue wearied the Lorde with your words, and you haue said, Wherin haue we wearied him? Whilest you say, Euerie one that doth euill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he is pleased in them: or where is the God of iudgement?

The iii. Chapter.

Of the messenger of the Lorde Iohn Baptist, and of Christs office.

1 BEhold, *I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me, and the Lord a whome ye seeke, shall speedily come to his Temple, and the messenger of the couenant whom ye desire, behold, he commeth, saieth the Lord of hosts.

*Mat.*11.10. mar. 1.2. luke 1.17.

a Though not as you should: for you seeke an earthly Messias, and a worldly king.

2 But who may abide the day of his cōming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a purging fire, and like Fullers sope.

b When Christ shall haue clensed his, and reconciled them to his father again, then shall their seruice be accepted.

3 And he shall sit downe to trie and fine the siluer, and he shall purge the children of Leui, and purifie them as gold and siluer: and they shall bring vnto the Lorde offerings in righteousnesse.

4 Then shall the b offerings of Iuda and Hierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord as in old time, and as in the yeres afore.

c Offenders thinke themselues safe, if they may denie their fault, but when the iudge himselfe is a witnesse against them, they shall not escape.

5 And I will come neere vnto you in iudgement, and I will be a c swift witnesse against the d soothsayers, & against the adulterers, and against false sweaters, and against those that wrongfully keepe backe the hirelings wages, and vexe the widowe and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not me, saith the Lord of hostes.

d Soothsaying not inferiour to adulterie, sweating, and such like vices, with whome it is here numbred.

6 For I am the Lord, I change not: and ye sonnes of Iacob are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and haue haue not kept them: turne you to mee, and I will turne to you, saieth the Lord of hostes. And ye said, Wherein shall we returne?

e Such regard hath God to his ministers and poore members, that he thinketh himselfe robbed when they are defrauded.

8 Will a man *spoyle his gods? yet ye haue spoyled me, and ye say, Wherein haue we spoyled thee? In tythes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse, and me haue ye spoyled, euen this whole nation.

10 Bring euery tythe into the store house, that there may be meate in mine house, and proue me withall, saieth the Lord of hostes, if I will not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, and powre you out a blessing without measure.

11 And I will rebuke the deuourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruite of the ground, neither shall your vine be barren in the field, saieth the Lord of hostes.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: because you shalbe a pleasant land, saieth the Lord of hostes.

Iob. 21.14.

13 *Your words haue been stoute against me, saith the Lord: and you said, Wherein haue we spoken against thee?

14 Ye haue said, It is but vaine to serue God, and what profite is it that we haue kept his commandement, and that wee haue walked humbly before the face of the Lord of hostes?

15 And nowe we call the proude happie: yea, the workers of wickednesse are set vp, and also they that tempt God, yea, they are deliuered.

16 Then they that feared God, spake euery one to his neighbour: and the Lord considered and heard, and there was written a booke of remembrance before him, for them that feared the Lord, and for them that thinke vpon his name.

17 And they shalbe to me, saieth the Lord of hostes, in that day wherein I shall doe iudgement: and I will spare them, as a man spareth his owne sonne which serueth him.

18 Then shall ye returne, and discerne betweene the iust and the wicked, betweene him that serueth God, and him that serueth him not.

The iiii. Chapter.

The day of the Lorde, before the which Elias should come.

1 FOr marke, the day commeth burning like an ouen: and all the proude, and all that worke wickednesse shall be stubble, and the day that is for to come shall burne them, saieth the Lord of hostes, and shall leaue them neither roote nor branch.

2 *But to you that feare my name shall that sunne of righteousnesse arise, and health shalbe vnder his wings: and ye shall go forth, and skip like fat calues. Luke 1.78.

3 And ye shall tread downe the vngodly: for they shall be dust vnder the soles of your feete in the day that I shall do this, saieth the Lord of hostes.

4 *Remember the law of Moses my seruant, which I commanded him in Horeb for all Israel, with the ordinances and iudgements. Exod.20.3.

5 *Beholde, I will send you Elias the Prophet, before the comming of the great and fearefull day of the Lord. Mat.17.14. mar. 9.11. luk.1.16.

6 He shall turne the heart of the fathers to their children, & the heart of the children to their fathers, least I come and smite the earth with curling.

The ende of the prophecie of Malachias, and consequently of all the Prophets.

The volume of the Bookes called Apocrypha.

The third booke of Esdras.

The first chapter.

1 Josias appointeth Priests, and keepeth the Passouer. 7 Offerings for the Priestes and the people. 23 The vprighte life of Josias. 53 The destruction of Hierusalem.

1 AND Josias held * the feast of Easter in Hierusalem vnto his Lord, & offered the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 He set the Priests also in order according to their daily courses, being araied in long garmentes, in the temple of the Lorde.

3 And he spake vnto the Leuites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should hallow themselues vnto the Lord, to set the holy Arke of the Lorde in the house that King Solomon the sonne of Dauid had builded,

4 And saide, Yee shall no more beare the Arke vpon your shoulders: and nowe serue the Lorde your God, and take the charge of his people Israel, and prepare you after your villages and tribes,

5 According as king Dauid the king of Israel hath left in writing, and ‖ according as Solomon his sonne hath honorably prepared, and standing eche of you in that degree of authoritie which in the distribution was appointed vnto your fathers the Leuites, in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel:

6 Offer the Passeouer in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethrē, and keepe the Passeouer according to the cōmandement of the Lord, which was giuen vnto Moses.

7 And vnto the people that was founde there, Josias gaue thirtie thousande lambes and kiddes, and three thousande calues. These things were giuen of the kings owne possessions, according as he promised to the people, to the Priestes, and to the Leuites.

8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, & Sielus the gouernours of the temple, gaue to the Priests for the Passeouer, two thousand and fiue hundred sheepe, and three hundred calues.

9 Moreouer Jechonias, and Samaias, & Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochiel, and Jozam, captaines ouer thousandes, gaue to the Leuites for the Passeouer, fiue thousand sheepe, and seuen hundred calues.

10 And when these things were brought to passe, the Priestes and Leuites stoode goodly in their order, and had the vnleauened bread throughout the tribes.

11 And after the degrees of preeminence appointed to their fathers, to offer to the Lord in the sight of the people, according as it is written in the booke of Moses: and thus did they in the morning.

12 And they rosted the Easter lambe with fire, as according was: as for the offerings, they dight them in kettles and pottes with good sauours, 13 And set them before all them of the people, and afterward they prepared for themselues and the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the Priestes offered the fat, ‖ vntill the time was expired, and the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priestes their brethren the children of Aaron.

15 The holy singers also the children of Asaph, stoode in their orders according as Dauid deuised, to witte, Asaph, ‖ Zacharias, and Idunthun, which was appointed by the king.

16 Moreouer, the porters and doore keepers stoode by the doores, and that diligently, so that none went out of his ‖ standing and seruice, for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

17 Thus were all things performed that belonged to the offering of the Lord in that day, that they might holde the Passeouer, 18 And offer sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of king Josias.

19 So the children of Israel which were then present, helde an honourable Passeouer, and the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes long:

20 Yea, such a Passeouer was not kept in Israel, from the time of the Prophet Samuel.

21 And all the kings of Israel helde not such an Easter as this which king Josias clas helde, and the Priestes, the Leuites, the Iewes, & all Israel, of all them that ‖ were at Hierusalem.

‖ Or, found dwelling at Hierusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yere of the reigne of Iosias was this Passeouer kept, 23 And with an heart full of godlines did king Iosias right ly order all his works before the Lord.

24 And the things that came to passe in his time, they were written of old before those dayes, cõcerning those that sinned, and were vngodly against the Lorde a bone all people and kingdomes, & howe they grieued him in seruing sensible things, so that the wordes of the Lorde rose vp against Israel.

25 Nowe after all these actes of Iosias, it came to passe that Pharao the king of Egypt came to Charcamis vpon Euphrates, to mowe warre: and Iosias went out against him.

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, O king of Iuda?

27 I am not sent of the Lord God against thee, for my warre is vpon Euphrates, and nowe the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord maketh diligent ‖ speede with mee: depart from mee, and be not against the Lord.

‖ Or, haste.

28 Howbeit Iosias would not turne backe his chariot from him, but vndertooke to fight with him, and hearkened not to the wordes of the Prophet Ieremie spoken by the mouth of the Lord:

29 But pitched a battaile against him in the fielde of ‖ Magedda: and the princes preased to king Iosias.

‖ Or, Megiddo.

30 Then said the king vnto his seruants, Carp me away out of the battaile, for I am very weake. And immediatly his seruants tooke him away out of the frõt of the battaile.

31 Then gate he vp vpon his second charet, came to Hierusalem, died, and was buried in his fathers sepulchre.

32 And in all Iurie they mourned for Iosias, yea Ieremie the Prophet lamẽted for Iosias, and the rulers also with their wiues made lamentation for him vnto this day, and it became a custome to be done continually in all the kinred of Israel.

33 These things are written in the booke of the stories of the kings of Iuda: and all the actes of Iosias, and his glorie, & vnderstanding in the lawe of the Lorde, and þ things which he had done before, and that was nowe recited, are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iuda.

34 And the people tooke Iechonias the sonne of Iosias, and made him king in steade of Iosias his father, whẽ he was twentie and three yeres olde.

35 And he reigned in Iuda & in Hierusalem three moneths: and then the king of Egypt put him downe from reigning in Hierusalem:

36 And rayled vp a tare of the people, namely an hundred talentes of siluer, & one talent of golde.

37 The king of Egypt also made Ioacim his brother king of Iuda and Hierusalem.

38 a And thus he ‖ bound Ioacim and his gouernours: but Zaracen his brother he apprehended, and led away with him into Egypt.

‖ Or, bound Ioacim and his gouernours: but Zaracen his brother he apprehended, and led away with him into Egypt.

39 Fiue and twentie yeres old was Ioacim when he was made king in the land of Iuda and Hierusalem, and he did euill before the Lord.

40 Wherefore against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came vp, and bound him with bands of pion, and carried him vnto Babylon.

‖ Or, established.

41 Nabuchodonosor also tooke of þ holy vessels of the Lord, caried them away, & set them in his own temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophanation & reprooche, are written in the Chronicles of the kings.

43 And Ioachin his sonne reigned in his steade. Hee was made king being eighteene yeeres olde.

44 And reigned but three moneths and tenne dayes in Hierusalem, and did euill before the Lord.

45 So after a yere Nabuchodonosor sent, and caused him to be brought vnto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord, 46 And made Zedechias king of Iuda and Hierusalem when hee was twentie and one yeres olde, and he reigned eleuen yeres.

47 * And he did euil also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the wordes that were spoken vnto him by the Prophet Ieremie from the mouth of the Lord.

*Iere. 38. 21.

48 And where he had made an othe vnto king Nabuchodonosor, he forswore him selfe by the name of the Lord, and hardened his necke and heart, and transgressed the lawes of the Lord God of Israel.

49 The gouernours also of the people and Priestes did many things against the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of al nations, & defiled the temple of the Lord which was sanctified in Hierusalem.

50 Wherefore the God of their fathers sent b his messenger to call them backe, because hee spared them and his Tabernacle also.

b Meaning, Ieremie.

51 But they had his messengers in derision: and looke when the Lord spake vnto them, they made a sport of his Prophets.

Lord both great and small, with the vessels of the arke of God: and they tooke and carried away the kings treasure into Babylon.

55 As for the house of the Lord, they went vp into it, and burnt it, brake downe the walles of Hierusalem, set fire vpon her towres,

56 Destroyed al her ‖ noble buildings, and brought them to nought, and the people that were not slaine with the sworde, hee caried vnto Babylon:

The ii. Chapter.

1 Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 13 The names of them that returned. 16 Their aduersaries did let their building: 17 and the kings letters for the same.

1 NOwe when king Cyrus reigned ouer the Persians in his first yeere, when the Lord would performe the worde that hee had promised by the mouth of the Prophet Jeremie:

2 The Lord raised vp the spirite of Cyrus the king of the Persians, so that he caused vp writing to be proclaimed throughout his whole Realme,

3 Saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians, The Lord of Israel, that high Lord, hath made mee king of the whole worlde:

4 And commaunded mée to builde him an house at Hierusalem in Jurie.

5 If there be any nowe of your that are of his people, let the Lord, euen his Lord, be with him, and let him goe vp to Hierusalem that is in Judea, and builde the house of the Lorde of Israel, that is the Lorde that dwelleth in Hierusalem.

6 And all they that dwell rounde about that place shall helpe him, all that dwell in his place I say, whether it bee with golde, with siluer,

7 With gifres, with horses, and necessarie cattel, and all other things that are brought with a free will to the ‖ house of the Lord at Hierusalem.

‖ Or, temple.

8 Then ꝑ principal men out of the tribes and villages of Juda and Beniamin stoode vp: so did the priestes also and the Leuites, and all they whose mynde the Lord had moued to goe vp, and to builde the house of the Lord at Hierusalem.

9 And they that dwelt about them, helped them in all things, with siluer and golde, horses, and cattel, and with many frée giftes of many men, whose mindes were stirred vp thereto.

10 King Cyrus also brought forth the vessels and ornaments that were halowed vnto the Lorde, which Nabuchodonosor had caried away from Hierusalem, and consecrated them to his idole and image.

‖ Or, sundrie wones of sundrie men.

11 And hauing brought them forth, hee deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer, 12 And by him they were deliuered to Asbassar the deputie in Jurie.

13 And this was the number of them: a thousand golden cups, and a thousande of siluer, basons of siluer twentie & nine for the sacrifices, vialles of gold thirtie, & of siluer two thousand, foure hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of golde & siluer which were caried away, were fiue thousand, foure hundred, three score and nine.

15 These were brought by Salmanasar, with them of the captiuitie, from Babylon to Hierusalem.

16 But in the time of Artaxerres king of the Persians, Belemus and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and Semellius the secretarie, with other that were ioyned to them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote vnto him against them that dwelt in Judea and Hierusalem, these letters following: To the king Artaxerxes our Lord.

17 Thy seruants, Rathumus the storie writer, and Semellius the Secretarie, and the rest of their counsell, & the iudges that are in Celosyria and Phenice:

18 Be it nowe knowen vnto our lorde the king, that the Iewes which are come vp from you vnto vs, into the rebellious & wicked citie, begin to builde the market places, and to make vp the walles about it, and to set vp the temple anewe.

19 Now if this citie, and the walles thereof be set vp againe, they shall not onely refuse to giue tributes and taxes, but also rebell vtterly against kings.

20 And for so much as they take this in hand now about the temple, we thought it reason to thinke no scorne of it:

21 But to shewe it vnto the lorde the king, to the intent that if it please the king, he may cause it to be sought in the bookes of olde,

22 And thou shalt finde in recordes hereof written, and shalt vnderstand that this citie hath alway bene rebellious and disobedient, that it hath troubled kings and cities,

23 And that the Iewes were rebellious, and raysed alwayes warres therein: for the which cause this citie is wasted.

24 Wherefore nowe we certifie our lorde the king, that if this citie bee builded and occupied againe, and the walles thereof set vp anewe, thou canst haue no passage into Celosyria and Phenice.

25 Then wrote the king to Rathumus the storie writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the Scribe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this maner.

‖ Or, register.

26 I haue read the Epistle which ye sent vnto mée: therefore I commaunded to make diligent search, and haue found that this citie hath euer resisted kings, 27 That the same people are disobedient, and haue caused much warre, and that mightie kings haue reigned in Hierusalem, which also haue rayled vp taxes of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Wherefore I haue commanded to forbid those men that they shall not builde vp the citie, and heede to bee taken that there be no more done in it:

29 And þ they proceede no further in those wicked workes, for so much as it might be occasiõ of trouble vnto Princes.

30 Nowe when Rathumus and Semellius the Scribe had read the writing of king Artaxerres, they gate them together, and came in all the haste to Hierusalem, with an hoste of horsemen, and with much people on foote, 31 And forbade them to builde: and so they left of from building of the temple, vnto the second peere of king Darius, king of the Persians.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The feast of Darius. 16 The three wise sentences.

1 KIng Darius made a great feast vnto his ‖ seruantes, vnto all his court, and to all the officers of Media and Persia,

‖ Or, subiectes.

2 Yea, to all the gouernours and captaines, and Liuetenãts that were vnder him, from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and twentie and seuen ‖ countreys.

3 So when they had eaten and dronken, being satisfied, & were gone home againe, Darius the King went into his chamber, laide him downe to sleepe, and after that awaked.

4 Then the three yoong men that ‖ kept þ kings person, and watched his body, communed among themselues, and spake one to another.

‖ Or, were of the garde.

5 Let euery one of vs speake a sentence, and looke who shall ouercome, & whose sentence may seeme wiser thẽ the others, vnto him shall king Darius giue great giftes, and great thinges in token of victorie:

6 As to weare purple, to drinke in golde, and to sleepe in golde, and a chariot with bridles of golde, and a ‖ head tyre of fine linnen, and a chaine about his necke:

‖ Or, a silke bonnet.

7 Yea, he shall sitte next to Darius, because of his wisedome, and shall be called Darius cousin.

8 So euery one wrote his ‖ meaning, sealed it, and laide it vnder king Darius pillow,

‖ Or, sentence.

9 And sayde, when the King ariseth they would giue him the writings, and looke whose word the king and the three princes of Persia shall iudge to bee the most wiseth spoken, the same shall haue the victorie as it was appointed.

10 One wrote, Wine is a strong thing.

11 The second wrote, The king is strong.

12 The third wrote, Women haue very much strength, but aboue all things, the truth beareth away the victorie.

13 Now when the king was risen vp, they tooke their writings, and deliuered them vnto him, and so he read them.

14 Then sent he forth to call all his chiefe lords of Persia and of Media, and the rulers, and the captaines, & Liuetenãts, and consuls:

15 And when he had set him downe in the counsell, the writings were read before them.

16 And hee commanded to call for the young men, that they might declare their ‖ meanings themselues by mouth. So they were sent for, and came in.

‖ Or, sentence.

17 And then he sayde vnto them, Shewe vs, and make vs to vnderstande what the things are that yee haue written. Then began the first, which had spoken of the strength of wine, 18 And saide thus, O yee men, how strong is wine, that deceiueth all men which drinke it?

19 It maketh the kings minde and the fatherlesse to be both one, the bondmans, and the free, the poore mans, and the rich.

20 It turneth also euery thought into ioy and gladnesse, so that a man remembreth neither heauinesse nor debt.

21 And it maketh euery heart thinke it selfe rich, so that a man remembreth neither king nor gouernour, and it maketh to speake all things by talents.

22 Moreouer, when men haue dronke, they forget all friendship and brotherly faithfulnesse, and a little after they drawe out swordes:

23 And afterwards when they are frõ the wine, they remember nothing what was done.

24 O yee men, is not wine the strongest, that thus enforceth men to do? And whe he had spoken this, he helde his peace.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Of the strength of a king. 13 Of the strength of women. 34 Of the strength of trueth, which sentence is approoued, 47 and his petition graunted.

1 THen the second that had spoke of the strength of the king, began to say,

2 O yee men, are not men the strongest of all, that conquere both by lande and sea, and all the things that are in them?

3 Nowe is the king stronger, as lorde of all these thinges, and that hath the dominion ouer them: and looke what he commandeth them, it is all done.

4 If he bid them the one against the other to make warre, they doe it: if hee send them out against the enemies, they goe, and breake downe mountaines, walles, and towres.

5 They slay and are slaine, and ouerpasse not the kings commandement: if they get the victorie, they bring all to the king, so well the spoyle as other things.

6 Likewise þ other that meddle not with warres and fighting, but tyll the ground: when they haue sowen and reaped, they bring to the king, and compell one another to pay his tribute vnto the king.

7 And if the king, though he be but one man, commaund to kill, they kill, if hee commaund commaund to forgiue, they forgiue:

8 If he commaund to smite, they smite, if he bid driue away, they driue away, if he command to build, they builde:
Or, to spare, they spare.
Or, make waste, they make waste.
9 If he commaund to breake downe, they breake downe, if he command to plant, they plant.
10 ¶ So the common people and the rulers are obedient vnto him, and the king in the meane season sitteth him downe, eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest.
Or, so all his people and all his armes obey vnto one.
11 And these keepe him round about, and not one of them dare get him out of the way to doe his owne busines ¶ but must be obedient vnto the king at a worde.
Or, neither disobey they him in any thing.
12 Iudge ye now, O ye men, howe should not the king goe farre aboue, when in such sort he is obeyed? And when he had spoken thus, he helde his tongue.
13 The thirde, whose name was Zorobabel, which had spoken of women, and of trueth, began to say after this maner.
14 O ye men, it is not the great king, it is not the multitude of men, neither is it wine þ excelleth. Who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship ouer them? is it not women?
15 Women haue borne the king, and all the people which beare rule by sea and by land.
16 And euen of them were they borne, and they brought vp that planted the vines, wherof the wine commeth.
17 They make garments for men, they get honour vnto men, and without women can not men continue.
18 Yea, if they haue gathered together golde and siluer, or any other precious thing, doe they not loue a woman for her comely shape and beautie?
19 And letting all those things goe, doe they not gape, & euen with open mouth fixe their eyes fast on her? and haue not al men more desire vnto her, then vnto siluer and gold, or any maner of precious thing?
20 A man leaueth his owne father that brought him vp, leaueth his owne naturall countrey, and cleaueth vnto his wife.
Or, passeth.
21 Yea, hee ieopardeth his life with his wife, and remembreth neither father nor mother, nor countrey.
22 By this also ye must needes knowe, that women haue dominion ouer you: doe ye not labour and trauaile, and giue and bring all to the woman?
23 A man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to steale, to kill, to murther, to saile vpon the sea, and vpon riuers, 24 And seeth a Lion, and goeth in þ darkenesse: and when he hath stolen, deceyued, and robbed, hee bringeth it vnto his loue.
Or, spoyled.
25 Wherefore a man loueth his wife better then father and mother:
26 Yea, many there bee that runne out of their wittes, and become bondmen for their wiues sake.
Or, for womens sakes.
27 Many one also haue perished, haue erred, and sinned also for women.
28 And now doe ye not beleeue me? is not the king great in his power? doe not all regions feare to touche him?
29 Yet did I see him, and Apame the daughter of the great King Bartacus þ kings concubine, sate beside the king vpon the right hand, 30 And tooke off his crowne from his head, and set it vpon her owne heade, & stroke the king with her left hand.
31 And therewhile steadily the king looked vpon her with open mouth: if shee laughed vpon him, hee laughed also: but if shee tooke any displeasure with him, the king was faine to flatter her and to giue her good wordes, til he had gotten her fauour againe.
32 O ye men, are not women then stronger, that doe these things?
33 Then the king and the princes looked one vpon another: so he began to speake of the trueth.
34 O yee men, are not women stronger? Great is the earth, high is the heauen, swift is the course of the sunne, he compasseth the heauens rounde about, and fetcheth his course againe to his owne place in one day.
35 Is hee not excellent that maketh these things? therfore great is the trueth, and stronger then all things.
36 All the earth calleth vpon trueth, the heauen praiseth it, all workes shake and tremble at it, and with it is no vnrighteous thing.
37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, al the children of men are wicked, yea, and such are all their wicked workes, and there is no trueth in them, in their vnrighteousnesse also shall they bee destroyed and perish:
38 As for the trueth it endureth, and is alway strong, it liueth and conquereth for euermore worlde without ende.
39 With her there is no exception or difference of persons, but she doeth that iust is, and refraineth from all vniust and wicked things, and all men doe well like of her workes.
40 In the iudgement of it there is no vnrighteous thing, and thee is the strength, kingdome, power, and maiestie of all ages. Blessed bee the God of trueth.
41 And with that he helde his peace: and al the people cryed, and then said, Great is trueth, and aboue all.
42 Then saide the king vnto him, Aske what thou wilt, more then is appointed in the writing, and we shal giue it thee, for thou art found wiser then thy companions, thou shalt sit next me, and shalt bee called my kinsman.
43 Then said he vnto the king, Remember thy promise and vowe which thou hast vowed and promised in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, to builde vp Hierusalem:

44 And to ſende againe all the veſſelles and iewels that were taken away out of Hieruſalem, which Cyrus ſet apart when he vowed to deſtroy Babylon, and to ſende them againe thither.

45 And thy minde was alſo to builde vp the temple, which the Edomites burnt, when Juda was deſtroyed by the Chaldees.

46 And nowe this onely O king is the thing that I require and deſire of thee, this is the princely liberalitie that I aſke of thee, I deſire therefore, that thou performe the vowe, which thou with thine own mouth haſt made vnto the king of heauen.

47 Then Darius the king ſtoode vp, and kiſſed him, wrote him letters vnto al the deputies & lieutenants, to all the lordes and nobles, that they ſhoulde conuey him forth, and all them that went vp with him, to build Hieruſalem.

48 He wrote letters alſo vnto al the lieutenants that were in Coeloſyria, & Phenices, and vnto them in Libanus, that they ſhould bring Cedar trees from Libanus vnto Hieruſalem, and builde the citie with him.

49 Moreouer, hee wrote for all the Iewes that were gone out of his ‖ realme into Iurie concerning their freedome, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor ſteward, ſhould enter into their doores:

‖Or, kingdome.

50 And that al their land which they kept, ſhould be free, and not tributarie: and that the Edomites ſhoulde giue ouer the cities and villages of the Iewes which they had taken vp:

51 Yea, and that there ſhoulde bee preſently giuen twentie talents to the building of the temple, vntill the time that it were finiſhed:

52 And to maintaine the whole burnt offerings vpon the altar euery day (as they had a commandement to offer ſeuentene) other ten talents euery peece.

53 And that all they which came frō Babylon to builde the citie, ſhould haue free libertie, they and their children, and all the prieſtes that went away.

54 He wrote alſo concerning the charges, and the prieſtes garment wherein they miniſter, 55 And likewiſe for the charges of the Leuites, to bee giuen them, vntill the day that the houſe were finiſhed, and Hieruſalem builded vp.

56 And he commanded, that all they that watched the citie, ſhould haue their penſions and wages.

57 He ſent away alſo all the veſſels that Cyrus had ſeparated from Babylon: and all that Cyrus had giuen in commaundement, the ſame charged hee alſo that it ſhoulde bee done, and ſent vnto Hieruſalem.

58 Nowe when this young man was gone forth, hee lifted vp his face toward heauen toward Hieruſalem, and praiſed the king of heauen, 59 And ſaid, Of thee commeth victorie, of thee commeth wiſedome, and thine is the glorie, and I am thy ſeruant.

60 Bleſſed art thou which haſt giuen me wiſedome, for to thee I acknowledge it, O Lord thou God of our fathers.

61 And ſo he tooke the letters, and went out, and came vnto Babylon, and told it all his brethren.

62 And they praiſed the God of their fathers, that he had giuen them freedome and libertie, 63 To goe vp, and to build Hieruſalem & the temple, ‖ wherein the name of the Lord is called vpon: and they reioyced with inſtruments of muſike and gladneſſe ſeuen dayes long.

‖Or, wherein name is renowmed.

The v. Chapter.

men, two hundred fourtie and fiue,
43 Foure hundred thirtie and fiue camels, seuen thousand thirtie and sixe horses, two hundred fourtie and fiue mules, fiue thousand fiue hundred twentie and fiue beastes vsed to the yoke.
44 And of their rulers also after their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Hierusalem, there were þ vowed to set vp the house againe in his owne place, according to their abilitie:
45 And to giue into the holy treasure of the workes, a thousand pounds of gold, fiue thousand of siluer, and an hundred precious garments.
46 And so dwelt the Priests and the Leuites, and the people in Hierusalem, and in the countrey thereabout, the singers also and the porters, and all Israel in their villages.
47 But when the seuenth moneth came, and whē the children of Israel were euery man in his owne, they came all together with one cōsent into the open place of the gate, which is towards the East.
48 And there Iesus the sonne of Iosedec, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel and his brethren, rising vp, made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 To offer whole burnt sacrifices vpon it, so as it is written in the lawe of Moses the man of God.
50 And thither were gathered against thē, diuers of other nations of the land: but they dressed the altar in his owne place, although all the nations in the land were enemies to them, and vexed them: and they offered sacrifices to the Lorde both morning and euening.
51 And also they held þ feast of tabernacles as it is ‖ commanded in the lawe, and sacrifices daily as it was appertaining.
52 And after that also the continuall oblations, and the offerings of the Sabboths, and of the newe moneths, and of all holy feasts.
53 And all they which had made any vow to God, began to offer sacrifice to God, from the first day of the seuenth moneth, although the temple of the Lorde was not yet built vp.
54 And they gaue vnto the masons and carpenters, money, meate, and drinke, with cheerefulnesse.
55 Vnto them of Sidon also, and Tyre, they gaue carres, that they should bring Cedar trees frō Libanus, which should be brought by flote to the hauen Ioppe, according as it was commanded them by Cyrus king of the Persians.
56 And in the second yeare and * second moneth, came into the temple of God at Hierusalem, Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec, and their brethren, and the Priests and Leuites, and all they that were come vnto Hierusalem out of the captiuitie of Babylon.
57 And they layd the foundation of the house of God, in the newe moone of the second moneth, in the second yeare that they were come to Iurie and Hierusalem.
58 And they appointed the Leuites, that were aboue twentie yeares olde, ouer the workes of the Lorde: So Iesus and his sonne and brethren assisted, and Cadmiel also his brother, and the sonnes of Madiabon, with the sonnes of Ioda, the sonne of Eliadon, and his sonnes and brethren, euen all the Leuites with one accord followed on earnestly to aduance the workes in the house of God: so the workemen built vp the temple of þ Lord.
59 And the Priestes stode, and had their garments, with musicall instruments, and trumpets, and the Leuites þ sonnes of Asaph had Cymbales, 60 Giuing thanks and prayses vnto the Lorde, according as Dauid the king of Israel had ordeined.
61 And they sung with loude voyces, songs to the prayse of the Lorde, because his mercy and glory is for euer in Israel.
62 And all the people blewe out with trūpets, and cried with a loude voyce, praysing the Lord together for the rearing vp of the house of the Lord.
63 There came also frō among the Priests and Leuites, and of þ chiefest, according to the tribes and kinreds, to wit, the elders, which had seene the former house,
64 To the building of this, with great cry and great mourning, many also with trumpets and great ioy cried with loude voyce:
65 Insomuch that the trumpets might not well bee heard for the weeping and mourning of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blewe trumpets maruellously, so þ it was heard farre off.
66 Wherefore, when the * enemies of the tribes of Iuda and Benamin heard it, they came to knowe what that noyse of trumpets should meane.
67 And they perceiued that they which were come againe out of captiuitie, built the temple vp anewe vnto the Lord God of Israel.
68 So they went to Zorobabel and Iesus, and to the rulers of the villages, and said vnto them, Shal we build with you also?
69 For we likewise, as you, doe obey your Lord, and do sacrifice vnto him, from the dayes of Aduazareth the king of Assyria, which brought vs hither.
70 Then Zorobabel, and Iesus, and the rulers of the villages of Israel said vnto them, It doeth not agree that ye should build the temple of our God with vs.
71 Wee our selues alone will build vnto the Lord of Israel, * as is meete, and like as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commaunded vs.
72 But the heathen in the land made them sluggish that were in Iurie, and hindred them, and letted their buildings.
73 And by their embushments, seditions, and and conſpiracies, ſtopped that the building could not bee finiſhed, all the time that king Cyrus lined, ſo that they put off the building for ẏ ſpace of two yeers, vntill the reigne of king Darius.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Of Aggeus and Zacharias. 2 The building of the temple. 3 Siſinnes would let them. 7 His letters to Darius. 23 The kings anſwere to the contrary.

1.Eſd.5.1. I NOtwithſtanding in the * ſecond yere of the reigne of Darius, Aggeus and Zacharias the ſonne of Addo the Prophets, prophecied vnto the Iewes, and to them in Iurie and Hieruſalem, euen in the name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

2 Then Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Ieſus the ſonne of Joſedec, ſtood vp, and began to build the houſe of the Lord at Hieruſalem, when the Prophets of the Lord were with them, and helped them.

3 At the ſame time came Siſinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and ſayd vnto them,

4 Who hath bidden and commaunded you to build this houſe, to make this roofe, and all other things againe? and who are the ‖ workemen that build them?

‖Or builders that did thoſe things.

5 Neuertheleſſe, the elders of the Iewes had ſuch grace of the Lorde, after he had viſited the captiuitie, 6 That they were not letted from building, vntill the time that king Darius was certified thereof, and an anſwere receiued from him.

7 The copie of the letters which he wrote, and ſent vnto Darius. Siſinnes gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, which are head rulers in Syria & Phenice, ſend their ſalutation vnto Darius the king.

8 We certifie our Lord the king, that wee came into the land of Iurie, and went to Hieruſalem, where we found ẏ ancients of the Iewes that were of the captiuitie, in the citie of Hieruſalem, 9 Building an houſe vnto the Lorde, great and newe, of hewen and coſtly ſtones, and the timber already layd vpon the walles.

10 Yea, they make great haſte with the worke, and it goeth forth proſperouſly in their hands, and with great diligence and worſhip it is made.

11 Then aſked we the elders, ſaying, By whoſe commandement build you vp this houſe, and lay the foundations of theſe workes?

12 Which wee demanded of them, to the intent that wee might giue knowledge vnto thee, and write vnto thee of thoſe that gouerned it: & we required of them their names in writing that were their chiefe leaders to it.

13 So they gaue vs this anſwere, We are the ſeruants of the Lorde, which made heauen and earth.

14 *And as for this houſe, it was builded many yeeres agone, by a king of Iſrael, great and ſtrong, and was finiſhed. 3.King.6.2.

15 But when our fathers prouoked God vnto wrath, and ſinned againſt the Lorde of Iſrael, which is in heauen, hee *gaue them ouer into the power of Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon, of the Chaldees: 4.King.24.1.

16 *Which brake downe the houſe, and burnt it, and caried away the people priſoners vnto Babylon. Jere.3.9.

17 Neuertheleſſe, in the *first yeere that king Cyrus reigned ouer the countries of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote and commaunded to builde vp this houſe againe. 1.Eſd.5.13.

18 And the holy veſſels of gold, and of ſiluer, that Nabuchodonoſor had carried away out of the houſe at Hieruſalem, and had dedicated them in his owne temple: thoſe brought Cyrus forth againe out of the temple at Babylon, and deliuered them to Zorobabel, & to Sanaballarus the ruler:

19 Commanding him that he ſhould carry away thoſe ſame veſſels, and put them in the temple at Hieruſalem, and that the temple of the Lord ſhould be built in his owne place.

20 Then the ſame Sanaballarus being come hither, laid the foundations of the houſe of the Lord at Hieruſalem, & from that to this, being ſtill abuilding, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therefore, O king, if thou thinkeſt it good, let it be ſought in the libraries and rolles of king Cyrus:

22 And if it be found then, that the building of the houſe of the Lord at Hieruſalem hath bene done with the counſaile and conſent of king Cyrus, and if our lord the king be ſo minded, let him giue anſwere vnto vs thereof.

23 Then commanded king Darius to ſeeke in the kings libraries at Babylon: and ſo at Ecbatane, a towre in the region of Media, there was founde a place where theſe things were laid vp for ‖ remembrance. ‖Or, remembrances.

24 *In the firſt yeere of the reigne of Cyrus, the ſame king Cyrus commaunded that the houſe of the Lord at Hieruſalem ſhould be builded againe, where they doe ſacrifice with the continuall fire. 1.Eſd.6.3.

25 Whoſe height ſhalbe ſixtie cubites, and the breadth ſixtie cubites, with three rowes of hewen ſtones, and one rowe of new wood, and of that countrey, and the expences thereof, to be giuen out of the houſe of king Cyrus:

26 And the holy veſſels of the houſe of the Lord, both of gold & ſiluer, that Nabuchodonoſor tooke out of ẏ houſe at Hieruſalem, & brought to Babylon, ſhould be reſtored to the houſe at Hieruſalem, & be ſet in the place where it was before.

27 And alſo he commanded that Siſinnes the gouernour of Syria & Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, and other constituted rulers in Syria and Phenice, ſhoulde take heede not to meddle with that place, but to ſuffer Zorobabel the ſeruant of the Lorde & gouernour of Juda, and the elders of the Jewes, to build the houſe of the Lord in that place.

28 I haue commaunded alſo to haue it built vp whole againe, and that they be diligent to helpe thoſe that be of the captiuitie of the Jewes, till the houſe of the Lord be finiſhed.

29 And out of the tribute of Coelosyria & Phenice, a portion diligently to be giuen thoſe men vnto the offrings of the Lord, and the ſame to be deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, that he therwithal may ordeine oxen, rammes, and lambes:

30 And alſo corne, ſalt, wine and oyle, and that continually euery yeere, after the expences which the prieſts, that bee at Hieruſalem ſhall teſtifie to be made daily, this ſhalbe giuen vnto them without delay:

31 That they may offer ſacrifices daily to the higheſt God for the king and for his children, and to pray for their liues.

32 And he commaunded alſo, that whoſoeuer ſhould breake any point of the foreſayd and foredecreed things, or make it voyde: of his owne goods ſhoulde a tree bee taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods ſeaſed vnto the king.

33 The Lorde therefore whoſe name is there called vpon, roote out and deſtroy euery king and nation that ſtretcheth out his hande to hinder or hurt and endamage that houſe of the Lord in Hieruſalem.

34 I Darius the king haue ordeined, that according to theſe things it be done with diligence.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Siſinnes and his companions follow the kings commaundement, and helpe the Jewes to builde the temple. 5 The time that it was built. 10 They keepe the Paſſeouer.

1,Eſdr.6.13. 1 THen* Siſinnes the gouernour in Coelosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, obeied the things that king Darius had ordeined,

2 And were diligent aſſiſters in the holy workes, working with the ancients and gouernours of the ſanctuarie.

3 And ſo the holy workes went forth and proſpered, whē Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophets prophecied.

4 And they perfourmed al thinges through the commandement of the Lorde God of Iſrael, and with conſent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of Perſia.

5 And thus was the holy houſe finiſhed in the thrée and twentieth day of the moneth Adar, in the ſixth yéere of Darius, king of the Perſians.

6 And the children of Iſrael, the Prieſts and the Leuites, and other that were of the captiuitie that had any charge, did according to the things written in the booke of Moſes.

7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lorde, they offered an hundred ‖oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, ‖Or, bullis.

8 And twelue goates for the ſinnes of all the people of Iſrael, after the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Iſrael.

9 The Prieſts alſo and the Leuites ſtood arayed in their long robes, after their kinreds, in all the workes of the Lorde God of Iſrael, according to the booke of Moſes, and the porters at euery doore.

10 And the children of Iſrael, with thoſe that were come out of captiuitie, helde the Paſſeouer the fourteenth day of the firſt moneth, after that the Prieſts and the Leuites were ſanctified.

11 They that were of the captiuitie, were not al ſanctified together: but the Leuites were all ſanctified together.

12 And ſo they offred the paſſeouer for all them of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Prieſtes, and for themſelues.

13 And the children of Iſrael that came out of captiuitie, did eate, all they that had ſeparated themſelues from the abominations of the people of that land, and ſought the Lord:

14 And they kept the feaſt of the vnleauened bread ſeuen dayes long, making merry before the Lorde, 15 That the Lorde had turned the counſel of the king of Aſſyria towards them, to ſtrengthen their handes vnto the workes of the Lord God of Iſrael.

The viii. Chapter.

1 Eſdras commeth from Babylon to Hieruſalem. 10 The copie of the commiſſion giuen by king Artaxerxes. 26 Eſdras giueth thanks to the Lorde.

1 AND after theſe, when Artaxerxes the king of the Perſians reigned, there went vnto him Eldzas the ſonne of Saraias, the ſonne of Ezerias, the ſonne of Helchiah, the ſonne of Sallum,

2 The ſonne of Sadoc, the ſonne of Achitob, the ſonne of Amarias, the ſonne of Ezias, the ſonne of Mennerath, the ſonne of Saraias, the ſonne of Sanias, the ſonne of Boccas, the ſonne of Abulm, the ſonne of Phinees, the ſonne of Eleazar, the ſonne of Aaron the firſt Prieſt.

3 This Eldzas went vp from Babylon, being a ſcribe of good vnderſtanding in the law of Moſes, that was giuen by the Lord God of Iſrael.

4 And the king fauoured him, and did him great worſhip and honour ‖ after all his deſires. ‖Or, in all his ſuites.

5 There went vp with him alſo certaine of the children of Iſrael, of the Prieſts, of the Leuites, of the ſingers, porters, & miniſters of the temple, vnto Hieruſalem.

6 In the ſeuenth yéere of the reigne of king Artaxerxes, in the fifth moneth, which was the ſeuenth yeere (for they they went from Babylon in the firſt day of the firſt moneth.

7 And came to Hieruſalem according as God gaue them ſpeede in their iourney.)

8 For Eſdras had gotte great knowledge to omit nothing of that was in the lawe and the commandements of the Lorde,

Or, righteouſnes. and to teach all Iſrael all the ‖ordinances and iudgements.

9 The copie of the commiſſion which Artaxerxes the king wrote, and that was giuen to Eſdras the Prieſt and Reader of the lawe of the Lorde, this is it that followeth.

10 King Artaxerxes ſendeth his greeting vnto Eſdras the Prieſt and Reader of the lawe of the Lord.

11 I hauing weighed things with pitie, haue ordeyned & charged, if there be any of the Iewes, of the Prieſts and Leuites

Or, kingdome. in my ‖realme, which deſireth and is content to goe with thee vnto Iſrael, that he may doe it.

12 Therefore, ſo many as long thereafter, let them depart together, and goe with thee, like as I am content and my ſeuen friends my counſailers, 13 To ſee what they do at Hieruſalem and in Iurie, conueniently, according as thou haſt in the lawe of the Lord:

14 And to bring the giftes vnto God the Lorde of Iſrael, that I and my friendes

Or, vowed. haue ‖promiſed to Hieruſalem, and all the ſiluer and golde that in the countrey of Babylon may be found pertaining to the Lord in Hieruſalem,

15 With the thing that is giuen of the people to the Lorde their Gods temple at Hieruſalem: that the ſame ſiluer and gold may be gathered for oxen, rammes, theepe, and goates, and other that belong to theſe things, 16 That they may offer ſacrifices vnto the Lord, vpon the altar of the Lord their God which is at Hieruſalem.

17 And whatſoeuer thou and thy brethren will do with the ſiluer and gold, that doe according to the will of thy God.

18 And the holy veſſels of the Lord, which are giuē thee for the ſeruice of the temple of thy God which is in Hieruſalem, thou ſhalt ſet them before thy God in Hieruſalem.

19 And whatſoeuer thing els thou ſhalt remember for the vſe of the temple of thy God, thou ſhalt giue it out of the kings treaſure.

20 And I king Artaxerxes haue alſo commanded the keepers of the treaſures in Syria and Phenice, that whatſoeuer Eſdras the Prieſt and the Reader of the law of the higheſt God ſhall ſend for, they ſhould giue it him with ſpeede:

21 Euen to the ſumme of an hundred talents of ſiluer: of corne alſo an hundred

Or, cores, Or, quiers. ‖meaſures, and til an hundred ‖veſſels of wine, and other things aboundantly.

22 Let all things be done after the lawe of God diligently, vnto the higheſt God, that wrath come not vpon the kingdom of the king and of his ſonnes.

23 I command you alſo, that ye require no tare nor tribute of the Prieſtes, Leuites, holy ſingers, porters & miniſters of the temple, nor of any that haue doings in this temple, & that no man haue authority to put any impoſt vpon them.

24 As for thee, O Eſdras, ſet thou iudges and arbiters to iudge in the whole land of Syria and Phenice after the wiſdome of God, all ſkilful in the law of God, and teach ſuch as are ignorant.

25 And let all them which ſhall offend againſt the lawe of God and the king, bee diligently punished, whether it bee by death or other paine, by puniſhing in money, or els by banishment.

26 Then ſaid Eſdras the Scribe, Bleſſed be the only Lord God of my fathers, that hath giuen ſo good a minde and will into the heart of the king, to magnifie his houſe that is at Hieruſalem, 27 And hath ‖ made me to be accepted in Or, honoured me. the ſight of the king, and of his counſell, of his friends, and of his nobles.

28 And ſo I was ‖ ſtedfaſt in my minde, Or, of a good courage. according as the Lorde my God helped me, and I gathered by men of Iſrael to go vp with me.

29 * And theſe are the guides after their 1. Eſdr. 8. 1. families and orders of dignities, that went vp with me from Babylon in the reigne of king Artaxerxes.

30 Of the ſonnes of Phinehes, Gerſom: of the ſonnes of Ithamar, Gamaliel: of the ſonnes of Dauid, Hattus the ſonne of Cechenah:

31 Of the ſonnes of Pharez, Zacharias, & with him there returned againe an hundred and fiftie men.

32 Of the ſonnes of Pahath Moab, Elioenai, the ſonne of Zacharias, and with him two hundred men.

33 Of the ſonnes of Zathoe, Sechenias, the ſonne of Iezoms, and with him three hundred men: and of the ſonnes of Adin, Obed the ſonne of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fiftie men.

34 Of the ſonnes of Elam, Jeſias, ſonne of Gotholias, & with him ſeuentie men.

35 Of the ſonnes of Saphatias, Zarias ſonne of Machael, and with him three ſcore and ten men.

36 Of the ſonnes of Joab, Sabias ſonne of Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelue men.

37 Of the ſonnes of Banid, Aſſalimoth ſonne of Jolaphias, and with him an hundred and threeſcore men.

38 Of the ſonnes of Babi, Zacharias ſonne of Bebai, and with him twentie and eight men.

39 Of the ſonnes of Aſtath, Johannes ſonne of Acatan, and with him an hundred and ten.

40 Of the ſonnes of Adonicam the laſt: and theſe are the names of them, Eliphalet, Jeuel, and Maias, and with them ſeuentie men.

41 Of the ſonnes of Bagouthi, ſonne of Iſcacourus, Iſcacournus, and with him ſeuẽtie men.

42 All theſe called I together by the water Thia, where we pitched our tents three dayes, and there I muſtred them.
1.Eſd.8.15. 43 *As for the ſonnes of the Prieſtes and Leuites, I found none there.
44 Then ſent I vnto Eleazar, & beholde, there came Maaſman, and Maloban, 45 And Alnathan, and Samaian, and Joribon, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zachariah, and Moſollamon the chiefe and beſt learned:
46 And I bade them that they ſhould goe vnto Waddeus the captaine, which was in the place of the treaſurie:
47 And cõmanded them that they ſhould ſpeake vnto Waddeus, and to his brethren, and to thoſe that were the treaſurers, to ſend vs ſuch mẽ as might execute the Prieſts office in þ houſe of our Lord.
48 And with the mightie hande of our Lorde God, they brought vnto vs men ‖Or, learning. of good ‖ experience, from among the ſonnes of Moli, the ſonne of Leui, the ſonne of Iſrael, Seredia, and his ſonnes, and his brethren which were eighténe.
49 And Aſebia, and Amon, and Oſaian his brethrẽ, of the ſonnes of Canaaneus, their ſonnes were twentie men.
50 And of them that ſerued in the temple, whom Dauid had ordeined, & the principall men to the workes of the Leuites, that were miniſters in the temple, two hundred and twentie, whoſe names are all ſigned up in writing.
2.Eſd.8.21. 51 And then *commanded I a faſting vnto the yong men before the Lorde, that I might deſire of him a proſperous iourney, and a good way both for vs and them that were with vs, for our children, and for the cattell.
52 For I feared to deſire of the king men of horſe and of foote, to conuey vs ſafely againſt our enemies.
53 For wee had ſaide vnto the king, that the power of the Lorde our God ſhould be with them that ſeeke him, to direct them in all things.
54 And therefore we beſought our lord againe, as touching theſe things, & found him fauourable vnto vs.
55 Then I ſeparated from among the chiefe of the tribes, & from the Prieſts, twelue men, to wit, Eſebrias, and Aſſanias, and tenne men of their brethren with them.
56 And I weighed them the golde, and the ſiluer, and the holy veſſels of the houſe of our Lord, which the king, and his counſaile, and his princes, and whole Iſrael had giuen.
57 And when I had weighed it, I deliuered vnto them ſixe hundred and fiftie talents of ſiluer, and an hundred talents in ſiluer veſſels, and an hundred talents of gold, 58 And twentie golden baſons, & twelue veſſels of braſſe, euen fine braſſe, like ſhining golde.
59 And I ſaid vnto them, Ye are holy vnto the Lord, and the veſſels are holy, and the gold and the ſiluer is ‖promiſed vnto the ‖Or, vowed, Lord God of our fathers.
60 ‖Be diligent nowe, and keepe it, vntill ‖Or, watch, the time that ye deliuer it to the chiefe of the Prieſts and Leuites, and to the principall men of the families of Iſrael in Hieruſalem, in the chãbers of the houſe of our God.
61 So the Prieſts and the Leuites which receiued of me the golde, the ſiluer, and the veſſels, brought it vnto Hieruſalem vnto the temple.
62 And from the *riuer Thia wee brake 1.Eſd.8.31. vp the twelfth day of the firſt moneth, according to the mightie hande of our Lord which was with vs: and from the beginning of our iourney, the Lord deliuered vs from euery enemie, ſo that wee came vnto Hieruſalem.
63 And when the third day was paſt, the weighed golde and ſiluer was deliuered in the houſe of the Lorde, on the fourth day, vnto Marimoth the Prieſt, & ſonne of Jozi:
64 And with him was Eleazar the ſonne of Phinees, & with them were Joſabdus the ſonne of Jeſu, and Moeth the ſonne of Sabbanus, Leuites: al was deliuered them by number and weight.
65 And all the weight of them was written vp the ſame houre.
66 After that, they that were come out of captiuitie, offered ſacrifice vnto the Lord God of Iſrael, euen twelue oxen for all Iſrael, fourſcore and ſixteene rammes, 67 Three ſcore and twelue ſheepe, twelue goates for ſaluation, all in ſacrifice to the Lord.
68 And the kings commiſſion deliuered they vnto the kings ſtewardes, & to the gouernours of Coeloſyria and Phenice, who honoured the people and the temple of God.
69 Nowe when theſe things were done, the rulers came vnto me, and ſaid, 70 The *nation of Iſrael, the princes, the 1.Eſd.1.9. Prieſts and Leuites, haue not put away from them the ſtrange people of þ land, nor the vncleannelle of the Gentiles: to wit, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Jebuſites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites:
71 For both they and their ſonnes haue mingled themſelues with the daughters of them, and the holy ſeede is mixt with the ſtrange people of the land: and ſince the beginning of the affaires, the rulers and head men haue bene partakers of this wickednelle.
72 And as ſoone as I had heard theſe things, immediatly I rent my clothes and the holy garment, and pulled off the heare of my head and my beard, and ſate me downe ſorowfull and heauie.
73 So all they that were moued thereby the word of the Lord God of Iſrael, came vnto mee whileſt I wept for the iniquitie: but I ſate ſtill full of heauineſſe vntill till the euening sacrifice.

74 Then stood I vp from fasting, hauing rent clothes, and the holy garment, and kneeled downe vpon my knees, and held out my hands vnto the Lord,
1.Esd.8.8. 75 And sayd, O Lord, * I am confounded and ashamed before thy face.
76 For our sinnes are become many, euē aboue our heads, and our ignorances are lifted vp, euen vnto heauen:
77 For since the time of our fathers, wē are in great sinne vnto this day.
Deu.28.13. 78 And for the * sinnes of vs, and our fathers, we, with our brethren, and with our Kings, and with our Priestes, haue bene giuen vp vnto þ kings of the earth, vnto the sword, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle with cōfusion and shame vnto this day.
79 And nowe, O Lord God, how great is the mercy that we haue gotten of thē, in that thou hast left vs a roote and a name in the place of thy sanctuarie, 80 And that thou hast discouered to vs a light in the house of the Lorde our God, and hast giuen vs meate in the time of our seruitude:
81 And when we were in captiuitie, wee were not forsaken of the Lord our God: but he made the kings of Persia gracious and fauourable vnto vs, so that they gaue vs victuals and meate, 82 Yea and honoured the temple of our Lorde and repaired the wasted places of Sion, and gaue vs assurance in Iurie & Hierusalem.
83 And now, O Lord, what shall wee say, hauing all these thinges in possession? For we haue broken thy commandements, which thou gauest vnto vs by the hands of thy seruants the Prophets, saying,
Deut.7.1. 84 * Because the lande which ye go to possesse as an heritage, is a lande defiled with the vncleannesse and filthinesse of þ strāgers of the land, & with their abomination they haue polluted it altogether:
85 Therefore now shall ye not ioyne their daughters vnto your sonnes, neither marry your daughters to their sonnes.
86 Moreouer, ye shal neuer seeke to make peace with them, that ye may ‖ encrease and eate the best in the land, and that ye may leaue the inheritance of the lande vnto your children for euermore.
‖Or, waxe strong, and eate the good things of the land.
87 As for the things þ are come to passe, they come all for our wicked workes and great sinnes: for thou, O Lord, hast made our sinnes light, 88 And giuen vs such a roote: but we haue turned backe againe, so that wee haue broken thy lawe, and mingled our selues with the vncleannesse of the outlandish heathen.
89 Wouldest not thou be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldest leaue vs neither roote, seede, nor name?
90 O Lord God of Israel, thou art true: for our roote endureth yet vnto this present day.
91 And beholde, nowe are we before thee in our sinnes, neither can wee stand before thee for them.
92 * And when Esdras with this prayer had knowledged the sinne, weeping, and lying flat vpon the ground before the tēple, there gathered vnto him from Hierusalem, a great multitude of men and women, of young men and maydens: for there was a very great weeping and mourning among the multitude.
1.Esdr.10.1.
93 Then Iechonias þ sonne of Iesseli, one of the children of Israel, cried out, & sayde, O Esdras, we haue sinned against þ Lord God, because wee haue maried strange women of the nations of the land.
94 And now al Israel hangeth in doubt: Wee will sweare an othe therefore vnto the Lord, that we shall put away all our wiues which we haue taken of the ‖ Heathen, with their children:
‖Or, strangers.
95 Like as it may seeme good to thee, & to all those that obey the law of the Lord.
96 Stand vp, and put it in execution: for to thee doeth this matter appertaine, & we are with thee to adde thee strength.
97 So Esdras arose, and tooke an oth of the chiefe of the Priests and Leuites of all Israel, to doe after these things: and they sware.

The ix. Chapter.

After Esdras had read the lawe for the strange wiues, 18 they promised to put them away.

1 THen Esdras * rising from the court of the temple, went to the chamber of Joanan, the sonne of Eliasib, 1.Esd.10.6.
2 And remained there, and did eate no meate, nor drinke ‖ drinke, weeping for the great wickednesse of the people.
‖Or, water.
3 And there was made a proclamation in all Iurie, and at Hierusalem, for al the that were of the captiuitie, þ they should gather together at Hierusalem,
4 And that whosoeuer met not there within two or three daies, according as þ elders þ bare rule appointed, their cattell should be sealed to þ vse of the temple, & he be excluded frō them þ were of the captiuitie.
5 And in thē dayes were all they of the tribe of Juda and Beniamin gathered together at Hierusalem, the twentieth day of the ninth moneth.
6 And the whole multitude sate trēbling in þ ‖ court of þ tēple, for it was winter.
‖Or, the large roome.
7 So Esdras arose vp, & said vnto them, Ye haue done vnrighteously, in that ye haue takē ‖ outlādish wiues to mariage, & so to encrease the sinnes of Israel.
‖Or, strange.
8 And nowe knowledge the same, & giue praise vnto the Lord God of our fathers:
9 And performe his wil, departing frō the Heathen of the lande, and from the ‖ outlandish wiues.
‖Or, strange.
10 Then cried the whole multitude, and sayde with a loude voyce, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we doe.
11 But for as much as the people are many, & winter season, so þ we may not stande without the ‖ house, & because this worke is not a thing that can be finished in a day or two, seeing wee be many that that haue ſinned in theſe things:

12 Diſdeine therefore that the rulers of the multitude, and they of your families that haue ſtrange wiues, tarie.
13 And let the Prieſts and Iudges come out of euery place in their time appointed, til they ſwage the wrath of the Lord in this buſineſſe.
14 Then Ionathas the ſonne of Azael, and Ezechias the ſonne of Thecan, receiued the charge of this matter: and Moſollam, and Leuis, and Sabathens helped them thereto.
15 And they that were of the captiuitie, did according to all theſe things.
16 And Eſdras the Prieſt choſe vnto him the principall men from among the fathers, and them all by name: and in the firſt daye of the tenth moneth, they ſate together, to examine this matter.
17 And ſo the matter was a determining concerning the men that had maried ſtrange wiues, vntill the newe Moone of the firſt moneth.
18 And of the Prieſts that had mixt themſelues with ‖ outlandiſh wiues, there were found, ‖Or, ſtrange.
19 Of the ſonnes of Jeſu the ſonne of Joſedec, and his brethren, Mathelas, Eleazar, Joribus, and Joadanus:
20 Which offered themſelues to put away their wiues, and to offer a ramme vnto reconcilement for their purgation.
21 And of the ſonnes of Emmer, Hananias, and Zabdeus, and Canes, and Samaius, and Hierael, and Azarias.
22 And of the ſonnes of Phaſur, Eliænas, Maſſias, Eliſnaelus, and Nathanael, and Oſidelus, and Tallas.
23 And of the Leuites, Jozabadus, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Pathens, and Oudas, and Jonas.
24 Of the holy Singers, Eleazarus, Bacchurus.
25 Of the Porters, Sallumus, and Tolbantes.
26 Of them of Iſrael, of the ſonnes of Phoros, Hiermas, and Eddias, and Melchias, and Maelus, and Eleazar, & Aſibias, and Banaias.
27 Of the ſonnes of Ela, Mathanias, Zacharias, and Hierelias, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.
28 And of the ſonnes of Zamoth, Eliadas, Eliſimus, Othonias, Jarimoth, & Sabatus, and Sardeus.
29 Of the ſonnes of Bebai, Joannes, & Ananias, and Joſabad, and Ematheas.
30 Of the ſonnes of Mani, Olamus, Mamuchus, Jedaias, Jaſubus, Jaſari, and Jeremoth.
31 And of the ſonnes of Addi, Naathus, Mooſias, Caleus, and Naidus, & Mathanias, and Sechel, and Balmuus, and Manaſſeas.
32 And of the ſonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aſeas, and Melchias, & Sabdeus, & Himon a Choſamite.
33 And of the ſonnes of Hom, Mataneus, and Mattathias, and Banaias, Eliphalet, and Manaſſes, and Semei.
34 And of ẏ ſonnes of Maani, Jeremias, Moundis, Omairus, Inel, Mamai, and Paclias, and Anos, Carabaſion, and Enaſibus, and Mammanatanains, Eliaſſis, Vamus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanias: and of the ſonnes of Ozoras, Sells, Eſrel, Ezailus, Samatas, Saunbs, Joſiphus.
35 And of the ſonnes of Ethma, Mazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Inel, Banaias.
36 All theſe had taken ‖ outlandiſh wome to mariage, and they put them away with their children. ‖Or, ſtrange.
37 And the Prieſts & Leuites, and all they that were of Iſrael, dwelt at Hieruſalē, and thozowout all the land, in the ‖ new Moone of the ſeuenth moneth: & the children of Iſrael were in their ‖ dwellings. ‖Or, firſt day. ‖Or, owne houſe, 2. Eſdr. 9. 1.
38 And the *whole multitude came together with one accozd, into the wide place before the Eaſt gate of the temple.
39 And they ſpake vnto Eſdras the high Prieſt and Reader, that he would bring the lawe of Moſes, which had bene giuē of the Lord God of Iſrael.
40 So Eſdras the high Prieſt brought the lawe vnto the whole multitude, to man, and woman, and to al the Prieſts, that they might heare the lawe in the ‖ newe Moone of the ſeuenth moneth. ‖Or, beginning, 41 And he read in the firſt wide place that is before the port of the temple, from the morning early vnto midday, before men and women: and they applied their minde all vnto the lawe.
42 And Eſdras the Prieſt, and reader of the lawe, ſtode vpō a pulpit of weod, which was made therefore.
43 And vpon his right hand, there ſtode by him Mathatias, Samus, Anamas, Azarias, Vrias, Ezechias, & Balalan:
45 Then toke Eſdras the booke of the lawe before the whole multitude (for he was the principall, and had in moſt honour of them all.)
46 And when he expounded the law, they ſtood all ſtraight vpō their feete. So Eſdras ‖ praiſed the Lorde the moſt high God, the almightie God of hoſtes. ‖Or, bleſſed.
47 And all the people anſwered, Amen.
48 And Jeſus, Annus, Sarabias, Adinus, Jacobus, Bactaias, Antamas, Maiamias, Calitas, Azarias, Johalabdus, Anamias, and Biatas the Leuites, lift vp their hands, & fell downe on the ground, and worſhipped the Lord.
49 And taught the lawe of the Lorde, and were earneſtly occupied together in the reading thereof.
50 Then ſpake Atharates vnto Eſdras ẏ high Prieſt and Reader, & to the Leuites that taught the multitude, ſaying, 51 This day is holy vnto the Lord: and al when they heard the lawe, wept.
52 So Eſdras ſayde, * Depart your wayes therefore, 2. Eſdr. 8. 10.

therefore, and eate the fat meates, and drinke the sweete drinkes, and send gifts vnto them that haue nothing.
53 For this day is holy vnto the Lord, and be not ye sory: for the Lorde will bring you to honour.
*commanded. 54 So the Leuites ‖ published all these things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lord, be not sorie.
55 Then went they their way euery one to eate and drinke, and were merry, and sent presents to them that had nothing, and made very good cheare.
56 For they were as yet ‖ filled with the words that had bene taught them, and for the which they had bene assembled. ‖Or, inflamed.

The fourth Booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

3 The people is reproued for their vnthankefulnesse.
30 God will haue another people, if these will not be reformed.

1 THe second booke of the *Prophet Esdras, the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helcha, the sonne of Sadanias, the sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob. *Iosh.9.1.
2 The sonne of Achia, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Heli, the sonne of Amerias, the sonne of Aziel, the sonne of Marimoth, the sonne of Arna, the sonne of Ozias, the sonne of Bozith, the sonne of Abisei, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar,
3 The sonne of Aaron, of the tribe of Leui, which Esdras was prisoner in the land of Medes, in the reigne of Artaxerxes king of Persia.
4 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,
5 *Goe thy way, and shewe my people their sinfull deedes, and their children their wickednesse which they haue done against me, that they may tell their childrens children the same: *Esa.58.1.
6 For the sinnes of their fathers are encreased in them: and why? they haue forgotten mee, and haue offered vnto strange gods.
7 Am not I euen he that brought them out of the land of Egypt from the house of bondage? But they haue prouoked me vnto wrath, & despised my counsels.
8 Pull thou ‖ out then the heare of thy head, and cast all euill vpon them, for they haue not bene obedient vnto my law: but it is a people without learning and nurture. ‖Or, off.
9 How long shall I forbeare them, vnto whom I haue done so much good?
10 Many kings haue I destroyed for their sakes, *Pharao with his seruants, and all his ‖ power haue I smitten downe and slaine. *Exod.14.28. ‖Or, arme.
11 *And the nations haue I destroyed and rooted out before them, & in the East haue I brought two landes and people to nought, euen Tyre and Sidon, and haue slaine all their enemies. *Num.21.24. Ios.10.12.
12 Speake thou therefore vnto them, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, 13 *I led you thorow the sea, and gaue you sure streets since the beginning: and gaue you *Moses to be your captaine, and Aaron to be the Priest: *Exod.14.29. *Exod.3.10.
14 I gaue you *light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders haue I done among you: yet haue ye forgotten mee, saieth the Lord. *Exod.13.21.
15 Thus sayth the almightie Lorde, The *quailes were as a token for you. I gaue you tents for your ‖ succour, neuertheless in them ye murmured: *Exod.16.13. ‖Or, safegard.
16 And ‖ ascribed not the victorie of your enemies vnto my name, but euer to this day do ye yet murmure. ‖Or, and triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies.
17 Where are the benefites that I haue done for you? when ye were hungry in the wildernesse, did ye not cry vnto me, 18 Saying, *Why hast thou brought vs into this wildernesse to kill vs? It had bene better for vs to haue serued the Egyptians, then to die in this wildernesse. *Num.14.3.
19 The I had pitie vpon your mournings, and gaue you Manna to eate. *So ye did eate angels foode. *Sap.16.20.
20 When ye were *thirstie, did not I cleane the rocke, and waters flowed out, to satisfie you withall? for the heate, I couered you with the leaues of the trees. *Num.20.11.
21 A good pleasant fat land gaue I you: I cast out the Chananites, the Pherizites, and Philistines before you: *what shal I do moe for you, saith the Lord? *Esa.5.4.
22 Thus saith the almightie Lord, *When you were in the wildernes ‖ by the water of the Amozites, being a thirst, and blaspheming my name, *Exod.15.25. ‖Or, at the bitter waters.
23 I gaue you not ‖ fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree into the water, and made the riuer sweete. ‖Or, wood.
24 What shall I do vnto thee, O Iacob? thou Iuda wouldest *not obey mee: I will turne me to the other nations, and vnto those will I giue my name, that they may keepe my statutes. *Exod.32.8.
25 Seeing ye haue forsaken me, I will forsake you also. When ye desire me to bee gracious vnto you, I shall haue no mercie vpon you.
26 *When ye call vpon me, I will not heare you: for ye haue defiled your hads with blood, and your feete are swift to commit *Esai.1.15.

commit manslaughter.
27 Ye haue not as it were forsaken me, but your owne selues, saith the Lord.
28 Thus saith the almightie Lord, Haue I not prayed you, as a father his sonnes, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her yong babes, 29 That ye would bee my people, and I should be your God, that ye would be my children, & I should be your father?
Mat. 23. 37. 30 *I gathered you together, as a henne gathereth her chickes vnder her wings: but now, what shall I do vnto you? I will cast you out from my face.
Esai. 66. 3. 31 *When you offer vnto me, I will turne my face from you: for your solemne feast dayes, your new moones, and your circumcisions haue I forsaken.
32 I sent vnto you my seruants the Prophets, whome ye haue taken and slaine, and torne their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will ‖require of your handes, saith the Lord.
‖Or, reuenge.
33 Thus saith the almightie Lorde, Your house shalbe desolate, I will cast you out, as the wind doth stubble:
‖Or, haue procreation. 34 Your children shal not be fruitfull, for they haue despised my commandement, & done the thing that is euill before mee.
35 Your houses will I giue to a people that shall come, which not hauing heard of me, yet shall beleeue me: to whome I haue shewed no signes, yet they shall do that I haue commanded them.
‖Or, hate their iniquities. 36 They haue seene no Prophets, yet shal they ‖call their sinnes to remembrance, and knowledge them.
37 I will declare the grace that I will doe for the people that is to come, whose children reioyce in gladnesse: and though they haue not seene mee with bodily eyes, yet in spirite they beleeue the thing that I say.
‖Or, glory. 38 And now, brother, beholde what great ‖worship: and see the people that commeth from the East.
39 Vnto whome I will giue for leaders, Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, Oseas, Amos, and Michreas, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas.
Mal. 3. 1. a. 40 Nahum, and Habacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharie, & *Malachie, which is called also an angel or messenger of the Lorde.

The ii. Chapter.

2 The Synagogue findeth fault with her owne children. 18 The Gentiles are called.

1 THus saieth the Lorde, I brought this people out of bondage, I gaue them my commandements by my seruants the Prophetes, whome they would not heare, but despised my counsels.
2 The mother that bare them, saith vnto them, Goe your way ye children, for I am a widow and forsaken.
3 I brought you vp with gladnesse, but with sorowe and heauinesse haue I lost you, for ye haue sinned before the Lorde your God, and done that thing that is euill before him.
4 But what shall I nowe do vnto you? I am a widowe and forsaken: goe your way, O my children, and aske mercie of the Lorde.
5 As for me, O father, I call vpon thee for a witnesse ouer the mother of these children, which would not keepe my couenant:
6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a ſpoyle, that shee beare no more.
7 Let their names be scattered abroad among the heathen, let them be put out of the earth: for they haue ‖ thought scorne of my couenant.
‖Or, despised.
8 Woe be vnto thee, Assur, thou that hidest the vnrighteous in thee: thou wicked people, remember what I did vnto *Sodome and Gomorrhe,
Gen. 19. 21.
9 Whose lande is turned into clods of pitch, and heapes of ashes: euen so also will I do vnto all them that heare mee not, saith the almightie Lord.
10 Thus saieth the Lorde vnto Esdras, Tell my people that I will giue them the kingdom of Hierusalem, which I would haue giuen vnto Israel.
11 Their glorie also will I take vnto me, and giue them the euerlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for those.
12 They shal haue the tree of life at will, as in the sweete sauour of oyntment, they shall neither labour, nor be wearie.
13 Go ye your way, and ye shal receiue it: pray that there may be few dayes, and the long time may be thought to thee: the kingdome is alreadie prepared for you, therefore watch.
14 Take heauen and earth to witnesse, for I haue broken the euill in pieces, and created the good: for I liue, saieth the Lorde.
15 Mother, embrace thy children, & bring them vp with gladnesse, make their feete as fast as a pillar: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.
16 And those that be dead, will I raise vp againe from their places, and bring them out of the graues: for I haue knowen my name in Israel.
17 Feare not thou mother of the children: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.
18 And for thy helpe I shall send thee my seruants Esai and Jeremie, after whose counsaile I haue sanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees, laden with diuerse fruites.
19 And as many fountains flowing with milke and honey: and seuen mightie mountaines, whereupon there grewe roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with ioy.
20 Execute iustice for the widowe, iudge for the fatherlesse, giue to the poore, defend the fatherlesse, cloth the naked, 21 Heale the wounded and sicke, laugh not a lame man to scorne, defende the cripple, and let the blinde come into the sight of my clearenesse.

22 Keepe

22 Receyue the old and pong that are within thy walles.
23 * Wherefoeuer thou findeſt the dead, take them, and burie them, and I ſhall giue thee the firſt places in my reſurrectio.
24 Abide ſtill, O my people, and take thy reſt, for thy quietneſſe ſhall come.
25 Feede thy children, O thou good nurſe, ſtabliſh their feete.
26 As for the ſeruants whom I haue gi-uen thee, there ſhall not one of them periſh: for I will ſeeke them from among thy number.
27 Be not vnkarfe, for when the daye of trouble and heauineſſe commeth, other ſhall weepe and bee ſorowfull, but thou ſhalt be merry and plenteous.
28 The heathen ſhall bee ielous vpon it, but they ſhalbe able to doe nothing againſt thee, ſaith the Lord.
29 My hands ſhall couer thee, ſo that thy children ſhal not ſee the fire euerlaſting.
30 Be ioyfull, O thou mother, with thy children, for I will deliuer thee, ſaieth the Lorde.
31 Remember thy children that ſleepe, for I ſhall bring them out of the ſides of the earth, and ſhewe mercy vnto them:
for I am mercifull, ſaieth the Lorde al-mightie.
32 Embrace thy children vntill I come, and ſhewe mercy vnto them: for my well is runne ouer, and my grace ſhall not faile.
33 I Eſdras receiued a charge of the Lord vpon the mount Oreb, that I ſhould go vnto Iſrael: but when I came vnto the, they ſet me at nought, and deſpiſed the commandements of the Lord.
34 And therefore I ſaye vnto you, O ye heathen that heare and vnderſtande, Looke for your ſhepheard, he ſhall giue you euerlaſting reſt: for he is nigh at hād that ſhall come in the end of the world.
35 Be readye to the rewarde of the kings kingdome, for the euerlaſting light ſhall ſhine vpon you for euermore.
36 Flee the ſhadow of this world, receiue the ioyfulneſſe of your glorie: I teſtifie my Sauiour openly.
37 O receiue the gift that is giuen you, & be glad, giuing thanks vnto him that hath called you to the heauenly kingdome.
38 Riſe vp, and ſtande faſt, beholde the number of thoſe that bee ſealed vnto the feaſt of the Lord,
39 Which are departed from the ſhadow of the world, and haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.
40 Take thy number, O Sion, and ſhut vp thy purified, which haue fulfilled the lawe of the Lord.
41 The number of thy children whome thou longeſt for, is fulfilled: beſeech the power of the Lorde, that thy people which haue been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.
42 * I Eſdras ſawe vpon the mount Sion a great people, whom I could not number: and they all prayſed the Lord with songs of thankes giuing.
43 And in the midſt of them there was a yong man of an high ſtature, more excelling then all they, and vpon euery one of their heads he ſet crownes, and was exuer higher and higher, which I mar-uelled at greatly.
44 So I aſked the Angel, and ſaide, Sir,
what are theſe?
45 He anſwered and ſaid vnto mee, Theſe be they that haue put off the mortal clothing, and put on the immortall, and haue confeſſed and knowledged the name of God: now are they crowned, and receiue the reward.
46 Then ſaide I vnto the Angell, What yong perſon is it that crowneth them, & giueth them the Palmes in their hāds?
47 So he anſwered and ſaid vnto me, It is the Sonne of God, whome they haue confeſſed in the world: Then began
I greatly to commend them that ſtoode ſo ſtiffe for the name of the Lord.
48 Then the Angel ſaid vnto me, Goe thy way, and tell my people what maner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord thy God thou haſt ſeene.

The iii. Chapter.

The wonderous workes which God did for the people ſrom the beginning recited. 3 Eſdras marueileth that God ſuffereth the Babylonians to haue victorie ouer his people, ſeeing they are ſinners alſo.

1 In the thirtieth yeere after the fall of the citie, I was at Babylon, and lay troubled in my bed, & my thoughts came vpon my heart.
2 For I ſaw the deſolation of Sion, and the plenteous wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.
3 And my ſpirite was ſore moued, ſo that I began to ſpeake fearefull wordes to the moſt higheſt, and ſaid, 4 O Lord, Lord, thou ſpakeſt at the beginning, when thou plantedſt the earth (and that thy ſelfe alone) and gauſt commādement vnto the people,
5 And * boyde vnto Adā without ſoule, Gen.2.7.
which was a creature of thy handes, & Or, workemanſhip.
haſt breathed in him the breath of life, &
ſo he lined before thee:
6 And thou ledeſt him into paradiſe, which thy right hand had planted or e-uer the earth brought ſprinte:
7 And vnto him thou gauest commandement to loue thy wap, which he trans-greſſed, and immediatly thou appointedſt death in him, and in his generations: of whome came nations, tribes, people, and kinreds out of number.
8 And euery people * walked after their Gen.6.12.
owne will, and did wonderfull things before thee: and as for thy commandements, they deſpiſed.
9 * But in proceſſe of time thou broughteſt Gen.7.10.
the water flood vpō thoſe that dwelt Or, at times appointed.
in the world, and deſtroyedſt them.
10 So that by the flood, & was wrought in eche of the, that was by death in Adam.
11 Saue that thou leftſt, one of them thou leftſt, namely, Noah with his houſholde, of whome came all righteous men.

12 And

‖Or, came to passe.

12 And it ‖happened, that when they that dwelt vpō the earth began to multiply, and had gotte them many children, and were a great people, they began to bee more vngodly then the first.

13 Now when they lined so wickedly before thee, thou didst * chuse thee a man frō amōg them, whose name was Abiahā.

Gen. 12, 15.

14 Him thou louedst, and vnto him onely thou shewedst thy will;

15 And madest an euerlasting couenant with him, promising him ṗ thou wouldest neuer forsake his seede.

16 And vnto him thou gauest * Isahac, vnto Isahac also thou gauest Iacob & Esau. As for Iacob, thou diddest chuse him to thee, and * put backe Esau: and so Iacob became a great multitude.

Gen. 21, 2

Gen. 25. 25.

17 And it came to passe, that when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt, thou * broughtest thē vp to the mount Sina,

Deut. 4. 10.

18 Bowing downe the heauens, ‖ setting fast the earth, mouing the ground, making the depths to shake, and ‖troubling the world.

‖Or, abasing.

‖Or, astonishing.

19 And thy glorie went thorowe foure ‖ portes, of fire, and earthquakes, and windes, and colde, that thou mightest giue the lawe vnto the seede of Iacob, & ‖ diligence vnto the generation of Israel.

‖Or, gates.

‖Or, and that which the generation of Israel should keepe with diligence.

20 And yet tookest thou not away from them that wicked heart, that thy lawe might bring forth fruite in thē.

21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked * heart, trāsgressed, and was ouercome: and so be all they that are borne of him.

Gen. 3. 6.

22 Thus remained weakenesse still: and the law in the hearts of the people, with the wickednesse of the roote, so that the good departed away, and the euill abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeres were brought to an ende: then diddest thou * raise thee vp a seruant, called Dauid,

1. Reg. 16. 13. 2. reg. 5. 2.

24 Whome thou commandedst to builde a citie vnto thy name, and to offer vp incense and sacrifice vnto thee therein.

25 When this was done nowe many yeres, then the inhabiters of the citie forsoke thee.

26 And in all things did euen as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 And so thou gauest the citie ouer into the handes of thine enemies.

28 But doe they of Babylon then any thing better, that they shoulde therefore haue the dominion in Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and sawe there so great wickednesse that it coulde not bee numbred, then my soule sawe many euill doers in this thirtieth yere, so that my heart failed me:

30 For I sawe howe thou sufferedst them in such vngodlinesse, and sparedst the wicked doers: but thine owne people hast thou rooted out, and preserued thine enemies, and this hast thou not shewed ‖ me.

Or, it.

31 I can not perceiue howe this ‖ happeneth. Doe they of Babylon then better then they of Sion?

‖Or, commeth to passe.

32 Or is there * any other people that knoweth thee, saue the people of Israel? or what generation hath so beleeued thy ‖ couenants, as Iacob?

Iere. 10. 25.

‖Or, testimonies.

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, & their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here and there thorough the heathen, and I see that they bee ‖ riche and wealthie, and thinke not vpon thy commandements.

‖Or, flow in wealth.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednes now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the worlde: and so shall thy name be no where founde, but in Israel.

35 Or when was it that they which dwell vpon earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commandements?

36 Thou shalt finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts: but not other people and heathen.

The iiii. Chapter.

The Angel reproueth Esdras, because he seemeth to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

1 And the Angel that was sent vnto mee, whose name was Vriel, gaue me an answere,

2 And saide, Thy heart hath taken too much vpon it in this worlde, and thou thinkest to comprehende the way of the highest.

3 Then saide I, Yea, my Lord. And hee answered me, & said, I am sent to shewe thee three wayes, and to set forth thee similitudes before thee:

4 Whereof, if thou canst declare me one, I will shewe thee also the way that thou desirest to see: and I shall shewe thee frō whence the wicked heart commeth.

5 And I said, Tell on, my Lord. Then said he vnto me, Go thy way, weigh me the weight of ṗ fire, or measure me the blast of the winde, or call me againe the daye that is past.

6 Then answered I, and said, What mā borne is able to do that, that thou shouldest aske such things of me?

7 And he said vnto me, If I should aske thee howe deepe dwellings are in the middest of the sea, or howe great water springs are in ṗ beginning of the deepe, or how great water springs are vpon the stretching out of the heauens, or which are the ‖ outgoings of paradise:

‖Or, borders.

8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto mee, I neuer went downe yet into the deepe, nor hell, neither did I euer clime vp into heauen.

9 Neuertheles, nowe haue I asked thee but onely of fire and winde, and of the day wherethorough thou hast trauailed, and from the which thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou giue mee no answere of them.

10 He said moreouer vnto me, Thine owne things, and such as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not know?

11 How

21 How should thy vessell then be able to comprehend the way of the highest, and now outwardly in the corrupt world to understand the corruption that is evident in my sight?
12 Then said I unto him, It were better that wee were not at all, then that wee should live in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherefore.
Judg.9.8. 2.Esdras.25,18. 13 He answered me, and said, I * came to a forest in a plaine, and the trees tooke such a deuice,
14 And said, Come, let us go, and fight against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that wee may make yet more woods.
15 The floods of the sea also in like maner tooke counsell, and said, Come, let us goe up, and fight against þ trees of the wood, that there wee may make us another countrey.
16 The thought and deuice of the wood was but vayne and nothing worth, for the fire came and consumed it.
17 The thought of þ floods of the sea came likewise to nought also: for þ land stoode up and stopped them.
18 If thou were iudge now betwixt these two, whome wouldest thou iustifie, or whom wouldest thou condemne?
19 I answered and said, Verily it is a fo-lish thought that they both haue deuised:
for the ground is giuen unto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to beare his floods.
20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast giuen a right iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thy selfe also?
Esa.55.8. Wisd.3.12. Ecclus.2,13. 21 For like as the ground is giuen unto the wood, and the sea to his floods: * euen so they that dwell upon earth, may understand nothing but that which is upon earth: and he that dwelleth aboue the heauens, may onely understand the things that are aboue the heauens.
22 Then answered I, and saide, I beseech thee, O Lord, let me haue understanding:
Or, to enquire. 23 For it was not my minde ‖ to be curious of thy high things, but of such as we daily meddle withall, namely, as wherefore Israel is giuen up as a reproch to the heathen, and for what cause the people whome thou hast loued, is giuen ouer unto ungodly nations, and why Or, ordinances. the lawe of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written ‖ couenants come to none effect:
24 And we passe away out of the worlde as the grashoppers, and our life is a very feare, and we are not worthy to ob-tayne mercy.
25 What will he then doe unto his name which is called upon ouer us? Of these things haue I asked question.
26 Then answered he me, and sayde, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt marueil: for the worlde hasteth fast to passe away,
27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is full of unrighteousnesse and weakenesse.
28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I will tell thee: The euil is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.
29 If the euill now that is sowen, bee not turned vpside downe, and if the place where the euill is sowen passe not away:
then cannot the thing come that is sowen with good.
30 For the corne of euill seede hath bene sowen in the heart of Adam from the beginning: and how much ungodlinesse hath he brought up unto this time? and how much shall he yet bring forth untill he come into the barne?
31 Ponder nowe by thy selfe howe great fruit of wickednesse the corne of euill seed bringeth forth.
32 And when the stalkes shall bee cut downe, which are without number, how great a barne shall it fill?
33 Then I answered and said, How, and when shall these things come to passe?
wherefore are our yeres fewe and euill?
34 And he answered me, saying, Haste not thou too much aboue the most highest:
for thy hastinesse to be aboue him, is but vaine, though þ do all þ thou canst for it.
35 Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shal I hope on this fashion? when cometh the fruit of my barne, and our reward?
36 And upon this, Jeremiel the archangel gaue them answere, and said, Euen whe the nũber of the seedes is filled in you, for he hath weighed þ world in the balance.
37 In measure & number hath he measured the times, and moueth it not, nor shaketh it, untill the said measure be fulfilled.
38 Then answered I, and sayde, O Lorde,
Lord, now are we all full of sinne:
39 And for our sake peraduenture it is that the barne of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of þ sinnes of them that dwell upon the earth.
40 So he answered me, and said, Goe thy way to a woman with child, and aske of her, when she hath fulfilled her nine mo-neths, if her wombe may keepe the birth any longer within her?
41 Then said I, No, Lord, that can she not.
And he sayd unto mée, In the graue, the secret places of soules are like þ wombe of a woman:
42 For like as a woman that trauaileth, maketh haste to escape the necessitie of the trauell: euen so doe these places haste to deliuer those things that are committed unto them.
43 Looke what thou desirest to see, it shall be shewed thée from the beginning.
44 Then answered I, and said, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be mete therefore, 45 Shewe me then whether there be more to come then is past, or more past then is for to come.

46 What is past, I knowe: but what is for to come, I know not.
47 And he sayd vnto mée, Stand vp vpon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude vnto thee.
48 So I stoode, and behold, an hote burning ouen passed by before mée: and it happened, that whe the flame was gone by, I looked, and behold, the smoke had the vpper hand:
49 After this there passed by before mée a warrie cloude, and sent downe much raine with a storme: and when ꝑ stormie raine was past, ‖ ꝑ drops remained still.
‖ Or, the little drops came after.
50 Then said he vnto mee, Consider with thy selfe: like as the raine is more then the drops, and as the fire exceédeth the smoke: euen so, the measure of the things that are past hath the vpper hand, and the drops and smoke worke much in quantitie.
51 Then I prayed, and sayd, May I liue thinkest thou vntill that time? or what shall happen in those dayes?
52 He answered me, and sayde, As for the tokens whereof thou askest mee, I may tell thée of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shewe thée: for I doe not knowe it.

The v. Chapter.

1 In the latter times trueth shalbe hid, vnrighteousnesse and all wickednesse shall reigne in the world.

1 NEuertheleslle, as concerning the tokens marke this: beholde, the dayes shall come, that they which dwell vpon earth shalbe taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth shall bee hid, and the land shalbe barren frō faith:
Mat. 24. 4. 2 But * iniquitie shal be encreased aboue that which nowe thou seest, or that thou hast heard long agoe.
3 And the land that thou seest nowe to haue rule, shalt thou shortly see waste.
4 But if GOD graunt thée to liue, thou shalt see after the third trumpet, that the sunne shall sodainly shine againe in the night, and the moone three times in the day:
5 And blood shall dropp out of wood, and the stone shal giue his voyce, and the people shall be vnquieted:
6 And euen he shal rule, whom they hope not that dwel vpon earth, and the foules shall flit:
7 And the Sodomitish sea shall cast out the fish, and make a noyse in the night, which many haue not knowen: but they shall all heare the voyce thereof.
8 There shalbe a confusion also in many places, and fyre shalbe oft sent out againe: and the wylde beastes shal change their places, and menstruous women shal beare monsters.
9 And salt waters shalbe found in the swéete, and all friends shall fight one against another: then shall all witte and vnderstanding be hid, and put aside into their secret places,
10 And shalbe sought of many, and yet not be found: then shall vnrighteousnesse and ‖ voluptuousnesse haue the vpper hand vpon earth.
‖ Or, incontinencie.
11 One land also shall aske another, and say, Is righteousnesse that ‖ maketh a man righteous, gone thorowe thée? And it shall say, No.
‖ Or, that iustifieth, or, doth right wisely.
12 At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obteine: they shall labour, but their wayes shall not prosper.
13 To shew thée such tokens I haue leaue: and if thou wilt pray againe, and weepe as now, and fast seuen daies, thou shalt heare yet greater things.
14 Then I awaked, and a fearefulnesse went thorow all my body, and my mind was feéble, so that I almost swooned withall.
15 So the angell that was come to talke with me, held me, comforted me, and set me vp vpon my feete.
16 And in the second night it came to passe, that Salathiel the captaine of the people came vnto me, saying, Where hast thou bene? and why is thy countenance so heauie?
17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thée in the land of their captiuitie?
18 Vp then, and eate, and forsake vs not as the shepheard that leaueth his flocke in the hands of ‖ wicked wolues.
‖ Or, cruell.
19 Then said I vnto him, Goe thy wayes fro me, and come not nigh mée. And whe heard it, and as I sayde, so he went his way from me.
20 And so I fasted seuen daies, mourning and weeping, like as Vriel ꝑ angel commanded me.
21 And after seuen dayes so it was, that ꝑ thoughts of my heart were very grieuous vnto me againe:
22 And my soule receiued the spirit of vnderstanding, and I began to talke with the most highest againe,
23 And said, O Lord, Lords, of euery wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thée one only vineyard:
24 And of all landes of the whole world, thou hast chosen thee one pit: and of all flowres of the ground, thou hast chosen thée one lillie:
25 And of all the depths of the sea, thou hast filled thée one riuer: and of all builded cities, thou hast halowed Sion vnto thy selfe:
26 And of all ꝑ fowles ꝑ are created, thou hast named thée one Doue: and of all the cattell that are made, thou hast prouided thee one shéepe:
27 And among all the multitudes of peoples, thou hast gotten thée one people: and vnto this people whome thou louedst, thou gauest a lawe that is prooued of all.
28 And now, O Lorde, why hast thou giuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one roote thou hast ‖ prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thy one onely people among many?
‖ Or, set.

29 Which

29 Which tread them downe, yea which haue euer withstood thy promises, and neuer beleeued thy couenants.
30 If thou diddest so much hate thy people, yet shouldest thou punish them with thine owne hands.
31 Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to mee the night afore, was sent vnto me, 32 And saide vnto mee, Heare mée, and I will instruct thée, hearken to the thing that I say, and I shall tell thée more.
33 And I saide, Speake on, my Lorde. Then said he vnto mee, Thou art sore troubled in minde for Israels sake: louest thou that people better then he that made them?
34 And I said, No Lord, but of very grief and compassion haue I spoken: for my reines paine me euery houre, because I would ‖ haue experience of the way of the most highest, and seeke out part of his iudgement.
35 And he said vnto me, That thou ‖ mayest not. And I saide, Wherefore, Lorde? whereunto was I borne then? or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue, that I might not haue seene the miserie and trouble of Jacob, and the wasting out of the stocke of Israel?
36 And he saide vnto me, Number me the things that are not yet come, gather me together the droppes that are scattered abroade, make me the flowres greene againe that are withered,
37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the windes that in them are shutte vp, shewe me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to thée the thing that thou labourest to knowe.
38 And I saide, O Lorde, Lorde, who may knowe these things, but hee that hath not his dwelling with men?
39 As for mée, I am vnwise: howe may I then speake of these thinges whereof thou askest me?
40 Then saide he vnto mee, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I haue spoken of: euen so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, or in the ende the loue that I haue promised vnto my people.
41 And I sayd, Beholde, O Lorde, yet art thou nigh vnto them that bee reserued till the ende: and what shal they doe that haue bene before me, or we that be now, or they that shal come after vs?
42 And he sayde vnto me, I will liken my iudgement vnto a ring: Like as there is no slacknesse of the last, euen so there is no swiftnesse of the first.
43 So I answered and saide, Couldest thou not make those ‖ haue bene made, and be nowe, and that are for to come, at once, that thou mightest shew thy iudgement the sooner?
44 Then answered he me, and sayde, The creature may not haste ‖ aboue the maker, neither may the worlde holde them at once that shalbe created therein.
45 And he sayde, As thou hast sayd vnto thy seruant, that thou which quickenest all things, hast giuen life at once to the creature or worke that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: euen so might it nowe also beare them that nowe be present at once.
46 And he sayde vnto me, Aske ‖ a woman of a woman, and say vnto her, If thou bringest forth children, why doest thou it not together, but one after another? Pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.
47 And I sayd, Shee can not: but must do it by by distance of time.
48 Then said he vnto me, Euen so haue I diuided the distance of time the childbed of the earth, for those that be sowen vpon her.
49 For like as a young childe may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, euen so haue I ordeined ‖ the worlde which I created. ‖ Or, the time.
50 And I asked, and saide, Séeing thou hast nowe giuen me the way, I will proceede to speake before thée: for our mother, of whom thou hast tolde mee that thee is young, draweth shee nowe nigh vnto age?
51 He answered me, and saide, Aske a woman that beareth children, and thee shal tell thee.
52 Say vnto her, Wherefore are not they whome thou hast nowe brought forth, like those that were before thée, but lesse of stature?
53 And shee shall answere thée, They that be borne in the youth of strength, are of one fashion: and they that are borne in the time of age (when the wombe faileth) are otherwise.
54 Consider now thy selfe, howe that yée are lesse of stature, then those that were before you:
55 And so are they that come after you lesse then yee, as the creatures which nowe begin to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.
56 Then saide I, Lord, I beseech thée, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, shewe thy seruant by whome thou visitest thy ‖ creature. ‖ Or, worke or maship.

The vi. Chapter.

1 God hath foreséene all things in his secret counsaile, and is auéthour thereof, & hath created thē for his children, 25 The felicitie of the age to come.

1 And he saide vnto me, In the beginning when the ‖ ground was made, before the borders of the worlde stoode, or euer the windes blewe, ‖ Or, compasse of the earth.
2 Before it thundred & lightened, or euer the foundations of Paradise were laide,
3 Before the faire flowres were seene, or euer the moueable powers were established, before the innumerable ‖ multitude of angels were gathered together, ‖ Or, armies.
4 Or euer the highnesse of the aire were lifted vp, afore the measures of the fir-

Or, comprehend.
Or, cannot.
Or, before.

mament were named, or euer the chimnepes in Sion were hot.

5 And per the prefent peeres were fought out, and per euer the inuentions of them that nowe sinne were ‖put aside, before they were sealed that haue gathered faith for a treasure:

‖Or, turned away.

6 Then did I consider and ponder al these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by mee also they shalbe ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and said, What shalbe the ‖parting asunder of the times? or when shalbe the ende of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

‖Or, diuision.

8 And he said vnto mee, From Abraham vnto Isahac, when Jacob and Esau were borne of him, Jacobs *hand helde first the heele of Esau:

Gen. 25. 27.

9 For Esau is the ende of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man, betwixt the heele & the hand: Other question, Esdras, aske thou not.

11 I answered then, and said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee ‖shew thy seruant the end of thy tokens, wherof thou shewedst me part the last night.

‖Or, make an ende to shewe thy seruant thy tokens.

13 So he answered, and saide vnto mée, Stand vp vpon thy feete, and heare ‖a perfect voyce and sounde.

‖Or, mighty.

14 There shall come a ‖great motion, but the place where thou standest, shal not be moued.

‖Or, an earthquake.

15 And therefore when ‖thou hearest the words, be not afraide, for of the ende shal the worde be, and of the foundation of þ earth shall it be vnderstood.

‖Or, when he speaketh.

16 And why? the word thereof trembleth and quaketh: for it knoweth that it must be changed at the ende.

17 And it happened, that when I had heard it, I stoode vp vpon my feete, & hearkened: and behold, there was a voice that spake, and the sounde of it, was like the sound of many waters,

18 And it said, Behold, the dayes come, that I will begin to drawe nigh, and to visite them that dwel vpon earth:

19 And wil begin to make inquisition of them, what they bee that haue hurt vniustly with their vnrighteousnesse, and when the lowe estate of Sion shalbe fulfilled.

20 And when the worlde that shal vanish away shalbe ouersealed, then wil I doe these tokens: the bookes shalbe opened before the ‖firmament, and they shall see altogether:

‖Or, heauen.

21 And the children of a peere olde shall speake with their voyces, the women with childe shall bring forth vntimely children of three or foure moneths olde, and they shall liue, and be raised vp.

22 And sodainely shall the sowen places appeare as the vnsowen, the full storehouses shall sodainely be found emptie:

23 And the Trumpet shal giue a sounde, which when euery man heareth, they shalbe hastily afraide.

24 At that time shall friendes fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stande in feare with them: the springes of the welles shall stande stil, & in three houres they shal not runne.

25 Whosoeuer remaineth from all these things that I haue tolde thee, shall escape, and see my saluation, and the ende of your worlde.

‖Or, he shall be saued.

26 And the men that are receiued shall see it, they that haue not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabiters shalbe chãged, and turned into another meaning.

‖Or, inhabiters.

27 For enill shalbe put out, and deceite shalbe quenched.

28 As for faith, it shall florish, corruption shalbe ouercome, & þ trueth which hath bene so long without fruite, shalbe declared.

‖Or, shewed forth.

29 And when he talked with me, behold, I looked a little and a little vpon him, before whome I stoode:

30 And these words saide hee vnto mee, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night for to come.

31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seuen dayes againe, I shall tel thée more things, and greater then before, which I haue heard by the day.

32 For thy voyce is heard before the highest: for why? the mightie hath seene thy righteous dealing, he hath seene also thy chastitie which thou hast had euer since thy youth:

33 And therefore hath he sent me to shewe thée al these things, and to say vnto thée, Bée of good comfort and feare not:

34 And haste not with the times that are past, to thinke vaine thinges, that thou maiest not hasten from the latter times.

35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept againe, and fasted seuen dayes in like maner, that I might fulfil the three weekes which he tolde me.

36 And in the eight night was my heart vexed within me againe, and I began to speake before the highest.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse:

38 And I saide, O Lord, thou spakest vnto thy creature from the beginning, euen þ first day, and saidest, Let *heauen and earth be made: and thy word was a perfect worke.

Gen. 1. 1.

39 And then was there the spirit, and the darknesses were set on euery side, and silence: there was no mans voyce as yet from thée.

40 Then commandedst thou a ‖faire light to come forth of thy treasures, that thy worke might appeare and be seene.

‖Or, bright.

41 Vpon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a diuision betwixt the waters, that þ one part might remaine aboue, and the other other beneath.

42 Vpon the third day thou broughtest to passe that the waters were gathered in the seuenth part of the earth: fiue partes hast thou dried vp, and kept them, ‖ to the intent that men might sowe and occupie husbandry therein.

Or, to the intent that of them, there might be some to minister before thee sowen of God, and tylled.

43 As soone as thy word went forth, the worke was made:

44 For immediatly there was great and innumerable fruite, and many diuers pleasures for the taste, and flowres of vnchangeable colour, and odours of wonderfull smell: And this was done the third day.

45 Vpon the fourth day thou commandedst þ the Sunne should giue his shine, and the Moone her light, the Starres diddest thou set in order:

Deut.4.9. 46 And * gauest them a charge to doe seruice, euen vnto man that was to bee made.

Gen.1.21. 47 * Vpon the fifth day, thou saidest vnto the seuenth part where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth diuers beasts, foules, and fishes: and so it came to passe.

48 For the dumbe water and without soule, brought forth liuing things at the commandement of God, that all ‖ people might praise thy wonderous workes.

Or, the nations.

49 Then diddest thou ordeine two soules, the one thou calledst ‖ Enoch, and the other Leuiathan,

Or, Behemoth.

50 And diddest separate the one from the other: for þ seuenth part (namely, where the water was gathered together) might not holde them both.

Or, Behemoth.

51 Vnto ‖ Enoch thou gauest one part, which was dried vp the thirde day, that he should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hilles.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuenth part, namely the moyst, and hast kept him to deuoure what thou wilt, and when.

53 Vpon the sixth day thou gauest commandement vnto the earth, that before thée it should bring foorth beast, cattell, and all that créepe:

54 And besides this, Adam also, whome thou madest lorde of all thy creatures, of him come wee all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen, specially vnto thy selfe.

55 All this haue I spoken before thée, O Lord, that I might shew how that þ worlde is made for our sakes.

56 As for the other people which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, but be like vnto spittle, and hast likened the abundance of them vnto a droppe that falleth from a vessell.

57 And now, O Lorde, beholde, the Heathen which haue ever bene reputed as nothing, haue begunne to be lords ouer vs, and to deuoure vs:

58 But we thy people (whome thou hast called thy first borne, thy onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are giuen into their hands and power.

59 If the worlde nowe bée made for our sakes, why haue wée not the inheritance of the worlde in possession? How long shall this endure?

The vii. Chapter.

5 Without tribulation none can come to felicitie 12 God aduertiseth all in time. 28 The comming and death of Christ. 32 The resurrection and last iudgement.

1 AND when I had made an ende of speaking these wordes, there was sent vnto mée an Angel, which had bene sent vnto me also the nightes afore:

2 And he said vnto mée, Vp Esdras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speake on Lorde my God. Then sayd he vnto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might bée déepe and great.

4 But put case the entrance is narrowe and small, like a riuer.

5 Who then could go into the sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? If hee went not thorowe the narrowe, howe might hée come into the broade?

6 Item ‖ another. A citie is builded, and set vpon a broade fielde, and is full of all good things:

Or, again.

7 The entrance thereof is narrowe, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire at the right hand, and a déepe water at the left,

8 And as it were onely one strait path betwixt them both, euen betweene the fire and the water, so small that there coulde but one man goe there at once:

9 If this citie now were giuen to a man for an inheritance, and hée neuer went thorowe the perillous way before, howe would he receiue his inheritance?

10 And I saide, It is so, Lord. Then sayde he, Euen so also is Israels portion.

11 And why? for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thing so appointed as nowe is done.

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narrowe, full of sorowe and trauaile: they are but fewe and euill, full of perilles and labour.

13 For the entrances of the foreworlde were wide and sure, and brought immortall fruite.

14 If then they which are liuing, enter not diligently thorowe these straite and brittle things, they cannot receiue the things so laid vp in secrete.

15 Why disquietest thou thy selfe then, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? And why art thou moued, whereas thou art but mortall?

16 And why hast thou not receiued into thine heart, the things that are to come, rather then them that are present?

17 Then sayd * I, O Lord, Lord, thou hast ordeined in thy lawe, that the righteous should inherite these things, but that the vngodly should perish: Deut.8.3.

18 Neuertheleſſe, the righteous ſhall ſuffer ſtraite things, and hope for wide: for they that haue liued vngodly, and ſuffered ſtraite things, ſhall not ſee the wide.
19 And he ſaid vnto me, There is no iudge aboue GOD, and none that hath vnderſtanding aboue the higheſt.
20 For there bee many that periſh in this life, becauſe they deſpiſe the lawe of God
‖ Or, appointed them. that ‖ is ſet before them:
21 For God hath giuen ſtraite commandement to ſuch as came, ſo oft as they came, what they ſhoulde doe to haue life, and what they ſhould keepe to auoyde punishment.
22 Neuertheleſſe, they were not obedient vnto him, but ſpake againſt him, & imagined vaine things:
23 And deceiued themſelues by wicked deedes, and denied the power of the moſt high, and regarded not his wayes,
24 But his lawe haue they deſpiſed, and denied his promiſes: in his ſtatutes and ordinances haue they not bene faithfull and ſtedfaſt, and haue not performed his workes.
25 And therefore Eſdras, for the emptie, are the emptie things, and for the full, are the full things.
26 Behoulde, the time ſhall come, that theſe tokens which I haue tolde thee, ſhall come to paſſe, and the bride ſhall appeare, and the comming forth ſhalbe ſeene, that nowe is vnder the earth:
27 And whoſoeuer is delinered from the foreſaid euils, ſhall ſee my wonders.
28 For my ſonne Jeſus ſhalbe openly declared, with thoſe that be with him, and they that remaine, ſhalbe merrie within foure hundred yeres.
29 After theſe ſame yeeres ſhall my ſonne Chriſt die, and all men that haue life.
30 And the world ſhalbe turned into the olde ſilence ſeuen dayes, like as in the former iudgements, ſo that no man ſhall remaine.
31 And after ſeuen dayes the worlde that yet awaketh not, ſhalbe raiſed vp, and that ſhall die that is corrupt.
32 And the earth ſhall reſtore thoſe that haue ſlept in her, & ſo ſhal the duſt thoſe y dwell therein in ſilence, and the ſecrete places ſhall deliuer thoſe the ſoules that were committed vnto them.
33 And the moſt higheſt ſhalbe openly declared vpon the ſeate of iudgement, and all miſerie ſhall vaniſh away, and long ‖ Or, haue an ende. ſuffering ‖ ſhalbe gathered together.
34 But the iudgement ſhall continue, the trueth ſhall remaine, and faith ſhal waxe ſtrong, 35 The worke ſhall followe, and the reward ſhalbe ſhewed, the ‖ righteouſneſſe
‖ Or, the good deeds ſhalbe of force. ſhall watch, and the vnrighteouſneſſe ſhall beare no rule.
Gen. 18. 23. Exod. 32. 11. 36 Then ſayd I, Abraham prayed * firſt for the Sodomites, and * Moſes for the fathers that ſinned in the wilderneſſe.
37 And they that came after him, for Iſrael, in the time of Achas and Samuel, 38 And * Dauid for the deſtruction, and * Solomon for them that came into the ſanctuarie, 39 And * Helias for thoſe that receiued rame, and for ỳ dead, that he might liue,

3. King. 17. 21.
40 And * Ezechias for the people in ỳ time of Sennacherib, and diuers other in like maner, which haue prayed for many.
4. King. 9. 15.
41 Euen ſo nowe, ſeeing the ‖ corrupt is growen vp, and wickednes increaſed, & the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly: wherefore ſhall it not be ſo nowe alſo?
‖ Or, vice.
42 He anſwered me and ſayde, This preſent life is not the end, oft times honour is retained in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.
43 But the day of dome ſhalbe the ende of this time, and the beginning of the immortalitie for to come, wherein all corruption ſhalbe vaniſhed.
44 Intemperancie ſhalbe looſed, infidelitie be cut off, righteouſneſſe growe, and the veritie ſpring vp.
45 Then ſhall no man be able to ſaue him that is deſtroyed, nor to oppreſſe him that hath gotten the victorie.
46 I anſwered then, and ſayde, This is my firſt and laſt ſaying, that it had bene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam: or elſe when it was giuen him, to haue kept him that he ſhould not haue ſinned.
47 For what profite is it for men nowe in this preſent time to liue in heauineſſe, and after death to looke for punishment?
‖ Or, feare.
48 O thou Adam, what haſt thou done? For * though it was thou that ſinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we all that come of thee.
Rom. 5. 15.
49 For what profit is it vnto vs, if there bee promiſed vs an immortall ‖ time, whereas we do the workes ỳ bring death:
‖ Or, life.
50 And that there is promiſed vs an euerlaſting hope, whereas our ſelues are euill and vaine:
51 And that there is laide vp for vs dwellings of health and ſafetie, whereas wee haue liued wickedly:
52 And that the glorie of the higheſt is kept to defend them which haue ledde a patiẽt life, whereas we haue walked in the moſt wicked wayes of all:
53 And that there ſhould be ſhewed a paradiſe, whoſe fruite endureth for euer, wherein ‖ is freedome & medicine, where-‖ Or, ſafetie and health. as we ſhall not goe in?
54 (For wee haue walked in vnpleaſant places.)
55 And that the faces of them which haue abſtrined, ſhall ſhine aboue the ſtarres: whereas our faces ſhalbe blacker then darkeneſſe?
56 For while we liued and did vnrighteouſly, we conſidered not that we ſhould ſuffer therefore after death.
57 Then anſwered hee mee, and ſayde, This is the maner of the battaile, which man ỳ is borne vpon the earth ſhal fight, 58 That if he be ouercome, hee ſhall ſuffer as as thou hast saide: but if hee get the victorie, hee shall receiue the thing that I say.

59 For this is the life whereof Moses spake vnto the people while hee liued, saying, Chose thée *life, that thou mayest liue. *Deu. 30.16.

60 Neuertheless they beleeued him not, neither the Prophets after him, no nor me which haue saide vnto them, 61 That heauinesse should not so be vnto their destruction, like as ioy is for to come ouer those ‖ that haue suffered thémselues to be enfourmed in saluation. ‖Or, to whom saluation is perswaded.

62 I answered then, and saide, I knowe, Lord, that the highest is called mercifull, in that he hath mercy vpon them which are not yet come vnto that world, 63 And vpon those also that walke in his lawe.

64 And that he is *patient, for hee long suffereth those that haue sinned, as his creatures. *Psa. 2.4.

65 And that he is liberall to giue, whereas néede requireth.

66 And that he is of great mercie: for hee palleth in mercy much both those that are present, and that are past, and also them which are for to come.

67 For if he multiplyed not his mercies, the world could not continue his being with those that haue inheritance therein.

68 He ‖giueth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnesse, that they which haue done euill, might bee eased from their wickednesse, the ten thousãd part of men should not remaine liuing. ‖Or, forgiueth.

69 And if hee, being iudge, forgaue not those that be healed with his worde, and tooke not away the multitude of contẽtions, 70 There should be very fewe left, peradventure in an innumerable multitude.

The viii. Chapter.

6 The workes of God are excellent. 20 Esdras praieth for him and for his people. 39 The promise of saluation vnto the iust.

1 And he answered mee, saying, The most highest made this world for many, but þ world to come for few.

2 I will tell thée a similitude, Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thée that it giueth much ‖ mould whereof earthen vessels are made, but little of it that gold commeth of: euen so is it with the worke of this world. ‖Or, earthy matter.

3 There bee *many created, but fewe shall be saued. *Mat. 20.16.

4 Then answered I, and saide, Then swallowe vp the wit (O my soule) and deuoure the vnderstanding:

5 For thou art agréed to hearken and to giue eare, and willing to prophecie: for thou hast no longer space but this life giuen thée.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant to entreate thee, that thou mayest giue séede vnto our heart, and builde our vnderstanding, that there may come fruite of it, whereby eche man may liue that is corrupt: then who shal steppe forth in þ place of man?

7 For thou art alone, and we al one worke manship of thy handes like as thou hast saide.

8 For when the body is fashioned now in the mothers wombe, and thou giuest þ members, thy creature is preserued in fire and water, and nine moneths doeth thy worke suffer thy creature which is fashioned in her:

9 But the thing that kéepeth, and that is kept, shal both be preserued: and when the time commeth, the wombe preserued deliuereth vp the things that grewe in it.

10 For thou hast commaunded the parts of the body, euen the breastes, to giue milke vnto the fruite of the breastes:

11 That the thing which is created and fashioned, may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest and ordrest it with thy mercy.

12 And then thou bringest it vp with thy righteousnesse, nurturest it in thy lawe, and reformest it with thy vnderstanding, 13 ‖Mortifiest it as thy creature, and maiest it liuing as thy worke. ‖Or, slayest.

14 Séeing then that thou destroyest him which with so great labour is created & fashioned through thy commaundement, thou couldest lightly ordaine also that the thing which is made, might bee preserued.

15 Now therefore, Lord, I wil speake, (for concerning all men in general thou shalt rather prouide) but touching thy people, for whose sake I am sory,

16 And thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourne, and Israel, for whome I am woeful, and Iacob, for whose sake I am grieued:

17 Therefore beginne I to pray before thée for my selfe, and for them: for I sée the faultes of vs that dwel in the land.

18 But I haue heard the ‖ swiftnesse of the iudge which is to come. ‖Or, sodaine comming.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and vnderstande my wordes, and I shall speake before thee. This is the beginning of the wordes of Esdras, before hée was taken vp:

20 O Lord, thou that dwellest in euerlastingnesse, which beholdest from aboue things in the heauen and in the aire:

21 Whose throne is inestimable, whose glorie and maiestie may not bee comprehended, before whome the hostes of angels stande with trembling,

22 Whose kéeping is turned in winde and fire, whose worde is true, whose sayings are stedfast, whose commaundement is strong, whose ordinance is feareful, 23 Whose looke drieth vp the depthes, whose wrath maketh the mountaines to melt away, and ‖ whose truth beareth witnesse: ‖Or, as the effect it selfe beareth witnesse.

24 O heare the prayer of thy seruant, and marke with thine eares the petition of thy creature.
25 For while I liue, I will speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answere.
26 O looke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then on them which serue thee in trueth.
27 Haue no respect vnto the wicked studies of the Heathen: but to the desire of those that keepe thy testimonies with afflictions.
28 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before thee: but remember them which according to thy will haue knowen thy feare.
29 Let it not bee thy will to destroy them which haue had beastly maners: but to looke vpon them & haue clearely taught thy lawe.
30 Take thou no indignation at them which ‖are worse then beastes: but loue them that alway put their trust in thy righteousnes and glory. ‖Or, appeare.
31 For wee and our fathers haue all the same sickenesse and disease, but because of vs sinners, thou shalt bee called mercifull.
32 For if thou hast mercie vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull to vs that haue no workes of righteousnesse.
33 For the righteous which haue laide vp many good workes together, shal out of their deedes receiue reward.
34 But what is man that thou thouldest take displeasure at him? Or what is this corruptible and mortal generation, that thou thouldest bee so rough towarde him?
35 For of a *truth there is no man among them & bee borne, but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the ‖faithfull, there is none which hath not done amisse. 3. Reg. 8. 46. 2. chro. 6. 36. ‖Or, such as confesse thee.
36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousnesse and thy goodnesse shalbe praised and declared, if thou bee mercifull vnto them which ‖are not rich in good workes. ‖Or, haue not the substance of good workes.
37 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according vnto thy wordes it shalbe.
38 For I will not verily consider the workes ‖of them which haue sinned before death, before iudgement, before destruction: ‖Or, of the wicked.
39 *But I will reioyce ouer the worke and thought of the righteous. I will remember also the pilgrimage, the salvation, and the reward that they shall haue. Gen. 4. 4.
40 Like as I haue spoken now, so shall it come to passe.
41 For as the husbandman soweth much seede vpon the ground, and planteth many trées, and yet alway the thing that is sowen or planted, is not al kept safe, neither doeth it all take roote: euen *so is it of them that are sowen in the world, they shal not all be saued. Mat. 13. 4. and 20. 16.
42 I answered then, and saide, If I haue found grace, then let me speake.
43 Like as the husbandmans seede perisheth, if it come not vp, and receiue not thy raine in due season, or if there come too much raine vpon it, and corrupt it:
44 Euen so perisheth man also, which is created with thy handes, and is like vnto thine owne image, and to thy selfe, for whose sake thou hast made al things, and likened him vnto the husbandmans seede.
45 Bee not wroth with vs, O Lorde, but spare thy people, and haue mercy vpon thine owne inheritance: for thou wilt be merciful vnto thy creature.
46 Then answered hee mee, and saide, Things present, are for the present, and things to come, for such as be to come.
47 For thou lackest yet much, seeing thou canst loue my creature aboue me: but I haue oft times drawen nigh vnto thee, and vnto it, but neuer to the vnrighteous.
48 In this also thou art maruellous before the highest.
49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to be much glorified among the righteous.
50 For many and great miseries remaine for them that in the latter time shal dwel in the worlde, because they ‖haue walked in great pride. ‖Or, shall walk.
51 But understand thou for thy selfe, and séeke out the glory for such as bee like thée.
52 For vnto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made readie, the citie is builded for you, & rest is prepared, yea perfect goodnesse and wisedome.
53 The roote of euil is ‖marked from you, the weakenesse & moth is hid from you, and vnto hel fleeth corruption in forgetfulnesse. ‖Or, sealed vp.
54 Sorowes are banished away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.
55 And therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.
56 For when they had taken libertie, they despised the highest, thought scorne of his law, and forscoke his wayes.
57 Moreouer, they haue troden downe his righteous,
58 And saide in their *heart, that there is no God, ‖yea & that wittingly, for they die. Psal. 14. 1. ‖Or, for all they knewe that they should die.
59 For like as the thing that I haue spoken of, is made readie for you, euen so is thirst and paine prepared for them: for it was not ‖his will that man thould ‖come to nought. ‖Or, Gods. ‖Or, perish.
60 But they which be created, haue defiled the name of him that made them, and are vnthankefull vnto him which prepared life for them.
61 And

61 And therefore is my iudgement nowe at hand.
62 These things haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto few, namelp vnto thee, and to such as be like thée. Then answered I, and sayd, 63 Behold, O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders which thou wilt begin to doe in the last times: but at what time, and when, thou hast not shewed me.

The ix. Chapter.

5 All things in this world haue a beginning & an end.
10 Torments for the wicked after this life. 15 The number of the wicked is more then of the good.

1 HE answered me then, and sayd, Measure thou the time diligently in it selfe: and when thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe, which I haue told thee before,
2 Then shalt thou vnderstande, that it is the verie same time wherein the highest will begin to visite the worlde which he made.
3 Therefore when there shall be séene an earthquake, and vprore of the people in the world,
4 Then shalt thou well vnderstande that the most high spake of those things from the dayes that were before thée, euen from the beginning.
5 For like as all that is made in the world, hath a beginning and ende, and the ende is manifest:
6 Euen so, the times also of the highest haue plaine beginnings in wonders and signes, and ende in ‖ worke and in tokens.
7 And euery one that shalbe saued, and shalbe able to escape by his workes, and by faith, wherein ye haue beléeued,
8 Shalbe preserued from the said perils, and shal sée my ‖ sauiour in my land, and within my borders: for I haue halowed ‖ me from the world.
9 Then shal they pitie themselues, which now haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out dispitefully, shal dwell in paines.
10 For such as in their life haue receiued benefites, and haue not knowen me:
11 And they that haue abhorred my lawe, while they had yet ‖ freedome, and when they had yet open leysure of amendment and conuersion, vnderstood not, but despised it:
12 The same must know it after death in paine.
13 And therefore be thou no more ‖ carefull howe the vngodly shalbe punished: but enquire how the righteous shalbe saued, and whose the world is, and for whome the world is, and when it is.
14 Then answered I, and said,
15 *I haue said before, and now I speake, and will speake it also hereafter: that there be many mo of them which perish, then of them which shalbe saued:
16 Like as the flood is greater then a drop.
17 And he answered me, saying, Like as the fielde is, so is also the séede: as the flowres be, such are the colours also: such as the workeman is, such is also the worke: and as the husbandman is himselfe, so is his husbandry also: for it was the time of the world.
18 And when I prepared for them that are now, or euer the worlde was made, wherein they should dwell: then was there no man that spake against me.
19 For then euery one obeyed, but nowe the maners of them which are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall séede, & by a law wherevnto they can not rid themselues.
20 So I considered the worlde, and beholde, there was perill, because of the ‖ thoughts that were come into it.
21 And I sawe, and spared them greatly, and haue kept me a ‖ wineberp of grapes, and a plant of a great people.
22 Let the multitude perish then which are growen by in vaine, and let my grape and winebery bee kept, and my plant: for with great labour haue I made it by.
23 Neuertheleſſe, if thou wilt cease yet seuen dayes moe, but thou shalt not fast in them:
24 Goe thy way then into a fielde of flowres, where no house is builded, and eate onely of the flowres of the field, taste no flesh, drinke no wine, but eate flowres onely,
25 And pray vnto the highest continually, so will I come and talke with thee.
26 So I went my way, and came into the field which is called Ardath, like as he commanded mee, and there I sate among the flowres, and did eate of the hearbes of the field, and the meate of the same satisfied me.
27 After seuen dayes I sate vpon the grasse, and my heart was vexed within me like as before.
28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talke with the most highest, and said,
29 *O Lorde, thou that shewest thy selfe vnto vs, thou hast declared and opened thy selfe vnto our fathers in the wildernesse, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt:
30 And thou spakest, saying, Heare mee, O Israel, and marke my wordes, thou seede of Jacob.
31 For beholde, I sowe my lawe in you, and it shal bring fruit in you, and ye shal be honoured in it for euer.
32 But our fathers which receyued the law, kept it not, and obserued not thy ordinances and statutes, and the fruite of thy lawe did not appeare, neither could it: for why? it was thine.
33 For* they that receiued it, perished, because they kept not the thing that was sowen in them.
34 And loe, it is a custome when the ground receiueth séede, or the sea a ship, or a vessell meate and drinke: that when it it perisheth, or is broken, wherin a thing is sowen, or wherein any thing is put, 35 The things also perish and are broken, which are sowen or put therein and receiued, and the things that are receiued, remaine not then with vs: but in vs it hath not happened so.

36 For we that haue receiued the law, perish in sinne, and our heart which also receiued the lawe:

39 Then let I my thoughts goe that I was in, and turned me vnto her,
40 And saide, Wherefore wepest thou? why art thou so sorie in minde?
41 And she said vnto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewaile my selfe, and take pet my sorow, for I am sore vexed in my minde, and brought very lowe.
42 And I saide vnto her, What apleth thee? Or who hath done any thing to thee? tell me.
43 She said vnto me, I thy seruant haue bene vnfruitfull and barren, and haue had no child, though I haue had an husband thirtie yeres.
44 And these thirtie yéres I doe nothing els day and night, and all houres, but make my prayer to the highest.
45 After thirtie yéres God heard me thy handmaiden, looked vpon my miserie, considered my trouble, and gaue mee a sonne: and I was glad of him, so was my husband also, and all my neighbours, and we gaue great honour vnto the almightie.
46 And I nourished him with great trauaile.
47 So when he grew vp, and came to the time that he should ‖haue a wife, I made a feast.

The x. Chapter.

Esdras and the woman that appeareth vnto him, commune together.

1 AND it so came to passe, that when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and died.
2 Then ouerthrew we all the lights, and all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me: then tooke I my rest vnto the second day at night.
3 And when they had all left off to comfort me, that I should be quiet: then I rose vp by night, and fled, and am come hither into this field, as thou seest,
4 And am purposed not to returne into the citie, but to remaine here, and neither to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne, and to fast vntill I die.
5 Then let I my meditation & thoughts fall that I was in, and spake to her in displeasure, saying,
6 Thou foolish woman aboue all other, seest thou not our heauinesse and mourning, and what happeneth vnto vs?
7 Howe Sion our mother is all wofull and sorie, and how she is cleane brought downe, and mourneth extremely?
8 Seeing we be all now in heauines, and make our mone, for we all be sorowfull: art thou so heauie for one sonne?
9 Demande the earth, and shee shall tell thée, that it is she which ought by reason to mourne for the fall of so many that growe vpon her.
10 For from the beginning all men are borne of her, and other shall come: and beholde, they walke almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them shal be rooted out.
11 Who should then by reason make more mourning, thē she that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou which art sorie but for one?
12 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth: for I haue lost the fruit of my ‖ bodie, which I brought forth with heauinesse, and bare with sorowes:

‖Or, wombe,

13 But the earth is according to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude goeth againe into her, ‖as it is come to passe:

‖Or, as it is accustomed.

14 Then say I vnto thee, Like as thou hast borne with trauaile and sorow, euen so the earth also from the beginning giueth her fruite vnto man, euen to him that laboureth her.
15 * And therefore withholde thy sorowe and heauinesse by thy selfe, and take what happeneth vnto thee, beare it ‖ stongly.

Heb. 12, 2.

‖Or, constantly.

16 For if thou iudgest the marke and ende of God to be righteous and good, and receiuest his counsell in time, thou shalt be commended herein.
17 Goe thy way then into the citie, to thy husbande.
18 And she said vnto me, That will I not doe: I will not goe into the citie, but here will I die.
19 So I communed more with her, and sayde,
20 Do not so, but be counselled, and folowe me: for howe many falles hath Sion? Be of good comfort, because of the sorow of Hierusalem.
21 For thou seest that our sanctuarie is layde waste, our altar broken, our temple destroyed, 22 Our playing of instrumentes is layde downe, and songs are put to silence, our mirth is banished away, the light of our candlesticke is quenched, the arke of our couenant is taken from vs, all our holy things are defiled, & the name þ is called vpō ouer vs, is almost dishonoured: our children are put to shame, our priests are burnt, our Leuites are caried away into captiuitie, our virgins are defiled, & our wiues rauished, our righteous mē spoiled, led, and our children destroyed, our pong men are brought in bondage, and our strong worthies are become weake:

23 And Sion our seale, which is the greatest of all, is loosed vp from her worship: for shee is deliuered into the handes of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heauinesse, and put away the multitude of sorowes, that the mightie may bee mercifull vnto thée, and that the highest may giue thée rest and ease from thy labour & trauaile.

25 And when I was talking with her, her face and beautie shined sodainely, and her countenance glistred, so that I was afrayde of her, and mused what it might be.

26 And immediatly shee cast out a great voyce, very fearefull, so that the earth shooke at the noyse of the woman.

27 And I looked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto mee no moze: but there was a citie builded, and a place was shewed from the ground and foundation: then was I afraide, and cryed with a loude voyce, & said,

4.Esd.4.1. 28 Where is Vriel ‖ Angel,* which came to me at the first? For he hath caused me to come in many considerations & high thoughtes, and mine ende is turned to corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these words, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me:

30 And lae, I lay as one that had bene dead, and mine vnderstanding was altered: and he toke me by the right hãd, and comforted me, and set mee vpon my féete, and said vnto me, 31 What ayleth thée? and why is thine vnderstanding vexed, and thy vnderstanding of thy heart? and wherefore art thou sory?

4.Esd.5.20. 32 And I said, *Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done according vnto thy wordes, I went into the field, and there haue I seene thinges, and sée that I am not able to expresse.

33 He said vnto me, Stand vp, & be manly, and I shall giue thee exhortation.

34 Then said I, Speake on to mee, my Lord, forsake me not, least I die though my rashnesse:

35 For I haue séene that I knewe not, & heare that I do not knowe:

36 Or is my vnderstanding deceiued, or doeth my soule dreame?

37 Now therfore I beséech thée, that thou wilt shew thy seruant of this wonder.

38 He answered me then, and said, Heare mée, and I shall mfourme thée, and tell thee wherefore thou art afrayde: for the highest hath opened many secrete things vnto thée,

‖ Or, way. 39 He hath séene that thy ‖ way is right, for that thou takest sorow continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 And therefore vnderstande the vision which thou sawest a little whyle agoe, after this maner:

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou begannest to comfort her.

42 Neuertheless, now séest thou the likenesse of the woman no moze, but there appeared vnto thée a citie builded:

43 And where she tolde thée of the fall of her sonne, so is this the solution of it:

44 This woman whom thou sawest, is Sion: & where as she told thée, euen (she whom thou séest now as a citie builded)

45 And as touching that shee saide vnto thée, that she hath bene thirtie yeres vnfruitfull and barren: those are the thirtie yéeres wherein there was no offering made in her.

46 But after thirtie yéres, Solomon builded the citie, and offered offerings: and then bare the barren a sonne.

47 And whereas she tolde thée that thée nourished him with labour: that was the dwelling in Hierusalem.

48 But whereas shee tolde thée that her sonne died as his chance was, when she came into her chamber: that is the fall that is come to Hierusalem.

49 And beholde when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her sonne, and begannest to comfort her: of these things which haue chanced, these are to be opened vnto thée.

50 For nowe the most highest séeth that thou art sore in thy minde, and sufferest from thy whole heart for her, and so hath he shewed thée her clearenesse, and the fairenesse of her beautie.

51 And therefore I bade thée remaine in the field where no house was builded.

52 For I knewe that the highest would shew this vnto thée.

53 Therefore I commanded thee to go into the field where no foundation nor building is.

54 For in the place where the highest beginneth to shewe his citie, there can no mans building be able to stand.

55 And therefore feare not, and let not thine heart be afrayed, but goe thy way in, and sée the beautie and greatnesse of the building, as much as thine eyes bee able to sée.

56 And then shalt thou heare as much as thine eares may comprehende.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many other, & art called with the highest as the few.

58 But to morow at night thou shalt remaine here:

59 And so shall the highest shew thée visions of the high things, which he will do vnto thē that dwell vpō earth in the last dayes. So I slept the same night and an other, like as he commanded me.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The vision of an Egle comming forth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37 Of a Lion comming out of the forest.

THen sawe I a dreame, and beholde, there came vp from the sea an Egle, which had twelue feathered wings, and three heades.

2 And

2 And I sawe, and beholde, thee spred her winges ouer all the earth, and all the windes of the earth blewe on her, and gathered them together.
3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grewe other contrary feathers, & they became litle feathers, and small.
4 But her heads remained still, the head in the middest was greater then the other, yet rested it with the residue.
5 Moreouer, I sawe that the Egle flewe with her wings, and reigned vpō earth, and ouer all them that dwelt vpon the earth.
6 And I sawe that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnder her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpon earth.
7 I sawe also that the Egle stoode vp vpon her clawes, and ‖ gaue a sounde with her feathers, and a voyce, saying after this maner,
8 Watche not altogether, sleepe euery man in his owne place, and watche by course.
9 But let the heads bee preserued for the last.
10 Neuertheleese, I sawe that the voyce went not out of her heads, but from the middest of her body.
11 And I numbred her cōtrary feathers, and behold, there were eight of them.
12 And I looked, and beholde, vpon the right side there arose one feather, & reigned ouer all the earth.
13 And so it was that when it reigned, the ende of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next following stoode vp, and reigned, and had a great time.
14 And it happened that when it reigned, the ende of it came also like as the first, so that it appeared no more.
15 Then came there a voyce vnto it, and said,
16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long, this I say vnto thee before thou beginnest to appeare no more,
17 There shal none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither vnto the halfe thereof.
18 Then arose the third, and reigned as þ other afore: & appeared no more also.
19 So went it with all the residue one after another, so that euery one reigned, & then appeared no more.
20 Then I looked, and beholde, in processe of time the feathers that followed stoode vpon the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled: but within a while they appeared no more.
21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.
22 After this I looked, and beholde, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two wings:
23 And there was no more vpon the Egles body, but two heads that rested, and sixe wings.
24 Then sawe I also that two wings deuided themselues from the sixe, & remained vnder the heade that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.
25 So I looked, and beholde, the feathers, that were vnder the wing, thought to set vp themselues, and to haue the rule.
26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.
27 And the second was sooner away then the first.
28 And I beheld, and loe, the two that remained, thought also in themselues to reigne:
29 And when they so thought, beholde, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely it that was in the midst: for that was greater then the two other heades.
30 And then I sawe that the two heades were ioyned with him:
31 And the head was turned with them that were with him, and did eate vp the two vnder wings that would haue reigned.
32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer all those that dwelt vpon the earth, with much labour: and he had the gouernance of the world ouer all the wings that had bene.
33 After this I looked, and beholde, the head that was in the middest, suddainly appeared no more, like as the wings.
34 But there remained the two heades which ruled vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.
35 And I beheld, and loe, the head vpon the right side, deuoured it that was vpon the left side.
36 Then I heard a voyce which said vnto me, Looke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.
37 Then I sawe, and behold as it were a Lion that roareth, running hastily out of the wood: and I sawe that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the Egle, and said,
38 Heare thou, I wil talke with thee, and the highest shall say vnto thee, 39 ‖ Is it not thou that hast the victorie of the foure beasts whom I made to reigne vpon earth and in my world, that the ende of their times might come through thee?
40 And the fourth came, and ouerran all the beasts that were past, & had power ouer the worlde with great fearefulnes, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicked oppression, and so long time dwelt hee vpon the earth with deceyte.
41 For the earth hast thou not iudged with trueth.
42 For thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable and quiet, thou hast loued lyers, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of such as did thee no harme.
43 Therefore is thy wrongful dealing and blasphemie come vp vnto the highest, and thy pride vnto the mightie.
44 The highest also hath looked vpon the proude

‖ Or, spake to her feathers, saying.

‖ Or, art not thou he that remainest of the foure beasts?

pfound times, and behold, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

45 And therefore appeare no more thou Eagle, and thy horrible wings, and thy wicked feathers, and thy vngratious heades, and thy sinfull clawes, and all thy vaine bodie:

46 That the earth may be refreshed, and come againe to her selfe, when she is deliuered from thy violence, & that she may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

The xii. Chapter.

The declaration of the former visions.

1 AND it happened when the Lion spake these words vnto the Egle, I sawe:

2 And behold, the head that afore had the vpper hande, appeared no more, neither did the foure wings appeare any more þ came to him, and were set vp to reigne, and their kingdome was small, and full of vprore.

3 And I saw, and behold, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the Egle was burnt, so that þ earth was in great feare: then awaked I out of the trouble and traunce of my mind, and from great feare, and said vnto my spirit,

4 Lo, this hast thou given me, in that thou searchest out the wayes of the highest.

5 Loe, yet am I wearie in my minde, and very weake in my spirit: & little strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receyued this night.

6 Therefore will I nowe beseech the highest, that he will comfort me vnto the ende.

7 And I sayde, Lorde, Lorde, if I haue found grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my prayer in deede be come vp before thy face:

8 Comfort me then, and shew me thy seruant the interpretation and plaine difference of this horrible sight, that thou mayst perfectly comfort my soule:

9 For thou hast iudged mee worthie to shew me the last of times.

10 And he said vnto me, This is the interpretation of this sight:

11 The Egle whom thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the kingdome which was seene in the *vision of thy brother Daniel:

Dan.7.

12 But it was not expounded vnto him, therefore now I declare it vnto thee.

13 Behold, the dayes will come, that there shall rise vp a kingdome vpon earth, and it shalbe feared aboue all the kingdomes that were before it.

14 In ‖ the same kingdome shall twelue kings reigne one after another.

‖Or, it.

15 Wherefore the second shall beginne to reigne, and shall haue more time then the other twelue.

16 And this do the twelue wings signifie which thou sawest.

17 As for the voyce that thou heardest speake, and that thou sawest not to goe out from the heades, but from the midst of the body thereof, it betokeneth.

18 That after the time of that kingdome, there shall arise great strivings, & it shall stand in perill of falling: neuertheless, it shall not then fall, but shalbe restored againe into his beginning.

19 And the eight feathers vnder þ wings, which thou sawest hāg vnto her wings, betoken, 20 That in him there shal arise eight kings, whose time shall bee but small, and their yeares swift, & two of them shall perish.

21 But when the middest time commeth, there shall be foure kept for a time, whilest ‖ his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended: but two shal be kept vnto the ende.

‖Or, ere he begin.

22 And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation:

23 In his last dayes shall the most high raise vp three kingdomes, and call many things againe into them, and they shall haue the dominion of the earth,

24 And of those that dwell therein, with much ‖ labour, aboue all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heades of the Egle.

‖Or, griefe.

25 For it is they that shall ‖ bring forth his wickednesse againe, and that shall performe and finish his last.

‖Or, accomplish his wickednesse.

26 And whereas thou sawest that þ great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die vpon his bed, and yet with paine.

27 For the two that remaine shalbe slaine with the sword.

28 For the sworde of the one shal deuoure the other: but at the last shall hee fall through the sworde himselfe.

29 And whereas thou sawest two feathers vnder the wings, passing towarde the head that is on the right side, 30 It signifieth, that it is they whome the highest hath kept vnto their ende: this is the small kingdome, and full of trouble, as thou sawest.

31 And the Lion, whom thou sawest rising vp out of the wood, and roring, and speaking to the Egle, & rebuking her for her vnrighteousnesse, with all the wordes which thou hast heard, 32 Is the winde which the highest hath kept for them & for their wickednes vnto the ende: he shall reproue them, & cast before them their owne spoylings.

33 For he shal set them alive in iudgemēt, and shall rebuke them, and correct them.

34 For the residue of my people shall hee deliuer by trouble, those that bee preserued vpon my borders, and he shall make them ioyfull vntill the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, & these are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely hast bene meete to knowe this secrete of the highest.

37 Therefore write all these things that thou hast seene in a booke, and hide them,

38 And teach them to the wise of the people, ple, whose hearts thou knowest map cõprehend and keepe these secrets.

39 But wayte thou here thy selfe yet seuen dayes moe, that it map bee shewed thee whatsoeuer it pleaseth the highest to declare vnto thee. And with that hee went his way.

40 And when all the people perceiued that the seuen dayes were past, & I not come againe into the citie, they gathered them all together from the least vnto the most, and came vnto me, and said, 41 What haue we offended thee? & what euill haue wee done against thee, that thou forsakest vs, and sittest here in this place?

42 For of all the people thou onely art left vs, as a grape of the Vine, and as a candle in a darke place, and as an hauen for ship preserued from the tempest.

43 Haue we not else aduersitie ynough?

44 If thou shalt forsake vs, were it not better for vs that wee had bene burnt with Sion?

45 For wee are not better then they that died there. And they wept with loude voyce. Then answered I them, & said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heauie, thou house of Jacob.

47 For the highest hath you in remembrance, and the mightie hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for mee I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place to pray, because of the miserie of Sion, that I might seeke mercie for the lowe estate of your sanctuarie.

49 And nowe goe your way home euery man, and after these dayes will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, like as I commanded them:

51 But I remained still in the fielde seuen dayes, as ‖ the Angell bade mee, and did eate onely of the flowres of the field, and had my meate of the hearbes in those dayes.

‖ Or, be.

The xiii. Chapter.

2 The vision of a winde comming forth of the sea, 3 Which became a man. 5 His properties and power against his enemies. 21 The declaration of this vision.

1 AND after the seuen dayes, I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And beholde, there arose a winde from the Sea, that it mooued all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and behold, there was a strong man with the thousands of heauen: and when he turned his countenãce to looke, all the things trembled that were seene vnder him:

4 And when the voyce went out of his mouth, all they burnt that heard his voyce, like as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.

5 After these I sawe, and beholde, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the foure windes of the heauen, to fight against the man that came out of the sea.

6 And I looked, and beholde, hee graued him selfe a great mountaine, and flewe vp vpon it.

7 But I would haue seene the region or place whereout the hill was grauen, and I could not.

8 And I sawe after these, that all they which came to fight against him, were sore afrayde, and yet durst they fight.

9 Neuertheless, when he sawe the fiercenesse and violence of the people that came, he neither lift vp his hande, ‖ nor held sword, nor any weapon: ‖ Or, for he helde no sworde nor any instrumẽt of warre.

10 But onely, as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth as it had bene a blast of fire, and out of his lippes the winde of the flame, and out of his tongue he cast out sparks and stormes.

11 And they were all mixt together: the blast of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great storme: and fell with ‖ a rush vpõ the people which was prepared to fight, and burnt them vp euery one, so that of the innumerable multitude, there was nothing seene but onely dust and smell of smoke: When I sawe this, I was afrayde. ‖ Or, violence.

12 Afterward sawe I the same man come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him another peaceable ‖ people. ‖ Or, multitude.

13 And there came much people vnto him, some were glad, some were sory, some of them were bound, & other some brought of them that were offered: then was I sicke through great feare, & I awaked, and sayd,

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted mee worthy that thou mightest receiue my prayer:

15 Shewe me nowe yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I consider in my vnderstanding: woe vnto them that shall bee left in those dayes, and much more woe vnto them that are not left behinde:

17 For they that were not left, were in heauinesse.

18 Nowe vnderstand I the things that are layde vp in the latter dayes, which shall happen vnto them, and to those that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many necessities, like as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier that he which is in danger, fall into these, and nowe to see that which shall chaunce hereafter, then to passe out of this world as a cloud. Then answered he me, and sayd, 21 The interpretation of the sight shall I shew thee, and I will open vnto thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation, 23 He that feareth the perill in that time, hath kept himselfe: they that be fallen into danger, are ſuch as haue wrõgkes and faith vnto the moſt mightie.

24 Knowe this therefore, that they which be left behind, are more bleſſed then they that be dead.

*Or, theſe are the meanings.

25 ‖ Thus is the meaning of the viſion, Where as thou ſaweſt a man comming vp from the ‖ deepe of the ſea,

*Or, middeſt.

26 The ſame is he whom God the higheſt hath kept a great ſeaſon, which by his own ſelfe ſhall deliuer his creature: and he ſhall order them that are left behinde.

27 And whereas thou ſaweſt, that out of his mouth there came as a blaſt of winde, fire and ſtorme:

28 And howe that he lift vp neither ſworde nor weapon, vnt that he ‖ ruſhing in of him deſtroyed the whole multitude that came to fight againſt him: it ſignifieth,

*Or, fiercenes.

29 That the dayes come, when the moſt higheſt will begin to deliuer them that are vpon earth:

*Or, he ſhall aſtoniſh the hearts of them.

30 And ‖ in a traunce of minde ſhall hée come vpon them that dwel in the earth.

31 And one ſhall vndertake to * fight againſt another: one citie againſt another, one place againſt another, one people againſt another, and one realme againſt another.

*Mat. 24. 7.

32 When this cõmeth to paſſe, then ſhall the tokens come that I ſhewed thee before: and then ſhall my ſonne bee ‖ declared, whome thou ſaweſt clime vp as a man.

‖Or, reuealed.

33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man ſhall in their owne lande, leaue the battell they haue one againſt another:

34 And an innumerable multitude ſhall be gathered together, as they that bee willing to come, and to ouercome him by fighting.

35 But he ſhall ſtand vpon the top of the mount Sion.

36 And Sion ſhall come, & ſhalbe ſhewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou ſaweſt the hill grauen forth without any handes.

37 And this my ſonne ſhall rebuke thoſe nations which are fallen into the tempeſt, for their wickednes and euill imaginations, 38 And into tormentes like to flame, wherewith they ſhall bée punished: and without any labour ſhall he deſtroy thẽ, euen by the lawe, which is compared vnto the fire.

39 And where as thou ſaweſt, that he gathered another peaceable people vnto him, 40 Thoſe are the ten tribes which were caried away priſoners out of their own land in the time of Oſeas ẏ king, whome *Salmanaſar the king of Aſſyria tooke priſoners, & caried them ‖ ouer the water, and ſo came they into another land.

*4. Reg. 17. 3.

‖Or, beyond the riuer.

41 But they tooke this counſaile among themſelues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathẽ, and to go forth into a further countrey, where neuer mankinde dwelt:

42 That they might there keepe their ſtatutes, which they neuer kept in their owne land:

43 And ſo they entred in at the narrowe paſſages of the riuer of Euphrates.

44 For the moſt higheſt then ſhewed *tokens for them, and held ſtill the flood till they were paſſed ouer.

*Joſu. 3. 15.

45 For thorowe the countrey there was a great way, namely of a yeare and a halfe iourney: and the ſame region is called Arſareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time: and when they come forth againe, 47 The higheſt ſhall hold ſtill the ſpringes of the ſtreame againe, that they may goe thorow: therefore ſaweſt thou the multitude with peace.

48 But they that bee left behinde of thy people, are thoſe that are founde within my borders.

49 Nowe when he deſtroyeth the multitude of the nations ẏ are gathered together, he ſhal defẽd his people ẏ remaine:

50 And then ſhall hee ſhewe them great wonders.

51 Then ſaid I, O Lord, Lord, ſhewe mée this: wherefore haue I ſeene the man cõming vp from the ‖ deepe of the ſea?

‖Or, middeſt.

52 And he ſayde vnto mee, Like as thou canſt neither ſeeke out nor knowe the things that are in the deepe of the ſea: euen ſo can no man vpon earth ſée my Sonne, or thoſe that be with him, but in the time of ‖ the day.

‖Or, that day.

53 This is the interpretation of ẏ dreame which thou ſaweſt, and wherebp thou onelp art here lightned.

54 For thou haſt forſaken thine own law, and applied thy diligence vnto mine, and ſought it.

55 Thy life haſt thou ordered in wiſdome, & haſt called vnderſtanding thy mother:

56 And therfore haue I ſhewed thee the treaſures of the higheſt. After other thrée daies I will ſhewe thee more, and talke with thée more at large, yea, beautie and woonderous things will I declare vnto thée.

57 Then went I forth into the fielde, giuing prayſe and thankes greatly vnto God, becauſe of his wonders which hee did in time, 58 And becauſe he gouerneth the ſame, & ſuch things as fall in their ſeaſons: and there I ſate thrée dayes.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 VPon the third day I ſate vnder an oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me out of the buſh, and ſaide, Eſdras, Eſdras.

did did I appeare vnto Moses, and talked with him when my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent him, and ledde my people out of Egypt, and brought him vp to the mount Sinai, where I helde him by me a long season:
5 And tolde him many wonderous woorkes, and shewed him the secretes of the times, and the ende, and commanded him, saying,
6 These woordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.
7 And nowe I say vnto thee,
8 That thou laye vp in thine heart the signes ꝑ I haue shewed, & the dreames that thou hast séene, and the interpretations which thou hast heard.
9 For thou shalt be taken away from among all, and hencefoorth thou shalt remaine with my counsaile, and with such as be like thée, vntill the times be ended.
10 For the woorld hath lost his youth, and the times begin to waxe olde.
11 For the woorlde is deuided into twelue parts, and the ten parts of it are gone already, and half of a tenth part.
12 And there remaineth there that which
Or, thus. is after the halfe of ꝑ the tenth part.
13 Therefore set thine house in order, and reforme thy people, comfort such of thē as be in trouble, and now renounce corruption,
• 14 Let goe from thee mortall thoughts, cast away the burdens of men, put off the weake nature,
15 And set aside the thoughtes that are most heauy vnto thee, and haste thee to flée from these times:
Mat.24.7. 16 * For as for such euill and wickednes as thou hast nowe séene happen, they shall do yet much worse.
17 For the weaker that the woorlde is by reason of age, ꝑ more shall euils encrease vpon them that dwell therein.
18 For the truth is fled farre away, and leasing is hard at hād: For now hasteth the vision to come which thou hast séene.
19 Then answered I before thée, and said,
20 Behold Lorde, I will goe as thou hast commanded me, and reforme the people which are present: but they that shall be borne afterward, who will admonish them? Thus the woorld is set in darkenesse, and they that dwell therein are without light.
21 For thy law is burnt, therefore no mā knoweth ꝑ things that are done of thée, or the woorkes that shalbe done.
22 But if I haue found grace before thée, send the holy Ghost into me, and I shall write al that hath bin done in the woorld since the beginning, which was written in thy lawe, that mē may finde the path, and that they which will liue in the latter dayes, may liue.
23 And he answered me, saying, Goe thy way, gather the people together, and say vnto them, that they séeke thée not for fourtie dayes.
24 But looke thou gather thée many bare trees, and take with thée Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus, and Asiel, these fiue which are ready to write swiftly:
25 And come hither, and I shall light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be perfourmed which thou shalt begin to write.
26 And then shalt thou declare some things openly vnto the perfect, and some things shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wise: to morowe this houre shalt thou beginne to write.
27 Then went I forth as he commanded me, and gathered al the people together, and said,
28 Heare these woordes, O Israel,
29 Our * fathers at the beginning were Gen.47.4. strangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered, 30 And receiued the * lawe of life, which Deut.4.5. they kept not, which ye also haue transgressed after them.
31 Then was the lande, euen the lande of Sion, parted among you by lot, to possesse: but your fathers, & yee your selues haue done vnrighteousnesse, and haue not kept the wayes which the highest commanded you:
32 And for so much as hee is a righteous iudge, he tooke from you in time, ꝑ thing that he had giuen you.
33 And nowe are ye here, and your brethren among you.
34 Therefore, if so be that ye will subdue your owne vnderstanding, and reforme your heart, ye shall be kept aliue, and after death shall ye obtaine mercy.
35 For after death shall the iudgement come when wee shall liue againe: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the woorkes of the vngodly shalbe declared.
36 Let no man therefore come nowe vnto mee, nor séeke after mee these fourty dayes.
37 So I tooke the fiue men, as hee commanded me, and we went into the fielde, and remained there.
38 The next day a voyce called mee, saying, Esdras, open thy mouth, and * drinke Ezech.3.2. that I giue thee to drinke.
39 Then opened I my mouth, & beholde, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.
40 And I tooke it, and dranke: and when I had dronke it, my heart had vnderstanding, and wisedome grewe in my breast: for my spirit was strēgthened in remembrance.
41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.
42 The highest gaue vnderstanding vnto the fiue men, that they wrote the high things of the night, which they vnderstoode not.
43 But in the night they did eate bread: as for mée I spake in the day, and held not

not my tongue by night.
44 In fourtie dayes they wrote two hundred and fourtie bookes.
45 And it came to passe, when the fourtie daies were fulfilled, that the highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthie and unworthy may reade it:
46 But keepe the seuentie last, that thou mayest deliuer them onely to such as be wise among the people.
47 For in them is the spring of vnderstanding, the fountaine of wisedome, and the streame of knowledge.
48 And I did so.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The prophecie of Esdras is certaine. 5 The euils that shall come on the world. 9 The Lorde will auenge the innocent blood.

1 BEholde, speake thou in the eares of my people the words of prophecie, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord,
2 And cause them to bee written in a letter: for ‖ it is the trueth.
3 Feare not the imaginations against thee, let not the vnfaithfulnesse of them trouble thee, that speake against thee:
4 For all the vnfaithfull shall die in their vnfaithfulnesse.
5 Behold, (saith the Lorde) I will bring plagues vpon the world, the sword, hunger, death, and destruction:
6 For wickednesse hath the vpper hand in all the earth, & their shamefull workes are fulfilled:
7 Therefore saith the Lord,
8 I will hold my tongue no more of their wickednesse, which they doe so vngodly, neither will I suffer them in the things that they deale withall so wickedly: behold, * the innocent and righteous blood crieth vnto mee, and the soules of the iust complaine continually.
9 And therefore, saith the Lorde, I will surely auenge, and receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.
10 Behold, my people is ledde as a flocke of sheepe to bee slaine, I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt:
11 But will bring them out with a mighty hande, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore, and will destroy all the land of it.
12 Egypt shall mourne, and the foundations of it shalbe smitten with the plague and punishment that GOD shall bring vpon it.
13 They that till the ground shal mourne, for their seedes shalbe destroyed through the blasting and hayle, and by an horrible starre.
14 Woe worth the world, and them that dwell therein:
15 For the sworde and their destruction draweth nigh, and one people shall stand vp to fight against another, and swordes in their hands.
16 ‖ For men shall be vnstedfast, and some shall do violence vnto other, they shal not regarde their king, and the princes shall measure by way of their doings by their power.
17 A man shall desire to go into a citie, and shall not be able.
18 For because of their pride, the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall tremble, and men shall be afrayde.
19 A man shall haue no pitie vpon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoyle their goods, because of the ‖ hunger of bread, and because of the great trouble.
20 Beholde, saith God, I call together all the kings of the earth to reuerence mee, which are from the ‖ rysing, from the South, from the East, and Libanus, to turne vpon them, and restore the things that they haue done to them:
21 Like as they doe put this day vnto my chosen, so will I doe also, and recompence them in their bosome: Thus saith the Lord God.
22 My right hande shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease ouer them that shed the innocent blood vpon earth.
23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the strawe that is kindled.
24 Woe worth them that sinne, and keepe not my commandements, saith the Lord
25 I will not spare them: go pour way ye children from the power, defile not my sanctuarie:
26 For the Lorde knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.
27 For nowe are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye shal remaine in them: for God shall not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.
28 Beholde, an horrible vision commeth from the East,
29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many charets, and the multitude of them shall bee caried as the winde vpon earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble.
30 Euen the Carmanies raging in wrath, shall goe forth as the wilde boyes of the forest, and with great power shall they come, and stand fighting with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians.
31 And then shall the dragons haue the vpper hand, and remembring their nature, shall turne about, conspiring together in great power to persecute them.
32 Then these shalbe troubled, and keepe silence in their power, and shall flee:
33 And from the lande of the Assyrians shall the enemie besiege them, and consume some of them, & in their host shalbe feare and dread, and strife among their kings.
34 Behold clouds from the East, and from the North vnto the South, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and storme:

35 They shall smite one vpon another, and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blood shall bee from the sword vnto the belly,
36 And the young of man vnto the camels litter,
37 And there shall be great fearefulnesse and trembling vpon earth: and they that see the wrath, shall be afrayde, and trembling shall come vpon them:
38 And then shall there come great raines from the South, and from the North, and part from the West:
39 And strong windes shall arise from the East, and shall open it, and the cloude which hee rapsed vp in wrath, and the starre stirred to cause feare towarde the East and West winde, shalbe destroyed:
40 The great cloudes shall be lift vp, and the mightie cloudes full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth afraide, and them that dwell therein, and that they may powre out ouer euery high place an horrible starre,
41 Fire, and haple, and sling swordes, and many waters: that all fieldes may be full, and al riuers, with the abundance of great waters.
42 And they shal breake downe the cities, & walles, mountaines, and hilles, trees of the wood, & the grasse of the medowes, and all their corne.
43 And they shall goe stedfast vnto Babylon, and make her afrayde.
44 They shal come to her, and besiege her, the ‖ starre and al wrath shall they powre out vpon her, then shall the dust & smoke go vp vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her, shall bewayle her:
45 And they that remaine vnder her, shall doe seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.
46 And thou Asia, that comfortest thy selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:
47 Wo be vnto thée thou wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, & hast decke thy daughters in whoredome, that they might ‖ triumphe, and please thy louers, which haue alway desired to commit whoredome with thée.
48 Thou hast followed the abominable cities in all her workes and inuentions: therefore saith God, 49 I will send plagues vpon thée, widowhoode, pouertie, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.
50 And the glory of thy power shall bee dried vp as a flowre, when the heate riseth that is sent ‖ ouer thee:
51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the mightie and louers shall not bee able to receiue thee.
52 Would I so hate thee, sayth the Lorde,
53 If thou hadst not alway slayne my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy handes, and said ouer their death whe thou wast drunken,
54 Set forth ꝑ beautie of thy countenance:
55 The reward of thy whoredome shall be recompensed thée in thy bosome, therefore shalt thou receiue reward.
56 Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, euen so shall God do vnto thee, & shall deliuer thée into the plague.
57 The children shall die of hunger, & thou shalt fall through the sworde: thy cities shalbe broken downe, and all thine shall perish with the sword in the fielde.
58 They that be in the mountaines, shall die of hunger, and eate their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.
59 Thou as vnhappie shalt come thorow the sea, and receiue plagues againe.
60 In the passage they shall cast downe the slaine citie, and shal roote out one part of the lande, and consume the portion of thy glory, and shall returne to her that was destroyed.
61 They shall treade thée downe like stubble, and they shall be thy fire:
62 And shall consume thée, thy cities, and thy land, and thy mountaines, all thy woods and thy fruitfull trees shall they burne vp with the fire.
63 Thy children shall they carry away captiue, and looke what thou hast, they shall spoyle it, and marre the beautie of thy face.

The xvi. Chapter.

18. 38 Of the euils that shall come vpon the worlde, with admonition howe to gouerne them selues in afflictions.

1 WOe be vnto thée Babylon and Asia, wo bee vnto thée Egypt and Syria:
2 Gird vp your selues with clothes of sacke and heare, & mourne your children, for your destruction is at hand.
3 A sword is sent vpon you, and who will turne it backe?
4 A fire is sent among you, and who will quenche it?
5 Plagues are sent vnto you, and what is he that will driue them away?
6 May any man driue away an hungry lion in ꝑ wood? or may any man quenche the fire in stubble when it hath begun to burne?
7 May one turne againe the arrowe that is shot of a strong archer?
8 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, and what is hée that will driue them away?
9 The fire is kindled, & gone forth in his wrath, & what is he that may quench it?
10 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare? hee shall thunder, and who shall not be afrayde?
11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not vtterly bee beaten to powder at his presence?
12 The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof, ꝑ sea ariseth vp with waues from ‖ Or, constellation and tempest.

‖ Or, please and glory in.
‖ Or, vpon.

from the deepe, and the wawes of it are vniquiet, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lorde, and before the glory of his power:

33 For strong is his right hande that bendeth the bow, his arrowes that he shooteth are sharpe, and shall not misse when they begin to be shot into the endes of the world.

34 Behold, the plagues are sent, and shal not turne againe till they come vpon earth.

35 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, til it consume the foundations of the earth.

36 Like as an arrowe which is shotte of a mighty archer, returneth not backward: euen so the plagues that shalbe sent vpō earth, shal not turne againe.

37 Woe is me, woe is mee, who wil deliuer me in those dayes?

38 The beginning of sorowes and great mourning, the beginning of dearth and great death, the beginning of warres, & the powers shal stande in feare: the beginning of euils, and they shall tremble euery one.

39 What shall I doe in these things, whē the plagues come?

40 Beholde, hunger, and plague, trouble and anguish are sent as scourges for amendment:

41 But for all these things, they shal not turne from their wickednesse, nor bee alway mindefull of the scourges.

42 Behold, victuals shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shal thinke themselues to be in good case: and euen then shal mischiefe grow vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great disquietnesse.

(Or, confusion.)

43 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shall perish of hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy:

44 And the dead shalbe cast out as doung, and there shalbe no man to comfort the: For the earth shalbe wasted, and the cities shalbe cast downe.

45 There shall bee no man left to till the earth, and to sowe it.

46 The trees shall giue fruite, and who shall plucke them off, and gather them?

47 The grapes shalbe ripe, and who shall treade them? For all places shalbe desolate of men:

48 So that one man shal desire to see another, or to heare his voyce.

49 For of one whole citie, there shalbe ten left, and two of the field, which shal hide themselues in the thicke bushes, and in the cliftes of stones,

(Or, woods.)

50 Like as when there remayne three or foure Olives, in the place where Olives growe, or among other trees,

51 Or as when a Vineyarde is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thorowe the vineyard:

52 Euen so, in those dayes, there shalbe three or foure left, by them that searche their houses with the sword,

53 And the earth shalbe layde waste, and the fieldes thereof shal waxe old, and her wayes, and all her paths shall growe full of thornes, because no man shal trauaile therethorow.

54 The virgins shall mourne, hauing no bridegromes, the women shall make lamenation, hauing no husbandes, their daughters shall mourne hauing no helpers, 55 In the warres shall their bridegromes be destroyed, and their husbandes shall perish of hunger.

56 But ye seruantes of the Lorde, heare these things, and marke them.

57 Behold the worde of the Lord, O receyue it: beleeue not the gods of whome the Lord spake, 58 Behold, the plagues draw nigh, and are not slacke in tarying.

59 Like as a trauayling woman, which in the ninth moneth bringing forth a sonne, when the houre of the birth is come, an houre two or three afore that, the paines come vpon her bodie, & when the childe commeth to the birth, they tarp not the twinckling of an eye:

60 Euen so shall not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the worlde shal mourne, and sorowes shal come vpon it on euery side.

61 O my people, heare my worde, make you ready to the battel, and in all euil be euen as pilgrimes vpon earth.

62 Yee that selleth, let him bee as hee that sleeth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose:

63 Who so occupieth marchandize, as he that winneth not: and he that buyldeth, as he that shall not dwel therein:

64 He that soweth, as they that shall not reape: he that cutteth the vineyarde, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

65 They that marrie, as they that shall get no children: & they that marrie not, as the widdowes.

66 And therefore they that labour, labour in vayne.

67 For strangers shal reape their fruites, and spoyle their goods, ouerthrow their houses, and take their children captiues: for in captiuitie and hunger shall they get children.

68 And they that occupie their marchandize with robberie, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessiōs, and their owne persons,

69 The more will I punish them for their sinnes, sayth the Lord.

70 Like as an whore enuyeth an honest and vertuous woman:

71 So shall righteousnesse hate iniquitie, when she decketh her self, and shal accuse her to her face, when shee commeth that shall bridle the authour of all sinne vpon earth.

72 And therefore be not ye like thereunto, nor to the workes thereof:

73 For or euer it belong, iniquitie shalbe taken away out of the earth, and righteousnesse vnluelle ſhal reigne among you.

54 Let not the ſinner ſay that he hath not ſinned: for coales of fire ſhal burne vpon his head, which ſayeth, Before the Lord God and his glory, I haue not ſinned.
55 Behold, the Lord *knoweth all the workes of me, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts. *Luke 16.15.
56 For he ſpake but the word, * Let the earth be made, and it was made: Let the heauen be made, and it was created. *Gen.1.1.
57 In his worde were the ſtarres made, and he knoweth the *number of them. *Pſal.146.4.
58 He ſearcheth the ground of the deepe, and the treaſures thereof, hee hath meaſured the ſea, and what it contayneth.
59 He hath ſhut the ſea in the middeſt of the waters, and with his word hath he pauſed the earth vpon the waters.
60 Hee ſpreadeth out the heauens like a vaulte, vpon the waters hath hee founded it.
61 In the deſert and drie wildernelle hath hee made ſpringes of water, and pooles vpon the tops of the mountaines, that the floods might powre downe from the ſtonie rocks to water the earth.
62 He made man, and put his heart in the middes of the body, & gaue him breath, life, and vnderſtanding.
63 Yea, and the ſpirit of the almightie God which made all things, and hath ſearched the grounde of al the ſecretes of the earth,
64 He knoweth your imaginations & inventions, and what yee thinke when ye ſinne, and wouldе hide your ſinnes.
65 Therefore hath the Lorde ſearched and ſought out all your workes, and he ſhall bewray you all:
66 And when your ſinnes are brought forth, yee ſhalbe aſhamed before men, & your owne ſinnes ſhalbe your accuſers in that day.
67 What will ye do for howe will ye hide your ſinnes before God and his angels?
68 Behold, God himſelfe is the iudge, fearе him: leaue off from your ſinnes, and forget your vnrighteouſnes, and meddle no more with them: ſo ſhall God leade you forth, and deliuer you from al trouble.
69 For behold the heate of a great multitude is kindled ouer you, and they ſhall take away certaine of you, and ſhall ſlay for meate to the idoles.
70 And they conſent vnto them, ſhalbe had in deriſion, laughed to ſcorne, and troden vnder foote.
71 For there ſhalbe in euery place, and in the next cities, a great inſurrection vpon thoſe that feare the Lord.
72 They ſhalbe like madde men, they ſhal ſpare no man, they ſhal ſpoyle and waſte ſuch as yet feare the Lord:
73 For their goods ſhall they take from them and ſhut them out of their houſes.
74 Then ſhall it be knowen who are my choſen, and they ſhalbe tryed as the gold in the fire.
75 Heare, O ye my beloued, ſayth the Lorde: behold, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I will deliuer you from the ſame.
76 Be not ye afraid, deſpaire not: for God is your captaine.
77 Who ſo keepeth my commaundements and precepts, ſayth the Lorde God, let not your ſinnes weygh you downe, and let not your vnrighteouſnelle be lift vp.
78 Woe bee vnto them that are bounde with their ſinnes, & couered with their wickednelle, like as a fielde is hedged in with buſhes, and the path thereof couered with thornes, that no man may trauaile thorowe: it is ſhut vp, and is caſt into the fire for euer, to bee conſumed therewith.

1 Tobias parentage. 3 His godlineſſe. 6 His equitie. 8 His charitie and proſperitie. 23 Hee ſteeleth, and his goods are confiſcate, 25 and after reſtored.

1 TObias was of the tribe and citie of Nepthali, which ſpeth in the high countreys of Galilee aboue Naaſſon, beſide the way that leadeth to the Weſt, hauing the citie of Sephet vpon the left ſide.
2 Though he was taken *priſoner in the dayes of Salmanaſar king of the Aſſyrians, neuertheleſſe being in captiuitie, he forſooke not the way of trueth: *4.Reg.17.3.
3 Inſomuch that whatſoeuer he might get, he parted it daily with his fellow priſoners and brethren that were of his kinred.
4 And though he were yonger then al the tribe of Nepthali, yet did not he behaue himſelfe childiſhly in his workes.
5 And when all the other went to the golden Calues, which *Jeroboam the king of Iſrael had made, he alone fled al their companies: *3.Reg.12.29.
6 And gate him to Hierulalem vnto the temple of the Lorde, and there worſhipped the Lorde God of Iſrael, faithfully offering of *all his firſt fruites & tithes: *Exod.22.29.

9 But when he was a man, he tooke out of his owne tribe a wife called *Anna: & of her he begate a ſonne, whome hee called after his owne name. *Num.36.6.

10 And

10 And taught him from his youth vp to feare God, and to refraine from all sinne.
11 Now whē he, with his wife, his sonne, and with all his ‖kinred, was come in captiuitie vnto the citie of Ninme:
12 * What time as they all did eate of the meates of the heathen, he kept his soule, and was neuer defiled in their meates.
13 And forsomuch as he was mindefull of the Lorde in all his heart, God gaue him fauour in the sight of Salmanaser the king:
14 Which gaue him power to goe where he would, and so had hee libertie to doe whatsoeuer he would.
15 So went Tobias vnto all them that were in captiuitie, and comforted them, and gaue them wholesome exhortations
16 And when he came to Rages, a citie of the Medes, hauing ten talents of siluer (of the things wherewith the king had honoured him,)
17 And sawe among a great companie of people of his kinred, one Gabelus which was of his owne tribe being in necessitie, he gaue him the sayde weight of siluer, vnder an hand writing.
18 After a long season, when Salmanasar the king was dead, and Sennacherib his sonne reygned in his steade, which hated the children of Israel:
19 Tobias went dayly throwout all his kinred, and comforted them, and gaue of his goods to euery one of them, as much as he might.
20 He fed the hungry, clothed the naked, and buried the dead and slaine, and that diligently.
21 And when * Semacherib ꝑ king came againe, and fled out of Iurie (what time as God punished him for his blasphemie) and in his wrath slewe many of the children of Israel, Tobias buried their bodies.
22 But when it was tolde the king, hee commanded to slay him, and tooke away all his goods.
23 Neuertheless, Tobias with his sonne, and with his wife, fled away naked, and was hid: for there were many that loued him.
24 *But after fourtie and fiue dayes, the king was slaine of his owne sonnes:
25 Thē came Tobias againe to his house, and al his goods were restored vnto him.

The ii. Chapter.

1 Tobias calleth the faithfull to his table. 3 He leaueth the feast to bury the dead. 10 How he became blinde. 19 His wife laboureth for his liuing. 22 She reproacheth him bitterly.

1 After those things, vpon a solemne day of the Lorde, Tobias made a good feast in his house.
2 And said vnto his sonne, Goe thy way, and bring hither some of our tribe, such as feare God, that they may make merry with vs.
3 And whē he was gone, he came againe, and tolde his father ꝑ one of the children of Israel lay slayne vpon the streete,
4 And immediatly he leapt from his table, left the feast, came fasting to the dead coarse, tooke him, and bare him priuily into his house, that when the sunne was downe, he might safely bury him.
5 And when hee had hid the coarse, he did eate his meate with mourning & feare,
6 Remembring the words that the Lord said by the Prophet Amos, Your * high feastes shalbe turned to sorow and heauinesse.
7 But when the sunne was downe, hée went his way, and buried him.
8 Then all his neighbours reygned him, saying, It is not long since it was commanded to slay thée because of this matter, & hast scarce escaped the danger of death, & buriest thou the dead againe?
9 Neuertheless, Tobias fearing GOD more then the king, tooke the bodies of the slaine, and hid them in his house, and buried them at midnightes.
10 It happened vpon a day, that hée had burped the dead, and was weary, came home, and laide him downe by the wall, and slept.
11 And while hée was a sléepe, there fell downe vpon his eies warme doung out of the swallowes neast, so that hée was blinde.
12 This temptation did GOD suffer to happen vnto him, that they which came after, might haue an example of his patience, like as of holy Iob.
13 For inasmuch as he euer feared God from his youth vp, and kept his commandements, hee grudged not against God, that the plague of blindnesse chaūced vnto him:
14 But remayned stedfast in the feare of God, and thanked God all the dayes of his life.
15 For like as blessed Iob was had in derision of kings: euen so was hee laughed to scorne of his elders & kinsfolkes, which sayd vnto him, 16 Where is thy hope for the which thou hast done almes, and buried the dead?
17 But Tobias rebuked them, and spake, Say not so:
18 For wée are the children of holy men, and looke for the life which GOD shall giue vnto them that neuer turne their beliefe from him.
19 And Anna his wife went dayly to the weauing worke:
20 And looke what liuing shee could get with ꝑ labour of her hands, she brought it. And it happened that she tooke a kid, and brought it home:
21 And when her husband heard it cry, he sayd,* Looke that it be not stollen: restore it againe to the owners, for it is not lawfull for vs to eate or to touche any thing of theft.
22 Then was his wife angry, and sayde, * Now is thy hope become vaine openly, and thine almes deedes are manifest.
23 With these and such like wordes, did she cast him in the teeth.

The iii. Chapter.

3 The prayer of Tobias. 7 Sara Raguels daughter, and the things that came vnto her. 12 Her prayer heard. 19 The Angel Raphael sent.

‖Or, sighed.

1 THen Tobias ‖ tooke it heauily, and with teares began to make his prayer,

2 Saying, O Lorde, thou art righteous, and all thy iudgements are true: pea, all thy wayes are mercie, faithfulnesse, and iudgement.

3 And now, O Lord, be mindefull of mée, and take no vengeance of my sinnes, neither remember my misdœdes, neither the misdœdes of my forefathers.

4 For we haue not bene obedient vnto thy commandements,* therefore are we spoyled, brought into captiuitie, into death, into derision and shame vnto all nations, among whome thou hast scattered vs.

Deut.28,15.

5 And nowe, O Lord, thy iudgements are great: for wee haue not done accoyding to thy commandements, neither haue we walked innocently before thee.

6 And nowe, O Lorde, deale with mee accoyding to thy will, and command my spirite to be receyued in peace: for more expedient were it for me to dye, then to liue.

7 At the same time it happened that Sara the daughter of Raguel, at Rages a citie of the Medes, was also reproched by one of her fathers handmaydes,

8 That she had seuen husbãds, which as soone as they were gone in vnto her, were slaine of ỹ deuill, called Asmodeus.

9 Therefore when she reproued the maidẽ for her fault, she answered her, saying, God let vs neuer see soone nor daughter of thee more vpon earth, thou killer of thy husbandes.

10 Wilt thou slay mée also, as thou hast slayne seuen men? At this voyce went Sara into an high chamber of her house, and three daies and three nights she neither ate, nor dranke:

11 But continued in prayer, and besought God with teares, that he would deliuer her from this rebuke.

12 Vpon the thirde day it came to passe, that when she had made an ende of prayer, she praised the Lorde,

13 Saying, Blessed be thy name, O God of our fathers, which when thou art wroth, shewest mercie, and in time of trouble thou forgiuest the sinnes of them that call vpon thee.

14 Vnto thee, O Lorde, turne I my face, vnto thee lift I vp mine eyes:

15 I beseech thee, O Lorde, loose me out of the bondes of this rebuke, or els take me vtterly away from the earth.

16 Thou knowest Lorde, that I neuer had desire vnto man, and that I haue kept my soule cleane from all vncleanly lust:

17 I haue not kept compame with those that passe their time in sport, neither haue I made my selfe partaker with them that walke in light behauiour.

18 An husbande haue I consented to take, not for my pleasure, but in thy feare.

19 Now peradventure, either I haue bene vnworthie of them, or els were they vnmeete for me: for thou happily hast kept me to another husbande.

20 For why? thy counsell is not in the power of man.

21 But euery one that serueth thée, is sure of this, that if his life be in tryning, it shall be crowned, and if it be in trouble, that God no doubt shall deliuer him: and if his life be in chastening, that he shal haue leaue to come vnto thy mercie.

22 For thou hast no pleasure in our ‖ damnation: and why? after a stormie, thou makest the weather fayre and still, after weeping & heauinesse, thou giuest great ioy.

‖Or, destruction.

23 Thy name, O God of Israel, be praysed for euer.

24 At the same time were both their prayers heard, in the sight of the maiestie of the higest God.

25 And Raphael the holy Angel of the Lord was sent to helpe them both, whose prayers ‖ came at one time together before God.

‖Or, were recited at one time together.

The iiii. Chapter.

Precepts and exhortations of Tobias to his sonne.

1 SO when Tobias thought his prayer to be heard, that he might dye, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias:

2 And sayd vnto him, My sonne, beare the words of my mouth, and lay them in thine heart as a foundation.

3 When God taketh away my soule, burie thou my body: and * holde thy mother in honour, all the dayes of her life.

Exod.20.12.

4 For thou oughtest to remember, what, and how great perils she suffered for thée in her woombe.

5 And when thée also hath fulfilled the time of her life, burye her ‖ beside me.

‖Or, about.

6 Haue God in thy thought al the dayes of thy life, and beware, lest at any time thou consent vnto sinne, and lest thou let slippe the commandements of the Lorde our God.

7 * Giue almes of thy goods, and turne neuer thy face from the poore: & so shall it come to passe, that the face of the Lord shall not be turned away from thee.

The v. Chapter.

2 Tobias is sent to Rages: 5 He meeteth with the Angel Raphael, which did conduct him.

1 THen Tobias answered his father, & sayde, Father, al that thou hast commanded me, will I doe, and that diligently.
2 But how shall I require this money I cannot tell, neither doeth he knowe me, nor I him: what token shal I giue him? And as for the way thither, I neuer knewe it.
3 Then his father answered him, and said, I haue his hand writing by mee, which when thou shewest him, immediatly hee shall pay thée.
4 But goe thy way now, & get thée some faithful man to go with thée for an hyre, ỳ thou mayest receyue the money while I am yet liuing.
5 Then went Tobias out, and vpon the streete he found a fayre young man standing, gyrded vp, and as it were one readie to take his iourney.
6 And he knewe not that it was an Angel of God, but saluted him, and sayd, From whence art thou, thou good young man?
7 He answered, Of the children of Israel. And Tobias sayde vnto him, Knowest thou the way that leadeth vnto the countrey of the Medes?
8 He answered, I knowe it wel, and all ‖Or, wayes.
those streetes haue I gone oft times, & haue lodged with our brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages a citie of the Medes, which lyeth vpon the mount Ecbatanis.
9 Tobias sayde vnto him, I pray thee tary for mee, till I haue told my father these things.
10 Then went Tobias in, and tolde his father all: at the which his father marueyled, and prayed that he would come in vnto him.
11 Now when he came in, he saluted him, and sayd, Ioy be with thée for euermore.
12 And olde Tobias sayde, What ioy can I haue, that sit here in darkenesse, and see not the light of heauen?
13 The young man sayde vnto him, Be of good cheare, God shal helpe thée shortly.
14 And Tobias sayde vnto him, Canst thou bring my sonne to Gabelus vnto ỳ citie of Rages in Media? and when thou comest againe, I shal pay thee thy hyre.
15 And the Angel sayd vnto him, I shall leade thy sonne, and bring him to thee againe.
16 Then Tobias answered him, Tel mée, I pray thée, of what house, or of what tribe art thou?
17 The Angel Raphael saide vnto him, Seekest thou after the kinred of an hyreling, or an hyred man himselfe for thy sonne to goe with him?
18 But that I make thee not carefull, I am Azarias, ỳ sonne of great Ananias.
19 And Tobias answered, Thou art come of a great kinred: but I pray thée, be not displeased, that I desire to knowe thy kinred.
20 The angel sayde vnto him, Thy sonne shall I leade forth safely, and bring him whole and sound to thée againe.
21 Then answered Tobias and sayde, Well, go on your way, and God bee in your iourney, and his angel beare you company.
22 So when they had prepared al things that they would take with them in their iourney, Tobias bade his father and his mother farewel: and they went on their way both together.
23 Now when they were gone, his mother began to weepe, and sayde, * Thou staffe of our age hast thou taken away, & sent him from vs. Tob.10.4.
24 Would God that money had neuer bene, for the which ỳ hast set him away.
25 For our pouertie was sufficient for vs: why, wee should haue counted it riches that we saw our sonne here.
26 Then sayd Tobias vnto her, Weepe not, our sonne shall goe safely, and come to vs againe sounde, and thine eyes shall see him.
27 For I trust that the good Angel of God shall beare him companie, and order wel al the things that he doth, so that he shal come to vs againe with ioy.
28 At these wordes his mother left off from weeping, and helde her peace.

The vi. Chapter.

2 Tobias deliuered from the fish, 8 Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines. 19 Hee conducteth him towarde Sara.

1 SO Tobias went on his way, and a dog folowed him, and the first night they abode by the water of Tigris.

2 Then went he out to walk his féete, and behold, there came forth an horrible fish to deuoure him.
3 Of whome Tobias was afrayde, and cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Lorde, he commeth vpon me.
4 And the angel sayd vnto him, Take him by the gill, and drawe him to thée. And hée did so, and drew him vnto the land: and the fish beganne to leape at his féete.
5 Then sayde the Angel vnto him, Take out the bowels of this fish: and as for ỳ heart, the gall, and the liuer, kéepe them by thée: for these things are necessarie & good for medicines.
6 Tobias did so, and rosted the fish, and they tooke it with them in their iourney: the residue they salted, as much as was sufficient for thé. till they came to Rages a citie of the Medes.
7 Then Tobias asked the Angel, and said vnto him, I pray thée, brother Azarias, tell mée, whereto are these things good of the fish that thou hast bidden mée kéepe?
8 The angel answered him, and sayde, If thou layest a piece of the heart vpon the coales, the smoke therof driueth away all euill spirites, whether it bée from man or from woman, so that from thence-forth the same shall come no more vnto them.
9 The gall is good to anoynt or to strike the eyes withall, whereas there is any blemish in them, so that they shall bee whole.
10 And Tobias sayde vnto him, Where wilt thou that we remaine? The angel answered, Num.27.8. 11 And sayde, *Here is a nigh kinsman of thine, and of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, which hath a daughter called Sara, & hath neither sonne nor daughter but her.
12 All his good belongeth vnto thée, and thou must marrie her.
13 And therefore desire her of her father, & he shal giue her thée to wife.
14 Then answered Tobias, and sayd, As I vnderstand, thee hath bene maried to seuen husbandes, and they are all dead: and I haue heard say that the deuil slew them.
15 I am afrayde therefore, lest such things happen vnto me also: which if it come to passe, seeing I am the onely sonne of my father and my mother, I should bring them in their age with sorowe to their graues.
16 Thé said the Angel Raphael vnto him, Heare mee, and I wil tel thée what they be of whome the deuil hath power:
17 Namely, they that receiue marriage after such a fashion, that they thrute God out from them, and from their heart, & giue themselues to their owne lust, euen as it were *an horse & mule which haue Psal.31.9. no vnderstanding: vpon such hath the deuil power.
18 But when thou takest her, and art come into the chamber, withholde thy selfe from her three dayes, and giue thy diligence vnto nothing but vnto prayer with her.
19 And in the first night rost the liuer of ỳ fish, and the deuill shalbe driuen away.
20 The second night shalt thou be receiued into the cõpanie of ỳ holy Patriarkes.
21 The third night shalt thou obteine the blessing of God, so that ‖ whole children shall be borne of you.
‖ Or, sound.
22 After the third night, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desire of children, then for any fleshly lust, ỳ in the seede of Abraham thou mayest obteyne the blessing in children.

The vii. Chapter.

Tobias marrieth Sara Raguels daughter.

1 THen went they in vnto Raguel, which receyued them ioyfully.
2 And when Raguel looked vpon Tobias, hee sayde vnto Anna his wife, How like is this young man vnto my sisters sonne?
3 And when he had spoken this, he sayde, Whence bee ye, yee yong men, and our brethren? They said, Of ỳ tribe of Nephthali, out of the captiuitie of Ninme.
4 Then sayde Raguel vnto them, Knowe ye my brother Tobias? They sayd, Yea, we know him well.
5 And when he had spoken much good of him, the Angel sayd vnto Raguel, Tobias of whome thou askest, is this yong mans father.
6 Then Raguel bowed himselfe downe, & wept, and tooke him about the necke, & kissed him,
7 And sayd, Gods blessing haue thou, my sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good vertuous man.
8 And Anna his wife, & Sara his daughter wept also.
9 Nowe when they had talked together, Raguel bade kill a wether, and to make a feast: and when he had exhorted them to sit downe to dynner,
10 Tobias sayde, I wil neither eate nor drinke here this day, except thou first graunt me my petition, and promise me to giue mée thy daughter Sara.
11 When Raguel heard this, he was astonied: for hee knewe what had happened vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her: and he beganne to feare that it should chaunce vnto him in like maner. And while he stoode so in a doubt, & gaue the yong man no answere,
12 The Angel sayde vnto him, Feare not to giue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wife: therefore might none other haue her.
13 Then sayde Raguel, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers & teares in his sight:
14 And I beleeue he caused you to come vnto mee for the same intent, that this daughter of mine might bee mar-

ryed

rped in her owne kinred, according to the Num.36.6. *lawe of Moses: and now doubt thou not, but I will giue her vnto thee.
15 So he toke the right hād of his daughter, and gaue her into the right hande of Tobias, & said, The God of Abraham, the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfill his blessing in you.
16 And they toke a letter, and made a writ-ting of the mariage.
17 And then made they merie, and prayed God.
18 And Raguel called Anna his wife vnto him, and bade her prepare another chamber.
19 And thither hee brought Sara his daughter, and she wept.
20 Then sayde hee vnto her, Be of good cheare, my daughter: the Lord of heauen giue thee ioy, for the heauines that thou hast suffered.

The viii. Chapter.

Tobias driueth away the euill spirite. 4 He prayeth to God with his wife. 11 Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in lawe. 16 Raguel blesseth the Lorde.

1 NOwe after that they had supped, they brought the yong man in to her.
2 Then thought Tobias vpon ye words of the Angel, and toke out of his bagge a piece of the liuer of the fish, and layde it vpon the hot coales.
3 So the Angel Raphael toke holde of the deuill, and sent him away, & bounde him in the wildernesse of the higher Esgypt.
4 Then spake Tobias vnto the virgine, and sayde, Vp Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morow, and riage.

5 For wee are the children of holy men, and wee may not come together as the heathen that know not God.
6 Then stoode they vp both together, and besought God earnestly ‖that hee would

7 And Tobias saide, O Lord God of our fathers, praised bee thou of heauen and earth, of the sea, welles, and floods, and of all thy creatures that be therein.
Gen.2.7. 8 Thou* madest Adam of the moulde of the earth, and gauest him Eua for an helper.
9 And now Lord, thou knowest that it is not because of voluptuousnesse, that I take this sister of mine to wife, but onely for the loue of children, in whome thy name may be blessed for euer.
10 And Sara sayd, Haue mercie vpon vs,
O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs, and let vs both come whole and sound together to a good age.
11 And about the cocke crowing it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruants:
12 And they went with him to make a graue.
13 For he said, It is chaunced nowe vnto him peraduenture, as it did vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her.
14 Now when they had made the graue,
Raguel came againe to his wife, and said vnto her, Sende one of thy maidens to looke if he be dead, that I may burye him afore it be light day.
15 So she sent a maiden to see: which when she came into the chamber, found them whole and sound, sleeping together.
16 And so she came againe, and brought good tydings: then Raguel and Anna his wife praised the Lord,
17 And sayde, Prayse be thou, O Lorde
God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs as we thought.
18 For thou hast dealt mercifully with vs, and put away from vs the enemie that persecuted vs,
19 And hast shewed mercy vnto ponder two, the onely borne children of their parents: O Lorde, cause them to magnifie thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifice of thy praise and of their health:
that al people may know that thou one-ly art God in all the earth.
20 And immediatly Raguel commanded his seruāts to fil the graue that they had made, with earth, afore it was light:
21 And bade his wife prepare a feast, and to make readie all things that were necessary for meate, to such as went by the way.
22 He caused two fat kine also and foure wethers to be slaine, & meates to be prepared for all his neighbours & friends.
23 And Raguel charged Tobias to re-maine with him two weekes.
24 As for all the good that he had, he gaue
Tobias the halfe of it, & made this writ-ting, ye the halfe which remained, should fall vnto Tobias after their death.

The ix. Chapter.

The Angel goeth to Gabelus at the desire of Tobias: which deliuereth the letter, and receiueth the money.

1 THen Tobias called vnto him the Angel, whome he thought to haue bene a man, and sayde vnto him, Brother Azarias, I pray thee hearken vnto my woords.
2 If I should giue my selfe to be thy seruant, I shall not deserue thy prouidence.
3 Neuertheless, I beseech thee that thou wilt take the beasts, & the seruants, and go vnto Gabelus in Rages ye citie of the Medes, and deliuer him his hand writ-ting, and receiue the money of him, and pray him to come to my marriage.
4 For thou knowest thy selfe that my father doeth number the dayes: and if I tarrie one day too long, he will be sore in his minde.
5 Now seest thou how earnestly Raguel hath required mee, so that I can not say him nay.
6 Then toke Raphael foure of Raguels seruants,

seruants, and two camels, and went vnto Rages the citie of the Medes: and when he had found Gabelus, hee gaue him his hand writing, and receiued all the money.

7 He tolde him also of Tobias the sonne of Tobi, howe all things had happened: and caused him to come with him to the marriage.

8 Nowe when he came into the house of Raguel, he found Tobias sitting at the Table: and he leaped vp, and they kissed one another, and Gabelus wept, and prayed God,

9 And sayde, The blessing of the God of Israel haue thou, for thou art the sonne of a right vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, and giueth great almes:

10 And blessing haue thy wife, and your elders,

11 That ye may see your children, & your childrens children vnto the thirde and fourth generation: and your seed be blessed of the God of Israel, which reigneth world without ende.

12 And when they all had sayde Amen, they went to the feast: but with the feare of the Lorde helde they the feast of the marriage.

The x. Chapter.

1 Tobias and his wife thinke long for their sonne. 10 Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sara.

1 NOw while yong Tobias made long tarying, by reason of the mariage, his father was full of care and heauinesse, saying, Canst thou thinke what should be the cause that my sonne tarryeth so long? or why he should be kept so long there?

2 Thinkest thou Gabelus is dead, and no man will giue him the money?

3 Thus began he to be very sorowfull, he and Anna his wife with him: and began to weepe both together, because their sonne was not come againe vnto them at the day appointed.

4 As for his mother, she wept with discomfortable teares, and sayd, Woe is me my sonne, Oh what aled vs to send thee away into a strange countrey, thou light of our eyes, thou staffe of our age, thou comfort of our life, thou hope of our generation?

Tob. 5.19.

5 Seeing all the things that we haue are onely in thee, wee should not haue sent thee away from vs.

6 Then Tobias comforted her and sayd, Holde thy peace, and be not discomforted, our sonne is whole and sound: the man that we sent him withall, is faythfull enough.

7 Neuertheless, she might in no wise be comforted: but daily went out, looked about, and went about all the streetes whereby she thought he should come againe, that if it were possible, she might see him comming a farre off:

8 But Raguel said vnto his sonne in law, Tarie here, and I shall send a messenger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell him that thou art in good health.

9 Tobias saide vnto him, I am sure that my father and my mother count euerie day, and that their hearts are sore.

10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many words, and he would in no wise heare him, he deliuered Sara vnto him, and the halfe part of all his goods, in seruants, and handmaidens, in sheepe, in camels, and in kine, and much money: and so sent him away from him with health and ioy,

11 And said, The holy Angel of the Lorde be with you in your iourney, and bring you forth safe and sound: that yee may find all things in good case with your elders, and that mine eyes may see your children afore I die.

12 So the elders embraced their daughter, kissed her, and let her goe:

13 Exhorting her to honour her father and mother in lawe, to loue her husbande, to rule wel her household, to keepe her house in good order, and to shew her selfe faultlesse.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The returne of Tobias to his father. 11 Howe he was receiued. 15 His father hath his sight restored, and praiseth the Lord.

1 AS they nowe were going homewarde againe, vpon the eleuenth day they came to Charran, which lyeth in the halfe way towarde Nimue.

2 And the Angel sayde, Brother Tobias, thou knowest howe thou hast left thy father.

3 Therefore if it please thee, we two will goe before, and let the household, with thy wife and the cattell, come faire and softly after vs.

4 And when Tobias was content that they should goe before, Raphael sayde vnto him, Take of the gall of the fish with thee: for it shall be necessarie. So Tobias tooke of the gall, and they went their way:

5 But Anna the mother of Tobias sate daily by the way side vpon the toppe of an hill, from whence she might see farre about her.

6 And while she was waiting there for his comming, she looked afarre off, and anon she perceiued her sonne comming, and ran and tolde her husband, saying, Behold, thy sonne commeth.

7 And Raphael sayde vnto Tobias, As soone as thou commest into the house, immediately worship the Lord thy God, and giue thankes vnto him: then goe to thy father, and kisse him.

8 And straightwayes strike his eies ouer with the gall of the fish that thou hast by nought with thee: for bee sure that his eyes shall straightway be opened, and thy father shall see the light of heauen, & shall reioyce at the sight of thee.

The first Chapter.

The building of Echatanis. 5 Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arphaxad, & ouercame him. 12 He threatneth them that would not helpe him.

1 ARphaxad the King of the Medes, subdued many people vnto his dominion, and builded a strong citie, which he called Echatanis.

2 The walles of it made he of free stone, foure square, seuentie cubites high, and thirtie cubites broade: he made towres thereupon an hundred cubites high.

3 But along the foure corners, euery side was twentie foote broade, he made the portes in the height, like as the towres.

4 This king trusted in his mightie hoste, and in his glorious charets.

5 So in the twelfth peare of his reigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, which reigned in the great citie of Ninive, fought against Arphaxad:

6 And ouercame him in the great fielde called Ragau, beside Euphrates, and Tigris, and Iadason, in the field of Erioth the king of the Elimes.

7 Then was the kingdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his heart was lift vp: and he sent vnto all them that dwelt in Cilicia, in Damascus and Libanus:

8 And vnto the heathen that dwelt in Carmel & Cedar, and to such as dwelt in Galilee in the great fielde of Esdrelon:

9 To all them that dwelt in Samaria, and beyond the water of Iordane vnto Hierusalem, and the whole land of Jesse, vnto the borders of Ethiopia:

10 Vnto al these did Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians send messengers.

11 But they al with one consent would not agree vnto him, and sent the messengers againe emptie, & put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the king tooke indignation at all those landes, & sware by his throne & by his kingdome, that he would be auenged of all those countreys.

The ii. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor commanded presumptuously that all people should be brought in subiection.

1 IN the thirteenth peare of king Nabuchodonosor, vpo the twentie & two day of the first moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabucodonosor the king of the Assyrians, that he would reuenge himselfe.

2 So he called vnto him all the elders, all his captaines and men of warre, and shewed them his secrete counsell,

3 And tolde them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominion.

4 Now when they were all content with this saying, Nabuchodonosor the king called Holophernes the chiefe captaine of his warres,

5 And said vnto him, Goe thy way forth against all the kingdomes of the West, and specially ag apnst those that haue despised my commandement.

6 Thou shalt spare no realme, all strong cities shalt thou bring in subiection vnto me.

7 Then Holophernes called together all the captaines and rulers of al the power in Assyria, and mustered the souldiours vnto the hoste, like as the king commanded him, namely an hundred and twentie thousande fighting men vpon foote, and twelue thousande archers vpon horsebacke.

8 All his ordinance sent he before with an innumerable multitude of Camels, so that the hoste was well prouided for with oren and small cattell, & that without nmmber.

9 He appopnted to prepare corne out of all Syria in his passage.

10 Much gold and siuer also tooke he out of the kings house.

11 So hee tooke his iourney, and all his host, with charets, horsemen, & archers: of whom there were so many, that they couered the ground of the lande, like the grasshoppers.

12 And when he was come past the borders of the Assyrians, he came towarde the great mountaines of Ange, which lie vpon the left side of Cilicia: and so hee went vp into all their castels, and wonne euery strong holde.

13 As for the wealthie citie of Melothus he brake it downe, & spoyled all the children of Tharsis, & the Ismaelites, which lay toward the wildernes, and vpon the South side of the land of Chellon.

14 He went ouer Euphrates also, & came into Mesopotamia, and brake downe all the high cities that were there, from the brooke of Mambre, till a man come to the sea:

15 And he tooke the borders in, from Cilicia vnto the coastes of Japhet, towarde the South.

16 He carried away all the Madianites, and spoyled all their goods, and whosoeuer withstode him, he slue them with the sworde.

17 After this, he went downe into the field of Damascus in the time of harueſt, and burnt vp all the corne, and all the trées and vines he caused to be cut downe:

18 And the feare of him fell vpon all them that dwelt on the earth.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The people subiect to Holophernes. 12 He destroyed their gods, that Nabuchodonosor might onely be worshipped.

1 So

1 SO the kings and princes of all the cities and landes, sent their Ambassadours, namely, they of Syria & Mesopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Libya, and Cilicia, which came to Holophernes, and sayde,

2 Let thy wrath cease toward vs: it is better for vs to serue the great king Nabuchodonosor with our liues, and to be subiect vnto thee, then that we shoulde die, and with our slaughter suffer the euils of our bondage.

3 All our cities and possessions, al mountaines and hilles, all fieldes, great and small, cattell, sheepe, goates, horses, and camels, all our goods and houholds, be in thy power.

4 Vnder thy subiection bee all that we haue.

5 We our selues, and also our children, will be thy seruants.

Come vnto vs, peaceable lorde, and vse our seruice at thy pleasure.

7 Then came Holophernes downe from the mountaines, with horsemen & great power, and conquered all strong fenced cities, and all that dwelt in the land.

8 And out of al cities he tooke strong men, and such as were meete for the warre to helpe them.

9 And there came such a feare vpon those countreys, that the indwellers of all the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people together, went forth to meete him as he came:

10 And receiued him honourably with garlandes and torches, with daunces, tabrets, and pipes.

11 Neuertheles, though they did this, yet might they not swage his rigorous stomacke, 12 But he destroyed their cities, & hewed downe their woods.

13 For Nabuchodonosor the king had commanded him that hee should roote out all the gods of the ‖ lande, to the intent that hee onely might bee called and taken for god of the nations, which Holophernes with his power might bring vnder him.

14 So went he thorow Syria Sobal, and thorowe all Appamea, and all Mesopotamia, and came to the Idumeans in the land of Gabaa, 15 And tooke their cities, & remained there thirtie dayes, in which space he caused al the whole multitude of his host to be gathered together.

The iiii. Chapter.

Eliacim the priest writeth to Bethulia, that they should fortifie themselues. 8 They cried to the Lord, and humbled themselues before him.

1 WHen the children of Israel that dwelt in Iurie heard this, they were sore afrayde of him.

2 There came such trembling also and feare vpon them, least he should doe vnto the citie of Hierusalem and the temple of the lorde, as hee had done to other cities and their temples.

3 So they sent into all Samaria rounde about vnto Jericho, tooke in and occupied all the toppes of the mountaines,

4 And made fast þ townes with walles, and prepared corne for them against the battaile.

5 Eliacim also the priest wrote vnto all them that dwelt toward Esdrelõ, which lieth ouer against the great field by Dothaim, and vnto all those by whom men might haue passage vnto them,

6 That they should take in the wayes of the mountaines, whereby there might be any way and passage vnto Hierusalem, and that they should holde diligent watch where any straite was betwixt the mountaines.

7 And the children of Israel did as Eliacim the Priest of the Lord had commanded them.

8 And all the people cried vnto the Lorde earnestly, and humbled their soules with fasting and prayers, they and their wiues:

9 The Priests put on hearie clothes, and laid the yong babes before the temple of the Lorde, and couered the altar of the Lord with an hearie cloth:

10 And with one accorde they cryed vnto the Lorde God of Israel, that their children should not be giuen into a pray, and their wiues into a spoyle, that their cities should not be layde waste, and that their ‖ sanctuarie should not be vnhalowed, and so they to bee a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen.

‖ Or, holy things

11 Then Eliacim the high Priest of the Lord, went round about all Israel, and spake vnto them,

12 Saying, Be ye sure that the Lorde will heare your petitions, if ye continue stedfast in fastings and prayers in the sight of the Lord.

13 Remember* Moses the seruant of the Lord, which ouerthrew the Amalekites that trusted in their might and power, in their horse, in their shields, in their chariots, and horsemen, not with weapons, but with holy prayers.

*Exod. 19. 16

14 Euen so shall all the enemies of Israel be, if ye continue in this worke that ye haue begunne.

15 So vpon this exhortation, they continued in prayer before the Lord.

16 Insomuch that they which offered burnt sacrifices vnto the Lorde, offered the offrings vnto the Lord, being arayed in hearie clothes, and had ashes vpon their heades.

17 And they all besought God from their whole heart, that he would visite his people of Israel.

The v. Chapter.

Achior the Ammonite doeth declare to Holophernes of the maner of the Israelites.

1 AND worde came to Holophernes the prince of the warre of the Assyrians, that the children of Israel prepared themselues to make resistance, and howe they had stopped the wayes betwixt betwixt the mountaines.

2 Then was he exceeding wroth, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captaines of Ammon,

3 And saide vnto them, Tell mee, what people is this that keepeth in the mou-taines? Or what maner, and how great cities theirs are? What is their power?
Or what maner of host haue they? Who is their captaine?

4 And why doe they despise vs more the all those that dwell in the East, & come not forth to meete vs, that they might receiue vs with peace?

Iud.11.7. 5 Then * Achior the captaine of all the Ammonites, answered, and saide, Sir, if it please thee to heare, I will tell the trueth before thee, concerning this people that dwell in the mountaines, and there shall no vntrueth goe out of my mouth.

6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:

Gen.11.31. 7 They dwelt first in * Mesopotamia, for they would not followe the gods of their fathers that were in the lande of the Chaldees:

8 And so forsoke they the custome of their forefathers which had many gods, and worshipped one God that made Gen.12.1. heauen and earth: which also * commanded them that they should goe from thence and dwell at Charran.

Gen.41.54. 9 * Nowe when there came a dearth in-cap.46.6. to the whole lande, they went downe to Egypt, and there they dwelt foure hundred yeeres, in the which they multiplyed greatly, that their hoste might not be numbred.

Exod.1.8. 10 * And when the king of Egypt oppressed them, and poked them in building of his cities, with making of clay, & bricke, they cryed vnto God their Lord, which punished the whole land of Egypt with diuers plagues.

Exod.14.4. 11 * And when the Egyptians had cast them out, and the plague ceassed from them, and they following after them to take them, and to bring them againe into their bondage:

12 While they were fleeing away, the God of heauen opened the sea, so that the waters stood fast vpon both the sides as a wall: and these went thorow the bot-tome of the sea dryshodde.

13 In the which place when an innumerable people of the Egyptians followed vpon them, they were so ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remained not one to tell them that came after how it happened.

Exod.16.2. 14 So when this people was passed tho-rowe the * red sea, they came into the wildernesse of mount Sina, where neuer man might dwell afore, and where the some of man had neuer rested.

Exod.15.23. 15 There were the bitter * waters made sweete for them, that they might drinke, and fourtie yeeres had they meate from heauen.

16 Whersoeuer they went, without bow and arrowe, without buckler or sworde, their God fought for them, and caused them to haue the victorie.

17 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people, except it were when they departed vnfaithfully from the worshipping of the Lord their God.

18 But as oft as they worshipped any other beside their God, hee gaue them ouer to be spoyled, to be slayne, and to bee put to confusion.

19 Neuertheless, as oft as they were sory for their departing from the worship of their God: the same God of heauen gaue them power and strength to withstand their enemies.

20 Moreouer, they * slue the king of the Iosu.12.21.
Chanaanites, Iebusites, Pherezites,
Hethites, Heuites, and Amorites, and al the mightie in Hesebon, and tooke their landes and cities in possession:

21 And so long as they sinned not in the sight of their God, it went wel with thē:
for their God hateth vnrighteousnesse.

22 * For in times past, when they went Iud.2.11.
out of the way which God had giuen 4.king.25.1. them, that they should walke in it, they were destroyed in diuers battailes of many nations, and many of them were caried away prisoners vnto a straunge
countrey.

23 * But nowe lately they haue turned 1.Esd.1.1.
them selues againe vnto the Lorde their God, and are come together againe out of the countreys where they were scattered abroade: and thus haue they conquered these mountaines, and dwell therein: and as for Hierusalem where their sanctuarie is, they haue it againe in possession.

24 And therefore, my Lorde, make diligent inquisition, if this people haue done wickednesse in the sight of their God, then let vs goe vp against them: for doubtlesse their God shal deliuer them into thine handes, and subdue them vnto thy power.

25 But if this people haue not displeased their God, we shall not bee able to withstande them: for their God shall defende them, and so shall we bee a shame to all the world.

26 Nowe when Achior had spoken out these wordes, all the great men of Holophernes were wroth, and thought to slay him, and said one to another,

27 What is hee this which dare say that the children of Israel are able to withstande Nabuchodonosor the king, and his hostes? whereas they are an vn-weaponed people, without strength or vnderstanding of the frates of warre.

28 That Achior therefore may knowe that he hath deceiued vs, we will goe vp into the mountaines: & when the mightie men of them are taken, he with them shalbe stickt with the sword:

29 That all the people may knowe that Nabuchodonosor is the god of ð earth, and that there is none other beside him.

The

The vi. Chapter.

Holophernes blaſphemeth God whome Achior confeſſed.

1 SO when they had left off ſpeaking, Holophernes tooke ſore indignation, and ſaid vnto Achior,

2 For ſo much as thou haſt prophecied vnto vs, ſaying that the people of * Iſrael ſhalbe defended of their God: I will ſhew thee that there is no God but Nabuchodonoſor. Iud. 5.5.

3 Yea, when wee ſlay them all as one man, thou alſo ſhalt periſh with them through the ſword of the Aſſyrians, and all Iſrael ſhalbe deſtroyed with thee:

4 And then ſhalt thou feele that Nabuchodonoſor is the lord of þ whole earth: then ſhall the ſword of my knightheode go thorowe thy ſides, and thou ſhalt fall down ſtickt amõg þ woũded of Iſrael, & ‖ſhalt not come to thy ſelfe againe, but be vtterly deſtroyed with them. ‖Or, ſhalt not drawe breath againe.

5 Furthermore, if thou thinkeſt thy prophecie to bee true, why doeſt thou then chãge thy colour? why art thou afraid? thinkeſt thou that my wordes are not able to be performed?

6 But that thou maieſt knowe that thou ſhalt feele theſe things with them, beholde, from this houre forth, will I ſend thee vnto ponder people, þ when the puniſhmẽt of my ſworde (which they haue worthilp deſerued) falleth vpon them, thou maieſt be puniſhed with them.

7 So Holophernes commanded his ſeruants to take Achior, and to carie him vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer him into the handes of the children of Iſrael.

8 Then Holophernes ſeruantes tooke him, and went thorowe the plaine fielde: but whẽ they drewe nigh vnto the mountaines, the ſling caſters came out againſt them.

9 Neuertheleſſe, they gate them alway by the ſide of the mountaine, and bound Achior hand and foote to a tree, and ſo left him bounde with wyths, and turned againe vnto their lorde.

10 After that, the children of Iſrael went downe from Bethulia, came vnto him, loſed him, brought him into Bethulia, ſet him in the middeſt of the people, and aſked him what the matter was that the Aſſyrians had left him bounde?

11 Oſias the ſonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Charmi, which is alſo called Gothoniel, were the principal rulers at the ſame time.

12 Now when Achior ſtoode in the midſt of the Senatours, and before them all, he told them what anſwere he gaue Holophernes to the thing that he aſked him, & how Holophernes people would haue ſlayne him for ſo ſaying.

13 And howe Holophernes himſelfe was wroth, and commãded him for the ſame cauſe to be deliuered vnto þ Iſraelites: that when hee ouercame the children of Iſrael, he might commande Achior alſo to be put to death with diuers torments, becauſe he ſaide, The God of heauen is their defender.

14 And when Achior had plainely tolde out all theſe things, all the people fell downe vpon their faces, praying the Lord, and powred out their prayers together vnto the Lord, with a generall cõplaint and weeping,

15 And ſaid, O Lorde God of heauen and of earth, beholde their pride, and looke vpon our lowlineſſe, and conſider howe it ſtandeth with thy ſaintes, and make it to bee knowen that thou forſakeſt not thoſe which holde them faſt by thee, and powe that thou bringeſt them lowe that preſume of them ſelues, and make their boaſt in their owne ſtrength.

16 So when the weeping and prayer of the people (which they had made the whole day long, was ended) they comforted Achior, 17 Saying, The God of our fathers, whoſe power and ſtrength thou haſt prayſed, ſhall ſo rewarde thee, that thou ſhalt rather ſee their deſtruction.

18 When the Lorde our God then ſhall giue his ſeruants this libertie, God bee alſo with thee among vs: ſo that as it ſhall pleaſe thee, ſo thou with all thine mayeſt dwell with vs.

19 Now when Oſias had ended the cõſell, he tooke him into his houſe, & made a great ſupper, 20 Called the elders to it: & ſo they refreſhed themſelues after the faſting.

21 And afterward was all the people called together, which made their prayers all the night long ‖ in the congregation, and beſought þ God of Iſrael for helpe. ‖Or, within the church.

The vii. Chapter.

Holophernes doeth beſiege Bethulia.

1 THe next day Holophernes commanded his hoſte to go vp againſt Bethulia.

2 There were an hundred and twentie thouſand fighting men on foote, and two and twentie thouſand horſemen, beſide the preparing of them that were wonne, & came to them on euery ſide out of þ countreys & cities which he had taken.

3 All theſe prepared themſelues vnto the battell againſt the Iſraelites, and came on by the hill ſide, vnto the top that looketh ouer againſt Dothaim, from the place which is called Belma, vnto Chelmon, that lieth toward Eſdrelon.

4 Now when the children of Iſrael ſawe ſo great a multitude of the Aſſyrians, they fell downe flat vpon the grounde, ſtrawed aſhes vpon their heades, and prayed with one accorde that the God of Iſrael would ſhewe his mercie vpon his people.

5 And ſo they tooke their weapons, and ſate betwixt the mountaines in the narrowe place, and kept the wap day and night.

6 But while Holophernes was going round about, he found the waterſpring, which from the South ſide was conueyed ueped into the citie by a conduite, and he commanded their conduite to bee cut in sunder.

7 There were welles also not farre from the wals, which they used secretly, more for pleasure, ‖then for necessitie.

Or, them to drinke

8 Then went the Ammonites and the Moabites vnto Holophernes, and sayd, The children of Israel trust neither in speare nor arrow, but haue taken in and kept the mountaines, and steepe hilles defend them.

9 That thou maiest ouercome thē therefore without the striking of any battaile, set men to keepe the welles, that they draw no water out of them, so shalt thou destroy them without swoorde: or at the least they shalbe so feeble, that they must bee faine to giue ouer the citie, which they thinke not able to be wonne, for so much as it lyeth in the mountaines.

10 These woordes pleased Holophernes well, and all his men of warre, and hee set an hundred at euery well rounde about.

11 And when this watch had endured twentie dayes, the cesternes and all that had water, failed them that dwelt in the citie of Bethulia, so that in the whole citie they had not drinke ynough for one day, for the people had water giuē them daily in a measure.

12 Then came the men and women, young persons and children, all vnto Ozias, and said all with one voyce, Iud.5.21.

13 God be * iudge betwixt vs and thée, for thou hast deale euil with vs: thou wouldest not speake peaceably with the king of the Assyrians, therefore hath God sold vs into their handes.

14 And there is no man to help vs, whereas we are brought downe before their eyes in thirst and great destruction.

15 Therefore gather nowe together all the people that be in the citie, that we may all yeilde our selues willingly vnto the people of Holophernes:

16 For better it is that we be captiue, and liuyng the Lord with our liues, then to be slaine and perish, and to bee laughed to scorne, and shamed of euery man, when we see our wiues and children die before our eyes.

17 We take heauen and earth this day to recorde, & the God of our fathers, which punisheth vs according to the deserving of our sinnes, and giue you warning that ye giue vp the citie nowe into the power of Holophernes hoste, that our end may be short with the swoorde, which els shall endure long for want of water, and for thirst.

18 When they had spoken out these woords, there was a great weeping and howling in the whole congregation, and that of euery man, and they erred a ‖whole houre long vnto God with one voyce,

Or, many houres. Psal.105.6.

19 Saying, * Wee haue sinned with our fathers, wee haue done amisse, we haue dealt wickedly:

20 Thou that art gratious, haue mercie vpon vs, or punish our vnrighteousnesse with thine owne scourge, and giue not those ouer that knowledge thee, vnto a people which knowe thee not:

21 That they may not say among the Heathen, Where is their God?

22 And when they were so wearie with this crying and weeping, that they held their peace, 23 Ozias stoode vp with warry eyes, and said, O take good hearts vnto you, deare brethren, and be of good cheare, and let vs waite yet these fiue dayes for mercie of the Lord.

24 Peraduenture hée shall put away his indignation, and giue glory vnto his name.

25 But if hee helpe vs not when the fiue dayes are past, we shall doe as ye haue sayd.

The viii. Chapter.

The parentage, life, and conuersation of Iudith.

1 AND it happened when these woords came to the eares of Judith, a widowe, which was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Idor, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Ozia, the sonne of Elai, the sonne of Jamnoz, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Melchia, the sonne of Enan, the sonne of Nathania, the sonne of Salathiel, the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben:

2 And her husbande was called Manasses, which dyed in the dayes of the barley harueste.

3 For while he was binding the sheaues together in the fielde, the heate came vpon his head, and he dyed at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buried beside his fathers.

4 Now was Judith his desolate widowe three yeares and sixe moneths.

5 And in the higher parts of her house shée made her selfe a priuie chamber, where she dwelt, being closed in with her maidens:

6 She ware a sacke of heare, and fasted all the dayes of her life, except the Sabboths, and new moones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israel kept.

7 She was a very faire and beautiful person, her husband also had left her great riches, a plenteous houshold, great vnmoueable possessions, and many cattell.

8 This Judith was a woman of a very good report with euery one, for she feared the Lord greatly: and there was no body that spake an euill word of her.

9 When this Judith heard howe Ozias had promised the people, that after the fifth day he would giue vp the citie vnto the Assyrians, shee sent for the elders, Chabri and Charmi.

10 And when they came to her, shée sayd, What thing is this, wherein Ozias hath consented, that if God helpe not within fiue dayes, he will giue ouer the citie to the Assyrians?

11 What are ye, that ye tempt the Lord?

12 This deuice obtepneth no mercie of GOD, but prouoketh him vnto wrath and displeasure.
13 Will pée set the mercy of the Lorde a time, and appoint him a day after pour will?
14 Neuertheleſſe, for ſo much as the Lord is patient, let vs rather repent in this, powring out teares, and beſéeching him of grace.
15 For God threateneth not as man, neither will he be prouoked vnto wrath, as the children of men.
16 And therefore let vs heartily fall downe before him, and ſerue him with a méeke ſpirit,
17 And with weéping eyes ſay vnto the Lord, that he deale with vs according to his owne will ſpéedily in mercy: that like as our heart is nowe vexed and brought lowe through the pride of them, it ‖may ſo be comforted through his grace,
18 In ſo much as we followe not þ ſinnes of our fathers, which forſooke their God, and worſhipped other gods:
19 For the which ſinne they periſhed with the ſword, were ſpoyled and brought to ſhame of all their enemies: as for vs, we know none other God but onely him.
20 For whoſe comfort let vs tarry with meekeneſſe, and he ſhal require and make inquiſition for our blood from the vexations of our enemies: hee ſhall bring downe al the heathen that riſe vp againſt vs, and put them to diſhonour, euen the Lord our God.
21 Therefore deare brethren, ſéeing pe are the honourable and elders in the people of God, and their life hangeth al vpon pou, lift vp their hearts with pour exhortation, that they may call to remembrance how our fathers alſo in times paſt were tempted, that they might be proued if they worſhipped their God aright.
22 They ought to remember * howe our father Abraham being tempted, & tryed through many tribulatiõs, ‖ was found a louer and friend of God.
23 So was Iſaac, ſo was * Iacob, ſo was Moſes: and all they that pleaſed God, paſſed ſtedfaſt in faith through manifold troubles.
24 Againe, they that receiued not their temptations with the feare of God, but put themſelues forth with vnpatience and murmuring againſt God, 25 * Periſhed of the deſtroyer, and were ſlaine of ſerpents.
26 And therefore ſhoulde wée not vndertake to bée auenged for the things that are done vnto vs:
27 * But to conſider that all theſe puniſhments are farre leſſe then our ſinnes and miſdéedes, and beléeuing that this correction commeth vnto vs as to the ſeruants of God, for amendment, and not for our deſtruction.
28 Then ſayde Oſias and the elders vnto Iudith, All that thou ſpeakeſt is true, and no man can reproue thy wordes.
29 Pray thou for vs nowe therefore vnto God, for thou art an holy woman, and feareſt God.
30 And Iudith ſayde vnto them, Séeing pe know that my wordes are of God, 31 Then proue my counſaile and deuice if it bée of God: and beſeech God that hée will bring my counſaile to good ende.
32 Thus haue I deuiſed, Pée ſhall ſtand this night before the port, and I wil goe forth with Abra my maiden: and pray pee therefore vnto God, that hée will graciouſly remember his people of Iſrael within fiue dayes, as pe haue ſayd.
33 As for the thing that I goe in hande withal, aſke pe no queſtions of it: and till I bring pou word againe of it, doe pee nothing els but pray vnto the Lorde our God for me.
34 Then Oſias the prince of the people of Iuda ſayde vnto her, Goe thy way in peace, the Lorde bée with thee, that we may be auenged of our enemies. And ſo they went from her againe.

*or, we may ſo glory.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Iudith humbleth her ſelfe before the Lord, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people.

1 NOwe when they were ‖gone their way, Iudith went into her cloſet, put on a hearp ſmocke, ſtrawed aſhes vpon her head, fell downe before the Lord, and cried vnto him, ſaying,
2 O Lorde God of my father * Simeon, which gaueſt him a ſworde for ‖a defence againſt the enemies that vſed violence in their vncleanneſſe, and that rauiſhed the virgine, and put her to ſhame and confuſion:
3 Thou that gaueſt their wiues into a pray, and their daughters into captiuitie, and al their pray for a ſpoyle vnto thy ſeruants which bare a zeale vnto thee: helpe me widowe, O Lorde my God, I beſeech thée.
4 For thou haſt made the firſt things: and after that, looke what thou haſt taken in hande and deuiſed, it came euer to paſſe.
5 For all thy wayes are prepared, and thy iudgements are put in thy euerlaſting foreknowledge.
6 O looke nowe vpon the ‖ armies of the Aſſyrians, like as it was thy pleaſure ſometime to looke vpon the hoſte of the Egyptians, when they being weaponed perſecuted thy ſeruants, & put their truſt in their charets, horſemen, and in the multitude of their men of warre.
7 But thou lookedſt vpon their hoſte, caſting a thicke darkeneſſe before them.
8 And when they came into the deepe, the waters ouerwhelmed them.
9 Euen ſo Lorde, let it go with theſe that truſt in the power and multitude of their men of warre, in their charets, arrowes, and ſpeares.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iudith decketh her selfe, and goeth foorth of the citie. 11 She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians, and brought to Holophernes.

1 AAnd when shee had left off crying vnto the Lorde, shee rose vp from the place where shee had lien flat before the Lord,

2 And called her maiden Abra, went down into her house, laide the hearp cloth from her, put off the garments of her widowshood.

3 Washed her body, anoynted her selfe with pretious things of sweete sauour, braided & platted her heare, set a coppe vpon her head, and put on such apparell as belonged vnto gladnesse, slippers vpon her feete, bracelets, spangs, eare rings, finger rings, and decked her selfe with al her best arap.

4 The Lorde gaue her also a speciall beautie and fairenesse, for all this decking of her selfe was not done for any voluptuousnesse, but of a right discretion and vertue: therefore did the Lorde encrease her beautie, so that shee was exceeding amiable and well fauoured in all mens eyes.

5 She gaue her maiden Abra also a bottel of wine, a pot with oyle, pottage, cake bread and cheese, and went her way.

6 Now when they came to the porte of the citie, they found Ozias and the elders of the citie waiting there.

7 Which when they sawe her, they were astonied, and marueiled greatly at her beautie.

8 Neuertheless, they *asked no question at her, but let her goe, saying, The God of our fathers giue thee grace, and with his power performe all the deuice of thy heart, that Hierusalem may reioyce ouer thee, and thy name may bee in the number of the holy and righteous.

Iudith 8.33.

9 And all they that were there, saide with one voyce, So be it, so be it.

10 Judith made her prayer vnto the Lord, and went out at the port, shee and her maid Abra.

11 And as shee was going downe the mountaine, it happened that about the spring of the day, the spies of the Assyrians met with her, and tooke her, saying, Whence commest thou? or whither goest thou?

12 She answered, I am a daughter of the Hebrewes, and am fled from them: for I knowe that they shall be giuen vnto you to be spoyled, because they thought scorne to yelde them selues vnto you, that they might finde mercy in your sight.

13 Therefore haue I deuised by my selfe after this maner: I wil goe before the prince Holophernes, and tell him all their secretes, and will shewe him howe he may come by them, and winne them: so that not one man of his hoste shall perish.

14 And when these men had heard her wordes, and considered her faire face, they were astonied (for they wondred at her excellent beautie.)

15 And saide vnto her, Thou hast saued thy life by finding out this deuice, that thou wouldest come downe to our Lord.

16 And be thou sure, that when thou commest vnto him, he shall entreate thee wel, and thou shalt please him at the heart. So they brought her into Holophernes pauilion, and told him of her.

17 Now when shee came in before him, immediatly hee was ouercome and taken with her beautie.

18 Then said his seruants, Who would despise the people of the Iewes, that haue so fayre women? should we not by reason fight against them for these?

19 So when Judith sawe Holophernes sitting in a canopy, that was wrought of purple silk, golde, smaragde, and precious stones, 20 She looked fast vpon him, bowed her selfe, and fell downe vpon the earth: and Holophernes seruauntes tooke her vp againe at their lordes commaundement.

The xi. Chapter.

1 Holophernes comforteth Iudith, 3 and asketh the cause of her comming. 5 Shee deceiueth him by her faire wordes.

1 THen said Holophernes vnto her, Be of good cheare, and feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurt man that would serue Nabuchodonosor the king.

2 As for thy people, if they had not despised mee, I should not haue lift vp my speare against them.

3 But tell me now, what is the cause that thou art departed from them, & wherefore art thou come vnto vs?

4 And Iudith sayde vnto him, Syr, vnderstand the woords of thy handmaiden: for if thou wilt doe after the woordes of thy handmaiden, the Lord shal bring thy matter to a prosperous effect.

5 As Nabuchodonosor the king of the earth liueth, and as his power liueth, which is in thee to the punishment of all men that goe wrong: all men shall not only be subdued vnto him through thee, but all the beastes also of the fielde.

6 For al people speake of thy prudent actiuitie, and it hath euer bene reported how thou only art good and mighty in all his kingdome, and thy ‖discretion is commended in all landes.

‖Or, discipline.

Iudith.5.5.

7 The thing is manifest also that *Achior spake, and it is well knowen what thou commaundedst to doe vnto him.

8 For this is plaine, and of a suretie, that our God is so wroth with vs by the reason of our sinnes, that he hath shewed by his Prophets vnto the people, how that for their sinnes hee will deliuer them ouer vnto the enemie.

9 And for so much as the children of Israel knowe that they haue so displeased their God, they are sore afrayd of thee.

10 They suffer great hunger also, and for want of water, they are dead nowe in a maner.

11 Moreouer, they are appointed to slaye all their cattell, that they may drinke the bloud of them:

12 And are purposed to spende the holy things of their God, which he hath forbidden them to touch, as of corne, wine, and oyle, and they will consume those things which they ought not to touch with their handes: Seeing now that they doe these things, it is a playne case that they must needes be destroyed.

13 Which when I thy handmaiden perceiued, I fled from them, and the Lorde hath sent me to shew thee these things.

14 For I thy handmaiden worship God, euen now here beside thee: & thy handmayden shall goe foorth, and I will make my prayer vnto God.

15 And he shall tell me when hee will reward them their sinne, then shall I come and shew thee, and bring thee thorow the middest of Hierusalem, so that thou shalt haue all the people of Israel as sheepe without a shepheard, and there shall not so much as one dog barke against thee.

16 For these things are shewed me by the prouidence of God.

17 And for so much as God is displeased with them, he hath sent me to tell thee the same.

18 These woordes pleased Holophernes, & al his seruantes: which marueled at the wisedome of her, and saide one to another, 19 There is not such a woman vpon earth, in fauour, in beautie, and discretion of woordes.

20 And Holophernes said vnto her, God hath done well that he hath sent thee hither before thy people, that thou mayest giue them into our handes.

21 And for so much as thy promise is good, if thy God performe it vnto me, he shall be my God also, and thou shalt be excellent, & great in the Court of Nabuchodonosor, and thy name shalbe spoken of in all the land.

The xii. Chapter.

Iudith woulde not pollute her selfe with the meate of the Gentiles.

1 THen commaunded he her to goe in where his treasure laye, and charged that she shoulde haue her dwelling there, and appointed what shoulde be giuen her from his table.

2 Iudith answered him, and saide, As for the *meate that thou hast commanded to giue mee, I may not eate of it as nowe, lest I displease my God: but will eate of such as I haue brought with mee. Gen.43.32.

3 Then saide Holophernes vnto her, If these things that thou hast brought with thee faile, what shall we doe vnto thee?

4 And Iudith saide, As thy soule liueth, my lord, thy handmaiden shal not spende all this, till God hath brought to passe in my hand the things that I haue desired. So his seruants brought her into the tent whereas he had appointed.

5 And as she was going in, shee desired that shee might haue leaue to goe foorth by night and before day to her prayer, And to make intercession vnto the Lord.

6 Then commaunded Holophernes his chamberlains, that she should goe out & in at her pleasure, to pray vnto God those three dayes.

7 And so in the night season she went foorth into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in the well water.

8 And comming vp, she besought the Lord God of Israel that he would prosper her way, for the deliuerance of his people.

9 And so she went in, and remained cleane in her tent, till shee tooke her meate in the euening.

10 Vpon the fourth day it came to passe, that Holophernes made a supper vnto his seruants, and saide vnto Bagao his chamberlaine, Goe thy way, & counsell this Hebrewesse, that she may be willing to consent to keepe company with mee.

11 For

11 For it were a shame vnto all the Assyrians, that a woman should so laugh a man to scorne, that she were come from him vnmedled withall.
12 Then went Bagao vnto Judith, and sayd, Let not the good daughter be afraid to come in to my lorde, that she may bee honoured before him, that shee may eate and drinke wine, and be merry with him.
13 Vnto whom Judith answered, Who am I, that I should say my lord nay?
14 Whatsoeuer is good and best before his eyes, I shal doe it: and looke what is his pleasure, that shall I thinke well done as long as I liue.
15 So she stood vp, and deckt her selfe with her apparell, and went in, and stood before him.
16 And Holophernes heart was whole moued: for he burnt in desire toward her.
17 And Holophernes said vnto her, Drinke nowe, and sit downe, and be merry, for thou hast found fauour before me.
18 Then said Judith, Sir, I wil drinke, for my minde is merier to day then euer it was in all my life.
19 And she tooke, and did eate, and dranke before him the things that her maiden had prepared for her.
20 And Holophernes was merry with her, and dranke more wine then euer hee did afore in his life.

The xiii. Chapter.

7 Juduth prayeth for strength. 10 She smiteth off Holophernes head. 12 She returneth to Bethulia, and reioyceth her people.

1 NOw when it was late in the night, his seruãts made haste euery man to his lodging, and Bagao shut the chamber doores, and went his way:
2 * For they were all ouerladen with wine. Esai. 31.30.
3 So was Judith alone in the chamber.
4 As for Holophernes, he lay vpon the bed all drunken, and of very drunkennesse fell aslæpe.
5 Then commaunded Judith her mayden to stand without before the doore, and to waite.
6 And Judith stoode before the bed, making her prayers with teares, and moouing her lips secretly,
7 And said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, and haue respect vnto the workes of mine hands in this houre, that thou maiest set vp thy citie of Hierusalem, like as thou hast promised: and graunt that I may performe the thing, which in hope that it may be done by thee, I haue deuised.
8 And when she had spoken this, she went to the pillar that was at Holophernes beds head, & loosed his sworde that hanged vpon it, and drewe it out:
9 And when shee had taken it out of the scabberd, shee tooke holde of the hearye locks of his head, and sayd, Strengthen me, O Lord God, in this houre.
10 * And with þ she gaue him two strokes vpon the necke, and smote off his head: Iud.14.17.15.
then tooke she the canopy away from the pillars, and rolled the dead body aside.
11 Immediatly she gate her forth, and deliuered the head of Holophernes vnto her maiden, and bade her put it in her wallet.
12 And so these two went forth together after their custome, as though they would pray: and so passed by the hoste, and came about thorow the valley vnto the port of the citie.
13 And Judith cried a farre off vnto the watchmen vpon the walles, Open the gates, sayd she, for God is with vs, which hath shewed his power in Israel.
14 And when they heard her voyce, they called the elders of the citie together.
15 And they came al to mæte her, litle and great, yong and old: for they thought not that she should haue come so soone.
16 So they lighted candles, and gathered about her euery one: but she went vp into an high place, and caused silence to bee proclaimed.
17 And when euery man nowe held his peace, Judith sayd, O praise the Lord our God, for he hath not despised nor forsaken them that put their trust in him:
18 And in mee his handmaiden hee hath performed his mercy, which he promised vnto the house of Israel: Yea, in my hand this same night hath hee slayne the enemie of his people.
19 And with that she tooke forth the head of Holophernes out of the wallet, and shewed it them, saying, Behold the head of Holophernes the captaine of the armie of the Assyrians, and this is his canopie wherein hee lay in his drunkennesse, where the Lord our God hath slaine him by the hand of a woman.
20 But as the Lord liueth, his angel hath kept me, going thither, remaining there, and cõming hither againe from thence: and the Lorde hath not suffered mee his handmaiden to be defiled, but without any defiling of sinne hath he brought mee againe vnto you, and that with great victorie, so that I am escaped, and pe deliuered.
21 * Giue thankes vnto him euery one, for he is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer. Psal. 105.2.
22 So they praised the Lorde all together, and gaue thankes vnto him, and to her they sayde, The Lorde hath blessed thee in his power, for through thee he hath brought our enemies to nought.
23 And Ossias the chiefe ruler of the people of Israel, sayd vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of þ Lorde the high God, aboue all women vpon earth.
24 Blessed be the Lorde the maker of heauen and earth, which hath guided thee aright to wound and to smite off the head of the captaine of our enemies.
25 For this day hee hath made thy name so honourable, that thy praise shall neuer come out of the mouth of men, which shall allway remember the power of the Lorde, ſeeing thou haſt not ſpared thine owne ſelfe, but put thee in ieopardie, conſidering the anguiſh of thy people, and ſo haſt helped their fall before GOD our Lord.

26 And all the people ſaid, Amen, Amen.

27 Achior alſo was called, & he came: then ſaid Iudith vnto him, The God of Iſrael, vnto whom thou gaueſt witneſſe that hee would bee auenged of his enemies, euen hee hath this night through my hand ſmitten off the head of all the vnfaithfull.

28 And that thou mayeſt ſee that it ſo is, behold, this is the head of Holophernes, which in his preſumptuous pride deſpiſed & God of Iſrael, and threatened thee with deſtruction, ſaying, When the people of Iſrael is taken, I ſhall cauſe thee alſo to be ſtickt with the ſword.

29 When Achior ſaw Holophernes head, he fel downe vpon his face to the ground, for very anguiſh and feare, ſo that hee ſwooned withall.

30 But after that he was come againe to him ſelfe, he fell downe before her, and praiſed her, ſaying, 31 Bleſſed art thou of thy God in all the tabernacles of Iacob: for all the people that heare of thy name, ſhall praiſe the God of Iſrael, becauſe of thee.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 Iudith cauſeth to hang vp the head of Holophernes. 6 Achior ioyneth himſelfe to the people of God. 7 The Iſraelites goe out againſt the Aſſyrians.

1 IVdith ſayde vnto all the people, Brethren, heare me, * Sticke vp his head vpon our walles:

2. Mac. 15. 35.

2 And when the Sunne ariſeth, take euery man his weapon, & fall out violently: not as though ye would go beſide them, but to run vpon them with violence.

3 When the ſpies ſee this, they ſhall of neceſſitie be compelled to flee backward, and to raiſe vp their captaine to the battel.

4 So when their captaines come into Holophernes pauilion, and finde the dead body wrapped in the blood, fearefulneſſe ſhall fall vpon them.

5 So when ye perceiue that they flee, follow them without all care, for God ſhal ‖ deliuer them vnto you to be deſtroyed.

‖Or, the Lord ſhall breake them vnder your feete.

6 Then Achior ſeeing the power of God, which he had ſhewed vnto the people of Iſrael, fell off from his heathenith beliefe, and put his truſt in God, and let himſelfe be circumciſed, and ſo was he numbred among the people of Iſrael, he and all his poſteritie vnto this day.

7 Now as ſoone as it was day, they ſtickt vp Holophernes head vpon the walles, and euery man toke his weapon, and ſo they went out with an horrible cry.

8 When the ſpies ſawe that, they ranne vnto Holophernes tent.

9 And they that were within the tent, came before his chamber, and made a great ruſhing, that Holophernes might awake, not by ſtirring him vp, but by their noiſe.

10 For there durſt not one of the Aſſyrians knocke, goe in, or open.

11 But when the captaines and princes, and all the chiefe in the king of the Aſſyrians hoſte came together, they ſaid vnto the chamberlaines, 12 Goe your way in, and wake him vp: for the mice are crept out of their holes, and dare prouoke vs vnto battell.

13 Then Bagao went into his chamber, ſtood before the ‖ bed, and clapped with his hands: for hee thought he had bene ſleeping with Iudith. ‖Or, curtaine.

14 But when he hearkened perfectly with his eares, and could perceiue no ſtirring, hee went nigher to the ‖ bed, & lift it vp, & when hee ſawe the dead body of Holophernes lying there without a head, weltring in his blood vpon the earth, hee cried with a loude voyce, and with weeping rent his clothes, ‖Or, curtaine.

15 And went into Iudiths tent, and found her not.

16 And ſo he lept out vnto the people, and ſayde, One woman of the Iewes hath brought al Nabuchodonoſors people to ſhame: for loe, Holophernes lieth vpon the ground, and hath no head.

17 When the chiefe of the Aſſyrians hoſte heard that, they rent their clothes, and there fell an intolerable feare and trembling vpon them: ſo that their mindes were ſore afraid.

18 And there was an exceeding great cry in ‖ the whole hoſte. ‖Or, middeſt of the hoſte.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The Aſſyrians are afraid and flee. 6 The Iſraelites purſue them.

1 NOw when all the hoſte heard that Holophernes was beheaded, their mind and counſell fell from them: and being amazed with feare onely and trembling, they ſaued themſelues by fleeing away.

2 One ſpake not to another, but hanged downe their heads, left all behind them, and made haſte to eſcape from the Hebrewes: for they heard that they were haſting to come after with their weapons, and ſo they fled by the waies of the fields, and thorowe all the footepathes of the ‖ dales. ‖Or, woods.

3 And when the children of Iſrael ſawe that they fled, they followed vpon them, and went downe with trumpets, blowing, and making a great cry after them.

4 As for the Aſſyrians, they had no order, and kept not themſelues together, but fled their way: neuertheleſſe, the children of Iſrael fell vpon them with one company and order, and diſcomfited as many as they might get.

5 And Ozias ſent meſſengers vnto all the cities and countries of Iſrael.

6 So al the region and euery citie ſent out their beſt men after them in harneſſe, and ſmote them with the ſword, til they came to the vttermoſt part of their borders.

7 And

7 And the other that were in Bethulia, came into the tents of the Assyrians, & tooke all that they which were fled had left behind them, and so they found great good.
8 And they that came againe to Bethulia from the battel, tooke with them such things as had bene theirs: there was no number of the cattell, and of all costly iewels, so that from the lowest vnto the highest, they were all made riche of the spoiles of them.
9 And Joachim the high priest, came frō Hierusalem to Bethulia, with all the elders, that they might see Judith.
10 Nowe when shee came out vnto them, they beganne all to praise her with one voyce, saying, Thou worship of the citie of Hierusalem, thou ioy of Israel, thou honour of our people.
11 Because thou hast done manly, and thy heart is comforted, and for that thou hast loued cleanlinesse and chastitie, and hast knowen no man but thine owne husband: therefore hath the hande of the Lorde comforted thée, and blessed shalt thou be for euer.
12 And al the people saide, So be it, so be it.
13 In thirtie daies could the people of Israel scarse gather vp the spoiles of the Assyrians.
14 But al that belonged vnto Holophernes, and had bene his specially, whether it were of golde, of siluer, pzecious stone, clothing, and al ornaments, they gaue it vnto Judith, and it was deliuered vnto her of the people.
15 And al the people reioyced, both women, maidens, and yong people, with pipes and harpes.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 Judith prayseth God with a song. 25 She offreth to the Lorde Holophernes stuffe. 26 Her continencie, life, and death. 29 All Israel lamenteth her.

1 THen sang Judith this song vnto the Lord, saying,
2 Begin vnto the Lorde vpon the tabzets, sing vnto the Lord vpon the cymbales, O sing vnto him a newe song of thankesgiuing, be ioyfull, and call vpon his name.
3 It is the Lorde that destroyeth warres, euen the Lord is his name:
4 Which hath pitched his tents in the middest of his people, that he might deliuer vs from the hand of all our enemies.
5 Assur came out of the mountaines of ꝑ North in the multitude of his strength: his people stopped the water brookes, & their horses couered the valleis.
6 He purposed to haue burnt vp my ‖land, & to slay my young men with the swoꝛd. ‖Or, borders.
7 He would haue caried away my children and virgins into captiuitie, but the almightie Lord hindered him, and deliuered him into the handes of a woman ‖which brought him to confusion. ‖Or, which did sticke him thorow.
8 For their mightie was not destroyed of the yong men, it was not the sonnes of Titan that slew him, neither haue the great giants set themselues against him: but Judith ꝑ daughter of Merari, with her faire beautie hath discomfited him, and brought him to nought.
9 For she laide away her widowes garment, and put on the apparel of gladnes, to the reioycing of the children of Israel.
10 She anointed her face with oyntment, and bound vp her heare in a coife, and tooke a new ‖stoale to beguile him. ‖Or, garmens.
11 Her slippers rauished his eyes, her beautie captiuated his minde, with the swoꝛd smote shee of his necke.
12 The Persiās were astonied at her stedfastnesse, and the Medes at her boldenesse.
13 Then howled the armies of the Assyrians, when my simples appeared dry of thirst.
14 The sonnes of the daughters haue pearced them thorow, and slaine them as fugitiue children, they perished in the battel, ‖for the very feare of the Lord my God. ‖Or, from the face.
15 Let vs sing a song of thankesgiuing vnto the Lord, a new song of praise will we sing vnto our God.
16 Lorde, Lorde, thou art a great God, mightie in power, whome no man may ouercome.
17 All thy creatures must serue thée: for thou spakest but the woꝛde, and they were made, thou sentest thy spirite, and they were created, and no man can withstand thy voyce. Gen.1.1. psal.32.9.
18 The mountaines shall moone from the foundations with the waters, the stonie rocks shall melt before thee like ware.
19 But they that feare thée, shalbe great with thée in al thyngs.
20 Woe vnto the people that rose vp against my generation: for the almightie Lord will auenge himselfe of them, and in the day of iudgement will hee visite them.
21 For hee shall giue fire and wormes in their flesh, that they may burne and feele it for euermoze.
22 After this it happened, that after the victozie, all the people came to Hierusalem, to giue praise and thankes vnto the Lord: and whē they were purified, they offered all their whole burnt sacrifices, and their vowes, and their promised offrings.
23 And Judith offered all Holophernes weapons, and al the iewels that the people had giuen her, and the canopie that she tooke from his bed, and hanged thē vp ‖vnto the Lorde. ‖The olde interpreter hath In Anathema oblivionis, 24 The people were ioyful as the dleis: and this ioy with Judith, by reason of ꝑ victozie, endured three moneths.
25 So after these dayes, euery man went home againe, and Judith was in great reputation at Bethulia, and right honourably taken in all the land of Israel.

26 Vnto her vertue also was chastitie ioyned, so that after her husband Manasses died, shee neuer knewe man all the dayes of her life.
27 Vpon the high solemne dayes, she wēt out with great worship.
28 She dwelt in her husbands house an hundred and fiue yeres, & left her handmaiden Abra free, 29 And died, and was buried beside her husband in Bethulia: and all the people mourned for her seuen dayes.
30 So long as she liued, there was none that troubled Israel, and many yeres also after her death.
31 The day wherein this victorie was gotten, was solemnely holden, and reckoned of the Iewes in the nnmber of the holy dayes, as it is yet greatly holden of the Iewes euer since, vnto this day.

The xi. Chapter after the Latine.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

1 MArdocheus the sonne of Iari, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, of the tribe of Beniamin,
2 A Iewe, which had his dwelling in the citie of Susis, a man of great reputation, and excellent among al them that were in the kings court:
3 Neuertheless, he was one of the prisoners whom* Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylō had carryed away from Hierusalem vnto Babylon, with Iechonias the king of Iuda.
4 In the seconde yere of the raigne of great Artaxerxes, in the first day of the moneth Nisan, had this Mardocheus such a dreame.
5 Hee thought he heard a great tempest, horrible thunderclaps, earthquakes, & great vproze in the lande.
6 And that hee sawe two great dragons, ready to fight one against another.
7 Their cry was great: at the which roaring and cry, all the heathen were vp to fight against the righteous people.
8 And the same day was full of darkenes, and very vncleare, ful of trouble and anguish, yea, a great fearefulnes was there in the land.
9 The righteous were amased, for they feared the plague and euill that was deuised ouer them, and were at a point with themselues to die: So they cried vnto God.
10 And while they were crying, the litle well grew into a great riuer, and into mauy waters.
11 And with that it was day, & the sunne rose vp againe: and the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious and proud.
12 Nowe when Mardocheus had sene this dreame, he awoke, and mused stedfastly in his heart what God would do: and so he desired to know all the matter, and his minde was thereupon vntill night.

4. Reg. 24. 15. ere. 24. 1.

The xii. Chapter.

1 Mardocheus vttereth the treason deuised against the king, and is therefore rewarded of him.

1 AT the same time dwelt Mardocheus with Bagatha and Thara m the kings court, the kings chamberlaines and porters of the palace.
2 But when hee heard their deuice, and had diligently considered their imaginations, he perceiued that they went about to lay their cruell handes vpon the king Artaxerxes, and so hee certified the king thereof.
3 Then caused the king to examine the two ‖ gelded with torments: and when they had granted it, they were put to death.
4 This the king caused to bee put in the chronicles for an euerlasting remembrance, and Mardocheus wrote vp the same matter.
5 So the king commaunded that Mardocheus should remaine in the court, and for this faithfulnes of his, he gaue him a rewarde.
6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Agagite, which was holden in great honour and reputation in the kings court, vndertooke to hurt Mardocheus and his people, because of the two chamberlaines that were put to death.

‖ Or, chamberlaines.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The coppie of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Iewes. 9 The prayer of Mardocheus.

1 THe great king Artaxerxes, which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen lands, sendeth his friendly salutation vnto all the princes and deputies of the countreys, which bee subiect vnto his dominion.
2 When I was made lorde ouer many people, people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, my minde was not with crueltie & wrong to exalt my selfe, by the reason of my power: but purposed with equitie alwap and gentlenesse, to gouerne those that be vnder my iurisdiction, & wholy to set them in a peaceable life, & therby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquillity, that men might safely goe thorowe on euery side, and to renew peace againe, which all men desire.

3 Nowe when I asked my counsellers howe these things might bee brought to a good ende, there was one by vs excellent in wisedome, whose good will, truth, and faythfulnesse hath oft bene shewed and proued, (which was also the principall and next vnto the king) Aman by name,

4 Which certified vs, howe that in all landes there was scattered abroade a rebellious folke, that made statutes and lawes against all other people, and haue alwap despised the proclaimed commandements of kings, and how that for this cause it were not to be suffered, that such rule should continue by you, and not to be put downe.

5 Seeing now we perceiue the same, that this people alone are contrarie vnto euerie man, vsing strange and other maner of lawes, and withstande our statutes and doings, and goe about to stablish shewed matters, that our kingdome shoulde neuer come to good estate and stedfastnesse,

6 Therefore haue we commanded, that all they that are appoynted in writing, and shewed vnto you by Aman, which is ordeyned and set ouer all our landes, 1
& the most principall next vnto the king, and in maner as a father, shal with their wiues and children be destroied and rooted out with the sword of their enemies and aduersaries, and that there shalbe no mercy shewed, & no man spared: and this shall bee done the fourteenth day of the moneth called Adar, of this yere:

7 That they which of olde, and now also haue euer bene rebellious, may in one day with violence be thrust downe into hell, to the intent that after this maner our empire may haue peace and tranquilitie.

8 But Mardocheus thought vpon al the workes and noble acts of the Lord, and made his prayer vnto him,

9 Saying, O Lorde, Lorde, thou valiant 4 and almightie king, for all things are in thy power: and if thou wilt helpe and deliuer Israel, there is no man that can withstand or let thee.

10 For thou hast made heauen and earth, and what wonderous thing so euer is vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lorde of all things, and there is no man that can resist thy maiestie, O Lorde.

12 Thou knowest all things, thou wotest Lorde that it was neither of malice nor presumption, nor for any desire of glory, that I would not bowe downe my selfe, nor worship ponder proude presumptuous Aman:

13 (For I would haue bene content, and that with good will, if it might haue done Israel any good, to haue kist euen his footesteps.)

14 But that I did it because I would not set the honour of a man in the steade of the glory of God, and because I woulde worship none but onely thee, my Lord: and this haue I done in no pride nor presumption.

15 And therefore, O Lorde, thou God and king, haue mercie vpon thy people, for they imagine how they may bring vs to nought, yea, their minde and desire is to destroy and to ouerthrowe thy people that hath euer bene thine inheritance of olde.

16 O despise not thy portion, which thou hast deliuered and brought out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and bee mercifull vnto thy people whome thou hast chosen for an heritage vnto thy selfe, turne our complaint and sorowe into ioy, that wee may liue, O Lorde, and prayse thy name: O Lorde, suffer not the mouthes of them that prayse thee, to bee destroyed.

18 All the people of Israel in like maner cried as earnestly as they coulde vnto the Lord, for their death and destruction stoode before their eyes.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her and her people.

QVeene Esther also being in the ‖battell of death, resorted vnto the Lorde, ‖Or, perill.

2 Layd away her glorious apparell, and put on the garmentes that serued for sighing and mourning: in the steade of precious ointment, she scattered ashes and dung vpon her head: and as for her body, she humbled it with fasting, and brought it verie lowe: All the places where she was woont to haue ioy afore, those filled she with her owne heare that she pluckt off.

3 She prayed also vnto the Lord God of Israel with these wordes, O my Lorde, thou onely art our king, helpe me desolate woman, which haue no helper but thee:

4 For my miserie and destruction is hard at my hand.

5 *From my youth vp, I haue heard out of the kinred of my father, that thou tookest Israel from among all people, and so haue our fathers of their fore elders, that they should be thy perpetuall inheritance, and looke what thou didst promise them, thou hast made it good vnto them. *Deut.4.20.

6 Now Lord, we haue sinned before thee, therefore hast thou giuen vs into the hands of our enemies,

7 Because

7 Because wee worshipped their gods:
Lord thou art righteous.
8 Neuertheless, it satisfieth them not that we are in bitter and heauie captiui-tie, and oppressed among them, but they haue layd their handes vpon the handes of their gods,
9 So that they begin to take away the thing that thou with thy mouth hast or-dayned and appointed, to destroy thine inheritance, to shut and to stop the mou-thes of them that praise thee, to quench the glorie and worship of thy house and thine altar:
10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may praise the power and vertue of the gods, and to magnifie the fleshly king for euer.
11 O Lord, giue not thy scepter vnto them that be nothing, least they laugh vs to scorne in our miserie and fall: but turne their deuice vpon themselues, & punish him that hath begun the same ouer vs, and set him to an example.
12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and shew thy selfe vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and of our trouble: strength me, O thou king of gods, thou Lord of all power:
13 Giue mée an eloquent and pleasant speach in my mouth before ỹ lion: turne his heart into the hate of our enemie, to destroy him, and all such as consent vnto him.
14 But deliuer vs with thy hand, & helpe me thy handmayde, which haue no defence nor helper, but onely thee Lord.
15 Thou knowest all things, thou wotest that I loue not the glorie and worship of the vnrighteous, and that I hate and abhorre the bed of all the vncircumcised, and of all heathen.
16 Thou knowest my necessitie, that I hate the token of my preeminence and worship, which I beare vpon my head, what time as I must shew my selfe and be séene, and that I abhorre it as an vncleane cloth, & that I weare it not when I am quiet and alone by my selfe.
17 Thou knowest also that I thy hand-maiden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delight in the kings feast, that I haue not drunke the wine of the drinke offerings, 18 And that I thy handmaiden haue no ioy, since the day that I was brought hither, vnto this day, but onely thée, O
Lord, O thou God of Abraham.
19 O thou mightie God aboue all, heare ỹ voyce of them that haue no other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hande of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The xv. Chapter.

1 Mardocheus mooueth Esther to goe in vnto the king, and make intercession for her people. 9 And shee performeth his request.

1 MArdocheus also bade Esther go in vnto the king, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.
2 Remember (sayth he) the dayes of thy lowe estate, howe thou wast nourished vnder my hande: for Aman which is next vnto the king, hath giuen sentence of death against vs:
3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, and speake for vs vnto the king, and deliuer vs from death.
4 And vpon the thirde day it happened, that Ester laid away the mourning garments, and put on glorious apparell, 5 And deckt her selfe goodly (after that she had called vpon God, which is the beholder and sauiour of all things) and tooke two maidens with her:
6 Vpon the one she leaned her selfe, as one that was tender:
7 The other followed her, and bare the traine of her vesture.
8 The shine of her beautie made her face rose coloured, the similitude of her face was chearefull and amiable: but her heart was sorowfull for great feare.
9 She went in thorow all the doores, and stoode before the king: the king sate vpon the throne of his kingdome, and was clothed in his goodly arap, all shining with gold, and set with precious stones, and he was very terrible.
10 Hee lift vp his face that shone in the clearnesse, and looked grimly vpon her:
then fell the Quéene downe, was pale & faint, leaned her selfe vpon the heade of her maide that went with her.
11 Neuertheless, God * turned the Pro.21,1.
kings minde, that hee was gentle, that he leaped out of his seate for feare, and gate her in his armes, and held her vp till shee came to her selfe againe, hee gaue her louing wordes also, and sayde vnto her,
12 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare:
13 Thou shalt not die, for our commandement toucheth the commons, and not thée: come nigh.
14 And with that hee held vp his golden rod, and laid it vpon her necke, 15 And imbraced her friendly, and sayde,
Talke with me.
16 Then sayde she, * I sawe thee, O Lord, Gen 33.10.
as an angel of God, and my heart was 2.reg.19.27.
troubled for feare of thy maiestie and clearenesse.
17 For excellent and wonderfull art thou,
O Lord, and thy face is full of amitie.
18 But as shee was thus speaking vnto him, she fell downe againe for faintnesse:
19 For the which cause the king was afraid, and all his seruants comforted her.

The xvi. Chapter.

The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he reuoketh those which he first sent forth.

1 THe great king Artaxerres, * which Esther.1.1.
reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie & seuen landes, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers of the same landes, such as loue him, his friendly salutation.
2 There * bee many that for the sundrie Esai.3.10.
friendships and benefites which are di-uerslie done vnto them for their worship, be

be euer the moze proude & high minded:
3 And vndertake not onely to hurt our ſubiects (for plenteous benefites may they not ſuffer, & begin to imagine ſome thing againſt thoſe that do them good,
4 And take not onely all thankefulneſſe away from men) but in pride and preſumption, as they that be vnmindeful & vnthankefull for the good dædes, they go about to eſcape the iudgement of God that ſeeth all things, which iudgement hateth and puniſheth all wickednеſſe.
5 It happeneth oft alſo, that they which be ſet in office by the higher power, and vnto whome the buſineſſe and cauſes of the ſubiects are committed to be hãled, ware proud, and defile themſelues with ſhedding of inocent blood, which bringeth them to intolerable hurt.
6 Which alſo with falſe and deceitfull wordes, and with lying tales, deceiue and betrap the innocent goodneſſe of princes.
7 Howeis it profitable and good that we take hæde, make ſearch thereafter, and conſider not onely what hath happened vnto vs of old, but the ſhamefull, vnhoneſt, and noyſome things that the deputies haue nowe taken in hande before our eyes,
8 And therby to beware in time to come, that wee make the kingdome quiet and peaceable for al men, and that we might ſometime drawe it to a change.
9 And as for the thing that nowe is preſent before our eyes, to withſtande it, and to put it down after the moſt friendly maner,
Eſther.3.1. 10 What time nowe as *Aman the ſonne of Amadathu the Macedonian, a ſtranger verily of the Perſians bloud, and farre from our goodneſſe, was come in among vs as an aliant,
11 And had obteined the friendſhip that we beare towarde all people, ſo that hee was called our father, and had in high honour of euery man, as the next and principall vnto the king:
12 He could not forbeare himſelfe from his pride, hath vndertaken not onely to robbe vs of the kingdome, but of our life:
13 With manifold deceit alſo hath he deſired to deſtroy Mardocheus our helper and preſeruer, which hath done vs good in all things, and innocent Eſther the like partaker of our kingdome, with all her people.
14 For his minde was (when he had taken them out of the way, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to tranſlate the kingdome of the Perſians, vnto the of Macedonia.
15 But wee finde that the Iewes (which were accuſed of the wicked, that they might bee deſtroyed) are no euill doers, but vſe reaſonable and right lawes:
16 And that they bee the children of the moſt high liuing God, by whom the kingdome of vs, and of our progenitours, hath bene well ordered hitherto.
17 Wherefore, as for the letters and commandements that were put forth by Aman, the ſonne of Amadathu, ye ſhall do well if ye holde them of none effect.
18 For he that ſet them vp and inuented them, hangeth at Suſis before the port, with all his kinred: & God, which hath all things in his power, hath rewarded him after his deſerning.
19 And vpon this ye ſhall publiſh and ſet vp the copie of this letter in all places: that the Iewes may freely and without hinderance hold themſelues after their owne ſtatutes:
20 And that they may be helped, and that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may be auenged of them, which in the time of their anguiſh and trouble woulde haue oppreſſed them.
21 For the God that gouerneth al things, hath turned to ioy the day wherein the choſen people ſhould haue periſhed.
22 Moreouer, among the hye ſolemne dayes that ye haue, yee ſhall holde this day alſo with all gladneſſe:
23 That nowe, and in time to come, this day may bee a remembrance of good, for all ſuch as loue the proſperitie of the Perſians: but a remembrance of deſtruction to thoſe that bee ſeditious vnto vs.
24 All cities and landes that do not this, ſhall horribly periſh, and bee deſtroyed with the ſworde and fire, and ſhall not onely be no more inhabited of men, but bee abhorred alſo of the wilde beaſtes and foules.

1 Howe we ought to enquire and ſearche after God.
2 Who they are that finde him.

deepely of the Lorde in goodneſſe, and ſeeke him in ſingleneſſe of heart.
2 *For hee will bee founde of them that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto ſuch as put no diſtruſt in him. Deut.4.29.
3 For wicked thoughtes ſeparate from God,

God, and his power when it is ‖ tryed, reproueth the vnwise.

‖ Or, tempted.

4 For why? wisedome shal not enter into a wicked soule, nor dwell in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.

Iere. 4. 22.

5 * For the holy spirit of discipline fleeth from deceite, and withdrawerh himselfe from thoughtes that are without vnderstanding, and is declared when wickednesse commeth.

Gal. 5. 22

6 * For the spirit of wisedome is louing, and will not absolue him that blaspheme th with his lippes, for God is witnesse of his reynes, and a true beholder of his heart, & an hearer of his tongue.

7 For the spirite of the Lorde filleth the round compasse of the worlde, and the same that vpholdeth all things, hath knowledge also of the voyce.

8 Therefore hee that speaketh vnrighteous things, can not be hid, neither shall the iudgement of reproofe let him escape.

9 And why? inquisition shall bee made for the thoughts of the vngodly, and the sounde of his wordes shall come vnto God, so that his wickednesse shall bee punished.

10 For the eare of ielousie heareth all things, and the noyse of the grudgings shall not be hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is nothing worth, and refraine your tongue from slaunder: for there is no worde so secrete that it shall goe for nought, and the mouth that speaketh lies, slayeth the soule.

12 O seeke not your owne death in the errour of your life, * destroye not your selues through the workes of your own handes:

Deut. 4. 23.

13 * For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuing:

Ezec. 18. 32.

14 For he created all things, that they might haue their being, & the generations of the world were healthful, and there is no poyson of destruction in them, nor þ kingdome of hell vpon the earth.

‖ Or, beginnings.

15 For righteousnes is euerlasting and immortall: but vnrighteousnesse bringeth death.

16 Neuertheles, the vngodly * call a it vnto them both with workes & wordes: and while they thinke to haue it their friend, they come to nought, & they haue made an agreement with it, for they are worthie to be of her part.

Wisi. 15. 6.

a To wit, death.

The ii. Chapter.

The imaginations and desires of the wicked, and their counsell against the faithfull.

1 FOr the vngodly say, reasoning with themselues, but not aright, Our life is short and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedy, neither is there any man knowen to haue returned from the graue.

2 For we are borne at all aduenture, and we shalbe hereafter, as though wee had neuer bene: for our breath is as a smoke in our nostrels, and wordes as a sparke raised out of our heartes:

3 Which being extinguished, our body shalbe turned into ashes, and our spirite shall vanish as the soft ayre.

4 Our life shall passe away as the trace of a cloude, and come to nought as the mist that is driue away with þ beames of the sunne, and put downe with the heate thereof: our name also shalbe forgotten by litle and litle, and no man shall haue our workes in remembrance.

5 * For our time is a very shadowe that passeth away, and after our ende there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth againe.

1. Chro. 29. 17.

6 * Come on therefore, let vs enioy the pleasures that are present, & let vs cheerefully vse the creatures like as in youth:

Esai. 22. 13.

7 Let vs fill our selues with good wine & oyntment, and let there no flowre of the time escape vs.

8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose buddes, afore they be withered.

9 a Let there be no faire meddow, but our lust go thorow it. Let euery one of vs be partakers of our voluptuousnesse, let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in euery place: for that is our portion, and this onely our lot.

a This sentence of the medowe is not in the Greeke.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore righteous, let vs not spare the widdow nor olde man, let vs not regarde the heads that are grap for age.

11 Let the lawe of vnrighteousnesse be our strength: for the thing that is feeble is nothing worth.

12 Therefore let vs defraude the righteous: and why? he is not for our profite, yea, he is cleane contrary to our doings, he checketh vs for offending against the lawe, and slaundereth the faultes of our maner of liuing.

13 * Yee maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God, yea, he calleth himselfe Gods sonne.

Mat. 27. 43.

14 * Yee is made vnto vs for reproofe of our thoughtes.

John 7. 6.

15 * It grieueth vs also to looke vpō him, for his life is not like other mens, his wayes are of another fashion.

Esa. 53. 8.

16 He counteth vs but ‖ vaine persons, he withdrawerh himselfe from our wayes as from filthinesse, he cōmendeth greatly the latter ende of the iust, and maketh his boast that God is his father.

‖ Or, counterfaite coyne.

17 Let vs see then if his wordes be true, let vs proue what shall happen in the ende of him.

18 * For if the iust man be þ sonne of God, he will receiue him, and deliuer him frō the handes of his enemies.

Psal. 21. 9. mat. 27. 43.

Ier. 11. 19.

20 Let vs condemne him with the most shamefull death: for, as himselfe sayth, he shalbe rewarded of God.

21 Such things do they imagine, and goe astray, for their owne wickednes hath blinded them.

22 As

22 As for the mysteries of God, they vnderstand them not, they neither hope for the reward of righteousnesse, nor regarde the worship that holy soules shall haue.

23 *For God created man to bee vnde-

12 Their wiues are vndiscreete, and their children most vngodly.

13 Their offspring or progenie is cursed:
wherefore blessed is the barren that is vndefiled, *which hath not knowen the sinfull bed, shee shall haue fruit in the visitation of soules:

Esa.56.5.

14 And the gelded which with his hands hath wrought no vnrighteousnesse, nor imagined wicked things against God: for vnto him shalbe giuen the special gift of faith, and the most acceptable portion in the temple of God.

15 For glorious is the fruit of the good labour, and the roote of wisedome shall neuer fade away.

16 As for the children of adulterers, they shall not come to a perfect end, & the seede of an vnrighteous bed shalbe rooted out.

17 And though they liue long, yet shall they be nothing regarded, and their last age shall be without honour.

18 If they die quickly, they haue no hope, neither comfort in the day of iniquitie.

19 For horrible is the end of the vnrighteous generation.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Of vertue, and the commodatie thereof. 10 The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaithfull.

1 O Howe faire is a chaste generation with vertue: the memorial thereof is immortall: for it is knowen with God and with men.

2 When it is present, men take example at it, and if it goe away, yet they desire it: it is crowned, & euer triumpheth, when it hath wonne the reward of the vndefiled battels.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly as-bounding in children, shall profit nothing, nor giue deepe roote by the seede of abhorrite, nor lay any fast foundation.

4 For *though they bud forth in the bi-
Jere.17.6. mat.7.19. ches for a time, yet shall they be shaken with the winde, for they stande not fast, and through the vehemencie of the wind they shalbe rooted out.

5 The vnperfect branches shalbe broken, their fruit shalbe vnprofitable, and sowre to eate, yea, meete for nothing.

6 And why? all the children that are borne of the wicked bed, must beare recorde of the wickednes against their fathers and mothers when they be asked.

7 But though the righteous bee ouertaken with death, yet shall he be in rest.

8 For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that that is measured by number of yeres:

9 But a mans wisdome is p grap heare, and an vndefiled life is the olde age.

10 He *pleased God, and was beloued of Gen.5.24. him, so that whereas he liued among sinners, he translated him. heb.11.5.

11 Yea, speedily was he taken away, to the intent that wickednesse should not alter his vnderstanding, & that deceit should not beguile his soule.

12 For wickednesse with bewitching, doeth darken the honest things: and the lightnesse of ‖ voluptuous desire, ‖ tur- ‖Or, concupiscence. neth aside the single minde. ‖Or, changeth, or alereth.

13 Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled
he much time:

14 For his soule pleased God, therefore hasted he to take him away ‖ frō among ‖Or, from out of the middest of wickednesse. the wicked.

15 This the people see, and vnderstand it not, they lay not vp such things in their hearts, how that the louing fauour and mercy of God is vpon his saintes, and that he hath respect vnto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, con-demneth the vngodly which are liuing: and the youth that is soone brought to an ende, the long life of the vnrighteous.

17 For they see the ende of the wise: but they

they vnderstand not what God hath deuised for him, and wherefore the Lorde hath taken him away to be in safetie.

18 And why? they see him, and despise him, therefore shall God also laugh them to scorne.

19 So that they themselues shal die hereafter without honour, yea, in shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voyce shall he burst those that be put vp, and shake them from the foundations, so that they shalbe laide as vterly wasted: they shalbe in sorowe, and their memoriall perish.

20 So they shall come afrayde in remembrance of their sinnes, and their owne iniquities before their face shall conuince them.

The v. Chapter.

1 The constancie of the righteous before their persecutors. 14. The hope of the vnfaithfull is vaine. 15 The blessednesse of the saints and godly.

1 THen shal the righteous stand in great boldnesse, before the face of such as haue dealt extremely with them, & taken away their labours.

2 When they see it, they shall bee vexed with horrible feare, and shall wonder at his health, to farre beyond all that they looked for.

3 And changing their opinion, with groning for the redresse of minde, they shall say, This is he whom sometime we had in derision, and iested vpon.

Wisd.3.3. 4 * Wee fooles thought his life verie madnesse, and his ende to bee without honour:

5 But lo how hee is counted among the children of God, and his portion is among the saints.

6 Therefore haue we erred from the way of truth, the light of righteousnesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstanding rose not vpon vs.

7 Wee haue wearied our selues in the way of wickednesse and destruction, yea, we haue gone through tedious deserts, but as for the way of the Lord, we haue not knowen it.

8 What good hath pride done vnto vs? or what profit hath the pompe of riches brought vs?

1.Chro.29.15. 9 *All those things are vanished away like a shadow, and as a Poste that passeth by:

10 As a ship that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof can not be found, neither the path of it in the floods:

Pro.30.19. 11 *Or as a birde that flieth through the aire, and no man can see any token where she is flowen, but onely heareth the noise of her wings, beating the light winde, parting the aire through the vehemencie of her going, and flieth on shaking her wings, whereas afterwarde no token of her way can be found:

12 Or like as when an arrowe is shotte at a marke, it parteth the ayre, which immediately commeth together againe, so that a man cannot knowe where it went through:

13 Euen so we in like maner, as soone as we were borne, began immediately to drawe to our ende, and haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednesse.

14 Such woordes they that haue sinned speake in the hell: This verse is only in the olde interpreter.

15 For the hope of the *vngodly is like a ‖dry thistle flowre that is blowen away with the wind, like a thinne ‖scumme that is scattered abroade with the storme, like as the smoke which is dispersed here and there with the wind, and as the remembrance of a stranger that tarieth but a day, and then departeth. Iob.8.9. ‖Or, dust. ‖Or, some.

16 But the * righteous shall liue for euermore, their rewarde also is with the Lorde, and the care for them is with the highest. Psal.39.5.

17 Therefore shall they receiue a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lords hand: for with his right hand shall he couer them, and with his arme shall he defend them.

18 * His iealousie also shal take on harneis, Psal.17.9. and he shall arme the creature to be reuenged of his enemies.

19 * Hee shall put on righteousnesse for a Ephe.6.13. brestplate, and take vnfeigned iudgement in steade of an helmet.

20 The inuincible shield of equitie shal he take.

21 His fierce wrath shall he sharpen for a sworde, and the whole compasse of the worlde shall fight with him against the vnwise.

22 Then shall the thunder boltes go right ‖Or, straight. out of the lightnings, and come as out of the well bent bowe of the cloudes, to the place appointed.

23 And as out an angrie caller of stones, there shall fall thicke hayles, and the water of the sea shall be wroth against them, and the floods shall runne roughly together.

24 Yea, a mightie winde shall stand vp against them, and a storme shall scatter them abroade: thus vnrighteous dealing shall bring all the land to a wildernesse, and wickednesse shall ouerthrowe the rowall seates of the mighty.

11 ‖Or, throwes.

The vi. Chapter.

1. The calling of Kings, Princes, and Iudges, which are also exhorted to search wisedome.

1 WIsdome is *better then strength: and a man of vnderstanding is more worth then one strong. This verse is only in the olde interpreter.

2 Heare therefore (O ye kings) and vnderstand, O learne, ye that be iudges of the ends of the earth. Pro.16.32.

3 Giue eare, ye that rule the multitudes, and glorie in the number of peoples.

4 * For the power is giuen you of the Rom.13.1. Lord, and the strength from the highest, which shall trie your workes, and search out your imaginations:

5 Howe that ye being officers of his kingdome, haue not giuen true iudgement, haue not kept the law of righteousnesse, neſſe, nor walked after the will of God.

6 Horribly, and that right ſoone, ſhall he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement ſhall they haue that beare rule.
7 Mercy is granted vnto the loweſt: but they that be in authoritie, ſhall bee ſore puniſhed.
Deut.10.17. 8 *For he which is Lorde ouer all, ſhall || accept no mans perſon, neither ſhall he ſtand in awe of any mans greatneſſe: for he hath made the ſmall and great, and careth for all alike.
9 But the mightie ſhall haue the ſorer tryall.
10 Vnto you therefore (O yee kings) doe I ſpeake, that ye may learne wiſedome, and not goe amiſſe.
||Or, holy things. 11 For they that keepe || holineſſe holily, ſhalbe iudged holy: and they that haue learned ſuch things, ſhall finde defence.
||Or, poure my words. 12 Wherefore || ſet your delight vpon my wordes, and deſire them, ſo ſhall ye ||come by nurture.
||Or, be inſtructed & learned. 13 Wiſedome is a noble thing, and neuer fadeth away: yea, ſhee is eaſily ſeene of them that loue her, and found of ſuch as ſeeke her.
14 She preuenteth them that deſire her, that ſhe may ſhew her ſelfe vnto them.
15 Whoſo awaketh vnto her betimes, ſhal haue no great trauaple: for he ſhall finde her ſitting ready at his doores.
16 To thinke therefore vpon her, is perfect vnderſtanding: and whoſo watcheth for her, ſhall quickely bee diſpatched of care.
17 For ſhe goeth about ſeeking ſuch as are meete for her, ſheweth herſelfe chearefully vnto them || in their goings, and meeteth them with || all diligence.
||Or, in their wayes. ||Or, euery thought ||Or, diſcipline. 18 For the vnfayned deſire of || reformation is her beginning: to care for nurture, is loue:
19 And loue is the keeping of her lawes: and the keeping of her lawes, is the aſſurance of immortalitie:
20 And immortalitie maketh a man familiar with God.
21 And ſo the deſire of wiſedome leadeth to the kingdome euerlaſting.
Num.33.16. 22 *If your delight bee then in royall ſeates and ſceptres, (O ye kings of the people) ſet your || luſt vpon wiſedome, that ye may reigne for euermore.
||Or, honour. This verſe is onely in the olde interpreter. 23 O loue the light of wiſedome, all ye that be rulers of the people.
24 As for wiſdome, what ſhe is, and how ſhe came vp, I will tell you, and will not hide the myſteries of God from you: but will ſeeke her out from the beginning of her natiuitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not keepe backe the truth.
25 Neither will I haue to do with conſuming enuie: for ſuch a man ſhall not bee partaker of wiſedome.
26 But the multitude of the wiſe is the welfare of the worlde: and a wiſe king is the ||vpholding of the people.
||Or, ſtay. 27 O receiue nurture then through my wordes, and it ſhall do you good.

The vii. Chapter.

Wiſedome ought to be preferred aboue all things.

1 I My ſelfe alſo am a mortall man, like as all other, & am come of the earthly generation of him that was firſt made,
2 And in my * mothers wombe was faſhioned to be fleſh in the time of ten moneths, being brought together in blood, through the ſeede of man, & the pleaſure that came with ſleepe. Iob.10.10.
3 And when I was borne, I receiued like aire as other men, and fell vpon the earth which is of like nature, crying and weeping at the firſt as all other doe.
4 I was wrapped in ſwadling clothes, and brought vp with cares.
5 For there is no king that hath had any other beginning of byrth:
6 *All men then haue one entrance vnto life, and one going out in like maner. Iob.1.21. 1.tim.6.7.
7 Wherefore I deſired, and vnderſtanding was giuen me: I called, and the ſpirit of wiſedome came into me.
8 I ſet more by her, then by kingdomes and royal ſeates, and counted riches nothing in compariſon of her.
9 *As for precious ſtone, I compared it not vnto her, for all golde is but a little grauell vnto her, and ſiluer ſhalbe counted but clay before her ſight. Iob,28.15.
10 I loued her aboue || welfare and beautie, & purpoſed to take her for my light: for her light can not be quenched. ||Or, health.
11 *All good things together came to me with her, and innumerable riches thorowe her hands. 3.Reg.3.13.
12 And I was glad in all things, becauſe wiſedome went before them: & I knewe not that ſhe was the mother of them.
13 And I my ſelfe learned vnfainedly, and make other men partakers of her without enuie, & hide her riches fro no man.
14 For ſhe is an infinite treaſure vnto me: which who ſo vſe, become partakers of || loue and friendſhip of God, & are accepted vnto him for the giftes of || wiſedome. ||Or, knowledge.
15 God hath graunted me to ſpeake what my minde conceiueth, and to thinke as is meete for the things that are giuen me: for it is hee that leadeth vnto wiſedome, and teacheth to vſe wiſedome aright.
16 For in his hand are both wee and our wordes, yea, all our wiſedome & knowledge of his workes.
17 For he hath giuen mee the true ſcience of the things that are, ſo that I knowe howe the world was made, & the powers of the elements:
18 The beginning, ending, and middeſt of the times, howe the times alter, howe one goeth after another, and howe they are fulfilled,
19 The courſe of the yeere, the ordinances of the ſtarres,
20 The natures of liuing things, the furiouſneſſe of beaſtes, the power of the windes, the imaginations of men, the diuerſities of pong plantes, the vertues of rootes:

21 And

21 And all such thinges as are eyther secrete or manifest, them haue I learned.
22 For wisedome, which is the worker of all things, hath taught me: for in her is the spirite of vnderstanding, which is holy, one onely, manifold, subtile, ‖quick, mouing, cleare, vndefiled, playne, sweete, louing the thing that is good, sharpe, which can not be letted, doing good,
‖Or, liuely.
23 Kinde to man, stedfast, sure, free from care, hauing all ‖vertues, ‖circumspect in all things, and passing through all vnderstanding, cleane and subtile spirites.
‖Or, power. ‖Or, hauing regard of.
24 For wisedome is nimbler then all nimble things, she goeth through out, and attepneth to al things, because of her cleanesse.
25 *For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowing from the glory of the almightie God: therefore can no defiled thing come to her.
Heb.1.3.
26 For *she is the brightnesse of the euerlasting light, the vndefiled mirrour of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnesse.
27 And being but one, she can do al things: and remayning in her selfe, she renueth all, and in all ages of times entring into holy soules, she maketh Gods friendes, and Prophets:
28 For God loueth none, if hee dwel not with wisedome.
29 For she is more beautifull then the sunne, ‖and giueth more light then the starres, and the day is not to be copared vnto her.
‖Or, aboue all the order of starres.
30 For vpon ‖the day commeth night: but wickednesse can not ouercome wisedome.

The viii. Chapter.

The effects of wisedome.

‖Or, she.
1 WISEDOME reacheth from one end to another mightily, ‖& louingly doeth she order all things.
‖Or, profitably.
2 I haue loued her, and ‖laboured for her from my youth vp: I did my diligence to marrie my selfe with her, such loue had I vnto her beautie.
‖Or, sought.
3 That she hath the companie of God, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lorde of all things himselfe loueth her.
4 For she is the schoolemistresse of the knowledge of God, and the chuser out of his workes.
5 If ‖a man woulde desire riches in this life, what is richer then wisedome that worketh al things?
‖Or, if riches be a possession that a man would desire.
6 For if prudencie worke, what is it among all things that worketh better?
7 And if a man loue righteousnesse, her labours are but vertues: For why? shee teacheth sobernesse and prudence, ‖righteousnesse and strength which are such things as men can haue nothing more profitable in their life.
‖Or, iustice and manhood.
8 If a man desire much ‖knowledge, shee can tell the things that are past, and discerne things for to come: shee knoweth the subtilties of words, and can expound darke sentences: she foreseeth signes and
‖Or, much experience.
wonders or ever they come to passe, and the ‖ endes of all times and ages.
‖Or, successe of times.
9 Therefore I purposed after this manner: I will take her into my company, that she may liue with me, knowing for certaintie she shall giue mee good counsell, & speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and griefe.
10 For her sake shal I be well and honestly taken among the commons, and with honor among the elders, though I bee yong.
11 I shall be found to be of sharpe iudgement, so that I shalbe marueilous in the sight of great men: ‡ and the faces of princes shall wonder at me.
‡This part of the eleuenth verse is onely in the olde translation.
12 When I holde my tongue, they shall hide my treasure, and whē I speake, they shall giue good eare vnto mee, and if I talke much, they shall lay their handes vpon their mouth.
13 Moreouer, by the meanes of her, I shall obteine immortalitie, and leaue behinde me an euerlasting memorial amōg them that come after me.
14 ‖I shall set the people in order, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me.
‖Or, I shall gouerne the people.
15 Horrible tyrants shalbe afrayde when they do but heare of me, amōg the multitude I shalbe counted good, and mightie in battell.
16 When I come home, I shall finde rest with her: for her company hath no bitternesse, and her fellowship hath no tediousnesse, but mirth and ioy.
17 Now when I considered these things by my selfe, and pondered them in my heart, howe that to be ioyned vnto wisedome is immortalitie,
18 And great pleasure to haue her friendship, and that in the workes of her hāds are infinite riches, and that whoso ‖ keepeth companp with her, shalbe wise, and that he which taketh with her shall come to honour: I went about seeking howe to get her vnto me.
‖Or, exerciseth talke with her.
19 For I was a lad of ripe wit, and had a good ‖understanding.
‖Or, spirites with me.
20 ‖Yea when I grewe to more vnderstanding, I came to an vndefiled body,
Or, yea rather being good.
21 Neuertheless, when I perceiued that I could not enioy it, except God gaue it me, and that was a point of wisedome also to knowe whose gift it was, I stepped vnto the Lorde, and besought him, and with my whole heart I saide after this maner.

The xi. Chapter.

A prayer of Solomon to obtaine wisedome.

‖Or, she.
1 O God of ‖my fathers, and Lorde of mercie, thou hast made all things with thy worde,
2 And ordeined man through thy wisedome, that hee should haue dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made,
3 That he should ‖ order the world according to equitie and righteousnesse, and execute iudgement with a ‖ true heart:
‖Or, gouerne.
‖Or, vpright.

from

from among thy children:

5 * For I thy ſeruant and ſonne of thy handmayden am a feeble perſon, and of a ſhort time, ‖ and too yong to the vnderſtanding of iudgement and lawes. Pſal.115.16. ‖Or, and yet leſſe in

6 And though a man be neuer ſo perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wiſedome be not with him, he ſhalbe nothing regarded.

7 Thou haſt choſen mee to be a king vnto thy people, and the iudge of thy ſonnes and daughters:

8 Thou haſt commanded me to builde a temple vpon thy holy mount, & an altar in the citie wherein thou dwelleſt, a likeneſſe of thy holy Tabernacle, which thou haſt prepared from the beginning:

Pro.8.22. 9 * And thy wiſedome with thee, which knoweth thy workes, which alſo was with thee when thou madeſt the world, and knew what was acceptable in thy ſight, and right in thy commandements.

10 O ſend her out of thy holy heauens, and from the throne of thy maieſtie, that ſhee may be with mee, and labour with mee, that I may knowe what is acceptable in thy ſight.

11 For ſhee knoweth and vnderſtandeth all things, and ſhe ſhall leade me ſoberly in my workes, and preſerue me ‖ in her power. ‖Or, by.

12 So ſhall my workes be acceptable, and then ſhall I gouerne thy people righteouſly, and be worthie to ſit in my fathers ſeate.

Eſa.40.13. 13 * For what man is hee that can knowe the counſell of God? or who can thinke what the will of God is?

14 For the thoughts of mortall men are ‖ miſerable, and our forecaſts are but vncertaine. ‖Or, dreadfull.

15 For why? a corruptible body is heauie vnto the ſoule, & the earthie manſion keepeth downe ‖ that vnderſtanding that muſeth vpon many things. ‖Or, the minde that hath many cares.

16 Very hardly can we diſcerne the things that are vpon earth, and ‖ great labour haue we to find the things which are before our eyes: and who hath then ſought out the grounde of the things that are done in heauen? ‖Or, and with much labour finde we out the things that are in our handes.

17 Oh Lorde who can haue knowledge of thy ‖ vnderſtanding and meaning, except thou giue wiſedome, and ſend thy holy Ghoſt from aboue? ‖Or, counſaile.

18 For ſo the wayes of them which lined on the earth were reformed, and men haue learned the things that are pleaſant vnto thee, & were preſerued through wiſedome.

The x. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the righteous, and deſtruction of the enemies commeth through wiſedome.

1 SHe preſerued the firſt fourmed father of the worlde that was created alone, and brought him out of his fall:

Gen.2.20. 2 * And gaue him power to rule all things.

Gen.4.8. 3 But when the vnrighteous went away in his wrath from her, * he periſhed by the furious deſire to murder his brother.

4 For whom when the water * deſtroyed the whole worlde, wiſedome againe preſerued it her ſelfe, gouerning the iuſt man by no coſtly worke of wood. Gen.7.21.

5 * Moreouer, when the nations were cõfounded or ioyned together in their malicious confederacie, ſhee found out the righteous, and preſerued him faultleſſe vnto God, and kept him ſtrong againſt the loue of his ſonne. Gen, 11.1.

6 * She preſerued the righteous when he fled from þ vngodly that periſhed, what time as the fire fell downe vpon the fiue cities. Gen.19.17.

7 Like as pet this day the vnfruitfull waſte and ſmoking land giueth teſtimony of their wickedneſſe: yea, the ‖ vnripe and vntimely fruites that growe vpon the trees, and for a token of a remembrance of the vnfaithfull ſoule, there ſtandeth a pillar of ſalt. ‖Or, neuer riping.

8 For al ſuch as regarded not wiſedome, gate not onely this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good: but alſo left behinde them vnto men a memoriall of their foolihneſſe, ſo that in the things wherein they ſinned, they could not be hid.

9 But as for ſuch as tooke heede vnto wiſedome, ſhe hath delmered them from ſorowe.

10 * When the righteous fledde because of his brothers wrath, ‖ wiſedome led him the right way, ſhewed him the kingdome of God, gaue him knowledge of holy things, made him rich in his labours, and brought to paſſe the things that he went about. Gen.28.5. ‖Or, ſhe.

11 In the ‖ deceitfulneſſe of ſuch as defranded him, ſhe ſtood by him, and made him rich. ‖Or, couetouſneſſe

12 She ſaued him from the enemies, and defended him from the ‖ deceiuers: in a ſtrong battell ſhe gaue him the victorie, that he might knowe howe that the feare of God is ſtonger then all things. ‖Or, lyers in wait

13 * When the righteous was ſold, ſhe forſooke him not, but deliuered him from ſinne: ſhe went downe with him into the ‖ dungeon. Gen.37.28. actes 7.10. ‖Or, priſon.

14 * And ſapled him not in the bandes, till ſhe had brought him the ſcepter of the realme, and power againſt thoſe that oppreſſed him: as for them that had accuſed him, ſhe declared them to be lyers, and brought him to perpetual ‖ worſhip. Gen.41.40. ‖Or, glory.

15 * She deliuered the righteous people, and faultleſſe ſeed, from the nations that oppreſſed them. Exod,1,6.

16 * She entred into the ſoule of the ſeruant of the Lorde, and ſtoode by him in wonders and ſpokens againſt the dreadfull kings. Exod 3.10.

17 She gaue the righteous the reward of their labours, and ſedde them with a marueilous way: on the day time ſhe was a ſhadowe vnto them, and a light of ſtarres in the night ſeaſon. ‖Or, the ſaintes.

18 * She brought them thorow the redde Exod,14,22.

sea, and caried them thorowe the greate water.

19 But the drowned their enemies in the sea, but brought them out of the bottome of the deepe.

*Exod.*12.31. 20 * So the righteous tooke the spoples of the ungodly, & * prayled thy holy name, O Lorde, and magnified thy victorious hande with one accorde.

*Exod.*15.1. 21 For wisedome openeth the mouth of the dumbe, and maketh the tongues of babes to be eloquent.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The miracles done for Israel. 13 The vengeance of sinners. 28 The great power and mercie of God.

‖Or, directed, or prospered. 1 SHe ‖ ordered their works in þ * hands of the holy Prophet:

*Exod.*16.1. 2 So that they went thorowe the wilderneſſe that was not inhabited, and pitched their tents in the waſte deſert.

*Exod.*17.13. 3 * They stood against their enemies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.

*Num.*20.11. 4 * When they were thyrstie, they called vpon thée, and water was giuen them out of the most high rocke, and their thirſt was quenched out of the hard stone.

‖Or, they, that is, the Israelites. 5 For by the things where thorough their enemies were punished, were the ‖ children of Israel helped in their néede.

6 For in stéade of a fountaine of the perpetuall running flood, all troubled with goare blood,

7 In reproche of the commaundement published to murder the infants, thou gauest vnto them abundance of water, and that not looked for neyther:

8 Declaring by that thirſt then, how thou hadst punished thine aduersaries.

*Exod.*7.20. 9 * For when they were tryed and nurtured with fatherly mercie, they knewe howe the ungodly were iudged and punished in the wrath of God.

*Deut.*8.2. 10 * For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued them: but vnto þ other thou hast bene a boysterous king, ‖ layde hard to their charge, and condemned them.

‖Or, examined the straitely.

11 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike.

12 For their griefe was double, and mourning for the remembrance of thinges past.

13 For when they perceiued that their punishments did them good, they ‖ thought vpon the Lord.

‖Or, they felt.

14 For whome, in his casting out before as an abiect, they had denied with derision, him in the end, whē they saw what happened, they wondered at: for they were of another thirſt then was the iuſt.

15 But for the foolish deuises of their wickednesse, wherewith they being deceiued, they worshipped serpentes that had not the vſe of reason, and vile ‖ beaſtes, thou sentest a multitude of vnreasonable beastes vpon them for reuengeance:

‖Or, beaſtes.

16 That they might knowe, that loke wherewithal a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

17 For vnto thy almightie hand that made the worlde of nought, it was not vnpossible to send among them an heape of Beares, or wood Lions,

18 * Or cruell beastes of a strange kinde, such as are vnknowen, or spoute fire, or cast out a smoking breath, or shoote horrible sparkes out of their eyes:

*Leuit.*16.20. & 16.1. *Ezec.*8.17.

19 Which might not onely destroy them with hurting, but also kill them with their horrible sight.

20 Yea, without these beastes might they haue bene slayne with one winde, being persecuted by the reuengeance, and scattered abroade thorough the breath of thy power: neuertheleſſe, thou hast ordered all things in measure, number, and weight.

21 For thou hast euer had great strength and might, and who may withstand the power of thine arme?

22 For why? like as the small thing that þ balance weigheth, so is þ world before thée: yea, as a drop of the morning deawe that falleth downe vpon the earth.

23 * But thou hast mercie vpon all, for thou hast power of al things, and makest thée as though thou sawest not þ sinnes of men, because they should amende.

*Rom.*2.4.

24 For thou louest all the things that are, and hatest none of them whome thou hast made: for thou wouldest not haue made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.

25 Yea, howe might any thing endure, if it were not thy will? or howe could any thing be preserued, except it were called of thée?

26 But thou sparest all, for they are thine, O Lord, thou louer of soules.

The xii. Chapter.

2 The mercie of God toward sinners. 14 The works of God are vnreproueable. 19 God giueth leasure to repent.

FOr thy vncorruptible spirit, O Lord, is in all things.

2 Therfore chastenest thou them measurably that go wrong, & warnest them, by putting them in remēbrance in what things they haue offended, that leaning their wickednesse, they may beléeue on thée, O Lord.

3 * As for those olde inhabiters of thy holy land, thou mightest not alway with them:

*Deu.*9.3. & 12.29

4 For they cōmitted abominable works against thee, as witchcraft, sorcerie, and wicked sacrifices:

5 They slewe their owne children without mercie, they did eate vp the bowels of mens flesh, and deuoured the blood in abominable banquets, and had their madde fantaticall priestes:

6 And the fathers were the chiefe murderers of the soules destitute of helpe, these doers thou wouldest destroy by þ hands of our fathers:

7 That the land which thou louest aboue all other, might bée a meete dwelling for the children of God.

8 Neuertheleſſe, thou sparedst them also as men, and sentest the forerunners of thine thine hoſt, euen hornets, to deſtroy them out by litle and litle.

9 Not that thou waſt vnable to ſubdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battaple, or with cruel beaſtes, or with one rough worde to deſtroy them togither:

Exod.23.29. 10 *But thy minde was in punishing thē by litle and litle, to giue them place for amendement, knowing well that it was an vnrighteous nation, and wicked of nature, and that their thought might neuer be altered:

11 For it was a curſed ſéede from the beginning, pet haſt thou not pardoned their ſinnes wherein they offended, for þ thou feareſt any man.

Rom.9.20. 12 *For who dare ſay vnto thee, What haſt thou done? or who wil ſtande againſt thy iudgement? or who will blame thée for the nations that periſh, whome thou haſt made? or who will come before thy face to be reuenged for þ vnrighteous men?

1.Pet.5.7. 13* For there is none other God but thou, that careſt for al things, that thou mayeſt declare howe that thy iudgement is not vnright.

14 There dare neither king nor tyrant, lift thy ſight, require accountes of them whome thou haſt ‖deſtroyed.

‖Or,punished.

15 For ſo much then as thou art righteous thy ſelf, thou ordereſt al things righteouſly, thinking it vnſeemely for thy power to condemne him that hath not deſerued to be punished.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteouſneſſe, and becauſe thou art Lord of all things, it maketh thée to bee gratious vnto all.

17 For when men thinke thée not to be of a full ſtrēgth, thou declareſt thy power, and reprouest the boldeneſſe of the wiſe.

‖Or,ruling. 18 But thou ‖maſtering thy power, doeſt iudge with equitie, and orderſt vs with great fauour: for thou mayeſt vſe power when thou wilt.

19 By ſuch works now haſt thou taught thy people, that the iuſt man ſhoulde bee louing, and haſt made thy children to be of a good hope, becauſe þ giueſt roome to repentance for ſinnes.

20 For in ſo much as thou haſt punished, and with ſuch deliberation and obteſtation, the enemies of thy ſeruantes which were worthy to die, where though thou ganeſt them time and place of amendement, that they might turne from their wickednes:

21 With how great circumſpection then puniſheſt thou thine owne children, vnto whoſe fathers thou haſt ſworne, and made couenants of good promiſes?

‖Or,ſcourgeſt. 22 So whereas thou doeſt chaſten vs, thou ‖puniſheſt our enemies a thouſand times more: to the intent that when we iudge, wee ſhoulde diligently thinke of thy goodnes, and when wee our ſelues are ‖punished, we ſhould hope for mercie.

‖Or,judged.

23 Wherefore, whereas men haue liued diſſolutely and vnrighteouſly, thou haſt punished them for with their owne abominations.

24 *For they went aſtray very long in þ wayes of errour, and held the beaſtes (which euen their enemies deſpiſed) for gods, deceiued as children of no vnderſtanding. Sap.11.16. rom.1.23. ‖Or,farre, 25 Therefore haſt thou ſent them thy iudgment in ſcorne, as to children voyde of reaſon.

26 As for ſuch as will not be reformed by thoſe ſcornes and rebukes, they ſhall feele the worthie ‖punishment of God. ‖Or,iudgement.

27 For looke in what things they ‖diſdayned when they ‖ſuffered for their ſakes whome they counted gods, ſeeing themſelues punished in the ‖ ſame, they perceiued that he was in deede the true God, whome before they had denied to know, and therefore came extreme damnation vpon them. ‖Or,murmured and grudged. ‖Or,were chaſtiſed ‖Or,murmuring.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 All thinges be vaine, except the knowledge of God.
10 Idolaters and idols are mocked.

1 SVrely vaine are all men by nature, ſwhich were ignorant of God, and *could not out of the good things þ are ſeene, know him that of himſelfe is euerlaſting, neither tooke ſo much regard of the workes that are made, as thereby to knowe who was the craftesman of them: Rom.3.19.

2 *But ſome tooke the fire, ſome the wind or ſwift ayre, ſome the courſe of þ ſtarres, ſome the running water, ſome tooke Sunne and Moone, or the lightes of heauen, for gods that rule the world. Deut.4.19.

3 But though they had ſuch pleaſure in their beautie, that they thought them to haue bene gods, pet ſhould they haue knowen how much more ‖fayer he is þ made them: for the ‖maker of beautie hath ordeined al theſe things. ‖Or,excellent. ‖Or,the firſt author.

4 Or if they marueiled at the power and worke of them, they ſhould haue perceiued thereby, how much hee which made theſe things, is mightier then they.

5 For by the greatneſſe of the beautie and of the creatures, the maker therof, compared with them, may plainly be ‖knowen. ‖Or,ſeene.

6 Notwithſtanding, they are the leſſe to bee blamed that ſeeke God, and would finde him, and pet peraduenture ‖miſſe: ‖Or,erre.

7 *For they being occupied in his works, doe ſeeke him diligently, and are perſwaded by the ſight, becauſe the things are beautiful that are ſeene. Rom.1.21.

8 Howbeit, pet neyther are they to be excuſed.

9 For if their vnderſtanding & knowledge be ſo great, that they can ‖diſcerne the world and the creatures, why doe they not rather finde out the Lord thereof? ‖Or, coniecture.

10 But miſerable are they, and ‖among the dead is their hope, that call them ‖Or,in deadthings gods which are but the worke of mens handes, golde, siluer, and the thing that is founde out by ‖cunning, the similitude of beastes, or any vaine stone that hath bene made by hand of olde.

‖Or, arte.

Eccl. 44.12. ver. 10, 3.

11 *Or as whē a Carpenter cutteth down a tree meete for the purpole, and pareth off al the barke cunningly, and so by arte comely maketh a vessell profitable to the vse of life:

12 And with that which is cut off from his worke, doeth dresse his meate to fill his belly:

13 And as for the other part that is left, which is profitable for nothing (for it is a crooked piece of woode, and full of knobs) hee carueth it diligently by leasure, and accoding to the knowledge of his cunning, hee giueth it some proportion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man, 14 Or maketh it like some vile beast, straketh it ouer with redde, and paynteth it, and looke what foule spot is in it, he casteth some colour vpon it.

‖Or, an house worthie of it,

15 Then maketh hee a ‖ conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in a wall, and maketh it fast with pyon:

‖Or, for he knoweth well,

16 Prouiding so for it, least it happen to fall, ‖for it is well knowen that it can not helpe it selfe: for why? it is but an image, and must of necessitie be helped.

17 Then making prayer for his goods, for his marriage, and for children, hee is not ashamed to speake to that which hath no soule.

‖Or, weake.

18 For health he maketh his petition vnto him that is ‖sicke: for life, hee humbly prayeth vnto him that is dead: hee ‖calleth vpon him for helpe, that hath no experience at all: and to send him a good iourney, hee prayeth him that may not goe.

‖Or, maketh supplication vnto him.

19 And for gayne, for worke, and for successe of his affayres, he asketh power of him which is without al maner of power.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 The detestation and abominations of images. 8 A curse of him and of them that make them. 14 Whereof idolatrie is proceeded. 23 What euils come of idolatrie.

‖Or, preparing & making ready.

1 AGaine, another man purposing to saile, and ‖ beginning to take his iourney through the raging ‖ sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke, that is farre weaker then the vessell that beareth him.

‖Or, waues, cryeth for helpe.

2 For as for it, couetousnesse of money hath found it out, and the crafts man made it with his cunning.

3 But thy prouidence, O father, gouerneth it: for thou hast *made a way euen in the sea, and a sure path in the middest of the waues,

Exod. 14 21.

4 Declaring thereby that thou hast power to helpe ‖in all things, yea though a man went to the sea without ‖ship.

‖Or, euery way, ‖Or, arte.

5 Neuertheleste, thou wouldest not that the workes of thy wisedome shoulde be in vayne: and therefore doe men commit their lines to a small piece of wood, passing ouer the stormie sea in a shippe, & are saued.

6 * For in the olde time also when the proude Giantes perished, hee in whome ‖the hope was left to encrease the world, went into the shippe which was gouerned through thy hande, and so left seede behinde him vnto the world.

Gen. 6.4. & 7.10.

‖Or, the hope of the world.

7 For ‖happie is the tree, where through righteousnesse commeth:

‖Or, blessed.

8 But cursed is ‖the idole that is made with *hands, yea, both it, and hee that made it: he, because he made it: and it, because it was called God, whereas it is but a ‖fraple thing.

‖Or, the thing. *Psal. 115.8. baru. 6.3.

‖Or, corruptible.

9 *For the vngodly and his vngodlinesse are both like abominable vnto God.

*Psal. 5.7.

10 Euen so the worke, and he that made it also, shalbe punished together.

11 Therefore shal there a plague come vpon the idoles of the heathen: for out of the creature of God they are become an abomination, a ‖temptation vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwise.

‖Or, a slaunder and offence, or stumbling block.

12 For why? the ‖ seeking out of idoles, is the beginning of whoredome, and the ‖bringing vp of them, is the ‖destruction of life.

‖Or, desiring. ‖Or, inuentions. ‖Or, the corruption.

13 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for euer.

14 The vayne glory of men hath founde them out vpon earth, therefore shal they come shortly to an ende.

15 For when a father mourned heauily for his ‖ sonne, ‖ sodainly taken away fro him, he made him an image: & him which then was but a dead man, hee nowe began to worshippe as a God, and ordeined for his ‖seruants ceremonies and sacrifices.

‖Or, soone. ‖Or, subiectes.

16 Thus by processe of time this ‖ vngratious custome being waxen strong, was kept as a lawe, and images were worshipped by commaundement of tyrants.

‖Or, wicked.

17 As for those that were so farre off, that men might not worshippe them present, their visage being drawen out from farre off, was made as the ‖cleare image of an honourable king, that they might with ‖affection flatter as wel the absent as the present.

‖Or, gorgeous. ‖Or, diligence.

18 Againe, the singular ambition of the crafts man gaue the ignorant also a great occasion to encrease the superstition.

19 For hee willing to please one, peradventure that ‖bare rule, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

‖Or, was of authoritie.

20 And so through the beautie of the worke, the ‖common people being thereto allured, tooke him nowe for a God, which a litle before was but honoured as a man.

‖Or, multitude.

21 And this was to the deceiuing of mans life, when men either with calamitie or or tyrannie oppressed, ascribed vnto stones and stockes that name of God which ought not to be giuen to any thing els.

22 Moreouer, this was not ynough for them, that they erred in knowledge of God: but whereas they liued in the great warre of ignorance, those so many and great ‖plagues, called they peace.

‖Or, euils.

Deut.18.10.iere.7.9.and 10.4.

23 * For either they slewe their owne children, and offered them in sacrifice, or vsed secrete ceremonies, or followed madde drunken dissolutenesse of rites in sacrifice

24 So that they kept neither life nor mariage cleane: but either one slewe another trapterously, or grieued him by aduulterie.

25 So that there reigned in all men without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, ‖dissimulation, corruption, vnfaithfulnesse, sedition, periurie, ‖Or, deceite.

26 Disquieting of good men, vnthankfulnes, defiling of soules, changing of birth, disordering of marriages, aduulterie, and vncleannesse.

27 For why? the honouring of ‖abominable images, is the beginning, the cause and ende of all euill.

‖Or, of idoles that ought not once to be named of vs.

28 For they that worship idoles, either they are mad when they are merry, or prophecie lies, or liue ‖vngodly, or else lightly forswere themselues.

‖Or, vniustly.

29 For in so much as their trust is in the idoles which haue no ‖ soule, though they sweare falsely, yet they thinke it shal not hurt them.

‖Or, falsly.

30 Therefore commeth a great plague vpon them, and that worthely for both causes: for they haue an euill opinion of GOD that giue heede vnto idoles, and they sweare vniustly in deceite, despising holinesse.

31 For it is not the power of them by whome they sweare, but it is the iust ‖vengeance of sinners, that punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly doers.

‖Or, iudgement.

The xv. Chapter.

The voyce of the faithfull praysing the mercie of God, by whose grace they serue not idoles.

1 BVt thou, O our God, art gracious, true, and long suffering, and in mercie ordrest thou all things.

2 Though we sinne, yet are we thine, for we knowe thy strength: but we will not sinne, because we knowe we are counted thine.

3 For to know thée, is perfect righteousnes: yea to know thy power, is the roote of immortalitie.

4 As ‖ for the thing that men haue found out through their euil science, it hath not deceiued vs, nor the paynters vnprofitable labour, to wit, an image ‖ spotted with diuers colours,

‖Or, for neither the malitious deuice of men deceiued vs.

‖Or, stayned.

5 Whose sight entiseth the ignorãt to lust after it, and he desireth the ‖picture of a dead image that hath no breath.

‖Or, figure.

6 Both they that make them, they that desire them, and they þ worship them, loue euils, and are worthie to haue such things to trust vpon.

7 * For the potter tempereth soft earth, laboureth it, and giueth it the fashion, of what so euer vessell serueth for our vse: and of the selfe same clay he maketh both the vessels that serue for cleane vses, and also such as serue to the contrarie: whereunto euery vessell serueth, the potter him selfe being the iudge.

Rom.9.20.

8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a vaine GOD of the same clay, this doeth euen he which a litle before was made of earth himselfe, and within a litle while after returneth to the same out of which he was taken, when the lone of his life shall be demaunded from him againe.

9 Notwithstanding hee careth not the more for this that hee must labour, nor that his life is short: but striueth to excell goldesmithes and siluer smithes, and endeuoureth to do like þ copper smithes, and taketh it for an honour to make ‖ deceiueable things.

‖Or, false and counterfaite.

10 His heart is but ashes, his hope is more vaine then earth, & his life of ‖ lesse honour then clay,

‖Or, more base.

11 For as much as hee knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule of power to worke, and breathed in him the breath of life.

12 But they counted our life but a pastime, and our conuersation to be but a market for gaine, and that men shoulde euery way be getting, yea, though it were by euill meanes.

13 Now hee that of earth maketh fraple vessels and images, knoweth himselfe to offende aboue all other.

14 All the enemies of thy people that hold them in subiection, are most vnwise, and are more miserable then ‖ very fooles.

‖Or, very babes.

15 For they iudge all the idoles of the heathe to be gods, which neither haue * eyes sight to see, nor noses to ‖ smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers of hands to grope, and as for their feete they are too slowe to goe.

Psal.13.5.

‖Or, to draw the ayre or breath.

16 For man made them, and hée that borowed his owne spirit fashioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto himselfe.

17 For séeing hée is but mortall, it is but mortall that hee maketh with vnrighteous handes: he himselfe is better then they whom hee worshippeth, for he liued, as they did neuer.

18 Yea they worshipped such beastes also as are ‖ most hatefull: for if they were cõpared, for ‖ madnesse they are worse then others.

‖Or, their most enemies.

‖Or, lacke of vnderstanding.

19 Neither haue they any beautie why to be desired in respect of other beastes: but are all voyde of the prayse of God, and his blessing.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 The punishment of idolaters. 23 The benefites done vnto the faithfull.

1 THerefore by such thinges are they worthip punished, and through the multitude of beastes are they

‖Or, tormented, ‖rooted out.

2 In steade of the which punishments, thou hast *gratiously ordered thine owne people, preparing for the desire of their appetite, a strange taste, euen quailes to be their meate:

*Num.11.31.

3 To the intent that by the things which were shewed and sent vnto them, they that were so greedie of meate, might begin to loth euen their necessarie appetite, and they which had suffered penurie for a short space, might be partakers of the newe taste.

4 For it was requisite that without any excuse powertie should come vpon those which vsed tyrannie, and to shewe onely vnto the other howe their enemies were ‖destroyed.

‖Or, tormented.

5 For when the *cruell ‖woodnesse of the beastes came vpon them, and they perished through the stings of the cruell serpents, notwithstanding thy wrath endured not perpetually.

*Num.21.6. ‖Or, fiercenesse.

6 But they were ‖put in feare for a litle season, that they might be reformed, hauing a ‖token of saluation, to remember the commandement of the lawe.

‖Or, troubled. ‖Or, the brasen serpent.

7 For he that looketh backe to it, was not healed by the thing he sawe, but by thee, O sauiour of all.

8 So in this thou shewest our enemies, that it is thou which deliuerest from all euill.

9 *For then when they were bitten with grasshoppers and flyes, they dyed, neyther was there any remedie founde for their life, for they were worthie to be punished by such.

*Exod.10.4. apoc.9.7.

10 But not þ very teeth of venemous dragons did ouercome thy children: for thy mercy was euer by them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy words, but speedily were they healed againe, least they shoulde fall into so deepe forgetfulnesse, that they might not bee called backe by thy benefite.

12 For it was neither herbe nor plaster that restored them to health: but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.

13 *It is thou, O Lord, that hast the power of life and death, thou leadest ‖vnto deaths doore, and bringest vp againe.

*Deut.32.39. 1.sam.2.2. ‖Or, downe to hell gates.

14 A man in deed through his wickednesse may slay another, but when his spirite is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neither may he call againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thy hand.

16 *For the vngodly þ would not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme: with strange rapnes, hailes, and showres were they persecuted that they could not auoide, and through fire were they consumed.

*Exod.9.23.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fire might doe more then water which quencheth all things: but the world is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometimes was the fire so tame, that the beastes which were sent to punish the vngodly burnt not, and that because they should see and know that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometime burnt the fire in the midest of the water, that it might destroy the fruites of the vniust land.

20 *In steade whereof, thou hast fed thine owne people with angels food, and sent them bread readie from heauen without their labour, ‖being very pleasant and of good taste.

*Exod.16.14. ‖Or, being of force for all pleasures, and apt to euery taste.

21 For thy substance vnto thy children declared thy swetenes, and serued to his appetite that tooke it, tempered it selfe according to his desire.

22 *But the snowe and yce abode the violence of the fire, and melted not, that they might knowe that the fire burning in the hayle, and sparkeling in the rayne, destroyed the fruit of the enemies.

*Exod.9.33.

23 The fire also forgate his owne strength againe, that þ righteous might bee nourished.

24 For þ creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnrighteous, but is easie and gentle to do good vnto such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore did it alter at the same time into all fashions, and was obedient vnto thy grace, which is þ nurse of all things, according to the desire of them that had neede thereof:

26 *That thy children, O Lorde, whome thou louest, might knowe that it is not the ‖growing of fruits that feedeth men, but that it is thy word which preserueth them that put their trust in thee.

*Deut.8.3. mat.4.4. ‖Or, increasing and renewing.

27 For looke what ‖might not be destroyed at all with the fire, assone as it was warmed with a litle Sunne beame, it melted:

‖Or, could.

28 That all men might knowe, þ thankes ought to bee giuen vnto thee before the sunne rise, and that thou oughtest to bee ‖worshipped before the day spring.

‖Or, prayed vnto.

29 For the hope of the vnthankfull shall melt away as the winter yce, and flowe away as vnprofitable water.

The xvii. Chapter.

The iudgements of God against the wicked.

1 FOr great are thy iudgements O Lord, and can not bee expressed: therefore men doe erre that will not bee reformed by thy wisedome.

2 For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thy holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bondes of *darkenesse & long night, shut vp vnder roofes, and lay there to escape the eternall prouidence.

*Exod.10.23.

3 And while they thought to be hid in the darkenesse of their sinnes, they were scattered abroade in the very middest of the darke couering of forgetfulnesse, put to horrible feare, and ‖wonderously vexed.

‖Or, astonied with sights of strange apparitions.

4 For the corner where they lay hid, might might not keepe them from feare, because the sounds came round about thē, and vexed them, yea, many terrible and ‖strange visions appeared vnto them:

‖Or, phantasies with woefull countenances.

5 No power of the fire might giue them light, neither might the cleare flames of the starres lighten the horrible night:

6 But there appeared vnto them sudden fire onely, very dreadfull: at the which sight, wherin they saw nothing through-ly, they were so afraid, that they thought the thing which they sawe to bee ‖ the more fearefull.

‖Or, the worse.

Exod.7.29. 7 *As for the illusions of the magical arte, they came to nought, and it was a most shamefull reproch of the pride that they had of their owne wisedome.

8 For they that promised to driue away the feares and troubles from the sicke soule, were sicke themselues with feare, worthie to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing did feare them, yet were they afrayde at the beasts which passed by them, and at the hissing of the Serpents.

10 In so much that with trembling, they ‖swooned, and ‖sayde they sawe not the ayre, which no man yet may escape.

‖Or, shed. ‖Or, and denyed euen to see the ayre.

11 For malice is a dreadful thing that is condemned by his owne witnesse: and being pressed with conscience, it euer ‖suspecteth cruell things.

‖Or, forecasteth.

12 For feare is nothing els but a ‖betraying of the succours which reason offereth.

‖Or, a forsaking and reuolting of the helpes which reason suggesteth.

13 And looke how much the lesse his hope is within, the greater doeth hee reconne this ignorance of that cause that bringeth the torment.

14 But they that did endure the night that in deede was intollerable, and that came from the dungeons of intollerable hell, sleeping the same sleepe, 15 Were sometimes chased with monsterous apparitions, and sometimes they swooned as their owne soules had betraied them: for an hastie feare, and it was not looked for, came vpon them.

16 And thus whosoeuer was there fallen, he was in prison, but without chaines.

17 For whether a man had occupied husbandry, or had bene an heardman, or labourer in the ‖woods, if he were taken, he suffered ‖intollerable necessitie.

‖Or, alone, or in the desertes.

‖Or, that could not be escaped.

18 For they were all bound with one chayne of darkenesse: whether it were a blasing winde, or a sweete song of the birdes among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hastie running water,

19 Or great noyse of the falling downe of stones, or the running of playing beasts, which they sawe not, or the mightie noyse of roaring wild beasts, or ‖sound that answered againe in the holownesse of the mountaines: these terrible things made them swoone for very feare.

‖Or, echo.

20 For all the ‖earth shyned with cleare light, and no man was hindered in his labour.

21 Onely vpon them there fell an heauie night, an image of darkenesse that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto themselues more heauie then darkenesse.

The xviii. Chapter.

3 The fiery pillar that the Israelites had in Egypt.
8 The deliuerance of the faithfull.

1 NEuertheless, thy saints had a very great light, whose voyce they hearing, and not seeing their figure, for that they suffered not the same things, they thought them blessed. Exod.10.23.

2 And for that they did not hurt them nowe of whome they had bene wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon of y they had bene enemies.

3 *Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fire to leade them in the vnknowen way, and the Sunne not to hurt them in their honourable iourney. Exod.13.21. psal.77.14.

4 But reason it was y they should lese y light, and be put in the prison of darkenesse, which had kept thy childre ‖shut vp, by whome the vncorrupt light of y law was to be giuen vnto the world. ‖Or, in bondage.

5 * After, when they thought to slaye the babes of the saintes, one childe being cast out, and preserued to reproue them, thou tookest away the whole multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mightie water. Exo.1,16, &c.2.3

6 *Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowing vnto what othes they had giuen credence, might be of good cheare. Exod.14.24.

7 Thus thy people receiued the health of the righteous, but the vngodly were destroyed.

8 For like as thou hast ‖reuenged our enemies: so hast thou promoted vs whom thou hast called. ‖Or, punished.

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretly, and made a godly lawe with one consent, that the saints should in like maner receiue together both good and euil, and that the fathers now should first sing prayses.

10 But there was heard a disagreeing voyce of the enemies, and there was a miserable lamentation for children that were bewayled.

11 *The master and the seruant were punished after one maner: and like as the king, so suffered the common people. Exod.12.27.

12 So they had innumerable that died with one kinde of death altogether, neither were the liuing sufficient to burye ‖the dead: for in the twinckling of an eye the noblest offspring of them was destroyed. ‖Or, them.

13 For whereas they would discredit all things, by reason of the enchauntments, in the destruction of the first borne, they acknowledged that this people was the children of God.

14 For while all things were still in silence, and when the night was in the middest of her course, thy almightie worde, O Lorde, lept downe from heauen out of thy royall throne,

‖Or, fierce. 15 As a strough man of warre in the middest of the land that was destroyed,

16 And brought thine vnfayned commandement as a sharpe sword, and standing vp, filled all things with death, yea, it stood vpon the earth, and reached vnto the heauen.

17 Then the sightes of the euil dreames vexed them suddenly, and fearefulnes came vpon them vnawares.

18 Then lay there one here, another there, halfe dead, halfe quicke, and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visions that vexed them, shewed them these thinges afore, that they might not bee ignorant wherefore they perished.

20 Yea, the temptation of death touched the righteous also, and ‖ among the multitude in the wildernesse there was ‖ insurrection: but thy wrath endured not long.

Num. 16.46. 21 *For the blamelesse man went in al the haste, and tooke the battel vpon him, brought forth the weapon of his ministration, euen prayer, and the reconciliation of incense, set himselfe against the wrath, and so brought the miserie to an ende, declaring thereby that hee was thy seruant.

‖Or, the destroyer. 22 For he ouercame not the ‖ multitude with bodily power or force of weapons: but with the worde he subdued him that ‖ vexed, alleadging the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers.

‖Or, that punished. 23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stood in the middest, ‖ pacified [the] wrath, and ‖ parted the way that it might not come to [a] liuing.

‖Or, cut off. ‖Or, brake.

Exod. 28.11. 24 *And why? in his long garment was all the beautie, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen, and thy maiestie was written in the ‖ crowne of his head.

‖Or, diademe. 25 Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, & was afrayd of them: for it was enough that they onely tasted of the wrath.

The xix. Chapter.

1 The death of the Egyptians, and the great ioy of the Hebrewes.

1 AS for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without mercie vnto [the] end: for he knew before what should happen vnto them:

2 Howe that when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with great diligence, they would repent, and ‖ followe vpon them.

‖Or, pursue them. Exod. 14.5.

3 *For whilest they were yet mourning and making lamentation by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnesse, [a] so that they persecuted them in their fleeing, whome they had [a] cast out afore with prayer.

a That is, the children of Israel, whom they before had desired and prayed for to goe their way.

4 For the ‖ necessitie which they had determined, brought them vnto this ende, and

‖Or, desteue. made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might by torments fulfil their punishment which remained:

5 And that thy people might trye a marueilous passage: and these might finde a strange death.

6 For euery creature in his kinde was fashioned againe of newe, seruing the peculiar offices, as was commanded thee, that thy children might be kept without hurt:

7 For the clonde ouershadowed their tents, and the dry earth appeared where afore was water: so that in the red sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene fielde:

8 Where thorowe al the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy marueilous strange wonders.

9 For as the horses, right so they neighed, and leaped like lambes, praysing thee (O Lorde) which hadest deliuered them.

10 And why? they were yet mindefull of the things that were done while they dwelt in the strange lande, howe the ground brought forth flyes in steade of cattell, and how the riuer scrawled with the multitude of frogges in steade of fishes.

Exod. 16.13. num. 11.31. 11 *But at the last they sawe a newe generation of birdes, what time as they were stirred with lust, and desired delicate meates.

12 For why? the Quailes came vp to them from the sea for their comfort: but punishment came vpon the sinners, not without the signes which came before to passe by vehemencie of the thicke lightnings: for they suffered worthily according to their wickednesse, because they dealt so churlishly and with an hate of strangers.

‖Or, ghestes vnknowen. 13 For some would not receiue ‖ men that came vnto them, and were vnknowen: & some brought the strangers into bondage that did them good.

14 Nor only so, but if they had bene any where regarded, they could not suffer it: for they entreated strangers verp despitefully.

‖Or, rites. 15 Others that had receiued them with great ‖ solemnitie, when they were admitted vnto their societie, they afflicted them with with grieuous labours.

Gen. 19.11. 16 *Therefore were they stricken with blindnesse, like as when they that were couered with sodaine darkenesse at the doores of the righteous, sought euery one of them to the entrance of his doores.

17 Thus the elements being changed, agreed among themselues, like as when tunes are changed vpon an instrument of musike, and yet keepe still a melodie: which may easily be perceiued by [the] sight of the things that are come to passe.

18 For the earthly things were turned into to watrie: and the thing that before ſwam in the water, now went vpon the ground.

19 The fire had power in the water, forgetting his owne vertue: and the water forgate his owne kinde to quench the fire.

20 Againe, thy flames hurted not the fleſh of the corruptible liuing things, though they walked therein, neither melted they that icie kinde of immortall meate, that was of nature apt to melt.

21 For in all things haſt thou promoted thy people (O Lorde) and brought them to honour, thou haſt not deſpiſed them, but alwap and in all places haſt thou ſtand by them. [Or, aſſiſted them.

The ende of the booke of Wiſedome.

¶ The booke of Ieſus the ſonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Eccleſiaſticus.

The Prologue of Jeſus the ſonne of Sirach vnto his booke.

MAny and great men haue declared wiſedome vnto vs out of the Law, out of the Prophets, and out of other that followed them, in the which things, Iſrael ought to be commended, by the reaſon of doctrine and wiſedome: therefore they that haue it, and reade it, ſhould not onely themſelues be wiſe therethrough, but ſerue other alſo with teaching and writing. After that my grandfather Ieſus had giuen diligent labour to reade the Law, the Prophets, & other bookes that were left vs of our fathers, and had well exerciſed himſelfe therein: he purpoſed alſo to write ſome thing of wiſedome and good maners, to the intent that they which were willing to learne, and to be wiſe, might haue the more vnderſtanding, and be the more apt to leade a good conuerſation. Wherefore, I exhort you to receiue it louingly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not ſo eloquent as the famous oratours. For the thing that is written in the Hebrewe tongue, ſoundeth not ſo well when it is tranſlated into an other ſpeach: not onely this booke of mine, but alſo the Law, the Prophets, and other bookes ſound farre otherwiſe then they doe, when they are ſpoken in their owne language.

Now in the thirtie and eight yeere, when I came into Egypt, in the time of Ptolome Euerges, and continued there a long ſeaſon, I found bookes there left full of great and profound learning. Wherefore, I thought it good and neceſſarie to beſtow my diligence and trauaile to interprete this booke: and conſidering that I had time, I laboured and did my beſt to perfourme this booke, and to bring it vnto light, that the ſtrangers alſo which are diſpoſed to learne, might apply them ſelues vnto good maners, and liue according to the lawe of the Lorde.

The firſt Chapter.

1 Wiſdome cõmeth of God. 11 A praiſe of the feare of God. 19 The meanes to come by wiſdome.

1 ALl wiſdome commeth of God the Lorde, & hath bene euer with him, ‖ & is before all time.

2 Who hath numbred the ſand of the ſea, the drops of the raine, and the dapes of ‖time? Who hath meaſured the height of heauen, the breadth of the earth, and the depenelle of the ſea?

3 Who hath ſought out the ground of Gods wiſdome, which hath bene before all things?

4 Wiſedome hath bene created before all things, and the vnderſtanding of prudence from euerlaſting.

5 (Gods worde in the height is the well of wiſdome, and the euerlaſting commandements are the entrance of her.)

6 *Vnto whom hath the roote of wiſdome bene declared? or who hath knowen her witte?

7 Vnto whom hath the doctrine of wiſdome bene diſcouered and the wordes? and who hath vnderſtand the manifold entrance of her?

8 There is one, euen the higheſt, the maker of all things, the almightie, the king of power, of whom men ought to ſtand greatly in awe, which ſitteth vpon his throne, being a God of dominion.

9 He hath created her through the holy ghoſt, he hath ſeene her, numbred her, & meaſured her.

10 He hath powred her out vpon all his workes, and vpon all fleſh, according to his gift hee giueth her richly vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lord is worſhip & triumph, gladneſſe, and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of the Lord maketh a merie heart, giueth gladnes, ioy, and long life.

13 Whoſo feareth the Lord, it ſhall go well with him at the laſt, and in the day of his death he ſhalbe bleſſed.

14 The loue of God is honourable wiſedome: looke vnto whome it appeareth, they loue it, for they ſee what wonderous things it doeth.

15 *The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wiſedome, and was made with the faithfull in the mothers wombe, it ſhall goe with the choſen women, and ſhalbe knowen knowen of the righteous and faithfull.

16 *The feare of the Lorde is the right Gods seruice, 17 That preserueth and iustifieth the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnesse.
18 Whoso feareth the Lord shalbe happy, and when he hath neede of comfort, hee shall be blessed.
19 She hath built her euerlasting foundations with men, and is giuen to bee with their seede.
20 To feare God is the wisdome that maketh rich, and bringeth all good with her.
21 Shee filleth the whole house with her gifts, and the garners with her treasure.
22 The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wisdome, & giueth plenteous peace and health: he hath seene her and numbred her: both these are the gifts of God.
23 Knowledge and understanding of wisdome hath he powred out as raine, and them that helde her fast hath he brought vnto honour.
24 The feare of the Lorde is the roote of wisedome, and her branches are long life.
25 In the treasures of wisdome is understanding and deuotion of knowledge, but wisdome is abhorred of sinners.
26 The feare of the Lord driueth out sinne, and when shee is present, she driueth away anger.
27 For he that is without feare cannot be made righteous, and his wilful boldnes is his owne destruction.
28 A patient man will suffer vnto ꝑ time, and then shall he haue the reward of ioy.
29 A good vnderstanding will hide his words for a time, and many mens lips shall speake of his wisedome.
30 In the treasures of wisdome is the declaration of doctrine: but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.
31 My sonne, if thou desire wisdome, keepe the commandement, and God shall giue her vnto thee.
32 For the feare of the Lord is wisedome and nurture: he hath pleasure in faith and louing meekenesse, and hee shall fill the treasures thereof.
33 Be not obstinate and vnfaithfull to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto him with a double heart.
34 Be not an hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heede what thou speakest.
35 Exalt not thy selfe, lest thou happen to fal, and bring thy soule to dishonour: and so discouer thy secrets, & cast thee downe in the midst of the congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the feare of God, and because thy heart is full of fainednesse and deceite.

The ii. Chapter.

1 *He exhorteth the seruants of God to righteousnesse, loue, vnderstanding and patience, 11 To trust in the Lord. 13 A curse vpon them that are faint hearted and impatient.

1 My sonne, if *thou wilt come into the seruice of God, stande fast in righteousnes and feare, and arme thy soule to temptation.
2 Settle thine heart, and be patient, bow downe thine eare, receiue the wordes of vnderstanding, and thinke not away when thou art assaulted.
3 Hold thee fast vpon God, ioyne thy selfe vnto him, and suffer, that thy life may increase at the last.
4 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receiue it: suffer in heauinesse, and be patient in thy trouble.
5 *For like as gold and siluer are tried in the fire, euen so are acceptable men in the furnace of aduersitie. Sap. 3.6. pro. 17.3.
6 Beleeue in God, and he shal helpe thee: order thy way aright, and put thy trust in him: holde fast his feare, and growe therein.
7 O ye that feare the Lord, take sure hold of his mercy, thinke not away from him, that ye fall not.
8 O ye that feare the Lorde, beleeue him, and your reward shall not be emptie.
9 O ye that feare the Lord, atrust in good things, and mercy shall come vnto you for pleasure. a That is, looke for good things, & trust to haue the reward of euerlasting life, promised to them that with patience continue in his feare.
10 O yee that feare the Lorde, set your loue vpon him, and your hearts shall be lightened.
11 Consider the olde generations of men (O ye children) and marke them well: was there euer any one confounded that put his trust in the Lord? who euer continued in his feare, and was forsaken? or whome did hee euer despise that called faithfully vpon him?
12 *For God is gracious and mercifull, he forgiueth sinnes in ꝑ time of trouble, and is a defender for all them that seeke him in the trueth. Psal. 37.25.
13 Woe be vnto them that haue a ‖feare full heart, wicked lips, & euil occupied hands, and to the sinner that goeth two maner of wayes. ‖Or, doubt.
14 Woe bee vnto them that are faint hearted, which put not their trust in God, and therefore shall they not bee defended of him.
15 Woe be vnto ‖you that haue lost patience, forsaken the right wayes, and are turned backe into froward wayes: what will ye doe when the Lorde shall begin to visite you? ‖Or, them.
16 *They that feare the Lord, will not disobey his word: and they that loue him, will keepe his commandements. John. 14.24.
17 They that feare the Lord, will seeke out the things that are pleasant vnto him: and they that loue him, be fulfilled with his lawe.
18 They that feare the Lorde, will prepare their hearts, and humble their soules in his sight.
19 They that feare the Lorde, keepe his commandements, and will bee patient till they see him selfe.
20 Saying, *If we do not repent, we shal fall into the handes of the Lord, and not into the handes of men. 2. Sam. 24.32.
21 For his mercy is as great as him selfe.

The iii. Chapter.

1 To our father and mother ought we to giue double honour. 10 Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother.

1 THe children of wisedome are a congregation of the righteous, & their offspring is obedience and loue.

2 Heare your fathers iudgement (O my deare children) and doe thereafter, that ye may be safe.

Exo.20.6. Iesu.5.10. 3 * For the Lord will haue the father honoured of the children: and loke what a mother commandeth her children to do, he will haue it kept.

4 Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shall be forgiuen him: and he shal absteine from them, and shall haue his daily desires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure together.

6 Whoso honoureth his father, shal haue ioy of his owne children: and when he maketh his prayer, he shalbe heard.

7 He that honoureth his father, shall haue a long life: and he that is obedient vnto the Lord, shall comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and doeth them seruice as it were vnto lordes.

Exo.20.12. deu.5.10. 9 * Honour thy father and mother in deede, in worde, and in all patience, that thou maiest haue Gods blessing: and his blessing shall abide vp thee at the last.

Gen.27.27. Iesu.33.1. 10 * The blessing of the father stablisheth the houses of the children: but the mothers curse roteth out the foundations.

11 Reioyce not when thy father is reproued: for it is not honour vnto thee, but a shame.

12 For the worship of a mans father, is his owne worship: and the reproch of ꝑ mother, is the dishonestie of the sonne.

13 My sonne, make much of thy father in his age, and grieue him not as long as he liueth.

14 And if his vnderstãding faile, haue patience with him, and despise not him in thy strength.

15 For the good deede that thou shewest vnto thy father, shall not be forgotten: and when thou thy selfe wantest, it shall be rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, yea, it shall be founded for thee in righteousnesse.

16 And in the daye of trouble thou shalt be remembred: thy sinnes also shall melt away, like as the yce in the faire warme weather.

17 He that forsaketh his father, shal come to shame: and hee that defieth his mother, is cursed of God.

18 My sonne, perfourme thy workes with louing meekenesse, so shalt thou be loued aboue other men.

Phil.2.3. 19 * The greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe in all things, and thou shalt finde fauour in the sight of God.

20 Many are excellent & of renowme: but the secrets are reuealed vnto the meeke.

21 For great power belongeth onely vnto God: and he is honoured of the lowly.

22 * Seeke not out the things that are aboue thy capacitie, and searche not the ground of such things as are too mighty for thee. Prou.25.27. rom.12.3.

23 But loke what God hath commanded thee, thinke vpon that alway, and be not curious in many of his workes: for it is not needful for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are secret.

24 Make not too much search in superfluous things, and bee not curious in many of his workes: for many things are shewed vnto thee already, which be aboue the capacitie of men.

25 The meeding with such hath beguiled many a man, and rangled their wittes in vanitie.

26 Thou canst not see without eyes, therefore profesle not the thing that thou hast not.

27 An harde heart shall fare euill at the last: and he that loueth danger, shall perish therein.

28 An heart that goeth two wayes shall not prosper, and hee that is froward of heart, will euer be wofe and wofe.

29 An obstinate heart shalbe laden with sorowes, and the vngodly sinner will heape one sinne vpon another.

30 The counsaile of the proude hath no health, and his footesteppes shalbe plucked vp: for the plant of sinne hath taken roote in him.

31 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, shall perceiue high things: & a good eare will gladly hearke vnto wisedome.

32 An heart that is wise & hath vnderstãding, will absteine frõ sinnes, & encrease in the workes of righteousnesse.

33 Water quencheth burning * fire, and mercy reconcileth sinnes. Psal.40.2. dan.4.24.

34 God hath respect vnto him that is thankefull: he thinketh vpõ him against the time to come, so that when he falleth, he shall finde a strong holde.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Almes must be done with gentlenesse. 12 The study of wisedome and her fruite. 20 An exhortation to eschewe euill, and to do good.

MY * sonne, defraude not the poore of his almes, and turne not away thyne eyes from him that hath neede. Deut.15.4. tob.4.7. mat.23.23.

2 Despise not an hungry soule, and defie not the poore in his necessitie.

3 Grieue not the heart of him that is helpelesse, and withdrawe not the gift from the needefull.

4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needy.

5 Cast not thine eyes aside from the poore for any euill wil, that thou giue him not occasion to speake euill of thee.

6 For if he cõplaine of thee in the bitternesse of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard: euen he that made him shall heare him.

7 Be courteous vnto the cõpany of the poore, poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bowe downe thy head to a man of worship.

8 Let it not grieue thee to bowe downe thine eare vnto the poore, a but pay thy debt, and giue him a friendly answere, and that with meekenesse.

a As a man must of duetie be courteous to the poore, humble to the ancient, bowe downe to the worshipfull: so is it his duetie to comfort, to helpe, and deliuer the innocent and simple soule from the cruelty of the vngodly.

9 Deliuer him that suffereth wrong, from the hand of the oppressour: and be not faint hearted when thou sittest in iudgement.

10 Be mercifull vnto the fatherlesse as a father, and be in stead of an husband vnto their mother: so shalt thou be an obedient sonne of the highest, & he shall loue thee more then thy mother doeth.

11 Wisedome exalteth her children, receiueth them that seeke her, and will go before them in the way of righteousnesse.

12 He that loueth her, loueth life: and they that seeke her diligently, shall haue great ioy.

13 They that keepe her, shall inherite glory: for where thee entreth in, there is the blessing of God.

14 They that honour her, shall be the seruãts of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloued of God.

15 Who so giueth eare vnto her, shal iudge the heathen: and hee that ‖ hath respect vnto her, shall dwell safely.

‖ Or, giueth.

16 He that beleeueth her, shall haue her in possession, and his generation shall endure.

‖ Or, walketh.

17 For when he ‖ falleth, she doth go with him, and chuseth him among the best: feare, dread, and temptatiõ shal she bring vpon him, & try him in her doctrine, till she haue so proued him in his thoughts, that he commit his soule vnto her.

18 Then shall thee stablish him, bring the right way vnto him, make him a glad man, shew him her secretes, & heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousnesse.

19 But if he go wrong, she shal forsake him, and giue him ouer into the hands of destruction and ruine.

Rom. 12, 11. 20 *Thy sonne, make much of the time, eschew the thing that is euil:

21 And for thy life shame not to say the trueth: b for there is a shame that bringeth sinne, and there is a shame that bringeth worship and fauour.

b To be ashamed to confesse thy God, thy faith, to testifie the trueth, and to reproue sinne, doth bring sinne vnto thee: the contrary shame bringeth worship.

22 Accept no person after thine owne will, that thou bee not confounded to thine owne decay: Bee not ashamed of thy neighbour in his aduersitie.

23 And keepe not backe thy counsel when it may do good, neither hide thy wisdom in her beautie.

24 For in þ tongue is wisdome knowen, so is vnderstanding, knowledge, & learning, in the talking of the wise, and stedfastnesse in the workes of righteousnesse.

25 In no wise speake against the word of trueth, but be ashamed of the lies of thine owne ignorance.

26 Shame not to confesse thine errour, and resist not the course of the riuer.

27 And submit not thy selfe vnto a foolish man, neither accept the person of the mighty.

28 And striue thou not against þ streame: but for righteousnesse take paines with all thy soule, & for the trueth striue thou vnto death, and God shall fight for thee against thine enemies.

29 Be not hastie in thy tongue, neither slacke and negligent in thy workes.

30 Be not as a lion in thine owne house, destroying thy houshold folkes, and oppressing them that are vnder thee.

31 Let not thine hand be stretched out to receiue, and shutte when thou shouldest giue.

The v. Chapter.

1 In riches we may not put any confidence. 7 The vengeance of God ought to be feared, and repentance may not be deferred.

1 TRust not vnto thy riches, and say not, Tush, *I haue ynough for my life, for it shal not helpe in the time of vengeance and temptation. Luke 12.19.

2 Follow not the lust of thine owne heart in thy strength.

3 And say not, Tush, howe haue I had strength? or who will bring me vnder, because of my woorkes? For doubtlesse God shall auenge it.

4 And say not, I haue sinned, and what euill hath happened me? for the almighty is a patient rewarder.

5 Because thy sinne is forgiuen thee, be not therefore without feare, neither heape one sinne vpon another.

6 And say not, Tush, the *mercy of the Lorde is great, hee shall forgiue me my sinnes be they neuer so many: for like as he is mercifull, so goeth wrath from him also, & his indignation commeth downe vpon sinners. Eccl. 21.11.

7 *Make no tarying to turne vnto the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for sodainly shall his wrath come, and in the time of vengeance he shall destroy thee. Eccl. 16.13.

8 Trust not in *wicked riches, for they shall not helpe thee in the day of punishment and wrath. Pro. 10.2. Ezech. 7.19.

9 Be not caried away with euery winde, and go not into euery way: for so doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Stand fast in the way of the Lorde, be stedfast in thy vnderstanding, abide by the word, and follow the worde of peace and righteousnesse.

11 Be gentle to heare the worde of God, that thou maiest vnderstad it, and make a true answere with wisdome.

12 *Be swift to heare, but slow and patient in giuing answere. Iacob, 1.19.

13 If thou hast vnderstanding, shape thy neighbour an answere: if no, lay thy had vpon thy mouth, lest thou be trapped in an vndiscreete woorde, and so confounded.

14 Honour and shame is in the talke, but the tongue of the vndiscrete is his owne destruction.

15 Be

15 Be not a pitie accuſer as long as thou liueſt, & vſe no ſlander with thy tongue: for ſhame and ſorowe goeth ouer the theefe, and an euill name ouer him that is double tongued: but he that is a pitie accuſer of other men, ſhall bee hated, enuied, and confounded.

16 Do not raſhly, neither in great nor ſmall.

The vi. Chapter.

1 It is the propertie of a ſinner to bee euill tongued. 6 Of friendſhip. 33 Deſire to be taught.

1 BE not of a friend an enemie: a for ſuch a man getteth an euill name, ſhame, and rebuke: and whoſoeuer beareth enuie, and a double tongue, offendeth.

2 Be not proud in the deuice of thine vnderſtanding: leaſt thy ſoule rent thee as a b bull,

3 And leaſt thy leaues wither, & thy fruit be deſtroyed, and ſo thou be left as a drie tree in the wildernelle.

4 For a wicked ſoule deſtroyeth him that hath it, maketh him to bee laughed to ſcorne of his enemies, and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.

5 A ſweete word multiplieth friends, and pacifieth them that be at variance: and a thankefull tongue will be plenteous in a good man.

6 Holde friendſhip with many: neuertheleſſe, haue but one counſeller of a thouſand.

7 If thou getteſt a friend, proue him firſt, and be not haſtie to giue him credence.

8 For ſome man is a friend but for his owne turne, and will not abide in the day of trouble.

9 And there is ſome friend that turneth to enmitie, and taketh part againſt thee: and if he know any hurt by thée, hee telleth it out.

10 *Againe, ſome friend is but a companion at the table: and in the day of neede he continueth not.

11 But in thy proſperitie hee will bee as thou thy ſelfe, and deale plainely with thy houſholde folke.

12 If thou be brought lowe, hée will bée againſt thée, and will bee hidden from thy face.

13 Depart from thine enemies, yea, and beware of thy friends.

14 A faithfull friend is a ſtrong defence, who ſo findeth ſuch one, findeth a treaſure.

15 A faithfull friend hath no péere, the weight of golde and ſiluer is not to bée compared to the goodneſſe of his fayth.

16 A faithfull friend is a medicine of life and immortalitie, and they that feare the Lord ſhall find him.

17 Whoſo feareth the Lorde ſhall proſper with friends: and as he is himſelfe, ſo ſhall his friends be alſo.

18 My ſonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth vp, ſo ſhalt thou find wiſdome till thou be olde.

19 Goe to her as to one that ploweth and ſoweth, and wait patiently for her good fruites: for thou ſhalt haue but little labour in her worke, but thou ſhalt eate of her fruites right ſoone.

20 O how exceeding ſharpe is wiſedome to vnlearned men? an vnſtedfaſt bodie will not remaine in her.

21 Vnto ſuch thee is as it were a touchſtone, and he caſteth her from him in all the haſte.

22 For wiſedome is with him but in name, there are but few that haue knowledge of her.

23 But with them that know her, ſhee abideth euen vnto the appearing of God.

24 Giue eare, my ſonne, receiue my doctrine, and refuſe not my counſell.

25 Put thy foote into her linkes, and take her yoke vpon thy necke.

26 *Bow downe thy ſhoulder vnto her, beare her patiently, and be not wearie of her bands. *Mat.*11.29.

27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and keepe her waies with all thy power.

28 Séeke after her, and ſhe ſhalbe ſhewed thée: and when thou haſt her, forſake her not.

29 For at the laſt thou ſhalt find reſt in her, and that ſhalbe turned to thy great ioy.

30 Then ſhall her fetters be a ſtrong defence for thée, and her yoke a glorious rayment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bands are laces of purple colour.

32 Thou ſhalt put her on as a robe of honour, and ſhalt put her about thee as a crowne of ioy.

33 My ſonne, if thou wilt take héede, thou ſhalt haue vnderſtanding, & if thou wilt apply thy mind, thou ſhalt be wiſe.

34 If thou wilt bowe downe thine eare, thou ſhalt receiue doctrine: and if thou delight in hearing, thou ſhalt be wiſe.

35 *Stand with the multitude of ſuch elders as haue vnderſtanding, & conſent vnto their wiſedome with thine heart. *Eccl.*8.9.

36 That thou mayeſt heare all godly ſermons, and that the worthy ſentences eſcape thée not.

37 And if thou ſéeſt a man of diſcréete vnderſtanding, get thée ſoone vnto him, and let thy foote treade vpon the ſteps of his doores.

38 Let thy *minde be vpon the commandements of God, and be earneſtly occupyed in his lawes: ſo ſhall he ſtabliſh thy heart, and giue thée wiſedome at thine owne deſire. *Pſal.*1.2.

The vii. Chapter.

1 We muſt forſake euil, and yet not iuſtifie our ſelues. 23 The behauiour of the wiſe toward his wife, his friend, his children, his ſeruants, his father and mother.

1 DO no euil, ſo ſhall there no harme happen vnto thée.

2 Depart away from the thing that is wicked, & no miſfortune ſhall meddle with thee.

3 My ſonne, ſowe no euill things in the furrowes of vnrighteouſneſſe, ſo ſhalt thou not reape them ſeuen folde.

4 Labour

a For that is againſt the rule of charitie, which loueth all, and hateth nothing but onely ſinne.

b As a bull teareth in pieces a yong tree with his hornes, ſo thou truſting in thine owne wiſedome, and ſtanding in thine owne conceite, becauſe of thy power, or riches, ſhould deſtroy thy ſelfe.

*Pſal.*37.5.

4 Labour not to the Lorde for preeminence, neither vnto the king for the seate of honour.

*Psal.*142.2. *eccl.*7.17. *Iob.*9.20. *Luke*18.11. 5 *Iustifie not thy selfe before God, for he knoweth the heart: and desire not to be reputed wise in the presence of the king.

6 Make no labour to bee made a Iudge, except it were so that thou couldst mightily put downe wickednesse: for if thou shouldest stand in awe of the presence of the mightie, thou shouldest faile in giuing sentence.

7 Offend not in the multitude of the citie, and put not thy selfe among the people.

*Eccl.*12.5. 8 *Binde not two sinnes together: for in one sinne thou shalt not be vnpunished.

9 Say not, Tush, God will looke vpon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the highest God, he will accept it.

10 Be not faint hearted when thou makest thy prayer, neither slacke in giuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to scorne in the heauinesse of his soule, for God (which seeth all things) is he that can bring downe, and set vp againe.

*1.Sam.*2.7. 12 *Accept no leasing against thy brother, neither do the same against thy friend.

13 Vse not to make any maner of lie: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Make not many wordes when thou art among the elders: and when thou prayest, make not much babbling.

15 Let no laborious workes bee tedious vnto thee, neither the husbandrie which the almightie hath created.

16 Make not thy boast in the multitude of thy wickednesse: but humble thy selfe euen from thine heart.

17 And remember that the wrath shal not be long in tarying, and that the vengeance of the flesh of the vngodly is a verp fire and worme.

18 Giue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy faithfull brother for the best gold.

19 Depart not from a discreete and good woman that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lorde: for the gift of her honestie is aboue golde.

*Lewit.*19.13. 20 *Whereas thy seruant worketh truly, entreate him not euill, nor the hireling that is faithfull vnto thee.

21 Loue a discrete seruant as thine owne soule, defraude him not of his libertie, neither leaue him a poore man.

*Deut.*25.4. 22 *If thou haue cattell, looke well to them: and if they be for thy profite, keepe them.

23 If thou hast sonnes, bring them vp in nurture and learning, and holde them in awe from their youth vp.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their bodie, and shewe not thy face cheerefull toward them.

25 Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou perfourme a weightie matter: but giue her to a man of vnderstanding.

26 If thou haue a wife after thine own mind, forsake her not: but commit not thy selfe vnto the hatefull.

27 Honour thy father from thy whole heart: and forget not the sorowfull trauaile that thy mother had with thee.

28 Remember that thou wast borne through them, and how canst thou recompence them the things that they haue done for thee?

29 Feare the Lorde with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

30 Loue thy maker with all thy strength, and forsake not his seruants.

31 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his Priests: giue them their portion of the first fruites and increase of the earth, like as it is commanded thee, and reconcile thy selfe of thy negligence with the litle flocke, giue them the shoulders, & their appointed offerings, and firstlings.

32 Reach thine hand vnto the poore, that God may bestow thee with plentifulnes.

33 Be liberall vnto all men liuing: yet let not but doe good euen to them that are dead.

34 Let not them that weepe bee without comfort, but mourne with such as mourne.

35 Let it not grieue thee to visite the sicke, for that shall make thee to be beloued.

36 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hande, remember the ende, and thou shalt neuer doe amisse.

a To bury their bodies with honour, against the day of the resurrection, as did Abraham, Ioseph, &c. to succour & helpe, and deale faithfully and truely with their children committed to thy charge, as did Dauid with the children of his friend Ionathan. b Doe all thinges to the glory of God, and the profite of thy neighbour, or otherwise remember the day of death, of the last iudgement of euerlasting ioy & paine.

The viii. Chapter.

We must take heede with whom we haue to doe.

1 STriue not with a mightie man, least thou chance to fall into his hands.

2 *Make no variance with a rich man, least hee happen to bring vp an harde quarell against thee: for *golde and siluer hath vndone many a man, yea, euen the hearts of kings hath it made to fall. *Mat.*5.25. *Eccl.*31.6.

3 Striue not with a man that is full of words, and lay no stickes vpon his fire.

4 Keepe no company with the vnlearned, least he giue thy kinred an euill report.

5 *Despise not a man that turneth himselfe away from sinne, and call him not to mind: but remember that we are fraile euery one. *Gal.*6.1. 2.*cor.*2.6.

6 *Thinke scorne of no man in his olde age: for we ware olde also. *Lewit.*19.32.

7 See not glad of the death of thine enemie: but remember that we must die all the sort of vs, and faine would we come into top.

8 *Despise not the sermons of such elders as haue vnderstanding, but acquaint thy selfe with the wise sentences of them: for of them thou shalt learne wisdome, and the doctrine of vnderstanding, and how to serue great men without complaint. *Gal.*6.33.

9 Go not from the doctrine of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers: for for of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, so that thou maiest make answere in the time of neede.

10 Kindle not the coales of sinners when thou rebukest them, lest thou be burnt in the fierie flames of their sinnes.

11 Resist not the face of the blasphemer, that they lap not waite for thy mouth.

Iesu.19.4. 12 * Lend not vnto him that is mightier then thy selfe: if thou lendest him, count it but lost.

13 Bee not suretie aboue thy power: if thou be, then thinke surely to pay it.

14 Goe not to lawe with the Iudge: for he will iudge according to his own honour.

Gen.4.8. 15 * Trauaile not by the way with him that is braineleſſe, lest he do thee euill: for he followeth his owne wilfulnesse, and so shalt thou perish through his follie.

Pro.22.24. 16 * Strive not with him that is angrie and cruel, and goe not with him into the wildernes: for blood is nothing in his sight, and where there is no helpe, he shal murder thee.

17 Take no counsaile at fooles: for they can not keepe a thing close.

18 Do no secrete thing before a stráger: for thou canst not tell what will come of it.

19 Open not thy heart vnto euery man, lest he be vnfaithfull to thee, and put thee to reproofe.

The ix. Chapter.

Of ielousie. 12 An olde friend is to be preferred before a newe.

1 BE not ielous ouer the wife of thy bosome, that she shew not some shrewde point, a lest thou teache her an euill lesson against thy selfe.

2 Giue not the power of thy life vnto a woman, lest shee come in thy strength, & so thou be confounded.

3 Looke not vpon a woman that is desirous of many men, lest thou fall into her snares.

4 Vse not the company of a woman that is a player and a dauncer, and heare her not, lest þ perish through her entising.

5 Behold not a maiden, that thou be not hurt in her beautie.

6 Cast not thy minde vpon harlots in any maner of thing, lest þ destroy both thy selfe and thine heritage.

7 Goe not about gasing in euery lane of the citie, neither wander thou abroad in the streets thereof.

Gen.34.22. 1.Sam.11.2. Iudith.10.17. 8 * Turne away thy face frõ a beautifull woman, & looke not vpon the fairenesse of other: many a mã hath bene deceiued through þ beauty of womẽ, for through it the desire is kindled as it were a fire.

9 An adulterous woman shalbe troden vnder foote as myre, of euery one that goeth by the way.

10 Many a man wondering at the beautie of a strange woman, hath bene cast out: for her wordes kindle as a fire.

11 Sit not with an other mans wife by any meanes, lie not with her vpon the bed, make no woordes with her at the wine, lest thine heart consent vnto her, & so þ with thy blood fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an olde friend, for the new shall not bee like him: a newe friende is newe wine, let him be old, and thou shalt drinke him with pleasure.

13 Desire not the honour and riches of a sinner: for thou knowest not what * destruction is for to come vpon him. Iudith.9.3.

14 Delight not thou in the thing that the vngodly hath pleasure in, being sure that the vngodly shall not be accepted vntill their graue.

15 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to slay, so needest thou not to bee afraide of death: and if thou commest vnto him, make no fault, least he happe to take away thy life: remember that thou goest in the middest of snares, and vpon the bulwarkes of the citie.

16 *Beware of thy neighbour as nigh as thou canst, and meddle with such as be wise, and haue vnderstanding. Eccl.7.8.

17 Let iust mẽ be thy ghestes, let thy mirth be in the feare of God.

18 Let the remembrance of God be in thy mind, and let all thy talking be in the cõmandements of the highest.

19 In the handes of craftesmen shall the workes be commended: so shall the princes of the people in the wisdome of their talking.

20 A man full of wordes, is perilous in his citie: and hee that is rash in his talking, shall be abhorred.

The x. Chapter.

Of kings and iudges. 7 Pride and couetousnesse are to be abhorred, 38 Labour is praised.

1 A Wise iudge will order his people with discretion: and where a man of vnderstanding beareth rule, there goeth it well.

Pro.29.12. 2 * As the iudge of the people is himself, euen so are the officers: and looke what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, such are they that dwell therein also.

3 An vnwise king destroyeth his people: but where they that bee in authoritie are men of vnderstanding, there the citie prospereth.

4 The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and all iniquitie of the people is to be abhorred, and when time is, he shall set a profitable rule vpon it.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.

Leuit.19.17. 6 * Be not angry for any wrong of thy neighbour, & meddle thou with no vnrighteous workes.

7 Pride is hatefull before God and mã, a and all wickednesse of the heathen is to be abhorred.

a That is, chiefly idolatry in false religion, and wantonnesse and vanitie in life.

8 Because of vnrighteous dealing, wrong, blasphemies, and diuers deceits, a realme shalbe translated from one people to another.

9 There is nothing worse then a couetous man: why art thou proude, O thou earth earth and ashes? there is not a more wicked thing then to love money: and why? such one hath his soule to sell, yet is he but filthy doung while he liueth.

10 All tyranny is of small endurance, and the disease that is hard to heale, grieueth the Phisition.

11 And though the Phisition shewe his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after this maner, To day a king, to morow dead.

12 For when a man dieth, he is the heyre of serpents, beasts, and wormes.

13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fal away from God: and why? his heart is gone from his maker.

14 For pride is the originall of all sinne: who so taketh holde thereof, shall be filled with cursings, and at the last it shall ouerthrowe him: therfore hath the Lord brought the congregations of the wicked to dishonour, and destroyed them to the ende.

15 God hath destroyed the seates of proud princes, and set vp the meeke in their steade.

16 God hath withered the rootes of the proude heathen, and planted the lowly for them.

17 God hath ouerthrowen the landes of the heathē, and destroyed them vnto the ground: he hath caused them to wither away, he hath brought them to nought, and made the memoriall of thē to cease from out of the earth.

18 God hath destroyed the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble in minde.

19 Pride was not made for man, neither wrathfulnesse for mens children.

20 The seede of men that feareth God, shall be brought to honour: but the seede which transgresseth the cōmandements of the Lord, shalbe shamed.

21 He that is the ruler among brethren, is holden in honour among them: and hee that regardeth such as feare the Lord, is acceptable in his sight.

22 The feare of the Lorde causeth that the kingdome faileth not: but the kingdome is lost by crueltie and pride.

23 The glory of the riche, of the honourable, and of the poore, is the feare of God.

24 Despise not thou the poore iust man that hath vnderstanding, and magnifie not the rich vngodly.

25 Great is the iudge, and mightie in honour, yet is there none greater then hee that feareth God.

26 *Vnto the seruant that is discréete, shalt he frée doe seruice: hee that is wise and well nurtured, will not grudge whē he is reformed. and an ignorant body shall not come to honour.

27 Be not proude to doe thy worke, and despaire not in the time of aduersitie.

28 *Better is he that laboureth, and hath plenteousnesse of all things, then he that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread.

29 My sonne, gette thy soule honour by meekenesse, & giue her due honour.

30 Who shall iustifie him that sinneth against himselfe? Who will honour him that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his faithfulnesse and trueth: but the rich is had in reputation because of his goods.

32 He that ordereth himselfe honestly in pouertie, howe much more shall hee behaue himselfe honestly in riches? and whoso ordereth himselfe honestly in riches, howe much more shall hee behaue himselfe honestly in pouertie?

The xi. Chapter.

1 The praise of humilitie. 2 After the outward appearance ought we not to iudge.

THE * wisedome of him that is brought lowe, shall lift vp his head, and shall make him to sitte among great men. Gen.41.40. dan.6.3.

2 Commēd not thou a man in his beautie, neither despise a man in his vtter appearance.

3 The Bee is but a small beast among the foules, yet is her fruite exceeding sweete.

4 *Be not proude of thy rayment, and exalt not thy selfe in the daye of thy honour: for the workes of the highest only are wonderful: yea, glorious, secret, and vnknowen are his workes. Actes 12.21.

5 Many tyrants haue bene faine to sitte downe vpon the earth, and the vnlikely hath worne the crowne.

6 *Many mighty mē haue bene brought lowe, and the honourable haue bene deliuered into other mens handes. 1.Reg.15.28. esth.6.10.

7 *Condemne no man before thou haue tried out the matter: and whē thou hast made inquisitiō, thē reforme righteously. Deut.17.14.

8 *Giue no sentence before thou hast heard the cause: but first let men tell out their tales. Pro.18.13.

9 Striue not for a matter that toucheth not thy selfe, and stand not in the iudgement of sinners.

10 *My sonne, meddle not with many matters: and if thou gaine much, thou shalt not be blamelesse, & if thou followe after it, thou shalt not attaine it, and though thou runnest thy way afore, yet shalt thou not escape. Mat.19.12. 1.tim.6.9.

11 *There is some man that laboureth and taketh paine, and the more he wearieth himselfe, the lesse he hath. Pro.10.13.

12 Againe, some man is slouthfull, hath neede of helpe, wanteth strength, & hath great pouertie:

13 *And Gods eye looketh vpon him to good, setteth him from his lowe estate, and lifteth vp his head: so that many men maruell at him, and giue honour vnto God. Iob.24.12.

14 *Prosperitie, and aduersitie, life, and death, pouertie, and riches, come all of the Lord. Iob.1.12. ezech.28.4.

15 Wisedome, nurture, and knowledge of the lawe are with God, loue, and the waies of good are with him.

16 Errour and darkenes are made for sinners, sinners, and they that exalt themselues in euill, waxe olde in euill.

Pro.12.9.

17 The gift of God remaineth for the righteous: and his good will shall haue prosperitie for euer.

18 Some man is rich by his care and nigardship, and that is the portion of his reward:

Luke 12.9. 19 In that he saith,* Now haue I gotten rest, and nowe will I eate and drinke of my goods my selfe alone: and yet he considereth not that the time draweth nigh, and death approcheth that he must leaue all these things vnto other men, and die himselfe.

Mat.10.22. 20 *Stand thou fast in thy couenant, and exercise thy selfe therein: and remaine in the worke vnto thy age.

21 Marueil not at the workes of sinners, but put thy trust in God, and bide in thy labour: for it is but an easie thing in the sight of God to make a poore man rich, and that suddenly.

22 The blessing of God hasteth to the reward of the righteous, and maketh his fruits soone to flourish and prosper.

23 Say not, What helpeth it me? & what good thing shall I haue hereafter?

24 Againe, say not, I haue enough, howe can I want?

Eccl.18.2. 25 When thou art in *welfare, forget not thine aduersitie, and when it goeth not well with thée, haue a good hope that it shalbe better:

26 For it is but a small thing vnto God in the day of death, to reward euery man according to his wayes.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget all pleasure: and when a man dieth, his workes are discouered.

28 Iudge no man blessed before his death: for a man shalbe knowen in his children.

29 Bring not euery man into thine house: for the deceitfull laieth waite diuersly, & a are like stomacks that belch filthily.

a That is, after they know thy secrets, vtter the same with filthy railings.

30 Like as a partrich in a maund, so is the heart of the proud: and like as a spie that looketh vpon the fall of his neighbour.

31 For hee turneth good vnto euill, and slandereth the chosen.

32 Of one sparke is made a great fire, and of one deceitfull man is blood encreased: & an vngodly man laieth waite for blood.

33 Beware of the deceitfull, for he imagineth wicked things, to bring thée into a perpetuall shame.

34 If thou takest an aliant vnto thée, hée shall destroy thée in vnquietnesse, and driue thée from thine owne wayes.

The xii. Chapter.

2 Vnto whome wee ought to do good. 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

1 WHen thou wilt doe good, knowe to whome thou doest it, and so shalt thou be greatly thanked for thy benefites.

2 Doe good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt find great reward, though not of him, yet no doubt the Lord him selfe shall reward thee.

3 Hée standeth not in a good case that is alway occupied in euill, and giueth no almes: for the highest hateth the sinners, and hath mercie vpon them that shewe the workes of repentance.

4 Giue thou vnto such as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.

5 As for the vngodly and sinners, hee shall recompence vengeance vnto them, and keepe them to the day of wrath.

6 Giue thou vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner, doe well vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodly: Let not the bread bee giuen him, that hée be not mightier then thy selfe therein: for so shalt thou receiue twise as much euil, in all that good that thou doest vnto him.

7 And why? the hiest hateth sinners, and shall reward vengeance to the vngodly.

8 In prosperitie a friend shalbe knowen, & in aduersitie an enemie shall not be hid.

9 For when a man is in wealth, it grieueth his enemies: but in heauinesse and trouble a mans very friend will depart from him.

10 Trust neuer thine enemie: for like as yron rusteth, so doeth his wickednesse.

11 And though hée make much crouching and kneeling, yet keepe well thy minde, and beware of him, and thou shalt be to him as he that wipeth a glasse, and thou shalt knowe that all his rust hath not bene well wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, neither let him sit at thy right hand: least he turne him, get into thy place, take thy roome, and seeke thy seate, and so thou at the last remember my wordes, and be pricked at my sayings.

13 Bind not two sinnes together: for there shall not one be vnpunished.

14 Who will haue pitie of the Charmer that is stinged of the Serpent, or of all such as come nigh the beastes?

15 Euen so is it with him that keepeth cõpanie with the wicked man, and lappeth himselfe in his sinnes.

16 For a season will he bide with thée: but if thou stumble, he tarieth not.

17 An enemie is sweete in his *lippes, hée can make many words, and speake many good things: Yea, he can weepe with his eyes, but in his heart he imagineth how to throwe thée into the pit, and if he may finde opportunitie, hée will not bee satisfied with blood. *Iere.41.6.

18 If aduersitie come vpon thee, thou shalt find him there first: and though hee pretende to doe thée helpe, yet shal he vndermine thée.

19 He shall shake his head and clappe his hands ouer thee for very gladnes: and while he maketh many wordes, he shall disguise his countenance.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The companies of the proud and of the rich are to be eschewed. 15 The loue of God. 17 Like doe companie with their like.

1 WHoso toucheth pitch, shalbe defiled with it: * and hee that is fa- *Deut 7.2.

miliar with the proude, shall cloth himselfe with pride.

2 He taketh a burden vpon him, that accompanieth a more honourable man thē himselfe, therefore keepe no familiaritie with one that is richer then thy selfe: Howe agree the kettle and the pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shalbe broken.

3 The rich dealeth vnrighteously, and threatneth withall: but the poore being oppressed, and wrongfully dealt withal, suffereth scarcenesse, and giueth faire words. If the rich haue done wrong, yet must hee be entreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shall straightwayes bee threatened.

4 If thou be for his profite, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he shall forsake thee.

5 As long as thou hast any thing of thine owne, he shalbe a good fellow with thee: yea, hee shall make thee a bare man, and not be sorie for thee.

6 If he haue neede of thee, he shal defraude thee, and with a priuie mocke shal he put thee in an hope, and giue thee all good words, and say, What wantest thou?

7 Thus shall he shame thee in his meate, vntill hee haue supt thee cleane vp twise or thrise, and at the last shal he laugh thee to scorne: afterwarde, when hee seeth that thou hast nothing, hee shall forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Submit thy selfe vnto God, and wait vpon his hand.

9 Beware that thou be not deceiued and brought downe in thy simplenesse: bee not too humble in thy wisedome, least when thou art brought low, thou be deceiued through foolishnesse.

10 If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe, so shall he call thee to him the more oft.

11 Preasse not thou vnto him, that thou be not shut out: but go not thou farre off, lest he forget thee.

12 Withdrawe not thy selfe from his speach, but beléeue not his many words: for with much communication shall hee tempt thee, and with a priuie mocke shal he question with thee of thy secrets.

13 The vnmercifull minde of his shall marke thy wordes, hee shall not spare to doe thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

14 Beware and take good heede to thy selfe, for thou walkest in perill of thy ouerthrowing: Howe when thou hearest his wordes, make thee as though thou wast in a dreame, and wake vp.

15 Loue God all thy life long, and call vpon him in thy neede.

16 Euery beast loueth his like: euen so let euery man loue his neighbour.

16 All flesh will resort to their like, & euery man will keepe company with such as he is himselfe.

18 But as the Woolfe agreeth with the lambe: so doeth the vngodly with the righteous.

19 [a] What peace is there betweene Hyena and a dogge? howe can the rich and the poore agree together?

20 The wilde Asse is the Lions pray in the wildernesse: euen so are poore men the meate of the rich.

21 Like as the proude may not away with lowlinesse: euen so doeth the rich abhorre the poore.

22 If a rich man fall, his friendes set him vp again: but when the poore falleth, his acquaintance forsake him.

23 If a rich man fall into an error, he hath many helpers, hee speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man goe wrong, hee is punished, yea though he speake wisely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the rich man speaketh, euery body holdeth his tongue, & looke what he saieth, they praise it vnto the clouds: but if the poore man speake, they say, What fellowe is this? and if hee doe amisse, they shall destroy him.

25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no sinne in his conscience: and pouertie is a wicked thing in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euill.

27 A chearefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for els it is an hard thing to knowe the thought.

a That is, with a sinner that returneth continually to his sinne againe as a dogge to his vomite: or else after the other translation, Hyena is a subtill beast, watching about Shepheards foldes, resembling a mans voyce, and learning certaine names, doeth call them forth, and so destroy them, whose nature is contrary to the dog, which is a keeper of the folde, and friendly vnto man.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 The offence of the tongue. 17 Man is but a vaine thing. 21 Happie is he that continueth in wisedome.

1 Blessed* is the man that hath not fallen with the word of his mouth, and is not pricked with the conscience of sinne.

Eccl.19.16. and 25.11. Iames 3.2.

2 Happie is he that hath no heauinesse in his minde, & is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3 It becommeth not a couetous man and a niggard to be rich: and what should an enuious man doe with money?

4 He that with all his carefulnesse heapeth together vnrighteously, gathereth for other folkes, and another man shall make good cheare with his goods.

5 He that is wicked vnto himselfe, howe should he be good vnto other me? how can such one haue any pleasure of his goods?

6 There is nothing worse then when one disfauoureth himselfe: and this is a reward of his wickednesse.

7 If hée doth any good, he doeth it, not knowing thereof and against his will, and at the last he declareth his vngraciousnesse.

8 A niggard hath a wicked eye, hee turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

Pro.17.20.

9 A* couetous mans eye hath neuer ynough in the portion of wickednesse, vntill the time that hée writher away, and haue lost his owne soule.

a For he that is couetous and enuious, counteth all lost that is not laide vp for himselfe, & pineth away at another mans wealth.

10 [a] A wicked eye enuieth bread, and there is scarcenesse vpon his table.

11 My sonne, doe good to thy selfe of that thou thou hast,and giue the Lord his due offerings.

12 Remember that death tarryeth not,and howe that the [b] graue is not shewed vnto thee: for the couenant of this worlde shall die the death.

13 *Doe good vnto thy friend before thou die,and according to thy habilitie reache out thy hand, and giue vnto the poore.

14 Be not disappointed of the good day, and let not the portion of the good desire ouerpasse thee.

15 Shalt thou not leaue thy trauailes and labours vnto other me? In the diuiding of the heritage giue and take,and sanctifie thy soule.

16 Worke thou righteousnes before thy death: for in the hell there is no meate to finde.

17 *All flesh shall fade away like a garment,& like a flourishing leafe in a greene tree.

18 Some growe, some are cast downe: euen so is the generation of flesh and blood: one commeth to an ende, another is borne, and this is the condition of all times,Thou shalt die the death.

19 All transitorie things shall faile at the last,and the worker thereof shal go withall.

20 Euery chosen worke shalbe iustified,& he that medled withal,shal haue honour therein.

21 *Blessed is the man that keepeth him in wisedome, and exerciseth himselfe in vnderstanding,and with discretion shall think vpon the foreknoweledge of God,

22 Which considereth the wayes of wisedome in his heart, hath vnderstanding in her secretes, 23 Goeth after her as one that seeketh her out,and continueth in her wayes.

24 He looketh in at her windowes, and hearkeneth at her doores.

25 He taketh his rest beside her house,and fasteneth his stake in her walles:he shal pitch his tent nigh vnto her hande,and in his tent shal good things rest for euermore.

26 He shall set his children vnder her couering,& shall dwel vnder her branches.

27 Vnder her couering shall he be defended from the heate,and in the glory shall he rest.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The goodnes that followeth him which feareth God. 8 God reiecteth and casteth off the sinner. 11 God is not the the auctthour of euill.

1 HE that feareth God,will doe good, and who so keepeth the lawe, shall obteine wisedome.

2 As an honourable mother shall shee meete him,and [a] she as his wife married of a virgin shal receiue him.

3 *With the bread of life & vnderstanding shall shee feede him,and giue him [c] water of wholesome wisedome to drinke.

4 If he be constant in her, he shal not bee moued,and if he holde him fast by her, he shall not come to confusion.

5 She shall bring him to honour among his neighbours, and in the middest of [c] congregation shal shee open his mouth: With the spirit of wisedome and vnderstanding shall she fill him,and cloth him with the garment of glory.

6 Shee shall heape the treasure of mirth & ioy vpon him, and giue him an euerlasting name to heritage.

7 Foolish men will not take holde vpon her,but such as haue vnderstanding will meete her:foolish men shall not see her, for she is farre from pride and deceite.

8 Men that goe about with lies,will not remember her:but men of trueth shalbe found in her , and shall prosper euen vnto the beholding of God.

9 Praise is not seemely in the mouth of the vngodly,for he is not sent of [c] Lord.

10 But if praise come of wisedome, and be plenteous in a faithful mouth, then the Lord wil prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is the Lords fault [c] I am gone by:for thou shalt not doe the thing that God hateth.

12 Say not thou, Hee causeth mee to doe wrong:for he hath no neede of [c] vngodly.

13 God hateth al abommination of errour, & they [c] feare God, wil loue none such.

14 God made man from the *beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsell: he gaue him his commandements and preceptes. Gen.1.20.

15 *If thou wilt obserue the commandements,and keepe acceptable faithfulnes for euer,they shall preserue thee. Mat.19.17.

16 He hath set water and fire before thee, reach out thine hand vnto which [c] wilt.

17 *Before man is life and death,good and euill:looke what him liketh,shalbe giuen him. Jere.21.8.

18 For the wisedome of God is great and mighty in power, and beholdeth all things continually.

19 *The eyes of the Lord are vpon them that feare him, and hee knoweth all the workes of man. Psal.33.26.

20 Hee hath commanded no man to doe vngodly, neither hath he giuen any mā licence to sinne: for hee desireth not a multitude of infidels and vnprofitable children.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 Of vnhappie and wicked children. 39 No man can hide himselfe from God.

1 DEsire not thou in the multitude of vngodly children, and haue no pleasure in them, if they feare not God.

2 Trust not thou to their life, and regard not their labours.

3 For one sonne that feareth God,is better then a thousande vngodly: and better it is for a man to die without children , then to leaue behinde him suche children as are vngodly.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, may a whole citie bee vpholden: but though the vngodly be many,yet shall it be wasted through them.

b Though death be certaine,yet the time of it is vnknowen to thee. Tob.4.7. Luke 14.13.

Esai.40.6. 1.Pet.1.24.

Psal.1.2.

a As a pure virginnewely maryed, doeth friendly entreat her husband: so shall iustice pure and vndefiled, gently entertaine her louers. Matth.4.4. Iohn 4.10.

b Or, graue.

c Or, congregation.

c Or, Lord.

c Or, vngodly.

c Or, wilt.

5 Many such things hath mine eye seene, and greater things then these haue I heard with mine eares.

Eccl.21.10. 6 *In the congregatiō of the vngodly shal a fire burne, and among vnfaithful people shall the wrath be kindled.

Gen.6.4. 7 *The olde giants obteined no grace for their sinnes, which were destroyed trusting to their owne strength.

Gen.19.24. 8 *Neither spared he them among whom Lot was a stranger: but smote them, and abhorred them, because of the pride of their wordes.

9 He had no pitie vpon thē, but destroyed al the people that were so stoute in sinne.

Num.14.35. 10 And forasmuch as he ouerlawe the *sixe hundred thousand that gathered themselues together in the hardnesse of their heart, in afflicting them, in pitying thē, in smiting them, and healing them with mercie and chastisement: it were marueile if one being hardnecked should bee free.

Eccl.5.19. 11 For *mercie and wrath is with him, he is both mightie to forgiue, and to powre out displeasure.

12 Like as his mercie is great, euen so is his punishment also: hee iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The vngodly shall not escape in his spoyle, and the long patience of him that sheweth mercie, shal not bide behinde.

14 He will make a place for euery mercifull deede, and euery man shall finde according to his workes.

15 The Lorde hardened Pharao that he shoulde not knowe him, and that his workes might bee knowen vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercie is knowen to al creatures, hee hath separated his light from the darkenesse with an Adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe frō God: for who will thinke vpon me from aboue? I shall not be knowen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among so many creatures?

2.Pet.7.10. 18 *Behold the heauen, yea, the heauen of heauens of God, the deepe, the earth, and all that therein is, shalbe moued at his presence.

19 The mountaines, the hilles, and the foundations of the earth shall shake for feare, when God visiteth them.

20 These things doeth no heart vnderstand worthily: but hee vnderstandeth euery heart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? no man seeth his stormes, and the most part of his workes are secrete.

22 Who will declare the workes of his righteousnesse? or who shalbe able to abide them? for the couenant is farre frō some, & trying out of men is in the ende.

23 Hee that is humble of heart, thinketh vpon such things: but an vnwise and erronious man casteth his minde vnto foolish things.

24 My sonne, hearken thou vnto mee, & learne vnderstanding, and marke my wordes with thine heart: I will giue thee a sure doctrine, and plainely shall I instruct thee.

25 Marke my wordes then in thine heart: for in righteousnesse of the spirit doe I speake of the wonders that God hath shewed among his workes from the beginning, and in the truth doe I shewe the knowledge of him.

26 God hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundred from the other.

27 Hee hath garnished his workes from euerlasting, and their beginnings according to their generations: they are not hungry nor wearied in their labours, nor ceasse from their offices.

28 None of them hindred another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his wordes.

29 After this God looked vpon the earth, and filled it with his goodnesse.

30 With all maner of liuing beasts hath he couered the ground, and they all shalbee turned vnto earth againe.

The xvii. Chapter.

1 The creation of man, and the goodnesse that God hath done vnto him. 30 Of almes, 26 and repentance.

Gen.1.27. 1 GOd* shaped man of the earth, and made him after his owne image, & turned him vnto earth againe, and clothed him with his owne strength.

Gen.1.26. 1.cor.11.7. 2 *He gaue him the number of dayes, and certaine time, yea, and gaue him power of the things that are vpon earth.

3 He made all flesh to stand in awe of him, so that he had the dominion of all beasts and foules.

Gen.2.21. 4 *He made out of him an helper like vnto himselfe, and gaue them discretion & tongue, eyes, and eares, and a heart to vnderstand:

5 He gaue them a spirite, and a speache to declare his workes, and filled them with instruction and vnderstanding.

6 He created for them also the knowledge of the spirit, filled their heartes with vnderstanding, and shewed them good and euill.

7 He set his eye vpon their heartes, declaring vnto them his great and noble workes,

8 That they shoulde praise his holy name together, reioyce of his wonders, and be telling of his noble actes.

9 Besides this, he gaue thē instruction, & the lawe of life for an heritage, that they might nowe know þ they were mortal.

a Through their owne transgression.

10 He made an euerlasting couenant with them, and shewed them his righteousnesse and iudgements.

11 They sawe the maiestie of his glory with their eyes, and their eares hearde the maiestie of his voyce, & he said vnto thē, Beware of all vnrighteous things.

Exod.20.21,22,23. 12 *He gaue euery man also a commandement concerning his neighbour.

13 Their wayes are euer before him, & are not hid from his eyes.

14 *Euery

Rom.13.1.

14 *Euerie man from his youth is giuen to euill, and their stonie hearts cannot become b flesh.

b That is, soft and gentle, for the holy ghost to write his lawes in.

15 He hath set a ruler vpon euery people, *but Israel is the Lords portion:

Deut.4.20.

16 Whom hee nourisheth with discipline as his first borne, and giueth him most louing light, and doeth not forsake him.

17 All their workes are as the Sunne in the sight of God, and his eyes are alway looking vpon their wayes.

18 All their vnrighteousnesses are manifest vnto him, and all their wickednesses are open in his sight.

19 And as hee is mercifull, and knoweth his worke, he doeth not leaue them, nor forsake them, but spareth them.

c As a thing sealed vp is surely found againe, so is mercy laide vp in store.

20 The mercie that a man sheweth, is c as a seale with him, and the grace that is giuen to man, preserueth him as the apple of an eye, and giueth repentance to their sonnes and daughters.

21 At the last he shall awake, and rewarde euery man vpon his head, & shall turne them together into þ neathermost parts of the earth:

Ezek.3.19.

22 But vnto them that will *repent, hee hath giuen the way of righteousnes: as for such as be weake, he cõforteth them, suffereth them, and sendeth them the portion of the veritie.

Ion.3.12.

23 *O turne then vnto the Lorde, forsake thy sinnes, make thy prayer before the Lord, doe the lesse offence.

24 Turne againe vnto the Lorde, for hee will bring thee from darknesse vnto wholesome light, forsake thine vnrighteousnesse, be an vtter enemie to abomination.

25 Learne to knowe the righteousnes and iudgements of God, stand in the portion that is set forth for thee, and in the prayer of the most high God.

26 Goe in the portion of the holy worlde with such as be liuing, and giue thankes vnto God.

Psal.6.6. Esa.38.19.

27 *Who will praise the Lord in the hell? abide not thou in the errour of the vngodly, but giue thankes before death.

28 As for the dead, thankefulnesse perisheth from him as nothing: giue thou thankes in thy life, yea while thou art liuing and whole shalt thou giue thankes, and prayse God, and reioyce in his mercy.

29 O how great is the louing kindnesse of the Lord, and his mercifull goodnesse vnto such as turne vnto him?

30 For al things may not be in man, and why? the sonne of man is not immortal, and hee hath pleasure in the vanitie of wickednesse.

31 What is more cleare then the Sunne? yet shall it faile.

32 What is more wicked then the thing that flesh and blood hath imagined? and that same shalbe reprooued.

33 The Lorde seeth the power of the high heauen, and all are but earth and ashes.

The xviii Chapter.

1 The marueilous workes of God. 6 The miserie & wretchednesse of man. 9 Against God ought we not to complaine.

1 HE that *liueth for euermore, made all things together: God onely is righteous, and there is none other but he, and remaineth a victorious king for euer. Gen.1.1.

2 He ordereth the world with the power of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he gouerneth all things by his power, and diuideth the holy things from the prophane.

3 Who shalbe able to expresse the workes of him? who will seeke out the grounde of his noble actes?

4 Who shall declare the power of his greatnesse? or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercy?

5 As for the wonderous workes of the Lorde, there may nothing be taken from them, nothing may be put vnto them, neither may the ground of them be found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, he must begin againe: and when hee thinketh to be come to an ende, hee must goe againe to his labour.

7 What is man? whereto is hee worthy? what good or euill can he doe?

8 *If the number of a mans dayes be almost an hundred peres, it is much: and no man hath certaine knowledge of his death. Psal.89.10.

9 Like as the droppes of rayne are vnto þ sea, and as a grauell stone is in comparison of the sand: so are these fewe peres to the dayes of euerlasting.

10 Therefore is the Lorde patient with them, and powreth out his mercie vpon them.

11 He saw and perceiued the thoughts and imaginations of their heart that they were euill, therefore heaped hee vp his mercifull goodnesse vpon them, & shewed them the way of righteousnesse.

12 The mercie that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour, but the mercie of God is vpon all flesh: He chasteneth, hee teacheth and nurtureth: yea, euen as a shepheard turneth againe his flocke, so doth he all them that receiue chastening, nurture, and doctrine.

13 Merciful is he vnto them that diligently seeke after his iudgements.

14 Wy sonne, when thou doest good, make no grudging at it: and whatsoeuer thou giuest, speake no discomfortable words.

15 Shall not the dewe coole the heate? euen so is a word better then a gift.

16 Is not a friendly worde a good honest gift? but a gratious man giueth the both.

17 A foole shall cast a man in the teeth, and that roughly: and a gift of the niggarde putteth out the eyes.

18 Get thee righteousnesse before þ comest to iudgement, learne before thou speake, and goe to phisike or euer thou be sicke.

19 Examine and iudge thy selfe before the iudgement come, and so shalt thou finde grace in the sight of God.

1. Cor. 11. 28. a For he is more perfect that may sinne and doth resist it, then he that doeth followe after it.

20 * Humble thy selfe afore thou be sicke: and whilest thou maiest a sinne, shew thy conuersion.

21 Be not let to pay thy vow in good time, & tarp not to be iustified vnto thy death: for the reward of God endureth for euer.

22 Before thou prayest, prepare thy soule, and be not as one that tempteth God.

Eccl. 7. 18.

23 Thinke * vpon the wrathfull indignation that shalbe at the end, and the houre of vengeance when hee shall turne away his face.

Eccl. 11. 17.

24 When thou hast pnough, * remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, thinke vpon the time of pouertie & scarcenesse.

25 From the morning vntill the euening the time is changed, and all such things are soone done in the sight of God.

26 A wise man feareth God in all things, and in the dayes of transgression he kéepeth himselfe from sinne: but the foole doeth not obserue the time.

27 A discrete man hath pleasure in wisedome, and hee that findeth her, maketh much of her.

28 They that haue had vnderstanding, haue dealt wisely in words, haue vnderstande the trueth and righteousnes, and haue sought out wise sentences & iudgements.

29 The chiefe authoritie of speaking is of the Lorde alone: for a mortall man hath but a dead heart.

Rom. 6. 6. and 13, 14.

30 * Folow not thy lustes, but turne thée from thine owne will.

31 For if thou giuest thy soule her desires, it shall make thine enemies to laugh thée to scorne.

32 Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnesse, and meddle not too much withall.

33 Make not too great cheare of the thing that thou hast wunne by aduantage, least thou fal into pouertie, and haue nothing in thy purse, els thou shouldest slanderously lie in waite for thine owne life.

The xix. Chapter.

2 Wine and whoredome bringeth men to pouertie. 6 In thy wordes must thou vse discretion.

1 A labouring man that is giuen vnto drunkennesse, shall not bee rich: and he that maketh not much of small things, shall fall by little and litle.

Gen. 19. 32. 1. king. 11. 1.

2 * Wine and women make wisemen rũnagates, and put men of vnderstanding to reprowfe.

3 And hee that companieth adulterers, shall become an impudent man: mothes and wormes shall haue him to heritage, yea, he shalbe set vp to a great example, & his soule shalbe rooted out of þ number.

Iosu. 11. 11.

4 * He that is hastie to giue credence, is light minded, and doth against himselfe.

5 Whoso reioyceth in wickednesse shalbe punished: but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneth his owne soule: he that refraineth his tongue, maye liue with a troubles-some man: he that hateth to be reproumed, his life shall be shortened: and hee that abhorreth babbling of words, quenscheth wickednesse.

6 Hee that offendeth against his owne soule, shall repent: and he that reioyceth in wickednesse, shalbe punished.

7 Rehearse not a wicked & churlish word twise, and thou shalt not be hindered.

8 Shew thy secrets neither to friend nor foe: & if thou hast offended, tell it not out.

9 For he shal hearken vnto thée, & marke thée, and when he findeth opportunitie, he shall hate thée, and so shal he be alway about thee.

10 * If thou hast heard a worde against thy neighbour, let it be dead within thée: and be sure thou shalt haue no harme thereby. Eccl. 2. 27.

11 A foole trauaileth with a worde, like as a woman that is pained with bearing of a childe.

12 Like as an arrow shot in a thigh of flesh, so is a worde in a fooles heart.

13 * Tell thy friend his fault, least he dée ignorant, and say, I haue not done it: or Leuit. 19. 10. mat. 18. 19. if he haue spoken, that he doe it no more. luke. 18. 3.

14 Reprooue thy neighbour, that he keepe his tongue: and if he haue spoken, that he say it no more.

15 Tell thy neighbour his fault, for oft times an offence is made: and giue not credence to euery worde.

16 * A man falleth sometime vþ his tongue, but not with his wil: for what is he that hath not offended in his tongue? Eccl. 14. 1.

17 Giue thy neighbour warning before thou threaten him: and giue place vnto the lawe of the Lord.

18 The feare of the Lorde is the first degrée to be receyued of him: and wisedome obteineth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commaundements of the Lorde, is the doctrine of life: and they that obey him, shall receiue the fruite of immortalitie.

20 The feare of God is all wisedome: and he that is a righteous man, keepeth the law.

21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I will not doe as it pleaseth thée: though afterwarde he do it, he shall displease him that nourisheth him.

22 As for the doctrine of wickednesse, it is no wisedome, and the ꝓudence of sinners is no good vnderstanding: it is but wickednesse & abomination, and a blasphemy of wisedome.

23 A simple man of small vnderstanding that feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisedome, and transgresseth the law of the highest.

24 A craftie subtill man can be wise, but he is vnrighteous, & with gifts he wresteth the open and manifest lawe: againe, there is that is wise, and iudgeth righteously.

25 A wicked man can behaue himselfe humbly, and can ducke with his head, and pet is he but a deceiuer within: hee

hideth

hideth his face, and disguiseth it, and because hée should not be knowen, hee preuenteth thée, to hurt thée.
Matt.6.16. 26 *And though he be so weake, that hee can do thée no harme, yet when he may finde opportunitie, he shal doe some euil.
27 A man may be knowē by his face, and one that hath vnderstanding may bee perceiued by ꝑ looke of his countenance.
Eccl.21.23. 28 *A mans garment, laughter, & going, declare what he is.

The xx. Chapter.

2 Of correction and repentance. 6 Of the gift of the wise man, and of the foole. 23 Of lying.

1 SOme man reproueth his neighbour oft times, but not in due season: againe, some man holdeth his tōgue, & he is wise and discreete.
2 It is much better to giue warning and to reproone, then to beare euil wil: for he that knowledgeth himselfe openly, shal-bee preserued from hurt and destruction.
Eccl.30.11. 3 * Like as when a gelded man through desire and lust desileth a maiden: euen so is it with him that vseth violence, and vnrighteousnesse in the law.
4 O how good a thing is it, a man that is reprooued, to shewe openly his repentance: for so shalt ꝑ escape wilful sinne.
5 Some man keepeth silence, and is foūd wise: but hee that is not ashamed what he speeth, is hatefull.
6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because hee hath not vnderstanding of the language: and some man keepeth silence, waiting a conuenient time.
Eccl.32.6. 7 *A wise man wil holde his tongue til he see opportunitie, but a wanton and vndi-screete body shall regard no time.
8 He that vseth many wordes, shal hurt his own soule: and he that taketh autho-ritie vpon him vnrighteously, shalbe hated.
9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things: againe, some man getteth much, and hath harme and losse.
10 There is some gift that is nothing worth: againe, there is some gift whose reward is double.
11 There is an vnmilitie for glories sake, and some commeth to worshippe from lowe estate.
12 Some man bupeth much for a little price, and must pay for it seuen folde.
Eccl.6.5. 13 *A wise man with his words maketh himselfe to bee beloued: but the merrie tales of fooles, shalbe powred out.
14 The gift of the vnwise shall doe thee no good, nor pet of the enuious: for his importunitie is seuen folds, for hee looketh to receiue many things for one.
Eccl.18.7. 15 *Hee shal giue little, and say hee gaue much: he openeth his mouth and crpeth out, as it were one that crped out wide.
16 To day he lendeth, to morrowe asketh he again: and such a man is to be hated of God and man.
17 The foole saith, I haue no friend, I haue not thāke for all my good deedes, yea, euen they that eate my bread speake no good of mee: O how oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to scorne?
18 He taketh a more perilous fal by such words, then if he fell vpon the ground:
euen so shall the fall of wicked mē come hastily.
19 Ill mouth of him that is vntaught, are many vnconuenient and vnmeete words.
20 A wise sentence shal not be allowed at the mouth of the foole: for he speaketh not it in due season.
21 Some man sinneth not, because he hath not wherewithal, and in his rest he shal be stinged.
22 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule with shame, and for an vnwise bodies sake destroyeth he it, and with accepting of persons shal he vndoe himselfe.
23 Some man promiseth his friend a gift for very shame: and getteth an enemie of him for nought.
24 A lie is a wicked shame in a man: yet shal it be euer in the mouth of the vnwise.
25 A theefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shal haue destruction to heritage.
26 The conditions of liers are dishonest:
and their shame is euer with them.
27 * A wise man shall bring himselfe to Gen.43.44.
honour with his wordes: and he ꝑ hath vnderstāding, shalbe set by among great men.
28 *He that tilleth his land, shal increase Pro.12.11.
his heape of corne: hee that worketh righteousnesse, shalbe exalted, and he that pleaseth great men, shall escape much euill.
29 *Rewardes and giftes blinde the eyes Eccl.23.8.
of the wise, and make him dumbe that he cannot tell men their faultes.
30 *Wisedome that is hidde, and treasure Eccl.41.18.
that is hoorded vp, what profite is in them both?
31 Better is hee that keepeth his ignorance secret, then a man that hideth his wisedome.
32 The necessarie patience of him that fo-loweth the Lorde, is better then he that gouerneth his life without the Lorde.

The xxi. Chapter.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 5 The prayer of the afflicted. 6 To hate to be reproued. 17 The mouth of the wise man. 26 The thought of the foole.

1 MY sonne, if thou hast sinned, doe it no more: but pray for thy foresins, Exod.3.9 that they may be forgiuen thée.
2 Flee from sinne, euen as from a serpent:
for if thou comnest too nigh her, shee wil bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, to slay the soules of men.
3 The wickednes of man is as a sharpe two edged sworde, which maketh such wounds that they can not be healed.
4 Strife and wrongful dealing shal waste away a mans goods, and through pride a rich house shalbe brought to nought: so the riches of þ pryond shalbe rooted out.

Eccl. 3.9. 5 *The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, and commeth vnto þ eares, and his vengeance or defence shall come hastily.

6 Whoso hateth to bee reformed, it is a token of an vngodly person: but he that feareth God, will remember himselfe.

7 A mightie man is knowen a farre off by his tongue: but he þ hath vnderstanding, perceiueth that he shal haue a fall.

8 Whoso buildeth his house with other mens cost, a is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.

a With goods borowed and not paied againe, robbed, stollen, or craftily conueied: gathereth stones in winter to builde when the frost doeth so congeale the morter, that it can not holde the stones together.

9 *The congregation of the vngodly is like stubble gathered together, their end is a flame of fire.

10 The way of the vngodly is set with stones: but in their end, is hell, darknes, and paines.

Eccl. 36.7. 11 He that keepeth the law, will hold fast the vnderstanding thereof: and the end of the feare of God, is wisdome and vnderstanding.

12 He that is not wise, will not be taught in good, but the vnwise man aboundeth in wickednes: and where bitternesse is, there is no vnderstanding.

13 The knowledge of the wise shall flowe like water that runneth ouer: and his counsaile is like a pure fountaine of life.

Eccl. 33.5. 14 *The heart of a foole is like a broken vessel, he can keepe no wisedome.

15 When a mã of vnderstanding heareth a wise word, he shal commend it, & make much of it: but if a voluptuous man heare it, he shall haue no pleasure therein, but cast it behind his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like an heauy burden by the way: but to heare a wise man speake, it is pleasure.

17 Where a doubt is in the congregation, it is asked at the mouth of the wise, and they shall ponder his words in their hearts.

18 Like as is a house that is destroyed, euen so is wisedome vnto a foole: As for the knowledge of the vnwise, it is but darke words.

19 Doctrine is vnto him that hath no vnderstanding, euen as fetters about his feet, & like manicles vpõ his right hand.

Eccl. 19.17. 20 *A foole lifteth vp his voice wt laughter: but a wise man shall scarce laugh secretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wise man a iewell of golde, and like an armelet vpon his right arme.

22 A foolish mans foote is soone in his neighbours house: but one that hath experience, shall be ashamed at the person of the mightie.

23 A foole will peepe in at the windowe into the house: but he that is well nurtured will stand without.

24 A foolish man standeth hearkening at the doore: but he that is wise will be ashamed.

25 The lips of the vnwise will be telling foolish things: but the words of such as haue vnderstanding, shall be weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in his hart.

27 When the vngodly curseth the b blasphemer, he curseth his owne soule.

b For while he curseth another, he doeth the same thing, and so curseth himselfe. Eccl. 28.19.

28 *A pryp accuser of other men, shal defile his owne soule, and be hated of euery man: but he that keepeth his tongue & is discréete, shall come to honour.

The xxii. Chapter.

1 Of the sluggard. 12 Not to speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience feareth not.

1 A Slouthfull body is moulded a of a stone of clay, and euery man will speake to his dispraise.

a That is, like as the idle stone gathereth mosse and filth, so doeth the slouthfull both sicknesse of body, and corruption of mind: and as euery man doth auoyd the filthinesse of dung, and shaketh it off: so doeth he auoid the company of idle loyterers, least he be accounted like vnto them.

2 A slouthful body is made of the dung of oxen, & euery one that toucheth him, must wash his hands againe.

3 A misnurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: a foolish daughter shall be little regarded.

4 A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but the þ cõmeth to dishonestly, bringeth her father in heauinesse.

5 A daughter that is past shame, dishonoureth both her father & her husband: the vngodly shall regard her, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of time, is as musike in mourning: but wisedome knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 If children liue honestly, & haue wherwithall, they shall put away the shame of their parents:

8 But if children bee pryond with hautinesse and foolishnesse, they blot out the nobilitie of their kinred.

9 Whoso teacheth a foole, is euen as one that gleweth a potshard together, as one that telleth a tale to him that heareth him not, and as one that raiseth a man out of a heauy sleepe.

10 Whoso telleth a foole of wisdome, is euen as a mã which speaketh to one that is a sléepe, when he hath told his tale, he saieth, What is the matter?

Eccl. 38.16. 11 * When one dieth, lamentatiõ is made for him, because the light faileth him: euen so, let men mourne ouer a foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding. Make but litle weeping because of the dead, for he is come to rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death.

Gen. 50.10. 12 *Seuen days doe men mourne for him that is dead, but the lamentation ouer the vnwise and vngodly, should endure all the dayes of their life.

b Though lead be heauie, yet may it be borne: but the insolent foole may not be borne, as Pro. 28. Heauie is the stone, & weightie is the sande: but the fury of a foole doth passe them both.

13 Talke not much with a foole, and goe not with him that hath no vnderstanding: beware of him, least it turne thée to trauell, and thou shalt not bee defiled with his sinne: Depart from him, and thou shalt find rest, & shalt not be drawen backe into his foolishnesse.

14 b What is heauier then lead? and what should a foole be called els but lead?

15 Sand, salt, and a lumpe of iron, is easier to beare, then an vnwise, foolish, and and vngodly man.

16 Like as the band of wood bounde together in the foundation of the house cannot be loosed: euen so is it with the heart that is stablished in the thought of counsaile. The thought of the wise shall neuer feare, nor be offended at any time.

17 Like as a faire plastered wall in a winter house and a high building may not abide the winde and storme: euen so is a fooles heart afrayed in his imagination, he feareth at euery thing, and can not endure.

18 A wauering heart in the imagination of a foole, will not euer stand in awe: but he that abideth in the commandements of God, will allway feare.

1.Cor.14.14. Iud.4.12. 19 *He that pricketh a mans eye, bringeth forth teares: & he that pricketh the heart, bringeth forth the meaning & thought.

20 Whoso casteth a stone at the birdes, fraieth them away: and he that blaspheme th his friend, breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou drewest a sworde at thy friend, yet despaire not: for thou mayest come againe to thy friend.

22 If he speake sorowfully, feare not: for ye may be agreed together againe, except it bee that thou blaspheme him, disdaine him, open his secretes, and wounde him traiterously: for all such things shall driue away a friend.

23 Be faithfull vnto thy neighbour in his pouertie, that thou mayest reioyce with him also in his prosperitie: abide stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest bee heire with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwaies to be contemned, nor the rich that is foolish to be had in estimation.

24 Like as the vapour and smoke goeth out at the ouen before the fire: euen so euill wordes, rebukes, and threatnings, goe before bloudshedding.

25 Be not ashamed to defend thy friend: as for mee, I will not hide my face from him though he should do me harme: who so euer heareth it, shall beware of him.

Psal.141.3. 26 *Who shall set a watch before my mouth, and a sure seale vpon my lippes, that I fall not with them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

The xxiii. Chapter.

1 A prayer against pride, lecherie, and gluttonie. 23 Many sinnes proceede of adulterie. 27 Of the feare of God.

1 O Lord, father and gouernour of my life, leaue me not in their imagination and counsell: oh let me not fall in such reproofe.

2 Who will keepe my thought with the scourge, and the doctrine of wisedome in mine heart? that hee spare not mine ignorance, that I fall not with them.

3 Lest mine ignorances increase, & mine offences be not many in number, and that my sinnes exceede not: lest I fall before mine enemies, and so mine aduersaries reioyce, whose hope is farre from thy mercie.

4 O Lord, thou father and God of my life, leaue me not in their imagination: O let me not haue a proude looke, but turne away all voluptuousnesse from me.

5 Take from me the lustes of the body, let not the desires of vncleannesse take hold vpon me.

6 And giue me not ouer into an vnshamefast and obstinate minde.

7 Heare mee, O yee children, I will giue you a doctrine howe ye shall order your mouth: whoso keepeth it, shal not perish through his lippes, nor be hurt through wicked workes.

8 As for the sinner, he shalbe taken in his owne vanitie: he that is proude and cursed shall fall therein.

9 *Let not thy mouth be accustomed with swearing, for in it there are many falles: Exod.20.7.

* let not the naming of God be continually in thy mouth, and meddle not with the names of Saints, for thou shalt not be excused of them. Eccl.27.15.

10 For like as a seruant which is oft punished, can not be without some sore: euen so, what so euer he be that sweareth, and nameth God, shal not be cleane purged from sinne.

11 A man that vseth much swearing, shall be filled with wickednesse, & the plague shall neuer goe from his house, if hee beguile his brother, his fault shall be vpon him, if her knowledge not his sinne, hee maketh a double offence, and if hee sweare in vaine, he shall not be founde righteous: for his house shall be full of plagues.

12 The wordes of the swearer bring death, God grant that it be not found in the house of Iacob: but they that feare God eschewe all such, and lie not walteringe in sinne.

13 * Vse not thy mouth to vnhonest & filthy talking, for in it is the word of sinne. Ephe.5.4.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother when thou art set among great men: lest God forget thee in their sight, and least thou doting in thy custome, suffer rebuke, and wish not to haue bene borne, and so curse the day of thy nativitie.

15 *The man that is accustomed with the wordes of blasphemie, will neuer bee reformed all the dayes of his life. 2.Sam.16.7.

16 To sinne twise is too much, but the third bringeth wrath and destruction: An hot stomacke can not bee quenched (euen like a burning fire) till it haue swalowed vp some thing: euen so an vnchaste man hath no rest in his flesh, till he haue kindled a fire.

17 All bread is sweete to an whoremonger, he will not leaue off till he die.

18 *A man that breaketh wedlocke, & regardeth not his soule, but saieth, Tush, who seeth me? I am compassed about with darknesse, the walles couer me, no body seeth me, whom need I to feare? the highest will not remember my sinnes: Esay.29.15.

19 He vnderstandeth not that his eyes see all things, for all such feare of men driueth neth away the feare of God from him:

for he feareth onely the eyes of men, and considereth not that the eyes of the Lord are clearer then the sunne, beholding all the wayes of men, and the ground of the deepe, and looking euen to mens hearts in secrete places.
20 The Lord God knew al things or euer they were made, & after they be brought to passe also he looketh vpon them all.
21 The same man shall bee openly punished in the streetes of the citie, and shall be chased abroad like a prong horse foale:
and when he thinketh least vpō it, he shal be taken.
22 Thus shall he be put to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstande Exod.20,14. the feare of the Lord: and * thus shall it goe also with euery wife that leaueth her husbande, and getteth inheritance by a strange mariage.
Leuit.22.10. deut.22.22. 23 * First, she hath bene vnfaithfull vnto the law of the highest: secondly, she hath forsaken her owne husband: thirdly, she hath played the whore in adulterie, and gotten her children by another man.
24 She shalbe brought out of the cōgrega-tion, & her children shalbe looked vpon.
25 Her children shall not take roote: and as for fruite, her branches shall bring forth none.
26 A shameful report shal she leaue behind her, & her dishonour shall not be put out.
27 And they that remaine, shal know that there is nothing better then the feare of God, and that there is nothing sweeter then to take heede vnto the commandements of the Lord.
28 A great worship is it to folow þ Lord:
for long life shalbe receiued of him.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

1 A praise of wisdome proceeding forth of the mouth of God. 6 Of her woorkes and place where shee resteth.

1 WIsedome shal praise her selfe, and be honoured in God, and reioyce in the middest of the people.
2 In the congregations of the highest shal she open her mouth, and triumph in the beholding of his power.
3 In the middest of her people shall shee be exalted, and wondred at in the holy fulnesse.
4 In the multitude of the chosen she shal be commended, and among such as bee blessed, she shalbe praysed, and shall say, 5 I am come out of the mouth of the highest, first borne before all creatures.
6 I caused the light that faileth not to arise in the heauen, and couered all the earth as a cloude.
7 My dwelling is aboue in the height, &
my seate is in the pillar of the cloude.
8 I my selfe alone haue gone round about the compasse of heauen, and pearced the ground of the deepe.
9 I haue walked in the floods of the sea, and haue stand in all lands, my dominiō is in euery people, & in euery nation, and with my power haue I troden downe the hearts of all both high and low.
10 In all these things also I sought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritance.
11 So the creator of all things gaue mee a commandement, and he that made mee, appointed me a tabernacle, and said vnto me, Let thy dwelling be in Iacob, and thine inheritance in Israel, and roote thy selfe among my chosen.

14 I tooke roote in an honourable people, euen in the portion of the Lorde, and in his heritage, and kept me in the fulnesse of the saints.
15 I am set vp on high like a Cedar vpon
Libanus, and as a Cypresse tree vpon the mount Hermon.
16 I am exalted like a Palme tree in Cades, and as a rose plant in Jericho, as a faire Oliue tree in the field, & am exalted like as a Plantane tree by þ water side.
17 I haue giuen a smell in the streetes as the Cynamom and Balme that hath so good a sauour, yea, a sweete odour haue
I giuen as it were myrrhe of the best: I haue made my dwellings to smell as it were of Rozin, Galbani, of Cloues, Ins-cense, and as Libanus when it is not

Ecc.3,11. 30 This filleth with wisedome, * like as þ flood of Phison, & as þ flood of Tygris, when the new fruites are a growing.

34 For her thought is fuller then the sea, and her counsaile is profounder then the great deepe.

35 I wisdome haue cast out floods, I am as a great water brooke out of the riuer, I am as the riuer Dozir, and as a water conduite am I come out of the garden of pleasure.

36 I sayd, I will water the garden of my yong plantes, and fill the fruite of my birth: So my water brooke became exceeding great, and my riuer approched vnto the sea.

37 For I make doctrine to be vnto all mē as light as the faire morning, and I shal make it to be euer the clearer.

38 I will pearse thorowe all the lower parts of the earth, I will looke vpon all such as be a sléepe, and lighten all them that put their trust in the Lord.

39 I shall yet powre out doctrine like as prophecy, and leaue it vnto such as séeke after wisedome, and their generation shall I neuer faple vnto the holy euerlasting world.

Eccl.33.18. 40 * Behold how that I haue not laboured for my selfe onely: but for all them that séeke after the truth.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 Of three things which please God, and of three which he hateth. 7 Of nine things that he not to be suspect, and of the tenth. 15 Chiefly of the malice of a woman.

1 THree things there are that my spirit fauoureth, which be also alowed before God and men: The vnitie of

Gen.13.8. * brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man

Rom.12,10. * and wife that agrée well together.

Ioh.2.4. 2 Three things there be which my soule hateth, and I vtterly abhorre the life of them: A poore man that is proude, a rich man that is a liar, and an olde body that doteth, and is vnchaste.

3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what wilt thou finde thē in thine age?

4 O howe pleasant a thing is it when grape headed men are discreete, and whē the elders can giue good counsaile?

5 O howe comely a thing is wisedome vnto aged men? yea, vnderstanding and counsell to men of honour is a glorious thing.

6 The crowne of olde men is to haue much experience: and the feare of God is their worship.

7 There bee nine things which I haue iudged in my heart to be happie, and the tenth will I tell forth vnto men with my tongue: A man that while he liueth hath hope of his children and seeth the fal of his enemies.

8 * Well is him that dwelleth with an Eccl.19.16. and 24.1. Bar.3.2. vnderstanding wife, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not bene faine to serue such as are vnmeete for him.

9 Well is him that findeth ‖ a faithfull ‖Or, prudent. friend: and well is him which talketh of wisedome to an eare that heareth him.

10 O howe great is he that findeth wisedome and knowledge? Yet is he not aboue him that feareth the Lord.

11 The feare of God hath set it selfe aboue all things.

12 Blessed is the man vnto whome it is granted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shal he be likened þ keepeth it fast?

13 The feare of God is the beginning of his loue, and the beginning of faith, is to cleaue fast vnto it.

14 The heauinesse of the heart is all the punishment, and the wickednesse of a woman goeth aboue all.

15 All punishment and plague is nothing in cōparison to the plague of the heart: euen so, all wickednesse is nothing to the wickednesse of a woman.

16 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in comparison of it that his enil willers doe vnto him: and all vengeance is nothing to the vengeance of þ enemy.

17 There is not a more wicked head then the head of the serpent: and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman.

Pro.21.19. 18 I will rather dwell with a * Lion and Dragon, then to kéepe house with a wicked wife.

19 The wickednesse of a woman changeth her face, she shall muffle her countenance as it were a beare, and as a sacke shal she shewe it among the neighbours.

20 Her husband is brought to shame among his neighbours because of her, and when he heareth it, it maketh him to sigh.

21 All wickednes is but litle to the wickednes of a woman: the portion of the vngodly shall fall vpon her.

22 Like as the climing vp a sandy way is to the fote of the aged: euen so is a wife full of wordes to a still quiet man.

Eccl.42.12. 23 * Looke not too narrowly vpon the beautie of a woman, least thou bee proued in desire toward her. 2.King.13.2.

24 The wrath of a woman is dishonour & great confusion: if a woman get þ maistrie, then is she contrary to her husband.

Gen.3.6. 25 * A wicked wife maketh a sorie heart, an heauy countenance, & a dead wound: Weake handes and feeble knees, is a woman woman that her husband is not the better for.

a 1. Tim. 2. Adam was not deceiued. But to the Rom. 5. he sayth, By one man sinne entred into the world. The occasion was offered by the woman, but the sinne was finished by the man consenting thereunto.

26 Of the woman came the a beginning of sinne, and through her we all are dead.

27 Giue thy water no passage, no not a litle, neither giue a wicked woman her will.

28 If she walke not after thy hande, shee shall confound thee in the sight of thine enemies: cut her off then from thy flesh, that she doe not allwap abuse thee.

The xxvi. Chapter.

3 The praise of a good woman. 6 Of the ielouse and drunkennesse of a woman.

1 HAppie is the man þ hath a vertuous wife: for the nũber of his peres shall be double.

2 An honest womã maketh her husband a ioyfull man, and she shall fill the pceres of his life in peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a noble gift, which shall bee giuen for a good portion vnto such as feare God.

4 Whether a mã be rich or poore, he may haue a merp heart, and a chearefull countenance.

5 There bee thee things that my heart feareth, and my face is afraide of the fourth: treason in a citie, a seditious people, and nopsome tongues: all these are heauier then the death.

6 When one woman is ielous ouer another, it bringeth paine and sorowe vnto the heart: and a woman that telleth out all things, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 When one hath an euill wife, it is euen as when an vnlike paire of oxen must drawe together: he that getteth her, getteth a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman is a great plague: for she can not couer her owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may bee knowen in þ pride of her eyes & eye lids.

Eccl. 42. 11. 10 * If thy daughter bee not shamefast, holde her straitly, least shee abuse her selfe through ouermuch libertie.

11 Beware of all þ dishonestie of her eyes, and marueile not if she do against thee.

12 As a wayfaring man that is thirstie, when he hath found a well, drinketh of euery next water: so will she sit down by euery hedge, and make her selfe common to euery man that passeth by.

13 A louing wife reioyceth her husband, & fedeth his bones with her wisedome.

14 A woman of fewe wordes is a gift of God: to all nurtured mindes may nothing be compared.

15 An honest and manerly woman is a gift aboue other gifres: and there is no weight to be cõpared vnto a minde that can rule it selfe.

16 Like as the sunne when it ariseth is an ornament in the high heauen of þ Lord: so is a vertuous wife the beautie of her house.

17 Like as the cleare light is vpon the holy candlestick: so is the beautie of the face vpon an honest body.

18 Like as the golden pillars are vpõ the sockets of siluer: so are the faire feete vpõ a woman that hath a constant minde.

19 Perpetuall are the foundations that be layde vpõ a whole stonie rocke: so are the commandements of God vpon the heart of an holy woman.

20 There bee two things that grieue my heart, and in the thirde is displeasure come vpon me: When an expert man of warre suffereth scarcenesse and pouertie, when men of vnderstanding & wisedome are not set by, and when one departeth from righteousnes vnto sinne: whose doeth such, the Lord hath prepared him vnto the sword.

21 There be two maner of things which me thinke to bee hard and perilous: A marchant can not lightly keepe him frõ wrong, neither a tauerner himselfe from sinne.

The xxvii. Chapter.

1 Of the poore that would be rich. 5 The probation of the man that feareth God. 20 The wicked imagineth euill, which returneth vpon himselfe.

1 BEcause of * pouertie haue many one offended: and hee that seeketh to bee riche, turneth his eyes aside. 2. Tim. 6. 9. pro. 23. 4.

2 Like as a naple in the wall sticketh fast betwixt two stones, euen so doeth sinne sticke betwixt the buyer and the seller.

3 If he hold him not diligẽtly in the feare of the Lord, his house shall soone be ouerthrowen.

4 Like as when one sifteth, the filthinesse remaineth in the sine: so remaineth there some vncleane thing in þ thought of mã.

5 The ouen proueth the potters vessell: so doeth temptatiõ of trouble trye righteous men.

6 * The tree of the fielde is knowẽ by his fruite: so is the thought of mans heart knowen by his wordes. Pro. 27. 22.

7 Praise no man, except thou haue heard him, for a man is knowẽ by his wordes.

8 If thou followest righteousnesse, thou shalt get her, and put her vpon thee as a faire garmẽt: and thou shalt dwel with her, and she shal defend thee for euer, and in the day of knowledge thou shalt finde stedfastnesse.

9 The birdes resort vnto their like: so doeth the trueth turne vnto them that be occupied with all.

10 The lion wapteth the pray: so doeth sinne vpon them that worke vnrighteousnesse.

11 The talking of him that feareth God is nothing but wisedome: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vndiscreete, keepe thy words to a conuenient time: but among such as be wise, speake on hardly.

13 The talking of fooles is abomination, and their sport is voluptuousnesse, and misnurture. Eccl. 23. 9.

14 * Much swearing maketh the heare to stand vp: and to strine with such, stoppeth the eares.

15 The strife of the proude is bloodshedding, bing, and their blaſphemīg is beanie to beare.

16 Whoſo * diſcouereth ſecrets, leeſeth his credence, and findeth no friend after his will.

17 Loue thy friend, and binde thy ſelfe in faithfulneſſe with him: but if thou bewrap his ſecretes, thou ſhalt not get him againe.

18 For like as the man is that deſtroyeth his enemie: ſo is he alſo that dealeth falſly in the friendſhip of his neighbour.

19 Like as one that letteth a bird goe out of his hand, cannot take her againe: euen ſo thou, if thou giue ouer thy friend, thou canſt not get him againe.

20 Yea, thou canſt not come by him: for he is too farre off: hee is vnto thee as a Roe eſcaped out of the ſnare, for his ſoule is wounded.

21 As for woundes they may be bounde vp againe, and an euill word may be reconciled: but whoſo bewrayeth the ſecretes of a friend, there is no more hope to be had vnto him.

22 He that * winketh with the eyes, imagineth ſome euill: and he that knoweth him, will let him alone.

23 When thou art preſent, he ſhall highly commend and prayſe thy wordes: but at the laſt, he ſhal turne his tale, and ſlaunder thy ſaying.

24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing ſo euill: for the Lorde himſelfe alſo abhorreth ſuch a one.

25 Whoſo caſteth a ſtone on high, it ſhall fall vpon his owne head: & he that ſmiteth with guile, woundeth himſelfe.

26 * Who ſo diggeth a pit, ſhall fall therein, & he that layeth a ſtone in his neighbours way, ſhal ſtumble therein, and he that layeth a ſnare for another, ſhalbe taken in it himſelfe.

27 Who ſo vttereth a wicked noyſome counſell, it ſhall come vpon himſelfe, and hee ſhall not know from whence.

28 The proude blaſphemie, & are ſcornefull: but vengeance lurketh for them as a Lion.

29 They that reioyce at the fal of the righteous, ſhalbe taken in the ſnare: anguiſh of heart ſhall conſume thē before they die.

30 Anger and rigorouſneſſe are two abominable things, and the vngodly hath them both vpon him.

The xxviii. Chapter.

1 We ought not to deſire vengeance, but to forgiue the offence. 13 Of the vices of the tongue, and of the danger thereof.

1 HE that ſeeketh * vengeance, ſhal find vengeance of the Lorde, which ſhall ſurely kepe his ſinnes.

2 Forgiue thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done thee, and ſo ſhall thy ſinnes be forgiuen thee alſo when thou prayeſt.

3 * A man that beareth hatred againſt another, how dare he deſire forgiuenneſſe of God?

4 Hee that ſheweth no mercie to a man which is like himſelfe, how dare he aſke forgiuenneſſe of his ſinnes?

5 If hee that is but fleſh, beareth hatred, and kepeth it, who will entreate for his ſinnes?

6 Remember the end, & let enmitie paſſe, which ſeeketh death and deſtruction, and abide thou in the commandements.

7 Remember the commandements, ſo ſhalt thou not bee rigorous ouer thy neighbour: thinke vpon the couenant of the higheſt, and forgiue thy neighbours ignorance.

8 * Beware of ſtrife, and thou ſhalt make thy ſinnes fewer.

9 For an angrie man kindleth variance: and the vngodly diſquieteth friendes, and putteth diſcord among them that be at peace.

10 The * more wood there is, the more vehement is the fire, and the mightier that men be, the greater is the wrath: according to his riches, his anger encreaſeth, and the longer the ſtrife endureth, the more it burneth.

11 An haſtie brawling kindleth a fire, and an haſtie ſtrife ſheadeth blood: a tongue alſo that beareth falſe witneſſe, bringeth death.

12 If thou blow the ſparke, it ſhall burne, if thou ſpit vpon it, it ſhall go forth, and both theſe come out of the mouth.

13 * The ſlanderer and double tongued is curſed: for many one that bee friendes, ſetteth he at variance.

14 The ‖third tongue hath diſquieted many one, and driuen them from one lande to another: ſtrong cities of the rich hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houſes of great men: the ſtrength of the people it hath brought downe, and bene the decay of mightie nations.

15 The thirde tongue hath caſt out many an honeſt woman, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who ſo heareth eth vnto ſuch, ſhal neuer find reſt, and neuer dwell ſafely.

17 The ſtroke of the rod maketh prints in the ſkin: but the ſtroke of the tongue ſmiteth the bones in ſunder.

18 There bee many that haue periſhed with the ſword: but many mo through the tongue.

19 Well is him that is kept from an euill tongue, and commeth not in the anger thereof, which draweth not the yoke of ſuch, and is not bounde in the bands of it.

20 For the yoke therof is of yron, and the band of it of ‖ ſteele.

21 The death thereof is a very euill death: hel were better for one, the ſuch a tongue.

22 But the fire of it may not oppreſſe them that feare God, and the flame thereof may not burne them.

23 Such as forſake the Lorde, ſhall fall therein, and it ſhall burne them, and no man ſhalbe able to quench it: it ſhall fall vpon them as a Lion, and deuoure them as a Leopard.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 How wee ought to lend our money, and doe almes.
15 Of a faithfull man answering for his friend.
22 Of liberalitie and hospitalitie.

1 WHoso will shewe mercie, let him lend vnto his neighbour: and he that is able, let him keepe the commandements.
2 Lend vnto thy neighbour in time of his neede, and pay thou thy neighbour againe in due season.
3 Keepe thy worde, and deale faithfully with him: and thou shalt alway find the thing that is necessarie for thee.
4 There hath bene many, that when a thing was lent them, reckned it to bee found, and made them trauaile and labour that had holped them.
5 While they receiue any thing, they kisse the hands of such as giue them, and for their neighbors good they humble their voice: but when they should pay againe, they keepe it backe, and giue euill words, and make many excuses by reason of the time.
6 And though he be able, yet giueth hee scarse the halfe againe, and reckneth the other to be found: and if he withholde not his money, yet hath he an enemie of him, and that vndeserued: he payeth him with cursing and rebuke, and giueth him euill wordes for his good deede.
7 There be many one which are not glad for to lende, not because of euill, but they feare to lose the thing that they lend.
8 Yet haue thou patience with þ simple, and withhold not mercie from him.
9 Helpe the poore for the commandements sake, and let him not goe emptie from thee, because of his necessitie.
10 Lose thy money for thy brother and neighbours sake, and burp it not vnder a stone where it rusteth and corrupteth.
11 Gather thy treasure after the commandement of the highest, and so shal it bring thee more profite then golde.
12 *Lay vp thine almes in the ‖ hande of the poore, and it shall keepe thee from all euill.
13 *A mans almes is as a purse with him, and shall keepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and afterwarde shall it arise, and pay euery man his rewarde vpon his head.
14 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shield of a Giant, or speare of the mightie.
15 A good honest man is a suretie for his neighbour: but a wicked person letteth him come to shame.
16 Forget not the friendship of thy surety: for he hath giuen his soule for thee.
17 The vngodly despiseth the good deede of his suretie.
18 a The wicked will not become suretie, and the vnthankefull and ignorant leaueth his suretie in danger.
19 Some man promiseth for his neighbour: and when he hath lost his honestie, he shall forsake him.
20 Suretiship hath destroyed many a rich man, and remoued them as the waues in the sea, mightie people hath it driuen awap, and caused them to wander in strange countreys.
21 An vngodly man transgressing the commandement of the Lord, shall fall into an euill suretiship: and though hee force himselfe to get out, yet shall hee fall into iudgement.
22 Helpe thy neighbor out after thy power, and beware that thou thy selfe fal not in such debt.
23 *The chiefe thing that keepeth thy life, is water, and bread, clothing, and lodging, to couer thy shame.
24 Better is it to haue a poore liuing in a mans owne house, then delicate fare among the strange.
25 Be it little or much that thou hast, hold thee content withall: and thou shalt not be blamed as a bagabound.
26 For a miserable life is it to goe from house to house, and where a man is a fremde, he dare not open his mouth.
27 Though one be lodged, and haue meat and drink, yet he shalbe taken as vnworthie, & heare many bitter rough wordes, namely thus,
28 Goe thy way thou stranger, and prepare a table for thy selfe, and feed me also of that thou hast.
29 Giue place thou stranger to an honourable man, my brother commeth into my house: and so telleth him the necessitie of his house.
30 These things are heauie to a man that hath vnderstanding, namely, the forbidding of the house, and that the lender casteth him in the teeth.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Of the correction of children. 14 Of the commoditie of health. 17 Death is better then a sorrowfull life.

1 WHoso *loueth his childe, holdeth him still vnder correction, that he may haue ioy of him afterward, and that hee grope not after his neighbours doores.
2 He that *teacheth his sonne, shall haue ioy in him, and needs not to be ashamed of him among his acquaintance.
3 Whoso enfourmeth and teacheth his sonne, grieueth the enemie: and before his friends he may haue ioy of him.
4 Though his father die, yet is hee as though he were not dead: for hee hath left one behind him that is like him.
5 In his life he saw him, and had ioy in him, and was not sorie in his death, neither was he ashamed before þ enemies.

a As he is a foole that is suretie for euery man: so is he vngodly that will be suretie for no man.

7 For the life of children hee shall bynde the woundes together, and his heart is grieued at euery crye.
8 An vntamed horse will be hard, and a wanton childe will be wilfull.
9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, he shall make thee afrayde: and if thou play with him, he shall bring thee to heauinesse.
10 Laugh not with him, least thou weepe with him also, and least thou gnash with thy teeth at the last.
Eccl.7.25. 11 * Giue him no libertie in his youth, & excuse not his follye.
12 Bowe downe his necke while hee is yong, smite him vpon the sides while he is but a childe: least hee waxe stubborne, and giue no more eares of thee, & so shalt thou haue heauinesse of soule.
13 Teache thy childe, & be diligent therein, least it be to thy shame.
14 Better is the poore being whole and strong, then a man to be rich, and not to haue his health.
15 Health and welfare is aboue al golde, & a whole body aboue all treasure.
16 There is no riches aboue a sound body, and no ioy aboue ye ioy of the heart.
17 Death is better then a bitter life, and eternall rest better then continuall sickenesse.
1 Like as meate that is set vpon the graues of dead men, is vnprofitable, for that they eate it not: euen so, knowledge in him that openeth not his mouth to vtter it, is vnprofitable, Eccl.41. wisedome that is hid, &c.
18 * The good things that are put in a close mouth, are like as when meate is layde vpon the graue.
19 What good doeth the offering vnto an idole? for he can neither eate, taste, nor smell: euen so is hee that is chased of the Lord, & beareth the reward of iniquitie.
20 He seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a geelded man that lieth with a virgin, and sigheth.
21 Giue not ouer thy minde into heauines, and vexe not thy selfe in thine owne counsell.
22 The ioy and chearefulnes of the heart is the life of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolonging of his dayes.
23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine heart, as for sorowe and heauines, driue it farre from thee: for heauinesse hath slaine many a man, & bringeth no profite.
24 Zeale and anger shorten the dayes of the life, carefulnesse and sorowe bring age before the time.
25 Vnto a merry heart euery thing hath a good taste that he eateth.

The xxxi. Chapter.

1 We ought to giue diligent heede to honestie. 2 Of them that take paine to gather riches.

1 THe anxiuile & carefulnesse for riches, taketh away the sleepe, and maketh the flesh to consume.
2 When one lieth and taketh care, he waketh euer vp, like as a great sickenes breaketh the sleepe.
3 The riche hath great labour in gathering his riches together, and then with the pleasure of his riches he taketh his rest, and is refreshed.
4 But whoso laboureth, and prospereth not, he is poore: and though he leaue off, yet is he a begger.
5 He that loueth riches, shall not be iustified: and who so followeth corruption, shall haue enough thereof.
Eccl.8.3. 6 * Many one are come in great misfortune by the reason of gold, & haue found their destruction before them.

Luke 6.24. 8 * Blessed is the riche which is founde without blemish, & hath not gone after gold, nor hoped in money & treasures.
9 Where is there such a one, and we shal commend him, and call him blessed? for wonderfull things doeth he among his people.
10 Whoso is tryed and founde perfect in such things, shall bee commended and praysed: who might offende, and hath not offended? who coulde doe euill, and hath not done it?
11 Therefore shall his good be stablished, and the whole cõgregation shall declare his almes.
12 If thou sit at a great mans table, open not thy mouth wide vpõ it, and say not, There is much meate on it.

21 If thou feelest that thou hast eaten too much, arise, goe thy way, cast it off thy stomacke, and take thy rest, and it shall ease thee, so that thou shalt bring no sicknesse vnto thy body.

Pro.22.9. 23 * Whoso is liberall in dealing out his meate, many mē shal bleste him, & prayse him with their lips, & the same is a sure token of his loue and faithfulnesse.

Iudith 13.2. 25 * Shewe not thy valiantnesse in wine, for wine hath destroyed many a man.

Psal.104.15, pro.31.4. 27 Wine * soberly dronken, quickeneth þ life of man: if thou drinkest it measurably, thou shalt be temperate: what is the life of him that is ouercome with wine? what taketh away the life? euen death.
28 Wine was made from the beginning to make men glad, and not for drunkennesse: wine measurably dronken, is a reioycing of the soule and body: a measurable drinking, is health to soule & body.

Eccl 3.3. 4 Speake not where there is no * audience: and powre not forth wisedome out of time at an inopportunitie.
5 Like as the Carbuncle stone shineth that is set in golde, so doeth a song garnish the wine feast.
6 And as the Smaragde that is set in golde: so is the sweetnesse of musike by the mirth of wine.

8 Thou yong man speake that becommeth thee, and that is profitable: and yet scarse when thou art twise asked.
9 Comprehend much with few wordes, in many things be as one þ is ignorant: giue eare, and hold thy tongue withall.
10 If thou be among men of high authoritie, desire not to compare thy selfe vnto them: and whē an elder speaketh, make not thou many words therein.
11 Before the thunder goeth lightning: and before murture and shamefastnesse goeth loue and fauour.

13 And there take thy pastime, & do what thou wilt: so that thou doe no euill, and defile no man.
14 But for all things * giue thankes vnto him that hath made thee, & replenished thee with his goodnesse.

16 He that seeketh the lawe, shall be filled withall: as for him that is but fayned, he will be offended thereat.
17 They that feare the Lord, shal finde the iudgemēt: and their righteousnesse shall be kindled as light.
18 An vngodly mā will not be refourmed, but can helpe himselfe with the example of others in his purpose.
19 A man of vnderstanding despiseth no good counsell: but a wilde and proude body hath no feare, yea, euen when hee hath dealt rashly with another man: but his owne doings shalbe his rebuke.
20 Vp soone, do nothing without aduisement: so shall it not repent thee after the deede.
21 Go not in the way where thou mayest fall, nor where thou mayest stumble against þ stone: againe, neither trust thou to the way that is plaine.

23 In all thy woorkes put thy trust in God, from thy whole heart: for that is the keeping of the commandements.

24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him goe idle, he shall seeke libertie.
25 The yoke and the whippe bow downe the hard necke: but tame thou thy euil seruant with bondes and correction.
26 Sende him to labour, that he goe not idle: for idlenesse bringeth much euill.
27 Set him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him, and becommeth him well.
28 If he be not obedient, binde his feete: but doe not too much vnto him in any wise, and without discretion do nothing
29 * If thou haue a faithful seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: entreate him as a brother, for in blood hast thou gotten him: if thou haue a seruant, holde him as thy selfe, for thou hast nede of him, as of thy selfe.
30 If thou entreatest him euill, & keepest him hard, and makest him to be proude, and to runne away from thee, thou canst not tell what way thou shalt seeke him.

1 Of dreames, diuinations, and enchantments. 6 We ought to confute vayne hope, and lying. 13 The prayse of them that feare God.

1 VAnwise people beguile themselues with vaine and deceitful hope, ‖ and fooles trust in dreames.
2 Whoso regardeth dreames, is like him that wil take holde of a shadowe, and followe after the winde.
3 Euen so is it with the appearings of dreames: before the face is the likenesse of a face.
4 Who can be cleansed of the vnleane? or what trueth can be spoken of a lyar?
5 Soothsaying, witchcraft, sorcerie, and dreaming, is but vayne: like as when a woman trauaileth with childe, and hath many fantasies in her heart.
6 Whereas such visions come not of God, set not thine heart vpon them.
7 For dreames haue deceyued many a man, and they failed that put their trust therein.
8 The lawe shalbe fulfilled without lyes, and wisedome is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tryed?
9 A wise man that is well instruct, vnderstandeth much: and hee that hath good experience, can talke of wisedome.
10 He that hath no experience, knoweth litle, and he that erreth, causeth much wickednes: he that is not tryed, what things knoweth he? he that hath bene deceyued, is full of subtiltie.
11 When I was yet in errour, I learned much also: yea, I was so learned, that I could not expresse it all,
12 And came oft in perill of death therefore, til I was deliuered from it through the grace of God.
13 Now I see that they which feare God haue the right spirit, for their hope standeth in him that can helpe them: and the eyes of the Lord are on them þ loue him.
14 Whoso feareth the Lorde, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afrayde: for the Lorde is his hope and comfort.
15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lord: in whome putteth he his trust? who is his strength?
16 For the eyes of the Lorde haue respect vnto them that loue him, hee is their mightie protection and strong ground, a defence for the heate, a refuge for the hot noone day, a succour for stumbling, and an helpe for falling.

21 Whoso bringeth an offring out of the goods of þ poore: doeth euen as one that killeth the sonne before his fathers eyes.

22 The bread of the needefull is the life of the poore: he that defraudeth him therof, is a man of blood.

23 Whoso robbeth his neighbour of his liuing, doeth as great sinne as though he slue him to death: he that defraudeth the labourer of his hyre, is a blood shedder.

24 When one buyldeth and another pleaseth downe, what profite haue they then but labour?

a When one rich man hauing gotten his goods by robberie, extortion, briberie, or by craft and subtiltie, vsurie, or symonie, or withholding seruants or labourers wages, and of that will offer a gift vnto God, that he may heare his prayer: on the other part, the poore which is oppressed or defrauded, prayeth to God to see and iudge his cause, whose prayer thinke you will God most chiefly heare?

25 a When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voyce will the Lorde heare?

26 He that washeth himselfe because of a dead body, and then toucheth the dead againe, what doeth his washing?

27 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, and doth them againe: who will heare his prayer, or what doeth his fasting helpe him?

9 *In all thy giftes shewe a chearefull countenance, and halow thy tythes vnto God with gladnesse. 2.Cor.9.7.

10 *Giue vnto God accordyng as he hath enriched and prospered thee: and looke what thine hand is able, giue with a chearefull eye. Tob.4.6.

11 For the Lord recompenseth and giueth thee seuen times as much againe. Leuit.22.21. deut.15.20.

12 *Giue no vnrighteous gifts, for such will hee not receyue: beware of wrong offerings, for the Lorde is a righteous Iudge, and *regardeth no mans person. Deut.10.17.

13 He accepteth not the person of the poore: but he heareth þ prayer of the oppressed.

14 He despiseth not the desire of the fatherlesse, nor the widdowe when she powreth out her prayer before him.

15 Doth not God see the teares that runne downe þ cheekes of the widowe? or heareth her not the complaint ouer such as make her to weepe? For frō her cheekes doe the teares goe vp vnto heauen, and the Lorde which heareth them, doeth accept them.

16 Whoso serueth God after his pleasure, shal be accepted: and his prayer reacheth vnto the cloudes.

17 The prayer of him that humbleth himselfe, goeth thorow the cloudes: till shee come nigh she will not be comforted, nor go her way till the highest God haue respect vnto her, giue true sentence, and performe the iudgement.

18 And the Lord will not be slacke in comming, nor tarry long, till he haue smitten in sunder the backes of the vnmercifull, and auenged himselfe of the heathen, till he haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the scepter of þ vnrighteous, till he giue euery man after his workes, and reward them after their doings, till he haue deliuered his people, maintened their cause, and reioyced them in his mercie.

19 O howe fayre a thing is mercie in the time of anguish and trouble? it is like a cloude of rayne that commeth in the time of drought.

The xxxvi. Chapter.

1 A prayer to God in the person of all faithfull men. 22 The prayse of a good woman.

1 HAue mercie vpon vs, O Lorde, thou God of al things, haue respect vnto vs: shewe vs the light of thy mercies,

2 And send thy feare among the heathen and strangers which seeke not after thee, that they may knowe that there is no God but thou, & that they may shew thy wonderous workes.

3 *Lift vp thine hande ouer the outlandish heathen, that they may learne to knowe thy might and power. Iere.10.25.

4 Like as thou art halowed in vs before them: so bring to passe that thou mayest be magnified also in them before vs,

5 That they may knowe thee, like as we knowe thee: for there is none other God but onely thou, O Lord.

6 Renewe the tokens, & change the wonderous workes: shewe thine hande and thy right arme glorious.

7 Rayse vp thine indignation, and powre out thy wrath: take away the aduersarie, and smite the enemie.

8 Make the time short, remember the couenāt, that thy wonderous workes may be prayed.

9 Let the wrath of the fire consume them that that liue so carelesse: and let them perish that doe thy people hurt.

10 Smite in sunder the heade of the Princes that bee our enemies, and say, There is none other but we.
11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together againe, that they may knowe howe that there is none other God but only thou, that they may shewe thy wonderous workes: and bee thou thy peoples heritage, like as from the beginning.
12 O Lorde haue mercie vpon the people Ecclus.36. that hath thy name, and vpon* Israel whome thou hast likened to a first borne sonne.
13 O be mercifull vnto Hierusalem the citie of thy sanctuarie, the citie of thy rest.
14 Fill Sion with thine vnspeakable vertues, and thy people with thy glory.
15 Giue witnesse vnto thy creature whom thou madest from the beginning, & raise vp the prophecies that haue bene shewed in thy name.
16 Rewarde them that waite for thee, þ thy Prophets may be found faithfull.
Num.6.23. 17 *O Lord, heare the prayer of thy seruãts, according to the blessing of Aaron ouer thy people, and guyde thou vs in þ way of righteousnes: þ all they which dwell vpon the earth may know that thou art thy Lord the eternal God, which is from euerlasting.
18 The belly deuoureth all meates: yet is one meate better then another.
19 Like as the tongue tasteth venison: so doeth an heart of vnderstanding marke false words.
20 A froward heart giueth heauinesse: but a man of experience lifteth him vp againe.
21 The woman receiueth euery man: yet is one daughter better then another.
22 A fayre wife reioyceth her husbande: and a man loueth nothing better.
23 If there be in her tongue gentlenesse, meekenesse, and wholesome talke: then is not her husbande like other men.
24 Hee that hath gotten a vertuous woman, hath a goodly possession: she is vnto him a help, & pillar wheron he resteth.
25 Where no hedge is, there the goods are spoyled: and where no huswife is, there the friendlesse mourneth.
26 Like as there is no credence giuen to a robber that goeth from one citie to another: so is not the man beleeued that hath no nest, and must turne in where he may abide in the night.

The xxxvii. Chapter.

1 How a man should know friends and counsellers,
12 and searche the companie of an holy man.

1 EVery friend saith, I will be friendly vnto him also: but there is some friende, which is onely a friende in name.
2 Remaineth not there heauinesse vnto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemie?
3 O most wicked presumption, from whence art thou spring vp to couer the earth with falsehood and deceite?
4 * There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyceth with his friend: but in the time of trouble hee taketh part against him. Eccl.6.10.
5 ‖There is some companion that mourneth with his friende for the bellies sake: but when trouble commeth, hee taketh hold of the shielde. ‖Or, There is some companion that helpeth his friend for the bellies sake, and taketh vp the buckler against the enemie.
6 Forget not thy friende in thy minde, & thinke vpon him in thy riches.
7 Seeke no counsel at thy kinsemen, & hide thy counsell from such as beare thee no good will.
8 *Euery counseller praiseth his counsell: Eccl.8.2. and 9.22.
neuertheless, there is some that counselleth but for his owne profite.
9 Beware of the counseller, and be aduised afore whereto thou wilt vse him (for he will counsel for himselfe) lest he cast þ lot vpon thee,
10 And say vnto thee, Thy way and purpose is good: & afterward he stand against thee, and looke what shal become of thee.
11 Aske no counsel at him that suspecteth thee for an enemie, and hyde thy counsel from such as hate thee: aske no counsell for religion of him that is without religion, nor for iustice, of him that hath no iustice: aske no counsell at a woman, touching her of whome she is ielous, nor at a fearefull & faynt hearted body, in matters of warre: or at a marchant, howe deare he wil cheape thy wares towarde his: or at a buyer, of selling: or at an enuious man, of thankesgiuing: or at the vnmerciful, of louing kindenes: or at an vnhonest man, of honestie: or at the slouthfull, of working: or at an hyreling which hath no house, of profite or wealth: or at an idle body, of much labour: take no such folkes to counsel.
12 But be diligent to seeke counsell at a vertuous man that feareth God, such a one as thou knowest to be a keeper of þ commandements, which hath a minde after thine own minde, and is sory for thee when thou stumblest.
13 And hold thy counsel fast in thine heart: for there is no man more faithfull to keepe it, then thou thy selfe.
14 For a mans minde is sometime disposed to tell out more, then seuen watchmen that sit aboue in an high place, looking about them.
15 And aboue all this, pray the highest, that he will leade thy way in faithfulnesse and truth.
16 Before all thy workes, aske counsell first: and or euer thou doest any thing, be well aduised.
17 There be foure things that declare a changed heart, wherout there springeth euill and good, death and life, and a master full tongue that babbleth much.
18 Some man is apt, and well instructed in many things, and yet very vnprofitable vnto himselfe.
19 Some man there is that can giue wise and prudent counsell, and yet is he hated, and continueth a begger, 20 For that grace is not giuen him of God to be accepted.

21 Another is robbed of all wisedome: yet is he wise vnto himselfe, and the fruite of vnderstanding is commendable in his mouth.
22 A wise man maketh his people wise, & the fruites of his wisedome faple not.
23 A wise man shalbe plenteously blessed of God: and all they that see him, shall speake good of him.
24 The life of man standeth in the number of the dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.
25 A wise man shall obteine faithfulnes and credence among his people, and his name shalbe perpetuall.
26 My sonne, proue thy soule in thy sicknesse, and if thou see any euill thing, giue it not vnto her:
1.Cor.6.12. 27 *For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thing.
Eccl.31.22. 28 *Be not greedie in euery eating, and be not too hastie vpon all meates.
29 For excesse of meates bringeth sicknesse, and gluttonie commeth at the last to an vnmeasurable heate.
30 Through surfet haue many one perished: but he that dieteth himselfe temperately, prolongeth his life.

The xxxviii. Chapter.

Aphisicion is commendable. 16 To burie the dead. 24 The wisedome of him that is learned.

1 HOnour the Physicion, honour him with that honour that is due vnto him, because of necessitie, for God hath created him.
2 For of the highest commeth medicine, & he shall receiue giftes of the king.
3 The wisedome of the Physicion bringeth him to great worshippe, and in the sight of the great men of this world hee shalbe honorably taken.
4 The Lord hath created medicine of the earth: and hee that is wise wil not abhorre it.
Exod.15.25. and.5.15. 5 * Was not the bitter water made sweete with a tree, that men might learne to knowe the vertue thereof?
6 The Lorde hath giuen men wisedome & vnderstanding, that he might be honoured in his wonderous workes.
7 With such doeth hee heale men, and taketh away their paynes.
8 Of such doeth the Potheçarie make a confection, yet can no man perfourme al his workes: for of the Lorde commeth prosperous wealth ouer all the earth.
Esa.38.2. 9 *My sonne, despise not this in thy sicknesse: but pray vnto the Lord, and he shal make thée whole.
10 Leaue off from sinne, and order thy handes aright, cleanse thine heart from al wickednes.
11 Giue a sweete sauoured offering, and the fine floure for a token of remembrance: make the offering fatte, as one that giueth the first fruites.
12 And giue rowme to the Physicion, for the Lorde hath created him, let him not goe from thee, for thou hast néede of him.
13 The houre may come, that the sicke may be helped through them, 14 When they pray vnto the Lord, that he may recouer & get health to liue longer.
15 He that sinneth before his maker, shall fall into the handes of the Physicion.
16 My sonne, bring forth thy teares ouer the dead, and begin to mourne, as if thou haddest suffered great harme thy selfe: & then couer his body after a conuenient maner, and despise not his burpall. Eccl.22.10. 1.thes.4.13.
17 Enforce thy selfe to weepe, and prouoke thy selfe to mourne, and make lamentation expedientlp, and be earnest in mourning, and vse lamentation as he is worthie, and that a day or two, lest thou be euil spoken of: and then comfort thy selfe, because of thy heauinesse.
18 *For of heauinesse commeth death, the heauines of the heart breaketh strength. Pro.15.13. and 17.22.
19 Heauinesse and pouertie grieueth the heart in temptation and offence.
20 Take no heauinesse to heart, driue it away, and remember the last things.
21 Forget it not, for there is no turning againe, thou shalt do him no good, but hurt thy selfe.
22 Remember his iudgement, thine also shall be likewise: vnto mee yesterday, vnto thée to day.
23 Let the* remembrãce of the dead ceasse in his rest, and comfort thee againe ouer him, seeing his spirite is departed from him. 2.Sam.12.20 24 The wisedome of the Scribe is at conuenient time of rest: and he that ceaseth from exercises and labour, shalbe wise.
25 Howe can hee get wisedome that holdeth the plough, and hee that hath pleasure in the goade and in driuing of oxen, and is occupyed in their labours, & his talke is but of þ breeding of bullockes?
26 He setteth his heart to make furrowes, and is diligent to giue the kine fodder.
27 So is euery Carpenter also & workemaster that laboureth still night & day: he carueth, graueth, cutteth out, and his desire is in sundrie cunning things, his heart imagineth how he may cunningly cast an image, his diligence also & watching perfourmeth the worke.
28 The yron Smith in like maner sitteth by his stithie, and doeth his diligence to labour the yron: the vapour of the fire burneth his flesh, and he must fight with the heate of the furnace: the noyse of the hammer euer soundeth in his eares, and his eyes looke stil vpon the thing that he maketh: he hath set his minde thereupon, that he will make out his worke, & therefore he watcheth how he may set it out, and bring it to an ende.
29 So doeth the potter sit by his worke: hee turneth the wheele about with his feete, he is diligent and careful in all doings, and maketh his worke in number.
30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth it, his heart

heart imagineth howe hée may make it pleasant, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 All these hope in their hands, and euery one thinketh to be cunning in his worke.

32 Without these may not þ̄ citie be manteyned, inhabited, nor occupied:

33 Yet come they not high in the congregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgement seates: they vnderstand not the couenant of the lawe, they can not declare equitie and iudgement, they can not find out the darke sentences.

34 But through them shall the creature of the world be mainteined, their desire cõcerneth onely the worke and labour of cunning.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 A wise man. 16 The workes of God. 24 Vnto the good, good things doe profite: but vnto the euill, euen good things are euill.

1 HE that applyeth his minde to vnderstand the lawe of God, doth diligently seeke out the wisedome of them of the olde time, and exerciseth him selfe in the Prophets.

2 He keepeth the saying of famous men, and preasseth to the vnderstanding of darke sentences of wisedome.

3 He seeketh out the mysterie of secret sayings, and exerciseth himselfe therein continually.

4 He doeth seruice among great men, and appeareth before the prince, he goeth into a strange countrey, and trauayleth thorowe it: looke what good or euill is among men, hée proueth and seeketh it out.

5 He purposeth in his heart to resort early to þ̄ Lord that made him, and to pray before the highest God: hée openeth his mouth in prayer, and prayeth for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lorde will, he shalbe filled with the spirite of vnderstanding, that he may then powre out wise sentences, and giue thankes vnto the Lorde in his prayer.

7 He shall order his deuise, and leade his knowledge aright, and giue him vnderstanding of secrete things.

8 He shall shewe forth the science of his learning, and reioyce in the couenant of the lawe of the Lord.

9 The whole congregation shall commend his wisedome, and it shall neuer be put out: the remembrance of him shall neuer be forgotten, & his name shall continue from one generation to another.

Eccl 44.14. 10 *His wisedome shall bee spoken of among the people, and the whole congregation shall openly declare his prayse.

11 Whyle he liueth, he hath a greater name then a thousande beside: and after death, the same name remayneth vnto him.

12 Yet will I speake of moe men of vnderstanding, for I am full as the moone.

13 Hearken vnto mée ye holy vertuous children, bring forth fruite as the rose that is planted by the brookes of þ̄ field.

14 And giue ye a sweete smell as incense, flourish as the rose garden, sing a song of prayse, O giue thankes vnto God ouer all his workes.

15 Giue magnificence vnto his name, and set him foorth in his prayse with your lips, and ‖ musike and harmonie: yea, euen with the song of your lippes, with Harpes and playing, and in giuing thanks vnto him, say after this maner:

16 * All the workes of the Lorde are exceeding good, and all his commandements are méete and conuenient in due season. *Gen.*1.31. marke 7.37.

17 A man needeth not to say, What is that? what is that? for at a time conuenient they shall all be sought: at his commandement the water was as a wall, and at the worde of his mouth the water stoode still.

18 In his commandement is euery thing acceptable and recõciled, and his health can not be minished.

19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and there is nothing hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing too wonderfull or high vnto him.

21 A man needeth not to say then, What is this, or that? for he hath made all things to doe good vnto man.

22 His blessing shall runne ouer as the streame, and moysture the earth like a flood of water.

23 Like as he maketh the drouth: so shall his wrath fall vpon the heathen.

24 His wayes are playne and right vnto the iust: but þ̄ vngodly stumble at them.

25 [a] For the good, are good things created from the beginning, and euill things for the vngodly. a The creatures of God are good by creation. But as good men vse them to the glory of God, the profite of others and their owne necessitie: so the vngodly doe not acknowledge them as the good gifts of God, but abuse them either in riot & excesse, or els in miserable keeping of them, take them for their god. 1. *Tim.*4.4.

26 All things necessarie for the life of man, are created from the beginning: water, fire, yron, and salt, meale, wheate, and honie, milke, and wine, oyle and clothing.

27 * All these things are created for the best to the faithfull: but to the vngodly shall all these things bée turned to hurt and harme.

28 There be spirites that are created for vengeance, and in their rigorousnesse haue they fastned their torments: in the time of the ende they shall powre out their strength, and ‖ pacifie the wrath of him that made them. ‖ *Or, accomplish. Eccl.*40.9.

29 * Fire, hayle, hunger, & death: all these things are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wilde noysome beasts, the scorpions, serpents, and the sword, are created also for vengeance, to þ̄ destruction of the vngodly.

31 They shalbe glad to do his commandements, and when needeis, they shalbe ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shal not ouerpasse the commandement of the Lord.

32 Therfore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought to put these things in writing, and to leaue them behinde me:

33 * All the workes of the Lorde are good, *Gen.*1.31.

and hee giueth euery one in due season, and when neede is.

34 So that no man neede to say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all pleasant and good.

35 And therefore praise the Lorde with whole heart and mouth, & giue thankes vnto his name.

The xl. Chapter.

1 Many miseries light in a mans life. 11 All things passe away, but a firme and stable faith remaineth. 14 Of the blessing of the righteous, and prerogatiue of the feare of God.

1 A Great trauaile is created for al men, and an heauy yoke vpon al þ sonnes of Adam, from the day that they go out of their mothers wombe, till they be buryed in the earth the mother of all things.

2 Namely, their thoughtes and imaginations, feare of the heart, counsell, meditations, longing and desiring the day of death:

3 From the highest that sitteth vpon the glorious seate, vnto the lowest and most simple vpon the earth:

4 From him that is gloriously arayed, and weareth a crowne, vnto him that is but homely and simply clothed.

5 There is nothing but wrath, zeale, fearefulnesse, vnquietnesse, and feare of death, rigorousnesse, anger, and strife: and in the night when one should rest and sleepe vpon his bedde, the sleepe changeth his vnderstanding and knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his rest in þ sleepe, as well as in the day of labour: he feareth, and is disquieted in the vision of his heart, as one that runeth out of a battell.

7 And in the time of health hee awaketh, and marueyleth that the feare was nothing.

8 Such things happen vnto al flesh, both man and beast, but seuen folde to the vngodly.

Ecc.39.35. 9 *Moreouer, death, bloodshedding, strife, and sworde, oppression, hunger, destruction, and punishment:

Gen.7.11. 10 These things are all created against the vngodly, * and for their sakes came the flood also.

Gen.3.19. 11 * All that is of the earth, shall turne to the earth againe, and all waters ebbe againe into the sea.

12 All bribes and vnrighteousnesse shall be put away: but faithfulnesse & trueth shall endure for euer.

13 The substance and goods of the vngodly shall be dryed vp, and sinke away as a water flood, [a] and they that make a sound like a great thunder in the rayne.

[a] That is, with great tumult & trouble shall they be dispersed, & scattered abroad like as the roaring thunder.

14 Like as the righteous reioyceth when he openeth his hand: so shall the transgressours be faint, when their goods vanish and consume away.

15 The children of the vngodly shall not obteine many branches:

16 And the vncleane rootes vpon the high rockes, shalbe rooted out before þ grasse by þ water side, & vpon the riuer banks, 17 Friendlinesse and liberalitie in the increase and blessing of God, is like a paradise and garden of pleasure: such mercie also and kindnesse endureth for euer.

18 *To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweete pleasant life: and that is, to finde a treasure of al treasures. 1.Tim.6. phil.4.12, 19 To beget children and to repaire the citie, maketh a perpetuall name: but an honest woman is more worth then they both.

20 Wine and minstrelsie reioyceth the heart: but the loue of wisedome is aboue them both.

21 Piping and harping make a sweete noyse: but a friendly tongue goeth beyond them both.

22 Thine eye desireth fauour and beautie: but a greene seede time, rather then them both.

23 A friende and companion come together at opportunitie: but aboue the both is a wife that agreeth with her husband.

24 Brethren and helpers are profitable in time of trouble: but almes shall deliuer more then they both.

25 Golde and siluer fasten the feete: but a good counsell is more pleasant then they both.

26 Temporall substance and strength lift vp the minde: but the feare of the Lorde more then they both: the feare of þ Lord wanteth nothing, and needeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and nothing so beautifull as it is.

28 My sonne, leade not a beggers life: for better it were to dye then to begge.

29 The life of him that looketh vpon: another mans table, is not to be counted for a life, for he vereth his soule in other mens meate: but a wise & well nurtured man will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweete in the mouth of the vnshamefast: but in his belly there burneth a fire.

The xli. Chapter.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the lawe of God.

1 O Death, [a] how bytter is the remembrance of thee to a man that seeketh rest and comfort in his substance and riches, vnto the man that hath nothing to vexe him, and that hath prosperitie in all things, yea, vnto him that yet is able to receyue meate?

2 O death, howe acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, and vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is nowe in his last age, and that in all things is full of care and fearefulnesse, vnto him also that is in despaire, and hath no hope nor patience?

3 Be not thou afraide of death, remember them that haue bene before thee, and that come after thee: this is the iudgement of the Lorde ouer all flesh.

4 And why wouldest thou be against this pleasure of the highest? Whether it bee

[a] Temporall death is bitter to foure sortes of men: one, to infidels that looke for no life after this: second, to them that set their pleasure in their riches, frō whence they nowe must needs depart: third, to them that neuer tasteth of the crosse: fourth, to them that be strong and lusty in body, for that they strongly struggle with death: but sweet vnto the contrary.

5 The children of the vngodly are abominable children, and so are they that keepe compaune with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shall come to nought, and their posterite shal haue a perpetual shame and confusion.

7 The children complayne of an vngodly father: and why? foz his sake they are rebuked and despised.

8 Woe be vnto you, O ye vngodly, which haue forsaken the law of ꝑ highest God: foz though ye doe encrase, yet shall you perish.

9 If ye do line, ye shalbe accursed: if yee die, the curse shalbe your portion.

Ecc.40.11. 10 *All ꝑ is of the earth, shal turne to earth againe: so go the vngodly also out of the curse vnto destruction.

11 Though men mourne foz their body: yet the *name of the vngodly shalbe put out, foz it is nothing worth.

Pro.22.1. 12 Labour to get thee a good name: foz that shal continue surer by thee then a thousande great treasures of golde.

13 A good life hath a number of dayes: but a good name endureth euer.

14 My children, keepe wisedome in peace: foz wisedome that is hid, and a treasure that is not seene, what profite is in them both?

15 A man ꝑ hideth his foolishnes, is better then a man that hideth his wisedome.

16 Therefore be ye turned at my wordes: foz it is not good in al things and allway to be ashamed: b true faith must proue & measure it.

b True faith doth all things in season and opportunitie, when and howe euery one ought to be ordered. For strong meate and hard bread norisheth some, and strangleth other: some one herbe healeth some mans disease, and increaseth some againe.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed of leasing before the prince and men of authozitie:

18 Of sinne, before the iudge and ruler: of offence, before the congregation and people: of vnrighteousnesse, before a companion and friend:

19 Of theft, before thy neyghbours: as foz the trueth of God and his couenant, bee not ashamed thereof: c be ashamed to lye with thine elbowes vpon the breade, oz to be repzoued foz giuing oz taking:

20 And of silence, vnto them that saiute thee: be ashamed to looke vpon harlots:

21 Bee ashamed to turne away thy face from thy kinseman: be ashamed ‖ to take and not to giue:

22 Bee ashamed also to looke vpon another mans wife, and to make many tryfling wordes with her mayden, oz to stand by her bed side:

23 Be ashamed to vpbzayde thy friende: when thou giuest any thing, cast him not in the teeth withal:

24 Oz to repoꝛt the matter that thou hast heard, oz to disclose the secret woordes: so shalt thou wel be thamefast; and shalt finde fauour with al men.

c Being bidden to another mans table, presume not to the highest place, be not so homely that thou ly with thine elbowes vpon the table ouer thy bread, for that is vnmanerly, Lu.14.

5 To deale truely with temporall goods in buying and selling, to bring vp children with diligence, to correct an euill seruant:

6 To keepe that thine is from an euil wife, to set a locke where many handes are:

7 What thou delinerest and giuest out to be kept, to tell it, and wepgh it: to write vp all thy outgining and receyning:

8 To enfourme the vnlearned and vnwise, of the aged that are iudged of the young: if thou be diligent in these things, truely thou shalt be learned and wise, and accepted of all men.

9 The daughter maketh the father to watche secretly, and the carefulnesse that hee hath foz her taketh away his sleepe, yea, in her youth, lest shee should ouergrowe him, and when shee hath an husband, lest she should be hated:

10 Lest she should bee defiled oz ramished in her virginitie, oz gotten with childe in her fathers house: oz when shee commeth to the man, lest she behaue her selfe not right, oz continue vnfruitefull.

11 *If thy daughter be wanton, keepe her straitely, lest shee cause thine enemies to laugh thee to scorne, and the whole citie to giue thee an euil report: and so thou be fayne to heare thy shame of euery mã, and be confounded before all the people. *Ecc.26.13.

12 *Beholde not euery bodies beautie, & haue not much dwelling among wome. *Ecc.25.28.

13 For like as the worme and moth commeth out of clothing: so *doeth wickednesse come of women. *Gen.3.6.

14 It is better to be with an euill man, then with a friendly wife that putteth one to shame and rebuke.

15 I will remember ꝑ words of the Lord, & declare ꝑ thing that I haue seene: In the words of the Lord are his workes.

16 The Sunne ouerlooketh all things with his shine, ‖ and all his workes are ful of the clearenesse thereof. ‖Or, and all the worke thereof is full of the glorie of the Lord.

17 Hath not the Lord brought to passe, ꝑ his saintes should tell out all his wonderous workes which the almightie Lord hath stablished? All things endure in his glory.

18 He seeketh out the ground of the deepe, and the heart of man, and he knoweth al their imaginations and wisedome: for the Lorde knoweth all science, and hee looketh vnto the token of the time.

19 He declareth the things that are past, & for to come, and discloseth things that are secret.
20 No thought may escape him, neyther may any worde be hid from him.
21 Hee hath garnished the high excellent works of his wisedome, and hee is from everlasting to everlasting: vnto him may nothing be added, neither can hee be diminished, hee hath no neede also of any mans counsel.
22 O how amiable are al his workes, & as a sparke to looke vpon?
23 They line all and endure for ever: and whensoever neede is, they are all obedient vnto him.
24 They are al double one against another: he hath made nothing that hath fault or blemish.
25 He hath stablished the goods of every one: and who may be satisfied with his glorie when he seeth it?

The xliii. Chapter.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God.

1 THe glory of the height, is the faire & cleare firmament, the beautie of the heauen is his glorious clearenesse.
2 The Sunne when it appeareth, declareth the day in the going out of it, a marueilous worke of the highest.
3 At noone it burneth the earth, and who may abide for the heate thereof?
4 Who so keepeth an Ouen when it is hotte, three times more doeth the Sunne burne vpon the mountaines: when it breatheth out the fierie beames and shineth, with the brightnesse of it, it blindeth the eyes.
5 Great is the Lord that made it, & in his cõmandemẽt he causeth it to run hastily.
Gen.1.16. 6 *The Moone also in al things according to her season, is a declaration of the time, and a signe for the worlde.
Exod.12.2. 7 *The token of the solemne feast is taken of the moone, a light that minisheth & increaseth againe.
8 The moneth is called after the Moone, it groweth wonderously in her chaging.
9 The armie of heauen also is in the height: in the firmament of heauen it giueth a cleare and a glorious shine: this is the clearenesse of the starres, the beautifull apparell of heauen, the apparell that the Lorde lighteneth in the height.
10 In his holy worke they continue in their order, and not one of them faileth in his watch.
Gen.9.14. 11 *Looke vpon the Rainebowe, and praise him that made it: very beautifull is it in his shine.
12 He compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, the *hands of the highest haue bended it.
Esai.40.12. 13 Through his commandement he maketh the snow to fall, and the thunder of his iudgement to smite hastily.
14 Through his commandement the treasurs are opened, and the cloudes flee as the fowles.
15 In his power hath he strengthened the cloudes, and broken the hailestones.
16 The mountaines ‖ leape at the sight of him, the winde bloweth according to his will. ‖ Or, moue.
17 The sound of his thunder beateth the earth, and so doeth the storme of the North: the whirle winde also lighteth downe as a feathered fowle, casteth out, and spreadeth the snowe abroad, and as the Grashoppers that destroy all, so falleth it downe.
18 The eye marueileth at the beautie of the whitenesse thereof, and the heart is astraide at the raine of it:
19 He powreth out the frost vpon earth like salt, and when it is frozen, it is as sharpe as the pricke of a thistle.
20 When the colde North winde bloweth, hard Crystal commeth of the water: he lighteth downe vpon all the gatherings together of water, and putteth on the water as a breastplate.
21 He deuoureth the mountaines, and burneth the wildernesses: & looke what is greene, he putteth it out like fire.
22 The medicine of all these is, when a cloude commeth hastily, and when a deawe commeth vpon the heate, it shall be refreshed againe.
23 In his worde he stilleth the winde, in his counsaile he appeaseth the deepe, and hath planted Ilandes in it.
24 They that saile ouer the sea, tell of the perils and harmes thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we marueile thereat.
25 For there be strãge wõderous workes, diuers maners of nice beastes, & Whale fishes.
26 Through him are al things set in good order and performed, and in his worde al things endure.
27 I speake much, but I cannot sufficiently attaine vnto it: for he himselfe only is the perfection of all workes.
28 We should praise the Lord after al our power, for he is great in all his workes.
29 The Lorde is to be *feared, yea, very great is he, & marueilous is his power. Psal.96.4.
30 Praise the Lorde, and magnifie him as much as ye may, yet doeth he farre exceede all praise: O magnifie him with all your power and labour earnestly, yet are yee in no wise able sufficiently to praise him.
31 *Who hath seene him, that he might tell vs? Who can magnifie him so greatly as he is? Psal.106.2.
32 For there are hid yet greater things then these be: as for vs, we haue seene but fewe of his workes.
33 For the Lorde hath made all things, & giuen wisedome to such as feare God.

The xliii. Chapter.

1 The praise of certaine holy men, 16 Enoch, 17 Noah, 18 Abraham.

1 LEt vs commend the noble famous men, and the generation of our forefelders and fathers.

2 Many a As who should say, no man: for where Dauid sayth, Psal.17. I shall be satisfied when thy glory appeareth: he speaketh of that glory which he desireth to obteine, which he yet wanting is not satisfied: but when he hath obteined it, he hath the thing he doth desire, and yet is not weary of it, but delitech in that ioy which neuer shall be ended, as 1.Pet.1.

2 Many moze glozious actes hath the Lozd done in them, and shewed his great power euer since the beginning.

Exod.18.20. 3 *The noble famous men reigned in their kingdomes, and bare excellent rule in their wisedome and vnderstanding, they followed the counsell shewed in the prophecies:

4 They led the folke thzough the counsell and wisedome of the scribes of the people, wise sentences are found in their instructions:

5 They sought the swéetenesse and melodie of musike, and bzought foozth the pleasant songs in scripture:

6 They were rich also, and could comfozt and pacifie those that dwelt with them.

7 All these were very noble and honourable men in their generations, and were well repozted of in their times.

8 These haue left a name behind them, so that their pzaise shal alwap be spoken of.

Gen.7,22. 9 Afterward there were some whose *remembzãce is gone, they came to nought and perished, as though they had neuer bene, and became as though they had neuer bene bozne, pea, and their children also with them.

10 Neuertheless, these are louing men, whose righteousnesse shal neuer bee fozgotten, but continue bp their posteritie.

11 Their childzē are an holp good heritage: their sēde endured fast in the couenant.

12 Foz their sakes shall their children and sēde continue foz euer, and their pzaise shall neuer be put downe.

13 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth foz euermoze.

Eccl.39.14. 14 *The people can speake of their wisedome, and the congregation can talke of their pzaise.

Gen.5.24. 15 *Henoch walked right and acceptably before the Lozd, therefoze was he translated foz an example of amendment to the generations.

Gen.6.9. and 7,6. 16 *Noe was a stedfast and righteous man, and in the time of wzath he became a reconciling: therefoze was hee left a remnant vnto the earth when the flood came.

Gen.9.11. 17 *An euerlasting couenant was made with him, that all flesh should perish no moze with the water.

Gen.17.4. 18 *Abzaham was a great father of manp people, in glozie was there none like vnto him.

19 He kept the law of the highest, & came into a couenant with him.

20 He set the couenant in his flesh, & when he was pzoued, he was found faithfull.

Gen,22.16. 21 *Therefoze swoze God vnto him with an othe, that he would blesse all people in his sēde, that he would multiply and increase him as the dust of the earth, and to exalt his sēde as the starres: pea, and that his sēde should haue the possession and inheritance of the land, from sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the bozders of the world.

22 With Isaac did he stablish the same couenāt, foz Abzaham his fathers sake: Pea, that gracious blessing and health of all men, and couenant did he stablish with Isaac, and made it rest vpon the head of Jacob.

23 aHe knew him in that he pzospered him so well and richly, and gaue him an heritage, and sundzed his pozcion bp it selfe, and parted among the twelue tribes.

24 Mercifull men bzought hee out of him, which found fauour in the sight of all flesh.

a He did alow him, & made him worthy and meete for such blessings of riches & increase or else he made be knowen by this blessing Laban his vncle so often changing his wages, yet he bare a fauour did God prosper him that it did well appeare to him as to Ioseph and Dan. &c.

The xlv. Chapter.

1 The prayse of Moses, 6 Aaron, and Phinehes.

1 MOses *beloued of God & men, whose remembzance is in bigh pzaise: Exod.11.3. actes 3.22.

2 Him that the Lozde made like in the glozie of the saintes, and magnified him, so that the enemies stoode in awe of him.

3 Thzough his wozds he did great wonders: he made him glozious in the sight of kings, gaue him commandement befoze his people, and shewed him glozious power.

4 *He stablished him with faithfulnes & meeknesse, and chose him out of all men. Num.12.3.

5 Foz hee heard his boyce, and he ledde him in the darke cloude, and there hee *gaue him the commandements, pea, the lawe of life and wisedome: that hee might teach Jacob the couenant, & Israel his lawes. Exod.19.7.

6 *He chose Aaron his bzother also out of the tribe of Leui, exalted him, & made him such like. Exod.4.14.

7 An euerlasting couenant made he with him, and gaue him the pzesthood in the people: he made him glozious in beautiful arap, and clothed him with the garment of honour.

8 He put perfect iop vpon him, & girded him with strength, hee decket him with side clothes and a tunicle, with an ouerbodie coate also, and a girdle,

9 *Round about made he him belles of gold, and that manp: that when he went in, the sound might be heard, that they might make a noyse in the sanctuarie, and give the people warning. Exod.28.29.

10 The holy garment was wzought and bozdered with gold, pelow silke and purple: and in the bzeastlap there was a goodly wozke, wherein was fastened light and perfectnesse.

11 Vpon the same also there was a wozke fastened and set with costly precious stones, all bound with gold, and this he bzought in his ministration: the stones were fastened foz a remembzance, after the number of the twelue tribes of Israel.

12 Vpon his miter there was a plate of pure golde, a grauen image of holinesse, a famous and noble wozke, garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Befoze him were there seene no such faire ornaments, & these it behoued him allway to vse: there might none other put put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Daply performed he his burnt offerings two times.

15 *Moses filled a his handes, and anointed him with holy oyle: this was nowe confirmed him with an everlasting covenant, and to his seede as the dayes of heauen, namely, that his children should allway minister before him, and performe the office of the priesthood, and with the people good in his name.

16 Before all men liuing chose hee him, that hee should offer incense before the Lorde, and make odours for a swete sauour and remembrance, that he should reconcile the people of the Lorde with him againe.

17 * Hee gaue him authoritie also in his commandements, and in the couenant, that he should teach Jacob the statutes and testimonies, and enformed Israel in the lawe.

18 *Therefore there stode vp certaine against him, and had enuie at him in the wildernesse: namely, they that were of Dathan and Abirams side, and the furious congregation of Chore.

19 This the Lorde sawe, and it displeased him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: a great wonder did he vpon them, and consumed them with the fire.

20 Besides this, hee made *Aaron yet more honourable and glorious, he gaue him an heritage, and parted the first frutes vnto him: vnto him specially hee appointed the bread of sustenance.

21 For the priests did eate of the offerings of the Lord: this gaue he vnto him and his seede.

22 * Els had hee no heritage nor portion in the land and with the people: for the Lorde himselfe is his portion and inheritance.

23 The thirde noble and excellent man is *Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar, which pleased the God of Israel, because he had the zeale and feare of the Lord: for when the people were turned backe, hee put himselfe forth right sonne, and that with a good will, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord toward Israel.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that hee shoulde be the principall among the righteous in the people, that he and his posteritie should haue the office of the priesthode for euer.

25 Like as there was made a covenant with Dauid of the tribe of Juda, that from among his sonnes onely there should be a king, & that Aaron also and his seed should be an heritage, to giue vs wisdome in our heart, to iudge his people in righteousnes, þ his goods should not come into forgetfulnes, & that their honour might endure for euer.

The xlvi. Chapter.

1 The prayse of Iosue, 9 Caleb, 13 Samuel.

1 MAnly and strong in battaile was Jesus the sonne of Naue, and was the *successour of Moses in prophecies, and was giuen to be captaine of the people, which according vnto his name was a great sauiour vnto the elect of God, to punish the enemies that rose vp against Israel, that Israel might obteine their inheritance. *Ios.*12.7. *num.*27.18. *deut.*34.9. *ios.*1.2.

2 *O how great, noble, & excellent was he, when he lift vp his hand, and dzewe out his swoꝛd against the cities. *Ios.*8.3.

3 Who stode so manly before him? for the Lord himselfe brought þ enemies.

4 * Stode not the sunne still at his commandement, and one day was as long as two? *Ios.*10.12.

5 Hee called vpon the highest and most mightie, when the enemies preassed vpō him on euery side, and the mightie Lorde heard him with the hailestones.

6 They smote þ heathenish people mightily, and in falling downe they slue all the aduersaries: so that the Heathen knewe his hoste, and all his defence, that the Lorde himselfe fought against them: for he followed vpon the mightie men of them.

7 In the *time of Moses also, he and Caleb the sonne of Jephune did a good worke, which stood against the enemies, withheld the people from sinne, and stilled the wicked murmuring. *Num.*14.6.

8 * And of sixe hundred thousand people of foot, they two were preserued to bring them into the heritage, namely, a lande that floweth with milke and hony. *Num.*26.65.

9 The Lord *gaue strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his age: so that hee went vp into the high places of the land, and his seede conquered the same for an heritage: *Ios.*14.11.

10 That all the children of Israel might see how good a thing it is to be obedient vnto the Lord.

11 And the iudges or rulers, euery one after his name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lorde, and that forsoke not the Lord vnfaithfully, whose remembrance hath a good report:

12 Yea, their bones flozish out of their place, and their names shall neuer bee changed: but honour remaineth still with the children of those holy men.

13 Samuel the Prophet, * beloued of the Lord his God, ordeined a king, & anoynted the princes ouer the people. 1. *Sam.*10.1.

14 In the law of the Lord ruled he, & iudged the congregation, and the Lord had respect vnto Jacob.

15 The Prophet was found diligent in his faithfulnesse: yea, and hee is knowen faithfull in his wordes, because he sawe the God of light.

16 *He called vpon the Lorde almightie, when the enemies preassed vpon him on euery side, what time as hee offered the sucking lambe. 1. *Sam.*7.10.

17 And the Lord thundered from heauen, and and made his voyce to bee heard with a great noyse.

18 He discomfited the princes of Tyre, & all the rulers of the Philistines.

1.Sam.12.7. 19 *Before his last ende, hee made protestation in the sight of the Lorde and his anointed, that he tooke neither substance nor good of any man, no not so much as a shoe: and no man might accuse him.

20 After this he tolde that his ende was at hande, and shewed the king also his ende and death, and from the earth lift he vp his voice in the prophecie, that the vngodly people should perish.

The xlvii. Chapter.

1 The praise of Nathan, 2 Dauid, 12 and Solomon.

1 AFterward in the time of king Dauid, there* rose vp a Prophet called Nathan. 2.Reg.12.2.

2 For like as the fat is taken away from the offering: so was Dauid chosen out of the children of Israel.

3 Hee played with the Lions as with kids, and with Beares, like as with lambes of sheepe.

4 *Slewe he not a Giant when hee was yet but young, and tooke away the rebuke from his people, what time as hee tooke the stone in his hande, and smote downe proude Goliath with the sling? 1.Sam.17.34.

5 For he called vpon the highest Lorde, which gaue him strength in his right hande, so that he ouerthrewe the mightie Giant in the battaile, that hee might set vp the horne of his people againe.

6 *So he glorified him in ten thousande, and made him to haue a good report in the prayse of the Lorde, that hee should weare a crowne of glorie. 2.Reg.18.7.

7 * For he destroyed the enemies on euery side, rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their horne in sunder, like as it is broken yet this day. 2.Reg.5.7.

8 In all his workes he praised the highest and holiest, and ascribed the honour vnto him: with his whole heart did hee praise the Lorde, and loued God that made him.

9 He set* singers also before the altar, and in their time he made swéete songs, that they might giue praises euery daye to God with songs. 1.Chro.16.4.

10 Hee ordeined to kéepe the holy dayes worshipfully, & that the solemne feastes through the whole yéere should bee honourably holden with praising þ name of the Lord, and with singing betimes in the morning in the sanctuarie.

11 *The Lord tooke away his sinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: he gaue him the couenant of the kingdome, and the throne of worship in Israel. 2.Sam.12.13.

12 After him there rose vp the wise sonne called Solomon, who by him dwelt in a large possessiō, and for his sake he droue the enemies away farre off.

13 This *Solomon reigned with peace in his time, and hee obteined glorie: for God gaue him rest from his enemies on euery side, that hee might builde him an 1.Reg.4.21.

house in his name, and prepare the sanctuarie for euer.

14 Howe wise wast thou in thy youth, & filled with wisdome and vnderstanding, as it were with a water flood?

15 Thou coueredst and filledst the whole lande with similitudes, and wise vnder sentences.

16 Thy name went abroade in the Iles, because of thy peace, thou wast beloued.

17 All lands marueled at thy songs, prouerbes, similitudes, and at thy interpretations.

18 *And in the name of the Lorde God, which is called the God of Israel, thou gatheredst gold as tinne, and thou hadst as much siluer, as leade. 1.Reg.10.27.

19 *Thou wast moued in inordinate loue toward women, and wast ouercome in affection. 1.Reg.11.1.

20 Thou stainedst thy honour & worship, yea, thy posteritie defiledst thou also, in bringing the wrath of the Lord vpō thy children, & hast felt sorowe for thy follie.

21 So that thy kingdome was deuided, *and Ephraim became an vnfaithfull and a rebellious kingdome. 1.Reg.12.17.

22 *Neuertheless, God forsooke not his mercie: neither was he vtterly destroied, because of his workes, þ he should leaue him no posteritie: as for the séede that came vpon him, which hee loued, hee brought it not vtterly to nought, but gaue yet a remnant vnto Jacob, and a roote vnto Dauid out of him. 2.Sam.7.15.

23 Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and out of his séede he left behinde him a very foolishnesse of the people, and such one as had no vnderstanding: euen *Roboam, which turned away the people through his counsaile, & Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, *which caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of vngodlinesse. 1.Reg.12.10. 1.Reg.11.28.

24 In so much that their sinnes and misdéedes had the vpper hande so sore, that at the last they were driuen out of the land for the same.

25 Yea, he sought out and brought vp all wickednesse, till the vengeance came vpon them.

The xlviii. Chapter.

The praise of Elias, Eliseus, Ezechias, and Esaias.

1 THen stode vp *Elias the Prophet as a fire, and his worde burnt like a cresset. 3.Reg.17.3.

2 He brought an hunger vpon them, and in his zeale he made them fewe in number: for they might not away with the commandements of the Lord.

3 *Through the word of the Lord he shut the heauen, and thrée times brought hee the fire downe. 3.Reg.18.38.

4 O Elias, howe honourable art thou in thy wonderous déedes? who may make his boast to be like thée?

5 *One that was dead thou raisedst vp from death, and in the woorde of the highest thou broughtest him out of the graue againe. 3.Reg.17.22.

6 Thou

6 Thou hast cast downe kings, and destroyed them, and the honourable from their seate.

3.Reg.19.15. 7 Upon the mount * Sina thou heardest the iudgement, & vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance:

3.Reg.19.17. 8 * Which diddest anoynt kings to recompense, and ordeinedst Prophets after thee.

4.Reg.2.11. 9 * Thou wast taken vp in the stoime of fire, in a charret of fierie horses.

10 Thou wast ordeined in þ reprouings in time, to pacifie the wrath of the Lorde before it raged, to turne the hearts of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vp the tribes of Jacob againe.

11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, and were garnished in loue, for wee line in life: but after death wee shall haue no such name.

4.Reg.2.11. 12 * Elias was couered in the stoime, but Elizeus was filled with his spirit: while he liued, he was afraide of no prince, & no man might ouercome him.

4.Reg.13.21. 13 * There could no worde deceiue him, & after his death his body prophecied.

4.Reg.5.14. 14 Hee did wonders in his * life, and in death were his workes marueilous.

15 For all this the people amended not, neither departed they from their sinnes, till they were carried away prisoners out of the land, * and were scattered abroade in all countreis, so that of them

4.Reg.18.11. there remained but a verp litle people, & a prince vnto the house of Dauid.

16 Howbeit, some of them did right, and some heaped vp vngodlinesse.

4.Reg.18.2. 17 * Ezechias made his citie strong, conueped water into it, digged thorowe the stonie rocke with yron, and made vp a wall bp the water side.

4.Reg.18.13. 18 In his time came * Senacherib vp, & sent Rabsakes, lift vp his hande against Sion, and defied them with great pride.

19 Then trembled their heartes & hands, so that they sorrowed like a woman trauailing with childe.

20 So they called vpon the Lord which is mercifull, and lift vp their handes before him, immediatlp the Lorde heard them out of heauen.

21 He thought no more vpō their sinnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enemies: but deliuered thē bp the hand of Esaias.

4.Reg.19.28. 22 * He smote the hoste of the Assyrians, and his angel destroped them.

23 For Ezechias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and remained stedfastlp in þ waq of Dauid his father, as Esaias the great and faithfull Prophet in the sight of God had commanded him.

4.Reg.20.10. 24 * In his time the Sunne went backward, and he lengthened the kings life.

Esai.38.1. 25 * With a right spirite prophecied hee what should come to passe at the last: & to such as were sorrowfull in Sion, hee gaue consolation, wherwith they might comfort themselues for euermore.

26 He shewed things þ were for to come and secrete, or euer they came to passe.

The xlix. Chapter.

Of Iosias, Ezechias, Dauid, Ieremie, Ezechiel, Zorobabel. Iesus, Nehemias, Enoch, and Joseph.

4.Reg.22.1, 2.chro.34.3. THe remembrance of * Josias, is like as when the Apothecarie maketh many precious sweete smelling things together: his remembrance shall be sweete as honp in all mouthes, and as the playing of musike at a banquet of wine.

2 He was appointed to turne the people againe, and to take awap all abominations of the vngodlp.

3 He directed his heart vnto the Lorde, & in the time of the vngodlp hee set vp the worship of God againe.

4 All kings, except [a] Dauid, Ezechias, & Josias, committed wickednesse: for euen the kings of Juda also forsoke the lawe of God.

5 For they gaue their honne vnto other, their honour & worthip also to a strange people.

6 Therefore was the elect citie of þ sanctuarie burnt with fire, and the streetes thereof layde desolate and waste in the [b] hand of Jeremie.

7 For they entreated him euill, which neuertheleste was a Prophet, ordeined from his mothers wōbe, that hee might roote out, breake off, and destroy: and that he might builde vp, & plant againe.

8 Ezechiel sawe the glopy of the Lorde in a vision, which was shewed him vpon the charet of the Cherubims.

9 For he thought vpon the enemies in the raine, to doe good vnto such as had ordered their wapes aright.

10 And the bones of the twelue Prophets flourished from out of their place, for they gaue comfort and consolation vnto Jacob, and deliuered them faithfullp.

*Agge.2.24. 1.esa.3.2. 11 * Howe shall wee prapse Zorobabel, which was as a ring on the right hand.

Zach.3.1. 12 So was * Jesus also the sonne of Josedec: these men in their times builded the house, and set vp the sanctuarie of the Lord againe, which was prepared for euerlasting worship.

*Nehem.7.1. 13 And amōg the elect was * Nehemias, whose renowme was great, which set vp for vs the walles that were broken downe, made the portes and barres againe, and builded our houses anewe.

Gen.5.24. 14 But vpon the earth there is no man created like * Enoch: for hee was taken vp from the earth.

15 Neither was there a like man vnto Joseph, which was lord of his brethren, and the vpholder of his people: [c] his bones were couered and kept.

16 Seth and Sem were in great honour among the people, and so was Adam aboue all the beastes when hee was created.

a These also were sinners, but eyther they were not idolaters, which here is chiefly counted sinne: or els they did repent, so that their sinnes were couered, for þ they were enemies to idolatrie.

b That is, according to the prophecie of Ieremie: for the hand in scripture is taken for any mans office and function.

c For that he prophecied of the deliuerance of Israel from Egypt into Chanaan, and also of the resurrection to be made by Christ.

The l. Chapter.

Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to praise the Lord.

1 Simon

2. Mac. 3. 4.

1 Simon the ſonne of * Onias the high Prieſt, which in his life ſet vp the houſe again, and in his dayes made faſt the temple.
2 The height of the temple alſo was foũ-ded of him, the double building, and the high walles of the temple.
3 In his dayes ꝑ welles of water flowed out, and were exceeding full as the ſea.
4 He tooke care for his people, and deliue-red them from deſtruction: he kept his citie, and made it ſtrong, that it ſhoulde not be beſieged.
5 Howe honourable was his converſa-tion among the people, and when hee came out of the houſe couered with the vaile?
6 He gaue light as the morning ſtarre in the middeſt of the cloudes, and as the moone when it is full:
7 He ſhined as the ſunne in the temple of God, he is as bright as the raine bowe in the faire cloudes,
8 And flouriſheth as the flowres and Roſes in the ſpring of the yeere, and as Lilies by the riuers of water, like as the branches vpon the mount Libanus in the time of ſommer:
9 As a fire and incenſe that is kindled, like as an whole ornament of pure golde ſet with all maner of pretious ſtones, 10 And as an Oliue tree that is fruitfull, and as a Cypreſſe tree which groweth by on high.
11 When he put on the garment of honor, and was clothed with all beautie, when he went to the holy altar, hee made the garment of holineſſe honourable.
12 When he tooke the portions out of the prieſts hande, he himſelfe ſtoode by the hearth of the altar, and his brethren round about in order, as the branches of Cedar tree vpon the mount Libanus, ſo ſtoode they round about him:
13 And as the branches of the Oliue tree, ſo ſtoode all the ſonnes of Aaron in their glorie, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Iſrael.
14 And that hee might ſufficiently per-forme his ſeruice vpon the altar, & gar-niſh the offering of the higheſt God, 15 He ſtretched out his hande, and tooke of the drinke offering, and powred in of the wine: ſo hee powred vpon the bot-tome of the altar a good ſmell vnto the higheſt prince.
16 Then beganne the ſonnes of Aaron to ſing, and to blow with trumpets, and to make a great noyſe, for a remembrance and prayſe vnto the Lord.
17 Then all the people together were ha-ſted, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces, to worſhip the Lorde their God, and to giue thankes to the almigh-tie God.
18 They ſung goodly alſo with their voices, ſo that there was a pleaſant noiſe in the great houſe of the Lord.
19 And the people in their prayer beſought the Lord the higheſt, that he woulde bee mercifull, till the honour of the Lorde were perfourmed, and they had ended their miniſtration and ſeruice.
20 Then went hee downe, and ſtretched out his handes ouer the whole multitude of the people of Iſrael, that they ſhoulde giue prayſe and thankes out of their lippes vnto the Lord, and to reioice in his name.
21 He began yet once alſo to pray, that he might openly ſhewe the thankeſgiuing before the higheſt,
22 Namely thus, O giue prayſe & thankes all ye vnto the Lord our God, which hath euer done noble and great things, which hath increaſed our dayes from our mothers wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercie:
23 That he will giue vs the ioyfulneſſe of heart, and peace for our time in Iſrael:
24 Which faithfully kéepeth his mercie for vs euermore, and alway deliuereth vs in due ſeaſon.
25 There be two maner of people that I abhorre from my heart, as for the third whom I hate, it is no people:
26 They that ſit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philiſtines, and the foliſh people that dwell in Sichimis.
27 I Ieſus the ſonne of Sirach, Eleazarus of Ieruſalem, haue tokened by theſe informations and documents of wiſe-dome and vnderſtanding in this booke, and powred out the wiſedome of my heart.
28 Bleſſed is hee that exerciſeth himſelfe therein: and whoſo taketh ſuch to heart, ſhall be wiſe for euer.
29 If he doe theſe things, he ſhalbe ſtrong in all: for the light of the Lorde leadeth him, which giueth wiſedome to the godly: the Lord be prayſed for euermore, ſo be it, ſo be it.

The li. Chapter.

The prayer of Ieſus the ſonne of Sirach.

1 I Will thanke thee, O Lorde & king, and praiſe thee, O God my ſauiour: I will yeeld prayſe vnto thy name.
2 For thou art my defender and helper, and haſt preſerued my body from de-ſtruction, from the ſnares of traiterous tongues, and from the lips that are occupied with lyes.
3 Thou haſt bene my helper from ſuch as ſtoode vp againſt me, and haſt deliuered me after the multitude of thy mercy, and for thy holy names ſake, from the roaring of them that prepared themſelues to deuoure me, out of the handes of ſuch as ſought after my life, from the multitude of them that trouble me.
4 And from them that went about to ſet fire vpon me on euery ſide, ſo that I am not burnt in the middeſt of the fire:
5 From the deepe of hell, from an vncleane tongue, from lying wordes, from falſe accuſation to the king, and from an vnrighteous tongue.
6 My ſoule ſhall prayſe the Lorde vnto death:

death: for my life drewe nigh vnto hell downeward.
7 They compassed mee round about on euery side, and there was no man to helpe mee: I looked about mee if there were any man that would succour mee: but there was none.
8 Then thought I vpon thy mercie, O Lord, and vpon thy actes that thou hast done euer of olde: namely, that thou deliuerest such as put their trust in thee, and riddest them out of the handes of the heathen.
9 Thus lift I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.
a Wisedome is obteyned by one of these three meanes: first, by prayer, as Solomon did and Iacob: secondly, by diligent reading of Gods booke, wherein wisedome is conteined, psal. 19. Sap. 6. Thirdly, by godly conuersation and continuing in the feare of God, Pro. 2. Iohn 7. If any man wil doe my will, he shall knowe my doctrine.
10 I called vpon the Lord the father of my Lord, that he would not leaue me without helpe in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proude.
11 I will praise thy name continually, yeelding honour and thankes vnto it: and so my prayer was heard.
12 Thou sauedst me from destruction, and deliueredst mee from the vnrighteous time: therefore will I acknowledge and prayse thee, and magnifie the name of the Lord.
13 When I was yet but yong, or euer I went astray, I desired a wisedome openly in my prayer.
14 I came therefore before the temple, and sought her vnto the last: the flourished she vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe.
15 My heart reioiced in her, then went my foote the right way: yea, from my youth vp sought I after her.
16 I bowed downe mine eare, & receiued her: I found me much wisedome, and prospered greatly in her.
17 Therefore will I ascribe the glory vnto him that giueth me wisedome.
18 For I am aduised to doe thereafter, I will bee iealous to cleaue vnto the thing that is good, so shal I not be confounded.
19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue bene diligent to be occupied in her: I lift vp my handes on high, then was my sonle lightened through wisedome, and I knowledged my foolishnesse.
20 I ordered my soule after her, she and I were one heart from the beginning, and I found her in cleannesse, and therefore shall I not be forsaken.
21 My heart longed after her, and I gate a good treasure.
22 Through her the Lorde hath giuen mee a newe tongue, wherewith I will praise him.
23 * O come vnto mee ye vnlearned, and dwell in the house of wisedome. Esai. 55.2.
24 Withdrawe not your selues from her, but talke and commune of these things: for your soules are very thirstie.
25 I opened my mouth & spake, O come and buy wisedome without money.
26 Bowe downe your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shall receiue wisedome: she is hard at hand, and is content to be found.
27 * Beholde with your eyes, howe that I haue had but little labour, and yet haue found much rest. Eccl. 6, 20.
28 O receiue wisedome, and ye shall haue plenteousnesse of siluer and golde in possession.
29 Let your minde reioyce in his mercie, and be not ashamed of his prayse.
30 Worke his worke betimes, and he shal giue you your reward in due season.

The ende of the booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the Prophet Baruch.

The first Chapter.

a Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Iechonias and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Hierusalem to their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

a Baruch was secretary to Ieremie the Prophet, of whom in Ieremie is often made mention.
1 AND these are the wordes of the booke, which were a writte by Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedechias, the sonne of Helchias, at Babylon,
2 In the fifth yeere, & in the seuenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldees tooke Hierusalē. & burnt it vp with fire.
3 And Baruch did reade the wordes of this booke, that Iechonias the sonne of Ioachim king of Iuda might heare, and in the presence of all the people that were come to heare the booke,
4 And before all the nobles, the kings sonnes, and before the elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest, before all them that dwelt at Babylon, by the water of ‖ Sodi:
5 Which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lord. ‖ Or, Sud.
6 They made a collection also of money, according to euery mans power:
7 And sent it to Hierusalem vnto Ioachim the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Salom priest, with the other priests, and to all the people which were with him at Hierusalem,
8 (What time as they had gotten the vessels of the temple of the Lorde that were taken away out of the temple, that they might bring them againe into the lande of Iuda the tenth day of the moneth b Siuan, ‖ Or, ornaments.

b Siuan conteineth part of May, and part of June, it is the thirde moneth after the reckoning of the Iewes.

c By this example we are taught to pray for Kinges and princes, as 1.Tim.2.

Ier.3.6.

Dan.9.5.

Deut.28.15.

b Siuan, namely siluer vessels, which Sedechias the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda had made,)

9 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had taken Iechonias, with all his princes, lordes, and all the people, & led them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon:

10 And they sayd, Beholde, we haue sent you money to buy you burnt offerings and mense withall, prepare a meate offering, and offer for sinne vpon the altar of the Lorde our God:

11 And c pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the welfare of Balthasar his sonne, that their dayes may bee vpon earth as the dayes of heauen:

12 That God also may giue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, that wee may liue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the protectiõ of Balthasar his sonne, that we may long doe them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lorde our God: for we haue sinned against þ Lord our God, and vnto this daye is not his wrath turned yet away from vs.

14 And see ye reade this booke, which we haue sent vnto you, to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lorde vpon the high dayes, and at time conuement.

15 Thus shal ye say, * The Lord our God is righteous, but we are worthie of confusion and shame, like as it is come to passe this day vnto all Iuda, & to euery one that dwelleth at Hierusalem, 16 To our kings, princes, priestes, prophets, and to our fathers.

17 * We haue sinned before the Lorde our God, we haue not put our trust in him, nor giuen him credence.

18 We haue not obeyed him, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in the commandements that he gaue vs openly.

19 Since the daye that hee brought our forefathers out of the lande of Egypt, vnto this present day, we haue bene euer a misbeleeuing and an vnsaythfull people vnto the Lorde our God, destroying our selues vtterly, and shrinking backe, that wee shoulde not heare his voyce.

20 Wherefore, there are come vpon vs great plagues, and diuers curses, like as the Lorde * denused by Moses his seruãt, which brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to giue vs a lande that floweth with milke and hony, like as it is to see this day.

21 Neuertheless, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, according to all the wordes of the Prophets, whome hee sent vnto vs and to our rulers.

22 But euery man followed his owne minde and wicked imagination, to offer vnto strange goddes, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord our God.

The ii. Chapter.

1 The Iewes confesse that they iustly suffer for their sinnes. 21 The Lord will that we obey vnto princes, although they be euill.

1 FOr the which cause the Lorde our God hath performed his denice, whereof hee certified vs, and our heads that ruled in Hierusalem, yea, and our kings, our princes, with all Israel and Iuda:

2 And such plagues hath the Lorde brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, like as it is fulfilled in Hierusalē, * according as it is written in the law of Moses, Deut.28.53.

3 That a man should eate the flesh of his owne sonne, and the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, he hath deliuered them into the hands of all the kings that are rounde about vs, to be cõfounded and desolate, and scattered them abroade in all landes and nations.

5 Thus are we brought beneath, & not aboue, because wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not bene obedient vnto his voyce.

6 Therefore * the Lord our God is righteous, and we with our fathers as reason is are brought to open shame, as it is to sée this day. Dan.9.15.

7 And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs alreadp, the Lorde had deuised them for vs.

8 Yet would we not pray vnto the Lord our God, that we might euery mã turne from his vngodly wayes.

9 So the Lorde hath caused such plagues to come vpon vs: for hee is righteous in all his workes which hee hath commanded vs:

10 Which wee also haue not done, nor hearkened vnto his voyce, for to walke in the commandementes of the Lorde, that he hath giuen vnto vs.

11 And * nowe, O Lorde God of Israel, thou that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mightie hand, with tokens and wonders, with thy great power and outstretched arme, and hast gotte thy selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day: Dan.9.15.

12 O Lorde our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly, wee haue behaued our selues vngodly in all thy righteousnesse.

13 Turne thy wrath from vs we beseeche thee, for we are but a few left among the heathen where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lorde, and our petitions, bring vs out of captiuitie for thine owne sake, get vs fauour in the sight of them which haue led vs away:

15 That all lands may knowe þ thou art the Lord our God, & that Israel and his generation calleth vpon thy name.

16 O Lorde, * looke downe from thy holy house vpon vs, encline thine eare, and heare vs, Deut.26.15. esai.63.15.

17 * Open

Pſal.113.17. 17 *Open thine eyes and beholde, for the dead that be gone down to their graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, ascribe vnto the Lorde neither prayse nor righteousnesse.

18 But the soule that is vexed for the multitude of her sinnes, which goeth on heauily and weakely, whose eyes begin to faile, yea, such a soule ascribeth prayse & righteousnes vnto the Lord.

19 For we powre out our prayers before thee, and require mercy in thy sight, O Lord our God, not for any godlines of our fathers:

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, according as thou diddest threaten vs by thy seruants the Prophets, saying, 21 Thus saieth the Lorde, Bowe downe your shoulders and necks, and serue the king of Babylon: so shall yee remaine still in the lande that I gaue vnto your fathers.

Ier.27.17. 22 *But if ye will not heare the voyce of the Lord your God to serue the king of Babylon, 23 I will destroy vpon the cities of Iuda, within Hierusalem and without: I will also take from vpon the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of ioy, the voyce of the bridegroome, and the voyce of the bride, and there shall no man dwell more in the lande.

24 But they would not hearken vnto thy voice, to do the king of Babylon seruice: and therefore hast thou performed the words that thou spakest by thy seruants the Prophets: namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers should be translated out of their places:

25 And loe, now are they layde out in the heate of the sunne, and in the colde of the night, and dead in great miserie, with hunger, with swoorde, with pestilence, and are cleane cast forth.

26 As for the temple wherein thy name was called vpon, thou hast laid it waste, as it is to see this daye, and that for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast intreated vs after all thy goodnesse, and according to all that great louing mercy of thine.

Leuit.28.14. Deut.28.15. 28 *Like as thou spakest by thy seruant Moses, in the day when thou didst commaund him to write thy lawe before the children of Israel, saying, 29 If ye will not hearken vnto my voice, then shall this great multitude bee turned into a very small people among the nations, for I will scatter them abroad.

30 Notwithstanding, I am sure that this folke will not heare me, for it is an harde necked people: but in the lande of their captiuitie they shall remember themselues, 31 And learne to knowe that I am the Lord their God, when I giue them an heart to vnderstand, and eares to heare.

32 Then shall they prayse mee in the lande of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my name.

33 Then shall they turne them from their hard backes, and from their vngodlines: then shall they remember the things that happened vnto their fathers which sinned against me.

34 So will I bring them againe into the land which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers Abraham, Isahac, & Iacob, and they shall be lordes of it, yea, I will encrease them, and not minish them.

35 And I will make another couenant with them, such one as shall endure for euer: namely, that I will bee their God, and they shall be my people: & I will no more driue my people the children of Israel out of the land that I haue giuen them.

The iii. Chapter.

36 Onely God was the finder of wisedome. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

1 AND nowe, O Lorde almighty, thou God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirit that is vexed, crieth vnto thee:

2 Heare vs, O Lord, and haue pitie vpon vs, for thou art a mercifull God: be gracious vnto vs, for we haue sinned before thee.

3 Thou endurest for euer: should we thus vtterly perish?

4 O Lord almighty, thou God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde their God, for the which cause these plagues hang nowe vpon vs.

5 O Lord, remember not the wickednesse of our forefathers, but thinke vpon thy power and name nowe at this time:

6 For thou art the Lorde our God, and thee, O Lord, will we prayse.

7 For thou hast put thy feare in our hearts, to the intent that wee should call vpon thy name, and prayse thee in our captiuitie, and that wee might turne frō the wickednesse of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

8 Beholde, wee are yet this day in our captiuitie, where as thou hast scattered vs, to be an abommation, curse, and subiect to exactions: like as it hath happened vnto our fathers also, because of all their wickednesse and departing from thee, O Lord our God.

9 O Israel, heare the commandements of life, ponder them well with thine eares, that thou mayest learne wisdome.

10 But howe happeneth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land? thou art waxen old in a strange countrey, and defiled with the dead.

11 Why art thou become like them that goe downe to their graues?

12 Euen because thou hast forsaken the well of wisedome.

13 For

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God truely, thou shouldest haue remayned still safe in thine owne land.

14 O learne then where is wisedome, where is vertue, where vnderstanding is: that thou mayest knowe also from whence commeth long continuance and life, the light of the eyes, and quietnesse.

Or, strength.

15 Who euer found out her place? or who came euer into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beastes vpon the earth, 17 They that had their pastime with the foules of the aire, they that hoorded vp siluer & gold wherein men trust so much, and made no end of their gathering?

18 What is become of them that coyned siluer, and were so carefull, and could not bring their workes to passe?

19 They be rooted out, and gone downe to hell, and other men are come vp in their steads.

20 Yong men haue seene light, and dwelt vpon earth: but the way of reformation haue they not knowen, 21 Nor vnderstand the pathes thereof: neither haue their children receiued it, yea, right farre is it from them.

22 It hath not bene heard of in the lande of Chanaan, neither hath it bene seene at Theman.

23 The Agarenes sought after wisedome, but that which is earthly, like as the marchants of the land doe: they of Theman are cunning also, they labour for wisedome and vnderstanding: but the way of true wisedome they knowe not, neither doe they thinke vpon the pathes thereof.

24 O Israel, howe great is the house of God? and howe large is the place of his possession?

25 Great is he, and hath none ende; yea, high and vnmeasurable.

26 What is become of those famous giantes, that were so great of bodies, and so wooxthy men of warre?

27 Those hath not the Lord chosen, neither haue they found the way of reformation:

28 Therefore were they destroyed, and for so much as they had no wisedome, they perished because of their foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen to take wisedome there, and brought her downe from the cloudes?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea to finde her, and hath chosen her aboue gold, and so brought her hither?

31 No man knoweth the waye of wisedome, neither is there any that can seeke out her pathes.

32 But hee that woteth all things, knoweth her, and hath found her out with his foreknowledge, the same is hee which prepared the earth at the beginning, and filled it with all maner of foules and beasts.

33 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when he calleth it againe, it obeyeth him with feare.

34 The starres keepe their watch, and glue their light, yea, and that gladly: When he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with cherefulnesse they shewe light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

36 It is he that hath found out all wisedome, and hath giuen her vnto Jacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward did he shewe himselfe vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The reward of them that keepe the lawe, and the punishment of them that despise it.

1 THis is the booke of the commandements of God, and the law that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it shall come to life, but such as forsake it shall come to death.

2 Turne thee, O Jacob, & take hold of it, walke by this way through his brightnesse and shine.

3 Giue not thine honour to another, and thy woorship to a strange people.

4 O Israel, howe happy are we, seeing that God hath shewed vs such things as are pleasant vnto him?

5 Be of good cheare, thou people of God, O thou ancient Israel.

6 Nowe are ye sold among the heathen, howbeit, not for your vtter destruction: but because ye prouoked God the Lorde to wrath and displeasure, therefore were ye deliuered vnto your enemies.

7 For ye displeased the euerlasting God that made you, offering vnto deuils, and not to God.

8 Ye haue forgotten him that brought you vp, and ye haue grieued Hierusalem that nursed you.

9 When the sawe that the wrath of God was comming vpon you, she said, Hearken, O ye that dwel about Sion, for God hath brought me into great heauinesse.

10 And why? I see the captiuitie of my people, of my sonnes and daughters, which the euerlasting God wil bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them: but now must I leaue them with weeping and sorow.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me widow and forsaken, which for the sinnes of my children am desolate of euery man: for why? they departed from the lawe of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnesse, nor walke in the wayes of his commaundements: and as for the pathes of trueth and godlinesse, they had no lust to go in them.

14 O ye dwellers about Sion, come & let vs call to remembrance the captiuitie that the euerlasting God hath brought vpon my sonnes and my daughters.

15 He hath brought a people vpon them from farre, an vncourteous people, and of a strange language, which neither regard the olde, nor pitie the yong.

16 These haue caried awap the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing mee alone both desolate and childlesse.
17 But alas, what can I helpe you?
18 Now hee that brought these plagues vpon you, deliuer you also frō the hands of your enemies.
19 Goe your wap, O my children, goe your wap: for I am desolate and forsaken.
20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, and for my time I will call vpon the most highest.
21 Be of good cheare, O my children, cry vnto the Lord, and hee shall deliuer you from the power of the princes your enemies.
22 For verily I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous health, yea, a very gladnesse is come vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shall haue of our euerlasting sauiour.
23 With mourning and weeping did I let you goe fro me: but with ioy and perpetuall gladnesse shall the Lorde bring you againe vnto me.
24 Like as the neighbours of Sion sawe your captiuitie from God: euen so shall they also see shortly your health in God, which shall come on you with great honour and euerlasting worship.
25 O my children, suffer patiently ꝑ wrath that shall come vpon you: for the enemy hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread vpon his necke.
26 My darlings haue gone rough hard wayes, for they are led awap as a flocke that is scattered abroad with the enemies.
27 But be of good comfort, O my children, and cry vnto the Lorde: for he that ledde you awap, hath you yet in remembrāce.
28 And like as ye haue beene minded to swarue from your God: so shall ye now endeuour your selues ten times more to turne againe, and to seeke him.
29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, shal bring you euerlasting ioy againe with your health.
30 Take a good heart vnto thée, O Hierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, exhorteth thee so to doe.
31 The wicked doers that nowe put thee to trouble, shall perish: and such as haue reioyced at thy fall, shalbe punished.
32 The cities whome thy children serue, and that haue caried awap thy sonnes, shall be corrected.
33 For like as they be now glad of thy decap, and reioyce at thy fall: so shall they mourne in their owne destruction.
34 The ioy of their multitude shall be taken awap, and their cheare shall be turned to sorowe.
35 For a fire shall fall vpon them from the euerlasting God, long to endure, and it shall bee inhabited of deuils for a great season.
36 O Hierusalem, looke about thée toward the East, and behold the * ioy that commeth vnto thee from God. *Baruc. 5.6.
37 For loe, thy sonnes whom thou hast forsaken, and that were scattred abroad, come gathered together from the East and West, reioycing in the word of the holy one, vnto the honour of God.

The v. Chapter.

1 Hierusalem is mooued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof, the Church.

1 Put off thy mourning clothes, O Hierusalem, and thy sorowe, and decke thée with the worship and honour that commeth vnto thee from God with euerlasting glory.
2 God shal put the garment of righteousnesse vpon thee, and set a crowne of euerlasting worship vpon thy head:
3 For vpon thee will God declare his brightnesse, that is vnder the heauen.
4 Yea, an euerlasting name shalbe giuen thée of GOD, with peace of righteousnesse, and the honour of Gods feare.
5 Arise, O Hierusalem, stand vp on high, looke about thée toward the East, and behold thy children gathered from the East vnto the West, which reioyce in the holy word, hauing God in remembrāce.
6 They departed from thee on foote, and were led awap of their enemies: but now * shall the Lord bring them caried with honour, as children of the kingdome. *Baruc. 4.36
7 For God is purposed to bring downe all stonie mountaines, yea, and all high rockes, to fill the valleys, and so to make them euen with the ground, that Israel may bée diligent to liue vnto the honour of God.
8 The woods and all pleasant trees shall ouershadowe Israel at the commandement of God.
9 For hither shall God bring Israel with ioyfull mirth, and in the light of his maiestie, with the mercy and righteousnesse that commeth of himselfe.

The vi. Chapter.

A copie of the epistle that Jeremie sent vnto the Iewes, which were led awap prisoners by the king of Babylon: wherein he certifieth them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

1 Because of the sinnes that yée haue done against GOD, ye shalbe led awap captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, In this chapter are the makers and maintainers of images mightily confuted.
2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shall remaine there many yéeres, and for a long season, namely, a seuen generations: and after that will I bring you awap peaceably from thence. a That, is seuen tie yeeres.
3 * Now shall ye see in Babylon gods of gold, of siluer, of wood, & of stone, borne vpō mens shoulders, to cast out a feare fulnesse before the heathen. *Esai. 44.10.
4 But looke that ye doe not as the other: be not ye afraid, and let not the feare of them ouercome you.
5 Therefore when ye see the multitude of people people worshipping them behinde and before, say pe in your hearts, O Lord, it is thou that oughtest onely to be worshipped.

6 Mine angel also shall be with you, and I my selfe will care for your soules.

or, rough. 7 As for the timber of those gods, the carpenter hath polished them: yea, gilted be they, and laide over with siluer, yet are they but vaine things, and cannot speake.

8 Like as a wench that loueth paramours is trimly decked: euen so are these made, and hanged with gold.

9 Crownes of golde verily haue their gods vpon their heads: so the priests themselues take gold and siluer from thē, and put it to their owne vses:

10 Yea, they giue of the same vnto harlots, and trim their whores withall: againe they take it from the whores, and decke their gods therewith:

11 Yet cannot these gods deliuer themselues from rust and mothes.

12 When they haue couered them with clothing of purple, they wipe their faces for the dust of the temple, whereof there is much among them.

13 One hath a scepter in his hande as though hee were iudge of the countrey, yet can he not slay such as offend him.

14 Another hath a sword or an axe in his hande: for all that hee is neither able to defend himselfe from battel, nor from murderers.

15 By this ye may vnderstand that they be no gods: therefore see that ye neither worshippe them, nor feare them.

16 For like as a vessel that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broken, euen so is it with their gods: when they bee set vp in the temple, their eyes be full of dust through the feete of those that come in.

17 And like as the doores are shut in round about vpon him that hath offended the king, or as it were a dead body kept beside the graue: euen so the priests keepe the doores with barres and lockes, least their gods bee spoiled wᵗ robbers.

18 They set vp candles before them, yea verily and that many, whereof they can not see one: but euen as blockes so stand they in the temple.

19 It is said, that the serpents & wormes which come of the earth, gnawe out their heartes, eating them and their clothes also, and yet they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke, through the smoke that is in the temple.

21 The owles, swalowes, and birdes flie vpon them, yea, and the cattes runne ouer their heads.

22 By this yee may be sure that they are no gods, therefore feare them not.

23 The golde that they haue, is to make them beautiful: for al that, except some body dight off their rust, they wil giue no shine, and when they were cast into a fourme, they felt it not.

24 *They are bought for money, and haue no breath of life within them. Esai.46.7.

25 They must bee borne vpon mens shoulders as those that haue no feete, whereby they declare vnto men that they bee nothing worth: confounded be they then that worship them.

26 For if they fall to the grounde, they cannot rise vp againe of theselues: Yea, though one helpe them vp, and set them right, yet are they not able to stand aloye, but must haue props set vnder the like dead men.

27 As for the thing that is offered vnto them, their priests sell it, and abuse it, yea, the priests wiues take thereof: but vnto the sicke and poore they giue nothing of it.

28 The woman with childe, and ‖ menstruous lay hands of their offrings: By this yee may bee sure that they are no gods, therefore be not ye afraid of them.

29 From whence commeth it then that they bee called gods? because women ‖sit before the gods of siluer, gold, and wood, ‖Or, bring gifts.

30 And the priests sit in their temples hauing ‖open clothes, whose heades and beardes are shauen, and haue nothing vpon their heads, ‖Or, yem.

31 Roaring and crying vpon their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.

32 The priestes also take away the garments of the images, and decke their wiues and children withall.

33 Whether it be good or euill that any man doe vnto them, they are not able to recompence it: they can neyther set vp a king, nor put him downe.

34 In like maner, they may neither giue riches, nor reward euill: though a man make a bowe vnto them, and keepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mightie.

36 They can not restore a blind mā to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can shewe no mercy to the widowe, nor doe good to the fatherlesse.

38 Their gods of wood, stone, golde, and siluer, are but euen as other stones that bee hewen of the mountaine: they that worship them, shall be confounded.

39 Howe should they then bee taken for gods? yea, how dare men call thē gods?

40 †And though the Chaldees worshipped them not, hearing that they were but dumbe, and could not speake: †Or, reade, The Chaldees also dishonour them, the which, if they shall see a dumbe one that cannot speake, do present it to Bel, & do require that it may speake.

41 Yet they themselues offer vnto Bel, and would faine haue him to speake: as who say they could feele that may not moue.

42 But when these men come to vnderstanding, they shall forsake thē, for their gods haue no feeling.

43 A great sort of women girt with cords, sit in the streetes, and burne ‖olive berries: Now if one of them be conueied away & lie wᵗ such as come by, she casteth her neighbour in the teeth, because shee ‖Or, straw.

was not worthily reputed, nor her corde broken.

44 Whatsoeuer is done for them, it is but in vaine and lost: Howe maye it then bee thought or saide that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldesmithes make them: neither bee they any other thing but euen what the workeman will make of them.

46 Yea, the goldsmithes themselues that make them, are of no long continuance: how should then the things þ are made of them bee gods?

47 Vaine therefore are the things, yea, verie shame is it that they leaue behinde them for their posteritie.

48 For as soone as there commeth any warre or plague vpon them, then the priests imagine where they may hide themselues with them.

49 How can men thē thinke that they be gods, which neyther may defend themselues from warre, nor deliuer them frō misfortune?

50 For seeing they bee but of wood, of stone, of siluer, and of gold, al people and kings shall know hereafter, that they bee but vaine things: yea, it shalbe openly declared that they be no gods, but euen the verie workes of mens handes, and that God hath nothing to doe with them.

51 It is manifest then, that they are no gods, but the workes of mens hands, and no worke of God in them.

52 They can set no king in þ land, nor giue raine vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither defend the land from wrong: for they are not able to doe so much as a crowe that flieth betwixt heauen and earth.

54 When there happeneth a fire into the house of those gods of wood, & siluer & of gold, the priestes will escape and saue themselues, but the gods burne as the balkes therein.

55 They cannot withstande any king or battel: how may it then bee thought or granted that they be gods?

56 Moreouer, these gods of wood, of stone, of gold and siluer, may neither defend themselues from thieues nor robbers.

57 Yea, the verie wicked are stronger then they: these strip them out of their apparell that they be clothed withall, these take their gold and siluer from them, and so get them away, yet can they not helpe themselues.

58 Therefore it is much better for a man to be a king, and so to shew his power, or els a profitable vessel in a house, wherein bee that oweth it might haue pleasure, yea, or to be a doze in a house, to kepe such things safe as bee therein, then to bee such a vaine god.

59 The sunne, the moone, and al þ starres, seeing they giue their shine and light, are obedient, and do men good.

60 When the lightening glistreth, all is cleare.

61 The wind bloweth in euery countrey: and when God commaundeth þ cloudes to goe rounde about the whole worlde, they doe as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue and commaunded, it burneth vp hils and woodes: but as for these gods, they are not like one of these things, neither in beautie, neither in strength.

63 Wherefore men should not thinke nor say that they bee gods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgement, nor do men good.

64 For so much now as yee are sure that they be not gods, then feare them not.

65 For they can neither speake euil nor good of kings.

66 They can shew no tokens in heauens for the heathē, neither shine as the sunne, nor giue light as the moone:

67 Yea, the vnreasonable beasts are better then they: for they can get them vnder the roofe, and doe themselues good.

68 So can ye bee certified by no maner of meanes that they bee gods, therefore feare them not.

69 For like as a scarcrow in a garden of herbes keepeth nothing: euē so are their gods of wood, of siluer and golde.

70 And like as a white thorne in an orchard that euery birde sitteth vpon, yea, like as a dead body that is cast in the darke: euen so is it with these gods of wood, siluer, and gold.

71 By the purple and scarlet which they haue vpō them, and soone fadeth away, yee may vnderstand that they bee no gods: yea, they themselues shal be consumed at the last, which shalbe a great confusion of the land.

72 ‖Blessed is the godly man that hath no images and worshipeth none: for hee shal be farre from reproofe. ‖Or, happy.

The

The ſong of the three children, which were put into the hote burning ouen. The common tranſlation readeth this ſong in the third Chapter of Daniel.

25 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The crueltie of the king. 48 The fire deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The angell of the Lord was in the furnace.

24 AND they walked in the midſt of the flame, prayſing God, and magnifying the Lorde.

25 Then Azarias ſtoode vp, and prayed in this maner, euen in the midſt of the fire opened he his mouth, and ſayd, 26 Bleſſed bee thou, O Lorde God of our fathers, right worthy to be prayſed and honoured is that name of thine for euermore.

27 For thou art righteous in al the things that thou haſt done to vs, yea, faithfull are all thy workes, thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgements true.

28 In all þ things that thou haſt brought vpon vs, and vpon the holy citie of our fathers, euen Ieruſalem, thou haſt executed true iudgement: yea, according to right and equitie haſt thou brought all theſe things vpon vs, becauſe of our ſinnes:

29 For why? we haue offended and done wickedly, departing from thee.

30 In all things haue we treſpaſſed, and not obeyed thy commandements, nor kept them, neither done as thou haſt bidden vs, that we may proſper.

31 Wherfore al that thou haſt brought vpon vs, and euery thing that thou haſt done to vs, thou haſt done them in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the handes of our enemies, among vngodly and wicked abominations, and to an vnrighteous king, yea, the moſt frowarde vpon earth.

33 And nowe we may not open our mouthes, we are become a ſhame and reproſe vnto thy ſeruants, and to them that worſhip thee.

34 Yet for thy names ſake we beſeech thee giue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy couenant,

35 And take not away thy mercy from vs for thy beloued Abrahams ſake, for thy ſeruant Iſahacs ſake, and for thy holy Iſraels ſake:

36 To whom thou haſt ſpoken and promiſed, that thou wouldeſt multiplie their ſeede as the ſtarres of heauen, and as the ſande that lieth vpon the ſea ſhore.

37 For we, O Lorde, are become leſſe then any people, and be kept vnder this day in all the world, becauſe of our ſinnes.

38 So that now we haue neither prince, duke, prophet, burnt offering, ſacrifice, oblation, incenſe, nor ſanctuarie before thee.

39 Neuertheleſſe, in a contrite heart and an humble ſpirit let vs be receiued, that we may obteine thy mercie.

40 Like as in the burnt offring of rammes and bullockes, and like as in thouſandes of fat lambes: ſo let our offring be in thy ſight this day, that it may pleaſe thee: for there is no confuſion vnto them that put their truſt in thee.

41 And nowe we folowe thee with all our heart, we feare thee, and ſeeke thy face.

42 Put vs not to ſhame: but deale with vs after thy louing kindneſſe, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs by thy miracles, O Lorde, and get thy name an honour, that al they which doe thy ſeruants euill, may bee confounded:

44 Let them be aſhamed through thy almightie power, and let their ſtrength be broken:

45 That they may knowe how that thou onely art the Lord God, and honor worthy throughout all the world.

46 And the kings ſeruants that put them in, ceaſſed not to make the ouen hot with a wilde fire, pitche, towe, and faggots.

47 So that the flame went out of the ouen vpon a fourtie and nine cubites:

48 Yea it toke awap and burnt vp thoſe Chaldees that it gate holde vpon beſide the ouen.

49 But the angel of the Lord came downe into the ouen to Azaria and his felowes, and ſmote the flame of the fire out of the ouen, 50 And made the middes of the ouen as it had bene a colde winde blowing: ſo the fire neither touched them, grieued them, nor did them hurt.

51 Then theſe three, as out of one mouth, prayſed, honoured, and bleſſed God in the fornace, ſaying, 52 Bleſſed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: for thou art prayſe and honour worthy, yea, and to be magnified for euermore.

53 Bleſſed be the holy name of thy glory, for it is worthy to be prayſed and magnified in all worlds.

54 Bleſſed bee thou in the holy temple of thy glory: for aboue all things thou art to be prayſed, yea, and more then worthy to be magnified for euer.

55 Bleſſed be thou in þ throne of thy kingdome: for aboue all thou art worthy to bee well ſpoken of, and to bee more then magnified for euer.

a Which is called Naphtha, which is a certaine kinde of fat and chalkie clay.

56 Bleſſed be thou that lookeſt thorowe the deepe, and ſittest vpon the Cherubims: for thou art worthie to be praiſed, and aboue all to be magnified for euer.
57 Bleſſed be thou in the firmament of heauen: for thou art praiſe and honor worthy for euer.

90 O giue thanks therefore vnto the Lord, for hee is kinde hearted: and his mercie endureth for euer.
91 O all deuout men, ſpeake ye good of the Lord, the God of all gods: O praiſe him, and giue him thanks, for his mercy endureth world without end.

The ſtorie of Suſanna, which is the thirteenth chapter of Daniel, after the Latine.

8 The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Suſanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They entice her to wickednes. 23 She chooſeth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her life. 34 She is accuſed. 45 Daniel doeth deliuer her. 62 The gouernours are put to death.

1 THere dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim,
2 That tooke a wife, whoſe name was Suſanna, the daughter of Helchia, a verie faire woman, and fuch one as feared God.
3 Her father and her mother alſo were good people, and taught their daughter accoyding to the lawe of Moſes.
4 Nowe Joacim her husbande was a great rich man, and had a faire orchard ioyning vnto his houſe, and to him reſorted the Iewes commonly, becauſe hee was a man of reputation among them.

5 The

5 The ſame peere were there made two iudges, ſuch as the Lorde ſpeaketh off, The wickednesse of Babylon commeth from the elders, that is, from the iudges which ſeeme to rule the people.

6 Theſe came oft to Joacims houſe: & all ſuch as had any thing to doe in the lawe, came thither vnto them.

7 Now when the people departed awap at noone, Suſanna went into her huſbands ozchard to walke.

8 The two elders ſeeing this, that ſhe wẽt in daplp and walked, thep burned foz luſt to her,

9 Pea, thep were almoſt out of their wits, and caſt downe their eyes, that thep ſhoulde not ſée heauen, noz remember that God is a righteous iudge.

10 Foz thep were both wounded with þ loue of her, neither durſt one ſhew anoſther his griefe:

11 And foz ſhame thep durſt not tel her their inozdinate luſt, that thep woulde faine haue had to doe with her:

12 Pet thep laide waite foz her earneſtlp from dap to dap, that thep might at the leſt haue a ſight of her.

13 And the one ſaide to the other, Up, let vs goe home, foz it is dinner time. So thep went their wap one from another.

14 Whẽ thep returned againe, thep came together, enquiring out the matter betwixt themſelues, pea, þ one tolde þ other of his wicked luſt: Thẽ appopnted thep a time when thep might take Suſanna alone.

15 It happened alſo þ thep ſpied out a cõuenient time, when ſhe went foozth to walke, as her maner was, and no bodp with her but two maidens, and thought to walh her ſelf in the garden: foz it was an hote ſeaſon.

16 And there was not one perſon there, except the two elders that had hid themſelues to beholde her.

17 So ſhe ſaide to her maidens, Go, fetch me oile and ſope, and ſhut the ozcharde doze, that I map walh me.

18 And thep did as ſhe bade them, and ſhut the ozchard doze, and went out themſelues at a backe doze to fetch the thing that ſhe had commanded: but Suſanna knew not that the elders lap there hidde within.

Or, but they ſaw no the elders, becauſe they were hid.

19 Now when the maidens were gone foozth, the two elders gate them vp, and ranne vpon her, ſaping, 20 Now the ozchard dozes are ſhut, that no man can ſee vs, wee haue a luſt vnto thee, therefoze conſent vnto vs, and lie with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, we ſhall bring a teſtimoniall againſt thée, that there was a pong fellow with thee, and that thou haſt ſent awap thp maydens from thee foz the ſame cauſe.

22 Suſanna ſighed, and ſaid, Alas, I am in trouble on euerp ſide: though I follow pour minde, it will bee mp death: and if I conſent not vnto pou, I cannot eſcape pour handes.

23 Well, it is better foz mee to fall into pour hande without the deede doing, then to ſinne in the ſight of the Lozd.

24 And with that ſhee cryed out with a loude voyce: the elders alſo cryed out againſt her.

25 Then ranne there one to the Ozcharde dooze and ſmote it open.

26 Nowe when the ſeruants of the houſe heard the crye in the Ozcharde, thep ruſhed in at the backe dooze, to ſee what þ matter was.

27 So when the elders tolde them, þ ſeruants were greatlp aſhamed: foz whyſ there was neuer ſuch a reproꝛt made of Suſanna.

28 On the mozowe after, came the people to Joacim her huſband, and the two elders came alſo full of miſchieuous imaginations againſt Suſanna, to bring her vnto death, 29 And ſpake thus before the people, Send foz Suſanna the daughter of Helchias, Joacims wife. And immediatelp thep ſent foz her.

30 So ſhee came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kinred.

31 Nowe Suſanna was a tender perſon, and marueilous fapre of face.

32 Therefoze the wicked men commanded to take her clothes from her face (foz ſhe was couered) that at the leaſt thep might ſo be ſatiſfied in her beautie.

33 Then her friendes, pea, and all they that knew her, began to weepe.

34 Theſe two elders ſtoode vp in the middes of the people, and layde their handes vpon the head of Suſanna, 35 Which wept, and looked vp towarde heauen, foz her heart had a ſure truſt in þ Lozde.

36 And the elders ſapd, As we were walking in the Ozchard alone, this woman came in with her two maydens, whome ſhe ſent awap from her, and ſparred the Ozchard doozes:

37 With that a pong felowe which there was hid, came vnto her, and lap with her.

38 As foz vs, we ſtoode in a corner of the Ozcharde: and when we ſawe this wickednesse, we ranne to them, and we ſawe them as thep were together.

39 But we could not hold him, foz he was ſtronger then we. Thus hee opened the dooze, and gate him awap.

40 Nowe when wee had taken this woman, we aſked her what pong felow this was, but ſhe would not tell vs. This is the matter, and wée be witneſſes of the ſame.

41 The common ſoꝛt beléeued them, as thoſe that were the elders and iudges of the people, and ſo thep condemned her to death.

42 Suſanna cryed out with a loud voyce, & ſapd, O euerlaſting God, thou ſearcher of ſecrets, thou that knoweſt all things before they come to paſſe:

43 Thou woteſt that they haue borne falſe witnes againſt me, & behold, I muſt die, where as I neuer did any ſuch thinges as theſe men haue malitiouſly inuented againſt mee.
44 And the Lord heard her voyce.
45 For when ſhe was led forth to death, þ Lord raiſed vp the ſpirit of a yong childe, whoſe name was Daniel,
46 Which cryed with a loud voyce, I am cleane from this blood.
47 Then all the people turned towardes him, and ſaid, What meane theſe woꝛds that thou haſt ſpoken?
48 Daniel ſtoode in the middeſt of them, & ſaid, Are ye ſuch fooles, O ye children of Iſrael, that yee cannot diſcerne & knowe the trueth? Yee haue here condemned a daughter of Iſrael vnto death, & knowe not the trueth wherefoꝛe.
49 Goe ſit in iudgement againe: foꝛ they haue ſpoken falſe witneſſe againſt her.
50 Wherefoꝛe the people turned againe in all the haſte: and the elders, that is, the principal heads, ſaide vnto him, Come ſit downe here among vs, and ſhewe vs this matter, ſeeing God hath giuen thée as great honour as an elder.
51 And Daniel ſayd vnto them, Put theſe two aſide one from another, and then ſhall I examine them.
52 When they were put aſunder one from an other, hee called one of them, and ſaide vnto him, O thou olde cankered carle, that haſt vſed thy wickednes ſo long, thine vngratious deedes which thou haſt done afoꝛe, are nowe come to light.
53 Foꝛ thou haſt giuen falſe iudgements, thou haſt oppreſſed the innocent, and letten the guiltie go free: whereas per the Lord ſayth, *Thé innocent, & righteous ſee thou ſlay not.
54 Well then, if thou haſt ſeene her, tell me vnder what tree ſaweſt thou them companying together? Yee anſwered, Vnder a ‖ Mulberie tree.
55 And Daniel ſayd, Verꝛ wel, now thou lieſt euen vpon thine head: loe, the meſſenger of the Lord hath receiued the ſentence of him to cut thee in two.
56 Then put hee him aſide, and called foꝛ the other, and ſaide vnto him, O thou ſeede of Chanaã, but not of Iuda, fayꝛeneſſe hath deceiued thee, and luſt hath ſubuerted thine heart.
57 Thus dealt ye afoꝛe with the daughters of Iſrael, and they foꝛ feare companied vnto you: but the daughter of Iuda woulde not abide your wickednes.
58 Nowe tell me then, vnder what tree diddeſt thou take them companying together? He anſwered, Vnder a ‖ Pomegranate tree.
59 Then ſaid Daniel vnto him, Verꝛ wel, nowe thou lieſt alſo euen vpon thine head: the meſſenger of the Lord ſtandeth wapting with the ſwoꝛde to cut thee in two, and ſlay you both.
60 With þ all the whole multitude gaue a great ſhowte, and praiſed God, which alwaꝛ deliuereth them that put their truſt in him.
61 And they came vpon the two elders, whome Daniel had conuict with their owne mouth, that they had giuen falſe witneſſe, 62 And dealt with them euen likewiſe as they woulde haue done with their neighbours, yea, they did * accoꝛding to the lawe of Moſes, and put thé to death: Thus the innocent blood was ſaued the ſame daye.
63 Then Helcias and his wife praiſed God foꝛ their daughter Suſanna, with Joacim her huſbãd, and all the kinred, þ there was no diſhoneſtie found in her.
64 From þ daye foꝛ ward was Daniel had in great reputation in the ſight of þ people.
65 And king Aſtyages was layde with his fathers, and Cyrus of Perſia reigned in his ſtéde.

The ende of the ſtorie of Suſanna.

The ſtorie of Bel and of the Dragon, which is the foureteenth Chapter of Daniel, after the Latine.

1 DAniel did eate at þ kings table, and was had in reuerence aboue all his friends.
2 There was at Babylõ an image called Bel, and there were ſpent vpon him euery daye twelue cakes, fourtie ſheepe, and ſixe great pottes of wine.
3 Him did the king woꝛſhip himſelfe, and went daylye to honour him, but Daniel woꝛſhipped his owne God: and þ king ſayde vnto him, Why doeſt not thou woꝛſhip Bel?
4 He anſwered and ſayd, Becauſe I may not woꝛſhip things that bee made with handes, but the liuing God which made heauen and earth, and hath power vpon all fleſh.
5 The king ſaide vnto him, Thinkeſt thou not that Bel is a liuing God? doeſt thou not howe much he eateth & drinketh euery daye?
6 Daniel ſmiled, & ſayde, O king, deceiue not not thy ſelfe: for this is but made of clay within, and of braſſe without, neither eateth he euer any thing.

7 Then the king was wroth, and called for his prieſts, and ſaid vnto them, If ye tell mee not who is this that eateth vp theſe expences, ye ſhall die:

8 But if ye can certifie me that Bel eateth them, then Daniel ſhall die: for he hath ſpoken blaſphemy againſt Bel. And Daniel ſaid vnto the king, Let it be, according as thou haſt ſaid.

9 The prieſts of Bel were threeſcore and tenne, beſides their wiues and children: And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

10 So Bels prieſts ſaide, Loe, we will goe out: and ſet thou the meate there, O king, and powre in the wine, then ſhut the doore faſt, & ſeale it with thine owne ſignet:

11 And to morow when thou commeſt in, if thou findeſt not that Bel hath eaten vp all, we will ſuffer death: or els Daniel that hath lyed vpon vs.

12 The prieſts thought themſelues ſure ynough: for vnder the ‖ altar they had made a priuy entrance, & there went they in euer, and did eate vp what there was. ‖ Or, table.

13 So when they were gone forth, the king ſet meates before Bel: Now Daniel had commaunded his ſeruants to bring aſhes, and theſe he ſifted thorow out all the temple, that the king might ſee: then went they out, and ſparred the doore, ſealing it with the kings ſignet, and ſo departed. ‖ Or, ſtrowed.

14 In the night came the prieſtes, with their wiues and children, as they were wont to do, & did eate and drinke vp all.

15 In the morning betimes, at the breake of the day, the king aroſe, and Daniel with him.

16 And the king ſaid, Daniel, are the ſeales whole pet? He anſwered, Yea, O king, they be whole.

17 Now as ſoone as hee had opened the doore, the king looked vnto the ‖ altar, and cried with a lowde voice: Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceyte. ‖ Or, table.

18 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he ſhould not goe in, and ſayde, Behold the pauement, marke well, whoſe footeſteps are theſe?

19 The king ſaide, I ſee the footeſteps of men, women, and children.

20 Therefore the king was angry, and tooke the prieſts, with their wiues and children: and they ſhewed him the priuy doores where they came in, & did eat vp ſuch things as were vpon the altar:

21 For the which cauſe the king ſlue them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, which deſtroyed him and his temple.

22 And in that ſame place there was a great Dragon, which they of Babylon worſhipped.

23 And the king ſaid vnto Daniel, Sayeſt thou that this is but a god of braſſe alſo? Loe, he liueth, he eateth and drinketh, ſo that thou canſt not ſay that hee is no liuing God: therefore worſhip him.

24 Daniel ſaid vnto the king, I will worſhip the Lorde my God, he is the true liuing God: as for this, he is not the God of life.

25 But giue me leaue, O king, and I ſhall deſtroy this Dragon without ſworde or ſtaffe. The king ſaide, I giue thee leaue.

26 Then Daniel tooke pitch, fat, & heare wooll, and did ſeeth them together, and made lumpes thereof: this he put in the Dragons mouth, & ſo the Dragon burſt in ſunder. And Daniel ſaid, Loe, there is he whom ye worſhipped.

27 When they of Babylon heard that, they tooke great indignation, and gathered them together againſt the king, ſaying, The king is become a Iewe, and he hath deſtroyed Bel, hee hath ſlaine the Dragon, and put the prieſts to death.

28 So they came to the king and ſaid, Let vs haue Daniel, or els we will deſtroy thee and thine houſe.

29 Now when the king ſawe that they ruſhed in ſo ſore vpon him, and that neceſſitie conſtrayned him, hee deliuered Daniel vnto them:

30 Which caſt him into the Lions denne, where he was ſixe dayes.

31 In the denne there were ſeuen Lions, and they had giuen them euery day two bodies, and two ſheepe: which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

32 There was in Iurie a Prophet called Habacuc, which had made pottage, and broken bread in a bowle, and was going into the fielde for to bring it to the reapers.

33 But the Angel of the Lorde ſaide vnto Habacuc, Goe carry the meate that thou haſt, into Babylon, vnto Daniel, which is in the Lions denne.

34 And Habacuc ſaid, Lord, I neuer ſawe Babylon, and as for the denne, I know it not.

35 *Then the Angell of the Lord tooke him by the top, and bare him by the heare of the head, and through a mightie winde ſet him in Babylon vpon the denne. *Ezech. 8. 3.

36 And Habacuc cried, ſaying, O Daniel, thou ſeruant of God, haue, take the ‖ breakefaſt that God hath ſent thee. ‖ Or, dinner.

37 And Daniel ſaide, O God, haſt thou thought vpon mee well, thou neuer forſakeſt them that loue thee.

38 So Daniel aroſe, and did eate. And the Angel of the Lorde ſet Habacuc in his owne place againe immediately.

39 Vpon the ſeuenth day the king went to bewéepe Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel ſate in the middeſt of the Lions.

40 Then cryed the king with a lowde voyce, ſaying, Great art thou, O Lorde God of Daniel, and there is none other beſides thee.

41 And hee drewe him out of the Lions denne, denne, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

42 After this wrote the king vnto all people, kinreds, and tongues, that dwelt in all countreys,

43 Saying, Peace bee multiplied with you: my commandement is in all the dominion of my realme, that men feare and stand in awe of Daniels God: for he is the liuing God, which endureth euer:

44 His kingdome abideth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlasting.

45 It is he that can deliuer and saue, hee doth wonders and marueilous workes in heauen and in earth: for he hath saued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

The prayer of Manasses king of Iuda, when he was holden captiue in Babylon.

O Lord almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of the righteous seed of them, which hast made heauen and earth, with all the ornament thereof, which hast ‖ fordepned the sea by the worde of thy commandement, which hast shut vp the deepe, and hast sealed it for thy fearefull and laudable name, which all men feare, and tremble before the face of thy power, and not for the anger of thy threatning, the which is importable to sinners, but the mercie of thy promise is great and vnsearchable: for thou art the Lord God most high aboue all the earth, long suffering, and exceeding mercifull, and repentant vpon the malice of men: thou Lord after thy goodnes hast promised repentance of the remission of sinnes, and thou that art the God of the righteous, hast not put repentance to the righteous Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, vnto them that haue not sinned against thee: but because I haue sinned aboue the number of the sandes of the sea, and that mine iniquities are multiplied, I am ‖ humbled with many bands of yron, and there is in me no breathing, I haue prouoked thine anger, and haue done euil before thee, in committing abominations, and multiplying offences: and now I bowe the knees of my heart, requiring goodnesse of thee, O Lord. I haue sinned, Lord, I haue sinned, and know mine iniquitie. I desire thee by prayer, O Lorde, forgiue me, forgiue me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities, neither do thou alwayes remember mine euils to punish them: but saue me (which am vnworthy) after thy great mercy, and I will praise thee euerlastingly all the dayes of my life: for all the power of heauen praiseth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glory, world without ende. Amen.

A neceſſarie Table for the knowledge of the ſtate of Iuda, from the beginning of the Monarchie of the Greekes (where the Table that we haue ſet forth vpon Eſdras endeth) vntill the death and paſſion of Ieſus Chriſt.

The 70. weeks foreſhewed by Daniel, Dan. 9.

THe Angel of the Lorde ſent to Daniel, ſaid, that it was ſeuentie weekes of yeeres, that is to ſay, ſeuentie times ſeuen, which commeth to 490. from the giuing forth of the commandement that Hieruſalē ſhould be buylded againe and reſtored, vntill Chriſt the Prince. This commandement was giuen forth by the month of Darius Longhand, Monarch of the Perſians, the yeere of his reigne, as it is written in Nehem. 2. Therfore the ſaid ſeuentie weekes ought to begynne there, though all agree not therein: for ſome begin it in the ſecond yeere of the ſayd Darius: other, the firſt yeere of Cyrus. So that from the beginning of the ſayde weekes, till the time that Alexander vſurped the Monarchie, wee recken foure yeeres and eighteene weeks, which maketh 130. yeeres. To ſhewe the verifying of the ſaid weekes, according to the aforeſaide prophecie of Daniel. 9. we will proportion them with þ yeeres in which the kings of Syria (ſet here in order on the right ſide) haue ended their kingdome eche of them in order.

The Monarchie of the Greekes.

ALexāder the great, ſonne to Philip king of Macedonia, conquered the Monarchie of the Perſians frō Darius, the 192. yeere of Cyrus the firſt Monarche, and tranſported it to the Greekes: he reigned ſixe whole yeeres, and the ſeuenth dyed, leauing diuers ſucceſſours, to whome hee deuided the ſayde Monarchie before his death, that is, the kingdomes of Syria, Aſia, Egypt, and Macedonia. Wee will here treate of his ſucceſſours the Kings of Syria onely, becauſe the ſcripture maketh mention thereof, and maketh the ſupputation of the yeres by the time that the ſayd kings reigned, beginning at the firſt, as appeareth in the firſt booke of the Machabees. And wee will orderly ſet their names, and the time that eche of them hath reigned, to conferre them with the number of the weekes placed on the left ſide of this Table, to the ende the ſayde weekes may be verified, and that the prophecie of Daniel may bee playnely vnderſtood, touching the comming, & death of our Sauiour Chriſt.

The ſtate of the Iewes.

AFter the people of the Lorde were deliuered from the captiuitie of Babylo by Cyrus, and returned vnto their land vnder the conduct of Zorobabel, there was no more name of king in Juda, but of Prince and Gouernour, which were for the moſt part of the line of Juda, and are theſe that folowe.

The first booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

1 After the death of Alexander the king of Macedonia, 11 Antiochus taketh the kingdome.

1 AFter that Alexander king of Macedonia, sonne of Philip, went forth of the land of Cethim, and slew Darius king of the Persians and Medes, & reigned for him as he had done before in Grecia:

Or, Cettim. The first battel with the Carthaginenses was fought at his time.

2 It happened that he toke great warres in hand, wanne very many strong cities, and slue many kings of the earth,

3 Going thorow to the ends of the world, and getting many spoiles of the people, insomuch that the whole world stood in awe of him, and therefore was he proud in his heart.

The beginning of the kingdome of Egypt.

4 [b] Now when he had gathered a mightie strong hoste,

5 And subdued the landes and people, with their princes, so that they became tributaries vnto him,

6 Then he fell sicke, and when he perceyued that he must needes die,

7 He called for his noble estates, which had bene brought vp with him of children, and parted his kingdome among them while he was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander reigned twelue yeres, and then died.

The beginning of the kingdome of Syria.

9 [c] After his death fell the kingdome vnto his Princes, and they obteined it euerie one in his roome,

10 And caused themselues to be crowned as kings: and so did their children after them many yeres, and much wickednesse encreased in the world.

Or, Epiphanes.

11 Out of these came the vngratious roote ‖noble Antiochus, the sonne of Antiochus the king, which had bene a pledge at rome: and he reigned in the hundred thirtie and seuen yere of the Empire of the Grekes.

The beginning of the kingdome of the Parthians.

12 [d] In those dayes went there out of Israel wicked men, which moued much people with their counsell, saying, Let vs goe and make a couenant with the heathen that are round about vs: for since we departed from them, wee haue had much sorowe.

13 So this deuice pleased them well.

Iosephus Lib. 12. cap. 6. The wicked all headlong into mischiefe.

14 [e] And certaine of the people toke vpon them for to go vnto the king, which gaue them licence to doe after the ordinance of the heathen.

Epiphanius lib. de ponderibus & mensuris, saith, that it was by drawing the foreskinne ouer that part that was circumcised.

15 [f] Then set they vp an open schoole at Hierusalem, of the lawes of the Heathen:

16 [g] And made themselues vncircumcised, but forsoke the holy testament, & ioyned themselues to the heathen, & were cleane solde to doe mischiefe.

17 So when Antiochus began to be mightie in his kingdome, hee went about to obteine the land of Egypt also, that hee might haue ‖ dominō of two realmes.

18 Vpon this entered hee into Egypt with a strong hoste, with charets, Elephants, horsemen, and a great number of shippes, 19 [h] And began to warre against Ptolome the king of Egypt: but Ptolome was afraied of him, and fled, and many of his people were wounded to death.

h The second battell with the Carthaginenses.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in Egypt, and toke away great good out of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundred fourtie and three yere, and went toward Israel,

22 And came to Hierusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entered proudly into the sanctuarie, and toke away the golden altar, the candlesticke, and all the ornaments therof, the table of the shewe bread, the powring vessels, the chargers, the golden spoones, the vaile, the crownes, & golden apparell of the temple, and brake downe all in pieces.

24 He toke also the siluer and golde, the precious iewels, and the secret treasures that he found.

25 And when he had taken away al together, caused a great murder of men, and spoken very proudly, he departed vnto his owne land.

26 Therefore there was great lamentation thorowout all Israel.

27 The Princes and the elders of the people mourned, the yong men and the maidens were ‖ defiled, and the faire beautie of women was changed,

Or, made feeble.

28 The bridegrome and the bride toke them to mourning,

29 The land and those that dwelt therein, was moued: for all the house of Jacob was brought to confusion.

30 [i] After two yeres the king sent his chiefe treasurer vnto the cities of Juda, which came to Hierusalem with a great multitude of people, i The battell of Macedonia.

31 Speaking peaceable words vnto them, but all was deceite: for when they had giuen him credence, 32 He fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when he had spoiled the citie, he set fire on it, casting downe houses & walles on euery side.

34 The women and their children toke they captiue, and led away their cattell.

35 Then builded they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, and with mightie towres, and made it a strong holde for them.

36 Beside all this, they set wicked people, and vngodly men to keepe it,

37 Stored

37 Stored it with weapons and victuals, gathered the goods of Hierusalem, and layde them vp there: thus became it a grieuous castel.
38 Thus they became a greate burden, laying wayte for the people that went into the sanctuarie, and for the cruel destruction of Israel.
39 Thus they shedde innocent blood on euerie side of the Sanctuarie, and defiled it:
40 Insomuch that the citizens were faine to depart, and the citie became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of her owne seede: for her owne natiues were faine to leaue her.
41 Her sanctuarie was cleane wasted, her holy daies were turned into mourning, her Sabboths were had in derision, and her honour brought to nought.
k Ioseph. lib. 12. cap. 6. and 7.
42 k Looke howe great her glorie was before, so great was her confusion, and her ioy turned into sorow.
43 Antiochus also the king sent out a cõmission vnto all his kingdome, that all the people should be one.
44 Then they left euery man his law, and all the heathen agreed to the commandement of king Antiochus:
45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented thereunto, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabboth.
46 So the king Antiochus sent his messengers with his commission vnto Hierusalem, & to all the cities of Iuda, that they should followe the lawes of the heathen:
47 And forbade the whole burnt offring, meate offering, or peace offering to bee made in the temple of God, & that there should no sabboth nor high day be kept:
48 But commaunded that the sanctuarie and the holy people of Israel should be defiled:
49 He commanded also, that there should be set vp altars, temples, and idoles, to offer vp swines flesh, & vncleane beastes,
50 That men should leaue their childrẽ vncircumcised, to defile their soules with al maner of vnclearnes & abominations:
51 That they might so forget the law, and change all the holy ordinances of God, 52 And that whosoeuer would not do according to the commandement of king Antiochus, should suffer death.
53 In like maner commanded he throughout all his realme, and set rulers ouer the people, for to compell them to doe these things:
54 Commanding all the cities of Iuda to doe sacrifice vnto idoles.
55 Then went the people vnto the heathen by heapes, forsoke the lawe of the Lorde, and committed much euill in the lande:
56 And they droue the Israelites into secret places, euen wheresoeuer they could flee for succour.
l November. 57 The fifteenth day of the moneth l Casleu, in the hundred three score and fifth yeere, set king Antiochus an abominable idole of desolation vpon the altar of God, and they builded altars throughout all the cities of Iuda on euery side, 58 Before the doores of the houses, and in the streetes, where they burnt incense and did sacrifice.
59 And as for the bookes of the lawe of God, they burnt them in the fire, & rent them in pieces. It is a manifest note of the enemies of God, to burne ſ bookes of the lawe, Hist. ecclesiast. lib. 5. cap. 2.
60 Whatsoeuer he was that had a booke of the testament of the Lord found by him, or that consented vnto the lawe, whosoeuer endeuoured himselfe to keepe the law of the Lord, the kings commandement was, that they should put him to death.
61 And throughout his authority they executed these things euery moneth, vpon the people of Israel ṗ were found in ṗ cities.
62 The twentie and fifth day of the moneth, what time as they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which stoode in the stead of the altar of the Lord,
63 According to the commandement of king Antiochus, they put certaine women to death, which had caused their children to be circumcised:
64 Not only that, but they hanged vp the children by the necks throughout al their houses, slue the circumcisers of them:
65 Yet were there many of the people of Israel, which determined in themselues ṗ they would not eate vncleane things: but chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled with vncleane meates.
66 So because they would not breake the blessed lawe of God, they were cruelly slaine.
67 And this great tyrannie encreased verie sore vpon the people of Israel.

The ii. Chapter.

The mourning of Mathathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie.

1 IN those dayes there did stand vp one Mathathias the sonne of Iohn, the sonne of Simeon the Priest, out of the kinred of Joarib, from Hierusalem, and dwelt vpon the mount of Modin,
2 And had fiue sonnes: Iohn called Gaddis,
3 Simon called Thassi,
4 Judas, otherwise called Machabeus,
5 Eleazar, otherwise called Abaron, & Jonathan, whose surname was Apphus.
6 These sawe the euill that was done among the people of Iuda & Hierusalem.
7 And Mathathias said, Woe is me, alas that euer I was borne, to see this miserie of my people, & the piteous destruction of the holy citie, and thus to sit so still, it being deliuered into the handes of the enemies.
8 Her Sanctuarie is come into ṗ power of strangers, her temple is as it were a man that hath lost his good name:
9 Her precious ornaments are caried away captiue, her olde men are slaine in the streetes, and her young men are fallen through the sword of the enemies.
10 What people is it that hath not some possession in her kingdome? or who hath not not gotten some of her peoples?

11 All her glorie is taken away, she was a free woman, and now she is become an handmayde.
12 Beholde, our sanctuarie, our beautie & honour is wasted awap, and defiled by the Gentiles.
13 What helpeth it vs then to line?
14 And Mathathias rent his clothes, hee and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.
15 Then came the mẽ that her, which were sent of king Antiochus, to compell such as were fled into the citie of Modin, for to doe sacrifice, & to burne incense vnto idoles, and to forsake the lawe of God.
16 So many of the people of Israel consented and enclined vnto them: but Mathathias & his sonnes remained stedfast.
17 Then spake the Cõmissioners of king Antiochus, and saide vnto Mathathias, Thou art a noble man, of high reputation, and great in this citie, hauing many faire children and brethren.
18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the kings commandement, like as all the heathen haue done, yea, and the men of Juda, and such as remaine at Hierusalem, so shalt thou and thy children bee in the kings fauour, & enriched with golde, siluer, and great rewardes.
19 Mathathias answered, and spake with a loude voyce, Though all nations obey the king Antiochus, and fall awap euery mã from keeping the lawe of their fathers, though they consent to his cõmandements:
20 * Yet will I and my sonnes & my brethrẽ not fal frõ the lawes of our fathers.
21 God forbid we should: that were not good for vs þ we should forsake the lawe & ordinances of God, & to agree vnto the commandement of king Antiochus.
22 Therefore we will doe no such sacrifice, neither breake the statutes of our lawe, to goe an other wap.
23 And when he had spoken these words, there came one of the Jewes, which openly in the sight of all did sacrifice vnto the idoles vpon the altar in the citie of Modin, according to the kings commandement.
24 When Mathathias sawe this, it grieued b him at the heart, so that his reynes shooke withall, and his wrath kindled for very zeale of the lawe: with that he start vp, & killed the Jewe beside the altar.
25 Yea, and slue the kings Commissioner that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and destroyed the altar at the same time:
26 * Such zeale had hee vnto the lawe of God, like as Phinehes did vnto Zambri the sonne of Salomi.
27 And Mathathias cried with a loude voyce throwe the citie, saying, Whoso is feruent in the lawe, and will keepe the conenant, let him folowe me.
28 So hee and his sonnes fledde into the mountaines, and left all that euer they had in the citie.
29 Many other godly men also which liued iustly & vprightly, departed into the wildernes, & their children, their wines, and their cattell, and remained there: for the tyranny encreased sore vpon them.
30 Nowe when the kings seruantes, and the hoste which was at Hierusalem in the citie of Dauid, heard that certaine men had broken the kings commandement, and were gone their wap to the wildernesse into secrete places:
31 Then many pursued after thẽ, and after they had ouertaken them, they camped themselues, & set the battell in arap against them in the Sabboth day, 32 And said vnto them, Will ye yet rebel? Get you hence, & doe the commandemẽt of king Antiochus, and ye shall line.
33 They answered, We wil not go for thee, neither wil we do the kings commandement, to defile the Sabboth day.
34 Then began they to fight against them:
35 But the other gaue them none other answere, neither cast they one stone at them, nor made fast their prime places:
36 But said, We will die all in our innocencie, heauẽ and earth shall testifie with vs, that ye put vs to death wrongfully.
37 Thus they fought against them vpon the Sabboth, & slue both men and cattel, their wiues and their children, to the nũber of a thousand people.
38 When Mathathias and his friendes heard this, they mourned for them right sore, 39 And said one to another, If so be that we all do as our brethren haue done, and fight not for our liues, and for our lawes against the heathen, then shall they the sooner roote vs out of the earth.
40 So they concluded among themselues at the same time, saying,
41 Whatsoeuer hee bee that commeth to make battel with vs vpon the Sabboth day, we will fight against him, and not die all as our brethren that were murdered in the wildernesse.
42 Vpon this came the assemblie of the Assideans vnto them, which were of the strongest men in Israel, and all such as were feruent in the lawe:
43 And all they that were fled for persecution, came to helpe them, and to stand by them:
44 Insomuch that they gathered an hoste of men, and slewe the wicked doers in their iealousie, and the vngodly men in their wrath: but the rest fledde vnto the heathen, and escaped.
45 Then Mathathias and his friendes went about, and destroyed the altars, 46 And circumcised the children that had not yet receiued circumcision, as many as they found within þ coasts of Israel, 47 And folowed mightily vpõ the proude men: & this act prospered in their hãds.
48 Insomuch that they kept the lawe against the power of the Gentiles and the kings, and gaue not ouer their dominõ vnto wicked doers.

49 After

The father promiseth for children that they shall serue God, so doeth Elias for his housholde, Iosh. 24.

It is a griefe to the godly to see the people fend.

1. Mac. 25.7.

49 After this, when the time drewe on fast that Mathathias should dye, he said vnto his sonnes, Nowe is pryde and persecution encreased, nowe is the time of destruction and wrathfull displeasure:
50 Wherefore, O my sonnes, be ye feruent in the lawe, and ieoparde your liues for the testament of the fathers.
51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time, so shall yee receiue great honour, and an euerlasting name.
Gen.22.9. 52 *Remember Abraham: was not hee founde faithfull in temptation, and it was reckoned vnto him for righteousnesse?
Gen.41,40. num,25.15. 53 *Ioseph in time of his trouble kept the commandement, and was made a lorde of Egypt.
Eccl.45.28. 54 *Phinehes our father was so feruent for the honour of God, that hee obteined the couenãt of an euerlasting priesthood.
Ios.1.2. 55 *Iosuah for fulfilling ẏ worde of God, num,14.6. was made the captaine of Israel.
Ios.14.13. 56 *Caleb bare recorde before the congregation, and receiued an heritage.
2.Reg.2.4. 57 *Dauid also in his mercifull kindenesse, obteined the throne of an euerlasting kingdome.
4.Reg.2.11. 58 *Elias being zelous and feruent in the lawe, was taken vp into heauen.
Dan.3.16. 59 *Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, remained stedfast in faith, and were deliuered out of the fire.
Dan,6.22. 60 *In like maner Daniel being vnguiltie, was saued from the mouth of the lions.
61 And thus yee may consider throughout all ages since the world began, that whosoeuer put their trust in God, were not ouercome.
62 Feare not yee then the woordes of an vngodly mã, for his glorie is but doung and wormes:
63 To day he is set vp, and to morow he is gone: for he is turned into earth, and his imaginatiõ is come to nought.
64 Wherefore, O my sonnes, take good heart vnto you, and quite your selues like men in the lawe: for if yee doe the things that are commanded you in the lawe of the Lord your God, ye shall obteine great honour therein.
65 And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of wisedome: see that ye giue eare vnto him alway, he shal be a father vnto you.
66 As for Iudas Machabeus, hee hath euer bene mightie and strong from his youth vp: let him be your captaine, and order the battaile of the people.
67 Thus shall ye bring vnto you al those that fauour the lawe, and see that yee auenge the wrong of your people, 68 And recompense the heathen againe, and applie your selues wholy to the cõmaundement of the lawe.
69 So he gaue them his blessing, and was laide vp his fathers,
70 And died in the hundred fourtie and sixt yeere at Modin, where his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

The iii. Chapter.

Iudas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. 11 He killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria.

1 THen stoode vp Iudas Machabeus in his fathers steade,
2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that held with his father, and fought with chearefulnesse for Israel.
3 So Iudas gate his people great honour: he put on a breastplate as a Giant, and araied himselfe with his harnesse, and defended the hoste with his swoorde.
4 In his actes hee was like a lion, and as a lions whelpe roaring at his pray.
5 He was an enemy to the wicked, and hunted them out, & burnt vp those that vexed his people:
6 So that his enemies fled for feare of him, and all the woorkers of vngodlinesse were put to trouble: such lucke and prosperitie was in his hand.
7 This grieued diuers kings: but Iacob was greatly reioyced through his acts, and hee gate himselfe a great name for euer.
8 Hee went throwe the cities of Iuda, destroying the vngodly out of them, turning away the wrath from Israel, 9 And receiuing such as were oppressed: and the fame of him went vnto the vttermost part of the earth.
10 Then Apollonius a prince of Syria, gathered a mightie great hoste of the heathen, and out of Samaria, to fight against Israel:
11 Which when Iudas perceiued, he went forth to meete him, fought with him, slewe him, and a great multitude with him: the remnant fled, and he tooke their substance.
12 Iudas also tooke Appollonius owne swoorde, and fought with it all his life long.
13 Nowe when Seron, a prince of the armie of Syria, heard say that Iudas had gathered vnto him the congregation & Church of the faithfull, 14 He saide, I will get mee a name and a praise throughout the Realme: for I wil go fight with Iudas and them that are with him, as many as haue despised the kings commandement.
15 So he made him readie, and there went with him a great mightie host of the vngodly to stand by him, and to bee auenged of the children of Israel.
16 And when they came nigh vnto Bethoron, Iudas went forth against them with a small companie.
17 And when his people saw such a great host before them, they said vnto Iudas, Howe are we able, being so fewe, to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, Ioseph.cap.8, 10,11,12.&c.

strong, seeing wée be so wearie, and haue fasted all this day?

18 But Judas sayd, It is a small matter for many to be ouercome with fewe: yea, there is no difference to the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small companie:

19 For the victorie of the battaile standeth not in the multitude of the host, but the strength commeth from heauen.

20 Beholde, they come against vs with a cruell and proud multitude, to destroy vs, our wiues and our children, and to robbe vs:

21 But we will fight for our liues, and for our lawes,

22 And the Lorde himselfe shall destroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afrayde of them.

23 As soone as he had spoken these words, he leapt suddenly vpon them: Thus was Seron smitten, & his host put to flight, 24 And Judas followed vpon them beyond Bethoron, vnto the playne fielde, where there were slaine eight hundred men of them, and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 Then al the heathen on euery side were afraide of Judas and his brethren:

26 So that the ‖rumour of him came vnto the kings eares: for all the Gentiles coulde tell of the warres of Judas. ‖Or, fame.

27 So when king Antiochus heard these tidings, hee was angry in his minde: wherefore he sent forth, and gathered an host of his whole realme, very strong armies:

28 And opened his treasurie, and gaue his host a yeres wages in hand, commanding them to be ready at all times.

29 Neuertheless, when he saw that there was not money enough in his treasuries, and that through the discord and persecution which he made in the lande, to put downe the lawes that had bene of olde times, his customes and tributes of the land were minished:

30 He feared that hee was not able for to beare the costes and charges any longer, nor to haue such giftes to giue so liberally as hee did afore, more then the kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore he was heauie in his mind, and thought to goe vnto Persides, for to take tributes of the lande, and so to gather much money.

32 So he left Ptolias, a noble man of the kings blood, to ouersee the kings businesse, from the water Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to keepe wel his sonne Antiochus till he came againe.

34 Moreouer, hee gaue him halfe of his host, and Elephants, and committed vnto him euery thing, and gaue him the charge of all things that he would haue done, concerning those which dwelt in Juda and Hierusalem:

35 That hee should sende out an armie against them, to destroy and roote out the power of Israel, and ye remnant of Hierusalem, to put out their memoriall from that place:

36 To set strangers for to inhabite all their quarters, and to part their land among them.

37 Thus the king tooke the other part of the host, and departed from Antioch, a citie of his realme, ouer the water Euphrates, in the hundred and fourtie and seuen yere, and went thorowe the high countreyes.

38 And Ptolias chose vnto him Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenes, Nicanor, and Gorgias, mightie men, and the kings friendes. Joseph. cap. 10. lib. ant.

39 These hee sent with fourtie thousande footemen, and seuen thousand horsemen, for to goe into ye land of Juda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came to Emmaus into the playne fielde.

41 When the marchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they and their seruants tooke very much siluer and golde, for to buy the children of Israel to bee their bondmen: there came vnto them also yet moe men of warre out of euery side, out of Syria, and from the Palestines.

42 Now when Judas and his brethren saw that trouble encreased, and that the host drewe nigh vnto their borders, considering the kings words which hee commanded vnto the people, namely, that they should vtterly waste and destroy them:

43 They sayd one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, let vs fight for our folke, and for our sanctuarie.

44 Then the congregation were soone readie gathered to fight, to pray, and to make supplication vnto God for mercy and grace.

45 As for Hierusalem it lay voyde, and was as it had bene a wildernesse: there went no man in nor out at it, & the sanctuarie was troden downe, the aliants kept the castle, there was the habitation of the heathen, the mirth of Jacob was taken away, the Pipe and the Harpe was gone from among them.

46 The Israelites gathered them together, and came to Maspha before Hierusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prayed afore time in Israel.

47 So they fasted that day, and put sackclothes vpon them, cast ashes vpon their heads, rent their clothes,

48 And layd forth the bookes of the lawe, wherein the heathen sought to paint the likenesse of their images, 49 And brought the Priestes ornaments, the firstlings, & the tithes: they set there also the Nazarites, which had accomplished their ‖vowes before God: ‖Or, daies.

50 And cried with a loude voyce toward the heauen, saying, What shall we doe with these, & whither shall we carry the away?

51 For thy ſanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, the Prieſts are come to heauineſſe and diſhonour.
52 And beholde, the heathen are come together for to deſtroy vs: thou knoweſt what things they imagine againſt vs.
53 Howe may we ſtande before them, except thou (O God) be our helpe?
54 Then they blewe out the trumpet alſo with a loude voyce.
55 Then Judas ordeined captaines ouer the people, ouer thouſandes, ouer hundreds, ouer fiftie, and ouer ten.
Deut.20.5, iudic.7.3. 56 *But as for ſuch as builded them houſes, maried wiues, planted them vineyardes, and thoſe that were fearefull, hee commaded them euery man to go home againe according to the lawe.
57 So the hoſt remoued, and pitched vpon the South ſide of Emmaus.
58 And Judas ſaid, Arme your ſelues, be ſtrong, O my children, make you readie againſt to morowe in the morning, that ye may fight with theſe people, which are agreed together to deſtroy vs and our ſanctuarie.
59 Better is it for vs to die in battaile, the to ſee our people & our ſanctuarie in ſuch a miſerable caſe.
60 Neuertheleſſe, as thy will is, O God in heauen, ſo be it.

The iiii. Chapter.

Iudas goeth againſt Gorgias, which lyeth in waite.

Joſeph.lib.12. cap.10. 1 Then tooke Gorgias fiue thouſand men of foote, and a thouſand of the beſt horſemen, and remoued out of the campe by night,
2 To come nigh where the Iewes hoſte lay, and ſo to ſlay them ſuddenly: (Now the men that kept the caſtle, were the ſouldiers of them.)
3 Now when Judas heard this, hee remoued, and all the ſtrong men that were with him, to ſmite the chiefe and principall of the kings hoſt at Emmaus:
4 For the armie was not yet come together.
5 In the meane ſeaſon came Gorgias by night vnto Judas tents, and when hee found no man there, hee ſought them in the mountaines, and thought they had beene fled away because of him.
6 But when it was day, Judas ſhewed himſelfe in the field with three thouſand men onely, which had neither harneſſe, nor ſwordes to their mindes.
7 But on the other ſide they ſaw that the heathē were mightie and well harneſſed, and their horſemen about them, and all theſe well expert in feates of warre.
8 Then ſayd Judas to the men that were with him, Feare not ye the multitude of them, be not afraide of their violent running.
Exod.14.9. 9 *Remember how our fathers were deliuered in the red ſea, when Pharao followed vpon them with a great hoſt.
10 Euen ſo let vs alſo cry nowe towarde heauen, and the Lord ſhall haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, yea, and deſtroy this hoſte before our face this day:
11 And all the heathen ſhall knowe that it is God himſelfe which deliuereth and ſaueth Iſrael.
12 Then the heathen lift vp their eyes, and when they ſaw that they were comming againſt them, 13 They went out of their tents into the battaile, and they that were with Judas blewe vp the trumpets.
14 So they buckled together, and the heathen were diſcomfited, and fledde ouer the playne fielde:
15 But the hindmoſt of them were ſlayne with the ſwoorde: for they followed them vnto ‖ Aſſaremoth, and into the fields of Idumea towarde Azot and Jamnia: ſo that there were ſlayne of them vpon a three thouſande men. ‖ Or, Gazera
16 So Judas turned againe with his hoſt,
17 And ſaid vnto the people, Be not greedie of the ſpoyles, we haue yet a battaile to fight.
18 For Gorgias and his hoſt are here by vs in the mountaines, but ſtande ye faſt againſt our enemies, and ouercome them, then may yee ſafely take the ſpoyles.
19 As Judas was ſpeaking theſe wordes, beholde, there appeared one part of them vpon the mount.
20 But when Gorgias ſawe that they of his part were fled, and the tentes burnt by (for by the ſmoke they might vnderſtande what was done) they perceiuing this, were very ſore afraide:
21 And when they ſawe alſo that Judas and his hoſte were in the fielde readie to ſtrike battaile, 22 They fled euery one into the land of the Heathen.
23 So Judas turned againe to ſpoyle the tentes, where they gate much golde, and ſiluer, precious ſtones, purple, and great riches.
24 Thus they went home, and ſung a Pſalme of thankeſgiuing, and praiſed God in heauen: for he is gratious, and his mercie endureth for euer.
25 And ſo Iſraell had a great victorie in that day.
26 Now al the heathen that eſcaped, came and tolde Lyſias euery thing that had happened.
27 Wherfore Lyſias was ſore afraide, and greeued in his minde, becauſe Iſrael had not gotten ſuch miſfortune as hee would they ſhould, neither as the king commanded.
28 The next yeere following, gathered Lyſias three ſcore thouſand choſen men of foote, and fiue thouſand horſemen, to fight againſt Hieruſalem.
29 So they came into Idurie, and pitched their tentes at Bethzoron: where Judas came againſt them with ten thouſande men.
30 And when he ſawe ſo great and mightie an hoſte, he made his prayer, and ſaid,

Bleſſed

Blessed bee thou, O sauiour of Israel, * which diddest destroy the violent power of the giant in the hande of thy ſeruant Dauid, *and gauest the host of the heathen into the hande of Jonathan the sonne of Saul, and of his harnesse bearer:

*1.Reg.17.35.

*1.Reg.14.13.

31 Put this hoste nowe into the hand of thy people of Israel, and let them bee confounded in their multitude and horſemen.

32 Make them afraide, and discomfite the boldenesse of their strength, that they may be mooued through their destruction.

33 Cast the down through þ sword of thy louers, then shall al they that know thy name, prayse thee with thanksgiuing.

34 So they stroake the battel, and there were slaine of Lysias hoste fiue thousand men.

35 Then Lysias seeing the discomfiting of his men, and the manlinesse of þ Iewes, how they were ready either to liue or to die like men: he went vnto Antioch, and chose out men of warre, that when they were gathered together, they might come againe into Iurie.

36 Then sayde Judas and his brethren, Beholde, our enemies are discomfited, let vs nowe goe vp to cleanse and repayre the Sanctuarie.

37 Vpon this, al the hoste gathered them together, & went vp into mount Sion.

38 Nowe when they sawe the Sanctuarie layd waste, the altar defiled, þ doores burnt vp, the shrubbes growing in the courtes, like as in a wood, or vpon mountaines, yea, and that the Priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, & made great lamentation, cast ashes vpō their heads, 40 Fell downe flat to the ground vpon their faces, made a great noyse with the trumpets, and cryed toward heauen.

41 Then Judas appointed certaine men to fight against those which were in the castle, till they had cleansed þ sanctuarie.

42 So he chose Priests that were vndefiled, such as had pleasure in the lawe of God:

43 And they cleansed the Sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place.

44 And for somuch as the altar of burnt offerings was vnhalowed, hee tooke aduisement what he might do withal.

45 So hee thought it best to destroy it, least it should happen to doe them any shame, for the heathen had defiled it: and therefore they brake it downe.

46 As for the stones, they layde them vp vpon the mountaine by the house in a conuenient place, till there came a Prophet to shewe what should be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole stones, according to the lawe, and builded a newe altar, such one as was before, 48 And made vp the Sanctuarie within and without, and halowed the houses and the courtes.

49 They made new holy ornaments, and brought the candlesticke, the altar of incense, and the table, into the Temple.

50 The incense layde they vpon the altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candlesticke, þ they might burne in the Temple:

51 They set the shewe breade vpon the table, and hanged vp the vaile, and finished all the works which they had begun to make.

52 And vpon the twentie and fifth day of the ninth moneth (which is called the moneth of Caſleu) in the hundred, fourtie, and eight yeere, ‖November.

53 They rose vp betimes in the morning, for to doe sacrifice according to þ lawe, vpon the newe burnt offering altar that they had made.

54 After the time and season that the heathen had defiled it, the same day was it set vp againe, with songs, pipes, harps, and cymbales.

55 And all the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping and thanking the God of heauen, which had giuen them the victorie.

56 So they kept the dedication of the altar eight dayes, offering burnt sacrifices and thanke offerings with gladnesse:

57 They deckt the forefront of the Temple also with crownes and shieldes of golde, and halowed the posts and celles, and hanged doores vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnes among the people, because the blasphemie of the heathen was put away.

59 *So Judas and his brethren, with the whole congregation of Israel, ordeined that the time of the dedication of the altar should be kept in his season frō yere to yere, by þ space of eyght dayes, from the twentie and fifth day of the moneth ‖Caſleu, with mirth and gladnesse.

*Iob.10.22.

‖November.

60 And at the same time builded they vp the mount Sion, with high walles and strong towres round about, least þ Gentiles should come and tread it downe as they did afore.

61 Therefore Judas set men of warre in it, to keepe it, and made it strong for to defende Bethsura, that the people might haue a refuge against the Edomites.

The v. Chapter.

Judas vanquisheth the Heathen that goe about to destroy Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Ionathas.

1 IT happened also, that when the heathen rounde about heard howe that the altar and the sanctuarie were set vp in their olde estate, it displeased them very sore.

Ioseph.cap.12. lib.13.

2 Wherefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was among them: in so much that they began to slay and to persecute certaine of the people.

3 Then Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Arabathane:
for they dwelt romde about the Isra-lites, where he slewe and spoyled a great multitude of them.
4 Yee thought also vpon the malice and vnfaithfulnes of the children of Bean, howe they were a snare & stop vnto the people, and how they laid wait for them in the high way.
5 Wherefore hee shutte them vp into the towres, and came vnto them, besieged them, and destroied them vtterly, and burnt vp their towres, with all y were in them.
6 Afterward went he against the children of Ammon, whereof he found a mighty power, and a great multitude of people with Timothie their captaine.
7 So he stroke many battailes with them, which were destroyed before him.
8 And when he had slaine them, hee wan
Gazer the citie, with the townes belonging thereto, and so turned againe into Jurie.
9 The heathen also in Galaad gathered them together against y Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castle of Dathema.
10 And sent letters vnto Judas and his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs on euer
y side, to destroy vs:
11 And now they make them ready for to come and lay siege to the castle whereunto we are fled, and Timothie is captaine of their host.
12 Come therefore, and deliuer vs out of their handes, for there is a great multitude of vs slaine already.
13 Yea, and our brethre that were at Tu-bin are slaine and destroied, welnigh a thousand men, and their wiues, their children, and their goodes haue the enemies led away captiue.
14 While these letters were yet a reading, behold, there came other messengers frō Galilee with rent clothes, which tolde euen the same tidings,
15 And saide, that they of Ptolemais, of Tyrus, and of Sidon, were gathered against them, and that al Galilee was filled with ‖ enemies to destroy Israel.
16 When Judas & the people heard this, they came together a great congregation, to deuise what they might doe for their brethren that were in trouble, and besieged of their enemies.
17 And Judas said vnto Simon his brother, Choose thee out certaine men, and goe, deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: as for mee and my brother Jonathas, we will goe into Galaaditim.
18 So he left Josephus the sonne of Zacharie, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, to keepe the remnant of the host in Jurie,
19 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, and see that yee make no warre against the heathen, vntill the time that we come againe.
20 And vnto Simon he gaue three thousand men, for to goe into Galilee: but Judas himselfe had eight thousande in Galaaditim.
21 Then went Simon into Galilee, and strooke diuers battails with the heathen, whom he discomfited,
22 And followed vpon them into the port of Ptolemais: and there were slaine of the heathen almost three thousand men.
23 So he tooke the spoyles of them, and caried away the Israelites that were in Galilee and Arbatis, with their wiues, their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Jurie with great gladnesse:
24 Judas Machabeus also, and his brother Jonathas, went ouer Jordane, and trauailed three dayes iourney in the wildernesse:
25 Where the Nabathees met them, and receiued them louingly, and tolde them euery thing that had happened vnto their brethren in Galaaditim:
26 And how that many of them were besieged in Sarasa, Bosor, Almis, Cas-bon, Mageth, and Carnaim (all these are strong walled and mightie great cities,) 27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaaditim also, and to morowe they are appoynted to bring their hoste vnto these cities, to take them, and to destroy them in one day.
28 So Judas and his host turned in all the haste in the wildernesse toward Bosor, & warme the citie, slue all the males with the sword, tooke al their goods, and set fire vpon the citie:
29 And in the night they tooke their iour-ney from thence, and came to the castle:
30 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders and other instruments of warre, to take the castle, and to ouercome them.
31 When Judas saw that the battaile began, and that the noyse thereof went vp and rang into the heauen, and that there was so great a crie in the citie, 32 He said vnto his host, Fight this day for your brethren:
33 And so came behinde their enemies in three companies, and blew vp the trumpets, and cried in their prayer to God.
34 But so soone as Timotheus host perceiued that Machabeus was there, they fled from him: and hee slue them right sore, so that there were killed of them the same day almost eight thousand men.
35 Then departed Judas vnto Maspha, layde siege vnto it, and wanne it, slue all the males in it, spoyled it, and set fire vpon it.
36 From thence went he and tooke Cas-bon, Mageth, Bosor, and the other cities in Galaaditim.
37 After this gathered Timothie another hoste, which pitched their tentes before Raphon,

‖ Or, strangers.

Raphon, beyond the water.
38 Judas also sent to spye the host, and they brought him worde againe, saying, All the heathen that be romde about us, are gathered vnto him, and the host is very great:
39 Yea, they haue hyred the Arabians to helpe them, and haue pitched their tents beyond the water, and are ready to come and fight against thee. So Judas went on to meete them.
40 And Timothie said vnto the captaines of his host, When Judas and his host come nigh the riuer, if he go ouer first, we shall not bee able to withstand him: for why? he will be too strong for vs.
41 But if hee dare not come ouer, so that he pitch his tent beyonde the water: the will we go ouer, for we shall be strong ynough against him.
42 Nowe as soone as Judas came to the riuer, hee appoynted certaine scribes of the people by the riuer, and commanded them, saying, See that yee leaue none behinde vpon this side of the riuer, but let euery man come to the battell.
43 So hee went first ouer vnto them, and all his people after him, and all the heathen were discomfited before him, and let their weapons fall, and ranne into the Temple that was at Carnaim,
44 Which citie Judas wanne, and burnt the Temple, which al that were in it: So was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstande Judas.
45 Then Judas gathered all the Israelites that were in Galaaditim, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their children a very great host, for to come into the lande of Israel.
46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a mightie, great, and strong citie, & lay in their way: for they could not goe by it, neither on the right hande, nor on the left, but must goe thorowe it.
47 Neuertheless, they that were in the citie would not let them go thorowe, but walled vp the ports with stones: and Judas sent vnto them with peaceable wordes, saying,
48 Let vs passe thorowe your lande, that wee may goe into our owne countrey, there shall no bodie doe you harme, wee will but onely go through on foote. But they would not let them in.
49 Wherefore Judas commaunded a proclamation to bee made throughout the host, that euery man should assault the citie in his order.
50 And so they did their best, like valiant men: and Judas besieged the citie all that day, and all that night, and so wan it:
51 Where they slewe as many as were males with the edge of the sworde, and destroyed the citie, and spoyled it, and went thorow all the citie ouer them that were slayne.
52 Then went they ouer Jordane, into the plaine fielde before Bethsan.
53 And Judas helped those forward that came behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way through, till they were come into the land of Juda.
54 Thus they went vp vnto the mount Sion, where they offered whole burnt offrings with mirth and thankesgiuing, because there were none of them slayne, but came home againe peaceably.
55 Nowe what time as Judas and Jonathas were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galilee before Ptolomais:
56 Then Josephus the sonne of Zacharie, and Azarias, the captaines, hearing of the actes that were done, and of the battailes that were striken, sayde, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, and go fight against the heathe þ are round about vs.
58 So they gaue their host a commandement, and went toward Jamnia.
59 Then came Gozgias and his men out of the citie to fight against them:
60 Josephus also and Azarias were chased vnto the borders of Jurie, and there were slayne that day of the people of Israel two thousand men: so þ there was a great miserie amõg the people of Israel, 61 And al because they were not obedient vnto Judas & his brethren, but thought they should quite themselues manfully.
62 Neuertheless, they came not of þ seede of these men by whõ Israel was helped.
63 But the men that were with Judas, were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, & all the heathen wheresoeuer their name was heard vpon.
64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.
65 After this went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the lande that lieth towarde the South, where hee wanne the citie of Hebron, and the townes that lie beside it: and as for the walles and towres rounde about it, he burnt them by.
66 Then remoued he to goe into the land of the ‖Philistines, and went thorowe Samaria. ‖ Or, strangers.
67 At the same time were there many priestes slaine in the battaile, which wilfully and without aduisement went out for to fight to get them honour.
68 And when Judas came to Azot, in the Philistines lande, hee brake downe their altars, burnt the images of their idoles, spoyled their cities, and came againe into the lande of Juda.

The vi. Chapter.

Antiochus willing to take the citie of Elimais for a pray, is driuen away of the citizens.

1 NOw when king Antiochus trauailed thorow the high countreyes, he heard that Elimais in Persia was a noble and plenteous citie in siluer and golde,
2 And that there was in it a very rich temple, whereas were clothes, coate armours, and shields of golde, which Alexander the sonne of Philip king of Macedonia that reigned firſt in Grecia had left behind him.

3 Wherefore hee went about to take the citie, and to ſpoyle it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of it, and fought with him.

4 And ſo he fled, and departed with great heauineſſe, and came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tydings in Perſia, that his hoſtes which were in the lande of Juda were driuen awap:

6 And howe that Lyſias went forth firſt with a great power, and was driuen awap of the Iewes, howe that they had wonne the victory, & gotten great goods out of the hoſtes that periſhed:

7 Howe they had broken downe the abomination which he ſet vp vpon the altar at Hieruſalem, and fenced the ſanctuarie with high walles, like as it was afore, pea, and Bethſura his citie alſo.

8 So it chaunced, that when the king heard theſe woordes, he was afrayde, and grieued very ſore: wherefore he layd him downe vpon his bedde, and fell ſicke for very ſorowe, and all becauſe it had not happened as he had deuiſed.

9 And there continued hee long: for his griefe was euer more and more, ſo that hee ſawe he muſt needes die.

10 Therefore hee ſent for all his friendes, and ſayde vnto them, The ſleepe is gone from mine eyes, for the very ſorowe and vexation of heart that I haue.

11 For when I conſider in my minde the great aduerſitie that I am come vnto, and the floods of heauineſſe which I am come in, whereas aforetime I was ſo merie, and ſo greatly ſet by, by reaſon of my power:

12 Againe, conſidering the euill that I haue done at Hieruſalem, from whence I tooke all the riches of golde and ſilner that were in it, and ſent to deſtroy the inhabiters of Iurie without any reaſon why:

13 I knowe that theſe troubles are come vpon me for the ſame cauſe: and behold, I muſt die with great ſorow in a ſtrange lande.

14 Then called he for one Philip, a friende of his, whom hee made ruler of all his realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, his robe, and his ring, that hee ſhould take his ſonne Antiochus vnto him, and bring him vp, till he might reigne himſelfe.

Ioſephus cap. 14. lib. 12.

16 So the king Antiochus dyed there, in the hundred, fourtie and nine yere.

17 When Lyſias knewe that the king was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his ſonne, whome hee had brought vp, to reigne in his fathers ſteade, and called him Eupator.

18 Now they that were in the caſtle at Hieruſalem, kept in the Iewes rounde about the ſanctuarie, and ſought euer ſtill to doe them harme, and the ſtrengthening of the heathen.

19 Wherefore Iudas thought to deſtroy them, and called all the people together, that they might laye ſiege vnto them.

20 So they came together in the hundred and fiftie yere, and beſieged them, laying forth their ordinance and inſtrumentes of warre.

21 Then certaine of them þ were beſieged, went forth: vnto whome ſome vngodly men of Iſrael ioyned themſelues alſo, 22 And went vnto the king, ſaying, Howe long will it bee per thou punith, and auenge our brethren?

23 We haue euer bene minded to doe thy father ſeruice, to walke in his ſtatutes, and to obey his commandements:

24 Therefore our people fell from vs, and whereſoeuer they found any of vs, they ſlue them, and ſpoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not onely medled with vs, but with all our countreyes.

26 And behold, this day are they beſieging the caſtle at Hieruſalem, to take it, and haue made vp þ ſtrong hold at Bethſura

27 And if thou doeſt not preuent the right ſoone, they will doe more then theſe, and thou ſhalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the king heard this, he was very angry, and called all his friendes, the captaines of his armie, and all his footemen and horſemen:

29 He hired men of warre alſo of other realmes, pertaining to the kings that were confederate with him, and of the Iles of the ſea, which came vnto him.

30 And the number of his hoſte was an hundred thouſande footemen, and twentie thouſand horſemen, and thirtie and two Elephantes well exerciſed to batrel.

31 Theſe came thorowe Idumea vnto Bethſura, and beſieged it a long ſeaſon, and made diuers inſtruments of warre againſt it: but the Iewes came out and burnt them with fire, & fought like men.

32 Then departed Iudas from the caſtle at Hieruſalem, and remoued the hoſte toward Bethzacharan, ouer againſt the kings armp.

33 So the king aroſe before the day, and brought the power of his hoſte into the way to Bethzacharan, where the hoſtes made them readie to the battaile, blowing the trumpets.

34 And to prouoke the Elephants for to fight, they ſhewed them the ſappe of red grapes and mulberies.

35 And diuided the Elephantes among the hoſte: ſo that by euery Elephãt there ſtoode a thouſand men well harneſſed, and helmets of ſteele vpon their heades: pea, vnto euery one of the Elephantes alſo were ordeined fiue hundred horſemen of the beſt, 36 Which waited on the Elephant, going whereſoeuer he went, and departed not from him.

37 Euery Elephant was couered with a ſtrong tower of wood, faſtened thereon with inſtrumentes, wherupon were thir-

tie

tie and two valiant men with weapons to fight, and within was a man of Inde to rule the beast.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, he set the vpon both the sides in two partes, with trumpets to prouoke the hoste, and to stirre vp such as were slowe in the armie.

39 And when the sunne shone vpon their shieldes of golde and steele, the mountaines glistered against them, & were as bright as the cressets of fire.

40 The kings host also was diuided, one part vpon the high mountaines, the other lowe beneath: so they went on, taking good heede, and keeping their order.

41 And all they that dwelt in the lande, were afraide at the noise of their hoste, when the multitude went forth, & when the weapons smote together: for the host was both great and mightie.

42 Judas also and his hoste entered into the battel, and slue syx hundred men of the kings armie.

43 Now when Eleazar the sonne of Saura did see one of the Elephantes deckt with the kings badge, and was a more goodly beast then the other, hee thought the king should be vpon him:

44 And ieoparded himselfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name:

45 Wherefore he ranne with a courage vnto the Elephant in the middest of the hoste, smiting them downe on both the sides, and slue mayn about him.

46 So went he to the Elephants feete, & gat him vnder him, and slue him: then fell the Elephant downe vpon him, and there he died.

47 Judas also and his men, seeing the power of the king, and the mightie violence of his hoste, departed from them.

48 And the kings armie went vp against the toward Hierusalem, & pitched their tentes in Iurie beside mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, the king tooke truce with them that were in Bethsura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no victuals, but were shut vp within, and the land lay vntilled,

50 The king tooke Bethsura, and set men to keepe it, and turned his hoste to the place of the sanctuarie, 51 And laid siege to it a great while, where he made all maner ordinance, handbowes, fierie dartes, rackets to cast stones, scorpions to shoote arrowes, & slinges.

52 The Iewes also made ordinance against theirs, and fought a long season.

53 But in the citie there were no victuals, for it was the seuenth yere of the warres, and those heathen that remained in Iurie, had eaten vp all their store.

54 And in the sanctuarie were fewe men left: for the hunger came so vpon them, that they were scattered abroad, euery man to his owne place.

55 So when Lysias heard that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he was yet liuing, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might be king,

56 Was come againe out of Persia and Media with the kings hoste, & thought to obtaine the kingdome, with the gouernance of all things:

57 He gate him to the king in all the haste, & to the captaines of the hoste, and said, We decrease daily, and our victuals are but small: againe, the place that wee lay siege vnto is very strong, and it were our part to see for the realme:

58 Let vs agree with these men, and take truce with them, & with all their people, 59 And graunt them to liue after their lawe as they did afore: for they be grieued, and do all these things against vs, because we haue despised their lawe.

60 So the king and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace: and they receiued it.

61 Now when the king and the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came out of the castle, 62 And the king went vp to mount Sion: but when he saw that the place was well fenced, hee brake the othe that he had made, and commanded to destroy the wall round about.

63 Then departed he in all the hast, and returned vnto Antioch, where hee founde Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so hee fought against him, and tooke the citie againe into his hands.

The vii. Chapter.

Demetrius reigned after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias.

1 In the hundred fiftie and one yeere, came Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus, from the citie of Rome, with a smal company of men, vnto a citie of the sea coast, and there he bare rule.

2 And when he came to Antioche, the citie of his progenitours, his hoste tooke Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them vnto him.

3 But when it was tolde him, hee saide, Let me not see their faces.

4 So the hoste put them to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome, 5 There came vnto him wicked and vngodly men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bene made high priest.

6 These men accused the people of Israel vnto the king, saying, Judas and his brethren haue slaine all thy friendes, and driuen vs out of our owne land.

7 Wherefore, send now some man to whō thou giuest credence, that he may goe, & see all the destruction which hee hath done vnto vs, and to the kings land, and let him be punished, with all his friends and fauourers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a man of great power in the realme beyond the water, and faithful vnto the king, and sent him to see the destruction that Iudas had done.

9 And as for that wicked Alcimus, hee made him high priest, and commanded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed from the king & came with a great host into the land of Iuda, sending messengers to Iudas and his brethren, and speaking vnto them with peaceable words, but vnder deceit.

11 Therefore Iudas and his people beléeued not their saying: for they saw that they were come with a great hoste.

12 After this came the Scribes together vnto Alcimus, and Bacchides, to entreat of reasonable couenants.

13 And the Assideans were the first amõg the childrẽ of Israel that required peace of them,

14 Saying, Alcimus the priest is come of the seede of Aaron, howe can hee deceiue vs, though he come with an armie?

15 So he gaue them louing words, and swore vnto them, and saide, We will doe you no harme, neither your friends.

16 And they beleeued him: but the very same day tooke he threescore men of the, and slew them, according to the words that are written,

17 They haue cast the *flesh of thy saints, and shed their blood rounde about Hierusalem, and there was no man þ would burye them. *Psal.79.3.

18 So there came a great feare and dread among all the people, saying, There is neither trueth nor righteousnes in them: for they haue broken the appointment & othe that they made.

19 And Bacchides remooued his hoste from Hierusalem, and pitched his tent at Bethzecha, where hee sent foorth and tooke many of them that had forsaken him: he slew many of the people also, and cast them into a great pit.

20 Then committed hee the lande vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: and Bacchides himselfe went vnto the king.

21 And thus Alcimus defended his high priesthood.

22 And all such as vexed Israel, resorted vnto him: in so much that they obtained the land of Iuda, and did much euill vnto the Israelites.

23 Nowe when Iudas sawe all the mischiefe that Alcimus and his company had done (yea more then the heathen themselues) vnto the Israelites, 24 Hee went foorth rounde about all the borders of Iurie, and punished those vnfaithfull runnagates, so that they came no more out into the countrey.

25 So when Alcimus sawe that Iudas & his people had gotten the vpper hand, and that he was not able to abide them: he went againe vnto the king, and laide all the worst of them that he could.

2. Mac. 15, 2. 26 *Then the king sent Nicanor, one of his chiefe princes, which bare euil will vnto Israel, and commanded him that hee should vtterly destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Hierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Iudas and his brethren with friendly wordes: but vnder deceite, saying, 28 There shalbe no warre betwixt mee & you, I will come with a fewe men, to see howe yee doe, with friendly hart.

29 Vpon this he came vnto Iudas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were appointed to take Iudas by violence.

30 Neuertheless, it was told Iudas that hee came vnto him but vnder deceite, wherefore he gate him away from him, and would see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counsell was bewraied, hee went out to fight against Iudas beside ‖Capharsalama: ‖Or, Carphasalama.

32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors hoste fiue thousand men, and the residue fled vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and the priests with the elders of the people, went forth to salute him peaceably, and to shew him þ whole burnt sacrifices that were offred for the king.

34 But hee laughed them and the people to scorne, mocked them, defiled their offerings, & spake disdainfully:

35 Yea, and swore in his wrath, saying, Ie Iudas and his hoste bee not delinered now into my hands, as soone as euer I come againe and fare well, I shall burne vp this house. With that went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the priests came in, and stoode before the altar of the temple, weeping, and saying,

37 For somuch as thou, O Lord, hast chosen this house, that thy name might bee called vpon therein, and that it should be an house of prayer and petition for thy people:

38 Be auenged of this man, and his hoste, & let them be slaine with the sworde: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer not them to continue any longer.

39 When Nicanor was gone from Hierusalem, he pitched his tent at Bethorõ, & there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Iudas came to Adarsa with three thousand men, and made his prayer vnto God, saying, 41 *O Lord, because the messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, the angel went foorth, and slewe an hundred fourescore and fiue thousand of them: Esai 37.36. *eccl.*48.24. 2. *mac.*8.19.

42 Euen so, destroy thou this hoste before vs this day, þ other people may knowe howe that he hath blasphemed thy sanctuarie, and punish him according to his malitiousnesse.

43 And so the hostes stroke þ field þ thirteenth day of the moneth ‖Adar, & Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and hee himselfe was first slaine in the battell. ‖Februarie.

44 When

44 When Nicanors men of warre sawe that he was killed, they cast awap their weapons, and fled:
45 But the Jewes followed vpon them a whole dapes iourney, from Adazer vnto Gazara, blowing with the trumpets, and making tokens after them.
46 So the Jewes came fooith of all the townes round about, and blew out their hornes vpon them, and turned agapnst them: thus were they all slaine, and not one of them left.
47 Then tooke they their substance foi a pzap, and smote off Nicanors head, and his right hande, which hee helde vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged it vp afoze Hierusalem.
48 Wherefoze the people were exceedingly reiopced, and passed ouer that dap in great gladnesse.
49 And Judas ozdepned that the same day, namely, the thirteenth dap of the moneth Adar, should be kept in mirth euery peere.
50 Thus the land of Juda was in rest a little while.

The viii. Chapter.

2 Judas considering the power and goodly policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22 The re-script of the Romanes sent vnto the Iewes.

1 IUdas heard also the fame of the Romanes, that they were mightie and valiant men, and agréeable to all things that are required of them, and make peace withall men which come vnto them,
2 And howe they were doughtie men of strength: besides that, it was told him of their battailes & noble actes which they did in ‖Galatia, how they had conquered them, and brought them vnder tribute,
3 And what great things they had done in Spaine: howe that with their wisedome and sober behauiour they had wonne the mines of siluer and gold that are there,
4 And obteyned all the land, with other places farre from them: howe they had discomfited and slaine downe the kings that came vpō them from the vttermost part of the earth, and how other people gaue them tribute euery peere:
5 Howe they had slaine and ouercome Philip & Perses kings of ‖Cethim, and other mo in battaile, which had brought their ozdinance against them:
6 Howe they discomfited great Antiochus king of Asia, that woulde needes fight with them, hauing an hundred and twentie Elephants, with horsmen, charets, and a very great host:
7 How they tooke him liue alme, and ozdeined him, with such as should reigne after him, to pap them a great tribute, pea and to find them good sureties and pledges besides all this:
8 How they had taken from him India, Media, and Lydia, his best landes, and giuen them to king Eumenus.
9 Againe, howe they perceiuing that the Grékes were comming to vexe them,
10 Sent against them a captaine of an host, which gaue them battell, and many of them, led awap their wiues and children captiue, spoyled them, tooke possession of their landes, and destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to bee their bondmen vnto this dap.
11 Moreouer, how that as foi other kingdomes and Iles, which sometime withstoode them, they destroyed them, and brought them vnder their dominion:
12 But kept amitie wt their owne friends, and those that were confederate with them, and conquered kingdomes both farre & nigh: and that whosoeuer heard of their renowme, was afraid of them.
13 Foi whome they would helpe to their kingdomes, those reigned: and whom it liked not them to reigne, they put them downe: and howe they were come to great preeminence,
14 Hauing no king among them, neither anp man clothed in purple, to be magnified therebyough:
15 But had ozdepned themselues a ‖parliament, wherein there sate thrée hundred and twentie Senatours daply vpon the counsell, to dispatch euer the busines of the people, & to keepe good ozder: ‖Or, a common-saile, or Senate house.
16 And how that euery peere they chose a ‖Maioi, to haue the gouernance of all their land, to whom euery man was obedient, and there was neither enill will, noi dissention among them. ‖Or, one man.
17 Then Judas chose Eupolemus þ sonne of John, the sonne of ‖Jacob, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, foi to make friendship, and a bond of loue with them, ‖Or, Accus.
18 That they might take from them the bondage of the Grékes: foi the Jewes saw that the Grékes would subdue the kingdome of Israel.
19 So they went vnto Rome, a very great iourney, and came vnto the parliament, and sapd, ‖Or, senate house.
20 Judas Machabeus, with his brethren, and the people of the Jewes, hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship and peace with you, and ye to note vs as your louers and friends.
21 And that matter pleased the Romanes right well.
22 Wherefoze it was written vp: of the which the Romanes made a writing in tables of brasse, and sent it to Hierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the same peace and bond of friendship after this maner:
23 God saue the Romanes and the people of the Jewes both by sea & by land, and keepe the sword and enemie from them foi euermoze:
24 If there come first anp warre vpon the Romanes, oi anp of their friends throughout all their dominion,
25 The people of the Jewes shall helpe them, as the time requireth, and that with all their hearts,

‖Or, the Macedonians.

26 Alſo they ſhal neither giue nor ſend vnto their enemies victuals, weapons, money, nor ſhips: but fulfill their couenants at the Romanes pleaſure, taking nothing of them therefore.
27 Againe, if the people of the Iewes happe firſt to haue warre, the Romanes ſhall ſtand by them with a good will, according as the time will ſuffer.
28 Neither ſhal they giue vnto the Iewes enemies victuals, weapons, money, or ſhips: Thus are the Romanes content to do, and ſhall fulfill their charge without any deceyt.
29 According to theſe articles ỳ Romanes made the bond with the Iewes.
30 Nowe after theſe articles ſaid they, If any of the parties will put to them, or take any thing from them, they ſhall doe it with the conſent of both: and whatſoeuer they adde vnto them, or take from them, it ſhall ſtand faſt.
31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto ỳ Iewes, we haue written vnto him, ſaying, Wherefore layeſt thou thy heauie yoke vpon the Iewes our friends and louers?
32 If they make any complaint of thee againe vnto vs, we ſhall defend them, and fight with thee by ſea and by land, according to iuſtice.

The ix. Chapter.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius ſendeth his armie againſt Iudas. 18 Iudas is ſlaine.

1 IN the meane ſeaſon, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his hoſt was ſlaine in the field, he proceeded further to ſend Bacchides and Alcimus againe into Iurie, and the chiefe ſtrength of his hoſt with them.
2 So they went forth by the way that leadeth vnto Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Maſaloth (which is in Arbellis) and wanne the city, and ſlue much people.
3 In the firſt moneth of the hundred fiftie and two yeere, they brought their hoſte, and laid their ſiege againſt Hieruſalem:
4 But raiſing their campe, they came to Berea with twentie thouſand footemen, and two thouſand horſemen.
5 Nowe Iudas had pitched his tent at ‖ Laiſa, with three thouſand choſen men, ‖ Or, Eleaſa.
6 And when they ſawe the multitude of the other armie that it was ſo great, they were ſore afraied, and many conueyed themſelues out of the hoſte, in ſo much that there abode no mo of thē but eight hundred men.
7 When Iudas ſawe that his hoſt failed him, and that he muſt needes fight, it brake his heart, that he had no time to gather them together: wherefore the man was in extreme trouble.
8 Neuertheleſſe, he ſaide vnto them that remained with him, Vp, let vs goe againſt our enemies, peraduenture wee ſhall be able to fight with them.
9 But they would haue ſtopped him, ſaying, We ſhall not be able: therefore now let vs ſaue our liues, and turne againe to our brethren, for ſhould we fight againſt them, being ſo few?
10 And Iudas ſaid, [a] God forbid that we ſhould flee from them: wherefore if our time be come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, & let vs not ſtaine our honour. [a] He which will not pray, is ouercome, and ouercome, is ouercome who he truſteth in his ſtrength, and omitteth prayer.
11 Then the hoſte remooued out of the tents, and ſtoode againſt them, and the horſemen were diuided in two parts: and ſling caſters and archers went before the hoſt, and all the mightie men were foremoſt in the field.
12 Bacchides himſelfe was in the right wing of the battell, & the hoſt drew nigh in two parts, and blew the trumpets.
13 They of Iudas ſide blew the trumpets alſo, and the earth ſhooke at the noyſe of the hoſtes: and they ſtrake a field from the morow till night.
14 And when Iudas ſaw that Bacchides hoſt was ſtrongeſt on the right ſide, hee tooke with him all the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing of their order, & followed vpon them vnto mount Azot.
16 Nowe when they which were the left wing, ſaw that the right ſide was diſcōfited, they purſued Iudas and them that were with him hard at the heeles.
17 Then was there a ſore battell: for many were ſlaine and wounded on both the partes.
18 Iudas alſo himſelfe was killed, and the remnant fled.
19 So Ionathas and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers ſepulchre in the citie of Modin.
20 And all the people of Iſrael made great lamentation for him, and mourned long, ſaying, 21 Alas that this worthie ſhould be ſlaine, which deliuered the people of Iſrael.
22 As for other things pertaining to the battels of Iudas, the noble acts that he did, and of his worthineſſe, they are not written, for they were very many.
23 Nowe after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coaſtes of Iſrael, Ioſephus cap. 4. lib. 13. antiq. and there aroſe all ſuch as did worke vngodlineſſe.
24 In thoſe daies was there a great dearth in the land, & all the countrey gaue ouer themſelues and their's vnto Bacchides.
25 So Bacchides choſe wicked men, and made them lords in the land.
26 Theſe ſought out and made ſearch for Iudas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged himſelfe vpon them with great deſpite.
27 And there came ſo great trouble in Iſrael, as was not ſince the time that no Prophet was ſeene there.
28 Then came all Iudas friends together, and ſaid vnto Ionathas, 29 Forſomuch as thy brother Iudas is dead, there is none like him to goe forth againſt our enemies, againſt Bacchides, and ſuch as are aduerſaries of our owne people:

30 Wherefore

30 Wherefore this day we chuse thee for him, to be our prince and captain, to order our battell.
31 And Jonathas tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in steade of his brother Judas.
32 When Bacchides gate knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him.
33 But Jonathas and Simon his brother perceiuing that, fled into the wildernesse of Thecua, with all their company, and pitched their tents by the water poole of Asphar.
34 Which when Bacchides vnderstoode, he came ouer Jordan with all his hoste vpon the Sabboth day.
35 Nowe had Jonathas sent his brother John a captaine of the people, to pray his friendes the Nabuthites, that they would lende them their ordinance, for they had much.
36 So the children of ‖ Jambri came out of Madaba, and tooke John, and all that he had, and went their way withal whe they had taken it.
37 Then came worde vnto Jonathas & Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great marriage, and brought the bride from Madaba with great pompe: for shee was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Chanaan.
38 Wherefore they remembred the blood of John their brother, and went vp, and hid themselues vnder the shadow of the mountaine.
39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and beholde, there was much a doe, and great preparation: for the bridegrome came forth, and his friends and his brethren met the with Tympanies, instruments of musike, and many weapons.
40 Then Jonathas, and they that were with him, rose out of their lurking places against them, and slew many of the: & the remnant fled into the mountains, and they tooke all their substance.
41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noise of their melodie into lamentation.
42 And so when they had auenged the [a] blood of their brother, they returned againe vnto Jordane.
43 Bacchides hearing this, came vnto the very border of Jordane, with a great power, vpon the Sabboth day.
44 And Jonathas saide to his company, Let vs get vp, and fight against our enemies, for it standeth not with vs to day, as in time past.
45 Beholde, our enemies are in our way, the water of Jordane vpon the one side of vs, with bankes, ferines, and woods on the other side, so that there is no place for vs to depart vnto.
46 Wherefore cry now vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered frō the power of your enemies: So they stroke the battaile.
47 And Jonathas stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides, but he fledde backewarde.
48 Then Jonathas and they that were with him, lept into Jordane, and swimmed ouer Jordane vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe ouer Jordane after him.
49 And there were slaine of Bacchides side that day a thousand men.
50 Therefore Bacchides with his hoste turned againe to Hierusalem, and built vp the castles and strong holdes that were in Jurie, Jericho, Emaus, Bethoron, Bethel, Thamnata, ‖ Phara, and ‖ Thapo, with high walles, with portes, and with lockes:
51 And set men to keepe them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.
52 He walled vp the citie Bethsura, Gazara, and the castle, and prouided them with men and victuals.
53 He tooke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the countrey for pledges, and put them in the castle at Hierusalem to bee kept.
54 Afterward, in the hundred fiftie and thirde yeere, in the seconde moneth, Alcimus commaunded that they should destroy the walles of the inward court of the sanctuarie, and he pulled downe, and began to destroy the monuments of the Prophets.
55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and smitten with a palsie, and his enterprises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped by God, so that hee could no more speake, nor commaund any of his house concerning his businesse.
56 Thus died Alcimus in great miserie at the same time.
57 And when Bacchides sawe that Alcimus was dead, hee turned againe to the king: and so the lande was in rest two yeeres.
58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying, Beholde, Jonathas and his companie are at ease, and dwell without care, wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and he shall take them all in one night.
59 So they went, and gaue Bacchides this counsell:
60 Which arose to come with a great hoste, and sent letters priuily to his adherents which were in Jurie, to take Jonathas and those that were with him: but they might not, for the other had gotten knowledge of their deuice.
61 And Jonathas tooke fiftie men of the countrey, which were the ring leaders of them, and slewe them.
62 Then Jonathas and Simon, with their company, departed vnto the citie ‖ Bethbasin, which lieth in the wildernesse, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.
63 When Bacchides knewe this, he gathered all his hoste, and sent word to them that were in Jurie.
64 Then came he and laide siege to Bethbasin, and fought against it a long season, and and made instruments of warre.

65 Nowe Jonathas left his brother Simon in the citie, & went forth himselfe into the countrey, and came with a certaine number, 66 And slew Odomeras and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tentes, so that he began to be strong, and to increase in power.

67 As for Simon and his company they went out of the citie, and burnt vp the instruments of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him: and Bacchides was sore vexed, because his counsell and travell was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he was wroth at the wicked men that gaue him counsell to come into their land, and slew many of them: then purposed hee with his company to goe away into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, for to make peace with him, and that he shoulde deliuer him his prisoners again.

71 To the which Bacchides consented gladly, and did according to his desire: yea, and made an othe that hee shoulde neuer doe him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him all the prisoners that he had taken out of the lande of Juda, and then turned and went his way into his owne land, neither proceeded hee any further to come vnto the borders of Juda.

73 Thus Israel had no more warre, and Jonathas dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

The 2. Chapter.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Jonathas. 48 Alexander moueth warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolomaus and Alexander.

1 IN the hundred and threescore yeere, came Alexander the sonne of ‖ noble Antiochus, and tooke Ptolomais, whose citizens receiued him, and there he reigned.

2 When Demetrius heard therof, he gathered an exceeding great host, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Wherefore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathas, with louing words, and praysed him greatly:

4 For he said, We will first make peace with him, before he binde himselfe with Alexander against vs:

5 Els hee shall remember the euill that we haue done against him, his brother, and his people.

6 And so hee gaue Jonathas leaue to gather an hoste, to make weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commanded the pledges that were in the castle to bee deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathas to Hierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castle.

8 And therefore were they sore afraide, because they heard that the king had giuen him licence to gather an hoste.

9 Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Jonathas, which restored them to their parentes.

10 Jonathas also dwelt at Hierusalem, and began to builde vp, and to repayre the citie:

11 Commaunding the workemen to wall it, and the mount Sion round about with free stone, to bee a strong hold: and so they did.

12 As for the heathen that were in the castles which Bacchides had made vp, they fled:

13 So that euery man left the place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Bethsura remained certaine of the Jewes, which had forsaken the lawe and commandements of God, for Bethsura was their refuge.

15 Nowe when king Alexander heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathas, and when it was tolde him of the battails and noble acts which he and his brethren had done, and of the great trauels that they had take,

16 He said, Where shall wee finde such a man? well, we wil make him our friend, and be confederate with him.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter vnto him, with these wordes:

18 King Alexander saluteth his brother Jonathas,

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a valiant man, & meete to be our friend:

20 Wherefore this day we ordeine thee to be the high priest of thy people, and to be called the kings friend, (vpon this he sent him a purple clothing, and a crown of gold) that thou maiest consider what is for our profite, and keepe friendship toward vs.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundred and threescore peere, vpon the solemne feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathas put the holy raiment vpon him: then gathered he an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 Which when Demetrius heard, hee was marueilous sory,

23 And saide, Alas, what haue wee done, that Alexander hath preuented vs, in getting the friendship of the Jewes for his owne defence?

24 Yet will I write louingly vnto them also, and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may be of my side.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these wordes, King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto the people of the Jewes:

26 Whereas ye haue kept your couenant toward vs, and continued our friendship, not inclining to our enemies, wee were glad when we heard thereof.

27 Wherefore remaine still, and be faithfull to vs, and we shall well recompense you pon for the things that ye haue done on your part:

28 We shall release you of many charges, and giue you rewards.

29 And now I discharge you and all the Iewes from tributes, I forgiue you the customes of salt, and release you of the crowne taxes, of the third part of seede,

30 And halfe the fruite of trées, which is mine owne dutie, I do release them from this day forth, so that they shall not bee take of the land of Iuda, nor of the three cities which are added thereunto out of Samaria and Galilée, from this day forth for euermore.

31 Hierusalem also, with all things belonging thereto, shalbe holy and frée, pea, the tithes and tributes shal pertaine vnto it.

32 As for the power of the castle which is at Hierusalem, I remit and giue it vnto the high priest, that he may set in it such men as he shall chuse to keepe it.

33 I frely deliuer all the Iewes that are prisoners throughout all my realme, so that euery one of them shall be frée from paying any tribute, pea, euen of their cattell.

34 All the solemne feasts, Sabboths, new moones, the dayes appointed, the three dayes before and after the feast, shall bee frée for all the Iewes in my realme.

35 So that in them no man shall haue power to do any thing, or to vexe any of them in any maner of cause.

36 There shall thirtie thousand also of the Iewes be written vp in the kings hoste, and haue their wages paide, as all other men of warre of the kings should haue: and of them shalbe ordeyned certaine to keepe the kings strong holdes, 37 Yea, and some of them shall be set ouer the kings secrete affayres: and their gouernours and princes shall be of themselues, and liue after their owne lawes, as the king hath commanded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the three cities that are fallen vnto Iurie from the countrey of Samaria, shalbe taken as Iurie, and be vnder one, neither bee subiect to any strange lorde, but to the high priest.

39 As for Ptolomais and the lande pertaining thereto, I giue it vnto the sanctuarie at Hierusalem, for the necessarie expences of the holy things.

40 Moreouer, I will giue euery yeere fiftéene thousand sicles of siluer of the kings reuenewes, out of the places appertaining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not paid for things due, as they did in the former yeeres, from henceforth they shall giue it towarde the workes of the temple.

42 And besides this, the fiue thousand sicles of siluer which they receyued yeerely of the accompt appointed for the intertainement of the sanctuarie these yeeres passed, euen these things shall be released, because they appertaine to the priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoeuer they be that flée vnto the temple at Hierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, whereas they are fallen into the kings danger for any maner of bussinesse, they shall be pardoned, and all the goods that they haue in my realme shalbe free.

44 For the building also and repairing of the worke of the sanctuarie, expences shall be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

45 Yea, and for the making of the walles round about Hierusalem, for the breaking downe of the olde, and for the setting vp of the strong holds in Iurie, shal the costs and charges be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 But when Ionathas and the people heard these words, they gaue no credence vnto them, neither receiued them: for they remembred the great wickednes that he had done vnto Israel, and howe sore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agréed vnto Alexander, for hee was a prince that had dealt friendly with them, and so they stoode by him alway.

48 Then gathered king Alexander a great hoste, and brought his armie against Demetrius. Ioseph. cap. 6. lib. 13.

49 So the two kings strooke battell together, but Demetrius host fled, and Alexander followed after, and fell vpon them.

50 A mightie sore field was it, continuing till the sunne went downe: and Demetrius was slaine the same day.

51 And Alexander sent Ambassadours vnto Ptolome the king of Egypt, with these words, saying,

52 Forsomuch as I am come againe to my realme, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercommed Demetrius,

53 Conquered our land, and stricken a field with him, so that we haue discomfited both him and his hoste, and sit in the throne of his kingdome:

54 Let vs now make friendship together: giue me thy daughter to wife, so shall I be thy sonne in lawe, & both giue thee rewards & her, according to thy dignitie.

55 Ptolome the king gaue answere, saying, Happie be the day wherein thou art come againe to the land of thy progenitours, and set in the throne of their kingdome:

56 And now will I fulfill thy writing: but meete me at Ptolomais, that we may see one another, and that I may marry my daughter vnto thée, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolome went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais in the hundred threescore and two yeere, 58 Where king Alexander met him: and he gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolomais with great worship, like as the maner of kings is to be.

59 Then

59 Then wrote king Alexander vnto Jonathas, that he ſhould come and mæte him.
60 So he went honourably vnto Ptolomais, and there he met the two kings, and gaue them and their friendes great preſents of golde and ſiuer, and found fauour in their ſight.
61 And there came together againſt Jonathas certaine wicked men ꝑſõs of Iſrael, making cõplaints of him: but the king regarded them not.
62 As for Jonathas, the king cõmanded to take off his garments, and to clothe him in purple: and ſo they did. Then the king appointed him to ſit by him,
63 And ſaid vnto his princes, Goe with him into the middeſt of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine againſt him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cauſe.
64 So it happened, that when his accuſers ſawe the worſhip which was proclaimed of him, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled euery one.
65 And the king made much of him, wrote him among his chiefe friends, made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.
66 Thus Jonathas went againe to Hieruſalem with peace and gladneſſe. Ioſeph. cap. 6. lib. 13. antiq.
67 In the hundred, threeſcore and fifth yeere, came Demetrius the ſonne of Demetrius, from Creta, into his fathers lande:
68 Whereof when Alexander heard tell, he was right ſorie, and returned vnto Antioch.
69 And Demetrius choſe Apollonius, which had the gouernance of Coeloſyria, to be his captaine: ſo he gathered a great hoſt, and came vnto Jamnia, and ſent worde vnto Jonathas the high prieſt, ſaying, 70 Dareſt thou withſtande vs thy ſelfe alone? As for mee, I am but laughed to ſcorne and ſhamed, becauſe thou diddeſt vaunt thy ſtrength againſt vs in the mountaines.
71 Now therefore if thou truſteſt in thine owne ſtrength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs trie the matter together, for thou ſhalt knowe that I haue the ſtrength of many cities,
72 And ſhalt know who I am, and the other that ſtande by me, which ſay, That your ſoote is not able to ſtand before our face, for thy fathers haue bene twiſe chaſed in their owne land.
73 And now how wilt thou be able to abide ſo great an hoſt of horſmen & footemen in ꝑ field, whereas is neither rocke, ſtone, nor place to flee vnto?
74 When Jonathas heard the wordes of Apollonius, her was moued in his minde, wherefore he choſe tenne thouſand men, and went out of Hieruſalem: and Simon his brother met him, for to helpe him.
75 And they pitched their tents at Joppa, but the citie kept him forth, for Apollonius gariſon was in Joppa.
76 Then Jonathas laid ſiege to it, & they that were in the citie for very feare let him in: and ſo Jonathas wan Joppa.
77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thouſand horſemen, with a great hoſte on foote, and went to Azotus, as though he would goe further, and came immediatelp into the plaine fielde, becauſe he had ſo many horſemen, and put his truſt in them.
78 So Jonathas followed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie ſkirmiſhed with his rereward, and there they ſtroke the battaile.
79 Nowe had Apollonius left a thouſand horſemen behinde them priuilp in the tents.
80 And when Jonathas knewe that ſuch waite was laid behind them, they went round about the enemies hoſt, and ſhot darts at the people, from the morning to the euening.
81 As for Jonathas people, they kept their order as he had commanded them, and the enemies horſes were wearie.
82 Then brought Simon forth his hoſt, and ſet them againſt the footmen (for the horſemen were wearie alreadie:) and ſo he diſcomfited them, and they fled.
83 And they that were ſcattered in the field, gat them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idol, that they might there ſaue their liues.
84 But Jonathas ſet fire vpon Azotus, and all the cities round about it, & tooke their goods, and burnt vp the temple of Dagon, with all them that were fledde vnto it.
85 Thus were ſlaine and burnt welnigh eight thouſand men.
86 So Jonathas remoued the hoſt from thence, and brought them to Aſcalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great worſhip.
87 After this went Jonathas and his hoſt againe to Hieruſalem, with great ſubſtance of goods.
88 And when king Alexander heard theſe things, her thought to doe Jonathas more worſhip:
89 And ſent him a coller of golde, as the vſe is to be giuen vnto ſuch as are of the kings nert blood: he gaue him alſo the citie of Accaron, with the lands belonging thereto in poſſeſſion.

The xi. Chapter.

3 The diſſention betweene Ptolomeus & Alexander his ſonne in lawe. 17 The death of Alexander.

1 AND the king of Egypt gathered an hoſte like the ſand that lyeth vpon the ſea ſhore, and many ſhips, and went about through deceite to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne realme. Ioſeph. cap. 7. lib. 13.
2 Vpon this her tooke his iourney into Syria, vſing gentle wordes, ſo that he was letten into the cities, & men came forth to meete him: for king Alexander had commanded commanded them to do doe, because hee was his father in law.

3 Now when Ptolome entred into any citie, he left men of warre to keepe it: and this he did throughout all the cities.

4 And when hee came to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon, and Azotus that was burnt vp, with the other things which were destroyed, the dead bodies cast abroad, and the graues that they had made by the wayes side for such as were slaine in the field.

5 And tolde the king that Jonathas had done all these things, to the intent they might get him enil will, but the king said not one word thereto.

6 And Jonathas met the king with great honour at Joppa, where they saluted one another, and tooke their rest.

7 So when Jonathas had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned again to Hierusalē.

8 Now Ptolome had gotten the dominion of the cities vnto Seleucia vpō the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander, 9 And sent ambassadours vnto Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a bond betwixt vs, so shall I giue thée my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to slay me.

11 And thus he slandered Alexander, because he would haue had his realme.

12 Thus he tooke his daughter from him, gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that his malice was openly knowen.

13 And Ptolome came to Antioch, where he set two crownes vpō his owne head, the crowne of Egypt, and of Asia.

14 In the meane season was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places had rebelled against him.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, he came to warre against him: so King Ptolome brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mighty power, and chased him away.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: and king Ptolomeus honour increased.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, & sent it vnto Ptolome.

18 But the third day after died king Ptolome himselfe, and they whom he had set in the strong holdes, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seuenth yéere.

20 At the same time gathered Jonathas them that were in Jurie, to lay siege vnto the castle which was at Hierusalem, and so they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certaine vngodly persons, which hated their owne people, vnto king Demetrius, and tolde him that Jonathas besieged the castle.

22 So when he heard it, hée was angry, and immediately came vnto Ptolomais, and wrote vnto Jonathas, that he should not lay siege vnto the castle, but come and speake with him at Ptolomais in all haste.

23 Neuertheless, when Jonathas heard this, he cōmanded to besiege it: he chose also certaine of the elders, and priests of Israel, and put himselfe in perill.

24 And tooke with him golde, siluer, clothing, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolomais vnto the king, and founde him gratious.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne people made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the king intreated him like as his predecessours had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friendes, 27 Confirmed him in the high priesthood, with all the worship that hee had afore, and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Jonathas also desired the king that he would make Jurie free, with the three head cities of Samaria, and the landes pertaining therto: vpon this did Jonathas promise him three hundred talents.

29 Whereunto the king consented, and gaue Jonathas writing of the same, cōteining these words, 30 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto his brother Jonathas, & to the people of the Jewes.

31 We sende you heere a copie of the letter which we did write vnto our cousin Lasthenes cōcerning you, that ye should knowe it.

32 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto Lasthenes his father.

33 For the faithfulnesse that our friendes the people of the Jewes keepe vnto vs, and for the louing kindnesse which they beare towarde vs, we are determined to doe them good.

34 Wherefore we assigne vnto the coastes of Judea the three gouernementes, Aferema, Lydda, and Ramatha, which are added vnto Jurie from Samaria, and all the landes pertaining thereunto, to be freely separated for such as doe sacrifice in Hierusalem, both concerning the payments which the king tooke perely afore time, and the fruite also of the earth and trees:

35 As for other tythes and tributes that belonged vnto vs, wee discharge them thereof from this time forth.

36 Iu like maner we graunt vnto them al the customes of salt, and crowne taxes, which were brought vnto vs: and this freedome shall they haue firme and stedfast from this time forth for euermore.

37 Therefore see that yee make a copie of these our letters, and deliuer it vnto Jonathas, that it may be set vpon the holy mount in a conuenient place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the king sawe that his land was in rest, & that no resistance

reſiſtance was made againſt him, he ſent away all his hoſt, euery man to his own place, except certaine bandes of ſtrangers, whom he brought from the Iles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoſte hated him.

39 Nowe was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexãders part afore, which when he ſawe that all the hoſte murmured againſt Demetrius, he went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the ſonne of Alexander, 40 And lay ſore vpon him to deliuer him this young Antiochus, that hee might reigne in his fathers ſtede: hee tolde him alſo what great euill Demetrius had done, and howe his men of warre loued him not: and ſo remained there a long ſeaſon.

41 And Jonathas ſent vnto king Demetrius, to driue them out which were in the caſtle at Hieruſalem, and thoſe that were in the fortreſſes, for they did Iſrael great harme.

42 So Demetrius ſent worde vnto Jonathas, ſaying, I will not onely doe theſe things for thee and thy people: but at time conuenient, I will doe both thee and thy people great worſhip.

43 But nowe thou ſhalt doe mee a pleaſure, if thou wilt ſende mee men to helpe me: for all my armie is gone from me.

44 So Jonathas ſent him three thouſand ſtrong mẽ vnto Antioch, and they came vnto the king, wherefore the king was very glad at their comming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twentie thouſand men, gathered them together in the middeſt of the citie, and woulde haue ſlayne the king:

46 Which fled into his court, and the citizens kept the ſtreetes of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called for the Iewes helpe, which came vnto him all together, and went abroade throw the citie, 48 And ſlue the ſame daye an hundred thouſand men, ſet fire vpon the citie, and gate many ſpoyles in that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So when the citizens ſawe that the Iewes had gotten their will of the citie, and they themſelues diſappointed of their purpoſe, they made their ſupplication vnto the king, ſaying, 50 Graunt vs peace, and let the Iewes ceaſſe from troubling vs and the citie.

51 And vpon this they caſt away their weapons: thus they made peace, and ꝓ Iewes gate great worſhip in the ſight of the king, and in the ſight of all that were in his realme, and were ſpoken of throughout the kingdome: and ſo they came againe to Hieruſalem with great goods.

52 So the king Demetrius ſate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuertheleſſe, he diſſembled in all that euer hee ſpake, and withdrewe himſelfe from Jonathas, neither rewarded him according to the benefites which he had done for him, but troubled him very ſore.

54 After this came Tryphon againe with yong Antiochus, which reigned, & was crowned king.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whome Demetrius had put away: theſe fought againſt Demetrius, which fled, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the Elephantes, & wanne Antioche.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathas, ſaying, I confirme thee in thy prieſthood, and make thee ruler of foure countreyes, that thou maieſt be a friend of the kings.

58 Vpon this hee ſent him golden veſſels to bee ſerued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in golde, to be clothed in purple, and to weare a coller of golde.

59 He made his brother Simon alſo captaine from the coaſtes of Tyrus, vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathas tooke his iourney, and went throwe the cities beyond the water of Jordane, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered thẽ vnto him for to helpe him: ſo he came vnto Aſcalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went he to Gaza, but they would not let him in: wherefore he layde ſiege vnto it, burning vp and ſpoyling the places that were about the citie.

62 And the citizens of Gaza ſubmitted theſelues vnto Jonathas, which made peace with them: but tooke of their ſonnes to pledge, ſent them to Hieruſalem, and went throw the countrey vnto Damaſcus.

63 Nowe when Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great hoſte, purpoſing to driue him out of the countrey, 64 He came againſt them, and left Simon his brother in the land.

65 And Simon came to Bethſura, and layde ſiege to it a long ſeaſon, and diſcomfited them.

66 So they deſired to haue peace with him: which hee graunted them, and afterwarde put the out from thence, tooke the citie, and ſet men to kéepe it.

67 And Jonathas with his hoſt came to the water of Geneſar, and betimes in the morning gate them to the plaine fields of Aſor:

68 And beholde, the hoſtes of the heathẽ met them in the fielde, and laide watch for them in the mountaines,

69 So that when Jonathas came againſt them, ꝓ other which were laid to watch, roſe out of their places, and fought,

70 And they that were of Jonathas ſide fled euery man, and there was not one of them left, except Mathathias ꝓ ſonne of

of Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphi the captaine of the hoste.

71 Then Jonathas rent his clothes, lay de earth vpon his head, and made his prayer, 72 And turned againe to them in the field, where they fought together, and he put them to flight.

a Behold the effect of prayer.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, sawe this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to followe vpon all their enemies vnto their tents at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the heathen the same day three thousand men: and Jonathas turned againe to Hierusalem,

The xii. Chapter.

1 Jonathas sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2 and to the people of Sparta, to renue their couenant of friendship. 20 Jonathas putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius. 40 Tryphon taketh Jonathas by deceite.

1 JOnathas seeing that the time was mete for him, chose certaine men, and sent them to Rome, for to stablish and to renue the friendship with them:

2 He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in like maner.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the ‖ counsel, and said, Jonathas the high priest, and the people of the Jewes, sent vs vnto you, for to renue the olde friendship and bond of loue.

‖ Or, senate.

4 Vpon this the Romanes gaue them free passportes, that men should leade them home into the land of Juda peaceably.

5 And this is the copie of the letters that Jonathas wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Jonathas the high Priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Jewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren,

7 There were letters sent long agoe vnto Onias the high priest, from ‖ Arius which reigned then among you, that ye are our brethren, as the copie here vnder written doeth specifie.

‖ Or, Darius.

8 And Onias entreated the Ambassadour that was sent, honourably, and receiued the letters, wherein there was mention made of the bond of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we neede no such writings, for why? we haue the holy bookes of scripture in our hands to our comfort

10 Neuertheless we had rather sende vnto you for the renuing of the brotherhood and friendship, least we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent word vnto vs.

11 Wherefore in the sacrifices that we offer, and other ceremonies vpon the high solemne dayes, and other, we alway remember you without ceasling, like as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thinke vpon our brethren, 12 Yea, and are right glad of your prosperous honour.

13 And though we haue had great troubles and warres, so that the kings about vs haue fought against vs:

14 Yet wouldе we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our louers & friends in these warres.

15 For we had helpe from heauen that hath succoured vs, so that we are deliuered, and our enemies subdued.

16 Wherefore we chose Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes for to renue the olde bond of friendship and loue with them.

‖ Or, league.

17 We commanded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concerning the renouation of our brotherhood.

18 And now ye shal doe right well to giue vs an answere thereunto.

19 And this is the copie of the writing which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 Arius the king of the Spartians, sendeth greeting vnto Onias the high priest:

21 It is found in writing, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham:

22 And now, for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doe well to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written our minde vnto you, our cattell & goods are yours, and yours ours: these things haue we commanded to be shewed vnto you.

24 When Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come forth to fight against him with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Hierusalem, and met them in the land of Hemath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And hee sent spies vnto their tentes, which came againe and tolde him that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night season.

27 Wherefore when the Sunne was gone downe, Jonathas commanded his men to watch all the night, and to be ready with weapons for to fight, & set watchmen round about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathas was ready with his men to the battaile, they feared, & were afraide in their hearts, and kindled fires in their tents, brake vp, and gate them away.

29 Neuertheless, Jonathas and his compayn knewe it not till the morning, for they sawe the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathas folowed vpon them, but he might not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathas departed vnto the Arabians, which were called Zabadei, slue them, and tooke their goods.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorowe all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother tooke his iourney, and came to Ascalon, and to the next strong holdes, departing vnto Joppa, and wan it, 34 (For he heard that they would deliuer the holde to them þ tooke Demetrius part,) wherefore he set men of warre in the citie to keepe it.

35 After this came Jonathas home againe, and called the elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to builde vp the strong holdes in Jurie, 36 And to make the walles of Hierusalem higher, to set vp an high wall betwixt the castle and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men should neither buy nor sell in it.

37 Vpon this they came together for to builde vp the citie, and for so much as the wal vpon the brooke of the East side, called Caphetetath, was fallen downe, they repaired it.

38 And Simon set vp Adiada in Sephela, and made it strong, setting yates and lockes vpon it.

39 Nowe when Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, to be crowned, and to slay the king Antiochus:

40 He was afraide that Jonathas would not suffer him, but fight against him, wherefore hee went about to take Jonathas, and to kill him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Jonathas forth against him to the battaile, with fourtie thousande chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan also:

42 But when Tryphon sawe that Jonathas came with so great an hoste to destroy him, he was afraide:

43 And therfore he receiued him honourably, commended him vnto al his friendes, and gaue him rewards, and commanded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him, as to himselfe:

44 And saide vnto Jonathas, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauaile, seeing there is no warre betwixt vs?

45 Therefore sende them home againe, and choose certaine men to waite vpon thee, and come thou with mee to Ptolomais, for I will giue it thee, with the other strong holdes, men of warre, and their officers, as for me, I must depart, this is onely the cause of my comming.

46 Jonathas beleeued him, and did as he said, putting away his hoste, which went into the land of Juda.

47 Hee kept but three thousande by him, whereof he sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him selfe.

48 Now as soone as Jonathas entred into Ptolomais, the citizens sparred the gates of the citie, and tooke him, and slue all them with the swoorde that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footemen and horsemen into Galilee, and into the greate plaine fielde, to destroy all Jonathas company:

50 But when they knewe that Jonathas was taken, and all they slaine that waited vpon him, they tooke counsell together, and encouraged one another, and came forth against them ready to fight.

51 So when they which followed vpon them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 As for the other, they went into the land of Juda peaceably, and bewayled Jonathas and them that were with him right sore: and Israel made great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathen that were rounde about them, sought to destroy them.

54 For they said, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them, therefore let vs ouercome them, and roote out their name from among them.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 After Ionathas was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17 Of whom Tryphon taking his children & money for the redemption of Ionathas, killeth him and his children.

1 NOw whē Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great host to come into the lande of Juda, and to destroy it,

2 And sawe that the people was in great fearefulnesse and care: hee came vp to Hierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Ye knowe what great battailes I and my brethren, and my fathers house haue fought for the lawe and the sanctuarie, and what maner of troubles wee haue seene.

4 Through occasion whereof, all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 And nowe let me not spare mine owne life in any maner of trouble, for I am no better then my brethren:

6 But will auenge my people and the sanctuarie, our children and our wiues: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 At these wordes the heartes of the people were kindled together,

8 So that they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in steade of Judas and Jonathas thy brethren:

9 Order thou our battaile, and whatsoeuer thou commandest vs, we shall doe it.

10 So hee gathered all the men of warre, making haste to finish all the walles of Hierusalem, which he made strong rounde about.

11 Then sent he Jonathas þ sonne of Absolomus, with a freshe hoste vnto Joppa, which dyoue them out that were in the castle, and remained there himselfe.

12 Tryphon also remoued from Ptolomais with a great armie, to come into the lande of Juda, and Jonathas with him in warde.

13 And Simon pitched his tents at ‖ Adida, before the plaine fielde. ‖ Or, Addida.

14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon mon ſtoode vp in ſteade of his brother Jonathas, and that he would warre againſt him, he ſent meſſengers vnto him, ſaying, 15 Whereas we haue kept Jonathas thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the kings account, concerning the buſineſſe that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore, ſend nowe an hundred talentes of ſiluer, and his two ſonnes for ſuretie (that when he is letten forth, hee ſhall not forſake vs) and wee ſhall ſend him againe.

17 Neuertheleſſe, Simon knewe that hee diſſembled in his wordes: yet commaunded he the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, leaſt the Iſraelites might haue hated him, 18 And ſaide, Becauſe he ſent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathas dead.

19 So Simon ſent him the children, and an hundred talentes, but he diſſembled, & would not let Jonathas goe.

20 Afterwarde came Tryphon into the lande to deſtroy it, and went rounde about by the way that leadeth vnto Dor: but wherſoeuer they went, thither went Simon and his hoſt alſo.

21 Now they that were in the caſtle, ſent meſſengers vnto Tryphon, þ he ſhoulde make haſte to come by the wildernеſſe, & to ſende them victuals.

22 And Tryphon made ready all his horſemen to come the ſame night: neuertheleſſe, it was a very great ſnowe, ſo that he came not becauſe of the ſnowe, but hee remoued and went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he drue nigh Baſcama, hee ſlue Jonathas and his ſonnes there, 24 And then turned for to goe home into his owne land.

25 Then ſent Simon for to fetch his brothers dead coarſe, and buried it in Modin his fathers citie.

26 So all Iſrael bewayled him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the ſepulchre of his father, and his brethren, a building, high to looke vnto, of free ſtone, behinde and before,

28 And ſet vp ſeuen pillars vpon it, one againſt another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And ſet great pillars rounde about them, with armes vpon them, for a perpetual memorie, and carued ſhippes beſide the armes, that they might be ſeene of men ſailing in the ſea.

30 This ſepulchre which he made at Modin, ſtandeth yet vnto this day.

Ioſephus cap. 10. lib. 3.

31 Nowe as Tryphon went forth to walke with the young king Antiochus, he ſlue him traiterouſly, 32 And reigned in his ſtrade, crowned himſelfe king of Aſia, and did much euil in the land.

33 Simon alſo built vp the caſtles in Iurie, making them ſtrong, with high towres, great walles, ports, and lockes, and laide vp victuals in the ſtrong holdes.

34 And Simon choſe certaine men, and ſent them to king Demetrius to deſire him that hee would diſcharge the lande from al bondage, for Tryphon had ſpoyled it very ſore.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king anſwered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 Demetrius the king ſendeth greeting vnto Simon the high prieſt his friende, with the elders and people of þ Iewes:

37 The golden crowne and pretious ſtone that yee ſent vnto vs, haue wee receiued, & are ready to make a ſtedfaſt peace with you, yea, and to write vnto our officers for to releaſe you concerning the things wherein we made you free.

38 And the appointment that wee make with you, ſhalbe firme & ſtable: þ ſtrong holdes which yee haue builded, ſhalbe your owne.

39 As for any ouerſight or fault committed vnto this day, wee forgiue it, and the crowne tare that ye ought vs alſo: and whereas was any other tribute in Hieruſalem, it ſhall now be no tribute:

40 And looke who are meete among you to be in our court, let him be written vp, that there may be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Iſrael, in the hundred and ſeuentieth yeere.

42 And the people of the Iewes began to write in their letters and actes on this maner, In the firſt yeere of Simon the high prieſt, a gouernour & prince of the Iewes.

43 In thoſe dayes went Simon vnto Gaza, and beſieged it rounde about, where he ſet vp ordinance of warre, and wan a towre, which he tooke.

44 So they that gate into the towre, leapt into þ citie, which was in a great feare:

45 Inſomuch that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and climed vp vpon the walles, with their wiues and children, beſeeching Simō to be at one with them, ſaying, 46 O rewarde vs not after our wickednеſſe, but be gratious vnto vs, and we ſhal doe thee ſeruice.

47 Then Simon for very pitie ſwoulde fight no more againſt them, but put thē out of þ citie, & cauſed the houſes, wherein the images were, to bee cleanſed, and ſo entred the citie with Pſalmes of praiſe, giuing thankes vnto the Lord.

48 So when he had caſt al abominations out of þ citie, he ſet ſuch men in it as kept the law of God, & made the citie ſtrong, & buylded a dwelling place for himſelfe.

49 Now when they in the caſtle at Hieruſalem were kept ſo ſtraitely that they could not come forth, nor go into þ countrey, & might neither buy nor ſell, they were very hungry, and many of them famished to death:

50 In so much that they besought Simon to be at one with them, which he granted them: so he put them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from filthinesse.
51 And upon the twentie and three day of the seconde moneth, in the hundred threescore and eleventh yeere, they entred into it with thankesgiuing, and branches of Palme trees, with Harpes, Croudes, Cymbales, and Lutes, singing
Psalmes and songs of praise vnto God, for that the great enemie of Israel was ouercome.
52 And Simon ordeined that the same day shoulde bee kept euery yeere with gladnesse.
53 And made strong the hill of the temple that was beside the castle, where hee dwelt himselfe with his companie.
54 Simon also perceiuing that John his sonne was a mighty man of armes, made him captaine of all the hostes, and ‖Or, Gazaris. caused him to dwel at ‖Gaza.

The xiiii. Chapter.

1 Demetrius is ouercome of Arsaces. 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietnes in Israel. 18 The couenant of friendship with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta, is renued.

1 IN the hundred threescore and twelfth yeere, gathered king Demetrius his hoste, and departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.
2 Nowe when Arsaces the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entred within his borders, hee sent one of his princes to take him aliue, and to bring him vnto him.
3 So hee went and slue Demetrius hoste, tooke himselfe, brought him to Arsaces, which kept him in warde.
4 And all the land of Juda was in rest so long as Simon liued, for hee sought the wealth of his people, therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to doe him worship alway.
5 Simon wan the citie of Joppa also for an hauen towne, and made it an entrance into the Iles of the sea.
6 He enlarged the borders of his people, and conquered them more land:
7 Hee gathered vp many of their people that were prisoners, hee had the dominion of Gaza, Bethsura, and the castle which he cleansed from filthines, and there was no man that resisted him.
8 So that euery man tilled his grounde in peace, the land of Juda, and the trees gaue their fruit and increase.
9 The elders sate all in iudgement, and tooke their deuice for the wealth of the lande, the youngmen put on worship and harnesse vpon them.
10 He prouided victualles for the cities, and made goodly strong holdes of them, so that the fame of his worship was spoken of vnto the end of the world.
11 For he made peace throughout ‖land, and Israel was full of mirth and ioy.
12 Euery man sate vnder his Vine and Figge trees, and there was no man to frap them away.
13 There was none in the land to fight against them, for then the kings were ouercome.
14 He helped those that were in aduersitie among his people, hee was diligent to see the lawe kept: as for such as were vngodly and wicked, hee tooke them away.
15 He set vp the sanctuarie, and increased the holy vessels of the temple.
16 When ‖ Romanes & Spartians had gotten worde that Jonathas was dead, they were right sory:
17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made high priest in his steade, and howe he had wonne the land againe, with the cities in it:
18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renue the friendship and bond of loue, which they had made afore with Judas and Jonathas his brethren.
19 Which writings were reade before the congregation at Hierusalem. And this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent:
20 The Senatours and Citizens of Sparta, send greeting vnto Simon the great priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Iewes their brethren:
21 When your Ambassadours, that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your worship, honour, & prosperous wealth, we were glad of their comming.
22 And haue written the ambassage in the publique records in this maner:
namely that Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, the Iewes ambassadours, are come vnto vs for to renue the olde friendship with vs.
23 Vpon this, the people consented that the men should be honourably intreated, and that the copie of their ambassage should be written in the speciall bookes of the people, for a perpetual memoriall vnto the Spartians: yea, and that wee should send a copie of the same vnto Simon the great priest.
24 After this did Simon send Numenius vnto Rome with a golden shielde of a thousand pound weight, to confirme the friendship with them.
25 Which when the Romanes vnderstood, they said, What thankes shall wee recompense againe vnto Simon and his children?
26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father, hath stablished Israel, and ouercommed their enemies, wherefore they graunted him to be free, and confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.
27 The copie of the writing is this, The eigheighteneth day of the moneth Elul, in the hundred three score and twelfth yeere, in the thirde yeere of Simon the high priest, 28 In the great congregation of the priests, rulers of the people, and elders of the countrey as ‖ Saramel, were these words openly declared:

‖ Or, Hierusalem.

29 For so much as there was much warre in our land, therefore Simon the sonne of Mathathias, come of the children of Jarib, and his brethren, put themselues in perill, and resisted the enemies of their people, that their sanctuarie and lawe might be maintained, and did their people great worship.

30 Jonathas in like maner, after that hee had gouerned his people, and bene their high Priest, died, and is eth buried beside his elders.

31 After that wonlde their enemies haue troden their holy things vnderfoote, destroyed their lande, and vtterly wasted their sanctuarie.

32 Then Simon withstode them, and fought for his people, spent much of his owne money, weaponed the valiat men of his people, gaue them wages, 33 Made strong the cities of Juda, with Bethsura that lieth vpon the borders of Jurie, where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime, and set Jewes there for to keepe it.

34 He made fast Joppa also, which lieth vpon the sea, and ‖ Gaza that bordereth vpon Azotus, where the enemies dwelt afore, and there he set Jewes to keepe it: and whatsoeuer was meete for the subduing of the aduersaries, that layed he therein.

‖ Or, Gazara.

35 Now when the people sawe the noble actes of Simon, and what worship hee purposed to doe for them, his godly behauiour and faithfulnesse which he kept vnto them, and howe hee sought by all wayes the wealth of his people, breanse he did all this, therefore they chose him to be their prince and high priest,

36 And in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their land, and they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Hierusalem in the castle, where they went out, and defiled all things that were about the sanctuarie, and did great harme vnto cleannesse:

37 And Simon put men of the Jewes in it, for the defence of the land and citie, and set vp the walles of Hierusalem.

38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthood

39 For these causes, made him his friende, and did him great worship:

40 For he heard that the Romanes called the Jewes their friendes, louers, and brethren: how honourably they receiued Simons ambassadours:

41 How the Jewes and priestes consented that hee should be their prince & high priest perpetually, till God raised vp the true Prophet:

42 And that he should be their captaine to care for the sanctuarie, and to set officers vpon the workes thereof, ouer the lande, ouer the weapons, ouer the houses of defence, to make prouision for the holy things:

43 And to be obeyed of euerie man, and al the writings of the lande to be made in his name, that hee should be clothed in purple and golde:

44 And that it should be lawfull for none of the people nor priestes to breake any of these things, to withstand his wordes, nor to call any congregation in the lande without him: that he should be clothed in purple, and weare a coller of golde.

45 And if there were any which disobeyed or brake this ordinance, that he should be punished.

46 So all the people consented to allowe Simon, and to doe according to these wordes:

47 Simon also himselfe tooke it vpon him, and was content to be the high priest, the captaine and prince of the Jewes and priestes, and to gouerne them all.

48 And they commanded to make this writing in tables of hasse, and fasten it vnto the wall that compasseth the sanctuarie, in an open place:

49 And to lay vp a copie of the same in the treasurie, that Simon and his posteritie might haue it.

The xv. Chapter.

The Romanes write letters vnto kings and nations in the defence of the Jewes.

1 MOreouer King Antiochus ſ sonne of Demetrius, sent letters from the Iles of the sea, vnto Simon the high priest and prince of the Jewes, and to all the people, ſ Or, Sonne.

2 Concerning these wordes, Antiochus the king sendeth greeting vnto Simon the high priest, and to the people of the Jewes.

3 For so much as certaine wicked men haue gotten the kingdome of our progenitours, I haue purposed to chalenge the Realme againe, and to restore it to the old estate: Wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and made shippes of warre,

4 That I may goe thorow the countrey, and be auenged of them which haue destroyed our lande, and wasted many cities in my realme.

5 And therefore now I make thee free also from all the tributes wherof al kings my progenitours haue discharged thee, and from other customes wherefrom they haue released thee, whatsoeuer they be.

6 Yea, I giue thee leane to smite money of thine owne within thy land.

7 As for Hierusalem, I will that it be holy and free, and al the weapons and houses of defence which thou hast builded, and keepest in thine hands, shalbe thine:

8 Whereas any thing is or shalbe owing vnto the king, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth, for euermore.

9 And when we haue obteined our kingdome, we shall doe thee, thy people, and the temple great worship: so that your honour shalbe knowen throughout the whole world.

10 In the hundred threescore and fourtenth yere, went Antiochus into his fathers lande, and all the men of warre came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So the king Antiochus followed vpon him, but he fled vnto Dora, which lyeth by the sea side:

12 For he sawe that there was mischiefe comming vnto him, and that his power had forsaken him.

13 Then came Antiochus vnto Dora, with an hundred and twentie thousande men of armes on foote, & eight thousand horsemen: so yee compassed the citie rounde about, and the shippes came by the sea.

14 Thus they vexed the citie by lande and by water, in so much that they suffered no man to go in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and they that had bene with him, from the citie of Rome, hauing letters written vnto the kings and prounces, wherein were contened these wordes,

16 Lucius the consull of Rome, sendeth greeting vnto Ptolome the king:

17 The Ambassadours of the Iewes our friendes, being sent from Simon ꝑ high priest, and from the people of the Iewes, came vnto vs for to renue the old friendship and bond of lone,

18 Brought a shield of golde, weighing a thousand pounde.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kings & prounces to doe them no harme, nor to take part against them, their cities, nor countreyes, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.

20 And wee were content to receiue of them the shielde.

21 If there bee any wicked persons therefore fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon ꝑ high priest, that hee may punish them according to their owne lawe.

22 The same wordes wrote the Romanes also vnto Demetrius the king, to Attalus, Araba, Arsaces, 23 And to all regions: as Samsames, to them of Spartia, ‖Delo, ‖Mydo, Sicyon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycia, Alicarnassem, & to the Rhodes, to Phaselidis, Coo, Sida, Arado, Cosyna, Gnidum, to Cyprus, and Cyrene.

24 And of euery letter they sent a copie to Simon the high Priest.

25 So Antiochus the king brought his host vnto Doza the seconde time, to take it, where he made diuers ordinances of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that hee should not goe either in or out.

26 Then sent Simon vnto Antiochus two thousand chosen men to helpe him, with gold, siluer, and other plenteous things.

27 Neuertheless hee would not receiue them, but brake all the couenant which he made with Simon afore, and withdrewe himselfe from him.

28 He sent Athenobius also a friend of his vnto Simon, for to reason with him, saying, Ye withhold from mee Joppa & Gaza, with the castle that is at Hierusalem, which are cities of my realme:

29 Whole borders ye haue destroyed, and done great euill in the lande, hauing the dominion in many other places of my kingdome:

30 Wherefore, deliuer now ꝑ cities which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places that ye haue rule vpon without the borders of Iurie:

31 Or else giue mee fiue hundred talents of siluer, yea, and for the harme that ye haue done in the cities, and for the tributes of the same, other fiue hundred talents: if no, wee shall come and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Hierusalem, and when hee sawe the great worship and honour of Simon, in golde, siluer, and so great plentie of ornaments, hee marueiled: & told Simon as the king commanded him.

33 Then answered Simon, and sayde vnto him, As for vs, we haue neither taken other mens lands, nor withholde them: but only our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certaine time.

34 This heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in processe of time.

35 And whereas thou complainest concerning Joppa and Gaza, they did great harme to our people, and in our land, yet will we giue an hundred talents for them. Neuertheless, Athenobius answered him not one word:

36 But turned againe wrathfully vnto the king, and told him all these wordes, and the great dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: and the king was very angry.

37 And in the meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Orthosias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him an host of footemen and horsemen, 39 Commanding him to remoue the host toward Iurie, and to builde vp the citie of Cedron, to make vp the portes, and to warre against the people of the Iewes: as for ꝑ king himselfe, he followed vpon Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to vexe the people, to tread downe Iurie, to take the people prisoners, to slay them.

41 And to builde vp Cedron: where he set horsemen, and other men of warre, that they might come forth, and go through the streetes of Iurie, like as the king had commaunded him.

The xvi. Chapter.

(Cedebeus the captaine of Antiochus host, is put to flight of the sonnes of Simon.

1 THen came vp John from Gaza, & told Simon his father what Cendebeus had done among their people.

2 Vpon this called Simon two of his eldest sonnes, Judas and John, and saide vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vp vnto this day, foughten against the enemies of Israel: and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Israel oftentimes.

3 And now, forasmuch as I am olde, and ye by Gods goodnesse are of a sufficient age, be ye in stead of me and my brother, to go forth and fight for our people: and the helpe of God bee with you.

4 So there chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey, with horsemen also which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine field, and behold, a mightie great hoste came against them, both of footemen and horsemen: nowe was there a water broke betwixt them.

6 And John remoued the hoste towarde them: and when he saw that the people was afraid to go ouer the water brooke, hee went ouer first himselfe: and the men seeing this, followed him.

7 Then John set his horsemen and footemen in order, the one by the other: for their enemies horsemen were very many.

8 But when they blewe vp the priests trumpets, Cedebeus fled with his host: whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to their strong holdes.

9 Judas also Johns brother was wounded at the same time, and John followed still vpon their enemies, till hee came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had builded.

10 The enemies fled also vnto the towres that were in the fieldes of Azotus, and those did John burne vp with fire: thus there were slaine two thousande men of them, and John turned againe peaceably into Iurie.

11 And in the fielde of Jericho was Ptolome the sonne of Abobus made captaine: which because he had abundance of siluer and gold,

12 (For he had married the daughter of Simon the high Priest.)

13 Waxed proude in his minde, and thought to conquer the land, imagining falsehood against Simon & his sonnes, to destroy them.

14 Now as Simon was going about throughout the cities that were in the countrey of Iurie, and caring for them, hee came downe to Jericho with Mathathias and Judas his sonnes, in the hundred, thirtieth and seuenteenth yeere, in the eleuenth moneth called Sabat.

15 Then Ptolome the sonne of Abobus receiued them; but with deceite, into a strong house of his called Dochus, which he had builded, where hee made them a banket, and had his men there.

16 So when Simon and his sonnes were merry, and had dronken well, Ptolome stoode vp, with his men, whome hee had bid there, and tooke their weapons, entered into the banket house, and slew Simon with his two sonnes, and certaine of his seruants.

17 Such great vnfaithfulnesse did Ptolome in Israel, and recompensed euill for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolome these things, & sent vnto king Antiochus, requiring him that he should send him an host to helpe him: and so should he deliuer him the land, with the cities and tributes of the same.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gaza, for to take John, and wrote vnto the captaines to come to him, and he should giue them siluer, golde, and rewardes.

20 And to Hierusalem hee sent other, to take it, and the sanctuarie.

21 Then ranne there one before, & tolde John in Gaza, that his father and his brethren were slayne, and howe that Ptolome had sent to slay him also.

22 When John heard this, hee was sore abashed, and layd handes on them that were come to destroy him, and slewe them: for he knewe that they went about to kill him.

23 As for other things concerning John, of his warres, of his noble actes, whereinne he behaued him selfe manfully, of the building of walles which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 They are written in the Chronicles of his priesthood, from the time forth that hee was made high Priest after his father.

The ende of the first booke of the Machabees.

The second booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

1 An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Hierusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherin they exhort them to giue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hidde in the pit. 24 The prayer of Nehemias.

1 THe brethren of the Iewes which be at Hierusalem, and in the lande of Iurie, wish vnto their brethren of the Iewes that are throughout Egypt, health & peace.

2 God be gracious vnto you, and thinke vpon his conenant that hee made with Abraham, Isahac and Iacob, his faithfull seruants:

3 And giue you all such an heart, that ye may loue and serue him, yea, and performe his will with an whole heart, & a willing minde:

4 Yee open your hearts vnto his lawe, & in his commaundements, and send you peace,

5 Heare your prayers, be at one with you, and neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 For so much as now wee here be praying for you,

7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and nine yeere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in ꝑ trouble and violence that came vnto vs in those yeeres, after that Iason departed out of the holy land and kingdome,

8 They burnt vp the portes, and shedde innocent blood: then made we our prayer vnto the Lord, and were heard. wee offered vp sacrifices & fine flowre, & lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 * And nowe come yee vnto the feast of tabernacles, in the moneth Casleu. Leuit. 23. 24. ‖ November.

10 In the hundred fourescore and eighteene yeere, the people that was at Hierusalem, and in Iurie, the counsaile, and Iudas himselfe, sent this wholesome salutation vnto Aristobulus king Ptolomes master, which came of the generation of the anoynted Priests, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt:

11 Insomuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, no lesse at all then if we had vanquished the king in battaile.

12 For when hee, with those that had fought against the holy citie, did set vpon Persia:

13 For as he was in Persia, namely, the captaine with the great hoste, hee perished in the Temple of Naneas, being deceiued through the deuice of Naneas Priestes.

14 For when Antiochus, as hee that should marrie with her, came, and his friends with him, into the place to receiue vp name of bowzie the money which the Priestes of Naneas had set forth, 15 He entred with a small companie into the compasse of the Temple, and so they shut the Temple.

16 Now when Antiochus entred by opening the prime entrance of the Temple, the priests stoned the captaine to death, hewed them in pieces that were with him, smote off their heads, and threwe them out.

17 In all things God bee praysed, which hath deliuered the wicked into our handes to be punished.

18 Whereas wee are nowe purposed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpon the twentie and fifth day of the moneth Casleu, wee thought necessarie to certifie you thereof, that ye also might keepe the tabernacles feast day, and the day of the fire, which was giuen vs whē Nehemias offered, after that hee had set vp the Temple and the altar.

19 For what time as our fathers were led away into Persia, the Priestes which then sought the honour of God, tooke the fire priuily from the altar, & hid it in a valley, where as was a deepe dry pit: and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknowen to euery man.

20 Now after many yeeres, when it pleased God that Nehemias should bee sent from the king of Persia, he sent the childrens childre of those Priests which had hid the fire, to seeke it: & as they tolde vs, they found no fire, but thick water.

21 Then commanded he them to drawe it vp, and to bring it him, and ꝑ offerings withall. Nowe when the sacrifices were layde on and ordered, Nehemias commaunded the Priests to sprinkle them & the wood with water.

22 When this was done, and the time come that the Sunne shone which afore was hid in the clonde, there was a great fire kindled, insomuch that euery man marueiled.

23 Nowe all the Priestes prayed while the sacrifice was a making: Ionas thas prayed first, and the other gaue answere.

24 And Nehemias prayer was after this maner, O Lord God, maker of al things, thou fearefull and strong, thou righteous and mercifull, thou that art only a gracious king,

25 Onely liberal, onely iust, almightie and euerlasting, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, thou that hast chosen the fathers, and halowed them fauourably:

26 Receiue the offering for thy whole people of Israel, preserue thine owne portion, and halowe it,

27 Gather those together that are scattered red abroade from vs, deliuer them that are vnder the heathens bondage, looke vpon them which are despised and abhorred: that the heathen may know and see how that thou onely art God, which art our God.

28 Punish them that oppresse & proudly put vs to dishonour.

29 Set thy people againe in thine holie place, like as * Moses hath spoken. *Deut.30.5.

30 And the Priestes sang Psalmes of thanksgiuing, so long as the sacrifice endured.

31 Nowe when the sacrifice was burnt, Nehemias commanded the great stones to be sprinckled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame of them also: but it was consumed through the light that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the king of Persia, that in the place where the Priests which were led awap, had hid fire, there appeared water, and that Nehemias and his companie had purified the sacrifices withall.

34 Then the king, considering and pondering the matter diligently, inclosed the place, & consecrated a Temple, to proue the thing that was done:

35 And when he found it so in déede, hee gaue the Priestes many gifts, & diuers rewardes, pea, he tooke them with his owne hand, and gaue them.

36 And Nehemias called the same place * Nephthar, which is as much to say, as a clensing: but many men call it Nephi.

a Ephthan, which is to say, a shining: it is also called Nephi, or Nephthar, which is a cleansing.

The ii. Chapter.

How Ieremie hid the tabernacle, the arke, and the altar in the hill. 11 Of the fiue bookes of Iason conteyned in one.

1 IT is found also in the * writings of Jeremie the Prophet, that he commanded them which were caried awap, to take fire, as it is saide afore. *Ier.29.8.

2 Hee commaunded them also that they should not forget the law and commandements of the Lorde, and that they should not erre in their mindes, when they see images of siluer and golde, with their ornaments.

3 These and such other things commanded he them, and exhorted the that they should not let the lawe of God go out of their hearts.

4 It is written also, how the Prophet at the commandement of God, charged them to take the tabernacle and the arke with them: and hee went forth vnto the mountaine where Moses climed vp, and saw the heritage of God.

5 * And when Jeremie came there, hee found an open caue, wherein he layd the tabernacle, the arke, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the doore. *Deut.34.1.

6 Therecame certaine men together also, following him to marke the place, but they could not find it.

7 Which when Jeremie perceiued, hee reproued them, saying, As for that place it shalbe vnknowen, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and receiue them vnto mercie.

8 Then shall God shewe them these things, and the maiestie of the Lord shall appeare, and the cloude also, like as it was shewed vnto Moses: and like as when Solomon desired that the place might be honourably sanctified, and it was shewed him.

9 For hee being a wise man, handled honourably & wisely, * offering vnto God in the halowing of the Temple when it was finished. 2.*Reg.8.5.

10 * And like as when Moses prayed vnto the Lorde, the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering: euen so prayed * Solomon also, and the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the whole burnt offering. *Leuit.9.24. 2.*Chro.*7.2.

11 And Moses said, * Because the sinne offering was not eaten, therefore it is consumed. *Leuit.10.18.

12 In like maner Solomon kept the dedication or halowing eight dayes.

13 In the annotations and writings of ‖ Jeremie were these things put also: and how he made a librarie, and howe he gathered out of all countreys the bookes of the kings, and of the Prophets, and of Dauid, and the Epistles of the kings concerning the holy gifts. ‖Some reade, Nehemias.

14 Euen so Judas also, looke what hee learned by experience of warre, and such things as haue happened vnto vs, hee gathered them all together, and so wee haue them by vs.

15 If ye now desire to haue the same, send some bodie to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you: therefore ye shall do well if yee keepe the same dayes.

17 We hope also that the God which deliuered his people, and gaue them all the heritage, kingdome, priesthode, and sanctuarie, 18 * That he promised them in the lawe, shall shortly haue mercie vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place, for he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place. *Deut.30.3.

19 As concerning Judas Machabeus, & his brethren, the purification of ϸ great Temple, the dedication of the altar:

20 Pea, and of the warres that concerne noble Antiochus, & Eupator his sonne:

21 And the miracles shewed from heauen by the valiant acts of those which defended the Jewes religion, so that a fewe ran through the whole countrey, & draue away the barbarous armies:

22 Repayed againe the Temple that was spoke of throughout all the world, deliuered the citie, doing their best, that the lawe of the Lorde which was put downe, might with all tranquilitie bee restored againe vnto the Lorde that was so so mercifull vnto them:

23 As touching Jason also of Cyrene, we haue vndertaken cõpendiously to bring into one booke the things that were cõprehended of him in fiue.
24 For wee considering the multitude of the bookes, and howe hard it should bee for them that shoulde meddle with stories and acts, and that because of so diuers matters:
25 Haue vndertaken so to comprehende the storyes, that such as are disposed to reade, might haue pleasure and pastime therein, and that they which are diligent in such things, might the better thinke vpon them: yea, and that whosoeuer reade them, might haue profite thereby.
26 Neuertheless, we our selues that haue medled with this matter, for the shortening of it, haue taken no small labour, but great diligence, watchings, and trauaile.
27 Like as they that make a feast, would fayne do other men pleasure: euen so we also for many mens sakes, are very well content to take the labour:
28 Whereas we may shortly comprehend the things that other men haue truely written.
29 For he that buildeth an house anewe, must prouide for many things to the whole building: but he ꝑ painteth it afterward, seeketh but onely ꝑ is comely, meet, & conuenient to garnish it with all.
30 Euen so doe we also in like maner: and why? hee that beginneth first to write a storie, must with his vnderstanding gather the matter together, set his wordes in order, & diligẽtly seeke out euery part.
31 But he that afterward will shorten it, vseth few wordes, and toucheth not the matter at the largest: let this be sufficient for a prologue.
32 Now will we begin to shewe the matter: for it is but a foolish thing to make a long prologue, & to be short in the storie it selfe.

The iii. Chapter.

1 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the kings of the Gentiles. 6 Simon vttereth what treasure is in the Temple.

1 WHat time as the holy citie was inhabited in all peace & wealth, and when the lawes were yet very well kept: for so was it ordeyned through the godlinesse of Onias the high priest, and other godly men that were enemies to wickednesse,
2 It came thereto, that euen the kings and princes them selues did the place great worship, and garnished the temple with great gifts:
3 Insomuch that Seleucus king of Asia, of his owne rents bare all the costs belonging to the seruice of the offerings.
4 Then Simon of the tribe of Beniamin, being ruler of the Temple, vpon a variance risen betweene him and the high priest for wickednesse that was done in the citie,
5 For that he could not ouercome Onias, he gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Tharsia, which then was chiefe lorde in Coelosyria, and Phenice,
6 And told him that the treasurie in Hierusalem was full of innumerable money, and howe that the common goods which belong not vnto ꝑ offerings, were exceeding great also: yea, and howe it were possible that all these might come vnder the kings power.
7 Nowe when Apollonius had shewed the king of the money, as it was tolde him: the king called for Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement to bring him the same money.
8 Immediately Heliodorus toke his iourney, but vnder a colour as though he woulde goe through Coelosyria and Phenice to visite the cities, but his purpose was to fulfill the kings pleasure.
9 So when he came to Hierusalem, and was louingly receiued of the high Priest into the citie, he told what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comming: he asked also if it were so in deede.
10 Then the high Priest tolde him, that there was such money layde vp for the vpholding of widowes and fatherlesse children,
11 And how that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias, a noble man, & that of all the money (and not as that wicked Simon had reported) there were foure hundred talents of siluer, and two hundred of gold:
12 Yea, and that it were vnpossible for those mens meaning to be deceiued, that had put assured confidence in the holinesse of the place, and in the maiestie and vndoubted saferie of the Temple, which is had in worship throwe the whole worlde, for the maintenance and honour of the same.
13 Wherevnto Heliodorus answered, that the king had commaunded him in any wise to bring him the money.
14 So at the day appointed, Heliodorus entered into the Temple to order this matter: wherefore there was no small feare throughout the whole citie.
15 The Priests fell downe before the altar in their vestments, and called vnto heauen vpõ him which had made a law concerning stuffe giuen to keepe, that they should bee safely preserued for such as committed them vnto keeping.
16 Then whoso had looked the high priest in the face, it woulde haue grieued his heart: for his countenance and the changing of his colour, declared the inwarde sorow of his minde.
17 The man was al in heauines, & his body in feare: wherby they that looked vpõ him might perceiue ꝑ griefe of his heart.
18 The other people also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come into confusion:

19 The women came together through ꝑ streetes with hearp clothes about their breastes: the virgins also that were kept in, ran to Onias, some of them ran to the gates, some vp vpon the walles, other some looked out at the windowes, 20 Yea, they all held vp their handes toward heauen, and prayed.
21 A miserable thing was it to looke vpon the commō people, and the high Priest, being in such trouble.
22 But they besought almightie God, that the goods which were committed vnto the might bee kept whole for those ꝑ had deliuered thē vnto their keeping.
23 Neuertheless, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doe, that performed he in the same place, he himselfe personally being about ꝑ treasurie with his men of warre.
24 But the spirite of almightie God shewed himselfe openly, so that all they which presumed to obey Heliodorus, fel through the power of God, into a great fearefulnesse and dread.
25 For there appeared vnto thē an horse, with a terrible man sitting vpon him, decked in goodly arap, and the horse smote at Heliodorus with his forefete: nowe he that sate vpon the horse had harnesse of golde vpon him.
26 Moreouer, there appeared two fayre and beautifull young men, of notable strength, in goodly arap, which stoode by him, scourged him on both the sides, and gaue him many stripes without ceasing.
27 With that fell Heliodorus suddenly vnto the ground: so they tooke him vp, being couered about with great darkenesse, and bare him out vpon a beere.
28 Thus he that came with so many runners and inē of warre into the said treasurie, was borne out, whereas no man might helpe him, being destitute of harnesse and weapons: and so the power of God was manifest and knowen.
29 He lay still dumbe also by the power of God, destitute of all hope and life.
30 And they prayed the Lord, that he had shewed his power vpon his place and Temple. Which a litle afore was full of feare and trouble, and that though the reuelation of the almightie Lord it was filled with ioy and gladnesse.
31 Then certaine of Heliodorus frendes prayed Onias, that in al haste he would cal vpō God, to grant him his life which was ginning vp the ghost.
32 So the high Priest, fearing least ꝑ king should suspect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus some a euil, he offered an offering for his health.
33 Now when the high Priest had obtayned his petition, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stoode beside Heliodorus, saying, Thāke Onias the high Priest: for, for his sake hath the Lord graunted thee thy life.
34 Therefore seeing that God hath scourged thee, giue him prayse and thankes, & shewe euery man his might and power. And when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no more.
35 So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto him which had graunted him his life, thanked Onias, tooke his host, & went againe to the king.
36 Then testified he vnto euery man, of ꝑ great workes of God, that hee had seene with his eyes.
37 And when the king asked Heliodorus who were meete to bee sent yet once againe to Hierusalem, he sayd, 38 If thou hast any enemy or aduersary vnto thy realme, sende him thither, and thou shalt haue him punished, if hee escape with his life: for in that place no doubt there is a speciall power and working of God.
39 For hee that dwelleth in heauen, visiteth, and defendeth that place, and all that come to doe it harme, he punisheth, and plageth them.
40 This is nowe the matter concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasurie at Hierusalem.

a In working some trecherie or sorcerie against him.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7 Iason desiring the office of the high Priest, corrupted the king with rewardes.

1 THis Simon nowe (of whome wee spake afore) being a bewraper of the money, and of his owne natural countrey, reported the worst of Onias, as though hee had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and as though hee had bene a bringer vp of euill.
2 Thus was he not ashamed to call him an enemy of the realme, that was so faithfull an ouerseer and defender of the citie and of his people, yea, and so feruent in the lawe of God.
3 But when the malice of Simon increased so farre, that though his frendes there were certaine masslaughters committed:
4 Onias considered the perill that might come through this strife, and howe that Appollonius ꝑ chiefe lord in Coelosyria & Phenice was all set vpon tyrannie, & Simons malice increased the same,
5 He gate him to the king, not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that by himselfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude:
6 For he sawe it was not possible to liue in peace, neither Simon to leaue off frō his foolishnes, except the king did looke thereto.
7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, which is called the noble, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured to be high Priest:
8 For he came vnto the king, and promised him three hundred and threescore talentes of siluer, and of the other rentes fourescore talentes.
9 Besides this, hee promised him yet an hundred and fiftie more, if he might haue licence licence to set vp a schole and an exercise of weapons, and that hee might call them of Hierusalem, Antiochians.

10 Which when the king had graunted, & he had gotten the superiorite, hee began immediatly to drawe his kinsme to the customs of the heathen.

11 Put downe the things that the Iewes had set vp of loue by Iohn, the father of Eupolemus, which was sent Ambassadour vnto Rome, for to make the bonde of friendship and loue, he put downe all the lawes and liberties of the Iewes, & set vp the wicked statutes.

12 For when hee had made a schole of fence vnder the castle, hee drewe all the chiefest prong men on his side, and trapned them to weare [a] hattes.

a These hats were tokens of wantonnesse that the Gentiles vsed.

13 And there was such a feruent desire to come to the maners of the heathen, and to take vp new fräge fashions, brought in through the vngratious and vnheard wickednesse of Iason, which should not be called a priest, but an vngodly person:

14 Insomuch that the priestes were now no more occupied about the seruice of the altar: but despised the Temple, regarded not the offerings, yea, gaue their diligence to learne to fight, to wrestle, to leape, to daunce, and to cast the stone:

15 Not setting by the honour of the fathers, but liked the glorie of the Greekes best of all:

16 For the which they strone perilously, and were gridie to followe their statutes, yea their lust was in all things to be like them, which afore were their enemies and destroyers.

17 Howbeit, to doe wickedly against the law of God, shal not escape vnpunished: but of this we shall speake hereafter.

18 What time as the ‡ Olympian sports were plaied at Tyrus, the king himselfe being present, ‡ These were kept euery fifteth yere.

19 This vngratious Iason sent wicked men, bearing from them of Hierusalem (which nowe were called Antiochians) three hundred drachmes of siluer for an offering to Hercules: these had they that caried them desired, vnder such a fashion as though they should not haue bene offered, but bestowed to other vses.

20 Neuertheles, hee that sent them, sent them to the intent that they should be offered vnto Hercules: but because of those that were present, they were giuen as to the making of shippes.

21 And Appollonius the sonne of Menesthens was sent into Egypt, because of the noble men of king Ptolome Philometor. Nowe when Antiochus perceiued that he was put out from medling in the realme, he sought his owne profite, departed from thence, came to Ioppa, and then to Hierusalem, b From his honour and gaines.

22 Where hee was honourably receiued of Iason, and of the citie, & was brought in with torch light, & with great praise: and so hee turned his hoste vnto Phenices.

23 After three yeres, Iason sent Menelaus (the foresaide Simons brother) to beare the money vnto the king, and to bring him answere of other necessarie matters.

24 But he, when he was commended to the king for magnifying of his power, turned the priesthood vnto himselfe, laying vp three hundred talents of siluer for Iason.

25 So when hee had gotten commandementes from the king, he came hauing nothing that becommeth a priest, but bearing the stomacke of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde brute beast.

26 Then Iason, which had deceiued his owne brother, seeing that hee himselfe was beguiled also, was faine to flee into the lande of the Ammonites.

27 And Menelaus gat the dominion: but as for the money that hee had promised vnto the king, he did nothing therein, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it of him.

28 For Sostratus was the man that gathered the customes: wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Thus was Menelaus put out of the Priesthood, and Lysimachus his brother came in his stede, and Sostratus left Crates ouerseer of the [c] Cyprians.

c That is, of them that measured the come

30 It happened in the meane season, that the Tharsians and Mallotians made insurrection, because they were giuen for a present vnto Antiochis the kings concubine.

31 Then came the king in all haste to still them againe, and to pacifie the matter, leauing Andronicus there to bee his deputie, as one meete therefore.

32 Now Menelaus espying that hee had gotten a right conuenient time, stole certaine vessels of golde out of the Temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present: and some he sold at Tyrus, and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knewe of a surete, he reproued him: but he kept him in a sanctuarie beside Daphnis, that lieth by Antioche.

34 Wherefore Menelaus gat him to Andronicus, and praied him that he would slay Onias. So when he came to Onias, he counselled him craftily to come out of the sanctuarie, giuing him his hande with an othe (howbeit hee suspect him) and then he slewe Onias, without any regarde of righteousnesse.

35 For the which cause not onely the Iewes, but other nations also, tooke indignation, and were displeased for the vnrighteous death of so godly a man.

36 And when the king was come againe from Cilicia, the Iewes and certaine of the Greekes went vnto him, complaining for the vnrighteous death of Onias.

37 Yea, Antiochus himselfe was sory in his minde for Onias, so that it pitied him: and he wept, remembring his sobernesse, berneſſe, and maiſterly behauiour,

38 Wherefore hee was ſo kindled in his minde, that he commanded Andronicus to be ſtripped out of his purple clothing, and ſo to be led throughout the citie, yea, and the vngratious man to be ſlaine in the ſame place where he committed his wickednesſe vpon Onias: thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as hee had deſerued.
39 Now when Iaſimachus had done many wicked deeds in the Temple through the counſaile of Menelaus, and the voyce came abroade: the multitude gathered them together againſt Iaſimachus, for he had carried out nowe much golde.
40 So when the people arose, and were full of diſpleaſure, Iaſimachus armed three thouſand vnthrifts to defend him, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, which was growen both in age and woodneſſe.
41 They therefore ſeeing the enterpriſe of Iaſimachus, caught vp, ſome ſtones, ſome blockes endes, and ſome handfuls of duſt that was next at hand, & threwe them vpon the rebelles of Iaſimachus band that had ſet vpon them.
42 Thus there were many of them wounded, ſome being ſlaine, and all the other chaſed away: but as for the wicked churchrobber him ſelfe, they killed him beſide the treaſurie.
43 Of theſe matters therefore there was kept a court againſt Menelaus.
44 Now when the king came to Tyrus, three men that were ſent frō the Senate, pleaded him guiltie before the king.
45 But Menelaus being nowe convict, went & promiſed Ptolome the ſonne of Dorymenes to giue him much money, if he would perſuade the king toward him.
46 So Ptolome went to the king into a court, whereas hee was ſet to coole him, and brought him out of that minde:
47 Inſomuch that hee diſcharged Menelaus frō the accuſations, that notwithſtanding was cauſe of all miſchiefe: and thoſe poore men, which if they had tolde their cauſe, yea, before the Scythians, they ſhould haue bene iudged innocent, them he condemned to death.
48 Thus were they ſoone punished, which followed vpon the matter for the citie, for the people, and for the holy veſſels.
49 Wherefore they alſo of Tyrus, moued with hatred of that wicked deede, cauſed them to be very honourably buried.
50 And ſo through the couetouſnes of the that were in power, Menelaus remained ſtill in authoritie, encreaſing in malice, to the hurt of the citizens.

The v. Chapter.

2 Of the ſignes and tokens ſeene in Hieruſalem. 6 Of the end and office of Iaſon. 11 The purſuite of Antiochus againſt the Iewes.

1 ABout the ſame time Antiochus vndertooke his ſecond voyage into Egypt.
2 And then were there ſeene throughout all the citie of Hieruſalem fourtie dayes long, horſemen running in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bandes of ſpeare-men,
3 And as troupes of horſmen ſet in aray, incountering & courſing one againſt an other, with ſhaking of thields, and multitude of darts, and drawing of ſwords, and ſhooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour ſeene, and harneſſe of all ſorts.
4 Wherefore euery man prayed, that thoſe tokens might turne to good.
5 Now when there was gone forth a falſe rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Iaſon tooke a thouſand men, and came ſuddainly vpon the citie: the citizens raiſed vnto the walles: at the laſt was the citie taken, and Menelaus fled into the caſtle.
6 As for Iaſon, hee ſpared not his owne citizens in the ſlaughter, neither conſidered hee what great euill it were, to deſtroy the proſperitie of his owne kinſmen: but did as one that had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his friendes.
7 For all this gate he not the ſuperiority, but at the laſt receyued confuſion for his malice, and fled againe like a bagabond into the land of the Ammonites.
8 Finally, for a reward of his wickednesſe, hee was accuſed before Aretha the king of the Arabians, inſomuch that hee was faine to flee from citie to citie, being deſpiſed of euery man as a forſaker of the lawes, and an abominable perſon: and at the laſt, as an open enemie of his owne naturall countrey and of the citizens, he was driuen into Egypt.
9 Thus hee that afore put many out of their owne native lande, periſhed from home himſelfe: he went to Lacedemon, thinking there to haue gotten ſuccour by reaſon of kinred.
10 And hee that afore had caſt many one out vnburied, was throwen out himſelfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: ſo that he neither enioyed the burial of a ſtranger, neither was he partaker of his fathers ſepulchre.
11 Now when this was done, the king ſuſpected that the Iewes would haue fallen from him, wherefore he came in a great diſpleaſure out of Egypt, & tooke the citie by violence.
12 He commanded his men of warre alſo, that they ſhould kill and not ſpare: but ſlay downe ſuch as withſtoode them, or climed vp vpon the houſes.
13 Thus was there a great ſlaughter of yong men, olde men, women, children, and virgins.
14 In three dayes were there ſlaine foure ſcore thouſand, fourtie thouſand put in priſon: and there were as many ſolde as were ſlaine.

15 Yet

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy Temple of all the world, Menelaus, that traitour to the lawes and to his owne naturall cõtrey, being his guide.
16 And with his wicked hands toke the holy vessels, which other kings and cities had giuen thither for the garnishing and honour of the place, them toke he in his handes vnworthily, and defiled them.
17 So mad was Antiochus, that he cõsidered not how that God was not a litle wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which such confusion came vpon that place.
18 And why? if it had not happened them to haue bene lapped in many sinnes, this Antiochus as soone as he had come, had suddenly bene punished and shutte out of his presumption, * like as Heliodorus was, whome Seleucus the king sent to rob the treasurie.
19 Neuertheles, God hath not chosen the people for the places sake: but the place for the peoples sake.
20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shall it enioy the wealth of them: and like as it was now forsaken in the wrath of almightie God: so when the great God is reconciled, it shalbe set vp in high worship againe.
21 So when Antiochus had taken a thousand and eight hundred talents out of the temple, he gate him to Antioche in al the haste, thinking in his pride that he might make men saile vpo the dry land, and to goe vpon the sea, such an high minde had he.
22 He left deputies there to vexe the people: at Hierusalem left he Philip a Phrygian, in maners more cruel then himselfe that set him there:
23 At Garizim he left Andronicus and Menelaus, which were more grieuous to the citizens then other.
24 Nowe as he was thus set in malice against the Iewes, he sent Apollonius, a cruel prince, with an armie of twentie and two thousande, commanding him to slay those that were of perfect age, and to sell the women, and the ponger sort.
25 When he came now to Hierusalem, he fayned peace, and kept him still vntil the Sabboth day: and then he commanded his men to take them to their weapons, for the Iewes kept holy day:
26 And so he slue all them that were gone forth to the open plaine, running here & there thorow y citty with his men weaponed, and murdered a great number.
27 But Iudas Machabeus, which was the * tenth, fledde into the wildernesse, led his life there with his companie among wild beasts, and vpon the mountains, dwelling there, and eating herbs, least they should be partakers of the filthinesse.

2. Mac. 3. 24.

*Of them that fled for religion.

The vi. Chapter.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the lawe of God. 4 The temple is defiled. 12 The readers are admonished, that they shall not abhorre the aduersitie wherewith the Lord afflicteth them. 18 The grieuous paine of Eleazarus.

1 NOt long after this, sent the king an olde man of || Antioche, for to compell the Iewes to transgresse the ordinances of the fathers, and of the law of God,
2 To defile the temple that was at Hierusalem, and to call it the temple of Iupiter Olympius: & that they should in Garizim, as those which dwell at the place of Iupiter the harberous.
3 This wicked sedition of the vngodly, was heauie vpon all the people:
4 For the temple was ful of voluptuousnesse, bibbing and bolling of the heathen, of rybaudes and harlots together: the women went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawfull.
5 The altar also was full of vnlawfull things, which the lawe forbiddeth to lay vpon it.
6 The Sabboths were not kept, the other solemne feasts of the land were not regarded: to be plaine, there durst no man be knowen that he was a Iewe.
7 In the day of the kings birth they were compelled perforce to offer, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to weare garlands of yuie, and so to go about to the honour of Bacchus.
8 Moreouer, through the counsel of Ptolomeus, there went out a commandement into the nere cities of the heathen, against the Iewes, that the like customs and || banketting should be kept.
9 And whoso would not conforme themselues to the maners of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue seene the present miserie.
10 For there were two women accused to haue circumcised their sonnes: whome when they had led round about the citie, the babes hanging at their breastes, they cast them downe headlong ouer the walles.
11 Some that were crept in dennes, and had kept the Sabboth, were accused vnto Philip, & burnt in y fire, because that for the feare of God they kept the commandement so strictly, and would not defend themselues.
12 Nowe I beseech all those which reade this booke, that they refuse it not for these falles of aduersitie, and iudge the things y are happened, for no destruction, but for a chastening of our people.
13 And why? Whe God suffereth not sinners long to followe their owne minde, but shortly punisheth them, it is a token of his great louing kindnesse.
14 For this grace haue we of God, more then other people, that he suffereth not vs long to sinne vnpunished, like as other nations:

|| Or, Athens.

|| Or, eating of the flesh that was sacrificed.

15 That

15 That when the day of iudgement commeth, he may punish them in the fulnesse of their sinnes.
16 If we sinne, he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraweth his mercy from vs: & though hee punish with aduersitie, yet doeth he neuer forsake his people.
17 But let this that we haue spoken now with fewe wordes, be for a warning and exhortation ‖ of the heathen: nowe will we come to the declaring of the matter. ‖ Or, vnto vs.
18 Eleazar one of the principall Scribes, an aged man, & of a well fauoured countenance, was constrained to gape with open mouth, and to eate swines flesh.
19 But he desiring rather to die gloriously, then to liue with shame, offered himselfe willingly to the martyrdome.
20 Nowe when hee sawe that hee must needes goe to it, he tooke it patiently: for he was at a poynt with himselfe, that he woulde not consent to any vnlawfull thing for any pleasure of life.
21 They that * stoode by, being moued with pitie (but not aright) for the olde friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, and prayed him that he woulde let such flesh bee brought him as were lawefull to eate, and then to make a countenance as though hee had eaten of the flesh of the sacrifice, like as the king commaunded, * They that had the charge of that wicked maker.
22 For so he might be deliuered frō death: and so for the olde friendship of the man, they shewed him this kindnesse.
23 But hee began to consyder discretely, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeeres, and the honour of his grape heares whereunto hee was come, and his most honest conuersation from his childehoode, but chiefly the holy lawe made and giuen by God, therefore he answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the graue:
24 For it becommeth not mine age, saide he, in any wise to dissemble, whereby many yōg persons might thinke that Eleazar being fourescore yeeres olde and ten, were now gone to a strange religion:
25 And so through mine hypocrisie for a litle time of a transitorie life, they might bee deceiued: by this meanes also shoulde I defile mine age, and make it abominable.
26 For though I were now delinered frō the torments of men, yet shoulde I not escape the hande of almighty God, neither aliue nor dead.
27 Wherefore I will die manfully, and do as it becommeth mine age:
28 Whereby I may peraduenture leaue an example of stedfastnesse for such as be yong, if I with a ready minde, and manfully, dye an honest death for the most worthie and holy lawes. When he had said these wordes, immediatly he was drawen to the torment.
29 Nowe they that led him, and were milde a litle afore, began to take displeasure, because of the wordes that he sayd: for they thought hee had spoken them of an high minde.
30 But whē he was in his martyrdome, hee mourned and sayde, Thou, O Lorde, which hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly, that whereas I might be deliuered from death, I suffer these sore paynes of my body: but in my minde I am well content to suffer them, because I feare thee.
31 Thus this man died, leauing the memoriall of his death for an example, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all the people to be stedfast and manly.

The vii. Chapter.

The punishments of the seuen brethren, and of their mother.

1 IT happened also that there were seuen brethren with their mother taken, and compelled by the king against the law to eat swines flesh, namely with scourges and leatherne whippes.
2 And one of them which was the chiefe, said, What seekest thou, & what requirest thou of vs? as for vs, we are ready rather to suffer death, then to offende the lawes of God and the fathers.
3 Then was the king angry, and bade heate cauldrons, & brasen pottes: which when they were made hot,
4 Immediatly hee commaunded the tongue of him that spake first, to bee cut out, to pull the skinne ouer his head, to pare the edges of his handes and feete, yea, and that in the sight of his mother, and the other of his brethren.
5 Nowe when hee was cleane mangled, he commanded a fire to be made, and so (while there was any breath in him) to be fried in þ cauldron: in the which whē he had bene long pained, the other brethren with their mother, exhorted him to dye manfully, saying,
6 The Lorde GOD shall regarde the truth, and comfort vs, like as Moses testifieth and declareth in his song, saying, And hee will * haue compassion on his seruants. *Deut.32.43.
7 So when the first was dead after this maner, they brought the seconde, to haue him in derision, pulled the skinne with the heare ouer his head, and asked him if hee woulde eate swines flesh, per hee were pained in the other members also throughout his body.
8 But he answered in his own language, and said, I will not do it: and so he was tormented like as the first.
9 And when hee was euen at the giuing vp of the ghost, he saide, Thou most vngratious person putteste vs nowe to death: but the king of the worlde shall raise vs vp which dye for his lawes, in the resurrection of euerlasting life.
10 After him was the third had in derision, and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soone, holding forth his hands manfully:
11 And spake with a stedfast faith, These haue I of heaue̅, but now for the lawes of God I despise them: for my trust is that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 Insomuch that the king & they which were with him, marueiled at the yong mans boldnesse, that he nothing regarded the paines.
13 Nowe when hee was dead also, they vexed the fourth with tormentes in like maner.
14 So when he was now at his death, he said, It is better that wee, being put to death of men, haue our hope and trust in God, for he shall raise vs vp againe: as for thée, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.
15 And when they had spoken to the fifth, they tormented him.
16 Then looked he vnto the king, & saide, Thou hast power among men, for thou art a mortall man also thy selfe, to doe what thou wilt: but thinke not ỳ God hath forsaken our generation.
17 Abide thée, tary still a while, and thou shalt sée the great power of God, how he will punish thée and thy seede.
18 After him they brought the sixth, which being at the point of death, said, Be not deceiued, O king: for this wee suffer for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, and therefore marueylous things are shewed vpon vs.
19 But thinke not thou which takest in hande to strine against God, that thou shalt scape vnpunished.
20 This excellent mother, worthie to bée well reported of, and had in remébrance, sawe her seuen sonnes dye in one day, & suffered it patiently, because of the hope that shée had in God:
21 Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her countrey language, and that boldly and stedfastly with perfect wisedome, waking vp her wyuish thought with a manly stomacke, and said vnto them,
22 I can not tell howe yee sprang in my wombe, for I neither gaue you breath, nor soule, nor life, it is not I that ioyned the members of your bodies together,
23 But the maker of the world, which fashioned the birth of man, and began all things: euen he also of his owne mercy shall giue you breath and life againe, like as ye now regarde not your own selues for his lawes sake.
24 Now thought Antiochus that he had despised him, therefore he let her go with her reproofes, and began to exhort the youngest sonne which was yet left, not onely with wordes, but swore vnto him with an othe, that he should make him a rich and wealthie man, if he would forsake the lawes of his fathers: yea, and that hee shoulde giue him whatsoeuer were necessary for him.
25 But when the yong man would not be moued for all these things, hee called his mother, and counselled her to saue her sonnes life.
26 And when hee had exhorted her with many wordes, shee promised him that she would speake to her sonne.
27 So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorne, and spake in her countrey language, O my sonne, haue pitie vpon mee, that bare thée nine monethes in my wombe, that gaue thee sucke, nourished thée, and brought thee vp vnto this age:
28 I beseech thée, my sonne, looke vpon heauen and earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them and mans generation of nought:
29 So shalt thou not feare this hangman, but suffer death stedfastly, like as thy brethren haue done: that I may receiue thee againe in the same mercie with thy brethren.
30 While shee was yet speaking these wordes, the yong man saide, Whome looke ye for? wherefore do ye tarie? I will not obey the kings commandement, but the lawe that God gaue vs by Moses.
31 As for thou ỳ imaginest all mischiefe against the Iewes, thou shalt not escape the hand of God. ‖Or, Hebrues 32 For we suffer these things because of our sinnes.
33 And though the liuing Lorde be angry with vs a litle while, for our chastening, and reformation, yet shall he bee at one againe with his seruants.
34 But thou, O godlesse man, and of all other the most wicked, vilde not thy self through vaine hope, in being so malicious vpon the seruants of God:
35 For thou hast not yet escaped ỳ iudgements of God, which is almightie, and seeth all things.
36 My brethren that haue suffered a litle paine, are nowe vnder the couenant of euerlasting life: but thyough the iudgement of God, thou shalt bee punished righteously for thy pride.
37 As for me, like as my brethren haue done, I offer my ‖ soule and my body for the lawes of our fathers, calling vpon God, that he will soone be mercifull vnto our people, yea, and with paine and punishment to make thée grant that hée onely is God. ‖Or, life.
38 In me nowe and in my brethren the wrath of almightie God is at an ende, which righteously is fallen vpon all our people.
39 Then the king, being kindled in anger, was more cruell vpon him then vpon all the other, and tooke indignation that he was so lightly regarded.
40 So this yong man died vndefiled, and put his trust still in the Lord.
41 Last of all, after the sonnes, was the mother put to death also.
42 Let this nowe be ynough spoken concerning the offerings and extreme cruelnesse.

The viii. Chapter.

1 Iudas gathereth together his hoste. 9 Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 27 The Iewes giue thankes after they haue put their enemies to flight.

flight, deuiding the spoyles vnto the fatherlesse and widowes.

1 THen Iudas Machabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the townes, called their kinsfolkes and friendes together, tooke vnto them all such as continued yet in þ faith and lawe of the Iewes, & brought forth fiue thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lorde, that hee would haue an eye vnto his people which was troden downe of euery man, to be gracious vnto the temple that was defiled of the vngodly,

3 To haue compassion vpon the destruction of the citie, which was shortly like to be layde waste, to heare the voyce of the blood that cryed vnto him,

4 To remember the most vnrighteous deathes of yong innocent children, the blasphemies also done vnto his name, and to punish them.

5 Now when Machabeus had gathered this multitude together, hee was too mightie for the heathen: for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercie.

6 He fell vpon the townes and cities vnwares, burnt them, tooke the most commodious places, and slue many of the enemies:

7 But specially hee made such chases by night, insomuch that his mālinesse was spoken of euery where.

8 So when Philip saw that the man encreased by litle & litle, and that the matter prospered with him for þ most part: he wrote vnto Ptolome, which was a captaine in Coelosyria and Phenice, to helpe him in the kings businesse.

9 Then sent he Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a speciall friend of his, in all the haste, and gaue him of the common sort of the heathen, no lesse then twētie thousand harnessed men, to roote out þ whole generation of the Iewes, hauing to help him one Gorgias a man of warre, which in matters concerning battels had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeyned also þ tribute which the Romanes should haue had to be giuen vnto the king out of the captiuitie of þ Iewes, namely, two thousand talents.

11 And immediatly he sent to the cities of the sea coast, requiring them for to buye Iewes to bee their seruants and bondmen, promising to sell them foure score & tenne for one talent: but he considered not þ wrath of almightie God that was to come vpon him.

12 When Iudas knewe of this, he tolde the Iewes that were with him of Nicanors comming.

13 Now were there some of them fearefull, not trusting vnto the righteousnesse of God, and fled their way, and abode not in that place:

14 But the other solde all that they had left, and besought þ Lord to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had sold them or euer he came nigh them:

15 And though hee would not doe it for their sakes, yet for the couenant that he made with their fathers, & because they called vpon his holy & glorious name.

16 And so Machabeus called his men together, namely, about fiue thousande, exhorting them not to agree vnto their enemies, neither to bee afrayd for the multitude of their aduersaries comming against them vnrighteously, but to fight manly,

17 Considering the reproofe that they had done to the holy place without cause, how they had despised and oppressed the citie, yea, and destroyed the lawes of the fathers.

18 For they, sayde hee, trust in their weapons, and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the almightie Lorde, which in the twynckling of an eye, may both destroy them that come against vs, and all the worlde.

19 * Hee exhorted them also to call to remembrance the helpe that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished * an hundred foure score and fiue thousande of Sennacheribs people: 4.Reg.19.35. Eccl.48.24. esa.37.36.

20 And of the battell that they had in Babylon against the Galathians: howe all the Macedonians þ came to helpe them, being foure thousand, stode in feare: and how they, being only but ‖ fiue thousand, slue an hundred and twentie thousand, through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, whereby they also had receiued many benefites. ‖Or, eight thousand.

21 Through these wordes, the men tooke good heartes vnto them, ready to die for the lawe and the countrey.

22 So he set vpon euery company a captaine, one of his owne brethren, Simon, Joseph, and Jonathas, giuing eche one fifténe hundred men.

23 He caused ‖ Esdras also to reade the holie booke vnto them, and to giue them a token of the helpe of God: then he himselfe, being captaine in the foreffront of the battell, buckled with Nicanor. ‖Or, Eleazarus.

24 And God was their helpe, insomuch that they slue aboue nine thousand men, and compelled the more part of Nicanors hoste to flée, they were so wounded and feeble.

25 Thus they tooke the money from those that came to buy them, and followed vpon them on euery side.

26 But when the time came vpon them, they returned, for it was the day before the Sabboth, and therefore they followed no more vpon them.

27 So they tooke their weapons and spoyles, and kept the Sabboth, giuing thankes vnto the Lorde, which had deliuered them that day, and shewed them the beginning of his mercy.

28 After the Sabboth, they distributed the spoyles to the sicke, to the fatherlesse, and to widowes, & the residue had they themselues, with theirs.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they beſought the mercifull Lord to be at one with his ſeruants.

30 Of thoſe alſo that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, which fought againſt them, they ſlue twentie thouſand, wanne high and ſtrong holdes, and deuided moe ſpoyles, euer giuing an equall portion vnto þ ſicke, to the fatherleſſe, to widowes, and to aged perſons.

31 And when they had diligently gathered their weapons together, they layde them all in conuenient places, and the remnant of the ſpoyles brought they to Hieruſalem.

32 They ſlue alſo Philarches that wicked perſon, which was with Timotheus, & had vexed many Iewes.

33 And when they helde the thankes giuing at Hieruſalem for the victorie, they burnt thoſe that had ſet fire on the ports of the temple, namely, Caliſthenes, which was fled into an houſe, and ſo they gate a worthy reward for their wickednelle.

34 As for that moſt vngratious Nicanor, which had brought a thouſande marchantes to buye the Iewes, 35 He was through the helpe of the Lorde brought downe, euen of them whom hée regarded not: inſomuch that hee put off his glorious raiment, fled by ſea, & came alone to Antioche with great ſhame and diſhonour, which hée gate through the deſtruction of his hoſte.

36 Thus he that promiſed the Romanes to pay them their tribute when he tooke Hieruſalem, began now to ſay plainly, þ God was þ defender of the Iewes, and therefore not poſſible to wounde them, becauſe they folowed the lawes which God had made.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Antiochus willing to ſpoyle Perſepolis, is driuen to flight. 9 As he perſecuted the Iewes, he is ſtriken of the Lorde. 13 The fained repentance of Antiochus. 28 He dyeth.

1 AT the ſame time came Antiochus againe with diſhonour out of Perſia.

2 For when he came to Perſepolis, and vndertooke to robbe the temple, and to ſubdue the citie, the people ran together, and defended themſelues, inſomuch that hée and his were fayne to flée with ſhame: and ſo after that flight, it happened that Antiochus came againe with diſhonour.

3 But when hée came to Ecbatana, hée gate knowledge what was happened vnto Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 Nowe as hee was auaunting himſelfe in his wrath, he thought he was able to auenge þ iniurie that was done to them vpon the Iewes: and therefore commanding to make ready his charret, haſting on his iourney without ceaſing, the iudgement of God prouoking him, becauſe he had ſpoken ſo proudely, that hée woulde come to Hieruſalem, and make it a graue of the Iewes,

5 But the Lorde God of Iſrael that ſeeth all things, ſmote him with an vncurable and inuiſible plague, which no man could heale: For as ſoone as hée had ſpoken theſe wordes, there came vpon him an horrible payne of his bowels, and a ſore griefe of the inner partes,

6 And that was but right: for hée had martyred other mens bowels with diuers and ſtrange torments.

7 Howbeit, he would in no wiſe ceaſſe from his malice: yea, hée was yet the prouder and more malicious againſt the Iewes: but while he was commanding to make haſt in the matter, it happened that hée fell downe violently from the charret that ran ſwiftly, ſo that it bruſſed his body, and did him great payne.

8 And ſo he that thought a little before he might command the floods of the ſea, (ſo proude was he beyond the condition of man) and to weigh the high mountaines in a paire of balance, was now brought downe to the ground, and carried vpon an horſelytter, knowledging the manifeſt power of God vpon him:

9 So that the wormes came out of the bodie of this wicked man in abundance: and whiles he was alriue, his fleſh fell off for payne and torment, and all his armie was grieued at his ‖ ſmell.

‖ Or, ſtinke.

10 Thus he that a little afore thought hée might reache to the ſtarres of heauen, him might no man now abide nor beare, for the vehemencie of ſtincke.

11 Therefore hée being brought from his great pride, began to come to the knowledge of himſelfe, for the puniſhment of God warned him, and his paine encreaſed euer more and more.

12 And when he himſelfe might not abide his owne ſtincke, he ſaid theſe wordes, It is reaſon to be obedient vnto God, and that a man which is mortal, thinke not through pride, himſelfe to be equall vnto God.

13 This wicked perſon prayed alſo vnto the Lord, who now would haue no mercie vpon him:

14 And as for the citie that hée came vnto ſo haſtily, to bring it downe to þ ground, and to make it a graue for dead men, now he decreeth to deliuer it free.

15 And as touching the Iewes whom he had iudged not worthie to be buried, but would haue caſt the out & their children, for to bée deuoured of the foules & wilde beaſts, ſaying that he would haue deſtroyed both olde and yong, nowe he promiſed to make them like the citizens of Athens.

16 And whereas hée had ſpoyled the holy temple afore, nowe hée maketh promiſe to garniſh it with great gifts, to encreaſe the holy ornaments, and of his owne rents to beare the coſts and charges belonging to the offerings:

17 Yea, and that hée would alſo become a Iewe himſelfe, to go thorowe euery place of the worlde that was inhabited, and to preache the power of God.

18 But

18 But when his paynes wouldē not ceasse (for the righteous iudgement of God was come vpon him) out of a verie despaire he wrote vnto ꝑ Iewes a letter of intercession, conteyning these words:

19 The king and prince Antiochus, wisheth vnto the vertuous citizens of the Iewes, much health, and good prosperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and if all things goe after your minde, wee giue great thankes.

21 In my sickenesse also doe I remember you louingly: for as I came out of Persia, and was taken with sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the commonwealth:

22 Neyther despayre I in my selfe, but haue a good hope to escape this sickness.

23 But considering that my father led an host sometime in the vpper places, and shewed who should reigne after him,

24 That if there happened any controuersie, or any hard thing were declared, they in the lande might knowe their chiefe lorde, that there should bee no insurrection:

25 Againe, when I ponder with my selfe howe that all the mightie men, & neighbours round about, are laying waite & looke but for opportunitie to do harme: I haue ordeyned, that my sonne Antiochus shal reygne after me, whom I oft commended to many of you whē I was in the higher kingdomes, & haue written vnto him as it followeth hereafter.

26 Therfore I pray you, and require you, to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and in especiall, and that euery man wil bee faithfull to me and my sonne.

27 For I hope that he shal be of sober and louing behauiour, and if hee followe my deuice, he shalbe indifferent vnto you.

28 Thus that murderer and blasphemer of God was sore smitten: and like as he had entreated other men, so hee ended a miserable death in a strange countrey vpon a mountaine:

29 And his body did Philip that went with him, carry away, which fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolome Philometor.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iudas Machabeus taketh the citie and the temple.
10 He beginneth to shewe the actes of Eupator.
29 Fiue men appeare in the ayre to the helpe of the Iewes. 39 Timothie is slaine.

1 MAchabeus nowe and his companie, through the helpe of the Lord, wanne the temple and the citie againe,

2 Destroyed the altars and chappels that the heathen had buylded thorowe the streetes.

3 Cleansed the temple, made another altar of hewen stone, and after two yeeres they offered sacrifices, set forth ꝑ incense, the lights, and shewe bread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flatte vpon the grounde, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such trouble: but if they sinned any more against him, hee himselfe to chasten them with mercy, and not to come into the handes of those aliants, and blasphemous men.

5 Now vpon the same day that ꝑ strangers polluted the temple, it happened that on the very same day it was cleansed againe, namely the twentie and fifth day of the moneth called ‖Casleu. ‖Or, November.

6 They kept eyght dayes in gladnesse, like as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembring that not long afore they held the feast of the tabernacles vpon ꝑ mountaines and in dennes, like beastes.

7 And for the same token they bare greene bowes, branches, and palmes, and sung psalmes before him, that had giuen them good successe to cleanse his place.

8 They agreed also together, and made a statute, that euery peere those dayes should bee solemnely kept of all the people of the Iewes.

9 Howe Antiochus then, that was called the noble, died, it is sufficiently tolde.

10 Nowe will we speake of Eupator the sonne of that wicked Antiochus, howe it happened with him, and so with fewe wordes to comprehende the aduersitie that chaunced in the warres.

11 When he had take in the kingdome, he made one Lysias, which had bene captaine of the hoste in Phenice and ‖Syria, ruler ouer the matters of the realme. ‖Or, Coelosyria.

12 For Ptolome, that was called Macron, being a ruler for the Iewes, and specially to sit in iudgement for such wrong as was done vnto them, vndertooke to deale peaceably with them.

13 For the which cause he was accused of his friends before Eupator: and when he was suspect to be a traytour, because he had left Cypres, that Philometor had committed vnto him, and because he departed from noble Antiochus that hee was come vnto, he poysoned himselfe, & ded, 14 Now when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he tooke strangers, & vndertooke oft times to warre with the Iewes.

15 Moreouer, the Idumeans that helde the strong holdes, recepued those that were driuen from Hierusalem, and tooke in hand to warre also.

16 But they that were with Machabeus, besought and prayed vnto the Lord, that he would be their helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans, 17 And wanne many places by strength: such as came against them they slue, and killed no lesse of all together then twentie thousand.

18 Neuerthelesse, some, no lesse then nine thousande, were fled into two strong towres, hauing all maner of ordinance to withstande them.

19 Then Machabeus leaning Simon, Josephus, Zacheus, and those that were with them, which were very many, wēt to besiege them, and to fight where most neede was.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnesse, were entreated for money, through certaine of those that lay in the castles, & tooke three score and ten thousand [a] dragmas, & let some of them escape.

21 But when it was tolde Machabeus what had happened, he called the captaines of the people together, accusing those persons that they had solde þ brethren for money, & let their enemies goe.

22 So he slue those transgressours, & immediatly went in hand with the two castles.

23 And whē they had ordered themselues manly with their weapons and handes, they slue in the two castles moe then twentie thousand.

24 Nowe Timotheus, whome þ Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered a multitude of strange people, brought an horse also of horsemen of the Asians, to winne Iurie by strength.

25 But when he drewe nigh, Machabeus and they that were with him, fel to their prayer, sprinkled ashes vpō their heads, & being girded with heary cloth about their loynes, 26 Fell downe before the altar, and besought the Lord that he would be mercifull to them, but an enemie vnto their enemies, and to take part against their aduersaries, according as it is promised in the law.

27 So after the prayer they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the citie: and when they came nigh the enemies, they prepared themselues against them.

28 And betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, both the hostes buckled together: the one part had the Lorde for their refuge, which is þ giuer of prosperitie, strength, and victorie, the other had a manly stomacke, which is a captaine of warre.

29 The battel nowe being great, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen fiue goodly men vpon horsebackes, with bridles of golde, leading the Iewes:

30 And two of them hauing Machabeus betwixt them, that kept him safe on euery side with their weapons, but shot dartes and lightnings vpon the enemies, wherethrough they were confounded with blindenesse, and so sore afraide, that they fell downe.

31 There were slaine of footemen twentie thousand and fiue hundred, & sixe hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himself, he fled vnto Gazara, a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was captaine.

33 But Machabeus and his company layde siege to it cheerefully foure dayes.

34 Nowe they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, cursed and banned exceedingly, and made great craking with wicked woordes.

35 Neuertheles, vpon the fifth day in the morning, twentie pong men of Machabeus companie, being set on fire in their mindes, because of the blasphemie, came manfully vnto the wall, and with bolde stomackes smote downe those that they met.

36 Others also climed vp vpon þ towers, vndertaking to set fire vpon the portes, and to burne those blasphemous persons quicke with the fires that they had made: others brake open the gates, and recepued the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 Two dayes were they destroying the castle, which when they found Timotheus that was crept in a corner, they killed him, and slewe Chereas his brother in like maner, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they sung Psalmes with prayses and thanks giuing vnto the Lord, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victorie.

The xi. Chapter.

1 Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 2 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes.

1 NOt long after this, Lysias þ kings stewarde, and a kinseman of his, which had the gouernance of his matters, tooke sore displeasure for the things that had happened.

2 And when hee had gathered fourescore thousand men of foote, with all the host of the horsemen, hee came against the Iewes, thinking to winne the citie, to make it an habitation for the heathen:

3 And the temple would he haue to be an house of lucre, like as the other gods houses of the heathen are, and to sell the priests office euery peere,

4 Not considering the power of God, but was wilde in his minde, trusting in the multitude of footemen, in thousandes of horsemen, and in his foure score Elephants.

5 So he came into Iurie, & then to Bethsura, a castle of defence, lying in a narrow place, fiue furlongs from Hierusalem, & layde sore siege vnto it.

6 Nowe when Machabeus and his companie knewe that his strong holds were besieged, they fell to their prayers with weeping and teares before the Lorde: and al the people in like maner besought him, that hee would sende a good angel to deliuer Israel.

7 Machabeus himselfe was the first that made him ready to the battell, exhorting the other that were with him, to ieopard themselues, and to helpe their brethren.

8 And when they were going forth of Hierusalē together with a ready & willing minde, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke, a man in white clothing, a A dragma is the eight part of an ounce, which is about three pence.

thing, with harneſſe of gold, thaking his ſpeare.

9 Then they prayſed the Lorde all together, which had ſhewed them mercie, & were comforted in their myndes, inſomuch that they were ready not onely to fight with men, but with the moſt cruell beaſtes, yea, & runne thorowe walles of yron.

10 Thus they went on willingly, hauing an helper from heauen, and the Lorde mercifull vnto them,

11 They fell mightily vpon their enemies like lions, ſlewe eleuen thouſand footemen, ſixteene hundred horſemen, and put all the other to flight, 12 Many of them being wounded, and ſome gate away naked: yea, Ipſias himſelfe was fayne to flee ſhamefully, and ſo to eſcape.

13 Neuertheleſſe, that man was not without vnderſtanding, but conſidered by himſelfe that his power was minished, and pondered howe the Iewes, being defended by the helpe of almightie God, were not able to be ouercome: wherefore he ſent them worde, 14 And promiſed that he would conſent to all things which were reaſonable, and to make the king their friende.

15 To the which prayer of Ipſias, Machabeus agreed, ſeeking in all things the common wealth: and whatſoeuer Machabeus wrote vnto Ipſias concerning the Iewes, the king graunted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Ipſias, conteining theſe words, Ipſias ſendeth greeting to the people of the Iewes, 17 John and ‖ Abſalon which were ſent from you, deliuered me writings, and required mee to fulfill the things concerning their errande.

18 Therefore looke what might be graunted, I certified the king therof: & whatſoeuer was conuenient, he agreed thereto.

19 If ye nowe will bee faithfull in theſe matters, I ſhall endeuour my ſelfe hereafter alſo to do you good.

20 As concerning theſe things, by euery article thereof, I haue committed them to your meſſengers, and to thoſe whome I ſent vnto you to commune with you of the ſame particularly.

21 Fare yee well. In the hundred fourtie and eight yeere, the twentie and fourth day of the moneth Dioſcorinthius.

22 Now the kings letter conteyned theſe wordes, King Antiochus ſendeth greeting vnto his brother Ipſias:

23 Forſomuch as our father is now tranſlated vnto the gods, our will is, that they which are in our realme, liue without any inſurrection, and euery man to be diligent in his owne matters.

24 Wee vnderſtand alſo that the Iewes would not conſent to our father for to be brought vnto the cuſtome of the Gentiles, but ſtiffely to keepe their owne ſtatutes, for the which cauſe they require of vs alſo to let them remayne ſtill after their owne lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is, that this people ſhalbe in reſt: we haue concluded and determined alſo to reſtore the their temple againe, that they may liue according to the vſe and cuſtome of their forefathers.

26 Thou ſhalt doe vs a pleaſure therefore, if thou ſend vnto them, and graunt them peace: that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good cheare, and looke to their owne wealth.

27 And this was the letter that the king wrote vnto the Iewes. King Antiochus ſendeth greeting [illegible] counſell, and the other people [illegible] Iewes.

28 If ye fare well, [illegible] our deſire: as for vs, we are in good healthy.

29 Menelaus came and tolde vs how that your deſire was to returne home, and peaceably to enioy your owne poſſeſſions

30 Wherefore, thoſe that will come, wee giue them free libertie vnto the thirtieth day of the moneth of ‖ Apyll, ‖ Zanthicus.

31 That they may vſe the meates of the Iewes, and their owne lawes, like as afore, and none of them by any maner of waies to haue harme for things done in ignorance.

32 I haue ſent alſo Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare ye well. In the hundred fourtie and eight yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Apyll.

34 The Romanes alſo ſent a letter, conteining theſe words, Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manilius, ambaſſadours of the Romanes, ſend greeting vnto the people of the Iewes.

35 Looke what Ipſias the kings kinſman hath graunted you, wee graunt you the ſame alſo.

36 But as concerning the things which he referred vnto the king, ſende hither ſome with ſpeede, and ponder the matter diligently among your ſelues, that we may ‖ call the beſt to your profite: for we muſt ‖ Or, conſult, depart now vnto Antioch.

37 And therefore write ſhortly againe, that we may knowe your minde.

38 Farewel. In the hundred fourtie and eight yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Apyll.

The xii. Chapter.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3 The wicked deede of them of Joppa againſt the Iewes.

1 When theſe couenants were made, Ipſias went vnto the king: and the Iewes tilled their ground.

2 But Timotheus and Apollonius the ſonne of Jemei, Jerome, & Demophon the proud, Nicanor the captaine of Cypers, and they that lay in thoſe places, would not let them liue in reſt & peace.

3 They of Joppa alſo did euen ſuch a ſhamefull deede: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to go with their wiues and children into the ſhips which they had prepared, and did with them as though they had ought the no euill will:

4 For ſo much then as there was gone foorth a generall proclamation throughout the cuntrie because of peace, they conſented thereto, and ſuſpect nothing: but when they were gone fourth into the deepe, they drowned no leſſe then two hundred of them.
5 When Judas knewe of this cruelties ſhewed vnto his people, hee commaunded thoſe that were with him to make them ready,
6 Exhorting them to call vpon God the righteous iudge, went foorth againſt thoſe murderers of his brethren, ſet fire in the hauen by night, burnt vp the ſhips:
and thoſe that eſcaped from the fire, hee
ſlue with the ſworde.
7 And when he had done this, hee departed, as though hee would come againe, and roote out all them of Joppa.
8 But when he had gotten woorde that the Jamnites were minded to doe in like maner vnto the Jewes which dwelt among them,
9 He came vpon the Jamnites by night, &
ſet fire on the hauen, with the ſhips: ſo that the light of the fire was ſeene at Hieruſalem, vpon a two hundred and fourtie furlongs.
10 Now when they were gone frō thence nine furlongs in their iourney towarde Timotheus, fiue thouſād men on foote, and fiue hundred horſemen of the Arabi-ans fought with him.
11 So when the battell was earneſt, and proſpered with Judas through the help of God, the reſidue of the [a] Arabians being ouercome, beſought Judas to bee at one with thē, & promiſed to giue him certaine ‖paſtures, and to doe him good in other things.
12 Judas thinking that they ſhoulde in deede bee profitable concerning many things, promiſed them peace, whereupon they ſhooke handes, and ſo they departed to their tents.
13 Judas went alſo vnto a citie, which was very faſt kept with bridges, fenced round about with walles, and diuers kindes of people dwelling therein, called Caſpin.
14 They that were within it, put ſuch truſt in the ſtrength of the walles, and in their ſtore of victuals, that they were the ſlacker in their doings, curſing and reuiling Judas with blaſphemies, and ſpeaking ſuch woordes as it becommeth not.
15 But Machabeus calling vpon þ great prince of the woorld (which without any battaile rammes or ordinaces of warre, did caſt downe the walles of *Jericho in the time of Joſuah) fell manfully vpon the walles.
16 Tooke the citie, and through the helpe of the Lorde made an exceeding great ſlaughter: inſo much that a lake of two furlongs broad which lay thereby, ſeemed to flowe with the blood of the ſlaine.
17 Then departed they from thence ſeuen hundred and fiftie furlongs, and came to ‖Tharaca, vnto the Jewes that are called Tubianei.
18 But as for Timotheus, they could not get him there: for (not one matter diſ-patched) he was departed from thence, and had left certaine men in a very ſtrōg hold.
19 But Doſitheus, and Soſipater, which were captaines with Machabeus, ſlue thoſe that Timotheus had left in the houſe of defence, more then ten thouſād men.
20 And Machabeus prepared him with the fiue thouſande men that were about him, ſet them in order by companies, and went foorth againſt Timotheus, which had with him an hundred and twentie thouſande men of foote, two thouſand and fiue hundred horſemen.
21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas comming, hee ſent the women, children, and the other baggage vnto a caſtle called Carnion: for it couldē not be wonne, and was hard to come vnto, the wayes of the ſame places were ſo narrowe.
22 And when Judas his firſt band came in ſight, the enemies were ſmitten with feare through the preſence of God, which ſeeth all things: inſomuch that they ſee-ing one here, another there, were rather diſcomfited of their owne people, and wounded with the ſtrokes of their owne ſwordes.
23 Judas alſo was very earneſt in following vpon them, puniſhing thoſe vngodly, and ſlue thirtie thouſande men of them.
24 Timotheus alſo himſelfe fell into the handes of Doſitheus and Soſipater, whome he beſought with much craft to let him goe with his life, becauſe he had many of the Jewes fathers and brethrē in priſō: which, if they put him to death, ſhould be deſpiſed.
25 So when hee had promiſed faithfully to deliuer them againe according to the condition made, they let him goe without harme, for the health of the brethren.
26 Then Machabeus marched forth to Carnion, and Atargation, and there ſlue twentie and fiue thouſand men.
27 Howe after that he had chaſed away and ſlaine his enemies, he remooued the poſte towarde Ephron, a ſtrong citie, wherein was Lyſias, and a great multitude of diuers nations: and the ſtrong young men kept the walles, defending them mightily: In this citie was much ordinance and proviſion of dartes.
28 But when Judas & his company had called vpon almightie God, which with his power breaketh the ſtrength of the enemies, they wanne the citie, and ſlue twentie and fiue thouſand of them that were within.
29 From thence went they to the citie of the ‖ Scythians, which lyeth ſixe hundred furlongs from Hierusalem.

30 But when the Iewes which were in the citie, testified that the citizens dealt louingly with them, yea, and entreated the kindly in the time of their aduersitie,
31 Iudas and his companie gaue them thankes, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them: and so they came to Hierusalem, the high feast of weekes being at hande.
32 And after the feast of Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousande men of foote, and foure hundred horsmen.
34 Which when they met together, it chaced a few of the Iewes to be slaine.
35 And Dositheus one of the Bacenors, a mightie horsman, tooke holde of Gorgias, and would haue taken him quicke: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote off his arme, so that Gorgias escaped, and fled into ‖ Marese.
36 When they nowe that were of Esdrin. Gorgias side, had fought long, & were wearie, Iudas called vpon the Lord, that hee would be their helper, and captaine of the field:
37 And with that he began in his owne language, & sung Psalmes with a loude voyce, insomuch that he made the enemies afraid, and Gorgias men of warre tooke their flight.
38 So Iudas gathered his hoste, & came into the citie of Odolla: and when the seuenth day came vpon them, they cleansed themselues as the custome was, and kept the Sabboth in the same place.
39 And vpon the day following, as necessitie required, Iudas and his companie came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to burie them in their fathers graues.
40 Nowe vnder the coates of certaine Iewes which were slaine, they founde iewels that they had taken out of the Temple, and from the idoles of the Iamnites, * which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the law: then euery man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine. * Deut.7.25.
41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for his righteous iudgement, which had opened the thing ẏ was hid.
42 They fel down also vnto their prayers, and besought God that the fault which was made, might be put out of remembrance: Besides that, Iudas exhorted the people earnestly to keepe themselues from such sinne, forsomuch as they sawe before their eyes that these men were slaine for the same offence.
43 So he gathered of euery one a certaine, and sent two thousand drachmes of siluer vnto Hierusalem, that there might a sacrifice bee offered for the misdeede: in the which he did well and right, for he had some consideration and pondering of the life that is after this time.
44 For if hee had not thought that they which were slaine should rise againe, it had bene superfluous and vaine to make any vowe or sacrifice for them that were dead.
45 But for so much as he sawe that they which die in the fauour and beliefe of God, are in good rest and ioy, he thought it to be good and honourable for a reconciling, to doe the same for those which were slaine, that the offence might bee forgiuen.

The xiii. Chapter.

1 The comming of Eupator into Iurie. 4 The death of Menelaus.

1 IN the hundred fourtie and nine yeare, gate Iudas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator was comming with a great power into Iurie,
2 And Lysias the Steward and ruler of his matters with him, hauing an hundred and ten thousand men of foote of the Grecians, fiue thousand horsmen, twentie and two Elephants, and three hundred charrets set with hookes.
3 Menelaus also ioyned himselfe with them, but with great decepte, spake faire to the king, not for any good to the countrey, but because hee thought to haue bene made some great man of authoritie.
4 But the king of kings moued Antiochus mind against this vngodly person, and Lysias enformed the king that this Menelaus was the cause of all mischiefe: so that the king commaunded to bring him vnto Berea, and as the maner of them is, to put him vnto death in the same place.
5 There was also in ẏ same place a towre of fiftie cubites high, heaped with ashes: and it had an instrument that turned round, and on euery side it rolled downe into the ashes, and there whosoeuer was condemned of sacrilege, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of al men vnto the death.
6 Whereunto the king commanded that shamefull person to bee cast among the ashes, as one that was cause of all vngratiousnesse.
7 And reason it was that the vnthrift should die such a death, and not to bee buried:
8 For he had done much mischiefe vnto the altar of God, whose fire and ashes were holy: therefore was it right that he himselfe also should bee destroyed with ashes.
9 But the king was wood in his minde, and came to shewe himselfe more cruell vnto the Iewes then his father was.
10 Which when Iudas perceiued, he commanded the people to call vpon the Lord night and day, that he would now helpe them also, like as he had done alway: for they were afrayde to bee put from their lawe, from their naturall countrey, and from the holy temple:
11 And not to suffer the people which a little little whyle afoze began to reconer, to bee ſubdued againe of the blaſphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this together, and beſought the Lozde foz mercy, with weeping and faſting three dayes long, flat vpon the ground, Judas exhoꝛted them to make themſelues ready,

13 But he and the elders together deuiſed to goe foꝛth firſt with the people, afoze the king bꝛought his hoſt into Jurie, and afoze he beſieged the citie, and ſo to commit the matter vnto God.

14 Wherefoze he committed the charge of all things vnto God the maker of all the woꝛld, exhoꝛting his people to fight mãfully, yea, euẽ vnto death, foz the lawes, the temple, the citie, their owne native countrey, and to defend the citizens: and he ſet his hoſte befoze Modin.

15 He gaue them alſo that were with him a token of the victozie of God, choſing out the manlieſt young men, went bp night into the kings pauilion, ſlue of the hoſte fourteene thouſand men, and the greateſt of the Elephantes, with thoſe that ſate vpon them.

16 Thus when they had bꝛought a great feare and rumour among the tentes of their enemies, and all things went pꝛoſperouſly with them, 17 They departed in the bꝛeake of the day, God being their helper and defender.

18 Nowe when the king perceiued the manlineſſe of the Jewes, he went about to take the ſtrong places bp craft, 19 And remoued his hoſte vnto Bethſura, which was a well kept houſe of defence of ꝓ Jewes: but they were chaſed awap, hurt, and diſcomfited.

20 And Judas ſent vnto them that were in it, ſuch things as were neceſſary.

21 In the Jewes hoſt alſo there was one Rhodocius, which told ꝓ enemies their ſecrets: but they ſought him out, and when they had gotte him, they put him in pꝛiſon.

22 After this did the king commune with thẽ that were in Bethſura, toke truice with them, departed, and ſtroke a battaile with Judas, which ouercame him.

23 But when hee vnderſtoode that Philip, whome he had left to bee ouerſeer of this buſineſſe at Antioche, began to rebell againſt him, he was aſtonied in his minde, ſo that he peelded himſelfe to the Jewes, and made them an othe to doe whatſoeuer they thought right.

24 Nowe when he was reconciled with them, he offered, made much of the temple, gaue great gifts vnto it, 25 Embꝛaced Machabeus, making him captaine and gouernour from Ptolomais vnto the Gerrhenes.

26 Neuertheleſſe, when he came to Ptolomais, the people of the citie were not content with the bond of friendſhip: foz they were afraide that he would bꝛeake the couenant.

27 Then went Lpſias bp into ꝓ iudgemẽt ſeate, and excuſed the fact as well as hee could, & enkourmed the people, ſhewed them the cauſe whp, and pacified them: ſo he came againe to Antioche. This is nowe the matter concerning the kings iourney, and his returne.

The xiiii. Chapter.

By the motion of Alcimus, Demetrius ſendeth Nicanor to kill the Jewes.

1 AFter thꝛee yeeres was Judas informed how that Demetrius the ſonne of Seleucus was come bp with a great power & ſhippes, thꝛough the hauen of Tripolis,

2 To take certaine cõmodious places & conntrepes, againſt Antiochus and his captaine Lpſias.

3 Nowe Alcimus, which had bene high pꝛieſt, and wilfully defiled himſelfe in the time of the mixting, ſeeing that bp no meanes he could be helped, noꝛ haue anp moze entrance to the altar,

4 He came to king Demetrius in the hundꝛed, fiftie and one yeere, preſenting vnto him a crowne of golde, a palme, and an Oliue tree, which as men thought belonged to the temple: and that dap held his tongue.

5 But when hee had gotten oppoꝛtunitie foz his madneſſe, Demetrius called him to counſell, and aſked him what things oꝛ counſels the Jewes leaned vnto?

6 He anſwered, The Jewes that be called Aſſidei (whoſe captaine is Judas Machabeus) maintaine warres, make inſurrections, and will not let the realme be in peace.

7 Foz I being depꝛiued of my fathers honour (I meane the high pꝛieſthood) am come hither:

8 Partly, becauſe I was faithfull vnto the king, & partly, becauſe I ſought the pꝛofite of mine owne citizens: And whp? all our people thꝛough the wickednes of them are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefoze I beſeech thee, O king, conſider all theſe things diligentlp, and then make ſome pꝛouiſion foz the lande & the people, accoꝛding to the kindneſſe that thou haſt offered vnto them.

10 Foz as long as Judas liueth, it is not poſſible that men can liue in peace.

11 When hee had ſpoken theſe woꝛdes, other friendes alſo hating emill will at Judas, ſet the king Demetrius on fire againſt him.

12 Which immediatlp ſent Nicanoꝛ, ruler of the Elephantes, a captaine in Jurie, 13 Commanding him to ſlap Judas, and to ſcatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high Pꝛieſt of ꝓ great Temple.

14 Then the heathen, which fledde out of Jurie from Judas, came to Nicanoꝛ bp flockes, thinking thp harme and decap of the Jewes to be their welfare.

15 Nowe when the Jewes heard of Nicanoꝛs comming, and the gathering togeſelues with earth, and beſought him which made them his people, and euer defended his owne portion with euident tokens, that hee would preserue them still.

which

16 So at the commandement of the captaine, they remoued straightwayes from thence, and came to a towne called Dessau.

17 And Simon Judas brother fell in hand with Nicanor: but through the suddaine comming of the enemies, he was afrayed.

18 Neuertheless, Nicanor hearing the manlinesse of them that were with Judas, and the bolde stomackes that they had to fight for their naturall countrey, durst not preuent the matter with bloodshedding.

19 Wherefore he sent Pollidonius, Theodotus, and Mathathias before, to giue and to take peace.

20 So when they had taken long aduisement therenpon, & the captaine shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde to haue peace.

21 And they appointed a day to sit vpon these matters quietly amongst themselues, and for euery one seuerally also were brought, and set forth.

22 Neuertheles, Judas commanded certaine men of armes to waite in conuenient places, least there should suddenly arise any euill through the enemies: and so they communed reasonably together.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Hierusalem, ordered himselfe not vnreasonably, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

24 He loued Judas euer with his heart, and fauoured him.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to bring forth children. So he married, lined in rest, and they led a common life.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betwixt them, and howe they were agreed together, came to Demetrius, and tolde him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, and ordeined Judas, an enemie of the realme, to be the kings successour.

27 Then the king was sore displeased, and through the wicked accusations which Alcimus made of Nicanor, he was so prouoked, that he wrote vnto Nicanor, saying that hee was very angry for the friendship and agreement which he had made with Machabeus, neuertheless, he commanded him in all the haste that he should take Machabeus prisoner, and send him to Antioch.

28 Which letters when Nicanor had seene, he was at his wittes ende, and sore grieued, that hee shoulde breake the things wherein they had agreed, specially seeing Machabeus was that man that neuer did him harme.

29 But because he might not withstande the king, he sought opportunitie to fulfill his commandement.

30 Notwithstanding, when Machabeus sawe that Nicanor began to be churlish vnto him, & that he intreated him more roughly then he was wont, he perceiued that such vnkindnesse came not of good, and therefore he gathered a fewe of his men, and withdrewe himselfe from Nicanor.

31 Which when he knew, Machabeus had manfully preuented him, he came into the great and most holy temple, and commanded the priests which were doing their vsuall offerings, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they sware that they coulde not tell where the man was, whome hee sought, 33 He stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an othe, saying, * If ye will not deliuer me Judas captiue, I shall remoue this temple of God into the plaine fielde, I shall breake downe the altar, and consecrate this temple vnto Bacchus. * 1. Mac. 7. 35.

34 After these wordes, he departed. Then the priests lift vp their handes towarde heauen, and besought him that was euer the defender of their people, saying,

35 Thou, O Lorde of all, which hast neede of nothing, wouldest that the temple of thy habitation should be among vs:

36 Therefore nowe, O most holy Lorde, keepe this house euer vndefiled, which lately was cleansed, & stop all the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37 Nowe was there accused vnto Nicanor one Razis, an Alderman of Hierusalem, a louer of the whole citie, and a man of good report, which for his kinde heart that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Jewes.

38 This man oft times when the Jewes were minded to keepe themselues vndefiled, defended and deliuered them, being content stedfastly to spend his body and his life for his people.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hate that he bare to the Jewes, sent fiue hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought if he gat him, he should bring the Jewes in great decay.

41 Now when the people began to rush in at his house, to breake the doores, and to set fire on it, he being now taken, a fell vpon his sword.

a This fact is not to be approoued, for that it is contrary to Gods commandement, Thou shalt not kill.

42 Choosing rather to die manfully, then to yeeld himselfe to those wicked doers: and because of his noble stocke, hee had rather haue bene put to extreme cruelty.

43 Notwithstanding, what time he missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwixt the doores, he ranne boldly to the wall, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the heape of them:

44 Which gaue some place to his fall, so that he fell vpon his bellie.

45 Neuertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being kindled in his minde, he rose vp, and while his blood gushed out exceedingly (for he was very sore loze wounded) he ran thzough the midst of the people, and gate him to the toppe of a rocke.

46 So when his blood was now gone, he tooke out his owne bowels, & with both his hands threw them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lord of life and spirit to reward him this againe: and so he died.

The xv. Chapter.

2 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas on the Sabboth day. 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor.

1 NOw when Nicanoz knew that Judas and his companie were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all his power to strike a field with him vpon a Sabboth day.

2 Neuertheles, the Jewes that were cõpelled to goe with him, said, O doe not so cruelly and vnkindly, but honowe the Sabboth day, & worship him that seeth all things.

3 For all this yet said the vngratious person, Is there a mightie one in heauen that commanded the Sabboth day to be kept?

4 And when they sayde, Yea, the liuing God, the mightie Lozde in heauen commanded the seuenth day to be kept,

5 He said, And I am mightie vpon earth, to cõmand them for to arme themselues, and to performe the kings businesse: Notwithstanding, he might not haue his purpose.

6 Nicanoz had deuised with great pryde to ouercome Judas, and to bring away the victozie:

7 But Machabeus had euer a fast confidence and a perfect hope in God, that he would helpe him,

8 And exhozted his people not to bee afraid at the comming of the heathen: but allway to remẽber the help that had bene shewed vnto them from heauẽ, yea, and to be sure now also that almightie God would giue them the victozie.

9 Yee spake vnto them out of the lawe and Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the battails that they had striken afoze, and made them to bee of good courage.

10 So when their hearts were pricked vp, he shewed them also the deceitfulnesse of the heathen, and how they would keepe no couenant noz othe.

11 Thus he weaponed them, not with the armour of shield and speare, but with wholsome wozdes and exhoztations, he shewed them a dreame also worthie to be beléeued, wherthzough he made them all glad.

12 Which was this: He thought that he sawe Onias, which had bene high priest, a vertuous and louing man, sad, and of honest conuersation, well spoken, and one that had bene exercised in godlinesse from a childe, holding vp his handes towarde heauen, and praying foz his people.

13 After this, there appeared vnto him another man, which was aged, honourable and glozious.

14 And Onias said, This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Israel: this is he that prayeth much foz the people, and foz all the holy citie, Jeremie the Prophet of God.

15 He thought also that Jeremie held out his right hand, and gaue vnto Judas a swozde of gold, saying, 16 Take this holy swozde, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite downe the enemies of the people of Israel.

17 And so they were well comforted thzough þ wozds of Judas, which were verie sweete, and able to stirre vp their courage, and tooke courage vnto them, so that þ pong mẽ were determined in their mindes to fight, and to abide stiffely at it, in so much that in the things which they tooke in hand, their boldnes shewed the same, because the holy citie, the sanctuarie, and the temple were in perill, 18 Foz the which they tooke moze care, then foz their wiues, children, brethren, and kinsfolkes.

19 Againe, they that were in the citie, were most carefull foz those which were to fight.

20 Nowe when they were all in a hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hand, and the enemies drewe nigh, the hoste being set in arap, the Elephantes and horsemen euerp one standing in his place,

21 Machabeus considering the comming of the multitude, the ozdinance of diuers weapons, the cruelnesse of the beastes, held vp his handes toward heauen, calling vpon the Lord that doth wonders, which giueth not the victozie after the multitude of weapons, & power of the hoste, but to them that please him, accozding to his owne will.

22 Therefoze in his praper he sayde these wozdes, O Lord, thou that diddest send thine angell in the time of Ezechias king of Juda, and in the hoste of Sennacherib slewest an hundzed, fourescoze, and fiue thousand: 4. King. 19. 35. Ecclus. 48. 24. Esai. 37. 36.

23 Send nowe also thy good angell before vs, O Lord of heauens, in the feare fulnes and dread of thy mightie arme, 24 That they which come against thy holy people to blaspheme them, may be afrayed. And so he made an ende of his wozdes.

25 Then Nicanoz and they that were with him, drew nigh, with trumpets & showtings foz ioy:

26 But Judas and his companie with prayer and calling vpon God, encountered with the enemies.

27 With their hands they smote, but with their hearts they prayed vnto the Lozde, and slue no lesse then thirtie and fiue thousande men: foz thzough the present helpe of God they were gloziously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, and were turning againe with ioy, they vnderstoode that that Nicanor himselfe was slaine with the other for all his armour.

29 Then they gaue a great showte and a crie, praysing the almightie Lord in their owne language.

30 And Judas, which was euer ready to spend his body and life for his citizens, commaded to smite off Nicanors head, with his arme and hande, and to bee brought to Hiernsalem.

31 When he came there, hee called all the people and the Priest to the altar, with those that were in the castle, 32 And shewed them Nicanors head, and his wicked hande, which hee had presumptuously holde vp against the temple of God.

33 He caused the tongue also of that vngodly Nicanor to be cut in litle pieces, & to bee cast to the foules, and that cruell mans hande to be hanged vp before the temple.

34 So euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde, saying, Blessed bee he þ hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 As for Nicanors head, he hanged it vp vpon the high castle, for an eudent and plaine token of the helpe of God.

36 And so they agreed al together to kéepe that day holy, namely the thirteenth day of the moneth ‖ Adar: ‖ Februarie.

37 Which in þ Syrias lãguage is called, The next day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus was Nicanor slaine, and from that time forth the Iewes had the citie in possession: and here will I now make an ende.

39 If I haue done well, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, I haue done that I could.

40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water, and as wine tempered with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eare of them that reade the storie: and here shall be the ende.

The ende of the second booke of the Machabees.

Ioſeph the huſband of Marie the virgin, mother to our Sauiour Chriſte.	After the people were returned into the land with Zorobabel, being deliuered frō the captiuitie of Babylon, he gouerned the ſame people 58. yeres, & left diuers children, among whom Reſa and Abiud were the chiefe. So the gouernment & rule ouer the people, remained to Reſa and his poſteritie, vntil Ianne, & thēce deſcended the Virgin Marie, as is declared in the generatiō deſcribed by S. Luke, and Ioſeph her huſband deſcended from the ſaid Zorobabel by Abiud, brother to Reſa, as S. Matthew declareth in the generatiō by him deſcribed.

IESVS CHRISTE.

FOR better vnderſtanding of the contents of this Table, yee ſhall note that the Euangeliſts, S. Matthew, and S. Luke, haue diuerſly recited the generation of our Sauiour Chriſt, according to the fleſh, & yet tende both to one ende: that is, to prooue (that according to that which is written of him in the propheſies) he is deſcended of the royall blood of Dauid, and rightly ſucceeded him in the kingdom. So the diuerſitie of the ſaide recitall conſiſteth in this: that S. Matthew ſetteth foorth the ſaide generation deſcending from father to ſonne: and S. Luke aſcendeth from ſonne to father, which come all to one ende. But to ſhewe the agreement of S. Luke, with S. Matthew, wee haue heere ſet forth the generation by him deſcribed, deſcending after the order of S. Matthew, to the ende that the one may be cōferred with the other. Furthermore, S. Matthew deſcribeth the generatiō of Ioſeph, though it belong nothing to Ieſus Chriſt after ỹ fleſh, and S. Luke ỹ of the virgin Marie: for it was very neceſſary to recite both, for as much as womē were cōmonly reputed of the line or kinred of their huſbands: And ſo as wel on her huſbāds ſide, as on her owne offspring, it is manifeſt that ſhe was of the royall line of Dauid.

* Iuda of the line of Nathan, engendred Simeon, called Ioas, which came to the royall ſeat, becauſe the poſteritie of Solomon failed in Ochoſias: and therfore the kingdom belonged to Nathans poſteritie, according to the ordinance of Dauid, as Philo reciteth, that is, the yongeſt of the children of Beerſebe (which was Solomon) ſhould raigne after him, & that if the poſtetie failed, the kingdome ſhould come to the poſteritie of the next yonger, which was Nathan: and therefore Nathan was called Abiſcar, that is to ſay, Brother of the prince, and they of his poſteritie, Abiſcarim, that is to ſay, Brothers of the prince, and Mathitim, which ſignifieth, Geuen to ſucceede. The ſaide Philo reciteth, that the poſteritie of the ſaid Nathan was ſo honoured of the king Ioſaphat, that hee called his children the brothers of Ioram his ſonne, & their children the brothers of Ochoſias his nephewe: and this is the cauſe why the Scripture ſayth, that Ioas was the ſonne of Ochoſias, though he were not his naturall ſonne, but the ſonne of Iuda, deſcended from Nathan.

Note that S. Matthew going about to deſcribe the generation by fourteenes, did firſt leaue out Ioas, Amazias, and Azarias, which are ſet in betweene Ochoſias, the laſt of the race of Solomon, and Ioathan. Further, hee hath left out Ichaas, and Ioacim, placed betweene the ſame deſcription more perfect and plaine.

* For as much as it ſeemeth that S. Luke maketh no mention of the generation of Marie, but rather of Ioſeph, for he vſeth these woordes, that Ieſus was counted the ſonne of Ioſeph, which was of Heli, that is to ſay, the ſonne of Heli: we muſt vnderſtand that in this place the name of ſonne is taken for the name of ſonne in lawe, and that S. Luke meaneth, that Ioſeph was the ſonne in lawe to Heli, for that hee tooke to wife the virgin Marie daughter to the ſaid Heli, which maner of ſpeache is common in the ſcripture: for wee finde that Noemi calleth Ruth her daughter, which was but her ſtepdaughter, her ſonnes wife.

19 Then Ioseph her husband, being a righteous man, * and not willing to make her a publique example, was minded priuily to put her awap.

Deut.24.1.

20 But while he thought these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a dreame, saying, Ioseph thou sonne of Dauid, feare not to take vnto thee Marie thy wife, for that which is conceiued in her, is of the holy ghost.

Esai.7.14.

c This phrase doeth not import that hee knew her afterward: as ỹ like phrase vsed Mat.5.28. and Psal.110. or that she had any moe children.

24 Then Ioseph, being raised from sléepe, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and he tooke his wife:

25 c And knew her not, til she had brought forth her first borne sonne, and called his name Iesus.

The ii. Chapter.

1 The time and place of Christs byrth. 14 Christ fleeth into Egypt. 16 The young children are slayne.

1 WHen * Iesus was borne in Bethlehem, a citie of Iurie, in the dayes of Herode the king: beholde, there came wise men from the East to Hierusalem, Luke.2.6. The Gospel on the Epiphanie.

2 Saying, Where is hee that is borne king of the Iewes? For we haue séene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When Herode the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all the citie of Hierusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all ỹ chiefe Priests and Scribes of the people together, hee demaunded of them where Christ should be borne.

5 And they sayd vnto him, At Bethlehem in Iurie: For thus it is written by the Prophet,

6 * And thou Bethlehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the princes of Iuda: For out of thee shall there come a captaine, that shall gouerne my people Israel.

Mich.5.2. iohn.7.41.

7 Then Herode, when he had priuily called the wisemen, enquired of them diligently what time the starre appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Goe, and search diligently for the young childe, and when ye haue found him, bring me word againe, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed, and loe, the starre which they sawe in the East, went before them, till it came and stoode ouer the place where in the pong childe was.

10 When they sawe the starre, they reioyced exceedingly with great ioye, 11 And went into the house, & they sawe the pong childe with Marie his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, presented vnto him gifts, golde, and frankensence, and myrre.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame that they should not returne to Herode, they departed into their owne countrey another way.

The Gospel on Innocents day.

13 When they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the pong childe, and [a] his mother, and flee into Egypt, & be thou there til I bring thee word: for it will come to passe, that Herode shall seeke the pong childe, to destroy him.

a Ioseph was not the father of Christ, els the angel would not haue sayd, Take the childe and his mother, but rather, Take thy childe.

14 When he arose, he tooke the pong child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by þ Prophet, saying, * Out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.

Osee. 11. 1.

16 Then Herode, when he sawe that hee was mocked of the wisemen, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slue all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coastes thereof, as many as were two yeeres olde and vnder, according to the time, which he had diligently searched out of the wisemen.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremie the Prophet, saying, 18 In Rama was there a voyce heard, * lamentation, weeping, & great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, & would not be comforted, because they were not.

Iere. 31. 15.

19 But when Herode was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the pong childe and his mother, and goe into the land of Israel: for they are dead, which sought the pong childes life.

21 And he arose, & tooke the pong childe and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reigne in Iurie in the roome of his father Herode, hee was afraide to goe thither: notwithstanding, after he was warned of God in a dreame, he turned aside into the parties of Galilee:

23 And when he was come thither, hee dwelt in a citie, which is called Nazareth, that it might bee fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophets, He shall be called a Nazarite.

The iii. Chapter.

1 Iohns preaching, office, life, baptisme, 7 reprehending of the Pharisees, 13 and baptising of Christ in Iordane.

1 IN those daies came * John the Baptist, preaching in the wildernesse of Iurie, Mar. 1. 4. - luke. 3. 3.

2 And saying, Repent [a] ye: for the kingdome of heauen is at hand. a This word is, after a fault to be wise, with a minde to amend.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the Prophet Esaias, saying, * The voice of one crying in the wildernesse, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make ye his pathes straight. Esai. 40. 3. marke. 1. 5.

4 * This John had his raiment of Camels heare, and a letherne girdle about his loynes, his meat was locustes and wilde honie. Marke. 1. 6.

5 * Then went out to him Hierusalem, and all Iurie, and all the region round about Iordane, Marke 1. 5. luke. 3. 7.

6 And were baptized of him in Iordane, confessing their sinnes.

7 But when he sawe many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptisme, he said vnto them, * O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the anger to come? Matth. 13. 34

8 Bring forth therefore fruites meete for repentance.

9 And thee not of such minde, that yee would say within your selues, * Wee haue Abraham to our father: For I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abrahã. Iohn. 8. 39. actes. 13. 26.

10 Euen now is the axe also put vnto the roote of the trees: * Therefore euerie tree which bringeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire. Mat. 7. 19.

11 * I baptize you in water vnto repentance: but he that commeth after mée, is mightier then I, whose shooes I am not worthie to beare, he shal baptise you with the holy ghost and with fire. Marke 1. 8. iohn 1. 26. luke 3. 13.

12 * Whose fanne is in his hand, and he will throughly purge the floore, and gather his wheate into his garner: but wil burne vp þ chaffe vp vnquenchable fire. Luke 3. 18.

13 * Then commeth Iesus from Galilee to Iordane, vnto John, to be baptised of him. Marke 1. 9, luke 3. 22.

14 But John forbade him, saying, I haue neede to be baptised of thee, and commest thou to me?

15 Iesus answering, said vnto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becommeth vs to fulfil all righteousnesse. Then he suffered him.

16 And Iesus, when he was baptised, went vp straightway out of the water: and loe, the heauens were opened vnto him, and Iohn sawe the spirit of God descending like a doue, and lighting vpon him.

17 And loe there came a voyce from the heauens, saying, * This is my deerely beloued sonne, * in whom I am well pleased. 2. Pet. 1. 19. Colloss. 1. 15.

4 But he answered, and said, It is written, * Man shall not liue by bread onely, but by euery word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

Deuter.8.3.

5 Then the deuil taketh him vp into the holy citie, and setteth him on a pinacle of the temple, 16 The people, which sate in darknesse, saw great light: and to them which sate in the region and shadow of death, light is sprong vp.

Marke 1.13.

17 * From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent: for the kingdome of heauen is at hand.

Marke 1.16. The Gospell on S. Andrewes day.

19 And he saith vnto them, Follow me: and I will make you Fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left their nettes, and followed him.

21 And whē he was gone forth frō thence, he saw other two brethren, James the sonne of Zebedee, & John his brother, in the ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22 And they immediatly left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, & preaching the Gospel of the kingdome, and healing all maner of sickenesse, and all maner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame spread abrode throughout all Syria: and they brought vnto him all sick people that were taken with diuers diseases, & gryppings, and them that were possessed with deuils, and those which were lunatike, and those that had the palsie, and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people, from Galilee, b and from Decapolis, and from Hierusalem, and from Jurie, and from the regions that lye beyond Jordane.

1 TAke heed that ye do not your almes before men, to the intent that ye would be ſeene of them, or els ye haue no reward of your father, which is in heauen.

2 Therefore, * when thou doeſt thine almes, doe not blowe a trumpet before thee, as hypocrites doe, in the ſynagogues, and in the ſtreetes, that they might be eſteemed of men. Verely I ſay vnto you, they haue their reward.

Rom.12.8.

3 But when thou doest almes, let not thy left hand know, what thy right hande doeth:
4 That thine almes may be in secret: And thy father which seeth in secret, him selfe shall reward thee openly.
5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they loue to pray standing in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streetes, that they may be seene of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.
6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, & when thou hast shut thy doore, pray to thy father which is in secret, and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.
7 But when ye pray, babble not much, as the heathen doe. For they thinke that they shalbe heard, for their much bab-lings sake.
8 Be not ye therefore like vnto them: For your father knoweth, what things ye haue neede of, before ye aske of him.

giue our debters.

16 Moreouer, when ye fast, be not of an heauie countenance, as the hypocrites are: for they disfigure their faces, that they might appeare vnto men to fast:

3 And said vnto him, Art thou hee that should come? Or do we looke for another? Luke 7.18.

4 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Go, and shew Iohn againe those things which ye doe heare and see:

5 The blinde receiue their sight, the halt doe walke, the lepers are cleansed, and the deafe heare, the dead are raised vp, and the poore haue the Gospel preached to them.

6 And happie is he whosoeuer shall not be offended in me.

7 And as they departed, Iesus began to say vnto the multitude concerning Iohn, What went ye out into the wildernesse to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

8 Or what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Beholde, they that weare soft clothing, are in Kings houses.

9 But what went yee out for to see? A Prophet? yea I say vnto you, & more then a Prophet.

10 For this is he of whome it is written, * Beholde, I send my messenger before thy face, which shal prepare thy way before thee. Mala.3.1.

11 Verely I say vnto you, Among them that are borne of women, there hath not risen a greater then Iohn the Baptist: notwithstanding, hee that is lesse in the kingdome of heauen, is greater then he.

12 * From the daies of Iohn the Baptist, vntil now, the kingdome of heauen suffereth violence, and the violent plucke it vnto them. Luke.16.16.

13 For all the Prophets, and the lawe it selfe, prophecied vnto Iohn.

14 And if ye will receiue it, * this is Elias which was for to come. Malac.4.5.

15 * He that hath eares to heare, let him heare. Luke.7.31.

16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like vnto litle children, sitting in the markets, and calling vnto their fellowes, 17 And saying, We haue piped vnto you, & ye haue not danced: we haue mourned vnto you, and ye haue not sorowed. aWe haue sung mourning songs vnto you.

18 For Iohn came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a deuil.

19 The sonne of man came eating & drinking, and they say, Beholde a man glutton & a wine bibber, and a friend vnto publicanes and sinners: and wisdome was iustified of her children.

20 * Then began he to vpbraide the cities, wherein most of his mightie workes were done, because they repented not. Luke.10.13.

21 Woe vnto thee Chorazin, woe vnto thee Bethsaida: for if the mightie workes woꝛkes which were done in you, had bene done in Tyre and Sidon, they would haue repented long agoe in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say vnto you, It shalbe easier foꝛ Tyre & Sidon at the day of iudgement, then foꝛ you.

23 And thou Capernaum which hast bin lifted vp vnto heauen, shalt be brought downe to hel: foꝛ if the mightie woꝛkes which haue bene done in thee, had bene done among them of Sodome, they would haue remained vntill this day.

24 But I say vnto you, that it shalbe easier foꝛ the land of Sodome in the day of iudgement, then foꝛ thee.

The Gospel on Saint Matthias day. Luke 10.21.

25 *At that time Iesus answered, & said, I thanke thee, O father, Lord of heauen and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast shewed them vnto babes.

26 Euen so, O father, foꝛ so was it thy good pleasure.

27 All things are giuen vnto me of my father: *and no man knoweth þ sonne, but the father: neither knoweth any man the father, saue the sonne, and he to whom so euer the sonne will open him.

John 3.36. and 6.46.

28 Come vnto me all ye that labour soꝛe, and are laden, and I will ease you.

The xii. Chapter.

Christ excuseth his disciples which plucke the eares of corne.

Marke 2.23. luke 6.1. deut.23.25.

1 AT that time, *Iesus went on the Sabboth dayes thꝛough the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and began to plucke the eares of corne, and to eate.

2 But when the Pharisees sawe them, they saide vnto him, Beholde, thy disciples do that which is not lawfull to do vpon the Sabboth day.

1.Sam.21.6.

3 But he saide vnto them, Haue ye not read *what Dauid did when he was an hungred, and they that were with him,

4 How he entred into the house of God, and did eate þ shewe bread, which was not lawfull foꝛ him to eate, neither foꝛ them which were with him, * but only foꝛ the priestes?

Exod.29.33. Leuit.8.31. num.28.9.

5 Oꝛ haue ye not read in the *law, howe on the Sabboth dayes the priestes in the temple a prophane the Sabboth, and are blamelesse?

a That is, doe vncleane woꝛkes.

7 But if ye had knowen what this meaneth, *I will mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not haue condemned the giltles.

Osee 6.7.

8 Foꝛ the sonne of man is Lorde of the Sabboth day.

Marke 3.1. luke 6.6.

9 *And when he was departed thence, he went into their Synagogue,

10 And beholde, there was a man which had his hand dried vp, and they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heale on the Sabboth dayes? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said vnto them, What man of you will there be that shall haue one sheepe: and if it fall into a pit on the Sabboth day, will he not take holde of it, and lift it out?

12 Howe much more then is a man better then a sheepe? Wherefoꝛe it is lawfull to do well on the Sabboth dayes.

13 Then saith he to þ man, Stretch foꝛth thy hand: and he stretched it foꝛth, and it was restoꝛed whole, like as the other.

14 Then the Pharisees went out, and helde a counsell against him, howe they might destroy him.

15 But when Iesus knewe it, he departed thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all,

16 And charged them that they shoulde not make him knowen:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the Prophet, saying, 18 *Beholde my childe whom I haue chosen, my beloued, in whom my soule well delighteth: I will put my spirite vpon him, and he shall shew iudgement to the Gentiles.

Esai 42.1.

19 He shal not strine, noꝛ crie, neither shal any man heare his voyce in þ stretes.

20 A bruised reede shal he not breake, and smoking flaxe shall he not quench, till he send foꝛth iudgement vnto victorie.

21 And in his name shal þ Gētiles trust.

22 * Then was brought vnto him one possessed with a deuil, blinde, & dumbe: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumbe both spake and sawe.

Luke 11.14.

23 And all the people were amased, and said, Is not this that sonne of Dauid?

24 *But when þ Pharisees heard it, they said, This felowe doth not cast out diuels, but by Beelzebub the prince of the deuils.

Mat.9.34. marke 3.22. luke 11.15.

25 But whē Iesus knew their thoughts, he said vnto them, Euery kingdome diuided against it selfe, is brought to desolation: and euery citie oꝛ house diuided against it selfe, shall not stand.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, then were he diuided against him selfe: howe shall then his kingdome endure?

27 Also if I by Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom doe your children cast them out? Therefoꝛe they shall be your iudges.

28 But if I cast out the deuils by the spirite of God, then is the kingdome of God come vpon you.

29 Oꝛ els, how can one enter into a stroꝛg mans house, and spoile his goodes, except he first binde the strong man, and then will spoile his house?

30 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth abroade.

32 And whosoeuer speaketh a worde against the sonne of man, it shall be forgiuen him: but whosoeuer speaketh against þ holy Ghost, it shal not be forgiuen him, neither in this worlde, neither in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, & his fruit good: or els make the tree euill, and his fruite euill. For the tree is knowen by his fruite.

34 O generations of vipers, howe can ye speake good things, whē ye your selues are euil? * For out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh. Luke.6.45.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of þ heart, bringeth forth good things: and an euil man out of the euil treasure, bringeth forth euill things.

36 But I say vnto you, That of euery idle worde that men shall speake, they shall giue account thereof in the day of iudgement.

37 For of thy wordes thou shalt be iustified, and of thy wordes thou shalt be condemned.

38 * Then certaine of the Scribes, and of the Pharisees, answered him, saying, Master, we will see a signe of thee. Matth.16.2. luke 11.29. 1.cor.1.22.

39 But he answered, and said to them, An euil and aduulterous generation seeketh a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen to it, but the signe of the Prophet Jonas.

40 * For as Jonas was three dayes and three nightes in the whales bellie: so shall the sonne of man be three dayes & three nights in the heart of the earth. Jonas 2.1.

41 The men of Nimue shall rise in the iudgement with this nation, and condenne it, * because they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and beholde, here is one greater then Jonas. Jonas 3.5.

42 * The Queene of the South shall rise in the iudgement with this generatiō, and shall condemne it: for she came from the vttermost partes of the earth to heare the wisedome of Solomon, and behold, in this place is one greater then Solomon. 1.King.10.1. 2.chron.9.1.

43 When the vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout dry places seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then he saith, I will returne into my house from whence I came out. And when he is come, he findeth it emptie, swept, and garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with him selfe seuen other spirits worse then him selfe, and they enter in, & dwell there: * And the last state of that man is worse then the first. Euen so shal it be also vnto this frowarde generation. 1.Pet.2.20. heb.6.4.

47 Then one said vnto him, * Beholde, thy mother and thy brethren stande without, desiring to speake with thee. Marke 3.32. luke 8.21.

48 But he answered, and saide vnto him that tolde him, Who is my mother? or who are my brethren?

49 And when he had stretched foorth his hande towarde his disciples, he saide, * Beholde my mother and my brethren. John 15.7.

50 For whosoeuer shal do the will of my father which is in heauen, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The parable of the seede, 24 and of the tares.

1 THe same day when Jesus was gone out of the house, * he sate by the sea side. Marke 4.1. luke 8.15.

2 And great multitudes were gathered together vnto him, so that he went into the ship, and sate, and the whole multitude stoode on the shore.

3 And he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Beholde, the sower went forth to sowe.

4 And when he sowed, some seedes fell by the wayes side: & the foules came, and deuoured them vp.

5 Some fell vpon stonie places, where they had not much earth: and anon they sprung vp, because they had no deepenesse of earth.

6 And when the sunne was vp, they caught heate: and because they had not roote, they withered away.

7 Againe, some fell among thornes: and the thornes sprung vp, & choked them.

8 But some fell into good ground, and brought forth fruite, some an hundreth fold, some sixtie folde, some thirtie folde.

9 Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And the disciples came, and said vnto him, Why speakest thou vnto them by parables?

11 He answered, and said vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you to know the secrets of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.

12 * For whosoeuer hath, to him shall be giuen, & he shall haue more abundance: but whosoeuer hath not, from him shall be taken away, euen that he hath. Matth.25.29.

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not: and hearing, they heare not, neither do they vnderstand.

14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecie of Esaias, which saith, * With the eare ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand: and seeing, ye shall see, and shall not perceiue. Esai 6.9. marke 4.12. luke 8.10. iohn 12.40. actes 28.26. rom.11.8.

15 For this peoples heart is waxed grosse, and their eares are dull of hearing, & their eyes haue they closed: least at any time they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and should vnderstand with their heart, and should conuert, that I might heale them.

16 Blessed are your eies, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.

17 Verily I say vnto you, * that many prophets & righteous men haue desired to see those things which ye see, & haue not seene: and to heare those things which Luke 10.24.

which ye heare, and haue not heard.

Marke.4.15. Luke.8.12.
18 * Heare ye therefore the similitude of the Sower.
19 When one heareth the word of ꝑ kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, then commeth that euil, and catcheth awap that which was sowen in his heart: this is he which receiued seede by the wap side.
20 But he that receiued the seede into stonie places, the same is he that heareth ꝑ word, and anone with ioy receiueth it:
21 Yet hath he not roote in him selfe, but dureth for a season: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.
22 Hee also that receiued seede into the thornes, is he that heareth the word, and the care of this world, and the deceitfulnesse of richesse, choke vp the word, and so is he made vnfruitfull.
23 But hee that receiued seede into the good ground, is he that heareth ꝑ word, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruite: and bringeth forth, some an hundred folde, some sixtie folde, some thirtie folde.

The Gospel on the fifth Sunday after the Epiphanie. Marke.4.26.
24 Another parable put hee forth vnto them, saying, * The kingdome of heauen is likened vnto a man, which sowed good seede in his fielde.
25 But while men slept, his enemie came and sowed tares among the wheate, & went his wap.
26 But when the blade was sprong vp, & had brought forth fruite, then appeared the tares also.
27 So, the seruants of the houlholder came, and sayd vnto him, Syr, diddest not thou sowe good seede in thy fielde, from whence then hath it tares?
28 He sayde vnto them, The malitious man hath done this. The seruants sayd vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe, and gather them vp?
29 But he sayd, Nay: lest while ye gather vp the tares, ye roote vp also the wheate with them.
30 Let both growe together vntil the harueste: and in time of harueste I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and binde them in bundelles to burne them: but carie the wheate into my barne.

Mat.4.30. Luke.13.18.
31 Another parable put hee forth vnto them, saying, * The kingdome of heauen is like to a graine of mustard seede, which a man tooke, and sowed in his fielde.
32 Which in deede is the least of all seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and is a tree: so that the birdes of the aire come & make their neastes in the branches thereof.

Luke.13.20.
33 * Another parable spake he vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman tooke, and hid in three peckes of meale, til all were leauened.

Marke.4.33.
34 * All these things spake Jesus vnto the people in parables, and without a parable spake he not vnto them:
35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, * I will open my mouth in parables, I will speake forth things which haue bene kept secret from the foundation of the world. Psalm.78.2.
36 Then Jesus, when he had sent ꝑ people awap, went into the house: * And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field. Marke.4.34.
37 He answered, and said vnto them, Hee that soweth the good seede, is the sonne of man.
38 The field, is the world. The good seede, these are the children of the kingdome. But the tares, are the children of the wicked.
39 And the enemie that sowed them, is ꝑ deuil. * The harueste, is the end of the world. The reapers, be the angels. Apoc.14.15. ioel.3.13.
40 Euen as the tares therefore are gathered and brent in the fire: so shall it be in the end of the world.
41 * The sonne of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdome all things that offend, & them which do iniquitie: Apoc.14.15.
42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shalbe wayling and gnashing of teeth.
43 * Then shall the righteous shine as the sunne in the kingdome of their father. Who hath eares to heare, let him heare. Sapi.3.3. dan.12.3.
44 Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto treasure hid in the field: the which, when a man hath found, hideth, and for ioy thereof goeth and selleth all that hee hath, and buyeth that fielde.
45 Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a marchant man, seeking goodly pearles:
46 Which when he had found one precious pearle, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.
47 Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered of all kinde, 48 Which, when it was full, the fishers drue to land, & sate downe, & gathered ꝑ good into vessels, but cast the bad awap.
49 So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the bad from among the iust,
50 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shalbe wayling and gnashing of teeth.
51 Jesus sayth vnto them, Haue ye vnderstand all these things? They say vnto him, Yea Lord.
52 Then sayd he vnto them, Therefore euery Scribe which is taught in ꝑ kingdome of heauen, is like vnto a man that is an houlholder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new & olde.
53 And it came to passe, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 * And

54 * And when he came into his owne countrey, he taught them in their Synagogue, in so much that they were astonied, and sayde, Whence commeth this wisedome and mightie workes vnto him?

55 * Is not this the Carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie? and his brethren, Iames, and Ioses, and Simon, and Iudas?

56 And are not all his sisters with vs? whence hath he then all these things?

57 And they were offended in him. But Iesus sayde vnto them, * A Prophet is not without honour, saue in his owne countrey, and in his owne house.

58 And he did not many mightie workes there, because of their vnbeliefe.

The xiiij. Chapter.

10 Iohn is taken and beheaded. 19 Christ feedeth fiue thousand men with fiue loaues and two fishes.

1 AT that time * Herode the Tetrarch heard of the fame of Iesu,

2 And sayde vnto his seruants, This is Iohn the Baptist, he is risen from the dead, & therefore great workes do shewe foorth them selues in him.

3 * For Herode, when he had taken Iohn, he bounde him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.

4 For Iohn said vnto him, * It is not lawfull for thee to haue her.

5 And when he would haue put him to death, he feared the people: * because they counted him as a Prophet.

6 But when Herodes birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias daunced before them, and pleased Herode.

7 Wherefore he promiseth with an othe, to giue her whatsoeuer she would aske.

8 And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Giue me here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.

9 And the King was sorie: nevertheles, for the othes sake, and them which sate also at the table, he commanded it to be giuen her:

10 And sent a tormentor, and beheaded Iohn in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, and giuen to the damsell: and she brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and tooke vp his body, and buried it: and went and tolde Iesus.

13 * When Iesus heard of it, he departed thence in a ship, vnto a desert place out of the way: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 And when Iesus went forth, he sawe much people, and was moued with mercie towarde them, and he healed their sicke.

15 * And when it was euening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the houre is nowe past: let the people depart, that they may goe into the villages, and buy them victuals.

16 But Iesus sayde vnto them, They haue no neede to goe away: giue ye them to eate.

17 They say vnto him, We haue not here but fiue loaues, and two fishes.

18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And when he had commanded the people to sit downe on the grasse, and had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and lifted vp his eyes towarde heauen, he blessed: and when he had broken the, he gaue the loaues to his disciples: and his disciples to the people.

20 And they did all eate, and were sufficed: And they tooke vp (of þ fragments that remained) twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousande men, beside women and children.

22 And straightway Iesus constrained his disciples to get vp into a ship, and to goe before him vnto the other side, while he sent the people away.

23 And when he had sent the people away, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: * and when night was come, he was there himselfe alone: Marke 6.46. iohn 6.16.

24 But the ship was nowe in the middest of the sea, and was tost with the waues: for it was a contrary winde.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night, Iesus went vnto them, walking on the Sea.

26 And when the disciples sawe him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, That it is a spirite: and they cryed out for feare.

27 But straightway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good cheare: it is I, be not afrayde.

28 Peter answered him, and sayd, Lorde, if it be thou, bidde me come vnto thee on the water.

29 And he sayde, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to goe to Iesus.

30 But when he saw a mightie winde, he was afrayde: and when he beganne to sinke, he cryed, saying, Lord, saue me.

31 And immediately Iesus, when he had stretched foorth his hande, caught him, and said vnto him, O thou of litle faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt?

32 And when they were come into the ship, the winde ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth thou art the Sonne of God.

34 * And when they were gone ouer, they came into the land of Genezaret. Marke 6.54.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that countrey rounde about, & brought vnto him all that were sicke, 36 And besought him that they might touche the hemme of his garment onely: and as many as touched, were made perfectly whole.

Christ excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes and Pharisees.

Matth.7.1.
1 THen *came to Jesus Scribes and Pharisees, which were come frō Hierusalem, saying,

The xviij. Chapter.

1 Hee teacheth his disciples to be humble, and harmelesse. 6 to auoide occasions of euill.

1 AT *the same time came the disciples vnto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen? The Gospel on S. Michael and all angels.
2 Jesus called a litle childe vnto him, and set him in the middes of them,
3 And said, Verily I say vnto you, *Except ye turne and become as litle children, ye shall not enter into the kingdome of heauen. Matth.19.14. luke 9.46. 1.cor.14.20.
4 Whosoeuer therefore shall humble himselfe as this litle childe, the same is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen.
5 And who so shall receiue such a litle childe in my name, receiueth me.
6 *But whoso shall offende one of these Mark.9.42. litle ones which beleeue in me, it were luke 17.1. better for him that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that hee were drowned in the deapth of the sea.
7 Woe vnto the worlde because of offences, it must needes be that offences come: but woe to that man by whom the offence commeth.
8 If then thy * hande or thy foote offend Matth.5.30. thee, [a] cut them off, & cast them frō thee: mark.9.43. it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather then thou shouldest, hauing two hands or two feete, be cast into the euerlasting fire.
9 And if thine eye offende thee, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire.
10 Take heede that ye despise not one of these litle ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their [b] angels do alwaies beholde the face of my father which is in heauen.
11 * For the sonne of man is come to saue that which was lost.
12 * Howe thinke ye? if a man haue an hundred sheepe, and one of them be gone astray, doeth hee not leaue those ninetie and nine, & goeth into the mountaines, and seeketh that which went astray?
13 And if so be that he finde it, verily I say vnto you, hee reioyceth more of that sheepe, then of the ninetie & nine which went not astray.
14 Euen so it is not the will of your father which is in heauen, that one of these litle ones should perish.
15 Moreouer, * if thy brother shall tres*Luke 17.3.* passe against thee, goe and tell him his leuit.19.17. fault betweene thee & him alone: if he shal eccle.19.13. heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

17 If hee will not heare them, tell it vnto the Church: if hee will not heare the Church, let him be vnto thee as an * hea*1.Corin.5.9.* then man and a Publicane.
18 Verily I say vnto you, *whatsoeuer ye Iohn 20.23. shall binde on earth, shall be bounde in heauen: and whatsoeuer ye shall loose on earth, shalbe loosed in heauen.

[a] Wee must cut off all our carnall & fleshly cōcupiscence or affections, least we be with them cast into the fire of hell.

[b] In this apeareth the tenderly kindnes of God toward vs, that he doeth sende his holy angels to keepe and defende vs euen from our very birth.

19 Againe,

19 Againe, truely I ſay vnto you, that if two of you ſhall agree in earth as touching any thing that they ſhall aſke, it ſhalbe done for them of my father which is in heauen.

21 Then came Peter to him, and ſayde, Lorde, howe oft ſhall my brother ſinne againſt me, and I forgiue him? * till ſeuen times?

22 Jeſus ſaith vnto him, I ſay not vnto thee, vntill ſeuen times: but vntil ſeuentie times ſeuen.

23 Therefore is the kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certaine man that was a King, which would take accompt of his ſeruants.

24 And whē he had begun to reckon, one was brought vnto him which ought him ten thouſand talents.

25 But foraſmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be ſold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and paiment to be made.

26 The ſeruant therefore fell downe, and beſought him, ſaying, Lorde, haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lorde of that ſeruant, moued with pitie, looſed him, and forgaue him the debt.

28 But the ſame ſeruant went out, and founde one of his fellowes which ought him an hundred pence: and when hee had layde his handes on him, he tooke him by the throte, ſaying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow fel downe at his féete, and beſought him, ſaying, Haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and caſt him into priſon, till he ſhould pay the debt.

31 So when his fellowes ſaw what was done, they were very ſory, & came, and tolde vnto their lorde all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, ſaid vnto him, O thou vngratious ſeruant, I forgaue thee all that debt when thou deſiredſt me:

33 Shouldeſt not thou alſo haue had compaſſion on thy fellowe, euen as I had pitie on thee?

34 And his lorde was wroth, and deliuered him to the tormentors, till he ſhould pay all that was due vnto him.

35 So likewiſe ſhall my heauenly father do alſo vnto you, if ye from your hearts forgiue not euery one his brother their treſpaſſes.

6 Wherefore they are no more twaine, but one fleſh. Let not man therefore put aſunder, that which God hath coupled together.

7 They ſay vnto him, * Why did Moſes then commaund to giue a writing of diuorcement, and to put her away? Deuter.24.1.

12 For there are ſome chaſte, which were ſo borne out of their mothers wombe: and there are ſome chaſte, which were made chaſte of men: and there be chaſte, which haue made themſelues chaſte for the kingdome of heauens ſake. He that is able to receiue it, let him receiue it.

19 Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou ſhalt loue thy neighbour as thy ſelfe.

20 The yong man saith vnto him, All these things haue I kept from my youth vp: what lacke I yet?
21 Iesus saide vnto him, If thou wilt be perfect, goe and sell thy substance, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen: and come and followe me.
22 But when the yong man heard that saying, he went away sory: for he had great possessions.
23 Then Iesus saide vnto his disciples, Verily I say vnto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.
24 And againe I say vnto you, It is easier for a Camel to goe through the eye of a needle, then for the rich to enter into the kingdome of God.
25 When the disciples heard this, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saued?

The xx. Chapter.

1 Christ teacheth by a similitude, that God is better vnto no man. 20 He teacheth his disciples to be lowly. 30 and giueth two blind men their sight.

The Gospell on Septuagesima Sunday.
1 FOr the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man that is an housholder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his Vineyarde.
2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penie a day, he sent them into his vineyarde.
3 And when he went out about the third houre, he sawe other standing idle in the market place,
4 And sayde vnto them, Goe ye also into the Vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right, I will giue you. And they went their way.
5 Againe, when he went out about the sixth and ninth houre, he did likewise.
6 And about the eleuenth houre, when he went out, he founde other standing idle, and saith vnto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?
7 They say vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He saith vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyarde: and whatsoeuer is right, that shall ye receiue.
8 So when euen was come, the lorde of the vineyarde saith vnto his Stewarde, Call the labourers, and giue them their hyre, beginning from the last, vnto the first.
9 And when they came that were hired about the eleuenth houre, they receiued euery man a penie.
10 But when the first came also, they supposed that they should haue receiued more: and they likewise receiued euery man a penie.
11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the good man of the house, 12 Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equall vnto vs, which haue borne the burden and feruent heate of the day.
13 But he answered to one of them, and sayde, Friende, I doe thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a penie?
14 Take that thine is, and goe thy way, I will giue vnto this last, euen as vnto thee.
15 Is it not lawfull for me to doe that I will with mine owne? Is thine eye euil, because I am good?

23 He saith vnto them, Ye shall drinke in deed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with: But to sit on my right hande, and on my left, is not mine to giue, but to them for whom it is prepared of my father.

17 And he left them, and went out of the citie vnto Bethanie, and he lodged there.

18 In the morning as he returned into the citie, he hungred.

19 And when he saw one figge tree in the way, hee came to it, and founde nothing thereon but leaues onely, and said vnto it, Neuer fruite growe on thee hencefoward. And anon the figge tree withered away.

Marke 11.13.

20 And when the disciples saw it, they marueiled, saying, Howe soone is the figge tree withered away?

21 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, If ye haue faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the figge tree, but also, if ye shall say vnto this mountaine, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea, it shalbe done.

22 And all things whatsoeuer ye shall aske in prayer, beleeuing, ye shall receiue.

Marke 11.27. luke 10.1. 23 ¶ And when hee was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priestes and the Elders of the people came vnto him teaching, and say, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this power?

24 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, I also will aske you one question, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authoritie I do these things:

25 The baptisme of Iohn, whence was it? from heauen, or of men? And they reasoned with themselues, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleeue him?

Matth.14.5. 26 But if we shall say, Of men, then feare we the people, * for all men holde Iohn as a Prophet.

27 And they answered Iesus, and said, We can not tell. And he said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these things.

28 But what thinke you? A certaine man had two sonnes; and when he came to the first, he said, Sonne, go and worke to dap in my vineyard.

29 He answered, and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went.
30 And when he came to the seconde, he said likewise: And he answered, and said, I goe syr, and went not.
31 Whether of them twaine did the will of his father? And they saide vnto him, The first. Iesus saith vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that the Publicanes and the harlots goe into the kingdome of God before you.
Matth.3.4. 32 For *Iohn came vnto you by the way of righteousnesse, and ye beleeued him not: but the Publicanes & the harlots beleeued him. And ye, when ye had seene it, were not moued afterward with repentance, that ye might haue beleeued him.
Esai.5.1.Ierre.2. 21. mark.12.1. luke 20.9. 33 Hearken another similitude. * There was a certaine man, an housholder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine presse in it, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange country.
34 And when the time of the fruite drewe neere, hee sent his seruants to the husbandmen, that they might receiue the fruites of it.
35 And the husbandmen, when they had taken his seruants, they beat one, killed another, and stoned another.
36 Againe, he sent other seruants, more then the first, & they did vnto them likewise.
37 But last of all, hee sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying, They will stande in awe of my sonne.
Matth.26.3. iohn 11.53. 38 But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they said among themselues, *This is the heire, come, let vs kill him, and let vs seaze vpon his inheritance.
39 And they caught him, and thrust him out of the vineyard, and slue him.
40 When the Lorde therefore of the vineyarde commeth, what will he doe vnto those husbandmen?
41 They say vnto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruite in due seasons.
Psal.118.22. actes 4.11. 42 Iesus saith vnto them, *Did ye neuer read in the Scriptures, The stone which the builders disalowed, the same is become the head of the corner? This is the Lordes doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.
43 Therefore say I vnto you, The kingdome of God shall be taken from you, and giuen to a nation bringing forth the fruites thereof.
Rom.9.33. 1.peter 2.7. esai 8.14. 44 And * whosoeuer shall fall on this stone, shall be broken in pieces: but on whomsoeuer it shall fall, it shall all to grinde him.
45 And when the chiefe Priestes & Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceiued that he spake of them.
46 And when they sought to lay handes on him, they feared the multitudes, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

The xxij. Chapter.

17 Tribute to be giuen to the Emperour. 39 Hee answereth the Scribe vnto his question.

1 AND Iesus answered, * and spake vnto them againe by parables, and saide, The Gospell on the xx. Sunday after Trinitie. Luke 14.16. apoc.19.9.
2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man that was a king, which made a mariage for his sonne,
3 And sent forth his seruants, to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.
4 Againe hee sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Beholde, I haue prepared my dinner, my Oxen and my Fatlings are killed, and all things are readie: come vnto the mariage.
5 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, another to his marchandize:
6 And the remnant tooke his seruants, and entreated them spitefully, and slue them.
7 But when the king heard thereof, hee was wroth, and when he had sent forth his armies, hee destroyed those murderers, and burnt vp their citie.
8 Then saith hee to his seruants, The marriage in deede is prepared, but they which were bidden, were not worthie.
9 Goe ye therefore out into the high wayes, and as many as ye shall finde, bid to the marriage.
10 And the seruantes went out into the high wayes, and gathered together all, as many as they founde, both good and bad, and the wedding was furnished with ghestes.
11 When the king came in to see þ ghestes, he spied there a man, which had not on a wedding garment, 12 And he saith vnto him, Friende, howe camest thou in hither, not hauing a wedding garment? And hee was euen speachelesse.
13 Then saide the king to the ministers, When ye haue bounde him hand and foote, take him vp, and cast him into vtter darknesse, * there shalbe weeping, and gnashing of teeth. Matth.13.42. and 25.30.
14 For many are called, but fewe are chosen.
15 *Then went the Pharisees, and tooke counsell howe they might entangle him in his talke. The Gospell on the xxiii. Sunday after Trinitie.
16 And they sent out vnto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we knowe that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truely, neither carest thou for any man, for thou doest not respect mens persons. Mark.12.13. luke 20.26.
17 Tell vs therefore, howe thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?
18 But Iesus, when he knewe their wickednesse, said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?
19 Shewe

19 Shewe me the tribute money. And they brought vnto him a penye.
20 And hee saieth vnto them, Whose is this Image and superscription?
21 They say vnto him, Ceasars. Then saith he vnto them, * Giue therefore vnto Ceasar the things which are Ceasars: and vnto God, those things that are Gods.
22 When they had heard these wordes, they marueiled, and left him, and went their way.
23 * The same day came to him the Sadducees, * which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him, 24 Saying, Master, * Moses saide, If a man die, hauing no children, his brother shall ‖ marry his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.
25 There were with vs seuen brethren, and the first, when hee had married a wife, deceased, and hauing no issue, left his wife vnto his brother.
26 Likewise the second also, and the third, vnto the seuenth.
27 Last of all the woman died also.
28 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife shall she be of the seuen? For they all had her.
29 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Ye doe erre, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.
30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are giuen in marriage, but are as the Angels of God in heauen.
31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read that which was spoken vnto you of God, which sayth, 32 * I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.
33 And when the multitudes heard this, they were astonied at his doctrine.
34 * But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.
35 Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,
36 Master, which is the great commandement in the lawe?
37 Iesus said vnto him, * Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy minde.
38 This is the first and great commandement.
39 And the second is like vnto it, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.
40 In these two commandements hang all the lawe and the Prophets.
41 * When the Pharisees were gathered together, Iesus asked them, 42 Saying, What thinke ye of Christ? whose sonne is he? They said vnto him, The sonne of Dauid.
43 He saith vnto them, Howe then doeth Dauid in spirit call him Lord, saying, 44 The Lord saide vnto my Lord, * Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footestoole?
45 If Dauid then call him Lord, howe is he then his sonne?
46 And no man was able to answere him a worde, neither durst any man (from that day) aske him any mo questions.

The xxiij. Chapter.

§ Christ cryeth woe to the Pharisees, Scribes, and hypocrites. 37 And prophecieth the destruction of Hierusalem.

1 Then spake Iesus to the multitudes, and to his disciples,
2 Saying, * The Scribes and the Pharisees ‖ sate in Moses seate:

4 * Yea, they binde together heauie burdens, and grieuous to be borne, and lay them on mens shoulders, but they themselues will not moue them with one of their fingers.

13 * Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, for ye shut vp the kingdome of heauen before men: ye neither go in your selues, neither suffer ye them that come, to enter in.
14 * Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, for ye deuour widowes houses, & that vnder a pretence of long prayer, therefore ye shall receiue the greater damnation.
15 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, for ye compasse the sea and the land to make one a proselyte, and when he is become one, ye make him two folde more the childe of hell then ye your selues are.

1 Christ sheweth his disciples the destruction of the Temple, 6 the ende of the world, and the tokens of the latter dayes, 42 and warneth them to wake, 44 for the world shall suddenly perish.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 The tenne virgins. 14 The talents deliuered to the seruants. 31 And of the generall iudgement.

1 THen shall the kingdome of heauen be likened vnto ten virgins, which when they had taken their lampes, went foorth to meete the bridegrome.
2 But fiue of them were wise, and fiue were foolish.
3 They that were foolish, when they had taken their lampes, tooke none oyle with them:
4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels, with their lampes also.
5 While the bridegrome taried, they all slumbred and slept.
6 And euen at midnight there was a cry made, Beholde, the bridegrome commeth, goe ye out to meete him.
7 Then all those virgines arose, and prepared prepared their lampes.

8 So the foolish said vnto the wise, Giue vs of your ople, for our lampes are gone out.
9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so, lest there be not ynough for vs and you: but goe ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selues.
10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroome came, and they that were readie, went in with him to the mariage, and the doore was shut vp.
11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.
12 But he answered, and said, Verily I say vnto you, I knowe you not.
13 * Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day, nor yet the houre, wherein the sonne of man commeth. Matth. 24. 43. marke 13. 33.
14 * Likewise, as when a certaine man taking his iourney into a strange countrey, called his owne seruants, and deliuered vnto them his goods. Luke 19. 12.
15 And vnto one he gaue fiue talents, to another two, and to another one, to euery man after his abilitie, and straightway tooke his iourney.
16 Then hee that had receiued the fiue talents, went and occupied with the same, and made them other fiue talents.
17 And likewise he that had receiued two, he also gained other two.
18 But hee that had receiued one, went and digged in the earth, and hidde his lordes money.
19 After a long season, the lorde of those seruants commeth, and reckoneth with them.
20 And so hee that had receiued fiue talents, came and brought other fiue talents, saying, Lord, thou deliueredst vnto me fiue talents: beholde, I haue gained beside them, fiue talents moe.
21 His lord saide vnto him, Well done, thou good and faithfull seruant, thou hast bene faithfull ouer fewe thinges, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy lord.
22 He also that had receiued two talents, came, and said, Lord, thou deliueredst vnto mee two talents: beholde, I haue wonne two other talents beside them.
23 His lorde saide vnto him, Well done, good and faithfull seruant, thou hast bene faithfull ouer fewe things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy lord.
24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came, and saide, Lord, I knewe thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sowen, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:
25 And therefore was I afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: loe, there thou hast that thine is.
26 His lord answered, and said vnto him, Thou euill and slouthfull seruant, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, & gather where I haue not strawed:
27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue deliuered my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming should I haue receiued mine owne with vantage.
28 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath tenne talents.
29 * For vnto euery one that hath, shalbe giuen, and he shall haue abundance: but from him that hath not, shall be taken away, euen that which he hath. Matth. 13. 12. marke 4. 25.
30 And cast the vnprofitable seruant * into vtter darkenesse, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Matth. 8. 12. and 22. 13.
31 When the Sonne of man shall come in his glorie, and all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glorie.
32 And before him shalbe gathered all nations, and hee shall separate them one from another, as a shepeheard deuideth his sheepe from the goates.
33 And he shall set the sheepe on his right hand, but the goates on the left.
34 Then shall the King say vnto them which shalbe on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my Father, inherite the kingdome, which hath bene prepared for you from the foundation of the world.
35 * For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meate: I was thirstie, and ye gaue mee drinke: I was a stranger, and ye tooke me in: Esai. 58. 7. Ezech. 18. 7.
36 Naked, and ye clothed mee: * I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me. Eccl. 7. 39.
37 Then shall the righteous answere him, saying, Lord, when sawe we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirstie, and gaue thee drinke?
38 When sawe we thee a stranger, and tooke thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?
39 Or when sawe we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?
40 And the King shall answere, and say vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it vnto me.
41 * Then shall he say also vnto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into the euerlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuill and his angels. Psalme 6. 9. matth. 7. 23. luke 13. 27.
42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue mee no meate: I was thirstie, and ye gaue me no drinke:
43 I was a stranger, and ye tooke me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke, and in prison, and ye visited me not.
44 Then shall they also answere him, saying, Lorde, when sawe we thee an hungred, or a thirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?
45 Then shall hee answere them, saying, Verily I say vnto you, in as much as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.
46 And * these shall goe away into euerlasting paine: but the righteous into life eternall. Daniel 12. 2. iohn 5. 29.

The

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 Marie Magdalene anoynteth Christ: 26 They eate the Easter lambe.

The Gospel on the next Sunday after Easter.

1 AAnd it came to passe, when Jesus had finished all these things, he said vnto his disciples,

Marke 14.1. Luke 22.1.

2 *Ye knowe that after two dayes is the feast of Passeouer, and the sonne of man is betrayed to be crucified.

Iohn 11.47.

3 *Then assembled together the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes, and the elders of the people, vnto the palace of the high priest, which was called Caiaphas,

4 And helde a counsell, that they might take Jesus subtilly, and kill him.

5 But they sayde, Not on the feast day, least there be an vproze among ỹ people.

Marke 14.3. Iohn 11.2.

6 * When Jesus was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came vnto him a woman, hauing an alabaster bore of precious ointment, and powred it on his head as hée sate at the boord.

8 But when his disciples sawe it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 This ointment might haue bene solde for much, and giuen to the poze.

10 When Jesus vnderstode that, he sayde vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

Deut. 15.11.

11 * For ye haue the poze alwayes with you, but me ye haue not alwayes.

12 For in that this woman hath cast this ointment on my body, she did it to burie me.

13 Verily I say vnto you, Wheresoeuer this Gospell shall be preached in the whole worlde, there shall also this that this woman hath done, be talde for a memoziall of her.

Marke 14.10. Luke 22.4.

14 *Then one of the twelue, called Judas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe priests, 15 And said vnto them, What wil ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? And they appointed vnto him thirtie siluer pieces.

16 And from that time foorth, he sought opportunitie to betray him.

Marke 14.12. Luke 22.7.

17 *The first day of swéete bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we shall prepare for thée to eate the Passeouer?

18 And he sayde, Go into the citie to such a man, & say vnto him, The maister saieth, My time is at hand, I make the Passeouer at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them, and they made ready the Passeouer.

Marke 14.18. Luke 22.14. Iohn 13.21.

20 * When the euen was come, hée sate downe with the twelue.

21 And as they did eate, he sayd, Verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they being exceeding sozowfull, beganne euery one of them to say vnto him, Lozde, is it I?

23 He answered, and said, He that hath dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24 The sonne of man truely goeth as it is written of him: but woe vnto that man by whom the sonne of man is betrayed: It had bene good for that man if he had not bene borne.

25 Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered, and said, Master, is it I? He said vnto him, Thou hast sayd.

26 When they were eating, *Jesus, when he had taken the bread, & giuen thankes, he brake it and gaue it to the disciples, and saide, Take ye, eate ye, this is my body. 1. Cor. 11.24.

27 And when he had taken the cup, and giuen thankes, he gaue it them, saying, Drinke ye all of it:

28 For this is my blood of the newe Testament, that is shed for many for the remission of sinnes.

29 But I say vnto you, I wil in no wise drinke hencefoorth of this fruite of the vine tree, vntill that day when I drinke it newe with you in my fathers kingdome.

30 And when they had prayed God, they went out vnto the mount of Olines.

31 *Then saieth Jesus vnto them, All ye shalbe offended because of me this night: For it is written, *I will smite the shepherd, and the sheepe of the flocke shalbe scattered abroad. Marke 14.27. Iohn 16.32. Zach. 13.7.

32 But after I am risen againe, *I will go before you into Galilee. Marke 14.28. and 16.7.

33 Peter answered, and said vnto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

34 Jesus said vnto him, *Verily I say vnto thee, that in this same night before the cocke crowe, thou shalt denie me thrise. Iohn 13.38.

35 Peter said vnto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I by no maner of meanes denie thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 *Then commeth Jesus with them vnto a place called Gethsemane, and saieth vnto the disciples, Sit ye there while I goe and pray yonder. Marke 14.32. Luke 22.39.

37 And when he had taken with him Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedee, hée began to be sozowfull and heauie.

38 Then sayd Jesus vnto them, My soule is exceeding heauie, euen vnto the death: tarie ye here, and watch with me.

39 And when he had gone a litle further, he fell flat on his face, praying, and saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup passe from me: neuertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And hée commeth vnto the disciples, and findeth them a sleepe, and saieth vnto Peter, What, could yée not watch with me one houre?

41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: The spirit in deede is willing, but the flesh is weake.

42 He went away againe the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not passe away from me, except

I drinke it, thy will be fulfilled.
43 And when he came, he findeth them a sleepe againe: for their eyes were heauie.
44 And he left them, and went againe and prayed the third time, saying the same wordes.
45 Then commeth he to his disciples, and saith vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, and take your rest: beholde, the houre is at hand, and the sonne of man is betraied into the hands of sinners.
46 Rise, let vs be going: beholde, he is at hand that doeth betray me.
Marke 14.43. luke 22.47. iohn 18.3. 47 * While he yet spake, loe, Iudas one of the twelue came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staues from the chiefe priests & elders of the people.
48 But he that betraied him, gaue them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shall kisse, that same is he, holde him fast.
49 And forthwith when he came to Ie-sus, he said, Haile master: and kissed him.
50 And Iesus saide vnto him, Friende, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and layed handes on Iesus, and tooke him.
51 And beholde, one of them which were with Iesus, stretched out his hand, and drewe his sword, and after that he had striken a seruant of the hie priests, he smote off his eare.
Gene.9.6. apoc.13.10. 52 Then saide Iesus vnto him, Turne backe thy sword into his place: * for all they that take the sword, shal perish with the sword.
53 Thinkest thou that I can not now pray to my father, & he shall cause to stand by me more then twelue legions of angels?
Esa.53.12. 54 But howe then shall the Scriptures be fulfilled, * that thus it must be?
55 In that same houre said Iesus to the multitudes, Ye be come out as it were vnto a thiefe with swordes & staues for to take me: I sate dayly with you teaching in the temple, and ye tooke me not.
56 But all this was done that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled.
Lamen.4.20. matt.20.31. * Then all the disciples hauing forsaken him, fled.
Marke 4.53. luke 22.54. iohn 18.14. 57 * But they that had taken Iesus, led him away to Caiaphas the hie priest, where the Scribes and the elders were assembled.
58 But Peter followed him a farre off, vnto the hie priests palace, & went in, and sate with the seruants to see the end.
Marke 14.55. 59 * The chiefe priests and elders, and all the counsaile, sought false witnesse against Iesus, to put him to death, 60 But found none: yea, when many false witnesses came, yet found they none.
At the last came two false witnesses,
Iohn 2.19. 61 And sayd, This fellow sayd, * I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three dayes.
62 And the chiefe priest arose, and said vnto him, Answerest thou nothing? What is that which these witnes against thee?
63 But Iesus held his peace. And the chiefe priest answered, & said vnto him,
I charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tell vs whether thou be Christ the Sonne of God?
64 Iesus saith vnto him, Thou hast said:
Neuertheless, I say vnto you, * Hereafter shall ye see the Sonne of man sitting on the right hand of the power of God, & comming in the clouds of the skie.
Matt.16.27. rom.14.10. 1.thess.4.14.
65 Then the hie priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoke blasphemie: what neede we of any moe witnesses? Behold, now ye haue heard his blasphemie.
66 What thinke ye? They answered, and said, He is worthy to die.
Esai.50.6. 67 * Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him with fists, and other smote him on the face with the palme of their hands,
68 Saying, Prophecie vnto vs, O Christ, who is he that smote thee?
Mar.14.66. luke 22.55. iohn 18.25. 69 * Peter sate without in the palace:
And a damosell came vnto him, saying,
Thou also wast with Iesus of Galilee.
70 But he denied before them all, saying,
I wote not what thou sayest.
71 When he was gone out into the porch, another wench sawe him, and sayd vnto them that were there, This fellowe was also with Iesus of Nazareth.
72 And againe he denied with an othe, I doe not knowe the man.
73 And after a while came vnto him they that stoode by, and said to Peter, Surely thou art euen one of them: for thy speach bewrayeth thee.
74 Then began he to curse and to sweare, saying, I knowe not the man. And im-mediatly the cocke crew.
75 And Peter remembred the wordes of Iesu, which said vnto him, Before the cocke crowe, thou shalt denie me thrise.
And he went out and wept bitterly.

The xxvij. Chapter.

2 Christ is deliuered vnto Pilate. 5 Iudas hangeth himselfe.

Marke 15.1. luke 22.66. iohn 17.22. 1 When the morning was come, * all the chiefe priests & elders of the people helde a counsell against Iesus to put him to death.
2 And when they had bound him, they led him away, & deliuered him to Pontius Pilate the deputie.
3 Then Iudas, which had betraied him, when he sawe that he was condemned, repented himselfe, and brought againe the thirtie ‖ siluer pieces to the chiefe priests and elders,
‖ Or, siluerlings
4 Saying, I haue sinned, in that I haue betraied the innocent blood. And they said,
What is that to vs? see thou to that.
5 And when he had cast downe the pieces of siluer in the temple, he departed, * and went his way, and hanged himselfe.
Actes 1.18.
6 And the chiefe priests tooke the siluer pieces, and said, It is not lawfull for to put them into the treasurie, because it is the price of blood.
7 And when they had taken counsel, they bought with them the potters fielde, to burie strangers in.

8 Wherefore

Actes 1.19. 8 Wherefore that fielde was called, *The fielde of blood vntill this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremie the Prophet, saying, * And they tooke the thirtie siluer pieces, the price of him that was valued, whome they bought of the children of Israel:

Zach.11.13. 10 And gaue them for the potters fielde, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 Jesus stoode before the deputie, and the deputie asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? Jesus saith vnto him, Thou sayest.

Marke 15.3. 12 * And when he was accused of the chiefe Priestes and elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then saith Pilate vnto him, Hearest thou not howe many thinges they witnesse against thee?

14 And he answered him to never a word: in so much that the deputie marualled greatly.

Marke 15.6, luke 23.17. 15 * At that feast the deputie was wont to let loose vnto the people a prisoner, whome they would.

16 He had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate saide vnto them, Whether will ye that I giue loose vnto you Barabbas, or Jesus, which is called Christ?

18 For he knewe that for enuie they had deliuered him.

19 When he was set downe on the iudgement seate, his wife sent vnto him, saying, Haue thou nothing to doe with that iust man: For I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame because of him.

Marke 15.11. luke 23.17. Iohn 18.40. Actes 3.14. 20 * But the chiefe Priestes and elders perswaded the people that they should aske Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

21 The deputie answered, and saide vnto them, Whether of the twaine will ye that I let loose vnto you? They saide, Barabbas.

22 Pilate saide vnto them, What shall I doe then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all said vnto him, Let him be crucified.

23 The deputie saide, What euill hath he done? But they cried excedingly, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate sawe that he coulde preuaile nothing, but that more businesse was made, he tooke water, and washed his handes before the people, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 Then let hee Barabbas loose vnto them, and when he had scourged Jesus, he deliuered him to be crucified.

Marke 15.16. Iohn 19.1. 27 * Then the souldiers of the deputie, when they had taken Jesus into the common hall, gathered vnto him all the bande of souldiers.

28 And when they had stripped him, they put on him a scarlet robe:

29 And when they had platted a crowne of thornes, they put it vpon his head, and a reede in his right hand: and when they had bowed the knee before him, they mocked him, saying, Haile King of the Iewes.

30 And when they had spit vpon him, they tooke the reede, and smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they tooke the robe off him, and put his owne raiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.

Marke 15.21. luke 23.26. 32 * And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to beare his Crosse.

Marke 15.22. luke 23.32. iohn 19.16. 33 * And when they were come vnto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull, 34 They gaue him vineger to drinke, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.

Marke 15.24. 35 * When they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lottes: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, * They parted my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did they cast lottes. Psalme 22.19.

36 And sitting downe, they watched him there:

37 And set vp ouer his head his accusation written, THIS IS IESVS, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

38 Then are there two thieues crucified with him: one on the right hande, and another on the left.

39 They that passed by, reuiled him, wagging their heads,

Iohn 2.19. 40 And saying, * Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe: If thou be the Sonne of God, come downe from the Crosse.

41 Likewyse also the high Priestes mocking him, with the Scribes and Elders, said, 42 Hee saued other, him selfe can hee not saue: If he be the King of Israel, let him nowe come downe from the Crosse, and we will beleeue him.

Psalme 22.9. wisd.1.28. 43 * He hath trusted in God, let him deliuer him nowe if he will haue him: for he said, I am the Sonne of God.

44 The thieues also which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

45 From the sixth houre was there darkenesse ouer all the lande, vnto the ninth houre.

Psalme 22.1. 46 And about the ninth houre, Jesus cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Eli, Eli, Lamasabachthani, that is to say, * My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 Some of them that stoode there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias.

Psalme 69.22. 48 And straightway one of them ranne, * and tooke a sponge, and when he had filled filled it full of vineger, and put it on a reede, he gaue him to drinke.

49 The rest said, Let be, let vs see whether Elias will come to saue him.
50 Iesus, when he had cried againe with a loude voyce, yelded vp the ghost.
1. Chron. 3. 14. 51 * And beholde, the vaile of the temple was rent in two partes, from the toppe to the bottome, and the earth did quake, and the stones rent, 52 And graues were opened, and many bodies of Saints which slept, arose.
53 And after that they were come out of the graues after his resurrection, came into the holy Citie, and appeared vnto many.
a A captaine of one hundred men. 54 When the a Centurion, and they that were with him watching Iesus, sawe the earthquake, and those thinges that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truely this was the Sonne of God.
55 And many women were there (beholding him a farre off) which followed Iesus from Galilee, ministring vnto him.
56 Among which was Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of Iames and Ioses, and the mother of Zebedees children.
The Gospell on Easter euen. Marke 15. 42. Luke 23. 50. Iohn 19. 38. 57 * When the Euen was come, there came a riche man from the citie of Arimathea, named Ioseph, which also himselfe was Iesus disciple.
58 He went to Pilate, and begged the bodie of Iesus: then Pilate commanded the bodie to be deliuered.
59 And when Ioseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth, 60 And layd it in his newe tombe which he had hewen out in the rocke: and when he had rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, he departed.
61 And there was Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie, sitting ouer against the sepulchre.
62 The next day that followed the day of preparing, the high Priestes and Pharisees came together vnto Pilate, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that this deceiuer said while he was yet aliue, After three dayes I arise againe.
64 Commaund therefore, that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the thirde day, least his disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last errour shall be worse then the first.
65 Pilate saide vnto them, Ye haue the watch, goe your way, make it as sure as ye knowe.
66 So they went, and when they had sealed vp the stone, they made the sepulchre sure with the watch.

The xxviij. Chapter.

2 The resurrection of Christ. 12 The high Priests giue the souldiers money, to say that Christ was stollen out of his graue.

1 IN the latter * end of the Sabboth day, which dawneth the first day of the weeke, came Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie, to see the sepulchre. Marke 16. 1. Iohn 20. 12.
2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake, for the Angel of the Lorde descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore, and sate vpon it.
3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.
4 And for feare of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.
5 The Angel answered, and said vnto the women, Feare ye not: for I know that ye seeke Iesus, which was crucified.
6 He is not here, hee is risen, as he saide. Come, see the place where that the Lord was laide.
7 And goe quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead. And beholde, he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him: lo, I haue told you.
8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy, and did runne, to bring his disciples word.
9 And as they went to tell his disciples, beholde, Iesus met them, saying, All haile. And they came, and helde him by the feete, and worshipped him.
10 Then said Iesus vnto them, Be not afraid: goe tell my brethren that they goe into Galilee, and there shall they see me.
11 When they were gone, beholde, some of the watche came into the citie, and shewed vnto the high Priestes all the things that were done.
12 And when they were assembled with the Elders, and had taken counsell, they gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.
14 And if this come to the deputies eares, we will perswade him, and make you carelesse.
15 So they, when they had taken the money, did as they were taught. And this saying was noised among the Iewes vntill this day.
16 Then the eleuen disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountaine where Iesus had appointed them.
17 And when they sawe him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.
18 And Iesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, All power is giuen vnto me in heauen and in earth.
19 * Goe ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptising them in the name of the Father, and of the Sonne, and of the holy Ghost: Marke 16. 15.
20 Teaching them to obserue all things, whatsoeuer I haue commaunded you: and loe, I am with you alway, euen vnto the ende of the world.

On the which day, he which was the true Lambe was offred, to the ende that the trueth might agree with the figure: but the Iewes celebrated the ſaid Paſſeouer the day following at Euen after Sunne ſet, Ieſus Chriſt being in the graue: for that by tradition of their predeceſſors, the ſaid feaſt which fell on the Friday, according to the lawe, was deferred to the nexte day, which was the day of their weekely Sabboth, becauſe they would not keepe two feaſtes togither: for this feaſt day they called the great Sabboth, Iohn 19. and alſo becauſe (as enemies of the trueth) they woulde ſeeke all meanes poſſible to keepe him from being knowen for the Meſſias.

The diſciples prepare the Lambe which Ieſus Chriſt ate with them after Euen: the ſame day of which Euen, began the feaſt.	Ieſus hauing eaten the Lambe with his diſciples, inſtituteth the Sacrament of the Supper, is kiſſed by Iudas, is crucified, dead & buried	Ieſus Chriſt reſteth in the graue all this day.	The women carry ointments very earely in the morning to the graue.

Here is alſo to be noted, that where the eating of the Lambe, the inſtitution of the Sacrament, with the reſidue before mentioned, is referred to Thurſday and Friday: If ye recken according to the Iewes account, who begin their Friday night on Thurſday after Sunne ſet, and continueth that night and day vntill the next day after Sunne ſet, ye ſhall finde that Chriſt did eate the Paſcall Lambe, inſtituted the Sacrament of his body and blood, was killed by Iudas, and was crucified, dead, and buryed on Friday. But if ye recken after our vſe, then Chriſt did eate the Paſcal Lambe, inſtituted the Sacrament of his body and blood, and was killed of Iudas on Thurſday, but was crucified, dead, and buried on Friday.

Matth.3.14. luke 3.22. iohn 1.33.

10 And assoone as he was come vp out of the water, he sawe heauen open, and the spirite descending vpon him like a Doue.

11 And there came a voyce from heauen, Thou art my deare sonne, in whome I am well pleased.

12 *And immediately the spirit driueth him into wildernesse.

20 And anon he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired seruants, and followed him.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the vncleane spirite had torne him, and cryed with a loud voyce, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, in so much that they demanded one of another among themselues, saying, What thing is this? What newe doctrine is this? For with authoritie cōmandeth he the fowle spirits, and they doe obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spred abroade throughout all the region rounde ring on Galilee.

29 *And foorthwith, when they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon, and Andrewe, with Iames and Iohn.

32 And at Euen, when the sunne was downe, they brought vnto him all that were diseased, and them that were vexed with deuils:

33 And all the citie was gathered together at the doore.

34 And he healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases, and cast out many deuils, and suffred not the deuils to speak, because they knewe him.

35 And in the morning very earely before day, Iesus, when he was risen vp, went out, and departed into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him:

37 And when they had founde him, they saide vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 And he said vnto them, Let vs goe into the next townes, that I may preache there also: for therefore am I come.

42 And as ſoone as he had ſpoken, immediatly the leproſie departed from him, and he was made cleane.

43 And after hee had giuen him a ſtraite commaundement, hee ſent him away forthwith:

44 And ſaith vnto him, See thou ſay nothing to any man: but get thée hence, ſhew thy ſelfe to the Prieſt, *and offer for thy cleanſing thoſe things which Moſes commanded, for a witneſſe vnto them.

The ij. Chapter.

3 He healeth the man of the palſie, 14 and calleth Leui the cuſtomer.

Make 9. 1.

1 AFter a fewe dayes alſo, *hee entred into Capernaum againe, and it was noyſed that hee was in the houſe.

2 And anon many were gathered together, inſomuch that nowe there was no roome to receiue them, no not ſo much as about the doore: and he preached the word of the Goſpell vnto them.

3 And they come vnto him, bringing one ſicke of the palſie, which was borne of foure men.

4 And when they could not come nigh vnto him for preaſſe, they vncouered the roofe of the houſe that he was in: and when they had broken vp the roofe, they do with cordes let downe the bed wherein the ſicke of the palſie lay.

5 When Jeſus ſawe their faith, hee ſaide vnto the ſicke of the palſie, Sonne, thy ſinnes be forgiuen thee.

6 But there were certaine of the Scribes ſitting there, and reaſoning in their heartes, 7 Why doeth hee thus ſpeake blaſphemies? *Who can forgiue ſinnes, but God onely?

John 1. 4. Eſai 43. 25.

8 And immediatly, when Jeſus perceiued in his ſpirit that they ſo reaſoned within themſelues, hee ſaith vnto them, Why reaſon ye ſuch things in your heartes?

9 Whether is it eaſier to ſay to the ſicke of the palſie, Thy ſinnes be forgiuen thee: or to ſay, Ariſe, take vp thy bed and walke?

10 But that ye may know that the ſonne of man hath power in earth to forgiue ſinnes, (Hee ſaieth to the ſicke of the palſie,) 11 I ſay vnto thee, Ariſe, and take vp thy bed, and get thee hence into thine houſe.

12 And immediatly he aroſe, tooke vp the bed, and went forth before them all, inſomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, ſaying, We neuer ſawe it on this faſhion.

13 *And he went againe by the ſea ſide, and all the people reſorted vnto him, and he taught them.

Matth. 9. 9. luke 5. 27.

14 And as Jeſus paſſed by, he ſawe Leui the ſonne of Alphee ſitting at the receite of cuſtome, and ſaid vnto him, Followe me. And he aroſe, and followed him.

15 And it came to paſſe, that when Jeſus ſate at meate in his houſe, many publicanes and ſinners ſate alſo together at meate with Jeſus and his diſciples: for there were many, & they followed him.

16 And when the Scribes and Phariſees ſawe him eate with Publicanes and ſinners, they ſaide vnto his diſciples, Howe is it that hee eateth and drinketh with Publicanes and ſinners?

17 When Jeſus heard that, he ſaieth vnto them, They that be whole, haue no neede of the phyſicion, but they that are ſicke: I came not to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance.

18 *And the diſciples of Johu, and of the Phariſees did faſt: and they come and ſay vnto him, Why doe the diſciples of John, and of the Phariſees faſt, but thy diſciples faſt not?

1. Tim. 1. 13. matth. 9. 14. luke 5. 33.

19 And Jeſus ſaide vnto them, Can the children of the bride chamber faſt, while the bridegrome is with them? As long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they cannot faſt.

20 But the dayes will come, when the bridegrome ſhall be taken away from them, and then ſhall they faſt in thoſe dayes.

21 No man alſo ſoweth a piece of newe cloth vnto an old garment: otherwiſe, his newe piece taketh away ſomewhat from the olde garment, and ſo the rent is made worſe.

22 And no man powreth newe wine into olde veſſels, els the new wine doeth burſt the veſſels, and the wine runneth out, and the veſſels will be marred: But new wine muſt be put into new veſſels.

23 *And it came to paſſe, that hee went thorowe the corne fieldes on the Sabboth dayes, and his diſciples began by the way to plucke the eares of corne.

Matth. 12. 1. luke 6. 1.

24 And the Phariſees ſaid vnto him, Beholde, why doe they on the Sabboth dayes that which is not lawfull?

25 And he ſaide vnto them, *Haue ye neuer read what Dauid did, when hee had neede, and was an hungred, both he, and they that were with him?

1. Reg. 21. 6.

26 How he went into the houſe of God in the dayes of Abiathar the high Prieſt, and did eate the ſhew bread, *which was not lawfull to eate but for the Prieſtes, and gaue alſo to them which were with him?

Exod. 29. 33. leuit. 8. 31.

27 And he ſaide vnto them, The Sabboth was made for man, and not man for the Sabboth.
28 Therefore is the ſonne of man Lord alſo of the Sabboth.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He helpeth the man with the dried hande, 14 and chooſeth his Apoſtles.

Matth.12.9. luke 6.6.

1 AND * he entred againe into the Synagogue, & a man was there which had a withered hand:
2 And they watched him, whether hee woulde heale him on the Sabboth day, that they might accuſe him.
3 And he ſaide vnto the man which had the withered hand, Ariſe, and ſtand in the mids.
4 And he ſaieth vnto them, Is it lawfull to doe good on the Sabboth dayes, or to doe euill? to ſaue life, or to kill? But they held their peace.
5 And when he had looked rounde about on them with anger, mourning for the hardneſſe of their hearts, hee ſaith vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he ſtretched it out: and his hand was reſtored as whole as the other.
6 And the Phariſees departed, & ſtraight way gathered a counſell with the Herodians againſt him, that they might deſtroy him.
7 But Jeſus auoided, with his diſciples, to the ſea: and a great multitude followed him from Galilee, and from Jurie,
8 And from Hieruſalem, and from Idumea, and from the region which is beyond Jordane, and they that dwelt about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what things hee did, came vnto him.
9 And Jeſus commanded his diſciples that a ſhip ſhould waite on him, becauſe of the people, leaſt they ſhould throng him.
10 For he had healed many, inſomuch that they preaſſed vpon him for to touche him, as many as had plagues.
11 And the vncleane ſpirites, when they ſawe him, they fell downe before him and cried, ſaying, Thou art the ſonne of God.
12 And hee ſtraitly charged them, that they ſhould not make him knowen.

Matth.10.1. luke 9.1.

13 And hee goeth vp into a mountaine, and calleth vnto him whom he woulde: and they came vnto him.
14 And hee ordeined twelue, that they ſhoulde be with him, and that he might ſend them forth to preach:
15 And that they might haue power to heale ſickneſſes, and to caſt out deuils.
16 And hee gaue vnto Simon to name, Peter,
17 And he called James the ſonne of Zebedee, and John James brother (and gaue them names, Boanerges, which is to ſay, The ſonnes of thunder.)
18 And Andrewe, & Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthewe, & Thomas, and James the ſonne of Alphee, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Chananite, 19 And Judas Iſcariot, which alſo betraied him: & they come into an houſe.
20 And the people commeth together againe, ſo that they coulde not ſo much as eate bread.
21 And when they that belonged vnto him, heard of it, they went out to lape hands vpon him, for they ſaide, Hee is madde.
22 And the Scribes which came downe from Hieruſalem, ſaid, * He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the deuils, caſteth he out deuils. Matth.9.34. and 12.24. luke 11.14.
23 And whe he had called them vnto him, he ſaid vnto them in parables, How can Satan caſt out Satan?
24 And if a realme be diuided againſt it ſelfe, that realme cannot endure.
25 And if a houſe bee diuided againſt it ſelfe, that houſe cannot continue.
26 And if Satan make inſurrection againſt himſelfe, and be diuided, he cannot continue, but hath an ende.
27 No man can enter into a ſtrong mans houſe, and take away his goods, except he will firſt binde the ſtrong man, and then will ſpoile his houſe.
28 * Verily I ſay vnto you, All ſinnes ſhalbe forgiuen vnto the children of men, and blaſphemies, wherewithſoeuer they ſhall blaſpheme: Matth.12.31. luke 12.10. iohn 5.16.
29 But hee that ſhall blaſpheme againſt the holy Ghoſt, hath neuer forgiuenelle, but is in danger of eternall damnation.
30 For they ſaid, He hath an vncleane ſpirite.
31 * There come his mother, and his brethren, and ſtanding without, ſent vnto him, calling him. Matth.12.46. luke 8.19.
32 And the people ſate about him, and ſaid vnto him, Behold, thy mother, and thy brethren, and thy ſiſters ſeeke for thee without.
33 And he anſwered them, ſaying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?
34 And when he had looked round about on them which ſate about him, he ſaide, Behold my mother and my brethren.
35 For whoſoeuer ſhall doe the will of God, the ſame is my brother, and my ſiſter, and mother.

The iiij. Chapter.

3 The parable of the Sower. 37 Chriſt ſtilleth the tempeſt of the ſea, which obeyeth him.

1 AND * hee beganne againe to teache by the ſea ſide: and there gathered vnto him much people, ſo that hee entred into a ſhip, and ſate in the ſea: and all the people was by the ſea ſide on the ſhore. Matth.13.1. luke 8.4.
2 And he taught them many things by parables, & ſaide vnto them in his doctrine,
3 Hearken, Behold, there went out a Sower to ſowe:
4 And it fortuned as hee ſowed, that ſome fell by the wayes ſide: and the foules of the aire came, and deuoured it vp.
5 Some fell on ſtonie grounde, where it had had not much earth: and immediately it sprang vp, because it had no depth of earth.

6 But as soone as the sunne was vp, it caught heate, & because it had no roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes grewe vp, and choked it, and it gaue no fruite.

8 And some fell on good ground, and did yeelde fruite that sprang vp, and grewe, and brought foorth, some thirtie, & some sixtie, and some an hundred.

9 And he said vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him, with the twelue, asked of him the parable.

11 And he saide vnto them, Vnto you it is giuen to knowe the mysterie of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are without, all things are done by parables, 12 * That when they see, they may see, & not discerne: and when they heare, they may heare, and not vnderstand, least at any time they should turne, and their sinnes shoulde be forgiuen them.

13 And he said vnto them, Knowe ye not this parable? And howe then will ye knowe all parables?

14 The sower soweth the worde.

15 And they that receiue seede by the way side, are those where the worde is sowen, but when they haue heard, Satan commeth immediately, and taketh away the word that was sowen in their heartes.

16 And likewise they that receiue seed into the stonie groundes, are they, which when they haue heard the word, at once receiue it with gladnesse:

17 Yet haue no roote in them selues, and so endure but a time: and anon when trouble and persecution ariseth for the wordes sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And those be they that receiue seede among thornes: and they are such as heare the worde, 19 And the cares of this worlde, * and the deceitfulnesse of riches, and the lustes of other things entring in, choke the word, and it is made vnfruitefull.

20 And they which receiued seede into good grounde, are such as heare the worde, and receiue it, so that one corne doeth bring foorth thirtie, some sixtie, some an hundred.

21 And he said vnto them, * Is the candle lighted to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder the table? & not to be put on a candlesticke?

22 * For there is nothing so prime, that shall not be opened: neither hath it bene so secrete, but that it shall come abroade.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 And he saide vnto them, Take heede what ye heare: * With what measure ye mete, with the same shall it be measured to you againe: And vnto you that heare, shall more be giuen.

25 * For vnto him that hath, shall it be giuen: & from him that hath not, shall be taken away, euen that which he hath.

26 And he saide, So is the kingdome of God, euen as if a man should sowe seede in the grounde, 27 And should sleepe, and rise night and day, and the seede should spring & grow vp, he knoweth not howe.

28 For the earth bringeth foorth fruite of her selfe, first the blade, then the eare, after that the full corne in the eare.

29 But when the fruite is brought forth, anon he thrusteth in the sickle, because the harnest is come.

30 And he said, * Wherevnto shall we liken the kingdome of God? Or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a graine of mustarde seede: which when it is sowen in the earth, is lesse then all seedes that be in the earth:

32 And when it is sowen, it groweth vp, and is greater then all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the fowles of the aire may make their nestes vnder the shadowe of it.

33 * And with many such parables preached he the worde vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

34 But without parable spake he not vnto them: but when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 * And the same day when the Euen was come, he saith vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And they left the people, and tooke him, euen as he was in the shippe, and there were also with him other litle shippes.

37 And there arose a great storme of winde, and the waues dashed into the shippe, so that it was nowe full.

38 And he was in the sterne a sleepe on a pillowe: and they awake him, and say vnto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the winde, and said vnto the sea, Peace, and be still: and the winde ceased, and there followed a great calme.

40 And he said vnto them, Why are ye fearefull? Howe is it that ye haue no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and saide one to another, Who is this, that both the winde and the sea obey him?

The v. Chapter.

Christ deliuereth the possessed from the vncleane spirit, 25 and the woman from the bloodie issue.

1 AND * they came over to the other side of the sea, into the countrey of the Gadarenes.

2 And when hee was come out of the shippe, immediately there met him, from among the tombes, a man possessed of an vncleane spirite,

4 Because that he had bene often bound with fetters and chaines, & the chaines had bene plucked a sunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.
5 And alwayes, night and day, he was in the mountaines, and in the tombes, crying, and all to cutting him selfe with stones.
6 But when he had spied Jesus a farre off, he ranne, and worshipped him,
7 And cryed with a loude voyce, and said, What have I to doe with thee, Jesus, thou sonne of the most highest God? I require thee in the name of God, that thou torment me not.
8 (For he said vnto him, Come out of the man, thou foule spirit.)
9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.
10 And he prayed him instantly that he would not sende them away out of the countrey.
11 But there was there nigh vnto the mountaines, a great heard of swine, feeding.
12 And all the deuils besought him, saying, Sende vs into the swine, that we may enter into them.
13 And anon Jesus gaue them leaue. And the vncleane spirits went out, and entred into the swine, and the heard ranne headlong into the sea (they were about two thousande) and were choked in the sea.
14 And the swineheardes fled, and tolde it in the citie, & in the countrey. And they went out for to see what was done:
15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was vexed with the feend, and had the Legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.
16 And they that sawe it, tolde them howe it came to passe to him that was possessed with the deuill, and also of the swine.
17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coastes.
18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had bene possessed with the deuil, prayed him that he might be with him.
19 Howbeit, Jesus suffered him not, but saith vnto him, Go home to thy friends, and shewe them howe great things the Lorde hath done for thee, and had compassion on thee.
20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, howe great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marueile.
21 And when Jesus was come ouer againe by ship vnto the other side, much people gathered vnto him, and he was nigh vnto the sea.
22 * And beholde, there commeth one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name: and when he sawe him, he fell downe at his feete, 23 And besought him greatly, saying, My yong daughter lyeth at point of death, I pray thee come and lay thy handes on her, that she may be safe, and she shall liue.
24 And Iesus went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him.
25 And there was a certaine woman, which had bene diseased of an issue of blood twelue yeeres, 26 And had suffered many things of many Physicions, and had spent all that she had, and felt none amendement at all, but rather the worse.
27 When she had heard of Jesus, she came in the preasse behinde him, and touched his garment.
28 For she saide, If I may but touch his clothes, I shall be whole.
29 And straightway the fountaine of her blood was dryed vp: and she felt in her body that she was healed of the plague.
30 And Jesus immediately knowing in him selfe that vertue proceeded frō him, turned him about in the preasse, & saide, Who touched my clothes?
31 And his disciples said vnto him, Thou seest the people thrust thee, and askest thou, Who did touch me?
32 And he looked round about, for to see her that had done this thing.
33 But the woman fearing & trembling, knowing what was done within her, came and fell downe before him, & tolde him all the trueth.
34 And he saide vnto her, Daughter, thy faith hath saued thee, goe in peace, and be whole of thy plague.
35 While he yet spake, there come from the ruler of the Synagogues house, certaine which sayde, Thy daughter is dead, why diseasest thou the master any further?
36 As soone as Jesus heard the worde that was spoken, he saith vnto the ruler of the Synagogue, Be not afraide, onely beleeue.
37 And he suffred no man to follow him, saue Peter, and James, and John, the brother of James.
38 And he commeth to the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.
39 And when he was come in, he sayeth vnto them, Why make ye this adoe, and weepe? the Damosell is not dead, but sleepeth.
40 And they laught him to scorne: but he, after that he had put them all out, taketh the father and the mother of the Damosell, and the that were with him, and entreth in where the Damosell lay.
41 And when he had taken the Damosell by the hande, he sayeth vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damosell (I say vnto thee) arise.

Matth. 9. 18. luke 8. 41.

42 And

42 And straightway the Damosell arose, and walked, for shee was of the age of twelue yeares: and they were astonied out of measure.

43 And hee charged them straightly that no man shoulde knowe of it: and commanded to giue her meate.

Matth.13.54. Luke 4.16.

1 AND he * departed thence, and came into his owne countrey, and his disciples followe him.

2 And when þ Sabboth day was come, hee began to teache in the synagogue: And many hearing him, were astonied, saying, From whence hath hee these things? And what wisedome is this that is giuen vnto him, and such mightie workes that are wrought by his handes?

3 Is not this the carpenter, Maries sonne, the brother of Iames and Ioles, and of Iuda and Simon? And are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended at him.

John 4.44. 4 Iesus said vnto them, * A Prophet is not without honour, but in his owne countrey, and among his owne kinne, and in his owne house.

5 And hee coulde there doe no mightie worke: but laid his handes vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed them:

6 And hée marueiled because of their vnbeliefe. * And he went about by the villages that lay on euery side, teaching.

Matth.9.35. Luke 13.22. Matth.10.1. Luke 9.1.

7 *And hee calleth the twelue, and began to send them forth, two & two, & gaue them power against vncleane spirites,

8 And cõmanded them that they shoulde take nothing in their iourney, saue a staffe [a] onely: no scrippe, no bread, no money in their purse:

a They may take a staffe for their ease, and not to defend themselues, as in Matth. 10. Actes 12.8.

9 But should be shooed with * sandales: and that they shoulde not put on two coates.

Matth.10.14. Luke 9.5. Actes 13.51. and 18.6.

10 And he saide vnto them, Whereseoeuer ye enter into an house, there abide till ye depart thence.

11 *And whosoeuer shall not receiue you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, * shake off the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnesse against them: I say verily vnto you, it shalbe easier for the Sodomites and the Gomorrheans in the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

12 And they went out, and preached, that men should repent.

Iames 5.14. 13 And they cast out many deuils, * and anointed many that were sicke, with oyle, and healed them.

18 For John said vnto Herode, *It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife. Leuit.18.16.

19 Therefore Herodias laide waite for him, and would haue killed him, but she could not.

20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a iust man, & an holy, and gaue him reuerence: and when he heard him, hee did many thinges, and heard him gladly.

21 And whē a conuenient day was come, that Herode on his birth day made a supper to the lordes, high captaines, and chiefe estates of Galilee:

22 And when the daughter of the same Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herode, and them that sate at boorde also, the king said vnto the Damosell, Aske of me whatsoeuer thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.

23 And hee sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I will giue it thee, euen vnto the one halfe of my kingdome.

24 And she went foorth, and said vnto her mother, What shall I aske? She saide, John Baptistes head.

25 And shee came in straightway with haste vnto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou giue me by and by in a charger, the head of John Baptist.

26 And the king was exceeding sorie, howbeit for his othes sake, and for their sakes which sate at supper also, he would not cast her off.

27 And immediatly þ king sent the hangman, and commaunded his head to bee brought in, and hee went and beheaded him in the prison, 33 And the people spied them when they departed, and many knewe him, and ran a foote thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and came together vnto him.

Matth.9.36. and 14.14.

36 Let them depart, that they may go into the countrey round about, and into the villages, and buy them bread: for they haue nothing to eate.
37 Hee answered, and saide vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they say vnto him, Shall we goe and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, & giue them to eate?
38 He saieth vnto them, Howe many loaues haue ye? goe and looke. * And when they had searched, they say, Fiue, and two fishes.
Matth.14.17. luke 9.13. iohn 6.9.
39 And hee commanded them to make them all sitte downe by companies vpon the greene grasse.
40 And they sate downe, here a rowe, and there a rowe, by hundreds, and by fifties.
41 And when he had taken þ fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, he blessed, and brake the loaues, and gaue them to his disciples to set before them: and the two fishes deuided he among them all.
42 And they all did eate, & were satisfied.
43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.
44 And they that did eate the loaues, were about fiue thousand men.
45 And straightway hee constrained his disciples to goe into the ship, and to goe ouer þ sea before vnto Bethsaida, while he shoulde send away the people.
46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountaine to pray.
Matth.14.23. iohn 6.16.
47 *And when Euen was come, the ship was in the middes of the sea, and hee alone on the land.
48 And he sawe them troubled in rowing (for the wind was contrary vnto them:) and about the fourth watch of the night, hee commeth vnto them, walking vpon the sea, and woulde haue passed by them.
49 But when they sawe him walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had bene a spirit, and cried out.
50 (For they all sawe him, and were troubled:) and anon he talked with them, and saith vnto them, Be of good cheare, It is I, be not afraide.
51 And hee went vp vnto them into the ship, and the winde ceassed, & they were sore amazed in themselues beyond measure, and marueiled.
52 For they vnderstoode not what was done of the loaues, because their heart was hardened.
Matth.14.34.
53 *And when they had passed ouer, they came into the land of Genezareth, and drewe vp into the hauen.
54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him, 55 And ranne foorth throughout all the region rounde about, and began to carrie about in beds, those that were sicke, thither where they heard that he was.
56 And whither soeuer he entred, into villages, or cities, or fieldes, they laide the sicke folkes in the streetes, and prayed him that they might touche and it were but the hemme of his garment: and as many as touched it, were made whole.

The vij. Chapter.

2 The Pharisees finde faults at the disciples eating of meate with vnwashen handes. 32 The healing of the deafe and dumbe.

Matth.15.1.
1 AND * the Pharisees come together vnto him, and certaine of the Scribes, which came from Hierusalem.
2 And when they sawe some of his disciples eate bread with defiled (that is to say, with vnwashen handes) they found fault.
3 For the Pharisees, and all the Iewes, except they wash their hands oft, eate not, obseruing þ tradition of the elders.
4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eate not. And many other things there be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washing of cups and pots, brasen vessels, and of tables.
5 Then asked him the Pharisees and Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eate bread with vnwashen handes?
6 He answered & saide vnto them, Surely Esaias hath prophecied well of you hypocrites, as it is written, * This people honoureth me with their lippes, but their heart is farre from me.
Esai 29.13.
7 Howbeit in vaine do they worship me, teaching doctrines, þ commandements of men.
8 For, the commandement of God being laide apart, yee obserue the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.
9 And he said vnto them, Full well ye cast aside the commandement of God, that ye may keepe your owne tradition.
10 For Moses saide, *Honour thy father and thy mother: * & whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

Exod.21.1. leuit.20.9. prou.20.20.
12 And so yee suffer him no more to doe ought for his father, or his mother, 13 Making the worde of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye haue ordeined: and many such things doe.
14 * And when hee had called all the people vnto him, he saide vnto them, Heare me all of me euery one of you, and vnderstand.
Matth.15.10.
15 There is nothing without a man that can can defile him, when it entreth into him: but the thinges which proceede out of a man, thoſe are they that defile the man.

16 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.
17 And when he came into the houſe, away from the people, his diſciples aſked him of the ſimilitude.
18 And he ſaith vnto them, Are ye alſo ſo without vnderſtanding? Doe ye not perceiue that whatſoeuer thing from without entreth into the man, it can not defile him, 19 Becauſe it entreth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all the meates?
20 And he ſayde, That which commeth out of the man, defileth the man.

25 For a certaine woman, whoſe yong daughter had an vncleane ſpirit, whē ſhe had heard of him, came & fell at his feete.
26 (The woman was a Greeke, out of the nation of Syrophenilla:) and ſhe beſought him that he would caſt out the deuill from her daughter.
27 But Ieſus ſaid vnto her, Let the children firſt be fedde: for it is not meete to take the childrens bread, and to caſt it vnto the litle dogges.
28 She anſwered, and ſaid vnto him, Yea Lorde, for the litle dogges alſo eate vnder the table of the childrens crumbes.
29 And he ſayd vnto her, For this ſaying, goe thy way, the deuil is gone out of thy daughter.
30 And when ſhe was come home to her houſe, ſhe found that the deuill was departed, & her daughter lying on the bed.
The Goſpel on the xii. Sunday after Trinitie. 31 And whē he was departed againe from the coaſtes of Tyre and Sidon, he came vnto the ſea of Galilee, through the middes of the coaſtes of Decapolis.
32 And they bring vnto him one that was deafe, and had an impediment in his ſpeach: and they pray him to put his hands vpon him.
33 And when he had taken him aſide from the people, he put his fingers into his eares, and when he had ſpit, touched his tongue.
34 And when he had looked vp to heauen, ſighed, and ſayd vnto him, Ephphatha, that is to ſay, Be thou opened.
35 And ſtraightway his eares were opened, and the ſtring of his tongue was looſed, and he ſpake playne.
36 And he commaunded them that they ſhould tell no man: but the more he commanded them, ſo much the more a great deale they publiſhed it,
37 And were beyonde meaſure aſtonied, ſaying, He hath done all things well: he hath made both the deafe to heare, and the dumbe to ſpeake.

The viij. Chapter.

6 The miracle of the ſeuen loaues. 34 How we ſhould followe Chriſt.

1 IN thoſe dayes, *the company being very great, & hauing nothing to eate, when Ieſus had called his diſciples vnto him, he ſayth vnto them, The Goſpel on the vii. Sunday after Trinitie. Matth.15.32.
2 I haue compaſſion on the people, becauſe they haue nowe bene with me three dayes, and haue nothing to eate:
3 And if I ſende them away faſting to their owne houſes, they ſhal faint by the way: for diuers of them come frō farre.
4 And his diſciples anſwered him, From whence can a man ſatiſfie theſe men with bread here in the wildernes?
5 And he aſked them, Howe many loaues haue ye? They ſayd, Seuen.
6 And he commaunded the people to ſit downe on the ground: and he tooke the ſeuen loaues, and when he had giuen thankes, he brake, and gaue to his diſciples to ſet before them: and they did ſet them before the people.
7 And they had a fewe ſmall fiſhes: and when he had bleſſed, he commaunded to ſet them alſo before them.
8 So they did eate, and were ſufficed: and they tooke vp of the broken meate that was left, ſeuen baskets full.
9 And they that had eaten, were about foure thouſand: And he ſent them away.
10 *And anon, when he had entred into a ſhip with his diſciples, he came into the partes of Dalmanutha. Matth.15.39.
11 *And the Phariſees came forth, & began to diſpute with him, ſeeking of him a ſigne from heauen, tempting him. Matth.16.1.
12 And when he had ſighed deepely in his Spirit, he ſaith, Why doe this generation ſeeke a ſigne? Verily I ſay vnto you, There ſhall no ſigne be giuen vnto this generation.
13 *And when he had left them, and entred into the ſhip againe, he departed ouer the water.
14 *And they had forgotten to take bread with them, neither had they in the ſhip with them more then one loafe.
15 And he charged them, ſaying, *Take heede, beware of the leauen of the Phariſees, and of the leauen of Herode.
16 And they reaſoned among themſelues, ſaying, We haue no bread.
17 And when Ieſus knewe it, he ſaith vnto them, Why reaſon ye, becauſe ye haue no bread? Perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderſtande? Haue ye your heart yet hardened?
18 Hauing eyes, ſee ye not? and hauing eares, heare ye not? Doe ye not remēber?

They say vnto him, Twelue.
20 When I brake the seuen among foure thousand, how many baskets of the leauings of the broken meate tooke ye vp?
They sayd, Seuen.
21 And he said vnto them, Howe happeneth it that ye doe not vnderstande?
22 And he commeth to Bethsaida, & they bring a blinde man vnto him, and desired him to touche him:
23 And when he had caught the blinde by the hande, he led him out of the towne: and when he had spit in his eyes, & put his hands vpon him, he asked him if he sawe ought.
24 And he looked vp, and said, I see men: for I perceiue them walke as they were trees.
25 After that, he put his hands againe vpon his eyes, & made him see: and he was restored, and sawe euery man clearely.
26 And hee sent him home to his house, saying, Neither goe into the village, nor tell it to any in the village.
Matth.16.13. luke 9.19. 27 * And Iesus went out, and his disciples, into the villages that long to Cesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying vnto them, Whome doe men say that I am?
28 And they answered, Iohn Baptist, and some say, Elias: Againe, some say that thou art one of the Prophets.
29 And he said vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answereth, & saith vnto him, Thou art very Christ.
30 And he charged them that they should tell no man.
31 And he began to teach them that the sonne of man must suffer many things, and be reproued of the elders, and of the hie Priestes and Scribes, and be killed, and after three dayes rise againe.
32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.
33 But when he had turned about, & looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Go after me, Satan: for thou sauourest not the thinges that be of God, but the things that be of men.
34 And when he had called the people vnto him, with his disciples also, he said vnto them, *Whosoeuer will come after 36 For what shal it profit a man, if he shal win all the world, & lose his owne soule?

37 Or what shall a man giue for a ransome of his soule?
Matth.10.33. luke 9.26. 38 * Whosoeuer therefore shalbe ashamed of me, and of my wordes, in this adulterous and sinfull generation, of him also shall the sonne of man be ashamed, when he commeth in the glory of his father, with the holy Angels.

The ix. Chapter.

2 The transfiguration of Christ. 49 Of seasoning with salt.

AND he sayde vnto them, * Verily I say vnto you, that there be some of Matth 16.28. luke 9.27. them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they haue seene the kingdome of God come with power.
2 And after sixe dayes, Iesus taketh with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and leadeth them vp into an high mountaine out of the way alone: and he was transfigured before them.
3 * And his raiment did shine, and be-Marke 17.1. luke 9.28. came very white, euen as snowe: so as no Fuller vpon the earth can white them.
4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Iesus.
5 And Peter answered, & said to Iesus, Master, here is good being for vs: and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.
6 For he wist not what he should say: for they were sore afrayd.
7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them: and a voyce came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloued sonne: heare him.
8 And suddenly when they had looked round about, they sawe no man, more then Iesus only with them selues.
9 * And as they came downe from the Matth.17.9. hill, he charged them that they shoulde tell no man those thinges that they had seene, till the sonne of man were risen from the dead.
10 And they kept that saying with them, and demaunded one of an other, what the rising from the dead should meane.
11 And they asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes, that * Elias must first Mala.4.5. come?
12 He answered, and said vnto them, Elias verely when he commeth first, restoreth all things: and the sonne of man, * as Esay.53.4. it is written of him, shall suffer many things, and be set at nought.
13 But I say vnto you, þ Elias is come, and they haue done vnto him what soeuer they would, as it is written of him.
14 * And when he came to his disciples,
Matth.17.14. luke 9.38. he sawe much people about them, & the Scribes disputing with them.
15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him, saluted him.
16 And he asked the Scribes, What dispute ye ‖ among your selues?
‖ Some reade, with them.
17 And one of the company answered, and said, Master, I haue brought vnto thee my sonne, which hath a dumbe spirite:
18 And where soeuer he taketh him, he teareth him, and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they shoulde cast him out, and they could not.
19 He answereth him, and saith, O faithlesse nation, howe long shall I be with you, pon, how long shall I suffer you? Bring him vnto me.

20 And they brought him vnto him: and when he sawe him, straightway the spirit tare him, and when he fell downe on the ground, he wallowed, fouming.
21 And he asked his father, Howe long is it agoe since this came vnto him? And he said, Of a childe.
22 And oft times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst doe any thing, haue mercie on vs, and helpe vs.
23 Jesus saide vnto him, This thing if thou canst beleeue, all things are possible to him that beleeueth.
24 And straightway, when the father of the childe had cried with teares, he said, Lorde, I beleeue, helpe thou mine vnbeliefe.
25 When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the fowle spirit, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirit, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no more into him.
26 And the spirit when he had cryed, and rent him sore, came out of him, and hee was as one that had bene dead, insomuch that many said, He is dead.
27 But Jesus, when he had caught him by the hand, lifted him vp: and he arose.
28 And when hee was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretely, Why could not we cast him out?
29 And hee saide vnto them, This kinde ‖ can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting. ‖ Of deuils.
30 * And after they departed thence, they tooke their iourney thorowe Galilee, and hee would not that any man should knowe it. Matth. 17.22. Luke 9.22.
31 For he taught his disciples, and saide vnto them, The Sonne of man is deliuered into the handes of men, and they shall kill him, and after that he is killed, he shall rise the thirde day.
32 But they vnderstoode not that saying, and were afraide to aske him.
33 * And hee came to Capernaum: and when hee was come into the house, hee asked them, What was it that ye disputed among your selues by the way? Matth. 18.1. Luke 9.45.
34 And they held their peace: For by the way they had reasoned among themselues, who should be the chiefest.
35 And when he was set downe, he called the twelue, and saith vnto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shalbe last of all, and seruant vnto all.
36 And when he had taken a yong childe, hee set him in the middest of them: and when he had taken him in his armes, he said vnto them,
37 Whosoeuer shall receiue any such a yong childe in my name, receiueth mee: and whosoeuer shall receiue mee, receiueth not mee, but him that sent me.
38 * Iohn answered him, saying, Master, wee sawe one casting out deuils in thy name, and he followeth not vs, and we forbade him, because he followeth vs not. Luke 9.49.
39 But Jesus said, * Forbid him not, for there is no man, which if he doe a miracle in my Name, can lightly speake euill of me. 1.Cor.12.3.
40 For hee that is not against vs, is on our part.
41 * Whosoeuer shall giue you a cuppe of colde water to drinke, because ye belong to Christ: Verely I say vnto you, he shall not lose his reward. Matth.10.42.
42 * And whosoeuer shall offende one of these litle ones that beleeue in mee, it is better for him if a millstone were hanged about his necke, and he were cast into the sea. Matth.18.6. luke 17.1.
43 * And if thy hand offende thee, cut it off: It is better for thee to enter into life maimed, then hauing two handes, to goe into hell, into fire that neuer shalbe quenched: Matth.5.29. and 18.8.
44 * Where their worme dyeth not, and the fire is not quenched. Esai 66.24.
45 And if thy foote offende thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, then hauing thy two feete, to be cast into hell, into fire that neuer shalbe quenched:
46 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.
47 And if thine eye offende thee, plucke it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdome of God with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire:
48 Where their worme dyeth not, and the fire is not quenched.
49 For euery man shall be salted with fire, and * euery sacrifice shalbe seasoned with salt. Leuit.2.13.
50 * Salt is good: but if the salt be vnsauerie, with what thing shall you season it? Haue ye salt in your selues, and haue peace among your selues one with another. Matth.5.13. luke 14.34.

The x. Chapter.

2 Of diuorcement. 17 A rich man questioned how he should inherite eternall life.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of the same matter.
Matth. 5. 32. and 19. 9. luke 16. 18. 11 And he saith vnto them, * Whosoeuer shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth aduiterie against her.
12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth aduiterie.
Matth. 19. 13. luke 18. 15. 13 * And they brought yong children to him, that he should touche them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.
14 But when Iesus sawe it, he was sore displeased, and saide vnto them, Suffer the yong children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for to such belongeth the kingdome of God.
15 Verily I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shall not receiue the kingdome of God as a yong childe, he shall in no wise enter therein.
16 And when he had taken them vp in his armes, putting his handes vpon them, he blessed them.
17 And when he was gone forth into the way, * there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good master, what shall I doe that I may inherite eternall life?
Matth. 19. 16. luke 18. 18.
18 Iesus said vnto him, Why callest thou me good? There is no man good but one, which is God.
19 Thou knowest the commandements, Doe not commit aduiterie, * Doe not kill, Doe not steale, Doe not beare false witnesse, Defraude no man, Honour thy Father and mother.
Exod. 20. 13.
20 He answered, and said vnto him, Master, all these haue I obserued from my youth.
21 Iesus beheld him, and loued him, and saide vnto him, One thing thou lackest: Goe thy way, sell whatsoeuer thou hast, and giue to the poore, & thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come follow me, when thou hast taken vp the crosse.
22 But he was discomforted because of that saying, and went away mourning: for he had great possessions.
23 And when Iesus had looked rounde about, he saith vnto his disciples, Howe hardly shall they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God?
24 And the disciples were astonied at his wordes. But Iesus answereth againe, and saith vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God?
25 It is easier for a Camel to goe thorow the eye of a needle, then for the rich to enter into the kingdome of God.
26 And they were astonied out of measure, saying among themselues, Who then can be saued?
27 Iesus, when hee had looked vpon them, saith, With men it is vnpossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.
28 And Peter began to say vnto him, Lo, * we haue forsaken all, and haue followed ther.
Matth. 19. 27. luke 18. 28.
29 Iesus answered, and said, Verily I say vnto you, There is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or landes, for my sake and the Gospels, 30 But he shall receiue an hundred folde nowe at this present, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and landes, with persecutions, and in the world to come eternall life.
31 * But many that are first, shalbe last: and the last, first.

33 Saying, Beholde, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the high Priestes, and vnto the Scribes: and they shall condemne him to death, and shall deliuer him to the Gentiles.
34 And they shall mocke him, and scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kill him: and the thirde day he shall arise.
35 * And Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedee come vnto him, saying, Master, we will that thou shouldest doe for vs whatsoeuer we shall desire.
Matth. 20. 20.
36 He saide vnto them, What will ye that I should do for you?
37 They said vnto him, Graunt vnto vs that we may sit, one on thy right hande, and the other on thy left hande in thy glorie.
38 But Iesus said vnto them, Ye wot not what ye aske: Can ye drinke of the cup that I drinke of? and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with?
39 And they said vnto him, That we can. Iesus said vnto them, Ye shall in deede drinke of the cup that I drinke of: and with the baptisme that I am baptized withall, shall ye be baptized:
40 But to sit on my right hande, and on my left hande, is not mine to giue, but it shalbe giuen vnto them for whome it is prepared.
41 And when the other tenne heard it, they began to disdaine at Iames and Iohn.
42 But Iesus, when he had called them to him, saith vnto them, * Ye know that they which seeme to beare rule among the Gentiles, reigne as lordes ouer them: and they that be great among them, exercise authoritie vpon them.
Luke 22. 25.
43 But so shall it not be among you: but whosoeuer of you will be great among you, shalbe your minister:
44 And whosoeuer of you will be the chiefest, chiefest, shalbe seruant of all.

45 For the sonne of man also came not to be ministred vnto, but to minister, and to giue his life a ransome for many.

Matth.20.29. luke 19.35.

46 *And they came to Iericho: and as he went out of the citie of Iericho with his disciples, & a great number of people, blinde Bartimeus, the sonne of Timeus, sate by the high wayes side, begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Iesus of Nazareth, he began to cry, and say, Iesus thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

48 And many rebuked him, that he should holde his peace: but he cryed the more a great deale, Thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

49 And Iesus stoode still, & commaunded him to be called: and they call the blinde, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort, rise, he calleth thee.

50 And when he had throwen away his cloke, he rose, and came to Iesus.

51 And Iesus answered, and sayde vnto him, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? The blinde said vnto him, Master, that I might see.

52 Iesus sayd vnto him, Go thy way, thy faith hath saued thee. And immediatly he receiued his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.

The xj. Chapter.

Christ rideth to Hierusalem. 12 The Pharisees aske Christ of his authoritie.

Matth.21.1. luke 19.29.

1 And when *they came nigh to Hierusalem, vnto Bethphage & Bethanie, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples,

2 And saith vnto them, Go your way into the towne that is ouer against you, and as soone as ye be entred into it, ye shall finde a colte tyed, whereon neuer man sate, loose him, & bring him hither.

3 And if any man say vnto you, Why doe ye so? Say ye that the Lorde hath neede of him: and straightway he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and founde the colte tied by the doore without, in a place where two wayes met: and they loose him.

5 And diuers of them that stoode there, saide vnto them, What doe ye loosing the colt?

6 And they said vnto them euen as Iesus had commanded: and they let them go.

…n 12.14.

7 *And they brought the colt to Iesus, and cast their garments on him, and he sate vpon him.

8 And many spred their garments in the way: and other cut downe branches off the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna, blessed is he that commeth in the Name of the Lorde.

…r, O thou …ich art. …atth.21.10. …e 19.45.

10 Blessed be the kingdome that commeth in the name of him that is Lorde of our father Dauid, Hosanna in the highest.

11 *And Iesus entred into Hierusalem, and into the Temple, and when he had loked round about vpon all things, and nowe the euen tide was come, he went out vnto Bethanie with the twelue.

12 And on the morowe, when they were come from Bethanie, he hungred.

13 *And when he had spied a fig tree a farre off, hauing leaues, he came to see if he might finde any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaues: for the time of figs was not yet. Matth.21.19.

14 And Iesus answered, and saide vnto the fig tree, Neuer man eate fruite of thee hereafter while the world standeth. And his disciples heard it.

15 And they come to Hierusalem, & when Iesus went into the Temple, he began to cast out them that solde and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money changers, & the seates of them that solde Doues, 16 And would not suffer that any man shoulde carrie any stuffe through the Temple.

17 And he taught, saying vnto them, *Is it not written, My house shall be called the house of prayer vnto all nations? but ye haue made it a denne of thieues. Esai.56.7. Iere.7.11.

18 And the Scribes and the Priests heard it, and sought howe they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was astonied at his doctrine.

19 And when euen was come, Iesus went out of the citie.

20 *And in the morning as they passed by, they sawe the fig tree dryed vp from the rootes. Matth.21.19.

21 And Peter hauing remembred, saith vnto him, Master, beholde, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered away.

22 And Iesus answering, saith vnto them, Haue faith in God.

23 For verily I say vnto you, that whosoeuer shall say vnto this mountaine, Be thou remoued, and be thou cast into the sea, and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall beleeue that those things which he saieth shall come to passe: whatsoeuer he shall say, shall be vnto him.

24 Therefore I say vnto you, *What things so euer ye desire when ye pray, beleeue that ye receiue them, and ye shall haue them. Matth.7.7. luke 11.9.

25 And when ye stand praying, *forgiue, if ye haue ought against any man: that your father also which is in heauen, may forgiue you your trespasses. Marke 6.14.

26 But if you doe not forgiue, neither will your father which is in heauen forgiue you your trespasses.

27 And they come againe to Hierusalem: and *as he walked in the Temple, there come to him the high Priests, and the Scribes and the elders, Matth.21.14. luke 20.1.

28 And say vnto him, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie to doe these things?

29 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, I will also aske of you one question, & answere me, and I will tell you by what authoritie authoritie I doe theſe things.

30 The baptiſme of Iohn, whether was it from heauen, or of men? Anſwere me.
31 And they reaſoned with themſelues, ſaying, If we ſhall ſay, From heauen, he will ſay, Why then did ye not beleeue him?
a This is the third perſon in Greeke.
32 But if we ſhall ſay, Of men, a we feare the people: for all men counted Iohn that he was a verie Prophet.
33 And they anſwering, ſay vnto Ieſus, We can not tell. And Ieſus anſwering, ſaith vnto them, Neither doe I tell you by what authoritie I doe theſe things.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The vineyarde is let out to husbandmen. 41 The poore widdowes farthing.

Matth.21.33. luke 20.9. eſay.5.1. iere.2. 21.
1 And * he began to ſpeake vnto them by parables. A certaine man planted a vineparde, and he ſet an hedge about it, and digged a wine preſſe, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a ſtrange countrey.
2 And when the time was come, he ſent to the husbandmen a ſeruant, that hee might receiue of the husbandmen of the fruite of the vineparde.
3 And they caught him, and beate him, and ſent him away emptie.
4 And againe he ſent vnto them an other ſeruant: and at him they caſt ſtones, and brake his head, and ſent him away all to reuiled.
5 And againe he ſent another, and him they killed: and many other, beating ſome, and killing ſome.
6 And ſo when he had yet but one beloued ſonne, he ſent him alſo at the laſt vnto them, ſaying, They will ſtande in awe of my ſonne.
7 But the husbandmen ſayde amongſt themſelues, This is the heire, come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance ſhall be ours.
8 And they tooke him, and killed him, and caſt him out of the vineparde.
9 What ſhall therefore the Lorde of the vineparde doe? He ſhall come and deſtroy the husbandmen, and will giue the vineparde vnto other.

12 They went about alſo to take him, and feared the people: for they knewe that he had ſpoken the parable againſt them: and they left him, and went their way.
Matth.22.15. luke 20.20.
13 *And they ſent vnto him certaine of the Phariſees and of the Herodians, to take him in his wordes.
14 And when they were come, they ſay vnto him, Maiſter, we knowe that thou art true, and careſt for no man: for thou conſidereſt not the perſon of men, but teacheſt the way of God in truth: Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Ceſar, or not?
15 Shal we giue, or ſhal we not giue? But he knowing their hypocriſie, ſayde vnto them, Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penie, that I may ſee it.
16 And they brought it: and he ſayth vnto them, Whoſe is this image & ſuperſcription? And they ſayd vnto him, Ceſars.

20 There were ſeuen brethren: and the firſt tooke a wife, and when he died, left no ſeede behinde him.
21 And the ſecond tooke her, and died, neither left he any ſeede: and the third likewiſe.
22 And ſeuen had her, & left no ſeede behinde them: laſt of all the wife died alſo.
23 In the reſurrection therefore when they ſhall riſe, whoſe wife ſhall ſhe be of them? for ſeuen had her to wife.
24 And Ieſus anſwering, ſaid vnto them, Doe ye not therefore erre, becauſe ye knowe not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?
25 For when they ſhall riſe from the dead, they neither marrie, nor are giuen in marriage: but are as the Angels which are in heauen.
26 As touching the dead that they riſe: haue ye not read in the booke of Moſes, howe in the buſh God ſpake vnto him, ſaying, *I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Iſahac, and the God of Iacob?
Exod.3.6. matth. 22.32.
27 He is not the God of the dead, but God of the liuing: ye therefore doe greatly erre.

33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderſtanding, and with all the ſoule, and with all the ſtrength, and to loue a mans neighbour as himſelfe, is greater then all the burnt offerings and ſacrifices.

36 For Dauid himselfe inspired with the holy Ghost, said, * The Lorde said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footestoole.

37 Dauid himselfe calleth him Lord: and whence is he then his sonne? And much people heard him gladly.

Matth.23.6. Luke 11.43.

43 And when he had called vnto him his disciples, he saith vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that this poore widdowe hath cast more in, then all they which haue cast into the treasurie.

44 For all they did cast in of their superfluitie: but she of her want, did cast in all that she had, euen all her liuing.

2 The destruction of the Temple. 24 Signes before Christes comming. 31 Gods word shall not passe away.

1 AND * as he went out of the Temple, one of his disciples saide vnto him, Master, see what stones and what buildings are here.

Matth.24.1. Luke 21.5.

Luke 19.43.

3 And as he sate vpon the mount of Olives, ouer against the Temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrewe, asked him secretly, 4 Tell vs, when shall these thinges be? And what shall be the signe when all these things shalbe fulfilled?

5 And Jesus answering them, began to say, * Take heede least any man deceiue you.

Iud.5.6. 1 Thess.2.3.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ: and shal deceiue many.

7 When ye shall heare of warres, and tidings of warres, be ye not troubled: For such things must needes be, but the ende shall not be yet.

8 For there shall nation rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome: and there shall be earthquakes in diuers places, and famines shall there be, and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take heede to your selues: for they shall deliuer you vp to counsels, and to Synagogues, and ye shalbe whipped, yea and shall be brought before rulers and Kings for my sake, that this might be for a witnesse against them.

10 * And the Gospell must first be published among all nations.

Matth.10.19.

11 * But when they shall leade you, deliuering you vp, be not carefull afore hande, neither take thought what ye shall speake: but whatsoeuer shall bee giuen you in the same houre, that speake ye: for it is not ye that speake, but the holy Ghost.

Luke 12.11. and 21.14.

12 The brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the sonne: and the children shall rise against their fathers and mothers, and shall put them to death.

13 And ye shalbe hated of all men for my names sake: but he that shall endure vnto the ende, the same shalbe safe.

14 * Moreouer, when ye see the abomination of desolation, whereof is spoken by Daniel the Prophet, standing where it ought not (let him that readeth, vnderstand) then let them that be in Jurie, flee to the mountaines:

Matth.24.15. Luke 12.11. and 21.14.

15 And let him that is on the house top, not go downe into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the fielde, not turne backe againe for to take his garment with him.

17 Woe shalbe then to them that are with childe, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

18 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter:

19 For there shall be in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created, vnto this time, neither shalbe in any wise.

20 And except that the Lord had shortned those dayes, no flesh should be saued: but for the elects sake whome hee hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

21 * And then, if any man shall say to you, Loe here is Christ, or, loe he is there: beleeue him not.

Matth.24.23. Luke 21.8.

22 For false christes, and false prophets shall rise, and shal shew signes and wonders, to deceiue, if it were possible, euen the elect.

23 But take ye heede: beholde, I haue shewed you all things before.

24 * Moreouer, in those dayes, after that tribulation, the Sunne shalbe darkened, and the Moone shall not giue her light:

27 And then shall he sende his Angels, and shall gather together his elect from the foure windes, from the ende of the earth, to the vttermost part of heauen.
28 Learne a parable of the Figge tree. When her branche is yet tender, and hath brought foorth leaues, ye knowe that Sommer is neere:

a That is, the kingdome of God.
30 Verily I say vnto you, that this generation shall in no wise passe, till all these things be done.
31 Heauen and earth shall passe away: but my wordes shall in no wise passe away.
32 But of that day and that houre knoweth no man, no not the Angels which are in heauen, neither the Sonne himselfe, saue the Father onely.
Matth. 24. 13.
33 * Take ye heede, watch and pray: for ye knowe not when the time is.
‖ For the sonne of man is.
34 ‖ As a man which is gone into a strange countrey, and hath left his house, and giuen authoritie to his seruants, and to euery man his worke, and commaunded the porter to watch:
35 Watch ye therefore (for ye knowe not when the maister of the house commeth, at euen, or at midnight, whether at the cocke crowing, or in the dawning,) 36 Least if he come suddenly, he finde you sleeping.
37 And that I say vnto you, I say vnto all, Watch.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The high Priestes conspire against Christ. 12 The Passeouer is prepared and eaten.

The Gospel on the Munday next before Easter. Matth. 26. 1. luke 22. 1.
1 After * two dayes was the feast of the Passeouer, and of vnleauened bread: and the high Priestes, and the Scribes sought howe they might take him by craft, and put him to death.
2 But they said, Not in the feast day, lest any busines arise among the people.
Matth. 26. 6. iohn 11. 2.
3 * And when hee was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper, euen as he sate at meate, there came a woman, hauing an Alabaster boxe of very precious ointment, called Narde pistike: and when she had broken the boxe, she powred it on his head.
4 And there was some that had indignation within themselues, and saide, Why was this waste of the ointment made?
5 For it might haue bene solde for more then three hundred pence, and haue bene giuen to the poore. And they grudged against her.
6 And Jesus saide, Let her alone, why trouble ye her? She hath done a good worke on me.
7 For ye haue the poore with you alwayes, and whensoeuer ye will, ye may do them good: but me haue ye not alwayes.
8 She hath done that she could: she came afore hande to anoynt my body to the burying.
9 Verily I say vnto you, Wheresoeuer this Gospell shalbe preached throughout the whole worlde, this also that she hath done, shalbe rehearsed in remembrance of her.
10 *And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelue, went away vnto the high Priestes, to betrap him vnto them. Matth. 26. 14. luke 22. 4.
11 When they heard that, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money. And hee sought howe hee might conueniently betrap him.
12 *And the first day of vnleauened bread, when they did kill the Passeouer, his disciples saide vnto him, Where wilt thou that we goe and prepare, that thou mayest eate the Passeouer? Matth. 26. 17. luke 22. 7.
13 And he sendeth foorth two of his disciples, and saith vnto them, Goe ye into the citie, and there shall meete you a man bearing a pitcher of water: followe him.
14 And whithersoeuer he shall goe in, say ye to the good man of the house, The maister saith, Where is the ghest chamber, where I shall eate the Passeouer with my disciples?
15 And hee will shewe you a large vpper chamber, paued and prepared: there make a readie for vs.
a That is, the Passeouer.
16 And his disciples went foorth, and came into the citie, and found as he had saide vnto them: and they made readie the Passeouer.
17 And when it was nowe Euentyde, he commeth with the twelue.
18 * And as they sate at boorde, and did eate, Jesus said, Verily I say vnto you, one of you that eateth with me, shall betrap me. Matth. 26. 20. luke 22. 14. iohn 13. 21.
19 And they began to be sorie, and to say vnto him one by one, Is it I? And another said, Is it I?
20 He answered, and said vnto them, It is one of the twelue, euen he that dippeth with me in the platter ‖.
‖ shall betray me.
21 The Sonne of man truely goeth as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whome the Sonne of man is betraped: Good were it for that man, if he had neuer bene borne.
22 * And as they did eate, Jesus, when he had taken bread and blessed, he brake it and gaue to them, and said, Take, eate: this is my body. Matth. 26. 26. 1. cor. 11. 23.
23 And when hee had taken the cup, and giuen thankes, he gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.
24 And hee saide vnto them, This is my blood of the newe Testament, which is shed for many.
25 Verily I say vnto you, I wil drinke no more of the fruite of the vine, vntill that day that I drinke it newe in the kingdome of God.
26 And when they had praised God, they went out into the mount of Olives.
27 * And Jesus saith vnto them, All ye shalbe offended because of me this night: Iohn 16. 32.

* for for it is written, I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shalbe scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will goe into Galilee before you.
29 Peter sayd vnto him, Although all men shall be offended, yet will not I.
30 And Jesus sayth vnto him, Verily I say vnto thee, that this day, euen in this night, before the Cocke crowe twise, thou shalt denie mee three times.
31 But he spake more vehemently, If I should dye with thee, I will not denie thee in any wise. Likewise also sayde they all.
32 *And they came into a place which was named Gethsemani, and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.
33 And hee taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and began to bee sore amazed, and to be in an agony, 34 And sayeth vnto them, My soule is exceeding heauie, euen vnto the death: tarry ye here, and watch.
35 And when he had gone forward a litle, he fell on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, the houre might passe from him.
36 And he sayde, Abba, father, all things are possible vnto thee, take away this cuppe from mee: Neuertheless, not that I will, but that thou wilt, be done.
37 And hee cometh and findeth them sleeping, and saith vnto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? Couldest not thou watch one houre?
38 Watche ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation: The spirite truely is ready, but the flesh is weake.
39 And againe he went aside, and prayed, and spake the same wordes.
40 And when he returned, he found them asleepe againe (for their eyes were heauie) neither wist they what to answere him.
41 And he commeth the thirde time, and sayth vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, and take your ease: it is ynough, the houre is come, behold, the sonne of man is betraped into the handes of sinners.
42 Rise vp, let vs go: Lo, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.
43 *And immediatly while he yet spake, commeth Judas, being one of the twelue, and with him a great number of people with swordes and staues, from the high priests, and Scribes, and elders.
44 And he that betraped him, had giuen them a generall token, saying, Whosoeuer I shal kisse, that same is he: take him, and leade him away warily.
45 And as soone as hee was come, he goeth straight way to him, and sayth vnto him, Master, master: and kissed him.
46 And they layde their handes on him, and tooke him.
47 And one of them that stood by, when he had drawen out his sworde, smote a seruant of the high priest, and cut off his eare.
48 And Jesus answered, and sayde vnto them, Yee bee come out as vnto a theefe with swordes & with staues, for to take mee.
49 I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye tooke me not: but these things come to passe that the scriptures shoulde be fulfilled.
50 And they all forsooke him, & ran away.
51 And there followed him a certaine young man, clothed in linnen vpon the bare: and the yong men caught him.
52 And hee left his linnen garment, and fledde from them naked.
53 *And they led Jesus away to the high priest, and with him came all the high priestes, and the elders, and the Scribes.
54 And Peter followed him a great way off, euen till he was come into the palace of the high priest: and he sate with the seruants, and warmed himselfe at the fire.
55 *And the high priestes and all the counsell sought for witnesse against Jesus to put him to death, and found none:
56 For many bare false witnesse against him, but their witnesse agreed not together.
57 And there arose certaine, and brought false witnesse against him, saying,
58 We heard him say, *I will destroy this temple that is made with handes, and within three dayes I will buylde another made without handes.
59 But yet their witnesse agreed not so together.
60 And the high priest stoode vp in the middes, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? How is it that these beare witnesse against thee?
61 But he helde his peace, and answered nothing. Againe, the high priest asked him, and sayd vnto him, Art thou Christ the sonne of the blessed?
62 *And Jesus sayde, I am: And ye shal see the sonne of man sitting on the right hand of the power of God, and comming in the cloudes of heauen.
63 Then the high priest, hauing rent his clothes, saith, What neede we any further witnesses?
64 Ye haue heard the blasphemie: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death.
65 And some began to spit at him, and to couer his face, and to beate him with fists, & to say vnto him, Prophecie: And the seruants did beate him with rodes.
66 *And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there commeth one of the wenches of the high priest.
67 And when she sawe Peter warming himselfe, after she had looked vpon him, she sayth, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.
68 But he denied, saying, I knowe him not, neither woote I what thou saiest. And he went out into the porch, and the cocke crewe.
69 And a damosell, when she sawe him, began againe to say to them that stoode by, This is one of them.
70 And he denyed it againe. And anon after,

The xv. Chapter.

1 Iesus is deliuered bound to Pilate. 43 Joseph beggeth Christes body, and buryeth it.

The Gospell on the Tuesday next before Easter. Mat.27.1. luke 22.66. 1 AND * anon in the dawning, when the high priestes had holde a counsell with the elders, & the Scribes, and the whole congregation, and had bound Jesus, they carried him away, and delimered him to Pilate.

2 And Pilate asked him. Art thou the king of the Jewes? And he answering, sayd vnto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the high priestes accused him of many things, but he answered nothing.

Mat.27.12. luke 23.3. iohn 18.33. 4 * So Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing? beholde howe many things they witnesse against thee.

5 Jesus yet answered nothing at all, so that Pilate marueyled.

6 At that feast Pilate did deliuer vnto them one prisoner, whomsoeuer they desired.

7 And there was one that was named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that made insurrection with him, which men had committed murder also in the insurrection.

8 And the people crying alounde, began to desire that he would doe according as he had euer done vnto them.

9 Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I let loose vnto you the king of the Jewes?

10 (For he knewe that the high priests had deliuered him for enuie.)

11 But the high priests moued the people, that he should rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 Pilate answering againe, sayde vnto them, What will ye then that I shall doe vnto him whome ye call the king of the Jewes?

13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.

14 Pilate sayde vnto them, What euill hath he done? And they cryed the more fermently, Crucifie him.

15 And so Pilate, willing to content the people, let loose Barabbas vnto them, and deliuered vp Jesus, when he had scourged him, for to be crucified.

16 And the souldiers led him away into the hall, called Prætorium, and they call together the whole bande ‖

‖ Of souldiers.

17 And they clothed him with Purple, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it about his head, 18 And began to salute him, saying, Hayle king of the Jewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a reede, and did spit vpon him, & bowing their knees, worshipped him.

20 And when they had mocked him, they tooke off the purple from him, and put his owne clothes on him, & led him out to crucifie him.

21 * And they compell one that passed by, Mat.27.32. luke 23.26. called Simon of Cyrene (comming out of the field, the father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse.

22 * And they bring him to a place, named Golgotha, which is, if a man interprete it, a place of a skull. Mat.27.33. luke 23.33. iohn.19.7.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine, mingled with Myrrhe: but he receyued it not.

24 * And when they had crucified him, Mat.27.35. they parted his garments, casting lottes vpo them, what euery man should take.

25 And it was the third houre, ‖ and they crucified him. ‖ Or, when.

26 And þ title of his accusation was written ouer, ‖ THE KING OF THE IEWES. ‖ In these words.

27 And they crucified wt him two theeues, the one on the right hand, and the other on his left.

28 And þ Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, * He was counted among þ wicked. Esa.53.12

29 And they that went by, rayled on him, wagging their heads, and saying, * A wretch, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three dayes. Iohn 2.19.

30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also the high Priestes mocking him among themselues, with the Scribes, sayd, He saued other men, himselfe he can not saue.

32 Let Christ the king of Israel descend nowe from the crosse, that we may see, & beleeue: And they that were crucified with him, checked him also.

33 And when the sixth houre was come, darkenesse arose ouer all the earth, vntill the ninth houre.

34 And at the nynth houre, Jesus cryed with a loude voyce, saying, * Eloi, Eloi, lamasabachthani? which is, if one interprete it, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Mat.27.46, psal.21.2.

35 And some of them that stoode by, when they heard that, sayd, Behold, he calleth for Elias.

36 And one ranne, * and after he had filled Psal.69.22, a spunge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, he gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone, let vs see whether Elias cometh to take him downe.

37 But when Jesus had cryed with a loude voyce, he gaue vp the ghost.

38 And the vaple of the temple was rent into two pieces, from the top to the bottome.

39 And when the Centurion, which stoode ouer against him, saw, that when he had so cryed, he gaue vp the ghost, hee sayde, Truely this man was the sonne of God.

40 There were also woone a good way off, beholbeholding him, among whom was Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of James the litle, and of Joses, and Salomee:

41 Which also when hee was in Galilee, *folowed him, and ministred vnto him, and many other women which came vp with him vnto Hierusalem.

42 *And now when the euen was come, (because it was the day of preparing, that goeth before the Sabboth,) 43 Joseph of the citie of Arimathea, a noble counseller, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came and went in boldly vnto Pilate, and begged of him the body of Jesus.

44 And Pilate marueyled if hee were alreadie dead, and when hee had called vnto him the Centurion, asked of him whether he had bene any while dead.

45 And when he knewe the trueth of the Centurion, hee gaue the body to Joseph.

46 And when he had bought a linnē cloth, and taken him downe, he wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and layde him in a sepulchre, that was hewen out of the rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre.

47 And Marie Magdalene, and Marie *Joses beheld where he was layde.

The xvi. Chapter.

1 The women come to the sepulchre. 20 The signes that folowe the preaching of the Gospel.

1 AND when the Sabboth day was past, Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of James and Salome, bought sweete smelling oyntments, that they might come and anoynt him.

2 *And very early in the morning, the a first day of the Sabboths, they come vnto the sepulchre, when the sunne was risen.

3 And they sayd among themselues, Who shall rolle vs away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

4 (And when they looked, they see howe that the stone was rowled away) for it was very great.

5 *And when they went into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were greatly amazed.

6 And he saith vnto them, Bee not greatly amazed, yee seeke Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified, he is risen, hee is not here, beholde the place where they had put him.

7 But go your way, and tel his disciples, and Peter, that he goeth before you into Galilee, there shal ye see him, *as hee sayd vnto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fledde from the sepulchre, for they trembled, and were amazed, neyther sayde they any thing to any man, for they were afrayde.

9 When Iesus was risen early, the first day after the Sabboth, *hee appeared first to Marie Magdalene, *out of whom he had cast seuen deuils.

10 And shee went and tolde them þ were with him, as they mourned and wept.

11 And they, when they had heard that he was aliue, and had bene seene of her, beleeued it not.

12 After that, hee appeared in another fourme, vnto *two of them, as they walked, and went into the countrey.

13 And they went and tolde it vnto the residue: and they beleeued not these also.

14 *Afterwarde, hee appeared vnto the eleuen as they sate at meate, and cast in their teeth their vnbeliefe and hardnesse of heart, because they beleeued not them, which had seene that he was risen.

15 *And he sayd vnto them, Goe yee into all the worlde, and preach the Gospel to all creatures.

16 He that shal beleeue, and be baptized, shall be saued, *but hee that shal not beeleeue, shalbe damned.

17 And these tokens shal folow them that beleeue, *In my name shal they cast out deuils, *they shall speake with newe tongues.

18 *They shall driue away Serpents, & if they drinke any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them, *they shall lay handes on the sicke, & they shall recouer.

19 So then when the Lorde had spoken vnto them, hee was receiued into heauē, *and sate him down on the right hād of God.

20 And they went forth, & preached euerywhere, the Lord working with thē, *& confirming the worde with signes folowing.

The Gospel by Saint Luke.

The first Chapter.

1 The preface of Luke. 5 Of Zacharias and Elizabeth. 40 Marie visiteth Elizabeth.

1 FOrasmuch as many haue taken in hand to set forth in order the declaration of those things which are most surely beleeued among vs,

‖ Or, proued.

2 Euen as they deliuered them vnto vs, which frō the beginning saw them themselues with their eyes, and were ministers of the worde:

a That is, they were doers in such things as be set forth in the Gospell.

3 It seemed good to mee also, hauing perfect vnderstanding of all things from the beginning, to write vnto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,

4 That thou mightest know the certeintie of those things wherein thou hast bene taught by mouth.

5 THere was in the dayes of Herod the king of Iurie, a certaine Priest, named Zacharias, *of the course of Abia, and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

1.Chro.24.1.

6 They were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandements and ordinances of the Lord, blameles.

7 And they had no child, because that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were nowe well stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, that when Zacharias executed the Priests office before God, as his course came,

9 According to the custome of the Priests office, his lot was to burne incense when he went into the temple of the Lorde.

Lewis.16.17. exod.30.7.

10 *And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, while the incense was burning.

11 And there appeared vnto him an Angell of the Lord, standing on ꝑ right side of the altar of the incense.

12 And whē Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angel saide vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias, for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnes, and many shall reioyce at his birth:

15 And thee shalbe great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neyther drinke wine nor strong drinke, and thee shalbe filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers woombe.

Mala.4.5. mat.11.14.

16 * For many of the children of Israel shal he turne to their Lord God.

17 And hee shall goe before him with the spirite and power of Elias, to turne the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisedome of the iust men, to make readie a perfect people for the Lord.

18 And Zacharias sayde vnto the Angel, By what token shal I knowe this? For I am old, and my wife well stricken in yeeres.

19 And the Angel answering, sayde vnto him, I am Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and was sent to speake vnto thee, and to shewe thee these glad tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, and not be able to speake, vntill the day that these things shall be performed, because thou beleuedst not my wordes, which shalbe fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marueiled that he taried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speake vnto them: and they perceyued that he had seene a vision in the temple: for he beckened vnto them, and remained speechlesse.

23 And it came to passe, that assoone as the dayes of his office were out, he departed into his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elizabeth conceyued, & hid her selfe fiue moneths, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lorde dealt with mée in the dayes wherein he looked on mée, to take frō me my trouble b among men.

The Gospel of the Annunciation of the virgin Mary.

b For it was a chiefe blessing of God, to be fruitfull in children, Gen.1. Exod.23. Psal. 127. and 128. because it was a multiplying of the Lordes people, & fulfilling of Gods promise, Gen.13. and therefore it was taken among the Iewes for a reproch to be barren, Esa.7.14.

26 And in the sixth moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God, vnto a citie of Galilée named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin, spoused to a man whose name was Ioseph, of ꝑ house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And when the Angel was come in vnto her, he saide, Haile thou that art in high fauour, the Lord is with thee: Blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her minde what maner of salutatiō this should be.

30 And the Angel sayde vnto her, Feare not, Marie, for thou hast found fauour with God.

31 *For behold, thou shalt conceiue in thy woombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name Iesus.

32 He shalbe great, and shall be called the sonne of the highest, & the Lord God shal giue vnto him ꝑ seat of his father Dauid.

Dan.7.14. mich.4.7.

33 *And he shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdom there shalbe none ende.

34 Then said Mary vnto the Angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

35 And the Angel answering, saide vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpō thee, and the power of the highest shall c ouershadow thee. Therefore also that holy thing which shalbe borne, shall be called the sonne of God.

c Shall worke secretly in thee aboue all reason.

36 And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath hath also conceiued a sonne in her olde age, and this is her sixth moneth, which was called barren.

37 For with God shall no worde bee vnpossible.

38 And Marie said, Behold the handmaiden of the Lorde, be it vnto me according to thy worde: and the Angel departed from her.

39 And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the hill countrey with haste, into a citie of Juda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharie, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to passe, that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang in her wombe, and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she spake out with a loude voyce, & said, Blessed art thou among women, and the fruite of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence commeth this to me, that the mother of my Lorde should come to me?

44 For loe, assoone as the voyce of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my wombe for ioy.

45 And blessed is shee that beleeued, for those things shall bee performed which were tolde her from the Lord.

46 And Marie sayde, My soule magnifieth the Lorde,

47 And my spirite hath reioyced in God my sauiour.

48 For he hath looked on the lowlinesse of his handmayden: for lo, nowe from hencefoorth shall all generations call mee blessed.

49 Because he that is mightie hath done to me great things, & holy is his name.

50 And his mercy is on them that feare him, from generation to generation.

51 He hath shewed strength with his arme, he hath scattered them that are proude, in * the imagination of their hearts.

52 He hath put downe the mightie from their seates, and exalted the lowly.

53 * He hath filled the hungry with good things, and sent away the riche empte.

54 * He hath holped his seruant Israel, in remembrance of his mercie.

55 * (Euen as he spake to our fathers Abraham, and to his sede) for euer.

56 And Marie abode with her about three moneths, and afterward returned to her owne house.

57 Elizabeths time came þ shee should be delivered, and she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard howe the Lorde had shewed great mercy vpō her, & they reioyced with her.

59 And it came to passe, that on the eight day they came to circumcise the childe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answering, sayde, Not so, but he shalbe called John.

61 And they sayd vnto her, There is none in thy kinred þ is called by this name.

62 And they made signes to his father, what he would haue him called.

63 * And when hee had asked for writing tables, hee wrote, saying, His name is John: And they marueyled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and hee spake, praysing God.

65 And feare came on all them that dwelt round about them, and all these sayings were noysed abroade thorowout all the hill countrie of Jurie.

66 And all they that had heard them, layd them vp in their heartes, saying, What maner of childe shall this be? And the hand of the Lorde was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophecied, saying,

68 * Praysed be the Lorde God of Israel, for hee hath visited and redeemed his people,

69 * And hath raysed vp an [d] horne of saluation vnto vs, in the house of his seruant Dauid:

70 * Euen as he spake by the mouth of his holy Prophets, which were since the world began.

71 That he would saue vs from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate vs.

72 That hee would deale mercifully with our fathers, and remember his holy couenant.

73 * And that hee would performe the othe which hee [e] sware to our father Abraham, for to giue vs.

74 That wee being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, might serue him without feare, 75 * In holinesse and righteousnesse before him, all the dayes of our life.

76 And thou childe shalt bee called the Prophet of the highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord, to prepare his wayes.

77 To giue knowledge of saluation vnto his people, by þ remission of their sinnes,

78 Through þ tender mercie of our God, whereby the day spring * from an high hath visited vs, 79 To giue light to them that sit in darkenesse, & in the shadowe of death, to guide our feete into the way of peace.

80 And the childe grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in wildernesse till the day came [f] of his shewing vnto the Israelites.

The taxing of the worlde by Augustus Cesar.

1 AND it came to passe in those dayes, that there went a commandement from Augustus Cesar, that al the [a] world should be taxed.

2 (And this first taxing was made when Cyrenius was Lieutenant of Syria.)

3 And al went to be taxed, euery man into his owne citie.

4 And Joseph went vp from Galilee, out of the citie Nazareth, into Jurie, vnto þ citie of Dauid, * which is called Beth-

6 And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that she should be deliuered.

7 And she brought forth her first begotten b sonne, and swadled him, and layde him in a manger, because there was no rowme for them in the Inne.

8 There were in the same countrey shepheards abiding in the fielde, keeping watche ouer their flocke by night.

9 And loe, the Angel of the Lorde stoode hard by them, and the glory of the Lorde shone round about them, and they were sore afraide.

16 And they came with haste, and founde Marie and Joseph, and the babe laide in a manger.

17 And when they had seene it, they published abroade the saying, which was tolde them of this childe.

18 And all they that heard it, wondered at those things which were told them of the shepheardes.

19 But Mary kept all those sayings, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepheards returned, glorifying and praysing God, for all the things that they had heard and seene, euen as it was tolde vnto them.

26 And a reuelation was giuen him of the holy Ghost, not to see death, before he had seene the Lords Christ.

27 And he came by inspiration into the temple: and when the parentes brought in the childe Jesus, to doe for him after the custome of the lawe,

28 Then tooke he him vp in his armes, and praysed God, and sayde, 29 Lord, nowe lettest thou thy seruant depart in peace, according to thy promise,

The iii. Chapter.

3 The preaching of Iohn. 23 The age and genealogie of Christ.

1 NOwe in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being lieutenant of Iurie, and Herode being Tetrach of Galilee, and his brother Philippe Tetrach of Iturea, and of the region of the Trachonites, and Ipsanias the Tetrach of Abilene,
2 *When Annas and Caiaphas were the high [a] priestes, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Iohn, the sonne of Zacharias, in the wildernesse.
3 And he came into all the coastes about Iordane, preaching the baptisme of repentance, for the remission of sinnes,
4 As it is written in the booke of the wordes of Esaias the Prophet, saying, *The voice of a crier in the wildernesse, Prepare ye the way of the Lorde, make his paths straight.
5 Euery valley shalbe filled, and euery mountaine and hill shalbe brought low, and things that be crooked, shalbe made [b] straight, and the rough wayes shalbe made plaine.
6 And all flesh shall see the saluation of God.
7 Then sayd hee to the people that were come forth to bee baptized of him, *O generation of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?
8 Bring forth therefore due fruites of repentance, and beginne not to say within your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: For I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.
9 Nowe also is the [c] axe layde vnto the roote of the trees: Euery tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.
10 And the people asked him, saying, What shall we doe then?
11 He answereth, and sayth vnto them, * He that hath two [d] coates, let him part with him that hath none, and hee that hath meate, let him do likewise.
12 Then came Publicanes [e] also to bee baptized, and sayde vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?
13 And he sayde vnto them, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you.
14 The souldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he saide vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and bee content with your wages.
15 And the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of Iohn, whether he were very Christ.
16 Iohn answered, saying vnto them all, *In deed I baptize you with water, but one stronger then I commeth, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to vnlose, he shall baptize you with the holy ghost, and with fire.
17 *Which hath his fanne in his hand, and will throughly purge his floore, and will gather the wheate into his barne, but the chaffe will hee burne with fire vnquenchable.
18 And many other things in his exhortation preached he vnto the people.
19 *Then Herode the Tetrach, when hee was rebuked of him for Herodias his brother Philips wife, and for all the euils which Herode did,
20 Added this aboue all, & shut vp Iohn in prison.
21 Now it came to passe, as all the people were baptized, and *when Iesus was baptized, and did pray, that the heauen was opened:
22 And the holy Ghost came downe in a bodily shape like a doue vpon him, and a voice came from heauen, which sayde, Thou art my beloued sonne, in thee I am well pleased.

25 But I tell you of a truth, *many widdowes were in Israel in the dayes of Elias, when the heauen was shutte thre yeeres and sixe monethes, when great famishment was throughout all the land:

26 And vnto none of them was Elias sent, saue vnto Sarepta a citie of Sidon, vnto a woman that was a widow.

27 *And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the Prophet: and none of them was cleansed, sauing Naaman the Syrian.

28 And all they in the Synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, 29 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the citie, and led him euen vnto the ‖ toppe of the hill (whereon their citie was built) that they might cast him downe headlong.

30 But he passing through the middes of them, went his way:

32 *And they were astonied at his doctrine, for his preaching was with power.

33 *And in the Synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of a fowle deuill, and cried out with a loude voyce, 35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, & come out of him. And when the deuill had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And feare came on them all, and they spake among themselues, saying, What maner of saying is this? For with authoritie and power he commandeth the fowle spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into euery place of the countrey round about.

38 *And when he was risen out of the Synagogue, he entred into Simons house: and Simons wiues mother was taken with a great feuer, and they made intercession to him for her.

39 And he stood ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her. And immediatly she arose, and ministred vnto them.

40 When the sunne was downe, all they that had any sicke with diuers diseases, brought them vnto him: and when hee had laide his handes on euery one of them, he healed them.

41 *And deuils also came out of many, crying, and saying, Thou art that Christ the sone of God. And he rebuking them, suffered them not to speake: for they knew that he was Christ.

42 And when it was day, hee departed, and went into a desert place: & the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him, that hee shoulde not depart from them.

43 And he said vnto them, I must preach the kingdome of God to other cities also: For therefore am I sent.

44 And he was preaching in the Synagogues of Galilee.

The v. Chapter.

Christ teacheth out of a ship. 36 Newe and olde agree not.

IT* came to passe, that when the people preassed vpon him, to heare the worde of God, he was standing by the lake of Genezareth.

2 And he sawe two shippes stand by the lakes side: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nettes.

3 And when hee was entred into one of the ships which perteined to Simon, he prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land: and he sate downe, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 When he had left speaking, he said vnto Simon, Launch out into the deepe, and let slip your nets to catch.

5 And Simon answering, said vnto him, Master, we haue laboured all night, and haue taken nothing: neuertheles, at thy commandement I will loose foorth the net.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, but their net brake:

7 And they beckened vnto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and helpe them. And they came, and filled both the ships, that they sunke againe.

8 When Simon Peter sawe this, hee fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Goe out from mee, for I am a sinfull man, O Lorde.

9 For he was vtterly astonied, & all that were with him, at the taking of the fishes, which they had caught together.

10 And so was also Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Iesus said vnto Simon, Feare not, from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought vp their boates to the shore, they forsooke al, and followed him.

12 *And it came to passe, that when hee was in a certaine citie, beholde, there was a man full of leprosie: and when he had spied Iesus, he fell flat on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 And when hee had stretched foorth his handes, hee touched him, saying, I will: be thou cleane. And immediately the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tel no man: but, Goe, sayth he, *and shewe thy selfe to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a witnesse vnto them.

35 But the dayes will come: and when the bridegroome shall be taken away frō them, then shall they fast in those dayes.

36 He spake also vnto them a similitude. No man putteth a piece of a new garment into an olde vesture: for then the new renteth the olde, and the piece that was taken out of the newe, agreeeth not with the olde.

37 And no man powreth new wine into olde vessels: for if he doe, the newe wine will burst the vessels, and runne out it selfe, and the vessels shall perish.

38 But new wine must be put into newe vessels, and both are preserued.

39 No man also hauing drunke old wine, will straightway haue new: for he saith, The olde is better.

7 And the Scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heale on the Sabboth day: that they might find how to accuse him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and saide to the man which had þ withered hand, Rise vp, and stand forth in the middes. And he arose, and stood forth.

9 Then said Iesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, Whether is it lawful on the Sabboth dayes to do good, or to doe euill? to saue ones life, or to destroy it?

10 And when he had beheld them all in compasse, he said vnto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored againe as whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madnesse, & commuued together among themselues what they might doe to Iesus.

18 And they that were vexed with fowle spirites: and they were healed.

19 And all the people preassed to touche him: for there went vertue out of him, & healed them all.

20 And when hee had lifted vp his eyes vpō his disciples, he said, * Blessed be ye poore: for yours is þ kingdome of God.

21 * Blessed are ye that hunger nowe: for ye shalbe satisfied. * Blessed are yee that weepe now, for ye shall laugh.

25 * Woe vnto you that are full: for ye shall hunger. Woe vnto you that nowe laugh: for ye shall mourne and waile.

26 Woe vnto you when men shall prayse you: for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 * But I say vnto you which heare, Loue your enemies, doe good to them which hate you, 28 Blesse them that curse you, and pray for them which wrōgfully trouble you.

29 * And vnto him that smiteth thee on þ one cheeke, offer also the other: * and him that taketh away thy cloake, forbid not to take thy coate also.

30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee, and of him that taketh away thy goods, aske them not againe.

31 * And as yee would that men should doe to you, doe ye also to them likewise.

32 * For if ye loue them which loue you, what thanke haue yee? for sinners also loue their louers.

33 And if ye doe good for them which doe good for you, what thanke haue yee? for sinners also doe euen the same.

34 * And if ye lende to them of whome ye hope to receiue, what thanke haue yee? * for sinners also lend to sinners, to receiue such like againe. Mat.5.46. Mat.5.42.

35 But loue yee your enemies, and doe good, and lende, looking for nothing againe: and your reward shall be great, and ye shalbe the children of the highest: for he is kinde vnto the vnkinde, and to the euill.

36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your father also is mercifull. The Gospel on the xiii. Sunday after Trinitie.

37 * Iudge not, and yee shall not bee iudged at all: condemne not, and yee shall not be condemned at all: forgiue, and ye shalbe forgiuen. Mat.7.1.

38 * Giue, and it shalbe giuen vnto you, good measure, preassed downe, shaken together, and running ouer, shall men giue into your bosomes: for with the same measure that yee mete withall, it shalbe measured to you againe. Mat.7.2. mark.4.24.

39 And hee put forth a similitude vnto them, * Can the blinde leade the blind? Shall they not both fall into the ditch? Mat.15.14.

40 * The disciple is not aboue his master: but whosoeuer wilbe a perfect disciple, shalbe as his master is. Mat.10.24. Iohn 13.16.

41 * And why seest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but considerest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Mat.7.3.

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let mee pull out the mote that is in thine eye: when thou thy selfe seest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out the beame out of thine own eye first, and then shalt thou see perfectly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

43 * For it is not a good tree that bringeth forth euill fruite: neither is that an euill tree that bringeth forth good fruite. Mat.7.17.

44 * For euery tree is knowē by his own fruite: for of thornes do not men gather figges, nor of a brable bush gather they grapes. Mat.12.33. mark.7.16.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good: and an euill man out of the euill treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is euill: For of the abundance of the heart, his mouth speaketh.

46 * Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and doe not as I bid you? Mat.7.21. vom.13.2.

47 Whosoeuer commeth to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth the same, I will shewe you to whome he is like.

48 He is like a man which built an house, and digged deepe, and laide the foundation on the rock. And when the waters arose, the flood beat vehemently vpon that house, and could not moue it: for it was grounded vpon the rocke.

49 But he that heareth, and doeth it not, is like a man that without foundation built an house vpon the earth: against which the flood did beate vehemently, & it fell immediatly, and the fall of that house was great.

The vii. Chapter.

1 He healeth the captaines seruant. 6 The faith of the Centurion. 37 The woman washeth his feete with her teares.

Mat.8.1.

1 WHen he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, * he entred into Capernaum.

2 And a certaine Centurions seruant, which was deare vnto him, being sicke, was in perill of death.

3 And whē he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him the elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he would come and heale his seruant.

4 And when they came to Iesus, they besought him instantly, saying, Hee is worthy that thou shouldest doe this for him.

5 For he loueth our nation, & hath built vs a synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them. And when hee was nowe not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friendes to him, saying vnto him, Lorde, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my roofe.

7 Wherefore, I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say thou the word, and my seruant shalbe whole.

8 For I also am a man set vnder power, hauing vnder me souldiers: and I say vnto one, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and hee commeth: and to my seruant, Doe this, and he doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, hee marueiled at him, & turned him about, and saide vnto the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not founde so great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, when they were returned home, founde the seruant whole that had bene sicke.

The Gospel on the xvi. sunday after Trinite.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that he went into a citie called Naim: and many of his disciples went with him, & much people.

12 When he came nigh to the gate of the citie, behold, there was a dead man carried out, which was the onely sonne of his mother, and shee was a widdowe: and much people of the citie was with her.

13 And when the Lorde sawe her, hee had compassion on her, and saide vnto her, Weepe not.

14 And when he was come nigh, he touched the beere (and they that bare him stood still.) And he saide, Young man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead, sate vp, and began to speake: and he deliuered him to his mother.

16 And there came a feare on them all, and they gaue the glory vnto God, saying that a great Prophet is risen vp among vs, and verely God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumor of him went foorth throughout all Iurie, and throughout all the regions which lie round about.

Mat.11.2.

18 * And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things.

19 And Iohn, when hee had called vnto him two of his disciples, he sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke we for another?

20 When the men were come vnto him, they saide, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke we for another?

21 And in that same houre he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of euill spirites, and vnto many that were blinde he gaue sight.

22 Then Iesus answering, said vnto the, Go your way, and bring worde againe to Iohn, what things ye haue seene and heard, howe that the blinde see againe, the halt goe, the lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead rise, to the poore is the Gospel preached.

23 And happy is he whosoeuer shall not be offended at me.

24 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, he began to speake vnto the people concerning Iohn: What went ye out into the wildernes for to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

25 But what went ye out for to see? A mā clothed in soft rayment? Beholde, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and liue delicately, are in kings courtes.

26 But what wēt ye for: to see? A Prophet? Yea, I say vnto you, and more then a Prophet.

27 This is he of whom it is writtē, * Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. Mala.3.1.

28 For I say vnto you, among womens children is there not a greater Prophet thē Iohn Baptist: neuertheles, he that is least in the kingdome of God, is greater then he.

29 And all the people that heard him, and the Publicanes, being baptized with ᵇ baptisme of Iohn, [a] iustified God.

a That is, professed God, and acknowledged him to be most faithfull, good and mercifull. Mat.11.16.

30 But the Pharisees and lawyers despised the counsaile of God against themselues, being not baptized of him.

31 And the Lord said, * Whereunto shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what thing are they like?

32 They are like vnto children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, Wee haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced: We haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

33 For Iohn Baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and yee say, Ye hath a deuill.

39 When the Phariſée which had bidden him, ſawe it, hee ſpake within himſelfe, ſaying, If this man were a Prophet, he would ſurely know who, and what maner of woman this is that toucheth him: for ſhe is a ſinner.

40 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid vnto him, Simon, I haue ſomewhat to ſay vnto thee. And he ſayth, Maiſter, ſay on.

41 There was a certaine lender, which had two debters: the one ought fiue hundred pence, and the other fiftie.

42 When they had nothing to pay, he forgaue them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will loue him moſt?

43 Simon anſwered, and ſaid, I ſuppoſe, that he to whō he forgaue moſt. And he ſaid vnto him, Thou haſt truly iudged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and ſaid vnto Simon, Séeſt thou this woman? I entred into thine houſe, thou gaueſt mee no water for my féete: but ſhe hath waſhed my féete with teares, and wiped them with the heares of her head.

45 Thou gaueſt me no kiſſe: but this woman, ſince the time I came in, hath not ceaſſed to kiſſe my féete.

46 Mine head with oyle thou biddeſt not anoynt: but this woman hath anointed my féete with oyntment.

47 Wherefore, I ſay vnto thee, many ſinnes are forgiuen her, for ſhee loued much: to whome little is forgiuen, the ſame loueth little.

48 And he ſaid vnto her, Thy ſinnes are forgiuen thée.

49 And they that ſate at meate with him, began to ſay within themſelues, Who is this that forgiueth ſinnes alſo?

50 And he ſaid to the woman, Thy faith hath ſaued thée, goe in peace.

Chriſt and his Apoſtles goe from towne to towne, and preach. 5 The parable of the ſeede, 16 and of the candle.

1 AND it came to paſſe afterward, that he himſelfe went throughout euery citie and village preaching, and ſhewing the glad tidings of the kingdome of God: and the twelue were with him.

‖Or, rather thus, And ſome fell among thiſtles, and the thiſtles ſprang vp with it, and choked it.

9 And his diſciples aſked him, ſaying, What maner of ſimilitude is this?

14 And that which fell among thornes, are they, which when they haue heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches, and voluptuous liuing, & bring forth no fruit.

15 But that which fell on the good ground, are they, which with a pure & good heart heare the worde, and keepe it, and bring forth fruit through patience.

Mat.8.8. mark.5.4.
26 *And they ſailed vnto the region of the Gadarenites, which is ouer againſt Galilée.

27 And when he went out to lande, there met him out of the citie a certaine man which had deuils long time, & ware no clothes, neither abode in any houſe, but in graues.

28 When he ſaw Jeſus, and had cried aloude, he fell downe before him, and with a loude voyce ſayde, What haue I to do with thee Jeſus, thou ſonne of God moſt higheſt? I beſéech thée torment me not.

29 (For he commanded the fowle ſpirit to come out of the man: for oftentimes he had caught him, and he was bound with chaines, and kept with fetters: and hee brake the bands, and was caried of the fiend into the wildernesſe.)

30 And Jeſus asked him, ſaying, What is thy name? And he ſaid, Legion: becauſe many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they beſought him that he would not command them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was there a heard of many ſwine feeding on an hill: and [b] they beſought him that he would ſuffer them to enter into them: and he ſuffered them.

b That is, the deuils.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the ſwine: and the heard ranne headlong with violence into the lake, and were choked.

34 When the heardmen ſawe what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the citie, and in the villages.

35 Therefore they came out to ſée what was done, & came to Jeſus, and found the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, ſitting at the féete of Jeſus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afrayde.

36 They alſo which ſaw it, tolde them by what meanes he that was poſſeſſed of the deuils, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenites, beſought him that hee would depart from them, for they were taken with great feare: and he gate him by into the ſhip, and returned backe againe.

38 Then the man, out of whom the deuils were departed, beſought him that hee might be with him: but Jeſus ſent him awap, ſaying, 39 Go home againe to thine owne houſe, and ſhew what things ſoeuer God hath done for thee. And hee went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what things ſoeuer Jeſus had done vnto him.

‖ Or, what great things God hath done vnto thee.

40 And it came to paſſe, that when Jeſus was come againe, the people receyued him: for they were all waiting for him.

Mat.9.18. mark.5.22.

45 And Jeſus ſaide, Who is it that touched me? When euery man denied, Peter & they that were with him, ſaid, Maſter, the people thruſt thée, and vexe thée, and ſayeſt thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jeſus ſaid, Some body hath touched mee: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman ſawe that ſhee was not hid, ſhe came trembling, and fell at his feete, and told him before all the people, for what cauſe ſhe had touched him, and how ſhe was healed immediatly.

48 And he ſaid vnto her, Daughter, bée of good comfort, thy faith hath ſaued thée, goe in peace.)

49 While he yet ſpake, there commeth one from the ruler of the ſynagogues houſe, ſaying to him, Thy daughter is dead, diſeaſe not the maſter.

50 But when Jeſus heard that worde, he anſwered him, ſaying, Feare not, beléeue onely, and ſhe ſhalbe made whole.

51 And when he came into the houſe, he ſuffered no man to goe in with him, ſaue Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

52 Euery body wept, and ſorowed for her: and he ſaid, Weepe not, the damoſell is not dead, but ſléepeth.

53 And they laughed him to ſcorne, knowing that ſhe was dead.

54 And he thruſt them all out, and tooke her by the hand, and cried, ſaying, Maid, ariſe.

55 And her ſpirit came againe, and ſhe arose ſtraightway: and he commanded to giue her meate.

56 And

56 And her parentes were astonied: but he warned them that they should tell no man what was done.

The ix. Chapter.

2 The Apostles are sent to preach, 57 Of three that would followe Christ, but after diuers sortes: of looking backe.

Mat.10.1. mark.3.13. and 6.7.

1 IEsus * when he had called the twelue together, gaue them power and authoritie ouer all deuils, and to heale diseases.

2 And he sent them to preach the kingdome of God, and to heale the sicke.

3 And he said vnto them, Take nothing to † your iourney, neither rodde, nor scrippe, neither bread, neither money, neither haue two coates a piece.

† Because this iourney was short, and but for a time, Christ willed that they should make haste, and take nothing with them, whereby they might be letted any thing at all from the businesse.

4 And whatsoeuer house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And whosoeuer will not receiue you, when ye goe out of that citie, shake off the very dust from your feete, for a testimonie against them.

6 And they departed, and went throughout the townes, preaching the Gospell, and healing euery where.

Mat.6.14. mark.14.2.

7 * And Herode the Tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he doubted, because that it was said of some, þ Iohn was risen from death:

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: and of some, that one of the olde Prophets was risen.

9 And Herode said, Iohn haue I beheaded: but who is this of whome I heare such things? And he desired to see him.

10 And the Apostles when they returned, tolde him all that they had done. * And he tooke them, and went aside into a solitarie place, nigh vnto the citie called Bethsaida,

Mat.14.13. mark.6.35.

Mat.14.16. mark.6.35. and 6.5.

12 * And when the day began to weare away, then came the twelue, and sayde vnto him, Sende the people away, that they may go into the villages & fieldes rounde about, and lodge, and get meate: for we are here in a place of wildernesse.

13 But he sayde vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they saide, We haue no moe but fiue loaues and two fishes, except wee should goe and buye meate for all this people.

14 And they were about fiue thousande men. And he saide to his disciples, Cause them to sitte downe by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all to sitte downe.

16 And when he had take the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, he blessed them, and brake them, and gaue to the disciples to set before the people.

17 And they did all eate, and were satisfied. And there was taken vp of that remained to them, twelue baskets full of broken meate.

18 * And it came to passe, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him: & he asked them, saying, Whome say the people that I am?

Mat.16.13. mark.8.27.

19 They answering, said, Iohn the Baptist: some say, Elias: and some say, that one of the old Prophets is risen.

20 He said vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering, said, Thou art that Christ, of God.

21 And he warned and commanded them to tell no man that thing:

22 Saying, * That the sonne of man must suffer many things, and be reproued of the elders, and of the high priestes and Scribes, and bee slaine, and rise the thirde day.

Mat.17.22. mark.8.31.

24 * For whosoeuer will saue his life, shall lose it: but whosoeuer will lose his life for my sake, the same shall saue it.

Mat.10.39. mark.8.35.

25 * For what auantageth it a man, if he winne the whole worlde, and lose himselfe, or runne in danger of himselfe?

Mat.16.26. mark.9.36.

26 * For whosoeuer shall bee ashamed of me, and of my wordes, of him shall the sonne of man be ashamed when hee shall come in the glory of himselfe, and of his father, and of the holy angels.

Mat.17.2. mar.9.2.

29 And it came to passe as he prayed, the fashion of his countenāce was changed, and his garment shining very white.

30 And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias, 31 That appeared in glory, and spake of his departing, which he should ende at Hierusalem.

32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heauy with slēepe: and when they awoke, they sawe his glory, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good being here for vs, and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said.

34 While hee thus spake, there came a cloude & ouershadowed thē, & they feared, when they were come into þ cloud.

35 And there came a voyce out of the cloude, saying, This is my deare sonne, heare him.

36 And as soone as the voyce was past, Iesus was founde alone: and they kept it close, and tolde no man in those dayes any of those things which they had seene.

41 Jeſus anſwering, ſaide, O faithleſſe & peruerſe nation, howe long ſhall I dee with you, and ſhal ſuffer you? bring thy ſonne hither.

42 As he was yet a comming, the feend rent him, and tare him: and Jeſus rebuked the vncleane ſpirite, and healed the childe, and deliuered him againe to his father.

43 And they were all amaſed at the maieſtie of God: But while they wondred euery one at all things which Jeſus did, he ſaid vnto his diſciples, 46 * Then there aroſe a diſputation among them, which of them ſhould be the greateſt.

47 When Jeſus perceiued the thought of their heart, he tooke a childe, and ſet him hard by him, 48 And ſaid vnto them, Whoſoeuer ſhall receiue this childe in my name, receiueth me: and whoſoeuer ſhall receiue me, receiueth him that ſent me: For he that is leaſt among you al, the ſame ſhalbe great.

Mar.9.38.

49 * And Johan anſwering, ſaide, Maſter, we ſawe one caſting out deuils in thy name, and we forbade him, becauſe hee followeth not thee with vs.

50 And Jeſus ſaid vnto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not againſt vs, is with vs.

51 And it came to paſſe, when the time was come that he ſhould be receiued vp, hee ſtedfaſtly ſet his face to goe to Hieruſalem, 52 And ſent meſſengers before his face, & they went and entred into a village of the Samaritanes, to make readie for him.

b Becauſe they knewe that he was a Iewe, and the Samaritanes would not agree with the Iewe, Iohn 4. for that they differed in Religion.

53 And they did not receiue him, becauſe his b face was as though he would goe to Hieruſalem.

54 When his diſciples, James and Johan ſawe this, they ſaid, Lord, wilt thou that we commaund fire to come downe from heauen, and conſume them, euen as Elias did?

55 Jeſus turning about, rebuked them, ſaying, Ye wote not what maner ſpirite ye are of.

56 * For the ſonne of man is not come to deſtroy mens liues, but to ſaue them. And they went to another village. Mat.8.19.

57 And it came to paſſe, that as they wēt walking in the way, a certaine man ſaid vnto him, I will follow thée, Lord, whitherſoeuer thou goeſt.

58 And Jeſus ſaid vnto him, Foxes haue holes, and birds of the aire haue neſtes: but the ſonne of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 * And he ſaide vnto another, Folowe me: And the ſame ſaid, Lord, ſuffer mee firſt to goe and burye my father. Mat.8.21.

60 Jeſus ſaid vnto him, Let the dead burye their dead: but goe thou and preache the kingdome of God.

c When Chriſt calleth, we may not looke at any thing which may hinder vs from our vocation, but with all ſpeede follow it.

61 And another ſaid, Lord, I will followe thée: but let me firſt go bid them farewel which c are at home at my houſe.

62 Jeſus ſaid vnto him, No man hauing put his hande to the plough, and looking backe, is apt to the kingdome of God.

The x. Chapter.

He ſendeth ſeuentie diſciples to preach, giuing them charge howe to behaue themſelues.

1 AFter theſe things, the Lord appointed other ſeuētie alſo, and ſent them two and two before his face, into euery citie and place, whither he himſelf would come. The Goſpel on S. Luke the Euangeliſts day.

b Which loueth the doctrine of peace, that is, the Goſpell.

7 And in the ſame houſe tarry ſtill, eating and drinking ſuch thing as they haue: For the labourer is worthy of his reward. Go not from houſe to houſe.

9 And heale the ſicke that are therein, & ſay vnto them, The kingdome of God is come nigh vpon you.

10 But into whatſoeuer citie ye enter, & they receiue you not, goe your wayes out into the ſtreetes of the ſame, & ſay, thée Bethsaida: For if þ mightie works had bene done in Tyre & Sidon, which haue bene done in pon, they had a great while agoe repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

15 And thou Capernaum, which art exalted to heauē, shalt be thrust downe to hel.

Mat.10.40. Iohn 13,20.

16 * He that heareth pou, heareth me: and he that despiseth pou, despiseth mée: and he that despiseth mee, despiseth him that sent me.

17 And the seuentie turned againe with ioy, saying, Lord, euen the very deuils are subdued vnto vs through thy name.

The power of Satan is beaten downe by preaching of Gospel.

18 And he said vnto them, I sawe Satan c as it had bene lightning, falling downe from heauen.

19 Behold, I giue vnto you power to treade on serpents and scorpions, and ouer all maner power of the enemie: and nothing shall by any meanes hurt you.

20 But in this reioyce not, that the spirits are subdued vnto you: but rather reioyce, because your names are written in the heauens.

21 The same houre Jesus reioyced in the spirit, and said, I confesse vnto thée, father, Lord of heauen and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, & hast opened them vnto babes: euen so father, for so it pleased thee.

22 All things are giuen mée of my father: no man knoweth who the sonne is, but the father: and who the father is, but the sonne, and he to whom the sonne will reueale him.

The Gospel on the xi. Sunday after Trinite. Mat.13,16.

23 And he turned vnto his disciples, and said secretly,* Happy are the eyes which see the things that ye see.

24 For I tell you, that many Prophets & kings haue desired to see those things which yée see, and haue not seene them: & to heare those things which yée heare, and haue not heard them.

25 And behold, a certaine lawyer stood vp, and tempted him, saying,* Master, what shall I doe to inherite eternall life? He said vnto him,

Deu.32.35.

26 What is written in the lawe? how readest thou?

Deut.6,5.

27 And he answering, said, * Thou shalt loue the Lorde thy GOD with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy strength, and with all thy minde, * and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

Leui.19.18.

28 And he said vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, & thou shalt liue.

29 But he, willing to iustifie himselfe, said vnto Jesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 And Jesus answering, said, A certaine man descended from Hierusalem to Jericho, and fell amōg thieues, which robbed him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

31 And it befell, that there came downe a certaine priest that same way, and when he sawe him, hée passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Leuite, when hée went nigh to þ place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certaine Samaritane as he iourneied, came by him: and when hée sawe him, he had compassion on him, 34 And went to him, and bound vp his woundes, powring in oyle and wine, and set him on his owne beast, and brought him to a common inne, and made prouision for him.

35 And on the morowe when hee departed, he toke out d two pence, and gaue them to the hoste, and saide vnto him, Take care of him, and whatsoeuer thou spendest more, when I come againe, I will recompense thee.

d Which was about ix. pence of sterling money.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theeues?

37 And he saide, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus vnto him, Goe, & doe thou likewise.

38 Nowe it came to passe as they went, that hee entred into a certaine village: & a certaine woman, named Martha, receiued him into her house.

39 And this woman had a sister, called Mary, which also sate at Jesus féete, and heard his word:

40 But Martha was cumbred about much seruing, and came to him, and said, e Lorde, doest thou not care that my sister hath left mée to serue alone? Bid her therefore that she helpe me.

e That is, the hearing of the word of God, from which ie was not meete that she should be drawen, hauing not alwayes oportunitie to heare the same.

41 And Jesus answered, and said vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou art carefull, and troubled about many things:

42 Verily one is needefull, Mary hath chosen the good part, f which shal not be taken away from her.

The xi. Chapter.

2 Christ teacheth his disciples to pray. 14 He driueth out a dombe deuill.

1 AND so it was, that as he was praying in a certaine place, when he ceased, one of his disciples saide vnto him, Lord, teach vs to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 And he said vnto them, When ye pray, say, * O our Father which art in heauē, Hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdome come, Thy will be done, euen in earth also as it is in heauen. Mat.6,9.

3 Our daily bread giue vs this day.

4 And forgiue vs our sinnes: for euen we forgiue euery man that trespasseth vs. And leade vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs from the euill.

5 And he said vnto them, Which of you shal haue a friend, and shal goe vnto him at midnight, and say vnto him, Friend, lend me three loaues:

6 For a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him.

7 And he from within shall answere, and say, Trouble me not, the doore is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I cannot rise and giue thee.

8 I say vnto you, Though he will not rise, and giue him, because hee is his friend: yet because of his importunitie, hee will rise, & giue him as many as he needeth.

9 * And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shalbe giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shalbe opened vnto you.

10 * For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened.

Mat.9.32. mar.3.20.

11 *If the sonne shall aske bread of any of you that is a father, will he giue him a stone? Or if he aske fish, will hee for fish giue him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall aske an egge, will he offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being euill, haue knowledge to giue good gifts vnto your children: how much more shal your father of heauen giue the holy spirit to them that desire it of him?

The Gospel on the vii. Sunday in Lent.

14 And he was casting out a deuill, and the same was dombe. And it came to passe, when the deuill was gone out, the dombe spake: and the people wondred.

Mat.9.24.

15 But some of them said, * Hee casteth out deuils, through Beelzebub the chiefe of the deuils.

16 And other tempting him, required of him a signe from heauen.

17 But he knowing their thoughts, sayde vnto them, *Euery kingdome deuided against it selfe, is desolate: and a house deuided against a house, falleth.

Mat.12.25. mar.3.24.

18 If Satan also be deuided against himselfe, howe shall his kingdome endure? Because yee say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub.

The helpe of.

19 If I by ‖ Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom doe your children cast them out? Therefore shall they be your iudges.

20 But if I with the finger of God cast out deuils, no doubt the kingdome of God is come vpon you.

21 When the strong man armed, keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace.

22 But when a stronger then he shal come vpon him, and ouercome him, he taketh from him al his harnesse wherein he trusted, and deuideth his spoiles.

23 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

24 When ỳ vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through drie places, seeking rest: and finding none, he sayth, I will returne vnto my house, whence I came out.

Mat.12.43.

25 And when he commeth, hee findeth it swept, and garnished.

26 * Then goeth he, and taketh to him seuen other spirites worse then himselfe, & they enter in, and dwell there, and the last state of that man is worse then the first.

Heb.6.4. 1.pet.2.20.

27 And it came to passe as hee spake these things, a certaine woman of the company lift vp her voyce, and sayd vnto him, Happy is the wombe that bare thee, & the paps which thou hast sucked.

28 But he sayde, Yea, rather happy are they that heare the worde of GOD, and keepe it.

Mat.12.38.

29 * When ỳ people were gathered thicke together, he began to say, This is an euil nation: they seeke a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen them, * but the signe of Ionas the Prophet.

Ionas 2.1.

30 For as Ionas was a signe vnto the Niniuites, so shall also the sonne of man be to this nation.

31 * The Queene of the South shall rise in iudgement with the men of this nation, and condemne them: for she came from the vtmost partes of the earth, to heare the wisedome of Solomon: and behold, a greater then Solomon is here.

3. Reg.10.1. 2.chro.9.1.

32 The men of Ninme shall rise in iudgement with this nation, and shall condemne them: * for they repented at the preaching of Ionas, and beholde, a greater then Ionas is here.

Ionas.3.5.

33 * No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a priuie place, neither vnder a bushell: but on a candlesticke, that they which come in, may see the light.

Mat.5.15. mar.4.21. luke 8.16.

34 * The [a] candle of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, all thy body also is full of light: but if thine eye be euill, all thy body also is full of darkenesse.

Mat.6.22.

a That is, the light.

35 Take heede therefore, ỳ the light which is in thee, be not darkenesse.

36 If all thy body therefore be cleare, hauing no part darke: then shal it al be full of light, euen as whe a candle doth light thee with brightenesse.

37 And as hee spake, a certaine Pharisee besought him to dine with him: And Iesus went in, and sate downe to meate.

38 When the Pharisee sawe it, hee marueiled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 * And the Lord saide vnto him, Nowe doe yee Pharisees make cleane the outside of the cup, and the platter: but your inward part is full of rauening and wickednesse.

Mat.23.25.

40 Ye fooles, did not hee that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 But rather [b] giue almes of those things which are ‖ within: and behold, al things are cleane vnto you.

b Christ requireth here two things. First, that we come truely by our meate: next, that we giue almes: for charitie is the perfection of the lawe.

42 But woe vnto you Pharisees: for ye tithe mint, and rue, & all maner herbes, and passe ouer iudgement, and the loue of God: These ought yee to haue done, and yet not to leaue the other vndone.

43 * Woe vnto you Pharisees: for ye loue the vppermost seates in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites: for ye are as graues which appeare not, and the men that walke ouer them, are not ware of them.

‖ Or, present. Mat.23.6. mar.12.38.

45 Then answered one of the lawyers, and saide vnto him, Master, thus saying, thou thou putteſt vs to rebuke alſo.

46 *And hee ſaide, woe vnto you alſo yee lawyers: for ye lade men with burdens grieuous to be borne, and ye your ſelues touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Woe vnto you, for ye builde the ſepulchres of the Prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truely yee beare witneſſe that yee alowe the deedes of your fathers: for they killed them, and yee buyld their ſepulchres.

49 Therefore ſaid the wiſedome of God, I will ſende them Prophets and Apoſtles, and ſome of them they ſhall ſlay and perſecute:

50 That the blood of all the Prophets, which was ſhedde from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation, 51 *From the blood of Abel, vnto the blood of Zacharie, which periſhed betweene the altar and the temple: Verily I ſay vnto you, it ſhalbe required of this nation.

52 Woe vnto you lawyers, for ye haue taken away the key of knowledge: yee entred not in your ſelues, and them that came in, ye forbade.

53 When hee thus ſpake vnto them, the lawyers and the Phariſees began to vrge him vehemently, and to prouoke him to ſpeake many things:

54 Laying waite for him, and ſeeking to catche ſomething out of his mouth, whereby they might accuſe him.

The xii Chapter.

1 The leauen of the Phariſees is to be auoyded. 20 Againſt care of earthly things.

1 IN *the meane time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, inſomuch that they trode one another, hee began to ſay vnto his diſciples, Firſt of all beware of the leauen of the Phariſees, which is hypocriſie.

2 *For there is nothing couered, that ſhal not be vncouered, neither hid, that ſhall not be knowen.

3 Therefore, what ſo euer yee haue ſpoken in darkeneſſe, ſhalbe heard in the light: and that which yee haue ſpoken in the eare, euen in ſecrete places, ſhalbe preached a on the toppe of the houſes.

4 *And I ſay vnto you my friendes, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, & after that, haue no more that they can doe.

5 But I will forewarne you whome you ſhall feare: Feare him, which after he hath killed, hath power to caſt into hell, yea, I ſay vnto you, Feare him.

6 *Are not fiue ſparrowes ſolde for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But, euen the very heares of your head are numbred: Feare not therefore, yee are more of value then many ſparrowes.

8 *Alſo I ſay vnto you, Who ſo euer ſhall confeſſe mee before men, him ſhall the ſonne of man knowledge alſo before the angels of God. Mat.10.23. luke 9.26. 2.tim.2.12.

9 But he that ſhall denie me before men, ſhall bee denied before the angels of God.

10 And who ſo euer ſhall ſpeake a worde againſt the ſonne of man, it ſhalbe forgiuen him: but vnto him that blaſphemeth the holy b Ghoſt, it ſhall not bee forgiuen.

b He that ſhall reſiſt againſt the word of God purpoſely of malice, or againſt his owne conſcience.

11 *And when they bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto the rulers and officers, take ye no thought how or what thing yee ſhall anſwere, or what ye ſhall ſpeake: Mat.10.19. mar.13.11.

12 For the holy Ghoſt ſhall teach you in the ſame houre, what ye ought to ſay.

13 One of the company ſaide vnto him, Maiſter, ſpeake to my brother, that hee deuide the inheritance with me.

14 And hee ſaide vnto him, Man, who made me a iudge, or a deuider ouer you?

15 And he ſaid vnto them, Take heede, and beware of couetouſneſſe: for no mans life ſtandeth in the abundance of the things which he poſſeſſeth.

16 And hee put foorth a ſimilitude vnto them, ſaying, *The grounde of a certaine rich man brought foorth plentiful fruites. Eccl.11.19.

17 And he thought within himſelfe, ſaying, What ſhal I do, becauſe I haue no rowme where to beſtowe my fruites?

18 And he ſaid, This will I doe, I will pull downe my barnes, and buylde greater, and therein will I gather all my fruites and my goods.

19 And I will ſay to my ſoule, Soule, thou haſt much goods laid vp in ſtore for many yeres, take thine eaſe, eate, drinke, and bee merry.

20 But God ſaid vnto him, Thou foole, this night doe they require thy ſoule againe from thee: then whoſe ſhal thoſe things be, which thou haſt prouided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches to himſelfe, and is not rich towards God.

22 And he ſpake vnto his diſciples, Therefore I ſay vnto you, *Take no thought for your life what ye ſhal eate, neither for the body what ye ſhall put on. Mat.6.25. 1.pet.5.7. pſal.54.26.

23 The life is more then meate, and the body is more then raiment.

24 Conſider the rauens, for they neither ſowe nor reape, which neither haue ſtorehouſe nor barne, and notwithſtanding God feedeth them: How much more are ye better then the fowles?

25 Which of you with taking thought, can adde to his ſtature one cubite?

26 If yee then bee not able to doe that thing which is leaſt, why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Conſider the Lilies howe they growe, they labour not, they ſpinne not: and yet I ſay vnto you, that Solomon in all his royaltie, was not clothed like one of theſe.

31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdome

41 Then Peter saide vnto him, Master, tellest thou this similitude vnto vs, or to all?
42 And the Lord said, Who is a faithful & wise steward, whom his lord shal make ruler ouer his houshold, to giue them their portion of meate in due season?
43 Happie is that seruant, whom his lord when he commeth, shall finde so doing.
44 Of a trueth, I say vnto you, That hee will make him ruler ouer all his substãce.
45 But & if that seruant say in his heart,
My lord delaieth his comming: and shal beginne to smite the seruants and maidens, and to eate and drinke, and to bee drunken,
46 The Lord of that seruant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an houre when he is not ware, and will hewe him in pieces, and will sette him his portion with the vnbeleeuers.
47 And the seruant that knewe his masters wil, and prepared not himselfe, neither did according to his will, shall bee beaten with many stripes.
48 But hee that knewe not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shalbe beasoeuer much is giuē, of him shalbe much required: and to whome men haue committed much, of him will they aske the way yee say, There commeth a showre:

6 Of the figge tree that bare no fruit. 24 Fewe enter into the kingdome of Christ.

1 THere were present at the same sea-him of the Galileans, whose blood [a] Pilate had mingled with their owne sacrifice.

2 And Jesus answering, said vnto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they suffered such punishment?
3 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shal all likewise perish.

6 He told also this similitude: A certaine man had a figge tree planted in his vineyard, & he came and sought fruite thereon, and found none.
7 Then said he to the dresser of his vineyard, Beholde, this three yeres I come seeking fruit in this figge tree, and finde none: cut it downe, why cumbreth it the ground?
8 And he answering, said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yere also, till I shall dig round about it, and dung it:
9 And if it beare fruite, thou mayest let it alone: and if it beare not, then after that thou shalt cut it downe.
10 And hee was teaching in one of their Synagogues on the Sabboth dayes.
11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmitie eight teene yeres, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift vp her selfe.
12 When Iesus saw her, he called her to him, and saide vnto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.
13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediately shee was made straight, and glorified God.
14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Iesus had healed on the Sabboth day, and said vnto the people, There are sixe daies in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come, that ye may bee healed, and not on the Sabboth day.
15 The Lord answered him, and sayde, Thou hypocrite, doeth not eche one of you on the Sabboth day loose his ox or his asse from the stall, and leade him to the water?
16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound loe eight teene yeres, bee loosed from this bond on the Sabboth day?
17 And when he said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: and all the people reioyced for all the excellent deedes that were done by him.

3 And Iesus answering, spake vnto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabboth day?
4 And they held their peace. And he tooke him, and healed him, and let him goe,
5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall haue an asse or an oxe fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabboth day?

19 And another saide, I haue bought fiue yoke of oxen, and I goe to proue them: I pray thee haue me excused.

20 And another sayde, I haue maried a wife: and therefore I cannot come.

21 And the seruant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then the goodman of the house being angry, said to his seruant, Goe out quickly into the broad streetes and lanes of the citie, and bring in hither the poore, and the maymed, and the halt, and the blind.

22 And the seruant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is roume.

The xv. Chapter.

The great mercy of God is set foorth in the parable of the lost sheepe.

1 THen resorted vnto him all the Publicanes and sinners, for to heare him. The Gospel on the 17. Sunday after Trinitie.

2 And the Pharisees and Scribes murmured, saying, He receiueth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 But he put foorth this parable vnto them, saying,

4 *What man of you, hauing an hundred sheepe, if he lose one of them, doeth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wildernesse, and goe after that which is lost, vntill he finde it? Mat.18.12.

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, reioycing.

6 And when he commeth home, hee calleth together his friendes and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with mee: for I haue found my sheepe which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shal be in heauē ouer one sinner that repenteth, more then ouer ninetie and nine iust persons, which need no repentance.

8 Either what woman hauing a ten pieces of siluer, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweepe the house, and seeke diligently till she finde it?

a One piece of this money, is somewhat more then fiue pence of olde sterling money.

9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends & her neighbours together, saying, saying, Reioyce with me, for I haue found the piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the angels of God ouer one sinner that repenteth.
11 And he said, A certaine man had two sonnes:
12 And the ponger of them said to his father, Father, giue me the portion of the substance that to mee belongeth. And he deuided vnto them his liuing.
13 And not many dayes after when the ponger sonne had gathered all that hee had together, he tooke his iourney into a farre countrey, and there wasted his substance with riotous liuing.
14 And when hee had spent all, there arose a great dearth in that land, and hee began to lacke.
15 And going, he ioyned himselfe to a citizen of that countrey: and hee sent him into his fieldes to feede swine.
16 And he would faine haue filled his belly with the cods that the swine did eate: and no man gaue vnto him.
17 And when he came to himselfe, he said, Howe many hired seruantes of my fathers haue bread enough and spare, & I perish with hunger?
18 I will arise, and goe to my father, and will say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to bee called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hired seruants.
20 And hee arose and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father sawe him, and had compassion, & ranne and fell on his necke, and all to kissed him.
21 And the sonne saide vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and in thy sight, & am no more worthy to bee called thy sonne.
22 But the father said to his seruaunts, Bring forth the best garment, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feete, 23 And bring hither that fat calfe, and kill it and let vs eate and be merry.
24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: he was lost, and is founde. And they began to be merry.
25 The elder brother was in the field: and when he came & drew nigh to the house, hee heard minstrelsie, and daunsing, 26 And called one of his seruants, and asked what those things meant.
27 And he said vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fat calfe, because he hath receiued him safe & sound.
28 And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and entreated him.
29 He answering, said to his father, Loe, these many yeeres doe I serue thee, neither brake I at any time thy commandement, and yet thou neuer gauest mee a kidde, that I might make merry with my friendes:
30 But as soone as this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy liuing with harlots, thou hast for his pleasure killed that fatte Calfe.
31 And he said vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with me, and all that I haue is thine.
32 It was meete that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and was lost, and is found.

The xvi. Chapter.

13 No man can serue two masters. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus.

1 AND hee sayde vnto his disciples, There was a certaine rich man which had a stewarde, and the same was accused vnto him that he had wasted his goods. The Gospel on the xv. Sunday after Trinitie.
2 And when he had called him, hee sayde vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Giue accomptes of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer Stewarde.
3 The Steward said within himselfe, What shall I doe, for my master taketh away from me the stewardship? I can not dig, and to begge I am ashamed.
4 I wote what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardshippe, they may receiue me into their houses.
5 So when hee had called all his masters debters together, hee sayde vnto the first, How much owest thou vnto my master?
6 And he saide, An hundred measures of oyle. And he sayd vnto him, Take thy bill, and sit downe quickly, and write fiftie.
7 Then sayd he to another, Howe much owest thou? And he sayde, An hundred measures of wheate. He sayd vnto him, Take thy bill, and write fourescore.
8 And the Lorde commended the vniust Steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this worlde are in their nation wiser then the children of light.
9 And I say vnto you, Make you friends of the vnrighteous Mammon, that when yee shall haue neede, they may receiue you into the euerlasting habitations.
10 He that is faithfull in that which is least, is faithfull also in much: and hee that is vnrighteous in the least, is vnrighteous also in much.
11 If then, if ye haue not been faithfull in the vnrighteous Mammon, who shall trust you in the true treasure?
12 And if yee haue not been faithfull in that which is another mans, who shall giue you that which is your owne?
13 No seruant can serue two masters, for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shall leane to the one, and despise the other: ye cannot serue God & Mammon.
14 All these things heard the Pharisees also which were couetous: & they mocked him greatly.

The Gospell on the first Sunday after Trinitie. 19 There was a certaine rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine white, & fared verie deliciously euery day.

20 And there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was layde at his gate full of sores:

21 And desiring to be refreshed with the crummes which fell from the rich mans boord, And no man gaue vnto him: but the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to passe that the begger dyed, and was caried by the angels into [e] Abrahams bosome: the rich man also dyed, and was buried.

e The kingdome of heauen.

23 And being in hell in tormentes, when he had lifted vp his eyes, he seeth Abraham a farre off, and Lazarus in his bosome:

24 And he cryed, and sayde, Father Abraham, haue mercy on mee, and sende Lazarus, that he may dip the tippe of his finger in water, and coole my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham sayde, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuedst thy pleasure & likewise Lazarus paines, but nowe is hee comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this, betweene vs and you there is a great gulfe stedfastly set, so that they which would goe from hence to you, cannot, neyther haue they passage to vs that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest sende him to my fathers house:

28 For I haue fiue brethren, that he may witnesse vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham sayeth vnto him, They haue Moses and the Prophetes, let them heare them.

9 Doeth he thanke that seruant because he did the things that were commaunded vnto him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye shall haue done all those things which are commaunded you, say, Wee are vnprofitable seruants: we haue done that which was our duetie to doe.

The Gospel on the xiiii. Sunday after Trinitie.

11 And so it was, as he went to Hierusalem, that he passed through the middes of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as he entred into a certaine village, there met him tenne men that were lepers, which stoode a farre off, 13 And they put forth their voyces, and said, Iesu master, haue mercy on vs.

14 When he saw them, he said vnto them, *Goe shew your selues vnto the [c] Priests. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were cleansed. Leuit.14.2.

c That is, the priests of Moses lawe, both that they might iudge of the leprosie, Leuit.4. and also for that they should not murmure and grudge.

15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned backe againe with a loude voyce, glorifying God, 16 And fell downe on his face at his feete, giuing him thankes: and the same was a Samaritane.

17 And Iesus answering, sayd, Are there not tenne cleansed, but where are those nine?

18 There are not founde that returned againe to giue glory to God, saue onely this stranger.

19 And he saide vnto him, Arise, goe thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 When he was demanded of the Pharisees when the kingdome of God commeth, he answering them, sayde, The kings kingdome of God commeth not with obseruation.

21 Neither shall they say, Loe here, or loe there: for beholde, the kingdome of God is [4] within you.

22 And he said vnto the disciples, The dayes will come when ye shall desire to see one [c] day of the sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 And they shall say to you, See here, see there: go not after them, nor follow them.

24 For as the lightning that lightneth out of the one part that is vnder heauen, shineth vnto the other part which is vnder heauen: so shall also the sonne of man be in his [f] day.

25 But first must he suffer many things, and be disalowed of this nation.

26 *And as it was in the dates of Noe: so shal it be also in the dayes of the sonne of man.

27 They did eate & drinke, they married wiues, and were married, euen vnto the same day that Noe went into the arke: and the flood came, & destroyed them all.

28 *Likewise also as it was in the dayes of Lot, they did eate, they drinke, they bought, they solde, they planted, they builded:

29 But euen the same day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire & brimstone from heauen, and destroyed them all:

30 Euen thus shall it be in the day when the sonne of man is reuealed.

31 At that day ‖ he which shall bee on the house top, and his stuffe in the house, let him not come downe to take it out: and let not him that is in the field, turne back againe likewise to the things that he left behinde.

32 *Remember Lots wife.

33 * Whosoeuer will go about to saue his life, shall lose it, and whosoeuer shall lose his life, shall quicken it.

34 * I tell you, in that night there shall be two in one bed, the one shal be receyued, the other shalbe left alone.

35 Two women shalbe grinding together: the one shalbe receyued, and the other left alone.

36 Two men shall be in the field: the one shalbe receyued, and the other forsaken.

37 And they answering, sayde vnto him, *Where, Lord? He said vnto thē, Wheresoeuer the body shalbe, thither will also the Eagles [g] be gathered together.

The xviii. Chapter.

2 Christ teacheth to continue in prayer, 31 He foresheweth his death.

1 AND hee put foorth a parable vnto them, to this ende, that men ought *alwayes to pray, and not to bee [a] wearie:

2 Saying, There was in a certaine citie a certain Iudge, which feared not God, neither regarded man.

3 And there was a certaine widow in the same citie, and she came vnto him, saying, [h] Auenge me of mine aduersarie:

4 And hee would not for a while. But afterwards hee sayde within himselfe, Though I feare not God, nor care for man, 5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will auenge her, least she come at the last, and make me wearie.

6 And the Lord said, Heare what the vnrighteous Iudge saith.

7 And shall not God auenge his elect, which cry day and night vnto him, yea, though [b] he deferre them?

8 I tell you that hee will auenge them, and that quickely. Neuertheless, when the sonne of man commeth, shall he finde faith on the earth?

9 And he tolde this parable vnto certain which trusted in themselues that they were righteous, and despised other:

10 Two men went vp into the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, and the other a Publicane.

11 The Pharisee stoode and prayed thus with himselfe, God, I thanke thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, vniust, adulterers, or as this Publican.

12 I fast twise in the weeke, I giue tithe of all that I possesse.

13 And the Publican standing a farre off, would not lift vp his eyes to heauen: but smote vpon his breast, saying, God be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man departed home to his house iustified rather then the other: * For euery one that exalteth himselfe, shalbe brought low: and he that humbleth himselfe, shalbe exalted.

15 They brought vnto him also [c] infants, that hee shoulde touch them: when his disciples saw, they rebuked them.

16 But Iesus, when hee had called them [d] vnto him, sayde, Suffer litle children to to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for vnto such [e] belongeth the kingdome of God.

17 Verily I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shal not receiue [f] kingdome of God as a litle childe, shall in no wise enter therein.

18 And a certaine ruler asked him, saying, Good master, what ought I to doe to possesse eternall life?

19 * Iesus sayde vnto him, Why callest thou me good? None is good, saue God onely.

20 Thou knowest the commandementes, Doe *not commit adulterie, Doe not kill, Doe not steale, Doe not beare false witnesse, Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, All these haue I kept from my youth vp.

22 When Iesus heard that, he sayde vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: Sell all that thou hast, and distribute vnto the poore, & thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, follow me.

23 When he heard this, hee was very sorie: for he was very rich.

24 Whē Iesus saw that he was very sory, he said, How hardly shal they that haue money, enter into the kingdom of God?

Exod.20.13.

25 For it is easier for a Camel to goe thorow a needles eye, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.
26 And they that heard it, said, And who then can be saued?
27 And he sayde, The things which are vnpossible with men, are possible with God.
28 *Then Peter said, Lo, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee.
29 He saide vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, either parents, either brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdome of Gods sake,
30 Which shal not receiue manifold more in this worlde, and in the world to come life euerlasting.
31 *Iesus tooke vnto him the twelue, and said vnto them, Behold, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and all things shalbe fulfilled to the sonne of man that are written by the Prophets.
32 For he shalbe deliuered vnto the Gentiles, and shalbe mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:
33 And when they haue scourged him, they will put him to death, and the third day he shall rise.
34 And they vnderstoode none of all these things: and this saying was hid from them, so that they perceiued not the things which were spoken.
35 *And it came to passe, that as hee was come nigh vnto Iericho, a certaine blind man sate by the wayes side, begging.
36 And when he heard the people passe by, he asked what it meant.
37 And they said vnto him, that Iesus of Nazareth passeth by.
38 And he cryed, saying, Iesu, thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.
39 And they which went before, rebuked him, that he should holde his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.
40 And Iesus staying, commaunded him to be brought vnto him: and when hee was come neere, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shal do vnto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receiue my sight.
42 And Iesus said vnto him, Receyue thy sight, thy faith hath saued thee.
43 And immediatly he receiued his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people when they sawe it, gaue prayse vnto God.

The xix. Chapter.

Christ rideth to Hierusalem, & weeping ouer it, foresheweth the destruction thereof.

1 And Iesus entred in, and went thorow Iericho.
2 And behold, there was a man named Zacheus, which was the chiefe among the Publicanes, and was rich also:
3 And he sought meanes to see Iesus what he should be, & could not for the preasse, because he was little of stature.
4 And he ran before, and climed vp into a wilde figge tree, to see him: for he was to come that way.
5 And when Iesus came to the place, he looked vp, and saw him, and saide vnto him, Zache, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thy house.
6 And he came downe hastily, and receiued him ioyfully.
7 And when they all sawe it, they murmured, saying that hee was gone in to tarry with a man that is a sinner.
8 And Zache stoode forth, and said vnto the Lord, Behold, Lorde, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore, and if I haue taken from any man by forged ‖ cauillation, I restore him foure folde.
9 Iesus said vnto him, This day is saluation come to [a] this house: because that he is also the childe of [b] Abraham.
10 *For the sonne of man is come to seeke, and to saue that which was lost.
11 And as they heard these things, he added, and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Hierusalem, and because they thought that the kingdome of God should shortly appeare.
12 *He saide therefore, A certaine noble man went into a farre countrey, to receiue for himselfe a kingdome, and to come againe.
13 And when hee had called his ten seruants, he deliuered them ten ‖ pieces of money, saying vnto them, [c] Occupie till I [d] come.
14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.
15 And it came to passe, that when he had returned, receyuing his kingdome, then he commanded these seruants to be called vnto him, to whome hee had giuen the money, that hee might know howe much euery man had gained in occupying.
16 Then came the first, saying, Lorde, thy piece hath gained ten pieces.
17 And he saide vnto him, Well, thou good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very little thing, haue thou authoritie ouer ten cities.
18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased fiue pieces.
19 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer fiue cities.
20 And another came, saying, Lorde, behold, here is thy piece, which I haue layd vp in a napkin:
21 For I feared thee, because thou art a straite man: thou takest vp that thou laydest not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sowe.
22 Then he saith vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, thou euill seruant: knewest thou that I am a straite man, taking vp that I laide not downe, and reaping that I did not sowe:
23 And wherefore gauest not thou my money into the banke, and at my coming I might haue required mine owne with 25 And they said vnto him, Lorde, he hath ten pieces.

28 And when he had thus spoken, he went forwarde, ascending vp to Hierusalem.

31 And if any man aske you, Why doe ye loose him? Thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath néede of him.
32 They that were sent, went their way, & found euen as hee had said vnto them.
33 And as they were a loosing the Colte, the owners therof said vnto them, Why loose ye the Colt?
34 And they said, For the Lord hath néede of him.
35 *And they brought him to Iesus: and their garments being cast on the Colt, they set Iesus thereon. *Mat.21.7. mar.11.7. luke 19.35.
36 And as he went, they spred their clothes in the way.
37 And when he was nowe come nigh to the going downe of the mount Olivet, the whole multitude of the disciples began reioycing to praise God with a loude voyce, for all the miracles that they had séene,
38 Saying, Blessed be the king that commeth in the name of the Lorde, peace in *heauen, and glorie in the highest. *That is, by Christ we are reconciled to God, and Gods wrath is pacified toward vs.
39 And some of the Pharisees of the cõpany saide vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.
40 He answering, saide vnto them, I tell you, þ if these would holde their peace, then shall the stones cry immediatly.

46 *Saying vnto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye haue made it a denne of theeues. *Esa.56.7. iere.7.11.
47 And hee taught dayly in the temple. But the high Priestes and the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people went about to destroy him, 48 And could not finde what to doe: for all the people did hang of him, whe they heard him.

The xx. Chapter.

17 Christ the stone reproued. 41 Christ the sonne of Dauid.

1 AND *it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the Gospel, the high Priestes & the Scribes came vpon him, with the Elders, *Mat.21.23. mar.11.27.
2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs, by what authoritie doest thou these things? Either who is he that gaue thée this authoritie?
3 He answering, saide vnto them, I will also aske you one word, & answere me.
4 The baptisme of a John, was it from heauen, or of men? a That is, the whole ministery of Iohn.
5 And they reasoned with themselues, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say, Why then beleeued ye him not?
6 But and if we say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: For they be perswaded that Iohn is a Prophet.
7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.
8 And Iesus said vnto them, Neither tel I you by what authoritie I doe these things.
9 Then began he to put forth to the people this parable: *A certaine man planted a vineparde, and let it foorth to husbandmen, & went himselfe into a strange countrey for a great season. *Esa.5.1. iere.2.21. mar.12.1. luke 13.6.
10 And when the time was come, he sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruite of the vineparde. But they, when they had beaten him, sent him away emptie.
11 And againe, hee sent yet another seruant: but they, when they had beaten him also, and entreated him shamefully, sent him away emptie.
12 Againe, he sent the third, & when they had wounded him also, they cast him out.
13 Then saide the Lorde of the vineparde, What shall I doe? I will send my deare sonne: it may be they will reuerence him when they see him.
14 But when the husbandmen sawe him, they reasoned within themselues, saying, This is the heyre, come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.
15 And when they had cast him out of the vineparde, they killed him. What then shal þ Lord of the vineparde do vnto thé?
16 Hee shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall let out his vineparde to other. When they heard this, they said, God forbid.

17 And

*Psal.*118.22.

b By the corner stone, he meaneth Christ himselfe, who was refused of the Iewes.

17 And he beheld them, and saide, * What is this then that is written, The stone that * the builders disalowed, the same is become the head of the corner?

18 Whosoeuer shall stumble vpon that stone, shalbe broken: but on whomesoeuer it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

19 And the high Priests and the Scribes the same howre went about to lay hãds on him, and they feared the people: for they perceiued that hee had spoken this similitude against them.

20 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which shoulde faine themselues righteous men, that they might take holde of his wordes, to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the deputie.

*Mat.*22.16. *mark.*12.13.

21 And they asked him, saying, * Master, we knowe that thou saiest and teachest right, neither considerest thou the outward appearance of any man, but teachest the way of God truely:

22 Is it lawfull for vs to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or no?

23 When hee had perceiued their craftinesse, he said vnto them, Why tempt ye mee?

24 Shewe me a penie: whose image and superscriptiõ hath it? They answering, said, Cesars.

*Rom.*13.7.

25 And hee saide vnto them, * Giue then vnto Cesar the things which belong vnto Cesar: and to God, the things that pertaine vnto God.

26 And they could not reproue his sayings before the people; and they marueiled at his answere, and helde their peace.

*Mat.*21.23. *mar.*12.18.

27 Then * came to him certaine of the Sadducees (which deny þ there is any resurrection) and they asked him, 28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, * If any mans brother die, hauing a wife, and he die without children, that then his brother should take his wife, & raise vp seede vnto his brother.

*Deut.*25.5.

29 There were therefore seuen brethren, and the first, when hee had taken a wife, died without children.

30 And the seconde toke her to wife, and he died childlesse.

31 And the third toke her, and in likewise the residue of the seuen, and left no children behinde them, and died.

32 Last of all, the woman died also.

33 Nowe in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seuen had her to wife.

c That is, all that remaine in the worlde, and are abiding therein.

34 Iesus answering, said vnto them, The children of this c worlde marrie wiues, and are married:

35 But they which shall be counted worthie to enioy that worlde, and the resurrection from the dead, doe not marrie wiues, neither are married:

36 For neither can they die any more, for they are equall vnto the Angels, and are the sonnes of God, in as much as they are the children of the resurrection.

*Exod.*3.6.

37 And that the dead bee rayled, * Moses also shewed besides the bramble bush, when he calleth the Lord, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isahac, and the God of Iacob.

38 For he is not a God of dead, but of liuing: for all liue vnto him.

39 Then certaine of the Pharisees answering, said, Master, thou hast wel said.

40 And after that, durst they not aske him any question at all.

41 And hee saide vnto them, * Howe saye they that Christ is Dauids sonne. *Mat.*22.24. *mark.*12.35.

42 And Dauid himselfe saith in the booke of the Psalmes, * The Lorde saide to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, *Psal.*110.1.

43 Till I make thine enemies thy footestoole?

44 Dauid therefore calleth him Lord, and how is he then his d sonne?

d For the sonne is not Lord of his father, and therefore it followeth that Christ is God.

45 Then in the audience of all the people, he said vnto his disciples, 46 * Beware of the Scribes, which will goe in long robes, and loue greetings in the markets, and the highest seates in the Synagogues, and the chiefe rowmes at feastes, *Mat.*23.6. *mar.*12.38.

47 Which deuoure widdowes houses, vnder colour of long prayers: the same shall receiue greater damnation.

The xxi. Chapter.

a The liberalitie of the poore widowe. 27 Of the end of the world.

1 AS he looked vp, * hee sawe the riche men, which cast their giftes into the treasurie. *Mark.*12.41.

2 He sawe also a certaine poore widowe, casting in thither two mites.

3 And hee saide, Of a trueth I say vnto you, that this poore widowe hath put in more then they all.

4 For all these haue of their superfluitie cast in vnto the offerings of God, but she of her penurie hath cast in all the liuing that she had.

5 * And vnto some that spake of the temple, howe it was garnished with goodly stones and giftes, he said, *Mat.*24.1. *mark.*13.1. luke 19.45.

6 As for those things which yee beholde, the daies will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone vpon another, that shall not be throwen downe.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, when shall these things bee? and what signe will there bee, when these things shall come to passe?

8 And he said, Take heede that ye be not deceiued: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth neere: goe ye not therefore after them.

9 But when yee shall heare of warres & seditions, be not afraid: for these things must first come to passe, but the end followeth not by and by.

10 Then said he vnto them, Nation shal rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome:

11 * And great earthquakes shal be in diuers places, and hungers, and pestilences, and fearefull things: and great signes *Mat.*24.7. *mar.*13.8.

signes shal there be from heauen.
12 But before all these, they shal lay their handes on you, and persecute you, deliuering you vp to the Synagogues, & into prisons, and shall bring you vnto kings, and rulers, for my names sake.
13 And it shall turne to you for a testimoniall.
14 *Se at a sure point therefore in your hearts, not to studie before what ye shall answere.
15 For I will giue you a mouth and wisdome, wheragainst all your aduersaries shall not be able to speake, nor resist.
16 Yea, ye shalbe betrayed also of your parents, & brethren, & kinsfolks, & friends, and some of you shall they put to death.
17 And hated shall ye be of all men for my names sake.
18 *And there shall in no case one heare of your heade perish.
19 Possesse ye your soules by your *patiences.
20 *And when ye shal see Hierusalem besieged with an hoste, then see sure that the desolation of the same is nigh.
21 Then let them which are in Iurie, flee to the mountaines, and let them which are in the middes of it, depart out, and let not them that are in other countries, enter therein.
22 For these be the dayes of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.
23 But wo vnto them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes, for there shall be great distresse in the land, and wrath ouer this people.
24 And they shal fall through the edge of the swoorde, and shalbe led away captiue into all nations, and Hierusalem shalbe troden downe of the Gentiles, vntill the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled.
25 *And there shalbe signes in the Sunne, and in the Moone, and in the starres, and vpon the earth trouble among the nations, with perplexitie, the sea and the water roaring:
26 And mens hearts failing them for feare, and for looking after those things which are comming on the world: For the powers of heauen shalbe shaken.
27 And then shal they see the sonne of man comming in a cloude, with power and great glorie.
28 And when these things begin to come to passe, then looke vp, and lift vp your heades, *for your redemption draweth nigh.
29 And he shewed them a similitude, Behold the figge tree, and all the trees, 30 When they shoote forth their buddes, ye beholding, knowe of your owne selues that sommer is then nigh at hand.
31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to passe, bee ye sure that the kingdome of God is nigh.
32 Verily I say vnto you, this generation shall in no wise passe, till all be fulfilled.
33 Heauen and earth shall passe, but my wordes shall in no wise passe.
34 Take heede to your selues, least at any time your hearts be ouercome with surfetting, and drunkennesse, and cares of this life, and so that day come vpon you vnawares.
35 For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.
36 Watch ye therefore, at all times praying, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come, and that ye may stande before the sonne of man.
37 In the day time he was teaching in the temple, and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called Olinet.
38 And all the people came earely in the morning to him in the temple, for to heare him.

53 When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no handes against me: But this is euen your verp houre, and the power of darkenesse.
54 *Then tooke they him, and led him, and brought him to the high priests house, and Peter followed a farre off. Mat.25.57. mar.14.53. iohn 18.24.
55 * And when they had kindled a fire in the middes of the hall, & were set downe together, Peter also sate downe among them. Mat.26.69. mar.14.66. iohn 18.26.
56 But when a certaine wench beheld him as he sate by the fire, and earnestly looked vpon him, she saide, This same fellowe was also with him.
57 And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.
58 And after a while another sawe him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not.
59 And about the space of an houre after, another affirmed, saying, Verily this fellowe felowe was with him also: for he is of Galilee.

60 And Peter said, Man, I wote not what thou saiest. And immediatly while he yet spake, the Cocke crewe.

61 And the Lord turned backe, and looked upon Peter: and Peter remembred the worde of the Lord, howe he had said unto him, * Before the Cocke crowe, thou shalt denie me thrise.

62 And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

63 And the men that helde Jesus, mocked him, and smote him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they stroke him on the face, and asked him, saying, Areede, who is it that smote thee?

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 * And as soone as it was day, the Elders of the people, and the high Priests, and the Scribes came together, and led him into their counsell, saying, 67 Art thou verye Christ? Tell us. And he said unto them, If I tel you, you will not beleeue in any wise.

68 And if I aske you, you will not in any wise answere me, nor let me goe.

69 Hereafter shall the sonne of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they all, Art thou then the sonne of God? He said, Ye say that I am.

71 And they said, What neede we any further witnesse? For we our selues have heard of his owne mouth.

The xxiii. Chapter.

Jesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herode.

1 AND the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We founde this fellowe perverting the people, * and forbidding to giue tribute to Cesar, saying that hee is Christ a king.

3 * And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Jewes? He answered him, and said, Thou saiest it.

4 Then said Pilate to the high Priestes, and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He moueth the people, teaching throughout all Jurie, and began at Galilee, euen to this place.

6 When Pilate heard mention of Galilee, he asked whether the man were of Galilee.

7 And as soone as he knewe that he belonged unto Herodes iurisdiction, hee sent him to Herode, which was also at Hierusalem at that time.

8 And when Herode sawe Jesus, hee was exceeding glad, for hee was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him, and hee trusted to haue seene some miracle done by him.

9 Then hee questioned with him many wordes, but he answered him nothing.

10 The high Priestes and Scribes stoode forth, and accused him straitly.

11 And Herode with his men of warre despised him, and when hee had mocked him, he arayed him in white clothing, & sent him againe to Pilate.

12 * And the same day Pilate & Herode were made friendes together, for before they were at variance betwixt themselues.

13 And Pilate, when he had called together the high Priestes, and the Rulers, and the people,

14 Said unto them, Ye haue brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people, and beholde, I hauing examined him before you, haue founde no fault in this man, of those things whereof ye accuse him, 15 No, nor yet Herode: for I sent you to him, and loe, nothing worthy of death is done to him.

16 I will therefore chasten him, and let him loose.

17 For of necessitie hee must haue let one loose unto them at the feast.

18 And all the people cryed alowde, saying, Away with him, and deliuer to us Barabbas, 19 Which for a certaine insurrection made in the citie, and for murder, was cast in prison.

20 Pilate therfore spake againe to them, willing to let Jesus loose.

21 But they cryed, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him.

22 Hee saide unto them the thirde time, What euil hath hee done? I haue found no cause of death in him, I will therefore chasten him, and let him goe.

23 And they were instant with loude voyces, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voyces of them, and of the high Priests, preuailed.

24 And Pilate gaue sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And he let loose unto them, him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired, and hee deliuered Jesus to their will.

26 * And as they ledde him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, comming out of the field, and on him laid they the crosse, that he might beare it after Jesus.

27 And there followed him a great compasse of people, and of women, which also bewayled and lamented him.

28 But Jesus turning backe unto them, said, Ye daughters of Hierusalem, weepe not for me, but weepe for your selues, & for your children.

29 For beholde, the dayes are comming, in the which they shall say, Happie are the barren, and the wombes that neuer bare, and the pappes which neuer gaue sucke.

30 Then shall they beginne to say to the mountaines, * Fall on us, and to the hilles, Couer us.

31 For if they doe these things in a moyst tree, what shalbe done in the drye?

32 * And

35 And the people stoode, beholding, and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, Hee saued other men, let him saue himselfe, if he be verp Christ the chosen of God.

36 The souldiers also mocked him, comming to him, and offering him vineger, 52 He went vnto Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus.

53 And when he had taken it downe, hée wrapped it in a linnen cloth, and layde it in a sepulchre that was hewen in stone, wherein never man before was laide.

54 And that day was the preparing of the Sabboth, and the Sabboth drewe on.

55 The wome that followed after, which had come with him from Galilee, beholde the sepulchre, and howe his body was layd.

56 And they returned, and prepared swéet odours and oyntments, but rested the Sabboth day, according to the commandement.

2 And they founde the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they went in, but founde not the body of the Lord Iesu.

4 And it came to passe, as they were amazed thereat, beholde, two men stoode by them in shining garments.

14 And they talked together of all these things that had come to passe.

15 And it came to passe, that while they communed together, and reasoned, Iesus himselfe drewe neare, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they should not knowe him.

17 And hée sayde vnto them, What maner of communications are these that yée haue one to another as yée walke, & are sadde?

18 And the one of them, whose name was Cleophas,

Cleophas, answering, saide to him, Art thou only a stranger in Hierusalem, and hast not knowen the things which are come to passe there in these dayes?
19 He sayde vnto them, What things? And they sayde vnto him, Of Iesus of Nazareth, which was a Prophet, mightie in deede and worde before God and all the people, 20 And howe the high Priestes and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.
21 But we trusted that it had bene hee which should have redeemed Israel: and as touching all these things, to day is euen the third day since they were done.
22 Yea, and certaine women also of our company made vs astonied, which came early vnto the sepulchre, 23 And when they founde not his bodie, they came, saying that they had seene a vision of Angels, which say that hee was alive.
24 And certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, & founde it euen so as the women had saide, but him they sawe not.
25 And he said vnto them, O fooles, and slow of heart, to beleeue all that the Prophets have spoken:
26 Ought not Christ to have suffred these things, and to enter into his glory?
27 And he beganne at Moses, and all the Prophetes, and throughly interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures, those thinges which were written of him selfe.
28 And they drewe nigh vnto the village which they went vnto, and he made as though he would have gone further.
29 And they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs, for it draweth towarde night, and the day is farre passed: And he went in to tarry with them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knewe him, and he vanished out of their sight.
32 And they said one vnto another, Did not our heartes burne within vs, while he talked with vs by the way, and opened to vs the Scriptures?
33 And they rose vp the same houre, and returned againe to Hierusalem, and founde the eleuen gathered together, & them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lorde is risen in deede, and hath appeared to Simon.
35 And they tolde what things were done in the way, and how he was knowen of them in the breaking of the bread. The Gospell on the Tuesday in Easter weeke.
36 * And as they thus spake, Iesus him selfe stode in the middes of them, & saith vnto them, Peace be vnto you. Marke 16.14. Iohn 20.19.
37 But they were abashed and afraide, & supposed that they had seene a spirite.
38 And he saide vnto them, Why are ye troubled, and why doe thoughtes arise in your heartes?
39 Behold my handes and my feete, that it is euen I my selfe: handle me and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.
40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his handes and his feete.
41 And while they yet beleeued not for ioye, and wondered, he saide vnto them, Have ye here any meate?
42 And they offred him a piece of a broyled fish, and of an hony combe.
43 And he tooke it, and did eate before them.
44 And he saide vnto them, These are the wordes which I spake vnto you, while I was yet with you, that all must needes be fulfilled which were written of mee in the lawe of Moses, and in the Prophetes, and in the Psalmes.
45 Then opened he their ‖ wits, that they might understande the Scriptures. ‖ Or, minde.
46 And said vnto them, Thus is it written, and thus it behooued Christ to suffer, and to rise from death the third day:
47 And that repentance and remission of sinnes should be preached in his name among all nations, and must begin at Hierusalem.
48 And ye are witnesses of these things.
49 * And beholde, I will send the promise of my father vpon you: But tarie ye in the citie of Hierusalem, until ye be indued with power from on high. Iohn 15.26. actes 1.4.

Here endeth the Gospel by Saint Luke.

The Gospel by Saint Iohn.

The first Chapter.

1 The diuinitie, humanitie, and office of Christ. 15 The testimonie of Iohn. 39 The calling of Andrewe, Peter, Philip, and Nathanael.

The Gospell on Christmas day.

1 IN the beginning was the worde, & the worde was with God, and ‖ God was that worde.

‖ Or, and that worde was God.

Gene. 1. 1.

2 *The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by it, and without [a] it, was made nothing that was made.

a Without Christ no creature was made.

4 In it was life, & the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in the darkenes, and the darkenes comprehended it not.

6 * There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn:

Matth. 3. 1. marke 1. 2. luke 3. 2.

7 The same came for a witnesse, that he should beare witnesse of the [b] light, that all men through him might beleeue.

b That is, of Christ, which is the true light.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to beare witnesse of the light.

9 That light was the true light, which lighteth euery man that commeth into the worlde.

Hebrewes 11. 4.

10 He was in the worlde, * and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came into his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 But as many as receiued him, to them gaue he [c] power to be the sonnes of God, euen to the that beleeued on his name, c Meaning, priuiledge, or dignitie.

13 Which ‖ were borne not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor yet of the will of man, but of God.

‖ Or, was made.

14 * And the same worde became [d] flesh, and dwelt among vs (and we sawe the glorie of it, as the glorie of the onely begotten sonne that came from the father) full of grace and trueth.

Matth. 1. 16. luke 2. 7.

d That is to say, man.

15 Iohn beareth witnesse of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whome I spake, He that commeth after me, is preferred before me, for he was ‖ before me.

‖ Or, worthier then I.

16 And of his * fulnesse haue all we receiued, and grace [e] for grace.

Colos. 1. 19.

e That is, God doeth fauour vs, and giueth grace to so many as beleeue in Christ, & are become his members, that God in his sonne is well pleased.

17 For the law was giuen by Moses, but grace and trueth came by Iesus Christ.

1. Iohn 4. 12. 1. tim. 6. 16.

18 * No man hath seene God at any time, the onely begotten sonne, which is in the bosome of the father, he hath declared him.

The Gospell on the fourth sunday in Aduent.

19 And this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priestes and Leuites from Hierusalem to aske him, What art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denied not, and sayde plainely, I am not that Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then sayde they vnto him, What art thou, that we may giue an answere to them that sent vs? What sayest thou of thy selfe?

23 * He sayde, I am the voyce of a cryer in the wildernesse: Make straight the way of the Lorde, as said the Prophet Esaias.

Esay 40. 3. matth. 3. 3. luke 3. 4.

24 And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and sayde vnto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither ‖ a Prophet?

‖ Or, that Prophet.

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water, but there standeth one among you, whome ye knowe not,

27 * He it is, which though he came after me, was before me, whose shoes latchet I am not worthe to vnloose.

Matth. 3. 2. marke 1. 7. luke 3. 16. actes 19. 4.

28 These things were done in ‖ Bethabara beyonde Iordane, where Iohn was baptizing.

‖ Or, some reade, Bethania.

29 The next day, Iohn seeth Iesus comming vnto him, and saith, Beholde the Lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the worlde.

30 This is he of whome I said, After me commeth a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knewe him not: but that hee should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 * And Iohn bare recorde, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaue, like vnto a Doue, & it abode vpon him.

Matth. 3. 16. marke 1. 10. luke 3. 22.

33 And I knewe him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said vnto me, Vpon whome thou shalt see the Spirite descending, and tarying still on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.

34 And I sawe, and bare record, that this is the sonne of God.

35 The nexte day after, Iohn stoode againe, and two of his disciples.

36 And when he beheld Iesus walking, he saith, Beholde the Lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Iesus.

38 And Iesus, when he turned about, and sawe them following him, sayeth vnto them, What seeke ye? They said vnto him, Rabbi, (which is to say if one interprete it, Master) where dwellest thou?

39 He saith vnto them, Come and see. They came, and sawe where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the [f] tenth houre.

f That was about two houres before night.

40 One of the two which heard Iohn speake, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peters brother.

41 The same findeth his brother Simon first, and sayeth vnto him, Wee haue founde found the Messias, which is by interpretation, the ‖ anoynted, 42 And brought him to Iesus. And whē Iesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the sonne of Iona, thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.

43 The day following, Iesus wolde goe forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saieth vnto him, Followe me.
44 Philip was of Bethsaida, out of the citie of Andrewe and Peter.
45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saieth vnto him, We haue found him of whom Moses in the lawe and the Prophets did write, Iesus of Nazareth the sonne of g Ioseph.
46 And Nathanael saide vnto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith vnto him, Come and see.
47 Iesus sawe Nathanael comming to him, and saieth of him, Beholde a right Israelite, in whom is no guile.
48 Nathanael saith vnto him, Whence knowest thou me? Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, being vnder ꝑ figge tree, I saw thee.
49 Nathanael answered, and saieth vnto him, Rabbi, thou art euen the very sonne of God, thou art the king of Israel.
50 Iesus answered, and saide vnto him, Because I saide vnto thee, I sawe thee vnder the figge tree, thou ‖ beleeuest: thou shalt see greater things then these.
51 And he saith vnto him, Verily, verily I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see heauen open, and the Angels of God ascending and descending vpon the sonne of man.

Or, the Christ.

Gene. 49. 18. esai 4. 2.

g He speaketh after the common opinion, for most men supposed him to be Iosephs sonne.

Or, beleeuest thou?

The ij. Chapter.

Christ turneth water into wine.

The Gospell on the ii. Sunday after the Epiphanie.

1 AND the third day was there a marriage in Cana ‖ a citie of Galilee, and the mother of Iesus was there.
2 And both Iesus was called and his disciples vnto the mariage.
3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Iesus saieth vnto him, They haue no wine.
4 Iesus saieth vnto her, Woman, what haue I to doe with thee? mine houre is not yet come.
5 His mother saith vnto the ‖ ministers, Whatsoeuer he saieth vnto you, doe it.
6 And there were set there sixe water pots of stone, after the maner of the purifying of the Iewes, conteyning two or three ‖ firkins apiece.
7 Iesus saith vnto them, Fill the water pots with water. And they filled them vp to the brimme.
8 And hee saith vnto them, Drawe out nowe, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feast. And they bare it.
9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine (& knew not whence it was, but the ministers which drew the water knew) the gouernour of the feast calleth the bridegrome,
10 And saith vnto him, Euery man at the beginning doeth set foorth good wine, and when the gheste haue well dronke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine vntill nowe.
11 This beginning of miracles did Iesus in Cana of Galilee, and shewed his glorie: and his disciples beleeued on him.
12 After this he went downe to Capernaum, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples, and there continued not many dayes.
13 And the Iewes Passeouer was at hand, & Iesus went vp to Hierusalem, 14 And found sitting in the Temple those that solde oxen, and sheepe, and doues, and changers of money.
15 And when hee had made as it were a scourge of small cordes, he droue them all out of the Temple, with the sheepe and oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrewe the tables:
16 And saide vnto them that solde doues, Haue these things hence, and make not my fathers house an house of marchandise.
17 And his disciples remembred that it was written, * The zeale of thine house hath euen eaten me.
18 Then answered the Iewes, and saide vnto him, What token shewest thou vnto vs, seeing that thou doest these things?
19 Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, *Destroy this Temple, and in three daies I will reare it vp.
20 Then said the Iewes, Fourty and sixe yeres was this Temple a building, and wilt thou reare it vp in three dayes?
21 But hee spake of the Temple of his body.
22 When therefore hee was risen from death, his disciples remembred that hee thus had saide: and they beleeued the Scripture, and the wordes which Iesus had said.
23 When hee was in Hierusalem at the Passeouer, in the feast day, many beleeued on his name, when they sawe his miracles which he did.
24 But Iesus did not commit himselfe vnto them, because he knew all men, 25 And needed not that any should testifie of man: for he knew what was in man.

Psal. 69. 10.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Christ teacheth Nicodemus. 16 The loue of God toward the world.

The Gospel on Trinitie Sunday.

1 THere was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes:
2 The same came to Iesus by night, and saide vnto him, Rabbi, we knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can doe these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.
3 Iesus answered, and saide vnto him, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man be borne from aboue, he can not see the kingdome of God.
4 Nicodemus saieth vnto him, How can a man be borne when hee is olde? can hee enter the seconde time into his mothers woombe, and be borne?

5 Iesus answered, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man be borne of water and of the spirit, he can not enter into the kingdome of God.

6 That which is borne of ꝺ flesh, is flesh, and that which is borne of the spirite, is spirite.

7 Marueile not thou that I saide vnto thee, Ye must be borne from aboue.

8 The winde bloweth where it lusteth, and thou hearest the sounde thereof, but canst not tell whence it commeth, and whither it goeth: So is euery one that is borne of the spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered, and saide vnto him, How can these things be?

10 Iesus answered, and saide vnto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, We speake that we doe knowe, and testifie that wee haue seene: and ye receiue not our witnesse.

12 If I haue tolde you earthly thinges, and ye beleeue not: how shall ye beleeue if I tell you of heauenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended vp to [a] heauen, but he that came downe from heauen, euen the sonne of man which is in [b] heauen.

14 * And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wildernesse: euen so must the sonne of man be lift vp:

15 That whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.

16 *† For God so loued the world, that he gaue his only begotten sonne: that whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should de not perish, but haue euerlasting life.

17 For God sent not his sonne into the world to condemne the world: but that the e world through him might be saued.

18 He that beleeueth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleeueth not, is condemned alreadie, because he hath not beleeued in the name of the onely begotten sonne of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, * that light is come into the worlde, and men loued darkenesse rather then light: because their deedes were euill.

20 For euery one that euill doeth, hateth the light, neither commeth to the light, least his deedes should be reproued.

21 But he that doeth trueth, commeth to the light, that his deedes may bee made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 After these things, came Iesus and his disciples into the lande of Iurie, & there he taried with them, and [d] baptized.

23 *And Iohn also was baptizing in Aenon, neare to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

25 And there arose a question betweene Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, and saide vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Iordane, * to whom thou barest witnesse, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. John 1.17.

27 Iohn answered, and saide, A man can receiue nothing, except it be giuen him from heauen.

28 Ye your selues are witnesses, how that I saide, * I am not that Christ, but am sent before him. John 1.20.

29 Hee that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the friend of the bridegroome, which standeth & heareth him, reioyceth greatly because of ꝺ bridegromes voice: This my ioy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

31 He that commeth from on high, is aboue all: he that is of the earth, is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: hee that commeth from heauen, is aboue all:

32 And what hee hath seene and heard, that he testifieth, and no man receiueth his testimonie.

33 He that hath receiued his testimonie, *hath set to his seale, that God is true. Rom.3.4.

34 For whom God hath sent, speaketh the wordes of God: For God giueth not the spirite by measure vnto him.

35 *The father loueth the sonne, and hath giuen all things into his hand. Matth.11.27.

36 *He that beleeueth on the sonne, hath euerlasting life: he that beleeueth ‖not the sonne, shall not see life: but the wrath of God abideth on him. Habac.2.4. 1.John 5.10. ‖ Or, he that beleeth not the sonne.

a No man by his owne wit can knowe the mysteries of Christes kingdome, but by Christ himselfe.

b This is spoken for the vnitie of person: and that which is proper to one nature, is transferred to the other, as Actes 20. and 28. and so Christ was in heauen, according to his diuine nature. Num.21.9. 1.John 4.9.

†The Gospell on the Munday in Whitsun weeke.

c That is, all sorts of people that beleeue, whether they be Iewes or Gentiles. Iohn 1.4.

d Christ himselfe baptized not, but his disciples. Iohn 4.1.

The iiij. Chapter.

7 Christ wearied, asketh water of the woman of Samaria. 19 The liuely water.

1 After that the Lord knewe howe the Pharisees had hearde that Iesus made and baptized mo disciples then Iohn,

2 (Though that Iesus himselfe baptized not, but his disciples:)

3 He left Iurie, and departed againe into Galilee.

4 For it was so that hee must needes goe through Samaria.

5 Then commeth he to a citie of Samaria, which is called Sychar, neere to the possession *that Iacob gaue to his sonne Ioseph. Gene.33.19. and 48.22. Iosue.24.32.

6 And there was Iacobs well. Iesus then being wearie of his iourney, sate thus on the well: and it was about the [a] sixt houre.

a That is, twelue of the clocke.

7 And there commeth a woman of Samaria to drawe water: Iesus saith vnto her, Giue me drinke.

8 For his disciples were gone away vnto the towne to buy meate.

9 Then saieth the woman of Samaria vnto him, Howe is it that thou, being a Iewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For the Iewes meddle not with the Samaritanes.

10 Iesus answered, and said vnto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and whoit is that saith to thee, Giue me drinke: thou wouldest haue asked of him, and he would would haue giuen thee water of life.

11 The woman saith vnto him, Syr, thou hast not wherewith to drawe with, and the well is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of life?
12 Art thou greater then our father Iacob, which gaue vs the well, and he himselfe dranke thereof, and his children, & his cattell?
13 Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Whosoeuer drinketh of this water, shall thirst againe:
14 But whosoeuer drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shal neuer be more a thirst: but the water that I shall giue him, shalbe in him a well of water springing vp into euerlasting life.
15 The woman saith vnto him, Syr, giue me of that water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to drawe.
16 Iesus saith vnto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.
17 The woman answered, and said vnto him, I haue no husband. Iesus said vnto her, Thou hast well said, I haue no husbande.
18 For thou hast had fiue husbandes: and he whome thou nowe hast, is not thy husbande: In that saydest thou truely.
19 The woman sayeth vnto him, Syr, I perceiue that thou art a Prophet.
20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine, and ye say that * in Hierusalem is the place where men ought to worship. Deut.12.6.
21 Iesus saith vnto her, Woman, beleeue me, the houre commeth, when ye shall neither in this mountaine, nor yet at Hierusalem worship the father.
22 * Ye worship ye wote not what, wee knowe what we worship: for saluation commeth of the Iewes. 4.Reg.17.29.
23 But the houre commeth, and nowe is, when the true worshippers shal worship the father in spirit, & in truth: for such the father also requireth to worship him.
24 * God is a spirite, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit, and in the truth. 2.Cor.3.17.
25 The woman sayeth vnto him, I wote that Messias commeth, which is called Christ: When he is come, he will tell vs all things.
26 Iesus saith vnto her, I that speake vnto thee, am he.
27 And immediately came his disciples, and marueiled that he talked with the woman: Yet no man said, What seekest thou, or, Why talkest thou with her?
28 The woman then left her water pot, & went her way into the citie, and saith to the men, 29 Come, see a man which told me all things that euer I did: Is not he that Christ?
30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.
31 In the meane while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eate.
32 He said vnto them, I haue meate to eate that ye wote not of.
33 Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eate?
34 Iesus saith vnto them, My meate is that I doe the will of him that sent me, and finish his worke.
35 Say not ye, There are yet foure moneths, and then commeth haruest? Behold, I say vnto you, Lift vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: * for they are white already vnto harnest. Matth.9.37. luke 10.2.
36 And he that reapeth, receiueth wages, and gathereth fruite vnto life eternall: that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth, might reioyce together.
37 And herein is the saying true, That one soweth, and another reapeth.
38 I sent you to reape that, whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entred into their labors. a Meaning, the Prophets.
39 Many of the Samaritans of that citie beleeued on him, for the saying of the woman, which testified, That he told me all that euer I did.
40 So, when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they besought him that he would tarrie with them: and he abode there two dayes.
41 And many more beleeued, because of his owne worde:
42 And sayde vnto the woman, Nowe we beleeue, not because of thy saying: for we haue heard him our selues, & knowe that this is euen that Christ, the Sauiour of the worlde.
43 After two dayes he departed thence, and went away into Galilee.
44 * For Iesus him selfe testified, that a Prophet hath none honour in his owne countrey. Matth.13.58. marke 6.4. luke 4.24.
45 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galilæans receiued him, when they had seene all the things that he did at Hierusalem at the feast: For they went also vnto the feast day.
46 So Iesus came againe into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certaine ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum. The Gospell on the xix. Sunday after Trinitie. John 2.1.
47 When the same heard that Iesus was come out of Iurie into Galilee, he went vnto him, & besought him that he would come downe, and heale his sonne: for he was euen at the point of death.
48 Then said Iesus vnto him, Except ye see signes and wonders, ye will in no wise beleeue.
49 The ruler saith vnto him, Syr, come downe or euer that my sonne die.
50 Iesus saith vnto him, Goe thy way, thy sonne liueth. And the man beleeued the worde that Iesus had spoken vnto him, and he went his way.
51 And as he was nowe going downe, the seruants met him, and told him, saying, Thy sonne liueth.
52 Then enquired he of them the houre when he began to amende: and they said vnto him, Yesterday at the seuenth houre the feuer left him.

53 So the father knewe, that it was done the ſame houre, in the which Jeſus ſaid vnto him, Thy ſonne liueth: and he beleeued, and all his houſholde.

54 This is againe the ſeconde miracle that Jeſus did, when he was come out of Jurie into Galilee.

The v. Chapter.

Chriſt healeth on the Sabboth day the man that was ſicke thirtie and eight yeeres.

Leuit. 23. 2. deut. 16. 1.

1 After * this, there was a feaſt day of the Jewes, and Jeſus went vp to Hieruſalem.

2 And there is at Hieruſalem by the a ſheepe market, a poole, which is called in the Hebyue tongue Bethesda, hauing fiue porches:

a Where ſheep were ſolde. Or elſe by the ſheepe poole: that is, where they waſhed ſheep, or where ſheepe dranke.

3 In which lay a great multitude of ſick folke, of blinde, halt, and withered, waiting for the mouing of the water.

4 For an Angell went downe at a certaine ſeaſon into the poole, and troubled the water: Whoſoeuer then firſt after the troubling of the water ſtepped in, was made whole of whatſoeuer diſeaſe he had.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had bene diſeaſed thirtie and eyght yeeres.

6 When Jeſus ſawe him lie, and knewe that he nowe long time had bene diſeaſed, he ſaith vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The ſicke man anſwered him, Syr, I haue no man when the water is troubled, to put me into the poole: but in the meane time, while I am about to come, another ſteppeth downe before me.

8 Jeſus ſaith vnto him, Riſe, take vp thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, & walked: And on the ſame day was the Sabboth.

10 The Jewes therefore ſaide vnto him that was made whole, It is the Sabboth day, it is not lawfull for thee to cary thy bed.

Ieremi. 17. 2.

11 He anſwered them, He that made me whole, ſaid vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then aſked they him, What man is that which ſaide vnto thee, Take vp thy bed and walke?

13 And he that was healed, wiſt not who it was: for Jeſus had gotten him ſelfe away, becauſe that there was preaſe of people in that place.

14 Afterwarde Jeſus findeth him in the Temple, and ſaide vnto him, Beholde, thou art made whole: ſinne no more, leaſt a worſe thing come vnto thee.

15 The man departed, & tolde the Jewes that it was Jeſus which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jewes perſecute Jeſus, and ſought the meanes to ſlay him, becauſe hee had done theſe things on the Sabboth day.

17 Jeſus anſwered them, My father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 Therefore the Jewes ſought the more to kill him, not only becauſe he had broken the Sabboth, but ſaide alſo, that God was his father, and making himſelfe equall with God.

19 Then anſwered Jeſus, and ſaide vnto them, Verily, verily I ſay vnto you, The ſonne can doe nothing of himſelfe, but that he ſeeth the father doe: for whatſoeuer he doeth, that alſo doeth the ſonne likewiſe.

20 For the father loueth the Sonne, and ſheweth him all things that he him ſelfe doeth: & he wil ſhew him greater works then theſe, becauſe ye ſhould marueile.

21 For likewiſe as the father raiſeth vp the dead, and quickeneth them: euen ſo the ſonne quickeneth whome he will.

22 Neither iudgeth the father any man: but hath committed all iudgement vnto the ſonne, 23 Becauſe that all men ſhoulde honour the ſonne, euen as they honour the father. He that honoureth not the ſonne, the ſame honoureth not the father which hath ſent him.

24 Verily, verily I ſay vnto you, He that heareth my worde, and beleeueth on him that ſent me, hath euerlaſting life, and ſhall not come into damnation: but is eſcaped from death vnto life.

25 Verily, verily I ſay vnto you, The houre is comming, and nowe is, when the b dead ſhall heare the voyce of the ſonne of God: & they ỳ heare, ſhall c liue.

b Meaning thoſe that are drowned in ſinne.

c That is, they that receiue it by faith.

26 For as the father hath life in himſelf: ſo likewiſe hath he giuen to the ſonne to haue life in him ſelfe:

27 And hath giuen him power alſo to iudge, becauſe he is the ſonne of man.

28 Marueile not at this: for the houre is comming, in the which al that are in the graues, ſhall heare his voyce, 29 And ſhall come forth, * they that haue done good, vnto the reſurrection of life, and they that haue done euill, vnto the reſurrection of damnation.

Matth. 25. 46.

30 I can of mine owne ſelfe doe nothing: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iuſt, becauſe I ſeeke not mine owne will, but the wil of the father, which hath ſent me.

31 * If I beare witneſſe of my ſelfe, my witnes is not true.

Iohn 8. 14.

32 * There is another that beareth witneſſes of me, & I am ſure that the witneſſe which he witneſſeth of me, is true.

Matth. 3. 17.

33 * Ye ſent vnto Iohn, and he bare witneſſe vnto the trueth.

Iohn 1. 27.

34 But I receiue not the recorde of man: neuertheleſſe, theſe things I ſay, that ye might be ſaued.

35 He was a burning and a ſhining light: and ye woulde for a ſeaſon haue reioyced in his light.

36 But I haue greater witneſſe then the witneſſe of Iohn: for the works which the father hath giuen me to finiſh, the ſame workes that I doe, beare witneſſe of me, that the father hath ſent me.

37 And

37 And the father himselfe which hath sent me, *hath borne witnesse of me. Yee haue not heard his voyce at any time, *nor seene his shape.
38 And his word haue ye not abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye beleeue not.
39 Search the scriptures, for in them yee thinke ye haue eternall life: and they are they which testifie of me.
40 And yet will ye not come to me, that ye might haue life.
41 I receiue not the praise of men.
42 But I know you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.
43 I am come in my fathers name, and ye receiue me not: *if another shall come in his owne name, him will ye receiue.
44 How can ye beleeue, which receiue honour one of another, and seeke not the honour that commeth of God onely?
45 Doe not thinke that I will accuse you to my father: there is one that accuseth you, euen Moses, in whom ye trust.
46 For had ye beleeued Moses, ye would haue beleeued me: *for he wrote of me.
47 But if ye beleeue not his writings, howe shall ye beleeue my wordes?

The vj. Chapter.

29 Faith is the worke of God. 35 Of the bread of life. 40 Of faith.

1 AFter these thinges, Iesus went his way ouer the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias:
2 And a great multitude followed him, because they sawe his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.
3 And Iesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.
4 And the Passeouer, *a feast of the Iewes, was nigh.
5 *When Iesus then lift vp his eies, and sawe a great company come vnto him, he saith vnto Philip, Whence shall wee buy bread, that these may eate?
6 (This he said to proue him: for he himselfe knew what he would doe.)
7 Philip answered him, Two hundred a penniworth of bread are not sufficient for these, that euery man may take a litle.
8 One of his disciples, Andrewe, Simon Peters brother, saith vnto him, 9 There is a litle lad here, which hath fiue barley loaues, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?
10 And Iesus saide, Make the people sit downe. There was much grasse in the place. So the men sate downe, in number about fiue thousand.
11 And Iesus tooke the bread, and when he had giuen thankes, hee distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set downe, and likewise of the fishes, as much as they would.
12 When they were filled, he saith vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate that remaineth, that nothing be lost.
13 And they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaues, which broken meate remained vnto them that had eaten.
14 Then those men, when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, saide, This is of a truth that same Prophet that should come into the world.
15 When Iesus therefore perceiued that they would come & take him vp by force, to make him king, he departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.
16 *And when euen was nowe come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea, 17 And gate vp into a ship, and went ouer the sea towards Capernaum: and it was nowe darke, and Iesus was not come to them.
18 And the sea arose with a great winde that blewe.
19 So when they had rowed about xxv. or xxx. furlongs, they sawe Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh vnto the ship: and they were afraide.
20 But he saieth vnto them, It is I, bee not afraide.
21 And they would haue receiued him into the ship, and immediatly the ship was at the land whither they went.
22 The day following, when the people which stoode on the other side of the sea, sawe that there was none other ship there, saue that one whereinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not in to his disciples into the ship, but that his disciples were gone away alone:
23 Howbeit, there came other ships from Tiberias, nigh vnto the place where they did eate bread, after that the Lorde had giuen thankes.
24 When the people therefore sawe that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.
25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they saide vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?
26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Ye seeke me, not because ye sawe the miracles, but because ye did eate of the loaues, & were filled.
27 Labour not for the meate which perisheth, but for that meate which endureth vnto euerlasting life, which meate the sonne of man shall giue vnto you: *for him hath God the father sealed.
28 Then saide they vnto him, What shall we do, that we might worke the workes of God?
29 Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, *This is the worke of God, that ye beleeue on him whom he hath sent.
30 They said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou then, that we may see, and beleeue thee? What doest thou worke?
31 Our fathers did eate Manna in the desert, as it is written, *He gaue them bread from heauen to eate.
32 Then Iesus saide vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Moses gaue you not that bread from heauen, but my father 33 For the bread of God, is he which commeth downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the world.

34 Then said they vnto him, Lorde, euermore giue vs this bread.
35 And Iesus saide vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that commeth to mee, Eccle.24.19. shall not hunger in any wise:* and hee that beleeueth on me, shall neuer thirst.
36 But I say vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and yet ye beleeue not.
37 All that the father giueth me, shal come to me, and him that commeth to me, I will in no wise cast out.
38 For I came downe from heauen, not to doe mine owne will, but the will of him that sent me.
39 And this is þ fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath giuen me, I shall lose nothing, but raise it vp againe at the last day.
40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that euery one which seeth the sonne, and beleeueth on him, may haue euerlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.
41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because hee saide, I am the bread of life which came downe from heauen.
Matth.13.55. 42 And they said,* Is not this Iesus, the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we know? howe is it then that hee saieth, I came downe from heauen?
43 Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.
44 No man can come to me, except the father, which hath sent me, drawe him: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

Exod.16.15. 49 Your fathers did eate * Manna in the wildernesse, and are dead.
50 This is that bread which commeth downe from heauen, that if any man eate thereof, he should not die.
51 I am that liuing bread, which came downe from heauen. If any man eate of this bread, he shall liue for euer: and the bread that I will giue, is my flesh, which I will giue for the life of the world.
52 The Iewes therefore stroue among themselues, saying, How can this fellow giue vs that flesh of his to eate?
53 Then Iesus saide vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Except ye eate the flesh of the sonne of man, and drinke his blood, ye haue no life in you.
1.Cor.11.27. 54 *Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternall life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.
55 For my flesh is meate in deede, and my blood is drinke in deede.
56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.
57 As the liuing father hath sent me, and I liue by the father: Euen so, he that eateth me, shall liue by the meanes of me.
58 This is that bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers did eate Manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread, shall liue euer.
59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.
60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, saide, This is an hard saying, who can abide the hearing of it?
61 When Iesus knew in himselfe that his disciples murmured at it, he saide vnto them, Doth this offend you?
62 What and if ye shall see the sonne of man ascend * vp thither where hee was Iohn 3.13. before?
63 It is the spirite that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing: The wordes that I speake vnto you, are spirit and life.
64 But there are some of you that beleeue not. For Iesus knewe from the beginning, which they were that beleeued not, and who should betray him.
65 And he saide, Therefore saide I vnto you, þ no man can come vnto me, except it were giuen vnto him of my father.
66 From that time many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.
67 Then said Iesus vnto the twelue, Will ye also goe away?
68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we goe? Thou hast the wordes of eternall life:
69 * And we beleeue & are sure that thou art that Christ, the sonne of the liuing God.
70 Iesus answered them, Haue not I chosen you twelue, and one of you is a deuil?
71 He spake of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelue.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Iesus fled the murmuring Iewes. 5 Christes kinsemen beleeued not on him.

1 AFter these thinges, Iesus went about in Galilee: for hee would not goe about in Iurie, because that the Iewes sought to kill him.
2 The Iewes feast of tabernacles* was Leuit.23.34. at hand.
3 His brethren therefore saide vnto him, Get thee hence, and goe into Iurie, that thy disciples also may see the workes that thou doest.
4 For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himselfe seeketh to be knowen openly: If thou doe such things, shewe thy selfe to the world.
5 For neither his brethren beleeued in him.
6 Then Iesus said vnto the, My time is not a To wit, if it be separate from the spirit, whereof it hath the force. For it commeth of the power of the spirit, that the flesh giueth vs life, & feedeth vs: And therefore, that we may be truely fed and nourished with it, we must bring the spirituall mouth of faith to receiue it.

a At this feast they dwelled seuen dayes in their tents.

not yet come: but your time is alway ready.
7 The world can not hate you, but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the workes thereof are euill.
8 Goe ye vp vnto this feast: I goe not vp yet vnto this feast, * for my time is not yet full come.
9 When he had saide these wordes vnto them, he abode still in Galilee.
10 But when his brethren were gone vp, then went he also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuily.
11 Then sought him the Iewes at the feast, and said, Where is he?
12 And much murmuring of him was there among the people: For some sayd, He is good: Other sayd, Nay: but hee deceiueth the people.
13 Howbeit, no man spake openly of him, for feare of the Iewes.
14 Now when halfe of the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the Temple, and taught.
15 And the Iewes marueiled, saying, How knoweth he the Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?
16 Iesus answered them, & said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.
17 If any man will doe his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.
18 He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no vnrighteousnes is in him.
19 * Did not Moses giue you the lawe, and yet none of you keepeth the lawe? * Why goe ye about to kill me?
20 The people answered, and saide, Thou hast the deuill: Who goeth about to kill thee?
21 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, I haue done one worke, & ye all marueile.
22 * Moses therefore gaue vnto you the circumcision (not because it is of Moses, * but of the fathers) and yet ye on the Sabboth day circumcise a man.
23 If a man on the Sabboth day receiue circumcision, without breaking of the law of Moses: disdaine ye at me, because I haue made a man euery whit whole on the Sabboth day?
24 * Iudge not after the vtter appearance, but iudge with a righteous iudgement.
25 Then said some of them of Hierusalem, Is not this he, whom they goe about to kill?
26 But loe, he speaketh ‖ boldly, and they say nothing vnto him: Doe the rulers knowe in deede that this is very Christ?
27 Howbeit, we knowe this man whence he is: but when Christ commeth, no man knoweth whence he is.
28 Then cried Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye knowe both me, and whence I am, ye knowe, and I am not come of my selfe, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.
29 But I knowe him, for I am of him, and he hath sent me.
30 Then they sought to take him: but no man layd handes on him, because his houre was not yet come.
31 Many of the people beleeued on him, and said, When Christ commeth, will he doe moe myracles then these that this man hath done?
32 The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him: And the Pharisees and the hie Priests sent seruants to take him.
33 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, Yet am I a litle while with you, and then I go vnto him that sent me.
34 * Ye shall seeke me, and shall not finde me: and where I am, thither can ye not come.
35 Then saide the Iewes among themselues, Whither will he go, that we shall not finde him? Will hee goe vnto the dispersed among the Grecians, & teache the Gentiles?
36 What maner of saying is this that hee sayd, Ye shall seeke me, and shal not finde me? and where I am, thither can ye not come.
37 In the last day, that * great day of the feast, Iesus stoode, and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto me, and drinke.
38 * He that beleeueth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shal flowe riuers of water of life.
39 (* But this spake he of the spirit which they that beleeue on him should receiue. For the holy Ghost was not yet ‖ there, because that Iesus was not yet glorified.)
40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a trueth this is the Prophet.
41 But other sayde, This is Christ. But some sayde, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?
42 * Hath not the Scripture sayde, that Christ commeth of the seede of Dauid, and out of the towne of Bethlehem, where Dauid was?
43 So was there dissension among the people because of him.
44 And some of them would haue taken him, but no man layd hands on him.
45 Then came the seruants to the high Priests and Pharisees, and they sayd vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?
46 The seruants answered, Neuer man spake as this man doeth.
47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceiued?
48 Haue any of the rulers or of the Pharisees beleeued on him?
49 But this common people which know not the lawe, are cursed.
50 Nicodemus saieth vnto them, * (hee that came to Iesus by night, being one of them,) 51 Doeth our lawe iudge any man before it heare him, * and know what he doeth?

52 They answered, and saide vnto him, Art thou also of Galilee? search, and looke: for out of Galilee ariseth no Prophet.

53 And euery man went vnto his owne house.

The viij. Chapter.

12 Christ the light of the world. 56 Abraham did see Christes day.

1 IEsus went out vnto mount Oliuet:

2 And early in the morning he came againe into the Temple, and all the people came vnto him, and hee sate downe and taught them.

3 And the Scribes & Pharisees brought vnto him a woman taken in adulterie, and when they had set her in the middes, 4 They say vnto him, Master, this woman was taken in adulterie, euen as the deede was a doing.

Luke 20.10. 5 *Moses in the lawe commaunded vs that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?

6 This they saide, tempting him, that they might accuse him. But Iesus stouped downe, and with his finger wrote on the grounde, as though hee heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lift vp himselfe, and saide vnto them, Deut.17.7. *Let him that is among you without sinne, first cast the stone at her.

8 And againe, he stouped downe, & wrote on the ground.

9 And when they heard this, being accused of their owne consciences, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, euen vnto the last: and Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the middes.

10 When Iesus had lift vp himselfe, and sawe no man but the woman, hee saide vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She sayd, No man, Lorde. And Iesus sayd, Neither doe I condemne thee: Go, and sinne no more.

12 Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, *I am the light of the world: He that followeth me, shall not in any wise walke in darkenesse, but shall haue the light of life.

Iohn 1.5. and 9.5.

13 The Pharisees therefore sayde vnto him, Thou beарest record of thy selfe, thy record is not true.

14 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, *Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I knowe whence I came, and whither I goe: but ye can not tell whence I come, and whither I goe.

Iohn 5.31.

15 Ye iudge after the flesh, but I iudge no man.

16 And if I iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the father that sent me.

Deut.17.6. and 19.15. matth.18.16. 2.cor.13.1. hebr.10.28.

17 *It is also written in your lawe, that the testimonie of two men is true.

18 I am one that beareth witnesse of my selfe, and the father that sent me, beareth witnesse of mee.

19 Then sayde they vnto him, Where is thy father? Iesus answered, Ye neither knowe me, nor yet my father: if ye had knowen me, ye should haue knowen my father also.

20 These wordes spake Iesus in the treasurie, as he taught in the Temple: and no man laid handes on him, for his houre was not yet come.

21 Then said Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall seeke me, and shall die in your sinnes: Whither I goe, thither can ye not come.

22 Then said the Iewes, Will he kill him selfe, because he saieth, Whither I goe, thither can ye not come?

23 And he said vnto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore vnto you, that ye shall die in your sinnes. For if ye beleeue not that I am he, ye shall die in your sinnes.

25 Then saide they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus saith vnto them, Euen the very same thing that I said vnto you from the beginning.

26 I haue many thinges to say, and to iudge of you: Yea, and he that sent me is true, and I speake to the world those things which I haue heard of him.

27 Howbeit, they vnderstood not that he spake to them of his father.

28 Then said Iesus vnto them, When ye haue lift vp on high the sonne of man, then shall ye knowe that I am he, and that I doe nothing of my selfe: but as my father hath taught me, euen so I speake these things.

29 And he that sent me, is with me: the father hath not left me alone: for I doe alwayes those things that please him.

30 As hee spake those wordes, many beleeued on him.

31 Then said Iesus to those Iewes which beleeued on him, If ye continue in my worde, then are ye my very disciples.

32 And ye shall know the trueth, and the trueth shall make you free.

33 They [a] answered him, We be Abrahams seede, and were neuer bond to any man: howe sayest thou then, Ye shall be made free?

a These were not those Iewes that beleeued, but mockers, that beleeued not.

34 Iesus answered them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, *That whosoeuer committeth sinne, is the seruant of sinne.

Rom.6.20. 2.pet.2.19.

35 And the seruant abideth not in the house for euer: but the sonne abideth euer.

36 If the sonne therefore shall make you free, then ye shalbe free indeede.

37 I knowe that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke meanes to kill me, because my worde hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my father: and ye doe that which ye haue seene with your father.

39 They answered, and said vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus saieth vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye would doe the workes of Abraham.

40 But

40 But nowe ye goe about to kill mée, a man that hath tolde you the trueth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deedes of your father. Then said they to him, We be not borne of fornication, we haue one father, euen God.

42 Jesus saide vnto them, If God were your father, truely ye would loue mee, for I proceeded foorth, and came from God: neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not know my speach? euen because ye cannot heare my word.

1.Iohn 3.8.

44 * Ye are of your father the deuill, and the lustes of your father will ye doe: hee was a murtherer from the beginning, and abode not in the trueth, because there is no trueth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his owne: For he is a liar, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the trueth, therefore ye beleeue me not.

The Gospel on the v. Sunday in Lent.

46 * Which of you rebuketh me of sinne? If I say the trueth, why doe ye not beleeue me?

1.Iohn 4.6.

47 Hee that is of God, heareth Gods wordes: Ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and saide vnto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a deuill?

49 Jesus answered, I haue not a deuill: but I honour my Father, and ye doe dishonour me.

50 I seeke not mine owne glorie, there is one that seeketh, and iudgeth.

51 Verily, verily I say vnto you, If a man keepe my saying, hee shall neuer see death.

52 Then said the Iewes vnto him, Now knowe we that thou hast a deuill. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets: and thou sayest, If a man keepe my saying, he shall neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Jesus answered, If I glorifie my selfe, my glorie is nothing: It is my Father that glorifieth me, which ye say, that he is your God:

55 And yet ye haue not knowen him, but I knowe him: and if I say that I know him not, I shalbe a liar like vnto you: but I know him, and keepe his saying.

b To see the comming of Christ in the flesh, which thing Abraham did see a farre off, with the eyes of faith.

56 Your father Abraham was b glad to see my day: and he saw it, and reioyced.

57 Then said the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeeres olde, and hast thou seene Abraham?

58 Jesus saide vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

59 Then tooke they vp stones to cast at him: but Jesus was hid, and went out of the Temple.

The ix. Chapter.

Christ restoreth sight vpon the Sabboth day to him that was borne blinde.

1 AND as Jesus passed by, hee sawe a man which was blinde from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parents, that he was borne blinde?

3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor yet his parents: but that the workes of God should be made manifest in him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent mee, while it is a day: The night commeth, when no man can worke.

a While opportunitie serueth.

5 As long as I am in the world, * I am the light of the world.

Iohn 1.9. and 8. 12. and 12.35.

6 When he had thus spoken, hee spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and hee anointed the clay vpon the eyes of the blinde,

7 And saide vnto him, Goe wash thee in the poole of Siloe (which by interpretation is as much to say, as sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came againe seeing.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they that had seene him before when he was blinde, said, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: Other said, He is like him. Hee him selfe saide, I am euen he.

10 Therefore saide they vnto him, Howe were thine eyes opened?

11 Hee answered, and saide, The man that is called Jesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and saide vnto me, Goe to the poole Siloe, and wash: and when I went and washed, I receiued my sight.

12 Then said they vnto him, Where is he? He said, I cannot tell.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him, that a litle before was blinde.

14 And it was the Sabboth day when Jesus made the clay, & opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharisees also asked him howe he had receiued his sight. Hee said vnto them, He put clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabboth day. Other said, Howe can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? and there was a ‖strife among them.

‖Or, schisme.

17 They say vnto the blinde man againe, What sayest thou of him, because hee hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a Prophet.

18 But the Iewes did not beleeue the man how that he had bene blind, and receiued his sight, vntill they called the parents of him that had receiued his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whome ye say that hee was borne blind? how doth he now see then?

20 His parents answered them, and said, We knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we can can not tell, or who hath opened his eyes, can not we tell, hee is of age, aske him, he shall speake for himselfe.

22 Such wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had agreed alreadie, that if any man did confesse that he was Christ, he should be excommunicate out of the Synagogue.
23 Therefore saide his parents, He is of age, aske him.
24 Then againe called they the man that was blinde, and saide vnto him, Giue God the praise, we knowe that this man is a sinner.
25 He answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I can not tell: One thing I am sure of, that whereas I was blinde, nowe I see.
26 Then saide they to him againe, What did hee to thee? Howe opened hee thine eyes?
27 Hee answered them, I tolde you per while, and ye did not heare: wherefore would you heare it againe? Will ye also be his disciples?
28 Then rated they him, and said, Thou art his disciple: we are Moses disciples.
29 We are sure that God spake vnto Moses: as for this fellowe, we knowe not from whence he is.
30 The man answered, and saide vnto them, This is a marueilous thing, that ye wote not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.
31 For we be sure that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth he.
32 Since the worlde began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde:
33 If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.
34 They answered, and saide vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinne, and doest thou teache vs? And they cast him out.
35 Iesus heard that they had excommunicate him: and when he had found him, he said vnto him, Doest thou beleeue on the Sonne of God?
36 Hee answered and saide, Who is hee, Lord, that I might beleeue on him?
37 And Iesus saide vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee.
38 And he saide, Lorde, I beleeue: and he worshipped him.
39 And Iesus said vnto him, *I am come vnto iudgement in this world, that they which see not, might see: and that they which see, might be made blinde.
40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these wordes, and saide vnto him, Are we blinde also?
41 Iesus sayde vnto them, If ye were blinde, ye should haue no sinne, but now ye say, We see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

b He declared his faith by his outward profession. Iohn 3.17. and 12.47.

The x. Chapter.

1 Christ the true shepheard, and the doore. 34 Princes called gods.

1 VErily, verily I say vnto you, Hee that entreth not in by the doore vnto the sheepefolde, but climeth vp some other way, the same is a thiefe, and a robber. The Gospel on the Tuesday after VVhitsunday.
2 But he that entreth in by the doore, is the shepeheard of the sheepe.
3 To him the porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voyce, and he calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.
4 And when he shall put forth his owne sheepe, he goeth before them, & the sheepe followe him: for they knowe his voyce.
5 A stranger will they in no wise folowe, but will flee from him, for they knowe not the voyce of strangers.
6 This prouerbe spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstoode not what thinges they were which he spake vnto them.
7 Then saide Iesus vnto them againe, Verily, verily I say vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.
8 All, a euen as many as came before mee, are thieues and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them. a He meaneth all false prophets, who led not men to Christ, but from him to other, or els preached themselues.
9 I am the doore: by me if any man enter in, he shalbe safe, and shall goe in, and goe out, and finde pasture.
10 The thiefe commeth not, but for to steale, kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might haue life, and that they might haue it more abundantly.
11 I am the * good shepheard; the good shepeheard giueth his life for the sheepe. The Gospel on the second Sunday after Easter. Esai 40.11. iere.34.23.
12 An hireling, and he which is not the shepheard, neither the sheepe are his owne, seeth the woulfe comming, and leaueth the sheepe, and fleeth: and the woulfe catcheth them, and scatereth the sheepe.
13 The hireling fleeth, because hee is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.
14 I am the good shepheard, and knowe my sheepe, and am knowen of mine.
15 As the Father knoweth mee, euen so know I also the Father: and I giue my life for the sheepe.
16 And other b sheepe I haue, which are not of this folde: them also I must bring, and they shal heare my voyce, and there shall be one folde and one shepheard. b To wit, they among the Gentiles when they were strangers from Gods Church. Ezech.37.22. Esai 53.7.
17 Therefore doeth my Father loue mee, * because I put my life from me, that I might take it againe.
18 No man taketh it from me, but I put it away of my selfe: I haue power to put it from me, and I haue power to take it againe. * This commaundement haue I receiued of my Father. Actes 4.28.
19 There was a dissension therefore againe among the Iewes for these sayings.
20 And many of them said, He hath a deuill, and is mad, why heare ye him?
21 Other said, These are not the wordes of him that hath a deuill. Can a deuill open the eyes of the blinde?

22 * And

1.Mach.4.59. 22 *And it was at Hierusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter:
23 And Iesus walked in the temple, euen in Solomons porch.
24 Then came the Iewes rounde about him, and said vnto him, Howe long doest thou make vs to doubt? If thou bee Christ, tell vs plainely.
25 Iesus answered them, I tolde you, and ye beleeued not: the workes that I doe in my Fathers name, they beare witnes of me.
26 But ye beleeue not, because ye are not of my sheepe, as I said vnto you.
27 My sheepe heare my voyce, & I knowe them, and they followe me:
28 And I giue vnto them eternall life, and they shall neuer perish, neither shall any man plucke them out of my hand.
29 My father which gaue them me, is greater then all: and no man is able to take them out of my fathers hand.
30 I and my father are one.
31 Then the Iewes tooke vp stones, to stone him withall.
32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my father, for which worke of them doe ye stone me?
33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For a good worke we stone thee not, but for thy blasphemie, and because that thou, being a man, makest thy selfe God.
Psal.82.6. 34 Iesus answered them, *Is it not written in your lawe, I said, Ye are gods?
35 If he called them gods, vnto whom the worde of God was spoken, & the Scripture can not be broken:
36 Say ye of him whom the father hath sanctified and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest: because I sayde, I am the sonne of God?
37 If I doe not the workes of my father, beleeue me not.
38 But if I doe, and if ye beleeue not me, beleeue the workes: that ye may knowe and beleeue that the father is in me, and I in him.
39 Againe they went about to take him: and he escaped out of their hand, 40 And went away againe beyonde Iordane, into the place where Iohn was first baptizing: and there he abode.
41 And many resorted vnto him, and said, Iohn did no miracle: but all things that Iohn spake of this man, were true.
42 And many beleeued on him there.

The xj. Chapter.

43 Christ raiseth Lazarus from death. 45 Certaine Iewes beleeue in Christ.

1 A Certaine man was sicke, named Lazarus, of Bethanie, the towne of Marie and her sister Martha.
2 (It was that Marie which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feete with her heare, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)
3 Therefore his sisters sent vnto him, saying, Lorde, beholde, he whome thou louest is sicke.
4 When Iesus heard that, he said, This infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the glory of God: that the sonne of God might be glorified thereby.
5 Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.
6 When he had heard therefore that he was sicke, he abode two dayes still in the same place where he was.
7 Then after that, saieth he to his disciples, Let vs goe into Iurie againe.
8 His disciples say vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately sought to stone thee, and goest thou thither againe?
9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres in the day? If any man walke in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.
10 But if a man walke in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.
11 These things said he, and after that, he saieth vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth, but I goe, that I may awake him out of sleepe.
12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleepe, he shall doe well enough.
13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleepe.
14 Then saide Iesus vnto them plainely, Lazarus is dead:
15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there (because ye may beleeue:) Neuertheles, let vs goe vnto him.
16 Then saide Thomas, which is called Didymus, vnto his fellowe disciples, Let vs also goe, that we may die with him.
17 Then when Iesus came, he found that he had lien in his graue foure dayes already.
18 (Bethanie was nigh vnto Hierusalem, about a fifteene furlongs off:) a Which is about two miles.
19 And many of the Iewes came to Martha and Marie, to comfort them ouer their brother.
20 Martha, as soone as she heard that Iesus was comming, went and met him: but Marie sate still in the house.
21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lorde, if thou hadest bin here, my brother had not died.
22 But euen nowe I knowe, that whatsoeuer thou wilt aske of God, God will giue it thee.
23 Iesus saith vnto her, Thy brother shall rise againe.
24 Martha saieth vnto him, I know that he shall rise againe in the *resurrection at the last day. *John 5.29. luke 14.14.
25 Iesus said vnto her, I am the resurrection, and the *life: he that beleeueth on me, yea, though he were dead, yet shall he liue. *John 6.35.
26 And whosoeuer liueth, and beleeueth on me, shall neuer die. Beleeuest thou this?
27 She saieth vnto him, Yea Lorde, I beleeue that thou art Christ the sonne of God, God, which ſhould come into the world.

28 And when ſhe had ſo ſaid, ſhe went her way, and called Marie her ſiſter ſecretly, ſaying, The maiſter is come, and calleth for thee.
29 As ſoone as ſhe heard that, ſhe ariſeth quickly, and commeth vnto him.
30 Iesus was not yet come into the towne: but was in that place where Martha met him.
31 The Iewes then which were with her in the houſe, and comforted her, when they ſaw Marie that ſhe roſe vp haſtily, and went out, followed her, ſaying, She goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.
32 Then when Marie was come where Iesus was, and ſawe him, ſhe fell downe at his feete, ſaying vnto him, Lorde, if thou haddeſt bene here, my brother had not bene dead.
33 When Iesus therefore ſawe her weeping, & the Iewes alſo weeping which came with her, he groned b in the ſpirite, and was troubled in himſelfe, 34 And ſaide, Where haue ye laide him? They ſay vnto him, Lord, come, and ſee.
35 Iesus wept.
36 Then ſaid the Iewes, Behoulde howe he loued him.
37 And ſome of them ſayde, Coulde not this man, * which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue cauſed that this man alſo ſhould not haue died?
38 Iesus therefore againe groning in himſelfe, commeth to the graue: It was a caue, and a ſtone laide on it.
39 Iesus ſaide, Take ye away the ſtone. Martha, the ſiſter of him that was dead, ſaieth vnto him, Lorde, by this time he ſtinketh: for hee hath bene dead foure dayes.
40 Iesus ſayth vnto her, Said I not vnto thee, that if thou wouldeſt beleeue, thou ſhouldeſt ſee the glorie of God?
41 Then they tooke away the ſtone from the place where the dead was layd. And Iesus lift vp his eyes and ſayde, Father, I thanke thee that thou haſt heard mee.
42 Yowbeit, I knowe that thou heareſt me alwayes: but becauſe of the people which ſtand by, I ſaid it, that they may beleeue that thou haſt ſent me.
43 And when he thus had ſpoken, he cried with a loude voyce, Lazarus, come forth.
44 And he that was dead, came foorth, bound hand & foote with graue clothes: and his face was bounde about with a napkin. Iesus ſayth vnto them, Looſe him, and let him goe.
45 Then many of the Iewes which came to Marie, & had ſeene the things which Iesus did, beleeued on him.
46 But ſome of them went their wayes to the Phariſees, and tolde them what Iesus had done.
47 Then gathered the high Prieſtes and the Phariſees a counſell, and ſayde, What doe we? for this man doeth many miracles, 48 If we let him ſcape thus, all men will beleeue on him, and the Romanes c ſhall come, and take away both our roome, and the people.
49 And one of them, named Caiaphas, being the high Prieſt that ſame yeere, ſayde vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at all,
50 * Nor conſider that it is expedient for vs, that one man ſhould die for the people, and not that all the nation periſh.
51 This ſpake he not of himſelfe: but being high Prieſt that ſame yeere, he prophecied that Iesus ſhoulde die for that nation:
52 And not for that nation onely, but that alſo he ſhould gather together in one the children of God that were ſcattered abroade.
53 Then from that day forth, they tooke counſaile together for to put him to death.
54 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes: but went his way thence vnto a countrey nigh to a wildernesſe, into a citie which is called Ephraim, and there continued with his diſciples.
55 And the Iewes Eaſter was nigh at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Hieruſalem before the Eaſter, to purifie themſelues.
56 Then ſought they for Iesus, and ſpake among themſelues, as they ſtoode in the Temple, What thinke ye, ſeeing he commeth not to the feaſt day?
57 Both the high Prieſts and the Phariſees had giuen a commandement, that if any man knew where he were, he ſhould ſhewe it, that they might take him.

2 There they made him a ſupper, and Martha ſerued: but Lazarus was one of them that ſate at the table with him.
3 Then tooke Marie a pound of oyntment, of Spikenard, very coſtly, and anointed Iesus feete, and wyped his feete cleane with her heare: and the houſe was filled with the odour of the oyntment.
4 Then ſaieth one of his diſciples, Iudas Iſcariot Simons ſonne, which ſhoulde betray him,
5 Why was not this oyntment ſolde for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?
6 * This he ſaide, not that hee cared for the poore: but becauſe he was a thiefe, and had the a bagge, and bare that which was giuen.
7 Then ſayd Iesus, Let her alone, againſt my day of my burying hath ſhe kept this.
8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you: but me haue ye not alwayes.

a The wicked thinke all loſt that ſcapeth their hands.

9 Much

9 Much people of the Iewes therefore had knowledge that hee was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he raised from death.
10 But the high Priestes helde a counsell, that they might put Lazarus to death also,
11 Because that for his sake many of the Iewes went away, and beleeued on Iesus.
12 * On the next day, much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus commeth to Hierusalem, Matth.21.8. marke 11.7.
13 Tooke branches of Palme trees, and went forth to meete him, and cried, [b] Hosanna, blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord, King of Israel. b That is, Saue I beseech thee.
14 And Iesus, when he had found a yong Asse, sate thereon, as it is written, 15 * Feare not, daughter of Sion, beholde, thy King commeth, sitting on an Asses Colt. Zacha.9.9.
16 These things vnderstoode not his disciples at the first: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembred they that such thinges were written of him, and that such things they had done vnto him.
17 The people that was with him, when he called Lazarus out of his graue, and raised him from death, bare record.
18 Therefore met him the people also, because they heard that he had done such a miracle.
19 The Pharisees therefore saide among themselues, Perceiue ye howe ye preuaile nothing? Beholde, all the whole world is gone after him.
20 There were certaine Grekes among them, that came to worship at the feast:
21 The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida, a citie of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, wee would faine see Iesus.
22 Philip commeth and telleth Andrew: and againe Andrewe and Philip tolde Iesus.
23 And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man should be glorified.
24 Verily, verily I say vnto you, Except the wheate corne fall into the ground, and die, it abideth alone: if it die, it bringeth foorth much fruite.
25 * He that loueth his life, shall lose it: and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keepe it vnto life eternall. Matth.10.39. and 16.25. marke 8.35. luke 9.24. and 17.33.
26 If any man minister vnto mee, let him followe mee: and where I am, there shall also my minister be: If any man minister vnto mee, him will my Father honour.
27 Nowe is my soule troubled, and what shall I say? Father, saue me from this houre, but therefore came I into this houre.
28 Father, glorifie thy name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I haue both glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.
29 The people therefore that stoode by, and heard it, said that it thundred: other said, An Angel spake to him.
30 Iesus answered and said, This voyce came not because of mee, but for your sakes.
31 Nowe is the iudgement of this world: Nowe shall the prince of this worlde be cast out.
32 And I, if I were lift vp from the earth, will drawe all men vnto me.
33 (This he said, signifying what death he should die.)
34 The people answered him, * We haue heard out of the Law, that Christ abideth euer: and how sayest thou, The Sonne of man must be lift vp? Who is that Sonne of man? Tpsalme 110.4. esai 40.8.
35 Then Iesus saide vnto them, Yet a litle while is the * light with you: walke while yee haue light, least the darkenesse come on you: for he that walketh in the darke, wotteth not whither hee goeth. Iohn 1.9.
36 While yee haue light, beleeue on the light, that ye may be the children of the light. These things spake Iesus, and departed, and was hid from them.
37 But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet beleeued not they on him:
38 That the saying of Esaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, which hee spake, * Lorde, who hath beleeued our saying? and to whom hath the arme of the Lord bene declared? Esai 53.1. rom.10.16.
39 Therefore could they not beleeue, because that Esaias said againe, 40 * He hath blinded their eyes, & hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, and least they should vnderstand with their heart, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them. Esai 6.9. matth.13.14. marke 4.12. luke 8.11. actes 28.26.
41 Such things saide Esaias, when hee sawe his glorie, and spake of him.
42 Neuertheless, among the chiefe rulers also many beleeued on him: but because of the Pharisees they did not confesse him, least they should be put out of the Synagogue.
43 * For they loued the praise of men, more then the praise of God. Iohn 5.44.
44 Iesus cried, and saide, He that beleeueth on me, beleeueth not on me, but on him that sent me.
45 And hee that seeth mee, seeth him that sent me.
46 I am come, * a light into the worlde, that whosoeuer beleeueth on me, should not bide in darkenesse. Iohn 8.12. and 9.39.
47 * And if any man heare my wordes, and beleeue not, I iudge him not: For I came not to iudge the world, but to saue the world. Iohn 3.17.
48 He that refuseth me, and receiueth not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth him: * the word that I haue spoken, the same shall iudge him in the last day. Marke 16.16.
49 For I haue not spoken of my selfe: but the Father which sent me, hee gaue me a coma commaundement what I should say, and what I should speake.

50 And I knowe that his commaundement is life euerlasting: Whatsoeuer I speake therefore, euen as the father bade me, so I speake.

5 After that, he powreth water into a basson, and began to wash the disciples feete, and to wipe them cleane with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then commeth hee to Simon Peter: and Peter saith vnto him, Lorde, doest thou wash my feete?

7 Iesus answered, and saide vnto him, What I doe, thou woteste not nowe: but thou shalt knowe hereafter.

8 Peter saith vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter saith vnto him, Lorde, not my feete onely, but also my handes, and my head.

10 Iesus saith to him, He that is washed, needeth not saue to wash his feete, but is cleane euery whit: And ye are cleane, but not all.

11 For hee knewe who it was that should betray him: therefore saide he, Ye are not all cleane.

12 So after he had washed their feete, and receiued his clothes, and was set downe againe, hee saide vnto them, Wote ye what I haue done to you?

25 Hee then, when hee leaned on Iesus breast, said vnto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Iesus answered, Hee it is to whome I shall giue a soppe, when I haue dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gaue it to Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon.

27 And after ‖ the soppe, Satan entred into him. Then said Iesus vnto him, That thou doest, doe quickly.

30 As soone then as he had receiued the soppe, he went immediatly out: and it was night.

31 Therefore, when he was gone out, Iesus said, Now is the Sonne of man glorified: and God is glorified in him.

The xiiij. Chapter.

He armeth his disciples with consolation against trouble.

The Gospell on Saint Philip and James day.

1 ANd he saide vnto his disciples, Let not your heart be troubled: ye beleeue in God, beleeue also in me.
2 In my fathers house are many dwelling places: if it were not so, I would haue tolde you: I goe to prepare a place for you.
3 And if I goe to prepare a place for you, I will come againe, and receiue you, euen vnto my selfe, that where I am, there may ye be also.
4 And whither I goe, ye knowe, and the way ye knowe.
5 Thomas saith vnto him, Lorde, we know not whither thou goest: and how can we knowe the way?
6 Jesus saith vnto him, I am the way, and the trueth, and the life: No man commeth vnto the father, but by me.
7 If ye had knowen me, ye should haue •knowen my father also: and nowe ye knowe him, and haue seene him.
8 Philip saith vnto him, Lord, shewe vs the father, and it sufficeth vs.
9 Jesus saith vnto him, Haue I bene so long time with you, and yet hast thou not knowen me? Philip, he that hath seene me, hath seene the father: and how sayest thou then, Shewe vs the father?
10 Beleeuest thou not that I am in the father, and the father in me? The words that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my selfe: but the father that dwelleth in me, is he that doeth the workes.
11 Beleeue me that I am in the father, and the father in me: or els beleeue me for the workes sake.
12 Verily, verily I say vnto you, he that beleeueth on me, the workes that I do, the same shall he doe also, and greater workes then these shall he doe, because I goe vnto the father.
13 * And whatsoeuer ye shall aske in my name, that will I doe, that the father may be glorified in the sonne.
14 If ye shal aske any thing in my name, I will doe it.

Matth. 7. 7. Luke 11. 24. James 1. 5.

The Gospell on Whitsunday.

15 If ye loue me, keepe my commandements,
16 And I will pray the father, and he shal giue you another coforter, that he may bide with you for euer, 17 Euen the spirit of trueth, whome the world can not receiue, because the world seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him, for he dwelleth wyth you, and shall be in you.
18 I will not leaue you comfortlesse, I come to you.
19 Yet a litle while, and the worlde seeth me no more: but ye see me, because I liue, and ye shall liue also.
20 That day shall ye know, that I am in my father, and you in me, and I in you.
21 He that hath my commaundements, and keepeth them, the same is he that loueth me: and he that loueth me, shalbe loued of my father, and I will loue him, and will shewe mine owne selfe to him.
22 Judas saith vnto him, not Iudas Iscariot, Lorde, what is done, that thou wilt shew thy selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the worlde?
23 Jesus answered, and saide vnto him, If a man loue me, he will keepe my sayings: and my father will loue him, and we will come vnto him, and make our dwelling with him.
24 He that loueth me not, keepeth not my sayings: and the worde which ye heare, is not mine, but the fathers which sent me.
25 These things haue I spoken vnto you, being yet present with you.
26 But the comforter which is the holy Ghost, whome the father will sende in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, what so euer I haue sayde vnto you.
27 Peace I leaue with you, my peace I giue vnto you: not as the worlde giueth, giue I vnto you: let not your heart be troubled, neither let it feare.
28 Ye haue heard howe I said vnto you, I goe away, and come againe vnto you. If ye loue me, ye would verily reioyce, because I said, I goe vnto the father: for the father is greater then I.
29 And nowe haue I shewed you before it come to passe, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleeue.
30 Hereafter will I not talke many words vnto you: for the [a] prince of this worlde cometh, and hath nought in [b] me.

5 The consolation betweene Christ and his members, vnder the parable of the vine.

The Gospell on Saint Markes day. Matth. 15. 13.

1 I Am the true vine, and my father is the hvsbandman.
2 Euery * branch that beareth not fruite in me, he taketh away: and euery branch that beareth fruite, he purgeth, that it may bring foorth more fruite.
3 * Now are ye cleane through the word which I haue spoken vnto you.

John 13. 11.

4 Bide in me, and I in you: As the branch can not beare fruite of it selfe, except it bide in the vine: no more can ye, except ye [a] abide in me.
5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, & I in him, the same bringeth foorth much fruite: For without me can ye doe nothing.
6 If a man bide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and withereth, and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.
7 If ye bide in me, and my wordes abide in you, ye shall aske what ye will, and it shall be done for you.

9 As the father hath loued me, euen so haue I loued you: continue you in my b loue.

b That is, the loue wherewith Christ loued vs.

10 If ye keepe my commandements, ye shall abide in my loue, euen as I haue kept my fathers commandements, and abide in his loue.

11 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remaine in you, and that your ioy might be full.

The Gospell on Saint Barnabe Apostle. Iohn 13.34. 1.Iohn 3.11. 1.thess.4.9.

12 *This is my commandement, that ye loue together, as I haue loued you.

13 Greater loue hath no man then this, that a man bestowe his life for his frendes.

14 Ye are my friendes, if ye doe whatsoeuer I command you.

15 Henceforth call I not you seruants, for the seruant knoweth not what his lorde doeth, but you haue I called friendes: for all c things that I haue heard of my father, haue I made knowen vnto you.

c So that there is nothing omitted that is necessarie for our saluation. Matth.28.19.

16 *Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeined you, that you should goe and bring foorth fruite, and that your fruite should remaine: that whatsoeuer ye shall aske of the father in my name, he may giue it you.

17 This commande I you, that ye loue together.

The Gospell on S. Simon and Iudes day.

18 If the worlde hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the worlde, the worlde would loue his owne: howbeit, because ye are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the worlde, therefore the worlde hateth you.

20 *Remember the worde that I saide vnto you, The seruant is not greater then the lorde: if they haue persecuted me, they will also persecute you: if they haue kept my saying, they will keepe d yours also.

Iohn 13.16. matth.10.24.

d It is called their worde, not that it doth disagree from Gods worde, but because they preach it. 1. Cor.4.

21 But all these things will they do vnto you for my names sake, because they haue not knowen him that sent me.

22 If I had not come, and spoken vnto them, they shoulde haue had no sinne: but nowe haue they nothing to cloke their sinne withall.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my father also.

24 If I had not done among them the workes which none other man did, they should haue had no e sinne: but nowe haue they both seene, and hated both me and my father.

e They are without all excuse that follow not the word of God preached vnto them. Psalme 35.19.

25 But this commeth to passe, that the worde might be fulfilled that is written in their lawe, *They hated me without a cause.

The Gospell on the sunday after Ascension day. Iohn 14.26. luke 24.49.

26 But when the comforter is come, *whome I will send vnto you from the father, euen the Spirite of trueth, which proceedeth of the father, he shall testifie of me.

27 And ye shall beare witnesse also, because ye haue bene with me from the beginning.

The xvj. Chapter.

7 Of the holy Ghost, and of his office. 17 Of Christes ascension. 23 To aske in the name of Christ.

1 These thinges haue I saide vnto you, because ye shoulde not be offended.

2 They shall put you out of their Synagogue: yea, the time commeth, that whosoeuer killeth you, will thinke that he doeth God seruice.

3 And such things will they doe vnto you: because they haue not knowen the father, neither yet me.

4 But these thinges haue I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember then that I tolde you: These thinges saide I not vnto you at the beginning, because I was present with you.

The Gospell on the iiii. sunday after Easter.

5 But nowe I goe my way to him that sent me, & none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I haue said such thinges vnto you, sorow hath filled your hearts.

7 Neuertheless I tell you the trueth, it is expedient for you that I goe away: For if I goe not away, that Comforter will not come vnto you: but if I depart, I will sende him vnto you.

8 And when he is come, he will ‖rebuke the worlde of sinne, and of righteousnes, and of iudgement.

‖ Or, convince.

9 Of sinne, because they beleeued not on me.

10 Of righteousnesse, because a I goe to my father, and ye see me no more.

a That when the world shall see after his ascension the power of his spirit, shewed vpon the Apostles by him, they shall be compelled in conscience to confesse that he was iust, and that he was not condemned of God for a blasphemer, (as they had iudged) but approued and received, Actes 2.27.

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this worlde is iudged alreadie.

12 I haue yet many things to say vnto you, but ye can not beare them away nowe.

13 Howbeit, when he is come which is the spirit of trueth, he will leade you into all trueth. He shall not speake of him selfe: but whatsoeuer he shall heare, that shall he speake: and he will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorifie me, for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shewe vnto you.

15 All things that the father hath, are mine: therefore saide I vnto you, that he taketh of mine, and shall shewe vnto you.

The Gospell on the third sunday after Easter.

16 After a while, and ye shall not see me: and againe after a while, and ye shall see me: for I goe to the father.

17 Then sayde some of his disciples betweene them selues, What is this that he sayeth vnto vs, After a while, and ye shall not see me, & againe, After a while, and ye shall see me: and, That I goe to the father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, After a while? we can not tell what he saith.

19 Iesus perceiued that they would aske him, and sayde vnto them, Doe ye enquire among your selues of that I said, After a while, and ye shall not see me: and againe, After a while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily,

20 Verily, verily I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe and lament, the worlde shall reioyce: ye shall sorrowe, but your sorrowe shalbe turned to ioy.
21 A woman, when she trauaileth, hath sorowe, because her houre is come: but as soone as she is deliuered of the child, she remembreth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the worlde.
22 And ye now therefore haue sorow: but I will see you [b] againe, and your hearts shall reioyce, and your ioy no man taketh from you.
23 And in that day shall ye aske me no question: *Verily, verily I say vnto you, Whatsoeuer ye shall aske the father in my name, he will giue it you.
24 Hytherto haue ye asked nothing in my name: aske, and ye shal receiue, that your ioy may be full.
25 These things haue I spoken vnto you by prouerbes: the time commeth when I shall no more speake vnto you by prouerbes, but I shall shew you plainely of my father.
26 At that day shall ye aske in my name: and I say not vnto you that I will pray vnto my father for you:
27 For the father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue beleeued that I came out from God.
28 I went out from the father, and came vnto the world: againe, I leaue [p] world, and goe to the father.
29 His disciples say vnto him, Loe, nowe talkest thou plainely, and speakest no prouerbe.
30 Nowe are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man shoulde aske thee any question: therefore beleeue we that thou camest from God.
31 Jesus answered them, Doe ye now beleeue?
32 *Behold, the houre draweth nigh, and is alreadie come, that ye shalbe scattered, euery man to his owne, and shall leaue me alone: and yet am I not alone, for the father is with me.
33 These words haue I spoken vnto you, that in me ye might haue peace, for in the world ye haue tribulation: but be of good cheare, I haue ouercome the world.

The xvij. Chapter.

Christ praieth to his father, that their glorie might be made manifest.

1 THese words spake Jesus, and lift vp his eies to heauen, and said, Father, the houre is come, glorifie thy sonne, that thy sonne also may glorifie thee:
2 *As thou hast giuen him power ouer all flesh, that hee shoulde giue eternall life to as many as thou hast giuen him.
3 This is [p] life eternall, that they might knowe thee the onely true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent.
4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to doe.
5 And nowe glorifie thou me, O father, with thine owne selfe, with the glorie which I had [th] thee per the world was.
6 I haue declared thy name vnto the men [a] which thou gauest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gauest them me, and they haue kept thy word.
7 *Nowe they haue knowen that all things whatsoeuer thou hast giuen me, are of thee:
8 For I haue giuen vnto them [p] words which thou gauest mee, and they haue receiued them, and haue knowen surely that I came out from thee, and they haue beleeued that thou diddest send me.
9 I pray for them, I pray not for the [b] world: but for them which thou hast giuen me, for they are thine.
10 And all mine, are thine, and thine, are mine: and I am glorified in them.
11 And nowe am I not in the world, and they are in the worlde, & I come to thee. Holy father, keepe through thine owne name them, which thou hast giuen me, that they may also be [c] one, as we are.
12 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, & none of them is lost, but that [d] lost childe: *that the scripture might be fulfilled.
13 Now come I to thee, and these words speake I in the worlde, that they might haue my ioy fulfilled in themselues.
14 I haue giuen them thy worde, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the worlde, euen as I also am not of the world.
15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the worlde, but that thou shouldest keepe them from the euill.
16 They are not of the worlde, as I also am not of the world.
17 Sanctifie them through thy trueth: thy word is the trueth.
18 As thou diddest send me into [p] world: euen so haue I also sent them into the world.
19 And for their sakes sanctifie I my self, that they also might be [s]actified through the trueth.
20 Neuertheless, I pray not for them alone: but for them also which shall beleeue on me through their preaching:
21 That they all may be one, as thou father art in me, and I in thee, and that they also may be one in vs: that the world may beleeue [p] thou hast sent me.
22 And the glory which thou gauest me, I haue giuen them: that they also may be one, as we also are one.
23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the worlde may knowe that thou hast sent me, and hast loued them, as thou hast loued me.
24 *Father, I will that they which thou hast giuen me, be [c] with me where I am, that they may see my glory which thou hast giuen me: for thou louedst me before the foundation of the world.
25 O righteous father, the world also hath not knowen thee: but I haue knowen thee,

The Gospel on the fifth Sunday after Easter.

Matth. 7.7.

c They were not yet indued to the certaine knowledge, that he was the onely mediator, and therefore that which they asked before, was nothing in respect of that which they should aske and obtaine by faith, when their knowledge was grounded, and that he was ascended.

The xviij. Chapter.

3 Christ is betrayed by Iudas. 40 The Iewes aske Barabbas to be let loose.

The Gospel on good Friday. Matth. 26. 36. marke 14. 32. luke 22. 39.

1 WHen Iesus had spoken these words, *hee went forth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entred and his disciples.
2 Iudas also which betraied him, knew the place: for Iesus oft times resorted thither with his disciples.

Matth. 26. 47. marke 14. 43. luke 22. 47.

3 *Iudas then, after hee had receiued a band of men, and officers of the high Priestes & Pharisees, commeth thither with lanternes, & torches, & weapons.
4 And Iesus knowing all things that should come on him, went forth, and said vnto them, Whom seeke ye?
5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus saith vnto them, I am he. Iudas also which betraied him, stoode with them.
6 As soone then as hee had saide vnto them, I am hee, they went backwarde, and fell to the ground.
7 Then asked hee them againe, Whom seeke ye? They said, Iesus of Nazareth.
8 Iesus answered, I haue told you that I am he: If ye seeke me therefore, [a] let these goe their way.

Iohn 17. 12.

10 Then Simon Peter hauing a sworde, drewe it, and smote the high Priests seruant, and cut off his right eare: The seruants name was Malchus.
11 Therefore said Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sworde into the sheath: Shall I not drinke of the cup which my father hath giuen me?
12 Then the companie, and the captaine, and officers of the Iewes, tooke Iesus, and bound him,

Luke 3. 2.

13 *And led him away to Annas first, (for he was father in lawe vnto Caiaphas) which was the high Priest that same yeere. And Annas sent Christ bounde vnto Caiaphas the high Priest.

Iohn 11. 50.

14 *Caiaphas was he which gaue counsell to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

Matth. 26. 58.

15 * And Simon Peter followed Iesus, and so did another [b] disciple: That disciple was knowen vnto the high Priest, and went in with Iesus into the palace of the high Priest.

b That is, Iohn.

16 But Peter stoode at the doore without. Then went out that other disciple, which was knowen vnto the high priest, and spake vnto the Damosell that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.
17 Then saith the Damosell that kept the doore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He saith, I am not.
18 The seruants and officers stood there, which had made a fire of coales (for it was cold) and they warmed themselues: Peter also was standing among them, warming him.
19 The high Priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.
20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the worlde, I euer taught in the synagogue, and in the Temple, whither all the Iewes resort, and in secret haue I said nothing:
21 Why askest thou me? Aske them which heard me what I haue saide vnto them: behold, they can tell what I said.
22 When hee had thus spoken, one of the officers which stoode by, smote Iesus with a rodde, saying, Answerest thou the high Priest so?
23 Iesus answered him, If I haue euill spoken, beare witnesse of the euill: but if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou me?
24 * Nowe Annas had sent him bounde vnto Caiaphas the high Priest. Matth. 26. 57.
25 Simon Peter was standing, and warming himself: *Then said they vnto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not. Matth. 26. 69.
26 One of the seruantes of the high priestes (his cousin whose eare Peter smote off) saith vnto him, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?
27 Peter therefore denied againe, and immediatly the cocke crewe.
28 *Then led they Iesus from Caiaphas, into the hall of iudgement: It was in the morning, and they themselues went not into the iudgement hall, least they should be defiled: * but that they might eate the Passeouer. Matth. 27. 2. marke 15. 1. luke 23. 1. Actes 10. 28.
29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring you against this man?
30 They answered and said vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, we would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.
31 Then saide Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne lawe. The Iewes therefore saide vnto him, It is not lawfull [c] for vs to kill any man.

c Because the Romanes had taken that authoritie from them.

32 * That the wordes of Iesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.
33 * Then Pilate entred into the iudgement hall againe, and called Iesus, and saide vnto him, Art thou the king of the Iewes? Matth. 27. 19. Matth. 27. 11.
34 Iesus answered him, Saiest thou this thing of thy selfe? or did other tell it thee of me?
35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iewe? Thine owne nation and high Priestes haue deliuered thee vnto me: what hast thou done?
36 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this worlde: if my kingdome were of this world, then would my seruants surely fight, that I should not be deliuered to the Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore saide vnto him, Art thou a king then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king: For this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should beare witnesse vnto the trueth: and all that are of the trueth heare my voyce.

38 Pilate saieth vnto him, What is trueth? And when he had saide this, hee went out againe vnto the Iewes, and saieth vnto them, I finde in him no fault at all.

Mat.27.15. mar.15.6. luke 23.17. Act.3.14.

39 * Ye haue a custome that I should deliuer you one loose at the Passouer: will ye that I loose vnto you the king of the Iewes?

40 * Then cried they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas. This Barabbas was a robber.

The xix. Chapter.

1 Christ is whipped, beaten, and crowned. 11 All power is of God.

1 THen Pilate tooke Iesus therefore, and scourged him.

Mat.27.26. mar.15.18.

2 * And the souldiers, when they had wound a crowne of thornes, they did put it on his head, and they did cast about him a purple garment,

3 And said, Haile king of the Iewes: and strooke him with rodes.

4 Pilate went forth againe, and said vnto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may knowe that I finde no fault in him.

5 Then came Iesus forth, wearing the crowne of thorne, and the robe of purple: and Pilate saieth vnto them, Behold the man.

6 When the high priestes therefore and officers sawe him, they cryed, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him. Pilate saieth vnto them, Take yee him, and crucifie him: for I finde no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, We haue a law, and by our lawe hee ought to die: because hee made himselfe the sonne of God.

8 When Pilate heard that saying, he was the more afraide,

9 And went againe into the iudgement hall, and saith vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him no answere.

10 Then saieth Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto mee? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against mee, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the more sinne.

12 And from thencefoorth sought Pilate meanes to loose him: but the Iewes cryed, saying, If thou let him goe, thou art not Caesars friend: for whosoeuer maketh himselfe a king, speaketh against Caesar.

13 When Pilate heard that saying, hee brought Iesus forth, and he sate downe in the iudgement seate, in a place that is called the Pauement, but in the Hebrue tongue, Gabbatha.

14 It was the preparing of the Passeouer, and about the sixth houre: and hee saieth vnto the Iewes, Behold your king.

15 They cryed, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate saith vnto them, Shall I crucifie your king? The high priests answered, We haue no king but Caesar.

16 * Then deliuered he him therefore vnto them to bee crucified: and they tooke Iesus, and led him away. Mat.27.31. mar.15.21. luke 23.26.

17 And he bearing his crosse, went forth into a place which is called the place of a skull, but in the Hebrue, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the mids.

19 And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the crosse. The writing was, IESVS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

20 This title read many of the Iewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified, was nigh to the citie: and it was written in Hebrue, and greeke, & Latine.

21 Then said the high priestes of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not the king of the Iewes: but that he said, I am king of the Iewes.

22 Pilate answered, What I haue written, that haue I written.

23 * Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments, (and made foure partes, to euery souldier a part) and also his coate: the coate was without seame, woouen from the toppe throughout. Mat.27.35. mar.15.24. luke 23.33.

24 They said therefore among themselues, Let vs not diuide it, but cast lottes for it, whose it shalbe: that the scripture might be fulfilled, saying, * They parted my rayment among them, and for my coate did they cast lots. And the souldiers did such things in deede. Psal.22.19.

25 There stoode by the crosse of Iesus, his mother, and his mothers sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Marie Magdalene.

26 When Iesus therefore saw his mother and the disciple standing by, whom hee * loued, he saith vnto his mother, Woman, behold thy sonne. * That is, Iohn.

27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that houre the disciple tooke her vnto his owne house.

28 After these things, Iesus knowing that all things were now performed, * that the scripture might be fulfilled, hee saith, I thirst. Psalm.69.22.

29 So there stoode a vessell by, full of vineger: Therefore when they had filled a spunge with vineger, and put it vpon hyssope, they offered it to his mouth.

30 When Iesus therefore had receiued the vineger, he sayd, It is b finished, and when he had bowed his head, hee gaue vp the ghost.

b The mystery of mans redemption and saluation, is perfected by the onely sacrifice of Christ, the promise to the fathers fulfilled, the ceremonies of the lawe ended.

31 The Iewes therefore, because it was the preparing of the Sabboth, that the bodies should not remayne vpon the crosse on the Sabboth day (for that Sabboth day was an high day) besought Pilate that their legges might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

32 Then came the souldiers, and c brake the legges of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

c Because they were not yet dead, for that was their custome.

33 But when they came to Iesus, and sawe that hee was dead alreadie, they brake not his legges.

34 But one of the souldiers with a speare thrust him into the side, and foorthwith came there out blood and water.

35 And he that sawe it, bare recorde, and his record is true, and he knoweth that he sayeth true, that ye might beleeue also.

36 For these things were done that the Scripture should be fulfilled, * A bone of him shall not be broken.

Num.9.12. exod.12.46.

37 And againe another scripture sayeth, * They shall looke on him whome they pearsed.

Zach.12,10.

38 * After this, Ioseph of Arimathea (being a disciple of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Iewes,) besought Pilate that hee might take downe the body of Iesus, and Pilate gaue him licence: he came therefore, and tooke the body of Iesus.

Mat.27.57. mar.15.42. luke 23.50.

39 And there came also Nicodemus, which at the beginning came to Iesus by night, and brought of myrrhe and aloes mingled together, about an hundred pound waight.

40 Then tooke they the body of Iesus, and wound it in linnen clothes, with the odours, as the maner of the Iewes is to burie.

41 And in the place where he was crucified there was a garden, and in the garden a newe sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet layde.

42 There layde they Iesus therefore, because of the preparing of the Sabboth of the Iewes, for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Marie commeth to the sepulchre. 9 The Apostles were ignorant of the resurrection.

The Gospel on Easter day.

1 THe first day of the a Sabbothes, commeth Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet darke vnto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the graue.

a That is, of the weeke.

2 Then she runneth, and commeth to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple * whome Iesus loued, and sayeth vnto them, They haue taken away the Lorde out of the graue, and we can not tell where they haue layde him.

Mat.16,1. luke 14.1.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 They ran both together, and the other disciple did outrunne Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And when hee had stowped downe, hee sawe the linen clothes lying, yet went he not in.

6 Then commeth Simon Peter following him, and went into d sepulchre, and seeth the linnen clothes lie,

7 And the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

8 Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre, and hee sawe, and beleeued.

9 For as yet they knewe not the Scripture, that he should rise from death.

10 Then the disciples went away againe vnto their owne house.

11 * Marie stood without at the sepulchre, weeping: so as she wept, she bowed her selfe into the sepulchre,

Mat.28.1. mar.16.5.

12 And seeth two angels clothed in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feete, where d body of Iesus was layde.

13 They say vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saieth vnto them, For they haue taken away my Lorde, and I wote not where they haue layde him.

14 When she had thus said, she turned her selfe backe, and sawe Iesus standing, and knewe not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus saith vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou? She supposing that it had bene the gardiner, saith vnto him, Sir, if thou haue borne him hence, tell me where thou hast layde him, and I will fetch him.

b Hereby Christ correcteth her carnall affection, looking too much to his bodily presence, and therefore he pulled her from outward and externe offices toward his bodily presence, and willed her to be mindful of his ascension.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Marie. She turned her selfe, and sayd vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

17 Iesus saith vnto her, Touche b me not: for I am not yet ascended to my father, but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them, I * ascend vnto my father and your father, and to my God, and your God.

20 And when hee had so saide, hee shewed vnto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they sawe the Lord.

21 Then sayd Iesus to the againe, Peace be vnto you: As my Father hath sent me, euen so sende I you also.

22 And when he had said those words, he breathed on them, and sayth vnto them, Receiue ye the holy ghost.

24 †But Thomas, one of the twelue, which is called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said vnto him, We haue seene the Lord. But he said vnto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nayles, and put my finger into the print of the nayles, and thrust my hand into his side, I will in no wise beleeue.

26 And after eight dayes, againe his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: Then came Jesus, the doores being shut, and stoode in the middes, and said, Peace be vnto you.

27 After that sayth hee to Thomas, Bring thy finger hither, and see my hands, and reache hither thy hande, and thrust it into my side, and bee not faithlesse, but beleeuing.

28 Thomas answered, and said vnto him, My Lord, and my God.

29 Jesus saith vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene mee, thou hast beleeued, blessed are they that haue not seene, and yet haue beleeued.

The xxi. Chapter.

Christ forewarneth Peter of his death and persecution.

1 AFterwarde did Jesus shewe himselfe againe to his disciples at the sea of Tiberias, and on this wise shewed he himselfe.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter sayth vnto them, I goe a fishing. They say vnto him, We also goe with thee. They went their way, and entred into a ship immediatly, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stoode on the shore: neuertheless, the disciples knewe not that it was Jesus.

Or, Syre.

5 Jesus saith vnto them, ‖ Children, haue ye any meate? They answered him, No.

6 And he sayth vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the shippe, and ye shall finde. They cast out therefore, and anone they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Then said the disciple whom Jesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was þ Lord, he gird his coate vnto him (for hee was naked) and did cast himselfe into the sea.

8 The other disciples came in a litle ship, (for they were not farre from lande, but as it were two hundred cubites) drawing the net with fishes.

9 As soone then as they were come to lande, they sawe hote coales, and fish layde thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus sayeth vnto them, Bring of the fish, which ye haue nowe caught.

11 Simon Peter went vp, and drewe the net to the land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three, and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus sayth vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jesus then commeth, and taketh bread, and giueth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is nowe the third time that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was risen from death.

15 So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon ‖ Joanna, louest thou me more then these? Yee saith vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. Yee saith vnto him, Feede my lambes.

‖ Or, sonne of Iona.

16 He sayeth to him againe the seconde time, Simon Joanna, louest thou mee? Yee sayth vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. Yee sayth vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

17 Yee sayde vnto him the third time, Simon Joanna, louest thou mee? Peter was sory, because he sayde vnto him the third time, Louest thou mee: And he said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things, thou knowest that I loue thee: Jesus saith vnto him, feede my sheepe.

18 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, when thou wast ponger, thou girdedst thy selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt bee olde, thou shalt stretch forth thy handes, and another shal gird thee, and carie thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 This spake hee, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when hee had spoken this, hee sayth vnto him, Followe me.

20 Peter turning about, seeth þ disciple whome *Jesus loued, following, which also leaned on his breast at supper, and saide, Lord, which is hee that betrayeth thee?

John 13.23.

21 When Peter therefore sawe him, hee saith to Jesus, Lord, what shall he doe?

22 Jesus saith vnto him, If I will haue him to tarie til I come, what is that to thee? Followe thou me.

The Gospel on S. John Euangelists day.

23 Then went this saying abroade among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: Yet Jesus saide not vnto him, Hee shall not die: but, If I will that he tarie till I come, what is that to thee?

24 The same disciple is he which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we know þ his testimonie is true.

John.20.3. 25 * There are also many other things which Iesus did, þ which if they should be writte enery one, I suppose the world could not conteine þ bookes that should be written. Amen.

7 The wordes of Christ and his angels to the Apostles. 9 His Ascension. 14 Wherein the Apostles are occupied, till the holy ghost be sent. 16 And of the election of Matthias.

The Epistle on Ascension day.

1 THE former booke haue I made, O Theophilus, of all that Iesus began both to doe & teach,

2 Until the day in which hee was taken vp, after that he through the holy ghost had giuen commaundements vnto the Apostles, whome he had chosen.

3 To whome also hee shewed himselfe aliue after his passion, and that by many tokens, appearing vnto them fourtye dayes, and speaking of the kingdome of God.

4 And gathering them together, commaunded them that they should not depart from Hierusalem, but waite for the promise of the father, * whereof saith he, ye haue heard of me.

Luke 24.49. iohn 14.25. Mat.3.11. mar.1.8. luk.3. 12.iohn 1.26.

5 * For Iohn truely baptized with water, but yee shall bee baptized with the holy ghost, after these fewe dayes.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lorde, wilt thou at this time restore againe the kingdome of Israel?

7 And he said vnto them, It is not for you to knowe the times or the seasons, which the father hath put in his owne power.

Actes.3.19.

8 * But yee shall receiue power after that the holy ghost is come vpon you, and ye shall bee witnesses vnto mee, both in Hierusalem, and in all Iurie, and in Samaria, and euen vnto the worldes ende.

Luke 24.52.

9 * And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken vp on high, and a cloude receiued him vp out of their sight.

10 And while they looked vp stedfastly toward heauen, as hee went, beholde, two men stoode by them in white apparell, 11 Which also saide, Yee men of Galilee, why stande ye gazing vp into heauen? This same Iesus which is taken vp from you into heauen, shall so come, euen as ye haue seene him goe into heauen.

12 Then returned they vnto Hierusalem, from the mount that is called Oliuet, which is from Hierusalem a Sabboth dayes iourney.

13 And when they were come in, they went vp into a parlour, where abode both Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomewe, & Matthewe, Iames the sonne of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Iudas the brother of Iames.

14 These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication with the women, and Marie the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.

†The Epistle on Saint Matthias day.

15 ¶ † And in those dayes Peter stood vp in the middest of the disciples, & said, (The number of a names together, were about an hundred and twentie.)

16 Yee men and brethren, this Scripture must needes haue bene fulfilled, * which the holy Ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, which was guide to them that tooke Iesus:

17 For he was numbred with vs, & had obteined fellowship in this ministerie.

18 * And the same hath owne purchased a fielde, with the reward of b iniquitie, and when hee was hanged, he burst a sunder in the middes, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it is knowen vnto all the dwellers at Hierusalem, insomuch that the same fielde is called in their mother tongue Aceldema, that is to say, The fielde of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, * Let his habitation be desert, and no man dwelling therein: * And his Byshoppricke let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which haue cõpanied with vs all the time that the Lord Iesus went out and in c among vs, 22 Beginning from þ Baptisme of Iohn, vnto that same day that he was taken vp from vs, must one be ordeined to be a witnesse with vs of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Ioseph which is called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthias.

24 And when they had prayed, they said, Thou Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shewe whether of these two thou hast chosen, 25 That he may take the rowme of this ministerie and Apostleshippe, from which Iudas by transgression fell, that hee might goe to his owne place.

26 And they gaue forth their d lottes, and the lot fell vpon Matthias, and hee was counted with the eleuen Apostles.

a That is, of men, for men are woont namely to be counted, when they are numbred. Psal.50.9. iohn 13.18. Mat.27.5.

b It is called the reward of iniquitie, because the wicked Iewes gaue the reward, & shed the blood of Christ that is nocent Lambe. Psal.69.26. Psal.109.8.

c That is to say, after the language of the Hebrues, he had his conuersation & liued with vs.

d Lottes for chusing of officers, or deuiding of inheritance, ground, or goods, are allowed of God, as appeareth in the holy Scriptures: lots slay strife, saye the Salomon. But lots of diuination to know superstitiously of things to come, are disallowed of God and vtterly forbidden.

The ii. Chapter.

3 The holy ghost came vpon the Apostles in visible signes 42 The godly exercise of the faithfull.

1 And

The Epistle on Whitsunday.

1 AND when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were al with one accord in one place.

Act.11.15.

2 * And suddainely there came a sounde from heauen, as it had bene the cōming of a mightie winde, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared vnto them clouen tongues, like as they had bene of fire, and it sate vpon eache of them.

4 And they were all filled with the holy ghost, and began to speake with other tongues, as the spirite gaue them vtterance.

5 There were dwelling at Hierusalem Iewes, deuout men, out of euery nation of them that are vnder heauen.

6 When this was noised abont, the multitude came together, and were astonied, because that euery man heard thē speake in his owne language.

7 They wondred all and marueiled, saying one to another, Beholde, are not all these which speake, of Galilee?

8 And howe heare wee euerp man his owne tongue, wherein we were borne?

9 Parthians, and Medes, & Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Iurie, and in Capadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parties of Libya, which is beside Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Iewes and [b] Proselytes, 11 Cretes, and Arabians, wee doe heare them speake in our tongues the wonderfull workes of God.

12 They were all amazed, and were in a doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Other mocking, sayde, These men are full of new wine.

14 But Peter standing forth with the eleuen, lift vp his voice, & saide vnto them, Ye men of Iurie, and all ye that dwell at Hierusalem, bee this knowen vnto you, and heare my wordes.

15 For these are not dronken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the [c] third houre of the day.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the Prophet Ioel,

17 *And it shalbe in the last dayes (sayeth God) of my spirit I will power out vpon all flesh: and your sonnes & your daughters shall prophecie, and your yong men shall see visions, and your olde men shall dreame dreames:

18 And on my seruants, and on my handmaidens, I will powre out of my spirit in those dayes, and they shal prophecie:

19 And I will shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath: blood, and fire, and the vapour of smoke.

20 *The Sunne shalbe turned into darkenesse, and the Moone into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lorde come.

21 *And it shall come to passe, that whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lord, shalbe saued.

22 Ye men of Israel, heare these wordes, Iesus of Nazareth, a man approued of God among you, with miracles, wonders, and signes, which God did by him in the middes of you, as ye your selues also knowe,

23 Him, after that ye had taken by wicked hands, being deliuered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, haue ye crucified and slaine:

24 Whome God hath raised vp, hauing loosed the sorowes of death, because it was impossible that he should be holden of it.

25 For Dauid speaketh of him, *I sawe the Lorde alwayes set before my face, for he is on my right hande, that I should not be moued. Psal.16.8

26 Therefore did my heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad: Moreouer also, my flesh shall rest in hope, 27 Because thou wilt not leaue my soule in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast shewed mee the wayes of life, thou shalt make me full of ioy with thy countenance.

29 Yee men and brethren, let mee freely speake vnto you of the *Patriarch Dauid: For he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with vs vnto this day: 3.Reg.2.10.

30 Therefore being a Prophet, & knowing that God had sworne with an othe to him, *that he would raise vp Christ, as concerning the flesh, of the fruit of his loynes, to sit on his seate, Psal.132.11.

31 He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, *that his soule was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption. Psal.16.10.

32 This Iesus hath God raised vp, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Then being by the right hande of God exalted, and hauing receiued of the father the promise of the holy ghost, hee hath shed forth this, which ye nowe see and heare.

34 For Dauid is not ascended into the heauens, but hee sayeth himselfe, *The Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand. Psal.110.1.

35 Vntill I make thy foes thy footestoole.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know for a suretie, that God hath made that same Iesus whome yee haue crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said vnto Peter, and to the other Apostles, Yee men and brethren, What shall we doe?

38 Then Peter saide vnto them, Repent ye, and let euery one of you be baptized in the name of Iesus Christ, for the remission of sinnes, and ye shall receiue the gift of the holy ghost.

39 For the promise was made vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are a farre off, euen as many as the Lorde our God shall call.

40 And with many other wordes dare he witnesse,

1 It is most like that the miracle was both in the speakers, and also in the hearers. In the speakers, for that they spealing the Hebrue tongue, did well perceiue that strangers of diuers nations and languages did vnderstand thē: And in the hearers, for that euery man heard sensibly his owne countrey language out of the Apostles, speaking in their mother tongue.

b That is, such as were conuerted to the Iewes religion, and whose ancestours were no Iewes.

c The Iewes count the houres of the day, from six of the clocke in the morning, to sixe at night: therefore the thirde houre after the Iewes computation, is our nine of the clocke.

witnesse, and exhorted them, saying, Saue your selues from this vntowarde generation.

41 Then they that gladly receyued his word, were baptized: and the same day there were added vnto them about three thousand soules.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the Apostles doctrine and d felowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And feare came vpon euery soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And all that beleeued were together, and had all things common,

45 And solde their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as euery man had neede.

46 And they continuing daily with one accord in the Temple, & breaking bread from house to house, did eate their meate together with gladnesse of heart, 47 Praising God, & hauing fauour with all the people. And the Lord added to the Church daily such as should be saued.

d By felowship is meant a godly companying together, in practising the workes of charitie, in tendering and helping one another, in disposing by almes their goods to their needie neighbours. By breaking of bread, is meant the mysterie wherein our sauiour Christ doeth communicate and distribute vnto vs his bodie and blood, by his blessed sacrament of bread and wine, where is presented to the eyes of our faith, the breaking of Christes body, and the shedding of his blood.

The iii. Chapter.

7 The halt is restored to his feete. 12 Peter preached Christ vnto the people,

1 NOw Peter and John went vp together into the Temple at ỹ ninth houre of prayer.

2 And a certaine man that was lame frō his mothers wombe was brought, whom they layd daily at the gate of the Temple which is called beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into the Temple.

3 Which seeing Peter and John about to go into the Temple, asked almes.

4 And Peter fastening his eyes vpon him, with John, said, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heede vnto them, trusting to receiue something of them.

6 Then said Peter, Siluer and gold haue I none, but such as I haue, giue I thee: In the name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth rise vp, and walke.

7 And he tooke him by the right hand, & lift him vp, and immediately his feete and ancle bones receiued strength.

8 And he leaping vp, stode, and walked, and entered with them into the Temple, walking, and leaping, and praysing God.

9 And all the people sawe him walking and praysing God.

10 And they knewe him, that it was hee which sate for the almes at the beautiful gate of the Temple: and they wondered, and were sore astonied at that which had happened vnto him.

11 And as the lame which was healed, held Peter and John, all the people ran together greatly amazed vnto them in the porch, that is called Solomons.

12 And when Peter saw that, he answered vnto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marueile ye at this? or why looke ye so earnestly on vs, as though by our owne power or godlinesse we had made this man to walke?

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, & of Iacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his sonne Iesus, whom ye betraped & denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had iudged him to be loosed.

14 *But ye denied the holy and iust, and desired a murderer to be giuen you, 15 And killed the Lord of life, whom God hath raised from the dead, of the which we are witnesses.

16 And his name, through the faith in his name, hath made this man sound, whō ye see and know, and the faith which is by him, hath giuen to this man health in the presence of you all.

17 And now brethren, I wote that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 Repent ye therefore, and conuert, that your sinnes may be blotted out, when the time of b refreshing shall come in the presence of the Lord.

20 And he shall send Iesus Christ, which before was preached vnto you.

21 Whom the heauen must receiue, vntill the time that all things bee restored, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy Prophets since the world began.

22 *For Moses truely saide vnto the fathers, A Prophet shal ỹ Lord your God raise vp vnto you of your brethren, like vnto mee, him shall ye heare in all things whatsoeuer he shall say vnto you.

23 For the time will come, that ‖ euery soule which will not heare that same Prophet, shal be destroyed from among the people.

24 All the Prophets also from Samuel, and these that followe in order, as many as haue spoken, haue likewise told you before of these dayes.

25 Ye are the children of the c Prophets, and of the couenant which God made vnto our fathers, saying vnto Abraham, *Euen in thy seede shall all the kinreds of the earth be blessed.

26 Vnto you first, God hauing raysed vp his sonne Iesus, sent him to bleese you, in turning euery one of you from his iniquities.

a He corrected the abuse of men, which attribute to mans holines that which onely perteineth to God. Mat. 27. 20. mar. 15. 11. luk. 23. 8. iohn 18, 40.

b By the time of refreshing, he meaneth the latter day, when the godly which in this world are tormoiled and troubled, should find rest and quietnes. Deut. 18, 15. act. 7, 37.

c So they are called, because they came of the same stocke, and therefore were heires of the same promise which appertaineth to the whole body of the people, Gen. 12, 1.

The iiii. Chapter.

7 The Apostles are brought before the counsell. 31 The Church encreaseth in doctrine, and exercises of all godlinesse.

1 AND as they spake vnto the people, the Priests and the ‖ ruler of the Temple, and the Sadduces came vpon them,

‖ Or, captaine.

2 Taking it grieuously that they taught the the people, and preached in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they layde handes on them, and put them in holde vnto the next day: for it was nowe euentide.

4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the word, beleeued, and the number of the men was about fiue thousand.

5 And it came to passe on the morow, that their rulers, and elders, and Scribes,

6 And Annas the chiefe Priest, and Caiaphas, and Iohn, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kinred of the high Priestes, were gathered together at Hierusalem.

7 And when they had set them before the, they asked, By what power, or in what name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter full of the holy Ghost, said vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, and Elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deede done to the sicke man, by what meanes he is made whole,

10 Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whome ye crucified, whom God raised againe from the dead, euen by him, doeth this man stande here before you, whole.

Psal.118. 22. esa. 28.16. mat. 21. 42. 11 * This is the stone which was set nought by of you builders, which is the head of the [a] corner.

[a] Christ is called the chiefe corner, or corner stone, because the Iewes, and the Gentiles are ioyned together, and buylded vpon him by faith, and made one Church.

12 Neither is there [b] saluation in any other: for among men vnder heauen, there is giuen none other name wherein we must be saued.

[b] Neither Saint, nor Angel, nor workes, nor ought else can saue, but Christ alone.

13 Nowe when they sawe the boldenesse of Peter and Iohn, and vnderstood that they were vnlearned, and ignorant men, they marueiled, and they knew the that they had bene with Iesu:

14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they could not say against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to goe aside out of the counsell, they conferred among themselues, 16 Saying, What shall wee doe to these men: for a manifest signe is done by the, and is openly knowen to all them that dwell in Hierusalem, and wee can not denie it.

17 But that it be noysed no farther among the people, let vs threaten, and charge them that they speake henceforth to no man in this name.

18 And they called them, and commanded them, that in no wise they should speake nor teach in the name of Iesu.

19 But Peter and Iohn answered, and said vnto them, Whether it bee right in the sight of God, to hearken vnto you more then to God, iudge ye.

20 For we can not but speake that, which we haue seene and heard.

21 So when they had more sharply threatned them, they let them goe, finding nothing howe to punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God, because of that which was done.

22 For the man was about fourtie yeres olde, on whome this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 Then assoone as they were let go, they came to their fellowes, and shewed all that the high Priestes and Elders had said vnto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God which hast made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that in them is,

25 Which by the mouth of thy seruaunt Dauid hast saide, * Why did the Heathen rage, and the people imagine vaine things? Psal.2.1.

26 The kings of the earth stoode vp, and the rulers came together against the Lorde, and against his Christ.

27 For of a truth against thy holy childe Iesus, whome thou hast anoynted, both Herode, and also Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, gathered themselues together, 28 For to doe whatsoeuer thy hande and thy counsell determined before to be done.

29 And nowe Lorde, beholde their threatnings, and graunt vnto thy seruauntes, that with all boldnesse they may speake thy worde, 30 So that thou stretche forth thine hande, that healing and signes, and wonders bee done by the name of thy holy childe Iesus.

31 And as soone as they had prayed: the place mooued where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of one heart, and of one soule: Neyther sayde any of them, that ought of the things which hee possessed was his owne, but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lorde Iesu, and great grace was with them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessours of landes, or houses, solde them, and brought the price of the things that were solde,

35 And layde it downe at the Apostles feete: And distribution was made vnto euery man according as he had neede.

36 And Ioses, which was also called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is to say, if yee interprete it, The sonne of consolation) being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cypers, 37 Hauing lande, solde it, and brought the money, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.

The v. Chapter.

12 Miracles are done by the Apostles. 34 The sentence of Gamaliel.

1 But

1 BVt a certaine man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, solde a possession,

2 And kept awap part of the price, his wife also being of counsell, and brought a certaine part, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.

3 But Peter saide, Ananias, howe is it that Satan hath filled thine heart, to lye vnto the holy Ghost, and keepe awap part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine owne? and after it was solde, was it not in thine owne power? why hast thou conceiued this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lyed vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Ananias hearing these woordes, fell downe, and gaue vp the ghost: and great feare came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose vp, and put him a part, and caried him out, and buried him.

7 And it came to passe, that as it were about the space of three houres after, his wife came in, not knowing what which was done.

8 And Peter sayd vnto her, Tell mee, solde ye not the lande for so much? And shee said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter saide vnto her, Why haue ye agreed together, to tempt the spirit of the Lord? beholde, the feete of the which haue buried thy husband, are at the doore, and shall carrie thee out.

10 Then fell she down straightwap at his feete, and yeelded vp the ghost: And the young men came in, and found her dead, and caried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came vpon all the Church, and vpon as many as heard these things.

The Epistle on S. Bartholomewe the Apostle.

12 And by the handes of the Apostles, were many signes and wonders shewed among the people. (And they were all together with one accord in Solomons porch.

13 And of other durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuertheles, the people magnified them.

14 The number of them that beleeued in the Lord, both of men and women, grew more and more.)

15 Insomuch that they brought the sicke into the streetes, and layde them on beds and couches, that at the least wap the [a] shadowe of Peter when hee came by, might shadowe some of them.

16 There came also a multitude of the cities rounde about vnto Hierusalē, bringing sicke folkes, and them which were vexed with vncleane spirites: and they were healed euery one.

17 Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees) and were full of indignation, 18 And layde handes on the Apostles, & put them in the common prison.

19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them forth, and sayd, 20 Go, and stand and speake in the Temple to the people all the woordes of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, and taught: but the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called a counsell together, and all the elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to fetch them.

22 But when the officers came, & found them not in the prison, they returned, and tolde, 23 Saying, The prison truely found we shut with all diligence, and the keepers standing without before the doores, but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priest, and the captaine of the Temple, and the high Priestes heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would growe.

25 Then came one and shewed them, saying, Beholde, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captaine of the Temple with the officers, and brought them without violence: (for they feared the people, least they should haue bene stoned,)

27 And whē they had brought them, they set them before the counsell, and the chiefe Priest asked them, 28 Saying, * Did not wee straitly commande you that ye should not teache in this name? And beholde, ye haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and intende to bring this mans blood vpō vs. Act. 4. 18.

29 Then Peter and the other Apostles answered, and sayd, Wee ought more to obey God then men.

30 The God of our fathers raised vp Jesus, whom ye slewe, and hanged on tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Sauiour, for to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiuenes of sinnes.

32 And wee are recordes of these things which wee saye, and so is also the holy ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 When they heard that, they clane asunder, and sought meanes to slay them.

34 Then stode there vp one in the counsell, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctour of lawe, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a litle space, 35 And said vnto them, Ye men of Israel, take heede to your selues, what ye intend to doe as touching these men.

36 For before these dayes rose vp one Theudas, reporting himselfe to be some great man, to whome a number of men, about a foure hundred, ioyned themselues:

a God at the first publishing of his Gospel, wrought wonders by these thinges that seemed trifles to the world, which things, as they were done for a time, so nowe the like must not be looked for.

b By this speach they meane that they would charge them as guyltie of Christs blood that was shed.

selues: which was slaine, and they all which ‖ beleeued him were scattered abroade, and brought to nought.

‖ Or, agreed vnto.

37 After this man rose vp one Judas of Galilee, in the dayes of tribute, & drewe away much people after him: he also perished, and all, euen as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And nowe I say vnto you, refrayne your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell or this worke be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But and if it be of God, ye can not destroy it, least happly ye be found to striue against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the Apostles, & beaten them, they commaunded that they should not speake in the name of Iesu, and let them goe.

41 And they departed from the face of the counsell, reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42 And daily in the Temple, and in euery house, they ceased not to teache & preach Iesus Christ.

The vj. Chapter.

3 Seuen Deacons are ordeined in the Church. 11 Steuen is accused.

1 AND in those dayes, when the number of the disciples grewe, there arose a grudge among the Grecians against the Hebrues, because their widowes were despised in the daily ministerie.

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the disciples together, and said, It is not good that we should leaue the worde of God, and serue tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke ye out among you seuen men of honest report, and full of the holy Ghost, & wisedome, to whom we may commit this businesse.

4 But we will giue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministerie of the worde.

Actes 21.8.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: * and they chose Steuen, a man full of faith and of the holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicholas a conuert of Antioch.

6 These they set before the Apostles: and when they had prayed, they layde their handes on them.

7 And the worde of God encreased, and the number of the disciples multiplied in Hierusalem greatly, and a great company of the Priestes were obedient to the faith.

a Or, Colledge. For in the citie of Hierusalem there were erected many houses or scholes, wherein the youth of the Iewes and strangers were instructed: as nowe a dayes are vsed in our vniuersities.

8 And Steuen full of faith and power, did wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certaine of the a synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Steuen:

10 And they could not resist the wisedome and the spirite by the which he spake.

11 Then they priuily prepared men, which said, b We haue heard him speake blasphemous wordes against Moses, and against God.

b The wicked setteth foorth false witnesses, when they by reasoning can not preuaile against ỹ trueth: And thus malice seeketh false Christs, when the trueth fayleth her.

12 And they moued the people, and the elders, and the Scribes, and came vpon him, and caught him, and brought him to the counsell:

13 And brought foorth false witnesses, which sayde, This man ceaseth not to speake blasphemous wordes against this holy place, and the lawe.

14 For we heard him say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the ordinances which Moses gaue vs.

15 And all that sate in the counsell, looking stedfastly on him, sawe his face as it had bene the face of an angel.

The vij. Chapter.

2 Steuen maketh answere to his accusation, 51 rebuketh the hard necked Iewes, 58 and is stoned to death.

1 THen said the chiefe Priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, Ye men, brethren, and fathers, hearken: The God of glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And said vnto him, Get thee out of thy countrey, & from thy kinred, * and come vnto the land which I shall shewe thee. Gene.12.13.

4 Then came hee out of the lande of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he brought him into this land wherein ye nowe dwell.

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no not the breadth of a foote: and promised that he would giue it to him to possesse, and to his seede after him, when as yet he had no childe:

6 God verily spake on this wise, that his seede should sojourne in a straunge lande, and that they should keepe it in bondage, and entreate them euill foure hundred a yeres.

a This is not to be vnderstand, that they should be euill intreated the whole foure hundred yeres: but by exceſſe of speach, called Hyperbole, is signified that they should be euill intreated within ỹ space of foure hundred yeeres.

7 And the nation to whome they shall be in bondage, will I iudge, said God: And after that shall they come forth, and serue me in this place.

8 * And he gaue him the couenant of circumcision: * and so Abraham begate Isahac, & circumcised him the eight day: * and Isahac begate Jacob, * and Jacob begate the twelue patriarkes.

9 * And the patriarkes moued with enuie, solde Joseph into Egypt: and God was with him,

10 And deliuered him out of all his aduersities, * and gaue him fauour and wisedome in the sight of Pharao king of Egypt: and he made him gouernour ouer Egypt, and ouer all his housholde.

11 But there came a dearth ouer all ỹ land of Egypt & Chanaan, and great affliction, that our fathers found no sustenance.

12 * But whe Jacob heard that there was corne in Egypt, he sent our fathers first.

13 *And

13 * And at the seconde time Joseph was knowen of his brethren, & Josephs kinred was made knowen vnto Pharao.
14 Then sent Joseph, and caused his father Jacob to be brought, & all his kinne, thre score and fiftene soules.

16 * And were carped ouer into Sichem, and layd in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for [b] money of the sonnes of Emmor, the sonne of Sichem.
b Here appeareth an errour. For Abraham seemeth to be put in the text in the steade of Iacob. For Iacob bought the sepulchre of Emmor, and not Abraham, who bought before a fielde of Ephron.
17 But when the time of ꝑ promise drewe nigh, which God had swoorne to Abraham, the people grewe and multiplied in Egypt:
18 Till another king arose, which knewe not of Joseph.
19 The same dealt subtilly with our kinrede, and euil entreated our fathers, and made them cast out their yong children, that they should not remaine alyue.

20 *The same time was Moses borne, and was acceptable vnto God, & nourished vp in his fathers house thre monethes:
21 And when he was cast out, Pharaos daughter tooke him vp, and nourished him for her owne sonne.
22 And Moses was learned in all maner of wisedome of the Egyptians, and was mighte in dedes and in wordes.
23 And when he was full fourtie yeres olde, it came into his heart to visite his brethren the children of Israel.
Exod.2.11.
24 * And when he sawe one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and auenged his quarel that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian:
25 For he supposed his brethren woulde haue vnderstand, howe that God by his hand should deliuer them: but they vnderstoode not.
Exod.20.13.
26 * And the nexte day he shewed himselfe vnto them as they stroue, and woulde haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren, why doe ye wrong one to another?
27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a Judge ouer vs?
28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday?
29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.
Exod.3.2.
30 * And when fourtie yeres were expired, there appeared to him [c] in the wildernesse of mount Sina, an Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bramble bush.
c That is to say, Moses.
31 When Moses sawe it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew nere to behold, the voyce of the Lord came vnto him, 32 Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not beholde.
33 Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feete: for the place where thou standest, is holy ground.
34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groning, and am come downe to deliuer them: And now come, and I will send thee into Egypt.
35 This Moses whom they forsooke, saying, Who made thee a ruler & a Judge? the same did God sende to be a ruler and a deliuerer, by the handes of the Angell which appeared to him in the bramble bush.
36 * He brought them out, after that hee had shewed wonders and signes in Egypt, and in the red sea,* and in the wilderneste fourtie yeres.

d God tooke their offerings to be abominable, & vtterly none at all: partly for that they offered with a dissembling heart & a wicked life, and partly because they mingled together the seruice deuised by man with the true seruice of God.
43 Yea, ye tooke vnto you the tabernacle of Moloch, and the starre of your god Remphan, figures which ye made, to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

Actes 17.24.
44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of witnesse in the wildernes, as he had appointed, speaking vnto Moses, that he should * make it according to the fashion that he had seene:
e Here is reprooued the grosse dulnesse of the people, who vaynely fantasied that Gods power was conteined within the temple, which is the place of my rest, not the house built with mens hands, but an humble and a quiet spirite, which trembleth at my holy worde.
45 Which also our fathers that came after, brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God draue out before the face of our fathers, vnto the dayes of Dauid, 46 Which found fauour before God, and would fayne haue found a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.
47 *But Solomon built him an house.
48 * Howbeit, hee that is highest of all, dwelleth not in temples made [e] handes, as sayth the Prophet, 49 Heauen is my seate, and earth is my footestoole: What house will ye builde me, saith the Lord? Or which is the place of my rest?
50 Hath not my hande made all these things?
51 Ye

51 Ye stiffenecked and of vncircumcised heartes & eares, ye do alwayes resist the holy Ghost, as your fathers did, so do ye.
52 Which of the Prophets haue not your fathers persecuted? And they haue slaine them which shewed before of the comming of the Iust, of whome ye haue bene now the betrayers and murderers:
53 Which also haue receiued the lawe by the disposition of Angels, and haue not kept it.
54 When they heard these thinges, their heartes claue asunder, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.
55 But hee being full of the holy Ghost, looked vp stedfastly into heauen, and sawe the glorie of God, and Iesus standing on the right hand of God, 56 And said, Beholde, I see the heauens open, and the Sonne of man standing on the right hand of God.
57 Then they gaue a shoute with a loude voyce, and stopped their eares, and ran vpon him all at once,
58 And cast him out of the citie, and stoned him: and the witnesses layde downe their clothes at a young mans feete, whose name was Saul.
59 And they stoned Steuen, calling on, and saying, Lord Iesu, receiue my spirit.
60 And he kneeled downe, and cried with a loude voyce, Lord, lay not this sinne to their charge. And when he had thus spoken, he fell a sleepe.

The Epistle on Steuens day.

Hee prayed for himselfe standing, but praying for his enemies he kneeled downe, meaning thereby, first that in great iniurie required greater and a more feruent prayer: secondly he declareth almighty charitie, praying so earnestly for his enemies.

The viij. Chapter.

4 The Apostles are scattered abroade. 38 Philip baptiseth the Eunuch.

1 AND Saul was consenting vnto his death: and at that time there was a great persecution against the Church which was at Hierusalem, and they were all scattered abroade throwout the regions of Iurie, and Samaria, except the Apostles.
2 And deuoute men caried Steuen together to his buriall, and made great lamentation ouer him.
3 As for Saul, hee made hauocke of the Church, entring into euery house, and drawing out both men and women, did put them into prison.
4 Therefore they that were scattered abroade, went euery where preaching the word of God.
5 Then came Philip into the citie of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto them.
6 And the people gaue heede vnto those things which Philip spake, with one accorde, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.
7 For vncleane spirits, crying with loude voyce, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, & many that halted, were healed.
8 And there was great ioy in that citie.
9 But there was a certaine man called Simon, which before time in the same citie vsed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying that he was a man that could do great things:
10 To whome they all gaue heede, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.
11 And him they set much by, because that of long time hee had bewitched them with sorceries.
12 But when they beleeued Philips preaching of the kingdome of God, and of the name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.
13 Then Simon him selfe beleeued also:
and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, & wondred, beholding the miracles and signes which were done.
14 When the Apostles which were at Hierusalem, heard say that Samaria had receiued the word of God, they sent vnto them Peter and John.
15 Which when they were come downe, prayed for them that they might receiue the holy Ghost.
16 (For as yet he was come downe vpon none of them: but they were baptized
[a] onely in the name of Christ Iesu.)
17 Then layed they their handes on them, and they receiued the holy Ghost.
18 And when Simon sawe that through laying on of the Apostles hands, the holy Ghost was giuē, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Giue mee also this power, that on whomsoeuer I put the handes, he may receiue the holy Ghost.
20 But Peter saide vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be obteyned with money.
21 Thou hast neither part nor fellowship in this businesse: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.
22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednes, & pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiuen thee.
23 For I perceiue that thou art [b] in the gall of bitternesse, and in the bonde of [c] iniquitie.
24 Then answered Simon, and saide, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye haue spoken, fall on me.
25 And they, when they had testified and preached the worde of the Lord, returned towarde Hierusalem, and preached the Gospell in many villages of the Samaritanes.
26 And the Angel of the Lorde spake vnto
Philip, saying, Arise, and goe towarde the South, vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem, vnto Gaza, which is desert.
27 And hee arose, and went on: and be-holde, a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuch, and of great authoritie with Candace, Queene of the Ethiopians, and had the rule of all her treasure, which came to Hierusalem for to worship.
28 And as he returned home againe, sitting in his charet, hee read Esaias the Prophet.
29 Then the spirit said vnto Philip, Come neere, and ioyne thy selfe to this charet.

The Epistle on the Tuesday in Whitsun weeke.

a They that were baptized onely in the Name of Christ, no doubt had receiued the holy Ghost sufficiently touching their saluation: but for further confirmation of Christes religion, now newly set foorth, the manifest and vnwont giftes of the holy Ghost appeared among the Christians, by laying on of the handes of the Apostles.
b Thou art filled with melancholy & enuie. Thou wouldest haue doings with the highest, otherwise thou canst not be quiet.
c Through the desire of money and colourable couetousnesse. Take heede ye symoniakes, that onely for liuing enter into the ministerie.

30 And

30 And Philip ranne thither to him, and hearde him reade the Prophet Esaias, and said, Vnderstandest thou what thou readest?
31 And he saide, How can I, except some man shoulde guide mee? And he desired Philip that he would come vp, and sit with him.
32 The tenor of the Scripture which hee read, was this, * He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter, and like a lambe dumbe before the shearer: so opened not he his mouth.
33 In his humilitie, his iudgement is exalted: but who shall declare his generation? For his life is taken from the earth.
34 And the Eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the Prophet this? of himselfe, or of some other man?
35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preаched vnto him Iesus.
36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water: and the Eunuch saide, See, here is water, what doeth let me to be baptized?
37 Philip said vnto him, If thou beleeuest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered, and said, I beleeue that Jesus Christ is the Sonne of God.
38 And hee commaunded the charret to stande still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip, and also the Eunuch, and he baptized him.
39 And as soone as they were come out of the water, the spirite of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuch sawe him no more: and he went on his way reioycing.
40 But Philip was founde at Azotus:
and he walked throwout the countrey, preaching in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

The ix. Chapter.

3 The conuersion of Saul. 34 Peter healeth Eneas, 40 and raiseth vp Tabitha.

The Epistle on the conuersion of S. Paul. Rom. 9. 3.

1 AND Saul yet breathing out threatnings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lorde, went vnto the high Priest,
2 And desired of him letters to carrie to Damascus, to the Synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, hee might bring them bounde vnto Hierusalem.
3 And when hee iourneyed, it came to passe, that as he was come nigh to Damascus, suddenly there shined rounde about him a light from heauen.
4 And hee fell to the earth, and heard a voyce, saying vnto him, * Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?
5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whome thou persecutest: It is hard for thee to kicke against the pricks.
6 And hee both trembling and astonied, saide, Lorde, what wilt thou haue me to doe? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and goe into the citie, and it shalbe tolde thee what thou must doe.
7 The men also which iourneyed with him, stoode amazed, b hearing a voyce, but seeing no man.
8 And Saul arose from the earth, and when his eyes were opened, he sawe no man: but they led him by the hande, and brought him into Damascus.
9 And he was three dayes without sight, and neither did eate nor drinke.
10 And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus, named Ananias: and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Beholde, I am here, Lord.
11 And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and goe into the streete, which is called Straight, and seeke in the house of Iudas, after one called Saul, of Tarsus: for beholde, he prayeth,
12 And hath seene in a vision, a man named Ananias, comming in to him, and putting his hands on him, that he might receiue his sight.
13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, howe much euil he hath done to thy Saintes at Hierusalem:
14 And here he hath authoritie of the high Priestes, to binde all that call on thy Name.
15 The Lord said vnto him, Goe thy way:
for he is a chosen vessell vnto me, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel:
16 For I wil shew him how great things he must suffer for my names sake.
17 And Ananias went his way, and en-tred into the house, and put his handes on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent mee, that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.
18 And immediatly there fell frō his eyes as it had bene scales, & he receiued sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized, 19 And when hee had receiued meate, hee was comforted. Then was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.
20 And straightway hee preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Sonne of God.
21 But all that heard him, were amazed, and saide, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this Name in Hierusalem, and came hither for that intent, that hee might bring them bounde vnto
the high Priestes?
22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, proouing by conferring one Scripture with another, that this is very Christ.
23 And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsell together to kill him.
24 But their laying awaite was knowen of Saul: * and they watched the gates a Saul breathed and blustred with rage and cruelty against Christes Church, which declareth whereunto man is led by his rash zeale, before he hath the true knowledge of God.

b No maruell though weake and corrupti-ble flesh was amazed at heauenly things, and at the talke of God, where-by it came to passe, that they heard a voyce, as here is writ-ten, and heard no voyce, as is written in the 22. Chapter. For they heard a voyce, and vn-derstoode it not.

day and night to kill him.
25 Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him downe by the wall, and let him downe in a basket.
26 And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, he assayed to couple him selfe to the disciples, but they were all afrayde of him, and beleeued not that he was a disciple.
27 But Barnabas tooke him, & brought him to the Apostles, and declared vnto them how he had seene the Lorde in the way, and that he had spoke to him, and howe he had preached boldely at Damascus in the name of Iesus.
28 And he was with them comming in, and going out at Hierusalem, 29 Speaking boldely in the name of the Lorde Iesus, and he spake and disputed against the Greekes: but they went about to slay him.
30 Which when the brethren knewe, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.
31 Then had the Churches rest throughout all Iurie, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.
32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he came also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.
33 And there he founde a certaine man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eyght yeeres, and was sicke of ye palsie.
34 And Peter sayde vnto him, Eneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bedde. And he arose immediately.
35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron, sawe him, which turned to the Lord.
36 There was also at Ioppa a certaine woman, a disciple, named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called c Dorcas: the same was full of good workes, and almes deedes, which she did.
37 And it came to passe in those dayes that she was sicke, and dyed: whome when they had washed, they layd her in an vpper chamber.
38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring him that he would not be grieued to come to them.
39 Then Peter arose, and came with them: when he was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber: And all the widowes stoode round about him weeping, and shewing the coates and garments which Dorcas made while she was with them.
40 And Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the body, and sayde, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she sawe Peter, she sate vp.
41 And Peter gaue her the hande, and lift her vp: and when he had called the Saintes and widowes, he deliuered her aliue.
42 And it was knowen throughout all Ioppa, and many beleeued in the Lord.
43 And it came to passe, that he tarved many dayes in Ioppa, with one Simō a Tanner.

c Tabitha is called Dorcas. Dorcas signifieth a Roe bucke, a beast of sharpe sight. Such an one was Tabitha, to this effect, that she being on earth farre from heauen, did behold heauenly things, and drewe nere vnto heauen with godly workes.

The x. Chapter.

11 The vision that Peter sawe. 17 He was sent to Cornelius.

1 THere was a certaine man in Cesarea, called Cornelius, a captaine of the bande, called the Italian bande,
2 A deuout man, and one that feared God with all his houshold, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God alway.
3 The same sawe by a vision euidently, about the ninth houre of the day, an angell of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.
4 And when he looked on him, he was afrayde, and sayde, What is it, Lorde? And he sayde vnto him, Thy a prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.
5 And nowe sende men to Ioppa, and call for one Simon, whose syname is Peter.
6 He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the sea side: he shall tel thee what thou oughtest to doe.
7 And when the Angell which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his houshold seruants, and a deuoute souldier of them that wayted on him,
8 And tolde them all the matter, and sent them to Ioppa.
9 On the morowe as they went on their iourney, and drewe nigh vnto the citie, Peter went vp into the highest part of the house to pray, about the sixth houre.
10 And whē he wared hungry, he would haue eaten: But while they made redy, he fell into a trauice, 11 And he seeth b heauen opened, & a certaine vessell come downe vnto him, as it had bene a great sheete, knitte at ꝑ foure corners, and let downe to the earth:
12 Wherein were all maner of foure footed beastes of the earth, and wilde beastes, and such as creepe, and foules of the ayre.
13 And there came a voyce to him, Rise, Peter: kill, and eate.
14 But Peter sayde, Not so, Lorde: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is common or vncleane.
15 And the voyce spake vnto him againe the seconde time, What God hath cleansed, that ‖ call not thou common.
16 This was done thrise: and the vessell was receiued vp againe into heauen.
17 Nowe while Peter doubted in himselfe what this vision which he had seene a The prayers and almes of Cornelius pleased God before he was baptized: but without faith God can not be pleased. Cornelius therefore (as Bede truely noteth) had faith, whereby his prayers and almes pleased God. For (saith he) he came not to faith through works, but to workes through faith.

b This vision doeth teach manifolde mysteryes. First, that ỹ restraint of meates made vnto the Iewes, is taken away, and bindeth not the Christians: For nowe to the cleane, all meates are cleane. Secondly, the graces and giftes of God are common also to the heathen, who before this time were excluded: which thing is signified by the foure cornerd sheete, which signifieth the foure coastes of the worlde.

Nowe heauen is open to all that is inclosed in the sheete, which is ỹ holy congregation of God. ‖ Or, do not thou pollute.

shoulde meane: beholde, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had made enquirance for Simons house, and stoode before the doore, 18 And called, and asked whether Simō, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 While Peter thought on the vision, the spirit said vnto him, Beholde, three men seeke thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, doubting nothing: for I haue sent them.

21 Then Peter went downe to the men which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and said, Beholde, I am he, whō ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the captaine, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the people of the Iewes, was warned by an holy Angell, to sende for thee into his house, and to heare wordes of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them: And on the morowe Peter went away with them, and certaine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

24 And the thirde day after, entred they into Cesarea: and Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsemen and speciall friendes.

25 And it came to passe as Peter came in, Cornelius met him, and fell downe e at his feete, and worshipped him.

e Cornelius did reuerence Peter more then he ought to haue done, supposing him either to be a God, either to be indued with such power and vertue, for the which he should be honored as God.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stande vp, I my selfe also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, and findeth many that were come together.

28 And he said vnto them, Ye know how that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Iew, to companie or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed me, that I shoulde not call any man common or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without delay, assoone as I was sent for: I aske therefore for what intent ye haue sent for me?

30 And Cornelius saide, Foure dayes agoe vntil this houre I was fasting, and at ꝑ ninth houre I prayed in my house, and beholde, a man stoode before me in bright clothing, 31 And sayde, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes deedes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Sende therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter, he is lodged in the house of one Simon a Tanner, by the sea side, who when hee commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

The Epistle on Munday in Whitsun weeke. Deut. 10. 17. rom. 2. 11. 1. pet. 1. 17. luke 4. 14.

33 Then sent I for thee immediately, and thou hast well done that thou art come. Nowe therefore are we all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded vnto thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and sayde, * Of a trueth I perceiue that God hath no regard of persons:

35 But in euery nation, he that feareth him, and worketh righteousnesse, is accepted with him.

36 Touching the worde which God sent vnto ꝑ children of Israel, preaching peace by Iesus Christ (he is Lord ouer all.)

37 Ye knowe howe the worde was published throughout all Iurie, beginning in Galilee, after the baptisme which Iohn preached:

38 Howe God anointed Iesus of Nazareth with the holy Ghost, & with power, who went about doing good, & healing all that were oppressed of the deuil: for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all thinges which he did in the lande of the Iewes, and at Hierusalem, whome they slewe, when they had hanged him on a tree.

40 Him God raised vp the third day, and shewed him openly,

41 Not to all the people, but vnto vs witnesses, chosen before of God, euen to vs which did eate and drinke with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And he commanded vs to preach vnto the people, and to testifie that it is he which was ordeined of God to be the Iudge of quicke and dead.

43 * To him giue all the Prophets witnesse, that through his name whosoeuer beleeueth in him, shall receiue remission of sinnes. Actes 15. 9. ieremi. 31. 34. micheæ. 7. 11.

44 While Peter yet spake these wordes, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the worde.

45 And they of the circumcision which beleeued, were astonyed, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was powred out the gift of the holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which haue receiued the holy Ghost as well as we?

48 And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lorde. Then prayed they him to tary certaine dayes.

The xj. Chapter.

22 Barnabas and Paul preach at Antiochia. 28 Agabus prophecieth dearth to come.

1 AND the Apostles and brethren that were in Iurie, heard that the Gentiles had also receiued the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Hierusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncircumcised, and diddest eate with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order vnto them, saying,

5 I was in the citie of Ioppa praying, & in a traunce I sawe a vision, a certaine vessel descend, as it had bene a great sheet, let downe from heauē by foure corners,

and

and it came euen vntill me.
6 Vpon the which when I had faſtened mine eies, I conſidered, and ſawe foure footed beaſtes of the earth, and wilde beaſtes, and ſuch as creepe, and foules of the aire.
7 And I heard a voyce, ſaying vnto me, Ariſe Peter, ſlay, and eate.
8 But I ſaid, Not ſo, Lorde: for nothing common or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.
9 But the voyce anſwered mee againe from heauen, Doe not thou make them [a] common which God hath cleanſed.
10 And this was done three times: and all were taken vp againe into heauen.
11 And beholde, immediatly there were three men already come vnto the houſe where I was, ſent from Ceſarea vnto me.
12 And the ſpirite ſaide vnto me, that I ſhould go with them, nothing doubting: Moreouer, theſe ſixe brethren accompanied me, and we entred into the mans houſe:
13 And he ſhewed vs how he had ſeene an Angel in his houſe, which ſtood and ſaid vnto him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whoſe ſyrname is Peter:
14 He ſhall tell thee woordes, whereby both thou, and all thy houſe ſhalbe ſaued.
15 And as I began to ſpeake, the holy Ghoſt fell on them, * as he did on vs at the beginning.
16 Then remembred I the woorde of the Lorde, how that he ſaid, * Iohn baptized with water: but ye ſhalbe baptized with [b] the holy Ghoſt.
17 Foraſmuch then as God gaue them the like gift as he did vnto vs when we beleeued on the Lord Ieſus Chriſt: what was I that I ſhoulde haue withſtand God?
18 When they heard theſe things, they held their peace, and glorified God, ſaying, Then hath God alſo to the Gentiles graunted repentance vnto life.
19 * They alſo which were ſcattered abroade through the affliction that aroſe about Steuen, walked thorowout vnto Phenice, & Cypres, and Antioche, preaching the woorde to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.
20 And ſome of them were men of Cypres & Cyrene, which when they were come to Antioche, ſpake vnto the Greekes, and preached the Lord Ieſus.
21 And the hand of the Lorde was with them: and a great number beleeued, and turned vnto the Lord.
22 Then tidings of theſe things came vnto the eares of the Church which was in Hieruſalem: and they ſent forth Barnabas, that he ſhould go vnto Antioche.
23 Which when hee came, and had ſeene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpoſe of heart they would cleaue vnto the Lord.
24 For he was a good man, and ful of the holy Ghoſt, & of faith: and much people was added vnto the Lord.
25 Then departed Barnabas to Tharſus, for to ſeeke Saul.
26 And when hee had founde him, hee brought him vnto Antioche. And it came to paſſe, that a whole yeere they had their converſation with the Church there, & taught much people: inſomuch that the diſciples of Antioche were the [c] firſt that were called Chriſtians.
27 And in thoſe dayes came prophetes from Hieruſalem vnto Antioche.
28 And there ſtoode vp one of them, named Agabus, and ſignified by the [d] ſpirit, that there ſhould be great dearth throrowout all the worlde: which came to paſſe in the dayes of Claudius Ceſar.
29 Then the diſciples, euery man accoording to his habilitie, purpoſed to ſende ſuccour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iurie.
30 Which thing they alſo did, and ſent it to the elders, by the handes of Barnabas and Saul.

1 AT the ſame time Herod the king ſtretched forth his handes to vexe certaine of the Church.

3 And becauſe he ſaw it pleaſed the Iewes, he proceeded further, and tooke Peter alſo. (Then were the dayes of ſweete bread.)
4 And when he had caught him, hee put him in priſon alſo, and delinered him to foure [a] quaternions of ſouldiers to bee kept, intending after Eaſter to bring him forth to the people.
5 And Peter was kept in priſon, but praier was made without ceaſing of the Church vnto God for him.
6 And when Herod would haue brought him forth vnto the people, the ſame night Peter was ſleeping betweene two ſouldiers bounde with two chaines, and the keepers before the doore kept the priſon.
7 And behold, the Angel of the Lord was there preſent, and a light ſhined in the priſon: and he ſmote Peter on the ſide, & ſtirred him vp, ſaying, Ariſe vp quickly. And his chaines fell off from his handes.
8 And the Angel ſaid vnto him, Gird thy ſelfe, and binde on thy Sandales. And ſo he did. And hee ſaith vnto him, Caſt thy garment about thee, and folow me.
9 And Peter came out, and followed him, and wiſt not that it was trueth which was done by the Angel: but thought he had ſeene a viſion.

11 And when Peter was come to himselfe, he said, Nowe I know of a suertie that the Lorde hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hand of Herode, and from all the wayting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as hee considered the thing, hee came to the house of Mary the mother of Iohn, whose syrname was Marke, where many were gathered together in prayer.

13 As Peter knocked at the entrie dooze, a Damosel came forth to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when shee knewe Peters voyce, she opened not the dooze for gladnesse, but ran in, and tolde howe Peter stoode before the dooze.

15 And they said vnto her, Thou art mad. But shee affirmed that it was euen so. Then said they, It is his [b] angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the dooze, and sawe him, they were astoned.

17 And when he had beckened vnto them with the hand, that they might holde their peace, he tolde thē by what meanes the Lord had brought him out of the prison: And he said, Goe shew these things vnto Iames, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

Of Sergius Paulus, and Elymas the sorcerer. 26 The Iewes are reiected.

1 THere * was also in the Church that was at Antioche, certaine prophets, and teachers: as Barnabas, and Simon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen, which had bene nourished vp with Herode the Tetrarche, and Saul.

2 As they ministred to the [a] Lord, and fasted, the holy Ghost saide, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue called them.

3 And when they had fasted and prayed, and laide their hands on them, they let them go.

4 And they, after they were sent forth of the holy Ghost, departed vnto Seleucia, and from thence they sayled to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamine, they preached the worde of God in the synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also Iohn to their minister.

6 And when they had gone thorowe the Ile vnto Paphos, they found a certaine sorcerer, a false prophet, a Iewe, whose name was Barieſu:

7 Which was with the deputie of the countrey, one Sergius Paulus, a prudent man: the same when he had called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, desired to heare the word of God.

8 But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstoode them, seeking to turne the deputie away from the faith.

9 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) being full of the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And saide, O full of all subtiltie and all mischiefe, thou childe of the deuill, thou enemie of al righteousnesse, wilt thou not ceasse to peruert the right wayes of the Lord?

11 And now beholde, the hand of the Lord is vpon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sunne for a season. And immediatly there fell on him a mist & darkenesse, and hee went about, seeking them that should leade him by the hand.

12 Then the deputie, when he sawe what was done, beleeued, and wondered at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when they that were with Paul, were departed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and Iohn, when he departed from them, returned to Hierusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioche in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the Sabboth day, and sate downe.

15 And after the reading of the lawe and the Prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye haue any worde to exhort the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stoode vp, and when hee had beckened with the hand for silence, saide, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, giue audience.

17 The God of the people of Israel, chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the * land of Egypt, & with an high * arme brought he them

42 And when they were gone out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles besought that these wordes might be preached to them the next Sabboth.

43 Nowe when the congregation was broken vp, many of the Iewes, & deuout Proselytes followed Paul & Barnabas, which speaking to them, exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next Sabboth day came almost the whole citie together to heare the worde of God.

45 But when the Iewes sawe the people, they were full of indignation, and spake against those things which were spoken of Paul, speaking against, and railing.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bolde, and sayde, It was necessarie that the worde of God should first haue bene spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and thinke your selues vnworthie of euerlasting life, lo, we turne to the Gentiles.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 God giueth successe to his worde. 19 Paul is stoned.

1 AND it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, & so spake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes, and also of the Grekes beleeued.

2 But the vnbeleeuing Iewes stirred vp, and corrupted the myndes of the Gentiles against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they there, speaking boldly with the helpe of the Lorde, which gaue testimonie vnto the worde of his grace, and graunted signes and wōders to be done by their hands.

a As it is a cursed vnitie the which doth separate vs from God, so it is better an hundred times that a fewe depart from all the world, and to be at vnitie with God, then being at variance with him, to be in peace with the world. b The persecution of the Gospel, is an occasion oftentimes of further aduancement of the Gospel.

4 But the multitude of the citie [a] was deuided: and part held with the Iewes, and part with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Iewes, with their rulers, to doe them violence, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra & Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region that lyeth round about.

7 And there were they preaching the [b] Gospell.

8 And there sate a certaine man at Lystra, weake in his feete, being a creeple from his mothers wombe, and neuer had walked.

9 The same heard Paul speake: which beholding him, and perceiuing that he had faith to be whole, 10 Saide with a loude voyce, Stande vpright on thy feete: And he start vp, and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lift vp their voyces, saying in the speach of Lycaonia, The gods are come downe to vs in the likenesse of men.

12 And they called Barnabas Iupiter, and Paul Mercurius, because he was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then Iupiters Priest, which was before their citie, brought Oxen, and garlandes vnto the doore, and would haue done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying, 15 And saying, Sirs, why doe ye these things? We also are mortall men like vnto you, and preach vnto you the Gospell, that ye should turne from these vanities, vnto the liuing God, * which made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein.

17 Neuertheless, he left not him selfe without witnesse, in that he shewed his benefites frō heauen, in giuing vs raine, and fruitefull seasons, filling our hearts with foode and gladnesse.

18 And with these sayings scarse refrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice vnto them.

19 Then thither came certaine Iewes from Antioch and Iconium, which when they had perswaded the [c] people, * and had stoned Paul, drewe him out of the citie, supposing he had bene dead.

c They that a litle before would haue worshipped Paul as God, nowe they are content that he should be stoned as a wicked man: such inconstancie is in the ignorant multitude. 2.Cor.11.22.

20 Howbeit, when the disciples stoode rounde about him, he rose vp, and came into the citie, and the next day he departed, with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the Gospell to that citie, and had taught many, they returned againe to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioche, 22 And strengthened the disciples soules againe, and exhorted them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdome of God.

23 And when they had ordeined them Elders by election in euery Church, and had prayed with [d] fasting, they commēded them to the Lorde, on whome they beleeued.

d Here we learne, that whensoeuer we goe about any waighie matter, we ought with abstinence prepare our minds vnto prayer, that it may be the more earnest.

24 And when they had gone throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had spoken the worde of God in Perga, they descended into Attalia, 26 And thence departed by shippe to Antioche, from whence they were committed vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Church together, they rehearsed al that God had done with thē, and howe he had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

3 And after they were brought on their way by the Church, they passed thorow Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conuersation of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Hierusalē, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apostles, and Elders, and they declared all thyngs that God had done with them.

5 Then

5 Then rose vp certaine of the sect of the Pharisees which did beleeue, saying, that it was needefull to circumcise them, and to commande to keepe the lawe of Moses.

7 And when there had bene much disputing, Peter rose vp, and said vnto them, *Ye men and brethren, ye knowe howe that a good while agoe, God did choose among vs, that the Gentiles by my mouth shoulde heare the worde of the Gospel, and beleeue.

8 And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witnesse, and gaue vnto them the holy Ghost, euen as he did vnto vs:

*Actes 10.43. 1.cor.1.1. matth 23.4.

9 * And put no difference betweene vs and them, purifying their heartes by faith.

10 Nowe therefore why tempt ye God, to put on the disciples neckes the a yoke, which neither our fathers nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleeue that through the grace of the Lorde Jesus Christ, we shalbe saued, euen as they.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, which tolde what signes & wonders God had shewed among the Gentiles by them.

13 And whē they held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 Simeon tolde howe God at the beginning did visite, to receiue of the Gentiles a people in his name.

15 And to this agree the wordes of the Prophets, as it is written,

16 *After this I will returne, and will builde againe the b tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe: and that which is fallen in decay of it, will I builde againe, and I will set it vp:

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lorde, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my name is called, saieth þ Lord, which doeth all these things.

18 Knowen vnto God are all his workes from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that wee trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that wee write vnto them, that they abstaine themselues from filthinesse of idoles, and from fornication, and from strangled, and from blood.

21 For Moses of olde time hath in euery citie them that preach him in the Synagogues, when hee is read euery Sabboth day.

22 Then pleased it the Apostles and Elders, with the whole Church, to sende chosen men of their owne company to Antioche, with Paul and Barnabas: That is, Judas, whose surname was Barsabas, & Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this maner, The Apostles, and Elders, and brethren, sende greeting vnto þ brethren, which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, Syria, and Cilicia.

24 For as much as wee haue heard that certaine which departed from vs, haue troubled you with wordes, and cumbred your mindes, saying, Ye muste be circumcised, and keepe the lawe, to whom we gaue no such commandement:

25 It seemed therefore to vs a good thing, when we were come together with one accord, to sende chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue ieoparded their liues for the name of our Lorde Jesus Christ.

27 We haue sent therefore Judas and Silas, which shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost and to vs, to lay vpon you no greater burden then these necessary things.

29 That is to say, That ye abstaine from things offred to idoles, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keepe your selues, ye shall doe well. So fare ye well.

30 Nowe therefore, when they were departed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they deliuered the Epistle.

31 Which when they had read, they reioyced of the consolation.

32 And Judas & Silas, being Prophets also themselues, exhorted the brethren with many wordes, and strengthened them:

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with other many also.

36 But after a certaine space, Paul saide vnto Barnabas, Let vs goe againe and visite our brethren in euery citie where we haue vttered the worde of the Lorde, and knowe and see how they doe.

37 And Barnabas gaue counsell to take with them John, whose surname was Marke.

38 But Paul woulde not take him vnto their companie, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 And c the contention was so sharpe betweene them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas tooke Marke, & sailed vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being committed of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And he went throwe Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

a Hee meaneth the holy lawe, and not the ceremonies onely, and calleth it a yoke not able to bee borne, because no man, not the most holiest and perfectest that euer was (Christ onely excepted) was able to performe the same in all points, both outwardly according to the letter, and inwardly according to the spirite.

b The Prophet in this place, prophecied of Christes comming in the flesh, which shoulde build againe the tabernacle of Dauid, which figured Gods Church, but then vtterly defaced and brought to ruine, by the Pharisaicall and Iewish superstitions.

c God suffereth the most perfect to fall, and yet turneth their infirmities to the setting forth of his glorie, as this breache of companie, caused the Gospel to be preached in moe places.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Paul circumciseth Timothie. 7 The spirite calleth them from one countrey to another. 14 Lydia is conuerted.

1 Then came he to Derbe, and to Lyſtra: and beholde, a certaine diſciple was there, named * Timotheus, a

2 Which was well reported of the brethren that were at Lyſtra and Iconium.
3 Paul woulde that he ſhoulde goe forth with him, & tooke and circumciſed him, becauſe of þ Iewes which were in thoſe quarters: for they knewe all that his father was a Greeke.
4 And as they went thorough the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that were *ordeined of þ Apoſtles and Elders which were at Hieruſalem.
Actes 15.28.
5 And ſo were the Churches ſtabliſhed in the faith, and increaſed in number daily.
6 Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the holy Ghoſt to preach the word in Aſia, 7 They comming to Myſia, ſought to go into Bithynia: but þ ſpirit ſuffered them not.
8 And they paſſing thorowe Myſia, came downe to Troada.
9 And a viſion appeared to Paul in the night: There ſtoode a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, ſaying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.
10 And after hee had ſeene the viſion, immediatly we prepared to go into Macedonia, gathering by conference, that the Lorde had called vs for to preache the Goſpel vnto them.
11 Then wee being caried from Troada, came with a ſtraight courſe to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:
12 And from thence to Philippos, which is the chiefe citie in the parties of Macedonia, and a free citie: and wee were in that citie abiding certaine dayes.
13 And on the day of the Sabbothes wee went out of the citie, beſides a riuer, where prayer was wont to be made, and we ſate downe, and ſpake vnto the women which reſorted thither.
14 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a ſeller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worſhipped God, gaue vs audience: Whoſe heart the Lord opened, that ſhe attended vnto the thinges which were ſpoken of Paul.
15 And when ſhe was baptized, and her houſhold, ſhe beſought vs, ſaying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfull to þ Lord, come into my houſe, and abide there. And ſhe conſtrained vs.
16 And it came to paſſe, as we went to prayer, a certaine damoſel poſſeſſed with a ſpirit of [a] ſoothſaying, met vs: which brought her maſters much vantage with ſoothſaying.
17 The ſame followed Paul and vs, and cryed, ſaying, Theſe men are þ ſeruants of the moſt high God, which ſhewe vnto vs the way of ſaluation.
18 And this did ſhee many dayes: but Paul not content, turned about, & ſaide to the ſpirit, I command thee in þ name of Ieſu Chriſt, that thou come out of her. And he came out the ſame houre.
19 And when her maſters ſawe that the hope of their gaines was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drewe them into the market place, vnto the rulers,
20 And brought them to the officers, ſaying, Theſe men being Iewes, doe exceedingly trouble our citie:
21 And preach ordinances, which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obſerue, ſeeing we are Romanes.
22 And the people ranne againſt them, and the officers rent their clothes, and commanded *to beat them with roddes.
1.Cor.1.25.
23 And when they had laide many ſtripes vpon them, they caſt them into priſon, commanding the iaylour of the priſon to keepe them diligently.
1.theſ.2.2.
24 Which when hee had receiued ſuch commandement, thruſt them into the inner priſon, and made their feete faſt in the ſtockes.
25 And at midnight, Paul & Silas prayed and lauded God: and the priſoners heard them.
26 And ſuddenly there was a great earthquake, ſo that the foundation of the priſon was ſhaken: and immediatly all the doores opened, and euery mans bands were looſed.
27 When the keeper of the priſon waked out of his ſleepe, & ſaw the priſon doores open, he drew out his ſworde, and would haue killed himſelfe, ſuppoſing that the priſoners had bene fled.
28 But Paul cryed with a loude voyce, ſaying, Do thy ſelfe no harme, for we are all here.
29 Then hee called for a light, and ſprang in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and ſaid, Sirs, what muſt I doe to be ſaued?
31 And they ſaid, Beleeue on the Lord Ieſus Chriſt, and thou ſhalt be ſaued, and thy houſhold.
32 And they ſpake vnto him the worde of the Lorde, and to all that were in his houſe.
33 And hee tooke them the ſame houre of the night, and waſhed their woundes, and was baptized himſelfe, and all they of his houſhold ſtraightway.
34 And when hee had brought them into his houſe, he ſet meate before them, and reioyced that he with all his houſhold beleeued on God.
35 And when it was day, the officers ſent the ſergeantes, ſaying, Let thoſe men goe.
36 And the keeper of the priſon told this ſaying to Paul, The officers haue ſent worde to looſe you: Now therefore, get you hence, and go in peace.
37 Then ſaid Paul vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, being Romanes, and haue caſt vs into priſon,

[a] Which could tell of things paſt, and geſſe of things to come, which knowledge in many things, God permitteth to the deuil: to this ende (as Auſten noteth) that hee might more mightily deceiue thoſe that woulde beleeue him.

priſon, nowe doe they thruſt vs out priuily? Nay verily: but let them come themſelues, and fetch vs out.

38 And the ſergeants tolde theſe wordes vnto the officers: and they feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 And they came and beſought them, and brought them out, and deſired them to depart out of the citie.

40 And they went out of the priſon, and entred into the houſe of * Lydia, & when they had ſene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

Actes 16.14.

The xvij. Chapter.

Paul commeth to Theſſalonica, where the Iewes ſet the citie in an vprore.

1 AS they made their iourney thorowe Amphypolis, and Apollonia, they came to Theſſalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabboth dayes diſputed with them out of þ Scriptures,

3 Opening & alleaging, that Chriſt muſt needes haue ſuffered and riſen againe from the dead: and that this is Chriſt Ieſus which I preach vnto you.

4 And ſome of them beleeued, and ioyned with Paul & Silas, and of the deuoute Greekes a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a fewe.

5 But the Iewes which beleeued not, moued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine vagabonds, and euill men, and gathered a company, and ſet all the citie on a roze, and made aſſault vnto the houſe of Iaſon, and ſought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drewe Iaſon and certaine brethren vnto the heads of the citie, crying, Theſe that haue troubled the worlde, are come hither alſo,

7 Whom Iaſon hath receiued priuily: and theſe all doe contrary to the decrees of Caeſar, a ſaying that there is another king, one Ieſus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the officers of the citie, when they heard theſe things.

9 And when they had taken ſufficient ſuretie of Iaſon, and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediately ſent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea: which when they were come thither, they entred into the ſynagogue of the Iewes.

11 Theſe were the nobleſt of birth among them of Theſſalonica, which receiued the worde with all readineſſe of minde, and ſearched the ſcriptures daily, whether thoſe things were ſo.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued: alſo of honeſt women which were Greekes, and of men not a fewe.

13 But when the Iewes of Theſſalonica had knowledge that the worde of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither, and mooued the people.

14 And then immediately the brethren ſent away Paul, to goe as it were to the ſea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there ſtill.

15 And they that guided Paul, brought him vnto Athens, & receiued a commandement vnto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with ſpeede, and went their way.

16 While Paul waited for them at Athens, his ſpirite was mooued in him, when he ſawe the citie giuen to worſhipping of idoles.

17 Therefore diſputed he in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with the deuoute perſons, and in the market daily with them þ came vnto him by chance.

18 Then certaine philoſophers of the b Epicures, and of the c Stoikes, diſputed with him: and ſome ſaid, What will this babbler ſay? Other ſome, He ſeemeth to be a ſetter forth of newe gods: becauſe he preached vnto them Ieſus, and the reſurrection.

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into the ſtreete of Mars, ſaying, May we knowe what this newe doctrine where of thou ſpeakeſt, is?

20 For thou bringeſt certaine ſtrange things to our eares: we would knowe therefore what theſe things meane.

21 (For all the Athenians and ſtrangers which were there, had leaſure to nothing els, but either to tell or to heare ſome newe thing.)

22 Then Paul ſtoode in the middes of the ſtreete of Mars, and ſayd, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all thinges ye are too ſuperſtitious.

23 For as I paſſed by, & beheld the maner how ye worſhip your gods, I found an altar wherein was written, Vnto an vnknowen God. Whome ye then ignorantly worſhip, him ſhewe I vnto you.

24 *God that made the world, and all that are in it, ſeeing that he is Lord of heauen and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands:

b The Epicures were a ſect of learned men, which (being without the knowledge of God) helde opinion, ỹ there was no life or ioy after this life, but that all mans felicitie did conſiſt in the pleaſures of this world.

c The Stoikes were another kinde of learned men, which likewiſe wanting the knowledge of God, affirmed that mans whole felicitie and happines did conſiſt in the qualities and vertues of the minde.

32 And when they heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked: and other saide, We will heare thee againe of this matter.
33 So Paul departed from among them.
34 Howbeit certaine men claue vnto him, and beleeued: among the which was Dionys Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

The xviij. Chapter.

3 Paul preacheth at Corinth. 24 Of Apollos, 26 Aquila, and Priscilla.

1 AFter these thinges Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth,
2 And found a certaine Iewe named * Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie with his wife Priscilla, (because that Claudius had commaunded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and he came vnto them.
3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought (for by their occupation they were Tentmakers.)
4 And he disputed in the Synagoge euery Sabboth, and exhorted the Iewes, and the Grekes.
5 And when Silas & Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the spirite to testifie to the Iewes that Iesus was Christ.
6 And when they sayd contrarie, & blasphemed, * hee shooke his raiment, and sayd vnto them, Your blood be [a] vpon your owne heads: from henceforth will I goe blamelesse vnto the Gentiles.
7 And he departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house, named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the Synagogue.
8 * And one Crispus, the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleeued on the Lorde with all his houshold: and many of the Corinthians, hearing, beleeued, and were baptized.
9 Then spake the Lorde to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afrayde, but speake, and holde not thy peace.
10 For I am with thee, and no man shall inuade thee, to hurt thee: For I haue much people in this citie.
11 And he continued there a yeere and sixe moneths, teaching the worde of God among them.
12 And when Gallio was the deputie of Achaia, the Iewes made insurrection with one accorde against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seate, 13 Saying, This fellowe counselleth men to worship God contrarie to the lawe.
14 And when Paul nowe was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayde vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deede, O ye Iewes, reason would that I should beare with you:
15 But if it be a question of wordes and names, or of your lawe, looke ye to it your selues: for I wil be no iudge of such matters.
16 And hee draue them from the iudgement seate.
17 Then all the Grekes tooke Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and smote him before the iudgement seate: & Gallio cared for none of those things.
18 And Paul after this taried there yet a good while, and then tooke his leaue of the brethren, and sayled thence into Syria, (Aquila and Priscilla accompanying him.) And hee shaue his head in [b] Cenchrea: for he had a vowe.
19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but hee him selfe entred into the Synagogue, and reasoned with the Iewes.
20 When they desired him to tarie longer time with them, he consented not:
21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must needes at this feast that commeth, be in Hierusalem, but I will returne againe vnto you, * if God will: and he sailed from Ephesus.
22 And when he was come vnto Cesarea, and ascended vp, & saluted the Church, he went to Antioch.
23 And when he had taried there a while, he departed, and went ouer all the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.
24 * And a certaine Iewe, named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and mightie in the Scriptures.
25 The same was informed in the way of the Lord, and being feruent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lorde, knowing onely the baptisme of Iohn.
26 And the same begaune to speake boldly in the Synagogue: Whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and [c] expounded vnto him the way of God perfectly.
27 And when he was disposed to go into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receiue him: Which when he was come, helped them much which had beleeued through grace.
28 For he ouercame the Iewes mightily, and that openly, shewing by the Scriptures that Iesus was that Christ.

b Cenchrea is a hauen at Corinth, where Paul taking ship, did sheare his head, according to his vowe. For according to the lawe of Moses, they that vowed themselues to God, were commanded to suffer their heare to growe as long as they would continue Nazarites, and afterwarde to sheare it, and to burne it. This did Paul, not forgetting what he had before decreed with the Apostles, touching the abolishing of the lawe: but least the Iewes which beleeued should be offended, hee fained himselfe a Iew, to winne the Iewes, 1. heard whether there be any holy Ghoſt or no.

3 And he ſaide vnto them, Vnto what then were ye baptized? And they ſaide, Vnto [b] Iohns baptiſme.

4 Then ſaid Paul, Iohn verily baptized with the baptiſme of repentance, ſaying vnto the people, that they ſhould beleeue on him which ſhoulde come after him, that is, on Chriſt Ieſus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in [c] the name of the Lord Ieſus.

6 And when Paul had layde his handes vpon them, the holy Ghoſt came on them, and they ſpake with tongues, and prophecied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 And he went into the Synagogue, and ſpake boldly for the ſpace of three moneths, diſputing and perſwading thoſe things that appertaine to the kingdome of God.

9 But when diuers waxed hardhearted, and beleeued not, but ſpake euill of the way of the Lorde, and that before the multitude, hee departed from them, and ſeparated the diſciples: and he diſputed daily in the ſchoole of one called Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the ſpace of two yeeres, ſo that all they which dwelt in Aſia, heard the word of the Lorde Ieſus, both Iewes and Greekes.

11 And God wrought ſpeciall myracles by the handes of Paul:

12 So that from his bodie were brought vnto the ſicke, napkins, and partlets, and the diſeaſes departed from them, and the euill ſpirits went out of them.

13 Then certaine of the vagabond Iewes, exoriſtes, tooke vpon them to call ouer them which had euill ſpirites, the Name of the Lorde Ieſus, ſaying, Wee adiure you by Ieſus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were ſeuen ſonnes of one Sceua a Iewe, and chiefe of the Prieſtes which did ſo.

15 And the euill ſpirit anſwered, and ſaid, Ieſus I knowe, and Paul I knowe, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whome the euill ſpirit was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and preuailed againſt them, ſo that they fled out of that houſe naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to all the Iewes and Greekes alſo which dwelt at Epheſus, and feare came on them all, and the Name of the Lorde Ieſus was magnified.

18 And many that beleeued, came, and confeſſed, and ſhewed their workes.

19 Many alſo of them which vſed curious craftes, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and founde it fiftie thouſand pieces of ſiluer.

20 So mightily grewe the worde of God, and preuailed.

21 After theſe thinges were ended, Paul purpoſed in the ſpirit, when he had paſſed ouer Macedonia and Achaia, to goe to Hieruſalem, ſaying, After I haue bene there, I muſt alſo ſee Rome.

22 So ſent hee into Macedonia two of them that miniſtred vnto him, Timotheus and Eraſtus, but hee himſelfe remained in Aſia for a ſeaſon.

23 And the ſame time there aroſe no litle a doe about that way.

24 For a certaine man, named Demetrius, a ſiluer ſmith, which made ſiluer ſhrines for Diana, miniſtred no ſmall gaine vnto the craftesmen:

25 Whome hee called together, with the workemen of like occupation, and ſaide, Syrs, ye knowe that by this craft wee haue aduantage.

26 Moreouer, ye ſee and heare, that not alone at Epheſus, but almoſt throughout all Aſia, this Paul hath perſwaded and turned away much people, ſaying that they be no gods, which are made with handes.

27 So that not onely this our craft commeth into perill to be ſet at nought: but alſo that the temple of the great goddeſſe Diana ſhould be deſpiled, and her magnificence ſhould be deſtroyed, whome all Aſia and the world worſhippeth.

28 And when they heard theſe ſayings, they were full of wrath, and cryed out, ſaying, Great is Diana of the Epheſians.

29 And all the citie was on a roze, and they ruſhed into the common hall with one aſſent, and caught Gaius and Ariſtarcus, men of Macedonia, Pauls companions.

30 When Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the diſciples ſuffered him not.

31 But certaine of the chiefe of Aſia, which were his friendes, ſent vnto him, deſiring him that hee would not preaſſe into the common hall.

32 Some therefore cryed one thing, and ſome another: and the aſſembly was all out of quiet, and the more part knewe not wherefore they were come together.

33 And certaine of the people drewe Alexander out of the multitude, the Iewes thruſting him forwards. And Alexander beckened with the hand, and would haue ginen the people an anſwere.

34 But when they knewe that hee was a Iewe, there aroſe a ſhowte almoſt for the ſpace of two houres, of all men, crying, Great is Diana of the Epheſians.

35 And when the towne clarke had pacified the people, he ſaid, Ye men of Epheſus, what man is it that knoweth not howe that the citie of the Epheſians is ‖ the temple keeper of the great goddeſſe Diana, and of the image which came downe from Iupiter?

36 Seeing then that theſe things cannot be ſpoken againſt, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing raſhly.

b By this place, Iohns baptiſme ſignifieth Iohns doctrine, which therefore is ſo called, for that he ſealed his doctrine with the ſeale of baptiſme in them that beleeued.

c They that were baptized, were not baptized with water, being before baptized of Iohn with water: but they were baptized with viſible gifts of the holy Ghoſt, which S. Luke declaring howe it was, writeth that it was by the laying on of S. Pauls handes.

‖ Some reade, worshipper.

37 For ye haue brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of Churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddesse.
38 Wherefore if Demetrius, & the craftes men which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the lawe is open, and there are deputies, let them accuse one another.
39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shalbe determined in a lawfull assembly.
40 For we are in ieopardie to be accused of this dayes vproze, forasmuch as there is no cause whereby wee may giue a reckoning of this concourse of people.
41 And when he had thus spoken, hee let the assembly depart.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Paul goeth into Macedonia and Grecia: & he celebrateth the Lords Supper, and preacheth.

1 AND after the vproze was ceassed, Paul called the disciples, and tooke his leaue of them, and departed, for to goe into Macedonia:
2 And when hee had gone ouer those partes, and had giuen them a long exhortation, he came into Greece,
3 And there abode three moneths: and when the Iewes layde waite for him, as he was about to saile into Syria, he purposed to returne throwe Macedonia.
4 And there accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea: and of the Thessalonians Aristarcus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus: and out of Asia Tychicus and Trophimus.
5 These going before, taried vs at Troas:
6 And we sailed away from Philippos, after the dayes of sweet bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fiue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.
7 And vpon one of the Sabboth dayes, when the disciples came together for to *breake bread, Paul reasoned with them, readie to depart on the morowe, and continued the talke vnto midnight.
8 And there were many lightes in an vpper chamber where they were gathered together.
9 And there sate in a windowe a certaine yong man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deepe sleepe: and as Paul was long reasoning, hee was the more ouercome with sleepe, and fell downe from the third loft, & was taken vp dead.
10 But when Paul went downe, hee fell on him, and embraced him, and saide, Make nothing a do: for his life is in him.
11 When hee therefore was come vp again, and had broken bread and eaten, and talked a long while, euen till the morning, so he departed.
12 And they brought the yong man aliue, and were not a little comforted.
13 And we went afore to ship, and sailed vnto Asson, there to receiue Paul: for so had hee appointed, minding himselfe to goe afoote.
14 And whē he was come to vs to Asson, we tooke him in, and came to Mitylene.
15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium: the next day wee came to Miletum.
16 For Paul had determined to saile ouer by Ephesus, because hee would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Hierusalem the day of Pentecost.
17 And from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the Church.
18 Which when they were come to him, he saide vnto them, Ye knowe from the first day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons,
19 Seruing the Lord with all humblenesse of minde, and with many teares, and temptations, which came vnto mee by the layings of waite of the Iewes:
20 And howe I kept backe nothing that was profitable vnto you, but haue shewed you, and haue taught you openly and throughout euery house,
21 Witnessing both to the Iewes and also to the Greekes, the repentance that is toward God, and the faith which is toward our Lord Iesus Christ.
22 And now beholde, I go bound [a] in the spirit vnto Hierusalem, not knowing the things that shall come vnto me:
23 But that the holy Ghost witnesseth in euery citie, saying that bonds and troubles abide me.
24 But none of these things moue mee, neither count I my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I might fulfill my course with ioye, and the ministerie which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesu, to testifie the Gospell of the grace of God.
25 And nowe beholde, I am sure that henceforth ye all, among whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.
26 Wherefore, I take you to recorde this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.
27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the counsel of God.
28 Take heede therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, ouer the which the holy Ghost hath made you ouerseers, to rule the Church of God, which hee hath purchased [b] with his owne blood.
29 For I knowe this, that after my departing, shall grieuous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.
30 Also of your owne selues shall men arise, speaking peruerse things, to [c] drawe away disciples after them.
31 Therefore watch, and remember that by the space of three yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one night and day with teares.
32 And nowe brethren, I commende you to God, and to the worde of his grace, which is able to builde further, and to giue you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.
33 I haue

b That which appertaineth to Christes manhoode (which is shedding of blood) is here spoken of his Godhead, because of the communion of the properties and vnion of two natures in one person.

c Through their ambition, which is mother of all sectes and heresies.

33 I haue desired no mans siluer, or gold, or vesture.
34 Yea, ye your selues knowe, that these

35 I haue shewed you all thinges, howe that so labouring ye ought to helpe the weake, and to remember the wordes of the Lorde Iesu (howe that he said) It is more blessed to giue, then to receiue.
36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.
37 And they all wept sore, & fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him,
38 Sorowing most of all for the wordes which he spake, that they should see his face no more: And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Pauls iourney by ship. 8 Of Philip the Euangelist. 10 and Agabus the Prophet.

1 AND when it came to passe that we had lanched foorth, and were departed from them, wee came with a straight course vnto Choos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.
2 And when we had found a ship sailing vnto Phenice, we went aboord, and set foorth.
3 Nowe when Cyprus began to appeare vnto vs, we left it on the left hand, and sayled into Syria, and came vnto Tyre: for there the ship vnladed the burden.
4 And when we had found disciples, we taried there seuen dayes: who sayde to Paul through the spirite, that he shoulde not goe vp to Hierusalem.
5 And when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought vs on our way, with wiues and children, till we were come out of the citie: and we kneeled downe on the shore, and prayed.
6 And when we had taken our leaue one of another, we tooke ship, and they returned home againe.
7 When we had ful ended the course from Tyre, we went downe to Ptolomaida, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.
8 And the next day, wee that were of Pauls company, departed, and came vnto Cesarea, and we entred into the Actes 6.5. house of Philip the Euangelist (*which was one of the seuen) and abode with him.
9 And the same man had foure daughters, virgins, which did prophecie.
10 And as we taried there a good many of dayes, there came a certaine prophete from Iurie named Agabus.
11 And when he was come vnto vs, hee tooke Pauls girdle, & bound his owne hands and feete, and said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall the Iewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the hands of the Gentiles.
12 And when we heard these things, both we and other which were of the same place, besought him that he would not goe vp to Hierusalem.
13 Then Paul answered, What doe ye weeping and vexing mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound onely, but also to die at Hierusalem for the Name of the Lorde Iesus.
14 And when wee could not turne his minde, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be fulfilled.
15 And after those dayes we tooke vp our burdens, and went vp to Hierusalem.
16 There went with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whome we should lodge.
17 And when we were come to Hierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.
18 And on the morow Paul went in with vs vnto *James, and all the elders came together.
a This Iames was the Lordes brother ỹ sonne of Marie, which was the sister of the blessed virgin: which Iames afterward was bishop of Hierusalem.
19 And when hee had saluted them, hee tolde by order all thinges that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministerie.
20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou seest, brother, howe many thousand Iewes there are which beleeue, and they are all earnest folowers of the lawe.
21 And they are enformed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes, which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walke after the customes.
22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needes come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.
23 Doe therefore this that we say to thee: We haue foure men which haue a vowe on them, 24 Them take, and purifie thy selfe with them, & doe cost on them, that they may shaue their heads: * and all shall knowe Num.6.18. that those thinges which they haue heard concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepest the lawe.
25 As touching the Gentiles which beleeue, * we haue written and concluded, Actes 15.20. that they obserue no such thing, saue onely that they keepe themselues frō things offered to idoles, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.
26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day purifying himselfe with them, entred into the temple, * declaring the ac- Num.6.13. complishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offring should be offred for euery one of them:
27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia, when they sawe him in the temple, mooued all the people, & layd hands on him,
28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the lawe, and this place: hee hath also brought Grekes

Greekes into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seene before with him in the citie, Trophimus an Ephesian, whome they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And all the citie was mooued, and the people swarmed together: and they tooke Paul, and drewe him out of the temple: and foorthwith the doores were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came vnto the high captaine of the souldiers, that all Hierusalem was in an vproze.

b God oftentimes appointeth his magistrates to deliuer his faithfull ministers from all dangers of their enemies.

32 Which immediately tooke b souldiers, and vndercaptaines, and ranne downe vnto them: and when they saw the chiefe captaine and the souldiers, they left smiting of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe captaine came neere, and tooke him, & commanded him to be bound with two chaines, and demaunded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another among the people: and when hee could not knowe the certaintie for the rage, he commaunded him to be caried into the castle.

35 And when he came vpon the staires, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And when Paul began to be caried into the castle, he sayd vnto the high captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who sayd, Canst thou speake Greeke?

Actes 5.36. 38 *Art thou not that Egyptian which before these dayes madest an vproze, and leddest out into the wildernesse foure thousand men that were murderers?

Actes 22.3. 39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Iewe of *Tarsus, a citie in Cilicia, a citizen of no vile citie: and I beseech thee suffer me to speake vnto the people.

40 And when he had giuen him licence, Paul stoode on the staires, and beckened with the hand vnto the people: & when there was made a great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

The xxij. Chapter.

Paul rendreth an account of his life and doctrine. 25 He escapeth the whip, by reason he was a citizen of Rome.

1 MEn, brethren, and fathers, heare ye mine answere which I make vnto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith,)

3 I am verily a man which am a Iewe, borne in Tarsus a citie in Cilicia, and yet brought vp in this citie at the feete of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect maner of the lawe of the fathers, and was zealous towards God, as ye all are this same day.

Actes 9.1. 4 And *I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prisons both men and women,

5 As also the chiefe priest doeth beare me witnesse, and all the estate of the elders: of whom also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, & went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound vnto Hierusalem, for to be punished.

6 And it came to passe, that as I made my iourney, and was come nigh vnto Damascus about noone, suddenly there shone from heauen a great light rounde about me:

7 And I fell vnto the earth, and heard a voyce saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And hee sayde vnto me, I am Iesus of Nazareth a whom thou persecutest.

a Iesus was now in heauen, and could not be persecuted of Paul: But the persecution which Paul exercised against the faithfull being his members, Christ counted it as done to himselfe.

9 And they that were with me, saw verily the light, and were afrayd: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I doe, Lorde? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and go into Damascus: and there it shall be tolde thee of all thinges which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 And when I sawe nothing for the brightnes of the light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a deuoute man as pertaining to the law, hauing a good report of all the Iewes which there dwelt, 13 Came vnto me, and stood, and said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight. And the same houre I looked vp vpon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath ordeined thee before, that thou shouldest knowe his will, and see that iust one, and shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse vnto all men, of those thinges which thou hast seene and heard:

16 And nowe, why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sinnes, in calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Hierusalem, and prayed in the temple, I was in a traunce, 18 And sawe him saying vnto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witnesse concerning me.

Actes 8.3. 19 And I said, Lorde, they knowe that *I imprisoned, and beate in euery synagogue them that beleeued on thee.

Actes 7.58. 20 And when the blood of thy witnesse Steuen was shed, *I also was standing by, and consenting vnto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slewe him.

21 And he sayde vnto me, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 And they gaue him audience vnto this worde, and then lift vp their voyces, and sayde, Away with such a fellowe from the the earth: for it is no reason that hee should liue.

23 And as they cryed, and cast off their clothes, and threwe dust into the aire, 24 The chiefe captaine commaunded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be scourged, and examined: that hee might knowe wherefore they cried so on him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul sayde vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge a man that is a [b] Romane, and vncondemned?

b He was not borne at Rome, but at Tarsus: the citizens whereof, enioy the priuiledge of the citie of Rome, and were counted as Romanes.

26 When the Centurion heard that, hee went and tolde the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest, for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and said vnto him, Tell me, art thou a Romane? He said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this freedome. And Paul saide, I was free borne.

29 Then straightway departed from him they which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraide after he knewe that he was a Romane, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morow, because he would haue knowen the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, hee loosed him from his bandes, and commaunded the high Priests and all the councill to come together, and brought Paul forth, and set him before them.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 Paul commeth before the councill. 2 Ananias causeth him to be stricken.

1 AND Paul earnestly beholding the councill, saide, Men and brethren, I haue liued in all good conscience before God vntill this day.

2 And the high Priest Ananias commaunded them that stoode by, to smite him on the mouth.

a Paul doeth not curse the high Priest, but denounce sharply the punishment of God, which shoulde light vpon him in the way of prophecying. b It is thought that Paul in mockerie thus excused himselfe, as though thus he should say, I see nothing in this man worthy the office of the high Priest. Exod. 22. 28. Phil. 3. 5. Acts 24. 22. Matth. 22. 33.

3 Then saide Paul vnto him, God shall smite thee thou [a] painted wall: for sittest thou and iudgest me after the lawe, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the lawe?

4 And they that stoode by, said, Reuilest thou Gods high Priest?

5 Then saide Paul, I wist not brethren, [b] that he was the high Priest: For it is written, * Thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one part were Sadducees, & the other Pharisees, he cried out in the councill, * Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the sonne of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am iudged.

7 And whē he had so said, there arose a debate betweene the Pharisees, & the Sadducees: and the multitude was diuided.

8 * For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confesse both.

9 And there arose a great cry: and when the Scribes which were of the Pharisees part arose, they stroue, saying, We finde no euill in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not striue against God.

10 And when there arose a great debate, the chiefe captaine fearing lest Paul shoulde haue bene pluckt asunder of them, commaunded the souldiers to goe downe, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following, the Lord stood by him, and saide, Be of good cheare, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Hierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certaine of the Iewes gathered themselues together, and made a [c] bowe, saying that they would neither eate nor drinke till they had killed Paul.

c The word properly signifieth cursing, as when a man either sweareth, voweth, or wisheth himselfe to die, or to be giuen to the deuill, except he bring his purpose to passe.

13 And they were more then fourtie men, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priestes and Elders, and said, We haue bound our selues with a bowe, that we will eate nothing vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Nowe therefore giue ye knowledge to the chiefe captaine, and to the councill, that he bring him forth vnto you to morrowe, as though ye would knowe something more perfectly of him: and we, or euer he come nere, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying awaite, he went and entred into the castle, and tolde Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the vndercaptaines vnto him, and saide, Bring this yong man vnto the high captaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shewe him.

18 And he tooke him, and brought him to the high captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath a certaine matter to shewe thee.

19 Then the high captaine tooke him by the hand, and went with him out of the way, and asked him, What is it that thou hast to tell mee?

20 And he said, The Iewes are determined to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring forth Paul to morowe into the councill, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But follow not thou their mindes: for there lie in waite for him of them moe then fourtie men, which haue bounde themselues with a vowe, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and nowe are they readie, and looke for a promise from thee.

22 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, and charged him, See thou tell it out to no man, that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And hee called vnto him two vndercaptaines, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers to goe to Cesarea, & horsemen threescore and ten, and spearemen two two hundred, at the thirde houre of the night:

24 And deliuer them beastes, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto Felix the high deputie.
25 And he wrote a letter after this maner,
26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most mightie ruler Felix, sendeth greetings.
27 This man was taken of the Iewes, and shoulde haue bene killed of them: Then came I with an armie, and rescued him, and perceiued that he was a Romane:
28 And when I would haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their councill.
29 Whome I perceiued to be accused of questions of their lawe, but hauing nothing layde to his charge worthy of death, or of bondes.
30 And when it was shewed mee howe that the Iewes layde waite for the man, I sent him straightway to thee, and gaue commaundement to his accusers, that the things which they haue against him, they should tell before thee. Farewell.
31 Then the souldiers, as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatridis.
32 On the morowe, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned vnto the castle.
33 Which when they came to Cesarea, and deliuered the epistle to the deputie, presented Paul also before him.
34 And when the deputie had read the letter, he asked of what prouince he was. And when he vnderstoode that he was of Cilicia:
35 I will heare thee, saide hee, when thine accusers are come also. And hee commaunded him to bee kept in Herodes iudgement hall.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

Paul being accused, answereth for his life and doctrine.

1 AND after fiue dayes, Ananias the high Priest descended, with the Elders, and with a certaine Orator, named Tertullus, which appeared before the deputie against Paul.
2 And when Paul was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that wee haue * obtained great quietnesse by the meanes of thee, and that many good thinges are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,
3 That allowe we euer, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankes.
4 Notwithstanding, that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy courtesie a few wordes.
5 For we haue founde this man a pestilent fellow, and a mouer of debate vnto all the Iewes in the whole world, and a maintainer of the sect of the Nazarites.
6 Which also hath gone about to pollute the Temple: whom we tooke, and would haue iudged according to our lawe.
7 But the high captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him away out of our handes,
8 Commaunding his accusers to come vnto thee, of whom thou mayest, if thou wilt enquire, knowe the certaintie of all these things whereof we accuse him.
9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying that these things were so.
10 Then Paul, after that the deputie himselfe had beckened vnto him that hee should speake, answered, With a more quiet minde doe I answere for my selfe, for as much as I vnderstande that thou hast bene of many yeeres a iudge vnto this nation:
11 Because that thou mayest knowe, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went vp to Hierusalem for to worship.
12 And they neither found me in the Temple disputing with any man, neither raising vp the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the citie:
13 Neither can they proone the thinges whereof they accuse me.
14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way which they call b heresie, so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Lawe and the Prophets,
15 And haue hope towards God, that the resurrection of the dead, which they themselues looke for also, shall be both of the iust and vniust.
16 And herein studie I, to haue alway a cleare conscience towarde God, and toward men.
17 Now after many yeeres, I came and brought almes to my nation, and offrings:
18 * In the which they found me purified in the Temple, neither with multitude, nor yet with vnquietnesse.
19 Howbeit, there were certaine Iewes out of Asia,
20 Which ought to be here c present before thee, and accuse mee, if they had ought against me.
21 Or els let these same here say, if they haue founde any euill doing in me while I stand here in the councill, 22 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cried standing among them, * That of the resurrection from the dead, am I iudged of you this day.
23 And when Felix heard these things, he deferred them: for he knewe very well of that way, and saide, When Lysias the captaine is come downe, I will knowe the vttermost of your matter.
24 And hee commaunded an vndercaptaine to keepe Paul, and to let him haue rest, and that he shoulde forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.
25 And after certaine dayes, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Iewesse, he called forth Paul, and heard him of the faith which is toward Christ.

26 And

a Felix by his diligence had taken Eleazarus the captaine of the murderers, and put the Egyptians to flight, which raised vp tumults in Iurie. For these the Orator praised him: otherwayes he was both cruell and couetous.

b No marualle though in our time Gods true religion be called heresie, for so it was counted of the wicked, euen in the beginning of Christes kingdome.

Actes 21. 27.

c These accusers spake but vpon false reports, which the bellowes of Satan had blowen abroad, and durst not for shame appeare themselues.

Actes 23. 7.

26 And as he reasoned of righteousnesse, temperance, & iudgement to come, Felix [d] trembled, and answered, Goe thy way for this time, when I haue a conuenient season, I will send for thee.

d Such is the might and force of Gods heauenly worde, that it causeth the very wicked to tremble and quake.

27 He hoped also that money shoulde haue bene giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, & communed with him.

28 But after two yeeres, Porcius Festus came into Felix roume: and Felix willing to shewe the Iewes a pleasure, left Paul bound.

The xxv. Chapter.

2 The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus. & He answereth for him selfe.

1 THen whe Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes he ascended frō Cesarea to Hierusalē.

2 Then enfourmed him the high Priest, and the chiefe of the Iewes, against Paul, and they besought him,

3 And desired fauour against him, that he would sende for him to Hierusalem, laying waite in the way to kill him.

a Whiles Paul liued vnder the Lawe like other Iewes, his conuersation was perfect and notable, and after his conuersion vnto Christ, he became a more notable example of innocencie: but it is a common case, that the seruants of God are euill spoken of for their well doing.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul shoulde be kept at Cesarea, and that he himselfe would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which amōg you are able, come downe with vs, & accuse him, if there be any fault in this mā.

6 And when he had tarryed among them moze then tenne dayes, he went downe vnto Cesarea, & the next day sate downe in the iudgement seate, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 Who being come, the Iewes which were come from Hierusalem, stoode about him, and laid many and grieuous complaints against Paul, which they could not [a] prooue,

8 While he answered for him selfe that neither against the lawe of the Iewes, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, haue I offended any thing at all.

b The iniquitie of the iudge, who contrary to equitie, willing to pleasure the Iewes, deuised howe to betray Paul, draue Paul to appeale, which is the vttermost remedie for such as by wrong iudgement are oppressed: and this appellation by Gods prouidence, was a meane that Paul shoulde testifie of Christ at Rome also.

9 But Festus willing to doe the Iewes a pleasure, answered Paul, and saide, Wilt thou goe vp to Hierusalem, & there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then saide Paul, I stande at Cesars iudgemēt seat, where I ought to be iudged, to the Iewes haue I done no wrōg, as thou bery well knowest.

11 For if I doe any wrong, or haue committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man may deliuer me vnto them. I appeale vnto [b] Cesar.

12 Then spake Festus with the counsaile, and answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, king Agrippa and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had bene there a good season, Festus rehearsed Pauls cause vnto the King, saying, There is a certain man left in bondes of Felix.

15 About whome, when I came to Hierusalem, the high priestes and the elders of the Iewes enfourmed me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whome I answered, It is not the maner of the Romanes, for fauour to deliuer any man that he shoulde perish, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answere for him selfe, concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore when they were come thither, without any delay, on the morowe I sate on the iudgement seate, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whome, when the accusers stoode vp, they brought none accusation of such things as I suppose:

19 But had certaine questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whome Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such maner of questions, I asked him whether he would goe to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to bee kept vnto the knowledge of Augustus, I commaunded him to be kept, till I might sende him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I woulde also heare the man my selfe. To morowe said he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morowe when Agrippa was come and Bernice, with great pompe, and was entred into the counsaile house, with the chiefe captaines, and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus cōmandemēt was Paul brought forth.

24 And Festus saide, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with vs, ye see this man, about whome all the multitude of the Iewes haue intreated me, both at Hierusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet found I nothing worthie of death that he had committed: Neuertheles, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to sende him, 26 Of whome I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my Lorde: Wherefore I haue brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For me thinketh it vnreasonable for to send a prisoner, and not to shewe the causes which are laid against him.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 King Agrippa heareth Paul. 25 Pauls modest answere against the iniurie of Festus.

1 THen Agrippa saide vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, & answered for himselfe.

2 I thinke my selfe happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answere this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Namely, because thou art expert in all cuſtomes and queſtions which are among a the Iewes: wherefore I beſeech thee to heare me patiently.

4 My life ꝑ I haue led of a childe, which was at the firſt among mine owne nation at Hieruſalem, know all the Iewes,

5 Which knewe me from the beginning, (if they would teſtifie) that after the moſt ſtraiteſt ſect of our b religion, I liued a Phariſee.

6 And nowe I ſtand, and am iudged for the hope of the promiſe made of God vnto our fathers:

7 Vnto which promiſe our twelue tribes inſtātly ſeruing God day & night, hope to come: For which hopes ſake, King Agrippa, I am accuſed of the Iewes.

8 Why ſhould it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God raiſeth the dead?

9 I alſo verily thought in my ſelfe, that I ought to doe many contrary things, cleane againſt the name of Ieſus of Nazareth:

10 * Which thing I alſo did in Hieruſalem, and many of the ſaintes did I ſhut vp in priſon, hauing receiued authoritie of the hie prieſtes, and when they were put to death, I gaue the ſentence.

11 And I puniſhed them oft in euery Synagogue, and compelled them to blaſpheme, and was yet more mad vpon them, and perſecuted them euen vnto ſtrange cities.

12 * About which things as I went to Damaſcus, with authoritie and commiſſion of the high prieſtes, 13 Euen at midday, O king, I ſawe in the way a light from heauen, aboue the brightneſſe of the ſunne, ſhine rounde about me, and them which iourneyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voyce ſpeaking vnto me in the Hebrewe tongue, and ſaying, Saul, Saul, why perſecuteſt thou me? It is harde for thee to kicke againſt the pricks.

15 And I ſaide, Who art thou, Lorde? And he ſaide, I am Ieſus whome thou perſecuteſt.

16 But riſe and ſtande vpon thy feete, for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpoſe, to make thee a miniſter and a witneſſe, both of theſe thinges which thou haſt ſeene, and of thoſe things in the which I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whome nowe I ſende thee, 18 To open their eyes, that they may be turned from darkeneſſe to light, & from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiueneſſe of ſinnes, and inheritance among them which are ſanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Wherefore, O King Agrippa, I was not diſobedient vnto the heauenly viſiō:

20 But ſhewed firſt vnto them of Damaſcus, and at Hieruſalem, and throughout all the coaſtes of Iurie, and then to the Gentiles, that they ſhoulde repent and turne to God, and doe ſuch workes as become them that repent.

21 For this cauſe the Iewes caught me in the temple, and went about to kil me.

22 Seeing therefore that I haue obteined helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witneſſing both to ſmall and great, ſaying none other things then thoſe which the Prophets and Moſes did ſay ſhould come:

23 That Chriſt ſhould ſuffer, and that he ſhoulde be the firſt that ſhould riſe from the dead, and ſhould ſhew light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus ſpake for him ſelfe, Feſtus ſaid with a loude voyce, Paul, thou art beſide thy c ſelfe, much learning doeth make thee mad.

25 But he ſaid, I am not mad, moſt noble Feſtus, but ſpeake forth the wordes of trueth and ſoberneſſe.

26 For the king knoweth of theſe things, before whome alſo I ſpeake freely, neither beleeue I, that any of theſe things are hidde from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, beleeueſt thou the Prophetes? I wote well that thou beleeueſt.

28 Then Agrippa ſaide vnto Paul, Somewhat thou perſwadeſt d me to be a Chriſtian.

29 And Paul ſaid, I would to God, that not onely thou, but alſo all that heare me to day, were both ſomewhat, and alſo in a great deale ſuch as I am, except theſe bondes.

30 And when he had thus ſpoken, the king roſe vp, and the deputie, and Bernice, and they that ſate with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene them ſelues, ſaying, This man doeth nothing worthie of death, or of bonds.

32 Then ſaid Agrippa vnto Feſtus, This man might haue bene let looſe, if he had not appealed vnto Ceſar.

The xxvij Chapter.

1 Paul ſhippeth towarde Rome. 3 Iulius the captaine entreateth him courteouſly.

1 AND when it was concluded that we ſhoulde ſaile into Italie, they deliuered both Paul and certaine other priſoners, vnto one named Iulius, an vndercaptaine of Auguſtus bande.

2 * And we entred into a ſhippe of Adramyttium, and looſed from lande, appointed to ſaile by the coaſtes of Aſia, one Ariſtarchus out of Macedonia, of the countrey of Theſſalonica, tarying ſtill with vs. *2.Cor.11.25.

3 And the next day we came to Sidon: And Iulius curteouſly entreated Paul, and gaue him libertie to goe vnto his friendes, and to refreſh himſelfe.

4 And when we had lauched from thēce, we ſailed hard by Cyprꝛs, becauſe the windes a He knewe much, but he failed in the right applying of his knowledge, as they doe which be wiſe in their owne conceits onely, and haue the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

b He taketh the ſect of the Phariſees to be perfecteſt, becauſe their doctrine was better then the other ſectes. The Saduces denied the reſurrection of the dead. The Eſſees glorying in ſtraitnes of life, litle regarde true doctrine.

Actes 8.3.

Actes 9.1.

c Feſtus being much troubled with Pauls declaration, and hauing nothing to ſay againſt it, yet would not yeelde vnto it, but clamorouſly condemned it as wicked and ſuperſtitious: For worldlings are loth to be cumbred with godly matters, and count all ſuch fooliſh that trouble themſelues therewith.

d He ſawe a litle light, but it was ſoone out, like vnto thoſe that hearing a ſermon, are for the time well minded, but after returne to their old trade.

windes were contrary.
5 And when we had sailed ouer the sea of Cilicia & Pamphylia, we came to Myra a citie which is in Lycia,
6 And there the vndercaptaine founde a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italie, and he put vs therein.
7 And when we had sailed slowly many dayes, & scarse were come ouer against Gnidum, because the winde withstoode vs, we sailed hard by ‖ Candie, ouer against Salmone,
8 And with much worke sailed beyonde it, and came vnto a place which is called the Faire hauens, nigh whereunto was the citie of Lasea.
9 When much time was spent, & when sailing was now ieopardous, because also that the faste was now alreadie past, Paul put them in remembrance,
10 And saide vnto them, Sirs, I perceiue that this voiage will be with hurt and much damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.
11 Neuertheless, the vndercaptaine beleeued the gouernour and the master of the ship, more then those thinges which were spoken of Paul.
12 And because the hauen was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsaile to depart thence, if by any meanes they might attaine to Phenice, & there to winter, which is an hauen of Candie, and lieth towarde the Southwest and Northwest winde.
13 And when the South wind blewe softly, they supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosed vnto Asson, and sailed past Candie.
14 But not long after, there arose against their purpose a flawe of winde out of the Northeast, which is called Euroclydon.
15 And when the ship was caught, and could not resist the wind, we let her goe, and were driuen with the weather.
16 And we were caried into an Ile, which is called Clauda, and had much worke to come by a boate, 17 Which they tooke vp, and vsed helpe, and made fast the ship, fearing least they should fall into the Sytes: and so they let downe a ‖ vessel, and were caried.
18 The next day when wee were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lighted the ship:
19 And the thirde day we cast out with our owne hands the tackling of the ship.
20 And when neither the sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that wee should be saued was then taken away.
21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the middes of them, and saide, Sirs, yee shoulde haue hearkened vnto me, & not haue loosed from Candie, & to haue gained vnto vs this harme & losse.
22 And nowe I exhort you to be of good cheere: for there shall be no losse of any mans life among you, but of the ship.
23 For there stoode by me this night the Angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul, thou must be brought before Cesar, & loe, God hath giuen thee a all them that saile with thee.
25 Wherefore sirs, be of good cheere: for I beleeue God, that it shall be euen as it was tolde me.
26 Howbeit, wee must be cast into a certaine Iland.
27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were sailing in Adria about midnight, the shipmen deemed that they drew nere to some countrey:
28 And sounded, and found it twentie fadomes: and when they had gone a litle further, they sounded againe, and found it fifteene fadomes.
29 Then fearing least we should haue fallen on some rocke, they cast foure ankers out of the sterne, and wished for the day.
30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let downe the boate into the sea, vnder a colour as though they would haue cast ankers out of the forepship, 31 Paul said to the vndercaptaine, and to the souldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye b cannot be saued.
32 Then the souldiers cut off the rope of the boate, and let it fall away.
33 And when the day began to appeare, Paul besought them all to take meate, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue taried, and continued fasting, receiuing nothing at all.
34 Wherefore, I pray you to take meate, for this no doubt is for your health, for there shall not c an heare fall from ye head of any of you.
35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke bread, and gaue thankes to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eate.
36 Then were they all of good cheere, and they also tooke meate.
37 And wee were altogether in the ship, two hundred, threescore, & sixteene soules.
38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lighted the ship, and cast out the wheate into the sea.
39 And whe it was day, they knew not ye land: but they spied a certaine hauen wt a banke, into ye which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.
40 And when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed ‖ themselues vnto the sea, and loosed the rudder bandes, and hoised vp the maine saile to ye wind, and drew to land.
41 And when they fell into a place which had the sea on both sides, they thrust in the ship, and the forepart stucke fast and moued not, but the hinder part brake with the violence of the waues.
42 And the souldiers counsaile was to kil the prisoners, least any of them, when he had swomme out, should runne away.
43 But the vndercaptaine, willing to saue Paul, kept them from their purpose, a The graces and blessings which God giueth to his children, profite many times the enemies, which are vnworthie to receiue the fruite thereof.

b Paul would vse such meanes as God had ordeined, lest hee shoulde seeme to haue tempted him.

c By this Hebrewe speach is ment, that they should be in all pointes safe and sounde.

‖ Or, Creta, which was an high hill of Candie.

‖ Some reade, the sailes.

‖ Or, the ship.

and commanded that they which could swimme, should cast themselues first into the sea, and scape to land:

44 And the other, some on boordes, and some on broken pieces of the ship: and so it came to passe, that they escaped all safe to land.

The xxviij. Chapter.

5 The Viper hurteth not Pauls hand. 23 Paul preacheth Christ at Rome.

1 AND when they were escaped, then they knewe that the Ile was called Melita.

2 And the barbarous people shewed vs no litle kindnesse, for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs euery one, because of the present raine, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of stickes, and laide them on the fire, there came a Viper out of the heate, and caught him by the hand.

4 And when the straungers sawe the beast hang on his hand, they said amõg themselues, No doubt this man is a [a] murderer, whom though hee hath escaped the sea: yet Vengeance suffreth not to liue.

5 And hee shooke off the Viper into the fire, and [b] felt no harme.

6 Howbeit, they waited when he should haue swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harme come to him, they changed their mindes, and said that hee was a [c] God.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chiefe man of the Ile, whose name was Publius, which receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes curteously.

8 And it came to passe that the father of Publius lay sicke of a feuer, and of a bloody flixe, to whom Paul entred in, and prayed, and laid his handes on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, other also which had diseases in the Ile, came, and were healed:

10 Which also did vs great honour, and when wee departed, they laded vs with such things as were necessarie.

11 And after three monethes wee departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the Ile, whose badge was [d] Castor and Pollux.

12 And when we came to Syracusa, wee tarried there three daies.

13 And from thence wee fet a compasse, & came to Rheginm, and after one day the South winde blewe, and wee came the next day to Puteolus:

14 Where we founde brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seuen dayes: and so we came toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to mete vs at Appii forum, and at the three tauernes: When Paul saw them, he thanked God, and waxed bolde.

16 And when we came to Rome, the vnder captaine delinered the prisoners to the chiefe captaine of the hoste: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himselfe, with a souldier that kept him.

17 And it came to passe, that after three daies, Paul called þ chiefe of the Iewes together. And whē they were come together, he said vnto them, Men & brethren, though I haue cõmitted nothing against the people or lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Hierusalem into the hands of the Romanes.

18 Which when they had examined me, woulde haue let me goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when þ Iewes spake contrary, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not þ I had ought to accuse my natiõ of.

20 For this cause then haue I called for you, euen to see you, and to speake with you: because that for the [e] hope of Israel I am bounde with this chaine.

21 And they saide vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iurie concerning thee, neither any of þ brethren that came, shewed or spake any harme of thee.

22 But wee wil heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know þ euery where it is spoke against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him in his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the kingdome of God, perswading them concerning Iesus, both out of the law of Moses, and out of the Prophets, euen from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded in þ things which were spoken, and some beleeued not.

25 And when they agreed not amõg themselues, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, that is to say, Well spake the holy Ghost by Esaias þ Prophet, vnto our fathers, 26 Saying, * Goe vnto this people, and say, With your eares shall ye heare, and shall not vnderstand, and with your eies shall ye see, and not perceiue.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed grosse, & their eares are dull of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed, lest they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent vnto the Gentiles, and they shall heare it.

29 And when he had saide these words, þ Iewes departed, & had great reasoning among themselues.

30 And Paul dwelt two yeeres full in his owne hyred house, and receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdome of God, and teaching those thinges which concerne the Lorde Iesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

Here endeth the Actes of the Apostles.

a Such is the peruerse iudgement of men, that they condemne them whom they see in any affliction.

b By this miracle, God performed his promise made to his disciples, that neither serpents nor poison should hurt them, and also by ỹ same, was confirmed the Gospel of his sonne Iesus Christ, which Paul preached vnto the world.

c Beholde the extremitie of Infidels: for after any rage and errour, they fall forthwith into the contrary.

d These the Panims fained to be Iupiters children, gods of the sea.

e That is, for Iesus Christes sake, whom they had long looked for, to be the redeemer of the worlde.

The Epiſtle of the Apoſtle Saint Paul to the Romanes.

The firſt Chapter.

1 Paul sheweth to whom and to what purpoſe hee is called. 16 What the Goſpel is. 18 The vengeance of God upon the wicked. 20 The vſe of the creatures. 24 The ingratitude and punishment of the wicked.

1 PAul the ſeruant of Jeſus Chriſt, [a] called to be an Apoſtle, ſeuered vnto the Goſpel of God,
2 Which he had promiſed afore by his Prophets in the holy Scriptures
3 Of his ſonne, which was made of the ſeede of Dauid after the fleſh:
4 And hath bene declared to be the ſonne of [b] God, with power after the ſpirite that ſanctifieth, by the reſurrection from the dead, of Jeſus Chriſt our Lord:
5 By whom we haue receiued grace and Apoſtleſhip, that obedience might be giuen vnto the faith in his name among all Heathen,
6 Among whom, ye are alſo the called of Jeſus Chriſt:
7 To al that be in Rome, beloued of God, ſaints by calling: Grace to you, and peace from God our father, and þ Lorde Jeſus Chriſt.
8 Firſt verily I thanke my God through Jeſus Chriſt for you all, that your faith is published throughout all the world.
9 For God is my witnes, whom I ſerue with my ſpirite in the Goſpel of his ſonne, that without ceaſſing I make mention of you:
10 Praying alwayes in my prayers, that by ſome meane at the laſt, one time or other, I might take a proſperous iourney by þ will of God, to come vnto you.
11 For I long to ſee you, that I might beſtowe among you ſome ſpirituall gift, that ye might be ſtabliſhed.
12 That is, that I might haue conſolation together with you, each with others faith, yours and mine.
13 I would that ye ſhoulde knowe, brethren, how that I haue oftentimes purpoſed to come vnto you (and haue bene let hitherto) that I might haue ſome fruite alſo among you, as among other of the Gentiles.
14 I am detter both to the Greekes, and to the [c] barbarous, both to the wiſe, and to the vnwiſe.
15 So that as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Goſpel to you that are at Rome alſo.
16 For I am not aſhamed of the Goſpel of Chriſt, becauſe it is the power of God vnto ſaluation to all that beleeue, to the Iewe firſt, and alſo to the Greeke.
17 For by it is the righteouſneſſe of God opened from faith to faith: as it is written, The iuſt ſhall liue by faith.
18 For the wrath of God [d] is reuealed from heauen, againſt all vngodlineſſe and vnrighteouſneſſe of men, which [e] withhold þ trueth in vnrighteouſnes.
19 For that that may be knowen of God, is manifeſt among them, becauſe God hath ſhewed it vnto them.
20 For his inuiſible things, being vnderſtanded by his workes, through the creation of the world, are ſeene, that is, both his eternall power and Godhead, ſo that they are without excuſe:
21 Becauſe that when they knewe God, notwithſtanding they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but waxed full of vanities in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was blinded.
22 When they counted themſelues wiſe, they became fooles:
23 And turned the glory of the vncorruptible God vnto an image, made not onely after the ſimilitude of a corruptible man, but alſo, of birdes, and foure footed beaſtes, and of creeping beaſtes.
24 Wherefore God gaue them vp to vncleanneſſe, through the luſtes of their owne hearts, that their owne bodies ſhould be defiled among themſelues.
25 Which changed his [f] trueth for a lye, and worſhipped & ſerued the creature, more then the creator, which is to bee prayſed for euer, Amen.
26 Wherefore God gaue them vp vnto ſhamefull luſtes, for euen their women did change the naturall vſe, into that which is againſt nature.
27 And likewiſe alſo, the men left the naturall vſe of the woman, & burnt in their luſtes one with another, and men with men wrought filthineſſe, and receiued in themſelues the rewarde of their errour (as it was according.)
28 And as they regarded not to knowe God: euen ſo, God deliuered them vp vnto a lewde minde, that they ſhould do thoſe things which were not conuelp:
29 Being full of all vnrighteouſneſſe, fornication, craftineſſe, couetouſneſſe, malitiouſneſſe, full of enuie, murder, debate, deceite, euill conditioned, whiſperers, 30 Backbiters, haters of God, deſpitefull, proude, boaſters, bringers vp of euill things, diſobedient to father and mother:
31 Without vnderſtanding, couenant breakers, without naturall affection, truce breakers, vnmercifull.
32 The which knowing the righteouſnes of God (howe that they which commit ſuch things, are worthy of death) not onely doe the ſame, but alſo haue pleaſure in them that doe them.

a By this hee declareth that hee came not into the office of the Apoſtleſhippe by his owne arrogancie, but by the calling of God, whereby hee differeth from the falſe Apoſtles.

b Three maner of wayes Paul ſheweth here Chriſt to be declared the ſonne of God. Firſt, by power or working of miracles. Secondly, by the holy Ghoſt appearing in viſible ſignes. Thirdly, by his reſurrection from the dead.

c All thoſe that were not Iewes, by a common word were called Heathen. And here they are diuided into Greekes and Barbarous. By Greekes, he vnderſtandeth thoſe that were learned, ciuill, and of good bringing vp. By Barbarous, hee meaneth rude and ſauage people, with whome no man could well haue to doe.

d Which appearance the worlde knoweth nothing of. For in the ſight of God, all men are godles, ſinners, and the children of wrath, and when they knowe any thing of God, yet they bee nought, becauſe they neither thanke him, nor ſerue him, and therefore plagues are powred vpon them from heauen.

e They holde the trueth in vnrighteouſneſſe, which vnderſtand the trueth, and do not expreſſe the ſame in their deedes and life.

f By his trueth here hee vnderſtandeth the glorie of God, and his true religion: and a lye hee calleth idoles, becauſe the idolaters went about to take away from wood and ſtone that which they were, thinking them to bee neither wood nor ſtone, but attributed to them that they were not, that is, diuine power and nature.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Gods iudgement vpon the hypocrites. 13 All men are sinners.

1 THerefore art thou inexcusable, O man, whosoeuer thou be that [a] iudgest: For in that same wherein thou iudgest another, thou condemnest thy selfe. For thou that iudgest, doest euen the selfe same thyngs.

2 But we are sure that the iudgement of God is according to the trueth, against them which commit such things.

3 Thinkest thou this, O thou man that iudgest them which do such thyngs, and doest the same thy selfe, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Either despisest thou the riches of his goodnesse, and patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the goodnesse of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou, after thy stubbernesse and heart that can not repent, heapest vnto thy selfe wrath, against the day of wrath and declaration of the righteous iudgement of God:

6 *Which will reward euery man according to his [b] deedes:

7 To them which by continuing in well doing seeke for glory, and honour, and immortalitie, eternall life:

8 But vnto them that are contentious, and do not obey the trueth, but obey vnrighteousnesse, shall come indignation and wrath.

9 Tribulation, and anguish, vpon euery soule of man that doeth euill, of the Iewe first, and also of the Greeke:

10 But glory, and honour, and peace, to euery man that doeth good, to the Iewe first, and also to the Greeke.

11 * For there is no respect of persons with God.

12 For whosoeuer hath sinned without lawe, shall also perish without law: and as many as haue sinned in the lawe, shal be iudged by the lawe, 13 (For in the sight of God, *the hearers of the law are not righteous: but the doers of the lawe shalbe iustified.

14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the lawe, doe of nature the thinges contained in the lawe: they hauing not the lawe, are a lawe vnto themselues, 15 Which shewe the workes of the lawe written in their hearts, their conscience bearing them witnesse, & their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing,)

16 At the day when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ, according to my [c] Gospel.

17 Beholde, thou art called a Iewe, and [d] restest in the lawe, & makest thy boaste of God,

18 And knowest his will, and allowest the things that be excellent, informed by the lawe:

19 And beleeuest that thou thy selfe art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darkenesse, 20 An informer of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned: which hast the fourme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the lawe.

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? Thou preachest a man thoulde not steale, yet stealest thou?

22 Thou that saiest a man shoulde not commit adulterie, breakest thou wedlocke? Thou abhorrest idoles, and yet committest sacrilege?

23 Thou that makest thy boaste of the lawe, throughe breaking the lawe, dishonourest thou God?

24 For the name of God is euill spoken of among the Gentiles through you, as it is written,

25 For circumcision verily auayleth, if thou keepe the lawe: but if thou be a breaker of the lawe, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore, if the [e] vncircumcision kepe the ordinances of the lawe, shall not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature, if it keepe the lawe, iudge thee, which being vnder the letter & circumcision, doest transgresse the lawe?

28 For he is not a Iewe, which is a Iewe ‖outward. Neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh.

29 But he is a Iewe, which is one ‖inwardly, & the circumcision of the heart, which consisteth in the spirite, and not in the letter is circumcision whose praise is not of men, but of God.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Iewes haue a prerogatiue. 24 All are iustified by grace through faith, and not through workes.

1 WHat preferment then hath the Iewe? or what profite is there of circumcision?

2 Much euery way. First, for because that vnto them were committed the wordes of God.

3 What then though some of them did not beleeue? Shall their vnbeliefe make the [a] faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: Yea, let God be true, and euery man a lyar, as it is written, That thou mightest be iustified in thy sayings, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 But if our vnrighteousnes setteth forth the righteousnesse of God, what shall we say? Is God vnrighteous which taketh vengeance? (I speake after the maner of men,)

6 God forbid: for howe then shall God iudge the world?

7 For if the trueth of God hath more abounded through my lie vnto his glorie, why am I as yet iudged as a sinner?

8 And not rather (as we be slaunderously reported, and as some affirme that we say) let vs doe euill, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.

9 What then, are we better then they? No, in no wise: for wee haue before accused a Saint Paul speaketh here against those men onely, who being themselues filled with all wickednesse & impietie, yet be of all other most busie and curious in noting and reprehending other mens faultes: not of any godly zeale, but to iustifie themselues, & to bring other men into hatred and contempt.

Matth. 17. 1.

Matth. 16. 27.

b Not that our workes bee of such merite that they deserue reward: but the scriptures vse this kinde of speaking, that thereby it may prouoke and stirre vp men vnto good liuing, whereby our faith may the more appeare, which good workes God of his free grace doth reward.

2. Para. 19. 7. actes 10. 34. Iames. 1. 22.

c It is his Gospel, both for the feruent loue and zeale that he beareth to it, and also for ỹ great paines that he hath taken in setting forth the same.

d He awaketh the Iewes which were a sleepe through a certaine securitie and confidence in the lawe.

e By this word he meaneth all the people, of what countrey or nation soeuer they be, which haue not receiued the signe of circumcision, according to the lawe of Moses.

‖ Or, openly.

a Which is the performance of Gods promise. For faith is taken after two sortes, both for our beleefe, when we assure our selues that God will performe his promise, and also for the stedfastnesse of Gods promise to his people. For although some of the Iewes did not beleeue, yet Gods trueth neuer fayled.

accused both Iewes and Gentiles, that they are all vnder sinne:

Gala.3.22. 10 As it is written,* There is none righteous, no not one:

Psal.13.2. and 52.3. 11 *There is none that vnderstandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are all become vnprofitable, there is none that doeth good, no not one.

13 Their throte is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they haue deceiued, the poyson of Aspes is vnder their lippes.

Psal.9.7. 14 *Whose mouth is full of curssing and bitternesse:

Prou.1.16. esay 59.7. Psal.16.1. 15 *Their feete are swift to shead blood.

16 *Hearts griefe and miserie are in their wayes:

17 And the way of peace haue they not knowen.

Psal.36.2. 18 *There is no feare of God before their eyes.

19 Nowe we knowe that what things so euer the lawe layth, it layeth it to them which are vnder the lawe: that euery mouth may be stopped, and that all the world may be endangered to God.

b He includeth here the whole lawe, both the ceremoniall & morall, whose workes can not iustifie. because they be imperfect in all men. Rom.3.17.

20 Because that by the deeds of the b law, there shal no flesh be iustified in his sight: For by the law commeth the knowledge of sinne.

21 *But nowe the righteousnesse of God without the lawe is made manifest, being witnessed by the lawe and the Prophets.

22 The righteousnesse of God commeth by the fayth of Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all them that beleeue. There is no difference:

23 For all haue sinned, and haue neede of the glory of God,

24 But are iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesu:

c Which is a pacifying of Gods displeasure. That whereas we were sometime bondslaues to sinne, God made his onely sonne Christ Iesus a sacrifice for our sinnes, to reconcile vs againe by faith into Gods fauour.

25 Whom God hath set forth to be a c propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousnesse, by the forgiuing of the sinnes that are past, 26 Which God did suffer, to shew at this time his righteousnesse: that he might be iust, and the iustifier of him which beleeueth on Iesus.

27 Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what lawe? Of workes? Nay: but by the lawe of fayth.

28 Therefore, we holde that a man is iustified by fayth, without the deedes of the lawe.

29 Is he the God of the Iewes onely? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

d Meaning, that the Iewe and the Gentile are both iustified by one meanes, which is by fayth.

30 For it is one God which shall iustifie the circumcision by d fayth, and vncircumcision through fayth.

31 Doe we then destroy the lawe through faith? God forbid: but we rather maintaine the lawe.

The iiij. Chapter.

7 Iustification is the free gift of God, as it appeareth by Dauid and Abraham, 13 and also by the office of lawe and fayth.

1 WHat shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertayning to the flesh, did finde?

2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, then hath hee wherein to boast, but not before God.

3 For what sayth the Scripture? * Abraham beleeued God, and it was counted vnto him for righteousnesse.

Gene.15.6. galat.3.6. iames.2.23.

4 To him that worketh is the rewarde not reckened of grace, but of duetie.

5 To him that worketh not, but beleeueth on him that iustifieth the b vngodly, his fayth is counted for righteousnesse.

a That is, which meaneth not to obteine saluation thorowe the worthinesse of his workes.

b God is sayd to iustifie the vngodly, because he pardoneth his sinnes, and of a wicked man maketh him good.

6 Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednes of the man vnto whom God imputeth righteousnes without workes:

Psal.32.1.

7 Saying, * Blessed are they whose vnrighteousnesse are forgiuen, and whose sinnes are couered.

8 † Blessed is that man to whom the Lord will not impute sinne.

† The Epistle on newe yeeres day.

9 Came this blessednesse then vpon the circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say that fayth was reckened to Abraham for righteousnesse.

10 Howe was it then reckened? when he was in the circumcision? Not in the circumcision, but in vncircumcision.

Gene.17.11.

11 *And he receiued the signe of circumcision, as the c seale of the righteousnes of fayth, which he had yet being vncircumcised: that he should be the father of all them that beleeue, though they be not circumcised, that righteousnes might be imputed vnto them also.

c So was Abrahams circumcision called, because thereby was sealed the righteousnesse that through faith was imputed to him before his circumcision.

12 And that he might be father of circumcision, not vnto them onely which came of the circumcised, but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the fayth that was in our father Abraham, before the time of circumcision.

13 For the promise that he should be the heire of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seede through the lawe, but through the righteousnes of faith.

14 For if they which are of the lawe be heyres, then is fayth but vaine, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the lawe causeth wrath: For where no law is, there is no trãsgression.

Gene.17.4.

16 Therefore by faith is the inheritance giuen that it might be by grace, that the promise might be sure to all the seede, not to that onely which is of the lawe, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, which is the father of vs all.

d In the creation of ỹ world this appeared: For when hee commaunded any thing to be, forthwith it was.

17 (As it is written, * I haue made thee a father of many nations) before God whome ye beleeued, which restoreth the dead vnto life, and calleth those thinges which be not, as d though they were.

e That is, which beleeued and hoped for those things which God did promise, when as to mans reason they were without hope.

18 Who contrary to hope, e beleeued in hope, that he should be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken, * So shall thy seede be.

Gene.15.5.

19 And he fainted not in the faith, nor considered his owne body nowe dead, when he

he was almost an hundred yéeres olde, neither yet the f deadnesse of Saraes wombe.

f For that she was past childe bearing.

20 He stackered not at the promise of God through vnbeliefe: but was strong in faith, giuing glory to God.

21 And being full certified, that what he had promised, hee was able also to performe.

22 And therefore was it reckened to him for righteousnesse.

23 Neuertheless, it is not written for him onely, that it was reckened to him:

24 But also for vs, to whome it shall be reckened, so that we beleeue on him that raysed vp Iesus our Lorde from the dead, 25 Which was deliuered for our sinnes, and was raysed againe for our iustification.

The v. Chapter.

1 The fruite of faith. 12 From whence commeth death, and from whence life.

1 THerefore being iustified by faith, we are at a peace with God, through our Lord Iesus Christ:

a By peace, which is the fruite of faith, is meant the incredible and most constant ioy of minde, our conscience being quiet, & established in Gods grace. Ephes. 2. 23. Iames 1. 3.

2 *By whome also we haue had an entrance by faith, vnto this grace wherein we stand, and reioyce in hope of the glory of God.

3 Not that onely: *but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation worketh patience:

4 Patience proofe, proofe hope:

5 And hope maketh not b ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abroade in our hearts by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.

b Both for that the hope of the godly is not disappointed of that which they hope for, & also for that they are not ashamed of any affliction in this worlde, as the worldly minded be: but constantly abide without shame, whatsoeuer trouble God doeth sende to them.

6 For when we were yet weake, according to the time, Christ died for the vngodly.

7 Nowe scarse will any man die for the righteous: Yet peraduenture for the good, some man durst die.

8 But God setteth out his loue towarde vs, séeing that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for vs.

9 Much more then nowe, we that are iustified by his blood, shall be saued from wrath through him.

10 For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne: much more, seeing we are reconciled, we shall be saued by his life.

11 Not onely so, but we also ioy in God, through our Lorde Iesus Christ, by whome we haue nowe receiued the atonement.

12 Wherefore as by one man sinne entred into the world, and death by sinne: euen so, death entred into all men, inasmuch as all haue sinned.

13 For vnto the lawe was sinne in the world: but sinne is not imputed when there is no lawe.

14 Neuertheless, death reigned from Adam to Moses, ouer them also that had not sinned with like transgression as did Adam, which is the figure of him that was to come.

15 But not as the sinne, so is the free gift. For if through the sinne of one manp be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 And not as by one that sinned, euen so the gift, for the sinne entred by one offence into condemnation: but the gift c of many sinnes vnto iustification.

c For by Christ we are not onely deliuered from the sinnes of Adam, but also from all such sinnes as we haue added thereunto.

17 For if by the sinne of one, death reigned by the meanes of one, much more they which receiue abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousnesse, shall reigne in life by the meanes of one, Iesus Christ.

18 Likewise then, as by the sinne of one sinne came on all men to condemnation: euen so, by the righteousnes of one good came vpon all men to the righteousnesse of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience manp became sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall manp be made righteous.

20 But the lawe in the meane time entred in, that sinne should increase. But where sinne was plenteous, grace was more plenteous.

21 That as sinne hath reigned vnto death: euen so might grace reigne through righteousnesse vnto eternall life, by Iesus Christ our Lord.

The vj. Chapter.

Newnesse of life followeth iustification, to the which he exhorteth.

1 WHat shall we say then? Shall we continue in sinne, that grace may abound? God forbid.

2 Howe shall we that are dead a to sinne, liue any longer therein?

a He dyeth to sinne, in whom the strength of sinne is broken by the power of Christ.

3 † Knowe ye not, that all we which haue bene baptized into Iesus Christ, haue bene baptized b into his death?

† The Epistle on the vj. Sunday after Trinitie.

b That is, that sinne through Christes death may be abolished and dye in vs: and that as we are made cleane outwardly with water in our baptisme, so inwardly our sinnes may be washed away, and clensed by the blood of Christ.

4 We are buryed then with him by baptisme into his death, that likewise as Christ was raysed vp from the dead by the glory of the father: euen so, we also should walke in newnesse of life.

5 For if we be graft together by the likenesse of his death: euen so shall we be partakers of the resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him also, that the body of sinne might vtterly be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serue sinne.

7 For hee that is dead, is iustified from sinne.

8 And if we be dead with Christ, we beleeue that we shall also liue with him:

9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more, death hath no more power ouer him.

10 For as touching that he died, he died concerning sinne once: And as touching that he liueth, he liueth vnto God.

11 Likewise reckon your selues to be dead vnto sinne: but aliue vnto God, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortall body, that ye should thereunto obey by the lustes of it.

13 Neither giue ye your members ‖ as instruments

‖ Or, weapons.

struments of vnrighteousnes vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, and your members ‖ as instruments of righteousnesse vnto God.

‖ Or, weapons.

14 For sinne shall not haue power ouer you, because ye are not vnder the c lawe, but vnder grace.

c That is, vnder the curse of the lawe, whose office is to accuse and condemne: but vnder grace, whereby we haue forgiuenesse of our sinnes, and are sanctified by the holy Ghost into the newnesse of life. Iohn 1.34.

15 What then? Shall we sinne, because wee are not vnder the lawe, but vnder grace? God forbid.

16 * Knowe ye not how that to whom so euer ye commit your selues as seruants to obey, his seruants ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteousnesse?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the seruants of sinne: but ye haue obeyed with heart the fourme of doctrine, into the which ye were brought vnto.

18 Being then made free from sinne, ye are become the seruants of righteousnesse.

19 I speake after d the maner of men, because of the infirmitie of your flesh. For, as ye haue giuen your members seruants to vncleannes, & iniquitie, vnto iniquitie: euen so now giue your members seruants to righteousnesse, vnto holinesse.

d Men vse to speake gently to their friends, and not to exact so much as they might, but so farre foorth as reason requireth.

20 For when yee were the seruants of sinne, ye were free from righteousnesse.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things, whereof ye are nowe ashamed? For the ende of those things, is death.

22 But nowe ye being made free from sinne, and made the seruants of God, haue your fruite vnto holinesse, and the ende euerlasting life.

23 For the rewarde of sinne is death: but the gift of God is eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

The vij. Chapter.

The fight betweene the lawe of the flesh, and the lawe of the spirit.

1 KNowe ye not brethren (for I speake to them that knowe the a lawe) howe that the lawe hath power ouer a man, as long as he liueth?

a Before the comming of Christ, all men were married and bound to the lawe, which did then none other seruice but disclosed their sinne and wickednes, forcing them to seeke helpe for their sin else where. Nowe then the law being abolished for her imperfection, and they clesed through Gods grace, are spoused vnto Christ their new husband, him to serue in newnesse of life. ‖ Or, called.

2 For the woman which hath an husband, is bounde by the lawe to her husband, as long as he liueth: but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the lawe of her husband.

3 So then if while her husband liueth, she couple her selfe with another man, she shalbe ‖ counted a wedlocke breaker: but if her husband be dead, she is free from the lawe, so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though she couple her selfe with another man.

4 Euen so, ye also my brethren, are dead concerning the lawe by the b body of Christ, that ye should be coupled to another, who is raised from the dead, that we should bring foorth fruite vnto God.

b Because the body of Christ is made an offering and a sacrifice for our sinnes, whereby God is pleased, and his wrath appeased: and for Christes sake the holy Ghost is giuen to all beleeuers, whereby the power of sinne is in vs dayly weakened: wee are counted dead to the lawe, for that the lawe hath no dominion ouer vs.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the lustes of sinne which were by the lawe wrought in our members, to bring foorth fruite vnto death.

6 But nowe are we deliuered from the lawe, and dead vnto it wherevnto wee were in bondage, that we should serue in newnesse of spirit, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the lawe sinne? God forbid. Neuertheless, I knewe not sinne, but by the lawe: For I had not knowen lust, except the lawe had said, Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne taking occasion by the commaundement, wrought in me all maner of concupiscence. For without the lawe sinne was dead.

9 I once liued without lawe: but when the commandement came, sinne reuiued,

10 And I was dead: and the very same commaundement which was ordeined vnto life, was founde to be vnto me an occasion of death.

11 For sinne taking occasion by the commaundement, hath deceiued me, and by the same slewe me.

12 Wherefore the lawe is holy, and the commandement holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then which was good, made death vnto me? God forbid. But sinne, that sinne might appeare, by that which was good to worke death in mee: that sinne by the commaundement might be out of measure sinnefull.

14 For we knowe that the lawe is spirituall: but I am carnall, solde vnder c sinne.

c Like as bond men are violently thrust, hurled, and turmoyled, as it pleaseth their cruel master: So are we through heapes of sinnes drawen to many euill doings, which we doe neither like nor alowe.

15 For that which I do, I alowe not: for what I would, that do I not: but what I hate, that doe I.

16 If I doe nowe that which I woulde not, I consent vnto the lawe that it is good.

17 Nowe then, it is not I that doe it: but sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know, that in me (that is to say in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing. For to will, is present with me: but I finde no meanes to performe that which is good.

19 For the good that I would, doe I not: but the euill which I would not, that doe I.

20 And if I do that I would not, then is it not I any longer that doeth it, but sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by the lawe, that when I would do good, euill is present with me.

22 For I delite in the lawe of God, after the inward man.

23 But I see another lawe in my members, rebelling against the lawe of my minde, and subduing me vnto the lawe of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am: who shall deliuer mee from the d body of this death?

d It is called the body of sinne, for that it is an whole lumpe of sinne, tossing and tormenting the whole man, and plucking him frō God, whereby plagues and miseries are heaped on, and man liueth as he were in the middest of death.

25 I thanke

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lord. So then, with the minde I my selfe serue the lawe of God: but with the flesh, the lawe of sinne.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The assurance of the faithfull. 6 The fruites of the holy Ghost.

a The lawe of the spirit and the lawe of sinne, is here taken improperly for the power and strength of the lawe and sinne: and it is called the spirit of life, because it quickeneth and giueth life.

b God through the sacrifice of sinne, which Christ his only sonne offered vpon the Crosse in his flesh, hath condemned and abolished sinne, which reigned in our mortall flesh.

c φρονοῦσι and φρόνημα Greeke wordes do not so much signifie wisedome and prudence, as affection, carefulnesse, and minding of any thing.

d Albeit we haue a body which is dead to all goodnes, by reason of sinne, which so strongly raigneth in it, yet when we are graffed in Christ, his spirit of life giueth vs life, and iustifieth vs.

† The Epistle on the eight Sunday after Trinitie.

The Epistle on the fourth Sunday after Trinitie.

e λογιζομαι signifieth to weigh, or to consider. But nothing doubted

1 THere is then no damnation to them which are in Christ Iesu, which walke not after the flesh, but after the spirit.

2 For the lawe of the a spirite of life, through Iesus Christ, hath made me free from the lawe of sinne and death.

3 For what the lawe coulde not doe, in as much as it was weake through the flesh, God hauing sent his owne sonne, in the similitude of sinnefull flesh, euen by sinne, b condemned sinne in the flesh:

4 That the righteousnesse of the lawe might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the spirit.

5 For they that are carnall, are c carnally minded: but they that are spirituall, are spiritually minded.

6 To be carnally minded is death: but to be spiritually minded, is life and peace:

7 Because that the fleshly minde is enimitie against God: for it is not obedient to the lawe of God, neither can be.

8 So then, they that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the spirite of God dwell in you. If any man haue not the spirit of Christ, the same is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of d sinne: but the spirit is life for righteousnes sake.

11 But if the spirit of him that raysed vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you: euen hee that raised vp Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortall bodies, because that his spirit dwelleth in you.

12 † Therefore brethren, we are debters, not to the flesh, to liue after the flesh.

13 For if ye liue after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the spirit, doe mortifie the deedes of the bodie, ye shall liue.

14 For as many as are ledde by the spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For ye haue not receiued the spirit of bondage againe to feare: but ye haue receiued the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, father.

16 The spirit it selfe beareth witnesse to our spirite, that wee are the sonnes of God.

17 If wee be sonnes, then are wee also heires, the heires of God, & ioynt heires with Christ: so that we suffer together, that we may be also glorified together.

18 For I am certainly e perswaded, that the afflictions of this time, are not worthy of the glorie which shall be shewed vpon vs.

19 For the earnest expectation of the creature abideth, looking when the sonnes of God shall appeare:

20 Because the f creature is subiect to vanitie, not willing, but for him which hath subdued the same in hope.

21 For the creature it selfe shall be made free from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For wee knowe that euery creature groneth with vs also, and trauaileth in pame with vs, euen vnto this time.

23 Not onely they, but wee also which haue the first fruites of the spirit, and we our selues mourne in our selues, waiting for the adoption, euen the deliuerance of our body.

24 For we are saued by hope: But hope that is seene, is no hope. For how can a man hope for that which he seeth?

25 But and if we hope for that we see not, then doe we with patience abide for it.

26 Likewyse, the spirite also helpeth our infirmities. For we knowe not what to desire as wee ought: but the spirite it selfe maketh great g intercession for vs, with groanings, which can not be expressed.

27 And hee that searcheth the heartes, knoweth what is the meaning of the spirit: for hee maketh intercession for the saints, according to the pleasure of God.

28 For we knowe that all things worke for the best, vnto them that loue God, to them which also are called of purpole.

29 For those which he knewe before, hee also did predestinate, that they shoulde be like fashioned vnto the shape of his sonne, that he might be the first begotten among many brethren.

30 Moreouer, whom he did predestinate, them also he called: and whome hee called, them also he iustified: and whom he iustified, them also he glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? If God be on our side, who can be against vs?

32 Which spared not his owne sonne, but gaue him for vs all: howe shall hee not with him also giue vs all things?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that iustifieth:

34 Who is hee that condemneth? It is Christ which dyed, yea rather which is raised againe, which is also on the right hand of God, and maketh intercession for vs.

35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, either hunger, either nakednesse, either perill, either sword?

36 (As it is written, * For thy sake are we killed all day long, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.)

37 Neuertheles, in all these thinges wee ouercome, through him that loued vs.

38 For I am sure, that neither death, neither life, neither Angels, nor rule, neither power, neither thinges present, neither f The creatures shall not be restored before Gods children be brought to their perfection. In the meane season they desire, grone, and walke.

g The right fourme and affection of prayer, commeth by the holy Ghost, who maketh intercession for vs, not that he prayeth and mourneth: but that he so stirreth our hearts, that wee lift them vp to heauen earnestly and feruently, which is the true prayer.

* Psalm. 43. 23.

neither things to come,
39 Neither height, nor depth, neither any other creature, shalbe able to separate vs from the loue of God, which is in Christ Iesu our Lorde.

The ix. Chapter.

Paul declareth his feruent loue toward his nation.

1 I Say the trueth in Christ, I lye not (my conscience also bearing me witnesse by the holy Ghost)
2 That I haue great heauinesse, and continuall sorowe in my heart.
3 For I haue wished my selfe to be cursed from *Christ, for my brethren, my kinsmen as pertaineth to the flesh,
4 Which are the Israelites: to whome pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the couenants, and the lawe that was giuen, and the seruice of God, and the promises:
5 Of whome are the fathers, & of whome as concerning the flesh Christ came which is God, in all things to be praysed for euer, Amen.
6 And it can not be, that the word of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israelites, which are of Israel:
7 Neither are they all children, that are the seede of Abraham: but in Isahac shall thy seede be called.
8 That is to say, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but they which be the children of promise, are counted the seede.
9 For this is the worde of promise, *About this time will I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne.
10 And not onely this, but also *Rebecca was with childe by one, euen by our father Isahac.
11 For yer the children were borne, when they had neither done good, neither bad, (that the purpose of God by b election might stand: not by reason of workes, but by the caller) 12 It was sayd vnto her, The elder shall serue the yonger.
13 As it is written, Iacob haue I loued, but Esau haue I hated.
14 What shall we say then? is there any vnrighteousnesse with God? God forbid.
15 For he sayth to Moses, I will shewe mercie, to whom so euer I shewe mercie: and will haue compassion, on whomsoeuer I haue compassion.
16 So then election is not of the willer, nor of the runner: but of God that taketh mercie.
17 For the scripture sayth vnto Pharao, *Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shewe my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the world.
18 So hath he mercie on whome he will, and whome he will he hardeneth.
19 Thou wilt say then vnto me, Why then blameth he vs yet? For who hath resisted his will?
20 But O man, what art thou which disputest with God? *Shall the worke say to the workeman, Why hast thou made me on this fashion?
21 *Hath not the Potter power ouer the clay, euen of the same lumpe to make one vessell vnto honour, and another vnto dishonour?
22 What if God, willing to shewe his wrath, and to make his power knowen, suffered with long patience the vessels of wrath ordained to destruction, 23 To declare the riches of his glorie on the vessels of mercie, which he had prepared vnto glory?
24 Whom also he called, I meane vs, not of the Iewes onely, but also of the Gentiles.
25 As he sayth also in Osee, *I will call them my people, which were not my people: and her beloued, which was not beloued.
26 *And it shall come to passe, that in the place where it was sayd vnto them, Ye are not my people: there shal they be called the children of the liuing God.
27 And Esaias cryeth concerning Israel, *Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet but a remnant shalbe saued.
28 For he finisheth the c worde, and maketh it short in righteousnes: for a short worde will the Lord make on earth.
29 And as Esaias sayde before, Except the Lord of Sabboth had left vs d seede, we had bene made as Sodoma, and had bene likened to Gomorrha.
30 What shal we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not righteousnesse, haue obteined righteousnesse: euen the righteousnesse which commeth of faith:
31 But Israel which followed the lawe of righteousnesse, hath not attained to the lawe of righteousnesse.
32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the workes of the lawe: For they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone, 33 As it is written, Beholde, I put in e Sion a stumbling stone, and a rocke of offence, & whosoeuer beleeueth on him, shall not be confounded.

The x. Chapter.

1 BRethren, my hearts desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.
2 For I beare them recorde, that they haue a a zeale of God: but not according to knowledge.
3 For they being ignorant of Gods righteousnesse, and going about to stablish their b owne righteousnesse, haue not bene obedient vnto the righteousnesse of God.
4 For Christ is the ende of the lawe, a He sawe the losse and destruction of his whole nation, falling so farre from Gods true religion, hee considered how sore God should be dishonored, when his wonderfull benefites and blessings bestowed vpon his people, shoulde take none effect, but vtterly be defaced, which so mightily moued him, that he wished rather to be cut off from Christ, then these things should come to passe. Gene.18.10. Gene.25.21.

b The will and purpose of god, is the cause of the election & reprobation. For his mercie and calling through Christ, are the meanes of saluation, and the withdrawing of his mercie, is the cause of damnation.

c The worde here is take for a thing or matter. The Lorde diminished his people by sundrie plagues, persecutions, & banishments, and brought them to a very fewe. Likewise meaneth Paul, that a fewe of them shall be saued, which fewe notwithstanding shall abound in righteousnes to the glory of God.

d The seede is Christ Iesus, sowen abroad by his Apostles and disciples.

e Christ doeth iustifie vs by faith without workes, which thing ỹ Iewes and Iusticiaries can not beleeue. Therefore they stumble at Christ, & are offended with him.

a That is a certaine affection, but not after knowledge. For no zeale, nor good intent can be acceptable vnto God, but onely that which is grounded vpon faith, and the knowledge of God. b It is called our owne righteousnes, when we refuse the righteousnes which commeth by Christ, and imagine another righteousnesse which commeth by our owne workes and deuices.

for righteousnesse to all that beleeue.
5 For Moses writeth of the righteousnes which is of the lawe, howe that the man which doeth those thinges, shall liue by them.
6 But the righteousnes which is of faith, speaketh on this wise: Say not thou in thine heart, Who shall ascend into d heauen? that is, to fetch Christ downe from aboue.
7 Either who shall descende into the deepe? that is to fetche vp Christ againe from the dead.
8 But what saith he, The worde is nigh thee, euen in thy mouth, & in thy heart. This same is the worde of faith, which we preach.
9 † For if thou shalt knowledge with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleeue in thine heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saued.
10 For with the heart man beleeueth vnto righteousnesse, and with the mouth confession is made vnto saluation.
11 For the Scripture saith, Whosoeuer beleeueth on him, shall not bee confounded.
12 There is no difference betweene the Iewe and the Greeke: for the same Lorde ouer all, is rich vnto all that call vpon him.
13 For whosoeuer shall call on the Name of the Lord, shall be saued.
14 Howe then shall they call on him, on whom they haue not beleeued? Howe shall they beleeue on him, of whome they haue not heard? Howe shall they heare without a preacher?
15 And howe shall they preache, except they be sent? As it is written, Howe beautifull are the feete of them which bring good tidings of peace, and bring good tidings of good thinges?
16 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias saith, Lorde, who hath beleeued our sayings?
17 So then faith commeth by hearing, and hearing commeth by the worde of God.
18 But (I aske) haue they not heard? No doubt, their sounde went out into all lands, and their wordes into the ends of the worlde.
19 But I demaunde whether Israel did knowe, or not? First Moses saith, * I will prouoke you to enuie by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.
20 And Esaias is bolde, and saith, * I haue bene found of them that sought me not: I haue bene made manifest vnto them that asked not after me.
21 But against Israel he saith, * All day long haue I stretched out my handes vnto a people that beleeueth not, but speaketh against me.

c That is, Christ hath fulfilled y whole law, and therefore whosoeuer beleeueth in him, is counted iust before God, as well as he had fulfilled the whole lawe himselfe.
d For fayth teacheth vs that Christ is ascended vp into heauen, to take vs with him, and hath descended into the depth of death, and to destroy death, to deliuer vs.

The xj. Chapter.

29 God repenteth him not of his giftes. 33 The depth of Gods iudgements.

1 I Say then, hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Beniamin.
2 God hath not cast away his people which hee knewe before. Wote ye not what the Scripture saith of Elias? how hee maketh intercession to God against Israel,
3 * Saying, Lorde, they haue killed thy Prophets, and digged downe thine a altars, and I am left alone, and they seeke my life.
4 But what saieth the answere of God vnto him? I haue reserued vnto my selfe seuen thousande men, which haue not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.
5 Euen so at this time there is a remnant, according to the election of grace.
6 If it be of grace, then is it not nowe of workes: for then grace is no more grace. But if it be of workes, then is it nowe no grace, for then worke is no more worke.
7 What then? Israel hath not obteined that which he seeketh for, but the election hath obteined it, the remnant hath bene ‖ blinded.
8 (According as it is written, * God hath giuen them the spirite of b remorse: eyes, that they should not see, and eares, that they shoulde not heare) euen vnto this day.
9 And Dauid saieth, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, & a stumbling stocke, and a recompence vnto them.
10 Let their eyes be ‖ blinded, that they see not, and bowe thou downe their backes alway.
11 I say then, Haue they therefore stumbled, that they should fall? God forbid: but through their fall, saluation is come vnto the c Gentiles, for to prouoke them withall.
12 Nowe if the fall of them, be the riches of the world, and the minishing of them, the riches of the Gentiles: howe much more their fulnesse?
13 For I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office, 14 If by any meane I may prouoke them which are my flesh, and might saue some of them.
15 For if the casting away of them, be the reconciling of the worlde, what shall the receiuing of them be, but life from the dead?
16 For if the first fruits be holy, the whole lumpe also is holy. And if the roote be holy, the branches also.
17 And if some of the branches be broken d off, and thou being a wilde Oliue tree, wast graft in among them, and made partaker of the roote and fatnesse of the Oliue tree:

1. King. 19. 10.
a Those altars hee meaneth whereupon Abrahã, Isahac, and Iacob did offer sacrifices in times past, vpon the which it was lawfull for the Iewes to do sacrifice, vntill the building of the Temple.
Esay 29. 10. matt. 13. 14.
b That is, pricking and vnquietnesse of conscience.
‖ Or, hardened.
‖ Or, darkened.
c That is, for that the Iewes contemning the Gospel of Christ, fell away from God, the preaching of the Gospel came vnto the Gentiles, which is their saluation.
d These broken branches, were the vnbeleeuing Iewes, which for their vnbeleefe, were cut off from the promise of God, in whose steade was the wilde Oliue, that is, the Gentiles, grafted through fayth.

18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches. For if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.
19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be graft in.
20 Well: because of vnbeliefe they were broken off, and thou stoodest stedfast in faith. Be not high minded, but feare.
21 For seeing that God spared not the naturall branches, take heede least it come to passe, that he spare not thee.
22 Beholde therefore the kindenesse and rigorousnesse of God: on them which fell, rigorousnesse: but towardes thee, kindnesse, if thou continue in kindenesse: or else thou also shalt be hewen off.
23 And they, if they bide not still in vnbeliefe, shall be graffed in: for God is of power to graffe them in againe.
24 For if thou were cut out of a naturall wilde Olíue tree, and were graffed, contrary to nature, in a true Olíue tree: how much more shall these which be the naturall branches, be graffed in their owne Olíue tree?
25 For I woulde not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mysterie, (least ye thoulde be wise in your owne conceites) that partly ‖ blindnesse is happened in Israel, vntill the fulnesse of the Gentiles be come in.
26 And so all Israel shalbe saued, as it is written, * There shall come out of Sion hee that doeth deliuer, and shall turne away vngodlinesse from Iacob.
27 And this is my couenant vnto them * when I shall take away their sinnes.
28 As concerning the Gospell, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are loued for the fathers sakes.
29 For the free giftes and calling of God, are without repentance.
30 For as ye in time past haue not beleeued God, yet haue ye nowe obteined mercie through their vnbeliefe:
31 Euen so nowe haue they not ‖ beleeued the mercie shewed vnto you, that they also may obteine mercie.
32 For God hath shut vp all nations in vnbeliefe, that hee might haue mercie on all.
33 O the deepenesse of the riches both of the wisedome and knowledge of God: howe vnsearchable are his iudgements, and his wayes past finding out?
34 For * who hath knowen the minde of the Lord? Or who hath bene his counseller?
35 Either who hath giuen vnto him first, ᶜ and he shalbe recompensed againe?
36 For of him, and through him, and for him, are all things: to whome be glorie for euer, Amen.

ᶜ By this the Apostle declareth that God by his free will and election, doeth giue saluation vnto men, without any deserts of their owne.

Howe euery man shoulde walke in his seuerall calling.

I Beseech you therefore brethren, by the mercifulnesse of God, that ye ‖ giue vp your bodies a quicke a sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your reasonable seruice.
2 And be not ye fashioned like vnto this b world: but be ye chaged in your shape, by the renuing of your minde, that ye may prooue what is the good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.
3 For I say, through the grace giuen vnto me, to euery man that is among you, that no man esteeme of him selfe more then he ought to esteeme: but so ᶜ esteeme himselfe that he behaue himselfe discretely, according as God hath dealt to euery man the measure of faith.
4 For as we haue many members in one body, ‡ all members haue not one office:
5 So wee, being many, are one body in Christ, and euery one, members one of another.
6 † Seing that we haue diuers gifts, according to the grace that is giue vnto vs: either prophecie, after ᵈ measure of faith:
7 Either office, in administration: or he that teacheth, in teaching:
8 Or he that exhorteth, in exhorting: he that giueth, in singlenesse: hee that ruleth, in diligence: he that is mercifull, in chearefulnesse:
9 Loue, without dissimulation, hating euill, cleauing to good.
10 Affectioned one to another with brotherly loue, in giuing honour, going one before another.
11 Not lither in businesse, feruent in spirit, seruing the Lord.

13 Distributing to the necessitie of saintes, giuen to hospitalitie.
14 * Blesse them which persecute you, blesse, and curse not.
15 Reioyce with them that do reioyce, and weepe with them that weepe.
16 * Being of like affection one towardes another, being not high minded: but making your selues equall to them of the lower sort. ‡ Be not wise in your owne opinions.
17 * Recompensing to no man euill for euill. Prouiding afore hande things honest, not onely before God, but also in the sight of all men.
18 * If it be possible, as much as lyeth in you, liue peaceably with all men.
19 Dearely beloued, auenge not your selues, but rather giue place vnto wrath. For it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay saith the Lord.
20 Therefore, if thine enemie hunger, feede him: if he thirst, giue him drinke: for in so doing, thou shalt heape ᵈ coales of fire on his head.
21 Be not ouercome of euil, but ouercome euill with good.

a The Iewes in Moses law were commanded to offer vp ỳ dead carkeises of beastes: but Christias should exhibite their owne liuely bodies for a sacrifice to God, in mortifying their carnall lustes, and framing themselues by faith to godlines & charitie.

b The worlde hath diuers significations in the Scriptures, but it is taken specially for the nature and disposition of men in the worlde, which liued after their lustes and pleasures, and serued not God in holines of life, and godly cõuersation.

c Two things are required if we wil esteeme or iudge soberly of Gods gifts in vs: The one, that we doe not arrogate to our selues, that which we haue not: the next, that we boast not of our gifts, but reuerently and soberly vse them to Gods honor & glory.

1 Of obedience to the rulers, which beare not the swoorde in vaine. 8 Charitie must measure all our doings.

The Epistle on the fourth Sunday after the Epiphanie. Sapient. 6. 4.

1 LEt euery soule be subiect vnto the higher powers: For * there is no power but of God. The powers that be, are ordeined of God.

2 Whosoeuer therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shall receiue to themselues damnation.

3 For rulers are not fearefull to good workes, but to the euill. Wilt thou not feare the power? Do well, and thou shalt haue praise of the same.

4 For he is the minister of God for thy wealth. But if thou do euill, feare, for he beareth not the swoorde in vaine: For he is the minister of God, reuenger of wrath on him that doeth euill.

5 Wherefore ye must needes be subiect, not onely for feare of ‖ punishment: but also because of a conscience.

6 And for this cause pay ye tribute, for they are Gods ministers, seruing for the same purpose.

7 Giue to euery man therefore his duetie, tribute to whom tribute is due, custome to whom custome, feare to whom feare, honour to whom honour belongeth.

8 † Owe nothing to no man, but to loue one another: (For he that loueth another, hath fulfilled the lawe.

9 For this, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie, thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not steale, thou shalt not beare false witnesse, thou shalt not lust: * and if there be any other commaundement, it is in fewe woordes comprehended in this saying: Namely, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

10 Charitie worketh no ill to his neighbour, therefore the fulfilling of the lawe is charitie.)

11 And chiefly considering the season, how that it is time that we shoulde nowe awake out of sleepe: For nowe is our saluation b nearer then when we beleeued.

12 The night is passed, the day is come nigh. Let vs therefore cast away the deedes of darkenesse, * and let vs put on the armour of light.

13 Let vs walke honestly, as in the day, not in rioting and drunkennesse, neither in chambring and wantonnesse, neither in strife and enuying.

2 One beleeueth that hee may eate euery thing: another which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth. For God hath receiued him.

4 What art thou that iudgest another mans seruant? To his owne master he standeth or falleth: Yea, he shalbe holden vp, for God is able to make him stand.

5 This man putteth difference betweene day and day. Another man counteth all dayes alike. Let euery man be fully perswaded in his owne b minde.

6 He that esteemeth the day, esteemeth it vnto the Lord: and he that esteemeth not the day, to the Lord he doeth not esteeme it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for he giueth God thankes: and he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lorde, and giueth God thankes.

7 For none of vs liueth to himselfe, and no man dieth to himselfe.

8 For if we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: and if wee die, wee die vnto the Lorde: Whether we liue therefore, or die, we are the Lords.

9 For to this ende Christ both dyed, and rose, and reuiued, that he might be Lord both of dead and quicke.

10 But why doest thou then iudge thy brother? Either, why doest thou set at nought thy brother? * we shall all stande before the iudgement seate of Christ.

11 For it is written, * I liue, saith the Lord, and all knees shall bowe to mee, and all tongues shall giue praise to God.

12 So shall euery one of vs giue account of himselfe to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but iudge this rather, that no man put a stumbling blocke, or an occasion to fall, in his brothers way.

14 For I knowe, and am perswaded by the Lorde Iesus, that there is nothing common of it selfe, but vnto him that iudgeth it to be common, to him it is common.

15 But if thy brother be grieued with thy meate, nowe walkest thou not charitably: * destroy not him with thy meate, for whome Christ died.

16 Let not your good be euill spoken of.

17 For the kingdome of God is not meate and drinke: but righteousnesse, & peace, and ioy in the holy Ghost.

18 For hee that in these thinges serueth Christ, pleaseth God, and is commended of men.

19 Let vs therefore followe those things which make for peace, & things wherewith one may edifie another.

20 Destroye not the worke of God for meates sake: * all things are pure, but it is euil for that man which eateth with offence.

21 It is good neither to eate flesh, neither to drinke wine, neither any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, eyther is offended, c Faith is here taken for a full perswasion of the christian libertie in things indifferent.

22 Hast thou c faith? haue it with thy selfe before God. Happie is he that condemneth not himselfe in that thing which he alloweth.

d This sentence, both Augustine and Origene doe take to be generally meant of all mens workes whatsoeuer they be which proceede not of a right conscience, and in vndoubted faith, grounded vpon the worde of God.

1 WE which are strong, ought to beare the fraileneſſe of the weak, and not to stande in our owne conceites.

a To edifie, signifieth to do all maner of dueties to our neighbour, either to bring him to Christ, or if he be won, that he may go forwarde to vertue.

8 And I say, that Iesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the trueth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers:

14 I my selfe am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodneſſe, and filled with all knowledge, able also to exhort one another.

15 Neuertheleſſe, brethren, I haue somewhat more boldely written vnto you, as putting you in remembrance through the grace that is given to me of God,

16 That I should be the minister of Iesus Christ to the Gentiles, ‖ and should minister the Gospel of God, that the offering of the b Gentiles might be acceptable, and sanctified by the holy Ghost.

‖ Or sacrificing.

17 I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce through Christ Iesus, in those things which pertaine to God.

b He calleth here the offering of the Gentiles, the people of the Gentiles, whom he won to God by preaching of the Gospel.

8 which

8 Which shall also ‖ strengthen you vnto the ende, that ye may be ᵇ blameles in the day of our Lord Iesus Christ.

9 * God is faithfull, by whom ye haue beene called vnto the felowship of his sonne Iesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseeche you brethren by the name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that ye all speake one thing, and that there be no dissentions among you: but that ye be perfectly ioyned together in the same minde, and in the same meaning.

11 For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren, of you, by them which are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 This I say, that euery one of you saieth, I am of Paul, and I am of *Apollo, and I am of Cephas, & I am of Christ.

13 Is Christ diuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14 I thanke God that I baptized none of you but *Crispus and Gaius:

15 Least any should say that I had baptized in mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the household of Stephana: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel: * not with wisedome of ᶜ wordes, least the crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnes: but vnto vs which are saued, *it is ᵖ power of God.

19 For it is written, I will destroy the wisdome of the wise, and will cast away the *vnderstanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is ᵖ Scribe? where is ᵖ disputer of this world? Hath not God made the wisedome of this world foolish?

21 For after that in the wisedome of God, the world through their wisdome knew not God, it pleased God through foolishnesse of preaching, to saue them that beleeue.

22 For * the Iewes require a signe, and the Grekes seeke after wisedome.

23 But we preach Christ crucified, vnto the Iewes a stumbling blocke, and vnto the Grekes, foolishnesse:

24 But vnto them which are called, both Iewes and Grekes, Christ, the power of God, and the wisedome of God.

25 For the foolishnesse of God is wiser then men: and the weakenesse of God is stronger then men.

26 Brethren, ye see your calling, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mightie, not many noble are called:

27 But God hath chosen ᵖ foolish things of the worlde, to confound the wise: and God hath chosen the weake things of the world, to confound the things which are mightie:

28 And vnnoble things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are:

29 That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 And of him are ye in Christ Iesus, which of God is made vnto vs wisedome, and righteousnesse, and sanctification, and redemption:

31 That according as it is written, * He that glorieth, let him glorie in the Lord.

The ij. Chapter.

He putteth for example his maner of preaching, which was according to the tenor of the Gospel.

1 AND I, brethren, when I came to you, * came not in ‖ gloriousnesse of wordes, or of wisdome, shewing vnto you the ª testimonie of God.

2 For I esteemed not to know any thing among you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 And I was among you in weakenesse, and in feare, and in much trembling.

4 And my wordes and my preaching *was not with entising words of mans wisedome, but in shewing of the spirite, and of power:

5 That your faith should not stand in the wisedome of men, but in the power of God.

6 And we speake wisedome among them that are perfect: not the wisedome of this world, neither of the princes of this world, which come to nought:

7 But we speake the wisedome of God in a mysterie, euen the hid wisedome which God ordained before the worlde, vnto our glory.

8 Which none of the princes of this worlde knewe: for had they known it, they would not haue crucified the Lorde of glory.

9 But as it is written, * The eie hath not seene, and the eare hath not heard, neither haue entred into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that loue him.

10 But God hath reuealed them vnto vs by his spirit: for the spirit searcheth all things, yea the deepe things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, saue the ᵇ spirit of man which is in him? Euen so ᵖ things of God knoweth no man, but the spirit of God.

12 And we haue not receiued the spirite of the world, but ᵖ spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are giuen to vs of God.

13 * Which things also we speake, not in the words which mans wisedome teacheth, but which ᵖ holy Ghost teacheth: comparing spirituall things with spirituall things.

14 But the naturall man perceiueth not the things of the spirit of God, for they are foolishnesse vnto him: neither can he knowe them because they are spiritually discerned.

15 * But he that is spirituall, discerneth all things, yet he himselfe is iudged of no man.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Paul rebuketh the sects and authors thereof. 13 Christ is the foundation of the Church.

1 AND I coulde not speake vnto you brethren, as vnto spirituall, but as vnto carnall, euen as vnto a babes in Christ.

2 I haue nourished you with milke, and not with meate: for ye then were not strong, neither are ye as yet.

3 For ye are yet carnall: Seeing then there is among you enuying, and strife, and sectes, are ye not carnall, and walke as men?

4 For while one saieth, I am of Paul, and another, I am of Apollo, are ye not carnall?

5 For what is Paul? what is Apollo? but ministers by who ye beleeued, euen as the Lord gaue to euery man.

6 I haue planted, Apollo watered: but God gaue the encrease.

7 So then, neither is he that planteth any thing: neither he that watereth: but God that giueth the encrease.

8 Ye that planteth, & he that watereth, are one: * and euery man shall receiue his reward according to his labour.

9 For we together are Gods labourers, ye are Gods husbandry, ye are Gods building.

10 According to the grace of God which is giuen vnto me, as a wise master builder haue I laide the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let euery man b take heede how he buildeth vpon.

11 For other foundation can no man lay then that is laid, which is Iesus Christ.

12 If any man builde on this foundation, golde, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, or stubble:

13 Euery mans worke shall be made manifest. The day shall declare it, because it shall be reuealed by the fire, and the fire shall trie euery mans worke what it is.

14 If any mans worke that he hath built vpon abide, he shall receiue a reward.

15 If any mans worke burne, he shall suffer losse, but he shall be safe himselfe: yet as it were through fire.

16 * Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirite of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man ‖ defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18 Let no man deceme himselfe: If any man among you seeme to him selfe to be wise in this worlde, let him become a foole, that he may be wise.

19 For the wisedome of this world, is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, * He compasseth the wise in c their owne craftinesse.

20 And againe, The Lorde knoweth the thoughtes of the wise, that they be vaine.

21 Therefore let no man glorie in d men, for all things are yours:

22 Whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, either the world, either life, or death, whether things present, or things to come, al are yours:

23 But yee are Christes, and Christ is Gods.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 seeing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 he appealeth to Gods iudgement.

1 LEt a man so esteeme of vs as the ministers of Christ, and dispolers of the secrets of God. The Epistle on the third Sunday in Aduent.

2 Furthermore, it is required in the dispolers, that a man be found faithfull.

3 With me it is but a very small thing that I should be iudged of you, either of mans iudgement: yea, I iudge not a mine owne selfe. a Whether I haue great gifts or litle, fewe or many.

4 For I knowe nothing by my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustified: but hee that iudgeth me, is the Lord.

5 *Therefore iudge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who wil lighten the hidden things of darkenesse, and open the counsels of the hearts: and then shall euery man haue praise of God. Matth.7.1. rom.2.1.

6 And these things brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto my selfe and to Apollos, for your sakes: that ye might learne by vs, not to be wise aboue that which is written, that you swell not one against another for any mans cause.

7 For who b separateth thee? And what hast thou that thou hast not receiued? If thou hast receiued it, why doest thou glory as though thou hadst not receiued it? b To wit, from other men, and preferreth thee.

8 Now ye are full, now ye are riche, ye haue reigned as kings without vs, and I would to God ye did reigne, that we also might reigne with you.

9 For me thinketh that God hath set forth vs which are the last Apostles, as it were men appointed to death. For we are made a gasing stocke vnto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 We are c fooles for Christes sake, but ye are wise in Christ. We are weake, but ye are strong: Ye are honourable, but we are despised. c By this bitter taunting, in abiecting himself, and exalting the Corinthians, he maketh them ashamed of their vaine glorie.

11 Euen vnto this ‖ time we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, & haue no certaine dwelling place, ‖Or, houre.

12 *And labour, working with our owne hands: being reuiled, we bleese: being persecuted, we suffer it: Actes 20.34. 1.thes.2.9. 2.thes.3.8. Matth.5.44.

13 * Being defamed, wee pray: wee are made as the filthinesse of the world, and are the offscouring of all things vnto this day.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued sonnes I warne you.

15 For though ye haue ten thousand instructers in Christ, yet haue ye not many fathers: For in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

16 Wherefore I desire you, be ye followers of me.

17 For

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sone, and faithfull in the Lorde, who shall put you in remembrance of my wayes which be in Christ, as I teach euery where in all Churches.

1.Tim. 1.20. 5 * To deliuer such a one vnto Satan, for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirite may be saued in the day of the Lorde Jesus.

b Seeing you suffer such monstruous vices vnpunished. Galat. 5.9.

6 Your glorying is not [b] good. * Knowe ye not that a litle leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe?

7 Purge out therefore the olde leauen, that ye may be a newe lumpe, as ye are vnleauened. For euen Christ our Passeouer is ‖ offered vp for vs.

‖Or, is slaine.

8 Therefore let vs keepe holy day, not with olde leauen, neither with the leaue of maliciousnesse and wickednesse: but with the vnleauened bread of purenesse and truth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, that ye shoulde not companie with fornicatours.

10 I did not meane not at all with the fornicatours of this worlde, or with the couetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters: for then must ye needes haue gone out of the world.

11 But now this I write vnto you, not to company together, if any that is called a brother be a fornicatour, or couetous, or a worshipper of idols, or a railer, or a drunkarde, or an extortioner: with him that is such, not to eate.

12 For what haue I to doe to iudge them that are without? do not ye iudge them that are within?

13 Them that are without, God shall iudge. And ye shall put away from among you that wicked person.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Christians ought rather to suffer. 12 He reproueth the abusing of Christian libertie, 15 and sheweth that we ought to serue God purely, both in body and soule.

1 DAre any of you, hauing businesse ‖ with another, be iudged vnder the [a] vniust, and not rather vnder the Saincts?

‖Or, against. a He calleth them vniust, whosoeuer are not sanctified in Christ.

2 Doe ye not knowe that the Saincts shall iudge the worlde? If the worlde shall be iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?

3 Knowe ye not how that we shal iudge the angels? howe much more, things that pertaine to this life?

4 If then ye haue iudgement of thinges pertaining to this life, set vp them to iudge which are least esteemed in the Church.

5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no not one that shall be able to iudge betweene his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to lawe with brother, and that vnder the vnbeleeuers?

7 Nowe therefore, there is vtterly a ‖ fault among you, because ye goe to lawe one with another: * Why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather suffer ye not harme?

‖Or, want. Matth. 5.39. luke 6.29. rom. 12.19. 1.Thes. 4.6.

8 Nay, * ye your selues doe wrong, and doe harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the vnrighteous shal not inherite the kingdome of God? Be not deceiued: neither fornicatours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselues with mankinde, 10 Nor thieues, nor couetous, nor drunkardes, nor reuilers, nor ‖ pillers, shall inherite the kingdome of God.

‖Or, extortioners. Titus 3.3.

11 * And some such like you were: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the spirit of our God.

12 All things are lawfull vnto me, but all things are not profitable: all things are lawfull for me, but I will not be brought vnder the [b] power of any.

b For we are subiect to those things which we can not want.

13 Meates for the belly, and the belly for meates: but God shall destroy both it and them. Nowe the body is not for [c] fornication, but for the Lorde: and the Lord for the body.

c They abused meates both in that they offended other thereby, and also prouoked their owne lustes to vncleannes.

14 And God both hath raised vp the Lord, * & also shall raise vs vp by his power.

Rom. 6.5.

15 Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What, knowe ye not that he which is ‖ coupled with an harlot, is one ‖ bodie? * For two (saith he) shalbe one flesh.

‖Or, ioyned. ‖Or, the bodie. matth. 19.5. marke 10.8. Gene. 2.24.

Rom.11.34. esai 40.13.

c That is, Christes spirit.

16 * For who hath knowen the minde of the Lorde, that hee might instruct him? But we haue c the minde of Christ.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Paul rebuketh the sects and authors thereof. 13 Christ is the foundation of the Church.

1 AND I coulde not speake vnto you brethren, as vnto spirituall, but as vnto carnall, euen as vnto a babes in Christ.

a Being ingraffed in Christ by faith, we beginne to mooue by his spirit: & as we profit in faith, we growe vp to a ripe age. And here let him take heede that teacheth, lest for milke he giue poison. For milke and strong meate in effect are one, but onely differ in maner and forme.

2 I haue nourished you with milke, and not with meate: for ye then were not strong, neither are ye as yet.

3 For ye are yet carnall: Seeing then there is among you enuying, and strife, and sectes, are ye not carnall, and walke as men?

4 For while one saieth, I am of Paul, and another, I am of Apollo, are ye not carnall?

5 For what is Paul? what is Apollo? but ministers by whō ye beleeued, euen as the Lord gaue to euery man.

6 I haue planted, Apollo watered: but God gaue the encrease.

7 So then, neither is he that planteth any thing: neither he that watereth: but God that giueth the encrease.

8 He that planteth, & he that watereth, are one: * and euery man shall receiue his reward according to his labour.

9 For we together are Gods labourers, ye are Gods husbandry, ye are Gods building.

10 According to the grace of God which is giuen vnto me, as a wise master builder haue I laide the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let euery man b take heede how he buildeth vpon.

Psal.62.13. galat.6.5.

b He reproueth the ministers of Corinth, as teachers of curious doctrines and questions.

11 For other foundation can no man lay then that is laid, which is Iesus Christ.

12 If any man build on this foundation, golde, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, or stubble:

13 Euery mans worke shall be made manifest. The day shall declare it, because it shall be reuealed by the fire, and the fire shall trie euery mans worke what it is.

14 If any mans worke that he hath built vpon abide, he shall receiue a rewarde.

15 If any mans worke burne, he shall suffer losse, but he shall be safe himselfe: yet as it were through fire.

1.Cor.6.19.

16 * Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirite of God dwelleth in you?

‖ Or, destroy. Iob 5.13.

17 If any man ‖ defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

c When they themselues are entangled in the same snares which they laid for others.

18 Let no man deceiue himselfe: If any man among you seeme to him selfe to be wise in this worlde, let him become a foole, that he may be wise.

d But in God, who worketh by his ministers to his owne glorie, and the comfort of his Church.

19 For the wisedome of this world, is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, * He compasseth the wise in c their owne craftinesse.

20 And againe, The Lorde knoweth the thoughtes of the wise, that they be vaine.

21 Therefore let no man glory in d men, for all things are yours:

22 Whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, either the world, either life, or death, whether things present, or things to come, al are yours:

23 But ye are Christes, and Christ is Gods.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 seeing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 he appealeth to Gods iudgement.

1 LEt a man so esteeme of vs as the ministers of Christ, and dispolers of the secrets of God.

The Epistle on the third Sunday in Aduent.

2 Furthermore, it is required in the dispolers, that a man be found faithfull.

3 With me it is but a very small thing that I should be iudged of you, either of mans iudgement: yea, I iudge not a mine owne selfe.

a Whether I haue great gifts or litle, fewe or many.

4 For I knowe nothing by my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustified: but hee that iudgeth me, is the Lord.

5 *Therefore iudge nothing before the time, vntil the Lord come, who will lighten the hidden things of darkenesse, and open the counsels of the hearts: and then shall euery man haue praise of God.

Matth.7.1. rom.2.1.

6 And these things brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto my selfe and to Apollos, for your sakes: that ye might learne by vs, not to be wise aboue that which is written, that you swell not one against another for any mans cause.

7 For who b separateth thee? And what hast thou that thou hast not receiued? If thou hast receiued it, why doest thou glory as though thou hadst not receiued it?

b To wit, from other men, and preferreth thee.

8 Now ye are full, now ye are riche, ye haue reigned as kings without vs, and I would to God ye did reigne, that we also might reigne with you.

9 For me thinketh that God hath set forth vs which are the last Apostles, as it were men appointed to death. For we are made a gasing stocke vnto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 We are c fooles for Christes sake, but ye are wise in Christ. We are weake, but ye are strong: ye are honourable, but we are despised.

c By this bitter taunting, in abiecting himself, and exalting the Corinthians, he maketh them ashamed of their vaine glorie.

11 Euen vnto this ‖ time we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, & haue no certaine dwelling place,

14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued sonnes I warne you.

15 For though ye haue ten thousand instructers in Christ, yet haue ye not many fathers: For in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

16 Wherefore I desire you, be ye followers of me.

17 For

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sone, and faithfull in the Lorde, who shall put you in remembrance of my wayes which be in Christ, as I teach euery where in all Churches.

18 Some are swolle, as though I would come no more at you:

Actes 19.21. iam.4.15.

19 * But I will come to you shortly, if the Lorde will, and will knowe, not the wordes of them which are swollen, but the power.

20 For the kingdome of God is not in worde, but in [d] power.

d Of the holy Ghost.

21 What will ye? Shall I come vnto you with a rodde, or in lone, and in the spirit of meekenesse?

The v. Chapter.

e He reproueth sharpely their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest. 3 willing them to excommunicate him. 7 to imbrace puritie. 9 and flee wickednes.

1.Cor.6.16.

d To liue after your owne will, but after the will of him, that hath bought you.

1.Pet.1.18.

The vij. Chapter.

The Apostle answereth to certaine questions which the Corinthians desired to knowe.

1 NOwe as concerning the thinges whereof ye wrote vnto me: It is [a] good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Neuertheles, to auoyde fornication, let euery man haue his owne wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husbande.

3 * Let the husbande giue vnto the wife due beneuolence: Likewise also the wife vnto the husband.

4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: And likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.

5 Defraude you not the one the other, except it be with both your consents for a time, that ye may giue your selues to fasting and prayer: and afterwarde come together againe, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

a Or, expedient, because marriage through mans corruption, & not by Gods institution, bringeth cares and troubles.

1.Pet.3.7.

6 This I say ‖ of fauour, and [b] not of commandement.

‖ Or, by way of sufferance.

7 For I would that all men were euen as I my selfe: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, another after that.

b He sheweth that he commandeth not precisely to marry, but that God hath graunted this remedie vnto them which can not liue chaste.

Matth.5.32. and 19.9.

8 I say therefore to the vnmarryed and widowes, it is good for them if they abide euen as I.

9 But if they can not abstaine, let them marrie: for it is better to marrie then to burne.

10 Vnto the married commande, not I, but the Lorde, * Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remaine vnmarried, or be reconciled to her husband againe: And let not the husbande put away his wife.

12 But to the remnant speake I, not the Lorde, If any brother haue a wife that beleeueth not, and she consent to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath to her husbande an infidell, and he consent to dwel with her, let her not put him away.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husband is sanctified by the wife, and the vnbeleeuing wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children vncleane, but nowe are they [c] holy.

c They that are borne of either of the parents faithfull, are also counted members of Christes Church, because of the promise.

15 But if the vnbeleeuing depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not made subiect in such thinges: but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For howe knowest thou, O woman, whether thou shalt saue thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to euery man, as the Lord hath called euery one, so let him walke, and so ordeine I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not adde vncircumcision: Is any called in vncircumcision, let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandements of God.

20 * Let euery man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

Ephes.4.1.

21 Art thou called a seruant? care not for it: neuertheles, if thou mayest be made free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord being a seruant, is the Lordes free man: likewise also he that is called being free, is Christes seruant.

23 * Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the seruants of men.

1.Pet.1.18.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherein he is called, therein abide [d] with God.

d Or, sincerely, as in the presence of God.

25 Nowe concerning virgins, I haue no commandement of the Lorde: yet giue I counsell, as one that hath obtained mercie of the Lorde to be faithfull.

26 I suppose therefore that it is good for the present necessitie, that I say, it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bounde vnto a wife? seeke not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28 But and if thou marrie, thou hast not sinned, and if a virgin marrie, she hath not sinned: neuertheles, such shall haue trouble in the flesh: but ‖ I beare it you.

‖ Or, spare you.

29 But this say I brethren, because the time is short: it remaineth that they also which haue wiues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that bye, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this worlde, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world goeth away.

32 I would haue you without care. He that is vnmarried, careth for the things that belong to the Lorde, howe he may please the Lorde:

33 But he that hath married, careth for the things that are of the worlde, howe he may please his wife.

34 There is difference betweene a virgin and a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the things that are of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirite: but she that is married, careth for the things that pertaine to the worlde, how she may please her husband.

35 This speake I for your profite: not that I may cast a snare vpon you, but for comelinesse sake, and sitting fast vnto the Lorde Lorde without separation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgin if she passe the time of mariage, c and neede so require, let him doe what he will, he sinneth not: let them be married.

c That is, that shee shoulde marie to auoide fornication.

37 Neuertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his heart, hauing no neede, but hath power ouer his owne will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keepe his virgin, doeth well.

38 So then he that giueth in marriage doeth well: but he that giueth not in marriage doeth better.

Rom.7.1. 39 * The wife is bounde to the ‖lawe as long as her husband liueth: but if her husband be dead, shee is at libertie to be maried to whom she wil, only in þ Lord.

‖Or, by the lawe of mariage.

1.Thess.4.8. 40 But she is happier if she so abide, after my iudgement: * and I thinke verily that I haue the spirit of God.

The viij Chapter.

Hee rebuketh them that vse their libertie to the slander of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices.

1 AS touching things offered vnto idols, wee knowe that we all haue knowledge. Knowledge maketh a man swell: but charitie edifieth.

2 If any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is ‖knowen of him.

‖Or, taught.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice vnto idoles, wee knowe that an idole is nothing in the worlde, and that there is none other God but one.

5 And though there bee that are called gods, whether in heauen or in earth (as there bee gods many, and a lordes many:)

a Which being idoles, yet are esteemed of men as Lordes and Seigneours. Iohn 13.13. 1.cor.12.3.

6 yet vnto vs is there but one God, which is þ father, of whom are all things, and we in him, * and one Lorde Iesus Christ, by whom are all things, and wee by him.

7 But there is not in euery man that knowledge: for some hauing conscience of the idole vnto this houre, eate as a thing offered vnto idoles, and their conscience being weake, is defiled.

8 But meate doeth not commende to God: for neither if we eate, haue we the more: neither if we eate not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take heede least by any meanes this libertie of yours become a stumbling to them that are weake.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge, sit at meate in þ idoles temple: shall not the conscience of him which is weake, be b boldened to eate those things which are offered to idoles, b By thine example, without any grounde of doctrine.

11 And through thy knowledge shall the c weake brother perish, for whom Christ died?

c Which eateth against his conscience.

12 But when ye sinne so against the brethren, & wounde their weake conscience, ye sinne against Christ.

13 Wherefore, * if meate offende my brother, I will eate no flesh while the worlde standeth, least I shoulde offende my brother.

Rom.14.21.

The ix. Chapter.

He exhorteth them by his example to vse their libertie to the edification of others.

1 AM I not an Apostle? am I not free? haue I not seene Iesus Christ our Lorde? Are not ye my worke in the Lorde?

2 If I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse am I vnto you: for the a seale of mine Apostleship are ye in the Lord.

a I neede no further declaration, but the workes that I haue wrought among you.

3 Mine answere to them that aske me, is this,

4 Haue wee not power to eate and to drinke?

5 Haue wee not power to leade about a b sister a woman, as well as other Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord and Cephas?

b Or a sister, a wife. S. Paul vseth none other worde to expresse a wife then (saith hee) it ought to bee translated a wife, specially, because it is expressed in the singular number. γυναῖκα. The olde translation printed, transposeth the wordes, saying, Mulierem sororem, where the most olde written copies constantly haue Sororem mulierem, as all þ Greeke copies ad literam γυναῖκα.

6 Is the libertie of not labouring ‖taken from me and Barnabas onely?

‖With the hande.

7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyarde, and eateth not of the fruite thereof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?

8 Say I these things after the maner of men? or saieth not the lawe the same also?

9 For it is written in the lawe of Moses, Thou shalt not muosell the mouth of the ore that treadeth out the corne. Doeth God take care for oxen?

10 Either saieth hee it not altogether for our sakes? For our sakes no doubt this is written: that he which eareth, should eare in hope: and þ he which threshеth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.

11 If we haue sowen vnto you spirituall things, is it a great thing if wee shall reape your carnall things?

12 If others be partakers of their power ouer you, wherefore are not we rather? Neuertheless, wee haue not vsed this power: but suffer all things, least wee should hinder the Gospel of Christ.

13 Doe ye not know that they which minister about holy things, eate of the things of the temple? and they which waite at the altar, are partakers with the altar?

14 Euen so hath the Lorde ordained, that they which preach the Gospel, shoulde liue of the Gospel.

15 But I haue vsed none of these things. Neuertheless, I wrote not these things, that it shoulde be so done vnto me: For it were better for me to die, then that any man shoulde make my ‖reioycing vaine.

‖Or, boasting.

16 For if I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to ‖reioyce of: for necessitie is laid vpon me. But wo is vnto me if I preach not the Gospel.

‖Or, boast of.

17 For if I do this thing with a good will,

I haue a reward: but if against my will, the c dispensation is committed vnto me.

c The Greeke worde signifieth a guidance, bestowing, or distribution of thinges, as it were to the profite of an housholde.

18 What is my reward then? Verily that when I preach the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christ free, that I misuse not mine authoritie in the Gospel.

19 For though I be free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all men, that I might winne the more.

20 Vnto the Iewes, I became as a Iew, that I might winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the lawe, as vnder the lawe, that I might winne them that are vnder the lawe:

21 To them that are without lawe, as without lawe (when I was not without lawe as pertaining to the lawe of God, but was in the lawe of Christ) that I might winne them þ are without law.

22 To the weake became I as weake, that I might winne the weake: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.

23 And this I doe for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof.

The Epistle on Septuagesima Sunday.

24 Knowe ye not, that they which runne in a race, runne all, but one receiueth the reward? So runne, that yee may obtaine.

25 Euery man that proueth masteries, abstaineth from all things: and they doe it to obtaine a corruptible crowne, but we to obtaine an incorruptible crowne.

d Least hee should be reproued of men when they should see him do contrary, or contemne that thing which hee taught other to doe.

26 I therefore so runne, not as at an vncertaine thing: so fight I, not as one that beateth the aire:

27 But I tame my d body, and bring it into subiection: least by any meanes that when I haue preached to other, I my selfe should be a castaway.

The x. Chapter.

1 Hee feareth them with the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God. 14 exhorting them to flee all idolatrie, 23 and offence of their neighbour.

The Epistle on the 9. Sunday after Trinitie.

1 BRethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were vnder the cloude, and all passed thorowe the sea:

2 And were all baptized ‖ vnto Moses in the cloud, and in the sea:

‖ That is, into Moses lawe, as some reade, or as Saint Austen readeth, by Moses.

3 And did all eate of the same a spirituall meate:

4 And did all drinke of the same spirituall drinke: (for they dranke of that spirituall rocke that followed them: and that rocke was b Christ.)

a That is, Manna, which was the outward signe or sacrament of the spirituall grace.

b That is, signified Christ, as all sacraments do. Exod. 32.6.

5 But in many of them had God no delight: for they were ouerthrowen in the wildernesse.

6 These things verily are our ensamples, that we shoulde not be lusters after euill things, as they also lusted.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them, as it is written, * The people sate downe to eate and drinke, and rose vp to play.

8 Neither let vs commit fornication, as some of them committed ‖ fornication, and fell in one day three and twentie thousand.

‖ Or, did commit fornication.

9 Neither let vs tempt Christ, as some of them tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmure ye, as some of them murmured, and were destroied of the destroyer.

11 All these things happened vnto them for ensamples: but they are written c for our admonition, vpon whom the endes of the world are come.

c How God will plague vs, if we be subiect to the like vices.

12 Wherefore, let him that thinketh hée standeth, take heede least he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you, but such as followeth the nature of man: but God is faithfull, which shall not suffer you to be tempted aboue that you are able: but shall with the temptation make a way to escape, that ye may be able to beare it.

14 Wherefore my dearely beloued, flee from idolatrie.

15 I speake as vnto them which haue discretion: iudge ye what I say.

16 The cup of blessing which we blesse, is it not the partaking of þ blood of Christ? The bread which we breake, is it not the partaking of the body of Christ?

17 For we that are many, are one bread, and one body, in as much as we all are partakers of one bread.

18 Beholde Israel which is after the flesh: are not they which eate of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? that the idoll is any thing? or that it which is offered in sacrifice to idoles is any thing?

20 But this I say that the things which the Gentiles offer in sacrifice, they offer to deuils, and not to God: And I would not that ye shoulde haue d felowship with the deuils.

d Which is, to assemble in that companie, where idoles are called vpon.

21 Yee cannot drinke the cuppe of the Lorde, and the cup of deuils: Ye cannot be partakers of the Lordes table, and of the table of deuils.

22 Either doe we prouoke the Lord to anger? What, are we stronger then he?

23 *All things are lawfull for me, but all things are not expedient: All things are lawfull for me, but all things edifie not. Eccles. 37. 31.

24 Let no man seeke his owne: but euery man another's wealth.

25 Whatsoeuer is solde in the ‖ market, that eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

‖ Or, in the market of victuals.

26 For * the earth is the Lordes, and the plentie thereof. Psal. 24. 1.

27 If any of them which beleeue not, bid you to a feast and ye be disposed to goe, whatsoeuer is set before you, eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is offered in sacrifice vnto idols, eate not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake. The earth is the Lordes, and the plentie thereof.

29 Conscience I say, not of thine owne selfe, selfe, but of the other: For why is my e We must take heede that through our abuse, our liberty be not condemned. Col.3.7. e libertie iudged of another mans conscience?

30 For, if I by Gods benefite may be partaker of the gifts of God, why am I euil spoken of, for that wherefore I giue thankes?
31 *Whether therefore ye eate or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye doe, doe all to the glory of God.
32 Giue none offence, neither to the Iewes, nor yet to the Grecians, neither to the Church of God.
33 Euen as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine owne profite, but the profite of many, that they may be saued.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Hee rebuketh the abuses which were crept into their Church. 4 as touching prayer or prophecying. 18 and ministring the Lordes Supper. 23 bringing them againe to the first institution thereof.

1.Thes.3.9. 1 BE *ye followers of me, euen as I am of Christ.
2 I commend you brethren, that ye remember all my ‖ thinges, and keepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.
Ephes.5.23. 3 *But I will that ye knowe, that Christ is the head of euery man: and the man is the womans head, and God is Christes head.
4 Euery man, praying or prophecying, hauing any thing on his head, shameth his head.
5 But euery woman that prayeth or prophecieth bareheaded, dishonesteth her head: for that is euen all one as if she were shauen.
6 If the woman be not couered, let her also be shorne: if it be shame for a woman to be shorne, or shauen, let her be couered.
Gene.1.26. col.3.10. 7 A man ought not to couer his head, *for as much as hee is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.
8 For the man is not of the woman: but the woman of the man.
Gene.2.23. 9 *Neither was the man created for the woman: but the woman for the man.
10 For this cause ought the woman to haue a power on her head, for the angels sakes.
a Some thing to couer her head in signe of subiection. 11 Neuertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lorde.
12 For as the woman is of the man, euen so is the man also by the woman, but all things of God.
13 Iudge in your selues, whether it be comely that a woman pray vnto God bareheaded?
14 Doeth not nature it selfe teach you, that it is a shame for a man, if he haue long heare?
15 But if a woman haue long heare, it is a prayse for her: for her heare is giuen her for a couering.
16 If any man list to striue, we haue no such custome, neither the Churches of God.
17 This I warne you of, and commend not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse. The Epistle on Thursday next before Easter.
18 For first of all, when ye come together in the Church, I heare that there be dissentions among you, and I partly beleeue it.
19 For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are ‖ approoued among you, might be knowen. ‖ Or, tried.
20 When ye come together therefore into one place, ‖ you cannot eate the Lordes Supper: ‖ Or, this is not to eate.
21 For euery one preuenteth other, in eating his owne supper: and one is hungrie, and another is drunken.
22 What, haue ye not houses to eate and to drinke in? or despise ye the Church of God, and shame them that haue not? What shal I say vnto you, shal I prayse you? in this I prayse you not.
23 That which I deliuered vnto you, I receiued of the Lord, that the Lord Iesus the same night in the which he was betraped, tooke bread:
24 And when he had giuen thankes, he brake it, and said, *Take ye, eate ye, this is my body which is broken for you: this doe ye in the remembrance of me. Matt.26.26. marke 14.22. luke 22.19.
25 After the same maner also he tooke the cup when he had supped, saying, This cup is the newe Testament in my blood: this doe ye, as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me.
26 For as often as ye eate this bread, and drinke this cup, ye doe shewe the Lordes death till he come.
27 Wherefore, whosoeuer shall eate this bread, and drinke this cup of the Lorde b vnworthily, shall be guiltie of the body and blood of the Lord. b By peruerting the true & pure vse of the same.
28 *But let a man examine himselfe, and so let him eate of this bread, and drinke of this cup. 2.Cor.13.5.
29 For he that eateth and drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation vnto him c selfe, making no difference of the Lordes body. c But as though these holy mysteries of the Lordes body & blood were common meates, so without reuerence he commeth vnto the.
30 For this cause many are weake and sicke among you, and many sleepe.
31 For if we would iudge our selues, we should not be ‖ iudged. ‖ Or, punished.
32 But when we are ‖ iudged, we are ‖ chastened of the Lorde, that we should not be damned with the world. ‖ Or, punished.
33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eate, tarry one for an other. ‖ Or, instructed.
34 If any man hunger, let him eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. The rest will I set in order, when I come.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The diuersitie of the giftes of the holy Ghost, ought to bee vsed to the edifying of Christes Church. 12 as the members of mans body serue to the vse one of another.

1 Concerning

The Epistle on the iiii. Sunday after Trinitie.

1 Concerning spirituall giftes brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.
2 Ye knowe that ye were Gentiles, caried awaye vnto dumbe idoles, euen as ye were [a] led.
3 Wherefore I declare vnto you, that * no man speaking by the spirite of God ‖ defieth Iesus: * also no man can say that Iesus is the Lorde, but by the holy Ghost.
4 There are diuersities of giftes, but it is the selfe same spirit.
5 And there are differences of administrations, but it is the selfe same Lord.
6 And there are diuers maners of operations, but it is the selfe same God, which worketh all in all.
7 The manifestation of the spirit, is giuen to euery man to profite withall:
8 For to one is giuen by the spirite the worde of wisedome, to another the word of knowledge by the same spirit:
9 To another is giuen faith by the same spirit, to another the gift of healing by the same spirit:
10 To another power to doe myracles, to another [b] prophecie, to another discerning of spirits, to another diuers kindes of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.
11 * But these all worketh euen that one and the selfe same spirite, diuiding to euery man seuerally euen as he will.
12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: euen so is Christ also.
13 For by one spirite are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Iewes or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free: and haue all dronke of one spirit.
14 For the body is not one member, but many.
15 If the foote doe say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?
16 And if the eare doe say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?
17 If all the body were an eye, where were then the hearing? If all were hearing, where were the smelling?
18 But nowe hath God set the members, euery one of them seuerall in the body, as it hath pleased him.
19 If they were all one member, where were the body?
20 Nowe are there many members, yet but one body.
21 And the eye can not say vnto the hand, I haue no neede of thee: nor againe, the head to the feete, I haue no neede of you.
22 Yea rather a great deale those members of the body which seeme to be more [c] feeble, are necessarie:
23 And vpon those members of the body which we thinke to be lesse honourable, vpon them we put [d] more honour: and our vncomely partes haue more comelinesse.
24 For our comely members neede it not: but God hath tempered the body together, hauing giuen the more honour to that part which lacked,
25 That there should be no strife in the body: but that the members should haue the same care one for another.
26 And if one member suffer, all the members suffer with it. If one member be honoured, all the members reioyce with it.
27 Ye are the body of Christ, and members [e] in part.
28 * And God hath ordeined some in the Church, first Apostles, secondarily Prophets, thirdly Teachers, then them that doe myracles: after that, the giftes of healing, helpers, gouernours, ‖ diuersities of tongues.
29 Are all Apostles? are all Prophets? are all Teachers? are all doers of myracles?
30 Haue all the giftes of healing? doe all speake with tongues? doe all interprete?
31 Couet after the best giftes: And yet shewe I vnto you a more excellent way.

The xiij. Chapter.

Because loue is the fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, he setteth foorth the nature, office, and prayse thereof.

1 Though I speake with the tongues of men, and of * angels, and haue not charitie, I am as sounding brasse, or as a tinckling Cymbale.
2 And though I haue prophecie, and vnderstand all secrets, and all knowledge: yea if I haue all faith, so that I can remoue mountaines, and haue not charitie, I am nothing.
3 And though I bestowe all my goods to feede the poore, and though I giue my body that I should be burned, and haue not charitie, it profiteth me nothing.
4 Charitie suffereth long, & is courteous: Charitie enuieth not, charitie doeth not frowardly, ‖ swelleth not,
5 Dealeth not dishonestly, seeketh not her owne, is not bitter, thinketh not euill,
6 Reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the trueth:
7 Suffereth all thinges, beleeueth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.
8 Though that prophecyings faile, either tongues cease, or knowledge vanish away, yet charitie falleth neuer away.
9 For our knowledge is ‖ vnperfect, and our prophecying is vnperfect:
10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is vnperfect shall be done away.
11 When I was a childe, I spake as a childe, I vnderstood as a childe, I imagined as a childe: but as soone as I was a man, I put away childishnesse.
12 Nowe we see in a [b] glasse, euen in a darke speaking: but then shall wee see face to face. Nowe I knowe vnperfectly: but then shall I knowe, euen as I am knowen.

13 Nowe abideth faith, hope, and charitie, these three, but the chiefe of these is charitie.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth to charitie, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other spirituall giftes. 5 But chiefely prophecying.

1 FOllowe after charitie, and couet spirituall giftes: but most chiefly that ye may prophecie.

2 For he that speaketh with an vnknowen tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: For no man [a] heareth him: Howbeit, in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

a Vnderstandeth him.

3 But hee that prophecieth, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 Hee that speaketh with an vnknowen tongue, edifyeth himselfe: but hee that prophecieth, edifieth the Church.

5 I woulde that yee all spake with [b] tongues, but rather that yee prophecied: For greater is he that prophecieth, then he that speaketh with tongues, except he expound it, that the Church may receiue edifying.

b Tongue, in this place and such like, signifieth not the instrument that wee speake with, but proprietie of some language, that the hearer vnderstandeth not without an interpreter.

6 Nowe brethren, if I come vnto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profite you, except I shall speake to you either by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecying, or by doctrine?

7 And euen things without life, giuing sound, whether it be a pipe, or an harpe, except they giue a distinction in the soundes, howe shall it be knowen what is piped or harped?

8 For if the Trumpe giue an vncertaine sound, who shalbe prepared to the warre?

9 So likewise you, except ye vtter woords by the tongue easie to be vnderstoode, howe shall it be knowen what is spoken? For ye shall speake in the [c] aire.

c Your wordes shalbe lost, for ye shall neither glorifie God thereby, nor profite man.

10 There are happily so many kindes of voyces in the worlde, and none of them are without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voyce, I shalbe vnto him that speaketh an aliant, and he that speaketh shalbe an aliant vnto me.

12 Euen so ye, for as much as ye couet spirituall giftes, seeke that ye may excell, vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh with tongue, pray that he may interprete.

14 For if I pray with an vnknowen tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my vnderstanding is vnfruitfull.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and will pray with the vnderstanding also: I will [d] sing with the spirit, and will sing with the vnderstanding also.

d Or, giue thankes by singing.

16 For when thou shalt blesse with the spirit, howe shall hee that ‖ occupieth the roome of the vnlearned say Amen at thy giuing of thankes, seeing hee vnderstandeth not what thou sayest?

‖ Or, filleth.

17 Thou verily giuest thankes well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake with tongues more then ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake fiue woordes with my vnderstanding, that by my voyce I might teache other also, then tenne thousande woordes in an vnknowen tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in vnderstanding: howbeit, as concerning naughtinesse be ye children, but in vnderstanding be perfect.

21 In the lawe it is written, * With men of sundry tongues and sundry lippes, will I speake vnto this people: and yet for all that, will they not heare me, saith the Lord. Esai 28.11.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: but prophecying serueth not for them that beleeue not, but for them which beleeue.

23 If therefore all the Church be come together into one place, and all speake with tongues, and there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleeue not, will they not say that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophecie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned: he is rebuked of all men, hee is iudged of all men.

25 And so are the secretes of his heart made manifest, and so hauing fallen downe on his face, he will worship God, saying that God is in you of a trueth.

26 Howe is it then brethren? When ye come together, euery one of you hath a Psalme, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a reuelation, hath an interpretation: Let all things be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake with tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course, and let one interprete.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, and let him speake to himselfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speake two or three, and let the other iudge.

30 If any reuelation be made to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31 For ye may all prophecie one by one, that all may learne, and all may be comforted.

32 And the [e] spirites of the Prophets are subiect to the Prophets.

e That is, the doctrine that they do bring, as being put in minde by the Spirit of God.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all Churches of the Saintes. 1. Tim. 2. 12.

34 * Let your women keepe silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake, but they are commaunded to be vnder obedience, * as saith the lawe. Gene. 3. 16.

35 If they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbands at home: For it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

36 Spring the word of God from you? either came it vnto you onely?

37 If any man thinke him selfe to be a Prophet, either spirituall, let him knowe that that the things that I write vnto you, are the commaundements of the Lord.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.
39 Wherefore brethren, couet to prophesie, & forbid not to speake with tongues.
40 Let all things be done honestly, and in order.

The xv. Chapter.

1 He proueth the resurrection of the dead, 3 and first that Christ is risen.

1 MOreouer,* brethren, I declare vnto you, the Gospell which I preached vnto you, which also ye haue receiued, and wherein ye haue ‖ continued,
2 By the which also ye are saued, if ye keepe the doctrine which I preached vnto you, except ye haue beleeued in vaine.
3 For I deliuered vnto you first of all, that which also I [a] receiued, howe that Christ died for our sinnes, according to the Scriptures:
4 * And that he was buried, and that hee arose the thirde day, according to the Scriptures:
5 *And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue:
6 After that hee was seene of moe then fiue hundred brethren at once: of which, the more part remaine vnto this day, and some are fallen asleepe.
7 And after that he was seene of Iames, then of all the Apostles.
8 * And last of all he was seene of me, as of one borne out of due time.
9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not worthy to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.
10 * But by the grace of God, I am that I am, and his grace which is in me, was not vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.
11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleeued.
12 If Christ be preached, how that he rose frō the dead: how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?
13 If there be no rising of the dead, then is Christ not risen.
14 If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, & your faith is also [b] vaine.
15 Yea, and we are founde false witnesses of God, because we haue testified of God, howe that hee raised vp Christ: whome hee raised not vp, if so be that the dead rise not.
16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ risen.
17 If it be so that Christ is not risen, then is your faith vaine, ye are yet in your sinnes:
18 But also they which are fallen a sleepe in Christ, are perished.
19 If in this life onely we haue hope in Christ, then are we of all men most miserable.
20 But nowe is Christ risen from the dead, & is become the [c] first fruites of them that slept.
21 For since by man came death, euen so by man came the resurrectiō of the dead.
22 For as by ‖ Adam all die, euen so ‖ by Christ shall all [d] be made aliue, 23 But euery man in his owne order. The first fruits is Christ, afterward, they that are Christes at his comming.
24 Then commeth the ende, when he shall haue deliuered vp the kingdome to God the father, when he shal haue put downe all rule, and all authoritie, and power.
25 For he must reigne * till hee shall haue put all his enemies vnder his feete.
26 The last enemie that shalbe destroyed, is death.
27 * For hee hath put downe all things vnder his feete: But when hee saith, All things are put vnder him, it is manifest that hee is excepted which did put all things vnder him.
28 When all things shalbe subdued vnto him, then shall the sonne also himselfe be subiect vnto him that put all things vnder him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in ieopardie euery houre?
31 I protest by our reioycing which I haue in Christ Iesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If I haue fought with beasts at Ephesus, after the [e] maner of men, what aduantageth it me, if the dead rise not? *Let vs eate and drinke, for to morow we die.
33 Be ye not deceiued: Euill words corrupt good maners.
34 Awake to righteousnesse, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, Howe are the dead raised vp? With what body doe they come?
36 Thou ‖ foole, that which thou sowest, ‖ is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shalbe, but bare corne, it may chaunce of wheate, or of some other corne.
38 But God giueth it a body, as it hath pleased him, and to euery seede his owne body.
39 All flesh, is not ‖ the same flesh, but there is one maner of flesh of men, another flesh of beastes, another of fishes, and another of birdes.
40 There are also celestiall bodies, and bodies terrestriall: but the glorie of the celestiall is one, and the glorie of the terrestriall another.
41 There is one glorie of the [f] sunne, and another glorie of the moone, and another glorie of the starres: For one starre differeth from another starre in glorie.
42 So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sowen in corruption, it riseth in incorruption.
43 It

Ephe. 3. 7.

b For if Christ be swalowed vp of death, there remaineth no hope of life any more,

c As by the offering of the first fruite, the whole fruite is sanctified: so by Christ, which is the first that is raised, all haue assurance of the resurrection.

Esai 22. 13.

‖ Or, mad man.

‖ Or, one maner of flesh.

f Euen as the sunne and the moone being of one substance, differ in dignitie: so in the resurrection, our bodies shall haue more excellent qualities then they haue nowe.

43 It is sowen in g dishonour, it riseth in honour. It is sowen in weakenesse, it riseth in power.

44 It is sowen a naturall body, it riseth a spirituall body: There is a naturall body, and there is a spirituall body.

45 And so it is also written: The first man *Adam was made a living soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirite.

46 Howbeit, that is not first which is spirituall, but that which is naturall, & then that which is spirituall.

47 The first man is of the earth, earthy, the second man is the Lord from heauen:

48 As is the earthy, such are they that are earthy: and as is the heauenly, such are they also that are heauenly.

49 And as we haue borne the image of the earthy, we shall also beare the image of the heauenly.

50 This say I brethren, that flesh & blood can not inherite the kingdome of God: neither doeth corruption inherite incorruption.

51 Beholde, I shewe you a mysterie. We shall not all sleepe, but we shall all bee changed.

52 In a moment, in the twinckling of an eye, * at the last trumpe (for the trumpe shall blowe) and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shalbe changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortall must put on immortalitie.

54 When this corruptible shall haue put on incorruption, and this mortall shall haue put on immortalitie, then shall be brought to passe the saying that is written, Death is swallowed vp in victorie.

55 *O death, where is thy sting? O ‖ hell, where is thy victorie?

56 The sting of death is sinne, and the h strength of sinne is the lawe.

57 But thankes be vnto God, which giueth vs the victorie through our Lorde Iesus Christ.

58 Therefore my beloued brethren, be ye stedfast, vnmoueable, alwayes abounding in the worke of the Lord, forasmuch as ye knowe that your labour is not in i vaine in the Lord.

g For what is more vile to looke vnto then the dead carkeise.

Hee putteth them in remembrance of the gathering for the poore brethren at Hierusalem.

4 And if it be méete that I goe also, they shall goe with me.

5 I will come vnto you, after that I shall haue gone ouer Macedonia, (For I doe nowe passe thorow Macedonia.)

6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, or winter with you, that ye may bring me on my way, whither soeuer I goe.

7 For I will not see you nowe in my passage, but I trust to abide a while with you, if the Lord suffer me.

8 I will tarie at Ephesus vntill Whitsuntide:

9 For a great doore and effectuall is opened vnto me, and there are many aduersaries.

10 If Timotheus come, see that he may be without feare with you: for he worketh the worke of the Lord, as I doe.

11 Let no man therefore despise him, but conuey him forth in peace, that he may come vnto me: for I looke for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother Apollo, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren, but his will was not at all to come at this time: but he will come when hee shall haue conuenient time.

13 a Watch ye, stande ye fast in the fayth, quite ye like men, be strong.

15 I beseeche you brethren, (ye knowe the house of Stephana, that it is the b first fruites of Achaia, and that they haue addicted themselues to the ministerie of the Saints,)

16 That ye be also obedient vnto such, and to all that helpe with vs, and labour.

17 I am glad of the comming of Stephana, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for that which was lacking vnto me on your c part, they haue supplied.

18 For they haue comforted my spirit and yours: therefore knowe ye them that are such.

19 The Churches of Asia salute you: Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lorde, with the Church that is in their house.

The ſecond Epiſtle of Saint Paul the Apoſtle to the Corinthians.

The firſt Chapter.

He declareth the great profit that commeth to the faithfull by their afflictions.

1 PAul an Apoſtle of Jeſu Chriſt, by the will of God, & brother Timotheus, vnto the Church of God, which is at Corinthus, wt all the ſaints which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace be with you, and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

Epheſ.1.3. 1.pet.1.3.

3 * Bleſſed be God the father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, which is the father of mercies, and the God of all comfort:

4 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in all maner trouble, with the comfort wherewith we our ſelues are comforted of God.

a Which I ſuffer for Chriſt, or which Chriſt ſuffereth in me.

5 For as the a afflictions of Chriſt are plenteous in vs: euen ſo is our conſolation plenteous by Chriſt.

6 Whether we be troubled, it is for your conſolation and ſaluation, which ſaluation is wrought by the ſuffering of the ſame afflictions which we alſo ſuffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your conſolation and ſaluation, and our hope of you is ſtedfaſt:

7 Knowing that as ye are partakers of the afflictions, ſo ye ſhall be partakers alſo of the conſolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, haue you ignorant of our trouble which came vnto vs in Aſia: that we were grieued out of meaſure, paſſing ſtrength, in ſo much that we were in great doubt, euen of life.

9 But we receiued the ſentence of death in our ſelues, that we ſhould not put our truſt in our ſelues, but in God, which raiſeth the dead:

10 Who deliuered vs from ſo great a death, and doeth deliuer: in whome we truſt that hereafter alſo he will deliuer vs:

Rom.15.30.

11 * You alſo helping together by prayer for vs, that for the benefites beſtowed vpon vs by the meanes of many perſons, thankes may be giuen of many on our behalfe.

12 For our reioycing is this, the teſtimonie of our conſcience, that in ſimplicitie and godly purenes, not with fleſhly wiſdome, b but by the grace of God, we haue had our converſation in the world, and moſt of all to youwardes.

b Vſing that wiſdome which God gaue me from heauen.

13 For we write none other things vnto you then that ye reade, and alſo that ye acknowledge: and I truſt ye ſhall acknowledge vnto the ende.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly, that we are your reioycing, euen as ye are c ours in the day of the d Lorde Jeſus.

c Becauſe we haue wun you to Chriſt.

d Which ſhal aboliſh all worldly glory.

15 And in this confidence was I minded firſt to haue come vnto you, that ye might haue had ‖ one pleaſure more:

‖ Or, the ſecond benefite.

16 And to paſſe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth of you into Jurie.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vſe lightneſſe? or minde I e carnally thoſe things which I mind, that with me ſhould be yea yea, and nay nay?

e Not to affirme one thing, and then to denie it, which is a ſigne of inconſtancie.

18 Yea f God is faithfull, for our preaching to you, was not yea, and nay.

f He taketh God to witnes, that he preacheth y truth.

19 For Gods Sonne Jeſus Chriſt, which was preached among you by vs, euen by me, and Syluanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him it was yea.

20 For all the promiſes of God in him are yea, and are in him, Amen, vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And he which ſtabliſheth vs with you in Chriſt, and hath anointed vs, is God:

22 Which hath alſo ſealed vs, and hath giuen the earneſt of the ſpirite in our hearts.

23 I call God for a record vnto my ſoule, that to ſpare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that we be lordes ouer your faith, but are helpers of your ioy: for by faith ye ſtand.

The ij. Chapter.

Paul reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine.

1 BVt I determined this in my ſelfe, that I would not come againe to you in heauineſſe.

2 For if I make you ſory, who is he that maketh me glad, but the ſame which is made a ſory by me?

a Which was giuen to Satan, but nowe doeth repent.

3 And I wrote this ſame vnto you, leaſt when I came, I ſhould take heauineſſe of them of whom I ought to reioyce, hauing confidence in you all, that my ioy, is the ioy of you all.

4 For in great affliction and anguiſh of heart, I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye ſhould be made ſory, but that ye might perceiue ꝑ loue which I haue moſt abundantly vnto you.

5 But if any man hath cauſed ſorow, the ſame hath not made me ſory, but partly, leaſt I ſhould ouergreiue you all.

6 It is ſufficient vnto the ſame man that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that nowe contrariwiſe ye ought rather to forgiue him, and comfort him, leaſt that ſame perſon ſhoulde be ſwallowed vp with much heauineſſe.

8 Wherefore, I pray you, that you would confirme your loue towards him.

9 For

9 For to this ende also did I write, that I might knowe the proofe of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.
10 To whom ye forgiue any thing, I forgiue also: For if I forgiue any thing, to whome I forgaue it, for your sakes forgaue I it in the b sight of Christ, 11 Least we shoulde be circumuented of Satan: for we are not ignorant of his deuises.
12 Furthermore, when I came to Troada, to preach Christes Gospell, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but when I had taken my leaue of them, I went awaye into Macedonia.
14 Now thankes be vnto God, which alwayes causeth vs to triumph in c Christ, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.
15 For we are vnto God the swete sauour of Christ in them that are saued, and in them which perish.
16 To the one are we the sauour of death, vnto death: and vnto the other, the sauour of life, vnto life: * And who is meete vnto these things?
17 For we are not as many are, which chop and change with the worde of God: but as of pureneſſe, but as of God in the sight of God, speake we ‖ in Christ.

b That is, truely and from mine heart, euen as in the presence of Christ.

c In working mightily by vs, he maketh vs partakers of his victorie and triumph.

Rom. 11. 16.

‖Or, of Christ.

The iij. Chapter.

Paul exalteth his Apostleship against the bragges of the false apostles.

1 DO we begin to commend our selues againe? or neede we, as some other Epistles of comendation vnto you? or letters of commendation from you?
2 Ye are our Epistle written in our heartes, ‖vnderstood and read of all men:
3 For as much as ye are manifestly declared that ye are the Epistle of Christ ministred by vs, written not with ynke, but with the spirit of the liuing God, not in stonie tables, but in fleshly tables of the heart.
4 Such trust haue we through Christ to Godward,
5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing, as of our selues: but our sufficiencie is of God:
6 Which hath made vs able ministers of the newe Testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the a spirit giueth life.
7 But if the ministration of death in letters figured in stones, was with glorie, so that the children of Israel coulde not stedfastly beholde the face of Moses, for b the glorie of his countenance, which glorie is done away:
8 Howe shall not the ministration of the spirit be much more in glorie?
9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glorie: much more doeth the ministration of righteousneſſe exceede in glorie.
10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this behalfe, because of the exceeding glorie.
11 For if that which is put away was glorious: much more that which remaineth, is glorious.
12 Seeing then that wee haue such hope, we vse great boldnesse of speach:
13 And not as Moses, c which put a vaile ouer his face, that the children of Israel should not stedfastly looke into the ende of that which is abolished.
14 But their mindes were ‖ blinded: for vntill this day remaineth the same vaile vntaken away in the reading of the olde Testament, which vaile is put away in Christ.
15 But euen vnto this day when Moses is read, the vaile is laide vpon their heart.
16 Neuertheleſſe, when it shall turne to the Lord, the vaile shalbe taken away.
17 * The Lord is the spirit: and where the spirit of the Lord is, there is libertie.
18 But wee all beholding as in a d myrrour the glorie of the Lorde, with his face open, are changed vnto the same image from glorie to glorie, euen as of the spirit of the Lord.

a To wit, Satan.

Gene. 1. 3.

c Moses shewed the lawe as it was couered with shadowes, so that the Iewes eyes could not come to Christ, who was the ende thereof. Againe, the Gospell setteth forth the glorie of God clearely, not couering our eyes, but driuing the darkeneſſe away from them.

d In Christ who is God manifest in the flesh, wee see God the Father as in a most cleare glasse.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 He declareth his diligence and roundneſſe in his office, 17 shewing what profit commeth thereby.

1 THerefore, seeing that we haue such a ministerie, as we haue receiued mercie, we faint not:
2 But haue cast from vs the cloked of vnhonestie, walking not in craftinesse, neither handling the worde of God deceitfully, but in opening of the trueth, commending our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.
3 If our Gospell be hid, it is hid in them that are lost:
4 In whom the a God of this world hath blinded the mindes of them which beleeue not, least the light of the Gospell of the glorie of Christ shoulde shine vnto them, (which is the image of God.)
5 For wee preach not our selues, but Christ Iesus the Lorde, and our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.
6 For it is God that * commaunded the light to shine out of darkenesse, who hath shined in our heartes, for to giue the light of the knowledge of the glorie of God, in the face of Iesus Christ.
7 But we haue this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of the power may be Gods, and not of vs.
8 We are troubled on euery side, yet are we not ‖ without shift: We are in pouertie, but not in extreme pouertie.
9 We are persecuted, but are not forsaken therein: we are cast downe, but we perish not:
10 We alwayes beare about in the body the dying of our Lorde Iesus, that the life life of Iesus might also be made manifest in our body.

11 For we which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the life also of Iesus might be made manifest in our mortall flesh.

12 So then, death worketh in vs, but life in you.

13 Seeing then that we haue the same spirit of faith (according as it is written, Psalme 116.10. * I beleeued, and therefore haue I spoken:) We also beleeue, and therefore speake:

14 Knowing that he, which raysed vp the Lorde Iesus, shall raise vp vs also by the meanes of Iesus, & shal set vs with you.

‖ Or, are done. 15 For all things ‖ doe I for your sakes, that the plenteous grace by thankesgiuing of many, may redound to the praise of God.

16 Wherefore wee are not wearied: but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renued day by day.

b Which is so called, in respect of the euerlasting life. 17 For the momentanie b lightnesse of our tribulation, prepareth an exceeding and an eternall weight of glory vnto vs:

18 While wee looke not on the thinges which are seene, but on the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene, are temporall: but the thinges which are not seene, are eternall.

The v. Chapter.

Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that commeth by the Crosse.

a After this body shalbe dissolued, it shalbe made incorruptible and immortall. 1 FOr wee knowe that if our earthly a house of this tabernacle were destroyed, we haue a building of God, euē an habitation not made with hands, but eternall in heauen.

2 For therefore sigh we, desiring vpon our clothing to be further clothed with our house which is from heauen:

Apoc. 16.15. 3 If so be that we * being clothed, shall not be found naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle, sigh, being burdened, because we would not put off our clothing, but vpon the same put on more, that mortalitie might be swalowed vp of life.

5 Yee that hath ordeined vs for the selfe same thing, is God, which hath also giuen vnto vs the earnest of the Spirit.

6 Therefore we are alway of good cheare, and knowe that as long as we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord.

7 (For we walke by faith, not after outward appearance.)

8 Neuertheless, we are of good comfort, and had rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9 Wherefore, whether we be at home, or from home, we endeuour our selues to be accepted vnto him.

Rom. 14.10. 10 * For we must all appeare before the iudgement seat of Christ, that euery man may receiue the workes of his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the feare of the Lorde, wee perswade men, for wee are b knowen well ynough vnto God: I trust also that we are knowen in your consciences. b By imbracing the same faith which we preach to others.

12 For we commende not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to glory on our behalfe, that ye may haue somewhat against them which glorie in the face, and not in the heart.

13 For c if we be too feruent, to God are we too feruent: or if we keepe measure, for your cause keepe we measure. c The Greeke foundeth thus: Whether we be out of wit, to God we be out of wit: whether we be wise, to you we be wise.

14 For the loue of Christ constraineth vs, because we thus iudge, that if one dyed for all, then were all dead.

15 And hee dyed for all, that they which liue, should not henceforth liue vnto themselues, but vnto him which dyed for them, and rose againe.

16 Wherefore henceforth knowe we no man after the d flesh: Iuasmuch though we haue knowen Christ after the flesh, nowe yet henceforth knowe we him no more. d According to the estimation of the flesh: but as he is guided by the spirit of God.

17 * Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a newe creature: Olde things are passed away, beholde, all things are become newe. Esai 43.19. apoc. 21.5.

18 And all things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto him selfe by Iesus Christ, and hath giuen to vs the ministerie of reconciliation.

19 For God was in Christ, reconciling the world to himselfe, not imputing their sinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the preaching of the atonement.

20 Nowe then are wee messengers for Christ, euen as though God did beseech you through vs: so pray wee you in Christes steade, that ye be reconciled vnto God.

21 For hee hath made him to be sinne for vs, which knew no sinne, that we should be made the righteousnesse of God in him.

nesse in the feare of God.

man, we haue corrupted no man, we haue defrauded no man.
3 I speake not this to condemne you, for I haue shewed you before, that ye are in our heartes to die and liue with you.
4 I vse great boldenesse of speach to-wardes you, I glorie greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceding ioyous in all our tribulation.
5 For when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on euery side: without were fightings, within were feares.

8 For though I made you sory with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceiue that the same Epistle made you sorie, though it were but for a season.
9 I nowe reioyce: not that ye were made sory, but that ye were made sorie to repentance: for ye were made sorie to Godwarde, that in nothing ye might ye were made sory to Godward, haue much carefulnesse it hath wrought in you: yea what c clearing of your selues, c In asking God forgine-nesse.

yea what indignation, yea what feare, yea what behemēt desire, yea what zeale, yea what punishment? for in all things ye haue shewed your selues that ye were cleare in that matter.
12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you,
I did it not for his cause that had done the hurt, neither for his cause that was ioyed we for the ioye of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all. So hath Coden Complutensis, Ambrosius, and Theophilactus, and so readeth the olde translation, and the translation of Stephanus.

14 For if I haue boasted any thing vnto him of you, I haue not bene ashamed therein, for as we speake all things vnto you in truth, euē so our boasting which I made vnto Titus, is found a truth.

liberalitie.
3 For to their powers (I beare them recorde) yea and beyonde their powers, they were willing of them selues:
4 Praying vs with great instance, that we woulde receiue this a grace & fellowship of a Grace here signifieth be-neuolence or almes.
the ministery which is towarde the saints,
5 And this they did not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues first to the Lorde, and after vnto vs by the will of God,
6 That we should desire Titus to accomplish the same grace among you also, euen as he had begun.

7 Nowe therefore, as ye are plenteous in all things, in faith, and in worde, and in knowledge, and in all fernentnesse, and in love, which ye haue to vs: euen so, see that ye be plenteous in this grace also.

[Or, reade, but through the fernentnes of other, prouoking also the perfectnesse of your loue.

8 This say I not by cõmandement, ‖but because of the fernentnesse of other, and proouing the vnfaynednes of your love.

9 For ye knowe the grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poore, that ye thorough his pouertie might be made rich.

10 And I give counsell herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begunne not to doe onely, but also to will a yeere ago.

11 Nowe therefore perfourme to doe it also: that as there appeared in you a readinesse to will, euen so there may appeare a readinesse to perfourme, of that which ye haue.

12 For if there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, & not according to ỹ he hath not.

13 Truely, not that other be set at ease, and you burdened:

14 But of like condition nowe at this time your abundance supplieth their want, ỹ their abũdance also may supply your want, that there may be equalitie:

Exod. 16. 18. 15 As it is written, * He that had gathered much, had nothing ouer, and he that had gathered litle, had no lacke.

16 Thankes be vnto God, which put the same earnest care for you in the heart of Titus.

17 Because he accepted the exhortation: and being the more carefull, came of his owne accorde vnto you.

18 We haue sent with him that brother b whose praise is in the Gospel throughout all the Churches:

b In preaching the Gospel. Some vnderstande Luke, other, Barnabas.

19 (And not that onely, but he was also chosen of the Churches to be a fellowe with vs in our iourney, concerning this ‖ grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glorie of the same Lorde, and declaration of your readie minde,)

‖ Or, beneficence.

20 Eschewing this, that any man should rebuke vs in this plenteous distributiõ that is ministred by vs:

c His well doing is approued before God and man. 21 Making prouision for honest things, not onely in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 We haue sent with them a brother of ours, whome we haue oftentimes proued diligent in many things, but nowe much more diligent, for the great confidence ‖ which I haue in you:

‖ Or, which he hath.

23 Whether any doe inquire of Titus, he is my fellowe and helper concerning you: or of other which are our brethren, they are the messegers of the Churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore, shewe ye vnto them the proofe of your loue, and of our boasting on your behalfe in the sight of the Churches.

The ix. Chapter.

The cause of Titus and his companions comming to them.

1 FOr of the ministring to the Saintes, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you:

2 For I knowe the readinesse of your minde, whereof I boast on your behalfe vnto them of Macedonia, that Achaia was prepared a yeere agoe: and ‖ your zeale hath prouoked many.

‖ Or, zeale in you.

3 Yet haue I sent the brethren, least our boasting of you should be in vaine in this behalfe, that (as I haue saide) ye may be prepared.

4 Lest happly if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, we (I will not say you) should be ashamed in this boldenesse of boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren, that they would come before vnto you, and prepare your forepromised beneficence, that it might be readie as a beneficence, and a not as an extortion.

a That is, as a thing extorted, or violently wrung from you.

6 This yet I say, he which soweth sparingly, shall reape sparingly: and he that soweth bountifully, shall reape bountifully.

10 Moreouer I beseech him that ministreth seede vnto the sower, to minister bread also for foode, and to multiplie your seede, and to encrease the fruites of your righteousnesse:

11 That in all things ye may be made rich vnto all bountifulnesse, which causeth through vs thankesgiuing vnto God.

12 For the administration of this seruice, not onely supplieth the want of the Saintes: but also is abundant by the thankes giuing of many vnto God,

13 (Whiles by the experiment of this ministration, they glorifie God for the obedience of your cõsenting to the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberall distribution to them, and to all men:)

14 And by their prayers for you, which ‖ long after you for the abundant grace of God in you.

‖ Or, are greatly affectioned toward you.

15 Thankes be vnto God, for his vnspeakable gift.

The x. Chapter.

He toucheth the false apostles, and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience.

1 I Paul my selfe beseech you by ỹ meeknes and gentlenes of Christ, which in presence am lowly among you: but am bolde toward you being absent.

2 I beseech you, that I may not nede

to

to be bold when I am present, with that same boldnesse, wherewith I am supposed to haue beene bolde against some, which repute vs as though we walked according to the flesh.

3 For walking in the flesh, yet wee doe not warre according to the flesh.

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mightie through God, to the ouerthrowing of strong holdes,)

5 Wherewith we ouerthrowe counsels, and euery high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bring into captiuitie all imagination to the obedience of Christ:

6 And hauing in a readinesse wherewith to take vengeance on all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Looke ye on things after the vtter appearance? If any man trust in him selfe that he is Christes, let him consider this againe of himselfe, that as he is of Christ, euen so are we of Christ.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our authoritie, which the Lorde hath giuen to vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed, 9 Least I should seeme as it were to make you afraid by letters.

10 For the letters [a] (saith hee) are sore and strong: but his bodily presence is weake, and his speach nothing worth.

11 Let him that is such a one, thinke on this wise, that as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such also are we in deede when we are present.

12 For we dare not number or compare our selues with certaine which praise themselues: neuertheless, while they measure themselues with themselues, and compare themselues with themselues, they vnderstand not.

13 But we will not boast aboue measure: but according to the [b] measure of the rule which God hath distributed vnto vs, a measure to reache euen vnto you.

14 For we stretch not out our selues beyonde measure, as though wee reached not vnto you: For euen to you also haue we come with the Gospel of Christ:

15 Not boasting our selues out of measure in other mens labours: but hoping when your faith is increased, to be magnified among you according to our measure abundantly, 16 That I may preach the Gospel in those regions which are beyonde you: and not glory of those things which by an other mans measure are prepared already.

17 *But let him that glorieth, glory in the Lord.

18 For hee that commendeth himselfe, is not alowed, but whom the Lorde commendeth.

[Or, wherewith I meane to bee bolde.]

The xj. Chapeter.

2 Hee declareth his affection toward them. 5 The excellencie of his ministerie. 9 And his diligence in the same.

1 WOuld to God ye could suffer a litle my foolishnesse, and in deede suffer me.

2 For I am ielous ouer you with godly iealousie: for I haue coupled you to one man, to present you a chaste virgin vnto Christ.

3 But I feare least by any meanes, that as the * serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, euen so your mindes should be corrupted from the singlenesse that is toward Christ.

[Gene. 3. 4.]

4 For if he that commeth, preacheth an other [a] Iesus, whom we haue not preached: or if ye receiue another spirit whom ye haue not receiued: either another Gospel which ye haue not receiued, you would well haue suffered him.

5 Verily, I suppose that I was not behinde the chiefe Apostles.

6 But though I be rude in speaking, yet not in knowledge: but in all things among you we haue bene well knowen to the vttermost.

7 Haue I committed an offence because I submitted my selfe, that ye might be exalted, because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, taking wages of them to doe you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had neede, *I was chargeable to no man by my idlenesse: for that which was lacking vnto me, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I haue kept my selfe not chargeable to you, and so will I keepe my selfe.

[2. Cor. 12. 13.]

10 [b] The trueth of Christ is in me, that this boasting shall not be shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I loue not you? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that will I do, that I may cut away occasion from the which desire occasion: that they might bee found like vnto vs, in that wherein they glory.

13 For such false apostles, are deceitfull workers, transfourmed into the Apostles of Christ.

14 And no marualle: for Satan him selfe is transfourmed into an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if that his ministers also be transfourmed as the ministers of righteousnesse: whose ende shalbe according to their workes.

16 I say againe, Let no man thinke that I am foolish: or else euen nowe take ye me as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a litle.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the [c] Lorde, but as it were foolishly in this boldnesse of boasting.

18 Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, seeing yee your selues are wise.

20 For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure, if a man take,

[a] That is, more perfect doctrine concerning Iesus Christ.

[b] Let not the trueth of Iesus Christ be thought to be in me, if I suffer my ioy to be shut vp, which I haue conceiued of Grecia.

27 In labour and trauaile, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in colde and nakednesse, 28 Besides the things which outwardly come vnto me: the troble which presseth me daily, is the care of all the Churches.

29 Who is weake, and I am not weake? who is offended, and I burne not?

30 If I must needes glory, I will glory of the things that concerne mine infirmities.

The xij. Chapeter.

1 He reioyceth in preferment, 5 but chiefely in his humblenesse.

Actes 9. 3.

1 ¶ It is not expedient doubtlesse for me to glory, I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.

2 * For I knewe a man in a Christ, aboue fourteene yeeres ago (whether in the body I can not tell, or whether out of the body I can not tell, God knoweth) taken vp into the third b heauen:

3 And I knewe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth,)

4 How that he was taken vp into * paradise, and heard vnspeakable wordes, which is not lawfull for man to vtter.

5 Of such ‖ a man will I glory, yet of my selfe will I not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For though I would desire to glory of them, I shall not be a foole, for I will say the truth, but I now refraine, least any man should thinke of me aboue that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 And least I should be exalted out of measure through the abundance of the reuelations, there was giuen to mee a pricke to the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing besought I the Lorde thrise, that it might depart from me.

9 And he saide vnto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakenesse. Most gladly therefore I will rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ might dwell in me.

10 Therefore haue I delectation in infirmities, in rebukes, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguishes for Christes sake: For when I am weake, then am I strong.

11 I am become a foole in glorying, ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue bene commended of you. For nothing was I inferiour vnto the chiefe Apostles, though I be nothing.

12 Erely the signes of an Apostle were wrought among you, in all patience, in signes, and wonders, & mightie deedes.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferiour vnto other Churches, except it be that I was not chargeable vnto you by my selues? forgiue me this wrong.

14 Beholde now the third time I am ready to come vnto you, and yet will I not be chargeable vnto you by my selfe. For I seeke not yours, but you. For the children ought not to lay vp for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 I will very gladly spende, and will be spent for your soules, though the more abundantly I loue you, the lesse I be loued againe.

16 But be it, that I was not chargeable vnto you: d neuertheles, being craftie, I caught you with guile.

d Thus saide his aduersaries, that though he tooke it not by himselfe, yet he did it by the meanes of others.

17 Did I pill you by any of them whom I sent vnto you?

18 I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother: Did Titus defraude you of any thing? Haue we not walked in the same spirite? not in the same steppes?

19 Againe, thinke you that we excuse our selues vnto you? We speake in Christ in the sight of God: but we doe all things dearely beloued for your edifying.

20 For I feare least when I come, I shall not finde you such as I would, and that I shall be found vnto you, such as ye would not: least there be debates, enuyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, and seditions:

21 And that when I come againe, my God bring me lowe among you, and I shall bewaile many of them which haue sinned

¶ The ſeconde Epiſtle to the Corinthians, was written from Philippos, a citie of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

¶ The ende of the ſeconde Epiſtle to the Corinthians.

The Epiſtle of the Apoſtle Saint Paul to the Galathians.

The firſt Chapter.

Paul rebuketh their inconſtancie, which ſuffered them ſelues to be ſeduced by the falſe apoſtles.

1 PAul an Apoſtle not of men, neither by man, but by Ieſus Chriſt, and by God the Father, which raiſed him vp frō the dead:

2 And all the brethren which are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace be with you, and peace from God the father, and from our Lorde Ieſus Chriſt:

4 Which gaue him ſelfe for our ſinnes, to deliuer vs from this a preſent euil world, according to ỹ will of God, ỹ our father:

a Which is the corrupt life of man without Chriſt.

5 To whome be glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I maruaile that ye are ſo ſoone turned from him that had called you in ỹ grace of Chriſt, vnto another Goſpel:

7 Which is not another Goſpel, but that there be ſome which trouble you, and intende to peruert the Goſpell of Chriſt.

8 Neuertheleſſe, though we, or an angell from heauen, preach any other Goſpell vnto you, then that which we haue preached vnto you, let him be accurſed.

9 As we ſaide before, ſo ſay I nowe againe, If any man preach any other Goſpell vnto you, then that ye haue receiued, let him be accurſed.

10 Doe I nowe perſuade men, or God? Either doe I ſeeke to pleaſe men? For if I yet pleaſed men, I ſhoulde not be the ſeruant of Chriſt.

11 *I certifie you, brethren, that the Goſpell which was preached of me, is not after man.

1. Cor. 15. 2.

12 For I neither receiued it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Ieſus Chriſt.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuerſation in time paſt, *in the Iewes religion, how that beyonde meaſure I perſecuted the Church of God, and ſpoyled it:

maintener of the b traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, which separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace,

16 To reueale his sonne by me, that I should by the Gospel preach him among the heathen: immediatly I communed not with c flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I vp to Hierusalem, to them which were Apostles before me: but went my wayes into Arabia, and came againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres, I went vp to Hierusalem to see Peter, & abode with him fifteene dayes.

19 But other of the Apostles saw I none, saue James the Lordes brother.

20 The things therefore which I write vnto you, beholde, before God I lie not.

21 Afterward I came into the coastes of Syria and Cilicia, and was vnknowen in face vnto the Churches of Iurie which were in Christ:

22 But they had heard onely, that he which persecuted vs in times past, now preacheth the d faith, which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God in me.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Confirming his Apostleship to be of God, 3 he sheweth why Titus was not circumcised.

1 THen fourteene yeres after, I went vp againe to Hierusalē with Barnabas, and tooke Titus with me.

2 I went vp by reuelation, and I declared vnto them the Gospell which I preach among the Gentiles: but priuately with them which were esteemed the chiefe, least by any meanes I should runne, or had runne in vaine.

3 But neither Titus which was with me, being a Greeke, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of incommers, being false brethren, which came in priuily to spie out our libertie which we haue in Christ Iesu, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whome, no not for an ‖ houre, we gaue place by subiection, that the trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 Of them which seemed to be somewhat (what they a were in times passed it maketh no matter to me, * God accepteth no mans person:) for they which seemed chiefe, b added nothing to me.

7 But contrariwise, when they sawe that the Gospell of the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as the Gospel of the circumcision was committed vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mightie in Peter to the Apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mightie in me towarde the Gentiles:)

9 When they perceiued the grace that was giuen vnto me, then Iames, Cephas, and Iohn, which seemed to be pillars, gaue to me and Barnabas the right handes of fellowshippe: that we shoulde be Apostles vnto the Heathen, and they vnto the circumcision.

10 Onely ‖ that we shoulde remember the poore: wherein also I was diligent to doe the same.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstoode him c to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certaine came from Iames, he did eate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew, and separated him selfe, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with him: in so much þ Barnabas also was brought into their simulation.

14 But when I sawe that they went not the right way to the trueth of the Gospell, I saide vnto Peter before them all, If thou being a Iewe, liuest after the maner of the Gentiles, and not as doe the Iewes: Why compellest thou the Gentiles to liue as doe the Iewes?

15 We which are Iewes by nature, and not d sinners of the Gentiles, 16 Knowe that a man is not iustified by the deedes of the lawe, but by the faith of Iesus Christ: and we haue beleeued on Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christ, and not by the deedes of the lawe: because by the deedes of the lawe, no flesh shall be iustified.

17 * If then while we seeke to be made righteous by Christ, we our selues also are founde sinners: is therefore Christ the minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I builde againe the thinges which I destroyed, then make I my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I, through the lawe, am dead to the lawe, that I might liue vnto God: I am crucified with Christ.

20 Neuertheless, I liue: yet now not I, but Christ liueth in me: and the life which I nowe liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith of the sonne of God, which loued me, and gaue him selfe for me.

21 I reiect not the grace of God: For if righteousnesse come of the lawe, then Christ is dead in vaine.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He rebuketh them sharpely. 10 and proueth by diuers reasons, that iustification is by faith.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the lawe, being made a curse for vs: For it is written, * Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree:

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Iesus Christ, that wee might receiue the promise of the spirite through faith.

c I will vse a common example, that you may be ashamed to attribute lesse vnto God, then to such couenants which one man maketh to another. Hebre.9.17. † The Epistle on the xiii. Sunday after Trinitie. Gene.17.7.
15 Brethren, c I speake after the maner of men, * though it be but a mans testament, yet if it be alowed, no man reiecteth it, or addeth thereto.

16 † * To Abraham and his seede were the promises made. He saith not, To the seedes, as of many: but, To thy seede, as of one, which is Christ.

17 This I say, that the lawe which began afterwarde beyonde foure hundred and thirtie yeeres, doeth not disanull the testament that was confirmed afore of God vnto Christward, to make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the lawe, then not now of promise. But God gaue the inheritance vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then serueth the lawe? It ‖was added because of transgressions, till the seede shoulde come to whom the promise was made: and it was ordeined by angels in the hand of a mediator.

‖ The lawe.

20 A mediatour is not a mediatour of one, but God is d one.

d Constant, and alwayes like himselfe.

21 Is the law then against the promise of God? God forbid. For if there had bene a lawe giuen which coulde haue giuen life, then no doubt righteousnesse should haue bene by the lawe.

Rom.3.4.
22 *But the scripture hath concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by the faith of Iesus Christ shoulde be giuen vnto them that beleeue.

23 But before faith came, we were kept vnder the law, and were shut vp vnto the faith which shoulde afterwarde be reuealed.

Rom.10.4.
24 *Wherefore the lawe was our scholemaster vnto Christ, that we shoulde be iustified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer vnder a scholemaster.

26 For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Iesus.

Rom.6.3. ‖ Some reade, all ye that are baptized into Christ, haue put on Christ.
27 *For ‖all ye that are baptized, haue put on Christ.

28 There is no Iewe, neither Greeke, there is neither bonde, nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Iesus.

29 If ye be Christes, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heires according to the promise.

The iiij. Chapter.

Hee sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordeined, which being shadowes, must end when Christ the trueth commeth.

The Epistle on the ii. Sunday after Christmas.
1 And I say, That the heire as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a seruant, though hee be Lorde of all:

2 But is vnder tutours & gouernours, vntill the time appointed of the father.

3 Euen so we, when wee were children, were in bondage vnder the a rudiments of the world:

a That is, the law, which before he called a scholemaster.

4 But when the fulnesse of the time was come, God sent his sonne made of a woman, and made vnder the lawe,

5 To redeeme them that were vnder the lawe, *that we might receiue the adoption of children.

Rom.8.15.

6 Because ye are sonnes, God hath sent forth the b spirit of his sonne into your hearts, crying c Abba father.

b For our adoption vnto Christ sealed by him.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a seruant, but a sonne: if thou be a sonne, thou art also an heire of God, through Christ.

8 Notwithstanding, when yee d knewe not God, ye did seruice vnto them which by nature are no gods.

c He instructeth both Iewes and Gentiles to call God their father in euery language, so that none are excepted.

9 But nowe after that ye haue knowen God, yea rather are knowen of God, howe turne yee againe vnto the weake and beggerly rudiments, whereunto a gaine ye desire afresh to be in bondage?

d When yee receiued the Gospel, ye were idolaters, therfore it is shame for you to refuse libertie and become seruants, yea, and seeing the Iewes desire to be out of their fellowship.

10 Ye obserue dayes, and moneths, and times, and yeeres.

11 I am in feare of you, least I haue bestowed on you labour in vaine.

12 Brethren, I beseeche you, be as I am, for I am as ye are: Ye haue not iniured me at all.

13 Ye knowe howe through infirmitie of the flesh, I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first:

14 c And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, neither abhorred: but receiued me as an angel of God, euen as Christ Iesus.

c Thanke the troubles and vexations which God sent to trye me while I was among you.

15 What is then your felicitie? For I beare you record, that if it had bene possible, ye woulde haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemie, because I tell you the trueth?

f For they are but ambitious.

17 They are ielous ouer you f amisse: Yea, they intende to exclude you, that ye should be feruent to themward.

18 It is good alwayes to be zealous in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.

g They would turne you from me, that you might followe them.

19 My litle children, of whom I trauaile in birth againe, vntill Christ be h fashioned in you.

h And imprinted so in your hearts, that ye loue one another.

20 But I desire to be present with you nowe, and to change my voyce: for I stand in doubt of you.

The Epistle on the iiii. Sunday in Lent.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be vnder the lawe, do ye not heare the lawe?

Gene. 16. 15. Gene. 21. 1.

22 For it is written that Abraham had two sonnes: * the one by a bond maide, *the other by a free woman.

23 But hee which was of the bonde woman, was borne after the flesh: but hee which was of the free woman was borne by promise.

i By an allegorie, that is, an other thing is meant.

24 Which things are spoken by i an allegorie: for these are two testaments: the one from the mount Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage, which is Agar:

‖Or, reade, for Sina is a mount in Arabia.

25 For ‖ Agar is the mount Sina in Arabia, and boydereth vpon the citie which is now called Hierusalem, and is in bondage with her children.

Esai 45. 2.

26 But * Hierusalem which is aboue, is free, which is the mother of vs all.

Esai 54. 1.

27 For it is written, * Reioyce thou barren that bearest no children, breake forth and crie, thou that trauailest not: for the desolate hath many moe children then she which hath an husband.

Rom. 9. 8.

28 But brethren, we are * after Isahac the children of promise.

29 But as then he that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the spirite: euen so is it nowe.

30 Neuertheles, what saieth the Scripture? * Put away the bondwoman and her sonne: for the sonne of the bondwoman shall in no wise bee heire with the sonne of the free woman.

Gene. 21. 10.

31 So then brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free.

The v. Chapter.

2 Hee laboureth to draw them away from circumcision. 7 and sheweth them the battell betwixt the spirite and the flesh, and the fruites of them both.

1 STande * fast therefore in the libertie wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and be not entangled ‖ againe with the yoke of bondage.

Actes 15. 1.

‖Or, contrariwise.

2 Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be a circumcised, Christ shall profite you nothing.

a For we are of the Church of Christ, which is our mother, and not of the synagogue, which is seruant vnder the lawe.

3 For I testifie againe to euery man which is circumcised, that he is a debter to doe the whole lawe.

4 Christ is become but vaine to you, as many of you as are iustified by the lawe, are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the spirit, wayte for the hope of righteousnesse by faith.

6 For in Iesus Christ, neither is circumcision any thing worth, neither yet vncircumcision: but faith, which worketh by loue.

7 Ye did runne well, who was a let vnto you, that ye should not obey the trueth?

8 This perswasion commeth not of him that called you.

9 * A litle leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe of dowe.

1. Cor. 5. 6.

10 I haue trust toward you in the Lorde, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but hee that troubleth you, shall beare iudgement, what so euer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why doe I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slaunder of the crosse ceassed.

12 I woulde to God they were cut off which trouble you.

13 For brethren, ye haue bene called vnto libertie: onely * let not libertie be an occasion to the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

Rom. 13. 9. matth. 22. 39. marke 12. 31.

Leuit. 19. 18. iacob 2. 8.

15 If ye bite and deuoure one another, take heede least ye be consumed one of another.

16 * Then I say, walke in the spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lustes of the flesh.

The Epistle on the xiiii. Sunday after Trinitie.

17 For the flesh lusteth contrary to the spirite, and the spirite contrary to the flesh: these are contrary one to the other, so that ye can not doe what ye would.

Rom. 13. 14. 1. pet. 2. 11.

18 But and if ye be led of the spirit, then are ye not vnder the lawe.

19 The deedes of the flesh are manifest, which are these, aduouterie, fornication, vncleannesse, wantonnesse,

20 Worshipping of images, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, sectes, 21 Enuyings, murders, drunkennesse, gluttonies, and such like, of the which I tell you before, as I haue tolde you in time past, that euen they which doe such things, shall not inherite the kingdome of God.

22 But the fruite of the spirite is loue, ioy, peace, long suffering, gentlenesse, goodnesse, faith, 23 Meekenesse, temperance: against such there is no lawe.

24 They truely that are Christes, b haue crucified þ flesh, with the affections and lustes.

b Christ hath not onely remitted their sinnes, but sanctified them into newnesse of life.

25 If we liue in þ spirite, let vs also walke in the spirite.

26 Let vs not be desirous of vaine glorie, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Hee exhorteth them to vse gentlenesse towarde the weake, 2 and to shewe their brotherly loue and modestie. 6 also to prouide for their ministers.

1 BRethren, if a man be preuented in any fault, ye which are spirituall, restore such a one in þ spirit of meekenesse, considering considering thy selfe, least thou also bee tempted.

2 Beare ye one anothers burden, and so fulfill the lawe of Christ.

3 For if any man seeme to himselfe that he is sowewhat, when he is nothing, the same deceiueth himselfe in his owne fantasie.

4 But let euery man proue his owne worke: and then shall he haue [a] reioycing onely in his owne selfe, and not in another.

5 *For euery man shall beare his owne burden.

6 Let him that is taught in the worde, minister vnto him that teacheth him, in all good things.

7 Be not deceiued, God is not mocked: for whatsoeuer a man soweth, that shall he also reape.

8 For he that soweth in his flesh, shall of the flesh reape corruption: but he that soweth into the spirit, shall of the spirit reape life euerlasting.

9 Let vs not be wearie in wel doing: for in due season we shall reape, if we faint not.

10 While we haue therefore time, let vs doe good vnto all men, specially vnto them which are of the houshold of faith.

11 Ye see howe large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand.

12 As many as desire with outward appearance to please ‖carnally, the same constraine you to be circumcised: onely least they should suffer persecution for the crosse of Christ.

13 For they themselues which are circumcised, keepe not the lawe: but desire to haue you circumcised, that they might glory in your flesh.

14 God forbid that I should glory, but in the crosse of our Lorde Iesus Christ: whereby the [b] worlde is crucified vnto me, and I vnto the worlde.

15 For in Christ Iesu neither circumcision auayleth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but a newe creature.

16 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercie, and vpon the [c] Israel that is of God.

17 From henceforth let no man put me to businesse: for I beare in my body the markes of the Lord Iesus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with your spirite, Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Ephesians.

The first Chapter.

After his salutation, 4 hee sheweth that the chiefe cause of their saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christ. 16 He declareth his good wil toward them, giuing thanks, and praying God for their faith. 21 The maiestie of Christ.

1.Cor.1.1. 1 PAul * an Apostle of Iesus Christ by the wil of God, to the saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithfull in Christ Iesus, 2 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ.

1.Cor.1.3. 2.pet.1.2. 3 *Blessed be God the Father of our Lorde Iesus Christ, which hath blessed vs in all spirituall blessing in heauenly things by Christ:

2.Tim.1.9. Colos.1.29. 4 *According as he had chosen vs in him, before the foundation of the world, *that we should be holy, and without blame before him through loue.

5 Who hath predestinated vs into the adoption of [a] children by Iesus Christ vnto himselfe, according to the good pleasure of his will:

6 To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made vs accepted in the beloued.

7 In whom we haue redemption through his blood, the forgiuenesse of sinnes, according to the riches of his grace,

8 Wherein he hath abounded toward vs in all wisedome and prudence.

9 And hath opened vnto vs the mysterie of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he had purposed in himselfe,

10 That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of the times, he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heauens, and which are in earth, in him.

11 In whome also we are chosen, being predestinate according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsell of his owne will:

12 That we should be vnto the praise of his glorie, which before beleeued in Christ.

13 In whome also ye hoped after that ye heard the worde of truth, the Gospel of your saluation: wherein also after that ye beleeued, ye were sealed with the holy spirit of promise, 14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance, vnto the [b] redemption of the purchased possession, vnto the praise of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also, after that I heard of the faith which ye haue in the Lorde Iesus, and loue vnto all the Saints,

16 Cease not to giue thankes for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

17 That the God of our Lorde Iesus Christ, a Whereas we were not the naturall children, he receiued vs by grace, & made vs his children.

b Though we be redeemed from the bondage of sinne by the death of Christ, Rom.6. yet we hope for this second redemptiō, which shalbe whē we shall possesse our inheritance in the heauens, whereof we haue the holy Ghost for a gage, as cha.4.

Christ, the father of glory, may giue vnto you the spirit of wisedome, and reuelation, in the knowledge of him, 18 The eyes of your mindes being lightned: that ye may knowe what the hope is of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance is in the Saints:
19 And what is the exceeding greatnesse of his power to vswards which beleeue, * according to the working of his mightie power,
20 Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him on his right hand in heauenly places,
21 Farre aboue all rule, and power, and might, and dominion, and euery name that is named, not onely in this worlde, but also in the world to come.
22 And hath put all things vnder his feete, and gaue him to be the head ouer all things to the Church, 23 Which is his body, the fulnesse of him that filleth all in all.

Coloss.2.19.

The ij. Chapter.

To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the onely cause of saluation.

1 AND hee quickened you that were * dead in trespasses and sinnes:
2 In the which in time passed ye walked, * according to the course of this world, after the gouernour that ruleth in the ayre, the spirit that nowe worketh in the children of disobedience.
3 Among whome we all had our conuersation also in time past in the lustes of our flesh, fulfilling the will of the flesh, and of the minde, and a were by nature the children of wrath, euen as other:
4 But God which is riche in mercie, for his great loue wherewith he loued vs,
5 Euen when we were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs together with Christ, by whose grace ye are saued,
6 And hath raised vs vp together, & made vs sit together in heauenly thinges in Christ Jesus,
7 That in ages to come he might shewe the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindnesse to vs warde, through Christ Jesus.
8 For by grace are ye made safe through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God,
9 Not of workes, least any man shoulde boast himselfe.
10 For we are his workemanship, created in Christ Jesus vnto good workes, which God hath before ordeined, that we should walke in them.
11 Wherefore, remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, called vncircumcision of that which is called circumcision in the flesh, made by hands:
12 That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliants from the common wealth of Israel, and strangers from the * Testaments of promise, hauing no hope, and without God in this world.
13 But nowe in Christ Jesus, ye which sometime were farre off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.
14 For he is our peace, which hath made both one: and hath broken downe the b middle wall that was a stop betweene vs,
15 Taking away in his flesh the hatred, euen the * lawe of commandements conteined in ordinances, for to make of twayne one newe man in himselfe, so making peace:
16 And that he might reconcile both vnto God in one body through his crosse, and slewe hatred thereby:
17 And came and preached the glad tydings of peace to you which were a farre off, and to them that were nigh.
18 For through him we haue both an entrance in one spirit vnto the Father.
19 Nowe therefore, ye are no more strangers and forreiners: but fellow citizens with the Saints, and of the houlholde of God,
20 And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles & Prophets, Jesus Christ himselfe being the head corner stone, 21 In whom all the building coupled together, groweth vnto an holy temple in the Lorde.

1 FOr this cause I Paul am a prisoner of Jesus Christ for you heathen:
2 If ye haue heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen me to youwards:
3 For by reuelation shewed God the a mysterie vnto me (as I wrote afore in fewe wordes, Hee exhorteth them vnto meekenesse, long suffering, and vnto loue and peace.

The Epistle on the xvii. Sunday after Trinitie.

I Therefore a prisoner ‖ in the Lorde exhort you, that ye walke worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,
2 With all lowlinesse and meekenesse, with long suffering, forbearing one another in loue,
3 Endeuouring to keepe the vnitie of the spirit in the bond of peace.
4 One body, and one [a] spirit, euen as ye are called in one hope of your calling.
5 One Lord, one faith, one baptisme,
6 One God and Father of all, which is aboue all, and through all, and in you all.
7 ‡ But * vnto euery one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the gift of Christ.
8 Wherefore he saith, When he * went vp on high, he ledde captiuitie captiue, and gaue gifts vnto men.
9 (But that hee ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower partes of the earth?
10 * Hee that descended, is euen the same also that ascended vp farre aboue all heauens, to fulfill all things.)
11 * And he gaue some Apostles, and some Prophets, and some Euangelists, and some shepheardes, and teachers, 12 To the gathering together of the saints, into the worke of ministration, into the edifying of the body of Christ:
13 Till wee all meete together into the vnitie of faith and knowledge of the Sonne of God, vnto a perfect man, vnto the measure of the age of the fulnesse of Christ:
14 That we henceforth be no more children, wauering and carped about with euery winde of doctrine, and in the wyinesse of men, in craftinesse, to the laying [b] waite of deceite.
15 But following trueth in loue, let vs growe vp into him in all things which is the head euen Christ:
16 In whome all the body being commently coupled, and knit together by euery ioynt, yeelding nourishment according to the effectuall power in the measure of [c] euery part, maketh increase of the body, vnto the edifying of it selfe in loue.
17 This I say therefore, and testifie in the Lord, that ye henceforth walke not * as other Gentiles walke, in vanitie of their minde:
18 Darkened in cogitation, being alienated from the life of God, by the ignorance that is in them by the ‖ blindnesse of their hearres.
19 Which being past [d] feeling, haue giuen themselues ouer vnto wantonnesse, to worke all vncleannesse with greedinesse.
20 But ye haue not so learned Christ.
21 If so be that ye haue heard him, and haue bene taught in him, as the trueth is in Jesus,
22 To lay downe * according to the former conuersation, the [e] olde man which is corrupt according to the lustes of errour:
23 To bee renued in the spirite of your minde,
24 And to put on that newe man, which after God is shapen in righteousnesse, and holinesse of trueth.
25 * Wherefore, putting away lying, speake euery man trueth vnto his neighbour: forasmuch as wee are members one of another.
26 * Be ye [f] angrie, and sinne not: let not the Sunne go downe vpon your wrath.
27 Neither giue place to the deuill.
28 Let him that stole, steale no more: but let him rather labour, working with his handes the thing which is good, that he may giue vnto him that needeth.
29 Let no filthie communication proceede out of your mouth, but that which is good to edifie withall, as oft as neede is, that it may minister grace vnto the hearers.
30 And [g] grieue not the holy spirit of God, by whome ye are sealed vnto the day of redemption.
31 Let all bitternesse, and fiercenesse, and wrath, and crying, and euill speaking, be put away from you, with all naughtinesse.

b Baptisme is a token that God hath consecrated the Church to himselfe, and made it holy by his word: that is, his promise of free iustification in Christ.

27 That he might present it vnto himselfe a glorious Church, not hauing spot or wrinckle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy, and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wiues as their owne bodies: hee that loueth his wife, loueth himselfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh: but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lord the Church:

33 Therefore euery one of you doe ye so: Let euery one of you loue his wife euen as himselfe, and let the wife reuerence her husband.

The Epistle on the xxi. Sunday after Trinitie.

11 Put on all the armour of God, that ye may stande against the assaultes of the deuill.

a The faithfull haue not onely to striue against men, and themselues: but against Satan & spirituall enemie, who is most dangerous: for he is ouer our heads, so that we cānot reach him, but hee must be resisted by Gods peace.

12 For we wrestle not against a blood and flesh, but against rulers, against powers, against worldly gouernors of the darkenes of this world, against spirituall wickednes in heauenly places.
13 Wherefore take vnto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to resist in the euill day, and hauing finished all things, to stand fast.
14 Stand therefore, hauing your loynes girt about with the trueth, and hauing on the brest plate of righteousnesse:

17 * And take the helmet of saluation, and the swoorde of the spirite, which is the woorde of God:
18 Praying alwayes in all prayer & supplication in the spirit, * and watching for the same purpose with all instance and supplication for all Saints:

21 But that ye also may knowe my affaires, and what I doe, Tychicus a deare brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall shewe you all things:
22 Whome I haue sent vnto you for the same purpose, that ye might knowe of our affaires, and that he might comfort your hearts.
23 Peace be vnto you brethren, and loue with faith from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.
24 Grace be with all them which loue our Lorde Iesus Christ in sincerite, Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Philippians.

The first Chapter.

1 Saint Paul discouereth his heart toward them, 3 by his thankesgiuing, 4 prayers, 8 and wishes for their faith and saluation.

1 PAul and Timothens the seruants of Iesus Christ, to all the Saints in Christ Iesus, which are at Philippos, with the bishops and deacons:
2 Grace be vnto you, and peace from God the Father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christ.
3 * I thanke my God with all remembrance of you:
4 (Alwayes in al my prayers for all you, making prayer with gladnesse:)
5 For your fellowship in the Gospel, from the first a day vntill nowe:
6 Being perswaded of the same thing, that he which hath begun a good worke in you, will performe it vntill the day of Iesus Christ:
7 As it becommeth me to iudge this of you all, because I haue you in my heart, and in my bonds, in the defence and confirmation of the Gospel, you all being partakers of my b grace.
8 For God is my record, howe greatly I long after you all in the c bowels of Iesus Christ.
9 And this I pray, that your loue may abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all vnderstanding:
10 That ye may discerne things that differ: that ye may be pure and without offence till the day of Christ,
11 Being filled with the fruites of righteousnesse, which are by Iesus Christ, vnto the glory and prayse of God.
12 But I would ye should vnderstande, brethren, that the things which came vnto me, haue come rather vnto the furtherance of the Gospel.
13 So that my d bonds in Christ are manifest throughout all the iudgement hall, and in all other places.
14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, being incouraged through my bonds, dare more plentifully speake the woorde without feare.
15 Some preach Christ of enuie and strife, and some of good will:
16 The one preach Christ of strife, not sincerely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bonds:
17 But the others of loue, knowing that I am set to the defence of the Gospel.
18 What then? so that Christ be preached any maner of way, whether it be by pretence, or by trueth, I ioy therein, and wil ioy.
19 For I knowe that this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, and ministring of the spirit of Iesus Christ,
20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed: but that with all boldnesse, as alwayes, so nowe also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.
21 For Christ is to me life, and death is to me aduantage.
22 But whether to liue in the flesh, this be the fruite of my labour, and what I shal chuse, I wote not.

25 But I supposed it necessarie, to send to you Epaphroditus my brother & companion in labour, and fellowe souldier, but your Apostle, and the minister of my neede.

26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heauinesse, because that ye had heard that he had beene sicke.

27 And no doubt he was sicke nigh vnto death, but God had mercie on him: and not on him only, but on me also: lest I should haue sorowe vpon sorowe.

28 I sent him therefore the more diligently, that when ye see him againe, ye may reioyce, and that I may be the lesse sorowfull.

29 Receiue him therefore in the Lord with all gladnes, and make much of such:

b In beleeuing that God by his power raysed vp Christ, whereof wee haue a sure token in our baptisme.

13 And ye being dead in your sinnes, and the vncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened with him, hauing forgiuen all your trespasses,

14 And when he had blotted out the hand writing of ordinances that was against vs, and that was contrarie to vs, euen that hath he taken out of the way, hauing fastened it to his crosse:

15 And hauing spoyled all principalities and powers, hath made a shew of them openly, triumphing ouer them in him selfe.

16 Let no man therefore iudge you in meate or in drinke, or in part of an holy day, or of the newe Moone, or of the Sabboth dayes:

17 Which are shadowes of things to come, but the body is of Christ.

18 Let no man beguile c you of victorie, in the humblenes and worshipping of angels, intruding him selfe into those things which he hath not seene, causeles puft vp with his fleshly minde:

19 And holdeth not the head, whereof all the body by ioyntes and bandes, hauing nourishment ministred, & knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

¶ Written from Rome to the Coloſſians, by Tychicus and Oneſimus.

The firſt Epiſtle of Saint Paul the Apoſtle to the Theſſalonians.

The firſt Chapter.

2 He thanketh God for them, that they are ſo ſtedfaſt in faith and good woꝛkes.

1 PAul & Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Theſſalonians, which is in a God & father, and in the Loꝛd Ieſus Chꝛiſt, Grace bee vnto you, and peace from God our father, & the Loꝛde Ieſus Chꝛiſt.

a For there is no Church which is not ioyned together in God.

2 *We giue thankes to God alwayes foꝛ all you, making mention of you in our pꝛayers

2.Theſſ.1.3.

3 Without ceaſſing calling to remembꝛance the woꝛke of your faith, and labour of loue, and patient abiding in the hope of our Loꝛde Ieſus Chꝛiſt, in the ſight of God and our father,

4 Knowing, bꝛethꝛen beloued, your election of God.

5 For our Goſpel came not vnto you in woꝛde onely, but alſo in power, and in the holy Ghoſt, and in much certaintie, as ye knowe after what maner we were among you for your ſake.

6 And ye became followers of vs, and of the Loꝛde, hauing receiued the woꝛde in much affliction, with [b] ioy of the holy Ghoſt:

b To beleeue, and to be fully perſwaded to haue the giftes of the holy Ghoſt, and ioyfully to ſuffer for Chriſtes ſake, are moſt certaine ſignes of our election.

7 So that ye were an enſample to all that beleeue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you ſounded out the woꝛd of the Loꝛde, not onely in Macedonia and Achaia, but alſo in euery place your faith to Godwarde is ſpread abroade, ſo that wee neede not to ſpeake any thing.

9 For they themſelues ſhewe of you, what maner of entring in wee had vnto you, and howe ye turned to God from [c] images, to ſerue the liuing & true God:

c For images are dead things, and onely feigned fantaſies.

10 And to tarrie for his ſonne from heauen, whom he raiſed from the dead, euen Ieſus which deliuereth vs from the wrath to come.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Hee commendeth his diligence in preaching, 13 and theirs in obeying.

1 FOr ye your ſelues, brethren, knowe our entrance in vnto you, that it was not in [a] vaine:

a Not in outwarde ſhewe and in pompe, but in trauell, and in the feare of God. Actes 16.22.

2 *But euen after that wee had ſuffered before, and were ſhamefully entreated as ye know at Philippos, we were bold in our God, to ſpeake vnto you the Goſpel of God, in much ſtriuing.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceite, neither of vncleanneſſe, neither in guile:

4 But as we were alowed of God to be put in credite with the Goſpel, euen ſo we ſpeake, not as pleaſing men, but God, which tryeth our hearts.

5 For neither at any time vſed we flattering wordes, as ye knowe, neither cloke of couetouſneſſe, God is record.

6 Neither ſought we prayſe of men, neither of you, nor yet of others:

7 When we might haue bene in ‖ authoritie, as the Apoſtles of Chriſt, but were tender among you, euen as a [b] nurſe cheriſheth her children.

‖ Or, a burden.

b He humbled himſelfe to ſupport all things without all reſpect of lucre: euen as the tender mother which nurſeth her children, and thinketh no office to vile for her childrens ſake. Actes 20.34. 2.theſſ.3.8.

8 So, being tenderly affected towarde you, our good will was to haue deale vnto you, not the Goſpel of God onely, but alſo our owne ſoules: becauſe ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and trauaile: * for wee labouring night and day, becauſe we would not be chargeable vnto any of you, preached vnto you the Goſpel of God.

10 Ye are witneſſes, and God alſo, howe holily, and iuſtly, and vnblameably, we behaued our ſelues among [c] you that beleeue.

c For it is not poſſible to auoide the reproche of the wicked, which euer hate good doings.

11 And ye know how that as a father his children, ſo we haue exhorted, comforted, and beſought euery one of you, 12 That ye would walke worthy of God, * who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glory. Ephes 4.1.

13 For this cauſe thanke wee God alſo without ceaſſing, becauſe when ye had receiued the woꝛde of God which yee heard of vs, ye receiued it not as the woꝛd of men (but as it is in deede) the woꝛd of God, which effectuouſly worketh alſo in you that beleeue.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the Churches of God, which in Iurie are in Chriſt Ieſus: for ye alſo haue ſuffered like things of your countreymen, as they haue of the Iewes:

15 Who both killed the Loꝛde Ieſus, and their owne prophets, and haue perſecuted vs: and God they pleaſe not, and are contrarie to [d] all men:

d And would hinder all men from their ſaluation.

16 And hinder vs to ſpeake to the Gentiles, that they might be ſaued, to fulfill their ſinnes alway. For the wrath of God is come on them to the vttermoſt.

17 For aſmuch, brethren, as we are kept from you for a ſhoꝛt ſeaſon, in perſon, not in heart, * we enforced the more to ſee you perſonally with great deſire. Rom.1.11.

18 And therefore wee woulde haue come vnto you (euen I Paul) once & againe: but Satan hindered vs.

19 For what is our hope, oꝛ ioy, oꝛ crowne of reioycing? Are [e] not yee it in the preſence of our Loꝛde Ieſus Chriſt at his comming?

e Therefore I coulde not forget you, except I would forget my ſelfe.

20 Yea, ye are our glory and ioy.

The iij. Chapter.

2 He ſheweth howe greatly he was affectioned towarde them, both in that hee ſent Timotheus to them. 10 and alſo prayed for them.

1 WHerefore, ſince we coulde no longer forbeare, wee thought it good to remaine at Athens alone:

3 That no man ſhould be moued in theſe afflictions: for yee your ſelues knowe that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verily when wee were with you, we tolde you before, that we ſhoulde ſuffer tribulation: euen as it came to paſſe, and as ye know.

5 For this cauſe when I [a] coulde no longer forbeare, I ſent him to knowe your faith, leaſt by ſome meanes the tempter had tempted you, and our labour had bene vaine.

1 FOrthermore wee beseeche you brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Iesus, that ye increase more and more, as ye haue receiued of vs, how ye ought to walke and to please God.

3 For this is the will of God, euen your ‖holinesse, * that ye should abstaine from fornication:

4 That euery one of you shoulde knowe howe to possesse his vessell in holinesse and honour:

a That is, that ye should dedicate your selues wholy to God. 1.Cor.6.8.

5 Not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which know not God.

6 * That no man oppresse and defraude his brother in any matter, because that the Lorde is the auenger of all such, as wee also haue forewarned you, and testified.

8 He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also giuen to you his holy spirit.

John 13.34. 1.ioh.1.8. 9 * But as touching brotherly loue, ye neede not that I write vnto you: for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

10 Yea, and that thing verily ye doe vnto all the brethren, which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you brethren, that ye increase more and more:

11 And that ye studie to be quiet, and to do your owne businesse, and to worke with your owne hands, as wee commanded you:

12 That ye may walke honestly towarde them that are without, and that ye may haue lacke of nothing.

b Hee doeth not condemne all kinde of sorowe, but that which proceedeth of infidelitie.

13 But I would not haue you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which sleepe, that ye b sorowe not, euen as other which haue no hope.

14 For if we beleeue that Iesus died, and rose againe, euen so them also which sleepe by Iesus, will God bring with him.

The v. Chapter.

He enfourmeth them of the day of iudgement, and comming of the Lord.

1 BVt of the times and seasons, brethren, ye haue no neede that I write vnto you.

Matth.24.44. 2.peter 3.10. apoc.3.3. 2 * For ye your selues knowe perfectly that the day of the Lorde so commeth, euen as a theefe in the night.

3 For when they shall say peace and safetie: then suddenly destruction commeth vpon them, * as trauaile vpon a woman with childe, and they shall not escape in any wise.

a That is, suddenly and vnlooked for.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkenesse, least that day shoulde ouertake you as a theefe.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: wee are not of the night, neither of darkenesse.

6 Therefore let vs not b sleepe, as doe other: but let vs watch, and be sober.

b Here sleepe is taken for contempt of saluation, when men continue in sinnes, and will not awake to godlinesse. Esai 59.17. ephes.6.17.

7 For they that sleepe, sleepe in the night: and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 But let vs which are of the day, be sober, * putting on the brestplate of faith and charitie, and a helmet, the hope of saluation.

9 For God hath not appointed vs to wrath: but to obteine saluation by our Lord Iesus Christ, 10 Which died for vs, that whether wee wake or sleepe, we shoulde liue together with him.

11 Wherefore, comfort your selues together, and edifie euery one another, euen as ye doe.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, & haue the ouersight of you in the Lord, and admonish you:

13 That ye haue them in high reputation, in loue for their worke: and be at peace among your selues.

14 We exhort you, brethren, warne them that are vnruly, comfort the feeble minded, lift vp the weake, be patient toward all men.

¶ The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians, written from Athens.

The second Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

The first Chapter.

3 He thanketh God for their faith, loue, and patience. 11 He prayeth for the increase of the same, 12 and sheweth what fruite shall come thereof.

1 PAul & Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, in God our father, and the Lorde Iesus Christ:
2 Grace vnto you, & peace from God our father, and the Lord Iesus Christ.
1.Thess.1.2. 3 * We are bounde to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charitie of euery one of you towardes another aboundeth:
4 So that we our selues reioyce in you in the Churches of God, for your a patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer.
a Which proceedeth of your faith, as a most notable fruite.
5 Which is a b token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for which ye also suffer.
b The faithfull by their afflictions, see as in a cleare glasse, the ende of Gods iust iudgement, when as they shall reigne with Christ which haue suffered with him: and the wicked shall feele his extreme wrath and vengeance.
6 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompence tribulation to them that trouble you:
7 And to you which are troubled, rest with vs, in the reuelation of the Lorde Iesus from heauen, with the angels of his power,
8 In flaming fire, rendring vengeance vnto them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospell of our Lord Iesus Christ,
9 Which shall be punished with euerlasting damnation from þ presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power:
10 When he shall come to be glorified in his Saintes, and to be made marueilous in all them that beleeue (because our testimonie towarde you was beleeued) in that day.
11 Wherefore also we pray alwayes for you, that our God woulde make you worthy of the calling, and fulfill all good pleasure of goodnesse in the c worke of faith in power:
c Faith is Gods wonderfull worke in vs.
12 That the name of our Lorde Iesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

The ij. Chapter.

3 He sheweth them that the day of the Lord shal not come, till the departing from the faith come first. 9 and the kingdome of Antichrist. 15 and therefore he exhorteth them not to be deceiued, but to stand stedfast in the things that he hath taught them.

1 WE beseech you, brethren, by the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him,
2 That ye be not suddenly moued from your minde, nor be troubled, neither by a spirit, nor by worde, nor yet by letter, as from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.
a As false reuelations or dreames.
Ephe.5.6. 3 * Let no man deceiue you by any meanes, for the Lorde shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that that man of sinne be reuealed, the sonne of b perdition.
b Who as he destroyeth other, shall be destroyed himselfe.
4 Which is an aduersarie, and is exalted aboue all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing him selfe that he is God.
5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?
6 And now ye know what withholdeth, that he might be reuealed in his time.
7 For the mysterie of iniquitie doeth already worke, only he which now letteth will let, vntill he be taken out of the way.
8 And then shall that wicked be reuealed * whome the Lorde shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightnesse of his comming:
Esai 11.4.
9 Euen him whose comming is after the working of Satan, in al power & signes, and wonders of lying,
10 And in all deceiueablenesse of vnrighteousnesse, in them that perish: because they receiued not the loue of the trueth, that they might be saued.

11 And therefore God shall sende them strong delusion, that they should beleeue lyes:
12 That all they might be damned which beleeued not the trueth, but had pleasure in vnrighteousnesse.
13 But we are bounde to giue thankes alway to God for you, brethren, beloued of the Lord, because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to saluation, in sanctifying of the spirite, and in faith of the trueth.
14 Whereunto he called you by our Gospel, to the obtaining of the glorie of the Lorde Iesus Christ.
15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the ordinances which ye haue bene taught, whether it were by our preaching, or by our Epistle.
16 Our Lorde Iesus Christ, and God of our father which hath loued us, and hath giuen vs euerlasting consolation, and good hope in grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in all good saying and doing.

The iij. Chapter.

He desireth them to pray for him, that the Gospell may prosper.

1 FOrthermore, brethren,* pray ye for vs, that the worde of the Lorde may haue free passage, and be glorified, euen as with you:
2 And that we may be deliuered from disordered & euill men: For all men haue not [a] faith.
3 But the Lord is faithfull, which shall stablish you, and keepe you from euill.
4 And we haue confidence in the Lord to youwarde, that ye both doe, and will do the things which we commaunde you.
5 And the Lorde guide your heartes to the loue of God, and to the patient waiting for Christ.
6 We commaunde you, brethren, in the name of our Lorde Iesus Christ, that ye withdraw your selues frō euery brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the [b] institution which he receiued of vs.
7 For ye your selues know * howe ye ought to followe vs: * For we behaued not our selues inordinately among you,
8 * Neither tooke wee bread of any man for nought: but wrought with labour and sweate night and day, because we would not be chargeable to any of you.
9 Not because we haue not authoritie, but to make our selues an ensample vnto you to followe vs.
10 For when we were with you, this we warned you of, that if any woulde not worke, the same shoulde not eate.
11 For we heare that there are some which walke among you inordinately, working not at all, but be busibodyes.
12 Them that are such, we commaunde, and exhorte by our Lorde Iesus Christ, that they working in quietnes, eat their owne bread.
13 And ye,* brethren, be not wearie in well doing.
14 If any man obey not our doctrine, signifie him by an Epistle,* and haue no companie with him, that he may be ashamed.

The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto Timothie.

The first Chapter.

He exhorteth Timothie to waite vpon his office, namely, to see that nothing be taught but Gods worde.

1 PAul the Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the commission of God our Sauiour, and Lorde Iesus Christ which is our hope,
2 Vnto * Timothie a naturall [a] sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie, and peace from God our father, and Iesus Christ our Lord.
3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so doe, that thou commande some that they teache no other doctrine:
4 Neither giue heede to fables, & endlesse genealogies, which breed questiōs, more then godly edifying, which is in faith.
5 But the [b] ende of the cōmandement, is charitie out of a pure heart, & of a good conscience, and of faith vnfayned.
6 From the which things, some hauing erred, haue turned vnto vaine iangling:
7 Coueting to be doctours of the lawe, not vnderstanding what they speake, neither whereof they affirme.
8 But we know that the lawe is good, if b Because these questionists preferred their curious fables to all other knowledge, and beautified them with the law, as if they had bene the very law of God: S. Paul sheweth ỹ the end of gods law is loue, which cannot be vsed without a good conscience, neither a good conscience without faith, nor faith without the worde of God: So their doctrine, which is an occasiō of cōtention, is nothing worth.

a man vse it lawfullp:
9 Knowing this, that the lawe is not giuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to sinners, to vnholy, and vncleane, to murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, to manslears,
10 To whoremongers, to them that defile themselues with mankinde, to manstealers, to lyers, to periured, and if there be any other thing þ is contrary to wholesome doctrine:
11 Accoyding to the Gospel of the glopy of the blessed God, which is committed vnto me.
12 And I thanke Chpist Jesus our Lopde, which hath made me strong: foy he counted me faithfull, putting me into the ministerie, 13 Who was before a blasphemer, and an oppressour: But pet I obteined mercie, because I did it c ignorantly, in vnbeliefe.
c Not knowing that I fought against God.
14 Neuertheless, the grace of our Lopde was exceeding abundant, with faith, and loue, which is in Chpist Jesus.
15 This is a faithfull saping, and bp all meanes worthy to bee receiued, * that Chpist Jesus came into the world to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.
Matth.9.3. marke 2.17.
16 Notwithstanding, foy this cause was mercie shewed vnto me, that in me the first, Jesus Chpist might shewe all long suffering, to the example of them which shoulde beleeue on him to life euerlasting.
17 d Nowe vnto the king euerlasting, incorruptible, inuisible, vnto God onelp wise, be honour and glopy foy euer and euer. Amen.
d He bursteth forth into these godly affections, considering Gods great mercie toward him.
18 This commandement commit I vnto thee sonne Timotheus, accoyding to the prophecies which went before vpon thee, that thou in them shouldest fight a good fight:
19 Hauing faith and good conscience, which some hauing put away, as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.
20 Of whom is * Pymeneus and Alexander, whom I haue e deliuered vnto Satan, that they map learne not to blaspheme.

e Excommunicate, or cast out of the Church.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth to pray for all men, 4 wherefore, 8 and howe. 9 As touching the apparell and modestie of women.

1 I Exhoyt you therefore, that first of all paapers, supplications, intercessions, and giuing of thankes be made foy all men:
2 Foy kings, and foy all that are in authoritie, that wee map leade a quiet and peaceable life, in all godlinesse and honestie.
3 Foy that is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Sauiour,
4 Who will haue all men to bee saued, and to come vnto the knowledge of the trueth.
5 Foy there is one God, and one mediatour of God and men, the man Chpist Jesus:
6 Who gaue himselfe, a a ransome foy al, a testimonie in due times:
a He sheweth that there can be no mediatour, except he be also the redeemer.
7 * Whereunto I am ordeined a Preacher and an Apostle (I tell the trueth in Chpist, and lie not) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith, and veritie.
2.Tim.1.11.
8 I will therefore that the men paap euerp where, lifting vp holy hands without wrath and reasoning.
9 *Likewise also the women, that they arap themselues in comelp apparell, with shamefastnesse and discreete behauiour, not in braided heare, either golde, oy pearles, oy costlp arap:
2.Peter 3.1.
10 But (that becommeth women professing godlinesse) through good worpes.
11 * Let the woman learne in silence with all subiection.
1.Cor.14.34.
12 But I suffer not a woman to teache, neither to vsurpe authoritie ouer the man, but to be in silence.
13 * Foy Adam was first fourmed, then Eue.
Gene.1.27.
14 And Adam was not deceiued, * but the woman being deceiued, was b in the transgression.
Gene.3.6.
b That is, guiltie of the transgresion.
15 Notwithstanding, through bearing of children she shalbe saued, if they continue in faith and charitie, and holinesse, with modestie.

The iij Chapter.

2 Hee declareth what u the office of Ministers, 11 and as touching their families. 15 The dignitie of the Church, 16 and the principal point of the heauenly doctrine.

1 THis is a faithfull saping: If a man desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a good worke.
2 * A Bishop therefore must bee blamelesse, the husband of one wife, watching, sober, comelp appareled, a louer of hospitalitie, apt to teach,
Titus 1.6.
3 Not giuen to ouermuch wine, no striker, not greedie of filthy lucre: but gentle, abhorring fighting, abhorring couetousnesse:
4 One that ruleth well his owne house, hauing children in subiection with all grauitie.
5 (Foy if a man knowe not to rule his owne house, howe shall hee care foy the Church of God?)
6 Not a pong scholler, least he, being puffed vp, a fall into the condemnation of the deuil.
a Least being proude of his degree, he be likewise condemned as the deuill was for lifting vp himselfe by pride.
7 Hee must also haue a good report of them which are without, least he fall into the rebuke and snare of the deuil.
8 Likewise must the ‖ ministers be grane, not double tongued, not giuen to much wine, neither greedie of filthy lucre:
‖ Or, deacons.
9 b Holding the mysterie of the faith in a pure conscience.
b Hauing the true doctrine of the Gospel, and the feare of God.
10 And let them first be proued, then let them minister, being blameless.
11 Euen so must their wiues bee grane, not euill speakers, sober, faithfull in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbandes of one wife, and such as can rule their children well, and their owne households.
13 For they that haue ministred well, get themselues a good degree, and great libertie to speake in the faith which is in Christ Iesus.
14 These things write I vnto thee, hoping to come shortly vnto thee:
15 But if I tarry long, that thou maiest knowe how thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the pillar and ‖ ground of the trueth. ‖ Or, stay.
16 And without doubt, great is that mysterie of godlinesse: God was shewed manifestly in the flesh, was iustified in the spirite, was seene among the Angels, was preached vnto the Gentiles, was beleeued on in the world, and was receiued vp in glory.

The iiij. Chapter.

2 Hee teacheth him what doctrine hee ought to flee. 6. 8. 11 and what to followe, 15 and wherein hee ought to exercise himselfe continually.

1 NOwe the spirite speaketh euidently, that * in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giuing heede vnto spirites of errour, and doctrines of deuils, 2.Tim.3.13. 1.pet.2.3. Iude 1.18.
2 Which speake falsse in hypocrisie, hauing their a conscience seared with an hot iron: a Their dull consciences first waxed hard, then after, canker and corruption bred therein: last of all, it was burnt off with an hot iron, so that he meaneth such as haue no conscience, Ephes.4.
3 Forbidding to marrie, and commanding to abstene from meates which God hath created to be receiued with giuing thankes, of them which beleeue & knowe the trueth.
4 For euery creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be receiued with thankesgiuing.
5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.
6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt bee a good minister of Iesus Christ, which hast bene nourished vp in the wordes of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.
7 * But cast away prophane and olde wiues fables, and exercise thy selfe rather vnto godlinesse: 2.Tim.2.23. Titus 3.9.
8 For bodily exercise profiteth litle, but godlinesse is profitable vnto all things, hauing promises of the life that is now, and of that which is to come.
9 This is a sure saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued:
10 For therefore we both labour, and suffer rebuke, because wee haue hoped in the liuing God, which is the Sauiour of all men, specially of those that beleeue.
11 These things command and teach.
12 Let no man despise thy youth: but bee thou a paterne of the beleeuers, in word, in conuersation, in charitie, in spirite, in faith, in chastitie.
13 Till I come, giue attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.
14 Despise not the gift that is in thee, which was giuen thee b through prophecie, with the laying on of hands, by the authoritie of the eldership. b A reuelation of the holy Ghost.
15 Haue a care of these things, and giue thy selfe vnto them, that it may be seene howe thou profitest in all things.
16 Take heede vnto thy selfe, and vnto doctrine, and continue therein: for in doing this, thou shalt both c saue thy selfe, and them that heare thee. c Thou shalt faithfully doe thy duetie, which is an assurance of thy saluation.

The v. Chapter.

1 Hee teacheth him howe he shall behaue himselfe in rebuking all degrees. 3 An order concerning widowes.

1 REbuke not an Elder, but exhort him as a father, the ponger men as brethren:
2 The elder women as mothers, the ponger as sisters, in all chastitie.
3 Honour widowes, which are widowes in deede.
4 But if any widow haue children or nephues, let them learne first to rule their owne houses godly, and to recompence also their elder kinsfolkes: for that is good and acceptable before God.
5 And she that is a widow a in deede, and left alone, hopeth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day. a Which hath no maner of worldly meanes to helpe her selfe with.
6 But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead, being aliue.
7 And these things commande, that they may be blamelesse.
8 But if any prouide not for his owne, and specially for them of his household, he hath denied the faith, and is worse then an infidel.
9 Let not a widow be chosen vnder three score yeeres olde, hauing bene the wife of one man,
10 And well reported of in good workes, if she haue brought vp children, if she haue lodged strangers, if she haue washed the Saintes feete, if she haue ‖ ministred vnto them that were in aduersitie, if shee haue beene continually giuen to euery good worke. ‖ Or, holpen them.
11 But the ponger widowes refuse, for when they haue begun to waxe wanton against Christ, they will marrie:
12 Hauing damnation, because they haue cast away their first faith.
13 They learne to wander about from house to house idle, yea not idle onely, but also tatlers and busibodies, speaking things that are not comely.
14 I will therefore that the ponger women doe marry, to beare children, to guide the house, to giue none occasion to the aduersarie to speake slanderously.
15 For certaine of them are already turned backe after Satan.
16 If any man or woman that beleeueth haue widowes, let them sustaine them, and let not the Church be charged, that it may sustaine them that are widowes in deede.

17 The

17 The elders that rule well, let them be counted worthy of double honour, most specially they which labour in the worde and teaching.

19 Against an elder receiue none accusation, but vnder two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sinne, rebuke before all, that other also may feare.

21 I testifie before God, and the Lord Iesus Christ, and the elect Angels, that thou obserue these things without hastines of iudgement, and doe nothing after partialitie.

22 Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens sinnes. Keepe thy selfe chaste.

b Their sinnes folowe, which for a time haue deceiued the godly, and after are detected, as Saul, Iudas and other hypocrites.

23 Drinke no longer water: but vse a litle wine for thy stomackes sake, and thine often diseases.

24 Some mens sinnes are open before hande, hasting before vnto iudgement, and in some b they follow after.

25 Likewise also good workes are manifest before hand, and they that are otherwise, cannot be hid.

The vj. Chapter.

1 The duetie of seruants towarde their masters.
3 Against such as are not satisfied with the word of God.

1 LEt as many seruants as are vnder the yoke, count their masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they which haue beléeuing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather let them doe seruice, for as much as they are beléeuing and beloued, and partakers of the a benefite: These things teach and exhort.

The second Epistle of Saint Paul to Timothie.

The first Chapter.

Paul exhorteth Timotheus to stedfastnes and patience in persecution, and to continue in the doctrine that he had taught him.

1 PAul an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the wil of God, [a] according to the promise of life, which is in Christ Jesus,

2 To Timothie my dearely beloued sonne: grace, mercie, and peace from God the Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 I thanke God, *whom I worship from my forefathers in pure conscience, that without ceasing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindfull of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioy.

5 When I call to remembrance the vnfained faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunica, and I am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou [b] stirre vp the gift of God, which is in thee, by the putting on of my handes.

7 For God hath not giuen to vs the spirite of feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sounde minde.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimonie of our Lord, neither of me his prisoner, but suffer thou aduersitie with the Gospel, according to the power of God,

9 Who hath * saued vs, and called vs with an holy calling, not according to our workes, but according to his owne purpose and grace, which was giuen vs in Christ Jesus, * before the worlde began:

10 But is nowe made manifest by the appearing of our sauiour Jesus Christ, who hath put awaye death, and hath brought life and immortalitie into light through the Gospel:

11 * Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things, neuertheless, I am not ashamed, for I knowe whome I haue beleeued, and I am perswaded that he is able to keepe that which I haue committed to him against that day.

13 See thou haue the paterne of wholesome wordes, which thou hast heard of me in fayth and loue, that is in Christ Jesus.

14 That [c] good thing which was committed to thy keeping, holde fast through the holy Ghost which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia bee ‖ turned from me, of whome are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lorde giue mercie vnto the house of Onesiphorus, for hee oft refreshed mee, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when hee was in Rome, hee sought mee out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lorde graunt vnto him that hee may finde mercie with the Lorde in that day: And in howe many things hee ministred vnto mee at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

The ij. Chapter.

He exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer manly, to abide fast in the wholesome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ.

1 THou therefore my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 And the thinges that thou hast heard of me by many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, which shall be apte to teach other also.

3 Thou therefore suffer afflictions as a good souldier of Jesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth him selfe with the affaires of this life, that he may please him which hath chosen him to be a souldier.

5 And if a man also wrestle, yet is he not crowned, except he wrestle lawfully.

6 The labouring husbandman must first be partaker of the fruites.

7 Consider what I say: and the Lorde giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

8 Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seede of Dauid, was rayled from the dead, according to my Gospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an euill doer, euen vnto bonds: but the worde of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I suffer all things for the elects sakes, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Jesus, with eternall glory.

11 It is a faithfull saying: *for if we be dead with him, we shall also liue with him:

12 If we be patient, we shall also reigne with him: * If we denie him, he also shall denie vs:

13 * If we be vnfaithfull, he abideth faithfull, he cannot denie himselfe.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, testifie before the Lorde, that they strine not about wordes to no profite, but to the peruerting of the hearers.

15 Studie to shewe thy selfe approued vnto God, a workeman not to be ashamed, rightly

6 For I am now readie to be offered, and the time of my dissolution is at hand.

7 I haue fought a good fight, I haue fulfilled my course, I haue kept the faith.

8 Henceforth there is layde vp for me a crowne of righteousnes, which the Lord the righteous iudge shall giue me at that day: not to me onely, but vnto them also that haue loued his appearing.

9 Doe thy diligence to come shortly vnto mee.

10 For Demas hath forsaken me, hauing loued this present world, and is departed vnto Thessalonica, Crescens to Galatia, Titus vnto Dalmatia.

Col.4.14.

11 * b Onely Luke is with mee. Taking Marke, bring him with thee, for hee is profitable vnto me for the ministration.

b Hereby it is manifest that Peter as yet was not at Rome, and if euer hee were there, it is vncertaine.

12 And Tychicus haue I sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus,

Carpus, when thou comme, bring with thee, and the bookes, but specially the parchments.

14 Alexander the coppersmith shewed me much euill: the Lorde [c] rewarde him according to his deades:

c For Paul saw in him manifest signes of reprobation.

15 Of whome be thou ware also: for hee hath greatly withstand our preaching.

16 At my first answering no man assisted me, but all forsoke me: I pray God that it may not be layde to their charges.

17 Notwithstanding the Lord assisted me, and strengthened mee, that by mee the preaching should be fulfilled to the vttermost, and that all the Gentiles should heare, and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.

d That I commit nothing vnworthy mine office.

18 And the Lorde shall deliver mee from euery [d] euill worke, and will preserue me vnto his heauenly kingdome: to whom be praise for euer and euer, Amen.

19 Salute Priscа and Aquila, and the household of *Onesiphorus.

*Titus 1.16.

20 Erastus abode at Corinthum: but Trophimus haue I left at Miletum sicke.

21 Doe thy diligence to come before winter. Eubolus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.

22 The Lorde Jesus Christ be with thy spirit: Grace be with you, Amen.

¶ The second Epistle vnto Timotheus ordeined the first bishop of the Church of the Ephesians, was written from Rome, when Paul was presented the seconde time vnto the Emperour Nero.

The Epistle of Saint Paul vnto Titus.

The first Chapter.

1 Hee aduertiseth Titus touching the gouernment of the Church. 7 The ordinance and office of ministers. 12 The nature of the Cretians, and of them which sowe abroade Iewish fables, and inuentions of men.

1 PAul a seruant of GOD, and an Apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the [a] faith of Gods elect, & the knowledge of the trueth, which is after godlinesse:

a That is, to preache the faith, to increase their knowledge, to teach them to liue godly, that at length they may obteine eternall life. Rom. 16.25.

2 In the hope of eternall life, which God that can not lie, * promised before the world began:

3 But hath made manifest his worde at the time appointed through preaching, which is committed vnto me according to the ordinance of God our Sauiour:

b In respect of faith, which was common to them both, so that hereby they are brethren: but in respect of the ministerie, Paul begate him as his sonne in faith. 2.Tim.3.2.

4 To Titus a naturall [b] sonne after the common faith, Grace, mercie, and peace from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Sauiour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Creta, that thou shouldest reforme the things that are left, and ordeine elders in euery citie, as I had appointed thee.

6 * If any be blameleſſe, the husband of one wife, having faithfull children, not accusable of riot, or vntractable.

7 For a bishop must be blameleſſe, as the steward of God: not stubborne, not angrie, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthie lucre:

8 But a louer of hospitalitie, a louer of goodnesse, sober, righteous, godly, temperate:

9 Holding fast the faithfull word which is according to doctrine, that he may be able both to exhort in wholesome doctrine, and to improue them that say against it.

10 For there are many vnruly and vaine talkers, and deceiuers of mindes, specially they that are of the [c] circumcision:

c Which were not onely the Iewes, but also the Hebionites and Cherinthians, heretikes, which taught that the lawe must be ioyned with Christ. 2.Tim.1.4.

11 Whose mouthes must bee stopped, which subuert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthie lucre sake.

12 One of themselues, euen a Prophet of their owne, saide, The Cretians are alway liars, euill beastes, slowe bellies.

13 This witnesse is true: wherefore rebuke them sharpely, that they may be sound in the faith, 14 * Not taking heede to Iewes fables, and commaundements of men, turning from the trueth.

15 * Vnto the pure are all things pure: but vnto them that are defiled and vnbeleeuing, is nothing pure, but euen the minde and conscience of them is defiled.

Rom. 14.20.

16 They confesse that they knowe God: but with workes they denie him, seeing they are abominable and disobedient, and vnto euery good worke reprobate.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Hee commendeth vnto him the wholesome doctrine, and telleth him howe hee shall teach all degrees to behaue themselues, 11 through the benefite of the grace of Christ.

1 BVt speake thou the things which become [a] wholesome doctrine.

a Wherewith our soules are fed and mainteined in health.

2 That the elder men be watching, grane, sober, sound in faith, in charitie, in patience:

3 The elder women likewise, that they be in such behauiour as becommeth holinesse, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things:

4 That they may make the yong women sober minded, to loue their husbands, to loue their children,

5 To be

b Not running to and fro without necessarie occasions, which is a signe of lightnesse.

5 To be discréte, chaste, b housekéepers, good, * obedient vnto their owne husbands, that the woorde of God be not blasphemed.

6 Yong men likewise exhort to be sober minded:

Ephes.5.23.

7 In all things shewing thy selfe a paterne of good workes, in the doctrine, vncorruptnesse, grauitie, integritie,

8 Wholesome word, vnrebukeable, that he which withstandeth, may be ashamed, hauing no euill thing to say of you.

Ephes.6.3. 1.pet.2.18. colos.3.22.

9 * Exhort seruants to be obedient vnto their owne masters, and to please them in all things, not ‖ answering againe:

‖Or, gainesaying.

10 Neither pickers, but shewing all good faithfulnesse, that they may adorne the doctrine of God our Sauiour in all things.

1.Cor.1.1. colos.1.22.

11 * For there hath appeared the grace of God, which is c healthfull to all men, c Of what condition or state so euer they be.

12 Teaching vs, that denying vngodlinesse and worldly lustes, we should liue soberly, and righteously, and godly in this present world:

13 Looking for that blessed hope and appearing of the glory of the great God, and our Sauiour Iesus Christ, 14 Which gaue himselfe for vs, that he might redéeme vs from all vnrighteousnesse, and purge vs a peculiar people vnto himselfe, zealous of good workes.

15 These things speake and exhort, and rebuke with all authoritie: Let no man despise thee.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Of obedience to such as be in authoritie. 9 He warneth Titus to beware of foolish and vnprofitable questions, 12 concluding with certaine priuate matters, 15 and salutations.

Rom.13.1.

1 WArne * them to be subiect to rule and power, to obey magistrates, to be ready to euery good worke:

3 *a For we our selues also were some-a For let vs consider what we our selues were when God shewed vs fauour.

time foolish, disobedient, deceiued, seruing diuers lustes and voluptuousnesse, liuing in maliciousnesse and enuie, full of hate, hating one another.

4 But after that the kindnesse and loue of our Sauiour God to mankind appeared,

5 * Not of workes that be in righteousnesse which we haue wrought, but according to his mercie he saued vs, by the b fountaine of the regeneration and renewing of the holy Ghost,

2.Tim.1.9.

b Baptisme is a signe of our regeneration, which is wrought by the holy Ghost.

6 Which he shed on vs richly through Iesus Christ our Sauiour:

7 That we iustified by his grace, should be made heires according to the hope of eternall life.

8 This is a faithfull saying, & these things I will that thou affirme constantly, that they which haue beléeued in God, might be carefull to maintaine good workes: These thinges are good and profitable vnto men.

9 * But foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and striuings about the lawe, auoyde: for they are vnprofitable and vaine.

1.Tim.1.4. 2.tim.2.23.

10 A man that is an heretike, after the first and second admonition, auoyde:

11 Knowing that he that is such, is subuerted, & sinneth, being damned of himselfe.

12 When I shall send Artemas vnto thée, or Tychicus, be diligent to come vnto me vnto Nicopolis: for I haue determined there to winter.

13 Bring Zenas the lawyer, and Apollos on their iourney diligently, that nothing be lacking vnto them.

14 And let ours also learne to maintaine good workes to necessary vses, that they be not vnfruitfull.

15 All that are with me salute thée. Gréete them that loue vs in the fayth. Grace be with you all, Amen.

¶ The Epistle of S. Paul vnto Philemon.

5 Hee reioyceth to heare of the loue and fayth of Philemon, 9 whome hee desireth to forgiue his seruant Onesimus, and lowingly to receiue him againe.

1 PAul a prisoner of Iesus Christ, and brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon my déerely beloued, and our fellow labourer,

2 And to our déerely beloued Apphia, and to Archippus our fellow souldier, and to the Church in thy house:

1.Cor.1.2.2.cor. 1.3.gala.1.3.

3 * Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Iesus Christ.

4 I thanke my God, making mention alwayes of thée in my prayers,

5 Hearing of thy loue and fayth which thou hast toward the Lorde Iesus, and toward all Saints:

6 That the a fellowship of thy faith may be effectuall in the knowledge of euery good worke which is in you towarde Christ Iesus.

a Thy beneuolence towarde the Saintes, which procedeth of a liuely and effectuall fayth.

7 For we haue great ioy and consolation in thy loue, because the b bowels of the Saints are refreshed by thée, brother.

b Meaning, their inwarde partes and affections were through his charitie comforted.

8 Wherefore, though I might be much bolde in Christ, to enioyne thée that which is conuenient,

9 Yet for loues sake, I rather beséech thée, being such a one as Paul the aged, and nowe also a prisoner of Iesus Christ,

10 I

Coloss.4.9.

10 I beseech thée for my sonne * Onesimus, whome I haue begotten in my bonds:
11 Which in time passed was to thée vnprofitable, but nowe profitable to thee and to me,
12 Whom I haue sent againe: thou therefore receiue him, that is, mine owne bowels,
13 Whome I would haue retained with mee, that in thy stead he might haue ministred vnto mee in the bonds of the Gospel:
14 But without thy minde would I doe nothing, that thy benefite should not be as it were of necessitie, but willingly.
15 For haply he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receiue him for euer:
16 Not nowe as a seruant, but aboue a seruant, a brother beloued, specially to me: but howe much more vnto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?
17 If thou count me therefore a fellow, receiue him as my selfe.
18 If he haue hurted thée, or oweth thee ought, that lay to my charge.
19 I Paul haue written it with mine owne hand, I will recompence it: albeit, I doe not say to thee howe thou owest vnto me euen thine owne selfe besides.
20 Yea, brother, let me enioy this ‖pleasure of thee in the Lord: comfort my [c] bowels in the Lord.
21 Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing that thou wilt doe more then I say.
22 Moreouer, prepare me also a lodging: for I trust that through your prayers I shall be giuen vnto you.
23 There salute thee Epaphras my fellow prisoner [d] in Christ Iesus, 24 Marcus, Aristarcus, Demas, Lucas, my fellow labourers.
25 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Hebrewes.

The first Chapter.

1 Hee sheweth the excellencie of Christ, 4 aboue the Angels: 7 and of their office.

The Epistle on Christmas day.

1 GOd which in time past, at sundry times, & in diuers maners spake vnto the fathers in the Prophets, a So that nowe we haue no credite in any newe reuelations after him. Colossi.1.15. Sapi.7.26.
2 Hath in these [a] last dayes spoken vnto vs in the sonne, whome hee hath appointed heire of all things, by whom also he made the worlds.
3 * Who being the brightnesse of the glory, and the very image of his substance, vpholding all things with the worde of his power, hauing by himselfe purged our sinnes, ‖ hath sit on the right hand of the maiestie on high.
‖Or, sate.
4 Being so much more excellent then the Angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name then they.
Psal.2.7.
b Because he was at the time appointed declared to the world.
5 For vnto which of the Angels sayde he at any time, * Thou art my sonne, this [b] day haue I begotten thee?
Psal.97.7.
Psal.104.4.
c He compareth the Angels to the windes, which are here beneath as Gods messengers.
6 And againe, I will be to him a father, and he shalbe to me a sonne? And againe, when hee bringeth in the first begotten sonne into the worlde, he saieth, * And let all the Angels of God worship him.
7 And vnto the Angels he saieth, * Hee maketh his Angels [c] spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire:
8 But vnto the sonne he saieth, Thy state, O God, shall be for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousnesse,
9 Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquitie: therefore God, euen thy God, hath anointed thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.
10 * And, thou Lord, in the beginning hast layd the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thy hands:
Psal.102.26.
11 They shall perish, but thou endurest: and they all shall waxe olde as doeth a garment, 12 And as a vesture shalt thou folde them vp, & they shalbe changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not fayle.
13 But vnto which of the Angels sayd he at any time, * Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footestoole?
Psal.110.1. 1.cor.15.25.
14 Are they not all ministring spirits, sent foorth into ministerie for their sakes which shalbe heires of saluation?

The ij. Chapter.

He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the newe law, which Christ hath giuen vs.

1 WHerefore we ought to giue the more earnest heede to the things which we haue heard: lest at any a We must diligently keepe in memory, ỹ doctrine which we haue learned, lest like vessels ful of chops, we leake & run out on euery part.
time we should let them slip.
2 For if the [b] worde spoken by Angels, was stedfast, and euery transgression and disobedience receiued a iust recompence of reward:
b As ỹ Gospel is, which only offreth saluatiõ.
3 Howe shall we escape if we neglect so great saluation? which at the first began to be preached of the Lorde, and was confirmed vnto vs by them that heard it, with signes and wonders also, and with diuers powers, and giftes of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will.
4 * God bearing witnesse thereto both with Mar.16.20.

5 For vnto the Angels hath hee not put in subiection the world to come, whereof we speake.

6 But one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, * What is man, that thou art mindefull of him? or the sonne of man, that thou visitest him?

Psalme 8.5.

7 Thou madest him for a litle while lower then the Angels, thou hast crowned him with [c] glorie and honour, and * hast set him aboue the workes of thy hands.

c In making him fellowe heire with Christ. 1.Cor.15.17.

8 Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. In that he put all things vnder him, hee left nothing that is not put vnder him. But now we see not yet all things put vnder him.

9 * But him that for a while was made lesse then the Angels, wee see that it was Iesus, who through the suffering of death, was crowned with glorie, and honour, that he by the grace of God, should taste of death for all.

Phil.2.8.

10 For it became him, for whome are all things, and by whome are all things, after hee had brought many sonnes vnto glorie, that hee should make the captaine of their saluation perfect through afflictions.

11 For both hee that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified are all of one: for which cause, hee is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying, * I will declare thy name vnto my brethren, in the middest of the Church will I praise thee.

Psalme 22.23.

13 And againe, I will put my trust in him. And againe, Beholde here am I, and the children which God hath giuen me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himselfe likewyse tooke part with them, * that through death, he might expell him that had lordship ouer death, that is, the deuill:

Osee 13.14. 1.cor.15.54.

15 And that he might deliuer them which through feare of death, were all their life time in danger of bondage.

16 For hee in no place taketh on him the [d] Angels: but the seede of Abraham taketh he on him.

d Not the nature of Angels, but of men.

17 Wherefore in all things it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that he might be mercifull, and a faithfull high Priest in things concerning God, for to purge the peoples sinnes.

18 For in that he himselfe suffered, & was tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Hee requireth them to be obedient vnto the worde of Christ. 3 who is more worthie then Moses.

1 Therefore holy brethren, partakers of the celestiall calling, [a] consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession Christ Iesus, a Take heede to his wordes, & heare him.

2 Being faithfull to him that appointed him, as also * Moses was faithfull in all his house.

Numb.12.7.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glorie then Moses, in as much as hee which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, but hee that builded all things, is God.

5 And Moses verily was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witnesse of those thinges which were to be spoken after:

6 But Christ as a sonne hath rule ouer his owne house: [b] whose house are we, if we holde fast the confidence and the reioycing of that hope vnto the ende.

b For in obeying the Sonne, we are made the house of God.

7 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost saith, * To day if ye will heare his voyce, Psalme 95.8.

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation in the day of temptation in the wildernesse:

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued mee, and sawe my workes fourtie yeeres.

10 Wherefore I was grieued with this generation, & said, They doe alway erre in heart, they verily haue not knowen my wayes.

11 So that I sware in my wrath, [c] If they shall enter into my rest.

c Here note the Hebrewe phrase, meaning that they shall not enter.

12 Take heede brethren, least at any time there be in any of you an euill heart of vnbeliefe, to depart from the liuing God:

13 But exhort ye one another daily, while it is called to day: least any of you be hardened through the deceitfulnesse of sinne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the ende [d] the beginning of the substance.

d Which is, by faith to imbrace and hold fast the true doctrine of Iesus Christ.

15 ‖ So long as it is saide, * To day if ye will heare his voyce, harden not your heartes, as in the prouocation.

‖ Or, while. Psalme 95.8.

16 For some when they had heard, did prouoke: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whome was hee displeased fourtie yeeres? Not with them that had sinned, whose carkeises fell in the desert?

‖ The Lord.

18 And to whome sware hee that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that were not obedient?

19 And we see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

The iiij. Chapter.

2 The worde without faith vnprofitable. 3 The Sabboth or rest of the Christians. 6 Punishment of vnbeleeuers. 12 The nature of the word of God.

1 Let vs feare therefore, least at any time by forsaking the promise of entring into his rest, any of you should seeme to be defrauded.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached, as well as vnto them: but the worde which they heard, did not profite them, not being coupled with faith to them that heard.

3 For we which haue beleeued, doe enter into a Although that God by his reſt after the creation of his workes, ſignified the ſpirituall reſt of the faithfull: yet he ſware to giue reſt in Chanaan, which was but a figure of the heauenly reſt, and dured but for a time. Gene.2.5. Pſalme 95.8.

Pſalme 95.11.

b By Ieſus, is ment Ioſua.

into his reſt, as he ſaid, *Euen as I haue ſworne in my wrath, if a they ſhall enter into my reſt: although the workes were made perfect from the foundation of the world.

4 For hee ſpake in a certaine place of the ſeuenth day on this wiſe: * And God did reſt the ſeuenth day from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, If they ſhall enter into my reſt.

6 Seeing therefore it foloweth that ſome muſt enter thereinto, and they to whome the Goſpel was firſt preached entred not therein for vnbeliefe.

7 Againe, he appointeth a certaine day, by to day, ſaying in Dauid after ſo long a time, (as it is ſaid) * To day if ye will heare his voyce, harden not your hearts.

8 For if b Ieſus had giuen them reſt, then would he not afterwarde haue ſpoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore yet a reſt to the people of God.

10 For he that is entred into his reſt, hath ceaſſed alſo from his owne workes, as God did from his.

11 Let vs ſtudie therefore to enter into that reſt, leaſt any man fall ‖ after the ſame example of diſobedience.

‖ Or, into.

12 For the worde of God is quicke and mightie in operation, and ſharper then any two edged ſworde, and entreth through euen vnto the diuiding aſunder of the c ſoule and the d ſpirit, and of the ioyntes, and the marowe, and is a diſcerner of the thoughtes and of the intents of the heart.

c Where the affections are.

d Which containeth will and reaſon.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifeſt in the ſight of him: but all things are naked and open vnto the eyes of him of whome we ſpeake.

14 Seeing then that we haue a great high Prieſt, which is entred into heauens, Ieſus the Sonne of God, let vs holde faſt this confeſſion.

15 For we haue not an high Prieſt which can not be touched with the feeling of our infirmities: but was in all pointes tempted like as we are, and yet without ſinne.

16 Let vs therefore come boldly vnto the throne of grace, that wee may obtaine mercie, and finde grace to helpe in time of neede.

The v. Chapter.

Hee compareth Ieſus Chriſt with the Leuiticall Prieſtes, ſhewing wherein they eyther agree, or diſſent.

1 FOr euery high Prieſt taken from among men, is ordained for men, in thinges pertayning to God, to offer a giftes, and ſacrifices for ſinne:

a He ſheweth that man can haue none acceſſe to God without an hie Prieſt, becauſe that of himſelfe he is prophane and ſinnefull.

2 Which can ſufficiently haue compaſſion on the ignorant, and on them that erre out of the way, foraſmuch as hee himſelfe alſo is compaſſed with infirmitie.

3 And for the ſame infirmitie he is bound to offer for ſinnes, as well for himſelfe, as for the people.

4 And no man taketh the honour vnto himſelfe, but he that is called of God, *as was Aaron. 1. Chron. 23.13.

5 Euen ſo, Chriſt alſo glorified not himſelfe to be made the high Prieſt: but he that ſayde vnto him, * Thou art my ſonne, to day haue I begotten thee, gaue it him. Pſalme 2.7.

6 As he ſaith alſo in another place, *Thou art a Prieſt for euer, after the order of Melchiſedech. Pſalme 110.4.

7 Which in the dayes of his fleſh, when he had offered vp prayers and ſupplications, with b ſtrong crying and teares vnto him that was able to ſaue him from death, & was heard in that which he c feared:

b He meaneth the moſt earneſt prayer which Chriſt prayed in the garden where he ſweat drops of blood.

c Being in perplexitie, and fearing the horrors of death.

8 Though hee were the Sonne, yet learned he obedience, by thoſe things which he ſuffered:

9 And being perfect, was made the authour of eternall ſaluation vnto all them that obey him:

10 And is called of God an high Prieſt after the order of Melchiſedech.

11 Of whome we haue many things to ſay, and hard to be vttered, ſeeing ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when as concerning the time, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye neede againe that we teach you the firſt principles of the beginning of the worde of God, and are become ſuch as haue neede of milke, and not of ſtrong meate.

13 For euery one that vſeth milke, is vnexpert of the word of righteouſneſſe, for he is a babe.

14 But ſtrong meate belongeth to them that are perfect, euen thoſe which by reaſon of vſe, haue their wittes exerciſed to diſcerne both good and euill.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Hee proceedeth in reprooving them, and exhorteth them not to faint, 12 but to be ſtedfaſt and patient, 18 for as much as God is ſure in his promiſe.

1 THerefore leauing the doctrine of the beginning a of Chriſt, let vs goe forth vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God, a Whereby it may appeare that you are fully perſwaded of life euerlaſting.

2 Of the doctrine of baptiſmes, and of laying on of handes, and of reſurrection of the dead, and of eternall iudgement.

3 And this will we do, if God permit.

4 *For it cannot be that they which were once lightened, and haue taſted of the heauenly gift, and were become partakers of the holy Ghoſt, Matth.12.45. 2.peter 2.20.

5 And haue taſted of the good worde of God, and the powers of the worlde to come:

6 And they fall away, ſhould be renued againe into repentance, crucifying to themſelues the ſonne of God afreſh, and making a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which hath drunken in the raine that commeth oft vpon it, and bringeth forth herbes, meete for them by whom whome also it is tilled, receiueth blessing of God:

8 But that grounde which beareth thornes and bryers, is reproued, and is nigh vnto cursing, whose end is to be burned.

9 Neuertheles, deare frendes, we are perswaded better things of you, and things which accompanie saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For God is not vnrighteous, to forget your worke and labour of loue, which ye haue shewed towarde his name, hauing ministred to the saintes, and doe minister.

11 Yea, and we desire that euery one of you doe shewe the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the ende, 12 That ye faint not, but be followers of b them, which through faith & patience inherite the promises.

13 For when God made the promise to Abraham, because he coulde sweare by no greater, he sware by him selfe, 14 Saying, *Surely, blessing, I will blesse thee, and multiplying, I will multiplie thee.

15 And so after that he had tarped patiently, he obteined the promise.

16 For men verily sweare by the greater, and an othe of confirmation, is to them an ende of all strife.

17 Wherein God willing more * abundantly to shewe vnto the heyres of promise the stablenesse of his counsel, confirmed by an othe:

18 That by d two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lye, we might haue a strong consolation, which haue fled to holde fast the hope layde before vs:

19 Which hope we holde as an anker of the soule both sure and stedfast, an entring in into that thing which is within the vaile:

20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entred, euen Iesus, after the order of Melchisedech made a priest for euer.

The vij. Chapter.

He compareth the Priesthood of Christ vnto Melchisedech, it also Christes Priesthoode with the Lewites.

1 FOr this * Melchisedech king of Salem, priest of the most hie God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him,

2 To whome also Abraham gaue tythe of all things: first being called by interpretation king of righteousnesse: and after that also, king of Salem, which is king of peace,

3 Without a father, without mother, without kinne, hauing neither beginning of dayes, neither ende of life, but likened vnto the sonne of God, continueth a priest for euer.

4 Nowe consider howe great this man was, vnto whome also the Patriarche Abraham * gaue tithe of the spoyles.

5 And verily they which are of the children of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthood, haue a commandement to take tythe of the people, according to the lawe, that is, of their brethren, though they came out of the lopnes of Abraham.

6 But he whose kinred is not counted among them, receiued tythe of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all controuersie, the lesse is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die, receiue tythes: but there he receiueth the of whom it is witnessed that he liueth.

9 And (to say the trueth) Leui also, which receiueth tythes, payed tythes in Abraham:

10 For he was yet in the lopnes of his father, when Melchisedech met Abraham.

11 If therefore perfection was by the priesthoode of the Leuites, (for vnder that priesthoode the people receiued the lawe) what needeth it further more that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedech, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For if the priesthoode be translated, of necessitie also there is made a translation of the lawe.

13 For hee of whome these thinges are spoken, pertayneth vnto another tribe, of which no man gaue attendance at the altar.

14 For it is euident that our Lord sprung out of Iuda, of which tribe spake Moses nothing concerning priesthoode:

15 And it is yet a farre more euident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech there arise another priest, 16 Which is not made after the lawe of the carnall commandement, but after the power of the endelesse life.

17 For he thus testifieth, * Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

18 For there is truely a disannulling of the commandement going before, for the weakenesse and vnprofitablenesse thereof.

19 For the lawe made nothing perfect, but was the bringing of a better hope, by the which we draawe nigh vnto God.

20 And in asmuch as that was not without an othe, (For those Priestes were made without an othe:

21 But this priest with an othe, by him that sayde vnto him, * The Lorde sware, and will not repent him, thou art a priest for euer, after e order of Melchisedech,) 22 By so much was Iesus made a suretie of a better testament.

23 And among them many were made priestes, because they were forbidden by death to endure:

24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath b an vnchangeable priesthood.

25 Wherefore

Gene. 1. 18.

Num. 18. 21.

Psalme 110. 4. heb. 5. 6.

Psalme 110. 4.

a So called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his parents or kinsefolkes, but as he had bene suddenly sent of God into the worlde, to be a figure of Christ, or euerlasting priest, and shortly taken out of the worlde againe. So Christ, as touching his humanitie, had no father, and concerning his diuinitie, no mother.

b As the holy fathers, prophets, & martyrs that were before vs.

Gene. 22. 2.

c Because of mans wickednesse, which will not beleue God, except he sweare.

d Gods worde & othe, are two things in him vnchangeable.

b Therefore all others are blasphemous, that either make themselues his successours, or pretend any other sacrifice.

25 Wherefore he is able also euer to saue them to the vttermost, that come vnto God by him, seeing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high Priest became vs, which is holy, harmelesse, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher the heauens.

27 Which needeth not daily, as those high priestes, to offer vp sacrifice * first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for that did he once, when he offered vp him selfe.

Leuit.16.11.

28 For the law maketh men high priests which haue infirmitie, but the worde of the othe which was after the lawe maketh the sonne, which is perfect for euermore.

The viij. Chapter.

6 He proueth the abolishing aswell of the Leuiticall priesthoode, as of the olde couenant, by the spirituall and euerlasting priesthoode of Christ, & by the newe couenant.

1 BVt of the things which wee haue spoken, this is the summe: We haue such an high priest, that sitteth on the right hande of the throne of the maiestie in the heauens,

2 A minister of holy things, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pyght, and not man.

3 For euery high priest is ordeined to offer giftes and sacrifices: Wherefore it is of necessitie, that this man haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a priest, if he were on the earth, seeing that there are priestes, that according to the lawe offer giftes,

5 Who serue vnto the example and shadowe of heauenly things, as Moses was admonished of God, when he was about to finish the tabernacle: * For see, saith he, that thou make all thinges according to the paterne shewed to thee in the mount.

Exod.25.40. after 7.44.

6 But nowe hath he obteyned a more excellent office, by howe much also he is the Mediatour of a better ‖ couenant, which was cõfirmed in better promises.

‖Or, testament.

7 For if that first couenant had bene faultlesse, then should no place haue bene sought for the seconde.

8 For in rebuking them, he saith, * Behold, the dayes a come, saith the Lorde, and I will finish vpon the house of Israel, and vpon the house b of Iuda, a newe couenant:

Ierem.31.31.

a That is, when Christ shall remit our sinnes by the preaching of the Gospell.

b Signifying that there shoulde be no more diuision, but all shall be made one Church.

9 Not like that, that I made with their fathers, in the day when I tooke them by the hande, to leade them out of the lande of Egypt: because they continued not in my couenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those dayes, saieth the Lorde: giuing my lawes into their minde, and in their heart I will write them, and I wil be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people.

11 And they shall not c teache euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Knowe the Lorde: for all shall knowe me, from the litle of them, to the great of them.

c Men shal not in the time of the Gospell be so ignorant as they were before: but shall knowe God much more perfectly through Christ.

12 For I will be mercifull to their vnrighteousnes, and their sinnes and their iniquities will I thinke vpon no more.

13 In that he saith a newe couenant, he hath worne out the first: for that which is worne out, and waxed olde, is ready to banish away.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Howe that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the lawe are abolished, 11 by the eternitie and perfection of Christes sacrifice.

1 THe first couenant then had verily ordinances of ‖ seruings of God, and worldly holinesse.

‖Or, ceremonies of seruice.

2 * For there was a tabernacle made, the first truely wherein was the candlesticke, and the table, and the shew bread, which is called holy.

Exod.26.1.

3 But after the a seconde vayle, was a tabernacle, which is called holyest of all:

a That is, on the inwarde side of the vayle which was hid from the people.

4 Which had the golden censer, and the Arke of the couenant ouerlayde rounde about with golde, wherein was the golden potte hauing Manna, and * Aarons rodde that had budded, and * the tables of the couenant:

Num.17.10. 1.King.8.9. Exod.25.22.

5 * And ouer it the Cherubims of glory, shadowing the mercy seate: Of which things we can not nowe speake particularly.

6 When these things were thus ordeined, the priestes went alwayes into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the seruice of God.

7 But into the seconde went the high Priest alone, once euery yeere, not without blood, which he offered for him selfe, and for the ignorances of the people.

b So long as the high priest offered once a yeere for his owne sinnes and for the peoples, and also while this earthly tabernacle stoode, the way to the heauenly tabernacle, which is made open by Christes blood, could not be entred into.

8 The holy Ghost this signifying, that the b way of holy things, was not yet made manifest, while as yet the first tabernacle was standing:

†The Epistle on the v. Sunday in Lent.

9 Which was a similitude for the time then present, in which were offred gifts, and sacrifices, that coulde not make the worshipper perfect as pertaining to the conscience, c The Leuiticall priestes offered beastes blood: But Christ the true and eternall Priest, offered his own blood, which was most holy and pure. The Leuiticall priest offered yeerely, and therefore did onely represent the true holinesse: but Christ by one onely sacrifice

10 With onely meates and drinkes, and diuers washings, and iustifyings of the flesh, which were layd vp vntill the time of reformation.

11 †But Christ being come an high Priest of good things that should be, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building, 12 Neither by the blood of Goates, and Calues: but by his owne blood he entred in once into the holy place, & found eternall redemption.

13 For if the c blood of Oxen and of goats, & the ashes of a yong cow, sprinchath made holy for euer them that beleeue.

killing the vncleane, ſanctifieth to the puryfying of the fleſh:

14 Howe much more the blood of Chriſt, which thrꝛough the eternall ſpirite offred himſelfe without ſpot to God, ſhal purge your conſcience from dead workes, to ſerue the liuing God?

15 And for this cauſe is he the mediatour of the new couenant, that thrꝛough death, which was for ꝑ redemption of ꝑ tranſgreſſions that were vnder the firſt ‖ couenant, they which are called, might receiue the promiſe of eternall inheritance.

‖ Or, teſtament.

16 For whereas is a teſtament, there muſt alſo of neceſſitie be the death of him that made the teſtament.

The Epiſtle on the Wednesday before Easter.

17 For a teſtament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no value, as long as he ꝑ made the teſtament is aliue.

18 For which cauſe alſo, neither the firſt teſtament was dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moſes had ſpoken euery precept to all the people accoꝛding to the lawe, taking the blood of Calues and of Goates, with water, and purple woll, and hyſope, he ſprinckled both the booke it ſelfe, and all the people,

Exod. 24. 8.

20 Saying, * This is the blood of the teſtament, which God hath enioyned vnto you.

21 And likewiſe hee ſprinckled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the veſſels of the miniſterie.

22 And almoſt all things are by the lawe purged with blood, and without ſhedding of blood is no remiſſion.

23 It is neede then that the paternes of heauenly thinges be purified with ſuch things: but the heauenly things them ſelues be purified with better ſacrifices then are thoſe.

24 For Chriſt is not entred into the holy places made with handes, which are paternes of true things: but into heauen it ſelfe, nowe to appeare in the ſight of God for vs.

25 Not that he ſhoulde offer himſelfe [d] often, as the high Prieſt entreth into the holy places, euery yeere in ſtrange blood.

d Therefore to make any other offering or ſacrifice for ſinne, after that Chriſtes body was once offered, is blaſphemie.

26 (For then muſt hee haue often ſuffered ſince the foundation of the woꝛlde:) but nowe once in the ende of the woꝛlde hath he appeared, to put away ſinne, by the ſacrifice of himſelfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men once to die, and after this the iudgement:

Rom. 5. 8. 1. pet. 3. 18.

28 *Euen ſo Chriſt once offered to take away the ſinnes of many, the ſecond time ſhall be ſeene without ſinne, of them which waite for him vnto ſaluation.

The x. Chapter.

1 The olde lawe had no power to cleanſe away ſinne. 10 but Chriſt did it with offering of his body once for all.

The Epiſtle on good Friday.

1 FOr the lawe hauing the [a] ſhadowe of good things to come, and not the very fashion of the things themſelues, can neuer with thoſe ſacrifices which they offer yeere by yeere continually, make the commers thereunto perfect.

a Which was as it were the firſt draught & purtract of the liuely paterne to come.

2 For woulde not then thoſe ſacrifices haue ceaſſed to haue bene offred, becauſe that the offerers once purged, ſhoulde haue had no more conſcience of ſinnes?

3 Neuertheleſſe, in thoſe ſacrifices is mention made of ſinnes euery yeere.

4 For it is not poſſible that the blood of bulles and of goates, ſhoulde take away ſinnes.

5 Wherefore when hee commeth into the woꝛlde, he ſaith, *Sacrifice and offering thou wouldeſt not haue: but a body haſt thou ordeyned me.

Pſal. 40. 7.

6 In burnt ſacrifices and offerings for ſinne thou haſt had no pleaſure.

7 Then ſaide I, Loe, I come, (In the beginning of the booke it is written of me) to doe thy will, O God.

8 Aboue when he ſaieth, that ſacrifice, and offering, and burnt offerings, and offerings for ſinne thou wouldeſt not, neither haddeſt pleaſure therein (which are offred by the lawe:)

9 Then ſaide he, Loe, I come to doe thy will, O God: Hee taketh away the firſt, [b] to ſtabliſh the [c] ſecond.

b That is, ſacrifices.

c Which is the will of God, to ſtand content with Chriſtes ſacrifice.

10 In the which will wee are made holy, euen by the offering of the body of Jeſus Chriſt once for all.

11 And euery Prieſt ſtandeth daily, miniſtring, and offering oftentimes the ſame ſacrifices, which can neuer take away ſinnes:

12 But this man, after he hath offered one ſacrifice for ſinnes, *is ſet downe for euer on the right hand of God, Hebre. 1. 13.

1. Cor. 15. 25.

14 For with one offering hath hee made perfect for euer them that are ſanctified.

15 And the holy Ghoſt alſo beareth vs recorde: For after that hee had tolde before,

16 * This is the ‖ couenant that I will make vnto them after thoſe dayes (ſaith the Lorde) giuing my lawes in their heart, and in their mindes will I write them:

Iere. 31. 33.

‖ Or, teſtament.

17 And their ſinnes and iniquities will I in no wiſe remember any more.

18 And where remiſſion of theſe things is, there is no more offering for ſinne.

19 Hauing therefore, brethren, libertie to enter into holy places in the [d] blood of Jeſus, d We by Chriſt haue that libertie which the ancient fathers could not haue by the lawe.

20 By the newe and [e] liuing way, which hee hath prepared for vs thrꝛough the vaile, that is to ſay, his fleſh:

e The blood of Chriſt is alwayes freſh and liuely before the father, to ſprinckle and quicken vs.

21 And ſeeing we haue an high Prieſt ouer the houſe of God:

22 Let vs draw nigh with a true heart, in aſſurance of faith, ſprinckled in our hearts from an euill conſcience, and waſhed in body with pure water.

23 Let vs holde the profeſſion of the hope without wauering, (for hee is faithfull that promiſed:)

24 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, and good workes, 25 Not forsaking the assembling of our selues together, as the maner of some is, but exhorting one another, and so much the more, as ye see the day approching.
Hebre.6.4. 26 *For if we sinne willingly, after that we haue receiued the knowledge of the trueth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sinnes:

33 Partly while ye were made a gasing stocke, both by reproches & afflictions, and partly while ye became companions of them which were so tossed to and fro.
34 For ye suffered also with my bondes, and tooke in worth the spoyling of your goods with gladnesse: knowing in your selues howe that you haue in heauen a better and an enduring substance.
35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.
36 For ye haue nede of patience, that after ye haue done ℔ will of God, ye might receiue the promise.

What faith is, and a commendation of the same.

‖Or, our forefathers. 2 For by it ‖ the elders [a] obteyned a good report.

Gene.1.1. 4 By faith, Abel offred vnto God a more Gene.4.24. excellent sacrifice then Cain, * by which Matth.23.35. he was witnessed to be righteous, God testifying of his gifts: by which also he being dead, yet speaketh.
b Because God receiued him to mercie, therefore he imputed him righteous. 5 By faith was * Enoch translated, that he should not see death, neither was hee founde, for God had taken him away: For afore he was taken away, hee was reported of to haue pleased God.

15 Also if they had bene mindefull of that countrey, from whence they came out, they had leasure to haue returned:

||Or, that so lightly vpon euery circumstance or occasion taketh hold of vs.

||Or, beginner.

3 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against him of sinners, lest you should be wearied, fainting in your mindes.

4 Ye haue not yet resisted vnto the sheding of blood, striuing against sinne.

5 And yee haue forgotten the exhortation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, * My sonne, despise not thou the chastening of the Lorde, neyther faynt when thou art rebuked of him.

Prou.3.11.

6 For whome the Lorde loueth, he chasteneth, and scourgeth euery sonne that he receiueth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God tendreth you as his sonnes: for what sonne is he whome the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastardes, and not sonnes.

9 Furthermore, we haue had fathers of our flesh, which corrected vs, & we gaue them reuerence: shall we not then much rather be in subiection vnto the father of spirites, and liue?

10 For they verily for a fewe dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he, for our profite, that we might be partakers of his holinesse.

11 Now chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grieuous: neuertheles, afterwarde it bringeth the quiet fruite of righteousnes, vnto them which are exercised therebye.

b Their halting partly declared their slowneſſe, and partly their inconſtancie in doctrine: therefore they were in bondage to be punished.

12 Straighten vp therefore the handes which were let downe, and the weake knees:

15 Taking heede that no man fall away from the grace of God, least any roote of bitternesse springing vp, trouble you, and thereby many be defiled.
16 Let there be no fornicator or vncleane person, as * Esau, which for one morsell of meate solde his birthright.
17 * For ye knowe howe that afterward, when he would haue inherited the blessing, he was reiected: For he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with teares.
18 For ye are not come vnto the * mount that is c touched, and vnto burning fire, and vnto stourme and darkenesse, & tempestes of weather,
19 And sound of a trumpe, and the voyce of wordes: which voyce, they that heard it, wished away, that the worde should not be spoken to them:
20 (For they did not abide that which was commanded. * And if so much as a beast touch the mountaine, it shall be stoned, or thrust thorowe with a dart.
21 And so terrible was the sight which appeared, that Moses sayde, I feare exceedingly, and quake:)
22 But ye are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the citie of the liuing God, the celestiall Hierusalem, and to an innumerable compaine of d angels,
23 And vnto the congregation of the first borne, which are written in heauen, and to God the iudge of al, and to the spirits of iust and perfect men:
24 And to Iesus the mediatour of the newe ‖couenant, and to the blood of sprinckeling, that speaketh better then did the blood of Abel.
25 See that ye despise not him that speaketh: For if they escaped not, which refused him that spake on earth, much more shall we not escape if we turne away from him that speaketh from heauen:
26 Whose voyce then shooke the earth, & now hath declared, saying, * Yet once more I shake, not the earth onely, but also heauen.
27 And this worde yet once more, signifieth remouing of those things which are ‖shaken, as of things which are made, that the things which are not ‖ shaken, may remaine.
28 Wherefore, we receiuing a kingdome which can not be moued, let vs haue grace, whereby we may so serue God acceptable, with reuerence and godly feare.
29 For * our God is a e consuming fire.

1 Let brotherly loue continue.
2 * Be not forgetfull to lodge strãgers: for thereby some haue lodged angels vnawares.
3 Remember them that are in bondes, as bound with them: And them which suffer aduersitie, as being your selues also in the body subiect to aduersitie.
4 Wedlocke is honourable among all men, & the bed vndefiled: But whoremongers & adulterers, God will iudge.
5 Let your conuersation be without couetousnesse, being content with such things as ye haue. For he hath sayde, * I will in no case faile thee, neither forsake thee.
6 So that we may boldely say, * The Lorde is my helper, and I will not feare what man may doe vnto me.
7 Remember them which haue the ouersight of you, which haue spoke vnto you the worde of God: whose end of conuersation ye considering, follow their faith.
8 Iesus Christ a yesterday, and to day, and the same for euer.
9 Be not carped about with diuers and strange doctrines: For it is a good thing that the heart be stablished with grace, and not with meats, which haue not profited them that haue bene occupied therein.
10 We haue an altar, whereof they haue no right to b eate, which serue in the tabernacle.
11 For the bodyes of those beastes, whose blood is brought into the holy place, by the high Priest for sinne, are c burnt without the tents.
12 Therefore Iesus also, that he might sanctifie the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.
13 Let vs goe forth therefore vnto him out of the tentes, bearing his reproche.
14 For here haue we no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.
15 By him therefore let vs offer sacrifice of laude alwayes to God, that is, the fruite of lippes confessing his name.
16 To doe good, and to distribute, forget not, for with such sacrifice God is well pleased.
17 Obey them that haue the ouersight of you, and submit your selues: for they watche for your soules, as they that must giue accountes, that they may doe it with ioy, and not with griefe: for that is vnprofitable for you.
18 Pray for vs; for we trust we haue a good conscience, in all things willing to liue honestly.
19 But I desire you the more earnestly that ye so doe, that I may be restored to you the sooner.
20 The God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Iesus, the great shepheard of the sheepe, through ꝑ blood of the euerlasting couenant, 21 Make you perfect in all good workes to doe his will, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight, through Iesus Christ, to whom be glory for euer and euer, Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Iames.

The first Chapter.

a He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, 6 to be feruent in prayer, with stedfast beliefe, 17 and to looke for all good things from aboue.

The Epistle on Saint Philip and Iames day.

1 IAmes a seruant of God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ, to the twelue tribes which are scattered abroade, greeting.
2 My brethren, count it all ioy when ye fall into diuers temptations:
Rom.5.3. 3 *Knowing this that the trying of your faith worketh patience,
4 And let patience haue her perfect worke, that ye may be perfect, and sounde, lacking nothing.
5 If any of you lacke wisedome, let him aske of God, that giueth to all men mdifferently, and casteth no man in the teeth: and it shalbe giuen him.
Matth.7.7. marke 11.24. luke 11.9. 6 *But let him aske in faith, nothing wauering: For he that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tost of the winde, and caried with violence:
7 Neither let that man thinke that hee shall receiue any thing of the Lord.
8 A double minded man is vnstable in all his wayes.
9 Let the brother of lowe degree, reioyce in that he is [a] exalted:
10 Againe, the riche, in that hee is made lowe: *because as the flowre of the grasse he shall passe away.
11 For as the Sunne hath risen with heate, and the grasse hath withered, and his floure hath fallen away, and the beautie of the fashion of it hath perished: so also shall the riche man fade away in his wayes.
Iob 5.17. 12 *Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tryed, he shall receiue the crowne of life, which the Lorde hath promised to them that loue him.
[b] He meaneth nowe of inward temptations, as of our disordered appetites, which cause vs to sinne. 13 Let no man say when he is [b] tempted, I am tempted of God: For God can not be tempted with euill, neither tempteth he any man.
14 But euery man is tempted, when he is drawen away, and entised with the baite of his owne concupiscence.
15 Then when lust hath conceiued, it bringeth foorth sinne: and sinne, when it is finished, bringeth foorth death.
16 Do not erre, my deare brethren,
17 Euery good [c] giuing, and euery perfect gift is from aboue, and commeth downe from the father of lightes, with whom is no variablenesse, neither shadowe of turning.
18 Of his owne will begate hee vs, with the worde of trueth, that we should be the first fruites of his creatures.
19 Wherefore, my deare brethren, *let euery man be swift to heare, slow to speake, slowe to wrath.
20 For the wrath of man, worketh not that which is righteous before God.
21 Wherefore lay apart all filthinesse, and superfluitie of ‖ naughtinesse, and receiue with meekenesse the worde that is graffed in you, which is able to saue your soules.
22 And *be ye doers of the word, and not hearers onely, deceiuing your owne selues.
23 For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, hee is like vnto a man beholding his bodily face in a [d] glasse.
24 For he hath considered himselfe, and is gone his wayes, and hath forgotten immediatly what his fashion was.
25 But whoso looketh in the perfect lawe of libertie, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, shalbe blessed in his deede.
26 If any man among you seeme to bee ‖ deuoute, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiueth his owne heart, this mans ‖ deuotion is vaine.
27 Pure deuotion and vndefiled before God and the father, is this, To visite the fatherlesse and widowes in their aduersitie, and to keepe himselfe vnspotted of the world.

1 He forbiddeth to haue any respect of persons, 5 but to regarde the poore as well as the rich.

1 MY brethren, *haue not the faith of our Lord Iesus Christ the Lord of glory, [a] with respect of persons.
2 For if there come into your ‖ companie a man wearing a gold ring, in goodly apparell, & there come in also a poore man, in vile raiment:
3 And ye haue respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place: and say to the poore, Stand thou there, or sit here vnder my footestoole:
4 Are ye not partiall in your selues, and are made iudges of euill thoughts?

Leuit.19.15. prou.24.24.

[a] As esteeming faith and religion by the outward appearance of men.

‖ Or, congregation.

5 Hearken, my deare beloued brethren, Hath not God chosen the poore of this worlde, that they might be rich in faith, and heires of the kingdome, which hee promised to them that loue him?
6 But yee haue despised the poore. Doe not rich men oppresse you by tyrannie, and drawe you before the iudgement seates?
7 Doe not they blaspheme that good [b] name, by the which ye are named?
8 If ye fulfill the royall lawe according to the Scripture, *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe, ye do well:
9 But if ye regard one person more then another, ye commit sinne, and are rebuked of the lawe as transgressours.
10 *Whosoeuer shal keepe the whole lawe, and yet faile in one point, he is guiltie of all.
11 For he that said, Do not commit adulterie: said also, Do not kill. Though thou do none adulterie, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressour of the lawe.
12 So speake ye, and so do, as they that shalbe iudged by the law [c] of libertie.
13 For hee shall haue iudgement without mercie, that hath shewed no mercie: and mercie reioyceth against iudgement.
14 What profiteth it, my brethren, though a man say, hee hath faith, and hath not deedes? can faith saue him?
15 *If a brother or a sister be naked, and destitute of daily foode, 16 And one of you say vnto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed and filled: notwithstanding, yee giue them not those things which are needefull to the body: what shall it profite?
17 Euen so faith, if it haue not deedes, is dead in it selfe.
18 But some man will say, Thou hast faith, and I haue deedes: shewe me thy faith by thy [d] deedes, and I will shewe thee my faith by my deedes.
19 Thou beleeuest that there is one God, thou doest well: the deuils also beleeue, and tremble.
20 But wilt thou knowe, O thou vaine man, that that faith which is without workes, is dead?
21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when hee had offered *Isahac his sonne vpon the altar?
22 Seest thou not how that faith wrought with his deedes, and through the deedes was the faith made perfect?
23 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, *Abraham beleeued God, and it was reputed vnto him for righteousnesse: & he was called the friend of God.
24 Ye see then, how that of deedes a man is iustified, and not of faith only.
25 Likewise also, was not *Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when shee had receiued the messengers, & had sent them out an other way?
26 For as the body without the spirit is dead: euen so faith without workes is dead also.

The iij. Chapter.

2 He forbiddeth all ambition to seeke honour aboue our brethren. 3 He describeth the propertie of the tongue.

1 My brethren, be not many masters, knowing howe that we shall receiue the greater damnation.
2 For in many things wee sinne all. *If a man sinne not in [a] worde, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle all the body:
3 Beholde, we put bittes in the horses mouthes, that they may obey vs, and we turne about their whole body:
4 Beholde also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driuen of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a very small helme, whithersoeuer the lust of the gouernour will:
5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member also, and boasteth great things: beholde howe great a matter a litle fire kindleth.
6 And the tongue is fire, euen a worlde of wickednesse: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and [b] setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.
7 All the nature of beastes, and of birdes, and of serpents, and things of the sea, is meeked and tamed of the nature of man:
8 But the tongue can no man tame, it is an vnruly euill, full of deadly poyson:
9 Therewith blesse we our God and father: and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.
10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: My brethren, these things ought not so to be.
11 Doeth a fountaine send forth at one hole sweete water, and bitter also?
12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, beare Olive beries? either a vine beare figges? so can no fountaine giue both salt water, and fresh also.
13 Who is a wise man, and endued with knowledge among you? let him shewe his workes out of a good conuersation with meekenesse of wisedome.
14 But if ye haue bitter enuying & strife in your heart, glory not, neither be lyars against the truth.
15 For such wisdome descendeth not from aboue: but is earthly, sensuall, and deuilish.
16 For where enuying and strife is, there is sedition, and all maner of euil workes.
17 But the wisedome that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easie to be entreated, full of mercie and good fruites, without iudging, without simulation.
18 Yea, and the fruite of righteousnesse is sowen in peace, of them that make peace.

a For the lawe of the members continually fighteth against the lawe of the minde.

The iiij. Chapter.

4 He exhorteth them to loue God. 7 and submit themselues to him.

1 From whence commeth warres and fightings among you? Come they not hereof, euen of your lustes that [a] fight in your members?

a He that is able to moderate his tongue, hath atteyned to an excellent vertue.

b The intemperancie of the tongue is a flame of hell fire.

2 Ye lust, & haue not: ye enuie, and haue indignation, and can not obtaine: Ye fight and warre, ye haue not, because ye aske not.

3 Ye aske, and receiue not, because ye aske amisse, euen to consume it vpon your lustes.

b He calleth adulterers here after the maner of the Scriptures, them which preferre the pleasures of the world, to the loue of God.

4 Ye adulterers, and [b] adulteresses, know you not howe that the friendshyp of the world is enmitie with God? whosoeuer therfore will be a friend of the world, is made the enemie of God.

c The imagination of mans heart is wicked.

5 Either doe ye thinke that the Scripture saith in vaine, The [c] spirit that dwelleth in vs lusteth to enuie?

1.Pet.5.9.pro.3.34.

6 But the Scripture offereth more grace, and therefore saith, * God resisteth the proude, but giueth grace vnto the lowly.

7 Submit your selues therefore to God: but resist the deuill, and hee will flee from you.

8 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you: cleanse your hands ye sinners, and purifie your hearts ye double minded.

9 Suffer afflictions, and mourne, and weepe: Let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your ioy to heauinesse.

1.Pet.5.6.

10 * Humble your selues in the sight of the Lorde, and he shall lift you vp.

11 Backbite not one another, brethren: He that backbiteth his brother, and he that iudgeth his brother, backbiteth the law, and iudgeth the lawe: but and if thou iudge the lawe, thou art not an obseruer of the lawe, but a iudge.

Rom.14.4.

12 There is one lawe giuer, which is able to saue, and to destroy: * What art thou that iudgest another?

d We ought to submit our selues to the prouidence of God.

13 Goe to nowe ye that say, [d] To day and to morowe let vs go into such a citie, and continue there a yeere, and bye, and sell, and winne:

14 (And yet can ye not tell what shal happen on the morowe: For what thing is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a litle time, and then he vanisheth away)

1.Cor.4.19.

15 For that ye ought to say, * If the Lorde will, and if we liue, let vs do this, or that.

16 But now ye reioyce in your boastings: All such reioycing is euill.

17 Therefore to him that knoweth howe to doe good, and doeth it not, to him it is sinne.

The v. Chapter.

1 He threatneth the wicked riche men, 7 exhorteth vnto patience, 12 and to beware of swearing.

1 GO to nowe ye riche men, weepe, and howle for your miseries that shall come vpon you.

2 Your riches be corrupt, your garments are moth eaten:

a And kindle the wrath of God against you.

3 Your golde and siluer is cankred, and the rust of them shall be a * witnesse against you, and shall eate your flesh as it were fire. Ye haue heaped treasure together in the [b] last dayes.

5 Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and bene wanton: Ye haue nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned and killed the iust, and he doeth not resist you.

7 Be patient therefore brethren, vnto the comming of the Lorde, beholde, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, & hath long patience therevpon, vntill he receiue the early and latter raine.

8 Be ye also patient, and settle your hearts: for the comming of the Lorde draweth nigh.

9 Grudge not one against another, brethren, least ye be damned: beholde, the iudge standeth before the doore.

10 Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an example of suffring aduersitie, & of patience, which spake in the name of the Lord.

15 And the prayer of faith shall saue the sicke, and the Lorde shall raise him vp: and if hee haue committed sinnes, they forgiuen him.

Matt.18.15.

19 Brethren, * if any of you doe erre from the trueth, and another conuert him, 20 Let the same know, that he which conuerteth the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shall hide the multitude of sinnes.

The end of the Epistle of Saint Iames.

¶ The

The first Epistle of Saint Peter the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

1 Hee sheweth that through the abundant mercie of God, we are elect and regenerate to a liuely hope, 7 and howe fayth must be tryed.

1 Peter an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to them that dwell here and there as strangers throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia:

a Which were Iewes, to whom he was appointed to be an Apostle.

2 Elect according to the b foreknowledge of God the father, vnto the sanctifying of the spirite, through obedience & sprinckling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace and peace be multiplied vnto you.

b The free election of God, is the efficient cause of our saluation: the materiall cause is Christes obedience: our effectuall calling is the formall cause: and the finall cause, is our sanctification.

3 Blessed be God the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercie begate vs againe vnto a liuely hope, by the rising of Iesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and vndefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserued in heauen for you,

5 Which are kept by the power of God through fayth vnto saluation, ready to be shewed in the last time.

6 In the which ye reioyce, though nowe for a season (if neede require) ye are in heauinesse through manifolde temptations:

7 That the tryall of your fayth, being much more precious then golde that perisheth, though it be tryed with fire, might be found to be vnto you vnto laud, honour, and glory, at the appearing of Iesus Christ,

8 Whom ye haue not seene, and yet loue him, in whome euen nowe though ye see him not, yet doe ye beleeue him, & reioyce with ioy vnspeakable and glorious:

9 Receiuing the ende of your fayth, euen the saluation of your soules.

10 Of which saluation haue the Prophets enquired and searched diligently, which prophecied of the grace that should come vnto you:

11 Searching when or what time the spirite of Christ which was in them should signifie, which spirite testified before the passions that shoulde happen vnto Christ, and the glory that should follow after.

12 Vnto which Prophets it was also reuealed, that not vnto themselues, but vnto vs, they should minister the things which are nowe shewed vnto you of them, which by the holy Ghost sent downe from heauen, haue in the Gospel preached vnto you, the things which the Angels desire to behold.

13 Wherefore girde vp the loynes of your minde, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you by the reuelation of Iesus Christ:

14 As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the former lustes of your ignorance:

15 But as hee which called you is holy, *euen so be ye holy also in all maner of conuersation. Luke 1.71.

16 Because it is written, * Be ye holy, for I am holy. Leuit. 11.44.

17 And if so be that ye call on the Father, * which without respect of person iudgeth according to euery mans worke, see that ye passe the time of your dwelling here, in feare. Deut. 10.17. rom. 2.11. galat. 2.6.

18 For as much as ye knowe, howe that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as siluer and golde, from your vaine conuersation, which ye receiued by the tradition of the fathers:

19 * But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lambe vndefiled, and without spot: Hebr. 9.14. 1. iohn 1.7. apoca. 1.5.

20 Which was ordeined beforehande, euen before the world was made, but was declared in the c last time for your sakes:

c When Christ appeared vnto the world, and when the Gospel was preached.

21 Which by his meanes doe beleeue on God that rayled him vp from the dead, and gaue him glory, that ye might haue fayth and hope toward God:

22 Euen ye which haue purified your soules, through the spirite in obeying the trueth, * with brotherly loue vnfayned, see that ye loue one another with a pure heart feruently: Rom. 12.10.

23 For ye are borne a newe, not of corruptible seede: but of incorruptible, by the worde of God, which liueth and lasteth for euer.

24 * For all flesh is as grasse, and all the glory of man is as the floure of grasse: the grasse withereth, and the floure falleth away: Esay 40.6. eccle. 14.18. iam. 1.10.

25 But the worde of the Lorde endureth euer: and this is the worde which by the Gospel was preached vnto you.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Hee exhorteth them to lay aside all vice, 4 shewing that Christ is the foundation whereupon they builde.

1 Wherefore * all ‖ naughtines, & all guile, and fainednesse, and enuie, and backbiting layde aside, Rom. 6.4. ephes. 4.22. colos. 3.8. hebr. 12.2. ‖ Or, malitiousnesse.

2 As newe borne babes, desire ye the milke of the worde, which is without deceite: that ye may growe thereby vnto saluation,

3 If so be that ye haue tasted howe gracious the Lord is:

4 To whome ye come as vnto a liuing stone, disalowed of men, but chosen of God, and precious.

5 And ye as liuely stones, be you made a spirituall house, an holy Priesthoode, for for to offer vp ſpirituall ſacrifice, acceptable to God by Ieſus Chriſt.

6 Wherefore it is conteyned alſo in the Scripture, * Beholde, I put in Sion a ſtone to be layde in the chiefe corner, elect and precious, and hee that beléeueth on him, ſhall in no wiſe be confounded.

7 Vnto you therefore which beléeue, hee is precious: but vnto them which beléeue not, * the ſtone which the builders diſalowed, the ſame is made the head of the corner:

8 And a ſtone of ſtumbling, and a rocke of offence, which ſtumble at the word, and being diſobedient, vnto the which thing they were ordeined.

9 But ye are a choſen generation, * a royall Prieſthoode, an holy nation, a peculiar people: that ye ſhould ſhewe forth the vertues of him that called you out of darkeneſſe into his marueilous light.

10 * Which in time paſt were not a people, but are nowe the people of God: which ſometime had not obteined mercie, but nowe haue obteined mercie.

11 Dearely beloued, I beſeeche you as ſtrangers and pilgrimes, abſteine from * fleſhly luſtes, which fight againſt the ſoule, 12 And ſee that ye haue honeſt converſation among the Gentiles: that whereas they backebite you as euill doers, * they may by your good workes which they ſhall ſee, glorifie God in the day of viſitation.

13 * Submit your ſelues therefore vnto all maner ordinance of man for the Lordes ſake: whether it be vnto the King, as hauing the preeminence, 14 Either vnto rulers, as vnto them that are ſent by him for the puniſhment of euill doers, but for the laude of them that do well.

15 For ſo is the will of God, that with well doing ye may ſtoppe the ignorance of fooliſh men:

16 As free, and not as hauing the libertie for a cloke of naughtineſſe, but euen as the ſeruants of God.

17 Honour all men. * Loue brotherly fellowſhip. Feare God. Honour the King.

18 * Seruants obey your maſters with all feare, not onely if they be good & courteous, but alſo though they be froward.

19 * For it is thanke worthie, if a man for conſcience towarde God endure griefe, and ſuffer wrong vndeſerued.

20 For what prayſe is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faultes, ye ſhall take it patiently? But if when ye doe well, ye ſuffer wrong, and ſhall take it patiently, then is there thanke with God.

21 For hereunto verily were ye called: for Chriſt alſo ſuffered ‖ for vs, leauing vs an enſample that ye ſhould followe his ſteppes.

22 * Which did no ſinne, neither was there guile found in his mouth.

23 Which when hee was reuiled, reuiled not againe: when he ſuffred, he threatned not, but committed the vengeance to him that iudgeth righteouſly.

24 *Which his owne ſelfe bare our ſinnes in his body on the tree, that wee being deliuered from ſinne, ſhoulde liue vnto righteouſneſſe: by whoſe ſtripes ye were healed.

25 For ye were as ſheepe going aſtray: but are now turned vnto the Shepheard and Biſhop of your ſoules.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Howe wiues ought to order themſelues towarde their husbands, 3 and in their apparell.

1 Likewiſe * ye wiues be in ſubiection to your huſbands, that euen they which obey not the word, may without the word be wonne, by the converſation of the wiues:

2 After that they haue beholden your chaſte converſation coupled with feare.

3 * Whoſe apparell let it not be that which is outward, with brayded heare, and hanging on of golde, either in putting on of gorgeous apparell:

4 But let the hidde man which is in the heart be without all corruption, of a meeke and quiet ſpirit, which ſpirit is before God a thing much ſet by.

5 For after this maner in the olde time did the holy women alſo which truſted in God, trye themſelues, being obedient vnto their huſbands.

6 Euen as * Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lord, whoſe daughters ye are as long as ye doe well, and are not afraide for any terrour.

7 * Likewiſe ye huſbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giuing honour vnto the wife, as vnto the weaker veſſell, and as vnto them that are heires alſo of the grace of life, that your prayers be not hindered.

8 In concluſion be ye all of one minde, hauing compaſſion one of another, loue as brethren, be pitifull, be ‖ courteous, 9 Not rendring euil for euil, or rebuke for rebuke: but contrarywiſe bleſſe, knowing that ye are thereunto called, euen that ye ſhould be a heires of the bleſſing.

10 For hee that doeth long after life, and loueth to ſee good dayes, let him refraine his tongue from euill, and his lippes that they ſpeake no guile.

11 * Let him eſchewe euill, and doe good, let him ſeeke peace, and enſue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lorde are ouer the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their prayers: againe, the face of the Lord is b ouer them that doe euill.

13 Moreouer, who is it that will harme you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14 Yea, * happie are ye, if any trouble happen vnto you for righteouſneſſe ſake, be not ye afraide for any terrour of them, neither be ye troubled:

15 But ſanctifie the Lorde God in your hearts. Be readie alwayes to giue an anſwere to euery man that aſketh you a reaſon of the hope that is in you, 17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, then for euill doing.

Rom.5.6. hebr.9.15.

18 * For as much as Christ hath once suffered for sinnes, the iust for the vniust, to bring vs to God, and was killed as pertayning to the flesh, but was quickened in the spirit.

19 In which spirit, he also went and preached vnto the spirits that were in prison, 20 Which sometime had bene disobedient, when once the long suffering of God abode in the dayes of Noe, while the arke was a preparing, wherein fewe (that is to say) eight soules were saued in the water.

21 To the which also the figure agreeth that nowe saueth vs, euen baptisme, (not the putting away the filth of the flesh, but in that a good conscience maketh request to God) by the resurrection of Iesus Christ:

22 Which is on the right hande of God, and is gone into heauen, Angels, powers, and might subdued vnto him.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Hee exhorteth men to cease from sinne, & to be sober, and apt to pray.

1 FOr as much then as Christ hath suffered for vs in the flesh, arme your selues likewise with the same minde: for he which suffereth in the flesh, ceaseth from sinne:

2 That hee henceforth shoulde liue, as much time as remaineth in the flesh, not after the lustes of men, but after the will of God.

Ephes.4.23.

3 * For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spent the time that is past of the life, after the will of the Gentiles, walking in wantonnesse, lustes, in excesse of wines, in excesse of eating, in excesse of drinking, and abominable idolatrie.

4 And it seemed to them a strange thing, that ye runne not also with them vnto the same excesse of riot, and therefore speake they euill of you:

5 Which shall giue accoumpt to him that is readie to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vnto this purpose verily was the Gospel preached also vnto the * dead, that they shoulde be iudged like other men in the flesh, but shoulde liue before God in the spirit.

7 † The ende of all thinges is at hande. Be ye therefore sober, and watche vnto prayer.

8 Aboue all things haue feruent charitie among your selues: for charitie shall couer the multitude of sinnes.

9 Be ye harborous one to another, without grudging.

10 As euery man hath receiued the gift, euen so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifolde grace of God.

11 If any man speake, let him talke as the word of God: if any man minister, let him doe it as of the ability which God ministreth vnto him, that God in all things may be glorified through Iesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

12 Dearely beloued, thinke it not strange concerning the fierie trial, which thing is to trie you, as though some strange thing happened vnto you.

13 But reioyce, in as much as ye are partakers of Christes passions: that when his glorie appeareth, ye may be merie and glad.

14 * If ye be rayled vpon for the name of Christ, happie are ye: for the spirit of glorie and of God resteth vpon you: on their part hee is euill spoken of, but on your part he is glorified. Matth.5.10.

15 See that none of you be punished as a murtherer, or as a theefe, or an euill doer, or as a busie body in other mens matters.

16 If any man suffer as a Christian man, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorifie God on this behalfe.

17 For the time is come that iudgement must beginne at the house of God. If it first beginne at vs, what shall the ende be of them which beleeue not the Gospel of God?

18 And if the righteous scarcely be saued, where shall the vngodly and the sinner appeare?

19 Wherefore, let them that are troubled according to the will of God, commit the keeping of their soules to him with well doing, as vnto a faithfull creator.

The v. Chapter.

The duetie of pastours is to feede the flocke of Christ, and what reward they shall haue if they be diligent.

1 THe elders which are among you I exhort, which am also an elder, and a witnesse of the afflictions of Christ, and also a partaker of the glorie that shalbe opened:

a By elders, he vnderstandeth all them which preach, teach, or minister in the Church.

2 Feede you Gods flocke which is committed vnto you, taking the ouersight of them, not as compelled thereunto, but willingly: not for the desire of filthie lucre, but of a chearefull minde:

3 Not as though yee were lords ouer Gods heritage: but that ye be an ensample to the flocke.

4 And when the chiefe shepheard shall appeare, ye shall receiue an incorruptible crowne of glorie.

5 Likewise ye yonger, submit your selues vnto the elder: Submit your selues euery man one to another, decke your selues inwardly in lowlinesse of minde: * For God resisteth the proude, and giueth grace to the humble. The Epistle on the thirde Sunday after Trinitie. Iames 4.6.

The second Epistle of Saint Peter.

The first Chapter.

Forasmuch as the power of God hath giuen them all things pertaining vnto life, hee exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lusts.

1 Simon Peter, a seruant & an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to them which haue obtained like precious faith with vs, through the righteousnesse of our God and Sauiour Iesus Christ:
2 Grace and peace be multiplied vnto you, through the knowledge of God, and of Iesus our Lord,
3 According as his godly power hath giuen vnto vs all things that pertaine vnto life and a godlines, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs vnto glory and vertue:
a The summe of our saluation and religion is, to be led by Christ to the Father, who calleth vs in the sonne.
4 By the which are giuen vnto vs excellent and most great promises, that by the meanes therof, ye might be partakers of the godly nature, if ye flee the corruption of worldly lusts.
5 And herevnto giue all diligence, in your faith minister vertue, in vertue knowledge,
6 In knowledge temperance, in temperance patience, in patience godlinesse,
7 In godlinesse brotherly kindnesse, in brotherly kindnesse charitie.
8 For if these things be among you, and be plenteous, they make you that ye neither shall be idle, nor vnfruitfull in the knowledge of our Lord Iesus Christ.
b Albeit it be sure in it selfe, forasmuch as God can not change: yet we must confirme it in our selues by the fruites of the spirite, knowing that the purpose of God electeth, calleth, sanctifieth, and iustifieth vs.
9 But he that lacketh these things, is blinde, and can not see farre off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde sinnes.
10 Wherefore, brethren, giue the more diligence for to make your calling and election b sure: for if ye doe such things, ye shall neuer fall.
11 Yea and by this meanes an entring in shall be ministred vnto you abundantly, into the euerlasting kingdome of our Lord and Sauiour Iesus Christ.
12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you alwayes in remembrance of such thinges, though ye knowe them your selues, and be stablished in the present trueth.
13 Notwithstanding I thinke it méete, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stirre you vp, by putting you in remembrance:
14 Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, * euen as our Lorde Iesus Christ hewed me. Iohn 21.19.
15 I will euer also giue my diligence, that ye may haue wherewith to stirre vp the remembrance of these thinges after my departing.
16 * For we haue not followed deceitfull fables, when we opened vnto you the power and comming of our Lord Iesus Christ, but with our eyes we sawe his maiestie: 1.Cor.1.17.
17 Euen then verily when he receiued of God the Father honour and glory, and when there came such a voyce to him from the excellent glory: * This is my deare beloued sonne in whom I delight. Matth.17.5.
18 This voyce we heard come from heauen, when we were with him in the holy mount.
19 We haue also a right sure word of prophecie, whereunto if ye take héede, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, ye doe well, vntil the day dawne, and the day starre arise in your hearts.
20 So that ye first knowe this, that no prophecie in the Scripture is of any priuate ‖ motion. ‖Or.interpretation.
21 For the prophecie came not in olde time by the will of man: but holy men of God, spake as they were moued by the holy Ghost.

The ij. Chapter.

He prophecieth of false teachers, and sheweth their punishment.

1 There were false Prophets also among the people, euen as there shall be false teachers among you, which priuily shall bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lord that hath bought them, them, and bring vpon themselues swift damnation.

2 And many shall followe their damnable wayes, by whom the way of trueth shall be euill spoken of:

3 And through couetousnesse shall they with faigned wordes make [a] marchandize of you, whose iudgement nowe of long time ceaseth not, and their damnation slepeth not.

4 For if * God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them downe into hell, and deliuered them into chaines of darkenesse, to be kept vnto iudgement:

5 * Neither spared the olde worlde, but saued Noe the eight person, a preacher of righteousnesse, and brought in the flood vpon the world of the vngodly,

6 And turned their cities of * Sodome, and Gomorrhe into ashes, ouerthrewe them, damned them, and made them an ensample vnto those that after should liue vngodly:

7 And iust Lot, vexed with the vncleane conuersation of the wicked, deliuered he.

8 (For he being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with their vnlawfull deedes.)

9 The Lord knoweth howe to deliuer the godly out of temptation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement for to be punished.

10 But chiefly them that walke after the flesh in the lust of vncleannesse, and despise authoritie. Presumptuous are they, and stand in their owne conceite, which feare not to speake euill of them that excell in worship.

11 When the angels which are greater both in power and might, giue not [b] rayling iudgement against them before the Lorde.

12 But these as bruite beastes, led with sensualitie, and made to be taken and destroyed, speake euill of the things that they vnderstande not, and shall perish through their owne corruption:

13 And receiue the rewarde of vnrighteousnes, they count it pleasure to liue delitiously for a season: spots they are and blots, [c] delighting themselues in their deceiuings, in feasting with you:

14 Hauing eyes full of adulterie, and that can not cease from sinne, laping baite for vnstable soules: hearts they haue exercised with ‖ robberie, they are cursed children.

15 Which haue forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the sonne of Bosor, which loued the reward of vnrighteousnesse:

16 But was rebuked of his iniquitie. * The dumbe beast, and vsed to the yoke, speaking with mans voyce, forbade the madnesse of the Prophet.

17 * These are welles without water, cloudes that are caried with a tempest, to whome the mist of darkenesse is reserued for euer.

18 For when they speake the great swelling wordes of vanitie, they entice through lustes with the baite of wantonnes of the flesh, them that were cleane escaped from them, which are wrapped in errour:

19 While they promise them libertie, whereas they themselues are the bondseruants of corruption: * For of whom a man is ouercome, vnto the same is he brought in bondage.

20 * For if they, after they haue escaped from the filthines of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord, and the Sauiour Iesus Christ, are yet tangled again therein, and ouercome, then is the latter end worse with them then the beginning.

21 For it had bene better for them not to haue knowen the way of righteousnesse, then after they haue knowen it, to turne from the holy commandement that was giuen vnto them.

22 But the same is happened vnto them that is vsed to be spoken by the true prouerbe, * The dog is turned to his owne vomite againe, and the sowe that was washed, is turned againe to her wallowing in the myre.

a That is euidently seene in the Pope and his Priestes, which by lyes and flatteries sel mens soules: so that it is certaine that he is not the successour of Simon Peter, but of Simon Magus. Iob 4.12. Gene.7.1. Gene.19.13.

b Albeit the angels condemne the vice and iniquitie of wicked magistrates, yet they blame not the authoritie and power which is giuen them of God.

c For in your holy feastes, they sit as members of the Church, where as in deede they be but spots, and so deceiue you. ‖ Or, couetousnesse.

4 And saying, Where is the promise of his comming? For since the fathers fell a slepe, all things continue alike from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they know not (and that [a] wilfully) howe that the heauens were of olde, and the earth consisting of the water and by the water, by the worde of God:

6 By the which things the worlde that then was, perished, being then ouerrunne with water.

7 But the heauens and earth which are nowe, be kept by his worde in store, and reserued vnto fire against the day of iudgement, & perdition of vngodly men.

8 Dearely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thing, * howe that one day is with the Lord as a thousand yeres, and a thousand yeres as one day.

Here endeth the second Epistle of S. Peter.

The first Epistle of Saint Iohn the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

1 The true witnesse of the euerlasting worde of God. 7 The blood of Christ is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

The Epistle on S. Iohn the Euangelists day. 1 THat which was frō the beginning, which wee haue heard, which we haue seene with our eyes, which wee haue looked vpon, and our handes haue han-
died of the worde of life:
2 (And the life appeared, and wee haue seene, and beare witnesse, and shewe vnto you that eternall life which was with the Father, and appeared vnto vs:)
3 That which we haue seene and heard, declare wee vnto you, that ye also may a The effect of the Gospel is, that we all being ioyned together in Christ by faith, should be the sonnes of God. haue a felowship with vs, and that our felowship may be with the Father, and his Sonne Iesus Christ.
4 And these things write we vnto you, that your ioy may be full.
5 And this is the tydings which we haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, * that Iohn 8.12. God is light, and in him is no darke-nesse at all.
6 If we say that we haue felowship with him, and walke in darkenesse, we lie, and do not the truth.
b That is, Christ with vs, and we with our selues. Hebr.9.28. 1.king 8.46. 2.Chron.6.36. 7 But if we walke in the light, euen as he is in the light, then haue we felowship b one with another, * and the blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.
8 * If we say that we haue no sinne, we deceiue our selues, and the truth is not in vs.
9 If we knowledge our sinnes, he is faith-full and iust to forgiue vs our sinnes, and to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnesse.
10 If we say that we haue not sinned, we make him a lyar, and his word is not in vs.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Christ is our aduocate. 10 Of true loue, and how it is tried, 18 to beware of antichrist.

1 MY litle children, these things write
I vnto you, that ye sinne not. And if any man sinne, we haue an ad-uocate with the Father, Iesus Christ
the righteous:
2 And he is the atonement for our sinnes, not for our sinnes only, but also for the sinnes of all the world.
a That is, by faith, and so obey him: for knowledge can not be without obedience. 3 And hereby we are sure that we a know him, if we keepe his commaundements.
4 Hee that saith, I knowe him, and keeketh not his commandements, is a liar, and the ‖ veritie is not in him. ‖ Or, trueth.
5 But who so keepeth his worde, in him is the loue of God perfect in deede: Hereby knowe we that we are in him.
6 He that saith he abideth in him, ought himselfe to walke, euen as he walked.
7 Brethren, I write no newe commandement vnto you, but an olde commandement which ye haue heard from the beginning. The olde commaundement, is the word which ye haue heard from the beginning.
8 Againe, a new commandement I write vnto you, that is true in him, and the same is true also in you, for the darkenesse is past,

is past, and the true light nowe shineth.
9 Hee that saith howe that hee is in the light, and yet hateth his brother, is in darkenesse euen vntill this time.
1. Iohn 3. 14. 10 * Hee that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euill in him.
11 Hee that hateth his brother, is in darkenesse, and walketh in darknesse: and can not tell whither hee goeth, because that darkenesse hath blinded his eyes.
12 Babes I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiuen you for his names sake.
13 I write vnto you fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you yong men, because ye haue ouercome the wicked.
14 I write to you little children, because ye haue knowen the Father. I haue written to you fathers, because yee haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you yong men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye haue ouercome the wicked.
15 See that ye loue not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man loue the world, the loue of the Father is not in him.
16 For all that is in the world, as the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but of the world.
17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth for euer.
18 Little children, it is the last time: and as ye haue heard howe that antichrist shall come, euen nowe there are many antichristes: whereby we knowe that it is the last time.
19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: For if they had bene of vs, they would no doubt haue continued with vs: But ‖ that it might appeare that they are not all of vs.
‖ Or, this commeth to passe.
b The grace of the holy Ghost. 20 Neuertheles, ye haue an b vnction of him that is holy, and ye knowe all things.
21 I haue not written vnto you as though ye knewe not the truth: but because ye knowe it, and that no lie is of the truth.
22 Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Iesus is Christ? the same is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Sonne.
23 Whosoeuer denieth the Sonne, the same hath not the Father: But hee that knowledgeth the Sonne, hath the Father also.
24 Let therefore abide in you, that same which ye heard from the beginning: if that which ye haue heard from the beginning shal remaine in you, ye also shall continue in the Sonne, & in the Father.
25 And this is the promise that hee hath promised vs, euen eternall life.
26 These thinges haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.
27 And the anoynting which yee haue receiued of him dwelleth in you: and ye neede not that any man teache you, but as the same c anoynting teacheth you of all things, and it is true, and not lying: and as it taught you, ye shall abide in it.
c Christ commeth vnto himselfe vnto you, and teacheth you by the holy Ghost & his ministers.
28 And nowe d babes, abide in him: that when he shall appeare, we may be bolde, and not be ashamed ‖ of him at his comming.
d By this name, he meaneth the whole Church of Christ in generall.
‖ Or, before.
29 If ye know that he is righteous, know also that euery one which doeth righteousnesse, is borne of him.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The singular loue of God toward vs, 7 and how we againe ought to loue one another.

1 BEholde what charitie the Father hath shewed vs euen that we should be called the sonnes of God: for this cause the world knoweth vs not, because it hath not knowen him.
2 Dearely beloued, now are we the sonnes of God, and yet it doeth not appeare what we shalbe: But wee knowe that when hee shall appeare, wee shalbe like him: for we shall see him as he is.
3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himselfe, euen as he also is pure.
4 Whosoeuer committeth sinne, transgresseth also the lawe: for sinne is the transgression of the lawe.
5 And ye know that he appeared to take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne. Esai 53. 5. 1. peter 2. 22.
6 As many as bide in him, sinne not: whosoeuer sinneth, hath not seene him, neither knowen him.
7 Babes, let no man deceiue you: he that doeth righteousnesse, is righteous, euen as he is righteous.
8 * Hee that committeth sinne, is of the deuill, for the deuill sinneth since the beginning: For this purpose appeared the Sonne of God, to loose the workes of the deuill. Iohn 8. 44.
9 Whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: for his seede remaineth in him, and hee cannot sinne, because hee is borne of God.
10 In this are ᵖ children of God knowen, and the children of the deuill: whosoeuer doeth not righteousnesse, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.
11 * For this is the tidings that ye heard from the beginning, that ye should loue one another. Iohn 13. 34.
12 Not as * Cain which was of that wicked, and slew his brother: And wherefore slew he him? because his owne workes were euill, and his brothers righteous. Gene. 4. 8.
13 Marueile not, my brethren, if the world hate you.
14 We know that we are translated from death vnto life, because we a loue the brethren: hee that loueth not his brother, abideth in death. The Epistle on the second Sunday after Trinitie.
a This loue is the special fruit of our faith, and a certaine signe of our regeneration.
15 Whosoeuer hateth * his brother, is a manslear: and ye knowe that no manslear hath eternall life abiding in him. Leuit. 19. 17.
16 Hereby perceiue we loue, because hee layd downe his life for vs: and we ought to

to lay downe our lines for the brethren.

Luke 3.11. 17 * But who so hath this worldes good, and seeth his brother haue neede, & shutteth vp his compassion from him: howe dwelleth the loue of God in him?

18 My babes, let vs not loue in word, neither in tongue, but in deede & in veritie.

19 Hereby we knowe that we are of the trueth, and shall assure our heartes before him.

20 For if our heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Dearely beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then haue we boldenesse towarde God.

Matth.21.12. iohn 15.7. 22 And * whatsoeuer we aske, we receiue of him, because we keepe his commandements, and doe those things which are pleasing in his sight.

Iohn 6.29. 23 * And this is his commandemẽt, that we should beleeue on the name of his sonne Iesus Christ, and loue one another, as he gaue vs commandement.

Iohn 13 34. 24 * And he that keepeth his commaundements, dwelleth in him, and he in him: and hereby we knowe that he abideth in vs, euen by the spirit which he hath giuen vs.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Difference of spirits. 2 how the spirit of God may be knowen from the spirit of errour.

1 DEarely beloued, beleeue not euery spirite, but prooue the spirites whether they are of God, or not: for many false prophets are gone out into the worlde.

2 Hereby shall ye knowe the spirite of God: Euery spirite that confesseth that Iesus [a] Christ is come in the flesh, is of God:

a Who being very God came from his father, & tooke vpon him our flesh. He that confesseth or preacheth this truely, hath the spirit of God, or els not.

3 And euery spirit which confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God, and this is that spirite of Antichrist, of whom ye haue heard how that he should come: and euen now alreadye is he in the worlde.

4 Litle children, ye are of God, and haue ouercome them: for greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the worlde.

5 They are of the world, therefore speake they of the worlde, and the worlde heareth them.

Iohn 8. 47. 6 * We are of God, he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby knowe we the spirit of veritie, and the spirit of errour.

The Epistle on the first Sunday after Trinitie. 7 Dearely beloued, let vs loue one another, for loue commeth of God: and euery one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.

Iohn 3.16. 9 * In this appeared the loue of God towarde vs, because God sent his onely begotten sonne into the worlde, that we might liue through him.

10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and sent his sonne to be the agreement for our sinnes.

11 Dearely beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another.

12 * No man hath seene God at any time. 1.Iohn 1.12. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs. 1.tim.6.16.

13 Hereby knowe we that we dwell in him, and he in vs: because he hath giuen vs of his spirit.

14 And we haue seene, and do testifie that the father sent his sonne to be the sauiour of the world.

15 Whosoeuer cõfesseth that Iesus is the sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.

16 And we haue knowen and beleeued the loue that God hath to vs. God is loue, and he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that we should haue boldenesse in the day of iudgemẽt: For as he is, euen so are we in this worlde.

18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue casteth out feare: for feare hath paine thereinne. He that feareth, is not perfect in loue.

19 We loue him, for he loued vs first.

20 If a man say, I loue God, and yet hate his brother, he is a lyar: For how can he that loueth not his brother whome he hath seene, loue God whome he hath not seene?

Iohn 13.34. and 15.12. 21 * And this commandement haue we of him, that he which loueth God, should loue his brother also.

The v. Chapter.

Of the fruites of faith.

1 WHosoeuer beleeueth that Iesus is Christ, is borne of God: & euery one that loueth him which begate, loueth him also which is begotten of him.

2 * By this we knowe that we loue the children of God, when we loue God, and keepe his commandements. Matth.22.37.

3 For this is the loue of God, that wee keepe his commandements: and * his commandements are not grieuous. 1.Cor.15.57.

4 For all that is borne of God, ouercommeth the worlde: and this is the victorie that hath ouercome the world, euen our faith. The Epistle on the first Sunday after Easter.

5 Who is it that ouercõmeth the world, but he which beleeueth that Iesus is the sonne of God?

6 This Iesus Christ is he that came by water and [a] blood: not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is the spirite that beareth witnesse, because the spirite is [b] trueth.

a The water and blood that came out of his side, declare that we haue our sinnes washed by him, and he hath made full satisfaction for the same.

7 For there are three which beare record in heauen, the father, the worde, and the holy Ghost, and these three are one.

8 And there are three which beare record in earth, the spirit, and water, and blood, and these three agree in one.

b Which testifieth to our hearts, that we be the children of God.

9 If we receiue the witnesse of men, the witnesse of God is greater: For this is the witnesse of God, which he testifieth of his sonne.

Iohn 3.37.

10 *He that beléeueth on the Sonne of God, hath the witnesse in himselfe: He that beleeueth not God, hath made him a liar, because he beleeued not the record that God gaue of his sonne.

11 And this is the record, that God hath giuen vnto vs eternall life, and this life is in his sonne.

12 He that hath the Sonne, hath life: and he that hath not the sonne of God, hath not life.

13 These things haue I written vnto you that beleeue on the name of the sonne of God, that ye may knowe that ye haue eternall life, and that ye may beleeue on the name of the sonne of God.

14 And this is the trust that we haue in him: that *if we aske any thing accor-
1.Iohn 3.22. ding to his will, he heareth vs.

15 And if we knowe that he heare vs, whatsoeuer we aske, we knowe that we haue the petitiõs that we desire of him.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne which is not vnto death, he shall aske, and he shall giue him life for them that sinne not vnto death. There is a sinne vnto death: I say not that yee shoulde pray for it.

17 *All vnrighteousnesse is sinne: and Matth.12.31.
there is sinne not vnto death. mar.3.29.

18 We knowe that whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth himselfe, and that wicked toucheth him not.

19 We knowe that we are of God, and the whole worlde lyeth in wickednesse.

20 We knowe that the sonne of God is come, and hath *giuen vs a minde to Luke 24.45.
knowe him which is true: and we are in him that is true, through his sonne Iesus Christ: This same is very God, and eternall life.

21 Babes, keepe your selues frõ ‖ idoles, ‖Or, Images.
Amen.

The second Epistle of Saint Iohn.

1 He writeth vnto a certaine Lady. 4 reioycing that her children walke in the trueth. 5 and exhorteth them vnto loue.

1 THe elder vnto the elect Lady and her children, whome I loue in the *trueth, and not I onely, but also all þ haue knowẽ the trueth:

a According to godlines, and not with any worldly affe-ctions.

2 For the trueths sake which dwelleth in vs, and shalbe with vs for euer:

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ, the sonne of the father in b trueth and loue.

b We can not receiue the grace of God, except we haue the true knowledge of him, of the which knowledge loue proceedeth.

4 I reioyced greatly that I founde of thy children walking in c trueth, as we haue receiued a commandement of the father.

5 And now I beseech thee, Ladie, not as though I wrote a new cõmãdemẽt vnto thee: but that same which we haue had from the beginning, that we should loue one another.

c According to Gods worde.

6 And this is the loue, that we shoulde walke after his commandements: This is the commandement, that as ye haue heard from the beginning, ye shoulde walke in it.

7 For many deceiuers are entred into the worlde, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiuer, and an Antichrist.

8 Looke on your selues, that we lose not that we haue wrought: but that wee may haue a full reward.

9 Whosoeuer transgresseth, & abideth not in þ doctrine of Christ, hath not God: He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne.

10 If there come any vnto you, & bring not this learning, *him receiue not to Rom.16.17.
house, neither bid him God speede.

11 For he that biddeth him God speede, is partaker of his euill deedes.

12 Hauing many things to write vnto you, I would not write with paper and inke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake with you mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be full.

13 The sonnes of thy elect sister greete thee. Amen.

2 Hee is glad of Gaius that hee walked in the trueth, 5 and exhorteth to be loving vnto the poore christen in their persecution.

1 THe Elder vnto the welbeloued Gaius, whom I loue in the trueth.
2 Beloued, I wish in all thinges that thou prosperedst & faredst well, euen as thy soule prospereth.
3 For I reioyced greatly when the brethren came, and testified of the trueth that is in thee, howe thou walkest in the trueth.
4 I haue no greater ioy, then for to heare howe that my sonnes walke [a] in veritie.
a That is, in godly conuersation, as they which haue both the knowledge and feare of God.
5 Beloued, thou doest faithfully what soeuer thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers:
6 Which haue borne witnesse of thy charitie before the Church: whom if thou bring forwardes on their iourney after a godly sort, thou shalt do well.
7 Because that for his names sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.
8 Wee therefore ought to receiue such, that we might be helpers to the trueth.
9 I wrote vnto the Church: but Diotrephes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receiueth vs not.
10 Wherefore if I come, I will declare his deedes which hee doeth, tatling on vs with malicious wordes: and not content therewith, neither he himselfe receiueth the brethren, & forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the Church.
11 Beloued, follow not that which is euil, but that which is good. He that doeth well, is of God, but hee that doeth euill, hath not seene God.
12 Demetrius hath good report of al men, and of the trueth it selfe: Yea, and wee our selues also beare record, and ye know that our record is true.
13 I had many things to write: but I will not with inke & penne write vnto thee.
14 I trust I shall shortly see thee, and wee shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be vnto thee. The louers salute thee. Greete our friends by name.

Saint Iude admonisheth all Churches generally to take heede of deceiuers, which goe about to draw away the hearts of the simple people from the trueth of God.

The Epistle on Saint Simon and Iudes day.

1 IVde the seruant of Iesus Christ, the brother of Iames, to them which are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserued in Iesus Christ:
2 Mercy vnto you, and peace, and charitie be multiplied.
3 Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common saluation, it was needefull for mee to write vnto you, exhorting you that ye should earnestly [a] contende for the faith which was once giuen vnto the saintes.
a Against assaultes of Satan and heretikes.
4 For there are certaine vngodly men crastily crept in, which were before of olde ordained to this condemnation, turning the grace of our God vnto wantonnesse: and denying God, which is the onely Lord, and our Lord Iesus Christ.
5 My minde is therefore to put you in remembrance hereof, forasmuch as yee once knowe this, how that the Lorde after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt, *destroyed them which afterward beleeued not. *Num. 14. 37.
6 *The Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitation, hee hath reserued in euerlasting chaines vnder darkenes, vnto the iudgement of the great day. *2. Peter 2. 4.
7 *Euen as Sodome and Gomorrhe, and the cities about them, which in like maner defiled themselues with fornication, and folowed strange flesh, are set foorth for an ensample, and suffer the paine of eternall fire. *Gene. 19. 24.
8 Likewise these being deceiued by dreames, defile the flesh, despise rulers, and speake euill of them that are in authoritie.
9 Yet Michael the Archangel, when hee strone against the deuil, and disputed about the body of Moses, durst not giue railing sentence, but saide, The Lorde rebuke thee.
10 But these speake euill of these things which they know not, and what things they knowe naturally, as beastes which are without reason, in those things they corrupt themselues.

11 Woe be vnto them, for they haue gone in the way of * Cain, and are vtterly ginen to the errour of * Balaam for lucres sake, and haue perished in the gainesaying of * Core.

12 These are ‖ spots in your feastes of charitie, when they feast with you, without all feare feeding themselues: cloudes they are without water, caried about of windes, ‖trees withered at fruite gathering, and without fruite, twise dead, and plucked vp by the rootes:

13 They are the raging waues of the sea, foming out their owne shame: they are wandring starres, to whom is reserued the mist of darkenesse for euer.

14 Enoch the seuenth from Adam prophecied before of such, saying, Beholde, the Lorde shall come with thousandes of saintes, 15 To giue iudgement against all men, and to rebuke all that are vngodly among them, of all their vngodly deedes which they haue vngodly committed, and of all their cruell speakings, which vngodly sinners haue spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lustes, * whose mouthes speake proud things, they haue men in great reuerence because of aduantage.

17 But ye beloued, remember the woordes which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesus Christ.

18 Howe that they tolde you, * that there should be mockers in the last time, which shoulde walke after their owne vngodly lustes.

20 But ye beareth beloued, edifie your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost.

21 And keepe your selues in the loue of God, looking for the mercie of our Lord Iesus Christ vnto eternall life.

22 And haue compassion of some, ‖ separating them:

23 And other saue with feare, pulling them out of the fire: hating euen the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 Vnto him that is able to keepe you fre from sinne, and to present you faultelesse before the presence of his glory with ioy,

25 To God our Sauiour which onely is wise, be glory and maiestie, dominion, and power, nowe and euer, Amen.

and heard behinde me a great voyce, as it had bene the voyce of a trumpe, 11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: that thou seest write in ches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergavnto Laodicea.

12 And I turned backe to see the voyce that spake vnto me. And when I was turned, I sawe seuen golden candlestickes,
13 And in the middes of the seuen can-dlestickes, one like vnto the sonne of mã, clothed with a garment downe to the feete, and gird about the pappes with a golden girdle.
14 His head and his heares were white as white wooll, and as snowe, and his eyes were as a flame of fire.
15 And his feete like vnto fine brasse, as though they burnt in a fornace: and his voyce as the sound of many waters.
16 And he had in his right hande seuen starres: & out of his mouth went a sharp two edged sword: and his face shone euen as the Sunne in his strength.
17 And when I sawe him, I fell at his hande vpon me, saying vnto me, Feare are, and the things which shalbe fulfilled hereafter.

20 The mysterie of the seuen starres which thou sawest in my right hande, and the seuen golden candlestickes. The seuen starres are the Angels of the seuen churches: and the seuen candlesticks which thou sawest are the seuen Chur-

The ij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth foure churches, 5 to repentance, 10 to perseuerance, patience and amendement, 14. 20. 23 as wel by threatnings, 7. 10. 17. 26 as by promises of rewarde.

1 VNto the Angell of the Church of Ephesus, write, These thinges sayeth he that holdeth the seuen starres in his right hand, and that walketh in the middest of the seuen golden candlestickes:
2 I knowe thy workes, and thy labour, and patience, and howe thou canst not forbeare them which are euill: and hast examined them which say they are Ap-postles, and are not, and hast founde them lyars:
3 And hast suffred, and hast patience, and for my names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.
4 Neuertheles, I haue somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.
5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and doe the first workes: or els, I will come vnto thee shortly, and will remoue thy candlesticke out of his place, except thou repet.
6 But this thou hast, because thou ha-test the deedes of the Nicolaitans, which deedes I also hate.
7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit saith vnto the Churches: To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate of the tree of life, which is in the middest of the paradise of God.
8 And vnto the Angel of the Church of Smyrna, write, These thinges saith he that is first and the last, which was dead, and is a aliue:
9 I know thy workes, and tribulation, and pouertie, (but thou art b rich:) and I knowe the blasphemie of them which call them selues Iewes, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.
10 Feare none of those thinges which thou shalt suffer: beholde, the deuil shal cast some of you into prison to tempt you, and ye shall haue tribulation tenne dayes: be thou faithfull vnto the death, and I will giue thee a crowne of life.
11 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite saith vnto the Churches. He that ouercommeth, shall not be hurt of the seconde death.
12 And to the Angell of the Church in Pergamos, write, These thinges saith he which hath the sharpe c sworde with two edges.
13 I knowe thy workes, and where thou dwellest, euen where Satans seate is, and that thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denyed my faith, euen in those dayes, when Antipas my faithfull martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.
14 But I haue a few thinges against thee, because thou hast there them that maintaine the doctrine of *Balaam, which taught ‖ Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they shoulde eate of meate sacrificed vnto idols, and commit fornication.

20 Notwithſtanding, I haue a fewe thinges againſt thee, becauſe thou ſuffereſt that woman Iezabel, which called her ſelfe a prophetiſſe, to teach, and to deceiue my ſeruants, to make thē commit fornication, and to eate meate ſacrificed vnto idoles.

21 And I gaue her ſpace to repent of her fornication, and ſhe repented not.

The iij. Chapter.

He exhorteth the Churches or miniſters to the true profeſſion of faith, and to watching.

1 AND write vnto the Angel of the Church that is at Sardis, Theſe thinges ſaith he that hath the ſeuen ſpirits of God, and the ſeue ſtarres, I knowe thy workes, euen that thou haſt a name that thou liueſt, and thou art dead.

2 Be awake, and ſtrengthen the thinges which remaine, that are readie to die: For I haue not found thy workes perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore howe thou haſt receiued and heard, and holde faſt, and repent. *If thou ſhalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thiefe, and thou ſhalt not knowe what houre I will come vpon thee. *1.Theſſ.5.2. 2.pet.3.10.

4 Thou haſt a fewe names in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garments, and they ſhall walke with me in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that ouercommeth, ſhall be thus clothed in white arap, and I will not blot out his name out of the *booke of life: and I will confeſſe his name before my father, and before his Angels. *Apoc.20.12. philip.4.4.

6 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the ſpirit ſaith vnto the Churches.

7 And write vnto the Angel of þ Church of Philadelphia, Theſe things ſaith he that is holy and true, which hath the key of Dauid, which openeth, and no man ſhutteth, and ſhutteth, and no man openeth.

8 I knowe thy workes: behold, I haue ſet before thee an open dooze, and no man can ſhut it: for thou haſt a litle ſtrength, and haſt kept my ſayings, and haſt not denyed my name.

9 Beholde, I will make them of the ſynagogue of Satan, which call theſelues Iewes, and are not, but doe lie: behold, I will make them that they ſhall come and worſhip before thy feete, and ſhall knowe that I haue loued thee.

10 Becauſe thou haſt kept the wordes of my patience, therefore I will keepe thee from the houre of temptation, which will come vpon all the worlde, to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Beholde, I come ſhortly, holde that faſt which thou haſt, that no man take away thy crowne.

12 Him that ouercommeth, will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he ſhall goe no moze out: and I will write vpon him the name of my God, and the name of the citie of my God, which is newe Hieruſalem, which commeth downe out of heauen from my God; and I will write vpon him my new name.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The vision of the maiestie of God. 2 He seeth the throne, and one sitting vpon it, 8 and foure and twentie seates about it, with foure and twentie Elders sitting vpon them, and foure beastes praising God day and night.

The Epistle on Trinitie Sunday.

1 AFter this I looked, and beholde, a doore was open in heauen: and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet, talking with mee, which saide, Come vp hither, and I will shewe thee thinges which must be fulfilled hereafter.

2 And immediatly I was in the spirit: and beholde, a throne was set in heauen, and one sate on the throne.

3 And hee that sate, was to looke vpon like a Iasper stone, and a Sardine stone: and there was a rainebowe about the throne, in sight like vnto an Emeralde.

4 And about the throne were foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I sawe foure and twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white raiment, and they had on their heads crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne doe proceede lightnings, and thundrings, and voyces: and there were seuen lampes of fire burning before the throne, which are the seuen spirites of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea of glasse, like vnto Crystal: and in the middes of the throne, and rounde about the throne, were foure beastes full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a Lion, and the seconde beast like a Calfe, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying Egle.

8 And the foure beastes had eche of them sixe wings about him, and they were ful of eyes within, and they had no rest day neither night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lorde God Almightie, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beastes gaue glory, and honour, and thankes to him that sate on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer,

10 The foure and twentie Elders fell downe before him that sate on ꝑ throne, and worshipped him that liueth for euer and euer, and cast their crownes before the throne, saying, Apoc. 5. 12.

11 *Thou art worthy, O Lorde, to receiue glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasures sake they are, and were created.

The v. Chapter.

1 Hee seeth the Lambe opening the booke, 8. 14 and therefore the foure beastes, the foure and twentie Elders, and the Angels praise the Lambe, and doe him worship. 9 for their redemption and other benefites.

1 AND I sawe in the right hand of him that sate on the throne, a booke written within, and on the backe side, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I sawe a strong Angel preaching with a lowde voyce, Who is worthy to open the booke, and to loose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to reade the booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the Elders saith vnto mee, Weepe not: beholde, that Lion that is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteined to open the booke, and to loose the seuen seales thereof.

6 And I beheld, and loe, in the middes of the throne, and of the foure beastes, and in the middes of the Elders stoode a Lambe as though he had bene killed, hauing seuen hornes and seuen eyes, which are the seuen spirits of God, sent into all the earth.

7 And he came, and tooke the booke out of the right hand of him that sate vpon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the booke, the foure beastes and foure and twentie Elders fell downe before the Lambe, hauing euery one of them harpes and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saintes:

9 And they sung a newe song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the booke, and to open the seales thereof: for thou wast killed, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood, out of all kinreds, & tongues, and peoples, and nations:

10 And hast made vs vnto our God kings 1. Peter 2. 9. and priestes, and we shall reigne on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many Angels about the throne, and about the beastes and the Elders, and heard thousand thousands, 12 Saying with a lowde voyce, Worthy is the Lambe that was killed to receiue power, and riches, and wisedome, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder ꝑ earth, and in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power be vnto him that sitteth vpon the throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beastes said, Amen. And the foure and twentie Elders fell vpon their faces, and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

The vj. Chapter.

The Lambe openeth the sixe seales, and many things folowe the opening thereof.

1 AND I sawe when the Lambe opened one of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beastes say, as it were the noise of thunder, Come and see.

2 And I sawe, and beholde there was a white horse, and he that sate on him had a howse, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering, and for to ouercome.

3 And when hee had opened the seconde seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was giuen to him that sate thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened ꝑ third seale, I heard the third beast say, Come & see. And I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse: and he that sate on him, had a paire of balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of ꝑ foure beastes say, A measure of wheate for a penie, and three measures of barley for a penie, and oyle and wine see thou hurt not.

7 And when hee had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of ꝑ fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behold a pale horse, and his name ꝑ sate on him was death, and hell followeth with him: and power was giuen vnto him ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

9 And when he had opened ꝑ fifth seale, I sawe vnder ꝑ altar the soules of them that were killed for the worde of God, and for the testimonie which they had.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Howe long tarriest thou Lord holy and true, to iudge and to auenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And long white garments were giuen vnto euery one of them, and it was said vnto them that they should rest yet for a litle season, vntill their fellowe seruants, and their brethren that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seale, and loe, there was a great earthquake, & the sunne was as blacke as sackcloth made of heare, & the moone waxed all euen as blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, euen as a figge tree casteth her vntimely figges when shee is shaken of a mightie winde.

14 And heauen vanished away as a scrowle when it is rolled together, and all mountaines and Iles were mooued out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chiefe captaines, and the mightie men, and euery bondman, & euery free man, hidde themselues in the dennes, and in the rockes of the hilles:

Esai 2.19. ose 10.8. luke 23.30.

16 And said to the hilles and rockes, * Fall on vs, and hide vs from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lambe:

17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who is able to endure?

The vij. Chapter.

4. 9 Hee seeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheads, out of all nations and people, 15 which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17 and God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

1 AND after that, I sawe foure Angels standing on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure windes of the earth, that the winde shoulde not blowe on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.

2 And I sawe another Angel ascending from the rising of the Sunne, hauing the seale of the liuing God: and hee cryed with a loude voyce to the foure Angels to whom power was giuen to hurt the earth and the sea, The Epistle on all Saints day.

3 Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, neither the trees, till we shall haue sealed the seruants of our God in their foreheades.

4 And I heard ꝑ number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and fourtie & foure thousande, of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthali were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Leui were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ioseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed twelue thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and loe, a great multitude which no man could number, of all nations, and kinreds, and people, and tongues, stoode before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with white garments, and palmes in their handes:

10 And cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Saluation be ascribed to him that sitteth vpon the throne of our God, and vnto the Lambe.

11 And all the angels stoode in the compasse of the throne, and of the Elders, and of the foure beastes, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdome, and thankes, and honour, and power, and might, be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders answered, saying vnto me, What are these which are arayed araped in white garments? and whence came they?

14 And I ſayd vnto him, Lorde, thou woteſt. And he ſaide to me, Theſe are they which came out of great tribulation, and haue waſhed their long robes, and made [a] them white by the blood of the Lambe.

a That is, ſaide long robes.

15 Therefore are they in the preſence of the throne of God, and ſerue him day and night in his temple: and he that ſitteth in the throne will dwell among them.

Eſay 49.10.

16 * They ſhall hunger no more, neither thirſt, neither ſhall the Sunne light on them, neither any heate.

17 For the Lambe which is in the middeſt of the throne ſhall feede them, and ſhall leade them vnto liuing fountaines of waters: * and God ſhall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

Eſay 25.8. apoca. 21.4.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The ſeuenth ſeale is opened, there is ſilence in heauen. 6 The foure angels blowe their trumpets, and great plagues follow vpon the earth.

1 AND when hee had opened the ſeuenth ſeale, there was ſilence in heauen about the ſpace of halfe an houre.

2 And I ſawe the ſeuen angels which ſtoode before God, and to them were giuen ſeuen trumpets.

3 And another angel came and ſtood before the altar, hauing a golden cenſer, and many odours were giuen vnto him, that he ſhould offer with the prayers of all Saints vpon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And the ſmoke of the odours which came of the prayers of Saints, aſcended vp before God, out of the angels hand.

5 And the angel tooke the cenſer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and caſt it into the earth: and voyces were made, and thundrings, and lightnings, and earthquake.

6 And the ſeuen angels which had the ſeuen trumpets, prepared themſelues to blowe.

7 The firſt angel blewe, and there was made haile and fire mingled with blood, and they were caſt into the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt, and all greene graſſe was burnt.

8 And the ſecond angel blewe, and as it were a great mountaine burning with fire was caſt into the ſea, and the thirde part of the ſea turned to blood.

9 And the thirde part of the creatures which were in the ſea, and had life, dyed, and the thirde part of the ſhips were deſtroyed.

10 And the thirde angel blewe, and there fell a great ſtarre from heauen, burning as it were a lampe, and it fell into the third part of the riuers, and into fountaines of waters:

11 And the name of the ſtarre is called wormewood, and the thirde part was turned to wormewood, and many men dyed of the waters, becauſe they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel blewe, and the thirde part of the Sunne was ſmitten, and the third part of the Moone, and the thirde part of ſtarres, that the thirde part of them ſhould be darkened: and the day was ſmitten that the thirde part of it ſhoulde not ſhine, and likewiſe the night.

13 And I beheelde, and heard an angell flying through the middes of heauen, ſaying with a loude voyce, Woe, woe, woe to the inhabiters of the earth, becauſe of the voyces to come of the trumpe of the three angels which were yet to blowe.

The ix. Chapter.

12 The firſt woe is paſt. 14 The foure angels that were bound are looſed. 18 And the thirde part of men is killed.

1 AND the fifth angel blew, and I ſawe a ſtarre fall from heauen vnto the earth: and to him was giuen the key of the bottomleſſe pit.

2 And hee opened the bottomleſſe pit, and the ſmoke of the pit aroſe, as the ſmoke of a great furnace, and the Sunne and the ayre were darkened, by the reaſon of the ſmoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the ſmoke Locuſtes vpon the earth, and vnto them was giuen power, as the Scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commaunded them that they ſhoulde not hurt the graſſe of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree: but onely thoſe men which haue not the ſeale of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was giuen that they ſhould not kill them, but that they ſhould be vexed fiue moneths, and their paine was as the paine that commeth of a Scorpion, when he ſhall haue ſtricken a man.

6 * And in thoſe dayes ſhall men ſeeke death, and ſhall not finde it, and ſhall deſire to die, and death ſhall flee from them.

Eſay 2.19. oſee 10.8.

7 * And the ſimilitude of the Locuſtes was like vnto horſes prepared vnto battell, and on their heads were as it were crownes like vnto golde, and their faces were as it had bene the faces of men.

VViſd. 26.9.

8 And they had heare as the heare of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lions.

9 And they had habergions, as it were habergions of iron, and the ſounde of their wings was as the ſounde of charets when many horſes runne to battell.

10 And they had tailes like vnto Scorpions, and there were ſtings in their tailes: and their power was to hurt men fiue moneths.

11 And they had a king ouer them, which is the angel of the bottomleſſe pit, whoſe name in the Hebrewe tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greeke tongue hath his name Appollyon, that is to ſay, A deſtroyer.

12 One woe is paſt, and beholde, two woes come yet after this.

13 And

13 And the sixth angel blewe, and I heard a voyce from the foure hornes of the golden altar, which is before God,
14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpe, Loose the foure angels which are bound in the great riuer Euphrates.
15 And the foure angels were loosed, which were prepared for an houre, and a day, and a moneth, and a yeere, for to slay the third part of men.
16 And the number of the horsemen of the armies were twentie thousande times ten thousand: And I heard the number of them.
17 And thus I sawe the horses in the vision, and them that sate on them, hauing fierie habergions of a Iacynct colour, and brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of Lions, and out of their mouthes commeth forth fire, and smoke, and brimstone.
18 And of these three was the thirde part of men killed, that is to say, of the fire, and of the smoke, and of the brimstone, which proceeded out of the mouthes of them.
19 For their powers be in their mouthes, and in their tailes: for their tailes were like vnto Serpents, hauing heads, and with them they doe hurt.
20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues, repented not of the deedes of their hands, that they shoulde not worship deuils, * and idoles of golde, and siluer, and braſſe, and stone, and of wood, which neither can see, neither heare, neither goe:
21 Also they repented not of their murders, & of their sorceries, neither of their fornication, neither of their thefts.

Psal. 115.4. and 135.15.

The x. Chapter.

1 The Angel hath the booke open, 6 he sweareth there shall be no more time, 9 he giueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

1 AND I sawe another mightie Angel come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloude, and the rainebowe vpon his head: and his face as it were the Sunne, and his feete as it were pillars of fire.
2 And hee had in his hande a litle booke open: and he put his right foote vpon the sea, and his left foote on the earth:
3 And cried with a loude voyce, as when a Lion roareth: and when he had cryed, seuen thunders vttered their voyces.
4 And when the seuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: and I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto mee, Seale vp those things which the seuen thunders vttered, and write them not.
5 And the angel which I sawe stand vpon the sea, and vpon the earth, lift vp his hand to heauen,
6 And sware by him that liueth for euermore, which created heauen, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and things which therein are, that there should be no longer time.
7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seuenth angel, when he shal begin to blow, and the ministerie of God shalbe finished, as he declareth to his seruants the Prophets.
8 And the voyce which I heard from heauen, spake vnto me againe, and sayd, Goe, and take the litle booke which is open in the hande of the angell which standeth vpon the sea, and vpon the earth.
9 And I went vnto the angel, and sayd vnto him, Giue me the litle booke. And he sayd vnto me, Take it, and eate it vp, and it shall * make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth as sweete as hony. Ezech. 2.9.
10 And I tooke the litle booke out of the angels hand, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as sweete as hony: and as soone as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.
11 And he said vnto me, Thou must prophecie againe among the people, and nations, and tongues, and to many kings.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The temple is measured. 3 Two witnesses raysed vp by the Lord, are murdered by the beast.

1 AND then was giuen me a reede like vnto a rod, and the angel stoode by, saying, Rise and mete the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.
2 But the court which is without the temple cast out, and mete it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy citie shall they treade vnder foote fourtie and two monethes.
3 And I will giue power vnto my two witnesses, and they shall prophecie a thousande, two hundred, and threescore dayes, clothed in sackcloth.
4 These are two Olive trees, and two candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth.
5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, and consumeth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, this wise must he be killed.
6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of their prophesying: and haue power ouer waters, to turne them to blood, and to smite the earth with all maner plagues, as often as they will.
7 And when they haue finished their testimonie, the beast that commeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall ouercome them, and kill them.
8 And their bodies shall lie in the streetes of the great citie, which spiritually is called Sodome and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified.
9 And they of the people, and kinreds, and tongues, and they of the nations, shall see their bodies three dayes and an halfe, halfe, and shall not suffer their bodies to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwell vpon the earth shall reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and shall send giftes one to another: for these two prophets vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three dayes and an halfe, the spirit of life comming from God, entred into them: and they stoode vpon their feete, & great feare fell vpon them which sawe them.

12 And they heard a great voyce from heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hither. And they ascended vp to heauen in a cloude, and their enemies sawe them.

13 And the same houre was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the citie fell, and in the earthquake were slaine names of men seuen thousande: and the remnant were afraide, and gaue glorie to the God of heauen.

14 The second woe is past, and beholde, the thirde woe commeth anon.

15 And the seuenth Angel blew, and there were made great voyces in heauen, saying, The kingdomes of this worlde are our Lords, and his Christes, and he shall reigne for euermore.

16 And the foure and twentie Elders which sit before God on their seates, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We giue thee thankes, O Lord God almightie, which art, and wast, and art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angrie, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead that they should be iudged, and that thou shouldest giue reward vnto thy seruants the Prophets and Saintes, and to them that feare thy Name, small and great, and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heauen, and there was seene in his temple the arke of his Testament: and there followed lightnings, and voyces, and thundrings, and earthquake, and much haile.

The xij. Chapter.

There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the Sunne, &c.

‖Or, signe.

1 AND there appeared a great ‖ wonder in heauen, A woman clothed with the Sunne, and the Moone vnder her feete, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres:

2 And she being with childe, crieth, trauailing in birth, and pained readie to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen, for beholde a great red Dragon, hauing seuen heades, and tenne hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heades.

4 And his taile draweth the thirde part of the starres of heauen, and he cast them to the earth: And the Dragon stoode before the woman which was readie to be deliuered, for to deuoure her childe as soone as it were borne.

5 And she brought forth a man childe, which shall rule all nations with a rod of yron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wildernesse, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousande, two hundred, and threescore dayes.

7 And there was a battaile in heauen, Michael and his Angels fought with the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and his angels, The Epistle on Saint Michael and all Angels.

8 And preuailed not, neither was their place found any more in heauen.

9 And the great Dragon, that olde Serpent, called the deuill and Satanas, was cast out, which deceiueth all the world: and hee was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loude voyce saying in heauen: Nowe is come saluation, and strength, and the kingdome of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they ouercame him by the blood of the Lambe, and by the word of his testimonie, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce ye heauens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabiters of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, because hee knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the Dragon sawe that hee was cast vnto the earth, hee persecuted the woman which brought forth the man childe.

14 And to the woman were giuen two wings of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wildernesse into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from the face of the Serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, as it had bene a flood: that hee might cause her to be caried away of the flood.

16 And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swalowed vp the riuer which the Dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the Dragon was wroth with the woman, and went & made warre with the remnant of her seede, which keepe the commandements of God, and haue the testimonie of Jesus Christ.

18 And ‖ I stoode on the sea sande. ‖Some reade, and he stoode.

The xiij. Chapter.

1. 8 The beast deceiueth the reprobate, 2. 4. 12 and is confirmed by another. 17 The priuiledge of the beastes marke.

1 AND I sawe a beast rise out of the sea, hauing seuen heades, and tenne hornes, and vpon his hornes tenne crownes, crownes, and vpon his heades the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I sawe, was like a Leoparde, and his feete were as the feete of a Beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lion: and the Dragon gaue him his power, and his seate, and great authoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heades as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wounde was healed: and all the worlde wondred after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? Who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, speaking great things, and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to doe fourtie and two moneths.

6 And hee opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his Name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen vnto him to make warre with the Saintes, and to ouercome them: And power was giuen him ouer all kinreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell vpon the earth, shall worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of life of the lambe, which was killed from the beginning of the world.

9 If any man haue an eare, let him heare.

10 * Hee that leadeth into captiuitie, shall goe into captiuitie: He that killeth with a sworde, must be killed with a sworde. Here is the patience and the faith of the Saintes.

Gene.9.6. matth.26.5.

11 And I beheelde another beast comming vp out of the earth, and hee had two hornes like a lambe, and he spake as did the Dragon.

12 And he doth all that the first beast could doe in his presence, and hee causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worshipp the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come downe from heauen on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiueth them that dwell on the earth, by the meanes of those signes which hee had power to doe in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast which hath the wound of a sworde, and did liue.

15 And he had power to giue a spirit vnto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast shoulde both speake, and should cause that as many as would not worshipp the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And hee causeth all, both small and great, rich and poore, free and bond, that hee shoulde giue them a marke in their right hand, or in their foreheads.

17 And that no man might buy or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisedome. Let him that hath witte, count the number of the beast: For it is the number of a man, and his number is sixe hundred threescore and sixe.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The notable companie of the lambe. 6 One announceth the Gospell, 8 Another, the fall of Babylon. 9 And the third warneth to flee from the beast. 13 Of the Lordes harueste.

1 AND I looked, and loe, a Lambe stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred fourtie and foure thousand, hauing his fathers name written in their foreheades. The Epistle on Innocents day.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen as the sounde of many waters, and as the voyce of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of Harpers, harping with their Harpes:

3 And they sing as it were a newe song before the throne, and before the foure beastes, and the Elders, and no man coulde learne that song, but the hundred and fourtie and foure thousande, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women, for they are virgins: These are they which followe the Lambe whithersoeuer hee goeth: These were redeemed from men, being the first fruites vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouth was founde no guile: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6 And I sawe another Angel flee in the middest of heauen, hauing the euerlasting Gospel, to preach vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to all nations, and kinreds, and tongues, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voyce, * Feare God, and giue glorie to him, for the houre of his iudgement is come: * and worship him that made heauen and earth, and the sea, and fountaines of waters. Psalme 146.6. Actes 14.15.

8 And there followed another Angel, saying, * Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great citie, for shee made all nations drinke of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. Esai 21.8. iere.51.8.

9 And the thirde Angel followed them, saying with a loude voyce, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God: yea, of the pure wine which is powred in the cuppe of his wrath, and he shalbe punished in fire and brimstone before the holy Angels, and before the Lambe, 11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth vp euermore: And they haue no rest day nor night which worship the beast and his image, and whosoeuer receiueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the Saintes:

Here

Here are they that kéepe the commaundements of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto mee, Write, Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lorde. Euen so saith the spirite, that they may rest from their labour, and their workes followe them.

14 And I looked, and beholde a white cloude, and vpon the cloude one sitting like vnto the sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the Temple crying with a loude voyce to him that sate on the cloude: * Thrust in thy sickle and reape, for the time is come to reape, for the * harueſt of the earth is ‖ ripe.

Ioel 3.23.

Matth.13.39.

‖ Or, dryed.

16 And he that sate on the cloude thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the Temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, which had power ouer fire, & cryed with a loude crye to him that had the sharpe sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth, for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vineyarde of the earth, and cast it into the great winefat of the wrath of God.

20 And the winefat was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the fat euen vnto the horsebridles, by the space of a thousande and sixe hundred furlongs.

The xv. Chapter.

The song of them that ouercome the beast.

1 AND I sawe another signe in heauen great and marueilous, seuen angels hauing the seuen last plagues, for in them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten the victorie of the beast, & of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand on the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God.

3 And they sing the song of Moses the seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great and marueilous are thy workes, Lorde God almightie, * iust and true are thy wayes, thou king of Saints.

Psal.141.6.

Iere.10.7.

4 * Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name? for thou only art holy: And all Gentiles shall come, and worship before thée, for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the Temple of the tabernacle of the testimonie was open in heauen:

6 And the seuen angels came out of the Temple, hauing the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, and hauing their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the foure beastes gaue vnto the seuen angels seuen golden vials, full of the wrath of God which liueth for euermore.

8 And the Temple was full of the smoke of the glory of God, & of his power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seuen plagues of the seuen angels were fulfilled.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The angels powre out their vials full of wrath, 6 and what plagues followe thereof. 15 Admonition to take heede and watch.

1 AND I heard a great voyce out of the temple, saying to the seuen angels, Goe your wayes, powre out the vials of the wrath of God vpon the the earth.

2 And the first angel went, and powred out his viall vpon the earth, and there fell a noysome and a sore botch vpon the men which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel shed out his viall vpon the sea, and it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man: and euery liuing thing died in the sea.

4 And the third angel shed out his viall vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they turned to blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, Lorde, which art, and wast, thou art righteous and that holy one, because thou hast giuen such iudgements:

6 For they haue shed out the blood of Saints and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar, say, Euen so Lord God almightie, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth angel powred out his viall on the Sunne, and power was giuen vnto him to vexe men with feruent heate of fire.

9 And men boyled in great heate, and blasphemed the Name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not to giue him glory.

10 And the fifth angel powred out his viall vpon the seate of the beast, and his kingdome waxed darke, and they gnewe their tongues for sorowe, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen, for their sorowes, and for their sores, and repented not of their déedes.

12 And the sixth angel powred out his viall vpon the great riuer Euphrates, and the water thereof dryed vp, that the way of the kings of the East should be prepared.

13 And I sawe three vncleane spirits like frogges, come out of the mouth of the Dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of deuils working myracles, to go out vnto the kings of the earth, and of the whole worlde, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God almightie.

Matt.24.44. luke 12.39. 15 *Beholde, I come as a theefe. Happy is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, least he walke naked, and men see his filthinesse.

16 And he gathered them together into a place, called in the Hebrue tongue Armagedon.

17 And the seuenth angel powred out his vial into the ayre: and there came a great voyce out of the Temple of heauen, from the throne, saying, It is done.

18 And there followed voyces, thunderings, and lightnings: and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, so mightie an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great citie was diuided into three partes, and the cities of the nations fell: And great Babylon came in remembrance before God. * to giue vnto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath. Iere.25.15.

20 Euery Ile also fledde away, and the mountaines were not found.

21 And there fell a great haile, as it had bene talents, out of heauen, vpon the men, and the men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the haile: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

The xvij. Chapter.

3 The description of the great whore, & and her sinnes, and punishment.

1 AND there came one of the seuen angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with mee, saying vnto mee, Come, I will shewe vnto thee the iudgement of the great whore, that sitteth vpon many waters:

2 With whom haue committed fornication the kings of the earth, and the inhabiters of the earth are drunken with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he caried me away in the spirit into the wildernesse: and I sawe a woman sit vpon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemie, hauing seuen heads, and ten hornes.

4 And the woman was arayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with golde, precious stone, and pearles, hauing a cup of golde in her hande, full of abominations and filthinesse of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, a mysterie, great Babylon, the mother of whoredome and abominations of the earth.

6 And I sawe the woman drunken with the blood of the Saints, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Iesus: and when I sawe her, I wondred with great marueile.

7 And the angel sayde vnto me, Wherefore marueilest thou? I will shewe thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which hath seuen heads and ten hornes.

8 And the beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shall ascende out of the bottomlesse pit, and goeth into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder (whose names are not written in the booke of life from the beginning of the worlde) when they beholde the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is a meaning that hath wisedome. The seuen heads, are seuen mountaines, on which the woman sitteth: they are also seuen kings.

10 Fiue are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come: And when hee commeth, hee must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the eight, and is one of the seuen, and goeth into destruction.

12 And the tenne hornes which thou sawest, are tenne kings, which haue receiued no kingdome as yet: but receiue power as kings at one houre with the beast.

13 These haue one minde, and shall giue their power and strength vnto the beast.

14 These shall fight with the Lambe, and the Lambe shall ouercome them: * For he is the Lord of Lordes, and the king of kings, and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen, and faithfull. 1.Tim.6.15. apoca.9.16.

15 And he sayeth vnto mee, The waters which thou sawest where the whore sitteth, are people, and folke, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eate her flesh, and burne her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfill his will, and to doe with one consent, for to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntill the wordes of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great citie which reigneth ouer the kings of the earth.

The xviij. Chapter.

3. 9 The louers of the worlde are sorie for the fall of the whore of Babylon. 20 But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

1 AND after that, I sawe another angell come from heauen, hauing great power, and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cryed mightily with a strong voyce, saying, *Great Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of deuils, and the holde of all foule spirites, and a cage of all vncleane and hatefull birdes: Esay 21.19. iere.51.8.

3 For all nations haue dronken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the marchants of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voyce from heauen say, Come away frō her my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are gone vp to heauen, and God hath remembred her wickednesse.

6 Reward her euen as she rewarded you, and giue her double accordyng to her workes, and powre in double to her in the same cuppe which she filled vnto you.

7 And as much as she glorified her selfe, and liued wantonly, so much powre ye in for her of punishment and sorowe: for she said in her heart, I sit being a queene, *and am no widowe, and shall see no sorowe.

*Esai 47.8.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and sorowe, and hunger, and thee shalbe vtterly brent with fire, for strong is the Lord which iudgeth her.

9 And they shall bewaile her, and the kings of the earth shall lament for her, which haue committed fornication with her, and haue liued wantonly with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning:

10 Standing a farre off for feare of her punishment, saying, Alas, alas, that great citie Babylon, that mightie citie, for at one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the marchants of the earth doe weepe and waile ouer her, for no man buyeth their ware any more.

12 The ware of golde, and siluer, and precious stones, and of pearle, and raynes, and purple, and silke, and scarlet, and all Thyne wood, and all maner vessels of yuorie, and all maner vessels of most precious wood, and of brasse, and yron, and marble,

13 And Cynamome, & odours, and oyntments, and frankinsence, and wine, and oyle, and fine flowre, and wheate, and beastes, and sheepe, and horses, and charets, and bodies and soules of men, 14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, and all things which were daintie and had in price, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more at all.

15 The marchants of these things which were waxed riche, shall stande a farre off from her, for feare of the punishment of her, weeping and wailing,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, that was clothed in raynes, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with golde, and precious stones, and pearles:

17 For at one houre so great riches is come to nought. And euery shippe gouernour, & all they that occupie shippes, and shipmen, and as many as worke in the sea, stoode a farre off, 18 And cryed when they sawe the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie is like vnto this great citie?

19 And they cast dust on their heads, and cryed, weeping, and wayling, and saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, wherein were made riche all that had shippes in the sea, by reason of her costlinesse, for at one houre is she made desolate.

20 Reioyce ouer her thou heauen, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets, for God hath giuen your iudgement on her.

21 And a mightie Angel tooke vp a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shall that great citie Babylon be cast, and shalbe found no more at all.

22 And the voyce of harpers, and musitions, and of pipers, and trumpetters, shalbe heard no more at all in thee: and no craftes men, of whatsoeuer craft he be, shalbe founde any more in thee: and the sound of a mill, shalbe heard no more at all in thee:

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee, and the voyce of the bridegrome and of the bride, shalbe heard no more at all in thee: for thy marchants were the great men of the earth, and with thine enchantment were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was founde the blood of the Prophets, and of the Saintes, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

The xix. Chapter.

Prayses are giuen vnto God for iudging the whore.

1 AND after these thinges, I heard a great voyce of much people in heauen, saying, [a]Alleluia: saluation, and glorie, and honour, and power, be ascribed to the Lord our God:

a That is, praise ye God, because that antichrist and all wickednesse is taken out of the world.

2 For true and righteous are his iudgements, for hee hath iudged the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, & hath thoroughly auenged the blood of his seruants of her hand.

3 And againe they said, Alleluia: and her smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twentie Elders, and the foure beastes fell downe, and worshipped God that sate on the throne, saying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voyce came out of the throne, saying, Praise our Lord God all ye that are his seruants, and ye that feare him both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voyce of much people, euen as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of strong thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lorde God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let vs be glad and reioyce, and giue honour to him: for the marriage of the Lambe is come, and his wife hath made herselfe readie.

8 And to her was granted that she should be arayed with pure and goodly raynes: for for the raynes is the righteouſneſſe of Saintes.

Matth.22.2. 9 And he ſaide vnto me, Write,* Happie are they which are called vnto the ſupper of the Lambes marriage. And hee ſaid vnto me, Theſe are the true ſayings of God.

10 And I fell at his feete to worſhip him: And hee ſaide vnto mée, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellowe ſeruant, and of thy brethren that haue the teſtimonie of Jeſus. Worſhip God: for the teſtimonie of Jeſus, is the ſpirite of prophecie.

11 And I ſawe heauen open, and beholde a white horſe, and hee that ſate vpon him was called faithfull and true, and in righteouſneſſe hee doeth iudge and make battaile.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowines, and hee had a name written, that no man knew but he himſelfe.

Eſai 63.2. *13 * And hee was clothed with a veſture dipt in blood: and his name is called the word of God.

14 And the armies which were in heauen folowed him vpon white horſes, clothed with white and pure raines.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a ſharpe ſworde, that with it hee ſhould ſmite the Pſalme 2.15. Heathen: * and hee ſhall rule them with a rodde of yron: and hee treadeth the winefatte of the fiercenéſſe and wrath of almightie God.

16 And he hath on his veſture, and on his 1.Tim 6.16. thigh a name written, * King of kings, apoca.17.14. and Lord of lordes.

17 And I ſawe an Angel ſtande in the Sunne, and he cryed with a loude voyce, ſaying to all the foules that flie by the middeſt of heauen, Come and gather your ſelues together vnto the ſupper of the great God:

18 That ye may eate the fleſh of kings, and the fleſh of high captaines, and the fleſh of mightie men, and the fleſh of horſes, and of them that ſit on them, and the fleſh of all free men, and bondmen, and of ſmall and great.

19 And I ſawe the beaſt, and the Kings of the earth, and their armies gathered together, to make battell againſt him that ſate on the horſe, and againſt his armie.

20 And the beaſt was taken, and with him that falſe prophete that wrought myracles before him, with which he deceiued them that receiued the beaſtes marke, and them that worſhipped his image. Theſe both were caſt quicke into a pond of fire, burning with brimſtone.

21 And the remnant were ſlaine with the ſworde of him that ſate vpon the horſe, which ſworde proceeded out of his mouth: and all the foules were filled with their fleſh.

The xx. Chapter.

2 Satan being bound for a certaine time, 7 and after let looſe, vexeth the Church grieuouſly.

1 AND I ſawe an Angel come downe from heauen, hauing the key of the bottomleſſe pit, and a great chaine in his hand.

2 And he tooke the dragon, that olde ſerpent, which is the deuill and Satanas, and he bound him a thouſand yeeres,

3 And caſt him into the bottomleſſe pit, and hee ſhutte him vp, and ſet a ſeale on him, that hee ſhould deceiue the nations no more, till the thouſand yeeres ſhould be fulfilled: and after that he muſt be looſed for a litle ſeaſon.

4 And I ſaw thrones, and they ſate vpon them, and iudgement was giuen vnto them: and I ſawe the ſoules of them that were beheaded for the witneſſe of Jeſus, and for the worde of God, and which had not worſhipped the beaſt, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheads, or in their handes, and they liued and reigned with Chriſt a thouſand yeeres.

5 But the other of the dead men did not liue againe, vntill the thouſande yeeres were finiſhed. This is the firſt reſurrection.

6 Bleſſed and holy is hee that hath part in the firſt reſurrection: for on ſuch the ſeconde death hath no power, but they ſhall bee the Prieſtes of God, and of Chriſt, and ſhall reigne with him a thouſand yeeres.

7 And when the thouſand yeeres are expired, Satan ſhalbe looſed out of his priſon:

8 And ſhall go out to deceiue the nations which are in the foure quarters of the earth,* Gog and Magog, to gather them Eſech.39.2. together to battell: whoſe number is as the ſand of the ſea.

9 And they went vp in the plaine of the earth, and compaſſed the tentes of the Saints about, and the beloued citie: and fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them:

10 And the deuill that deceiued them, was caſt into a lake of fire and brimſtone, where the beaſt and the falſe prophet ſhall be tormented day and night for euermore.

11 And I ſawe a great white throne, and him that ſate on it, from whoſe face fled away both the earth and the heauen, and their place was no more found.

12 And I ſawe the dead both ſmall and great ſtand before God: and the bookes were opened: and another * booke was Apoc.3.5. and 21.17. opened, which is the booke of life: and phil.4.3. the dead were iudged of thoſe thinges which were written in the bookes, according to their deedes.

13 And the ſea gaue vp her dead which were in her: and death and hell deliuered vp the dead which were in them: and they were iudged euery man according to his deedes.

14 And death and hell were caſt into the lake of fire: this is the ſeconde death.

15 And whoſoeuer was not found written in in the booke of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

The xxj. Chapter.

3. 14 The blessed estate of the godly. 8. 27 and the miserable condition of the wicked.

1 AND I sawe a newe heauen, and a newe earth: * for the first heauen and the first earth were vanished away, and there was no more sea. Esa 65.17. 2.pet.3.13.

2 And I John sawe the holy citie newe Hierusalem, come down from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride garnished for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voyce out of heauen, saying, Beholde, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwel with them, and they shall be his people, and God him selfe shall be with them, and be their God.

4 * And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes, and there shall be no more death, neither sorowe, neither crying, neither shal there be any more payne: for the former things are gone. Esa.25.8. apoc.7.17.

5 And he that sate vpon the throne, said, * Beholde, I make all things newe. And he saide vnto me, Write: for these words are true and faithfull. Esa.43.19.

6 And he saide vnto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ende. * I will giue vnto him that is a thirst of the well of the water of life freely. Apoc.1.8. and 22.13.

7 He that ouercommeth, shall inherite all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my sonne.

8 But the fearefull, and vnbeleeuing, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all lyars, shall haue their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the seconde death.

9 And there came vnto me one of the seuen angels, which had the seuen vials full of the seuen last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shewe thee the bride, the Lambes wife.

10 And he carped me away in the spirite to a great and high mountaine, and he shewed me the great citie holy Hierusalem, descending out of heauen frō God,

11 Hauing the glory of God: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, euen like a Jasper, cleare as Crystall:

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and names written, which are the names of the twelue tribes of Israel.

13 On the East side three gates, and on the North side three gates, and towards the South three gates, and from the West three gates.

14 And the wall of the citie had twelue foundations, and in them the twelue names of the Lambes twelue Apostles.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reede to measure the citie with-all, and the gates thereof, and the walles thereof.

16 And the citie lyeth foure square, and the length was as large as the breadth: and he measured the citie with the reede twelue thousande furlongs, and the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equall.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred, and fourtie, and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is, of the angell.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Jasper, and the citie was pure golde like vnto cleare glasse.

19 And the foundations of the wal of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones. The first foundation was Jasper, the second Sapphire, the third a Chalcedonie, the fourth an Emeralde, 20 The fifth Sardonix, the sixth Sardius, the seuenth Chrysolite, the eyght Beryl, the ninth a Topas, the tenth a Chrysoprasus, the eleuenth a Jacinct, the twelfth an Amethyst.

21 The twelue gates were twelue pearles, euery gate was of one pearle, and the streete of the citie was pure golde, as it were shining glasse.

22 And I sawe no temple therein: for the Lorde God almighty, & the Lambe, are the temple of it.

23 * And the citie hath no neede of the Sunne, neither of the Moone to lighten it: for the glorie of God did lighten it, and the Lambe is the light of it. Esa.60.19.

24 * And the nations of them which are saued, shall walke in the light of it: and the kings of the earth doe bring their glory and honour vnto it. The Epistle on Trinitie Sunday. Esa.60.3.

25 * And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shalbe no night. Esa.60.11.

26 And they shal bring the glory and honour of the Gentiles vnto it.

27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any vncleane thing, neither whatsoeuer worketh abomination, or maketh lyes: but they onely which are * written in the lambes booke of life. Philip.4.3. apoc.1.5. and 20.12.

The xxij. Chapter.

1 The riuer of the water of life. 9 The Angell will not be worshipped.

1 AND he shewed me a pure riuer of water of life, cleare as Crystall, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lambe.

2 In the middest of the streete of it, and of either side of the riuer was there wood of life, which bare twelue maner of fruites, and gaue fruite euery moneth: and the leaues of the wood serued to heale the people withall.

3 And there shalbe no more curse, but the throne of God, and the Lambe shalbe in it, and his seruants shall serue him.

4 And they shall see his face, & his name shalbe in their foreheads.

5 * And there shall be no night there, and they neede no candle, neither light of Esa.60.19.

the sunne, for the Lord God giueth them light, and they shall reigne for euermore.

6 And he saide vnto me, These sayings are faithfull and true. And the Lord God of the holy Prophets sent his Angel to shewe vnto his seruantes the things which must shortly be fulfilled.

7 Beholde, I come shortly: Happie is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecie of this booke.

8 I Iohn sawe these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seene, I fell downe to * worship before the feete of the Angel, which shewed me these things. Apoc. 19. 10.

9 Then saith he vnto me, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and the fellowe seruant of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the sayings of this booke: but worshippe God.

10 And he saieth vnto me, Seale not the sayings of the prophecie of this booke: for the time is at hand.

11 He that doeth euill, let him doe euill still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and hee that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and hee that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And beholde, I come shortly, and my rewarde is with me, *to giue euery man according as his workes shalbe. Rom. 2. 6.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, *the beginning and the ende, the first and the last. Esai 41. 6. and 44. 6.

14 Blessed are they that doe his commandements, that their power may be in the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the citie.

15 For without shalbe dogs, and inchanters, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoeuer loueth or maketh leasings.

16 I Iesus sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches. I am the roote, and the generation of Dauid, and the bright morning starre.

17 And the spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say also, Come. *And let him that is a thirst, come. And whosoeuer will, let him take of the water of life freely. Esai 55. 1.

18 I testifie vnto euery man that heareth the words of the prophecie of this booke, If any man shall adde vnto these sayings, God shal adde vnto him ☩ plagues that are written in this booke.

19 And if any man shall take away from the wordes of the booke of this prophecie, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy citie, and from the things which are written in this booke.

20 He which testifieth these things, saith, Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so, come Lord Iesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

FINIS.

¶ A briefe Table of the interpretation of the proper names which are chiefly found in the olde Teſtament, wherein the firſt number ſignifieth the Chapter, the ſecond the verſe.

WHereas the wickednesse of time, and the blindeneſſe of the former age hath bene ſuch, that all things altogether haue bene abuſed and corrupted, ſo that the verie right names of diuers of the holy men named in the Scriptures haue bene forgotten, and nowe ſeeme ſtrange vnto vs, and the names of infants that ſhoulde euer haue ſome godly aduertiſements in them, and ſhoulde be memorials and markes of the children of God receiued into his houſholde, haue bene hereby alſo changed and made the ſignes and badges of idolatrie and heatheniſh impietie, we haue nowe ſet foorth this Table of the names that be moſt vſed in the olde Teſtament with their interpretations, as the Hebrew importeth, partly to cal backe the godly from that abuſe, when they ſhal know the true names of the godly Fathers, and what they ſignifie, that their children now named after them, may haue teſtimonies by their very names, that they are within that faithful familie that in al their doings had euer God before their eyes, and that they are bound by theſe their names to ſerue God from their infancie, and haue occaſion to praiſe him for his workes wrought in them, and their fathers: but chiefly to reſtore the names to their integritie, whereby many places of the Scriptures and ſecret myſteries of the holy Ghoſt ſhall better be vnderſtanded. We haue medled rarely with the Greeke names, becauſe their interpretation is vncertaine, and many of them are corrupted from their originall, as we may alſo ſee theſe Hebrew names ſet in the margent of this Table, which haue bene corrupted by the Grecians. Now for the other Hebrewe names that are not here interpreted, let not the diligent Reader be carefull: for he ſhal finde them in places moſt conuenient amongſt the annotations: at leaſt ſo many as may ſeeme to make for any edification, and vnderſtanding of the Scriptures.

Sapien. 9.

GOD of my Fathers, and Lorde of mercies (thou that haſt made al things with thy woorde, and diddeſt ordeine man through thy wiſedome, that hee ſhould haue dominion ouer thy creatures which thou haſt made, and that hee ſhoulde order the worlde according to holineſſe and righteouſneſſe, and that hee ſhoulde execute iudgement with a true heart) giue me wiſedome, which is euer about thy ſeate, and put me not out from among thy children: For I thy ſeruaunt, and ſonne of thy handmaiden am a feeble perſon, of a ſhort time, and too weake to the vnderſtanding of thy iudgements and Lawes. And though a man be neuer ſo perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wiſedome be not with him, hee ſhalbe of no value. O ſende her out therefore from thy holy Heauens, and from the throne of thy Maieſtie, that ſhe may be with me, and labour with me, that I may knowe what is acceptable in thy ſight: for ſhe knoweth and vnderſtandeth all thinges, and ſhee ſhall leade me ſoberly in my woorkes, and preſerue me in her power: So ſhall my woorkes bee acceptable by Chriſt our Lorde, to whom with the Father and the holy Ghoſt, be all honour and glorie, worlde without ende. Amen.

CHAP. I.

1 How heauen and earth, 3 the light, 6 the firmament, 16 the sunne, the moone, the starres, 21 and fishes in the sea, 24 and all beastes, & soules, were made by the word of God, 26 and how man also was created.

Actes.14.15.

a Although the workes of God, both in the creation, and in his spirituall operation in man, seeme rude and imperfect at the first: yet God by the working of his holy spirite, bringeth all things to a perfection at the end.

b The confused heape of heauen and earth was imperfect and darke, and yet not vtterly dead but was endued with the power and strength of Gods spirit, and so made liuely, to continue vnto the worldes end.

Psal.32.7.

1 IN * the beginning God created heauen and earth.

2 And ỳ earth was [a] without forme, & was voyde: and darkenesse was vpon the face of the deepe, and the [b] spirit of God moued vpon the face of the waters.

3 And God said, * Let there be light: and there was light.

4 And God sawe the light that it was good: and God deuided the light from the darkenes.

5 And God called the light, Day, and the darkenes, Night: and the euening and the morning were the first day.

6 * And God said, Let there be a ‡ firmament betwene the waters, & let it make a diuision betweene waters & waters.

7 And God made the firmament, and set a diuision betwene the waters which were vnder the [c] firmament, and the waters that were aboue the firmamēt: and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament, Heauen: and the euening and the morning were the second day.

9 And God said, * Let the waters vnder the heauē be gathered together into one place, and let the drie land appeare: and it was so.

10 And God called the drie land the earth, & ỳ gathering together of waters called he the Seas: and God sawe that it was good.

11 And God said, Let the earth bring forth bud and grene herbe apt to sede, and fruitefull trees, yeelding fruite after his kinde, which hath sede in it selfe vpon the earth: and it was so.

12 And the earth brought forth grene herbe apt to sede after his kinde, & tree yeelding fruite, which had sede in it selfe after his kinde.

13 And God sawe that it was good. And the euening and the morning were the thirde day.

14 And God said, Let there be * lightes in the firmament of heauen, that they may deuide the daye and the night, and let them be * for [d] signes, and seasons, and for dayes, and yeres.

The fourth day.

Psalm.36.7.

Deut.4.19.

d These lights were not made to serue Astronomers phantasies, but for signes in naturall things, and tokens of Gods mercy or wrath.

15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heauen, that they may giue light vpon the earth: and it was so.

16 And God made two great lightes: a great light to rule the day, & a lesse light to rule the night, & he made starres also.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heauen, to shine vpon the earth, 18 And to rule the day and night, and to make difference betwene the light & the darkenes: & God sawe that it was good.

19 And the euening and the morning were the fourth day.

20 And God said, * Let the waters bring forth [e] moouing creature that hath life, and foule that may flie vpon the earth in the open firmament of heauen.

22 And God [f] blessed them, saying, Be fruitefull, and multiplie, and fill the waters of the sea, and let foule multiplie in the earth.

f Blessing in Scripture signifieth abundance: that is, he gaue them fruitefulnesse by his word.

23 And the euening and the morning were the fifth day.

24 And God said, Let the earth bring forth liuing creature after his kinde, cattell, worme, and beasts of the earth after his kinde: and it was so.

The sixt day.

Col.3.10.

the earth, and of euery creeping thing that creepeth vpon the earth.

27 So God created man in his [h] owne image, in the image of God created hee him, male and female created he them.

28 And God blessed them, and God sayd vnto them, Be fruitefull, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it, & haue dominion of the fish of the Sea, and foule of the ayre, & of euery liuing thing that moueth vpon the earth.

29 And God said, Beholde, I haue giuen you euery herbe bearing seede, which is in the vpper face of all the earth, & euery tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree, bearing seede, that they may be meat vnto you:

30 To euery beast of the earth also, and to euery birde of the ayre, and to euery such thing that creepeth vpō the earth, which ‡ doeth liue, I haue giuen euery greene herbe for meate: and it was so.

31 And God sawe euery thing that hee had made: and beholde, it was exceeding good. And the euening and the morning were the sixth day.

h This image and likenesse of God in man is expounded, where it is writtē that man was created after God, in righteousnesse and true holinesse, meaning by these two wordes, all perfection, as immortalitie, wisedom, trueth, innocencie, power, &c.

The ii. Chapter.

3 The hallowing of the Sabboth day. 17 The tree of knowledge is forbidden. 19 Adam nameth all creatures. 22 Heua is created, 23 And marriage is ordeined.

1 THus the heauens & the earth were finished, and all the [a] hoste of them.

2 And in the seuenth day, God [b] ended his worke which he had made. And the seuenth day he * rested from all his worke which he had made.

3 And God blessed the seuenth day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his worke, which God ordeined to make.

4 These are the generations of the heauens, and of the earth, when they were created, in the day when the Lorde God made the earth and the heauens,

5 And euery plant of the fielde, before it was in the earth, and euery herbe of the field before it grewe: For the Lorde God had not yet caused it to raine vpon the the earth, neither was there a man to till the ground.

6 But there went vp a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the grounde.

7 The Lord God also did shape man [c] of the dust of the grounde, and breathed into his nosethrilles the breath of life, * and man was a liuing soule.

8 And the Lorde God planted a ‖ garden Eastward in Eden, and there he put the man whome he had shapen.

9 Moreouer, out of the ground made the Lord God to growe euery tree that was fayre to sight, and pleasant to eare: The tree of [d] life in the middest of the garden, and the tree of [e] knowledge of good and euill.

10 And out of Eden there went forth a flood to water the garden, and from thence it was deuided, and became into foure heads.

11 The name of the first is * Pison, the same is it that cōpasseth the whole lande of [f] Hauilah, where there is golde:

12 And the golde of the land is very good. There is also Bdellium, and the Onyx stone.

13 The name of the second riuer is Gyhon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of [g] Ethiopia.

14 The name of the third riuer is ‖ Hidekel, and it goeth toward the East side of Assyria: & the fourth riuer is Euphrates

15 And the Lorde God tooke the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, that he might worke it, and keepe it.

16 And the Lord God [h] commaunded the man, saying, Eating, thou shalt eate of euery tree of the garden:

17 But as touching the tree of the knowledge of good and euil, thou shalt not eate of it: For in what day soeuer thou eatest thereof, thou shalt dye [i] the death.

18 And the Lord God said, It is not good that the man shoulde be alone, I will make him an helpe ‡ like vnto him.

19 And so out of the ground the Lord God had shapen euery beast of the fielde, and euery foule of the ayre, and brought them vnto man, that hee might see how hee would call them: For likewise as man named euery liuing thing, so was the name thereof.

20 And the man gaue names to all cattel, and foule of the ayre, and to euery beast of the field: but for man founde he not an helpe like vnto him.

21 The Lord God caused a deepe sleepe to fall vpon Adam, and he slept, & he tooke one of his ribbes, and closed vp the place with flesh in steade thereof.

22 And the ribbe which the Lord God had taken from man, ‡ made he a woman, & [k] brought her vnto the man.

23 And man sayd, * This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh, shee shall be called [k] woman, because she was taken out of man.

24 * For this cause shall man leaue his father and his mother, and shalbe ioyned with his wife: and they shall become one flesh.

25 And they were both naked, the man & his wife, and were [l] not ashamed.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The Serpent deceiueth the woman. 4 The Serpent, woman, and man are cursed and driuen out of Paradise. 15 Christ the blessed seede of the woman is promised.

1 AND the Serpent was [a] subtiler then euery beast of the fielde which the Lord God had made, & he sayd vnto the [b] woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shal not eate of euery tree of the garden?

2 And the woman said vnto the Serpent, We eate of the fruit of the trees of the garden:

3 But as for the fruite of the tree which is in the middes of the garden, God hath sayd, Ye shall not eate of it, neyther shall ye Eccles.23.3.

7 Then the eyes of them both were opened, and they c knew that they were naked, and they sowed figge leaues together, and made themselues aprones.
c By the sinne of disobedience they began to feele the corruption of their owne nature, which they sought to remedie, not by seeking vnto God, but by their owne deuises, in couering their nakednes with figge leaues.
8 And they heard the voyce of the Lorde God, walking in the garden in the coole of the day: and Adam and his wife d hid themselues from the presence of the Lord God, amongst the trees of the garden.
d The sinfull conscience fleeeth Gods presence.
9 And the Lorde God called Adam, and sayd vnto him, Where art thou?
10 Which sayd, I heard thy voyce in the garden, and was afraid c because I was naked, and hid my selfe.
e Adam playeth the hypocrite, in that he hid the cause of his nakednesse which was the transgression of Gods commandemẽt.
11 And he saide, Who told thee, that thou wast naked? Hast thou not eaten of the same tree, concerning the which I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eate of it?

17 Vnto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened vnto the voyce of thy wife, & hast eaten of the tree concerning the which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eate of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake, in sorow shalt thou eate of it all the dayes of thy life.

19 In the sweate of thy face shalt thou eate bread, till thou be turned againe into the ground, for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and vnto dust shalt thou be turned againe.
20 And Adam called his wifes name Heua, because she was the mother of all liuing.
21 Vnto Adam also, and to his wife, did þ Lord God make garments of skinnes, and he put them on.
22 And the Lorde God sayd, Behold, this man is become as one of vs, k in knowing good and euil: And nowe least peraduenture he put forth his hand, & take also of the tree of life, and eate, and liue for euer:

13 And Cain sayd vnto the Lorde, ‖ My iniquitie is more then þ it may be forgiuen.
14 Beholde, thou hast cast me out this day from the vpper face of the earth, & from thy face shall I be hid, fugitiue also and a vagabond shall I be in the earth: and it shall come to passe, that euery one that findeth me, shall slay me.

15 And the Lord saide vnto him, Verily who so euer slayeth Cain, he shall be punished f seuen folde. And the Lord set a g marke vpō Cain, lest any man finding him, should kil him.

f God did not this for the loue that he bare to Cain, but to terrifie other from murder.

16 And Cain went from the presence of the Lord, and dwelt in the land of Nod, Eastward from Eden.

17 Cain also knew his wife, which conceiued, and bare Henoch, and building a citie, he called the name of the same citie, after the name of his sonne, Henoch.

g A visible signe of Gods iudgement, that other should feare.

18 Vnto the same Henoch was borne Irad: Irad begate Mehuiael, Mehuiael begate Methusael, Methusael begate Lamech.

19 And Lamech tooke vnto him h two wiues, the name of the one was Ada, & the name of the other was Zella.

h The lawful institution of marriage, which is, that two should be one flesh, was first corrupt in the house of Cain by Lamech.

20 And Ada bare Iabel, which was the father of such as dwell in the tents, and of such as haue cattell.

21 His brothers name was Iubal, which was the father of such as handle Harpe and Organ.

22 And Zella also bare Thubalcain, which wrought cunningly euery craft of brasse and of yron: the sister of Thubalcain was Noema.

23 And Lamech said vnto his wiues, Ada and Zella, Heare my voyce ye wiues of Lamech, hearken vnto my speach: for I haue slaine a man to the wounding of my selfe, and a yong man to mine owne punishment.

24 If Cain shall be auenged seuen folde, truely Lamech i seuentie times and seuen times.

i He mocked at Gods sufferance in Cain, iesting as though God would suffer none to punish him, and yet suffer him to murder others.

25 Adam knew his wife againe, and shee bare a sonne, and called his name Seth: For God sayde shee hath appointed me another seede, in steade of Iabel whome Cain slew.

26 And vnto the same Seth also there was borne a sonne, & he called his name Enos: then began men to make inuocation in the name of the Lord.

The v Chapter.

The genealogie of Adam and other fathers, and the yeeres of their liues, vnto Noah and his children.

1 THis is the booke of the generations of Adam. In the day that God created man, in the likenes of God made hee him.

2 * Male and female created he them, & blessed them, and called their name a Adam, in the day of their creation.

Sapi. 2. 23.

a The husband and the wife as one man.

3 And Adam liued an hundred & thirtie yeeres, and begate a sonne in his owne likenesse, after his image, and called his name Seth.

4 All the daies of Adam, after he had begotten Seth, were eight hundred yeeres, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

b Adam liued vnto Noahs fathers dayes.

5 b And al ỹ daies that Adam liued, were nine hundred & thirtie yeeres, & he died.

6 Seth liued an hundred and fiue yeeres, and begate Enos.

7 And Seth liued after he begate Enos c eight hundred and seuen yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

c The chiefe cause of long life in the first age, was the multiplication of mākinde, that according to Gods commandement at ỹ beginning, the world might be encreased with people, which might vniuersally praise his name.

8 And all the dayes of Seth, were nine hundred and twelue yeeres, and he died.

9 Enos liued ninetie yeeres, and begate Kenan.

10 And Enos liued after he begat Kenan eight hundred and fiftene yeeres, d and begate sonnes and daughters.

d They be only rehearsed by name, who were as lights in the church.

11 And all the dayes of Enos were nine hundred and fiue yeeres, and he died.

12 Kenan liued seuentie yeeres, & begate Mahalaleel.

13 And Kenan liued after he begate Mahalaleel eight hundred and foztie yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

14 And all the dayes of Kenan were nine hundred and ten yeeres, and he died.

15 Mahalaleel liued sixtie and fiue yeeres, and begate Iered.

16 And againe Mahalaleel liued after he begate Iered eight hundred and thirtie yeeres, & begate sonnes and daughters.

17 And all the dayes of Mahalaleel, were eight hundred ninetie and fiue yeeres, and he died.

18 Iered liued an hundred sixtie and two yeeres, and he begate Henoch.

19 And Iered liued after he begate Henoch, eight hundred yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

20 And all the dayes of Iered were nine hundred sixtie and two yeeres, & he died.

21 * Henoch liued sixtie and fiue yeeres, & begate Methuselah.

Eccle. 44. 16. hebr. 11. 5.

22 e And Henoch walked with God after hee begate Methuselah three hundred yeeres, and begate sonnes & daughters.

e He directed his life not after the maners of ỹ world then, but according to Gods word.

23 And all the dayes of Henoch were three hundred sixtie and fiue yeeres.

24 And Henoch walked with God: and hee was no more seene, for God tooke him away.

25 Methuselah also liued an hundred, eightie and seuen yeeres, & begate Lamech.

26 And againe Methuselah liued after he begate Lamech, seuen hundred eightie and two yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

27 And all the daies of Methuselah f were nine hundred sixtie and nine yeeres, and he died.

f He liued sixe yeeres before the flood as S. Augustine reckoneth.

28 Lamech liued an hundred eightie and two yeeres, and begate a sonne:

29 And called his name Noah, saying, This same shall comfort vs, as concerning our worke and sorow of our hands about the earth, which God cursed.

30 And Lamech liued after hee begate Noah, fiue hundred ninetie and fiue yeeres, and begate sonnes & daughters.

31 And all the dayes of Lamech, were seuen hundred seuentie and seuen yeeres, and he died.

32 Noah was fiue hundred yeeres olde, & Noah begate Sem, Ham, and Japheth.

The vi Chapter.

5 The cause of the flood is the sinne of man. 18 Noah the iust is preserued in the arke, with all kindes of beastes.

1 AND it came to passe, that when mẽ began to be multiplied in the vpper face of the earth, there were daughters borne vnto them:

a The sonnes of the godly ioyned themselues with the daughters of the wicked, without all feare of God.

2 And the [a] sonnes of God also sawe the daughters of men that they were faire, and they tooke them wiues, such as they liked, from among them all.

b God is therefore sayde to striue in spirit, because he trauailed earnestly to bring his people to repẽtance: but when he saw their stubbernes and disobedience to be such, he would no longer striue, but purposed vtterly to destroy them.

3 And the Lord sayd, [b] My spirit shall not alwayes striue with man, because hee is flesh: yet his dayes shall be an hundred and twentie yeeres.

‖ Or, tyrants.

4 But there were ‖ Giants in those dayes in the earth: yea & after that the sonnes of God came vnto the daughters of men, and had begotten children of them, the same became mightie men of the worlde, and men of [c] renowme.

c Which vsurped authoritie ouer others, and did degenerate from the simplicitie wherein their fathers liued.

5 But God sawe that the malice of man was great in the earth, and all the imagination of the thoughts of his heart was onely euill euery day.

6 And it repented the Lorde that hee had made man vpon the earth, and hee was touched with sorowe in his heart.

7 And the Lorde sayde, I will from the vpper face of the earth, destroy man whome I haue created: from man vnto cattell, vnto worme, and vnto foules of the ayre: For it repenteth me that I haue made them.

8 But Noah founde grace in the eyes of the Lord.

9 * These are the generations of Noah. Noah was a iust man, and perfect in his generations, and walked with God.

Eccle.44.17.

10 Noah begate three sonnes, Sem, Ham, and Japheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the same earth was filled with crueltie.

12 And God looked vpon the earth, and behold, it was corrupt: for all flesh had corrupt his way vpon earth.

13 And God sayde vnto Noah, The ende of all flesh is come before mee, for the earth is filled with crueltie through thẽ, and beholde, I will destroy them with the earth.

d Gopher, a very light kind of wood,

14 Make thee an Arke of [d] Pine trees: Habitations shalt thou make in the Arke, and shalt pitche it within and without with pitch.

15 And of this fashion shalt thou make it: The length of the Arke shall bee three hundreth cubites, the breadth of it fifte cubites, and the height of it thirtie cubites.

16 A window shalt thou make in the Arke, and in a cubite shalt thou finish it aboue: but the doore of the Arke shalt thou set in the side thereof. With three lofts one aboue another shalt thou make it.

e God doeth repeate I, for the certeintie of the flood, which the world thought vnpossible.

17 And beholde, [e] I, euen I doe bring a flood of waters vpon the earth, to destroy all flesh wherein is the breath of life vnder heauen, and euery thing that is in the earth shall perish.

18 With thee also will I make my couenant: and thou shalt come into the Arke, thou and thy sonnes, thy wife, and thy sonnes wiues with thee.

19 And of euery liuing thing of all flesh, a paire of euery one shalt thou bring into the Arke, to keepe them alme with thee, they shalbe male and female.

20 Of feathered foules also after their kinde, and of all cattell after their kinde: of euerie worme of the earth after his kinde, two of euery sort shall come vnto thee, to keepe them alme.

21 And take thou with thee of all meate that is eaten, and thou shalt lay it vp with thee, that it may bee meate for thee and them.

22 Noah therefore did according vnto all that God cõmanded him, euen so did he.

The vii. Chapter.

1 Noah with them that were with him, entreth into the Arke. 20 The flood destroyeth all the rest vpon the earth.

1 AND [*] the Lord said vnto Noah, Come thou and [a] all thy house into the Arke: for thee haue I seene righteous before me in this generation.

2.Pet.2.5.

a Temporall benefites God bestoweth vpon the children, for the fathers godlinesse sake.

2 Of euery cleane beast thou shalt take with thee seuen [b] and seuen, the male and his female: but of vncleane cattell, two, the male and his female.

b Not seuen payre, but three, and one for sacrifice.

3 Of foules also of the ayre seuen and seuen, the male and the female, to keepe seede alme vpon the face of all the whole earth.

4 For after [c] seuen dayes, I will raine vpon the earth fourtie dayes and fourtie nights: and all substance that I haue made, will I destroy from the vpper face of the earth.

c God would not haue Noah to be in doubt of any circumstance.

5 Noah therefore did according vnto all that God commanded him.

6 And Noah was [d] fiue hundred yeeres olde, when the floods of water came vpon the earth.

d Age did not make Noah the slower to obey Gods will,

7 And Noah came, and his sonnes, and his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him, to the Arke, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of cleane beasts, and of vncleane beasts, and of foules, and of euery such as creepeth vpon the earth, 9 There [e] came two and two vnto Noah into the Arke, the male and the female, as God had commanded Noah.

e As to Adam, so now to Noah, God caused all cattell to come.

10 And so it came to passe after seuen dayes, that the waters of the flood were vpon the earth.

11 In the fiue hundred yeere of Noahs life, in the [f] seconde moneth, the seuententh day of the moneth, in the same day were all the [g] fountaines of the great deepe broken vp, and the windowes of heauen were opened.

f In the latter ende of April, when all things were most pleasant, then this destruction came.

g Both the waters in the earth rising vp, did ouerflow, and also the cloudes being open, powred downe.

12 And the raine was vpon the earth fourtie dayes and fourtie nights.

13 In the selfe same day entred Noah, and Sem, & Ham, and Japheth, the sonnes of Noah, and Noahs wife, and the thre wiues of his sones with the into ꝑ Arke, h This is oft times repeated, for that it seemeth vncredible to the sense of man.

14 They, h and euery beast after his kind, and all the cattell after their kinde, yea, and euery worme that creepeth vpon the grounde after his kinde, and euery birde after his kind, and euery flying and feathered foule.
15 And they came vnto Noah into the Arke, two and two, of al flesh wherein is the breath of life.
16 And they entring in, came, male and female of all flesh, as God had cõmanded him: & God shut him in round about.
17 And the flood came fourtie dayes vpon the earth, and the waters were increased, and bare vp the Arke, which was lift vp aboue the earth.
18 The waters also wared strong, and were encreased exceedingly vpon the earth: and so the Arke went vpõ the vpper face of the waters.
19 And the waters preuailed exceedingly vpon the earth, & all the high hilles that are vnder ꝑ whole heauen were couered.
20 Fiftene cubites vpward did the waters preuaile, so that the mountaines were couered.
Sapi. 10 4. 21 * And all flesh perished that moued vpon the earth, in foule, in cattel, in beast, and in euery worme that creepeth vpon the earth, yea, and euery man also.
i That is, all that liued. 22 So that i all that had the breath of life in his nosethyrles, throughout all that was on the k drie lande, dyed.
k Of fish there is no mention made by Moses. 23 And euery substance was destroyed that remained, and that was in the vpper parte of the grounde, both man and cattell, and worme, and the foule of the heauen, they were destroyed from off the earth, and l Noah onely remained aliue, and they that were with him in ꝑ Arke.
l Thus was he rewarded, that rather followed God, then the multitude of the wicked. 24 But the water preuailed vpon the earth, an hundreth and fiftie dayes.

The viii Chapter.

3 The waters of the flood being diminished, Noah sendeth forth the Rauen and the Doue. 16 Noah goeth out of the Arke, and offereth sacrifice vnto God.

a Not ꝙ God forgetteth his at any time, but whē he sendeth succour, then hee is said to remember them.
b As God by a vehement wind in Moses time dryed vp the red sea: so here God raised vp a wind to deliuer the lande from waters.
c The waters encreased forty dayes, and were at one stay 110. dayes, and so continued from the latter ende of April, vntill the beginning of October.
1 AND God a remembred Noah, and euery beast, and all the cattell that was with him in ꝑ Arke: and God made b a winde to passe vpon the earth, and the waters ceased.
2 The fountaines also of the deepe, and the windowes of heauen were stopped, and the raine frõ heauen was restrained.
3 And the waters from the earth returned, going and comming againe: and after the ende of the hundred & fiftie dayes, the waters were abated.
4 And in the c seuenth moneth, in the seuentenith day of the moneth, the Arke rested vpon ꝑ mountaines of Armenia.
5 And the waters were going and decreasing vntil the tenth moneth: In the tenth moneth, and in the first day of the same moneth, were the toppes of the mountaines seene.
6 And after the ende of the fourtie dayes, it came to passe that Noah opened the window of ꝑ Arke which hee had made.
7 And hee sent forth a Rauen, which went out, going forth, and returning, vntill the waters were dryed vp vpon the earth.
8 And againe he sent forth a Doue from him, that he might see if the waters were abated from the vpper face of the ground.
9 And the Doue found no rest for the sole of her foote, and she returned vnto him into the Arke: for the waters were in the vpper face of the whole earth. Then hee put forth his d hand, and tooke her, and pulled her to him into the Arke.
d It seemeth that the Rauen being a wilde & an vncleane foule, fed of the dead carkases, & therefore refused to turne againe into the Arke. But the Doue being of nature a tamer foule, & vsed to cleaner foode, and finding no place to rest on, suffered her selfe to be receiued in againe.
10 And hee abode yet other seuen dayes, and againe he sent forth the Doue out of the Arke:
11 And the Doue came to him in the euentide, and loe, in her mouth was an Olue leafe that she had pluckt, wherby Noah did knowe that the waters were abated vpon the earth.
12 And he abode yet other seuen dayes, & sent forth the Doue, which returned not vnto him any more.
13 And it came to passe in the fyre hundred and one yeere, in the first moneth, the first day of the moneth, the waters were dried vp from the earth, and Noah remoued the couering of the Arke, and looked, and beholde, the vpper face of the grounde was dryed vp.
14 And in the second moneth, in the seuen and twentieth day of the moneth, was the earth dried.
15 And God spake vnto Noah, saying,
16 e Go forth of the Arke, thou, and thy wife, thy sonnes, and thy sonnes wiues with thee:
e Noah was in the arke one yeere and ten dayes.
17 And bring forth with thee euery beast that is with thee, of all flesh, both foule and cattell, and euery worme that creepeth vpon ꝑ earth, that they may breede in the earth, and bring forth fruite, and multiplie vpon earth.
18 And so Noah came forth, and his sonnes, his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him:
19 Euery beast also, and euery worme, euery foule, and whatsoeuer creepeth vpon the earth, after their kindes, went out of the Arke.
20 And Noah builded an altar vnto the Lord, and tooke of euery cleane beast, and of euery cleane foule, f & offered a whole burnt offering on the altar.
f It is called a whole burnt offring, because the whole sacrifice was consumed with fire, by the which is signified, that the person which did offer the same, shoulde haue his heart and minde wholly vpon God, as it is written, Loue thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soule, &c.
21 And the Lord smelled a sweete or quiet sauour, and the Lord said in his heart, I will not henceforth curse the ground any more for mans sake, for the imagination of mans heart is euill from his youth: neither will I smite any more euery thing liuing, as I haue done.
22 Yet therefore shall not g sowing time & harueste, colde and heate, sommer and winter, day and night, cease all the dayes of the earth.
g The order of nature destroyed by the flood, is restored by Gods promise.

The ix. Chapter.

1 God blesseth Noah and his sonnes. 3 God giueth libertie of meates, and forbiddeth the eating of blood. 9 Hee promiseth no more to destroy the worlde with water, 13 and giueth the rainebowe for a token thereof.

1 AND God blessed Noah, & his sõnes, & said vnto them, Be fruitefull, and multiplie, and replenish the earth.

a By the vertue of this cõmandement, beasts rage not so much against man, as otherwise they would, but are appoynted to serue to his necessarie vses.

2 The feare of you, and the dread of you, shalbe vpon euery beast of ỳ earth, and vpon euery foule of the ayre, vpon all that moueth vpon the earth, and vpon all the fishes of the sea: into your hande are they deliuered.

b By this graunt of God, man may with a good conscience vse al the creatures of God for his food. Leuit.17.14.

3 Euery thing that moueth it selfe, & that liueth, shalbe [b] meate for you, euen as the grene herbe haue I giue you al things.

c That is, liuing creatures, and the flesh of beasts which are strangled, wherby all crueltie is forbidden.

4 *But [c] flesh in the life thereof which is the blood thereof, shal ye not eate.

d Punishment for murder, ‖Or, neighbour.

5 And surely your blood of your liues wil [d] I require: at the hande of euery beast will I require it, & at the hand of man, at the hand of mans ‖brother wil I require the life of man.

6 Who so sheddeth mans blood, by man shall his blood bee shed, for in the image of God made he man.

7 But bee fruitefull, and multiplie you, bee de in the earth, and increase therein.

8 God spake vnto Noah, & to his sonnes with him, saying,

9 Behold I, euen I stablishe my couenant with you, & with [e] your seede after you:

e The children which are not yet borne, are comprehended in Gods couenãt made with their fathers.

10 And with euery liuing creature that is with you, in foule, in cattell, in euery beast of the earth, which is with you, of all that go out of the arke, what soeuer liuing thing of the earth it be.

11 And my couenant I make with you, that from henceforth all flesh bee not rooted out with the waters of a flood, neither shal there bee a floode to destroy the earth any more.

12 And God sayd, This is the token of the couenant which I make betweene mee & you, and euery liuing creature that is with you for euer.

f The rainbowe is nowe first made a signe of Gods couenant. Ecclus.43.12.

13 I doe set my [f] bowe in the cloude, and it shalbe for a token betweene mee and the earth.

14 *And it shall come to passe, that when I bring a cloude vpon the earth, the bowe also shalbe seene in the same cloud, 15 And I will thinke vpon my couenant which is betweene me & you, and euery liuing creature in all flesh: and it shall no more come to passe, that waters make a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 And the bowe shalbe in the cloude, and I will looke vpon it, that I may thinke vpon the euerlasting couenant, betweene God and euery liuing creature in all flesh that is vpon the earth.

17 And God saide vnto Noah, This is the token of the couenant, which I haue made betweene me & all flesh that is vpon earth.

18 The sonnes of Noah going forth of the Arke, were Sem, Ham, and Japheth: and Ham is the father of ‡ Chanaan.

19 These are the three sonnes of Noah, and of them was the whole earth ouerspread.

20 Noah also began to be an ‡ husbandman, and planted a vineyarde.

‡ Heb. a man of the earth.

21 And hee, drinking of the wine, was dronken, & was vncouered within his tent.

g Howe filthie a sinne drunkennesse is, & howe grieuously God doeth punish it.

22 And Ham, the father of Chanaan, seeing the nakednesse of his father, tolde his two brethren without.

23 And Sem and Japheth taking a garment, laid it vpon their shoulders, and comming backeward, couered the nakednes of their father, namely their faces being turned away, least they should see their fathers nakednesse.

24 And Noah awoke from his wine, and knewe what his ponger sonne had done vnto him.

25 And he said, Cursed [h] bee Chanaan, a seruant of seruants shal hee be vnto his brethren.

h He pronounceth as a Prophet the curse of God against Chanaan, to the more griefe of his father Cham.

26 He sayd moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Sem, and Chanaan shall be his seruant.

‖Or, perswade.

27 God shall ‖enlarge [i] Japheth, and he shall dwel in the tents of Sem, and Chanaan shall be his seruant.

i He declareth that the Gentiles which came of Iapheth, and were separated frõ the Church, should be ioyned to the same by the perswasion of Gods spirit, & preaching of the Gospell.

28 Noah liued after the flood, three hundred and fiftie yeeres.

29 And all the dayes of Noah, were nine hundred and fiftie yeres, and he dyed.

8 The children of Raamah: Seba, and Dedan: Chus also begate Nimrod.

c Cruel princes are called in scripture, hunters.

d God made the first authour of tyrannie odious to the world by a common prouerbe.

17 And Hiui also, and Arki, and Sini,

19 The border of the Chanaanites, was from Sidon, as thou commest to Gerar, vnto Azah, and as thou goest vnto Sodoma & Gomorra, and Adama and Seboim, euen vnto Lesa.

20 These are the children of Ham in their kinreds, in their tongues, countreis, and in their nations.

g In his stocke the Church was preserued, therefore Moses leaueth off speaking of Iapheth and Ham, & entreateth of Sem more at large.

21 Vnto Sem also the g father of all the children of Heber, and elder brother of Japheth, there were children borne.

22 The children of Sem: Elam, & Assur, Arpharad, and Lud, and Aram.

23 The children of Aram: Vs, & Hul, Gether, and Mas.

24 Arpharad begate Selah, and Selah begate Heber.

25 Vnto Heber also were borne two sonnes: the name of one was Peleg, for in his dayes was the earth deuided, and his brothers name was Jactan.

26 Jactan begate Almodad, and Saleph, Hazarmaueth, and Jerah, 27 And Hadoram, and Vsal, and Dicla,

28 Obal also, and Abimael, and Seba,

29 And Ophir, and Hauilah, and Jobab: all these were the children of Jactan.

30 And their dwelling was from Mesa, as thou goest vnto Sephar, a mount of the East.

31 These are the children of Sem, after their kinreds & tongues, in their landes and nations.

32 And so these are the kinreds of the children of Noah after their generations, in their peoples: and of these were the nations diuided in the earth after the flood.

2 And when b they went forth from the East, they found a plaine in the land of Sinar, and there they abode.

‡ Heb. Man said to his neighbour.

c Whereby he declareth by the effect, that he knewe their wicked enterprises, by punishing the same.

4 And they said, Go to, let vs build vs a citie & a towre, whose top may reach vnto heauen, and let vs make vs a name, lest peraduenture we be scattered abroad vpon the whole earth.

5 But the Lord c came downe to see ỳ citie and towre, which the children of men builded.

d God speaketh this in derision, because of their foolish perswasion & enterprise.

6 And the Lord said, Behold, d the people is one, and they haue all one language: & this they begin to doe, neither is there any let to them from all those thinges which they haue imagined to doe.

7 Come on, let vs goe downe, and there confound their language, that euery one perceiue not his neighbours speach.

8 And so the Lorde scattered them from that place vpon all the earth: & they left off to build that citie.

9 And therefore is the name of it called Babel, because the Lorde did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroade vpon the face of all the earth.

28 And Haran died in the presence of his father Tarah in the lande of his natiuitie, in Vr of the Chaldees.

29 Abram and Nachor tooke them wiues: the name of Abrams wife was Sarai, & the the name of Nachors wife was Milcha, the daughter of Haran, ꝑ father of Milcha, and the father of Iiscba.

i It was a temptation to Abram to see the wicked blessed with children, and his wife barren.

30 But Sarai was i barren, and had no childe.

31 And Tarah tooke Abram his sonne, and Lot the sonne of Haran his sonnes sonne, and Sarai his daughter in lawe his sonne Abrams wife, and they departed together from Vr of the Chaldees, that they might goe into the lande of Chanaan: and they came vnto ‖ Haran, and dwelt there.

The xii. Chapter.

1 Abram is blessed of God, and goeth with Lot to the lande of Chanaan, which God promised to giue to him and to his seede. 10 Abram goeth into Egypt. 13 His wife calleth her selfe his sister, for whom Pharao is plagued.

1 AND the * Lorde sayde vnto Abram, Get thee a out of thy countrey, and out of thy nation, and from thy fathers house, vnto a lande that I will shewe thee.

* Act. 7. 2.

a From the flood to this time, were 363. yeres passed through the land.

2 And I wil make of thee a great people, and will blesse thee, and make thy name great, that thou shalt be a blessing.

3 I will also blesse them that blesse thee, & curse them that curse thee: and in thee shall all kinreds of the earth be b blessed.

b Christ, the seede of Abraham, blessed all the cursed kinreds of the world.

4 And so Abram departed, as the Lorde had spoke vnto him, and Lot went with him: and Abram was seuentie and fiue yeres olde whē he departed out of Haran.

5 And Abram c tooke Sarai his wife, & Lot his brothers sonne, and all their substance that they had in possession, and the soules that they had begotten in Haran, & they departed, that they might come into the land of Chanaan: and into the land of Chanaan they came.

c After his father was dead, and he chiefe of the familie.

6 Abram d passed through the lande, vnto the place of Sichem, vnto the plaine of Moreh. And the Chanaanite was then in the land.

d He wandred to and fro in the land, before he could find a setling place. Thus God exerciseth the faith of his children.

7 And the Lord appearing vnto Abram, sayd, Vnto thy seede will I giue this land: and there e builded he an altar vnto the Lord which appeared vnto him.

e It was not ynough for Abraham to worship God in his heart, but it was expedient to declare by outwarde deedes his fayth before men.

8 And remouing thence vnto a mountaine that was Eastward from Bethel, he pitched his tent, hauing Bethel on ꝑ West side, and Hai on the East: and there he, building an altar vnto the Lorde, did call vpon the name of the Lord.

9 And Abram tooke his iourney, going and iourneying toward the South.

10 And then there was a famine in that lande, and therefore went Abram downe into Egypt, ꝑ he might sojourne there: for there was a grieuous famine in the land.

11 And when he was come nere to enter into Egypt, he sayde vnto Sarai his wife, Beholde, I knowe that thou art a fayre woman to looke vpon:

12 Therefore shall it come to passe, that when the Egyptians see thee, they shall say, She is his wife, and they will kill me, but they will saue thee alyue:

13 Say, I pray thee, that thou art my f sister, that I may fare well for thy sake, and that my soule may liue through thy occasion.

f The weakenes of Abrams fayth appeareth in this, that he vsed vnlawfull meanes for to saue his owne life.

14 And so when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman, for she was very fayre.

15 The princes also of Pharao sawe her, & commended her before Pharao: and the woman was take into Pharaos house.

16 And he entreated Abram well for her sake: and he had sheepe, & Oxen, and he Asses, men seruants, and maide seruāts, shee Asses, and Camels.

17 But the Lorde plagued Pharao and his house with great plagues, because of Sarai Abrams wife.

18 And Pharao calling Abram, sayde, Why hast thou done this vnto me?

19 Why diddest thou not tell me that shee was thy wife? Why saidest thou, She is my sister, & so I g might haue take her to be my wife? Now therefore beholde, there is thy wife, take her, & go thy way.

g Though Pharao were innocent touching Abram: yet this fact of Pharao declareth that his court was ful of corruption.

20 And Pharao gaue his men commandement concerning him: and they conueyed him forth, and his wife, and all that he had.

1 Abram and Lot depart out of Egypt. 8 Abram deuideth the lande and cattell with Lot his brothers sonne. 14 The promise made to Abram, is renued.

2 And Abram was ‡ very riche in cattell, in siluer, and in golde.

‡ Heb. heauie, or laden.

3 And he went forth on his iourney frō the South, towarde Bethel, vnto the place where his tent had bene at the beginning betweene Bethel and Hai:

4 Vnto the a place of the altar, which hee had made there at the first, and there Abram called on the name of the Lorde.

a Men are delighted with those places where they haue tasted of Gods graces.

5 Lot also, which went with Abram, had sheepe, cattell, and tents.

6 And the lande was not able to beare them, that they might dwell together: for their substance was great, so that they could not dwell together.

7 And there fell a strife betweene ꝑ heardmen of Abrams cattell, and the heardmē of Lots cattell: Moreouer, the Chanaanites, and Pherizites dwelled at that time in the lande.

b Though they dwelt among their enemies, yet the strife was not abated.

8 Then sayde b Abram vnto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, betweene thee & me, and betweene my heardmen and thine: for we c be brethren.

c An example howe to pacify them that are fallen our.

d To yeeld part of mans right, it is a remedie against strife.

10 And so Lot lifting vp his eyes, beheld all all the ‖countrey of Jordane, which was well watered euery where, before the Lorde destroyed Sodome & Gomorrhe, it was as the Garden of the Lorde, like the land of Egypt, as thou commest vnto Soar.

11 Then Lot chose al the plain of Jordane, and toke his iourney from the East, and so c departed the one brother from the other.

c This was done by Gods prouidence, that onely Abram and his seed might dwel in the land of Chanaan.

12 Abram dwelled in the land of Chanaan, and Lot abode in the cities of the plaine, and pitched his tent toward Sodome.

f Lots choise was not verie luckie, who had nowe such neighbours g God comforteth Abram in his griefe, for the departure of Lot.

14 And the Lord said vnto g Abram, after that Lot was departed from him, Lift vp thine eyes now, & looke from the place where thou art, Northwarde, Southward, Eastward, and Westward.

15 For all the land which thou seest, will I giue vnto thee, and to thy seede for euer.

16 And I will make thy seede as the dust of the earth: so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seede also be numbred.

h Though Abrã had no quietnes in this lande, yet he satisfied him selfe with Gods word.

17 Arise, & h walke about in the land, after the length of it, and after the breadth of it: for I will giue it vnto thee.

8 And there went out the king of Sodom, and the king of Gomorrhe, and the king of Adma, and the king of Seboim, and the king of Bela, which is Soar, 13 And there came one that had escaped, and tolde Abram the Hebrue, which dwelled in the plaine of Mamre the Amorite, brother of Eschol, and brother of Aner, which were confederate f with Abram.

f God moued them to ioyne with Abram, and yet preserued him from their idolatrie and superstition.

14 When Abram heard that his brother was taken, hee armed his exercised seruants which were borne in his owne house, three hundred and eightéene, and followed on them vnto Dan.

15 And he and his seruants were parted in companies against them by night, and smote them, and pursued them vnto Hoba, which lyeth on the left hande of Damascus:

16 And recouered all the goods, and also brought againe his brother Lot, and his goods, the women also, and the people.

17 After that hee returned againe from the slaughter of Chodorlaomer, and of the kings that were with him, came the king of Sodome forth to méete him in the valley Saueh, which is the kings dale.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The Lord is Abrams defence and reuarde. 4 God promiseth seede to Abram, 6 and he beleeued, and was iustified. 7 The land of Chanaan is yet againe promised to Abram.

1 After these ‡ things the worde of the Lorde came vnto Abram in a vision, saying, Feare not Abram, a I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great b reuarde.

2 And Abram sayd, Lord, what wilt thou giue me when I go childelesse? the child of the stewardshippe of my house is this Eleazar of Damasco.

3 And Abram sayd, See, to me thou hast giuen no seed: loe, one borne in my house is mine heire.

4 And beholde, the worde of the Lorde came vnto him, saying, Hee shall not be thine heyre: but one that shall come out of thine owne bowels shall bee thine heire.

5 And hee brought him out, and saide, Looke vp to heauen, and tell the starres, if thou bee able to number them. And hee saide vnto him, Euen so shall thy seede be.

6 And Abram beleeued the Lorde, and that counted her to him for righteousnesse.

7 And againe he sayde vnto him, I am the Lorde that brought thee out of Vr of the Chaldees, to giue thee this lande, and that thou mightest inherite it.

8 And he sayde, Lorde God, c whereby shall I knowe that I shall inherite it?

9 He answered vnto him, Take an Heyfer of three yeeres olde, and a thee goate of three yeeres old, and a three yeeres old Ramme, a turtle Doue also, and a yong Pigeon.

10 He tooke therefore all these vnto him, & d deuided them in the middes, and layd euery piece one ouer against another: but the birds deuided he not.

12 And when the sunne was down, there fell a deepe sleepe vpon Abram: and loe, an horrour of great darkenesse fell vpon him.

13 And he sayd vnto Abram, Know this of a suretie, that thy seede shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serue them, and they shall entreate them euill e foure hundred yeeres.

14 But the nation whom they shall serue, will I iudge: and afterwarde shall they come out with great substance.

17 And so it was, that when þ sunne went downe, and it was twylight, beholde, a smoking furnace and a fyrebrande going betweene the said pieces.

5 Abram is called Abraham. 8 The land of Chanaã is promised vnto Abraham the fift time. 12 Circumcision is ordayned. 15 Sarai is named Sara. 16 Isahac is promised againe vnto Abraham. 23 Abraham circumciseth him selfe, Ismael, & his houshold seruantes.

2 And I wil make my couenant betweén me and thée, and will multiplie thée exceedingly.
3 Abram fell on his face, and God talked with him, saying,

14 And the vncircumcised manchilde, in whose flesh the foreskinne is not circumcised, [g] that soule shalbe cut off from his people, because hee hath broken my couenant.
15 And God said vnto Abraham, Sarai thy wife shalt thou not call Sarai, but Sara shall her name be.
16 And I will blesse her, and giue thee a sonne of her: yea, I will blesse her, & thee shalbe a mother of nations, yea and kings of people shall spring of her.
17 But Abraham fell vpon his face, [h] and laughed, & said in his heart, Shall a childe bee borne vnto him that is an hundred yeeres old? and shall Sara that is nintie yeeres olde beare?
18 And Abraham saide vnto God, O that Ismael might liue in thy sight.
19 Vnto whom God said, Sara thy wife shall beare thée a sonne in déede, and thou shalt call his name Isahac: and I will establish my couenant with him for an euerlasting [i] couenant, and with his séede after him.
20 And as concerning Ismael also I haue heard thée: for I haue blessed him, and will make him fruitfull, and will multiplie him exceédingly: Twelue Princes shall he beget, and I will make a great nation of him.
21 But my couenant will I make with Isahac, which Sara shall beare vnto thée, euen this time twelue moneth.

6 And Abraham went apace into the tent, vnto Sara, and sayd, Make readie at once three measures of fine meale, knead it, and make cakes vpon the hearth.
7 And Abraham running vnto his beasts, fet a Calfe, tender and good, and gaue it vnto a yong man: and he hasted to make it readie at once.
8 And he tooke butter, and milke, & the Calfe which he had prepared, and set it before them, and stoode himselfe by them vnder the tree: c and they did eate.
9 And they sayde vnto him, Where is Sara thy wife? He answered, Behold, in the tent.
10 And he sayd, I will certainely returne vnto thee d if I liue: and loe, Sara thy wife shall haue a sonne. That heard Sara in the tent doore, which was behinde him.
11 Abraham and Sara were both olde, and well stricken in age: and it ceased to be with Sara, after the maner as it is with women.
12 Therefore Sara laughed within her selfe, saying, Now I am waxed olde, shall I giue my selfe to lust, and my lord olde also?
13 And God said vnto Abraham, Wherefore did Sara laugh, saying, Shall I of a suretie beare a childe, which am olde?
14 Is any thing ‡ vnpossible to God? According to the time appointed wil I returne vnto thee, if I liue: and Sara shall haue a sonne.
15 Then Sara denied it, saying, I laughed not: for she was afrayde. And he sayde, It is not so, but thou diddest laugh.
16 And the men, rising vp from thence, looked toward Sodome: and Abraham went with thē to bring them on ꝑ way.
17 And the Lord sayd, Shall I hide from Abraham that thing which I doe, 18 Seing that Abraham shall surely be a great and a mightie nation, and all the nations of the earth shalbe blessed in him?
19 I know this also, that he will commaunde his children and his household after him, that they kéepe the way of the Lord, and to do iustice and iudgement, that the Lord may bring vpon Abraham that he hath spoken vnto him.
20 And the Lord sayd, e Because the crye of Sodome & Gomorr he is great, & because their sinne is exceeding grieuous:
21 I wil goe downe now, and sée whether they haue f done altogether according to that crye which is come vnto me: and if not, I will know.
22 And the men departed thence, & went to Sodomewarde: but Abraham stoode yet before the Lord.
23 And Abraham drewe néere, and sayd, Wilt thou also destroye the righteous with the wicked?
24 ‖ If there be g fiftie righteous within the citie, wilt thou destroye, & not spare the place for the fiftie righteous that are therein?
25 That be farre from thée, that thou shouldest do after this maner, and slaye the righteous with the wicked, and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be farre from thée: Shall not the Iudge of all the worlde doe according to right?
26 And the Lord sayd, If I finde in Sodome fiftie righteous within the citie, I will h spare all the place for their sakes.
27 And Abraham answering, sayde, Behold, I haue taken vpon me to speake vnto the Lord, which am dust and ashes:
28 If there shall lacke fiue of fiftie righteous, wilt thou destroye all the citie for lacke of fiue? And he sayde, If I finde there fourtie and fiue, I will not destroy them.
29 And he proceeded to speake vnto him againe, and sayde, What if there shall be fourtie found there? He answered, I will not do it for fourties sake.
30 He sayd vnto him againe, O let not my Lord be angrie that I speake: What if there shall thirtie be found there? And he sayde, I will do nothing if I finde thirtie there.
31 He sayde againe, O sée, I haue taken vpon me to speake now also vnto my Lord: What if there shal be twentie found there? He answered, I will not destroye them for twenties sake.
32 And he sayd, O let not my Lord be angrie, and I wil speake yet but this once: What if tenne shall be found there? He answered, I will not destroye them for tennes sake.
33 And the Lord went his way assoone as he had left communing with Abraham: and Abraham also returned vnto his place.

1 AND there came two Angels to Sodome at euen, and Lot sate at the gate of Sodome: & Lot séeing them, rose vp to meete them, & he bowed himselfe with his face toward the ground.

3 And he pressed vpon them exceedingly: and they returning in vnto him, entred into his house: and he made them a feast, and did bake vnleauened bread, and they did eate.

18 And Lot said vnto them, Oh not so, my lords.

22 Haste thee, and ‖ bee saued there: for I can doe nothing till thou bee come thither. And therefore the name of the citie is Soar.
23 And the Sunne was nowe risen vpon the earth, & Lot was entred into Soar.
24 Then the Lorde rained vpon Sodome and Gomorrhe brimstone and fire, from the Lord out of heauen:
25 And ouerthrewe those cities, and all that plaine region, and all that dwelled in the cities, and that that grewe vpon the earth.
26 But Lots wife following him, looked behinde her, and [k] was turned into a pillar of salte.
27 Abraham rising vp early, got him to the place where hee stoode before the presence of God, 28 And looked towarde Sodome and Gomorrhe, and towarde all the lande of that playne countrey, and beheelde, and loe, the smoke of the countrey arose, as the smoke of a furnace.
29 And it came to passe, that when God destroyed the cities of that region, [l] hee thought vpon Abraham, and sent Lot out from the middest of the ouerthrowe, when he ouerthrewe the cities, in one of the which Lot dwelled.
30 And Lot departed out of Soar, and dwelled in the mountaine, with his two daughters: for he feared to tarie in Soar, but dwelled in a caue, he and his two daughters.

The xx. Chapter.

Abraham dwelleth as a stranger in the lande of Gerar.

1 AND Abraham [a] departed thence toward the South countrey, & dwelled betweene Cades and Sur, and soiourned in Gerar.

a God did thus teach him that he was but a stranger here.

2 And Abraham saide of Sara his wife, [b] She is my sister: And Abimelech king of Gerar sent, and fet Sara away.

b Abrahā once againe glueth more to his owne deuise, then to the prouidence of God.

3 But God came to Abimelech by night in a dreame, and sayd to him, See, [c] thou art but a dead man for the womans sake which thou hast taken away: for she is a mans wife.

c We may learne howe greatly adulterie displeaseth God.

4 But Abimelech had not yet touched her: and hee saide, Lorde, wilt thou slay righteous people?

5 Said not he vnto me, She is my sister? yea, and she her selfe said, He is my brother: with a [d] single heart, and innocent hands haue I done this.

d He did neither purposely nor tyrannically take an other mans wife.

6 And God sayde vnto him in a dreame, I wote well that thou diddest it in the singlenesse of thy heart: I kept thee also that thou shouldest not sinne against me, and therefore suffered I not thee to touch her.

7 Nowe therefore, deliuer the man his wife againe: for he is a Prophete, and he shall pray for thee that thou mayest liue: But and if thou deliuer her not againe, be sure that thou shalt die the death, both thou and all that thou hast.

8 Therefore Abimelech, rising vp betimes in the morning, called all his seruants, and tolde all these sayings in their eares: and the men were sore afrayde.

9 Then Abimelech called Abraham, and said vnto him, What hast thou done vnto vs? & what haue I offended thee, that thou hast brought on mee and on my [e] kingdome so great a sinne? thou hast done deedes vnto mee, that ought not to be done.

e The wickednesse of the king bringeth Gods wrath vpon the whole realme.

10 And Abimelech saide vnto Abraham, What sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing?

11 Abraham answered, For I ‖ thought thus, Surely, the feare of God is not in this place: and they shall slay me for my wiues sake.

‖ Or, sayde.

12 Yet in verie deede shee is my sister: for she is the daughter of my father, though she bee not the daughter of my mother, and she became my wife.

13 And after God caused mee to wander out of my fathers house, I said vnto her, This kindnes shalt thou shewe vnto me in all places where we come, that thou say of me, He is my brother.

14 Then tooke Abimelech sheepe and oxen, men seruants, & women seruants, and gaue them vnto Abraham, and delinered him Sara his wife againe.

15 And Abimelech said, Behold, my land lieth before thee, dwell where it pleaseth thee best.

16 But vnto Sara he sayde, See, I haue giuen thy brother a thousand pieces of siluer: beholde, it is a couering of thine eyes vnto all that are with thee, and to all other: and thus thee was [f] reproued.

f God caused this heathen king to reproue her, because she dissembled, calling her husband Abraham her brother.

17 And so Abraham prayed vnto God: & God healed Abimelech, & his wife, and his maydens, and they bare children.

18 For the Lorde had [g] closed vp all the wombes of the house of Abimelech, because of Abrahams wife.

g God had taken away from them the gift of conceiuing.

The xxi. Chapter.

Isahac is borne. 14 Hagar is cast out, with her yong sonne Ismael. 17 The Angell comforteth her.

1 THe Lorde visited Sara, as hee had promised, and did vnto her according as he had spoken.

2 For Sara conceiued, and bare Abraham a sonne in his olde age, the same season which the Lord had appointed.

3 And Abraham [a] called his sonnes name that was borne vnto him, which Sara bare him, ‡ Isahac.

4 And Abraham circumcised his sonne Isahac, when he was ‡ eight dayes olde, as God commanded him.

‡ Heb. the sonne of eight dayes.

5 And Abraham was an hundred yéeres olde, when his sonne Isahac was borne vnto him.

6 But Sara sayde, God hath made ‡ me to reioyce, so that all that heare, will ioy with me.

‡ Heb. To me a laughter.

7 She saide also, Who would haue sayde vnto Abraham, that Sara should [b] haue giuen children sucke? for I haue borne him a sonne in his olde age.

b It is the duetie of the mother, if she may, to nurse her childe, as appeareth, 1. Tim. 5.

8 The childe grew, and was weaned: and Abraham made a great feast the same day that Isahac was weaned.

9 Sara sawe also the sonne of Hagar the Egyptian, which she had borne vnto Abraham, to be a [c] mocker.

c Ismael mocked Gods promise made to Isahac, which the Apostle calleth persecution, Gal. 4. 29.

10 Wherefore she said vnto Abraham, Cast out this bondwoman, and her sonne: for the sonne of this bonde woman, shall not be heire with my sonne Isahac.

11 And this saying was verie grieuous in Abrahams sight, because of his sonne.

12 And God sayde vnto Abraham, Let it not be grieuous in thy sight, because of the lad, and of thy bonde woman: In all that Sara hath sayde vnto thee, heare her voyce: for in Isahac shall thy seede be called.

13 Moreouer, of the sonne of the bonde woman will I make a nation: because he is thy seede.

14 And so [d] Abraham rose vp earely in the morning, and tooke bread, and a bottel of water, and gaue it vnto Hagar, putting it on her shoulder, and the lad also, and sent her away: who departing, wandered vp and downe in the wildernesse of ‡ Beer-seba.

d Abraham truly denieth himselfe, in submitting his natural affection to the will of God.

‡ Sheba.

15 And

15 And the water was spent in the bottel, and she cast the lad vnder some one of the trees:
16 And went and sate on the otherside a great way, as it were a bowe shoote off: for she sayd, I will not see the death of the childe. And she sitting downe on the otherside, lift vp her voyce, and wept.
17 And God e heard the voyce of the lad, and the Angel of God called to Hagar out of heauen, and sayd vnto her, What ayleth thee, Hagar? feare not: for God hath heard the voyce of the lad where he lyeth.
18 Arise, and lift vp the lad, and take him in thine hand: for I will make of him a great people.
19 And God f opened her eyes, and she sawe a well of water, and she went and filled the bottell with water, and gaue the lad drinke.
20 And g God was with the lad: and he grewe, and dwelt in the wildernesse, and became a principall archer.
21 And he dwelt in the wildernesse of Paran: and his mother got him a wife, out of the land of Egypt.
22 And at the same season, Abimelech & Phicol his chiefe captaine spake vnto Abraham, saying, God is with thee in all that thou doest:
23 And now therefore, sweare vnto mée here by God, that thou wilt not ‡ hurt me, nor my children, nor my childrens children: but that thou shalt deale with me, and the countrey where thou hast bene a straunger, according vnto the kindnesse that I haue shewed thee.
24 And Abraham sayd, I will h sweare.
25 And Abraham rebuked Abimelech for a well of water, which Abimelechs seruants had violently taken away.
26 And Abimelech sayd, I wot not who hath done this thing: also thou toldest me not, neither heard I of it but this day.
27 And Abraham tooke sheepe and oxen, and gaue them vnto Abimelech: and they made both of them a league together.
28 And Abraham set seuen ewe lambes by them selues.
29 And Abimelech sayd vnto Abraham, What meane these seuen ewe lambes, which thou hast set by them selues?
30 He answered, For these seuen ewe lambes shalt thou take of my hand, that they may be a witnes vnto me, that I haue digged this well.
31 Wherefore the place is called i Beer seba: because that there they sware both of them.
32 Thus made they a k league together at Beer seba: and Abimelech and Phicol his chiefe captaine rose vp, and turned againe into the lande of the Philistines.
33 And Abraham planted a wood in Beer seba, and l called there on the name of the Lord the euerlasting God.
34 And Abraham soiourned in the Philistines lande a long season.

1. 2 The faith of Abraham is tried in offering his sonne Isahac. 8 Isahac is a figure of Christ.

1 AFter these ||sayings, God did a tempt Abraham, and said vnto him, Abraham. Which answered, Here I am.
2 And he sayd, b Take thy sonne, thine only sonne Isahac whom thou louest, & get thee vnto the lande of c Moriah: and d offer him there for a whole burnt offring, vpon one of the mountaines which I will shew thee.

4 The third daye Abraham lift vp his eyes, and sawe the place a farre off:
5 And sayde vnto his yong men, Bide here with the Asse, I and the lad wil go and worship, and come againe to you.
6 And Abraham tooke the wood of the whole burnt offering, and layd it vpon Isahac his sonne: but he him selfe tooke fire in his hand, || and a knife: and they went both of them together.

8 Abraham answered, My sonne, God wil prouide a beast for a whole burnt sacrifice: and so they went both together.
9 And whē they came to the place which God had shewed him, Abraham built an altar there, and dressed the wood, and bound Isahac his sonne, and layd him on the altar aboue vpon the wood.

12 And Abraham bowed him selfe before the people of the lande, 13 And spake vnto Ephron in the audience of ṗ people of the countrey, saying, If thou wilt giue it, then I pray thee heare me, I will giue siluer for the fielde, take it of mée, and I will burie my dead therein.
14 Ephron answered Abraham, saying vnto him,
15 My Lorde, hearken vnto me: The lande is worth foure hundred d sicles of siluer, what is that betwixt thee and me? burie therefore thy dead.
16 And Abraham hearkened vnto Ephron, and weighed him the siluer which he had spoken in the audience of the sonnes of Heth, euen foure hundred siluer sicles of currant money among Marchants.
17 And the fielde of Ephron in Machpelah, which was before Mamre, euen the field, and the caue that was therein, and all the trees that were in the fielde, and that were in all the borders round about, was made sure 19 After this did Abraham burie Sara his wife in the double caue of the fielde that lieth before Mamre, the same is Hebron in the lande of Chanaan.

The xxiiii. Chapter.

2 Abraham causeth his seruant to sweare to take a wife for Isahac of his owne kinred.

1 ANd Abraham was olde and striken in dayes: and the Lorde had blessed Abraham in all things.
2 And Abraham sayd vnto his eldest seruant of his house, which had the rule ouer all that he had, Put a thy hande vnder my thigh:
3 And I will make thée sweare by the Lorde God of heauen, and God of the earth, that thou shalt not take a wife vnto my sonne, of ṗ daughters of the Chananites, amongst which I dwell:
4 But thou shalt goe vnto my countrey, and to b my kinred, and take a wife vnto my sonne Isahac.
5 But the seruant sayd vnto him, Peraduenture the woman will not agree to come with mée vnto this lande, shall I bring thy sonne againe vnto the lande which thou camest out of?
6 To whome Abraham answered, Beware that thou bring not my sonne thither againe.

8 Neuertheleſſe, if the woman will not folow thee, then ſhalt thou be cleare from this my othe: onely bring not my ſonne thither againe.

9 And the ſeruant put his hand vnder the thigh of Abrahám his maſter, and ſware to him as concerning that matter.

10 And the ſeruant toke tenne Camels, of the Camels of his maſter, and departed, (and had of all maner of goods of his maſter with him) and ſo hee arose and went to ‡ Melopotamia, vnto the citie of Nachor, ‡ Heb. Aram Naharaim: that is, Syria of the two floods.

11 And made his Camels to lye downe without the citie, by a welles ſide of water, at Euen, about the time that women come to drawe water.

e He groundeth his prayer vpon Gods promiſe made to his maſter.

12 And he ſayd, Lorde e God of my maſter Abrahám, I pray ‡ thee ſende mee good ſpeede this day, and ſhewe mercie vnto my maſter Abrahám.

‡ Make to meete before me to day.

13 Loe, I ſtande here by the well of water, and the daughters of the men of this citie come out to drawe water:

d The ſeruant moued by Gods ſpirite, deſired to be aſſured by a ſigne, whether he ſhould ſpeede of his meſſage, or not.

14 d Now let the damſell to whome I ſay, Bowe downe thy pitcher I pray thee that I may drinke: If ſhe ſay alſo, Drinke, and I will giue thy Camels drinke alſo: let the ſame be ihe that thou haſt ordeyned for thy ſeruant Iſahac, and thereby ſhall I knowe that thou haſt ſhewed mercie on my maſter.

15 And it came to paſſe per he had left ſpeaking, behold, Rebecca came out, the daughter of Bethuel ſonne of Milcha, the wife of Nachor Abrahams brother, and her pitcher vpon her ſhoulder.

16 The damſel was very fayre to looke vpon, and yet a mayde, and vnknowen of man: and ſhee went downe to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came vp.

17 And the ſeruant running to meete her, ſayd, Let mee, I pray thee, drinke a litle water of thy pitcher.

18 And ſhe ſayde, Drinke my Lorde. And ſhe haſted, and let downe her pitcher vpon her arme, and gaue him drinke.

19 And when ihee had giuen him drinke, ſhe ſayd, I will drawe water for thy Camels alſo, vntill they ‖ haue drunke ynough.

‖ Or, ceaſſe to drinke.

20 And ſhee powred out her pitcher into the trough haſtily, and ranne againe vnto the well to drawe water, and drewe for all his Camels.

21 And the man wondered at her, but held his peace: to wit whether the Lorde had made his iourney proſperous, or not.

22 And as the Camels had left drinking, the man toke a golden earering of halfe a ſicle weight, and two bracelets for her handes, of ten ſicles weight of golde, 23 And ſayde, Whoſe daughter art thou? tell me, I pray thee: is there rome in thy fathers houſe for vs to lodge in?

24 She anſwered him, I am the daughter of Bethuel the ſonne of Milcha, which ſhe bare vnto Nachor:

25 And ſayde moreouer vnto him, We haue litter and prouender ynough, and alſo rome to lodge in,

26 And the man bowed him ſelfe, and worſhipped the Lorde,

27 And ſayd, Bleſſed be the Lord God of my maſter Abrahám, which hath not left deſtitute my maſter of his mercie & trueth: for when I was e on my iourney, the Lord brought me to my maſters brothers houſe.

e Such thinges as happen in mens iourneyes, are gouerned by the prouidence of God.

28 And the damſell ranne, and tolde them of her mothers houſe theſe things.

29 And Rebecca had a brother called Laban: and he ranne out vnto the man to the well.

30 For aſſoone as hee had ſeene the eare-rings, and the bracelets in his ſiſters hande, and heard the wordes of Rebecca his ſiſter, ſaying, Thus ſayde the man vnto me: he went out vnto the man, and loe, hee ſtoode with the Camels by the welles ſide:

31 And he ſayde, Come in, thou bleſſed of þ Lord, wherefore ſtandeſt thou without? I haue dreſſed the houſe, and rome for thy Camels.

32 And then the man came into þ houſe: and he vnharneſſed þ Camels, & brought litter and prouender for the Camels, and water to waſh his feete, and the mens feete that were with him.

33 And there was ſet meate before him to eate: f but he ſayd, I will not eate, vntill I haue ſayd mine errande. And he ſayd, Say on.

f In Abrahams ſeruant is ſet forth the condition of faithfull ſeruants.

34 And he ſayd, I am Abrahams ſeruant,

35 And g God hath bleſſed my maſter marueilouſly, that he is become great: and hath giuen him ſheepe and oxen, ſiluer and gold, men ſeruants, and maid-ſeruants, Camels and Aſſes.

g To bleſſe, ſignifieth here to enrich and to encreaſe with ſubſtance.

36 And Sara my maſters wife bare a ſonne to my maſter when ſhe was olde: and vnto him hath hee giuen all that hee hath.

37 And my maſter made me ſweare, ſaying, Thou ſhalt not take a wife to my ſonne amongſt the daughters of þ Chanaanites in whoſe land I dwell:

38 But thou ſhalt goe vnto my fathers houſe, and to my kinred, and take a wife vnto my ſonne.

39 And I ſayd vnto my maſter, Peradventure the woman will not folowe me.

40 And he anſwered me. The Lord, before whome I walke, will ſende his angell with thee, and proſper thy iourney: and thou ſhalt take a wife for my ſonne of my kinred, and of my fathers houſe.

41 Then ſhalt thou be free from this othe made to mee, when thou commeſt to my kinred: and if they giue not thee one, thou ſhalt be free from this othe made to mee.

42 And ſo I came this day vnto the well,

and

and said, [b] O Lord, the God of my master Abrahám, if it be so nowe that thou makest my iourney which I go prosperous, 43 Behold, I stand by the wel of water: and when a virgin commeth forth to drawe water, and I say to her, Giue me I pray thee a litle water of thy pitcher to drinke:
44 And she say to me, Drinke thou, and I will also drawe for thy Camels: let the same be the woman whome the Lorde hath prepared for my masters sonne.
45 And before I had made an ende of speaking in mine heart, beholde Rebecca came forth and her pitcher on her shoulder: and she went downe vnto the well, & drewe water: and I said vnto her, Giue me drinke, I pray thee.
46 And she made haste, and tooke downe her pitcher from her shoulder and sayde, Drinke, and I will giue thy Camels drinke also. So I dranke, and she gaue the Camelles drinke also.
47 And I asked her, saying, Whose daughter art thou? She answered, The daughter of Bethuel, Nachors sonne, whome Milcha bare vnto him: and I put the rearing ‡vpon her face, and the braceletes vpon her hands.
48 And [i] I bowed my selfe, and worshipped the Lord, & blessed the Lorde God of my master Abrahã, which had brought me þ right way to take my masters brothers daughter vnto his sonne.
49 Now also if yee will consent to deale mercifully and truely with my master, tell me: [k] and if not, tell mee also, that I may turne mee to the [l] right hande, or to the left.
50 Then answered Laban & Bethuel, saying, This saying proceedeth of the Lord: we cannot therefore say vnto thee either good or bad.
51 Behold Rebecca is before thee, take her, and goe, that she may bee thy masters sonnes wife, euen as God hath sayde.
52 And when Abrahams seruant hearde their words, hee worshipped the Lorde, bowing himselfe toward the earth.
53 And the seruant tooke forth ‡ iewels of siluer, and iewels of golde, and rayment, and gaue them to Rebecca, and to her brother, and to her mother hee gaue ‡costly giftes.
54 And they did eate and drinke, both he and the men that were with him, & tarryed all night: and when they rose vp in the morning, he sayde, Let me depart vnto my master.
55 Her brother and her mother answered, Let the damsel abide with vs, and it bee but ten dayes, and then shall she goe.
56 He said vnto them, Hinder me not: beholde, the Lord hath prospered my iourney: send me away therefore, that I may goe to my master.
57 And they sayd, [m] We wil call the damsel, and enquire ‖at her mouth.
58 And they called forth Rebecca, and sayde vnto her, Wilt thou goe with this man? And she answered, I wil goe.
59 So they let Rebecca their sister goe, & her nurse, and Abrahams seruant, and his men, 60 And they blessed Rebecca, and said vnto her, Thou art our sister, growe vnto thousand thousands: and thy seed [n] possesse the gate of his enemies.
61 And Rebecca arose, and her damsels, & gate them vp vpon the Camels, and followed the man: and the seruant tooke Rebecca, & went his way.
62 And Isahac was comming from the way of the wel of the liuing and seeing me: for he dwelt in the South countrey.
63 And Isahac was [o] gone out to pray in þ field at the euentide: and he lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Camels comming.
64 And Rebecca lift vp her eyes, and whe she sawe Isahac, she lighted off þ Camel.
65 (For she sayd vnto the seruant, What man is this that commeth walking against vs in the fielde? And the seruant sayde, It is my master:) therefore shee tooke her [p] vaple, and couered her.
66 And the seruant told Isahac all things that he had done.
67 And Isahac brought her into his mother Saras tent, and tooke Rebecca, and she became his wife, and he loued her: & so Isahac receiued comfort after his mother.

5 But Rebecca heard when Isahac spake to Esau his sonne: And Esau went into the field to hunt venison, and to bring it.

6 And Rebecca spake vnto Jacob her sonne, saying, Behold, I haue heard thy father talking with Esau thy brother, and saying,

18 And why? they see him, and despise him, therefore shall God also laugh them to scorne.

19 So that they themselues shal die hereafter without honour, yea, in shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voyce shall he burst those that be puft vp, and shake them from the foundations, so that they shalbe laide as vterly wasted: they shalbe in sorowe, and their memoriall perish.

20 So they shall come afrayde in remembrance of their sinnes, and their owne iniquities before their face shall conuince them.

The v. Chapter.

1 The constantnesse of the righteous before their persecutors. 14 The hope of the vnfaithfull is vaine. 15 The blessednesse of the saints and godly.

1 THen shal the righteous stād in great boldnesse before the face of such as haue dealt extremely with them, & taken away their labours.

2 When they see it, they shall bee vexed with horrible feare, and shall wonder at his health, so farre beyond all that they looked for.

3 And changing their opinion, with groning for the rednesse of minde, they shall say, This is he whom sometime we had in derision, and iested vpon.

Wisd.3.3. 4 * Wee fooles thought his life verie madnesse, and his ende to bee without honour:

5 But lo how hee is counted among the children of God, and his portion is among the saints.

6 Therefore haue we erred from the way of trueth, the light of righteousnesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstanding rose not vpon vs.

7 Wee haue wearyed our selues in the way of wickednesse and destruction, yea, we haue gone thorowe tedious deserts, but as for the way of the Lord, we haue not knowen it.

8 What good hath pride done vnto vs? or what profit hath the pompe of riches brought vs?

1.Chro.19.15. 9 *All those things are passed away like a shadow, and as a Poste that hasteth by:

10 As a ship that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof can not be found, neither the path of it in the floods:

Pro.30.19. 11 *Or as a birde that flieth thorow in the aire, and no man can see any token where she is flowen, but onely heareth the noise of her winges, beating the light winde, parting the aire through the vehemencie of her going, and flieth on shaking her wings, whereas afterwarde no token of her way can be found:

12 Or like as when an arrowe is shotte at a marke, it parteth the ayre, which immediately commeth together againe, so that a man cannot knowe where it went thorow:

13 Euen so we in like maner, as soone as we were borne, began immediately to drawe to our ende, and haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednesse.

14 Such wordes they that haue sinned speake in the hell: This verse is onely in the olde interpreter.

15 For the hope of the * vngodly is like a ‖drie thistle flowre that is blowen away with ꝑ wind, like a thinne ‖scumme that is scattered abroade with the storme, like as the smoke which is dispersed here and there with the wind, and as the remembrance of a stranger that tarieth but a day, and then departeth. Job.8.9. ‖Or, dust. ‖Or, some.

16 But the * righteous shall liue for euermore, their rewarde also is with the Lorde, and the care for them is with the highest. Psal.39.5.

17 Therefore shall they receiue a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lords hand: for with his right hand shall he couer them, and with his arme shall he defend them.

18 * His iealousie also shal take on harnesse, and he shall arme the creature to be reuenged of his enemies. Psal.17.9.

19 * Hee shall put on righteousnesse for a breastplate, and take vnfaigned iudgement in steade of an helmet. Ephe.6.13.

20 The inuincible shield of equitie shal he take.

21 His fierce wrath shall he sharpen for a sworde, and the whole compasse of the worlde shall fight with him against the vnwise.

22 Then shall the thunder boltes go ‖right out of the lightnings, and come as out of the well bent bowe of the cloudes, to the place appointed. ‖Or, straight.

23 And as frō an angrie caster of stones, there shall fall thicke hayles, and the water of the sea shall be wroth against them, and the floods shall runne roughly together.

24 Yea, a mightie winde shall stand vp against them, and a storme shall scatter them abroade: thus vnrighteous dealing shall bring all the land to a wildernesse, and wickednesse shall ouerthrowe the ropall ‖ seates of the mightie. ‖Or, thrones.

The vi. Chapter.

1 The calling of Kings, Princes, and Iudges, which are also exhorted to search wisedome.

1 WIsdome is *better then strength: and a man of vnderstanding is more worth then one strong. This verse is onely in the olde interpreter.

2 Heare therefore (O ye kings) and vnderstand, O learne, ye that be iudges of the endes of the earth. Pro.16.32.

3 Giue eare, ye that rule the multitudes, and glorie in the number of peoples.

4 * For the power is giuen you of the Lord, and the strength from the highest, which shall trie your workes, and search out your imaginations: Rom.13.1.

5 Yowe that yee being officers of his kingdome, haue not giuen true iudgement, haue not kept the law of righteousnesse, neſſe, nor walked after the will of God.

6 Horribly, and that right ſoone, ſhall he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement ſhall they haue that beare rule.
7 Mercy is granted vnto the loweſt: but they that be in authoritie, ſhall bee ſore puniſhed.
Deut.10.17. 8 *For he which is Lorde ouer all, ſhall ‖accept no mans perſon, neither ſhall he ſtand in awe of any mans greatneſſe: for he hath made the ſmall and great, and careth for all alike.
‖Or, feare, or, ſpare.
9 But the mightie ſhall haue the ſorer tryall.
10 Vnto you therefore (O ye kings) doe I ſpeake, that ye may learne wiſedome, and not goe amiſſe.
11 For they that kéepe ‖holineſſe holily, ſhalbe iudged holy: and they that haue learned ſuch things, ſhall finde defence.
‖Or, holy things.
‖Or, couet my wordes. ‖Or, be inſtructed or learned. 12 Wherefore ‖ſet your delight vpon my wordes, and deſire them, ſo ſhall ye ‖come by nurture.
13 Wiſedome is a noble thing, and neuer fadeth away: yea, ſhee is eaſily ſéene of them that loue her, and found of ſuch as ſéeke her.
14 She preuenteth them that deſire her, that ſhe may ſhew her ſelfe vnto them.
15 Whoſo awaketh vnto her betimes, ſhal haue no great trauaple: for he ſhall finde her ſitting readp at his dores.
16 To thinke therefore vpon her, is perfect vnderſtanding: and whoſo watcheth for her, ſhall quickely bée diſpatched of care.
17 For ſhe goeth about ſéeking ſuch as are méete for her, ſheweth herſelfe chearefully vnto them ‖in their goings, and méeteth them with ‖all diligence.
‖Or, in their wayes. ‖Or, euery thought
18 For the vnfained deſire of ‖reformation is her beginning: ‖Or, diſcipline. to care for nurture, is loue:
19 And loue is the kéeping of her lawes: and the keeping of her lawes, is the aſſurance of immortalitie:
20 And immortalitie maketh a man familiar with God.
21 And ſo the deſire of wiſedome leadeth to the kingdome euerlaſting.
Num.27.16. 22 *If your delight bee then in ropall ſeates and ſcepters, (O ye kings of the people) ſet your ‖luſt vpon wiſedome, that ye may reigne for euermore.
‖Or, honour.
This verſe is onely in the olde interpreter. 23 O loue the light of wiſedome, al ye that be rulers of the people.
24 As for wiſdome, what ſhe is, and how ſhe came vp, I will tell you, and will not hide the myſteries of God from you: but will ſeeke her out from the beginning of her natiuitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not kéepe backe the trueth.
25 Neither will I haue to do with conſuming enuie: for ſuch a man ſhall not bée partaker of wiſedome.
26 But the multitude of the wiſe is the welfare of the worlde: and a wiſe king is the ‖vpholding of the people.
‖Or, ſtay.
27 O receiue nurture then through my words, and it ſhall do you good.

The vii. Chapter.

Wiſedome ought to be preferred aboue all things.

1 I My ſelfe alſo am a mortal man, like as all other, & am come of the earthly generation of him that was firſt made,
2 And in my * mothers woombe was faſhioned to be fleſh in the time of ten moneths, being brought together in blood, through the ſéede of man, & the pleaſure that came with ſléepe. Iob.10.10.
3 And when I was borne, I receiued like ayre as other men, and fell vpō the earth which is of like nature, crying and weeping at the firſt as all other doe.
4 I was wrapped in ſwadling clothes, and brought vp with cares.
5 For there is no king that hath had any other beginning of byrth:
6 *All men then haue one entrance vnto life, and one going out in like maner. Iob.1.21. 1.tim.6.7.
7 Wherefore I deſired, and vnderſtanding was giuē me: I called, and the ſpirit of wiſedome came into me.
8 I ſet more by her, then by kingdomes and ropal ſeates, and counted riches nothing in compariſon of her.
9 *As for precious ſtone, I compared it not vnto her, for all golde is but a litle grauell vnto her, and ſiluer ſhalbe counted but clay before her ſight. Iob.28.15.
10 I loued her aboue ‖welfare and beautie, & purpoſed to take her for my light: for her light can not be quenched. ‖Or, health.
11 *All good things together came to me 3.Reg.3.13. with her, and innumerable riches thorowe her hands.
12 And I was glad in all things, becauſe wiſedome went before them: & I knewe not that ſhe was the mother of them.
13 And I my ſelfe learned vnfainedly, and make other men partakers of her without enuie, & hide her riches frō no man.
14 For ſhe is an infinite treaſure vnto mē: which who ſo vſe, become partakers of ꝑ loue and frēdſhip of God, & are accepted vnto him for the giftes of ‖wiſedome. ‖Or, knowledge.
15 God hath graunted me to ſpeake what my minde conceiueth, and to thinke as is méete for the things that are giuē me: for it is hee that leadeth vnto wiſedome, and teacheth to vſe wiſedome aright.
16 For in his hand are both wee and our wordes, yea, all our wiſedome & knowledge of his workes.
17 For he hath giuen mee the true ſcience of the things that are, ſo that I knowe howe the world was made, & the powers of the elements:
18 The beginning, ending, and middeſt of the times, howe the times alter, howe one goeth after another, and howe they are fulfilled,
19 The courſe of the yeere, the ordinances of the ſtarres,
20 The natures of liuing things, the furiouſneſſe of beaſtes, the power of the windes, the imaginations of men, the diuerſities of yong plantes, the vertues of rootes:

21 And

21 And all such thinges as are eyther secrete or manifest, them haue I learned.
22 For wisedome, which is the worker of all things, hath taught me: for in her is the spirite of vnderstanding, which is holy, one onely, manifold, subtile, ‖quick, mouing, cleare, vndefiled, playne, sweete, louing the thing that is good, sharpe, which can not be letted, doing good,
23 Kinde to man, stedfast, sure, free from care, hauing all ‖vertues, circumspect in all things, and passing through all vnderstanding, cleane and subtile spirites.
24 For wisedome is nimbler then all nimble things, she goeth through out, and attayneth to all things, because of her cleanenesse.
25 *For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowing from the glory of the almightie God: therefore can no defiled thing come to her.
26 For *she is the brightnesse of the euerlasting light, the vndefiled mirror of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnesse.
27 And being but one, she can do all things: and remayning in her selfe, she renueth all, and in all ages of times entring into holy soules, she maketh Gods friendes, and Prophets:
28 For God loueth none, if hee dwel not with wisedome.
29 For she is more beautifull then the sunne, ‖and ouerly more light then the starres, and the day is not to be cõpared vnto her.
30 For vpon ‖the day commeth night: but wickednesse can not ouercome wisedome.

‖Or, liuely.

The viii. Chapter.

The effects of wisedome.

1 WIsedome reacheth from one end to another mightily, & ‖louingly doeth she order all things.
2 I haue loued her, and ‖laboured for her from my youth vp: I did my diligence to marrie my selfe with her, such loue had I vnto her beautie.
3 That thee hath the companie of God, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lorde of all things himselfe loueth her.
4 For she is the schoolemistresse of the knowledge of God, and the chuser out of his workes.
5 If ‖a man woulde desire riches in this life, what is richer then wisedome that worketh al things?
6 For if prudencie worke, what is it among all things that worketh better?
7 And if a man loue righteousnesse, her labours are but vertues: For why? shee teacheth sobernesse and prudence, ‖righteousnesse and strength which are such things as men can haue nothing more profitable in their life.
8 If a man desire much ‖knowledge, shee can tell the things that are past, and discerne things for to come: shee knoweth the subtilties of words, and can expound darke sentences: she foreseeth tignes and wonders or euer they come to passe, and the ‖ endes of all times and ages.
9 Therefore I purposed after this maner: I will take her into my company, that she may liue with me, knowing for certaintie she shall giue mee good counsell, & speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and griefe.
10 For her sake shal I be well and honestly taken among the commons, and with honor among the elders, though I bee yong.
11 I shall be found to be of sharpe iudgement, so that I shalbe marueilous in the sight of great men: ‡ and the faces of princes shall wonder at me.
12 When I holde my tongue, they shall bide my leasure, and whē I speake, they shall giue good eare vnto mee, and if I talke much, they shall lay their handes vpon their mouth.
13 Moreouer, by the meanes of her, I shall obteine immortalitie, and leaue behinde me an euerlasting memorial amõg them that come after me.
14 ‖ I shall set the people in order, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me.
15 Horrible tyrants shalbe afrayde when they do but heare of me, amõg the multitude I shalbe counted good, and mightie in battell.
16 When I come home, I shall finde rest with her: for her company hath no bitternesse, and her felowship hath no tediousnesse, but mirth and ioy.
17 Now when I considered these things by my selfe, and pondered them in my heart, howe that to be ioyned vnto wisedome is immortalitie,
18 And great pleasure to haue her friendship, and that in the workes of her hãds are infinite riches, and that whosoe ‖ keepeth company with her, shalbe wise, and that hee which talketh with her shall come to honour: I went about seeking howe to get her vnto me.
19 For I was a lad of ripe wit, and had a good ‖vnderstanding.
20 ‖But when I grewe to more vnderstanding, I came to an vndefiled body.
21 Neuertheless, when I perceiued that I could not enioy it, except God gaue it me, and that was a point of wisedome also to knowe whose gift it was, I stepped vnto the Lorde, and besought him, and with my whole heart I saide after this maner.

‖Or, if riches be a possession that a man would desire.
‖Or, iustice and manhood.
‖Or, much experience.
‖Or, succesſe of times.
‡This part of the eleuenth verse is onely in the olde translation.
‖Or, I shall gouerne the people.
‖Or, exercised talke with her.
‖Or, spirite with me.
Or, yea rather being good.

The xi. Chapter.

A prayer of Solomon to obteine wisedome.

1 O God of ‖my fathers, and Lorde of mercie, thou hast made all things with thy worde,
2 And ordeined man through thy wisedome, that hee should haue dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made,
3 That he should ‖order the world according to equitie and righteousnesse, and execute iudgement with a ‖true heart:
4 * Giue me wisedome, which is euer sitting about thy seate, and put me not out from

not my tongue by night.
44 In fourtie dayes they wrote two hundred and fourtie bookes.
45 And it came to passe, when the fourtie daies were fulfilled, that ꝺ̄ highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthie and unworthy may reade it:
46 But keepe the seuentie last, that thou mayest deliuer them onely to such as be wise among the people.
47 For in them is the spring of understanding, the fountaine of wisedome, and the streame of knowledge.
48 And I did so.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The prophecie of Esdras is certaine. 5 The euils that shall come on the world. 9 The Lorde will auenge the innocent blood.

1 BEholde, speake thou in the eares of my people the words of prophecie, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord,
2 And cause them to bee written in a letter: for ‖ it is the trueth.
3 Feare not the imaginations against thee, let not the unfaithfulnesse of them trouble thee, that speake against thee:
For all the unfaithfull shall die in their unfaithfulnesse.
5 Behold, (sayth the Lorde) I will bring plagues vpō the world, the sword, hunger, death, and destruction:
6 For wickednesse hath the vpper hand in all the earth, & their shamefull workes are fulfilled:
7 Therefore sayth the Lord,
8 I will hold my tongue no more of their wickednesse, which they doe so vngodly, neither will I suffer them in the things that they deale withall so wickedly: behold, * the innocent and righteous blood crieth vnto mee, and the soules of the iust complaine continually.
9 And therefore, sayth the Lorde, I will surely auenge, and receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.
10 Behold, my people is ledde as a flocke of sheepe to bee slaine, I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt:
11 But will bring them out with a mightie hande, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore, and will destroy all the land of it.
12 Egypt shall mourne, and the foundatiōs of it shalbe smitten with the plague and punishment that GOD shall bring vpon it.
13 They that till the ground shal mourne, for their seedes shalbe destroyed through the blasting and hayle, and by an horrible starre.
14 Woe worth the world, and them that dwell therein:
15 For the sworde and their destruction draweth nigh, and one people shall stand vp to fight against another, and swordes in their hands.
16 ‖ For men shall be vnstedfast, and some shall do violence vnto other, they shal not regarde their king, and the princes shall measure ꝑ way of their doings by their power.
17 A man shall desire to go into a citie, and shall not be able.
18 For because of their pride, the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall tremble, and men shall be afrayde.
19 A man shall haue no pitie vpon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoyle their goods, because of the ‖ hunger of bread, and because of the great trouble.
20 Beholde, saith God, I call together all the kings of the earth to reuerence mee, which are from the ‖ vprising, from the South, from the East, and Libanus, to turne vpon them, and restore the things that they haue done to them:
21 Like as they doe yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I doe also, and recompence them in their bosome: Thus sayth the Lord God.
22 My right hande shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease ouer them that shed the innocent blood vpon earth.
23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the strawe that is kindled.
24 Woe worth them that sinne, and kéepe not my commandements, saith the Lord
25 I will not spare them: go your way ye children from the power, defile not my sanctuarie:
26 For the Lorde knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.
27 For nowe are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye shal remaine in them: for God shall not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.
28 Beholde, an horrible vision commeth from the East,
29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many charets, and the multitude of them shall bée caried as the winde vpon earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble.
30 Euen the Carmanies raging in wrath, shall goe forth as the wilde boyes of the forest, and with great power shall they come, and stand fighting with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians.
31 And then shall the dragons haue the vpper hand, and remembring their nature, shall turne about, conspiring together in great power to persecute them.
32 Then these shalbe troubled, and kéepe silence in their power, and shall flée:
33 And from the lande of the Assyrians shall the enemie besiege them, and consume some of them, & in their host shalbe feare and dread, and strife among their kings.
34 Behold clouds from the East, and from the North vnto the South, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and storme:

35 They shall smite one vpon another, and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blood shall bée from the sword vnto the belly,
36 And the doung of man vnto the camels litter,
37 And there shall be great fearefulnesse and trembling vpon earth: and they that sée the wrath, shall be afrayde, and trembling shall come vpon them:
38 And then shall there come great raines from the South, and from the North, and part from the West:
39 And strong windes shall arise from the East, and shall open it, and the cloude which hee raysed vp in wrath, and the starre stirred to cause feare towarde the East and West winde, shalbe destroyed:
40 The great cloudes shall be lift vp, and the mightie cloudes full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth afraide, and them that dwell therein, and that they may powre out ouer euery high place an horrible starre,
41 Fire, and hayle, and flying swordes, and many waters: that all fieldes may be full, and al riuers, with the abundance of great waters.
42 And they shal breake downe the cities, & walles, mountaines, and hilles, trees of the wood, & the grasse of the medowes, and all their corne.
43 And they shall goe stedfast vnto Babylon, and make her afrayde.
44 They shal come to her, and besiege her, the ‖ starre and al wrath shall they powre out vpon her, then shall the dust & smoke go vp vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her, shall bewayle her:
45 And they that remaine vnder her, shall doe seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.
46 And thou Asia, that comfortest thy selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:
47 Wo be vnto thée thou wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, & hast deckt thy daughters in whoredome, that they might ‖ triumphe, and please thy louers, which haue alway desired to commit whoredome with thée.
48 Thou hast followed the abominable citie in all her workes and inuentions: therefore saith God, 49 I wil send plagues vpon thée, widowhoode, pouertie, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.
50 And the glory of thy power shall bee dried vp as a floure, when the heate ariseth that is sent ‖ ouer thee:
51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the mightie and louers shall not bée able to receiue thee.
52 Would I so hate thee, sayth the Lorde,
53 If thou hadst not alway flayne my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy handes, and said ouer their death whe thou wast drunken,
54 Set forth þ beautie of thy countenance?
55 The reward of thy whoredome shall be recompensed thée in thy bosome, therefore shalt thou receiue reward.
56 Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, euen so shall God do vnto thée, & shall deliuer thée into the plague.
57 The children shall die of hunger, & thou shalt fall through the sworde: thy cities shalbe broken downe, and all thine shall perish with the sword in the fielde.
58 They that be in the mountaines, shall die of hunger, and eate their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.
59 Thou as vnhappie shalt come thorow the sea, and receiue plagues againe.
60 In the passage they shall cast downe the flame citie, and shal roote out one part of the lande, and consume the portion of thy glory, and shall returne to her that was destroyed.
61 They shall treade thée downe like stubble, and they shall be thy fire:
62 And shall consume thée, thy cities, and thy land, and thy mountaines, all thy woods and thy fruitfull trees shall they burne vp with the fire.
63 Thy children shall they carry away captiue, and looke what thou hast, they shall spoyle it, and marre the beautie of thy face.

The xvi. Chapter.

18. 38 Of the euils that shall come vpon the worlde, with admonition howe to gouerne them selues in afflictions.

1 WOe be vnto thée Babylon and Assia, wo bee vnto thée Egypt and Syria:
2 Gird vp your selues with clothes of sacke and heare, & mourne your children, be sorry: for your destruction is at hand.
3 A sword is sent vpon you, and who will turne it backe?
4 A fire is sent among you, and who will quenche it?
5 Plagues are sent vnto you, and what is he that will driue them away?
6 May any man driue away an hungry Lion in þ wood? or may any man quéche the fire in stubble when it hath begun to burne?
7 May one turne againe the arrowe that is shot of a strong archer?
8 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, and what is hée that will dryue them away?
9 The fire is kindled, & gone forth in his wrath, & what is he that may quench it?
10 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare? hee shall thunder, and who shall not be afrayde?
11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not vtterly bee beaten to powder at his presence?
12 The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof, þ sea ariseth vp with waues from from the deepe, and the waues of it are vnquiet, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lorde, and before the glory of his power:

13 For strong is his right hande that bendeth the bow, his arrowes that he throweth are sharpe, and shall not misse when they begin to be shot into the endes of ꝑ world.

14 Behold, the plagues are sent, and shal not turne againe till they come vpon earth.

15 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, til it consume the foundations of the earth.

16 Like as an arrowe which is shotte of a mighty archer, returneth not backward: euen so the plagues that shalbe sent vpō earth, shal not turne againe.

17 Woe is me, woe is mee, who wil deliuer me in those dayes?

18 The beginning of sorowes and great mourning, the beginning of dearth and great death, the beginning of warres, & the powers shal stande in feare: the beginning of euils, and they shall tremble euery one.

19 What shall I doe in these things, whē the plagues come?

20 Behold, hunger, and plague, trouble and anguish are sent as scourges for amendment:

21 But for all these things, they shal not turne from their wickednesse, nor bee alway mindefull of the scourges.

22 Behold, victuals shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shal thinke themselues to be in good case: and euen then shal mischiefe grow vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great ‖disquietnesse.

‖Or, confusion.

23 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shall perish of hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shall ꝑ sword destroy:

24 And the dead shalbe cast out as doung, and there shalbe no man to comfort thē: For the earth shalbe wasted, and the cities shalbe cast downe.

25 There shall bee no man left to till the earth, and to sowe it.

26 The trees shall giue fruite, and who shall plucke them off, and gather them?

27 The grapes shalbe ripe, and who shall treade them? For all places shalbe desolate of men:

28 So that one man shal desire to see another, or to heare his voyce.

29 For of one whole citie, there shalbe ten left, and two of the field, which shal hide themselues in the thicke ‖bushes, and in ꝑ clifts of stones,

‖Or, woods.

30 Like as when there remayne three or foure Olives, in the place where Olives growe, or among other trees,

31 Or as when a Vineyarde is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thorowe the vineyard:

32 Euen so, in those dayes, there shalbe three or foure left, by them that searche their houses with the sword,

33 And the earth shalbe layde waste, and the fieldes thereof shal waxe old, and her wayes, and all her paths shall growe full of thornes, because no man shal trauaile therethorow.

34 The virgins shall mourne, hauing no bridegromes, the women shall make lamentation, hauing no husbandes, their daughters shall mourne hauing no helpers,

35 In the warres shall their bridegromes be destroyed, and their husbandes shall perish of hunger.

36 But ye seruantes of the Lorde, heare these things, and marke them.

37 Behold the worde of the Lord, & receyue it: beleeue not the gods of whome the Lord spake, 38 Behold, the plagues draw nigh, and are not slacke in tarying.

39 Like as a trauayling woman, which in the ninth moneth bringing forth a sonne, when the houre of the birth is come, an houre two or three afore that, the pames come vpon her bodie, & when the childe commeth to the birth, they tarp not the twinckling of an eye:

40 Euen so shall not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the worlde shal mourne, and sorowes shal come vpon it on euery side.

41 O my people, heare my worde, make you ready to the battel, and in all euill be euen as pilgrimes vpon earth.

42 Hee that selleth, let him bee as hee that flieth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lēse:

43 Who so occupieth marchandize, as he that winneth not: and he that buyldeth, as he that shall not dwel therein:

44 He that soweth, as they that shall not reape: he that cutteth the vineparde, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

45 They that marrie, as they that shall get no children: & they that marrie not, as the widdowes.

46 And therefore they that labour, labour in vayne.

47 For strangers shal reape their fruites, and spoyle their goods, ouerthrow their houses, and take their children captiues: for in captiuitie and hunger shall they get children.

48 And they that occupie their marchandize with robberie, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessiōs, and their owne persons,

49 The more will I punish them for their sinnes, sayth the Lord.

50 Like as an whore enuyeth an honest and vertuous woman:

51 So shall righteousnesse hate iniquitie, when she decketh her self, and shal accuse her to her face, when hee commeth that shall bridle the authour of all sinne vpon earth.

52 And therefore be not ye like thereunto, nor to the workes thereof:

53 For or euer it be long, iniquitie shalbe taken away out of the earth, and righte-ouſneſſe ſhal reigne among you.

54 Let not the ſinner ſay that he hath not ſinned: for coales of fire ſhal burne vpon his head, which ſayeth, Before the Lord God and his glory, I haue not ſinned.
Luke 16.15. 55 Behold, þ Lord *knoweth all þ workes of ſine, their imaginatiõs, their thoughts, and their hearts.
Gen.1.1. 56 For he ſpake but the word, * Let the earth be made, and it was made: Let the heauen be made, and it was created.
Pſal.146.4. 57 In his worde were the ſtarres made, and he knoweth the *number of them.
58 He ſearcheth the ground of the deepe, and the treaſures thereof, hee hath meaſured the ſea, and what it contayneth.
59 He hath ſhut the ſea in the middeſt of þ waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.
60 Hee ſpreadeth out the heauens like a vaulte, vpon the waters hath hee founded it.
61 In the deſert and drie wilderneſſe hath hee made ſprings of water, and pooles vpon the tops of the mountaines, that the floods might powre downe from the ſtonie rocks to water the earth.
62 He made man, and put his heart in þ middes of the body, & gaue him breath, life, and vnderſtanding,
63 Yea, and the ſpirit of the almightie God which made all things, and hath ſearched the grounde of al the ſecretes of the earth,
64 He knoweth your imaginations & inuentions, and what yee thinke when ye ſinne, and woulde hide your ſinnes.
65 Therefore hath the Lorde ſearched and ſought out all your workes, and he ſhall bewray you all:
66 And when your ſinnes are brought forth, yee ſhalbe aſhamed before men, & your owne ſinnes ſhalbe your accuſers in that day.
67 What will ye do? for howe will ye hide your ſinnes before God and his angels?
68 Behold, God himſelfe is þ iudge, feare him: leaue off from your ſinnes, and forget your vnrighteouſnes, and meddle no more with them: ſo ſhall God leade you forth, and deliuer you from al trouble.
69 For behold the heate of a great multitude is kindled ouer you, and they ſhall take away certaine of you, and ſhall ſlay for meate to the idoles.
70 And they þ conſent vnto them, ſhalbe had in deriſion, laughed to ſcorne, and troden vnder foote.
71 For there ſhalbe in euery place, and in the next cities, a great inſurrection vpon thoſe that feare the Lord.
72 They ſhalbe like madde men, they ſhal ſpare no man, they ſhal ſpoyle and waſte ſuch as yet feare the Lord:
73 For their goods ſhall they take from them and ſhut them out of their houſes.
74 Then ſhall it be knowen who are my choſen, and they ſhalbe tryed as the gold in the fire.
75 Heare, O ye my beloued, ſayth þ Lorde: behold, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I wil deliuer you from the ſame.
76 Be not ye afraid, deſpaire not: for God is your captaine.
77 Who ſo keepeth my commaundementes and preceptes, ſayth the Lorde God, let not your ſinnes weygh you downe, and let not your vnrighteouſneſſe be lift vp.
78 Woe bee vnto them that are bounde with their ſinnes, & couered with their wickednelle, like as a fielde is hedged in with buſhes, and the path thereof couered with thornes, that no man may trauaile thorowe: it is ſhut vp, and is caſt into the fire for euer, to bee conſumed therewith.

The ende of the fourth booke of Eſdras.

The booke of Tobias.

The firſt Chapter.

1 Tobias parentage. 3 His godlineſſe. 6 His equitie. 8 His charitie and proſperitie. 23 Hee fleeth, and his goods are confiſcate, 25 and after reſtored.

1 TObias was of the tribe and citie of Nepthali, which lyeth in the high countreys of Galilee abone Naaſſon, beſide the way that leadeth to the Weſt, hauing the citie of Sephet vpon the left ſide.
4.Reg.17.3. 2 Though he was taken *priſoner in the dayes of Salmanaſar king of the Aſſyrians, neuertheleſſe being in captiuitie, he forſooke not the way of trueth:
3 Inſomuch þ whatſoeuer he might get, he parted it dayly with his felow priſoners and brethren þ were of his kinred.
4 And though he were yonger then al the tribe of Nepthali, yet did not he behaue himſelfe childiſhly in his workes.
5 And when all the other went to the golden Calues, which *Jeroboam the king of Iſrael had made, he alone fled al their companies: 3.Reg.12.25.
6 And gate him to Hieruſalem vnto the temple of the Lorde, and there worſhipped the Lorde God of Iſrael, faithfully offering of *all his firſt fruites & tithes: Exod 22.29.
7 So that in þ third yeere he miniſtred all deut.12.6. the tithes vnto þ ſtrangers & conuertes.
8 Theſe and ſuch like thinges did hee obſerue, according to the law of God, whē he was yet but yong.
9 But when he was a man, he tooke out of his owne tribe a wife called *Anna: & of her he begate a ſonne, whome hee called after his owne name, Num.36.6.

10 And

10 And taught him from his youth vp to feare God, and to refraine from all sinne.
11 Now whē he, with his wife, his sonne, and with all his ‖kinred, was come in captiuitie vnto the citie of Niuue:
‖Or, tribe.
Gen.43.32.
12 *What time as they all did eate of the meates of the heathen, he kept his soule, and was neuer defiled in their meates.
13 And forsomuch as he was mindefull of the Lorde in all his heart, God gaue him fauour in the sight of Salmanaser the king:
14 Which gaue him power to goe where he would, and so had hee libertie to doe whatsoeuer he would.
15 So went Tobias vnto all them that were in captiuitie, and comforted them, and gaue them wholesome exhortations
16 And when he came to Rages, a citie of the Medes, hauing ten talents of siluer (of the things wherewith the king had honoured him,)
17 And sawe among a great companie of people of his kinred, one Gabelus which was of his owne tribe being in necessitie, he gaue him the sayde weight of siluer, vnder an hand writing.
18 After a long season, when Salmanasar the king was dead, and Sennacherib his sonne reygned in his steade, which hated the children of Israel:
19 Tobias went dayly thorowout all his kinred, and comforted them, and gaue of his goods to euery one of them, as much as he might.
20 He fed the hungry, clothed the naked, and buried the dead and slaine, and that diligently.
4.Reg.19.35.
21 And when *Sennacherib ꝑ king came againe, and fled out of Iurie (what time as God punished him for his blasphemie) and in his wrath slewe many of the children of Israel, Tobias buried their bodies.
22 But when it was tolde the king, hee commanded to slay him, and tooke away all his goods.
23 Neuertheless, Tobias with his sonne, and with his wife, fled away naked, and was hid: for there were many that loued him.
4.Reg.19.17. 2.Chro.32.21.
24 *But after fourtie and fiue dayes, the king was slaine of his owne sonnes:
25 Thē came Tobias againe to his house, and al his goods were restored vnto him.

The ii. Chapter.

1 Tobias calleth the faithfull to his table. 3 He leaueth the feast to bury the dead. 10 How he became blinde. 19 His wife laboureth for his liuing. 22 She reprocheth him bitterly.

1 AFter those things, vpon a solemne day of the Lorde, Tobias made a good feast in his house,
2 And said vnto his sonne, Goe thy way, and bring hither some of our tribe, such as feare God, that they may make merry with vs.
3 And whē he was gone, he came againe, and tolde his father ꝑ one of the children of Israel lay slayne vpon the streete,
4 And immediatly he leapt from his table, left the feast, came falling to the dead coarse, tooke him, and bare him priuily into his house, that when the sunne was downe, he might safely bury him.
5 And when hee had hid the coarse, he did eate his meate with mourning & feare,
6 Remembring the words that the Lord said by the Prophet Amos, Your *high feastes shalbe turned to sorow and heauinesse. Amos.8.10.
7 But when the sunne was downe, hee went his way, and buried him.
8 Then all ‖ his neighbours reproued him, saying, It is not long since it was commanded to slay thée because of this matter, & hast scarce escaped the danger of death, & buriest thou the dead againe? ‖Or, his next of kynne.
9 Neuertheless, Tobias fearing GOD more then the king, tooke the bodies of the slaine, and hid them in his house, and buried them at midnightes.
10 It happened vpon a day, that hée had buryed the dead, and was weary, came home, and laide him downe by the wall, and slept.
11 And while hée was a slēepe, there fell downe vpon his eies warme dong out of the swallowes neast, so that hée was blinde.
12 This temptation did GOD suffer to happen vnto him, that they which came after, might haue an example of his patience, like as of holy Job.
13 For inasmuch as he euer feared God from his youth vp, and kept his commandements, hee grudged not against God, that the plague of blindnesse chaūced vnto him:
14 But remayned stedfast in the feare of God, and thanked God all the dayes of his life.
15 For like as blessed Job was had in derision of kings: euen so was hee laughed to scorne of his elders & kinsfolkes, which sayd vnto him, 16 Where is the hope for the which thou hast done almes, and buried the dead?
17 But Tobias rebuked them, and spake, Say not so:
18 For wée are the children of holy men, and looke for the life which GOD shall giue vnto them that neuer turne their beliefe from him.
19 And Anna his wife went dayly to the weauing worke:
20 And looke what liuing shee could get with ꝑ labour of her hands, she brought it. And it happened that she tooke a kid, and brought it home:
21 And when her husband heard it cry, he sayd, *Looke that it be not stollen: restore it againe to the owners, for it is not lawfull for vs to eate or to touche any thing of theft. Deut.22.3.
22 Then was his wife angry, and sayde, *Now is thy hope become vaine openly, and thine almes deedes are manifest. Tob.2.9.
23 With these and such like wordes, did she cast him in the teeth.

The iii. Chapter.

3 The prayer of Tobias. 7 Sara Raguels daughter, and the things that came vnto her. 12 Her prayer heard. 19 The Angel Raphael sent.

‖Or, sighed.

1 THen Tobias ‖ toke it heauily, and with teares began to make his prayer,

2 Saying, O Lorde, thou art righteous, and all thy iudgements are true: yea, all thy wayes are mercie, faithfulnesse, and iudgement.

3 And now, O Lord, be mindefull of mée, and take no vengeance of my sinnes, neither remember my misdeedes, neither the misdeedes of my forefathers.

Deut.28.15. 4 For we haue not bene obedient vnto thy commandements,* therefore are we spoyled, brought into captiuitie, into death, into derision and shame vnto all nations, among whome thou hast scattered vs.

5 And nowe, O Lord, thy iudgements are great: for wee haue not done according to thy commandements, neither haue we walked innocently before thee.

6 And nowe, O Lorde, deale with mee according to thy will, and command my spirite to be receyued in peace: for more expedient were it for me to dye, then to liue.

7 At the same time it happened that Sara the daughter of Raguel, at Rages a citie of the Medes, was also reproched by one of her fathers handmaydes,

8 That she had seuen husbãds, which as soone as they were gone in vnto her, were slaine of ẽ deuill, called Asmodeus.

9 Therefore when she reproued the maidẽ for her fault, she answered her, saying, God let vs neuer see sonne nor daughter of thee more vpon earth, thou killer of thy husbandes.

10 Wilt thou slay mée also, as thou hast slayne seuen men? At this voyce went Sara into an high chamber of her house, and thrée daies and thrée nights she neither ate, nor dranke:

11 But continued in prayer, and besought God with teares, that he would deliuer her from this rebuke.

12 Vpon the thirde day it came to passe, that when she had made an ende of prayer, she praised the Lorde,

13 Saying, Blessed be thy name, O God of our fathers, which when thou art wroth, shewest mercie, and in time of trouble thou forgiuest the sinnes of them that call vpon thee.

14 Vnto thee, O Lorde, turne I my face, vnto thee lift I vp mine eyes:

15 I beseeche thee, O Lorde, loose me out of the bondes of this rebuke, or els take me vtterly away from the earth.

16 Thou knowest Lorde, that I neuer had desire vnto man, and that I haue kept my soule cleane from all vncleanly lust:

17 I haue not kept compane with those that passe their time in sport, neither haue I made my selfe partaker with them that walke in light behauiour.

18 An husbande haue I consented to take, not for my pleasure, but in thy feare.

19 Now peraduenture, either I haue bene vnworthie of them, or els were they vnmete for me: for thou happily hast kept me to another husbande.

20 For why? thy counsell is not in the power of man.

21 But euery one that serueth thee, is sure of this, that if his life be in tryng, it shall be crowned, and if it be in trouble, that God no doubt shall deliuer him: and if his life be in chastening, that he shal haue leaue to come vnto thy mercie.

22 For thou hast no pleasure in our ‖ damnation: and why? after a storme, thou makest the weather fayre and still, after weeping & heauinesse, thou giuest great ioy. ‖Or, destruction.

23 Thy name, O God of Israel, be praysed for euer.

24 At the same time were both their prayers heard, in the sight of the maiestie of the higest God.

25 And Raphael the holy Angel of the Lord was sent to helpe them both, whose prayers ‖ came at one time together before God. ‖Or, were recited at one time together.

The iiii. Chapter.

Precepts and exhortations of Tobias to his sonne.

1 SO when Tobias thought his prayer to be heard, that he might dye, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias:

2 And sayd vnto him, My sonne, heare the words of my mouth, and lay them in thine heart as a foundation.

3 When God taketh away my soule, burie thou my body: and * honor thy mother in honour, all the dayes of her life. Exod.20.12.

4 For thou oughtest to remember, what, and how great perils she suffered for thee in her wombe.

5 And when thée also hath fulfilled the time of her life, burye her ‖ beside me. ‖Or, about.

6 Haue God in thy thought al the dayes of thy life, and beware, lest at any time thou consent vnto sinne, and lest thou let slippe the commandements of the Lorde our God.

7 * Giue almes of thy goods, and turne neuer thy face from the poore: & so shall it come to passe, that the face of the Lord shall not be turned away from thee. Pro.3.9.

8 * Be mercifull after thy power. Eccl.35.4.

9 If thou haue much, giue plenteously: if thou hast little, doe thy diligence gladly, to giue of that little:

10 For so gatherest thou thy selfe a good reward in the day of necessitie.

11 For * mercie deliuereth from all sinne, and from death, and suffereth not the soule to come into darkenesse. Eccl.29.15.

12 A great comfort is mercie before the high God, vnto all them that shewe it.

13 My sonne, * keepe thee well from all whoredome: and beside thy wife, suffer not thy selfe to knowe of sinne. 1.Thes.4.3.

14 Let neuer pride haue rule in thy minde, nor in thy word: for in * pryde began all destruction. Gen.3.5.

15 Whosoeuer

15 Whosoeuer worketh any thing for thée,
Leuit.19.13. *immediatly giue him his hyre, & looke that thy hyred seruants wages remaine not at all with thée.
Mat.7.12. 16 Looke that thou neuer doe vnto *another man, the thing that thou wouldest not another man should do vnto thée.
17 Eate thy breade with the hungry and Luke 14.13. poore, and *couer the naked with thy clothes.
18 Set thy bread and wine vpon the burial of the righteous, and doe not thou eate and drinke thereof with the sinners.
19 Alke euer counsell at the wise.
20 Be alway praysing of God, and beseech him that he will ‖order thy wayes, ‖Or, direct.
and that whatsoeuer thou deuisest or takest in hande, it may remayne in him.
21 I certifie thée also my sonne, that whē thou wast yet but a babe, I deliuered tenne talents of siluer vnto Gabelus at Rages a citie of the Medes, and his hād writing haue I by me:
22 And therefore seeke some meanes, how thou mayest come by him, and receyue of him the sayd weight of siluer, and giue him his hand writing againe.
23 My sonne, be not afrayde: trueth it is,
Rom.8.17. we leade here a poore life, *but great good shal we haue if we feare God, and depart from all sinne, and do well.

The v. Chapter.

Tobias is sent to Rages: 5 He meeteth with the Angel Raphael, which did conduct him.

1 THen Tobias answered his father, & sayde, Father, al that thou hast commanded me, will I doe, and that diligently.
2 But how shall I require this money I cannot tell, neither doeth he knowe me, nor I him: what token shal I giue him? And as for the way thither, I neuer knewe it.
3 Then his father answered him, and said, I haue his hand writing by mee, which when thou shewest him, immediatly hee shall pay thée.
4 But goe thy way now, & get thée some faithful man to go with thée for an hyre, ỳ thou mayest receyue the money while I am yet liuing.
5 Then went Tobias out, and vpon the streete he found a fayre young man standing, gyrded vp, and as it were one ready to take his iourney.
6 And he knewe not that it was an Angel of God, but saluted him, and sayd, From whence art thou, thou good young man?
7 He answered, Of the children of Israel. And Tobias sayde vnto him, Knowest thou the way that leadeth vnto the countrey of the Medes?
8 He answered, I knowe it wel, and all ‖Or, wayes.
those ‖streetes haue I gone oft times, & haue lodged with our brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages a citie of the Medes, which lyeth vpon the mount Ecbatanis.
9 Tobias sayde vnto him, I pray thee tarry for mee, till I haue tolde my father these things.
10 Then went Tobias in, and tolde his father all: at the which his father marueyled, and prayed that he would come in vnto him.
11 Now when he came in, he saluted him, and sayd, Joy be with thée for euermore.
12 And olde Tobias sayde, What ioy can I haue, that sit here in darkenesse, and see not the light of heauen?
13 The yong man sayde vnto him, Be of good cheare, God shal helpe thée shortly.
14 And Tobias sayde vnto him, Canst thou bring my sonne to Gabelus vnto ỳ citie of Rages in Media? and when thou cōmest againe, I shal pay thee thy hyre.
15 And the Angel sayd vnto him, I shall leade thy sonne, and bring him to thee againe.
16 Then Tobias answered him, Tel mée, I pray thée, of what house, or of what tribe art thou?
17 The Angel Raphael saide vnto him, Seekest thou after the kinred of an hyreling, or an hyred man himselfe for thy sonne to goe with him?
18 But that I make thee not carefull, I am Azarias, ỳ sonne of great Ananias.
19 And Tobias answered, Thou art come of a great kinred: but I pray thée, be not displeased, that I desire to knowe thy kinred.
20 The angel sayde vnto him, Thy sonne shall I leade forth safely, and bring him whole and sound to thée againe.
21 Then answered Tobias and sayde, Well, go on your way, and God bee in your iourney, and his angel beare you company.
22 So when they had prepared al things that they would take with them in their iourney, Tobias bade his father and his mother farewel: and they went on their way both together.
23 Now when they were gone, his mother began to weepe, and sayde, *Thou staffe of our age hast thou taken away, & sent him from vs. *Tob.10.4.
24 Would God that money had neuer bene, for the which ỳ hast set him away.
25 For our pouertie was sufficient for vs: why, wee should haue counted it riches that we saw our sonne here.
26 Then sayd Tobias vnto her, Weepe not, our sonne shall goe safely, and come to vs againe sounde, and thyne eyes shall see him.
27 For I trust that the good Angel of God shall beare him companie, and order wel al the things that he doth, so that he shal come to vs againe with ioy.
28 At these wordes his mother left off from weeping, and helde her peace.

The vi. Chapter.

Tobias deliuered from the fish, 8 Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines. 19 Hee conducteth him toward de Sara.

1 SO Tobias went on his way, and a dog followed him, and the first night they abode by the water of Tigris.

2 Then went he out to wash his fete, and behold, there came forth an horrible fish to deuoure him.
3 Of whome Tobias was afrayde, and cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Lorde, he commeth vpon me.
4 And the angel sayd vnto him, Take him by the gill, and drawe him to thee. And hee did so, and drew him vnto the land: and the fish beganne to leape at his fete.
5 Then sayde the Angel vnto him, Take out the bowels of this fish: and as for ꝑ heart, the gall, and the liuer, kepe them by thee: for these things are necessarie & good for medicines.
6 Tobias did so, and rosted the fish, and they tooke it with them in their iourney: the residue they salted, as much as was sufficient for thē, till they came to Rages a citie of the Medes.
7 Then Tobias asked the Angel, and said vnto him, I pray thee, brother Azarias, tell mee, whereto are these things good of the fish that thou hast bidden mee kepe?
8 The angel answered him, and sayde, If thou layest a piece of the heart vpon the coales, the smoke therof driueth away all euill spirites, whether it bee from man or from woman, so that from thencefoorth the same shall come no more vnto them.
9 The gall is good to anoynt or to strike the eyes withall, whereas there is any blemish in them, so that they shall bee whole.
10 And Tobias sayd vnto him, Where wilt thou that we remaine? The angel answered, Num.27.8. 11 And sayde, *Here is a nigh kinsman of thine, and of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, which hath a daughter called Sara, & hath neither sonne nor daughter but her.
12 All his good belongeth vnto thee, and thou must marrie her.
13 And therefore desire her of her father, & he shal giue her thee to wife.
14 Then answered Tobias, and sayd, As I vnderstand, thee hath bene maried to seuen husbandes, and they are all dead: and I haue heard say that the deuil slew them.
15 I am afrayde therefore, lest such things happen vnto me also: which if it come to passe, seeing I am the onely sonne of my father and my mother, I shoulde bring them in their age with sorowe to their graues.
16 Then said the Angel Raphael vnto him, Heare mee, and I wil tel thee what they be of whome the deuil hath power:
17 Namely, they that receiue marriage after such a fashion, that they thrust God out from them, and from their heart, & giue themselues to their owne lust, euen as it were *an horse & mule which haue no vnderstanding: vpon such hath the deuil power.
Psal.31.9.
18 But when thou takest her, and art come into the chamber, withholde thy selfe from her three dayes, and giue thy diligence vnto nothing but vnto prayer with her.
19 And in the first night rost the liuer of ꝑ fish, and the deuill shalbe driuen away.
20 The second night shalt thou be receiued into the cōpanie of ꝑ holy Patriarkes.
21 The third night shalt thou obteine the blessing of God, so that ‖ whole children ‖ Or, sound, shall be borne of you.
22 After the third night, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desire of children, then for any fleshly lust, ꝑ in the seede of Abraham thou mayest obteyne the blessing in children.

The vii. Chapter.

Tobias marrieth Sara Raguels daughter.

1 THen went they in vnto Raguel, which receyued them ioyfully.
2 And when Raguel looked vpon Tobias, hee sayde vnto Anna his wife, How like is this young man vnto my sisters sonne?
3 And when he had spoken this, he sayde, Whence bee ye, yee yong men, and our brethren? They said, Of ꝑ tribe of Nephthali, out of the captiuitie of Ninme.
4 Then sayde Raguel vnto them, Knowe ye my brother Tobias? They sayd, Yea, we know him well.
5 And when he had spoken much good of him, the Angel sayd vnto Raguel, Tobias of whome thou askest, is this yong mans father.
6 Then Raguel bowed himselfe downe, & wept, and tooke him about the necke, & kissed him,
7 And sayd, Gods blessing haue thou, my sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good vertuous man.
8 And Anna his wife, & Sara his daughter wept also.
9 Nowe when they had talked together, Raguel bade kill a wether, and to make a feast: and when he had exhorted them to sit downe to dynner,
10 Tobias sayde, I wil neither eate nor drinke here this day, except thou first graunt me my petition, and promise me to giue mee thy daughter Sara.
11 When Raguel heard this, he was astonied: for hee knewe what had happened vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her: and he beganne to feare that it should chaunce vnto him in like maner. And while he stoode so in a doubt, & gaue the yong man no answere,
12 The Angel sayde vnto him, Feare not to giue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wife: therefore might none other haue her.
13 Then sayde Raguel, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers & teares in his sight:
14 And I beleeue he caused you to come vnto mee for the same intent, that this daughter of mine might bee mar-

rped

rped in her owne kinred, according to the Num.36.6. *lawe of Moses: and now doubt thou
not, but I will giue her vnto thee.
15 So he tooke the right hād of his daughter, and gaue her into the right hande of Tobias, & said, The God of Abrahām, the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfill his blessing in you.
16 And they tooke a letter, and made a writing of the mariage.
17 And then made they merie, and praysed God.
18 And Raguel called Anna his wife vnto him, and bade her prepare another chamber.
19 And thither hee brought Sara his daughter, and she wept.
20 Then sayde hee vnto her, Be of good cheare, my daughter: the Lord of heauen giue thee ioy, for the heauines that thou hast suffered.

The viii. Chapter.

Tobias driueth away the euill spirite. 4 He prayeth to God with his wife. 11 Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in lawe. 16 Raguel blesseth the Lorde.

1 NOwe after that they had supped, they brought the yong man in to her.
2 Then thought Tobias vpon þ̄ words of the Angel, and tooke out of his bagge a piece of the liuer of the fish, and layde it vpon the hot coales.
3 So the Angel Raphael tooke holde of the deuill, and sent him away, & bounde him in the wildernesse of the higher Egypt.
4 Then spake Tobias vnto the virgine, and sayde, Vp Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morow, and ‖Or, the third day. ‖ouermorow: for these three nights will we ‖ reconcile our selues with God: and
‖Or, ioyne our selues to God. when the thirde holy night is past, wee shall ioyne together in the dutie of marriage.
5 For wee are the children of holy men, and wee may not come together as the heathen that know not God.
6 Then stoode they vp both together, and besought God earnestly ‖ that hee would ‖Or, that health be giuen them. preserue them.
7 And Tobias saide, O Lord God of our fathers, praised bee thou of heauen and earth, of the sea, welles, and floods, and of all thy creatures that be therein.
Gen.2.7. 8 Thou* madest Adam of the moulde of the earth, and gauest him Eua for an helper.
9 And now Lord, thou knowest that it is not because of voluptuousnesse, that I take this sister of mine to wife, but onely for the loue of children, in whome thy name may be blessed for euer.
10 And Sara sayd, Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs, and let vs both come whole and sound together to a good age.
11 And about the cocke crowing it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruants:
12 And they went with him to make a graue.
13 For he said, It is chaunced nowe vnto him peraduenture, as it did vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her.
14 Now when they had made the graue, Raguel came againe to his wife, and said vnto her, Sende one of thy maidens to looke if he be dead, that I may burye him afore it be light day.
15 So she sent a maiden to see: which when she came into the chamber, found them whole and sound, sleeping together.
16 And so she came againe, and brought good tydings: then Raguel and Anna his wife praysed the Lord, 17 And sayde, Praysed be thou, O Lorde God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs as we thought.
18 For thou hast dealt mercifully with vs, and put away from vs the enemie that persecuted vs,
19 And hast shewed mercy vnto ponder two, the onely borne children of their parents: O Lorde, cause them to magnifie thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifice of thy praise and of their health: that al people may know that thou onely art God in all the earth.
20 And immediatly Raguel commanded his seruāts to fil the graue that they had made, with earth, afore it was light:
21 And bade his wife prepare a feast, and to make readie all things that were necessary for meate, to such as went by the way.
22 He caused two fat kine also and foure wethers to be slaine, & meates to be prepared for all his neighbours & friends.
23 And Raguel charged Tobias to remaine with him two wekes.
24 As for all the good that he had, he gaue Tobias the halfe of it, & made this writing, þ̄ the halfe which remained, should fall vnto Tobias after their death.

The ix. Chapter.

The Angel goeth to Gabelus at the desire of Tobias: which deliuereth the letter, and receiueth the money.

1 THen Tobias called vnto him the Angel, whome he thought to haue bene a man, and sayde vnto him, Brother Azarias, I pray thee hearken vnto my words.
2 If I should giue my selfe to be thy seruant, I shall not deserue thy prouidence.
3 Neuertheless, I beseech thee that thou wilt take the beasts, & the seruants, and go vnto Gabelus in Rages þ̄ citie of the Medes, and deliuer him his hand writing, and receiue the money of him, and pray him to come to my marriage.
4 For thou knowest thy selfe that my father doeth number the dayes: and if I tarrie one day too long, he will be sorie in his minde.
5 Now seest thou how earnestly Raguel hath required mee, so that I can not say him nay.
6 Then tooke Raphael foure of Raguels seruants, seruants, and two camels, and went vnto Rages the citie of the Medes: and when he had found Gabelus, hee gaue him his hand writing, and receiued all the money.

7 He tolde him also of Tobias the sonne of Tobi, howe all things had happened: and caused him to come with him to the marriage.

8 Nowe when he came into the house of Raguel, he found Tobias sitting at the table: and he leaped vp, and they kissed one another, and Gabelus wept, and prayed God,

9 And sayde, The blessing of the God of Israel haue thou, for thou art the sonne of a right vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, and giueth great almes:

10 And blessing haue thy wife, and your elders,

11 That ye may see your children, & your childrens children vnto the thirde and fourth generation: and your seed be blessed of the God of Israel, which reigneth world without ende.

12 And when they all had sayde Amen, they went to the feast: but with the feare of the Lorde helde they the feast of the marriage.

The x. Chapter.

1 Tobias and his wife thinke long for their sonne. 10 Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sara.

1 NOw while yong Tobias made long tarying, by reason of the mariage, his father was full of care and heauinesse, saying, Canst thou thinke what should be the cause that my sonne tarryeth so long? or why he should be kept so long there?

2 Thinkest thou Gabelus is dead, and no man will giue him the money?

3 Thus began he to be very sorowfull, he and Anna his wife with him: and began to weepe both together, because their sonne was not come againe vnto them at the day appointed.

4 As for his mother, she wept with discomfortable teares, and sayd, Wo is me my sonne, Oh what ayled vs to send thee away into a strange countrey, thou light of our eyes, thou * staffe of our age, thou comfort of our life, thou hope of our generation? Psal. 5.19.

5 Seeing all the things that we haue are onely in thee, wee should not haue sent thee away from vs.

6 Then Tobias comforted her and sayd, Holde thy peace, and be not discomforted, our sonne is whole and sound: the man that we sent him withall, is faythfull ynough.

7 Neuertheless, she might in no wise be comforted: but dayly went out, looked about, and went about all the streetes whereby she thought he should come againe, that if it were possible, she might see him comming afarre off:

8 But Raguel said vnto his sonne in law, Be merie here, and I shall send a messenger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell him that thou art in good health.

9 Tobias sayde vnto him, I am sure that my father and my mother count euerie day, and that their hearts are sore.

10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many words, and he would in no wise heare him, he deliuered Sara vnto him, and the halfe part of all his goods, in seruants, and handmaidens, in sheepe, in camels, and in kine, and much money: and so sent him away from him with health and ioy,

11 And said, The holy Angel of the Lorde be with you in your iourney, and bring you forth safe and sound: that yee may find all things in good case with your elders, and that mine eyes may see your children afore I die.

12 So the elders embraced their daughter, kissed her, and let her goe:

13 Exhorting her to honour her father and mother in lawe, to loue her husbande, to rule wel her household, to keepe her house in good order, and to shew her selfe faultlesse.

The xi. Chapter.

1 The returne of Tobias to his father. 11 Howe he was receiued. 15 His father hath his sight restored, and praiseth the Lord.

1 AS they nowe were going homewarde againe, vpon the eleuenth day they came to Charran, which lyeth in the halfe way towarde Ninine.

2 And the Angel sayde, Brother Tobias, thou knowest howe thou hast left thy father.

3 Therefore if it please thee, we two will goe before, and let the housholde, with thy wife and the cattell, come faire and softly after vs.

4 And when Tobias was content that they should goe before, Raphael sayde vnto him, Take of the gall of the fish with thee: for it shall be necessarie. So Tobias tooke of the gall, and they went their way:

5 But Anna the mother of Tobias sate dayly by the way side vpon the toppe of an hill, from whence she might see farre about her.

6 And while she was wayting there for his comming, she looked afarre off, and anon she perceiued her sonne comming, and ran and tolde her husband, saying, Behold, thy sonne commeth.

7 And Raphael sayde vnto Tobias, As soone as thou commest into the house, immediatly worship the Lord thy God, and giue thankes vnto him: then goe to thy father, and kisse him.

8 And straightwayes strike his eies ouer with the gall of the fish that thou hast brought with thee: for bee sure that his eyes shall straightway be opened, and thy father shall see the light of heauen, & shall reioyce at the sight of thee.

9 Then the dog that had bene with them in their iourney ranne before, and came as as a messenger, and wagged his tayle for gladnesse.

10 So the blinde father arose, and began to runne, and stumbled with his feete: and gaue a seruant his hand, and ranne to meete his sonne, 11 Receiued him, and kissed him, hee and his wife, and they both began to weepe for ioy.

12 Now when they had worshipped and thanked God, they sate downe.

13 Then tooke Tobias of the fish gall, and anoynted his fathers eyes:

14 And taried halfe an houre, and then began the blemish to go out of his eyes, like as it had bene the whyte skinne of an egge:

15 Which Tobias tooke and drewe from his eyes, and immediatly hee receiued his sight.

16 Then they praised God, hee and his wife, and all they that knewe him.

17 And Tobias saide, O Lord God of Israel, I giue thee prayse and thankes, for thou hast chastened mee, and made mee whole: and loe, nowe doe I see my sonne Tobias.

18 After seuen dayes came Sara his sonnes wife also whole and sounde, with all the housholde and cattell, with Camels, and much money of his wiues, and with the money that hee had receiued of Gabelus.

19 And hee tolde his father and his mother, all the benefites which God had done for him by the man that led him.

20 Achior also and Nabath, Tobias sisters sonnes came, and were glad, and reioyced with him, by reason of all the good things that God had shewed vnto him: and so for the space of seuen dayes they made merrie, and were right ioyfull euery one.

The xii. Chapter.

Tobias declareth to his father, the pleasures that Raphael had done him: 5 The which hee woulde recompense.

1 THen Tobias called his sonne vnto him, and said, What may wee giue this holy mã that ‖ went with thee? ‖ Or, came.

2 Tobias answered his father, and said, Father, what rewarde shall wee giue him? or what thing can deserue his benefites?

3 He hath bene my guide, and brought me safe againe, hee receiued the money from Gabelus, hee caused mee to get my wife, he droue the euill spirit from her, he hath bene an occasion of gladnesse to her father and mother, he deliuered me that I was not deuoured of the fish, he hath made thee to see the light of heauen: yea, we all haue receiued great good of him.

4 How should we worthily deserue these things vnto him? But, I pray thee my father, that thou wilt desire him, if happily he will vouchsafe, to take with him the halfe of all that we haue brought.

5 So the father and the sonne called him, tooke him aside, and began to pray him, that hee woulde bee content to take in good worth, the halfe part of all that they had brought.

6 Then said he secretly vnto them, Praise ye the God of heauen, and giue thankes vnto him before all men liuing: for hee hath shewed his mercy vnto you.

7 It is good to hide the kings secrete: but to shewe and to prayse the workes of God, it is an honourable thing.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and mercy is better then to howde vp treasures of golde.

9 For mercy deliuereth frõ death, cleanseth sinne, and causeth to finde mercy & life euerlasting.

10 But they that doe sinne and vnrighteousnes, are the enemies of their owne soule.

11 Wherefore I tell you the trueth, & will hide no secret thing from you.

12 When thou prayedst with teares, and buriedst the dead, and leftest thy dinner, and hiddest the dead in thine house vpon the day time, that thou mightest burie them in the night, I offered thy prayer before the Lord.

13 And because thou wast accept and beloued of God, it was necessary that tẽptation should trie thee.

14 And nowe hath the Lorde sent mee to heale thee, & to deliuer Sara thy sonnes wife from the euil spirit.

15 For I am Raphael an Angel, one of ꝑ seuen that stand before the Lord.

16 When they heard this, they were sore afraide, and trembled, and fell down vpon their faces vnto the ground.

17 Then saide the Angel, Peace bee with you, feare not.

18 For whereas I haue bene with you, it is the will of God: giue prayse & thanks vnto him.

19 *You thought that I did eate and dринke with you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, and drinke that cannot bee seene of men. *Gen.18.7. iudi.13.16.

20 Nowe therefore is the time that I must turne againe vnto him that sent me: but be ye thankefull vnto God, and tell out all his wonderous workes.

21 And when he had spoken these words, he was taken away out of their sight, so that they could see him no more.

22 Then fell they downe flat vpon their faces, by the space of three houres, and prayed God: and when they rose vp, they told all his wonderous workes.

The xiii. Chapter.

A thankesgiuing of Tobias, who exhorteth all to praise the Lord.

1 THe olde Tobias opened his mouth, and prayed the Lord, & saide, Great art thou, O Lord, for euermore, and thy kingdome world without end.

2 For thou *scourgest and healest, thou leadest vnto hel, and bringest out againe: and there is none that may escape thine hande. *Deut.32.39. Sap.16.13.

3 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde, ye children

dren of Israel, and praise him in the sight of the heathen:
4 For among þ heathen which know him not, hath he scattered you, to the intent that ye should shewe foorth his marueilous workes, & cause them for to know, that there is none other God almightie but he.
5 He hath chastened vs for our misdeedes, and for his owne mercies sake shall hee saue vs.
6 Consider then howe he hath dealt with you, and praise him with feare & dread: and magnifie þ euerlasting king in your workes.
7 I will praise him euen in the lande of my captiuitie, for hee hath shewed his maiestie vnto a sinfull people.
8 Turne you therefore, O ye sinners, and doe righteousnes before God, and be pœ sure that hee will shewe his mercy vpon you.
9 As for me and my soule, we wil reioyce in God.
10 O praise the Lorde all ye his chosen: holde the dayes of gladnesse, & be thankfull vnto him.
11 O Hierusalem thou citie of God, the Lord hath punished thée for the workes of thine owne handes.
12 O praise the Lorde in thy good things, and giue thãkes to the euerlasting God, that he may build vp his tabernacle againe in thee, that he may cal againe vnto thee all such as be in captiuitie, and that thou mayest haue ioy for euermore.
13 With a faire light shalt thou shine, and all the endes of the worlde shall honour thée.
Esai.49.18. act.2.5. 14 The * people shall come vnto thée from farre, they shall bring giftes, and worship the Lord in thee, and thy lande shall they haue for a sanctuarie: for they shall call vpon the great name in thee.
15 Cursed shall they bee that despise thee, and all that blaspheme thée shall be condemned: but blessed shall they bee that builde thee vp.
16 As for thée, thou shalt reioyce in thy children: for they all shall be blessed, and gathered together vnto the Lord.
17 Blessed are all they that loue thée, and that be glad of thy peace.
18 Praise thou the Lord, O my soule: for the Lord our God hath deliuered his citie Hierusalem from all her troubles.
19 I will count my selfe happie, if my seed remaine to see the cleerenesse of Hierusalem.
Apoc.21.18. 20 The * gates of Hierusalem shall bee builded with Saphir and Smaragde, & all the compasse of her walles with precious stones.
21 All her streetes shalbe paued with white and faire stone, and in all streetes shall Alleluia be sung.
22 Praised be the Lord which hath exalted her, that his kingdome may be vpon her for euermore, Amen.

The xiiii. Chapter.

5 Lessons of Tobias to his sonne. 6 He propheciech the destruction of Nimue, 7 and the restoring of Hierusalem and the temple.

1 AND so Tobias made an ende of speaking: and after that Tobias had gotte his sight againe, he lined fourtie and two yeres, and sawe his childrens children.
2 Nowe when hee was an hundred and two yeres olde, he died, and was buried honourably in Ninine.
3 For when he was fiue and fiftie yeres of age, hee lost the sight of his eyes: and when he was threescore yeres olde, hee gate his sight againe.
4 The residue of his life led he in ioy, and increased well in the feare of God, and departed in peace.
5 But in the houre of his death, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias, and seuen young ‖ springales his sonnes children, and said vnto them,
6 The destruction of Ninine is at hande (for the word of the Lorde cannot faile) and our brethrẽ that are scattered out of þ lãd of Israel, shal come thither againe.
7 And the whole land þ of it hath bene waste, shalbe filled, and the house of God that was * burnt in it, shalbe builded againe: and all such as feare God, shal returne thither.
8 The Heathen then also shall forsake their idoles, and come to Hierusalem, & dwell there:
9 And all the kings of the earth shall bee glad in her, and worship the Lorde God of Israel.
10 And therfore, my children, heare your father, * serue the Lord in the trueth, seeke after his will, to do the thing that pleaseth him:
11 Commande your children that they do right, giue almes, be mindefull of God, and euer to bee thankefull vnto him in trueth, and with all their power.
12 Heare me nowe therefore, my childrẽ, and abide not here: but in what day soeuer ye haue buried your mother by me in one sepulchre, get you from hence:
13 For I see that the wickednes of it shall bring it to destruction and ende.
14 After the death of his mother, Tobias departed away from Ninine, with his wife and children, and with his childrẽs children, and came againe to his father and mother in lawe, 15 And found them whole, and in a good age, and tooke the care of them: and hee closed their eyes, and was heire vnto all Raguels goods, and sawe the fifth generation, and his childrens children.
16 And ninetie and nine yeres being ended in the feare of God, they buried him with ioy.
17 And al his kinred & posteritie cõtinued in a good life & holy cõuersation: so that they were loued & accepted both of God and men, & of all the people of the land.

The ende of the booke of Tobias. ¶ The

The booke of Iudith.

The first Chapter.

2 The building of Ecbatanis. 5 Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arphaxad, & ouercame him. 12 He threatneth them that would not helpe him.

1 ARphaxad the King of the Medes, subdued many people vnto his dominion, and builded a strong citie, which he called Ecbatanis.

2 The walles of it made he of free stone, foure square, seuentie cubites high, and thirtie cubites broade: he made towres thereupon an hundred cubites high.

3 But along the foure corners, euery side was twentie foote broade, he made the portes in the height, like as the towres.

4 This king trusted in his mightie hoste, and in his glorious charets.

5 So in the twelfth yeere of his reigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, which reigned in the great citie of Ninive, fought against Arphaxad:

6 And ouercame him in the great fielde called Ragau, beside Euphrates, and Tigris, and Jadason, in the field of Erioth the king of the Elikes.

7 Then was the kingdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his heart was lift vp: and he sent vnto all them that dwelt in Cilicia, in Damascus and Libanus:

8 And vnto the heathen that dwelt in Carmel & Cedar, and to such as dwelt in Galilee in the great fielde of Esdrelon:

9 To all them that dwelt in Samaria, and beyond the water of Jordane vnto Hierusalem, and the whole land of Jesse, vnto the borders of Ethiopia:

10 Vnto al these did Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians send messengers.

11 But they al with one consent would not agree vnto him, and sent the messengers againe emptie, & put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the king tooke indignation at all those landes, & sware by his throne & by his kingdome, that he would be auenged of all those countreys.

The ii. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor commanded presumptuously that all people should be brought in subiection.

1 IN the thirteenth yeere of king Nabuchodonosor, vpō the twentie & two day of the first moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabucodonosor the king of the Assyrians, that he would reuenge himselfe.

2 So he called vnto him all the elders, all his captaines and men of warre, and shewed them his secrete counsell,

3 And tolde them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominion.

4 Now when they were all content with this saying, Nabuchodonosor the king called Holophernes the chiefe captaine of his warres,

5 And said vnto him, Goe thy way forth against all the kingdomes of the West, and specially against those that haue despised my commandement.

6 Thou shalt spare no realme, all strong cities shalt thou bring in subiection vnto me.

7 Then Holophernes called together all the captaines and rulers of al the power in Assyria, and mustered the souldiours vnto the hoste, like as the king commanded him, namely an hundred and twentie thousande fighting men vpon foote, and twelue thousande archers vpon horsebacke.

8 All his ordinance sent he before with an innumerable multitude of Camels, so that the hoste was well prouided for with oxen and small cattell, & that without number.

9 He appointed to prepare corne out of all Syria in his passage.

10 Much gold and siluer also tooke he out of the kings house.

11 So hee tooke his iourney, and all his host, with charets, horsemen, & archers: of whom there were so many, that they couered the ground of the lande, like the grasshoppers.

12 And when he was come past the borders of the Assyrians, he came towarde the great mountaines of Ange, which lie vpon the left side of Cilicia: and so hee went vp into all their castels, and wonne euery strong holde.

13 As for the wealthie citie of Melothus he brake it downe, & spoyled all the children of Tharsis, & the Ismaelites, which lay toward the wildernes, and vpon the South side of the land of Chellon.

14 He went ouer Euphrates also, & came into Mesopotamia, and brake downe all the high cities that were there, from the brooke of Mambre, till a man come to the sea:

15 And he tooke the borders in, from Cilicia vnto the coastes of Japhet, towarde the South.

16 He carried away all the Madianites, and spoyled all their goods, and whosoeuer withstoode him, he slue them with the sworde.

17 After this, he went downe into the field of Damascus in the time of harnest, and burnt vp all the corne, and all the trees and vines he caused to be cut downe:

18 And the feare of him fell vpon all them that dwelt on the earth.

The iii. Chapter.

1 The people subiect to Holophernes. 12 He destroyed their gods, that Nabuchodonosor might onely be worshipped.

1 So

1 SO the kings and princes of all the cities and landes, sent their Ambassadours, namely, they of Syria & Mesopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Libya, and Cilicia, which came to Holophernes, and sayde,

2 Let thy wrath cease toward vs: it is better for vs to serue the great king Nabuchodonosor with our liues, and to be subiect vnto thée, then that we shoulde die, and with our slaughter suffer the euils of our bondage.

3 All our cities and possessions, al mountaines and hilles, all fieldes, great and small, cattell, théepe, goates, horses, and camels, all our goods and houlholds, be in thy power.

4 Vnder thy subiection bee all that wée haue.

5 We our selues, and also our children, will be thy seruants.

6 Come vnto vs, peaceable lorde, and vse our seruice at thy pleasure.

7 Then came Holophernes downe from the mountaines, with horsemen & great power, and conquered all strong fenced cities, and all that dwelt in the land.

8 And out of al cities he tooke strong men, and such as were méete for the warre to helpe them.

9 And there came such a feare vpon those countreys, that the indwellers of all the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people together, went forth to méete him as he came:

10 And receiued him honourably with garlandes and torches, with daunces, tabrets, and pipes.

11 Neuertheless, though they did this, yet might they not swage his rigorous stomacke,

12 But he destroyed their cities, & hewed downe their woods.

13 For Nabuchodonosor the king had commanded him that hee should roote out all the gods of the ‖ lande, to the intent that hee onely might bee called and taken for god of the nations, which Holophernes with his power might bring vnder him.

14 So went he thorow Syria Sobal, and thorowe all Appamea, and all Mesopotamia, and came to the Idumeans in the land of Gabaa, 15 And tooke their cities, & remained there thirtie dayes, in which space he caused al the whole multitude of his host to be gathered together.

‖ Or, earth.

The iiii. Chapter.

Eliacim the priest writeth to Bethulia, that they should fortifie themselues. 8 They cried to the Lord, and humbled themselues before him.

1 WHen the children of Israel that dwelt in Iurie heard this, they were sore afrayde of him.

2 There came such trembling also and feare vpon them, least he should doe vnto the citie of Hierusalem and the temple of the Lorde, as hee had done to other cities and their temples,

3 So they sent into all Samaria rounde about vnto Iericho, tooke in and occupied all the toppes of the mountaines,

4 And made fast ỳ townes with walles, and prepared corne for them against the battaile.

5 Eliacim also the priest wrote vnto all them that dwelt toward Esdrelõ, which lieth ouer against the great field by Dothain, and vnto all those by whom men might haue passage vnto them,

6 That they should take in the wayes of the mountaines, whereby there might be any way and passage vnto Hierusalem, and that they should holde diligent watch where any straite was betwixt the mountaines.

7 And the children of Israel did as Eliacim the Priest of the Lord had commanded them.

8 And all the people cried vnto the Lorde earnestly, and humbled their soules with fasting and prayers, they and their wiues:

9 The Priests put on hearie clothes, and laid the yong babes before the temple of the Lorde, and couered the altar of the Lord with an hearie cloth:

10 And with one accorde they cryed vnto the Lorde God of Israel, that their children should not be giuen into a pray, and their wiues into a spoyle, that their cities should not be layde waste, and that their ‖ sanctuarie should not be vnhalowed, and so they to bee a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen.

‖ Or, holy things.

11 Then Eliacim the high Priest of the Lord, went round about all Israel, and spake vnto them,

12 Saying, Be ye sure that the Lorde will heare your petitions, if ye continue stedfast in fastings and prayers in the sight of the Lord.

13 Remember * Moses the seruant of the Lord, which ouerthrew the Amalekites that trusted in their might and power, in their hoste, in their shields, in their charets, and horsemen, not with weapons, but with holy prayers.

* Exod. 17. 12.

14 Euen so shall all the enemies of Israel be, if ye continue in this worke that ye haue begunne.

15 So vpon this exhortation, they continued in prayer before the Lord.

16 Insomuch that they which offered burnt sacrifices vnto the Lorde, offered the offrings vnto the Lord, being arayed in hearie clothes, and had ashes vpon their heades.

17 And they all besought God from their whole heart, that he would visite his people of Israel.

The v. Chapter.

Achior the Ammonite doeth declare to Holophernes of the maner of the Israelites.

1 AND worde came to Holophernes the prince of the warre of the Assyrians, that the children of Israel prepared themselues to make resistance, and howe they had stopped the wayes betwixt betwixt the mountaines.

2 Then was he exceeding wroth, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captaines of Ammon,

3 And saide vnto them, Tell mee, what people is this that keepeth in the mountaines? Or what maner, and how great cities theirs are? What is their power? Or what maner of host haue they? Who is their captaine?

4 And why doe they despise vs more then all those that dwell in the East, & come not forth to meete vs, that they might receiue vs with peace?

Iud.11.7. 5 Then * Achior the captaine of all the Ammonites, answered, and saide, Sir, if it please thee to heare, I wil tell þ trueth before thee, concerning this people that dwell in the mountaines, and there shall no vntrueth goe out of my mouth.

6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:

Gen.11.31. 7 They dwelt first in * Mesopotamia, for they woulde not followe the gods of their fathers that were in the lande of the Chaldees:

8 And so forsoke they the custome of their forefathers which had many gods, and worshipped one God that made heauen and earth: which also * commanded them that they should goe from thence and dwell at Charran.

Gen.12.1.

Gen.41.54. and 46.6. 9 * Nowe when there came a dearth into the whole lande, they went downe to Egypt, and there they dwelt foure hundred yeres, in the which they multiplyed greatly, that their hoste might not be numbred.

Exod.1.8. 10 * And when the king of Egypt oppressed them, and poked them in building of his cities, with making of clay, & bricke, they cryed vnto God their Lord, which punished the whole lād of Egypt with diuers plagues.

Exod.14.4. 11 * And when the Egyptians had cast them out, and the plague ceassed from them, and they following after them to take them, and to bring them againe into their bondage:

12 While they were fleeing away, the God of heauen opened the sea, so that the waters stood fast vpon both the sides as a wall: and these went thorow the bottome of the sea dryshodde.

13 In the which place when an innumerable people of the Egyptians followed vpon them, they were so ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remained not one to tell them that came after how it happened.

14 So when this people was passed thorowe the *red sea, they came into the wildernesse of mount Sina, where neuer man might dwell afore, and where the sonne of man had neuer rested.

Exod.16.1.

Exod.15.25. 15 There were the bitter * waters made sweete for them, that they might drinke, and fourtie yeres had they meate from heauen.

16 Whersoeuer they went, without bow and arrowe, without buckler or sworde, their God fought for them, and caused them to haue the victorie.

17 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people, except it were when they departed vnfaithfully from the worshipping of the Lord their God.

18 But as oft as they worshipped any other beside their God, hee gaue them ouer to be spoyled, to be slayne, and to bee put to confusion.

19 Neuertheless, as oft as they were sory for their departing from the worship of their God: the same God of heauen gaue them power and strength to withstand their enemies.

Iosu.12.21. 20 Moreouer, they * slue the king of the Chanaanites, Iebusites, Pherezites, Hethites, Yenites, and Amorites, and al the mightie in Hesebon, and tooke their landes and cities in possession:

21 And so long as they sinned not in the sight of their God, it went wel with thē: for their God hateth vnrighteousnesse.

Iud.2.11. 22 * For in times past, when they went out of the way which God had giuen 4.king.25.1. them, that they should walke in it, they were destroyed in diuers battailes of many nations, and many of them were caried away prisoners vnto a straunge countrey.

1.Esd.1.x. 23 * But nowe lately they haue turned them selues againe vnto the Lorde their God, and are come together againe out of the countreys where they were scattered abroade: and thus haue they conquered these mountaines, and dwell therein: and as for Hierusalem where their sanctuarie is, they haue it againe in possession.

24 And therefore, my Lorde, make diligent inquisition, if this people haue done wickednesse in the sight of their God, then let vs goe vp against them: for doubtlesse their God shal deliuer them into thine handes, and subdue them vnto thy power.

25 But if this people haue not displeased their God, we shall not bee able to withstande them: for their God shall defende them, and so shall we bee a shame to all the world.

26 Nowe when Achior had spoken out these wordes, all the great men of Holophernes were wroth, and thought to slay him, and said one to another, 27 What is hee this which dare say that the children of Israel are able to withstande Nabuchodonosor the king, and his hostes? whereas they are an vnweaponed people, without strength or vnderstanding of the feates of warre.

28 That Achior therefore may knowe that he hath deceiued vs, we will goe vp into the mountaines: & when the mightie men of them are taken, he with them shalbe stickt with the sword:

29 That all the people may knowe that Nabuchodonosor is the god of þ earth, and that there is none other beside him.

The

The vi. Chapter.

Holophernes blasphemeth God whome Achior confessed.

1 SO when they had left off speaking, Holophernes toke soze indignation, and said vnto Achioz,

2 Foz so much as thou hast prophecied vnto vs, saying that the people of * Israel shalbe defended of their God: I will shew thee that there is no God but Nabuchodonosoz. Iud 5.5.

3 Yea, when wee slay them all as one man, thou also shalt perish with them through the swoꝛd of the Assyrians, and all Israel shalbe destroyed with thée:

4 And then shalt thou feele that Nabuchodonosoz is the loꝛd of þ whole earth: then shall the swoꝛd of my knighthode go thoꝛowe thy sides, and thou shalt fall down stickt amõg þ woũded of Israel, & ‖ shalt not come to thy selfe againe, but be vtterly destroyed with them. ‖ Or, shalt not drawe breath againe.

5 Furthermoze, if thou thinkest thy pꝛophecie to bee true, why doest thou then chãge thy colour? why art thou afraid? thinkest thou that my woꝛdes are not able to be perfourmed?

6 But that thou maiest knowe that thou shalt feele these things with them, beholde, from this houre foꝛth, will I send thee vnto ponder people, þ when the punishmẽt of my swoꝛde (which they haue woꝛthily deserued) falleth vpon them, thou maiest be punished with them.

7 So Holophernes commanded his seruants to take Achioz, and to carie him vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer him into the handes of the childzen of Israel.

8 Then Holophernes seruantes tooke him, and went thoꝛowe the plaine fielde: but whẽ they dꝛewe nigh vnto the moũtaines, the sling callers came out against them.

9 Neuertheleſſe, they gate them away by the side of the mountaine, and bound Achioz hand and foote to a tꝛée, and so left him bounde with wyths, and turned againe vnto their loꝛde.

10 After that, the childzen of Israel went downe from Bethulia, came vnto him, loosed him, bꝛought him into Bethulia, set him in the middest of the people, and asked him what the matter was that the Assyrians had left him bound?

11 Oſias the sonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Charmi, which is also called Gothoniel were the principal rulers at the same time.

12 Now when Achioz stoode in the midst of the Senatours, and befoꝛe them all, he told them what answere he gaue Holophernes to the thing that he asked him, & how Holophernes people would haue slayne him foꝛ so saying,

13 And howe Holophernes himselfe was wꝛoth, and commãded him foꝛ the same cause to be deliuered vnto þ Israelites: that when hee ouercame the childzen of Israel he might commande Achioz also to be put to death with diuers toꝛmẽts, because he saide, The God of heauen is their defender.

14 And when Achioz had plainely toꝛde out all these things, all the people fell downe vpon their faces, pꝛaysing the Loꝛd, and powzed out their pꝛayers together vnto the Loꝛd, with a generall cõplaint and weeping,

15 And said, O Loꝛde God of heauen and of earth, beholde their pꝛide, and looke vpon our lowlinesse, and consider howe it standeth with thy saintes, and make it to bee knowen that thou foꝛsakest not those which holde them fast by thee, and howe that thou bringest them lowe that pꝛesume of themselues, and make their boast in their owne strength.

16 So when the weeping and pꝛayer of the people (which they had made the whole day long, was ended) they comfoꝛted Achioz, 17 Saying, The God of our fathers, whose power and strength thou hast pꝛaysed, shall so rewarde thee, that thou shalt rather sée their destruction.

18 When the Loꝛde our God then shall giue his seruants this libertie, God bee also with thée among vs: so that as it shall please thée, so thou with all thine maiest dwell with vs.

19 Now when Oſias had ended the coũsell, he toke him into his house, & made a great supper, 20 Called the elders to it: & so they refreshed themselues after the fasting.

21 And afterward was all the people called together, which made their pꝛayers all the night long ‖ in the congregation, and besought þ God of Israel foꝛ helpe. ‖ Or, within the Church.

The vii. Chapter.

Holophernes doeth besiege Bethulia.

1 THe next day Holophernes commanded his hoste to go vp against Bethulia.

2 There were an hundzed and twentie thousand fighting men on foote, and two and twentie thousand hoꝛsemen, beside the pꝛeparing of them that were wonne, & came to them on euery side out of þ countreys & cities which he had taken.

3 All these pꝛepared themselues vnto the battell against the Israelites, and came on by the hill side, vnto the top that looketh ouer against Dothain, from the place which is called Belma, vnto Chelmon, that lieth toward Eldzelon.

4 Now when the childzen of Israel sawe so great a multitude of the Assyrians, they fell downe flat vpon the grounde, strawed ashes vpon their heades, and pꝛayed with one accoꝛde that the God of Israel would shewe his mercie vpon his people.

5 And so they toke their weapons, and sate betwixt the mountaines in the narrowe place, and kept the way day and night.

6 But while Holophernes was going round about, he found the waterspring, which from the South side was con-

ured

ueped into the citie by a conduite, and he commanded their conduite to bee cut in ſunder.

7 There were welles alſo not farre from the wals, which they vſed ſecretly, more for pleaſure, ‖ then for neceſſitie.

‖ Or, then to drinke them.

8 Then went the Ammonites and the Moabites vnto Holophernes, and ſayd, The children of Iſrael truſt neither in ſpeare nor arrow, but haue taken in and kept the mountaines, and ſteepe hilles defend them.

9 That thou maieſt ouercome thē therefore without the ſtriking of any battaile, ſet men to keepe the welles, that they draw no water out of them, ſo ſhalt thou deſtroy them without ſworde: or at the leaſt they ſhalbe ſo feeble, that they muſt bee faine to giue ouer the citie, which they thinke not able to be wonne, for ſo much as it lyeth in the mountaines.

10 Theſe wordes pleaſed Holophernes well, and all his men of warre, and hee ſet an hundred at euery well round about.

11 And when this watch had endured twentie dayes, the ceſternes and all that had water, failed them that dwelt in the citie of Bethulia, ſo that in the whole citie they had not drinke enough for one day, for the people had water giuē them daily in a meaſure.

12 Then came the men and women, yong perſons and children, all vnto Oſias, and ſaid all with one voyce, Exod. 5.21. 13 God be * iudge betwixt vs and thée, for thou haſt dealt euil with vs: thou wouldeſt not ſpeake peaceably with the king of the Aſſyrians, therefore hath God ſold vs into their handes.

14 And there is no man to help vs, whereas we are brought downe before their eyes in thirſt and great deſtruction.

15 Therefore gather nowe together all the people that be in the citie, that we may all yeilde our ſelues willingly vnto the people of Holophernes:

16 For better it is that we be captiue, and playſe the Lord with our liues, then to be ſlaine and periſh, and to bee laughed to ſcorne, and ſhamed of euery man, when we ſee our wiues and children die before our eyes.

17 We take heauen and earth this day to recorde, & the God of our fathers, which puniſheth vs according to the deſeruing of our ſinnes, and giue you warning that ye giue vp the citie nowe into the power of Holophernes hoſte, that our end may be ſhort with the ſworde, which els ſhall endure long for want of water, and for thirſt.

18 When they had ſpoken out theſe wordes, there was a great weeping and howling in the whole congregation, and that of euery man, and they cryed a whole houre long vnto God with one voyce,

* Or, many houres. Pſal. 105.6.

19 Saying, * Wee haue ſinned with our fathers, wee haue done amiſſe, we haue dealt wickedly:

20 Thou that art gratious, haue mercie vpon vs, or punish our vnrighteouſneſſe with thine owne ſcourge, and giue not thoſe ouer that knowledge thée, vnto a people which knowe thée not:

21 That they may not ſay among the Heathen, Where is their God?

22 And when they were ſo wearie with this crying and weeping, that they held their peace, 23 Oſias ſtoode vp with watry eyes, and ſaid, O take good hearts vnto you, deare brethren, and be of good cheare, and let vs waite yet theſe fiue dayes for mercie of the Lord.

24 Peraduenture hée ſhall put away his indignation, and giue glory vnto his name.

25 But if hee helpe vs not when the fiue dayes are paſt, we ſhall doe as he haue ſayd.

The viii. Chapter.

The parentage, life, and conuerſation of Iudith.

1 AND it happened when theſe words came to the eares of Judith, a widowe, which was the daughter of Merari the ſonne of Idor, the ſonne of Joſeph, the ſonne of Oſia, the ſonne of Elai, the ſonne of Jamnor, the ſonne of Gedeon, the ſonne of Raphaim, the ſonne of Achitob, the ſonne of Melchia, the ſonne of Enan, the ſonne of Nathania, the ſonne of Salathiel, the ſonne of Simeon, the ſonne of Ruben:

2 And her huſbande was called Manaſſes, which died in the dayes of the barley harueſt.

3 For while he was binding the ſheaues together in the fielde, the heate came vpon his head, and he died at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buried beſide his fathers.

4 Now was Judith his deſolate widowe three yeares and ſixe monthes.

5 And in the higher parts of her houſe hée made her ſelfe a priuie chamber, where ſhe dwelt, being cloſed in with her maidens:

6 She ware a ſmocke of heare, and faſted all the dayes of her life, except the Sabboths, and new moones, and the ſolemne dayes that the people of Iſrael kept.

7 She was a very faire and beautiful perſon, her huſband alſo had left her great riches, a plenteous houſholde, great vnmoueable poſſeſſions, and many cattell.

8 This Judith was a woman of a very good report with euery one, for ſhe feared the Lorde greatly: and there was no body that ſpake an euill word of her.

9 When this Judith heard howe Oſias had promiſed the people, that after the fifth day he would giue vp the citie vnto the Aſſyrians, ſhee ſent for the elders, Chabri and Charmi.

10 And when they came to her, ſhée ſayd, What thing is this, wherein Oſias hath conſented, that if God helpe not within fiue dayes, he will giue ouer the citie to the Aſſyrians?

11 What are ye, that ye tempt the Lord?
